TWO SORORITIES BUILD NEW HOUSES

DELTA PHI PLANS HIDDEN

Both Houses of Colonial Design—Buildings First To Be Erected

During the past summer the Delta Phi and Beta Chi sororities completed erection of new residences. Both houses are of Colonial design and represent the last word in modern construction of buildings of this type. The Delta Phi home is on Court street between 15th and 16th streets, and the Beta Chi house is on State, just above 14th street.

Both houses provide a maximum of space for living quarters and have been admirably designed for the social activities of their respective organizations. Each house can accommodate with ease 24 girls.

The Delta Phi residence is Dutch colonial in design. On the first floor are a reception hall, living room, dining room, kitchen, den, enclosed telephone booth and an apartment for the house mother. A door at the back of the living room opens into what will some day be a large garden. A special feature of the kitchen construction is a built-in Electro-Kold refrigerator. On the second floor are the sleeping porch, living rooms and bathroom. The work throughout is finished in driftwood grey.

The Beta Chi residence is English colonial in style. At the left of the spacious entrance hall is the living room, beyond which is the dining room. Other rooms on the first floor include a den, enclosed telephone booth, house mother's apartment, kitchen and butler's pantry. The walls are made with tiffany finish, and the woodwork done in old ivory.

The second floor is reached by stairways from the entrance hall and a back hall. Here are the living rooms, study rooms, bathroom, laundry and sleeping porch. The living rooms are finished in pastel shades.

The wood-splitting bugbear has been banished from both houses by the installation of furnaces with automatic feeders, and automatic heat control.

Officers directing the Delta Phi sorority are: Beulah Wampler, president; Virginia Edwards, vice president; Jean Middleton, secretary; Florence Emmons, treasurer, and Edna Card, assistant; Margaret Bolt, manager. Mrs. John Reed is housemother. At Beta Chi, Beatrice Lockhart is president, assisted by Elma White, vice president; Fay Irvine, secretary; Mary Louise Aiken, treasurer; and Grace White, manager. Mrs. Alice H. Dodd is house mother.

FRATERNITY OPEN HOUSE DATE NAMED BY FRATS

The Inter Fraternity Council met last Monday at the call of the president, Dr. R. M. Gatto. The only business transacted was to decide upon a date for Fraternity Open House so that this could be placed upon the social calendar.

The council is composed of the president, vice president and manager of each fraternity on the campus together with two faculty members appointed by President Doney, and has as its purpose the handling of relations between the three fraternities.

SOPHS VICTORIOUS IN PROTECTING BEARCAT

Freshmen Take to Mill Stream and then Stage Little Surprise For Others' Benefit

The sophomores were victorious in the annual "Bearcat Rush" Friday afternoon. The crew of the class of '31 so ably defended the freed, traditional cat that the freshmen were unable to come within striking distance of it.

The sophomores took every precaution to assure their victory. They had planted a twenty-five foot pole securely in the ground and then had fastened the cat to the top by means of nails, wire and staples. The surface of the pole had been greased with heavy axle grease down to within six feet of the ground.

The freshmen attack began at four-thirty but when time was up ten minutes later they were no nearer their goal than they were at the start.

True to tradition the losing group betook themselves to the mill stream where all members of the Rooks went in. Coming out again they staged a little surprise for the sophomores. Several of the leaders of this latter group eventually found themselves striving to reach the banks of the stream and to clamber out. Thus did the late frosh seek to vindicate themselves nor was it until the scuffle was stopped by upper classmen that things quieted down again.

ORE. NEWSPAPERS BOUGHT BY GRADS

Since the close of school this summer, the "Oregon Statesman" and the "Washington County News Times" have been bought and taken over by Willamette graduates.

Sheldon Sackett, '22, vice-president of the Oregon Newspaper Conference and formerly a newspaper man at McMinnville, has purchased half interest in Salem's morning paper, the New Oregon Statesman.

C. J. Gillette, '22, formerly head coach at Roosevelt high school in Portland and principal of Marshfield high school during the past year, and Hugh McGilvra, '28, have together purchased the "News Times" of Forest Grove. McGilvra is the editor and Gillette is the manager. McGilvra was editor of the Collegian last year and prominent in campus activities.

All three of these men were on the campus during their college careers. Sackett was editor of the Collegian, a member of Bar "W," Alpha Kappa Nu, and Sigma Tau social fraternity. Gillette was a letterman in basketball, football and a member of Sigma Tau. McGilvra was editor of the Collegian, editor of the Wallulah, member of Alpha Kappa Nu and of the Kappa Gamma Rho social fraternity.

NEWS REGARDING FROSH NOT ALTOGETHER TRUE

Walter Vinson, Sophomore from Newberg, who was reported as being in a critical condition as a result of heat prostration Saturday afternoon, in back in school, having attended classes since Monday. He was rendered unconscious Saturday afternoon by heat prostration as a result of violent exertion in an effort to start his car. He was taken from Hood street, where he was stricken, to the Salem General Hospital, but was able to return to his place of residence on Sunday.

Contracts for Engraving and Photography Have Been Signed by Manager

The 1928-29 Wallulah editor and staff are commencing work promptly in order that all possible impending delays of publication may be avoided.

The outlook of this year's annual is bright. The two contracts have been let: Hicks-Chatten of Portland will be the engravers and the Kennell-Ellis Studio of Salem will handle the photography.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIAN MAKES EXTENDED TRIP

As Result of Wishes of the Leader Itinerary Did Not Follow the Tourist Route.

Dr. F. G. Franklin, university librarian, returned the first week in September from an extensive tour of Japan, Korea and China. The trip was directed by Dr. Uptan Close of the department of sociology of the University of Washington, who has made extensive study of oriental life and who is well known in the Orient. The members of the party, which numbered over 60, included teachers, students, ministers, newspapermen, social workers and business men.

On the trip across the Pacific Dr. Close gave two lectures each day to the party, and had placed at their disposal a number of books on oriental life. By the time that the party reached Yokohama, the members had a fair idea of what they might expect to see. The itinerary did not follow the regular tourist routes, because Dr. Close wished the party to see the seamy side of oriental life as well as the bright side.

Two members of the group were young Chinese who had been studying in America and who had received degrees of doctor of philosophy last June. They arranged several receptions for the tourists during their sojourn in China. Dr. Franklin reports that the Americans were received with great hospitality by everyone, and that banquets and receptions were frequent. One notable reception was given by a prominent Chinese general, and another in the Chinese foreign office.

"Young China is very hopeful for the success of the new nationalist government," said Dr. Franklin. "The projects undertaken by the nationalists include many that are the last word in modern social teaching. Thus far, things have augured well for the success of the new government, and through it seems to lie the way to China's awakening and development."

CUBS SELECT SEVEN FOR MEMBERSHIP

At the first meeting of the year the Cubs lower class service organization elected seven men to its membership. Raymond Miller, president, appointed Collas Masters to supervise the athletic field and Van Bateson to have charge of paddling, initiation, and social functions.

The men elected were Kenneth Graber, Sam Rowe, Lars Nelson, Joe Felton, Cecil Harmon, Raymond Wadill and Bob McGilvra. Later the Cubs will take into the club ten men selected from the freshmen class, thus increasing the personnel to twenty-five. These men will aid the soph members in all activities except that of enforcing the green lid penalty. At the present the chief duty of the Cubs is patrolling the athletic field.

Claude Harris Prexy

Claude Harris was elected temporary chairman of the Freshman class at the first class meeting on Monday, September 17. Mr. Harris entered Willamette from West Linn, Oregon.

Sophomore representatives gave warnings concerning the wearing of the green lids and ribbons. After a short pep talk by the chairman the meeting adjourned.

The permanent officers of the class will be elected next Monday.

MANY NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ADDED

LAW LIBRARY IN WALLER

Appointments Necessary as a Result of Old Profs Being On Leave of Absence

Since the closing of the spring term several new members have been added to the faculty of Willamette university. The appointments have been made to fill vacancies left by professors who have accepted positions with other schools or are on a leave of absence. The majority of the changes have been in the college of liberal arts.

Professor Leamer, who received his master's degree from the University of Iowa, is taking the place of Professor Brown, recent head of the physics department. Professor Brown is on a temporary leave of absence while completing graduate work at Stanford University.

Dr. Johnson, graduate of Cornell university, New York, and for the last three years assistant professor in the chemistry department at the Oregon Agricultural college, replaces Professor von Eschen in the chemistry division.

Professor Prescott is filling the place of Professor Peck in the department of biology. Professor Peck is taking a two-year leave of absence to complete his herbarium, and to compile his key to the flora of the northwest. Professor Monk, instructor in zoology, becomes head of the department.

Miss Genevieve Pierce, who received her A. M. at the University of California, is taking the place of Miss McMinnis in the English women's debate.

REPUBLICAN SPIRIT ON CAMPUS NOW ORGANIZED

Forty Students and Faculty Attend Meeting. Keck Elected Pres. Plans Now Forecast.

The spirit of the G. O. P. pachyderm stamped rampant at a meeting of Hoover-Curtis supporters held Monday after chapel. In the first meeting of republican and dry democratic voters, the Tammany tiger received a severe setback, and football fans present declared that he would not make his downs.

Officers elected were Wendell Keck, president; Elsie Tucker, secretary; and Frank Van Dyke, publicity chairman. They pledged themselves to an honest and active campaign, and it was prophesied that the town will know that Hoover has a high rating at Willamette.

Some 40 eligible voters attended the meeting, and those who were most recently enfranchised seemed to be the most ardent in spirit. No hickory trees or log cabin emblems were in evidence, but Hoover pins were quickly distributed to members, and wearers promised to have the pins in evidence at all times on the campus.

Each Monday after chapel the Hoover club will meet for a rally. Outside speakers will be invited to address the group and an effort will be made to have all students who are of age be at the polls on election day. The campaign conducted by the campus Hoover club will largely be educational, and will incorporate an effort to have all eligible students registered and at the polls on November 6.

Why The Change

The college newspaper field is decidedly limited at Willamette. To maintain a paper the size of those offered by larger schools to their student bodies and yet to offer our readers the same features is out of the question. The student body is not in a position to support a paper that would meet these demands. To satisfy this need we have, seen fit to change the size, and mechanical qualifications of the Willamette Collegian.

By adopting the tabloid, as the new size is correctly termed, we are able to offer you several new features.

The LOCALS column has been introduced to handle all such news of this class which has heretofore been relegated to the society section. In the DIRECTORY you may find a list of professional men placed in a readable form.

able form. Campus life TEN YEARS AGO was exceedingly different than it is today while many of the episodes occurring then are of interest to us as well as to many of the alumni.

Many of us do not have the privilege of knowing all of those who are taking part in the games being played before us. By means of acquainting the students with these men through the MEET THE TEAM column we hope to bring about a greater and more intelligent Willamette spirit. This also embodies the purpose of the SPORTORIAL strip.

Aside from some mechanical changes which could not be made under the old form the new size increases the value of advertising by offering more display space. Finally, another feature which we are able to offer is running of pertinent news from other college campuses including those of foreign location.

We should have liked to have included all of these features in the size of former years, but conditions prevented. Wherefore we have balanced the forces with which we have to work against the features which the campus demanded and are offering the tabloid for your approval as a result.

About Those Books

Immediately after the close of school last spring the drawers of tables in the Library were nailed shut by faculty orders. This action has caused much spirited discussion among the older students.

It must be born in mind that the Library is essentially a place for reference and study. Anything done to effect a more efficient achievement of this purpose is a distinct benefit to us as students and to the university as a whole. Much noise and confusion is made by students traipsing in and out between classes to leave or pick up books. All this would be well enough if everyone changed classes simultaneously.

There have never been enough desk drawers for everyone. In times past, many who have been so fortunate as to secure a drawer have used it as a means of expediting their personal correspondence. This practice is especially annoying when the secretarial duty is punctuated by whispering to a society sister, or joining her in laughter regarding it.

Finally, we have observed students engrossed in reference work being disturbed by someone who had registered his claim to the particular drawer at which he happened to be seated and out of forced courtesy removing himself to some other location in the room.

When the inspector representing the American Group of Accredited Universities was on the campus previous to our admittance to that group he berated the practice quite strongly. We have passed through the period when the school board saw fit to provide us with individual desks or lockers. Further, we have our private rooms in which to store our books and to study. We will admit that the latter is not quite such an opportune place to make or meet a date but we are compelled to admit that it more conducive to study. We are not trying to discourage the use of books in the library. Far from it.

Other colleges do not see fit to provide their students with storage places for all manner of student belongings. Nor has the faculty of Willamette seen fit to continue to do so at the expense of foreshadowing the purpose of the library.

Two Greens

For the first time in four years the campus is green to welcome the Freshmen. Perhaps some of the upperclassmen who have looked at the brownness of it for the last three years would think that such a welcome would be sufficient, but we wish to add one of our own.

You are the wearers of the green, and green as a rule stands for trouble. Just how much trouble it will mean rests largely with yourselves. Advice is ours to give, nor are we unwilling to do so, but as a rule it is not desired.

Initiations will come; traditions will be broken. All of which is but a part of the game. We all have gone through it. Our one aim while here is a better Willamette, and we hope that ere the year is over you will see fit to join us in it.

You will have new ideas which in effect will change some of our customs. We hope you shall change some of them. They need it. Yet do not forget that the changing of these traditions with the invoking of new ideas is liable to arouse opposition. It is for this "new" that we looked forward to your coming, but here again may we pause to say that not in numbers alone are you measured in the student body. Your weight is much less than the size of your class would indicate. You are the wearers of the Green.

Finally, do not wholly disregard the helping hand. There may be more behind it than is apparent at first glance.

Today's Work Today

Connie Mack, venerable manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is famous for his slogan: "Win today's ball game today—tomorrow's game will take care of itself." That doesn't mean that Connie does not look ahead, for he does. But he never lets the future interfere with his immediate work at hand.

Daily preparation is the simplest explanation of the Mack doctrine. The motto has been accepted generally by football coaches, business men and professional workers. It has taken a place in many American homes. Even in a classroom, the slogan has a distinct application.

—Evergreen

During the summer we had hoped that upon returning to the campus we could remain a staunch member of the Republican party, but after observing the condition of the drinking fountain we are afraid that we shall have to bolt the party and vote for Al Smith.

Women's sorority rush season is now in full swing. We always have been glad that we were not a member of the feminine sex, nor does this tend to alter the situation one iota.

All students who have not registered for the fall election should do so immediately. Go to the court house giving your place of residence as Salem. The interval in the term of your residence caused by summer vacation will not effect your eligibility.

Along the Way :: :: ::

How-do-you-do, folks! You have never heard of us before but that doesn't mean that we don't know you. Anyhow, let's get acquainted. We'll do our share in this column and you do yours by reading it and sending us any little thing you wish to see here-in.

Did you go to the fair, too? We spent our last penny to go to the Horse Show where we looked at the back of the governor's head and between times saw some horses try to knock down stray pieces of fence that had been dragged in from somewhere.

And we weren't the only ones who were so sleepy from it this morning that we just about missed our seven forty-five. Some of our Ed and Coed friends must have spent more money than we did, because they didn't even arrive at their ten-thirty classes.

We should have said that it was the Ed's money that caused all the trouble. The Co's got all tired out from helping poor Eddie spend it.

The bell calls us to our Thursday's nap. So, so long. See you next week if you can give us any ideas between now and then.

Spec Keene pulled a fast one on us. He overheard some well-informed upperclassman telling a rook that his (Spec's) coaching course was a snap. Spec doesn't believe in letting these seniors know everything, so he is going to have his class read forty books this semester.

Really, we wouldn't be so easy on them.

P. S. We don't take Coaching.

A Tragedy In 2 Acts Mere Male Finds Self Theta Alphas Notice

Dramatis Personae:

Perceval—A young man of college age and clothes, but very effeminate manner.

His Landlady.

A man—either a reporter or policeman or what you will.

Act I

(Perceval dashes excitedly into telephone booth. In his haste he forgets to shut the door; hence we hear his conversation.)

Perceval: Walnut 0762. (waits.) Hello, is Arabella there? (waits.) Hello Sugar. Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes! I've done it! Yes, yes, yes, yes! The dream of years come true! Yes, yes; see you tomorrow. Bye bye. (Hangs up receiver and dashes out.)

Act II

(Landlady and man enter room that is rather scantily furnished.) Landlady: No, I haven't seen him for three days, and I'm getting suspicious. He was a queer sort—seemed to be in love or something. I think he was some kind of freak poet, too.

Man: That kind of goof would have left a note of some kind if he bumped himself off; they always do, especially in the magazines. What we've gotta do is look around for a note.

(They search the room in silence for a minute or two. Man finally finds place of paper.)

Yeh, here we go. He left something just like I said.

Landlady: Oh, what is it?

Man: (reads) "Last night I fulfilled my ambition of twenty years. I waggled my ears and scalp without facial contortion. My sweetheart is expecting me to show her my accomplishment tonight. I have worked at it for an hour but cannot make it come. She has implicit faith in me; I cannot betray that trust—cannot shake her belief in me; I must die rather than have her lose faith in me. Farewell."

Ten Years Ago

Stags Mix in Gym—With at least 75 per cent of the men of the university attending, the annual "Y" stag mix staged in the gymnasium Saturday night proved to be one of the best get acquainted mixes that has taken place around Willamette for several years. Arlie Walker, manager of athletics, was first to speak. He told of athletic prospects for the year, and acquainted the Freshmen present with the athletic and scholastic ideal of Willamette. "Shm" Anderson gave a brief preview of athletics in former years, but greatly regretted that the "merry old familiar faces" used to shake hands with are not here.

The following day he was called into the office, and handed a silver cup in recognition of the triple blessing he had bestowed upon his country. "Thank you very much, sir. But—er—is this cup mine now or do I have to win it three years in succession?"—The Furrow.

Freshman Class Smaller Than Last Year. Sophomores Did Not Have Large Loss

The total registration had reached the five hundred and thirty mark with the closing of the registrar's office last night, according to figures given out by Registrar McCully.

Of this number the Freshman class makes up the largest share, but even at that the class is some fifty shorter in number than it was last year. The books show a total of 173 entered as first year students which total includes some twenty-two students who were carried over from last year and who did not make the required number of twenty-two semester hours that are necessary for sophomore standing.

Total enrollment of the Sophomores was 135 while that of the Juniors was eighty. The Juniors' roster contains twice as many women as men. The Senior class is quite small, a considerable number of the members being lost since the class first entered. The registration shows 63 as belonging to this class, less than half of those who entered.

With 30 Special students and 50 in the College of Law the total reaches 530.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Dr. J. B. Dr. Rone is chairman of the organization.

TO FIND BEAU NOW AIM OF COLLEGE

"One of the primary purposes of a college course is the finding of a mate," said Dean Hewitt addressing the Bearcat Forum of the Sunday School of the First M. E. church last Sunday.

"People are inclined to laugh at the girl who goes to college only to 'find a beau,' but she is rather to be admired for her purpose. In college a group of young people of higher intellectual and cultural development is brought together, and it is hoped that this process of selection may cause the continuation of a type that will be the saving of civilization."

These remarks were made during a discussion of the question "Why go to College?" in the Forum.

The following officers were elected for the coming semester during last Sunday's meeting:

President—Edward Wells.
Vice-Pres.—Katherine Everett.
Secretary—Marie Messersmith.
Treasurer—Charles Wilson.

The Bearcat Forum is a discussion group, the purpose of which is to help the individual on vital questions, and discusses, not to decide problems.

The class meets every Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Electricity opens a new era of ocean travel

Miraculously quiet and vibrationless, luxurious and swift, the new electrically operated S. S. California, largest American-built passenger ship, has opened a new era in ocean travel.

Electricity drives the California so efficiently that the fuel bill for the initial coast-to-coast trip was even less than the Canal tolls. Electricity mans the winches, bakes the bread, makes the ice, polishes the silver. And electricity cools the cabins and provides passengers with the comforts found in the finest hotels.

Complete electrification makes the California an engineering marvel and a commercial success; it is booked far in advance, a sister ship has just been launched, and another is under construction.

On sea or land, in every walk of life, electricity is in the van of progress. Undreamed of yesterday, the electric ship is a symbol of the electrical industry's part in modern civilization and a prophecy of even greater accomplishment.

This monogram is found on great motors that drive the California, and on a multitude of electric appliances which contribute to the comfort of her passengers. It is an emblem of skilled engineering and high manufacturing quality.

JUNIORS BLOSSOM WITH NEW CORDS

Class Has Twice As Many Women As Men In Role
Harold Shellhart Pres.

Following the opening hymn of the chapel service last Thursday members of the junior class, led by class officers, filed into the chapel decked out in the traditional cords and the official class sweaters adopted last year. The juniors, joyful at having passed the halfway mark between green cap and mortar board marched with an air of dignity not often associated with jollity.

Junior cord day is one of the many traditions at the university, and is one of the events to which undergraduates all look forward. This year's march came more promptly after the opening of school than it has for several years.

One distinguishing mark regarding this class is the fact that there are over twice as many women as men on the class roll. This was very noticeable when the members paraded into the chapel.

Junior class officers are: Harold Shellhart, president; Camilla Gates, vice-president; Roberta Vannice, secretary; and Earl Henry, treasurer.

Dr. Franklin saw many interesting sights and had many interesting experiences on his trip to the Orient this summer. Drop into his office some evening when he is not rushed with work, and he will tell you many interesting stories of his vacation trip.

Fraternity Elects

At the regular weekly house meeting Sigma Tau fraternity elected several new house officers for the coming year. W. W. Mumford resigned his office as secretary of the house to become the new vice-president, John Gilhouse succeeded Mumford as secretary, and Paul Ackerman was elected to the position of second-vice president.

A shelf in the pantry stored with food for emergency use will prove valuable. It should contain foods that can be quickly prepared for unexpected guests. Several cans of vegetables, fruits, relishes, fish, dried meats and sugar wafers may be kept on the shelf.

TEAM LEAVES TODAY FOR WASHINGTON

Phil Malestrom will be Able to Enter College Eight Years Hence—W. U. His School

This morning at 6 o'clock 22 Willamette griders left enroute for their annual encounter with the University of Washington Huskies.

The two teams, both with but two weeks of practice, will present rather ragged elevens, as far as smoothness of play is concerned. As the game is mostly a practice affair for both teams, it will give the coaches a chance to get a good line on their men, as well as give the substitute men a chance to show their wares under fire.

Washington this year has been greatly weakened by the loss of several veterans, and it will be an inexperienced team which will face the Bearcats. Coach Bagshaw will undoubtedly have his usual amount of power and pass plays to work against the W. U. team. The weight advantage is decidedly against Willamette, however the Willamette team will give their best to make as creditable a showing as possible. Those men who are making the trip are:

Centers—Ackerman and Pope. Guards—Emmons, Hillis, Mort and Philpott.

Tackles—Versteeg, Flock, Rasmussen and Ruch.

Ends—Gibson, Holt, Mumford and Smith.

Quarterbacks—DePoe and Adams.

Halves—Cranor, Engebretsen, French, Reidel and Page.

Fullbacks—McMullin, Sonksen and Carpenter.

That is the squad that will accompany Coach "Spec" Keene and Graduate Manager Lestle Sparks of the Willamette university athletic department, to Seattle today for the dubious task of bucking up against the powerful attack of the University of Washington Huskies Saturday afternoon.

In addition to leaving behind four valuable men on account of injuries, the Bearcats' chances were further darkened Thursday afternoon when Sonksen, one of the most promising fullback candidates, wrenched the muscles in his right shoulder, and McMullin, the only letterman available for fullback duty, was suffering from a bad "charley horse." Both of these men may get into the play, but it is probable that Carpenter will have the task of backing up the line most of the time.

The men whose injuries caused them to be left behind are Cardinal, Ellis and Tucker, all of whom could have been used as ends to advantage; and DeLisle, a speedy halfback.

Salem is greener than most places for this time of the year. "Why?" Listen to what we overheard the other day.

"You want to watch out for that fellow." This from one of Willamette's latest improvements, the class of '32. "He's a cub." Further explanation was not needed.

While the brilliant-hued sweaters with their cardinal shields flashing all around us, flaring broadsides bearing scarlet death figures and impressive looking paddles, such as the one we have from a neighboring campus, are detrop—in case you take French, that means "not wanted."

Mr. and Mrs. Vick are the parents of a baby girl, Gladys, born in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fletcher are the parents of a baby girl, Virginia Lee, born on June 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lawson (Helen McIntuff) are the parents of another son, John David.

PROSPECTS FOR IDAHO ONCE MORE LOON GOOD

Whitman and The College of Puget Sound Loom as Possible Contenders Again

Reviewing the Willamette opponents for the Northwest conference championship, four teams stand out as potential contenders.

First on the list is college of Idaho. This team won the conference championship last year with five straight victories. This fact, plus the advantage of having nearly their entire team back, will give the opposing coaches plenty to worry about.

College of Puget Sound stands next to Idaho in possessing a veteran team. They have also added several new men and are all set for a successful season. C. P. S. was the hard luck team of the conference last year, and are determined to reverse the dope for this season.

Borleske, at Whitman, can again be relied upon to have a strong machine. Although he has lost several of his veteran players they have a wealth of new material from which to mold a team. Holmgren and Caley, respective end and tackle are back and will be hard to break through.

The dark horse in the conference will be Pacific. The red and black this year will have several big and experienced men as a nucleus for the team, as well as some fine rook prospects.

At present Linfield rates but little stronger than last year. However their open and deceptive style of play will make them always dangerous.

VARSITY WINS BY A 25 TO 7 SCORE

The Bearcat varsity football team celebrated the Salem Day at the Fair by trouncing the Yannisians by a 25 to 7 score. The game was for the purpose of developing an attack.

After working the ball to within twenty yards of the goal by passes, Cranor went over tackle and reversed his field, for the first touchdown for the regulars. For the second score Riedell made a 45 yard heave to Ingebretsen who then crossed the white line. Cranor made a twenty yard heave to French just as the whistle blew ending the third quarter and French outran the opposition for the third touchdown. French failed to convert. At the opening of the fourth quarter Adams passed to McBee for thirty yards and McBee carried it 15 more. On the next play Adams passed to Shipton for a touchdown for the Yannisians. Smith converted, just as the game ended. DePoe went over tackle and sidestepping and twirling away from what seemed a myriad of arms and took the ball 15 yards for a touchdown.

A good many of the new men looked good, and Spec got a fair estimate of their ability so that he could pick the squad which will make the Washington trip.

Go over all magazines and pack away or give away the old ones. If there are little children in the home, select the magazines with colored pictures and store for rainy day cutting and painting.

SEASON STARTS WITH SQUAD OF SIXTY

Prophesy As To Potential Force Impossible—Seven Fail to Return This Year

Willamette has started the 1928 season with the biggest squad of its history. On the opening day there were sixty men out, and with two weeks of pre-season training over there are more than 4 teams out from which Coach Spec must pick the squad that will face the purple tornado.

Ten veterans of last season's team will be missing when the first whistle blows this year. They are Haldeane and Reggie DePoe, ends; Woodworth and Propp, tackles; McKenzie, all conference guard for two years, "Dutch" Dietz, the diminutive quarter back, Lang, fullback, and Winslow and Zeller, halves. The loss of these men will be sorely felt. Spec must necessarily build a team out of men who are for the most part unseasoned men.

At end there is Gibson, a freshman, Mumford, a three year letterman who alternated with Reggie DePoe last year, Shipton, a freshman, and Mutry and Holt, both freshmen. Mumford is the only end with experience of this bunch and he is a much better defensive man than he is an offensive man. Riedell might be shifted to end as end is going to be one of the sore spots of the team unless some can be developed to fill the shoes of Reggie DePoe and Charles Haldeane. At tackle the team will be as strong as last year. Versteeg is holding down his regular berth while Flock, Ruch, Rasmussen and Van Bateon are being groomed to fill the shoes of Woodworth who is in school but who has already played his four years. Ruch is a two year veteran who held down Versteeg's position of tackle last year while the latter was out of the game for injuries.

Left guard is being held down by Mort who made second all-conference last year but the other guard is quite a problem. Philpot, Emmons, letterman, Gill, Hillis and Satchwell are the candidates. Philpot will probably get the first call unless the other men can show more than they have in the last two weeks. The loss of McKenzie with his fight will be sorely felt by the team. At center there is Ackerman, who alternated with Rodgers last year at center and also Pope and Betts. Both of these men are very efficient understudies. Pope is an aggressive man and might be shifted somewhere on the line.

At quarter Charlie DePoe promises to be the class of the conference if he can keep up his present pace. Adams is playing his first year of football but is proving a very able quarterback. Also at quarter there is Haworth who played quarter for the Whittier College Freshman Team two years ago. At half Cranor, of all-conference berth, and French are vortoring at present with Ingebretsen, Carpenter, McBee and Garrison giving them a close race. At full there is McMullen of the 1926 team and Sorksen, a freshman.

It is so early in the season that most of the new men have not had ample time to show their wares, but in the game with Washington

MEET THE TEAM

MORT

May we introduce Loran Mort, scrappy Bearcat guard and veteran letterman, who is playing his last year for the Cardinal and the Gold. Mort's heady, dependable playing last year made him one of the mainstays of the team and marked him as a man who always won the respect of the opposition. Loran is being groomed for an all-conference berth this year.

Another three-year letterman playing his last season for Willamette is ("Wild Bill") Mumford, fighting Bearcat end. Bill came to Willamette from Vancouver, Washington, where he was a four-year letterman. Bill is also a punter of no mean ability and will probably be called upon to do a share of the punting this year. All indications seem to point that Mumford will have the best year of his football career.

And lastly, is John Versteeg who is now playing his third year at Willamette. John's private position is tackle no part of which he tends to make public all of which means that merely because he made his letter last year he is not slackening the pace any now.

Toll of Recent Gale Estimated More Than 2000

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 27.—(AP)—A death list in excess of 2,000 persons with 16,082 homeless, and property damage above $50,000,000 were the estimates of tropical hurricane toll in this area, George W. Carr general chairman of relief work telegraphed today to Howard W. Elby, Palm Beach Red Cross head, in Washington.

Carr's report was detailed and was termed a final check of the disaster brought by the hurricane on September 16. Selby is in Washington to make an appeal for $12,000,000 relief funds with which to effect rehabilitation.

Here He Is!

Herbert Hoover, republican presidential candidate, was for some time a resident of Salem, and the house where he resided while a youth is still standing in north Salem.

For a time last summer there was talk of making the county republican headquarters in this old house, but the plan was later given up as impractical. There were further rumors that Hoover at one time attended Willamette university, but no records have been found to substantiate this report.

"Spec" looks "mighty good" to all of us.

Get Acquainted with Willamette's former gridiron stars. Attend the opening games of season Friday.

The return of Joe Kasberger to the Willamette coaching fold was in evidence by the peppy execution of calisthenics. Joe's snappy "on the count of one," etc., brought to many of the men the sad realization that they were not in the best of physical condition.

Willamette fans may rest assured that everything possible is being done with the material on hand this season. Six coaches are daily running the men through their paces and are doing their utmost to install a real fighting Willamette spirit. With the coaches and team doing their best, the rest lies in the hands of the student body.

COACH 'SPEC' KEENE HAS 3 ASSISTANTS

Sparks, Kasberger, Denman
Make Up Coaching Staff
Buck, Woody Help

The beginning of another year finds the Willamette coaching staff identical with that of last year. Head Coach Roy "Spec" Keene begins his third year at Willamette with every indication pointing to the best year since his advent over the Bearcat athletes. Spec started on his way to athletic fame at Salem HI. One year at Missouri Wesleyan and another at Oregon State completed Keene's school athletic experience. Keene's first coaching position was at Corvallis HI where in two years he developed a team which played Scott High of Toledo Ohio for the national championship. From there he went to Oregon State to coach rook football for one year and assist with varsity football for three years. Since coming to Willamette Keene has attracted numerous athletes to the university, and has raised the athletic rating of the school to a considerable degree.

Willamette enthusiasts are glad to see Joe Kasberger with them for the second year. Joe played four years at Mount Angel College, and went to Notre Dame to assist Knute Rockne for a year. Last year Kasberger provided most of the noise on the gridiron, and did much to fill the Bearcats with pep.

Kenneth "Red" Denman has been following Keene around in different schools for the last seven or eight years and is with him again as an assistant football coach. Denman played four years of football at Corvallis HI, two of which were under Keene, and then went to Oregon State where he played on Spec's rook team and three years on the varsity. Red is studying law at Willamette and showing the boys how it's done in his spare time.

Graduate Manager Lestle Sparks finds time from his numerous duties to also assist with football. Besides looking out for the financial end of football Sparks also knows a thing or two about how it's played. Sparks started his athletic experience at Willamette where he played basketball. He has just returned from a summer of study at New York University to secure his Master's degree.

Two assistant coaches, Winslow and Woodworth are also helping whip the Bearcats in shape. Both have played four years for Willamette and are in position to offer a good deal of help to W. U. gridders.

Head Coach "Spec" Keene has announced that Willamette, for the first time in several years, will have a freshman football team, and will schedule games with other teams in their class.

This will be one of the best improvements in Willamette football conditions, and will help to provide interest and experience for the new men.

It has been the practice in the past years to keep the rook aspirants on the varsity squad; however, with the increased number of men turning out each year, it has become a problem of how to continue to show their present spirit and pep, they should make a good showing. Let's evidence an interest in this new branch of Willamette athletics and help get the Rooks off to a good start.

The first game of the rook squad is to be against the Chemawa Indians and if the rooks

If "Red" yells check much more on the field he will either deplete his bank account or else we will come to the conclusion that he is one of the millionaire coaches that the Bearcats have.

Spec has issued a call for a new tackling dummy on the field. Here is a good chance for some aspiring young Rooks to be of service to their Alma Mater.

BEARCATS ARE ASSURED OF A MEMBER OF SQUAD

Phil Salestrom will be Able to Enter College Eight Years

Willamette will have at least one man on the team in 1936. Of that the coaches can be assured. This was brought out yesterday when it was heard that Phil Salestrom would then be eligible to play college ball. Little Phil says that he is not going to waste any of his strength or ability by playing football in High school but is going to save it until he can represent the Cardinal and Gold.

Phil who has been turning out as regular as those on the team for the last three years is a passer of no mean ability for a lad of his size. He is now eleven years old and is the mascot of the Bearcat squad. If anyone wants anything on the field they are sure to get it if Phil is sent.

1936 is the year in which Phil will be eligible to enter college.

SOPHOMORES SELECT NEW CLASS HEADS

At a sophomore class meeting last Tuesday, Robert McGilvra was permanently elected president for this semester. Fred Rodgers, the president elected last year, did not return to Willamette this fall, so Grace Henderson conducted the election. During the meeting Rosalind Van Winkle was appointed chairman of the girls vigilance committee, and she selected, as the assistants, Pauline Findley, Edna Card, Grace Henderson, Margaret Warnke, and Norabel Pratt.

Summer Wedding of particular interest to University people was that of Miss Grace E. Thompson and Dr. Charles L. Sherman. These two popular members of faculty were united in marriage by Dr. Richard N. Avlson on Wednesday, June 28. Prof. and Mrs. Sherman are now at home at 1820 Chemeketa street.

When inquiry was made concerning the constant whistling sound which was heard around the campus, last week, it was found that it was only the many new junior "Cords" being broken in.

And that reminds us that he who must get up early with the sun, must not stay up late with the daughter. We found that out in the hard old school of experience.

Here's our version of another we heard the other day: "The time will come," shouted the speaker, "when women will get men's wages."

"Yes," said the collegiate-looking person who was reclining in the rear pew, "Fair week."

According to George Poor, Wallulah editor, all freshmen must have their pictures taken at Kennel-Ellis before tonight. This is necessary so that the rest of the classes may follow in their order, and will insure the year book coming out on time.

At the present time Mr. Hawley is chairman of the Ways and Means committee, the most powerful committee in the house. He has been from this district many terms, and it is anticipated that recently enfranchised students here will return him for another term.

Raw carrots are very healthful. They may be grated and served in salads or scraped, cut in strips and chilled in ice water. Children should be served raw carrots once a week.

NEWSPAPER COURSE LISTED THIS YEAR

Professor Richards to Conduct
Class Enlisting Some Aid
Of Newsmen

A news writing course similar to the one given two years ago is again being offered to all students and is of especial importance to all those who are interested in journalism. Professor E. C. Richards will conduct the subject this year, and will endeavor to give as much practical work and material as is possible.

It is his plan to incorporate into the course several lectures which will be given by local newspaper men. These men have been connected with the field for some time, and the information which they will give in their lecture material will be of distinct value to all of those who are writing for the Collegian, or for some other paper.

The course will not be limited to the field of editorial material, but will also include instruction in ad writing, copy layout, etc.

The hour at which the class will convene has not as yet been determined. This will be decided later in order that it may be convenient to all wishing to enroll.

NEW PROFESORS

has done work in the American conservatory of music at Chicago, Ill., and also at the Columbia university, New York.

Mr. McCully, the new registrar, perhaps the busiest man on the campus for the past few days, is taking the place of Nat Beaver, who entered Harvard this month. Mr. McCully has been heading public school work in Idaho.

Considerable change has been made in the college of law. Classrooms have been established in Waller hall and a complete library gathered in the basement. Still further, another full time professor has been added, thus releasing the services of E. M. Page, instructor in commercial law and private corporations, and Ronald Glover, instructor in equity. Professor J. D. Lockenour is taking over the work of these men, both of whom are prominent lawyers in Salem. The standard of the school has been raised by requiring all entrants to have completed at least two years of Liberal Arts.
