

Jones' Class In Statistics Surveys Vote

According to the Survey
Roosevelt to Have Local Majority

Check Up on Polls From Different Classes of Voters in Salem

Unless there is a sudden shift of a large block of votes from Roosevelt to Landon between now and election time Salem is definitely going Democratic according to a survey made by Professor William C. Jones' statistics class. Samples taken from all classes of Salem voters indicate that President Roosevelt will receive 54 percent of the cities' ballots. Republican Nominee Landon 46 percent, while Socialist Norman Thomas and Unionist William Lemke will each get 3 percent. Neither Communist Earl Browder, Socialist-Laborite Aiken, or Prohibitionist Colvin registered any votes in the total of 462 taken.

The poll was based on scientific samples of those engaged in various occupations according to their numerical strength in Salem's population. The occupations were grouped under business men, professional men, merchants and housewives.

The bankers turned in the greatest surprise when, contrary to all predictions, they registered six votes for Roosevelt, one for Thomas and out of fifteen sampled.

The gentlemen in the state house were, for obvious reasons, the most non-committal of any group interviewed, for only three out of fifteen interviewed cared to make known their presidential choice. Of these three who did state their opinions only one is going to vote for Landon. Undoubtedly he either was an elected Republican or deserves a medal for courage in office.

Other classes broke no traditions the laborers and skilled workers going rather strongly for Roosevelt while white collar workers, professional and business men were divided rather evenly among the two candidates.

At Willamette advance dope was obtained on the outcome of the presidential straw vote to be held Friday in chapel. Among the students out of fifteen interviewed four favor F. D. R. eleven wanted Mr. Landon while apparently no one cared for Norman Thomas. Some cynical observers, however questioned the veracity of this particular sample. The professors seem to be somewhat more radical than their students, they registering five for Franklin Roosevelt, seven for Alf Landon, three for Thomas.

The accuracy of this poll will be somewhat difficult to determine for there is no way checking it except by election results. Between now and November 3, most political observers believe, there will be a shift of a small block of votes which may decide the election, thus making an absolute check up impossible. The only other possible mistake in the poll is that it sampled too large a percentage of the middle class and not enough of the working classes. This would tend to make Roosevelt somewhat stronger than he was shown in the poll.

Wandering Stage Gone for Frosh But Oppression Remains--No Cords

Gosh, do I look silly. Ever since I came here I've looked that way. The first day I was a saucer-eyed, ignorant rook running around, bumping into people and asking which building was Eaton Hall. Two days later I quit wearing cords. There is no more unnatural feeling than not wearing cords. I have to look where I am going to sit. I have nothing on which to wipe my hands, and I have to find paper to scratch on to make my pen write. It's awful. I also have to go about the campus making my neck sore trying to see in all directions at once for fear someone will crack down on me for not saying hello. It is very distressing not knowing who to speak to. If you're not careful it's likely as not to be another freshman (the dogs) or, even worse, a soph. I take that chance now, because

Abas Quartet to Make Appearance

Famed String Ensemble
Are Commended Very Highly by Press

The Abas String Quartet, famous for its appearances in southern radio hok-ups is scheduled for a series of concerts on this campus, under the sponsorship of the Willamette school of music. They will perform in Waller Hall October 13, 20, and November 3.

For the music loving people on the campus and vicinity these concerts will provide what is probably an unparalleled treat for the year.

Newspaper critics are extremely fervent in their praise of these musicians. "The group has a warm balanced tone, a high degree of virtuosity, and a scrutinizing approach," comes from the Los Angeles Herald and Express. The Musical Courier says, "They play with musical vitality and refinement." Countless criticisms echo this sentiment.

The quartet is made up of Nathan Abas, first violin; Abraham Weiss, viola; Hubert Sorenson, second violin, and Karl Rossner, violoncello.

Walker Elected Head of Frosh

With the election of President Dick Walker and other permanent officers at a class meeting Tuesday, the class of '40 properly got under way and began the year's activity.

The candidates were nominated last Thursday, Oct. 1, and were voted on and elected Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Dick Walker formerly of Lincoln high in Portland and previous temporary chairman was the only re-elected and is now permanent chairman of the freshman class. The following are the remaining permanent officers: Esther Vehrs of Salem, vice president; Jean Bartlett also of Salem, secretary; Leonard Shmurr of Benson high in Portland, treasurer, and George La Vatta, graduate of Grant high in Portland, frosh reporter.

Song-Yell Chapel Is Set For Friday

Friday chapel time is to be converted into a pep assembly and "song". The freshman should consult their Freshman Bibles frequently between now and Friday to learn all of the W. U. songs and yells.

All of the freshman girls are expected to be at the assembly. The girls will be ushered on to the stage where they will do whatever they are told. The freshman boys have been going through their paces and it wouldn't be fair for the girls not to have their share, too.

Dolly Dingle, the song queen, has organized about 12 girls, who will be dressed uniformly, are to sit on the stage and help with the songs and yells.

The new U. W. band organized by Ralph Nolgren will provide the music. And if all reports are true, it will be a fine addition to the school spirit.

Campus Vespers To Sponsor Trek

The University Vespers will sponsor a pleasure jaunt to Silver Creek Falls this Saturday. Trucks will leave from Eaton Hall at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. All students are invited to attend.

Sunday night the University Vespers' program will be to explain the purpose of this organization, and to formulate the plans for the coming year. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting.

Spencer Injured

Mr. Robinson Spencer, Willamette librarian, has been confined for the past week in the Deaconess hospital suffering from a broken right leg received last Friday night when he was struck by a car. Mr. Spencer's condition is announced as excellent but it will be at least three or four weeks before he can return to his work at the library.

Cookie Jar

The Cookie Jar is held each Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m. It is a social gathering where students get together, eat cookies (very delicious ones, too), and have a general good time. It is not a club, and everyone is invited to "drop in."

FROSH ENTERTAIN

This cut, one of a forthcoming series to be offered by this publication, is designed to illustrate some currently popular item of campus interest. Betty Crany, the artist responsible for this week's cut, has chosen "W" (Tub court proceedings)—Editor's note.

TRIPLE - THREATER

John Ohrt, co-captain of the Nevada eleven which meets Willamette Friday evening at Sweetland field, is the back-bone of the Wolf back-field. Ohrt capably takes care of the passing and kicking, besides doing a large share of the ball packing.

NEVADA WOLVES INVADE CAPITAL FOR BIG BATTLE WITH KEENE'S BEARCATS

Plaque Offered Most Valued Grid Star by Engravers

Robinson-Morris Company
Offers Award for a
Ten Year Period

New to this school but a part of the collegiate life of many universities, a "most valuable player" plaque award, to be made this year for the first time, was announced late this week by Lloyd Rhel, 1937 Willamette manager. The Robinson-Morris Engraving Co. are the donors of the plaque.

Constructed for ten year's use the plaque will hang in Eaton Hall and for ten years the name of the most valuable player of the year, from the student viewpoint, will be engraved upon it.

The award shall be known as the Robinson-Morris award. Each year the football squad will be asked to nominate three players who they feel are most eligible for the award. From these three the student body will select the player they believe has been of most value through the entire season by ballot cast in Eaton Hall.

The election will be announced during a Friday student chapel shortly after the close of each football season. Ballots for this election may be found in this year's social calendar.

Near Capacity Crowd Is Expected to Attend Important Clash

Pre-Game Dope Points to Thrilling Game For Spectators

Coach Roy S. "Spec" Keene's Willamette University Bearcats will offer Salem sports followers the outstanding football game of the season tomorrow evening, when they engage University of Nevada in an inter-sectional clash on Sweetland Field. With prospects for one of the most colorful and most thrilling ball games ever played in this city in the offing, a record breaking crowd is expected to attend the fray. Advance ticket sales point to a crowd of well over five thousand for the tilt, with a complete sellout of seventy-five hundred not at all an impossibility.

Although very little is known about the Nevada Wolf pack, coached by Douglas Dashiell, interest is running very high, since all known dope points to a very fiercely fought battle, with both teams resorting to the same type of wide-open offense. The Dashiell-coached eleven specializes in tricky reverses, spinners, and laterals, beside boasting of a polished forward passing attack, while the Bearcats have themselves turned more to an open style of maneuvers this season, which is fashioned somewhat after the famous Warner system of play.

The man to watch on the Wolf eleven appears to be "Doug" McDow, fleet-footed, 160 pound ball carrier, who holds down one of the halfback spots in the back-field. McDow, capable of running the hundred in something like 9.7 seconds, can be counted upon to furnish the local rooters plenty of anxious moments during the fray. Others outstanding on the team include Frank Showalter, 215-pound senior tackle and co-captain, and Bill Grubbs, line-smashing fullback, who also possesses uncanny ability at tossing left-handed forward passes.

The Bearcats, safely past the tough Oregon State clash without serious injury, have put in a week of strenuous practice and should be in top condition, both mentally and physically, for the fracas. Particular attention has been paid to passing plays during the week, with both offense and defense stressed. The locals made very little progress through the air in their opening tilt, and should be going for tough tomorrow evening, a vaunted attack through the air-lines can be expected.

Probably the brightest development in Willamette's favor, is the zest with which the linemen have taken to their chores, since the Albany contest. Against Oregon State's Beavers the Bearcat forward wall displayed tremendous defensive power, and should they continue their stonewall tactics the visiting backs are due for an interesting evening.

It is expected that the same lineup that functioned so well against the Beavers will carry (Continued on Page 4)

Forensics Have Large Turnout

Thursday night witnessed the largest forensic turnout in the history of the Willamette university speech department. Thirty-nine men and women answered the call to signify their interest in intercollegiate competition in public speaking.

Dr. Bruce Baxter is scheduled for the welcome address, to which a reply will be given by Bill Phillips, president of the Breakfast Club and loyal Willamette backer.

Both coaches, Doug Dashiell of Nevada and Roy S. "Spec" Keene of Willamette, will speak briefly. George McLeod, student body president, is to represent the campus.

Students whose fathers live in or near Salem are treating their "Dads" to a sample of Willamette social life.

Those men who cannot contact their fathers for this banquet are invited to be the guests of Breakfast Clubbers, who are eagerly anticipating this opportunity to be "Dad" for a night to these boys.

In former years men of Willamette have enthusiastically responded in attending this event, and it is expected that there will be a large turnout Friday night, according to the progress reported by Blue Key men working among town business men.

After the father and son banquet the Nevada team will meet the Willamette Bearcats preliminary to the game. The two teams are guests, and they will leave immediately after the "cocktail course."

Burt Crary has been selected to furnish the food, and he will be assisted by the members of "Tacka," sophomore women's service organization.

A musical program directly after the speakers will consist of recitations by the Beta Chi and Delta Phi vocal trios and the first appearance of the 1936-37 Willamette band under the direction of Ralph Noireen, in what is also his first appearance here.

Coach "Spec" Keene has promised to reserve a section of the grandstand to be used by fathers and sons who wish to attend the Nevada game.

Political Pressure On Willamette Campus Shown as Students Wax Hot

Among the few encouraging signs of our modern age is the political interest manifested by the younger generation, says Glenn Frank in his book "Thunder and Dawn" now being used as a text book in Modern History.

The increased signs of political activity within the past week upon the campus indicate the truth of this observation. Yellow snuffboxes, asking the people to vote for Alf Landon, have blossomed out in profusion on the laps of many boys. Others are wearing white and black buttons which describe President Franklin D. Roosevelt as a gallant leader and ask that he be re-elected. On a few students red buttons for Norman Thomas have been noticed.

Somewhat surprising has been the absence of snuffboxes, Roosevelt and Thomas buttons on the girls. When asked why she did not wear a button for the candidate she preferred, a girl said, "I'm afraid I'll be asked why I'd vote for him."

Extremely active in the creating of political interest is Bronk Williams, former student body president. Friday he arranged for a political meeting at Cristo Cottage to which everyone was invited. Rumors flew around that Bronk was trying to organize a pro-Landon club but when asked concerning the rumors he said, "Heck! No! We want everyone to come whether they are Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, Communists, or whatever they are."

Wednesday at the First M. E. Church three Willamette students will speak for the three main presidential candidates. Pauline Winslow will speak for Alf Landon, Lawrence Morley for President (Continued on Page 3)

Noted Grad Is Slated To Speak At Campus Feed

Both Coaches, New Band to Appear at Blue Key
Dad-Son Banquet

Work during the week by Blue Key men, under the direction of President Dwight Aden, on father and son banquet arrangements has resulted in the final announcement of the evening's program. The affair is an annual one and is to be staged this year at the gymnasium October 9, at 5:30 p. m. The principal speaker of the evening is to be Bob Knutson, a Willamette trustee and city editor of the Morning Oregonian.

Dr. Bruce Baxter is scheduled for the welcome address, to which a reply will be given by Bill Phillips, president of the Breakfast Club and loyal Willamette backer.

Both coaches, Doug Dashiell of Nevada and Roy S. "Spec" Keene of Willamette, will speak briefly. George McLeod, student body president, is to represent the campus.

The University Sunday School class, under Professor Clark, is held Sunday morning at 9:50. It is a study of the Bible, and is mostly a lecture class. Students will find it very interesting and helpful.

NECROLOGY

Mrs. W. F. Byars (Ada Nesbitt) died at the family home in Goldendale, Wn., September 11. She was a graduate of the Willamette University college of music in 1899. Her husband, is postmaster of Goldendale.

Seven children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Byars, four girls and three boys. The oldest son, Nesbitt, graduated from Willamette in 1922, and is now pastor of the Methodist church at Arlington, Ore. His eldest son, Billy, entered Willamette this year. Mrs. Effie Dunlap, '87, and Mrs. Ronald Glover, '07, of Salem, are sisters of Mr. Byars.

Dr. Lenthal A. Bollman, 63, who had practiced medicine in Dallas for 30 years and who was widely known in Polk county, died at the Dallas hospital, September 29, of pneumonia and septicaemia.

Dr. Bollman was born in Postville, Iowa, in 1873. He came to Oregon with his parents when he was nine years of age. He taught in Lane, Douglas, Crook and Harney counties for six years before he completed college work. He attended the University of Oregon four years and was graduated from the Willamette University medical school in 1906. He was married to Nellie Jester in 1907. She survives, as do two sons, Paul and Lenthal, Jr., both of Dallas, and a daughter, Mrs. Edna Peters of Seattle.

Dr. Bollman specialized in gynecological operations and through his success in such became widely known. In 1928 he was nationally recognized for his skill as a surgeon when he was elected to the American College of Surgeons at Boston.

At the time of his death he was a member of the Dallas school board, and of the Dallas Kiwanis club. He was also a member of the First Methodist church of Dallas.

Concerted Effort

We feel that there are a few people on the campus to whom the student body owes appreciation for services rendered since school opened.

Although not as apparent as it might have been George McLeod's work this year as chief executive is worth more than a mention. Several departments, non-existent or non-active for the last few years, including the music manager and the honor code committee, have been put in motion through his efforts. And no one on the campus, including the faculty, can reel off the language like he can.

We haven't room to throw bouquets at everyone who deserves them. But Paul Sturges isn't so bad with the use of language himself. Innumerable Salem clubs and organizations of all kinds will testify to this fact, because he's appeared before nearly all of them with effective pleas for support of Willamette and her ball teams. The news publicity he's responsible for we won't need to mention.

Various faculty members are working hard to boost enrollment and improve the university standards in general. Latest reports on registration figures for the year show it has pushed over the seven hundred mark.

In short, a lot of people are working for Willamette. Some are paid and some do it for some reason, unexplained, except for the fact that they always seem to enjoy it. People hear about our campus. We're "snapping out of it."

Why don't we all cooperate with Sturges and McLeod and the sentiment they expressed in Tuesday's chapel.

A short sermon outline modelled after one of Dr. Baxter's (and we believe there's none better) would be to the effect that, for the next two days, first, we enjoy letting everybody in town know we belong at Willamette, second, we want Nevada gridsters to feel welcome on our campus, and third, most of all we're going to enjoy beating them.

Dots

Dots and dashes and lots of flashes and how are you Mr. and Mrs. Campus? This is Nicholas Stoponovich alias Nicky to youse guys and youse gals, and self appointed star dirt excavator for this heah column. Yehh. Have you been good? No. Well read on.

And in answer to the countless letters that have been pouring in from kind young maidens I reply, "Yes Bud Eatis is a real thoroughbred, to goah, wild apache Indian, and maybe a little Kalamazoo thrown in for good measure. Why many a time and oft have I trembled at the sight of his bloody collection of scalps and with my own eyes have seen him sink a tomhawk into a penny at twenty paces. Yehhh (Note: He's already lost his frat pin.)"

And last but not least, youse students don't know how disappointed a new yell king was the other day when he had the best program arranged for you and at the last minute found himself without any players to perform. Poison ivy and skunk cabbage to youse meantes who didn't show up and orchids to Fredericks and Hottel.

Musings of a Moron

Recently ran across an old sophomore friend who told me this story. He was working in a grocery store this summer when a pudgy little Babbitt waddled into the store and asked him for some Bull Durham. Owing to his pious home training the lad was not familiar with the word Bull Durham but he thought the customer was referring to a brand of dog food. His search of the dog food department for Bull Durham was fruitless, however. But being anxious to make a sale he grabbed a can of Doggie Dinner and Man-Kind and brought them to the Babbitt with this explanation: "I'm sorry, sir, but we are out of Bull Durham, but we have Doggie-Dinner and Mankind, both of which are easily digested by the puppy." The customer started to change color, the sophomore reports. He changed from a friendly tan to a angry red. Suddenly, with his cheeks blown out like bubbles the inimical customer exploded. "You fool I want some Bull Durham tobacco." Who says a pure life pays?

The people of Salem should be interested in this one. Hitler, it was reported, visited an insane asylum. He asked some of the inmates: "Do you know who I am?" They shook their heads and remained silent. "I am Adolph Hitler. I am Almighty. I am almost as mighty as God himself." A smile of pity was their answer. One of the patients mumbled: "Oh, Yes, Yes, That's the way it started with us."

Albany Wedding Is of Interest To Willamette

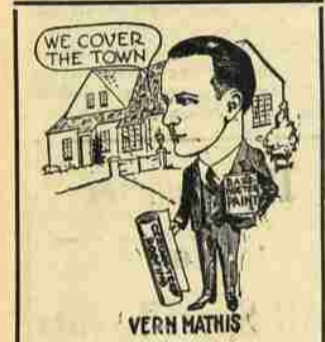

A wedding of particular interest to Willamette students was solemnized last Saturday night when Miss Eleanor Yarnes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Yarnes of Albany, became the bride of William Mosher, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Mosher of Salem, at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist Church in Albany.

Dr. Yarnes performed the ceremony, before an altar banked with an ivy covered lattice, zinnias, marigolds, and dahlias. There were tall candelabras placed on either side holding white cathedral tapers. Proceeding the service, Linden Launder of Albany sang "Until." Mrs. Hazel Ewing of Albany was organist and played the wedding marches.

The bride wore a dress of white transparent velvet made on simple lines with long court train and tiny velvet buttons down the back of the waist and at the wrist. She wore a full length lace veil, with tulle falling from a halo cap, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her maid of honor was Miss Mildred Drager of Salem, who wore a Copenhagen blue moire taffeta dress and a corsage of gardenias. The bridesmaids, who included Miss Josephine Anderson of Salem, and Miss Vernita Van Fleet of Portland, were dressed alike in frocks of burgundy red taffeta. They also wore corsages of gardenias.

Harry Mosher acted as best man for his brother. Ushers were Don Erickson, Paul Carpenter, Luman Ney, Joseph Scott, and William Stone. A reception at the home of the bride followed the wedding. The couple will live in Albany, after a short wedding trip.

Mrs. Mosher is a graduate of Willamette, where she was a member of Alpha Phi Alpha sorority. Mr. Mosher is also a graduate of Willamette and a member of Alpha Psi Delta. He has received his Master's degree from Oregon State, where he is now working toward his Ph.D. in chemistry.

The tea table will be decorated by autumn flowers in a bronze bowl, and candles in matching shades. Miss Frances Virginia Melton, Mrs. Roy Keene, Mrs. Morton Peck, and Mrs. E. M. Page will pour during the afternoon. Assistance about the house will be served by the members of the house.

Pledges Give Dinner Sunday

Hosts were Cecil Quesseth, Max Hauser, Wayne Brainard, Corliss Berry, Henry Frantz, Jim Robinson, Victor Crow, and Jack Criswell.

Sigma Tau's Hosts Friday

Last Friday evening Sigma Tau fraternity was the scene of an informal dinner. Eleven couples were seated at a table centered with a flower arrangement of salmon colored gladiolus and small white flowers. Following the dinner some of the group went to the theater, while others danced at the chapter house.

Guests were Prof. and Mrs. E. S. Oliver, and the Misses Helene Trulsen, Alice Speck, Adene Fairclough, Jean Bartlett, Betty Williams, Annette Jordan, Jane Fisher, Claire Hurley, June Charbonneau, and Charlotte LaDue. The hosts included Bill Miller, Bud Estes, Windy Henderson, Jerry Sherman, Grover Williams, Bob Hart, Joe Harvey, Bill Wagner, George LaVatta, and Rose Gladden.

Former Student Married Friday

The chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal church was the scene of a lovely wedding Friday night, when Miss Rosemary Sawyer, daughter of Mrs. C. B. O'Neill, became the bride of Allan Earle, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Earle.

The candlelight service was read by Rev. George H. Swift, before an altar of white chrysanthemums and white tapers.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of brown chiffon velvet tunic, trimmed with old fashioned lace, with a corsage of orchids. Her sister, Miss Margie Sawyer, wore a dark red crepe model, with a gardenia corsage. Sam Earle, brother of the groom, acted as his best man. The couple will live in Cottage Grove.

Mr. Earle was a student at Willamette before his marriage.

From 4 to 6, members of Beta Chi will be hostesses at their chapter house on State Street. Miss Barbara Benson will greet guests at the door, and Miss Julia Johnson will introduce to the line, which will include Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. Ernest Richards, Mrs. Frank Erickson, Miss Beryl Holt, and Miss Marjorie Thorne.

The tea table will be arranged in silver and crystal, and centered with roses. Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson and Mrs. C. A. Sprague will preside at the urns during the first hour, and Mrs. Paul Wallace and Mrs. Herbert Rabe during the second hour. The Misses Helene Schneider, Marian Averill, Charlotte Litchfield, Helen Olds, Rosalie Goulder, Mabel Lenz, Ruth Bunzow, and Carol Smith will serve.

Beta Chi's will hold formal initiation services after the inter-sorority tea this afternoon. Pledges to be initiated are the Misses Carol Smith, Mary Jeanette Clark, Belle Brown, Lois Webb, Alice Chandler, Julia Philip, Marian Wakefield, Betty Lane, and Rosalie Goulder.

Shower Honors Bride Elect

Miss Neva Smith, whose marriage will be an event of October 11, was the inspiration for a surprise shower last Friday night, when Miss Virginia Pugh and Miss Peggy Peterson entertained at the D. W. Pugh residence.

Fall flowers were used about the rooms. At the supper hour a miscellaneous shower feted the bride-to-be.

The guest list included the Misses Roberta McGilchrist, Carolyn Hunt, Irma Oehler, Thelma Davis, Cathrin Headrick, Ruth Pemberton, Barbara Benson, Juanita Cross, Cornelia Hulst, Arda May Smith, Margaret Hauser, Joan Phillips, Betty Taylor, Ruth Bunzow, and Charlotte Litchfield.

Aldens Honored By W. U. Faculty

Members of the Willamette University faculty honored Dr. and Mrs. George H. Alden at a large dinner Tuesday night in the banquet room of the Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 o'clock. The affair was an avoirdupois to Dr. and Mrs. Alden before they leave Salem to take up their residence in Los Angeles. Dr. Alden has been on the university faculty for the past 20 years and resigned his position as head of the history department last spring.

There were 55 guests in attendance. The long table was centered with an arrangement of zinnias and autumn leaves. Candles furnished the only light.

Prof. W. C. Jones arranged the program, which included short talks given by the various members of the faculty who travelled during the summer.

The committee in charge of the affair included Mrs. Bruce R. Baxter, Mrs. Roy S. Keene, Mrs. Frank Erickson, Mrs. W. C. Jones, and Dean Olive M. Dahl.

Blue Key to Give Dinner

The annual Father and Son Banquet, sponsored jointly by the Blue Key and the Salem Breakfast Club, will take place tomorrow night in the Willamette gym, just preceding the Nevada game, at 5:30. Burt Cray will provide the dinner.

Short speeches will be made by a number of prominent guests, including Dr. Bruce Baxter, Coach Roy S. Keene, Bill Phillips, and Doug Dashiell, coach of the Nevada team.

The aim of the Blue Key's for this affair is that each boy in school will be provided with a "father" from the Breakfast Club. If it is not possible for his own father to attend.

Program for Rush Week Given Out

"Rushing time impends. All upper classmen hate it. Next year you will hate it. For a week, you will be handled with kid gloves. Then you will be shown where the brooms are kept."

With these immortal words of Dean Dahl's, we hereby usher in the rushing season. True or not, they urge new and old girls alike to enjoy rush week while it lasts. The most exciting time of the year begins today. The rushing program follows:

This afternoon is held the inter-sorority tea, to which all new girls on the campus are invited, in order that all sorority girls may have an opportunity to meet them. Tea begins at the Alpha Phi Alpha house, located at 750 North Summer Street, continuing there from 3 to 5 o'clock. The Delta Phi house at 1610 Court Street will be open to guests from 3:30 to 5:30. Then, from 4 to 6, the Beta Chi's will entertain, at 1445 State Street. All the teas are formal.

Personal rushing is just what the words imply. Friday, October 9, is Beta Chi day; Saturday, Delta Phi day; and Sunday, Alpha Phi Alpha day. It lasts each day from 6:30 to 8:30, except on Friday, when it will be moved up two hours because of a conflict otherwise with the Nevada game.

Informal dinners will be given the next three days. Delta Phi will entertain Tuesday, Oct. 13; Alpha Phi Alpha on Wednesday; and Beta Chi on Thursday. Informal dinners are held from 4:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

The climax of the week will come Saturday, October 17, when each sorority will entertain with its formal, preferential dinner. These dinners will last from 5:30 to 8:00 and will indicate which house the rushees intends to pledge.

Formal pledge service is set for Sunday, October 18. It is traditionally followed by attendance by all members and pledges at the First Methodist Church.

News has just reached Salem of the marriage of Miss Allison Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Logan of Westport, Mass., and Robert Dickinson McGilvra of Bend. The ceremony was performed September 26, at Westport. Mr. McGilvra is a former student of Willamette.

Delta Phi sorority held formal initiation Sunday morning at the chapter house for the Misses Martha Herman, June Johnson, and Josie Acklin. The ritual was followed by a buffet breakfast and attendance at First Methodist Church.

Members of Beta Chi will be hostesses for an informal party after the Nevada game. Kappa's will also give a party that night.

Political Pressure

dent Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Monroe Sweetland for Norman Thomas.

To determine the sentiment on the campus a straw vote will be taken at the student body assembly on Friday.

Henderson Heads Lib. Committee

Winthrop Henderson has been chosen the chairman of this year's Library Recreation Reading Committee. Other members of the committee are: Margaret Dooge, Lois Burton, and Paul Cammack.

Already the committee has chosen a number of books that will be included in the list for the annual reading contest. This year it has been decided that first prize will be $10.00, second prize $8.00, and freshman prize $8.00.

THE RAMBLING SHOPPER

By Uncle Willie

Hi-de-ho, mine frans! Here is another week gone by and only four more until first exams, so start cramming.

The most popular girl this week Uncle finds, is that dame who told Judge Bill McAdam and his jury last Friday that she was a man-hater. Gosh, how the fellows like to flock around and be hated. Even His Honor, the Judge, has been found off-guard and his dignity forgotten in the mad scramble to get acquainted with this gal. Uncle has decided to become a gal-hater, and all gals are asked to begin hating him. But whether you're a man-hater or not, gals, you'll appreciate those "Snuggie" P. J.'s which Shipley's are offering. Take a squint at 'em.

Two different times last week Uncle was flabbergasted when he heard his name called out by some gal, whom he couldn't recognize. The trouble was that Lillian Graham was hiding her charms beneath what looked to be a bread platter turned upside down and colored black. It just goes to show you pals what a difference a new roof makes to an old dwelling. And for some novel and guaranteed results there's no better place than Salem Paint and Roofing Co., and no better guy to do it than Vern Mathis.

Uncle calls your attention to the fact that the Red Cross needs you. And if you are like Bill Stone and Art Gallon, you need the Red Cross. Well, pals, Salem has the Red Cross Pharmacy, where Mr. Hussey dotes on catering to your needs, be they medical or otherwise. And, gals, it isn't only Joan Crawford who is the Gorgeous Hussy. Nowser.

'Tis reported that Eugene Hubbard was found in Cooke's Stationery Store one day, but what he got away with is undetermined. At any rate he showed signs of good breeding by at least walking into the place. Very clever, these Chinese.

Because Norma Fuller was so good to thank Uncle for mentioning her name in this here column, Uncle wants to let Norma (and any other gal who has freckles) in on a secret way to get rid of them. Keep blushing. Yuh-huh! And you'll look your blushingist "if you buy your paint at a paint store." Hutcheon's Paint Store carries a complete stock for you gals who are artists.

Don't be surprised tomorrow night at the Nevada game when the yell leaders come out in fancy regalia. Of special interest to his pals will be the shoes worn by Williams & Co. If you take a fancy to 'em, toddle down to Cliff Parker's and let Phil Bell outfit you in one. They're called Bearcat Paws. What can be finer than to put them on your dogs and let 'em bark?

Uncle isn't surprised to hear about Landon receiving so many votes around school. Many freshmen think Wanda Landon is the candidate for president, and who wouldn't vote for Wanda. If only everyone would notice that Wanda lunches at the Court St. Dairy Lunch, and no wonder—Landon's farm relief program is famous. If everyone would try one of those delicious milk shakes for only a dime, Uncle foresees a boon to the cow business. And no Wanda. They are delicious.

Classified Ad. A charming and not-too-bad-looking red headed gal would like to meet some mugs like Paul Bennett or Karl Kahle who are interested in flowers. Please line up orderly in front of Helen Breithaupt's Flower Shop, and don't rush!

In closing, Uncle would like to pay tribute to Judge McAdam and his Court. What struck us so funny was Darryl Newhouse's falsetto voice, George Erickson's continued blish, and Bronk Williams' eagerness to play "Snaps." Gosh, what Uncle wouldn't give for a couple of "Snaps"

Conference Elevens Will Enter Third Week of Grid Season

Willamette U. - Nevada And Badger-Wildcat Games Standout

Paced by the perennial league leaders, the powerful Willamette University Bearcats, teams of the northwest conference swing into the third week of their 1936 grid campaign this week-end, with action slated for five rather widely separated gridrops. Most of the teams seem to have passed their first tests fairly successfully and are counting on winning a majority of their games from here on in, which points to a very close and thrilling race. Of the five tilts featuring conference elevens, only one, the Linfield-Bearcat contest at Forest Grove, Saturday afternoon, will have a bearing on the loop championship.

The outstanding game of the week is the intersectional clash between Willamette and University of Nevada, in Salem, Friday night. The tilt, which marks Willamette's debut into intersectional competition, is expected to be a thriller from start to finish. The teams appear very evenly matched and, as both employ a wide-open style of offense, the outcome is a toss-up. The game is expected to set a new high in interest in Salem, with a crowd of six or seven thousand anticipated.

At Forest Grove, the Linfield Wildcats will attempt to avenge themselves of the blot made upon their near perfect record last year by the Pacific Badgers, who held them to a scoreless tie early in the season which later cost them the league championship. The Cats have played two conference games to date, smothering College of Idaho 45 to 0 and playing

Frosh Basketball Candidates Begin Workouts Soon

Although the regular basketball season is still two months away, freshman hoop aspirants will begin practice in approximately two weeks, it was announced this week by Lestle J. Sparks, frosh mentor. Plans now call for the rookies to begin work the last of this month, allowing them about seven weeks of pre-season workouts. Also during this time, the interclass cage tournament will be run off, giving the first year men a chance to play several practice games.

A large turnout is anticipated by Coach Sparks, who intends to follow his policy of recent years of placing teams in both A and B high school competition as well as the Salem city league. Last year the freshman squad had a very successful season, playing through a hard schedule with the loss of but five games. Just what material is on hand is not known, but a few of the outstanding prep material from last year, now in school include: Jim Robinson, Coquille; Dale Ashland, Woodburn; Melvin McKibbons, Airlie; Dwight Catherwood, Mill City; Henry Franz, Nelsville, Wis.; an Cece Quesseth and Bill Wagner, Salem High.

a 7-7 tie with C. P. S., while Pacific has broken even in a pair of contests. They fell before Portland U. Pilots 14 to 0 two weeks ago, but downed the Fort Lewis Soldiers 20 to 7 last Saturday. The clash will be the first conference game for the Badgers under their new coach, Roger Folgate.

A real battle can be expected Saturday evening at Tacoma when the C.P.S. Loggers and Portland Pilots renew football relations after a three year lapse. Mentors of both teams boast of veteran squads and an abundance of promising new material, which should make the fracas a close one.

Whitman should have little trouble with the little Whitworth College in their game Friday night at Walla Walla, in-so-much as Coach "Nig" Borleske's outfit seems to be one of the best at that institution in years. The Missionaries defeated Albany 38 to 0 and lost to Idaho in their opening games.

At Albany, the Pirates will meet Oregon Institute of Technology of Portland, Friday evening. The game will be their first home appearance under their new coach, Don Faber, and the twice-defeated eleven is counting on a big night against the Techmen.

College of Idaho will be idle this week-end in preparation for their melee next week with the champion Bearcat crew. The Coyotes lost their lone league game to Whitman, but staged a real comeback last Saturday and downed Eastern Oregon Normal 13 to 6.

Six teams, Independent Men, Freshmen, Physical Ed. Staff, Alpha Psi Delta, Sigma Tau, and Kappa Kappa Gamma Rho, will make up the intramural passball league which will get under way early next week, George Erickson, director, has announced. Little is known about the strength of the various outfits, but a close fight for the school championship is anticipated. The teams have been playing practice games this week and should be fairly well organized.

The game itself is a moderated version of football and is played with much the same set of rules, excepting that an effort is made to lessen the amount of bodily contact involved. Blocking is allowed, but tackling is not, a player being "downed" simply by being touched. Passing is the best offensive for the game and is used extensively.

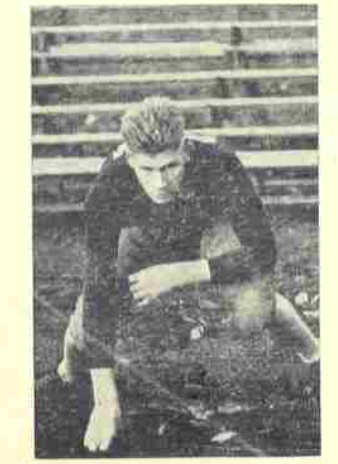

Games are played from five to six in the afternoon on the girls' gym field.

GARIBALDI'S PRIDE

Darrel Newhouse, three year letterman, hails from the little coast town of Garibaldi, where he formerly starred in high school sports and now serves as sheriff of the community. Just to show you how much the people think of his law enforcement—there hasn't been a crime committed in Garibaldi since Darrel took office.

ANOTHER COAST BOY

Bob Vagt, who has blossomed into one of the outstanding linemen on the Bearcat squad this season, hails from Tillamook, Oregon, giving the locals a pair of tackles from the coast district. Vagt, a 3 year letterman, is playing his last season for Willamette.

Local Gridders Lose By 13-0 Score at OSC

Joe Gray and Deming Lead Beavers To Close Victory

Blocked Punts Play a Deciding Hand in Final Outcome

The combination of Ken Deming, fast charging center, and Joe Gray, the elusive, red-thatched half-back, both regarded very highly in coast football circles, was just a little too much for the Willamette Bearcats to assimilate Saturday afternoon at Corvallis, and, as a result, the local gridders came home on the short end of a 13 to 0 score.

Deming, who took particular delight in breaking up Bearcat plays all afternoon, set the stage for both touchdowns, by blocking kicks deep in Willamette territory. Gray then took up the burden and punched his way over for the Beaver scores.

The first touchdown came about midway in the initial quarter when Deming blocked one of Weisgerber's punts and the Beavers recovered on the twenty-five yard marker. From there the swivel-hipped Gray scored in five plays, chief of which was a fake-pass and a run of fifteen yards. The second score came late in the final period, with Deming blocking another punt which was recovered by Lillebo on the nine yard marker. In three plays Gray went over for six points to which Swanson added a conversion.

Willamette's big chance to score came early in the final period. Brandon passed to Verateeg on the seventeenth, a toss of over forty yards. Swanson then intercepted another heave on the five, seemingly stopping the drive, only to have Gray fumble on the next play, with alert Bill McAdam recovering for the Bearcats. However, two smashes at the line only lost yardage and the threat ended when two subsequent passes fell untouched over the goal line.

For Willamette, though the whole squad played one of the scrappiest games they have ever staged. The playing of Bob Vogt and Darrell Newhouse, the tackles, and Dick Weisgerber, fullback, was especially outstanding. Vogt played unquestionably the greatest game of his career, breaking up play after play, charging down under punts like a streak, and leading the way on offense. Newhouse and Weisgerber were towers of strength on defense and aided adeptly in holding the score down.

Students Offered Sports Program

Under the direction of George Erickson, newly appointed intramural athletic director, one of the most extensive athletic programs ever conducted at Willamette is slated to get under way early next week. The program, made possible by the appropriation of student body funds last spring, will offer students a wide variety of sports from which to choose, and will make possible a well-planned recreational set-up for each individual in school.

Sports included in the plan are passball, a less-rugged form of football; basketball, softball, track, swimming, tennis, badminton, an indoor game that closely resembles tennis; volleyball, horse-shoes, and speedball, a game that combines the maneuvers of basketball, football, and soccer.

NEVADA STAR

Harry Bradley, 200 pound guard, serves as a stone-wall on defense for Coach Dashiell's eleven. Bradley is a two year letterman.

Bearcat Who's Who

(Wherein it is hoped that students can become more acquainted with some of the grid-iron stars of W. U.)

Harriers Working Out for Hill Meet

Between fifteen and twenty candidates are working out diligently for this year's Bearcat cross-country team, which will open its season about the first of next month. The hill-and-dalers expect to put in about three weeks of conditioning before their first meet.

Intramural Sports Begin Next Week

Intra-mural sports will get into progress next week with preliminary touch football games to be held each afternoon from 5 to 6 p. m. on the girls' soccer field. The purpose of the preliminaries is to orientate the freshmen and acquaint them with the game as played on the Willamette campus. Interviews with intra-mural manager George Erickson and Lestle Sparks disclosed that there are to be several new sports introduced into this field here. Namely, volleyball, badminton, speedball, and cross-country fall track. Backed by better finances than in previous years, intra-mural will have a full program throughout the year. Awards will

TROUBLE FOR W. U.

Paul Walker, two year veteran tackle of the invading Nevada Wolf pack, Walker brings with him a reputation for sparkling line play and may give the Bearcats plenty of worries Friday evening.

Three Hundred Enrolled for Gym

With an enrollment of over 300, the men's gym classes are larger this year than formerly, according to Lestle J. Sparks, instructor. However, this number includes swimming classes and other activities so that the actual number of students in gym instructional classes is less than in previous years.

The swimming classes numbering about 75 are held in the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool with Earl Douglas as instructor. "The activities we intend to stress in our gym classes this year are pass football, volleyball, basketball, swimming, and soft ball," stated Sparks.

Mike Balkovic, former Willamette football star and graduate of the June '36 class is assisting Mr. Sparks as gym instructor.

are individual trophies for class victories in the contests and the year's winner inscribed upon a plaque.

Hampered by a knee injury, Erickson will probably have the year's schedule completed for publication some time next week.

Big Ticket Sale Makes Progress

Ticket sale competition waxed keen in some quarters today with the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority in the lead and the Kappas holding a close second. This contest was announced last week as the result, on the part of President Bruce Baxter and George McLeod, student body president, to stimulate interest in the coming Nevada-Willamette football game.

McLeod announced during chapel period last Wednesday that the first prize, given to the fraternity or sorority selling the most tickets, was a five dollar order on some down-town business establishment. It is expected that this announcement will speed up selling among the Greek letter organizations.

"East Meets West" To Show at State

The theatre's peerless actor, George Arliss, gives to the cinema world another triumph in his latest Gaumont-British success, "East Meets West." Those who remember him as "Mr. Hobo" will find an altogether different Arliss in the role of a fascinating woman-hating Rajah, Lord of the Orient, all-powerful—and yet powerless to impose his will on his son, who loves the wife of another man.

Oriental love has always been a fascinating subject to old and young. The story of "East Meets West" is grippingly told, and well directed. It can be truthfully said that George Arliss has yet to make his first movie failure.

Nevada Wolves

Salem sports lovers who have delighted in watching the "Jersey Scooter" Johnny Oravec show his heels to the opposition, for the past 4 years, may have a chance to see some of the same type of play in the Nevada contest tomorrow evening if the highly touted Doug McDow, Wolf halfback, is up to his usual tricks. The swivel-hipped ball packer from down south possesses a pair of winged feet, that simply can't be overtaken if he manages to get into the open. Advance publicity from the Nevada campus, though rather indefinite about the team as a whole, warns that they are counting upon McDow to do most of the ball packing for the silver and blue.

Plenty of passes seem to be the dish that the Nevadans are preparing to serve the Bearcats, which promises Capital city fans one of those hair-raising, breath taking contests that anybody would give a fortune to see. The Wolves specialize in tricky spins, reverses, laterals, bullet-passes, and shovel-passes, something on the order of the Oregon Normal offensive tactics when Larry Wolfe was coach. Larry's teams always put on a thrilling exhibition in Salem, and the Nevada outfit can be counted on for some of the same.

What a whale of a game those two Willamette tackles, Bob Vagt and Darrel Newhouse, played for themselves last Saturday against O. S. C. Time and again the Orange backs hit a stone wall of defense when trying to smash through those spots. Vagt further distinguished himself by making the Beaver safety men utterly miserable on punt returns. Down under every kick like a streak, he spilled the receiver several times dead in his tracks.

In fact the entire Willamette team deserves a round of applause for the gallant battle put up. With any breaks at all, the Bearcats might have carried home a truck-load of Beaver pelts.

It was amusing to watch the anxious, almost fearful expressions that graced the faces of a good portion of home-town fans, when Dick Weisgerber rolled up several long gains in the first period. Dick was the man the Beaver fans were afraid of, and the burly New Jersey juggernaut kept them on their toes most of the afternoon with his brilliant kicking, plunging, and defensive work.

Quite a program of sports have been lined up for this year's intramural program, recently announced by "Les" Sparks, head man in that line of athletics. The schedule should contain at least one sport favorable to everyone in school, no matter how young or how old. George Erickson will assist Mr. Sparks in directing the set-up.

Every sports columnist seems to have to make himself ridiculous with some idle prognostications sometime during the football season, so here goes for this week: Willamette to beat Nevada by
