

BANQUET GIVES INSPIRATION TO PORTLAND FOLK

Prominent Alumni Tell Willamette's Story in Behalf of Endowment Campaign

BISHOP SHEPARD SPEAKS

Songs Are Furnished by Men's Glee Club and String Trio; Story of Temple is Told

To the tune of "Pep" with a keynote of "Give," the banquet in behalf of the Willamette Forward Movement went off with a bang at the First M. E. church in Portland last Friday night. Among the features were speeches by several prominent men, Willamette Glee club with songs and yells, peppy stunts by alumni and a big chicken dinner with all the trimmings.

E. S. Collins, who was among the "goods-looking" who spoke, sounded the prevailing sentiment of the event-folks when he remarked, "Us plain folks who cannot make inspiring talk and say flowery things still can do things when the opportunity arises."

But the red letter moment of the evening occurred just after Professor Matthews had finished his unusually delightful remarks. Dr. Doney arose and presented the fact that the A. S. B. had petitioned the board of trustees to endow the James T. Matthews chair of mathematics for $25,000. He added that if any of them would not vote in favor of this he might as well hand in his resignation immediately. The fact that everyone was wholeheartedly in favor of this endowment was demonstrated by the tribute paid to Professor Matthews. For five long minutes the crowd of two hundred stood on their feet and applauded and cheered vigorously.

The banquet was opened by Willamette songs by the Glee Club, and the speaking was punctuated here and there by snappy little songs and stunts.

In the main address of the evening, Bishop Shepard, with his theme that "Nothing better can be done financially and otherwise than to make this school absolutely permanent and firm as a rock," gave a most noteworthy appeal to put this campaign thru.

Edgar B. Piper, Dr. W. W. Youngman, ex-Governor T. T. Geer, and J. W. Day also spoke. Mr. Day, in his remarks said, "It is the biggest thing that we can get behind." Dr. Smith, who heads the Forward movement, in the final remarks of the evening, begged that "we not only speak and waste a lot of good time but let us GIVE!"

An interesting feature of the program was the history and the reading of "The Old Historic Temple" by Perry Reigleman, an author. Mildred Streyve did herself proud in two lovely solos.

After a most enthusiastic evening for Willamette the banquet closed with a song by the Glee club.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 7.—Did you know that one out of every 50 students at the Oregon Agricultural college is a Johnson? Johnson is a popular name for there are no less than 50 of them enrolled this year.

CAMPUS WILL HAVE IMPROVEMENTS FINE SHRUBS TO SURROUND EATON

Beautification of the Willamette University campus was provided for in the appointment by President Doney, of a committee consisting of Mr. Wallace and Mrs. Busch, to take care of that work. Mrs. John Winkle, formerly superintendent of the State penitentiary, has been appointed to take charge of the artistic decoration.

As plans now stand, the rose bushes and ferns will be removed, and shrubbery of various varieties substituted. Two beds of shrubbery, one on each side, will decorate the walk leading to Eaton Hall, and the same plan will probably be carried out for the Waller Hall entrance. The lawn will also be reseeded in some spots.

Much beautiful shrubbery has been secured, as the donation, in large part, of the Washington Nursbasket season ETAOIN SHRDL SH Basketball practices will start in about a week, at the City Hall, providing that the plumber gets around to fix the showers. Baggett and Taylor are already working out with Company F.

Bearcat prospects for the coming year are not so blue as they seemed last spring. Last year's Freshman team offers good defensive material in Baggett, Schreiber and Emmel, with a possible forward in McKinney.

For the freshmen, McClary and Laird were participants in last year's tournament; Max Jones and Petram, who comes in at mid-year, are two of Salem High's best men, while Stolze is said to be capable of filling the place deserted by Walt Sowlofsky. Phillips comes with a good record as a center. Others may show up in the inter-class games preceding the regular season. With Logan and Patton, last year's letter men, and Caughlan, scrappy sub, these may weld into fighting combinations which, supported by the rapidly awakening Willamette spirit, will ring the Victory bell with monotonous regularity.

OREGON PLANS HOME-COMING FOR ARMISTICE WEEK-END

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Nov. 6.—(P. I. N. S.)—Plans for homecoming and Armistice day which are to be celebrated jointly on November 11, now only 3 days in the offing, are rounding into shape. With the "naturalization" program and offering of friendship from graduates of other institutions, the Armistice day parade, the jazz rally and the freshman bonfire, homecoming this year promises to be a "bumper" event. The Oregon-W. S. C. football eleven will vie for supremacy on Hayward field Saturday afternoon while the Army and the Woman's building will be the scene of merry making in the form of dancing that evening.

GLEE CLUB HAS LOCAL PROGRAM

Student Body is Given Entertainment in Vocal and Instrumental Numbers

Last Friday during the chapel hour the faculty and students were favored with the first public appearance of the Men's Glee club, prior to its trip to Portland for the Forward Movement banquet.

The opening number, "We Are Jolly Students," was of a humorous nature, and proved quite popular with the audience. The new varsity string-instrument trio, composed of Avery Hicks, cellist, Delbert Moore, violinist, and Byron Arnold at the piano, was next introduced, first in "Told at Twilight," and in the "Marche Militaire" as an encore.

The beautiful rendition of these numbers evidences great talent in the players, and promises a valuable addition to the future club programs. The varsity quartet, composed of Edward Warren, Jack Vinson, Lyale Bolton and Percival Blenkinsop, aroused considerable applause with "Tim Rooney's at the Fightin'," and the comic encore, "There's Gwine to be a Landslide."

The club, ensemble, closed their program with "The Old Historic Temple."

Stanford Opposes Tubbing

Stanford University, Nov. 6.—(P. I. N. S.)—The sophomore class has gone on record as officially opposed to all tubbing, and pledged strict observance of the University's regulations against the water cure. Other measures of upholding traditions will be discovered.

Classes "Show Off" at U. B. C.

University of British Columbia, Nov. 5.—On Friday Nov. 3rd, the University kept open house. The visitors who were shown around by the students, seemed to enjoy watching the students at work.

Business Course in Demand

University of Idaho, Moscow, Nov. 6.—(P. I. N. S.)—That the department of economics and business is popular at the University of Idaho is evidenced by the fact that ten hundred and thirteen students are enrolled in its courses. Two hundred and two of these are majoring in one of its branches.

ANTHOLOGY HAS COEDS' VERSES

Audred Bunch and Irene Berg Have Poems Accepted in "Poets of the Future"

Willamette University is this year to be twice represented in "Poets of the Future," a college anthology published by the Stratford Company of Boston. Audred Bunch's poem, "Values," which appeared last spring in the March 22 issue of the Collegian has been chosen for inclusion in this year's volume of the anthology, and Irene Berg's poem, "The Goal," also published in a spring issue of the Collegian, will be listed among other poems of merit in a supplementary "honor roll" that makes up a regular part of the book.

The poems that comprise this collection are carefully chosen from the submitted contributions of college students throughout the continent. Dr. Schmitzkind is a courteous critic, and returns intact what verses are unavailable.

Audred Bunch reports an encouraging detail concerning a poem of hers entitled "Sacrament," which was submitted to Dr. Schmitzkind and rejected for inclusion in the anthology, but was later accepted for spring publication in "Lyrics West," a western magazine of verse. Miss Bunch has received several letters of commendation from the editor, Grace Atherton Dennen, concerning the charm and originality of her verses.

Miss Berg's poem "The Goal," and Miss Bunch's poem "Values," appear as follows:

THE GOAL
I,
What is there in the rafters,
When we've climbed three flights of stairs,
That makes us think them beautiful
Despite their rugged flares?
II,
'Tis not because of graceful art
That we can see their glory;
But 'tis for what they signify:
We've reached the topmost story!

VALUES
I,
A sparrow in a thorn bush;
A lily in the swale;
A little chipmunk frisking
Along a lichened rail.
II,
Oh, little things, and simple,
They move me to the quick:
A little bird, a little beast,
A flower I chance to pick.
III,
Though these are only trifles,
Fragments and minutes;
'Tis in terms of trifling things
That men their lives compute.

"Beanie" Is No More; Long Live "Beauty" Bain!

A large number of Walla Walla debutantes were fully prepared to center their affections on one man, when the Bearcat team entered the Whitman chapel Friday morning. But the twenty Willamette warriors, clinging into the pews, knew not the cause of the scrutinizing glances, and the whispered toto-a-totes, which came to their burning ears—"Which one is Beanie?" "I believe that might be him," (pointing to a certain basketball star.) But alas for the damsels; intercollegiate reporters will write carelessly, and it was not the fault of the Whitman Pioneer staff that the exchange account of the team bore in it the name "Beauty Bain," arousing so great expectation which the realization could only shatter. "Beanie"—how we loved that name, but we must acknowledge its death. And in its place a new, dazzling "Beauty" has blossomed forth!

Prexy's Door Object of Much Interest; Unlisted Minority Still Hopeful

Affection for Dr. Doney is evidently a waxing and waning contagion. There are times when the hallway in the center of Eaton Hall first floor, is as barren as the top of our librarian's dome, and again, as at present, there are times when it is as densely populated as the Spa on a Saturday eve.

Surging crowds vie for a place next the beloved Prexy's door and a few happy faces mingle with throngs of tear-stained cheeks and fear-torn countenances. Anon, some unfortunate on the outskirts of the crowd pipes up, "Is my name written there?" And sweet and clear comes back the answer, "If it were not so I would have told you, enter them into the den of the faculty committee."

Musical Lausanne Joins Talents in Organization of New String Orchestra

"Oh, we're the Roguish Umps; We drive away the dumps." The Roguish Umps were driving away the dumps from old Lausanne last Friday night when they appeared in a brief concert. It was their first public appearance, but it will not be their last. Wild bursts of applause followed each of the numbers, and the Umps felt well repaid for their hours of practice.

Miss Grace Jaeger is leader of the orchestra, which is made up entirely of stringed instruments—ukes, guitars and mandolins. The orchestra has practiced faithfully each night for more than a week, and presents a fine and varied program—all the way from Willamette songs to jazz. The fraternity and sorority houses may hold one car open for a serenade most any time now.

Tribute is Shown to Professor Matthews in Student Resolution to Endow Chair of Mathematics

A resolution providing that the students' contribution to the Endowment Fund, a sum of at least twenty-five thousand dollars, be used to establish an honorary endowed chair of mathematics, to be known as the James T. Matthews chair, was passed amid enthusiastic applause in the A. S. B. meeting last Friday.

This is one of the greatest and sincerest tributes that a student body can pay to a loved professor, and it is with a feeling of real love and admiration that the tribute is paid to Professor Matthews, head of the mathematics department of Willamette University.

In the twenty-five years that Professor Matthews, himself a graduate of Willamette, has without interruption, served as head of the mathematics department, he has occupied a place of esteem in the hearts of the students unequalled by any other. "They love him, they admire him, they revere him and his 'quaint, scholarly human ways," he is a real professor.—James T. Matthews.

But not only among the students, but as well among citizens throughout the state and nation, and world, as President Doney said in chapel Thursday, Professor Matthews is admired as a scholar of eminence and ability, and as a man who has made the world better for his having lived in it. The enthusiasm with which they greeted this statement, and the unanimity with which they passed the communication to the trustees, is sufficient evidence of their love for the professor. The communication read as follows:

"Mindful of the place Professor James T. Matthews has won in our affection and esteem and having due regard for his long, beautiful and efficient service to Willamette university we hereby request that the funds we shall pay toward the forward movement be set aside for the endowment of the James T. Matthews chair of mathematics by the classes of 1923-24-25-26."

DATE CALENDAR IS MADE KNOWN

Various Campus Organizations Are Assigned Evenings for Social Functions

The social calendar, an item of great interest to both eds and co-eds, has been completed with the exception of a few dates. Each year it has been the custom for the various organizations of the campus to hand in their preferences for social functions to the Student Affairs Committee. This body, composed of Dean Richards, Professor Kirk and Professor Franklin, from the faculty and Ruth Smith and Roy Skeen from the student body, arrange the calendar in such a way as to avoid all conflicts.

The few dates which are left open will probably be taken up by basketball games. As yet provisions have not been made for the Lyceum, which is considered a school affair, but it is not certain that there will be any.

The calendar as arranged now is as follows:
Nov. 10, Christomathean Rush Parties.
Nov. 11, Adelante Rush Parties.
Nov. 12-19, "Win - My - Chum Week."

Nov. 24, Freshman Party.
Nov. 24, Sophomore Party.
Nov. 24, Junior Party.
Nov. 24, Senior Party.
Nov. 25, Christophilian Party.
Nov. 25, Philodorian Party.
Nov. 25, Palladian Party.
Nov. 25, Clinonian Party.
Nov. 25, Lincolnian Party.

CALIFORNIA PRESIDENT WILL PRESIDE AT CONFERENCE

Stanford University, Nov. 6.—(P. I. N. S.)—Dr. Lyman Wilbur, president of the university, will preside at the first regular session of the Association of American Universities to be held at Baltimore on Nov. 3. Dr. Wilbur is chairman of the committee which is considering proposals for the reorganization of Education. He will also present the report of the American Council on Medical Education.

WHITMAN GAINS VICTOR'S TITLE IN CLOSE GAME

Bearcat Slip in Last Quarter Converts Promised Missionary Loss to Final Triumph

SCORE REACHES ONLY 9-7

Goals Are Forfeited by Willamette Through Penalties; Whitman Heavy on Line Plunging

Willamette lost a heart-breaking game to Whitman Saturday on Ankeny field, Walla Walla, by the close score of 7 to 9. Entering the final period with a lead of 7 to 3 and victory imminent, the Bearcats allowed the Missionaries to push across a fluke touchdown, and victory to slip away.

Aside from the first few minutes of play, the team played stellar ball. Only numerous penalties prevented the Bearcats from consistently advancing for scores. Whitman had been doped to win by a large score, but found actual defeat staring them in the face in the final period. Only the let up of the Willamette team when they mistook the head linesman's whistle for the referee's, allowed the Whitman runner to run and crawl 20 yards for a touch-down—and victory.

"We had the game won," said Coach Bohler, commenting on the play. "It was our own fault that we lost. Mistaking the head linesman's whistle for the referee's is not a good alibi. The men had been coached on that very point. It was just one of those slip-ups which so many times decide close games. The team made a good showing against their heavy opponents, and I am satisfied with their work."

Penalties Prevent Bearcat Score

Willamette opened the game by kicking to Whitman. In the first few minutes the team was nervous, and before they had steadied down Whitman had advanced by line plunges within the shadow of the Willamette goal. On the 20 yard line Willamette braced and Tilton dropped back for a drop-kick which scored Whitman 3 points. With this uncertain margin the Whitman team seemed to be content. Their play was slow and team work ragged. On several occasions only too numerous penalties kept Willamette from a chance to score. The half ended 3 to 0 in Whitman's favor.

Zeller converts Drop-kick

In the third quarter a hurried Missionary punt went only 10 yards out of bounds from their 20 yard line. On the second play Zeller, the fast Bearcat captain, made one of his famous broken field runs around right end for a touch-down, and converted goal by drop-kick.

In the final period Whitman opened with a variety of trick plays prepared for use against teams on their southern trip. Their "deaf and dumb" signals baffled the Willamette players for a time and allowed Whitman to take the ball to the 20 yard line. It was here that the disastrous mistake cost the game. Schroeder went through on an off-tackle play, but was stopped with a five-yard gain. Hearing the head linesman's whistle for an off-side penalty, and noticing that the referee had not followed the play the Bearcats let up. Schroeder was on

A. S. B. MEETING TO COME FRIDAY, CONSTITUTION ORDER OF BUSINESS

As events are now arranged, nothing will obstruct the path of constitutional adoption at the student body meeting to be held Friday of this week. Since last semester the new constitution has been dragged over from meeting to meeting, always interfered with by special matters of business that come up. In accordance with provisions of the document, the remainder of the body of the constitution is printed below, as it follows those sections given in the Collegian of two weeks ago.

WILLAMETTE FORWARD MOVEMENT

We are now in the midst of the Willamette Forward Movement, and it is essential that the students of the University keep this fact constantly in mind: that to no small degree the success or failure of the campaign depends upon the daily attitude of the whole student body toward the Movement, and upon the reaction to the opportunity to be of definite service to Willamette which manifests itself in the spiritual and material support of all the students.

And let special emphasis be placed on the necessity of every student participating in this support to the fullest extent of his ability and means. But above all the students of Willamette must show themselves to be one hundred per cent heart and purse for their school.

The individual who has received or is receiving the inestimable benefits of the instruction, atmosphere and associations of Willamette is unworthy of his heritage unless he does all in his power to foster and enhance this spirit of service and Christian idealism for which Willamette stands. The demand for the kind of education which Willamette offers has outgrown the means which the school possesses to meet it; and so expansion has become imperative.

We who are here enjoying the privilege of attending Willamette are doubly obligated. We dare not receive without giving in return; and we must strive to give to as many of the coming college generations as possible the same or better opportunities than we have had given to us. The practical expression of these obligations means that we must keep ever before us the goal at which Willamette aims; that the Willamette Forward Movement is our responsibility, and that we must meet it with our earnest and constant efforts and prayers.—Verne Bain.

GIVE THEM THE OLD, WILLAMETTE FIGHT

"Fight" is the word with which every account characterizes the team in the game at Walla Walla. "Willamette fought from start to finish," said the Oregonian; and they held the opposing eleven, ten pounds heavier to the man, down to a two-point margin.

This instance should serve to demonstrate convincingly, if nothing else can, the value of student support. The team testify that they never knew a greater degree of morale to be instilled in them, as in the yell rally of last Thursday and the appearance of the mass of students at the train ready to cheer their departure. The men fought every minute of the time because they knew there were five hundred classmates in Willamette rallying to them, and endorsing their efforts.

It is this student backing that gave the eleven Bearcats that indomitable determination which wins against greater odds. The want of it is the handicap under which the team worked earlier in the season, and which brought such discouraging results from the intercollegiate contests.

Last week's pep demonstration was an awakening. The team had been pulling alone on the field, while the bleachers slept. There are three more football games before the season closes, and basketball becomes the order of the day. We can depend on the team to give every ounce of grit on the field; it is left for the student body to prove that pep is truly revived, and to win the victory.

Really, we congratulate the freshmen on their small representation in the flank list. After seven weeks of the social calendar, we're agreeably surprised to find so many of them able to stagger in on Monday morning, boasting a bond of acquaintance with their text books.

But even if the freshmen can exhibit constitutions of steel, might not we, as aged upperclassmen, petition for say one week end in six with nothing to do but recuperate our old vigor? Verily, when we review the biological history of the butterfly and the social history of Rome, our heart grows faint within!

Remember the parable of the talents, you fellows who play hand instruments. The hand is as necessary at athletic meets as the rosters and the team itself.

AMONG OUR ALUMNI

Among the high school teachers in Salem is a worthy representation of Willamette graduates. At the senior High School are the following: Mary Eyre '18; Victor Collins '22, Edith Byrd Collins '18, Mabel Bouhney '18; Fay Bolin '18; Beryl Reeves Smith '12; Lina Holst '14; Herman W. W. Clark '15; Vesta Mulligan '19; Mabel Robertson '22; and Garnet Hara '22. At the Junior High School are: McKinley, Marjorie Minton '22; Grant, Leila Johnson '19; Frederick Aldrich '21; Washington, Teresa Fowle '18; Leslie Sparks '19; Hazel Bear '21; Marion Linn '22.

Harry O. Savare, who has been teaching in the Senior High School in Salem for several years is now in Eugene. He has a fellowship in the department of Sociology at the University of Oregon.

Jacob Nickel, who is principal of the schools at Altie, Oregon, visited Salem last week, and Sheldon Sackalt, also a graduate of last June brought his high school debaters from Adna, Washington to visit the State Library here.

Dorothy Schnagge and Elmer Dawe, both former Willamette students, were married in Portland last August and are now living at Estacada, where Mr. Dawe is teaching.

Dr. McConnell of Life Service Group Talks on "Pioneering" at Y Meet

Dr. McConnell, the leader of the life service group that visited Willamette University last week, conducted the regular Y. M. C. A. devotional meeting Wednesday evening. Mr. McConnell chose as his subject "Pioneering" and introduced the subject by giving a description of Jason Lee and other pioneers of Oregon. He reminded the large number of men present that the world needs men today with the pioneer spirit. There still remain huge forests in the realm of thought that are yet to be explored. Spiritually man has not conquered the world but great fields of service are awaiting those who are willing to withstand criticism, suffering and disappointment. Dr. McConnell was very much impressed with the spirit manifested at the men's devotional meeting. Before he left he added this statement, "I have visited many colleges in the United States but I consider the spirit at Willamette the most wholesome."

An Answer to the "W" Club Resolution.

Editor's Note: The Resolution appears in the Collegian of Oct. 25. Since we, Milton McKinney and Fenimore Baggett, feel that we have not been given a square deal by the "W" Club, in as much as we should have been given a chance to defend ourselves before that club, we take this means of stating our case.

The Sophomores were outnumbered in the class scrap. In each of our cases it was five to one. Now five men can treat one man pretty rough and not half try. We asked them to play fair but they kept on punishing us until it became unbearable and then we resorted to the only means by which one man could hope to cope with five.

We admit we lost our temper and are sorry that it happened. We have apologized to the members of the freshmen class whom we struck. In one case the apology was received as a gentleman would receive an apology; in the other case it was refused. We do not know why this was, but we feel that it was probably due to a misunderstanding. We feel that we did our part in making things right.

—Milton McKinney,
—Fenimore Baggett.

Drawing Room Lends Atmosphere to Clionian At-Home

Last Saturday afternoon on the Adelante Halls, the Clionian Literary Society welcomed all non-society girls and ladies of the faculty in their first formal "at home". The hall was arranged in the form of a large drawing room, with a dainty tea-room set apart by lattice work, decorated with yellow and white crepe-paper streamers. Yellow streamers hung from the lights and golden chrysanthemums were placed in baskets about the rooms. The guests of the afternoon were received by Miss Juanita Henry introducing to the president of the society, Miss Margaret Gates, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. Horace Williston, and Miss Daphne Molstrom. In the miniature tea-room the guests were served with nabisco wafers and ices decorated with the Clionian "C."

Business Girls and Coeds Mix

On Wednesday evening the Business Girls' Class of the First Methodist church entertained the College Girls' Class at a delightful Halloween party in the church parlors. The guests were ushered through ghostly aisles and over precipices into the rooms gaily decked in Halloween streamers and symbols. After contests of bobbing apples, racing with doughnuts and pinning tails on tail-less cats, refreshments of pumpkin pie, jack-o-lantern cakes and coffee were served.

Misses Mabel Flock, Alice Wells, and Mary Wells, were entertained at dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kuntz.

Chrestomatheans Greet New Girls in Spanish Garden

All the gaiety and romance of a true Spanish garden was expressed Saturday afternoon when the Chrestomathean Literary Society was at home to the new girls of the university. The Chresto cottage was transformed into a bower of trailing vines and hanging baskets of flowers and ferns, over which shaded lights cast a delicate moonlight shimmer. And to add to the homey spirit which was everywhere displayed, a merry fire crackled on the hearth. Amanda Wagner, Zella Mulkey and Grace Jasper, dressed in attractive Spanish costumes, served the guests with chresto "Chi" ice cream and dainty wafers. Zella Mulkey, accompanied on the guitar by Grace Jasper, gave an artistic solo dance, a topical expression of Spanish sentiment. Those who received the guests were, Mary Elizabeth Hunt, president of the society, Paloma Prouty, Mrs. Carl Greg Doney, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. G. Ebsen, and Thelma Mills, who presented the guests to Miss Hunt.

Philodossians Slumber in Log Cabin

The Phil Log cabin sheltered a jolly bunch of girls last Saturday night. After serenading the neighbors the girls were in turn serenaded by the Yarsity quartette. Stories and songs kept everyone busy until bed time when all were put to bed by the official "tucker-in." The morning brought forth a toothsome breakfast in which bacon and eggs and hot cakes played the major part. After one final ramble through the woods the party once more returned to civilization. Those who enjoyed the slumber party were, Mrs. Peck, Miss Vivian McKittrick, Dorothy Erskine, Eva Tarkerion, Mildred Grant, Esther Bauman, Ruth Smith, Ruby Rosenkranz, Carmen Harwood, Winnifred St. Clair and Grace Brainerd.

Miss Kershner Entertains Palladian Guests

The home of Alta Kershner was the scene of much merriment on Friday evening when the Palladians entertained a group of university girls with an informal party. The evening was spent in various exciting contests between rival teams. After the prize was awarded to the winning team, brick ice cream and cake were served. The following girls were present: Joy Starr, Frances Purdy, Pauline Miller, Mary Conn, Anselme Smith, Opal Timmons, Mabel Flock, Mildred Tucker, Lucille Wylie, Beryl Brown, Eleanor Brown, Enid Bolton, Alice Barnum, Frances Campbell, Kathryn Crozer, Marjorie Lyman, Arvilla Woodworth, Nora Zehner and Erma Shelbourne and the hostesses, Carolyn Wilson, Elsie Smith, Zeda Rhoten and Alta Kershner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ledbetter were the guests of Miss Eva Ledbetter for dinner on Sunday at the Delta Phi house.

Dr. McConnell was a dinner guest at Kappa Gamma Rho on Wednesday evening.

Palladians Spend Evening in Pep Contests

"Rah, rah, rah.—Peppy Poppers" endeavoring to drown out "Rah, rah, rah, Winners," expressed the spirit of keen rivalry prevailing last Friday evening at the home of Esther Doeder, where the Palladians entertained with a jolly party. The evening was devoted to exciting contests and the "Winners" by a score of five to two, succeeded in carrying off the coveted prize. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The girls present were, Faith Friday, Lesta Weed, Sarah Parr, Nadie Strayer, Hazel Malmsten, Mabel Maddox, Dorothy Peters, Thelma Estes, Edith Mason, Hazel Hinds, Margaret Seethoff, Elizabeth Okerberg, Annabel Rice, Irene Boje, Mae Beisell, Esther Roeder, Ruth Roeder, Myrtle Richardson, Louise Schreiber and Cornelia Widman.

Progressive Dinner is Served by Phil Girls

The Phil girls were hostesses for a very unique progressive dinner party on Saturday evening. The guests were transported in cars to the home of Miss Mildred Clarke for the first course of bouillon and saltines. Dainty windmill place cards directed the guests to their places at a large table, where they were served by Dutch girls and boys.

After this the guests were escorted to the "sunny South" at Josephine Bross's home where they were served the main course in the good old Southern style by negro butlers. Chicken, sweet potatoes, creamed peas in tinned cases, hot rolls and cranberry jelly made up the menu. Next the party journeyed to the home of Miss Nell Foke, where in a dainty Japanese setting, they partook of fruit salad and wafers. The last course was served at the Findley home where petite French maids served ices and cakes, coffee and mints. Here clever little French dolls of crepe paper in pastels were given as souvenirs.

The guests remained for the evening and a jolly party ensued at which the Phil boys and their guests from among the new men, were present.

Francis Hodge, Wilma Spence, Dorothy Palmer, and Lola Millard, entertained with a formal dinner for the Philodossian Literary Society on Saturday evening. The yellow color scheme was carried out artistically with yellow candles and shades and a large center piece of yellow chrysanthemums, while at each place was a corsage of the same flowers. Yellow place cards marked places for Mildred Hansen, Pauline Miller, Esther Lening, and Geraldine Cook and the hostesses. Following dinner a theatre party was made up of the girls accompanied by Ronald Haynes, Oscar White, Arthur Bonney, Ronald McKinnis, Dwight Mulkey, Hugh Bell, and David Ellis.

Misses Doris Jeffers and Mary Keith gave a surprise birthday dinner in honor of Miss Dorothy Sibley Tuesday night at Lausanne Hall. The table decorations were appropriate for Halloween. Those present were Misses Dorothy Sibley, Maurita Miller, Margaret Booth, Virginia Noble, Mildred Maple, Martha Malory, Doris Jeffers, and Mary Keith.

Miss Anna Lavender was the guest of Miss Margaret McDaniel at her home in Portland over the week-end. They were accompanied by Miss Jennelle Vandevort. All three attended the Willamette banquet in Portland on Friday evening.

A few of the Philodossians entertained with a charming formal luncheon at the home of Mrs. I. S. Geer, 475 Commercial street at one o'clock on Saturday. A yellow color note predominated in the wax tapers, the center-piece of chrysanthemums and exquisitely tinted place cards. The hidden guests were Misses Dorothy Bird, Jessie Pybus, Marguerite Dutcher, Helen Bartholomew, Marjorie Brown and Esther Bauman. The hostesses were Misses Grace Brainerd, Vesta Dicks, Ethelyn Yerex, Adelia White, Ruth Hill, Alice Wells and Mary Wells.

Ruth Smith, Kathleen La Rant, Josephine Bross and Nell Foke, were hostesses at a delightful "Phi" luncheon on Saturday at one o'clock. The centerpiece was of pink chrysanthemums; two little maids served. After luncheon the guests were entertained with piano selections by Mildred Grant and vocal solos by Kathleen La Rant. Those bidden were Eva Tacheron, Hollis Vick, Mildred Grant and Myrtle Jensen.

Dr. and Mrs. Doney were guests at the Beta Chi house on Wednesday evening at a charming dinner. The table was centered with a bowl of brilliant red flowers, while red candles at the sides burned throughout the dinner. After dinner Miss Caroline Stober read several selections, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Hunt gave a piano solo.

Miss Aileen Hoffman, Miss Adelia White and Miss Josephine Bross, were the guests at an informal dinner at the Spa, given by Miss Elsie Hop Lee on Wednesday evening.

Miss Daphne Molstrom's mother has been her house-guest at Lausanne Hall for the past few days.

On Friday evening a group of new girls were entertained at a line party by Lola Hensley, Ella St. Pierre and Genevieve Phillips. After thoroughly enjoying "Trouble," refreshments were served at the Spa. The guests were Edith Young, Hazel Bodie, Gladys McIntyre, Esther Speed, Beulah Fanning, De Lorne Parrot.

Dr. Raider was a dinner guest of Sigma Tau on Wednesday evening.

Warren Day spent the week-end in Portland.

Miss Verna McKeehan spent the week end at her home in Portland, remaining over Monday.

A TOWER OF PISA IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Iperse dixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment. Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "best people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times. "Look at the world, and experiment," cried Galileo. The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Suleiman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now? Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right of experimental evidence. Suleiman did little to help the world. Hardly an experiment is made in modern science, which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs. General Electric Company General Office Schenectady, N.Y.

POLITICAL SITUATION FLAVORS PHIL MEETING

Pierce and Olcott are Prematurely Doomed in Favor of Andy Gump for Governor of Oregon

At their regular meeting last Wednesday night, the Philodorian worried the minds of a number of visiting Freshmen by presenting the perplexing problems of the coming election. Bruce White discussed what was to be done with Mr. Pearce's insistent claims to the right of sitting in the Governor's chair. A reply to the discussion came from Ed Huston, who presented the counter problem of what is to be done with the present occupant of the chair, Governor Olcott. Here Daniel Taylor came to the rescue, and put all minds at ease by urging that Andy Gump, the people's choice, who wears no man's collar, be elected.

The question of the elections being settled, Vorne Bala brought forth the claims of Willamette University upon its student population, and inspired his audience to use its greatest "sense" in gaining full value from the "cents" invested during the college course.

Leon Jemison and Lloyd Waltz dispelled all perplexing questions with lively playing and singing.

A. S. B. MEETING

forty-five per cent (45%) of the available space per issue. Any other points required by the A. S. B. may be covered. Said contract to be signed before October of the college year during which it is to be effective.

Section 5. All minor details connected with the publishing of the paper shall be settled by the staff.

Section 6. Reports. After deducting from the total revenues of The Collegian all the expenses of the proper maintenance and publication of the paper, the manager shall, within one week after the close of each month, render to the Executive Committee a written report of the financial status of the paper, together with all vouchers for money paid out, etc.

Section 7. Remuneration. The editor and manager of The Collegian shall each receive a salary of one hundred dollars ($100) per year. This money shall be taken from the net earnings of The Collegian. In case net earnings are not sufficient to cover this amount, the Executive Committee shall be authorized to pay these salaries from the permanent Collegian fund, or in case of a deficiency in this fund, from the general fund.

Section 8. At the close of the college year if there is a surplus, after the salaries of the manager and editor have been deducted from the Collegian fund, it shall be divided as follows: One-third to the business manager; one-third to the editor, and one-third to the general fund. The money so placed in the general fund shall be set aside as a permanent Collegian fund, to be used for general improvements of the paper deemed advisable by the Executive Committee, or to meet any deficit occurring in the regular Collegian funds in any year.

If the manager or editor resigns during the college year for other than some necessary reason, he shall forfeit all rights to any reimbursement from such funds. When any manager or editor shall, in the judgment of the Executive Committee, have sufficient reasons for resigning, the Executive Committee shall make an equitable settlement with the outgoing and incoming officers.

ARTICLE XI.

(To be revised.)

ARTICLE XII.

Yell King and Song Queen.
Section 1. Officers. The officers of this department shall be Yell King, Crown Prince, and Song Queen.

Section 2. Selection. They shall be selected by a popular vote, following a public tryout to be arranged by the Executive Committee. The man receiving the highest number of votes shall be Yell King. The man receiving the next highest number of votes shall be Crown Prince. The girl receiving the highest number of votes shall be Song Queen.

Section 3. Term of Office. The term of office of these officers shall be the same as that of other A. S. B. officers.

Section 4. Duties.

Clause 1. Yell King. It shall be the duty to endeavor at all times to promote loyalty to Willamette University and enthusiasm over its student activities. For this end he shall during his term of office:

- (a.) Provide for and conduct at least two rallies of an athletic nature and one of forensic nature.
- (b.) Personally conduct the rooting at two-thirds (2-3) of the intercollegiate contests held at home, and provide for the other one-third.
- (c.) Provide decorations for the grandstand at all field contests and provide a band whenever possible.
- (d.) Have charge of all excursions accompanying teams to other colleges.

Clause 2. Crown Prince. It shall be the duties of the Crown Prince to assist in the leading of yells at rallies and contests, and in otherwise promoting interest and enthusiasm in student activities.

Clause 3. Song Queen. It shall be the duties of the Song Queen to lead in the singing at all rallies and contests.

ARTICLE XIII.

Clubs.

Section 1. Athletic "W" Club.
Clause 1. Name. The name of this organization shall be the "W" club.

Clause 2. Membership. All wearers of the official Athletic "W" shall be members of this club.

Clause 3. Organization. This organization shall have power to elect its own officers and maintain an independent existence, in so far as this does not conflict with the provisions of this constitution.

Section 2. Name. Forensic "W" club.
Clause 1. Name. The name of this organization shall be "Bar W" club.

Clause 2. Membership. All wearers of the official "Bar W" club shall be members of this club.

Clause 3. Organization. This organization shall have power to elect its own officers and maintain independent existence, in so far as this does not conflict with the provisions of this constitution.

Section 2. Girls' Willamette club.
Clause 1. Name. The name of this organization shall be the "Girls' Willamette Club."

Clause 2. Membership. All the girls of the A. S. B. shall be members of this organization.

Clause 3. Organization. The "Girls' Willamette Club" shall elect its own officers and maintain an independent existence, in so far as this does not conflict with the provisions of this constitution.

ARTICLE XIV.

Special Committees.

Section 1. Auditing Committee. There shall be an auditing committee composed of Vice-president of the A. S. B., and two other members appointed by the President of the A. S. B., which shall audit the books of the Treasurer of the A. S. B.

Section 2. Collegian Committee. There shall be a Collegian committee of three appointed by the President of the A. S. B., as provided in Article XI of the by-laws.

Section 3. Freshman Glee Committee. There shall be a Freshman Glee Committee of three appointed by the President of the A. S. B., as provided in Article V of the by-laws.

Section 4. May Day Committee. There shall be a May Day committee of three appointed by the President of the A. S. B., as provided in Article IV of the by-laws.

Section 5. Inter-class Rivalry Committee. There shall be an Interclass Rivalry Committee as provided in Article VI of the by-laws.

Section 6. Honor Code Committee. There shall be an Honor Code Committee of five appointed by the President of the A. S. B., as provided in Article VII of the by-laws.

Section 7. Awards Committee. There shall be an Awards Committee composed of the President of the A. S. B., who shall act as chairman, athletic director, faculty member of the Executive Committee, athletic managers in their respective seasons, president of "W" club, and president of "Bar W" club, which shall have full jurisdiction over granting of awards as provided in Article II of the by-laws. A majority of this committee shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE XV.

Repealing Acts of Officers.

Any act of any officer, committee, or organization existing under this constitution may be repealed or amended by a majority vote of any regular or special meeting of this association.

ARTICLE XVI.

Amendments.

Amendments to this constitution may be proposed in writing at any meeting of this association. They shall then be posted for at least ten days and must appear in The Willamette Collegian. At any subsequent meeting they may be passed, provided they receive a two-thirds vote.

Have your suit cleaned and pressed before that next party. D. H. Mosier, 474 Court Street. (Adv.)

"Get your Photo Taken;
November 15 Last Day"
Says Wallulah Manager

The management of the Wallulah faces the discouraging fact that only two hundred students have purchased their picture coupons, and only one hundred twenty-five of those had their sittings. The freshmen have been more prompt than the three upper classes.

The time limit on the photography is November 15th, for all except seniors, who are scheduled for the week following that date. Caps and gowns will be furnished by the studio at that time.

For the underclasses, the Wallulah management gives the warning that after November 15th, sittings can be had only by the payment of one dollar in addition to the coupon. It is hoped that no student physiognomy will appear in the year book at the expense of the extra dollar.

his feet in a flash and away. Knocked from his feet, the Whitman quarter rolled and crawled the last five yards for a touchdown. The off-side penalty was then refused by the Missionary captain, and the score stood 5 to 7 when Tilton missed goal.

The remainder of the quarter was Willamette's. Two attempted goal kicks, one 20 yards and the other 40, either of which would have won the game, fell short.

Bearcats Show More Speed
Whitman, due to the work of their colored fullback Norris, possessed an advantage over the Bearcats in line plunging. In speed in returning punts, in end runs, passes, and punting, Willamette showed to advantage. Zeller easily outplayed the highly touted Tilton, and made his touchdown around him. Isham too did well in returning punts. He seldom failed to make from 8 to 10 yards, while Whitman runners were several times downed in their tracks. Cramer on defense did good work as did Patton in his punting. The Willamette team, according to a Whitman sport writer, "fought from start to finish and at times played brilliant football."

The line-ups:

Whitman 7	Whitman 9
Patton	LER	Holmes
Allen	LTR	Boyd
Jones	LGR	Morelock
White	C	Walther
Stolzhae	RGL	Lucht
Huston	RTL	Heritage
