J. J. HILL WINS WILLAMETTE HEARTS

Magnate Gives $50,000 to Endowment Fund of University

Students Send Letter of Appreciation—Gift May Be Followed by Others—Fund May Reach Million Mark

That James J. Hill, noted railroad magnate and empire builder has won a warm place in the hearts of Willamette students, is evident by the following letter of appreciation which the student body voted to be drawn and sent to him. The action was taken as a result of the gift of $50,000 by Mr. Hill to the endowment fund of the university on condition that the university authorities raise $250,000, part of which is already promised. That the action of Mr. Hill will be followed by other wealthy friends of Willamette is believed by many; and that the pioneer institution of the West will soon have a million dollar endowment is the belief of the optimistic who have dreamed of bright days for the university for years.

The letter of the students to Mr. Hill follows:

"January 12, 1911.

"Mr. James J. Hill,

"Saint Paul, Minn.

"Dear Mr. Hill: We have been informed by President Homan of your offer of fifty thousand dollars toward the endowment fund of Willamette University.

"As a student body, we desire to express our thanks for the interest you have shown in our institution. We highly appreciate the gift, in itself, and in its expression of your belief in this pioneer institution of the Northwest.

"We realize the great benefit which will result from your offer, both to the student body and university as a whole, and we trust the giving will bring satisfaction and enjoyment to yourself.

"We send you greeting of the new year, and wish you many happy days in the future.

Sincerely,

"Alma V. Haskin,
Alfred A. Schramm,
"Student Committee."

PRES. CAMPBELL WILL SPEAK TO Y. M. C.

Subject of Talk to Be, "The Choosing of a Life Work" All Welcome

Sunday, Jan. 29, Pres. P. L. Campbell, of the State University, will address the Y. M. C. A. on the subject: "The Choosing of a Life's Work." This address will prepare the way for a series of six talks to follow, the subjects of which will be: Y. M. C. A. Secretaryship, Law, Medicine, Teaching, Business and Ministry. This series is not meant to be exhaustive, but representative of probably the six commonest vocations.

The choosing of his life work is one of the biggest questions a college man has to face. It is the purpose of these meetings not to make one into a preach-

NEW ART INSTRUCTOR.

Mrs. Fuller Succeeds Miss Gill—Comes From East.

In the person of Mrs. A. R. Fuller, of Denver, Colo., the Art school of Willamette University has a new and capable head instructor. Mrs. Fuller succeeds Miss Margaret Gill, who went to New York to study in the Cooper Institute for several months. While Mrs. Fuller only takes the place of Miss Gill for a year, the new instructor may be permanent. Mrs. Fuller was a student of Franz A. Bischoff, formerly of Detroit, Mich., but who is now at Pasadena, California. Mrs. Fuller was a resident of Portland eighteen years ago.

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Varsity Spell-Binders to Spout Friday Night.

Paul Todd, Harry McCain, Carl Hollingworth, Mr. Schroeder, Miss Grace Edgington, and Miss Marie Schmidt are the contestants in the local oratorical tryout which takes place each year on the 27th of January for the purpose of choosing a representative in the annual state oratorical contest. The contest promises to be a very interesting one and a large crowd of students as well as town people are expected out.

ORATORY RECITAL.

Next Tuesday night, in the chapel of the university, will take place one of the regular recitals of the College of Oratory, which, as has always been the case, will prove very interesting. A feature of the program will be a sketch which is said to be very laughable and to have some very humorous situations. Everybody is welcome, so be sure and come.

er or the like, but to give him light and help in determining his calling and to make it plain to him that, whatsoever career he decides upon, in that capacity he may work in harmony with his Creator.

As leaders for these meetings have been secured the ablest men in the state. It is to be hoped that the meetings start off auspiciously and that a large crowd attend the initial meeting. Pres. Campbell is a keen speaker and all will do well to hear what he has to say.

VARSITY WINS GAME

M. A. A. C. Swept Off Feet Out-Played

W. U. in Limelight Now—McRae and McIntyre Stars—M. A. A. C. Plays Good Ball

In one of the prettiest exhibitions of basketball seen on the varsity floor in years, the Willamette University basketball quintet trimmed thoroughly the five representing the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club Saturday night, by the decisive score of 18 to 30, which adds another feather to Willamette's cap and puts the local boys in the lime-light as championship possibilities. Though not defeating Multnomah by so overwhelming a score as the football team did last fall, there is ample cause for rejoicing at the trick turned on the clubmen from the metropolis, who sent down their very strongest aggregation in order to show the collegians that the defeat suffered in football was only an accident and that the

OAKES WILL CAPTAIN BASEBALL TEAM

Baseball Prospects Brighter Than Ever—Material Good

Most of Old Squad Back for Work—Games Last Year Financial Success and Manager Flegel Has Outfits

Baseball prospects like everything else at Willamette, are brighter than ever before, and the institution, with the material in school now, will be able to turn out a fast and speedy bunch of players that ought to trim any aggregation in this part of the country, notwithstanding the fact that last year the team was mostly a raw and uneducated bunch as regards baseball. This year, however, with the experience of last year the improvement made in football and basketball over last year, ought to be duplicated in the baseball aggregation. With the completion of the new diamond early, and with the material now on hand to work with, the team will have an excellent start and not be handicapped by having to wait until the season is half over before getting down to work.

The entire baseball squad of last year, with one exception is back at the U. this season, and as the team was an entirely new one the past spring they will do much better work. In addition to the old men several new players have entered the university and some of these will probably make a place.

James Oakes, of Portland will captain the team this year. Oakes, when at Portland academy two years ago, was considered the best infielder in the Portland interscholastic league. Among the players of last year's squad now at the university is Oakes, captain and second base; Booth, first; P. Homan, third; Blanchard, short; Rader, center field; catchers, McMechan and Anderson; pitchers, McIntire and R. Homan and Ross.

With the completion of the new baseball diamond an added impetus will be given the game. A schedule is already being arranged and some good teams will be seen in action at the U. this spring.

Last year Manager Flegel made enough from his baseball games to purchase an entire new outfit, suits for twelve players, bats, masks, protectors and gloves were purchased, besides using much money upon improving the grounds. A baseball manager will be elected soon and the schedule of games definitely completed. Regardless of the results of games played, Willamette will have one of the finest diamonds to work on this year in the northwest.

Deaf Mute-W. U. Second.

Before the big game a preliminary was held between the deaf mute school and the varsity second team, which resulted in the score of 16 to 7 in Willamette's favor. The game was fast and proved very interesting, and while it did not appear at first that the deaf mutes had any show against the heavier varsity lads, they proved to be a scrapping foe and worthy. However, the fortunes of war were against them and the Willamette took their scalps.

The deaf mutes lineup was as follows: Loll and Lynch, forwards; Hawley, center; Dean and Mallory, guards. Baskets made by Lynch, two, and a foul thrown; by Hawley, one; by the others, none.

Willamette's lineup: St. Pierre and Winslow, forwards; Wesley, center; Roland and Joseph, guards. St. Pierre got three baskets and Wesley two. Flegel, W. U. referee.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. last Sunday was in charge of the Sophomore Girls. Miss Mildred McBride led the meeting and gave us a very helpful talk. The duet which was beautifully rendered by the Misses Pearl Bradley and Jennie Edgington was greatly appreciated by all.

At the closing of the cross-examination of witnesses, Wells, attorney for plaintiff in the last moot-court case, stated: "Your honor, we pass the juror."

OH! YOU HEART-SMASHER!

Gay Giddy Girls Going After Gilkey—Gosh! Mamma! Where's the Smelling Salts?

Now comes before the gaze of the public and basketh in the glare of the lime-light one, Errol Gilkey, whose home is at Grants Pass, Oregon, and who since last October, 1910, has been perambulating in and about the campus, buildings and other appertaining adjuncts of an institution of learning commonly known as Willamette University and who recently confesses to having been the recipient of no less than six lengthy more or less, delightful, giddy, amorous, business-like and languishing proposals of marriage from no less than six of Willamette's pretty, rosebud lipped, dancing; ed; pearl-teethed, golden-haired maids.

Now - what - chee - think - about that? "I expect to be married" said Gilkey, in defense of his position in favor of woman suffrage. Who would imagine such an avalanche of good (?) fortune would follow such an assertion? Gilkey, Oh, you favored (?) kid of the gods. You to be favored, you with your blue eyes, your "laughing hair." And ye gods be merciful, let thy blot fall gently, he, he is a Freshman!!!

It recently got out that this very promising member of the Freshman class was contemplating matrimony, but had not decided who should be the favored

Members of the college of law of the Willamette university are up in arms over the fact that no light is provided in the hallway that leads from the upper stairs down to the lower hall. To negotiate the steps and corners at about 6 o'clock in the evening, when all is dark, is extremely difficult and they earnestly pray and plead for a light to be installed at once and have presented the following petition to the dean of the law school.

"To the Dean of the Willamette University College of Law: We the members of the junior law class of the Willamette university, all in bad standing, or otherwise, do most earnestly and humbly beg and implore you to have installed at once, in the hall of the medical college a gas light, electric light, Camel-light, Rushlight, limelight or any old kind of light.

"We make this special request owing to the terrible darkness now existing in the aforesaid and aforementioned hallway on and about the hour of 6 o'clock p. m.; and if not attended to at once, will probably result in death, accidental or otherwise, of some of our noble herd, thus bringing untold damage to our class, to the hallway and to the legal profession at large, not to speak of the lawsuits arising from damage suits and soiled suits. And, noble dean, we further petition you for this light in behalf of our wives and our sweethearts, law books being so high, that we are, each and every one of the aforesaid and aforementioned class who, day in and day out (especially day out) hither assemble in the said class room for the purpose of engaging in the lawful, legal and promiscuous study of law at the said hour of 6 o'clock p. m. in the said medical college, totally unable on account of the aforesaid and aforementioned cost of law books, to carry, pack and furnish asportation to, a reasonable life insurance."

"Signed by the Members of Law College."

JUNIOR LAW SPLASHES.

Sir Edward Coke Hjorth, whose illustrations, during recitation cause the rest of the class to "sit up and take notice," has been conducting himself in an unusual manner during the past week. At 3 p. m. each day Hjorth, with a law book under his arm, walks into the State library and seats himself at the table located at the southwest corner. At 3:05 p. m., a lady fair walks into the library, and possibly on account of the good light, sits at the same table—the chatter begins. If O'Connor were not a married man Hjorth's chances would be scarce.

class, as the time has come to bid farewell to Sir William Blackstone. He has encouraged us and made the way easier. He has lighted the steps and uncertain path which we must ascend. He has been ever faithful and his patience undaunted, even when some ungrateful student has slammed the book and said: "Whats the use, or even worse. Blackstone's impression on the Jr. laws is such that he will not be forgotten soon.

CEMENT STADIUM FOR WILLAMETTE

Baseball Team Busy—New Diamond Nearing Completion To Be Finest in West.

That Willamette University, under the efficient and energetic direction of A. F. Flegel, president of the Willamette University Campus association, will have the best athletic field in the Northwest is beyond a doubt, and, if the present rate of work keeps up, it will be dead certainly before the students really awake to the fact. One of the great improvements to be made is the construction of tiers of cement seats along the north side of the field, as soon as the dirt is removed from there. When this work is completed, Willamette will have a stadium which is only excelled by that of the Tacoma high school. Under the direction of Flegel "the Irrepressible", and Dr. Sweetland, Willamette is gaining a name for thoroughness and business-like methods, which is putting the standing of the school with other institutions.

Under the able direction of President Flegel of the Student Campus association, which has been steadily at work each afternoon, hundreds of loads of dirt have been taken from the bank near the gymnasium and moved onto the field for a covering and a filling for the low places. In some spots a fill of three feet is required, while on an average twenty inches is the amount of dirt that is needed.

If the weather is fair the coming week a big crowd of students will work out each afternoon, keeping from six to ten wheelbarrows moving actively all the time. As the haul is short it is expected by Saturday night to have all the filling required for one of the best diamonds in the northwest completed. The diamond is to be given a gentle slope so that it will drain off and dry rapidly after a rain.

The purpose of the campus improvement association is to make the Willamette athletic field the best in the northwest, and from present indications before the end of the present college year this will be done.

The running track and football field, in addition to the baseball diamond, will be fixed up splendidly. It is the plan of the campus association to remove the dirt from the north end of the field back to the present fence and next year to start work upon a cement stadium. Willamette has a good location for several tiers of cement seats in the bank of the north end of the field and it is the plan of the students to construct these later.

ADELANTE SOCIETY ELECTS

There was unusual excitement in the Adelante Halls when on last Friday the regular election of officers took place. Such eloquent speeches and such violent bursts of applause that one might well have thought that the girls were profiting by the performances in the State House. When the smoke (?) finally cleared away, the following result was revealed:

President, Marie Schmidt.
Vice-Pres., Lina Heist.
Recording Sec., Helen Pearce.
Cor. Sec., Ethel Casebere.
1st Directress, Jessie Young.
2nd Directress, Elva Bartlett.
1st Critic, Florence Metcalf.
2nd Critic, Lottie Gregson.
Chaplain, Lulu Heist.
1st Usher, Frances Pohle.
2nd Usher, Electa Chapman.

The past half-year has been one of unusual interest and prosperity and under the new capable administration still greater success is assured.

Miss Cook—"Do you suppose, Mr. Gilkey, that you could eat some cake that I baked Saturday?"

Gilkey—"I feel very sure I could."

Miss C.—"Then I shall bring you some tomorrow."

G.—"I shall be de-lighted. (Aside)—Oh ye gods and little popcorn balls, is this true?"

PHILOSOSIAN SOCIETY.

The Philodorian Girls are maintaining their high standard of literary work. The program rendered last Friday was one which displayed careful thought and preparation.

After the calling of the meeting to order by the president and the roll call of the secretary, Miss Catherine Carson was solemnly initiated and welcomed to the rites and ceremonies of the Philodorians.

Then following Miss Pigler's instrumental solo, a paper on "Thought" by Mrs. McCain, and a brief talk on "How We May Obtain Happiness", by Miss Laughridge. Miss Fisher gave two readings and parliamentary practice with the president in the chair brought the program to a close.

Meeting then adjourned to greet the new sister and wish her every enjoyment in her society home.

clubmen would get Willamette's "goat" in basketball. Now, however, as they were compelled to take the small end of the score Saturday night, they may realize that Willamette is going in to win in whatever enterprise is attempted.

Willamette, in all parts of the game except basket throwing, outplayed the visitors. Had Willamette hit baskets in proportion to the chances they had there is no telling what the score would have been. As it was the varsity lads had fifty chances to one of Multnomah at the basket; while, of Multnomah's chances, very few escaped. Multnomah could scarcely throw the ball anywhere but that a Willamette man was there to nab it and shoot it back. The W. U. team work, contrary to expectations proved to be much superior to that of Multnomah and a source of great satisfaction to the local men. The boys were fast, and though considerably lighter than the clubmen, played them off their feet from first to last.

Multnomah though showing up exceptionally well before the game, did not seem to be able to get their fingers on the ball, and only once or twice during the game did they take a brace and come up to the pace set by the collegians.

The game was a fast one, with the playing mostly in Willamette's territory. The contest was very exciting from a spectator's point of view as it was close and interesting. Willamette led the scoring and for the first few minutes of the first half was in the lead. Then Multnomah crawled up and got a point ahead of the locals and remained so until close to the end of the half, when Willamette's luck at baskets changed and the varsity slowly forged ahead. At the end of the first half the score stood 8 to 9 in Willamette's favor. With the lead of one point with which to start the second half, the varsity played harder and faster than ever and shoved the score up every little while. Willamette's chances were a thousand-fold, but the ball, while circling the basket and doing all kinds of antics upon the rim, refused to go in unless compelled.

The contest was a clean one, though one of the visitors hurt his ankle. He was not hurt severely enough, however, to leave the game. On account of the fact that Willamette plays intercollegiate rules and Multnomah A. A. U., it was expected that Willamette would suffer.

Dr. Sweetland is very well pleased with the result of the game, as it puts Willamette way up in the world of basketball and shows conclusively that Willamette can deliver the goods in basketball as well as football. Though the first game of the season the varsity showed up exceptionally well and, by defeating the best team in Portland, glided into the limelight as a strong contestant for the championship honors.

McIntyre, forward, and McRea, center, both played in hard luck in shooting baskets; while Paul Homan, forward, though playing an excellent game was also to the bad where baskets were concerned. McIntyre, who has the reputation of being the crack "shooter" of the varsity and one of the best men on the team, and McRea, who is fast developing into a first class center and who plays a whole little game by himself, not counting the acrobatic contortions and ball juggling he does, both tallied up five baskets apiece over their men. Schramm, guard, who was at the right place every time and into whose hands Multnomah seemed to throw the ball every time, negotiated three baskets, while Minton, though in the game all the time and playing fiercely, was unable to drop the spheroid into the net.

It was on account of their excellent shooting ability that Multnomah gained her score, which, with the exception of one basket made by Allen and one basket made by Morris, was mostly made by Fischer, who got six baskets. Besides the basket by Morris, he threw two fouls, missing three, while Homan, who threw fouls for W. U., negotiated two and missed three and got one basket. Homan also played in hard luck; for, though he had excellent chances and made the most of them, he did not seem to be able to drop the ball inside.

The M. A. C. line up was: Kropp and Fischer, forwards; Morris, center; Pugh and Allen, guards.

Willamette: McIntyre and Homan, forwards; McRea, center; Minton and Schram, guards.

Elmer Ludden, Salem, was timekeeper and Thorpe of the Medical college, referee.

Second Years Victorious.

On Monday afternoon, in a well fought game of basket ball, the Second Years won the championship of the Academy by a score of 5 to 4. The game was hotly contested and the score shows the relative strength of the two teams.

The shortness of the halves and want of practice in throwing baskets accounts for low score for the Second Years, but their teamwork was far superior to that of their antagonists.

Booth, Lund and Chalcraft were the stars for the winners while Omart and Christianson played "classy" ball for the tailenders.

One of the interesting features of the game was the rag chewing of "Peter" Paff who claimed superior knowledge to the referee. The rooting of the Second Years girls was excellent and inspired their team.

The lineup follows:
 2nd Yrs. 4th Yrs.

T. Jory (Capt.)

F. Omart

C. Paff

OH! YOU HEART-SMASHER!

second party. The following day this stricken individual was flooded with passionate, irresistible missives, telling the tales of true love of a number of Willamette's fairest daughters. No doubt outsiders are enjoying the lucky (?) man, but, pause a minute and think of the dilemma which confronts his curly brain.

The following extracts show that the varsity girls are past-masters in the art of love making. These extracts will make good models for any timid maiden who desires to take the initiative.

Here is a portion from No. 1. "I have seen many men and heard of many, but you are the only one who has ever taken my fancy. If I could only have you near me, if only for a short time so that I could look into your smiling countenance and have your dreamy blue eyes look into mine! But to come down to business, I am a young girl of 35, with golden hair. I am said to be very beautiful but of course I am no judge of my own beauty. If I receive a letter from you it will be the happiest day of my life. Now I'm going to sleep and dream of you. Farewell for now, fond love."

No. 2 was more modest in tone.

"I wish I could see you all by myself just once, then you could decide if you liked me real well before having me. I will never like anyone but you.

Your own little girl."

No. 3 was written in a business like manner which always takes with men.

"I nominate myself for a candidate for that office (viz. wife.) I do my own electioneering. I am very proficient in the gentle art of cooking, darning, roasting, stewing, etc. I believe in marrying for love and not for money, and am sure I could learn to love you if I saw you smile."

No. 4 seems irresistible.

"It is with a timid heart and a trembling hand that I am writing this note, for I feel that my fate is sealed in the envelope that bears it to you. I heard today that you wanted to enter the realms of married bliss—that you have the time, and the place and all you need to make your happiness complete is the girl. I feel that we are strongly suited to each other, for you are dark and 'I'm a daughter of the gods. Divinely tall and most divinely fair.' Your curly eyes have oft met mine and many times I would have stroked your laughing hair.

"If I could have my dearest wish fulfilled, And take my choice of all earth's pleasures too, Or choose from heaven what so'ere I willed— I'd only ask for you."

No. 5 seems a little strong in places but is enough to move the hardest heart.

"Yesterday when I gazed into your hard boiled eyes I knew that at last I had met my affinity. Now, my little googerino, my greatest desire is to win you. I must meet you. Do not keep me in suspense very long dear one. All I can say is 'Hush be still sad heart, cease repining'. Oh, name the day and the date right away. Only your baby—

No. 6 resorted to poetry to win the love she longed to love. "Wherever I hear the low trill of a thrush,

In the trees by the murmuring stream,

Whether eating sweet pickles or Cream of Wheat mush

I think of your offer, and dream. For your eyes are molasses so black and deep,

Your smile is a cream-puff of joy!

To pull your cute curls would make my heart leap;

Oh sweet thing, you're a duck of a boy.

I dream of you nights and I wonder all day

Where you are—if your fond heart is true;

And there leaps in my soul a swift gladdening ray

For I'm peachy in pongee and blue.
