

Willamette University Bulletin

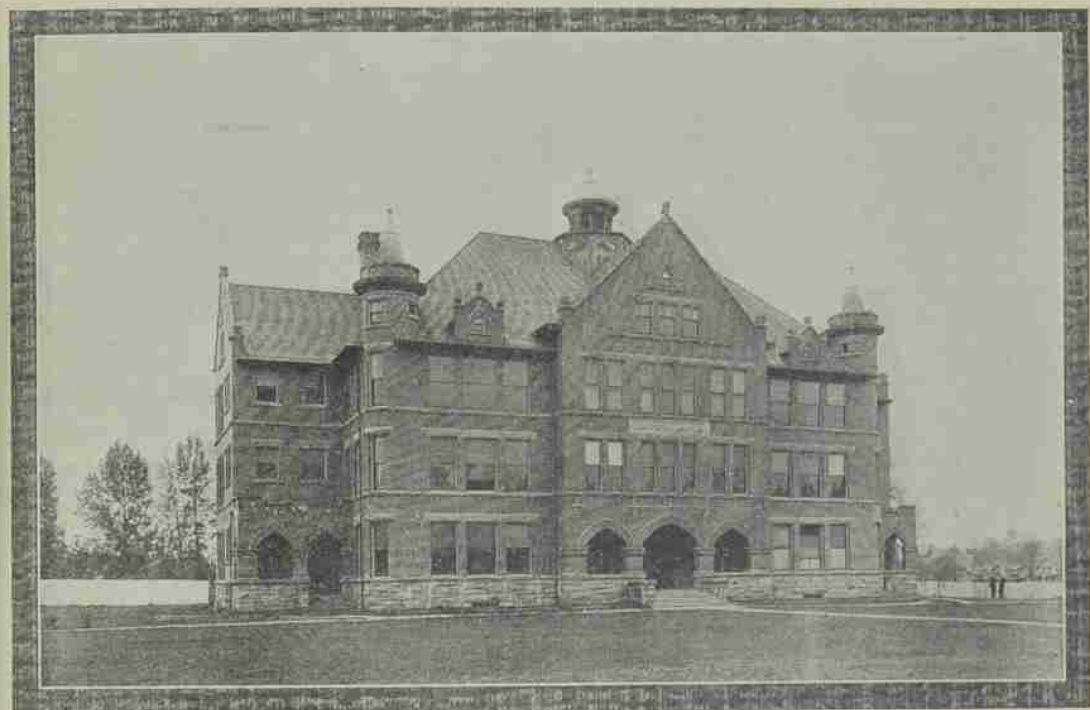

Volume XII

JUNE, 1919

Number 4

ALUMNI QUARTERLY

THIRD NUMBER

EATON HALL

Erected in 1908 by the Hon. E. A. Eaton

Entered at the Postoffice in Salem, Oregon, as second-class matter, July 27, 1908, under the act of Congress of July 16, 1894.

GREATER WILLAMETTE YEAR

In view of the fact that this is the seventy-fifth year of the University, extensive plans are being made for celebrating the event and for launching a movement for a greater Willamette. Pursuant of plans made at the mid year meeting of the Board of Trustees, a banquet was held in Portland on the evening of May 6th. The committee, President Carl G. Doney, Dr. Joshua Stansfield, and Dr. W. W. Youngson, assisted by Carl J. Hollingworth, '13, president of the Portland Alumni Association, was in charge. James W. Crawford, '11, was toastmaster. Speakers on the program were: Hon. Robert A. Booth; President Carl G. Doney; Professor James T. Matthews; Dr. W. W. Youngson; Fred B. Lockley, correspondent of the Journal and a former student at Willamette; and the alumni, Edgar B. Piper, A. B. '86, A. M. '92, editor of the Oregonian; and B. F. Irvine, B. S. '77, A. M. '98, editor of the Oregon Journal.

Commencement this year is to be an historical event at Willamette. In addition to the usual graduation exercises of commencement week, which include the Baccalaureate Sermon by President Doney on Sunday morning, June 8th, and the commencement address by B. F. Irvine, Wednesday morning, June 11th, there will be given on three different occasions the historical pageant recently widely advertised. This will be given Saturday evening, June 7th, Monday afternoon, June 9th, and Tuesday evening, June 10th. Mrs. Della Crowder Miller is director. Many alumni and friends have been named as patrons and patronesses. One hundred Indians from Chemawa will participate, wearing costumes gleaned from all parts of the United States. George W. Bent, disciplinarian at Chemawa, and a member of the southern Cheyenne tribe of Indians, is one of the assistant directors and will have charge of the Indians. Scenes covering the time from the trip of the four Nez Perce Indians to St. Louis for the white man's Bible, down to the present, will be depicted. This ought to be a great rallying time for alumni.

August 16th is the anniversary day. A great campus meeting will be held then at which men of prominence will speak. It is probable that a special edition of the Alumni Quarterly will be issued for that occasion.

The plans of this great year embody the building of a new Lausanne Hall for women. The original amount, $30,000, has been subscribed, but owing to high prices it will be necessary to raise about $50,000 for this building. A special feature is that of the memorial rooms, about forty in number. These rooms will be named by donors of $500 gifts. Subscriptions for these rooms are being received at the rate of several each week. It is believed that before another year rolls around, this building will grace the campus and be a comfortable home for our girls.

REMINISCENCES

By Charles B. Moores, A. B. '70, member of the Board of Trustees.

You have asked me, as a reputed surviving relic of prehistoric times, to write a chapter of university reminiscences. As every grain of reminiscence concerning the great leaders of Methodism who founded the university has long since been garnered, the only thing to do is to drag out of cold storage a few commonplace reminiscences that are purely personal and too trivial to rise to the dignity of historical importance.

Well—looking backward—two generations are but a fragment of time. It was only yesterday that the university boys were playing "shinny," and the good old English game of cricket, on the present site of the state capitol and the supreme court building. Only yesterday they played baseball just west of the present government postoffice, in front of the old court house, whose outside steps to the second story, fronting the whole building, made splendid bleachers. The whole of Willson avenue was a prolific patch of weeds. The university campus was enclosed by a rail fence, and the western end was a wheat field. The old "swimming hole" was just south of what is now the S. P. railroad depot. On the south bank of the first creek south of the campus was historic "Stringtown," a row of one and two room houses. In one of these, tenanted by Henry H. Hewitt, later a circuit judge and now a leading attorney of Albany, I once ate, at the holy hour of midnight, the best meal of my life, the central dish being a chicken stolen from the coop of Elder Royal, just down the way. On the second creek, south, was another row of huts known as "Hangtown." These huts were erected at a probable average cost of $70. Ground rent was free.

"Hangtown," "Stringtown" and the third story of the "Old Institute," which was on the site of the present gymnasium, housed a large per cent of Willamette's ambitious students, who boarded themselves and did their own housework. Here was the chief educational propagating ground of the secondary pioneer era of Oregon. The girls boarding house was Beers Hall, located on the corner just east of the Werner Breyman home. Here board and lodging was $3.50. That was before H. C. L.'s time. The president and his family occupied rooms in the southwest corner of the "Old Institute" on the first floor. In the southeast corner room, on the second floor, the writer spent his kindergarten days. It was here that his indulgent teacher, Mrs. C. A. Willson, gave him one of the soundest lickings of his young life. About 20 years before she gave me this licking she was Willamette's first and only teacher. For the first two years she was the whole faculty. She was one of the famous "mission family," who left the harbor of New York in the good ship "Lausanne" in October, 1839, that, after rounding the Horn, reached Oregon in June, 1840. Later teachers of mine were Emily J. York, Willamette's first graduate, and Lucy Anna Lee, the daughter of Jason Lee, the great missionary.

Throughout the days of the Civil War the campus was something of a battle ground, with the Union troops greatly predominating. Republican and Democratic families seldom communed and among the students there was frequent political friction. It was down at the east end of the present athletic field that Bill Cross, Republican, and Lafe Williams, Democrat, both physical stalwarts, argued the merits of the two parties in physical combat. It was a battle royal that would have delighted the fans around any prize ring in America. Bill now lives in Portland. Lafe is a pioneer citizen of Lewiston, Idaho, and strangely enough, convinced doubtless by that physical argument of over 50 years ago, has for many years been voting Bill's ticket. During the war days Willamette had a well drilled military organization. The last captain was John M. Garrison, still a resident of Salem. One day at drill Capt. John gave the order

"Forward, march—double quick." The boys obeyed the order and have never yet come back. It was the speediest job of demobilization on record.

Your space warns me to halt in this rambling recital. I shall stop where I stood as a kid July 24, 1864, standing on top of a hot, adjoining brick kiln, listening to the dedicatory address of Gov. Gibbs, at the laying of the corner stone of Waller Hall. That was over 50 years ago. Things have happened since then. The old boys are long livers, and have made lots of history, and its spanking good history. It is notable that over one third of Willamette's graduates of 50 years and more ago are still living. Still living, and making history, are 11 of the 19 graduates of 1866 and 8 of the 15 members of the class of 1868. They bear testimony to the abounding strength and vitality of Oregon pioneer stock. May they continue to live long in the land and may their tribe increase.

UNIVERSITY NEWS

The Annual Recital of the School of Music occurred Monday evening, June 2d. Nineteen students participated and revealed the fine work being done in this department.

Willamette was Hostess of the Y. W. C. A. cabinets of Oregon colleges April 9th. Forty visiting delegates were present.

As An Appreciation of the faculty and student body, Mrs. A. E. Egge has presented the University Library with about eighty volumes from Professor Egge's library. The University is sincerely thankful for the gift.

The Girls' Glee Club has been well organized during the year and they have appeared several times on various programs. On May 31st they gave the annual concert at the First Methodist Episcopal church. The program was varied and most pleasing and met with a fine response from the audience.

The Recital of the Seniors in Music occurred on the evenings of May 28th and June 4th. On the evening of the 28th Professor John R. Sites presented Miss Margarette Wible, voice, and Miss Florence Shirley, piano. On the evening of June 4th Miss Venita McKinney was presented in an instrumental and vocal recital.

The Willamette Y. M. C. A. entertained fifteen convention delegates in Eaton Hall the evening of May 17th. College Leadership and Seabeck were the topics discussed. Delegates from the principal colleges in the valley were present. A large delegation from Willamette is expected to attend the Seabeck conference this year. President Doney is to be one of the speakers.

The Freshman Class of the College of Liberal Arts numbers 160. This is 49 more than ever before, the largest previous record being that of 1917, when 111 freshmen were registered. The enrollment in the College of Liberal Arts during the past five years, with the single exception of last year when we were at war, shows a gratifying increase. It is as follows: 1915—184; 1916—230; 1917—285; 1918—218; 1919—295.

An Alumni Editor is requested by the Collegian. He or she would be an associate editor of the Collegian and furnish alumni news for the paper. This is a good way to bind the alumni closer to the school. The Collegian is one of the best advertising mediums that the school has. It goes into the libraries of all the high schools and is read by thousands of high school students every week. Will not the Alumni elect such an editor?

The Girls' Willamette Club, having in its membership all the girls in the University, has done good work this year. This club furnished the letters for the award day and assisted in entertaining visitors at various functions on the campus. The purpose of this organization is to keep alive the memory of Jason Lee. Every year in token of the work he did in making possible the University, this club decorates Jason Lee's grave. During the past year Glenna Teeters has been president; Lucile St. Pierre, vice president; and Bernice Knuths, secretary. Officers for the ensuing year are: Bernice Knuths, president; Myrtle Smith, vice president; Edith Hawley, secretary.

At the Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest, held at Eugene April 11, Miss Florence Shirley, Music '19, received first on delivery and fourth on general average. The subject of her oration was "The Marines at Chateau Thierry." John J. Canoles of Albany college was first with an oration entitled "The Meaning of the League of Nations." Eugene Bible University, Pacific University, Pacific College, McMinnville, U. of O., O. A. C., and Oregon Normal were other contestants.

Two Oratorios were presented by the chorus choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Salem during the Easter observances. "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, was given on Good Friday evening and on Sunday evening was rendered "The Holy City," by A. R. Gaul. Many Willamette students are in the choir. In "The Holy City," the soloists were Alfred Schramm, '17, and Margarette Wible, Venita McKinney and Paul Sterling, seniors in the school of music. Lorlei Blatchford, '22, Vivian Isham, '22, and Venita McKinney sang the trio, "At Eventide It Shall Be Light." Professor John R. Sites, director of the Willamette School of Music, is director of the choir.

The Men's Glee Club, though organized late in the season, has done very creditable work this year. The quartet, with Miss Florence Shirley accompanist, and Mrs. Alfred A. Schramm, chaperon, made a whirlwind trip through the upper Willamette, the Umpqua, and the Rogue river valleys and made hosts of friends for the old school. Later several week end trips were made by the entire club to near-by towns. On the evening of May 23d the club gave its annual Salem concert in the armory. This was a success from the first and proved once again that Willamette is giving some of the better entertainments of the year.

The Greater Willamette Club, organized in the spring of 1918, is an organization with which all alumni should make themselves familiar. Harold Nichols christened it "The student body with its sleeves rolled up." And this is indicative of its work. The club immediately went to work and built a cement sidewalk from the street in front of Science Hall to the walk in front of Waller Hall. This club managed the reception given in Eaton Hall during the basketball tournament in which the high school teams of the valley were guests, it furnishes the May Day posters, and has procured funds for a permanent stage on which May queens are crowned, and with the assistance of the Girls' Willamette Club was responsible for the Greater Willamette edition of the Collegian. The president of the student body is president of the club and a manager is elected by the student body. Arlie Walker, '18, was the first manager and Lyle Bartholomew, who had much to do with organizing this club, is the present manager.

The Fellowships Granted a School indicate the standard of its work. This year Willamette has been especially recognized. Homer Tasker, a senior majoring in chemistry, has been granted a $500 fellowship in the University of California and will be an assistant teacher of chemistry there. Each year for four years, Doctor Sherman of the Department of Philosophy and Education, has been privileged to recommend one student to the School of Pedagogy of the University of New York. This is the only school of the kind in the United States and fellowships are open only to picked graduates of standard colleges. Three years ago Errol Gilkey, A. B. '14, A. M., '16, received this fellowship, and two years ago Sam King, A. B. '17, was granted a fellowship. So well did Mr. King do that it was offered to him the second time. This year Doctor Sherman has been offered fellowships for any number of students that he will recommend. As the school usually grants only four, one to each of four sections of the United States, this is a distinct compliment to Dr. Sherman and to Willamette.

The Junior Week End and May Day Festivities always is an event of great importance. This year new features were introduced and the events were unique and beautiful. The green cap stunt of the freshmen was remarkable, being Bolshevik in character and culminating in a burning vessel floating down stream bearing the discarded caps. The Junior class play was given Friday evening by a strong cast of members of the Juniors, who, though reduced in numbers to 31, because of the war, still are represented by some of the strongest men and women of the school.

On Saturday the tennis events with O. A. C. were easily won by Mary Findley and Noble Moodhe. The Sophs won the tug of war, and Willamette won over Chemawa in baseball.

The climax of the day was the crowning of the Queen, Margarette L. Genevieve Sevy awakened the flowers. The heralds, Bowers, Anderson, Sterling and McIntire of the Willamette quartet, were followed by James Crawford, '11, Master of Ceremonies; the maids of honor, Helen Rose and Gladys Nichols; Marguerette Wible, Queen; the senior girls as attendants; flower girls, train bearers, and a crown bearer. The Master of Ceremonies then crowned the Queen as she knelt upon the royal cushion. Following the coronation were the butterfly dance, the flower dance, the flock of blue birds, and the love in springtime dance. Then came the winding of the May pole and the exit of the Queen. These various spring time features and natural scenes were beautifully portrayed by children and by youths and maidens of the university. In the evening occurred the reception in Eaton Hall.

Annual Award Day was April 10th. Harold Dimick, president of the athletic "W" club, was chairman. Attorney A. F. Flegel of Portland gave the principal address, his subject being "Values." Professor Della Crowder Miller, Coach Mathews, Harold Nichols, and Harold Eakin, '18, gave addresses. The Collegian reports in part as follows:

"The awards were officially presented by President Carl Gregg Doney. Those earning the "Bar W" in debate were Arlie Walker '18, Myrtle Mason '21, and Harold Dimick '20; Otto Paulus '18, received a certificate. In oratory, the "Bar W" was awarded to Faye Bolin '19 and Evadne Harrison '18.

For her work on the tennis court last season, Hortense Harrild, ex-'21, was presented with the official "W" sweater. Mary Findley '20, receiving a certificate for her third season of college tennis.

Eight men received letters and certificates for baseball; Bryan McKittrick '21, John Medler '21, Lawrence Davies '21, Henry Spiess '20, Robert Story '20, Harold Dimick '20. Wallace Adams '18 was awarded the official four-year blanket in baseball.

Sweaters in basketball were given to Paul Wapato '21, Bryan McKittrick '21 and Lestle Sparks '19, and certificates to Harold Nichols '19 and Harold Dimick '20. These awards were given for the 1917-18 season, and for the one just closed certificates were presented to Wapato, McKittrick and Nichols."

THOSE WHO HAVE DIED.

Joseph E. Gerhart, '16, passed away at Exeter, California, on April 21st, last. He had been ill for several months. The body was taken to Emmett, Idaho, for burial. Joe was a popular student and many regret his loss. The sympathy of the entire school is extended to his family.

Professor A. E. Egge, who, as indicated in our last issue, had undergone a severe operation, died May 30 from hemorrhage, after he was supposed to be well on the way toward recovery. Dean Alden represented the University at the funeral services held at Pullman, Washington, at 2 o'clock, May 3d, and spoke sympathetically of Professor Egge and his work. A professor at W. S. C. said: "It can be truthfully said that he was the most cultured and scholarly man that ever served on the faculty." Professor Egge was for many years a teacher in W. S. C. and came to Willamette last autumn as Professor of Literature. A refined Christian teacher has passed out of the world leaving behind a record of lofty and unselfish devotion to his work.

WILLAMETTE'S WAR ROLL

Below are corrections of the roll contained in the last issue of the Quarterly and additions thereto.

Ferris W. Abbott, who was a music and special student in the College of Arts in 1917, and who enlisted with Company M that year, was in France fourteen months in the 162d Infantry. He was a sergeant. Mr. Abbott has returned and now is with the Overland Company at Portland. He was seen on the campus not long ago.

Rodney W. Alden, son of Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden, and once an academy student at Willamette, is home from France. For a time he was in Headquarters Company and trained as a machine gunner. Later he was in Co. I, 140th Infantry under command of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. He was a scout and went through the five day's battle in which was captured the hill that the Crown Prince had pronounced impregnable.

Allan A. Bynon, Law '17, has a long record. He entered the Presidio in May, 1917, and received his commission as Lieutenant. After a few months at Camp Lewis he was sent to France, arriving there in December, 1917. He was Adjutant and later Commanding Officer of the Corps

Casual Depots at various places in France, with headquarters at Tours. Later he was Supply Officer for the Riveria Hospital center. When the armistice was declared, he became chief of the demobilization service of the A. E. F. for the Quartermaster Corps. During his services he was advanced to a Captaincy.

James W. Crawford, Arts and Law, '11, enlisted in the 3d Oregon Infantry and was sent to the Presidio second camp and commissioned a first lieutenant November 27, 1917. He then was sent to American Lake, then transferred to the Spruce Division. Later he was sent back to American Lake and then transferred to the School of Musketry at Camp Perry, Toledo. From there he was sent to Camp Wadsworth, S. C., with the 383d Infantry. He was discharged Dec. 15, 1918, and is practicing law in Portland. Lieutenant Crawford was present at the Willamette May Day exercises and gave the address at the crowning of the Queen.

Lemuel E. Esteb, Arts ex-'19, was a sergeant in Co. D, 127th Infantry, 32d Division, known as the Arrow Division. In an engagement near Chateau Thierry he was wounded. Sergeant Esteb arrived in New York May 5, was discharged at Camp Lewis, and on May 26th made a rousing speech in chapel at Willamette. He will enroll again in the autumn.

James D. Fletcher, Law '17, recently spent several days on the campus visiting his sister Miss Helen Hall, of Lausanne. He has returned to Camp Lewis and expects soon to be discharged.

Oliver Matthews, A. B., '13, has returned to his home in Salem and has been on the campus occasionally. Mr. Matthews saw fifteen months of service overseas.

Lieutenant E. H. Hobson, Med., is a member of the Depot Brigade, Camp Lewis.

Lieutenant Errol W. Proctor, Arts Ex-'18, of the 91st Division, was on the campus recently on leave from Camp Lewis, where he is recovering from a severe wound. Lieutenant Proctor carries in the muscles of his arm a piece of shell which it will be necessary to remove before his discharge. He hopes to be out soon and back in school in the autumn.

Charles R. Randall, Law '17, Ex Arts '19, was on the campus a few days ago. For several months Corporal Randall has been at Salt Lake City recovering from the effects of a gas attack. Mr. Randall has returned to Camp Lewis for discharge and probably will teach next year.

Lloyd W. Shisler is a corporal in France. He at one time was stationed at Mehun, but now is at St. Londres in the 21st Ordnance Casual Company.

William E. Sherwood, Arts Ex '19, son of Doctor and Mrs. Sherwood of Kimball School of Theology, has returned wearing three gold bars. He was in the replacement troops of the famous 26th Division, the "Sacrifice Division," in the Chateau Thierry drive. He was in three battles and over the top three times and was one of 74 men out of a company of 210 to come back. Mr. Sherwood expects to re-enter Willamette.

Dr. J. O. VanWinkle, Med., enlisted and was commissioned a first lieutenant early last year and went into training at Ft. Riley. Later he was given the command of the 264th Field Hospital Co., 16th Sanitary Train, at Camp Kearny. At the time the armistice was declared Lieutenant VanWinkle had been recommended for a commission as Major. He has resumed his medical practice at Jefferson, Oregon.

Lieutenant Paul B. Wallace of the Board of Trustees returned to the United States early in the year and, after remaining in the east for several months, has returned to Salem and engaged in business again. Not only was Lieutenant Wallace wounded, as stated in the last issue, but in October, 1918, he also was gassed.

SOME ALUMNI

The information given below is the latest in the office of the University. Corrections will be thankfully received.

Genevieve Avison, A. B. '16, was employed in the Oregon state library for one year after graduation. She was teacher of English in the High School at Cloguet, Minn., until the town burned last winter, when she became a teacher in the Stillwater, Minn., High School and has been elected for next year.

Edgar F. Averill, B. S. '05, has been engaged in newspaper work principally, and now is Field Assistant in the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, with residence at Pendleton, Oregon.

Robert H. Allen, A. B. '14, Kimball, B. D. '14, since graduation has been engaged in the pastorate, first at Toledo, Oregon, and later at Raymond, Oregon. Since 1917 he has been the successful pastor at Pasco, Wash.

Laura F. Austin, A. B. '14, since graduation has been in charge of the Boarding Department of the Methodist Episcopal Mission Girls' School in Godhra Panch Mahals, India.

Walter W. Bruce, M. D. '02, was interne in the St. Vincent's Hospital in 1902-3, and has since practiced medicine in Portland. He is a member of the State Medical Society.

Lucy Edwards-Bruce, Oratory '02, took graduate work under the direction of Edward Amherst Ott in Chicago for two years. She is director of dramatic department of the Portland Woman's Club and is a member of that club and the State Woman's Press Club. She married Dr. Walter W. Bruce in 1904.

Mildred G. Bartholomew, A. B. '15, is playground director and assistant physical director of Community House, Portland, Oregon.

Laura B. Bennett, M. D. '01, took post graduate work at the Univ. of Calif. Polyclinic and has made a special study of the mentally deficient. She was physician and teacher at the Los Angeles Juvenile Detention Home, 1904-5; was appointed city school physician in 1907 and still holds that position; and was psycho-clinical examiner in Los Angeles city schools 1914-16. Dr. Bennett has published articles on the mentally deficient and on hygiene. She is a member of numerous medical societies and boards. Her address is 419 S. Olive St., Los Angeles.

H. Bryant, B. S. '72, is a horticulturist living in Albany, Oregon. He has been prominent in horticultural organizations in Linn county.

Wesley B. Beckley, A. B. '11, took one year of post graduate work at the Univ. of Wis. and now is engaged in wheat raising near Eltopia, Wash.

Hattie Berkley-Bellinger, A. B. '11, A. M. '13, taught botany and zoology at W. U. and did laboratory work at the State Tuberculosis Hospital. She is the wife of Dr. Grover C. Bellinger, Supt. of the Hospital.

Mary L. Cone, A. B. '15, since graduation has been teaching in the High School at Tualatin, Oregon.

David L. Cook, A. B. '16, was principal of the Newberg High School during the year 1916-17 and now is a missionary in China.

Glaysd Carson, A. B. '17, upon graduation became a member of the faculty of the State Normal School at Monmouth, Oregon, as Supervisor of its Rural Training School.

Percy A. Cupper, LL. B. '10; later, B. S., Oregon Agr. College, became Assistant State Engineer of Oregon in 1909, and has held the position of State Engineer since November, 1918.

Emery D. Doane, A. B. '15, taught in the Wallport High School, 1915-16, and was principal of the Yoncalla High School, 1916-18. He entered the U. S. Army service in September, 1918. Mr. Doane and Miss Emma Minton were married in June, 1918.

Emma Minton-Doane, A. B. '17, was assistant principal of the Yoncalla High School, 1917-18.

Dr. W. H. Davis, M. D. '83, took post graduate work in New York and since has been engaged in practice of medicine, Albany, Oregon.

Merton R. DeLong, LL. B. '12, served as Assistant Attorney General of Oregon and for some time was associated with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. He now is associated with Morris Bros., buyers and sellers of municipal and corporation bonds, Portland, Oregon.

Robert S. Eaking, A. B. '09, LL. B., '11, since graduation has engaged in the practice of law at La Grande, Oregon.

Gertrude Eakin, A. B. '15, is Director of Religious Education at Chemawa Indian School, Salem, Oregon.

Frank S. Francis, A. B. '15, taught at Imbler and at Bend Oregon, and now is a teacher in the High School at Drain, Oregon. Mr. Francis only recently has been discharged from the U. S. Army. He was married to Clara Schnasse, June, 1916.

Clara Schnasse-Francis, A. B. '15, is a teacher of German and Latin in the Junior High School of Salem, Oregon.

Austin F. Flegel, Jr., A. B. '12, took post graduate work in University of Oregon Law School. Mr. Flegel is an attorney of the firm of Flegel, Reynolds, & Flegel, Northwestern Bank Bldg., Portland, Oregon.

Rev. D. Lester Fields, A. B. '09, A. M. '13, Kimball College of Theology B. D. '10, since graduation has been pastor of the Leslie Methodist Episcopal Church in Salem, Oregon, and churches in Dallas and McMinnville, Oregon. He now is pastor of the Rose City Park Methodist Episcopal Church, Portland, Oregon.

Roland C. Glover, LL. B. '06, practiced law for a year and a half in Salem, Oregon, and then became secretary to Representative in Congress W. C. Hawley. Mr. Glover recently resigned his position and now is practicing law in Salem. He married Vera Byers in October, 1908.

Vera Byers-Glover, Oratory '07, since graduation has done platform work as a reader and interpreter of literature.

Mary Robinson-Gilkey, B. S. '66, was married to W. F. Gilkey, Dayton, Oregon, in 1880. Mrs. Gilkey was of the first class to graduate in Waller Hall with Charles Lambert as president of the school. She was a teacher for fourteen years and, to fill a vacancy, taught in the academic department of Willamette in the autumn of 1879.

Alpheus J. Gillette, A. B. '17, was superintendent of schools at Lafayette, Oregon, during the year 1917-18, when he entered the Ordnance Department of the U. S. Army. Since his discharge Mr. Gillette has been doing journalistic work and teaching in the High School of Salem. Mr. Gillette and Miss Emmel were married in September, 1917.

Esther Emmel-Gillette, A. B. '17, taught in the high school at Lafayette for one year and then became a teacher in the High School of Salem.

Henry H. Hewitt, A. B. '70, practiced law in Albany, Oregon, during the periods 1870-94 and 1898—. From 1894-98 he was Circuit Judge in the Third Judicial District.

Lina Heist, A. B. '13, after graduation attended a summer session at the University of California and since then has been teaching in the Salem High School. Miss Heist has done graduate work at the University of Washington.

Lulu Heist, A. B. '13, after graduation attended a summer session at the University of California and for five years thereafter taught in the Albany, Oregon, High School. Her present address is Salem, Ore.

Howard P. Jewett, A. B. '16, since graduation has taught mathematics in the high school at Cottage Grove, Oregon.

Charles A. Johns, A. B. '78, A. M. '82, practiced law for years in Portland and now is a Justice of the Supreme Court of Oregon.

Mrs. Mary Strong Kinney, A. B. '78, had post graduate work leading to the degree A. M. Mrs. Kinney lives at Astoria, Oregon.

R. I. Keator, LL. B. '13, since graduation has practiced law at Pendleton, Oregon. He was deputy District Attorney for Umatilla county, 1914-17 and in 1917 was elected district attorney.

Dr. N. L. Lee, M. D. '71, had post graduate work for three seasons in San Francisco and for forty-five years was engaged in active practice of medicine and surgery. His home is at Junction City, Ore.

Seth Leavens, A. B. '00, was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work for four years and in the furniture business for eleven years. He now is engaged in the automobile business in Portland, Oregon.

L. G. Lewelling, LL. B. '11, since graduation has practiced law. He was a member of the 1913 legislature of Oregon and for some time held the office of Police Judge of Albany, Ore.

E. E. McKinney, A. B. '70, taught school for some time and then entered the mercantile and grain business in which he was engaged for twenty-five years. At present Mr. McKinney is engaged in farming near Turner, Oregon. He is a member of Oregon Hist. Soc., life member Ore. State Agr. Soc., and member Ore. Pioneer Assoc.

Mrs. E. E. McKinney, B. S. '71, taught school for a short time. She was married to E. E. McKinney in 1872.

Dr. O. B. Miles, M. D. '05, now is practicing in Salem and is a member of the State and County Medical societies.

Mrs. O. B. Miles, B. M. '93, taught school and music for five years after her graduation. She was married to Dr. Miles in 1897.

Frank E. Meek, LL. B. '13, has practiced law since graduation and at present is judge of the Probate Court of Canyon county, Idaho. He was married June, 1917, to Edith Lorsten. His address is Caldwell, Idaho.

Edith Lorsten-Meek, A. B. '16, taught one year before her marriage to Judge Meek.

Milton A. Marcy, A. B. '15, Kimball, B. D. '15, is pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Dayton, Oregon.

Albert N. Minton, LL. B., A. B., '12, has practiced law since graduation. His address is Albany, Oregon.

W. A. Manning, A. B. '00; Stanford Univ., A. M. 02, Ph. D. 04, attended the Univ. of Paris in 1904-5. He has been engaged in research work and in teaching mathematics and is author of memoirs on subjects in the theory of finite groups and is a member of the American Mathematical Society.

Esther Carson-McCammon, LL. B. '15, from January, 1915, to Nov. 1917, acted as assistant secretary to Governor Withycombe. She was married Nov., 1917, to Hugh McCammon and lives in Salem.

Mabel Ingersoll-Miller, B. M. '92, taught music for four years after graduation. She was married to John H. Miller in July, 1896. She has been vice president of the Washington State Federation of Woman's Clubs. Her address is 2223 Rucker Ave., Everett, Wash.

Dr. Clyde V. Nelson, B. S. '09; College of Physicians and Surgeons, Univ. Southern Calif., M. D. '14, was resident physician and hospital surgeon in Los Angeles for one year and now is practicing medicine and surgery in Los Angeles. His address is 1567½ Sunset Blvd.

Eva Winslow-Nelson, A. B., B. M., '09, married Clyde V. Nelson in June, 1910. She was principal of the High School at Early, Oregon, 1909-10.

George Neuner, Jr., LL. B. '08, was city attorney of Roseburg, 1910-11; state representative, 1911; state senator, 1913; and at present is district attorney of Douglas county.

Elma Ohling, A. B. '16, since graduation has been teaching English and foreign languages in the Gilliam County High School at Condon, Oregon.

Helen Pearce, A. B. '15, took resident work toward the A. M. degree at Radcliffe college 1915-16 and was a graduate student in Education at Willamette Univ., 1917-18. In 1917-18 Miss Pearce was engaged in conducting the work upon a proposed publication, "Who's Who in Willamette." At present she is employment secretary of the Portland Y. W. C. A.

Dr. J. G. Patterson, M. D. '03, took graduate work at Jefferson, Pa., in 1908 and since then has been practicing his profession at Merrill, Oregon. He is a member of the S. O. Medical Society.

Austin C. Price, B. S. '08, has been employed by the U. S. Reclamation service as civil engineer in charge of hydrographic work on the Boise project and now is in the office of the Commissioner of Education of Idaho.

Lloyd T. Reynolds, A. B. '94, was a member of the state board of horticulture, 1898-1904; representative at the Oregon legislature sessions of 1907-11, and at present is engaged in farming and fruit growing near Salem.

Mary E. Reynolds, B. S. '80, after graduation taught for some time in the Salem Public School and later, for over twenty years, was a teacher in Willamette University.

Dr. J. H. Robnett, M. D. '00, since graduation has practiced medicine and surgery. He has had post graduate work at the Chicago Polyclinic. Dr. Robnett now is located at Albany, Oregon.

M. D. Shanks, A. B., LL. B. '09, is a prominent attorney at Condon, Oregon, and for two terms has represented the 18th Senatorial District in the state legislature.

Edith Booth-Shanks, A. B. '09, taught school one year after graduation and, in 1910, was married to M. D. Shanks.

A. A. Schramm, A. B. '12, LL. B. '18, is assistant examiner, banking department, state of Oregon, and a trustee of Willamette University.

Lucile Kuntz-Schramm, Music '15, was married to Alfred Schramm in October, 1916. In 1917-18 Mrs. Schramm was a teacher of piano in Willamette. Mr. and Mrs. Schramm live in Salem.

Ray L. Smith, A. B. '13, LL. B. '15, was principal of the Ontario high school, 1913-14; afterward an instructor in mathematics in the Salem High School; and graduated from the Yale Law School in 1916. At present he is a practicing attorney in Portland.

Gertrude Reeves-Smith, A. B. '13, taught in the Halsey, Oregon, High School in 1913-14, and in the Lebanon High School, 1914-15. She was married to Ray L. Smith in Sept., 1915.

Laban A. Steeves, A. B. '17, is a student in the University of Oregon Medical School at Portland, and was a member of the Medical Res., U. S. N.

Florence Page-Steeves, A. B. '16, was married in 1916 to Laban Steeves. Mr. and Mrs. Steeves' Portland address is 328 10th St.

Dr. Frederick H. Thompson, M. D. '09., M. S. '11, after graduation took special surgical work at the New York Post. Grad. Medical School. Dr. Thompson is engaged in the practice of surgery and the diseases of the eye, ear, nose, and throat, in Salem, Oregon. He is chief medical adviser for the Oregon State Industrial Accident Commission, a member of the county, state and American Medical Societies, and of the Medical Association International Examiners of Ind. Accident Commissions.

Nora Emmel-Thompson, A. B. '10, was married in September, 1910, to Dr. Frederick H. Thompson. She is a member of the Salem Women's Club and of the Rapheterians.

Frances Pohle-Utter, A. B. '12, taught one year in the Salem public schools. She was married to Dr. Floyd Utter of Salem, in Sept., 1913. Mrs. Utter is a member of several ladies' societies of the Methodist Episcopal church in Salem.

Dr. Mary F. Vanderpool, M. D. '82, took post graduate work in hospitals in California and New York and since has been practicing her profession. She was married to W. C. Vanderpool in 1878. Dr. Vanderpool lives at 250 1/2 3d St., Portland, Ore.

Walter A. Winslow, LL. B. '08; Univ. of Ore., A. B. '06, is practicing law in Salem.

Carl E. Wimberly, LL. B. '09, was deputy county clerk of Douglas county for one and one-half years; city recorder of Roseburg, 1911-15; and city attorney of Roseburg, 1915-18. He entered the U. S. service at Benson Polytechnic, Portland, 1918.

Leila Lent-Wimberly, A. B. '15, was at the head of the English department of the Roseburg High School for two years. In July, 1918, she was married to Carl E. Wimberly.

Elva Smith-Walton, A. B. '09, taught two years in the Hillsboro High School and five years in the Salem High School. She is the wife of Dr. Ralph W. Walton of Salem.

Edward J. Winans, A. B. '07, entered Oxford in the fall of 1907 as a Rhodes scholar and graduated in 1910. Since his graduation he has been a professor in Peking University. Mr. Winans now is on a furlough in the United States and is a student in Union Theological Seminary and Teacher's College, Columbia Univ.

Thomas D. Yarnes, A. B. '16, Kimball College of Theol., B. D. '13, was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Independence, Oregon, 1916-18, and now is pastor at Lebanon, Oregon. He has been president of the Oregon Conference Seminary Assoc.