Playing with the dash and drive of mid-season form the Oregon football team smashed through the Bearcat defense for a 40 to 0 victory in the first game of the conference season last Saturday. The Willamette crew stood up well under the heavy battering of the weighty, experienced and smooth running Lemon-Yellow machine.

Game Is Steady

The game was consistent throughout and rather uninteresting from the viewpoint of the 1500 spectators who thronged the field. There were few "breakers" on the part of either of the veteran backs and their superiority, used to advantage, netted steady gains against the light, green Bearcat line. In fact the final result was never in doubt. The Willamette men were game, and fought hard to stem the onset—harder than the score may indicate—but were excelled in every phase of the game except in which Patton held the edge.

Play Steady Defense

Oregon chose to receive the kick-off and started a steady march for the Bearcat field line. After exactly six minutes of play the first touchdown was made. During the remainder of the first and second quarters Willamette played a steady defensive game which permitted only one more score before the end of the half. Lillegren intercepted a pass on the ten yard line as the gun sounded. Schrö, Oregon 14, Willamette 0.

Oregon Excels

Fresh reserves relieved the unconditioned men on the Oregon line and once more a steady march resulted in a score. Willamette received, but could make no gains against the Oregon line. Oregon scored shortly. An unusual play netted Oregon the fourth score when Patton was trapped while trying to pass, caused to fumble and to lose the ball to an Oregon line man who raced for a touchdown. An intercepted pass on Willamette's 30 yard line gave Oregon a chance to put over the final score. Willamette opened a passing game which netted several

PARADE FRIDAY ADVERTISES BIG OREGON BATTLE

If the Bearcat grid squad did not squeeze the lemon on the football field last Saturday it was, at least, not the fault of the yell rally and parade of the previous evening. At 7:30 Friday evening the student body led by the yell king and his able assistants, assembled on the campus and formed lines for the downtown parade. The robes, customs, etc., of our W. U. do not approve of girls serpentineing so the Bearcat boosters among the fair sex formed a double line and marched alongside the swerving, masculine serpentine, which eventually found its way through several of the most exclusive establishments in all Salem.

Old timers say that not for some time past has the grid contest at the Oregon theatre swung open to the noise of a yell rally. But the boosters stopped for no man and wended their way through the popular play house as well as three others, the Liberty, the Bligh and the Grand. The Gray Belle and the Spa also surrendered to the Bearcat onslaught without a whimper.

However, the real feature of the rally was the program of stunts performed by the four classes. Each stant had its bearing upon the coming game and seemed to raise the school enthusiasm to the proper pitch for the clash of Saturday. Among other things, the Oregon lemon pie met its fate. Judging by the crowd which saw the grid contest it must have "paid to advertise."

ASSOCIATION MEN LAY NEW PLANS

Reception Friday Night to Open Program for New Year

AWARDS WON BY W. U.

Men Choose "Service" as Motto to Epitomize Year's Agenda

The official report on Willamette activities at the Seabeck conference held last June, was submitted at a recent meeting by George Oliver.

The Willamette delegation, 33 strong, walked away with all athletic honors at Seabeck last June. Tennis champions Emmel and Findley returned with two large banners, the track team with its award, and Logan gained possession of a silver cup for winning the "wreck-race." This cup had been won by Horace Williston, a member of Willamette Faculty, when he was a student at Reed college. The race must be won two consecutive years in order to gain permanent ownership.

The Willamette delegation was the largest group from the entire conference, outnumbering U. of W. and O. A. C. Many new plans for this year's work in the Y. were obtained by studying the systems in other colleges.

The Y. program for 1923-24 will officially begin with the reception Saturday night. The stag mix, famous for its spirit of congenial hilarity, will follow one week later.

Matters pertaining to Devotional meetings, Bible study groups, membership, finances, and deputations were considered by President Oliver and his cabinet last Saturday morning. "Service" is the motto this year, and it is hoped that Willamette Y. may render the great service of aiding college students in solving many problems. A Y. M.—Y. W. chapel service will be held in the near future, outlining in detail the constructive program of both organizations for the coming year.

GYM COST TO APPROACH MARK OF $100,000

Main Floor Adequate to Meet Needs of Hooping; Many Long Felt Needs Met.

TANK HAS BEEN OMITTED

Cost Will Exceed Original Figure by $40,000—Balcony Will Not Be Included.

In answer to the many inquiries concerning the size, price, equipment and general appearance of the new gym when it is finished the Collegian is publishing this somewhat general summary of its more outstanding features. The list of rooms, equipment and dimensions is taken directly from the blue prints submitted by Mr. Anderson, the contractor in charge of building operations.

Main Floor Is Roomy
The gymnasium proper will contain a floor space of 75x115 feet of the best hardwood and will allow, according to the contractors estimate for five rows of seats on all four sides. This will help to solve the ever present seating problem. The balcony which was calculated in the original bids has been left out of contract. This infers that the gym floor will have to stand the strain of street shoes.

The girders supporting the ceiling will be 21 feet above the floor to allow plenty of room for basketball without the interference of low hung rafters.

New Needs are Met

In addition to the basketball floor the plans include a 21x50 foot handball court in the basement. A wrestling and boxing floor 20x20 feet is another new feature.

The remaining space in the building will be occupied by the men's and women's dressing rooms. The basement space under the main gym floor will be equally divided between the two dressing quarters. The eastern end, a space of about 60x75 feet is planned for women's lockers while the corresponding western end is set aside for the men's rooms.

In connection with both dressing rooms there will be steam rooms, electric massage machines, dry rooms, and supply quarters. During intercollegiate games both the home and visiting teams will have completely equipped dressing rooms.

NEW REQUIREMENTS DECREED FOR LAW

Harding Added to Law Staff; Senior Law Classes Now Scheduled Earlier.

The College of Law, Willamette university, requires one year of college work of applicants applying for admission to the Freshman class. Beginning with the fall term of 1925 two years of collegiate credit is to be required.

This is one change in the administration of the Willamette university college of Law, a change raising the standards already high and to which the Supreme Court of the state of Oregon has paid tribute. The efficiency of the law student depends, primarily upon his preliminary education; hence every prospective law student must attend to his preparatory work. Success in law depends upon a thorough systematic legal training. The increasing standards of law schools and the burden put upon the lawyers each year requires that the Willamette university college of Law raise the standards of efficiency.

Graduates Instruct

It is interesting to note that of the 12 instructors and professors of Law at Willamette University, 9 are graduates of the institution in which they teach. The graduate instructors of Willamette are: I. H. Van Winkle, Dean of the College of Law; Ray L. Smith, Roy Shiley, Ronald G. Glover, C. M. Inman, E. M. Pace, John Hayne, Brazier C. Small, and Elmo S. White.

ROOKS WELCOME AURORA AT FETE IN EARLY MORN

The freshmen had a "lawn party" Friday morning, several hours before even time for a 7:45 class. Raking the leaves was the fitting diversion for such an early hour, and as a result the campus looks rather fine in this good, golden, October sunshine, being so well rid of its rubbish.

Each Rook with his rake worked briskly they say, and soon a smouldering bonfire was consuming the last of the leaves.

Breakfast of wieners, buns, coffee, and doughnuts served in the society hall, completed the success of the "lawn party" which is one of Willamette's well-followed traditions, that is a manifest benefit both to the Frosh and to the grass.

VOLUNTEER HEADS HOLD CONFERENCE

Speakers From China, Turkey and India Address Group.

MEETINGS HELD SECRET

Former Willamette Man Discusses Problems of Local Band.

Foreign missionary leaders from several countries met with the officers and leaders of the Oregon Student Volunteer Union on the Willamette campus Aug. 28, 29, 30. The purpose of the conference was to outline plans for the biggest year in the history of the organization.

Banquet Is First Event

A 6 o'clock banquet at the First M. E. church Friday evening furnished a very pleasant and appropriate opening of the convention. Among the speakers for the evening was Mrs. C. A. Downs, formerly of China. Her exceedingly interesting discussion of the peculiar Chinese customs, including language, dress and ideals, drew considerable applause and laughter from the delegates.

After this, Dr. J. K. Lyman from Central Turkey and Dr. H. W. White from Korea, gave inspiring and challenging addresses on the life and problems of missionaries of today. The Saturday morning discussion took place in Chresto hall with William Osgood of Linfield college presiding.

Plans for Convention

The first question considered was the quadrennial convention, which is by far the biggest missionary convention held in the world. Four years ago it was held at Des Moines, Iowa. This year from December 26 to January 1, students from all over the world will convene, not only for the purpose of discussing general missionary problems, but also to formulate definite plans for the promotion of world peace. John R. Mott and Robert P. Wilder, two of the most outstanding leaders in the Christian work of today, have for three years been directing the plans for this occasion. Much time was spent on this subject, because students from every college in America as well as delegates from many churches are expected to convene next Christmas at Indianapolis, Iowa.

Has Diversity of Interests

Drs. Lyman and White led the devotional topics for the morning, and Agnes Moffat, from Linfield, presented ideas for the State monthly paper, published in the interests of the movement. Rev. C. E. Powell formerly of India, gave a very interesting talk on the place of the drama in foreign countries. The afternoon was taken up with business matters. In the evening, before the Y. M.-Y. W. reception, Rev. Pemberton of Leslie church talked on the problems of India.

Sunday morning ended the conference. Robin Fisher, former Willamette man, discussed the campus problems of the Student Volunteers and stressed particularly the attendance of everyone who is planning missionary work, to be out to the weekly meetings of local organizations.

Those who attended the conference were: Wm. Osgood, president; Agnes Moffat, secretary; Pauline Whiting, delegate to National Convention; Alfred Hillier, and Edna Sanborn from Linfield; Percy Bell, delegate to National Convention, from O. A. C.; Robin Fisher, Member at Large, from U. of O. Medical school; Rev. James K. Lyman from Turkey; Rev. Henry W. White from Korea; Willamette delegate, Ethel Adams, president of W. U. Volun-

HOME COMING IS TAKING PRIORITY OVER ALL EVENTS

"Event Must Be Spectacular," Says Prexy Patton; Influx of Alumni Is Expected.

WHITMAN TO BE PLAYED

Formal Opening of the Gym Will Be Feature of Grand Finale; Predicts Event Gay.

Preparations are now well underway for the first Willamette "Homecoming." The date has been set one week ahead; Nov. 9-10, the week-end of the Whitman game.

Many to Be Invited

Elaine Oberg, who has charge of the big event, says that over 500 official invitations will be issued, and each fraternity and sorority is urged to write special notes of invitation to alumni members.

It has been estimated that over 800 former graduates are within convenient traveling distance of Salem, although the present addresses of many of these people are unknown at publicity headquarters.

To reach these individuals, a general invitation will be extended through the columns of the Collegian.

Event Must Be Big

Never before in the history of the school has there been a week end of this character. The only get-together for alumni members has been the banquet at the end of the school year.

"We have long felt the need of instituting an official Homecoming at Willamette," said student body President Patton, "and everyone must help to put the first one across in a spectacular way."

Miss Oberg called a meeting of all committees last Monday, at which many interesting features were discussed.

Rally Is Feature

A general campus clean-up was decided upon for Friday afternoon, and on that evening a spectacular rally will be conducted, of which the W. Club, with many old members in its ranks, will have complete charge. A huge serpentine will wind its way through the downtown streets, finally returning for the Freshman Bonfire on Sweetland field. Several W. men, including many graduates, will speak, and the student body will respond with songs and cheers.

BAND UNDERGOES REORGANIZATION

Appeal Is Voiced for All Talent to Assist; Official Student Body Award Is Offered.

Once again the Willamette University band has undergone a reorganization, this time, it seems, with the intention of remaining organized for the rest of the school year. The first meeting of the band took place last Friday but resulted in little more than a preliminary get together. Last Monday evening the organization was called together again and steps were taken to put it in working order for the season.

To provide the best of leadership the band has chosen for its leader Mr. Mills, a well known Salem musical artist and a first class band director. The business end of the organization has been placed in the hands of Manager Gury Hisey, while Edwin Johnson, one of the freshmen members was elected treasurer for the coming year. With this staff the band is confident of a successful career in the 1923-24 school year.

However, the difficulty attendant upon all new organizations now confronts the band, that is the problem of recruiting enough players to make up the 26 pieces necessary for a first class outfit such as Willamette wants to host her teams in all of the athletic contests during the coming year. At present there is a deficiency both in clarinets, and in snare and bass drummers. All players and especially those of the instruments mentioned are urged by the manager to report as soon as

SNAPPY, CATCHY SLOGAN NEEDED FOR BIG EVENT

What ideas have you? Have you the happy faculty of making things rhyme? If you have this ability the Willamette student body is looking for you. The home-coming committee needs a slogan, a ripping good one, that will ring in the ears and be remembered, something that is snappy and catchy.

A slogan, according to Webster is a Scottish war cry. Let's change that and make it a Willamette cry, a home-coming shout, one that will stir up the blood and equal the old Scottish chiefs and their clans.

It need not be long, it can be short, but the length will be considered. Regardless of its length submit what you have for a Willamette pennant is the prize, one of the kind that has the big W. U. on it. The retail price is $3. One person may submit as many slogans as he wishes. Some students have only one idea, others a hundred, so if you have one idea that is a good one, or have a hundred ideas write them up. The judges who will decide upon the worth of the slogans are: Elaine Oberg, chairman; Fred Patton, and Professor Matthews.

The rules are as follows: The slogan should be brief. The judges will take the length into consideration. Leave slogans in the ballot box of the Associated Student Body offices in Eaton Hall. The contest beginning now ends Friday at 4 p. m. The prize, W. U. pennant, priced at $3.

Determination Manifested

Little discouragement and much determination are being exhibited in the nightly workouts on Sweetland field. Skull talks lasting late into the evening hours have also been made a routine matter in order to teach practical football to the willing but inexperienced men who compose the squad. The coach has found the weak spots and is determined to make the most of the lessons which the Oregon game afforded.

Backfield Crippled

Those who know the inside of football vouch for the statement that there was less the matter with the team Saturday than most observers would suppose. Oregon is simply in championship class with the string of clever backfield veterans which outwitted the aggressive, but woefully green Bearcat line and backfield. They should be conceded victory over most any team at the rate they were traveling Saturday. The Willamette line, except for holes at tackle, played good consistent ball, while the crippled backfield frustrated any sensational gains or passes.

Quarterback Is Problem

Rathbun is finding the quarterback position the hardest problem. Lack of field generalship cost Willamette heavily in a number of instances Saturday. White, brown and darkhorse candidates will be given intensive work to prove their ability. Isham played a good game as a temporary quarter, but fits naturally at half. Lillegren and Isham are the only men sure to start in the backfield. Fasnacht is not expected in the lineup on account of his twisted knee. The fullback, tackle, center and end positions are likewise very much in doubt.

U. of W. Has Veterans

Washington has 13 Lettermen back this year and practically every one has had from two to three years varsity experience. Ziel, Beck, Abie, Hanly, Sherman and Green are all veteran backfield men, while Hall, Kuhn and Petrie on the line have received special mention in Pacific coast circles for their work. Washington played two Pacific fleet teams at Seattle last Saturday, defeating them both by huge margins. With material sufficient to turn out two such teams, it is easily seen what Washington hopes to do in conference circles this year.

The Willamette team will be put through some hard workouts during the week. Friday afternoon they will enroute for Seattle. Kenneth Bartlett, former University of Oregon star, will officiate at the game.

U. OF W. WILL FACE SHIFT IN VARSITY SQUAD

Competitors Have 13 Letter Men With Two to Three Years on Varsity.

PLAY HUSKIES SATURDAY

Will Strive to Block "Gateway to Alaska" in Next Contest; Workouts Continue.

A general shake-up in the Willamette lineup is promised by Coach Rathbun if such a radical measure is found necessary to bolster up the Bearcat defense before the clash with the formidable University of Washington eleven in Seattle Saturday. Although meeting a team promising even more strength than the Oregon squad the Cardinal and Gold crew is going to make a desperate attempt to hold the Husky team to a lower score.

JAPANESE CALAMITY IS DESCRIBED ALUMNA OBSERVES RELIEF EFFORT

Miss Esther McCracken, whose sailing was announced in last week's Collegian, writes a letter describing the conditions in Tokio and Yokohama a few days after the catastrophe happened.

Here are a few interesting extracts from her letter:

"At San Francisco, Aug. 31, the Taiya Maru, a Japanese boat, sailed with 1600 passengers, over 60 of which are missionaries. The missionaries are first class passengers and so you know what a lot of fun we have been having. The 10 hours we were in Honolulu were 'sight seeing' hours, and we made an effort to see everything. All the trip up to Sept. 2, the day we heard of Japan's calamity, was so quiet and peaceful. After that the Japanese were so anxious for their families that the spirit became intense and our joy was changed a bit. Our crew all had families or relatives in either Yokohama or Tokio. You can imagine our constant anxiety.

"We reached this harbor three days ago and have been anchored out about a mile from the shore. Our crew left us to search for their families and are now bringing them back. Ships loaded to a capacity you can't imagine (you have to see it to believe it) have been bringing (Continued on page 4)

Shop With the Yellow Card

One of the necessary evils of a college paper is the continual plea "to patronize the advertisers." However, when one realizes that the Collegian with a circulation of 800 has to compete with papers that have a circulation of 6,000 to get advertisers, the imminent need for student cooperation is plain.

If every student for one week, would say, "I saw your ad in the Collegian" to every merchant of whom he bought an article, the task of the management of the Collegian would be simple and the result would be a "square deal" to those merchants who deserve the $400,000 that the students bring into Salem each year.

In order to make student cooperation easy, every regular advertiser in the Collegian will have in his window a yellow card which will declare that that merchant is worthy of the trade of every Willamette student. Look for the yellow card! That firm is a Willamette booster and deserves Willamette trade.

Annual Reception Is Given
 One of Willamette's festive traditions was delightfully carried out on last Saturday evening, when the Christian associations entertained with their annual reception.
 The second floor of Waller hall was transformed into a reception hall by a profusion of autumn leaves and streamers of cardinal and gold.
 In the receiving line were: Miss Jennison, Mr. Oliver, Miss Palmer, Mr. Patton, Dr. Doney, Miss Richards, Dean and Mrs. Alden, Mrs. Dodd, Professor Harding, Professor Laughlin, Miss Hanna, and Professor Detling.
 During the evening the busy gathering of signatures served as a formal introduction for Willamette students, and now everyone will be greeted on the campus with a cheery "hello!"
 The society halls were converted into an attractive diningroom, where refreshments of ices and cookies were served.
 Dinner guests on Saturday evening at Sigma Tau fraternity were: Rein Jackson, Lawrence Davies, Ben Rickli, Lyman Marsters, and Bruce Maynard.

SOCIETY
DAUGHTER OF THE DUST
 A daughter of the dust am I,
 A dust as red, as coarse, as dry
 As mountain soil, whose gnarled trees,
 With gnarled limbs, survey the sea.
 A daughter of the dust—and yet,
 The scented sweet of mignonette,
 And rosy words of love attuned
 To silent skies serenely mooned
 Have left my clayey frame a-throb
 Until in rapture, voice a sob,
 I've cried to leave all common things,
 I've cried for iridescent wings:
 But now I'm crying so, because
 My filmy wings of irised gauze
 Must beat so hard against their cage,
 Because the clay's my heritage.

The opening of the new semester has been marked by a series of get-acquainted affairs. During the first few days of school the Y. W. C. A. was hostess at afternoon teas for new girls. This week culminated with the Y. W. Y. M. reception.
 With the new semester well under way, Willamette is looking forward to a busy year of books and gay times.
Junior Girls Will Entertain for Freshmen
 Invitations are being issued for the Junior tea, which is to be an event of next Saturday. At that time the Junior girls will be hostesses to the girls of the Freshman class.
 The affair is an annual one, and provides a lovely opportunity for the girls of the two classes to become better acquainted.

Y.W.C.A. Meeting Proves Interesting
 The first meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on last Thursday afternoon was of particular interest and inspiration. The devotions were led by Miss Jennison.
 Mrs. Hester gave a very helpful talk on "Personalities, Triangular, Round, and Otherwise." A pleasing vocal duet was rendered by Mary Jane Albert and Ruth Ross.
 Dean and Mrs. George Alden were dinner guests of Miss Francis Richards at Lausanne on Sunday.
 Dr. Doney was a guest of Kappa Gamma Rho for dinner on Sunday.
 Warren Day was a week end visitor at his home in Portland.

Miss Walsh Betrays Secret
 At a charming luncheon at the Spa Tuesday night at 7 o'clock Miss Kathleen Walsh of Salem delighted her friends with the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Edward Cleary of Cavalier, North Dakota.
 The tables were beautifully decorated and at the places were dainty cards on which were printed tiny pictures bearing the message, "Untie this little tag and let the cat out of the bag." When these instructions were carried out snapshots of the happy couple told the secret.
 Miss Walsh is a member of the class of '25 and of the Chrestomathean literary society.

Philodossians Have Musical Program
 On last Friday afternoon the Philodossian Literary Society enjoyed a program entitled "Music Hath Its Charms." The opening number, "The Voice Box" was a pianologue cleverly interpreted by Ruth Hill. A violin rendition "Fiddle Strings" was given by Jeanne Corskie. "Composition" a piano solo by Frances Hodge was particularly pleasing and "His Master's Voice" on the Victrola came as a fitting climax.
League Invites University to Banquet
 The Epworth League of the First M. E. Church is going to offer the biggest, best, and liveliest time possible to all Willamette students who will attend a banquet held in the church at 5:30 o'clock on Friday, October 5.
 A regular 75 cent dinner will be served for the nominal cost of 25 cents a plate. In addition to this sumptuous feast, a lively program will be presented.
 The Washingtonian society elected officers for the year at a meeting on Monday, October 1. Byron Arnold was elected the new president, and Ruth Hill was elected vice president. Carol Cheney will act as the scribe, and Gordon Kelso will handle the finances. The society plans one party for this semester and the annual all-student event, the Washingtonian banquet, for the second semester.

Chrestos Feature Clocks in Program
 A very unusual program entitled "Clocks" was given by the Chrestomathean society on last Friday. The first number "Grandfather's Clock" proved to be a pleasing number by the Chresto trio. A short talk "About Clocks" was given by Irene Pratt and Elizabeth McClure continued on "Clocks and Clocks." The concluding number was parliamentary practice efficiently led by Laura Pemberton.
 On Sunday, Sigma Tau house was the scene of an attractive birthday dinner, honoring their President, J. C. Caughlan. The table was centered with a huge birthday cake decorated with bright candles.
 In honor of the occasion, the members of the fraternity presented Mr. Caughlan with a white gold watch chain.

When Henry rang the bell
 If any bell was ever heard around the world, Joseph Henry rang it in his famous experiment at the Albany Academy. The amazing development of the electrical industry traces back to this schoolmaster's coil of insulated wire and his electro-magnet that lifted a ton of iron.
 Four years later when Morse used Henry's electro-magnet to invent the telegraph, Henry congratulated him warmly and unselfishly.
 The principle of Henry's coil of wire is utilized by the General Electric Company in motors and generators that light cities, drive railroad trains, do away with household drudgery and perform the work of millions of men.

ing refugees to our boat for hours. There are 200 of them on board now. Women, children of every age, men who are worn out and half starved, all half-clothed and dirty and tired—well, it's a sight that words simply can't describe. Refugees packed on the three lower decks—simply jammed in! One cannot walk or make his way through the crowd at all. There are no places for them to sleep tonight either—they must remain right where they are. If you can imagine the sanitary conditions, you do well.

"These people have nothing to eat but what the government hands out and that is a handful of rice that looks like a big fluffy biscuit. One of those constitutes a meal for each person. They are going with us to Kobe, a trip of one and one-half days.

"You could read about this condition in the papers for hours, but you could never realize the horror of it until you see it. At the time of the earthquake the water of the harbor was boiling hot and people rushed into the water and drowned in an effort to get away from the fires. As a result there are hundreds of bodies still floating around in the water. Many have passed our boat, even though we are a mile away from the shore. There are so many dead bodies on the land that they have not attempted to bury them. Japan cremates a great deal so they have been piling the bodies up, pouring oil on them and burning them. It gives me a mighty queer feeling to watch those fires blaze up night and day. Yet I know it is the only thing they can do to prevent the spreading of disease.

"All of the cities, Tokio and Yokohama, have been destroyed with the exceptions of two small sections. Everything is flat to the ground. Immediately after the earthquake, fires sprung up everywhere and hundreds of people were caught by that. In one park, 20,000 were roasted to death by the heat of the surrounding fires. The fire didn't touch them at all. One building killed 700 when it fell. Everything people had has

1925 ANNUAL TO APPEAR ON MAY DAY

Again the Wallulah editor and manager announce with extreme confidence that the coveted annual will be out by May Day ready to be devoured by eager souls and scanned by eager eyes.

Ted Emmel, the manager, is looking for a place to hang his sign "1925 Wallulah Office." The vacant room in the basement of Waller hall will likely be the permanent location, although the multigraph materials are still situated there. The temporary location, at least during the ticket sale for the photographs, will be in the student body office.

"A larger book and better photographs" is the motto of the Editor, Clarence Oliver. He expects at least a ten page increase in the contents of the book on account of the larger student body. And then, he vows that the photos will be much better on account of the remodeling of the Parker-Schrode Studio. Mr. Parker has been the official photographer for the Wallulah for a number of years, and is an authority in his line of work. He has a much larger sky-light and much new material for taking pictures, in his studio. These improvements might justify the statement of "a bigger and better" book although for the last three years the annuals have been unequalled in colleges the size of Willamette.

The ticket sale is now on; and all students who wish to have their pictures appear in the book next spring must have their pictures taken as soon as possible at Parker's studio.

Merle Bonney was chosen as the assistant manager, and Dwight Findley as advertising assistant. The editor's staff will be chosen this week.

"Every passenger on board took everything out of their trunks they didn't have to have and sent to shore to clothe these people. Yesterday we sewed all day, making things from the bolts of cloth that people had with them. I hope the conditions may soon be relieved.

Yours in His Service,
ESTHER McCracken.

GYM EXCEEDS BID

will include the steam rooms, eight showers for ladies, ten showers for men, a heating plant which may also serve Eaton hall, and all of the piping necessary for a swimming tank.

Tank is Omitted
The first plans for the building called for a tank to be built at the same time as the main structure, but, for financial reasons, it was not deemed advisable by the trustees to include it. Instead, every preparation is being made for the addition of a tank, including blind stairways from the boiler room and removable doors which will serve when the pool is added.

Expense Will Reach $100,000

The expense of the gym exclusive of the swimming pool will be more than is generally supposed. Contractor Anderson bid for the structure without plumbing at $60,000. With plumbing and all finishing touches added the total will probably reach $100,000. The addition of the tank will incur a further expenditure but will not be made until funds are ready.

JUNIORS APPEAR FRIDAY IN GAY NEW CORDUROY

In accordance with age old tradition the Junior boys appeared in their new corduroys Friday at chapel.

When the final strains of "Holy, Holy, Holy" had died away the north door of the chapel creaked open, and slowly and triumphantly, and extremely self-consciously, the Junior boys clad in all the brilliancy of cream colored corduroys, marched down the aisle and took the chairs that so short a time before had been pathetically empty.

Thunderous applause from all except the underclass, senior, and faculty sections caused the late arrivals to blush with pleasure.

Dr. Doney with his usual ready response to new situations admonished the boys to take great care of their new possessions, and suggested the "under the mattress" solution for the crease problem.

The corduroy trouser privilege belongs exclusively to the Juniors.

FRESHMAN CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

Keith Rhodes of Raymond to Reign Supreme; Miss Weddel Has Vice Presidency.

The Freshman class, after biting the dust in an ignominious manner in the fray last week, crystallized its spirit in a tangible form last Thursday by electing officers for the semester.

Keith Rhodes who was elected president by a unanimous vote hails from Raymond, Washington. He was prominent in school activities there, having played football and basketball under Coach "Squint" Dimick. "Fat" is a Sigma Tau pledge and looks like a comer.

Miss Cloe Weddle, of Stayton was chosen vice president.

Miss Lois Taylor, a Salem HI girl, will keep the minutes under the title of secretary. She was vice president of the student body, member of the Cecelia music club, the K. C. club, and other organizations. Miss Taylor appears to be a very able person.

Frank Beer, chief custodian of the treasury comes from Hubbard. He was a football man and a leader in high school affairs.

Henry Hartley, the big burly sergeant-at-arms, is from Aberdeen, Washington. Hank was all-state center on the mythical football team last year and is going fine with the Bears. Wee be to anyone who tries to wreck a class meeting by disorder.

CHURCH EMPLOYS SOCIAL WORKER

Mary Findley, Willamette '20 Is New Educational Director; Will Speak at Chapel.

Miss Mary Findley took up her work at the beginning of the church conference year as Director of Religious Education of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Salem.

Miss Findley graduated from Willamette University in 1920, where she took a Liberal Arts course. In 1922 she was granted her Master of Arts degree in the Social Science department of Columbia university and for the following year she was employed as director of a foreign center in Philadelphia. Because of ill-health she returned home to Salem.

At First church, Miss Findley has the supervision of the educational program of the church. Community work, calling social program and the contact with students are all under her charge. She is also general director of a week day Bible school system which will begin soon and run throughout a course of seven weeks. These sessions will be held at various churches after the regular school hours in order that all children who wish may attend.

While a senior at Willamette Miss Findley was president of the Y. W. C. A. "I am mighty glad to be back here near Willamette, and I look forward to my work in connection with the college students," she declared. The Willamette student body will have the opportunity to hear Miss Findley when she will speak in chapel today.

CHANGES IN LAW

in the Department of History at Willamette has been named as instructor of International Law and Jurisprudence in the College of Law. His hours of instruction are from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Examinations

Under a new faculty ruling of the College of Law special examinations will not be favored. First and second year students who fail to take or to pass an examination in their subjects will have to wait and take it the following year with the class examination. This ruling automatically makes it a second examination. The only exception to this rule is in case of sickness. A second ruling passed upon makes it possible for a student to make no less than a 75 per cent grade. In some cases students have failed in the first examination and in the second one made a very high grade, which they have not really earned.

Moort court meets November 1, according to Ray L. Smith, secretary, when interviewed Tuesday. J. C. Inman will act as judge.

Hours Are Changed

Hours of instruction for seniors has been changed from 5 o'clock p. m., to 4 p. m., including Saturday. The Freshman, Sophomores, and Juniors meet as usual from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m., including Saturday.

field will be the scene of the Willamette-Whitman contest.

For years Whitman has been our bitterest contender and the game bids fair to be one of challenging interest.

Gym is Attraction

The grand finale is scheduled for Saturday night, when the new gymnasium will be formally opened. Perhaps there has been nothing more intensely needed on the campus during the last two years than a gymnasium, and the big celebration can be predicted gay in the new building five weeks hence.

ELEPHANT LEAVES TOOTH

Excavation at Pullman Gives Proof of Prehistoric Creature.

A tooth 6 inches long, and as wide, exhumed in excavating for the new student bookstore at the State College of Washington, has been identified by Dr. Solon Shedd of the school of mines and geology as that of a Siberian Woolly Mammoth. The scientific name of this creature, which roamed this district at the time the first man appeared on the continent, is Elephas Primabenzia. It stood about 9 feet high at the shoulders, Dr. Shedd says. It is supposed to have reached North America by way of Alaska, and ranged through British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and east to the Atlantic coast. No other bones were found with the tooth, which will be placed in the geological museum of the college.

long gains in the closing minutes of play. Final score, Oregon 40, Willamette 0.

The game was all that might logically have been expected of a light, inexperienced team with a few days practice when pitted against such heavy odds. However, the showing of the team was such that a general feeling of optimism for future contests is felt on the part of squad, student body and coach.
