

M. Sgt. Hartman to Retire Soon After 24 Years in Air Force

Master Sergeant Robert C. Hartman is soon to take off his familiar blue uniform and don civilian clothes. After 24 years in the service, Hartman is retiring. The cadet corps honored him yesterday with a review; the AFROTC's last drill of the semester. Faculty members were invited to attend and watch the cadets parade in front of Sergeant Hartman who inspected the troops and seemed pleased with the review as a whole.

HARTMAN CAME to Willamette in July, 1951 and has served as the detachment's first sergeant and as advisor to the rifle team. A familiar sight around the campus, he will be missed by the cadets. His advice to up and coming officers in the Air Force has been invaluable to the students.

Hartman entered the service at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, in 1933. In 1942 he transferred to the Army Air Corps and received his Master

M/SGT. ROBERT HARTMAN

Sergeant rank. During the war he helped establish air bases in Australia, New Guinea, and Manila. After the war, he was sent to Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma, where he stayed most of the time until coming to Willamette. Being a charter member of the AFROTC here at Willamette, Hartman has many amusing tales of the early days of the RO and the troubles in organization.

He enjoys hunting, fishing and repairing guns and equipment. When he retires, he will remain in the Salem area.

Spring Open Rush Set

February 26 to March 8 are the dates set by Panhellenic for this year's spring open rush, according to Margie Wood, president. All those interested in rushing will sign up during a five-day period, February 18-22.

FTA to Mull Proposal Of Oregon Felony Law

The advent of finals has caused the postponement until sometime early next semester of the Future Teachers of America, Kappa Delta Pi chapter, meeting originally scheduled for last Tuesday.

When the meeting does occur, Mrs. Gubser, state assistant superintendent for special education, will speak on the subject of "Moral and Social Responsibility of Teaching," which will involve a discussion of the newly proposed law whereby, if a teacher is convicted of a felony at any time, his or her teaching certificate will be permanently revoked.

Founders' Day Rites to See 23 Graduate

On Thursday, February 7, 23 seniors will see the close of their approximately 16 year long scholastic career with mid-year graduation, scheduled for 11 a. m. in the Fine Arts auditorium.

PRESENTED in conjunction with the Founders' and Benefactors' Day program, Commencement will be closed by President G. Herbert Smith's presentation of diplomas to the graduates.

Founder William H. Willson and Benefactor Abel Ellsworth Eaton are to be honored by the Founders' and Benefactors' program. George Nelson will speak on the life of Mr. Willson, while the life of Mr. Eaton will be presented by Donna Leonard.

Both the University orchestra and the A cappella choir will participate in the exercises. The former will play the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," and the recessional, "March from Scipio." Special music has been prepared by the choir, with Michelle Edwards to sing the soprano solo. Jim Chittick will sing "Farewell, Willamette."

Annual Mail Fee Goes to '57 Book

Everyone who paid a mailing fee for the 1956 Wallulah is asked to stop at the booth which will be set up in the library registration day and leave his mailing address. The fees from last year which were not used will be credited to this year's annual.

Other students wishing to have the yearbooks mailed to their homes this summer will be charged 50 cents and are also requested to leave their names and addresses at the booth.

Forty pages of the '57 Wallulah are already at the printers, and another large batch is scheduled to be sent off after finals, according to Jean Martin, editor.

CR Poster, Essay Deadlines Definitely Set for February 5

February 5 will "definitely" be the deadline for all entries in the Christian Resource Week poster and essay contests, according to the chairman of the week, Ashley Rose. He emphasized that the winning poster must be ready at that time for use by the printer as the cover of the CR Week program.

Wesley Ski Spree Offers Final Rest

When finals are over 110 Willamette students will head for Suttle Lake and Hoodoo ski area for the Wesley Ski Spree. A bus load will leave about 1 p. m. Friday, February 1, and several cars will leave at different times during the day.

Those who need to rent skis should get them at Harger's or Anderson's sports shops which are saving their skis for the Wesley group. Ed Boothby, chairman of the outing, suggests that those planning to rent skis go down to Anderson's before Monday or to Harger's some time before Ski Spree to fit their boots and ski length. A truck will pick up the skis at the sports shops and transport them to Suttle Lake.

A representative in each living organization will be collecting $5 from each participant to cover food, room, and transportation. Chaperones will be Prof. and Mrs. Richard Gillis, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Hanson, and Dr. and Mrs. Noel Kaestner.

OFCL Conference to Have Holmes, Hatfield as Speakers

Governor Robert Holmes of Oregon will be the main speaker at the 1956 Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders conference on the Willamette campus, Don Peterson, secretary and treasurer of the federation, has announced. Secretary of State Mark Hatfield also will say a few introductory words.

The purpose of the conference, Peterson said, is to enable the leaders of Oregon colleges to mutually discuss problems once a year. The coming conference will be the first in two years, although the idea of the conference was originated about 1947.

Fourteen Oregon schools will be represented and between five and ten leaders of each college student body will attend, Peterson continued.

The committee members who are working on formulating the conference plans are George Hoyt, Steve Nason, Willard Bunnely, Dean Bishoprick and Norm Dyer.

Willamette delegates have not yet been chosen outside of the regular student body officers whose interest in the problems includes them. Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, will be represented by six women who will act as secretaries during the sessions.

Communion has been rescheduled for 7 p. m. Thursday because of the appearance of the St. Olaf's choir at 8:15 that evening in the Fine Arts auditorium.

Great Decisions Group Discusses US-Russia Policy

What should be the policy of the United States in relation to Russia was the question discussed at the first meeting of the Great Decisions study group Tuesday night.

GENERAL PLAN of the series is to discuss a number of background questions which in turn lead to a general statement of opinion on several foreign policy issues.

Moderated by Lewis Bright, the small group discussed the fields of Russian technology in comparison with United States', education, and the use of force or peaceful persuasion in foreign policy.

One of the most disastrous blows to international Communism in recent years has been the ruthless suppression of the Hungarians the group felt. But it was the consensus that our foreign policy should not be geared to encourage revolutions, but fostering an orderly transition from Communism.

SCHEDULED FOR the next two weeks are discussions on Europe and the Middle East. Participating in next week's discussion on Europe will be Dr. Julius Heinis, from Switzerland. He is at present with the Oregon department of agriculture.

The next week the discussion will center around the Middle East and Dr. Theodore Shay and Robert Johnson, former head of the finance department of the state of Oregon will be resource leaders.

State Mark Hatfield also will say a few introductory words.

The purpose of the conference, Peterson said, is to enable the leaders of Oregon colleges to mutually discuss problems once a year. The coming conference will be the first in two years, although the idea of the conference was originated about 1947.

Soothing Music to Pour From 'Cat Juke Box

Strains of soothing music, mixed perhaps with Elvis Presley noises, will soon be coming from the 'Cat Cavern Student Council decided Wednesday.

Under the leadership of Bill Davies, a drive to have a juke box in the Cavern will result in the installation of one at a very near date.

Profits up to $7.50 will go to the installing firm, the rest up to $15 will go to the Cavern, and after $15 the split will be 50-50.

Vets' Signatures Asked

Will all veterans who have not yet signed the monthly form for February payment please do so immediately, asks Mrs. Lillian Haytack, veterans' secretary.

Council Approves MUN Delegates

The Bulgarian delegation to the sixth Model United Nations at Stanford University April 10-14, will be represented by 10 Willamette students who were approved by the Student Council Wednesday. They are George Hoyt, Charlotte Means, Pat Farley, Sandra Roark, Marty Wolf, Kay Ruberg, Dale Greenlee, Lou Ann Mergler, Fred Chambers, and Priscilla Payne. The five alternates are Dick Crooks, Pat Culley, Sharon Allen, Barbara Goodier, and Angela Cesario.

All 15 will be meeting regularly to confer on the views of the actual Bulgarian delegation to the UN in order to realistically represent the satellite's views at the MUN.

Along with the other arrangements for the conference, campus Unesco is also faced with the problem of securing housing for the delegates at Stanford.

Thirty-three petitions were filed and the committee urges that everyone interested try again next year—especially freshmen and sophomores.

Plans Still Jelling For Hungarians

In response to a letter from the Oregon secretary of the World University Service in November, which requested the cooperation of colleges and universities in the placement of Hungarian students, a student committee was formed to investigate the possibility of such a venture. Student Body President Neil Causbie and Unesco President Joe Stewart attended a meeting of collegiate leaders and WUS representatives concerning the matter.

The committee has succeeded in finding two homes willing to receive students, three part-time jobs, possible summer jobs, and has devised a plan, still awaiting administration approval, to supplement the Campus Chest income of Unesco and the Campus Y groups for provision of tuition and books.

Members of the committee are: Chairman, George Gray; Dick White, Joe Stewart, Charlotte Means, Lucy Myers, Mary Lou Krause, and Marge Stout. Dr. Charles Derthick and the Salem Council of Churches have aided in finding the homes.

New Risers, Date Set for '57 Glee

Freshman Glee, 1957, will be graced by the presence of shiny new risers. This was the decision of Student Council in Wednesday's meeting. It was also the decision of Council to move the date of Glee forward a week, from March 23 to March 16, and it was pointed out that this might cause a little difficulty in delivering the risers on time.

In spite of this, it was the consensus of Council that the risers should be purchased and it was generally felt that enough time was being allowed for their delivery on time.

The reason for the change in the date of Glee is that Prof. Don Gleckler of the music school requested that the song fest be moved to some time when it did not conflict with choir tour. He pointed out that many of his singers had no voice left after the rugged week of Glee.

We Firmly Resolve

To be perfectly honest, we aren't ready for finals either. In fact, this editorial is being written in the late hours of the night, immediately after a paper that should have been done weeks ago. It's the same old story all over again for most of us. In spite of our firm resolutions to keep up, to work on term papers at the beginning of the semester when they are assigned, and to turn them in on time, the last week of the semester usually finds a large segment of our population racing to catch up.

But there are others, not like these, who do their work as it is assigned. Somehow without fuss or strain they manage to get everything done, and when the last week before final week comes, they study for finals.

Hope springs eternal, however, so we will keep on plodding. Somehow the papers will get written and the tests will be taken, and we can all make resolutions for next semester.

Invitations Received for Zafiratos-Swart Rites

Invitations are in the mail for the wedding of Virginia Ann Swart and Mr. Nicholas Dan Zafiratos, planned for February 9 at the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church in Portland. Father Angelo Gavallas will officiate at the 4 o'clock nuptials.

Zafiratos is a 1955 graduate of the Willamette law school where he was a member of Phi Delta Phi. He took his undergraduate work at the University of Oregon. Formerly employed by Raley & Raley, attorneys at law, in Pendleton, Zafiratos is now an assistant attorney general for the state of Oregon.

The couple will reside in Portland. Several Willamette law school students are planning to attend the event.

New Fund Aids Publications

By JOE PIERRE

Willamette students will be glad to know that the recent increase in Student Body dues voted into effect by the students, will go a long way toward solving a problem which has been growing more intense each year in the publications department. One example is the fact that in 1941 the cost, per week, to have the Collegian printed was about $50. Now it is around $250 for a smaller paper than in 1941.

The aim of the publications department is to raise the standard of both the Collegian and the Wallulah; but with printing and publication costs already so high and predicted to continue to rise for the next three to five years, more money was imperative if any substantial improvement was to be made.

The increased student body fund will give "Publications" an additional $2,750.00 which, added to the old budget of $13,858.00, will make a new total of $16,608.00. The sources and amounts of income to "Publications" have been as follows: From Student Body, $7,490; payments from campus organizations, $1,200; advertising, $5,168. Under the new allocation of student body funds, "Publications" will receive 39 per cent of $25,000 instead of the former 35 per cent of $20,000; which accounts for the increase of $2,750.

Finals Proclaimed—Distraction Calendar Now Noted Bare

Unofficially the Collegian has always attempted to keep all possible distractions before the eyes of students. Social Dead Week was no exception. But now the screws are on—there are no events till next weekend.

"Lust for Life" at economical student prices is still on at the Hollywood tonight and tomorrow nights (unless it is held over). This story of Vincent Van Gogh's life and, "Baby Doll" are the only diversions left in town.

Intellectually there is only one alternative: the library will be open tonight till 9:45 to give students a last minute chance to hear the new silence which the student council has put into action.

No more distractions. The bleary-eyed staff, as usual, leaves the Collegian to join the campus in warmly welcoming finals.

"Oh, it's perfectly platonic—I'm still buying the coffee."

Students Who Fled Hungary Learning English in Silverton

IF YOU ARE having difficulty studying for French, Spanish, or German finals, imagine the confusion in trying to understand someone who speaks only Hungarian! This problem is confronting the Van Cleave family of Silverton and Willamette. Mary Beth Van Cleave, junior drama major, and John Van Cleave, freshman, have living in their home two Hungarian refugees who speak no English whatsoever. The two boys, who arrived in Silverton just two weeks ago, came to the Van Cleave home through the Lutheran Welfare Organization in which Mrs. Van Cleave is active.

Fred and Paul, whose last names are unpronounceable and even more unspellable, according to Mary Beth, escaped from their native Hungary on November 9 and have heard no word of any of their relatives since that time. They traveled to New York via boat, and by rail to Oregon, without changing their clothes once!

BOTH BOYS fled Hungary under necessity since they had both been instrumental in the beginnings of the revolution. Fred drew most of the posters which appeared in the streets of cities to urge the revolt. Paul was known to the Russians as one of their chief aggressors in the fighting line.

Until they learn more English

Paul and Fred, who are 20 and 21 years of age, will be employed by the Van Cleave. With only two weeks of study from first grade readers they already recognize the names of foods and how to tell time. In Hungary Paul and Fred had reached the equivalent of two years of college education.

AT HOME during the past weekend Mary Beth was playing the piano and came across an old Hungarian Dance by Brahms which she played. "Their reaction to the music of their country was one of the most touching things I have ever witnessed," says Mary Beth. "I had to play it all afternoon, over and over again."

In spite of the language difficulties, however, the Van Cleave are accustomed to strangers in their home. Through Mrs. Van Cleave's work with the Lutheran organization they have had many such people in their home previously.

Joy of Student Life Dimmed As Semester Climax Arrives

The grand but not so glorious climax to a semester full of politics, homecomings, conferences, drama productions, and athletic events will take place on the campus next week when the familiar event ominously known as "finals" occupies the minds of profs and students.

The event which threatens and largely determines the status and future of every registered student and the reputation of every professor begins tomorrow morning at 9 when all AROTC classes and Tuesday-Thursday 1 o'clock classes start the "festivities."

"Celebrating" dead week according to the proper custom, students have spent the past week utterly neglecting sleep, meals, housekeeping, fusing, and bull sessions in favor of coffee, No-Doz and cramming.

A new use for the library, the lost art of studying, has been discovered recently by many of those who had formerly thought of it as a student union building.

The usual cheerfulness of the campus gives way to an unfriendly silence, while the only words spoken are "Quiet," "Ugh" and "Shad-up." Warning signs appear on the doors of the rooms forbidding the entrance of the uninvited.

All extra curricular activity ends, until the blessed day when the finals have ended. At that time campus life will get back to normal, movies will become a part of campus life, A&W, Lebold's, KK and the library will again be used to live it up and studying will be a thing of the past.

For the freshman who is worried about his first experience in this semi-annual campus way of life the following words of encouragement are offered: "Cheer up. After this semester there will only be seven more to go."

Library Plans Total Silence

"Quiet—Library Zone" signs will soon be posted inside and out around the Library, and the sound of librarians shushing noisy students will become an accepted part of campus life.

It was recently brought to the attention of student council that the library was noisier than it should be, and that something should be done about quieting it down. Council agreed and suggested that President Neil Causbie consult with Librarian Brooks Jenkins to see what steps could be taken to alleviate the noise.

As a result of their conference, Jenkins stressed that all possible will be done to maintain quiet in the main study areas which are the main reading rooms and the stacks. Students who need to converse, he said, must go to the seminar, Northwest history or newspaper rooms, when they are not in use for meetings and classes.

"Much of the confusion is created by students coming in and leaving the library," Jenkins added, stating that the "Quiet" signs around the entrance should cut down the noise from outside the library.

Petitions Due Feb. 5, 6

Tuesday, February 5, at noon is the deadline for petitions for the position of assistant Distinguished Artist Concert series. The next day, also at noon, is the last time petitions may be filed for places on the 1957-58 rally squad.

Petition forms for the latter may ordinarily be picked up at the Student Body office, but since the office will be locked until after finals, the forms will be found fastened to the door instead.

YWCA Elections Due After Finals

Election of new officers for the Willamette chapter of the Young Women's Christian Association will be coming up the week after finals, Mary Lou Krause, YWCA president, announced.

Candidates will be chosen by petition, forms for these petitions being available at Lausanne Hall and in the Student Body office. On the application the name of the student, experience in the field in which the applicant is interested, and the reason for wanting the position must appear.

Stanford Dean Lauds Record Of Transfers

Willamette students enrolled in the 3-2 program in engineering at Stanford University were praised highly by the associate dean of that department in a letter to the University this week.

Dean Ray K. Linsley of Stanford's School of Engineering commented that "thus far Willamette students transferring to Stanford have made the best records of any students in the 3-2 program."

The 3-2 plan was inaugurated in 1953, with eight schools participating in a program whereby three years are spent at a liberal arts school and the following two in Stanford's engineering department. The student, after five years, receives a BS degree from Stanford and a BA from his first school.

Total enrollment in the program is 14. Willamette has graduated three men on the 3-2 program: Richard Ross, Portland; James Morgali, Salem; and Eugene Bartlett, Salem. Bartlett completed the program with the highest grade point average of any student graduating from the school in 1955. At present two students, Richard Bauman, Portland, and Richard Brockway, San Carlos, California, are enrolled in the program.

Buinesses Donate Equipment To Improve Home Ec Kitchen

The Vita Craft Kitchen Utensil Corporation and the Portland Gas and Coke Company have recently made sizable donations to the Willamette home economics department, according to the department head, Miss Lois Latimer.

Portland Gas has supplied Willamette's department with a total of five stoves during the last ten years, and it recently donated two new deluxe Wedgewood model gas stoves to replace two older ones.

Vita Craft Corporation, with headquarters at Kansas City, Missouri, donated 10 aluminum sauce pans; 10 stainless steel sauce pans; 20 stainless steel paring knives; and 10 place settings of stainless steel flatware, including knife, fork, two teaspoons and one dessert spoon for each place, Miss Latimer continued.

Wayne Carr, Willamette's campus supervisor for Vita Craft, stated that his company made the donation because of the boost it has received from the University. Approximately 13 Willamette students have part-time jobs selling utensils to young homemakers for the company, and he felt that the company would not have made such a generous gift if it were not for Willamette's fine reputation.

8 Student Pages See Politics Live

Eight Willamette students are learning first-hand the many facets of politics through their appointments as pages with the 49th session of the Oregon legislature.

Working in the Senate are Mary Beebe, Mac Baker, and Ross Fortner. Pages for the House of Representatives are Dave Barrows and Lyle Banton. Aiding the lobby members are Doug Houser, Paul Shaeffer, and Skip Alexander.

Since most of the students working for the legislature are political science or pre-law majors, the access to governmental agencies gives them valuable experience and a practical understanding for their future vocations.

SB Cards Available

Students are reminded to pick up their Student Body membership cards in the student body office as soon as their registration fees are paid, according to Flossy Hodge, secretary. The cards will also be offered at registration in the library Monday, February 4.

The green and white cards will cost $12.50 this semester, because of the constitutional amendment recently passed. The money is due with other registration fees.

Cabinet to Attend State AWS Meet

Preparations are beginning to be made by the Willamette chapter of the Associated Women Students organization for a state conference at Lewis and Clark February 16. Willamette will be represented by members of the AWS executive council.

Work is also beginning in preparation for the national AWS conference in March, which will be held this year in Lansing, Michigan. The number of delegates to that conference will depend largely upon the available financial assistance.

Phis, SAE, Sigs Top Second Half Bowling League

By PETE BLEWETT
Collegian Sports Writer

The Phi Delt continued to dominate bowling intramurals as the second week of the second half competition drew to a close. At the start of the New Year we find the Phi's number two and number one teams leading the league with eight and seven points respectively.

Tied for third place are the SAE one's and Sig one's with five points apiece. Holding on to the number four spot is the Beta number two squad. A three-way tie for sixth place lumps the Beta number one squad, the Phi Delt number three and the Baxter Hall boys together with three points each. Rounding out the league are the SAE's and Sig's number two teams with two and no points respectively.

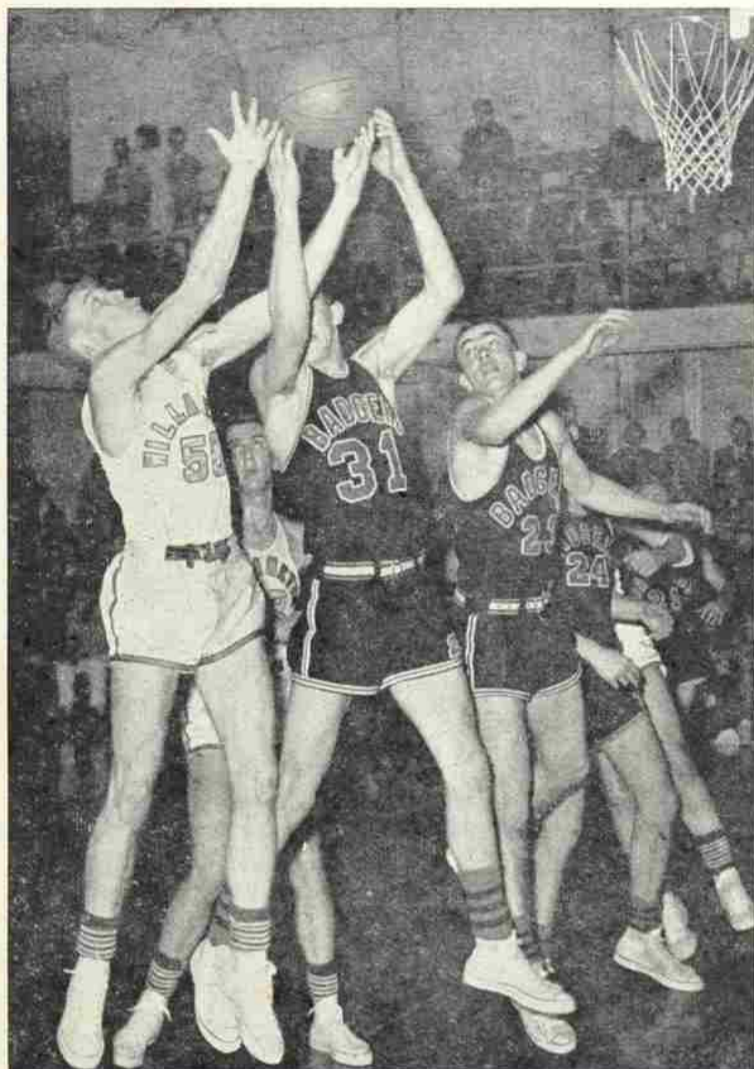

Both high team series and high team game honors go to the Phi's number one squad, with a series total of 1987 and a game sum of 688. Individual statistics find Tom Whitehurst of the Phi Delt's number two team leading in both series and game totals with a 564 series, and a 223 game.

Cats Divide Series

WILLAMETTE University basketball fans saw the importance of a well balanced team and a strong bench last Friday night, as the Bearcats downed Pacific University 81-79 in an overtime thriller.

With three of his regulars out of the game, via the foul route, Coach Johnny Lewis looked to his bench for the needed reserve strength. He found a trio of veterans who played like seasoned veterans. The three scrappy substitutes who fought down to the wire and were justly rewarded with sweet victory were Keith Driver, Dick Hartley and Masachi Watanabe.

THE PLAY of these reserves put the finishing touches on an inspired comeback on the part of the Bearcats, who midway in the second half, trailed by 15 points.

Driver, who was fouled at the end of the five-minute overtime and calmly canned his two gift tosses for the margin of victory, was the ultimate hero of the game. But the dauntless defense of Watanabe and plucky play of Hartley were instrumental in the final outcome of the game.

BEFORE DRIVER hit his game winning shots, it was Ed Grossenbacher who starred in the role of "Sir Galahad." Grossenbacher tied the score at 72-72 at the end of regular playing time, with a 35-foot desperation howitzer.

Grossenbacher and Neil Causbie led Bearcat scorers with 17 points. Causbie, who leads the NWC in rebounding, grabbed 16 off the boards to lead all rebounders. Willamette got 46 rebounds and Pacific 39. Willamette shot a .396 mark as they hit 27 of 68 from the floor. Pacific collected 28 of 83 for a .383 mark.

WILLAMETTE had the tables turned on them Saturday as they once again wandered off their home court and once again returned home on the short end of the score. The Pacific Badgers, led by a 31 point output by Jerry Kalapus, dumped the Bearcats 84-68.

Willamette led 38-37 at half-time, but Pacific grabbed the lead at 41-40, and continued to increase the margin.
