

WILLAMETTE vs. MONTANA TOMORROW AT 2:45 P.M.

W. U. PREPARED FOR HARDEST GAME OF YEAR

VISITORS HAVE GOOD RECORD BUT REAL STRENGTH CANNOT BE PREDICTED.

WILLAMETTE TEAM IN EXCELLENT TRIM

Largest Crowd in Years Is Expected to See Local Eleven Line Up Against Mountaineers.

With the biggest game of the season but one day off, the players are keyed up for a hard contest, and students and townspeople are looking forward to one of the most memorable battles ever fought on Willamette Field.

It is altogether impossible to give any reliable preliminary "dope" for the reason that the games of both teams have been played in widely separated territory and there is no connecting link between them. It is safe to predict, however, that Montana is sufficiently strong to give Willamette the grand chase of her life to come out victorious. The performances of the Montans eleven this season include a 10-3 defeat by the University of Utah and a 39-3 victory over Montana Agricultural College, carrying with it the state championship. Judging from scores and working on the theory that Willamette's strength is about equal to that of the stronger Middle Western schools, exclusive of state universities (both exceedingly poor working bases), Montana would seem to have the edge on Willamette, for Utah defeated Colorado College 43-0, and Colorado won from Nebraska Wesleyan, which is among the strongest of the smaller schools of the Middle West. Such comparisons may make interesting reading, but as to giving any idea whatever of the relative strength of the teams, they are too far-fetched to be of any value. Getting closer to home, only last Saturday, Montana defeated Gonzaga College at Spokane 16-7, but for comparative purposes, this score is also valueless, as Ganzaga's strength is unknown in this section. When all is said, the dope doesn't mean anything, and the five minutes following the first whistle tomorrow will show more than a page of comparative scores.

Varsity in Good Condition.

The varsity eleven is primed to the muzzle for the stiffest contest of the year. The men are in first-class condition and are not afflicted with over-confidence. The uncertainty of the class of the team they are to meet is putting them more than ever on their mettle. The team has been especially free from injuries of any sort all season, but for fear of an eleventh hour disability, Dr. Sweetland has not called for scrimmage since last Wednesday when the best work of the season was done against the second team. Saturday the men were given a vacation, most of them going to Albany to witness the Oregon-O. A. C. game. Signal practice has been the order this week, and the finishing touches will be applied this afternoon.

There is little doubt that the lineup will start exactly as in the Whitworth game, with the exception of MacRae, who will take the place of Hepp at left end, and possibly Belzig who may start at left guard in the place of Drake. The lineup is: right

"RAGS AND MINSTREL SHOW" IS THE TALK O' THE TOWN

World-Famous Black Pattie Star of Big Y. M. C. A. Show to be Staged at the Grand, December 6.

(By the Voracious Press-Agent.)

The day for the big minstrel show and concoction of rags and clever acts is drawing near. Day after day the cast has been put through their paces, until they have the show down in great shape. On the evening of December 6, this entertainment will be pulled off, and it is hoped that a big crowd will witness the performance.

Aside from the specialties already mentioned in the papers, two new features have been added. First, there will be "Black Pattle," the world's greatest colored soloist. She has toured the world during the past two seasons and is now showing in San Francisco. She will come directly from there to Salem, where she will appear in the program given by Willamette. Along with her, will be the great colored quartet, which has accompanied her on all her tours for the last three years.

This noted quartet will arrive in Salem on the third of December, and will probably visit Willamette before they appear at the opera house.

A prominent monologist from the East will also be on deck and, judging from his past record in other states, he will create quite a sensation. He has shown in both England and France and is now at Los Angeles, from whence he comes to our city.

A large and efficient orchestra will send forth its entrancing songs on the eventful eve. The leader of this is a prominent figure in the musical world and comes to the West well recommended to say the least. There

LAUSANNE RECEPTION THURSDAY

G. S. A. Will Hold Party Tomorrow Evening for Students Away From Home for Thanksgiving.

Tomorrow evening at eight o'clock, the Girls' Student Association will give a reception at Lausanne Hall for those students who will be away from home during the Thanksgiving recess. Arrangements have been put in the hands of Miss Pennington and the Hall girls, and every arrangement is being made to make the "forlorn and forsaken" forget that they aren't in the midst of home-folks. While the "show" is intended primarily for those who are away, students living in the city have been invited to attend and a large number of them are planning to do so.

It is not known whether the Montana football team will remain in the city that evening or not, but if they do they will doubtless be guests of the G. S. A. at this function.

DEAN PATTERSON ATTENDS YALE-HARVARD BANQUET

Gaylord Patterson spent Saturday in Portland and attended the Harvard-Yale banquet which is held annually on the evening of the big football contest between the Crimson and Old Eli. Dean Patterson was in a rather precarious position, as he has taken work in both institutions and holds degrees from both universities. He allied himself with Yale as he spent three years within her jurisdiction.

STUDENTS LIVEN UP SALEM--TUESDAY RALLY

BIGGEST PARADE OF THE YEAR SERPENTINES THROUGH STREETS AND "MOVIES."

MONTANA WARRIORS VISIT RALLY

Student Committee Picks Up Stray Members in Shows or on Streets--All Went to Rally.

"Well, that was some rally." Yes, that's what everybody said about the affair held last evening when all the live wires in the varsity turned out for the big noise-making event of the year.

People of all colors, ages and conditions made up the bright pageant which filed through the business section and back to the athletic field announcing to all comers that Willamette would play football with Montana on Turkey day.

Stunts and specialties without number made up the racket-making expedition and all were of the "something doing" type.

The freshmen were in the majority and certainly loomed up in their nighties and pajamas. They did every picture show in the city except one where entrance to the show was barred. Their final raid was made upon Lausanne hall where they marched through the main hall and out the basement door. Announcement of the game was made in each show visited.

A halt was called on the corner of State and Commercial where the wearers of the nighties and pajamas raged to the tune of "Everybody's Doing It."

The procession was led by the soph's elephant wearing a white robe adorned with big "W's". Next in line was the freshmen's big black "W" escorted by three rooks adorned with pajamas. The "W" was followed by the freshmen, all adorned with pajamas or nighties and carrying Japanese umbrellas. Behind the freshmen was the old reliable Willamette band and by the way they sure did play some music. Next in order was the academy students, all with their faces blacked and adorned in typical negro costume at their side rode an old negro mammy in stylishly dilapidated vehicle. Then came the serpentine composed of those students who were not in the special features. Skipping in and out through the crowd and in the serpentine was one of the most beautiful Indian maids yet observed in these parts. She gave her name as Miss Chema-mawa Carlissa Raynes.

Having completed their circuit through the city the crowd assembled on the athletic field where the freshmen had prepared a monster bonfire. In the light of the blaze the boys and girls each in a separate line serpentine the field finally forming the big "W. U." They then adjourned to the bleachers where they proceeded to sing songs and give the yells. Interspersed between the yells were speeches by Mr. Donblazer, of the Montana team, Eric Bolt, Jessie Young and a stunt by the academy boys.

MINNA VON BARNHELM TO BE STAGED BY GERMAN CLUB

Presentation of Popular Drama Will be Made Big Feature in Life of University.

"Minna von Barnhelm" is the play soon to be staged at the Grand by Teutonia, the German society.

It will be a very elaborate effort and promises to be of more than ordinary interest.

This play of Lessing's is the most popular and perhaps the standard of all dramas that are enjoyed at the German universities. It should appeal strongly to the large German population of Salem, and it will appear nearly on Kaiser Wilhelm's birthday, helping to mark especially this holiday observed by all loyal sons of the old "Vaterland." Every German should see and hear this play and enjoy the treat of a real German drama given in real German style and spoken in real "Deutsch."

Invitations will be sent to the German Society of Portland, and a large representation from their is expected.

Rehearsals have been in progress for some time, and under the able direction of Prof. and Mrs. Walsh, who have before very successfully staged the same play, fine progress and promise of the quality of the production are being made.

The cast is as follows: Major von Tellheim--Geo. Schreiber; Minna von Barnhelm--Laura Heist; Graf von Bruchsal (her uncle)--Jacob Stocker; Frazuska (her maid)--Lulu Heist; Just (servant of the major)--Louis Hepp; Paul Werners (former Lieutenant of the Major)--Harold Jory; Der Wirt--Will Odenberg; Eine Dame in Trauer--Gertrude Reeves; Ein Feldjaeger--Wm. Schreiber; Riccaut de la Marliniere--C. Hollingsworth.

PROF. TAUSCH DIES IN GERMANY

Former Head of Willamette Philosophy Department Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

That Professor Edwin Tausch had died in Germany of heart trouble was the sad information received by Prof. and Mrs. Von Eschen in a recent letter from Mrs. Tausch. Professor Tausch, who will be remembered by a few students and all the recent alumni, was at the head of the Department of Philosophy during the year 1908-09, in which position he commanded the respect of all his students.

Since leaving Willamette he has been engaged in educational and pastoral work at different points in the Northwest. After several years of continued ill-health, he realized last summer that the end was near, and, desiring to see his old home before his death, went with his family to Germany. The strain of the journey was too much for him, and the end came soon.

He leaves behind his wife and two children, a boy and a girl. According to Mrs. Tausch's letter, they will remain in Germany until the children have finished the gymnasium, when they plan to return to this country.

Prof. and Mrs. Tausch left many firm friends among the Willamette faculty and alumni, whose deepest sympathy is with the bereaved family.

Mrs. Tausch's address is Strahlen, Schlesien, Germany.

On account of the loss of the questions somewhere between Oxford and Eugene, the Oregon Rhodes scholarship examinations have been postponed.

GLEE CLUB LINES UP FOR SUCCESSFUL YEAR

CLUB HANDICAPPED BY LOSS OF QUARTET--MANY ASPIRANTS FOR THE POSITIONS.

BOYS WILL TAKE TRIP EASTER VACATION

Willamette Receives Much Advertising From Annual Trips--Programs Well Proportioned.

Dazzling brilliancy! The Glee Club will come out in some shining bright new pins in a few days. The organization is complete for the year, with the exception of one position in the tenor section. The new members have sworn to live up to the laws of the Medes and the Persians and tell no secrets.

The Glee Club has been severely handicapped this year by the loss of their quartet and several of their leading members who took prominent parts in the sketch. The club as now composed is being developed and the members are being tried out for the quartet work. There are several good voices and close rivalry is anticipated for the quartet positions.

Herman Clark is manager of the club this year. He has served two years in the baritone section. Arrangements have not been made for the annual trip and nothing could be learned as to plans. The trip last year was very successful in many ways but the holiday season made such inroads in the audiences that no trip will be attempted until the Easter holidays in the latter part of March.

The Glee Club is one of the advertising features of Willamette and wherever they have travelled they have made a name for themselves and gotten students for Willamette. Their programs have been well rounded. Both classical and light numbers and good readings take up the early part of the program and a farce as adapted to the club is usually the best received of the entire evening of college life.

The officers and members of the club this year are:

President, R. L. Pfaff; vice-president, Dan W. Gibson; secretary, Paul Manning; treasurer, Errol Gilkey; manager, Herman Clark.

First Tenors--Gibson, Booth, and Barnes. Second Tenors--Pfaff, Lund, Hoffman and Hall. First Bass--Clark, Gilkey, Hewett, P. Irvine. Second Bass--Hollingsworth, McCaddam, Manning, and Jory.

STATE TREASURER KAY ADDRESSES SIX O'CLOCK CLUB

Thomas Kay, state treasurer, spoke to the Six O'clock Club Monday evening in the First M. E. church on the state's finances and public institutions. Some facts concerning the institutions were given that had not been realized. The wide range of duties of the treasurer as a member of various state boards was shown. At the close of his address several of those present asked questions and were answered by the speaker of the evening.

Thanksgiving Service at M. E. Church

The Union Thanksgiving service is to be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 in the First M. E. Church. Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock of the Congregational church will deliver the sermon.

SUPPORT FOR THE TEAM.

Tomorrow, the football team really needs the support of the entire student body. Heretofore this season, the games on the home field have developed into walkaways, a condition which is not exactly conducive to enthusiastic support. Tomorrow's game will be a different story. It is safe to predict that the margin will be small, whichever side wins. The Willamette team is not over-confident. The men are expecting a hard fight, and if they are made to feel that their efforts are backed by the school at large, they may not play a better game, but they will fight with increased spirit. The team is a credit to Willamette in sportsmanship and playing ability. It is a worthy successor to the strong teams of 1910 and 1911. So far it has not felt a very strong spirit of loyalty among the students at large. Solid backing tomorrow will bring that feeling and round out a gloriously successful season.

OVERSTEPPING THE BOUNDS.

Taking advantage of the antiquated condition of the Student Body constitution, a few college women have declared their intention of entering the Idaho debate try-outs. No one will deny their constitutional right to do so, but in the act they are violating a precedent, not only of Willamette, but of every college worthy of the name, which is that men and women debate separately. To break this precedent would be distinctively to lower Willamette in our own and in others' estimation.

The Idaho debate was arranged with no other thought than that it was for men, though this not specified in the contract. With this in mind, we think that the women of the university will not insist upon entering the try-outs.

There is, however, every argument in favor of debate for women. If there is sufficient interest to justify it, the manager of debate should by all means attempt to schedule contests with the women representatives of the other colleges of the state. But if this interest is lacking, or if the debates could not be secured, there ought to be no attempt on the part of the women to inject themselves into the men's arena.

Woman suffrage, friends, has carried in Oregon, but even that fact ought not to break down a proper precedent and the "fitness of things."

CHANGES IN STAFF.

By a little readjustment of the staff for purposes of efficiency, Miss Inez Goltra takes charge of the society department, Paul Irvine of chapel news in addition to doing some feature work and Charles Ohling becomes special athletic reporter.

FRIENDS' PASTOR SPEAKS ON "PATHS TO THE HEIGHTS."

The Y. W. C. A. held a very interesting meeting last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Blanche Ford Pickering pastor of the Friends' church in the city, gave a helpful talk on "Paths to the Heights." The "heights" to be attained are the heights of communion with God. In order to reach this desired state, the Christian must conscientiously travel by way of the Path of Righteousness, the Path of Right Associations, Purity of Thought, Self-Denial and Consecration. The Y. W. C. A. may become a source of helpfulness to every girl, if she will take advantage of its inspiring religious meetings. The next meeting will be in charge of the freshman girls under the leadership of Miss Aetna Emmel.

IN THE EDITOR'S FORUM

"Wave the Banners High."

To the Editor:
In every way possible we should manifest our loyalty and good spirit toward our football team and our dear old Willamette at large. At all the games this year there has been a woeful lack of pennants. Now whether this is essential to victory or not, the presence of a large number of waving pennants in the hands of the rooters intensifies the spirit that makes our heroes work harder for the goal. Further, the waving of the symbolic rag will serve as a means of releasing that pent-up enthusiasm which Dignity has no right to restrain on this occasion, especially when the releasing of such is essential to victory. Co-eds! you can not yell, but here's your chance—wave a pennant.

DR. WILKINSON OF EUGENE, AT CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Dr. Wilkinson of Eugene led the chapel service last Wednesday. He spoke of the relation of state and denominational colleges, and especially of the fine part that men from these schools are doing to solve the most essential questions of the day. Further he said: "Whether you can conjugate 'amo' and 'lao', whatever you do, in your studies, get intellectual muscle. And there is no muscle in a 'pony.' Friendships in college are of the greatest influence. Men are much the same after getting out of college as they are while in college. Keep your eyes open to see God's mission for you, and with pure, red blood in your veins, your work will serve its purpose."

MISS EAKIN IS HOSTESS.

Miss Gertrude Eakin gave a delightful party last Friday evening, in honor of her cousin, Mr. Collier, who is a graduate of the Boston School of Polytechnic. About thirty university people were among those present.

Several original and clever "stunts" furnished ample entertainment for the guests and made the evening pass all too quickly.

After refreshments had been served some of the college songs were sung and the guests departed, feeling that Miss Eakin is a most charming hostess.

WEBS ELECT, SERENADE HULL, AND VISIT SPA

The Websterians held their regular election of officers for the second term last Wednesday evening. The new officers who will serve for the term beginning Dec. 4 are: president, Oliver Matthews; vice-president, Arthur Marsh; corresponding secretary, Harold Wieder; recording secretary, Ralph Stearns; treasurer, Tinkham Gilbert; critic, Lester Proebstel; marshal, William Schreiber.

A very interesting literary and economic program was rendered, touching upon present day subjects. After adjournment, the members went en masse to the Spa, where the fellows proceeded to partake of the things "which delight the inner man."

Not content in this alone, the society formed itself into the Oregon Board of Censorship and proceeded, through the courtesy of the manager, to inspect the pictures at the Globe theater. Still not satisfied in this expedition of conquest, the troops proceeded to Lausanne Hall, where, after a few discordant notes had rent the air, they became convinced that their efforts were not appreciated. For this reason, it was deemed best to disband for the evening.

The Webs will hold no meeting this evening on account of the proximity of the Thanksgiving recess.

First Graduate Gets Collegian.

A recent letter enclosing the subscription price of The Collegian testifies to the active interest which Mrs. Emily York Moore, '59, the first graduate of the university, retains in the work of Old Willamette.

Miss Austin spent Sunday at her home in Woodburn.

FROSH ISSUE CHALLENGE

Losers in Class Football to Paint the Winners' Numerals on Roof of Grandstand.

The much talked of Sophomore-Freshman football contest is soon to be pulled off. On last Friday President Russell of the Freshman class rose and read as follows: "We, the Class of 1916, challenge the Class of 1915 to a football game to be played on Tuesday, December 10, at 3:30, the players not to be members of the first squad and to be bona fide members of the class they represent. The losing class to paint the class number of the winning class on the grandstand in eight-foot block letters at 8 o'clock of the same day and allow them to remain there."

The challenge was immediately accepted by Miss Barton, president of the Sophomore class, who stated: "The class of 1915 accepts the challenge of the Class of 1916 to a game of football to be played on Tuesday, December 10, at 3:30. I wish to say at this time that we will take great pleasure in watching you paint the green and white '15 on the roof of the grandstand that evening at eight o'clock."

With this game in view, both classes are getting every man who can scrape up a suit out for practice.

NEW PILOT CHOSEN FOR PROHIBITION ASSOCIATION

Miss Boughey Elected to Position Which Irvine Resigned—Debate Feature of Program.

"Faculty regulations" seem to be less rigorous with most students than the "superabundance of work." It was the latter that caused the president of the Intercollegiate Prohibis, Paul Irvine, to lay down the gavel, which the Association immediately conferred on Miss Boughey, while Jacob Stocker was elected to fill the vacancy thus made in the office of vice-president.

At the regular meeting next Tuesday at 3:30, a debate is to be held by the Politics Club on the question, "Resolved, that the liquor question is the most important issue before the American government today." The debate will be followed by a general discussion. It is the purpose of the Politics Club to bring out the fundamental facts concerning the liquor problem and its solution. All meetings are open, and students are urged to attend.

Party Held for Week-End Guests.

Miss Inez Goltra entertained about fifteen friends Friday evening in honor of a number of friends from Portland who spent the week-end at her home. Progressive and conversation games were played and delicious refreshments served. The guests of honor were the Misses Elsie and Helen Claire, Miss Edna Metcalf and Messrs. Harvey Black, Lowell Bradford, and Archie Clark, all students at Reed College except Mr. Black, who attends the Oregon Law School.

PHILODOSIANS BECOME CITIZENS

At the regular meeting of the Philodossian Society Friday afternoon, Dr. Avison spoke on the political issues of the coming city election. It was an interesting and instructive talk and those who heard him feel that they will be able to vote more wisely.

LAUSANNE SCRIBE INDITES NEWS

Numerous Visitors and Midnight Feed Features of Week at the Ladies' Dormitory.

Fifteen of the young ladies of Lausanne will be unable to go home for their Thanksgiving dinner with the "folks." They have finally become reconciled to their fate and have predicted the time of their lives to the visitors who will fill the halls of Lausanne Thursday evening. Every Willamette student who is in the city is welcome. Those whose homes are here are expected to consider themselves duty-bound to help the "homeless" have a good time.

Saturday evening being the date of the annual Philodorian banquet, several of the old girls were guests for the week-end. Miss Mabel Fraley and Miss Edith Lewis of Portland and Miss Ethel Lewton, who is teaching this year near her home at Forest Grove were there. Miss Adah Young, sister of Miss Ruth, was also a guest for a few days. Sunday there was a jolly dinner party, consisting of just "old girls," eighteen in number. In the evening after an old-time evening supper and sing in the parlor of the Kot family, the guests departed. Taking advantage of the absence of part of the family Saturday evening, a spread was laid on the fourth floor, in the Ambrose, Jennings and McCulley apartments. Strange guests gathered from every corner of the globe were there in native dress. The usual formality, however, characterized the entire evening, and it was only with hushed whispers that silence of the affair was kept when the "family" got home.

The sister of Miss Arlene Ambrose and two children were guests over Sunday on their way from Ashland to Butte, Montana.

"RAGS AND MINSTREL SHOW" IS TALK O' THE TOWN

will be eleven pieces if all goes well. A chorus of fifty, exclusive of the principals, will render some excellent catchy songs, all new to the Coast states. The soloists are all well fitted for the positions, the majority of them having played in large cities of the East and Southwest. The costumes will be especially chosen for the occasion, and something new and novel will be introduced to the public at that time.

The end men of the minstrel show are both out of town men and are well known in the stage world as the "Twin Comedians," having played in this country since April, 1911. They have played in all the main cities of America and are now finishing an engagement at Seattle. Their jokes and stunts are all original and will be exceedingly amusing.

This is the first show of this kind ever presented by the Willamette Y. M. C. A., and great things are promised to all who attend. The prices are extremely low, the highest priced seats in the dress circle being only fifty cents. The opera house is well suited for the presentation of the affair, as special light effects are available and new settings can be secured.

Tickets will be on sale in the early part of next week and it will pay you to reserve your seats at once as the house will be packed to overflowing.

The total cast will probably number about seventy people without including the special attractions.

The whole team will be in the game with all the fight they possess, and with the solid support of the students behind them will make a showing to be proud of, win or lose.

Cupid Claims Sophomore.

Miss Lulu Hollenbeck, '15, slipped one over on her friends yesterday afternoon when, instead of attending chemistry "lab," as usual, she hid her with the man of her choice to her home in St. Johns, where they will be tied up 'for better or worse, while life shall last.' The ceremony comes as a distinct surprise, as Miss Hollenbeck had attended her morning classes. She even came to laboratory in the afternoon, and upon presenting her reason for wishing to be absent, Prof. Von Eschen was entirely agreed that the excuse was valid. The "man in the case" is Mr. John C. Brooks, who is employed by the P. E. & E. railway on the Salem street car lines. The couple will make their home in Salem and Mrs. Brooks intends to continue her work in the university.

Students Welcome at Service.

Willamette students are welcome at the morning service which will be held at the Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning at 6:30. The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society will furnish breakfast.

OREGON WALKS ON AGGIES

State Championship Settled in Game at Albany Saturday—Monster Crowd at Contest.

With that "do or die" spirit so characteristic of her when pitted against the Oregon Agricultural College, University of Oregon unexpectedly won in the great struggle for the football supremacy of the state, held at Albany last Saturday afternoon, by the score of 3-0.

The score that entitled Oregon to the game came at the beginning of the second quarter, when Fenton lifted one between the uprights from the 20-yard line. Four other times during the game did Fenton open negotiations with the cross-bar, only to have the kick go wild. The Aggies also attempted to score from placement, once from the 23-yard line at a point squarely in front of the goal post and twice from the 40-yard region, all efforts going wild, although in one of the attempts from the 41-yard line the ball sailed squarely for the middle of the crossbar, falling short by only a few inches.

In the punting department both teams did excellent work, Fenton of Oregon averaging 40 yards, while Blackwell of O. A. C. prior to his being taken out at the end of the first quarter, booted the oval for 50, 55 and 70 yards.

The play was snappy from the first, Varnell, of Spokane, who refereed the game, keeping things going right along. The play surged from one end of the field to the other, but O. A. C. territory was, in the main, the seat of the contest.

Oregon's right half, Parsons, was easily the star of the game, his ability to plunge through the holes and his effective stiff arm doing much service for Oregon. Cornell, Oregon's little quarterback, also shone throughout the contest. The O. A. C. boys played high and were clearly outclassed, both in the line and behind it.

Between halves, Oregon and the Aggies burst forth in big demonstrations. Oregon set off two big bombs and shot firecrackers, while the men did the war dance, assembled in the form of a big "O." The O. A. C. cadets massed in the center of the field and in the midst of a big demonstration a dozen pigeons to which were attached orange and black streamers were liberated above the waving hats of the crowd.

Most of the Willamette football men saw the game, as well as a large crowd of W. U. students. All the Willamette crowd who attended the contest state that they would want nothing better than a chance for Willamette to play O. A. C. The season is almost over and there is no chance of a meeting now, but to Willamette students the game Saturday explains why Dolan has refused to give us a game.

Over 6,000 people witnessed the contest.

BED AND BARREL HAVEN FOR AIDES OF MASQUERADERS

Clothes Confiscated by Suffragettes to Aid in Girls' Thanksgiving Jinks.

One of the worthy adolescents of the campus had a half-breadth escape lately. In speaking of the event he exclaimed in his usual quite manner: "Haw! haw! haw! but I tell you I did shiver some!"

It happened this way. It seems that at the Philodorian party last Saturday night, some of the young suffragettes wished to appear in the usual habiliments of the legal voter. Hence the very feasible plan of one damsel to borrow the "Sunday-go-to-meeting" suit of a gentleman friend, who was, by the way, the Hall's most frequent visitor.

However, the only difficulty came Sunday morning, when the brilliant orb glowed down coldly upon our young hero, clad in overalls and jumper, as he stood a pitiable object, pounding his cold hands together and chanting in his sweet and musical voice some plaintive song to the effect that he must needs attend church today, and in his proper accoutrements. In answer to which familiar and heartrending strains, there appeared at a fourth-story window a night-capped head, a well-known voice and a small black bundle, lowered by an Adriadne's cord, dropped at our hero's feet.

Some of the fellows have reported that they were forced to remain in seclusion during Saturday and Sunday, while others, with less timid natures, donned barrels and enjoyed the air and sun-bath on the back porch.

THESPIANS BLOSSOM OUT

Only Four Have Signified Intention of Entering Local Contest—Others to Follow.

Willamette orators are beginning to train their voices and in a few days senatorian tones will be heard issuing from the very ground.

The first orators for the year are Freshmen. Four lusty young hopefuls have already signified their desire to become Thespians. Several other students will enter the tryout. The last day for entry is December 10th.

The Faculty rules that govern the local tryout allow any student to enter. Their subject and name must be in the office by December 10, and the orations should be in the hands of the faculty a week before the Christmas vacation, so that the student may have his paper back before the holidays. The contest to choose the local representative is held under the Oratorical Association of the latter part of January. The state contest will be held at Newberg.

J. R. Bain, James Corpe, Fred McMillan and Walter Gleiser have already signified their intention of entering the tryout.
