YW FINANCIAL DRIVE STARTS COMING WEEK

Effort Will be Made to Raise
Yearly Budget by Thorough
Class Canvass

NEWHOUSE IS CHAIRMAN

Many Activities Supported by Organization Which Has Big Part in Campus Life

The Y.W.C.A. Finance Drive is to be a feature of next week. The goal is set for $170 to cover the yearly budget. The drive is under the direction of Bernice Newhouse and the finance committee which is organized according to classes. The members of this committee are Evangeline Heinick, senior; Mary Clamfield, junior; Gaynelle Beckett, sophomore; Rosalind Van Winkle and Ella Howard, freshmen.

The Y.W.C.A. is one of the most important campus organizations and the phases of student activity sponsored by it are numerous. The budget covers all these, including the various social events of the year, the expense of keeping up the Association rooms not only for the regular meetings but as a place where women students who live in town may spend their noon hours. Other things itemized in the budget include the Willamette Handbook, the picnic for the Deaf School children, World Fellowship Program, posters, National Y.W.C.A. dues which entitle this chapter to the services of the District Secretary and direct contact with the national organization, and the Seabeck Fund.

As it is not the policy of the Y.W.C.A. to tax or require dues of its members, this drive is the only opportunity for Willamette women to aid in its financial support.

ALUMNUS HISTORY SHOWS VARYING VICISSITUDES

Publication Now Quarterly With Circulation of 5000 Among Alumni and Friends

About ten years ago, the Alumni Association, feeling a great need for some form of Willamette University bulletin which would keep its members in touch with each other and with their Alma Mater, published "The Willamette University Alumnus."

As the contributions, by which this bulletin was supported, were not kept up regularly, publication of the Alumnus did not continue for long. During the period from its inception to 1925, the Alumnus led a fitful life. When the necessary funds could be raised, it was published; otherwise, it remained a nonentity.

In 1925, however, President Carl G. Doney brought the matter before the Trustees and urged upon them the necessity and the value of such a bulletin. As the Board, therefore, voted to support the undertaking, the Alumni Association, aided chiefly by President Doney, brought out in May 1926 the first issue of what then became a permanent quarterly Alumni bulletin. Every three months five thousand copies of the Alumnus are distributed to the Alumni and friends of the University.

This publication, due, in a large part, to Dr. Doney's untiring effort in preparing it, has received high praise from many sources.

REGISTRARS' ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEET, CORVALLIS

Nat Beaver Returns From Third
Annual Convention of Pacific Coast Organization

Nat Beaver returned Tuesday evening from a two days' conference of registrars held at Corvallis. This was the third annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Registrars, an organization which is a member of the National Association.

Mr. Bernard W.S.G. and president of the group presided at the meetings which were held at Hotel Benton and at the Women's Building on the O.S.G. campus. The final business meeting took place at Eugene. Dr. J. P. Mitchell, registrar of Stanford University was elected president of the coming year.

Some of the problems discussed and lectured upon pertained to matters of entrance credentials, automatic flunking rules, and non-resident tuition.

Forty-five delegates representing as many colleges from twelve western states were in attendance at the meet.

Report Shows Where Money Goes And How It Is Spent

Young Co-ed Learns What Becomes of Departed Coins; How University Fathers Spend More than They Receive

Reluctantly the pouting Freshman counted out forty-five dollars for mid-term board. The price of one slicker, a dress and plenty of milk shakes all wasted paying for the breakfasts she had never eaten and the dinners from which Rushing had taken her. Yes, Willamette certainly made money on her. Of course she did take a little bread and butter from the tables now and then, but not more than two or three slices a day at the most.

She relinquished her hold upon upon the money and disconsolately glanced around for something to occupy time while she was waiting for her change.

On the desk lay a pamphlet with the title, "Reports of the President and other Officials." As if to add to her mood she happened to turn to a page marked "Current Income of Willamette University." Listed there were all the numerous sources of the school's funds: Tuitions, Endowments, Trust Funds, Summer School — to say nothing of fees for everything imaginable. Why at that rate Willamette would soon have enough money to compete with Henry Ford. A lot it needed her money.

Glancing farther she saw more figures. How queer, the list seemed to be a repetition of the preceding page—No, the sums of money were a bit larger. This list was labeled "Current Expenses." Hurriedly she scanned the column from "Teacher's Salaries" clear through "Miscellaneous Expenditures." At the bottom was a huge figure. Could it be? Yes it was $161,231.31 expenditures for one year and the income she remembered was but $156,567.53. There was a faint suspicion of a smile on her face as she walked away; her money was needed and maybe she would be able to eat forty-five dollars worth of food in the next half term after all.

KAPPAS AWARDED CUP FOR ALUMNI WELCOME

Initiation of Sign Contest Proves Itself Addition to Homecoming Program

One of the important elements in making Willamette Homecoming a success was the rivalry between the sororities and fraternities for the best Homecoming sign. This year is the first time Willamette has had such a contest.

The executive committee offered a silver loving cup for the best sign and it is now the property of the Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity until next year.

A miniature football field watched over by a bearcat against a background of cardinal and gold was proclaimed by the judges the most original and timely sign. An illuminated zeppelin moored to a cardinal and gold tower on which there was a flashing welcome sign signified the Homecoming spirit at Alpha Psi Delta. A painted football figure illuminated by two flashing spot lights was the welcome sign at Sigma Tau.

"Back to Brew the Badger Stew" was the motto which heralded Homecoming at Epsilon Delta Mu. A stuffed football figure against a W. U. in cardinal and gold lights welcomed the alumni at Beta Chi. A huge football outlined in red lights was the sign at the Delta Phi house. A ship flying the ensign of Willamette typified the Willamette spirit at Lausanne Hall.

In response to the request of Prof. Vasakas, head of the modern language department, that he have the use of the entire space of the room which is now being jointly used for the student body office and his office for a private office and library Charles Redding, the president of the student body has appointed Hugh McGilvra, Mildred Mills, and himself as a committee to find new quarters for the student body office.

The committee is considering the advisability of utilizing the space in the basement of Waller hall which is not being used for any particular purpose. If this plan is realized it would find all the student body offices such as the Collegian, the Wallalah, and student body centralized in one location.

The erection of the concrete tennis courts which is being sponsored by a joint committee from the Adelante society and the Ball and Chain club will probably begin in the early spring or sooner if the weather permits. The courts will bear the inscription "Dedicated to the Adelante and Websterian Literary societies."

The ball and Chain assumed some of the financial obligations of the Websterian Literary Society which is now non-existent in the sense that its present organization is not literary in its purpose or program. But since both organizations are to a greater or less extent successors of the Adelante and Websterian literary societies they have agreed upon the above dedication.

WOMEN START BASKETBALL

When the men have finished playing off the interclass meets, women will begin basketball practice. Esther Lisle has been appointed by the W.A.A. to take general charge in getting the teams organized. Leah Fanning has been elected manager of the Junior class basketball and Evangeline Heinick of the Senior class.

All indications point toward good teams for the following year. Women interested in the sport are urged to turn out and make this season the snappiest and best yet.

Flank slips have brought to the attention of the Freshmen more than anything else could, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

FORENSIC RECORD HIGH

Membership of Debate Squad
Will Endeavor to Repeat
Again This Coming Season

Thomas Potwin manager of men's debate has announced that Willamette university by her record last year won the Pacific Coast Forensic League championship for debate.

It has up to this time been considered that the University of Southern California at Los Angeles and Willamette has tied for this coveted honor. However, a percentage study reveals that Willamette is entitled to a superior ranking. In conference debates Willamette won three and lost one making a percentage of 75.3, while the University of Southern California won five contests and lost two making a percentage of 71.4. Taking in all encounters, Willamette won eleven and lost three debates, totaling a percentage of 78.7; on the other hand the University of Southern California won ten and lost three entitling itself to a percentage of 76.7.

In contests with institutions which are members of the Pacific Forensic League Willamette won decisions over Oregon State College, Washington State College, and University of Southern California. The one decision which the Willamette debaters lost was also with the University of Southern California won her five conference debates by defeating Stanford university twice, and University of Oregon, Washington State College, and Willamette University once each. Her two defeats were taken at the hands of Oregon State College and Willamette University.

Robert Witly and Charles Redding who composed the team which made this unusual record last year are both in school this year and will take part in debate. Bruce Spauling, Odell Bennett, Roy Harland, Fred Toose, Robert Starrett, and Wade Harmon have been added to the squad as the result of tryouts.

Marietta Millner is a pretty little brunette from Vienna. Although this is only her second American picture, it undoubtedly will not be her last. Her popularity is not surprising.

Jimmy Davis is featuring a number of specialties by request this week as a farewell. He is being transferred to another West Coast Theater.

West Coast Theatres, Inc. is offering a plan for a ten per cent saving on theater tickets in book form which will be honored by both the Elsinore and Oregon Theaters, where they are on sale.

RHODES CANDIDATES PICKED FOR TRYOUT

Rettie and Trueblood Will Represent Willamette Before
Scholarship Committee

Willamette University is to be represented this year in the Rhodes Scholarships elections. Paul G. Trueblood, and James Rettie, seniors, are the candidates.

Since the institution of these scholarships, two Willamette students, Edward J. Winans, A. B. '07, and Paul A. Homan, A. B. '14, have been elected to them. Edward Winans graduated from Oxford University in 1910 with A. B. and A. M. degrees. He is now teaching in the theological department of Peking University, China. Paul Homan, after entering Oxford University, enlisted in the army service of the British Y.M.C.A. in Mesopotamia. Afterwards, he enlisted in the A.E.F. forces, France. He returned to Oxford to graduate in 1920.

The Rhodes Scholarships to Oxford University are granted by an election on the basis of the literary and scholastic ability and attainment; the qualities of manhood, character, public spirit, and leadership; and the

Whos's Who Honors Eight Willamette Instructors

One Member in Four of Faculty of College of Liberal Arts Placed in Publication Which Includes Notables of Nation

There exist certain criteria which are generally accepted as accurate for the pointing out of individuals as significant. A very well recognized judge of the great and near-great is the annually compiled Who's Who. Other universities have been checking up on their faculty members and the College of Liberal Arts of Willamette University has followed fast in their footsteps.

We find that out of thirty-two faculty members in liberal arts eight have been honored in Who's Who. This is a twenty-five per cent representation and places Willamette University well toward the front on the western coast in such a classification. The College of Law is also well represented.

Whitman College, Nov. 10. (P.P.) Whitman college has five faculty members included in the pages of "Who's Who in America," some of them having been included in this volume for many years. Dr. S. B. L. Penrose, president of the college and active as head of the department of philosophy and education has been one to receive this honor. Others are Louis F. Anderson, father of the first president of Whitman, professor of Greek and also vice-president of the institution; Professor Walter A. Bratton, head of the department of mathematics; Professor Howard S. Brade of the biology department, with the institution since 1899; Professor Edward E. Ruby, head of the department of Latin and registrar of the college.

All of these professors are members of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary fraternity, as well as state and national organizations.

"WE'RE ALL GAMBLERS" NEW ELSINORE SHOWING

Thomas Meighan, Marietta Millner, and Jimmy Davis Feature
Coming Program

Thomas Meighan, supported by Marietta Millner, in "We're All Gamblers" at the Elsinore this week presents a typical Meighan picture with lots of action. The plot is built around the story of a New York wail who rises to the place of contender for the heavyweight championship. An automobile injury spoils his chance for this and eventually becomes a night club proprietor. This furnishes a background for the climax of the picture.

Jimmy Davis is featuring a number of specialties by request this week as a farewell. He is being transferred to another West Coast Theater.

West Coast Theatres, Inc. is offering a plan for a ten per cent saving on theater tickets in book form which will be honored by both the Elsinore and Oregon Theaters, where they are on sale.

SALEM ARMISTICE DAY MARKED BY BIG PARADE

Program Also Includes Speech by Upton and Football Game Between Willamette and Linfield

Armistice Day, tomorrow will be observed as one of the biggest days in the history of Salem. Carl Abrams, chairman of the Parade Committee has announced that every civic and patriotic organization of Salem is planning to take part in this parade.

Trophies are being offered as prizes for the best industrial and for the best civic floats in each section. Many of the business firms are entering floats.

The parade will form at Marion Square and will terminate at the Court House where State Senator Jay H. Upton of Bend, former commander of Oregon will be the Speaker of the of the Spanish-American war veterans day.

Among the major activities for Armistice Day will be a football game between Willamette University and Linfield College at 2:30 in the afternoon.

LINFIELD BACKFIELD FAST

Willamette Will Enter Game
Handicapped By Injuries
But With New Spirit

The Willamette Bearcats are all primed to give the Linfield Bearcats a battle in the Armistice day game tomorrow. The team will enter the game somewhat crippled by injuries, but almost a new team in the sense that it has had a new birth of spirit. Since the second half of the themselves and is ready to enter the Pacific game the Bearcats have found game determined to fight and drive for the full sixty minutes of playing time.

Lang star full back has been unable to report for practice this week and it is doubtful whether he will be able to start. Versteeg, veteran tackle, hurt his leg in the Idaho game and probably will not be game to get into the lineup. Zeller and Eaton have recovered sufficiently to be classed as possible starters. The return of these two men to the game will add considerably to the Bearcat offensive strength, but the loss of Lang will be severely felt.

The Bearcats have taken only light workouts this week, specializing in their practices on forward pass defense and the development of a stronger offensive strength.

Comparative scores would seem to give Willamette the edge over Linfield but this does not indicate much. The College of Idaho, which defeated Willamette 6 to 0, beat Linfield 32 to 6 as a result of getting the breaks. Although Linfield outplayed Pacific the game ended in a tie. Early in the season Linfield held the University of Oregon to one touchdown.

Linfield has a line tackle to tackle than can be excelled by no team in the conference. They have a backfield that is both fast and shifty. Having played four years in high school, two years at Oregon, and two years at Multnomah club, and two years at Linfield Agee playing half could be said to have a world of football experience. Phil Warren is considered one of the most dangerous open field runners in the conference. Besides a clever team the Linfield combination is directed by Coach Wolfe who has a bag of trick plays that could be rivaled by no other. The peculiar fact about the tricks of coach Wolfe are that they are known to work.

From all indications it ought to be a great battle with the odds about even. If Willamette can out-wit the Linfield trickery and maintain a consistent offense her chances for victory would seem to be very good.

WILLAMETTE INSTRUCTOR REALIZES TENDER DREAM

Guenther Pipe Organ Installed in Home of Prof. T. S. Roberts
On Summer Street

With the installation of an organ in his home, Prof. T. S. Roberts has at last realized a long dream. He is instructor of pipe organ at Willamette and for the last seventeen years has been organist at the First Methodist church. During this time he has played before coast artists and is known and revered by them.

The organ itself is a Guenther make, of Portland. This is a firm of young organ builders who are starting one of the few organ factories in the west. The organ has three manuals, some 73 stops and about one thousand pipes. Being an instrument with electrical control it has a touch even more responsive than the piano. Prof. Roberts is also installing an echo organ at the rear of the music room in which will be located the chimes and any stops added later.

Willamette organ students have long been indebted to Prof. Roberts for his work in organ instruction. He is still giving lessons on Willamette Chapel organ and First church organ, as well as on the new one in his home.

Hiram French wishes to answer these questions in advance.
Answer No. 1. Yes, broke the darn thing.
Answer No. 2. Yes, kinda tiresome.
Answer No. 3. No, I'm not wavin' at anybody.
Answer No. 4. Just shut my eyes and go to sleep.
Answer No. 5. Oh, about three weeks.

WHEN IN ROME

According to the New Student "The only student revolt evident in the colleges so far this year has been the problem of hazing." This same publication continues with the following: "On the other hand, the manly sport is degenerating. Amherst has swept aside some of the more objectional tricks. The freshmen girls at William Jewell College revolted against the wearing of green bonnets, and no one could say them nay, for they outnumbered the senior police. George Washington University has substituted smokers and get-togethers for soph-frosh scraps. Swarthmore has ushered out, with many tears, its annual poster fight. At Haverford the classes live in harmony and accord. At Princeton the flour contest is no more.

"In between stand the half-way institutions that know hazing must pass, so decorate the old game with a new name, and make paddling a just punishment for violation of sacred rules."

Under this category of classification Willamette automatically falls into the category of the half-way institution even though campus sentiment would seem to indicate that it has not yet come to the conclusion that physical punishment for the violation of rules and traditions should be relegated to the past along with the relics of barbarism.

The methods of enforcing tradition at this institution may not meet with the entire approval of everyone concerned, but most everyone will concede that traditions and customs which have come down from the past play an important part in the regulation of our social relations the one with the other. Especially is this true of the college student. A college without its traditions and customs lacks much in the way of atmosphere which contributes to many of the enjoyable features of student life.

The wearing of the green cap can be justified on a perfectly logical basis. It serves to identify its wearers as new members of the student body and makes possible their more rapid assimilation into the group of which they have chosen to become a part. If this is not sufficient reason in itself, it might be added that the self discipline which results from such a practice on the part of freshmen never does them any particular harm. Such a practice has taught many a self centered and pampered youth to realize his own insignificance and the advisability of adjusting his program to that of his surroundings. Such lessons are invaluable and an important part of a college education. We all admire the few rebels of the past who were the noble martyrs of history, but we rather prefer to live with those who through experience and possibly a few hard knocks have perfected themselves in the gentle art of getting along with other people.

This is in no way suggesting that our college training should foster the growth of a complacent mediocrity which is unaware of the possibilities of social progress and change; it is merely indicating the possibility that our young rebels are not using methods which appeal to the intelligence of the group and that they are being subjected to the natural consequences of their actions. Forceful measures are not to be entirely excused, but comparatively grown men who are infants in the process of socialization are not subjects to be dealt with according to the laws of logic and reason.

THE AMERICAN GIRL

Along with Lindbergh and his plane "Spirit of St. Louis" in the history of aviation will go the record of Ruth Elder and her plane "The American Girl." In whatever field you find men achieving and making history you will also find women who are equally capable of making great contributions to the progress of their fellow kind. All the world has not yet entirely reconciled itself to the change, but it is nevertheless true.

The residents of Spokane were a few months ago astonished at the decision and alacrity with which the wife of Senator Dill selected her home and its furnishings. Coming to Spokane from Washington, D. C., it took this lady of the modern school only a few hours to make arrangements for her place of residence and to select its furnishings.

This is but an isolated incident but it is indicative of a general trend which we all must recognize.

At the same time we read about the young University of South Dakota co-ed who finding herself short of funds took to breaking into the vaults of a bank. The process of change thus has both its virtues and vices.

Happy indeed is the modern girl who has taken on the self reliance and capabilities characteristic of her age without coarsening herself and forgetting the fact that above all things femininity itself is her greatest power and strength.

How will your office look?

Not like this, of course

Yet you will find in it a dozen jobs that can be done more quickly and effectively by electricity—and done so quietly as to be practically unnoticed. In fact, electricity has completely revolutionized many office methods.

YOUR FATHER probably will recall the days of high stools, eyeshades, and evenings overtime.

But visit a modern office! A thousand letters to go out by four o'clock. A new price list to all customers in to-night's mail, without fail. Enter electricity. Two or three people turn switches, and the finished letters come out of an ingenious machine. Another motion and they are sealed and stamped. Only electricity could get that job done.

Go to almost any bank today. Hand in your account book. Click, click, click, goes the electric book-keeping machine and back comes the book to you. Five operations performed in that brief moment. Everybody saves time,—you, the clerk, the bank,—when electricity is the book-keeper.

Here's a statistical job. The reports are in; thousands of figures to analyze. Looks like overtime for fifty clerks. "Certainly not," answers electricity, as a button starts the

Banquet at Gray Belle Welcomes Alpha Psi Alumni

The banquet room of the Gray Belle Saturday night was the scene of an entertaining banquet given by the members of the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity in honor of their alumni.

J. A. Nichols of Grants Pass, acted as toastmaster, William McAllister responded for the students, while Tinkham Gilbert and Harold Eakin responded for the alumni and Professor Von Eschen for the faculty members. The program consisted of vocal solos by Everett Craven and Leon Johnson, and musical selections by the Alpha Psi Delta orchestra.

Among the alumni present were Clarence Adams, Corvallis; Everett

Craven, Tinkham Gilbert, Wayne Crow, John Brougber, Portland; Maurice Hallmark, McMinnville; Fred Patton, Falls City; J. A. Nichols, Grants Pass; Harold Eakin, George Rhoden, Leon Jennison, Salem; Lural Burgraff, Albany; Professor Florian Von Eschen, and Roy C. Harding.

Lausanne Hall Girls Entertain Faculty Members

Graduates and former students who were guests at Lausanne Hall for Homecoming were Margaret Garrison, Portland; Oma Emmons, Amity; Ethel Hardie, Silverton; Myrtle Salling, Arlington; and Gladys McIntyre.

Other guests at the hall during the week end included Charlotte Fors, Ruth Smith, and Marjorie Thompson of Portland; Helen Black and Venola Gibson of Monmouth; Edna Jessup, Lorena McCauley, and Arlene Dunning of Pacific University; Margaret Eddy of Independence; and Gertrude Farr of Halsey.

Marion Hotel Is Scene of Alumni Luncheon

About seventy-five alumni attended the alumni luncheon held in the Marion Hotel banquet room at noon Saturday. The business meeting which followed the luncheon was called to order by the president, Harold Eakin. A committee was appointed to arrange for the banquet to be held at commencement time.

A vote of appreciation was extended to the students of Willamette for their efforts to make Homecoming a success.

Dean and Mrs. Roy Hewitt Entertain Guests at Dinner

The home of Dean and Mrs. Roy Hewitt was the scene of a delightful party during the week end when they entertained jointly with District Attorney Earl A. Nott of McMinnville, a group of Willamette graduate law students and their wives who were on the campus for homecoming.

Fall flowers and leaves were used in the living rooms and the dinner table was attractively decorated with pink Caroline roses and tall tapers.

The guest group included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Merton DeLong, Mr.

and Mrs. Frank Reed, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stewart of Salem, and the hosts.

Adelante Enjoy Social Hour; Discuss Plans for Future

The Adelante Society had a pot-luck supper Wednesday evening from 5:30 to 7:30 in the Philodossian Hall. Part of the evening was devoted to discussing plans for the future and for the approaching party, the remaining time was devoted to a social hour.

Delta Phi Alumni Dinner Is Well Attended Saturday

Delta Phi entertained its alumnae Saturday evening with a lap supper. The rooms were appropriately decorated, and each guest was presented with a miniature football as a favor.

During dinner, which was served by Dorothy Pemberton, Freda Falconer, Jean Middleton, and Pauline Findley, the following program was given: piano solo, Dorothy Ryan; reading, Genevieve Junk; vocal solo, Marjorie Miller; stunt, pledges.

Alumna and guests present were: Miss Lois Latimer, Faye Spaulding, Mary Spaulding Fletcher, Ferns

HAD TO GO TO THREE TOWNS BEFORE SHE COULD BUY!

"FOR YEARS I HAVE STUDIED MAGAZINES, I HAVE FOUND IT ECONOMICAL TO BUY BRANDED MERCHANDISE—'HAD TO GO TO THREE TOWNS BEFORE I FOUND MUNSINWEAR'"

Not so with Salem women, for, right here under one roof is to be found the greatest collection of nationally famous lines. Merchandise which enjoys nation-wide and even world-wide reputation for quality, style, comfort. It is the quality you demand and have a right to expect.

Year after year we have attracted to our store, famous names, one after the other, until today we can prove that no other store in Salem (and probably not in the entire Willamette Valley) can approach us along this line.

Brands that our parents and grandparents knew . . . and that stand for quality ideals. Many of these lines are controlled exclusively by this store. . . Compare these brands with unknown merchandise made up by "Anybody, Inc." and you will find no comparison as to quality . . . you will find, however, a few cents difference in price. This holds true more with catch penny stores because of merchandise that is sub-standardized to meet a low price. A fair example of catch penny prices happened not so long ago when an actual comparison between a well known brand of hosiery priced at $1.65 a pair was compared with so-called "just as good" hosiery at $1.49 which were made for a low price. The $1.65 quality was clear, lustrous and perfectly seamed, while the $1.49 had a crooked seam, dull, cloudy silk. We draw this comparison to show the advantage of buying real quality for the small difference in price.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR QUALITY—and that applies to all purchases, whether of necessities or luxuries or things to wear or articles for the home. "EVERFAST" cototns, "HOLEPROOF" hosiery, "MUNSINWEAR" underwear, "PRINTZ" coats, etc., have stood the test of time and the ever growing demand for these brands prove that people will consistently buy branded merchandise.

Manufacturers, who solicit business from the merchant who is continually featuring cheap merchandise at would be low prices, are classed with the itinerants. Here today and gone tomorrow. Thus, we find that merchandise from such sources seldom runs uniform in quality or price.

STORE KEEPING IS A MATTER OF SERVICE—giving the public what it wants, quickly, and at the lowest possible prices consistent with quality. When planning your holiday and winter purchases, remember that you'll find—THE COUNTRY'S FOREMOST PRODUCTS AT SALEM'S FOREMOST STORE.

BEARCATS WIN FIRST HOMECOMING VICTORY

Pacific Defeated in Game Which is Featured by Many Styles of Scoring

In one of the most thrilling games ever seen on Sweetland field, Willamette passed, plunged, and kicked its way to a 13 to 7 victory over Pacific in the annual homecoming game last Saturday. Willamette scored in almost every possible way by making two safeties, a touchdown, and a place kick.

Willamette was outplayed in the first half both in line and plunging and in kicking. The Badgers started the game with a bang by taking the ball to the 15 yard line in line plunges and then missing a drop kick. Pacific again threatened to score in the second quarter when they took the ball to the 8-yard line and lost it on downs when the Bearcat line strengthened. Just as the gun barked for the end of the half, Pacific completed a 15 yard pass which was stretched 20 yards for a touchdown. The try for point was completed.

The Bearcats had been content to stay on the defensive in the first half but when Pacific scored they woke up and in the second they uncoiled an aerial attack that paved the way for a safety and a touchdown. Two passes, Cranor to Haldane, which netted 30 and 15 yards apiece put the ball on the 3 yard line where they failed to make first down by inches. Emerson, Pacific quarter fumbled the pass from center and he was downed behind the goal line for a safety. A few minutes later a long pass, Cranor to R. DePoe put the ball on the 3 yard line and Lang put it over in two plays. The try for point was short but Willamette was ahead 8 to 7.

On the first play of the fourth quarter R. DePoe punted the ball outside on the 3 yard line and then McKenzie broke thru and batted a Pacific punt, outside behind the goal line for another safety.

Reg DePoe provided the feature of the game when he made a perfect kick from the 34 yard line. Since the goal posts are 10 yards back of the goal line this called for a 44 yard kick.

Cranor and Lang, made most of the yardage for Willamette through the line and Haldane and R. DePoe snaggled most of the passes. Versteeg and Mort were fighting hard all the time and did much to stop the Badger rushes.

physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports, or in other ways, of the candidate. Their purpose is to maintain a certain number of British, American, and German students at Oxford University in the belief "a good understanding between England, Germany and the United States will secure the peace of the world, and that educational relations form the strongest tie."

A Rhodes Scholarship, which is tenable for three years, carries a stipend fixed at £400, or about $1950. No restriction is placed upon a Rhodes Scholar's choice of studies. It is up to the individual student what he will study. He is appointed without examination on the basis of his record in school and college. To be eligible in the United States, a candidate must be a male citizen of the United States and unmarried, be between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five on the date of entrance, and have completed at least his sophomore year in college.

Cecil John Rhodes, an Englishman, South African statesman and financier, at his death willed the greater part of his large fortune to the establishment of these scholarships. The first examinations were held in 1904.

By means of these scholarships, thousands of particularly promising students of Great Britain, Germany, and the United States have been able to study at Oxford and thereby obtain the culture and training which comes from so old and so highly established an institution. In the United States alone there have been two students elected every three years from each state for the last twenty-three years.

Games this week end
At Boise, Whitman vs. College of Idaho.

At Forest Grove, Pacific vs. C. P. S.
At Salem, Willamette vs. Linfield.

When Whitman defeated the College of Puget Sound last Saturday any possible chances which Willamette had for realizing a tie for conference honors went glimmering. The possibility which has now become a historical if a metaphysical speculation was that Whitman and the College of Idaho might have tied, the College of Idaho lost to Whitman and Puget Sound, and Whitman lost to Willamette. This is what might have been and was not.

Next Friday, Armistice day, the College of Idaho and Whitman will tussle at Boise. These two teams alone have no defeats chalked up against them. Besides this game the Coyotes have yet to meet the Loggers and the Missionaries have the Bearcats scheduled for their turkey day game. In order to win the championship either Whitman or the College of Idaho must win the remaining game on their schedule.

The College of Idaho vs. Whitman struggle promises to be the classic of the season. The College of Idaho defeated Pacific 13 to 6 while Whitman defeated them 18 to 7, but on the other hand The Coyotes defeated Linfield 22 to 6, while the Missionaries scored only a 12 to 0 victory. So hope is only confusing as to the relative strength of the two teams.

Whitman was exceedingly lucky to hurdle the Logger barrier. They won by a 7 to 6 score but their try for points went wild and was counted only after a Puget Sound lineman was called off side. The Puget Sound men had the ball on the Missionary one foot line once but were unable to shove it over.

Willamette played a slow listless game with Pacific and were able to win only because they did not stand around quite so much as did the Badger eleven. In order to beat Linfield a much better brand of ball will have to be played.

Linfield remained idle last week and will undoubtedly be on edge for the Bearcat fray. Willamette will be at a disadvantage in that she will be considerably handicapped by injuries. The Loggers will journey to Forest Grove and attempt to get into the win column. This will be their easiest chance as her only other game is with the College of Idaho.

Contrary to the arrangement of the conference schedule for last year the program for this year provides for a full conference schedule for every team except Linfield and College of Puget Sound. This does away in a degree the probability of disputes arising as to conference standing. Such was the case last year when the College of Idaho played only two games and won the title, while Pacific laid claim to the same title upon the basis of the point system.

Women's Glee Club Has Experienced Voices; Trip Plans Taking Shape Rapidly

The Women's glee club for this year promises to be one of the best that Willamette has ever produced. All of the members of the club have had some experience in concert work, either in Willamette or in high school. The club, composed of 24 voices, is very well balanced in the different parts.

Professor Hobson directs the practices once a week and Margaret Arnold, the assistant director, takes charge of the club at the two other practices. Prof. Hobson has chosen some excellent concert numbers, some of which are as follows:

Spring Comes Laughing, Carew; Wake, Miss Lindy, Warner; Jack O' Lantern, Borscheim; Since You Went Away, Johnson; From the Land of the Sky-blue Waters, Cadman; Fly, Singing Bird, Elgar; The Next Market Day, Borscheim. The club is planning to take its tour during spring vacation. Plans are being made for a southern trip, going as far south as Ashland. Tryouts are being held for a reader and stunts are being planned.

DePoe Family Has Many Football Luminaries

This column is created in the hope that it will help to promote interest in athletics at Willamette and in order to give a few sidelights on sports that the average person does not get.

We notice with pleasure that Willamette has developed a passing attack that will be a worry to any team they play.

Red Denman's popularity diminished considerably when he picked up a brush soaked with putric acid and got some on his pants the other day. Every one proceeded to make themselves scarce and Denman headed for the gym.

Willamette should be grateful for the Chemawa band's playing at the game but they played downtown during the noon hour.

Just ask McKenzie if he isn't glad that the team was allowed to break training for the week end.

The DePoe family seems to be full of football stars. Mr. DePoe played at Carlisle and his brother was an All-American tackle for two years under Pop Warner.

It is interesting to know that Willamette made 12 first downs in the game and that they completed six passes for a total gain of 117 yards.

U.S.C. WILL ENTERTAIN PACIFIC DEBATE MEET

Willamette and Other Colleges of Coast Will be Guests of Southern Institution

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 10, (P.L.P.)—The annual meeting of the Pacific Forensic Conference, comprising eleven of the leading colleges and universities of the west, will be held at the University of Southern California, March 29, 30, and 31, according to Charles Wright, Manager of Debate and Oratory.

Prominent among the activities of the Conference is the Pacific Extemporaneous Speaking Contest, participated in by debate representatives of the various educational institutions that have membership in the Pacific Forensic Conference. Two years ago, Leland Tallman, S. C. debater, won first place in this event. Professor C. B. Mitchell of Oregon Agricultural College, president of the body, is engaged in working out details of this year's competition and will forward to the University of Southern California
