

Fairham Will Rule May Weekend

By Bill McDougall

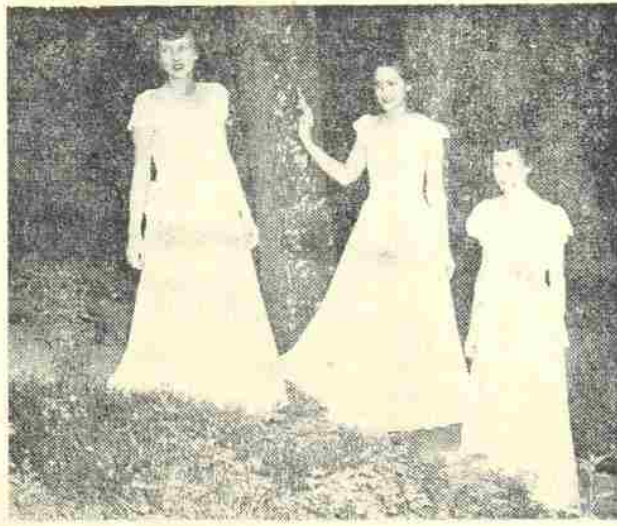

Singing "Springtime in the Rockies" in a Sunday school program when she was three was the beginning of a musical career which led Tuesday to the election of Edith Fairham as 1949 May queen.

Queen Edith was notified of the honor that evening at the Pi Phi house when May Weekend Manager Bob McMullen told the three candidates, Carol Dimond, Barbara Miller and Miss Fairham, that he would hand out three boxes of chocolates, the first going to the queen. "Edie" got the first.

A candidate last year for the sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Miss Fairham traces her activities in college and high school both in music and speech. At Salem high she won the distinction of being first place in the Oregon state speech meet for poetry reading (her competition being a single boy).

Her sister, too, Mrs. Steven C. Smith, of Madison, Wisconsin, was a May queen, serving in that role at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland. Mrs. Smith's husband, a former Willamette instructor, is now on a fellowship at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Fairham's one brother, an ex-president of Sigma Chi at Willamette, is working at the Pendleton Woolen Mills in Portland, while Edith and her mother, who is recovering from an illness, live together in Salem. Other members of the Fairham clan include her three cats, Fifi, Mike and Rinso, all of whom, she says, are exceptional.

A member of Pi Beta Phi, Miss Fairham was the Willamette chapter's delegate last year to the national convention in French Lick, Indiana.

Born on the prairies of Saskatchewan, Canada, Miss Fairham and her family moved to North Dakota where she spent much of her early life as the daughter of a Methodist district superintendent. Rev. Fairham was later superintendent of the Salem district, and was a Willamette trustee.

Future plans of the blond and attractive queen include, of course, marriage, which she announced on her twenty-second birthday yesterday, and an education degree in music. She has been a voice student under Dean Melvin Geist for four years, and serves this year as senior scholar for Bennet Ludden.

Miss Fairham extended an invitation to all students to attend her senior recital, May 23, in Waller, which, she added, was free. She recalled with a smile the 17 weddings she sang for last June, and jokingly said she is going to hang out her own shingle after graduation which will clearly state, "Weddings Sung At, $10."

Weekend Manager Tells Events As Willamette Welcomes May

Willamette's popular "Edie" . . . that's Edith Fairham . . . will reign over May Weekend festivities this year as the 1949 queen of that event, disclosed Bob McMullen, manager, Wednesday.

The selection of Miss Fairham was the result of Tuesday elections, when she edged out the other two candidates for the post, Carol Dimond and Barbara Miller. With selection of the May court completed, McMullen announced that other preparations for the occasion are also being drawn to a finish.

The Weekend dance, scheduled for a week from tomorrow night in the gym, will be highlighted by a garden theme, with a trellised rock garden in the center where the royal court will sit. Curt Kenyon's orchestra will supply the music.

Tickets went on sale today for the Friday barbecue, priced at sixty cents for Salemites, and thirty-five cents for members of campus living groups. Also revealed was the schedule for the pre-barbecue watch on Thursday, which will be guarded from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. by juniors, 8 to 9 by sophomores, 9 to 10 by the freshmen, and 10 to 11 by the senior class.

Trucks will leave on the hour to sorority houses to pick up women from each class, with the class having the least percentage of attendance to serve on 'police' duty—cleanup, that is—after the evening's activities.

Early Dismissal

Friday classes next week will be dismissed at 11 a.m., to permit students to attend the inter-sorority sing in Waller, which will be broadcast over KOCO.

Next that day will be the barbecue on Sweetland field, with 250 pounds of meat ordered, as well as sizeable quantities of potato salad, punch, coffee, and ice cream.

Freshman-sophomore competition will follow, when the male members of the two classes will meet to vie in the greased pole climb and a tug-of-war contest directed by Chuck Patterson.

Dramatists Perform

Friday night will see the presentation of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" in Waller, followed Saturday morning by the YMCA breakfast. Prices for this event have been set at thirty-five cents and sixty cents, with all proceeds to go to a delegate for leadership school.

At 11 a.m. on Saturday, the women will have their chance to hear the inter-fraternity songfest in the chapel, also set for broadcast on KOCO.

Queen Crowns Queen

The coronation ceremony in front of Eaton hall will terminate entertainment for the afternoon, with a Maypole dance by the junior girls, directed by Lenore Wilson.

Then Queen Joyce of last year's court will present the crown to Edith Fairham, followed by numbers from the choir. Mayor R. L. Ekstrom of Salem will give the key to the city to Queen Edith, who will then go to the alumni society tea at University house.

The baseball game between Portland U. and Willamette, plus a track meet, will wind up the weekend activities.

Manager McMullen will also present to the alumni a registration book to be placed in the library.

WU Senior Comprehensives Anticipated with 'Reviewing'

Seniors were easily distinguishable in yesterday's chapel as many of them attempted to crowd four years of learning into the brief space between 10 and 1.

The reason behind the studious attitude of many seniors was that senior comprehensives, another sure sign of spring, were an event of yesterday afternoon.

With orals completed or set for the next couple of weeks, a number of the graduating class will be comparatively "free" after passing the comprehensive examinations. A few history majors had attempted the exams earlier, because the number of people taking the tests this year was unusually large, according to Dean R. D. Gregg, and all could not be handled at the same time with facility.

Approximately 25 departments

"entered" majors in the examinations yesterday, but no exact tally was available as to the number of students actually participating.

Since the number of seniors who are required to take comprehensives has been steadily increasing, faculty and administrative attention has been focused on the situation, with the result that a few new rules have been formulated for use in future years. (See story, page 8).

Although most of the students met yesterday in the University library for the "hour of trial," social science-journalism majors met in the Collegian office and typed their answers. Permission for this was apparently granted on the theory that most good journalists can think better aided by a typewriter.

New Voting System for Avoiding Run-offs May Be Tried out by ASWU Next Year

By Al Ladendorff

Plans to try out the Hare progressive election system at ASWU elections will probably be dropped for this year, but may be resumed during the 1949-50 school year.

According to Al McMullen, second vice-president of the ASWU, there will be but one major election between now and the time that school is dismissed for the summer, but it would be necessary to have at least one trial election to explain the system.

System Eliminates Run-offs

The Hare progressive election system is a system of voting whereby the nearest acceptable person to the largest number of voters is elected. Instead of voting for one person on a ballot, the voter marks the ballot for each candidate with a number, thus signifying his choice. First choice for an office would be marked with the number one, second choice, number two, etc.

Thus the voter would not be losing a vote if his first choice did not make it, for there would be the chance that his second choice would be considered.

According to McMullen, in the case of a school election when the votes are in and the count begins, the votes would not be compiled on a tally sheet, but would be arranged in stacks according to the "firsts" received by each candidate.

Most Votes Determine Winner

After being counted and checked, if no one candidate received a majority of "firsts" of the ballots cast, then the ballots of the lowest running candidate are withdrawn, and then distributed on the individual stacks remaining according to the second choice marked on the withdrawn ballot. This method would continue until one candidate would have a majority of the votes cast, and theoretically, the candidate ultimately chosen would be the candidate with the greatest number of total votes. In this way "run-off" elections would not be necessary.

Amendment Needed

A constitutional amendment would be necessary before the plan could be adopted, McMullen said. The present constitution says that the candidate must receive a majority vote, and the Hare system would not necessarily mean that the candidate must win the majority of "firsts" in the voting.

One minor election would be necessary to explain the system, according to McMullen, and then if the idea were acceptable, an election to amend the constitution must be held. Since the next election on the campus is May 10, there is little opportunity to attempt the system this year, McMullen added.

Other Schools Try System

The system has been attempted in various schools, and in some political districts, and in many cases has been favorably received in college elections.

Cat Ball, Cinder Men In Conference Starts

"Now pitching for Willamette . . . Smith!" President Smith will throw the opening pitch of the '49 Northwest conference season for the Willamette baseball team at Bush pasture this afternoon. The Cats meet the Wildcats of Linfield in a double header, first game starting at 1:30. Saturday morning the Willamette track team will christen the new Bush track in a dual meet with Pacific university, also the opening of the current conference track season.

Lou Scrivens will be after his fourth win of the year as he takes the starting assignment in the first game. John Slanchik or Larry Stocks will start the second game of the twin bill.

Ray Blum, Linfield's leading hurler, will be the starting pitcher for the visitors in the first game. Blum is rated high on the list of Northwest college pitchers. The starter for the second game for the Wildcats is as yet un-named.

The dual meet will get underway at 10 a.m. The Bearcats figure to win 10 of the 15 events scheduled to be held. Ted Mertz will probably dominate the scoring for the Cats with a likely first in both the high jump and high hurdles.

He may be closely pressed in points by freshman Bob Shangle who could win both the 100 and 200 yard sprints. Both Mertz and Shangle topped the best Pacific had to offer in the recent five-way meet at Lewis and Clark.

Lillie will field approximately 11 men for the event.

47 Days Without Remuneration

We wonder how many of the 500 laws enacted by the recently adjourned state legislature were actually put on the statute books to remain there as great monuments to the long hours of labor expended by the legislators. How many of these laws were actually necessary? And if they were necessary, could they have been enacted in the 50-day paid time given to the lawmakers by the Oregon constitution?

We believe that the greater proportion of the "great 500" must have seemed necessary to the legislators, most of whom, in good faith to the people, remained for 47 days as unpaid representatives of the state of Oregon, the state which has shown in recent years the greatest per capita population gain of any state in the Union. Every new family that arrives and settles in Oregon adds greater burden to the government and law bodies and makes it most necessary to further codify, amend and interpret the laws which are already on the state's books.

We should feel no rancor toward our law-making body, since in the past decade, especially, it has become outdated mostly because our constitution still presents us with a legislature which may have been modern and efficient 50 years ago.

It is up to the people of the state to put in force, through a constitutional amendment, a modern and efficient law making body that will serve the growing needs of an expanding state. If the legislature may be more efficient through meeting yearly to meet these expanding growing pains of population, then surely that kind of a law-making body should be given birth by the voters of the state of Oregon.

And certainly when this change is made, legislators should be paid for their struggles over the whole time of the session, not only because of their labors as representatives of the people, but because efficiency will surely be increased by obtaining legislators who will take the job, both because they are interested and because they can afford to spend their time making laws that the state can't afford to be without.

We wonder if the extra population weight that has been moving into the Pacific Northwest in recent years had anything to do with the earthquake last week? How about this, Prof. Clark? At least those heavy floods we had last winter and summer must have had something to do with it.

President Truman used a "spit-ball" as he opened American League play in Washington this week. Reports said that spit-balls are illegal in baseball, according to league rules, but the United Nations is still using them, especially the red ones in the Soviet league.

Traitors, Dupes and Fellow Travelers

Americans attending the current conference for world peace in Paris have been branded as "would-be traitors" by a certain undisclosed spokesman for the House un-American committee, according to a recent United Press story.

The purpose of this editorial is not to attack just an irresponsible group of congressional publicity seekers, but rather we would question the general growing attitude that anyone who gives more than lip service to the cause of peace is a red and therefore a dangerous person.

The advanced state of this attitude becomes evident in a recent issue of Life magazine when it brands 50 leading intellectuals—including Albert Einstein and Thomas Manning—as "dupes and fellow travelers" because they are sponsors of the recent conference for world peace held in New York.

If college students are at all interested in the issue of war or peace (they will do the fighting if the next war comes) it seems that the present state of affairs warrants the closest investigation. When we find peace conferences are becoming "un-American" it would seem in our interest and the interests of civilization to discover the facts involved and act accordingly.

The next war HASN'T started yet.

Into the Last Lap

Judging by the number of issues of the Collegian yet to come out, (6) the 1948-49 session is rapidly drawing to a close. Next week comes May Weekend, then ASWU elections, Awards day, final examinations and commencement on Sunday, June 12.

Seems like only yesterday we started on the long grind toward the sheepskin. Now here we are nearly done with our work and nothing done yet.

Paris Girdles, Some Like 'em Flesh Colored

Imagine his surprise when Prof. Howard Hinde received through the mail a box inscribed in bold print, Lily of Paris girdles, color—"nude," and upon opening it found the remains of a dogfish shark.

The long-dead shark lay in breathtaking state; purple sash wrapped majestically about one fin, (the other was missing) a radish in his mouth, and buoyed gently by sheaths of tissue paper.

Hinde immediately went "Sherlock" in an attempt to deduce just which member of his comparative anatomy class was the clown. The still visible inscription of the size of the "Lily of Paris," original occupant of the box, proved a futile lead, but as evidence, it was weighed carefully.

Increasing the enigma was the fact that each student in the class has a shark of his own to work on. Just whose inspiration it was to start the mail order trend is still unknown. Rumors have it that one embittered coed, weary of tracing nervous systems and charting muscles, took this as a sure means out.

Academic Snickers; Prof vs. Student

By John Williams

Professors have been accused of being dull and of lacking a sense of humor, but at times they can be quick to seize an opportunity.

Four members of the curb smokers club interrupted Professor Elliott's accounting class one morning. After the late-comers had taken their seats, Elliott said: "It would seem that the gentlemen have switched to Pell Mells." (King-size, you see.)

Students of course are known for their quick replies to straight lines directed at the class. . . Elliott saw a student rapidly turning pages looking for the answer to a question just asked. Said he: "Since you, as the saying goes, are so diligently 'searching the scriptures' why don't you give us the answer?"

The reply: "Chapter and verse please?"
Often the voice and manner of a correct reply to a professor's question can provoke a belly laugh or two. This situation brought chuckles to Dr. Oliver's class.

Dr. Oliver: "Who was the man who was said to have wrestled with Lincoln?"

The echoing reply: "Jack A-r-m-strong."

A young Willamette graduate was consulting her roommate as to what to do about a "moral situation" that was puzzling her.

"Don't you know sin?" was the roommate's reply.

"No," replied the young thing, "I've always had the dean of women to tell me right from wrong."

On the SOUTHard Side

By Wally Southard

It was my intention to compare the recent "popcorn bill" brain-storm of an Oregon senator just before adjournment of the state legislature with a few of the laws of the New Plymouth Colony, 1630 to 1650 vintage.

I dug through a set of laws of that period, but there was nothing spectacular in New Plymouth legislation. Nearly all the laws which I read were based upon the physical and moral code of the day.

For instance, one law made it an offense to allow swine to run free and thus trample a neighbor's garden. Another law decreed that no firearms be fired between the hours of sunset and sunrise, unless it be to shoot a wild beast or to save somebody.

There were other laws designed to make the people conform to the Sabbath, serve in the militia, respect the rights of neighbors, etc., but not once did I read of anything quite so ridiculous as a law banning the eating of popcorn in a movie house.

Such legislation on the part of legislators adds to the headaches of the movie people, who are right now lamenting the lack of box office receipts. Adding another deterrent to movie goers, already deterred by the lack of good movies, will certainly help telev. box one hundred per cent.

Last of the Fitzsimons

Two of Willamette's most colorful figures are Ed and Moe Fitzsimons. Your reporter finally found the brothers together recently in a local coffee shop and sought, through the medium of an interview, to collect enough data on the two for an "introduction" story.

This is what happened . . .
"Ed, when did you enter Willamette?"

"Four years ago."

"Moe, when did you enter Willamette?"

"Eleven years ago."

"You must have laid out during the war."

"I'll say he did," interrupted Ed. "Laid out is right. I fought the war."

"We officers didn't have much to do," said Moe.

"Is it true that you have a sister coming to Willamette next year?"

"Yes, that's true," replied Ed.

"But we won't be here. We couldn't stand the shame. She's a little hesitant about coming here, too. Too much to live down."

"Then, you'll be graduating this year?"

"No, we're giving up," said Moe.

"I might come back and walk down the aisle with my sister," added Ed. "She's the only girl that will go out with me."

"Moe, what do you consider your greatest single accomplishment since coming to Willamette?"

"I can answer that," said Ed. "He found a wife with a good job."

"Now, do either of you have anything to add before we wind up this interview?"

"Print this" the pair chimed, "Due to the fact that we have committed ourselves to previous commitments, we are retiring to the older boys YMCA to take part in some extra-curricular activity, which consists of transferring little round spheres from the green felt into the evenly spaced, cylindrical holes through the process of propelling the afore-mentioned spheres with the able assistance of a long, tapering pole. In other words, that's our cue to leave, Moe."

New Editors State Plans, Offer Preview

By Reg Waters

The campus humor magazine, edited by Don Carpenter and Russ Tripp, will make its initial appearance at Willamette university early in May.

Tripp stated that the magazine will be financed through sales, at 25 cents per copy, advertising and an oil well soon to be drilled in Sweetland field.

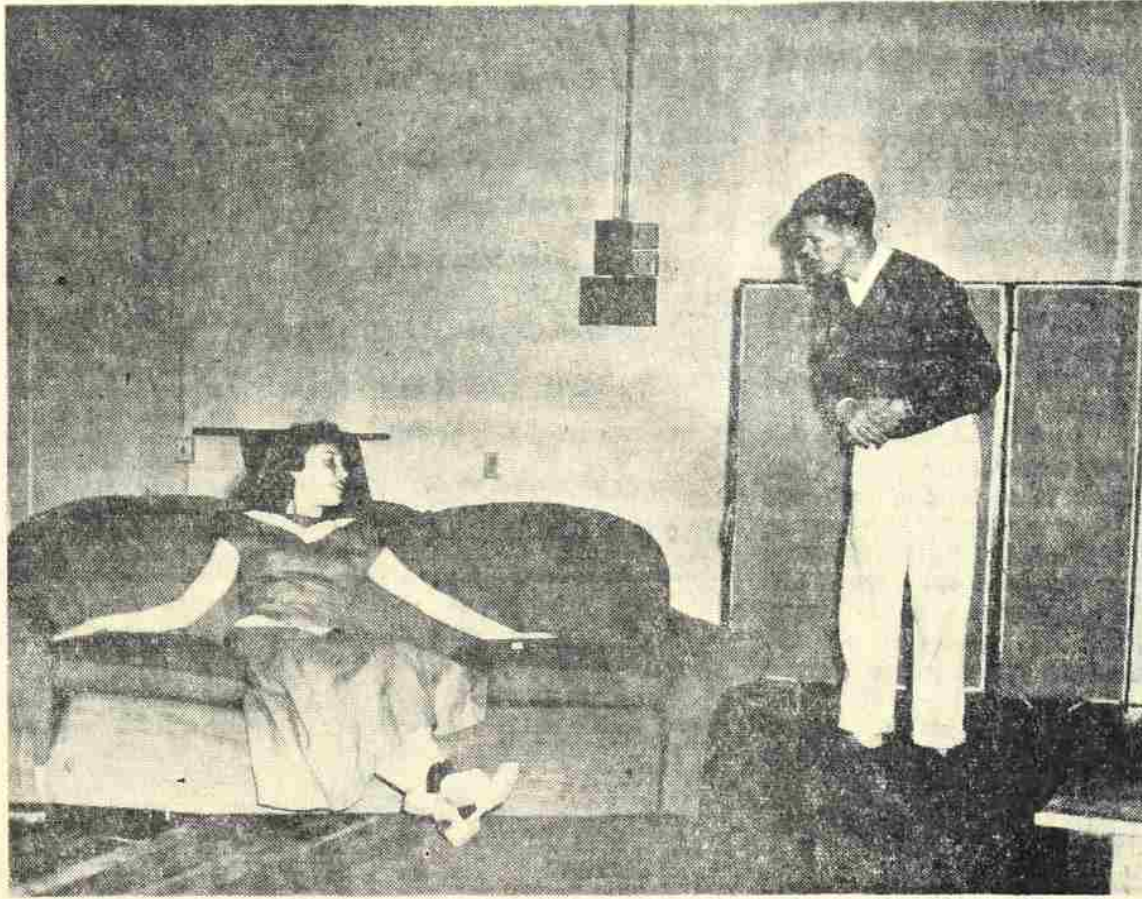

Carpenter reported that due to fear of law suits and the possibility of being suspended from school, the editors are keeping the contents of the magazine strictly confidential. Lloyds of London recently acknowledged a remittance from the editors of the humor magazine insuring the internal organs of readers against disorders contracted through excessive laughter.

The editors state that the huge 28-page publication is nearly ready since only 26 and one-half pages remain blank. Cartoonists for the magazine are Ed Fitzsimons, Dick Unruh, Dale Cleaver, Warren Eccles and Bill Peyton.

Any contributions from the students will be greatly appreciated, states Tripp. "Persons with any material to contribute to the magazine are asked to see Don Carpenter or contact lenses."

The humor magazine office is located in the basement of Eaton

Thespians Hard at Work

Sharon Currier and Lloyd Hanson, principals in the May Weekend play "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" work out a difficult bit of stage business. The play is directed by Prof. Edward T. Gibson.

Gibson Guides May Weekend Play Practice

Rehearsals and set construction for the April 29 presentation of the comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, are now being conducted by the director, Edward T. Gibson, professor of drama.

Assisting him will be Ray Lotter, assistant director; Margaret Guice, production manager; Dorothy Wood, assistant production manager; Margaret Atwood and Frances Schodde, programs; Glenda McAllister and Mary Louise Lee, publicity; Dorraine Praed and Doris Gragg, properties; Polly Pollock, tickets; Margaret Powell and Roberta Meyer, costumes; Ann Corthell, Joan Morgan and Mary Louise Lee, makeup; Ella Lou Ball and Joan Morgan, prompters; Rex Lindemood, stage manager, and Frank Lockman, Sam Pitner and John Kaemmer, stage crew.

Anyone who has or can spare a four-poster bed, a chaise lounge, a hassock, or any 1920 wearing apparel, is urged to contact Margaret Powell, May Weekend play costume manager, or Dorraine Praed, property manager, as these articles are urgently needed for the play.

State Aid Boosted For GI Students

A $15 increase in state educational benefits to Oregon World War II veterans attending full-time courses in undergraduate study will go into effect September 1. This is by virtue of an amendment approved recently in the legislature.

The announcement was made at a meeting of 14 state and independent college officials in Portland last week. The increase will boost the present $35 state aid to $50 in monthly benefits.

Pianist, Organist, Singers Highlight Today's Program

In the regular recital at 3 this afternoon in Waller hall six student musicians will perform.

Lois Gottwald, organist, will open the program with E minor Prelude and Fugue by Bach, followed by Charles Nee, tenor, singing 'O Cessate di Piogarmi' by Scarlatti and 'The Cloths of Heaven' by Dunhill.

Tenor Carl Bienes will present 'Tanto Sospirero' by Bencini and 'La Donna Mobile' (from Rigoletto) by Verdi. Pianist Jodell Parker will play 'Forest Scenes' by Schumann and Baritone Robert Gwinn will sing 'Chi Viole Innamors' by Scarlatti and 'Che Fiero Costume' by Legrenzi. Pianist Gladys Blue will conclude this afternoon's program with a rendition of 'Sonata No. 4' by Virgil Thompson.

Workshop Show Presents Comedy

Bill Strobbe will portray the principal role of a cheerful feature news-caster in the comedy, "Dr. Cheer", to be presented by the Willamette University Workshop Players on Monday evening at ten o'clock on KOCO.

The cast includes Ella Lou Ball, Harriet Ness and Bud Ramus.

May Breakfast Ticket Sale Starts

May morning breakfast tickets may be obtained today and next week from representatives in all the living organizations and a booth in Eaton hall. Tickets for students living on campus are 35 cents, Town students, faculty and guests must pay 60 cents.

The Saturday breakfast at Lausanne hall is sponsored by the YWCA and is held each year to raise money for the YW to send members to Seabeck for leadership training. Louise Holmes, Delta Gamma, is in charge of all arrangements for the breakfast.

Bush Diamond Done

With the new athletic field at Bush's pasture rapidly nearing completion, the ball diamond is ready for use. The foul lines are being built up to facilitate better fielding. Jumping pits have been installed and the cinders and clay have been rolled for the track meet tomorrow.

Van Eaton Leaves Eaton Hall For Retirement in San Diego

By Roxy Faulkner

Myron Van Eaton, janitor at Eaton hall, is retiring April 30.

Van Eaton, who has been at Willamette during the last four years, will terminate his stay here a week from tomorrow and go to San Diego with his wife. He plans to purchase an acre of land in the Lemon Grove community of San Diego and raise berries.

"I'm going to miss Willamette", said Van Eaton, "but when I retire I will be able to do some of the things that I've always wanted to do and that includes a lot of fishing."

Van Eaton's daughter, Eileen, graduated from Willamette in 1940 and was senior scholar for Dr. Henry Kohler. She worked in the Salem and Willamette libraries for a period and has since married. She has a four year old son and is now living in San Diego. The Van Eatons also have a son, Robert, who is with the United States Coast Guard.

Van Eaton was born in Illinois in 1881. He lived in Kansas and South Dakota before coming to Oregon 30 years ago. While still in the Middle West he was employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. In Salem he was with the Willamette Valley Prune association for 17 years as an accountant.

"I prefer Oregon and the Willamette valley to the Middle West", said Van Eaton. "I was back there last June for the first time in 29 years."

Van Eaton says that when he first came to Willamette it was easier to get acquainted with people than it is now. "I guess it was because the number of students was much smaller then", he added.

The Van Eatons plan to join their daughter in San Diego until they find a suitable homesite.

Civil Service Exam

The US Civil Service commission is now accepting applications for librarian examinations. To qualify, applicants must pass a written test and must have had appropriate training in library work.

Library Additions Include Classics

Received as a gift to the University library from Mrs. Delsia Larson are three volumes, including 'International Law' by Charles G. Fenwick, 'Principles of Speech' by Alan Houston Monroe, and 'Introduction to Business Management' by Harold Howard Maynard.

Thirty-nine volumes from the library of Mary Reynolds have been presented to the library. Miss Reynolds, a Willamette graduate in the class of 1880, was a member of the faculty for 23 years. The collection includes classical literature and Northwest history material.

Topping, Ludden Reveal Program For Joint Recital

Soprano Clorinda Topping and Pianist Bennet Ludden will present a joint recital in Waller hall, Monday at 8:15 p.m. Both are instructors in the College of Music here.

The first part of the program will be: 'Amarilli, mia Bella' by Caccini, 'Se Florinda e Fedele' by Searlatti, 'O del mio Amato Ben' by Donaudy and 'Voia Farfalletta' by Sandoval. The second part will consist of the aria 'Dove sono' from 'The Marriage of Figaro' by Mozart, followed by the song cycle 'Unvergaenglichkeit' by Korngold as part three.

The fourth part of the program will consist of 'When I Go Alone' by Buzzi-Peccia, folk songs of the British Isles arranged by Britten, 'Sing a Song of Sixpence' arranged by Hughes and 'Spring Joy' by Seitz. The final part will include a suite for piano and voice by Turina.

Jesus Can Light You

When You Ask Him -- It's Your Move

"And he went forth again by the seaside; and all the MULTITUDE resorted unto him, and he TAUGHT them.—That whosoever BELIEVETH in him should not perish, but have ETERNAL LIFE.—And I will give him the morning star.—And Jesus answering saith unto them, HAVE FAITH in God.—But these things are written, that ye might BELIEVE that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that BELIEVING ye might have LIFE through his NAME.—Bible.

Ever Sing These Words?

I can never tell how much I love him. I can never tell his love for me; For it passeth human measure, Like a deep, unfathomed sea; 'Tis redeeming love in Christ my Savior, In my soul the heav'nly joys begin; And I live for Jesus only, Since the fullness of his love came in.

Fruits of the Holy Spirit, disagree with the tobacco habit. WATCH and PRAY that ye enter not into temptations.—Bible.

Lewis and Clark Captures Five-Way Meet; Cats Second

Lewis and Clark's Pioneers won first places in all but one running event and scored wins in the broad jump and pole vault to take a one-sided win in a five-way meet at Fisher field in Portland last Saturday afternoon. But it remained for Willamette's Bearcats to pull one of the top surprises of the day by placing second to the Pioneers, finishing ahead of Pacific, Vanport and Linfield.

Baxter 'A', SAE Still Lead Mural Bowling Tourney

Once again Baxter "A" and SAE are tied for the lead in the second half of the bowling tournament, each having won two and lost one in Tuesday's play. Another repeat of last week was SAE again taking top team series honors with a total of 2699 pins. High individual series acclaim went to Dan Barkley with 207-163-198-568 pins.

Baxter "A" remained in top position by taking the last two from the Betas. Wes Stauffer led the winners with a 484 series. Leading the vanquished was Al Isenberg and his 453 pins.

In the other important clash of the afternoon SAE protected their right to a claim of the lead by downing the Baxter "B" team. They did this in the same way Baxter "A" did it by spotting Baxter "B" the first game then going on to win the next two handily.

Top man of the week, Don Barkley, led the victors while John Jemetski led the losers with a total of 524 pins.

Scoring the only whitewash of the day Sigma Chi slapped the Phi Deltis down three times in a row. This moved the all victorious Sigs into undisputed third place.

Ken Bartlett scored tops for the Sigs with a 473 series. The Phi Deltis were led by Louie Prediletto with 433 pins.

Next week's competition will find SAE pitted against Sigma Chi, the Phi Deltis meeting Beta Theta Pi, and a clash between the two teams from Baxter hall. All teams are to be ready to go at 4 p.m.

Cats Lose to Senators 10-3; Take 14-7 Win From Vanport

Lou Scrivens won his third game in a row last Friday as the Willamette baseball squad flattened the Vanport Vikings at Portland 14 to 7. Thursday of last week the Bearcats dropped one to the Salem Senators, 10 to 3.

At 1:30 today the Cats meet Linfield in a doubleheader, the opening conference games of the season. Tomorrow the horseholders travel to Monmouth to play OCE. Tuesday the Pioneers of Lewis and Clark invade the Bearcat lair.

Howard "Shoes" Olson took his second loss without a win as the Senators, capitalizing on five Cat errors, drove him to the showers in the sixth inning.

Fatal Third

After getting by the first two innings without serious trouble, the Senators bunched six hits, one of them a three-run homer, to score five runs in the third. They got one more in the fifth on a home run, and one in the sixth off Olson before he retired.

Willamette got single runs in the second, fourth and sixth innings. John Markoskie opened the second inning by grounding out to the first baseman. Gordon Lenz tripled, and then George Matile doubled to right to score Lenz.

In the fourth Markoskie walked. Lenz flied out. Matile walked sending Markoskie to second. Roy Harrington, back again in the lineup after a seige with a sore leg, forced Matile at second, Markoskie going to third.

Olson Gets First Hit

Then the Salem pitcher forgot momentarily that he had men on base and began his windup. At that moment Harrington started for second, and the shortstop came over to cover. Olson punched a single right through the vacated shortstop position, his first hit in two years, to score Markoskie.

The Vanport game was marred by 17 errors, six committed by the Cats. Dick Brouwer homered with two mates on in the first half of the first inning to give the Bearcats the lead they never gave up in the "marathon."

Scrivens, hampered by an exceptionally high and unconventional pitching mound, found himself in difficulty several times in the game, although only three of the seven runs were earned.

George Matile continued his torrid hitting pace as he collected five for seven in the two games. Bruce Barker hit consistently getting four for nine.

Netmen Drop Two Matches; Encounter Portland Monday

By Bill Bonnington

The last week's play of the varsity tennis team found the Cat netters absorbing two white-washes from a potent Oregon State outfit, 9-0 and 7-0.

At Corvallis last Thursday afternoon the locals were swamped, 9-0, without taking a set from the Beavers. Tom Warren and Howie Lorenz put up the most resistance in their singles matches. Bill Bonnington and Dave Bristow were tied with Hugh Findlay and Jack Crothers in the first set of the number one doubles contest, 3-3, but faded considerably to drop the next nine games.

The Beaver squad visited the Willamette campus last Monday and took home another conclusive victory, this time 7-0. Most of the matches were closer than before, with Tom Warren managing to salvage a set before succumbing, 3-6, 7-5, 1-6.

Tomorrow the Bearcat racketeers travel to Eugene to take on the University of Oregon in a seven match contest. Coach Les Sparks expects to make a much better showing against the Ducks than against the Beavers.

Next week the Portland Pilots will appear on the local courts on Monday, determined to do better than their 4-4 tie with the locals in their first match. On Tuesday the Cats will go to McMinnville to tangle with Linfield.

Touchball Rolls Again

A championship tourney is now under way to decide the winner of the intramural touchball title, with the Rubes, Phi Deltis, Betas and SAEs remaining in the running.

The Rubes defeated the Dorks 20-6 in the first game of the tourney, and are scheduled to play the Phi Deltis Tuesday. The Betas and SAEs were scheduled to play yesterday for a berth in the finals.

Softball Murals Led by Beta, SAE, Shiek, Law School A's

By Dave Card

The Law School, SAE, Shieks, and Beta softball teams won their opening games in the A league to share the league lead, while the Sigs and the Faculty remained unbeaten in B league play.

"A" league play opened with the Betas trouncing Baxter 12-8. Both teams collected eight hits, but Baxter errors gave the nod to the Betas. Adams was the winning pitcher, while Stevens was on the mound for the losers.

The SAE's overcame a 5-2 Phi Delt lead with a four run fifth inning, and then added another run in the sixth, to defeat the Phi Delt 7-5. Bob DeBord pitched two-hit ball for the winners, while loser Bill Reder was tagged for seven safeties.

The Law School-Sig game was a runaway with the winning Law School nine collecting five runs in the first inning and then coasting in to a 14-4 win. Meyer was the winning hurler.

A nine-run fourth inning gave the Shieks their 12-4 victory over the Rubes. Up to this point the score stood three to three. E. Lowe received credit for the win.

In the final A league game the Phi Delt scored four runs in the second and three in the third to capture a 10-3 decision from the Baxter nine. Bill Reder and Darrell Lewis divided the mound chores for the winners.

The opening B game saw Sig hurler Babe Maudlin limit the SAE's to a single hit as the Sigs won by a 10-0 count. The Sigs meanwhile found SAE hurler Don Pritchett for seven safe blows.

Four runs in the first inning led the Phi Delt to a 6-1 victory over the Betas. Phi Delt hurler Ray Yocum gave up but two hits to the losing Betas.

Though out-hit five to four, the SAE B team turned in a 5-2 win over the Phi Delt squad. Don Pritchett gave the losers five hits, but several costly errors cost the Phi Delt the game.

The Faculty won by forfeit over the Independents in the only other game.

Golfers Lose; L&C Next Foe

The Willamette golf team will be out to make up for its 15 1/2-2 1/2 loss at the hands of a small but highly efficient Vanport team here last Friday, when it meets the Lewis and Clark golf squad at Willamette Tuesday.

Willamette's Bob and Jim Johnson were the only locals entering the scoring, as Bob collected 1 1/2 points, Jim adding the other counter.

The mechanical Vikings were led by Jim Plue who shot a 71 to capture medalist honors plus three points from the Bearcat standout, Vince Aleska. Aleska was off his usual form, but came in with a respectable 78; however, it wasn't quite enough to cope with the sensational Plue.

W. Hoag, the Vanport number two man, made the shot of the day when he layed his second shot in the cup on the 11th hole from 180 yards out for a spectacular eagle. He had previously birdied the 10th hole.

Women to Play Tennis, Softball

Willamette tennis fans from the women's section will go to Oregon State on April 30 for a tournament which will include competition from Lewis and Clark, Reed, Willamette and OCS.

Two girls who have won titles in the past and who will probably hold their own in giving an opponent a tough game are Ruth Hagelstein and Jo Oliver.

Every Tuesday at 4 o'clock the girl's softball team will be seen on Sweetland field practicing for their games at Linfield May 5, and May Weekend with the faculty here. With Ruth Hagelstein and Nan Wilcox pitching their "speed balls" the team is looking forward to a good showing this year.

A beach trip for May 7 has been set and plans are being carried out by the W. A. A.

Initial Mural Ski Meet Set For Tomorrow

The first annual intramural ski meet will be held by Willamette university this weekend at the Hoodoo Ski Bowl, and will consist of both downhill and giant slalom for the men and downhill for the women.

All living organizations are encouraged to assemble teams for competition. The incentive will be trophies and pins for the best team and individual performances.

A team in the men's division will consist of six skiers with the best four times counting. Four participants will compose a women's team and the best two times will be counted.

Individual pins will be given to the men having the five best average times for the slalom and downhill events. Women will receive pins for the five best times in the downhill race.

Entrance fees for the race will be 50 cents per contestant.

The team awards will be traveling trophies and one each will be given to the men's and women's team having the best times.

Spring Pigskin Session Starts

Sweetland field is once again being treated to the crunching squash of rubber-cleated shoes as the spring football session is beginning to get under way.

Coach Jerry Lillie is being assisted by the former J. V. football coach, Ambrose D'Eagle, and Jim Johnson, a senior who just wound up his playing career as center of WU's basketball squad. All three will be on hand each weekday afternoon to instruct the squad in fundamentals and with their special positions.

Grades and after-school jobs are holding down the turnout, and Lillie urges all who are interested in getting a preview of the coming season to work out. Physical Education majors are also welcome in order to get experience in the field of football.

All those who plan on playing ball for Willamette next year should come out and learn the system.

State Pen Trounces Frosh; Return Game Tomorrow

The Freshman baseball team will be out to avenge an earlier 14-7 defeat at the hands of the Oregon State Prison when they again tangle with the prisoners tomorrow. The two teams met last Saturday, with the powerful bats of the cons pounding out nine runs in the first two innings off Frosh starter Sherm Bliss, and then added five more during the remainder of the game to put it on ice.

Mike Glenn took over for Bliss in the third and went the rest of the route, with five runs coming mostly on errors.

The Freshmen managed to collect seven safeties, with Cliff Girod's two singles leading the way. Jim Anicker, Dave Hobbs, Bruce Boatman, Byron Sittser, and Jack Wilson each garnered a hit apiece for the Frosh.

Starting lineup for the Rooks tomorrow will be as follows: pitcher, Glenn or Bliss; catcher, Gay; 1st, Anicker; 2nd, Girod; 3rd, Boatman; short stop, Hobbs or Bates; left field, Snyder; center, Coen; right, Wilson or Sittser.

Cat Chats

By Dale Reynolds

It looks as if old weather man is in the sportster's favor this spring. Last season's jinx of rain doesn't seem to be with the Cats this year as all the spring sports squads have had their initial openers. To date the baseball team has had 11 games and won six to be in the above average group. Last season the horsehide gang had only 10 games for the whole season, winning five and losing the other half.

The other spring sports have also entered competition. Last season saw two or three meets in track, golf and tennis rained-out in the early season. Stay with us, old man weather, you're welcomed by all spring sports fans to keep things bright around old Jason's stomping grounds.

Thinclads Pull Pleasant Surprise

In addition to the baseball teams commendable 6-5 record, the Cat thinclads upset the dope sheets in their initial test by spurting from the cellar positions they have been taking in previous years and copping a second in a five-way meet. The Cats seem to have strength in about every event, but it was the stars of Lewis and Clark grabbing blue ribbon spots that gave them their margin over the Jasons.

Several stars are breaking forth from the Bearcat spring sports squads. In golf, Vince Aleksa, a freshman from Taft, is consistently playing a fine game as he hits in the low seventies. Aleksa is probably the best golfer to join Bearcat ranks since "Bunny" Bennett, present coach of Franklin high.

Hall Javelin Star

On the cinder squad the exceptional performance of the first meet was Bob Hall, freshman javelin thrower from Woodburn. In last Saturday's test Hall defeated Linfield ace, Frank Grunhauser, who was tops in Willamette valley circles last season. Hall tossed the javelin seven feet farther than the Linfield star, but even so the javelin could be anyone's event to win in later meets. Seven feet would be a lot in an event like broad jump, but in javelin where the tosses are around 184 feet the percentage of a seven foot margin is small.

Invite An Athlete—Build a Team

The athletic department urges that anyone who knows an outstanding high school athlete should invite him to the May Weekend. Rooms for the visiting stars can be obtained through the athletic department. Several of the fraternities are backing the plan and other members of the student body are urged to support the future Bearcat squads by giving high school athletes a chance to look Willamette over. Last year was the first time that high school athletes were invited to May Weekend festivities and this year's crop of freshmen athletes is probably the best in history. So, let's give the Bearcat sports a shot in the arm and invite high school stars to May Weekend.

This weekend the new field at Bush will get initiated into conference play. Today President G. Herbert Smith will toss the horsehide to officially open the field to conference play as the Cat nine take on the Linfield Wildcats. The new track will get its inauguration tomorrow morning at 10 when the Cat cindermen meet the Pacific Badgers.

Let's Support Our Teams

At this time we would like to make a plea for the student body to turn-out and support their teams on the new field at Bush. It seems to us that if the athletes can go down to Bush's pasture and workout every day the students could at least go to the games. Come on, let's not be cheap on our athletes—support them.

Spring football started this week and only 16 showed up at the opening meeting. Other gridmen are urged to turn-out and help to get enough for a scrimmage to be held when the men get in better shape. Physical education majors are also urged to turn-out in order to get experience toward coaching. Come on, fellows, we would like to see spring football be a success.

Sorority Vocal Practice Starts For May Sing

With May Weekend and Inter-sorority sing coming up soon, the various sororities have been practicing their songs in preparation for the big event. Each group of women will sing a well-known semi-classic, a sorority song and an original novelty which they have composed themselves.

Alpha Chi Omega, under the leadership of Joan Cloudy, will sing "Where or When" for their semi-classic, "Alpha Chi" will be the sorority song and "Reminiscent" for the novelty.

Under the direction of song leader Marian Spann, the Chi Omegas will sing "Time On My Hands" which is the semi-classic, "Chi Omega Pin" the sorority song and the novelty is entitled "Post Hypnosis."

The semi-classic, "My Heart Stood Still", the sorority song, "Cream Rose" and a novelty called "Those Rules and Things" will be presented by the Delta Gammas with Joy Bushnell leading the group.

The Pi Phis, led by Martha Benard, will sing a mountain folk song entitled "He's Gone Away" for the semi-classic, "Mem'ries of Pi Beta Phi" for the sorority song and "Grade-point Blues" for the novelty.

A sign saying "The Western Union Boy Always Rings Twice" was the first hint the Chi O's received of the engagement of Chi Omega president Dorothy Ann Hobson and Fred Graham. The engagement was disclosed early Tuesday evening when a Western Union messenger boy interrupted the house meeting, bringing a rhyming telegram revealing the truth, and a box of chocolates.

Miss Hobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hobson of Molalla, is the newly elected president of Chi Omega and is a junior majoring in political science. She is a member of the Young Republican club, Canterbury and International Relations league. Graham, a letterman member of Sigma Chi Fraternity, is a graduate student in chemistry and physical education. He plans to teach next year.

The wedding is planned for the summer following Miss Hobson's graduation.

Sheila Ryan, daughter of Col. and Mrs. W. C. Ryan of Salem, announced her engagement to Alfred J. Laue, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Laue during spring vacation. The wedding is planned for early winter. Both were active in radio and dramatic productions on the campus. Both are Willamette sophomores majoring in English literature.

The engagement of Miss Phyllis Bain and Richard Lambert was revealed at Fredrickson hall April 12. The news was out when a basket of Easter eggs was delivered to the dorm with the names of the couple written on them.

Miss Bain is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bain of Portland. She is a junior majoring in music. Lambert, son of Rev. and Mrs. Allen Lambert, also of Portland, is a sophomore pre-med student.

The wedding is planned for late summer. Both plan to attend Willamette next year.

Miss Lucy Collins announced her engagement to Allan Bellinger at the Delta Gamma house Tuesday night. A pirate on the door told of a treasure hunt to come. At dinner a poem on paper with burned edges was presented to Inie Lou Wilhelm, president of the house. The poem led members of the house from attic to cellar hunting for a treasure chest containing pictures of the couple which was hidden in the piano.

Miss Collins, daughter of Mrs. V. A. Collins of Berkely, California, is a pledge of Delta Gamma, and a major in psychology. Bellinger, son of Mrs. Allan Bellinger is a business administration major. After dinner the traditional box of chocolates was passed. The table was decorated with a treasure chest and gold "pieces of eight". The couple will be married in the fall. They will live in Salem and attend Willamette for their sophomore year.

Frosh Initiated Into Scholastic Honor Societies

Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma, the two freshman scholastic honoraries, held a joint formal banquet in the Lausanne hall dining room Wednesday, honoring their new members who were initiated at separate ceremonies just before the banquet.

Guest speakers at the gathering were President G. Herbert Smith, national vice-president of Phi Eta Sigma, and Miss Beryl Holt, a national officer of the American Association of University Women.

Alpha Lambda Delta, the women's group, initiated their new members at 5 p.m. at the University house. Those receiving their pins were: Joan Aitken, Gladys Blue, Priscilla Botkin, Eleanor Enns, Beverly Gustafson, Ruth Harris, Edythe Holland, Beverly Hutchison, Barbara Kemmerich, Doris McCain, Jodelle Parker, Pat Rice, Pat Stanton, Mary Stephens and Rose Marie Wilhoit.

The men's organization, Phi Eta Sigma, also initiated at 5 p.m. in the Little Chapel. Those initiated were Jim Ellis, Charles Gutzler, Glenn Halliday, Stan Hawk, Lavern Hiebert, Dean Holyoak, Cyril Hull, Ted Loder, Marques McClanahan, Bill Merriam, Vernon Visnaw and Russ Zink.

President of the chapter, Jack Gunn, arranged for the impressive candlelight ceremony.

Panhellenic Workshop Scheduled Tomorrow to Discuss Greek Problems

The first Panhellenic Workshop at Willamette between the four campus sororities will be held tomorrow in the gym. Dean Daniel W. Poling, dean of men at Oregon State college, will give the opening address entitled "Responsibilities to Chapter and Campus" at 10 a.m. Registration will be at 9 a.m. in the gym. Following the opening address will be four panels having to do with sorority standards and problems. "Social Responsibilities" will be led by Pat Howard, and "Chapter and Campus Standards" will be led by Geri Bowles. These panels will be held at 10:30, and the next panels will last from 11:15 to 12. "Pledge Training" will be conducted by Carol Diamond, and La Fyrne Showacy has charge of the "Scholarships" discussion. Also at 11:15 will be an alumni discussion entitled "Alumni Responsibilities". Mrs. Vernon Gilmore and Mrs. M. M. Mulkey will lead this discussion.

After the panels there will be a luncheon in Lausanne dining room at 12:30 with Dona Adams, past president of Panhellenic, as mistress of ceremonies. President G. Herbert Smith will speak on rushing. Recognition awards will be presented to the sororities by Mrs. C. R. Nelson, Panhellenic advisor, and Dean Ewalt will give a scholarship announcement concerning the sorority which has made outstanding progress during the year. The scholarship cups will not be given until the awards assembly, but scrolls will be presented to representatives of the sorority winning the award.

Following the luncheon the Panhellenic rushing committee will present a roundtable discussion on summer rush rules. Spring and fall rush plans and Willamette and tri-college plan will be discussed. The tri-college plan includes Oregon, Oregon State and Willamette. The rushing roundtable will be held in Lausanne's living room, and the leaders will be Joy Bushnell, Beth Tedford, Maxine Muckle, Martha Brooks and Barbara Bates.

Dona Adams will introduce the new Panhellenic officers at the luncheon.

There will be no fee for the Workshop, and everyone is invited to visit any or all of the discussions.

Sig Conference Held at Salt Lake

Delegates from Willamette's Sigma Chi to the bi-annual multi-province Sigma Chi conference in the New House Hotel at Salt Lake City, Utah, last Friday and Saturday were Jack Brown, Sam Pitner and Jack Thompson.

About 200 delegates from the western state chapters were present. The conference began at 9:30 a.m. Friday and was climaxed with a banquet Saturday evening.

Lausanne Hall Sponsors Spring Dance Tonight

To prove that spring has sprung, Lausanne hall girls contribute a "Kotton and Kord Kick" dance to be held Friday, April 22, in the Lausanne dining room. Women from Fredrickson hall and unaffiliated town women are also invited to catch their beaus and come.

Two Maypoles twined with streamers in shades of pink and green will flank a flower covered wishing well in the center of the room. Lattice work and spring flowers around the room will add to the spring theme. Lawn chairs will be placed around the room.

Dancing time will extend from 8 to 11:30. For those who dance heavily, the rumpus room will be accentuated with resting chairs and milder games. Ann Corbell has been working on decorations.

Marjorie Aldinger is general chairman for the dance and working with her are Leta Adams on programs, Eva Nunn planning refreshments, Frances Schodde securing music, Muriel Roberts in charge of clean-up and Edith Reeher on publicity.

YW Firesides

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Ball, Willamette organists, are having a fireside in their home at 1745 S. Church street Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. for any students wishing to attend.

There is a sign-up list on the bulletin board in the Music hall and students interested are asked to sign by 4 this afternoon.

The fireside is another in the series of faculty firesides sponsored by the YWCA in order to give students and faculty an opportunity to get better acquainted.

Stocks Elected Phi Delt Prexy

Members of Phi Delta Theta recently elected Laurence Stocks to fill the post of retiring president Bob Sayre, who gave up his position early to enable him to participate in debate and speech tournaments. Stocks will finish the remainder of this year and will also preside over the first semester of next year.

Initiation of sixteen new men into Phi Delta Theta was held immediately following their release from social probation. Those initiated were Dick Hartly, Don Phillips, Jim Gay, Don Benson, Dave Card, Larry O'Dell, Jack Weisser, Bob Hearn, Mike Glenn, Bill Bissell, Bill Merriam, Harry Summers, Keith Sperry, Dick Unruh, Jack Miller and Ronald Coffey.

'Chi O Hay Hop' Barn Dance Scheduled for Next Friday

"Chi O Hay Hop," a barn dance honoring members of Chi Omega given by the pledges, will be held Friday night from 8 until 11 in a barn at the Four Corners. An invitation to the members was sent to the chapter house Tuesday.

Decorations including animal murals, soft lights, and hay will provide a "barny" atmosphere. Ellie Carr and Jo Colony have planned the decorations.

Helene Warrens, president of the pledge class, is general chairman of the dance and has planned modern and square dancing to phonograph music. A "Paul Jones" and a broom dance will be featured.

Little paper dolls in cotton dresses will form the cover for programs as planned by Bo Brooks, Glenda McAllister, and Mary Thomas. Druann McMakin has ordered cider in a keg and cookies.

LaVonne Skirvin is inviting sponsors to the dance.

AXO Breakfast

Alpha Chi Omega's and their dates observed Easter Sunday by attending an Easter Breakfast at the chapter house. The tables were decorated with place cards and Easter bunnies.

Morris McElwee sang "The Rosary" and "Jerusalem" accompanied by Beverly Hutchinson. After the breakfast, the couples attended church.

Alice Wilhelm, Sara Warner, and Barbara Bates were in charge of decorations and food.

'Showboat' Theme Planned For Beta Spring Formal

Life boats, life preservers, and river scenes with cyprus trees and moss will transform the Beta house into a "Showboat" for the annual Beta Theta Pi spring formal to be held Saturday, April 23, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Guests will enter the chapter house on a gangplank leading into the showboat. The dance will constitute the formal opening of the recently constructed game room in the basement.

General chairman of the dance, Bill Peyton, is in charge of decorations which will be carried out throughout the house. Music will be provided by the new built-in phonograph in the game room and will be supervised by Dave Hobbs.

Special entertainment, centering around the showboat theme, has been planned by Arne Acker to include a six man German band, a barbershop quartet, and a humorous reading.

In place of dance programs, wooden fraternity paddle favors engraved with the fraternity crest will be given to the guests.

A special mint julip punch and cookies have been planned by Scotty Washburn, and bleu cheese hors d'ouvres from a recipe of Dean Geists' will be featured.

Honored guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Allen Goudy and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Collins who donated to the fund for construction of the game room; Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Dean and Mrs. Melvin H. Geist, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Schubert.

Phi Delts Dance Again

It didn't take Phi Delta Theta long to get the wheels of progress moving following their release from social probation on May 11; for that week saw them stage their first social function in some 140 days—embodiment in a "Suppressed Desire" dance. The chapter house was turned into a maze of surrealistic drawings and added to that, a touch of modernism in gaining entrance through an upstairs window. A children's play-slide was the contraption by which all couples made their way to the downstairs and the main part of the decorations. Luminous "eyes" painted on the walls gave a wierd effect to the dancing room.

About 10:30 all those present enjoyed a short skit put on by Bill Bissell, Dave Card and Larry Stocks. Couples attending the dance wore costumes appropriate to their suppressed desires. Pat Ryan appeared as a football player, accompanied by song queen Chuck Patterson. Other outstanding characters were Ray Yocom as Flash Gordon, George Hurt as a boxer, Chris Montag as a baseball player, and Avis Roberts as a gypsy.

Fraternity Sing Due Next Week

Fraternities on WU's campus will have a inter-fraternity song contest the Saturday of May Weekend. Boys are busily practicing in order to win the title.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon—"Songs of the Vagabonds" and "You Are the Fairest." Baxter Hall—"Going Home" and "Our Baxter Hall." Beta Theta Pi—"Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Viva La Va." Phi Delta Theta—"You'll Never Walk Alone" and "Dreams of Phi Delta Theta." Sigma Chi—"Riff Song" and "Dream Girl of Sigma Chi."

The judges who will choose a winning group from each song contest are: Mr. Vernon Wiscarson, Mrs. Josephine Spaulding, Miss Gretchen Kramer, Mrs. Betty Starr Anderson, and Mrs. Elliott.

Council Plans Meeting

A report of May Weekend festivities by Bob McMullen will constitute main business at the student council meeting Monday at 4 p.m. in Eaton, room 2.

Other business on the agenda include a report from the awards committee and discussion on election changes.

Chapel Notice

The sophomore class will present a show in chapel Tuesday at the gymnasium.

Reverend George Swift of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Salem will speak Thursday at the First Methodist church.

Pi Phi's Receive Summons Telling of Engagement

Members of Pi Beta Phi were surprised last night when they were "touched" with a legal summons by a Law student who acted as process server. The "summons", which supposedly was issued in Betrothal county, Oregon, announced the engagement of Miss Edith Mae Fairham and Peter M. Gunnar.

Inside each of the "summons" was a paper silhouette of a quarter note which fell to the lap of the recipient when the "summons" was opened. The single copy of the "complaint" was delivered to the house mother, Mrs. Edith Wayreuch.

Miss Fairham is the daughter of Mrs. Silas E. Fairham of Salem. She is a senior in the Music school and is a member of Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta and Mu Phi Epsilon. Gunnar is in his second year at the Law school and is a member of Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Phi. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Gunnar of Riverside, Ill. No date has been set for the wedding.

French Majors Are Entertained

Mrs. Paul Drayton entertained the French majors with a dinner at her home recently.

Mr. Hudson of Portland was introduced to the guests. He displayed colored slides of Paris and played French records.

Guests were Mrs. Joyce Patton, Dr. Paul Beal and Dr. George Hacking and French majors were William Barber, Louise Ellis, Gary Lawrence and Henry Cooper.

Speak Now . . .

Men who wish to be residents of Baxter hall next fall are asked to register with the Dean of Students or his secretary just as soon as possible.

Those who have spoken for rooms this spring will be given first choice for living accommodations at the beginning of next semester.

Review of Senior Comprehensive Exam System Presented by Faculty for Adoption Next Fall

By Ellen Montague

A new statement of senior comprehensives in the college of liberal arts was formally adopted by the faculty recently which will go into effect next fall. The statement is intended to make the examinations uniform in all departments and clarify any questions students or professors may have about them.

The purpose of senior comprehensives is to give the student an opportunity to review his four years of study and organize the material and view the subject in relationship to its application to his occupation after graduation, with every effort being made to avoid undue strain on the part of the student.

It provides the professor an opportunity to discover the degree of mastery the student has of the subject matter and his ability to apply it. It is also a test of the extent of a student's acquaintance with other areas of knowledge.

The comprehensives, both written and oral, will be given by all departments of the university except when other arrangements have been made with the dean of the college of liberal arts. They will be given during the last semester of the senior year, except for special cases. The written examination will be given on a date set by the faculty and will be planned to average three hours, and no students will write for more than five hours. The oral examination will require from one-and-a-half to two hours.

More than one person will take part in preparing the questions for the written examination and normally the whole department will be involved in the preparation. The committee for the oral exam will consist of at least three people, who are expected to be present during the entire period of the examination. At least one of these will be from a department other than that giving the examination. This person will be selected by the student.

The standards required for passing senior comprehensives will be kept at a high level and no one will be considered as passing until he has demonstrated, by at least a two-thirds vote of the committee, that he has achieved the purposes of the comprehensives.

A person who fails the written and/or oral examination may have another opportunity after the passage of four weeks.

The department will plan to help the student prepare for the comprehensives, with the following recommended procedures: All departments will have a senior seminar which will include consideration of the need for informing students of the areas over which they may be tested in order to direct their thinking to relationships and understandings which they should have. Seniors will be expected to be present in this course and credit will be given as determined by the department.

There will be prepared a suggested list of questions to be made available to the student to guide his study, and he will be given every opportunity to consult and advise with the members of his department.

Vet Forms Ready

Veterans who plan to go to summer school should come in and fill out re-entrance forms. There is no great hurry for this but all vets who plan to attend summer school elsewhere should come in immediately and get their certificates of eligibility for transfer.

YWCA Meeting Set for Monday

The campus YWCA will hold a general meeting Monday at 7 p.m. in Lausanne hall lounge with a special guest speaker scheduled to be present.

The meeting will be led by Gwen Harper, chairman of the YW growth of persons committee. A discussion will follow the address by the speaker.

All members and other students interested in leadership training are urged to attend, according to Eleanora Loveless, newly elected YW president.

White Returns From Trieste

Ivan White, a Willamette alumnus in the United State diplomatic service at Trieste, who is on a vacation here, spoke to Dr. R. M. Gatke's international relations class recently on international affairs.

White obtained his bachelor's degree in political science from Willamette in 1929. He worked for his master's degree in political science here also.

Since then he has been located with the diplomatic service at Mexico City, Yokohama and Rio de Janeiro. Before going to Trieste, White was secretary of the US delegation at Paris.

Early this summer, he will return to his work in Trieste.

Senate Fails To Consider Bar Exam Bill

Occupied with more important issues, such as pop corn eating in theaters, the senate failed to bring up the bill eliminating bar exams for law school graduates.

Proponents of the bill still feel that the system should be changed and that sometime in the future the measure will be revised and brought up again. Nevertheless, practical experience was given those law students who worked on the bill.

Sociology Profs Report on Meeting Held at San Jose

Dr. John Rademaker and Prof. Alfred Sheets attended the annual meeting of the Pacific Sociological society held recently in San Jose, California.

Rademaker was one of the speakers at the meeting, his job being to elaborate on another speaker's convictions.

The qualitative as well as the quantitative theorists of sociology put forth arguments in favor of their beliefs.

Meetings of the society are held alternately in the states of Oregon, California and Washington, with next year's meeting slated to be held in Washington.

There were approximately 120 sociologists in attendance representing most of the institutions of higher learning on the coast.

Woman Injured In Kitchen Fall

Mrs. Jessie D. Rausch, assistant cook at Baxter hall, was injured Wednesday afternoon when she slipped and fell on the tile floor in the Baxter kitchen.

She was taken to Salem Memorial hospital suffering from severe contusions, but was reported later to be resting comfortably.

Dean of Students Comes Home Today

Dean of Students Raymond A. Withey will return to the Willamette campus today (or tomorrow at the latest) to resume his duties after a tour which took him as far east as Boston.

Travelling back to the West Coast by way of Chicago, Withey stopped there for a short while, during which he attended two conferences. Since he is a member of the religion faculty at Willamette as well as of the personnel staff, he participated in one convention in each field.

Development of Customs Told As Weekend History Unfolds

In 1913, when May Weekend was still a new idea, the activities included a May Day Breakfast, student feed, crowning of the May Queen, Maypole dance, inter-class tennis tournaments, and other athletic events. There was also a traditional tug-of-war between the sophomores and freshmen with each side occupying one side of the mill stream.

As is still the custom, a school or class play was one of the main events of the festivities. The student feed has developed through the years into a barbecue which will take place this May Weekend. It was then the custom to have a large committee of men clean up the campus before they enjoyed the student feed.

In 1919 the junior prom was an attraction of May Weekend, and this is now one of the main events of the festivities.

Museums Attract WU Art Groups At San Francisco

Many Willamette students and faculty members, individually or in small groups, visited the art museums in San Francisco during spring vacation. A mimeographed program was furnished the students by Mrs. Esther W. Huffman and Ernest Dietrich.

In San Francisco Mrs. Huffman also attended the closed sessions of the Modern Art forum, held at the San Francisco museum. The panel discussion was conducted by artists and critics. Members of the board were Frank Lloyd Wright, Marcel Duchamp who painted "Nude Descending Staircase", Mark Tobey and Darius Milhaud, modern music composer.

Biology Student Gets Scholarship

Betty May Jackman, senior biology major and member of Delta Gamma, received word this week she has received a full tuition scholarship from the national foundation of infantile paralysis at any college or university she wishes to attend.

Miss Jackman plans to take a course in physical therapy in the medical school of either Duke or Columbia university.

Petitions Are Overdue

The registrar's office requests all seniors who expect to be graduated this June to fill out petitions. These petitions are absolutely necessary for graduation. Although the deadline is far past, only two-thirds of the seniors have petitioned.

Graduate School Accepts Cravens

Richard B. Cravens, a senior scholar in the psychology department, has received an acceptance to the graduate school of Ohio State university.

Cravens plans to continue his studies in the field of psychology. His home is in Salem.

Candidates Requested to File Petitions for ASWU Offices

Petitions of prospective candidates for the forthcoming ASWU student body elections must be turned in by noon, May 3, according to Al McMullen, ASWU second vice-president.

McMullen said that petitions should be turned in either to the student body office in Waller hall, or to him personally.

Campaign managers and candidates will make nomination speeches during chapel period May 10. The polls will open in the 'Cat cavern and Eaton hall immediately following nominations chapel.

No particular forms are needed for petitions, according to McMullen. The petition should include the prospective candidate's name, and the office for which he intends to compete. The petition must be signed by at least 25 members of the Willamette student body.

As yet, no petitions have been turned in, McMullen said.
