Wallulah

Ere the pale face saw the Westland in its grandeur by the sea,
Lived a dusky Indian princess, fair as fairest flower to see!
By Columbia's thundering Cascades, o'er the beauteous upland plain,
Wandered lone the fair Wallulah, chanting o'er some wild refrain.

Dusky suitors thronged about her, pleaded for Wallulah's hand,
But she wept her absent lover—pointed to yon western strand!
By Columbia's murmuring Cascades, long and lone her tireless quest,
Now she sleeps, but still awaits him with her face toward the West!
Drifting sands above her mingle, happy homes bedeck her plain,
But her spirit sings and murmurs in Columbia's wild refrain.

—BERT HUFFMAN.

whose unfailing good humor and sympathetic humanness endear him to all, we appreciatively dedicate this book.

THE college within a college is that which is organized and maintained by the students. They have a field of activity which is extra-curricular and it is as fascinating as life itself—it is life, under the impulse of new environment and the surge of an enchanting ambition. Their activities are important to the college, positively essential to their own happiness and invaluable to their real education. A college without them would be as attractive as vacuity and as significant as learned stupidity; and the student who cared not for athletics and a dozen societies and class organizations and clubs and the Freshman Glee and the Christian Associations would puzzle an alienist.

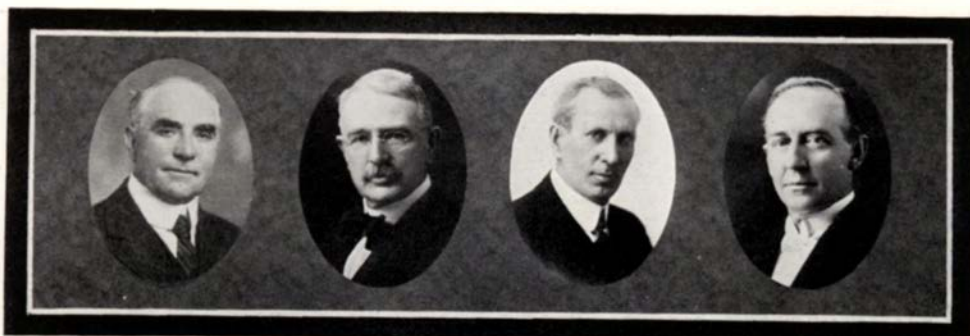

The student has a way of looking at college life which is holden from the eyes of others and his pen is not that of the copyist. It would be a loss were his doings not to be permanently recorded, kindling youth in his elders, anticipation in the rising generation and in himself the sweet memories of glad years.

The Wallulah is the catalog of the college within Willamette University. It says little of toil and tells much of play, the record is one of joy rather than of solemnity; but between the lines the discerning reads of work and discovers seriousness just around the corner from laughter. One cannot understand or explain the college student; he is a mystery to himself. We take him as he is, the hope and assurance of progress, and are devoutly thankful. We take his book, the Wallulah, and are hopeful (but without assurance) that he has been merciful to the faculty who so often have been merciful to him.

The Class of 1922

NEARLY eighty strong, we of the class of 1922 are nearing the end of our course after a wonderful four years at "Old Willamette." As Freshmen, we overcame the difficulties of the S.A.T.C., organized that year, and the severe epidemic of the influenza, as well as the Sophomore-Freshman bag-rush and came to the beginning of our second year a sturdy group of Willamette students as well as a loyal bunch of Willamette "boosters."

Our Sophomore year was distinguished by our winning of the Freshman Glee with the "Fight 'em Bearcats" song, but in other activities we were not behind, especially in guarding the welfare of the class of Freshmen of that year. Our third year at Old Willamette, well, does not the names of Junior Week-end with the Junior Play and Junior Carnival, Junior Flunk-Day, Junior-Senior Banquet, and the Wallulah best express the life of a W. U. Junior?

Now as Seniors we have donned the cap and gown together with a certain amount of dignity. But even this did not hinder our winning the Freshman Glee, the first Senior Class to win the Glee and the only class for several years to have won first place twice in its four years try. Nor are we lacking in pep toward other school activities, for did we not have three men on the Varsity basketball team?

As we, the largest Senior class ever to leave Willamette's portals, see the end so near, we envy the Freshmen with three more years to live here, but we are looking forward also to a greater service in a larger world, true sons and daughters of our Alma Mater which we love so well and loyal members of the class of 1922.

The Class of '23

THE class of '23 has attempted to enter, in a vital way, into the spirit of W. U. and we are just a bit proud to think we have succeeded. The Freshman bag rush put '23 on the grandstand and her quota in the ranks of athletics and forensics kept her there through that first and second year until the Freshman Glee "cinched" the position.

As Juniors we have not forgotten our record and, though upper-class dignity takes away much of the spectacular, we do more than wait till we're Seniors. There's a grip in just having a part in Willamette that makes you work like Dean Clark and leaves a little sad feeling that Junior week-end marks the days when we are Seniors. We're sorry there's just one more year left. What will Willamette do when we are gone?

VIRGIL ANDERSON - - Salem, Ore.

"Verge"

"I would like to see the following young ladies." Can play heroes or villains equally well. A hard worker, both in the class and in the student body.

MARY JANE ALBERT - Salem, Ore.

"Mary Jane"

Mary radiates between U. of O. and Wilamette. But we consider ourselves mighty lucky to claim her at all.

ELSWORTH ANSLOW - Port Orchard, Wn.

"Annie"

He is a steady worker with a high aim. Indeed he has "the heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, and the hand to execute."

BEULAH BALDEREE - Dallas, Ore.

"Beulah"

A fine consecrated Christian girl. Is now taking special training in San Francisco.

VERNE BAIN - - Tillamook, Ore.

"Beanie"

Persistency has won for "Beanie" distinction as a scholar, renown as an athlete, fame as an arguer, and Polly as a fusser.

WALL ULAH

JOSEPHINE BAUMGARTNER Salem, Ore.

"Jo"

This clever little lady isn't noted as a fusser at Willamette. We rather suspect there's a reason down at Oregon.

RODNEY ALDEN - - Salem, Ore.

"Rodney"

The Editor.

RUTH BEDFORD - - Salem, Ore.

"Rufus"

Playing on the piano is not the only art Ruth is versed in. Making and keeping friends is another at which she is very adept.

CLIFFORD BERRY - Spokane, Wn.

"Cliff"

Cliff can twang a wicked banjo. Can't decide which he likes better—jazz or girls—so he majors in both. When he finds time to study, he fools the pros into thinking he knows a lot.

MAE BEISELL - Wenatchee, Wn.

"Mae"

Her grades are all E's. Mae is a zealous Christian worker and has dedicated her voice to Christian service.

FREDA BECK - - Milwaukie, Ore.

"Fritz"

Freda is a real student, yet she is full of life and is a good sport.

CHARLES GILCHRIST - Silverton, Ore.

"Gilchrist"

He doesn't say much but it takes his old friends to praise him.

LILLIAN COOPER - Pilot Rock, Ore.

"Lillian"

There is a lot of originality in this co-ed, with enough reserve to make it delightful.

RAYMOND GANZANS - Lewiston, Idaho

"Ganz"

If he's not on the football field, you can find him at Lausanne Hall. Sometimes seen in a class-room.

GRACE BRAINERD - Salem, Ore.

"Grace"

One of those rare personalities possessing all the qualities which constitute "charm" according to Prof. Matthews' formulas.

NELL FAKE - - - Salem, Ore.

"Nell"

If you think she is quiet you're apt to be surprised at the variety of things she does and the clever way in which she does them.

EDGAR BROCK - Oregon City, Ore.

"Edgar"

Plans to be a Methodist minister some day. He has a good chance for success, if perseverance and determination count for anything.

JAMIE FARMER - McMinnville, Ore.

"Jim"

Quite independent and hard to get acquainted with. The friends she does make are loyal and true.

LUTHER COOK - - - Salem, Ore.

"Cook"

Last year's stern librarian; this year he is more genial but as studious as ever. His wife's husband whom she is always looking for.

JOHN BROUGHER - Scotts Mills, Ore.

"John"

A brilliant mind lies behind his quiet manner. He is studying to be a doctor and great things can be expected of him in the future.

MARTHA FERGUSON - Hood River, Ore.

"Marty"

Is blessed with that rare gift of a low, soft voice so pleasing in woman. Martha is very prominent in dramatic work.

VERNE FERGUSON - Bremerton, Wn.

"Fergy"

"Everybody up and let's give 'em a big Bearcat." The minute Fergie appeared on the campus we knew he was a prince of a chap, but we didn't know he was a king in disguise.

EVELYN DE MOSS - Portland, Ore.

"Fat Rascal"

Rather serious about her studies, more so about her "steady," and seems to enjoy both.

TRUMAN COLLINS - Portland, Ore.

"Babe"

He looks innocent but he really knows a lot. The splendid management of this Wallulah is a witness to his ability to accomplish big tasks.

GENEVIEVE FINDLEY - Salem, Ore.

"Gen"

She is in her element when it comes to playing a piano. "For she is jes' the quiet kind, whose natures never vary. Like streams that keep a summer mind snow hid in January."

WILLARD LAWSON - Blanchard, Wn.

"Bill"

All mankind loves a lover—that's one reason we like Bill. If he always plays the game as he does on the gridiron, and perseveres until he wins as he does in love, then life will hold success for Bill.

VESTA DICKS - Lakeview, Ore.

"Dicky"

If to have a friend is to be a friend, no one has more friends than Dicky. Made her debut at Willamette by killing all the rats in Old Lausanne.

LOLA HOUSLEY - Salem, Ore.

"Lodee"

Latin is anything but a dead language to this lively maiden—as is everything else. Life to her is interesting because she is so interested in life.

J. STANFORD MOORE - Salem, Ore.

"Stan"

A new member of the class. One of his claims for fame is his charming family. (Yes, he is married).

HELEN HARDY - Salem, Ore.

"Helen"

Excels in the platform art. A democratic girl—ready to go more than half way in making and being a friend.

ALTA KERSHNER - - - Salem, Ore.

"Alta"

A girl of high aspirations and a bright outlook on life. She is thoroughly dependable and when she has something to do, puts forth every effort to do it well.

FRANCIS KINCH - - - Snohomish, Wn.

"Kinch"

Who would guess him to be a preacher? We are sure he'll be a good one because that's the way he does everything—even fussing.

LOIS GEDDES - - - Roseburg, Ore.

"Pickles"

Altogether adorable. Her every motion is sprightly and animated. Lois is very capable, too.

FERN GLEISER - - - Palouse, Wn.

"Furnace"

Here's a pal if there ever was one. True blue all the way through. On deck when it comes to a good time.

WALDO KELSO - - - Yakima, Wn.

"Prof"

Has decided to stay in school another year. We suspect a certain Lausanne maiden knows the reason why.

HOWARD GEORGE - Wenatchee, Wn.

"Stubby"

Took up varsity debating to learn how to propose. Now he's dropped that and taken up athletics to learn how to hold his own.

THELMA MILLS - Forest Grove, Ore.

"Thelma"

Coming from Pacific University in her Junior year, Thelma has lived up to her reputation of doing things well. Noted, too, for her natural marcel.

DEANE HATTON - - Spokane, Wn.

"Deanie"

Although a trifle "moody" has gained many friends through her personality and friendly spirit. "A merry heart goes all the way."

DAVE ELLIS - - - Salem, Ore.

"Dave"

Has a quiet romantic nature which attracts fair hearts. Although he doesn't make much fuss about it, he likes fun and has his share if any is going on.

MARY ELIZABETH HUNT Spokane, Wn.

"Beth"

Mary Elizabeth is a happy mixture of dignity, friendliness and charm. And on top of all that, she has beauty. "Her very frowns are fairer far than smiles of other maidens are."

LEON JENNISON - - Salem, Ore.

"Jenny"

Jenny likes the ladies and they like him. Famed for his tie and the time he took thirteen girls to a Phil Joint. He is right there if you want something original.

FAYE McKINNIS - - Wallowa, Ore.

"Bobby"

Petite and sweet, usually quiet but likes to "Bob" around now and then.

BERNADINE HOBBS - Walla Walla, Wn.

"Berny"

A new addition to the class of '23. Holds her place with a smile.

ESTHER ROEDER - - Salem, Ore.

"Esther Roeder"

Not quite quiet enough to hide a pleasing personality, but quite quiet enough to make her personality pleasing.

ERMA HARDIN - - Spokane, Wn.

"Erma"

An attractive and pleasant girl who has won many friends since coming to Willamette. She is one of the few women, who for various reasons, is a Willamette Wesleyan.

IDA NISWONGER - - Bend, Ore.

"Ikey"

Ida is quiet and studious yet friendly and pleasant with everyone. There's a reason why she decided to give up studying medicine, perhaps she is going to take a course from Miss Fake.

WILLIS VINSON - - Portland, Ore.

"Bill"

Bill does every task given to him with a pep and a spirit which accomplishes much. It can be said that he possesses all a "Bearcat" should.

BRUCE PUTNAM - - Salem, Ore.

"Bruce"

A girl of whom we'll all be proud to say "she was a class mate of mine." Already high on the ladder of fame.

HAROLD RICHARDS - Bremerton, Wn.

"Rich"

Likes to talk, but generally has something good to talk about, as his nickname indicates. He is a good business man.

CLARA SMITH - - Kennewick, Wn.

"Clara"

She is so quiet and unassuming that a casual observer never suspects how much she loves her friends. Glad to be at Wilamette.

HELEN HOOVER - - Portland, Ore.

"Judy"

You're pretty apt to be shocked until you know her and then you're bound to love her even if it does bore her.

CHARLES McCLELLAND - Salem, Ore.

"Chuck"

Chuck is a mighty peppy addition to our class. Seems to have recovered bravely from his pessimistic attitude of earlier days.

HELEN McINTURFF - Spokane, Wn.

"Helen"

As manager of the Ladies' Glee Club, Helen has had lots of experience taking care of "bills." She is full of pep as well as "sugar and spice and everything nice."

EVERETT LISLE - - - Salem, Ore.

"Everett"

Has enough dash and pep for the whole class. He is a bright and shining light in the library when Zeda is there.

LILA MARCEY - - - Salem, Ore.

"Lila"

Her friendly smile brings cheer to those around her. Lila is a good student and a loyal supporter of the class of '23.

JOHN ROBINS - - - Canby, Ore.

"Johnny"

Here's a man who has absorbed an abundance of Willamette spirit during his college years. Generous and obliging, even to the ladies.

PAULINE McCLINTOCK - Weed, Cal.

"Polly"

The bane of her life is being teased, but she always takes it good naturedly and continues happily onward with her Domestic Science Course.

LAURA HOYT - - - Salem, Ore.

"Billie Burke"

Laura reminds one of a demure, old-fashioned girl. Modest—yes, but withal talented, pretty and capable.

WILLIAM PATTY - - - Amity, Ore.

"Patty"

Is in his element when dressed for a masquerade. Has many friends because he is glad to be friendly.

ESTHER McCRACKEN - Prosser, Wn.

"Esther"

Energy and Esther should be synonyms. Does everything well—which includes being a chum of all on the campus.

PAULINE REMINGTON - Salem, Ore.

"Remy"

A stunning girl. Her head is full of clever ideas and she is perfectly capable of carrying them out.

EARL COTTON - - Salem, Ore.

"Earl"

This young theolog, although more actively interested elsewhere, still goes to Willamette and still takes a lively interest in Willamette affairs. A genuine friend and a real booster.

PAULINE RICKLI - Garden Spring, Cal.

"Mussie"

"I bane Swade from Minnesota." No dull minutes with Pauline around. She particularly enjoys arguing with Prof. Sherman.

ELTON VON ESCHEN - Salem, Ore.

"Little Von"

A persistent youth. He learned the ton-sorial art by practicing on himself. A sure friend when once made.

MYRTLE RICHARDSON - Salem, Ore.

"Myrtle"

We might go on forever, thinking Myrtle a quiet girl and unassuming miss were it not for her tell tale locks.

MELBA SANDERS - - Newberg, Ore.

"Melba"

A girl of strong character, who has studious tendencies yet possesses the truly friendly Willamette spirit.

PRICE - - - - Salem, Ore.

"Price"

Here is a young lawyer who is not very much in evidence, but he finds some time to be a real Willamette man.

SADIE PRATT - - Portland, Ore.

"Sad"

People have a hard time pleasing Sadie, yet we are all only too anxious to make the effort. One of her pet aversions seems to be the subject of plane geometry.

GENEVIEVE PHILLIPS - Salem, Ore.

"Gen"

Her sprightly temperament and her wholehearted personality go hand in hand to make Genevieve one whose friendship is prized.

ELMER STREVEY - Kennewick, Wn.

"Blondy"

Elmer has many admirable qualities—he sings, is handsome, is a good fusser, and above all, possesses an enviable marcel. Long may it wave!

WINIFRED ST. CLAIR - Gresham, Ore.

"Win"

A personality which is pleasingly restful and tactful in helping people. Win always has the best of style in her clothes.

ALVIN ROOKSTOOL - Walla Walla, Wn.

"Rook"

Although we don't see much of him (the call of the home) we know he plays football and does all else he can to help the school along.

RUTH JOANNA SMITH - Dallas, Ore.

"Jo"

One would like to call her "Glorianna" because of her glorious hair. Possesses a keen mind and a strong character.

LYMAN MARSTERS - - Halsey, Ore.

"Lyman"

Lyman is always ready with a song or smile. You never see him crabby or cross, that's one reason we like him.

LOUISE SCHREIBER - Salem, Ore.

"Louise"

Louise has one of the readiest and sweetest smiles on the campus. 'Tis a privilege to call her "friend."

WALTER SOCOLOFSKY - Salem, Ore.

"Soco"

He is not as "tough" as he tries to appear. Soc is well filling his place in both football and basketball.

RUBY ROSENKRANZ - Colfax, Wn.

"Rosy"

An excellent student in the Public Speaking Department. Likes to debate and orate and prefers as her special friends those who are likewise gifted.

ESTHER PAROUNAGIAN - Amity, Ore.

"Esther"

This piquant lass is a rare combination of beauty and brains, originality and wit. To think that one mere man should have a corner on such a girl!

LLOYD WALTZ - - - Salem, Ore.

"Two Step"

His affinity for work and his ability to accomplish things makes this energetic youth valuable wherever he is found.

MILDRED STREVEY - Kennewick, Wn.

"Mid"

Pep personified is our song queen. She fairly radiates enthusiasm and good nature.

ROY SKEEN - - Powell Butte, Ore.

"Roy"

Tall, dark, stately—that's Roy. Aspires to be a second John Drew. Likes jewelry—especially rubies.

MILDRED STEVENS - Hillyard, Wn.

"Mid"

This dark-eyed, dark-haired miss is always full of vivacity and always enjoys a good time.

BRUCE WHITE - - Poulson, Mont.

"Bruce"

"I'll try anything once" is Bruce's motto, and some things once tried are oft repeated. Being a preacher's son he is a firm believer in Grace, before, after and between meals if possible.

CORNELIA WIDMAN - Rosalia, Wn.

"Cornelia"

Conscientious in all she does, has taught school, but enjoys going to school as well.

EVA RANDALL - - Salem, Ore.

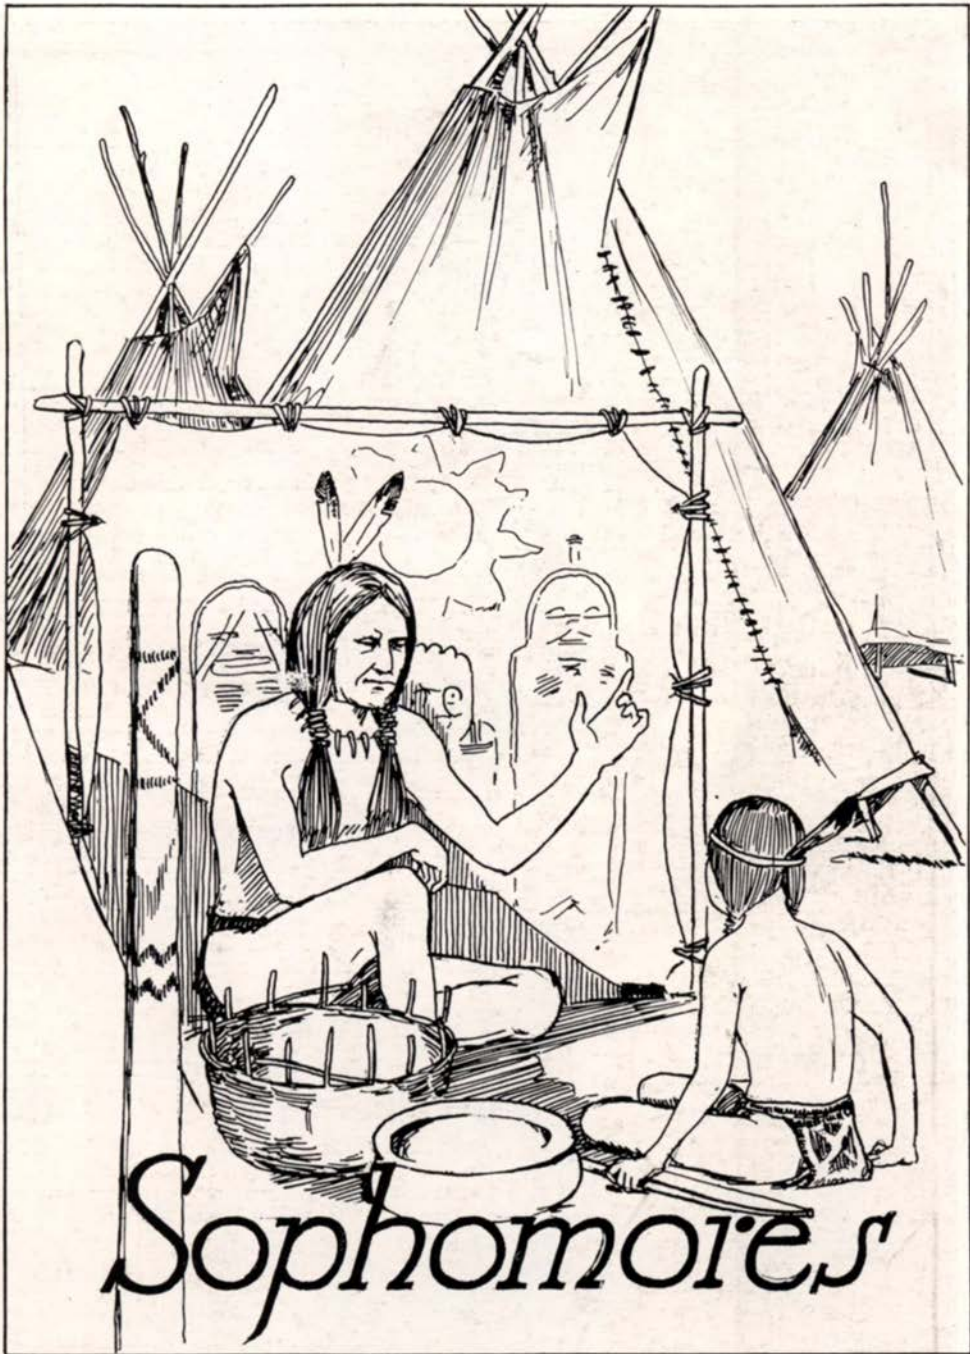

"Eva"

Though she certainly doesn't look like a school marm, we have evidences that she makes a mighty good one. Reviews the student's viewpoint occasionally.

The Class of 1924

THE class of 1924 entered Willamette with very little stir. As Freshmen we were known for our quietness. For this we make no apology. Rather, knowing that normal growth begins quietly, we take pride in it. Nevertheless, we performed the regular duties of Freshmen efficiently and admirably proving that we possessed capability and talent which needed only time to develop into greatness.

When our Sophomore year began, we found our numbers greatly diminished. However, we bravely set out to teach our green-capped successors Willamette spirit. And we found that, in spite of the handicap of what might be termed a transition period in school management, '24 was indeed growing in strength and pep. We believe that this spirit should manifest itself in class loyalty which is subordinate to Willamette spirit. And so we have turned this power into interclass rivalry and made a creditable score. Basketball has always been our specialty but it finds a close rival in track. Then, too, we are developing new talent which has helped us to contribute a worthy share to W. U., various activities.

Now, when we are about to leave the ranks of underclassmen to accept the responsibility of Juniors, we feel that our training of the past two years will be a valuable asset. And then, as now, we will strive to be true to our motto "to be worthy of Willamette as the class of '24."

The Class of 1925

THERE are only two kinds of Freshman classes at Willamette: a class which progresses slowly, steadily and modestly, and a class which, beginning with fire and spirit, takes the school by storm and continues its triumphal march to graduation. The class of '25 is undoubtedly of this latter order.

It organized itself with a swiftness and co-operation unusual in such a large class, and began its career on the campus of Willamette University with a clear determination to win the respect of the whole school, Sophomores not excepted. As a proof of the last statement, a time-worn custom of the Sophomores was broken. Instead of waiting for the upperclass command to clean the campus, under the careful supervision an early morning raking party was held by the Freshmen; consequently the school was agreeably surprised to see the campus again in its natural coat of the Freshmen's characteristic color. After this ingenious bit of forethought had been executed, the only thing necessary to raise the class pride to its highest level was to win the bag-rush, which they did with their usual energetic dispatch.

This class has not only proved its worth to the school, but to the satisfaction of the Freshmen themselves. The class of '25 has started more than well.

Kimball School of Theology

KIMBALL SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY was organized January 31, 1906, by Dr. Henry D. Kimball. The school building was the gift of his wife, Mrs. Luella D. Kimball. It is located on the campus of Willamette University and the two schools co-operate in the exchange of courses but are wholly independent in business administration.

After the retirement of Dr. Kimball in 1914, Dr. H. J. Talbot became president of the school until his death in 1920. The third president, Dr. E. C. Hickman, was elected on January 1, 1921.

The enrollment now numbers ninety-one, an increase of 100 per cent over last year. Many of these are Life Service recruits from Willamette University who are taking major work in Religion.

First Row—Paul Green, Erwin G. Ranton, David Hassel, Merrill Fox
 Second Row—George Brown, Milford Forsyth, Murray Keefer, Alfred S. Bates, Earl Cotton
 Third Row—Roland Stiel, Ralph Thomas, P. M. Blenkinsop, E. C. Hickman, Earl McAbee, Earl Officer

Kimball Glee Club

THE GLEE CLUB of Kimball School of Theology was organized in October, 1921, with P. M. Blenkinsop as president. President E. O. Hickman is acting as director. In January the club sang at the sessions of the Centenary Conference in Portland and pleased all who heard them. The first full program was given at the Boys' Industrial School near Salem in March. Other concerts are being planned for Newberg, Portland and Salem.

Freshman Glee

FRESHMAN GLEE! What memories of forgotten lessons, 5:30 practices, added worries and class competition these words call up. Willamette instituted the custom of Freshman Glee, an inter-class song contest, in 1912, and every year has added four new songs to our rich store. Thus the Glee gives a fine opportunity to develop the musical and poetical geniuses, adds a bit of melody to "show" to our visiting opponents and affords a few days of real get together for the members of the different classes, a chance to know each other better and like each other more.

The contest this year was one of the closest in years and the Seniors took first place with their song, "Willamette Conqueror." The ranking of the contestants was as follows: Seniors, 81 2-3; Juniors, 81 1-12; Sophomores, 79 1-3; Freshmen, 81 1-4.

Willamette Conqueror

By Fred McGrew

I.

Hail, Willamette, sturdy conqueror,
Rising proudly toward the sky;
Reigning with majestic scepter,
Thou dost manhood glorify.
Queenly art thou, born in glory,
Lighted by the sun's last ray,
'Ere he dips into the ocean
At the close of each new day.
Our valley green which bears thy title,
Rich in field and fertile land,
Yields no wealth that meets in grandeur
That strong soul wrought by thy hand.

II.

Hail, Willamette, dauntless champion,
Full endowed to lead the West.
Humbly born to serve the needy,
Stands unconquered by the best.
How I love my Alma Mater,
Her deep purpose and true aim:
Thrills the soul with love and rapture,
Just to contemplate her name.
Rise ye world and pay her tribute,
Bow your head before her shrine;
She, twice blessed of earth and heaven;
Old Willamette, ever mine.

Chorus—

Her's is vict'ry
Courage! warriors—
None can trample
On her name;
Catch the spirit of our fathers.
Blaze a trail where others fear:
Know ye not the Gold and Card'nal
Seeks for conquest? Knows no peer?
On to triumph,
Alma Mater,
There is naught can
Mar thy fame.

The Public Speaking Department

DURING the year the Public Speaking Department has presented several recitals and plays. The recitals, which were given in co-operation with the Music Department, were made up of numbers by pupils in all grades of the work. Of especial interest were the plays which were directed by student coaches. In most of the productions the students who directed also took leading parts.

"The Doll's House" by Ibsen was perhaps the most important work attempted. This was directed by Miss Lucile Tucker who also played the part of Nora. "The Twig of Thorne," a pleasing Irish playlet, was coached by Miss Martha Mallory. Miss Mallory well portrayed the character of the Irish heroine. Professor Harding was the author of "The Consuming Flame" which was given under the direction of Elgie Altimus. These productions have brought forward much dramatic talent which gives good promise for similar work next year.

The Willamette Collegian

WILLAMETTE prides herself on her Collegian and this year has seen many new features added. Perhaps the most important of these, from the standpoint of securing the most efficient workers, is the official Collegian award. This consists of a "C" pin which is awarded upon the recommendation of the editor, to not more than 40 per cent of the staff, this number being chosen on a basis of accuracy and quality of work done.

The inauguration of a definite staff organization with regular meetings aids the editor to keep in closer touch with his assistants. Not the least important of the new features is the admittance to the Pacific Coast Inter-Collegiate Press Association Service. This includes the Collegian in the list of foremost college journals in the West, and brings to Willamette news of what other colleges are doing and hope to do.

Much credit is due to both the editor and the manager for their efficient handling of this Associated Student Body's thermometer of campus life.

IT IS apparently one of the established customs of Willamette that the Wallulah Staff always apologizes for its publication. While we regret that we were unable to offer a better volume than we have, still we would like to call your attention to a few things that are really worthy of praise. We think, for example, that the drawings are very good. They were done by Dean Pollock, '22, and Margaret Legge, '22. We also think that the cartoons are wonderfully clever and well drawn. For them we are indebted to John Lawson, ex '24.

Aside from these outstanding virtues we stand ready to apologize for all the faults that our offering may contain. And we might remark in passing, although not by way of alibi, that we would never advise another Wallulah Staff to attempt to get a publication out by May Day.

A brief word seems necessary in regard to the inner workings of the editorial staff. On April 11th, Miss Grace Brainerd assumed full charge and was the de facto editor from that date on.

Girls' Willamette Club

IT IS the aim of the Girls' Willamette Club to foster the spirit of democracy on the campus and to uphold and perpetuate Willamette standards and traditions. Besides the exercises for Jason Lee on Memorial Day, the Club manages the annual Co-ed Carnival, at which this year a silver vase, given by Valitons' was awarded to the winning stunt on the three points: beauty, originality, and perfectness. Two new orchestras, composed of girls, added to the fair.

This event affords to the women of Willamette a splendid opportunity for enriching their friendship with each other and becoming acquainted with the faculty ladies.

In addition to the social activities, the club has procured necessities for the girls in Eaton Hall. They have also incorporated an athletic association within the club whereby the girls will be able to earn awards as the men earn official "W."

Washingtonians

THE WASHINGTONIAN SOCIETY is an organization composed of nearly one hundred Willamette students who come from all parts of the state of Washington. Its purpose is to foster a spirit of friendship among its members and to serve as an active agency in bringing other Washington people to Willamette. On February twenty-second of each year the Washingtonians prepare a banquet to which all of the students of the university are invited and which is one of the biggest events of the social year.

Every year brings an increasing number of students from the state up north, who soon become upholders of Willamette Spirit and who are anxious to contribute the best they have to the good of the Old School.

The officers for the year were: President, Noble Moodhe; vice-president, Jewel Cox; secretary and treasurer, Albert Geyer.

Willamette Wesleyans

ALTHOUGH one of the youngest of the campus organizations, the Willamette Wesleyans already show promise of successfully filling a need. Their permanent organization was completed November 10, 1921, and their purpose, as stated then, is to assist Willamette students in preparing for Christian service in America, by study and fellowship.

Philodorians - Philodosians

THE Philodosian-Philodorian societies were among the first literary societies on the Willamette campus and the only original ones surviving. The Philodorians were organized in 1882 and the Philodosians in 1883.

It has been Phil policy to establish firmly the principle of "quality, not quantity" and to instill into the members a desire for knowledge, an appreciation of a good time, and the inspiration to help others and be loyal to ourselves. Phil records show many old members in responsible and honored positions who, too, wear the little symbol of the circle of friendship shot through with the bar of love.

Websterian - Adelante

THE Adelante and Websterian Literary societies strive to ever instill the best things of life into the hearts of the members, impressing each to live his best for Willamette and progress in character, poise and efficiency. The Websterian society embodies the principle adhered to by Daniel Webster—"American Brotherhood," and aims to imbue every member with the power to think and speak fluently and coherently while on his feet, feel at ease before the public, conduct meetings with parliamentary precision, and at all times use the discretion necessary to leadership.

Chrestophilian - Chrestomathean

THE Chrestophilian and Chrestomathean societies were organized as affiliated societies in 1916 to fill the need which existed for new literary organizations. Since that time their record has been one of constant progress. They now own their own halls, which are attractively decorated both inside and outside, located on the campus among the maple trees, to the east of Eaton Hall. Their membership has been and is well represented in the many student activities of the school. The best in the way of valuable literary training and wholesome social activity is promoted in these societies.

Lincolnian

THE Lincolnians came into being in 1919 and since that inception, the Lincolnian name has stood for a small group of earnest and unassuming students, never many in number, but always high in ideals and strong in spirit.

Like the gaunt and homely railsplitter whose name they bear, many of the members have developed unguessed talents from within, as they strive to uphold the three-fold aim expressed by Abraham Lincoln, in the three words: Patriotism, Education, and Christianity, a whole-souled and inclusive Patriotism, a broad and socializing Education, and a modern and helpful Christianity.

FEELING the necessity of a new organization to better serve the needs of the women on the campus, the Clionian Literary Society was founded. The aim of the society is to promote all things that are beneficial and to, at all times, aid in the furtherance of the best in Willamette University.

The democratic ideals which are such an essential part of W. U. and her traditions was used as a foundation, and with such a foundation as this, there is no doubt but that this society will attain that goal to which it aspires.

Athletics

Coach Roy Bohler

A CERTAIN period of depression is bound to follow a change in coach. Especially when the man to leave is so popular as was Coach Mathews, is this true. Therefore, following immediately such a coach, Roy Bohler has had an exceedingly hard task. And be it said to his credit that the difficulties of his position have daunted him not at all, but he has entered into his work with the utmost in honesty of effort and sincerity of purpose. Willamette has never had a harder-working coach than Bohler. Not only was he compelled to labor under the handicap of the reaction following the loss of Coach Mathews, but the burning of the gymnasium and all the athletic equipment during the previous spring also had its own dampening effect. In the face of these obstacles Bohler has worked steadily on, giving his utmost for the best interests of athletics at Willamette. But the darkest days are past, plans are on foot for the building of a new gym in the near future and the athletic outlook at Willamette appears bright.

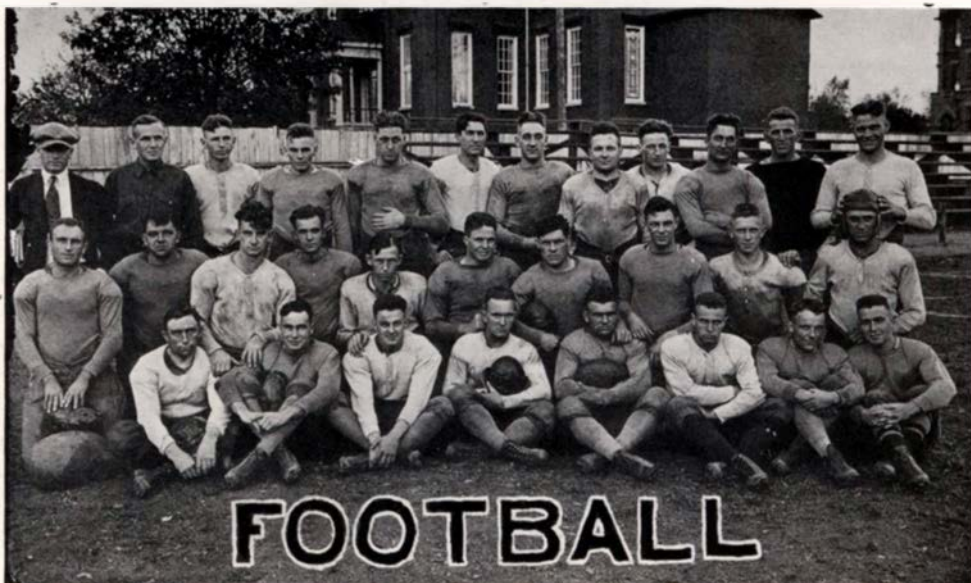

"Prospects"

The Bearcats are now looking forward to the coming year with high expectations. The disadvantages of working without the use of a gymnasium are to be overcome. An excellent, modern, and well equipped building is to be constructed in the near future.

Only a few of the letter men in the various sports will graduate, and other very promising material has come to take the place of those who are leaving.

A period of depression necessarily followed the change in the coaching system, but the Willamette spirit is steadily reviving. All the various forms of jinx have been trailed to their lairs and thoroughly exterminated. The Bearcats are now out to demonstrate their fighting ability.

WALLULAH

ZELLER

Captain Zeller's three seasons of varsity football have not dimmed the brilliancy of his work. As a result of the confidence placed in him and the inspiration he has been to his fellow players, Fat has been re-elected to the captaincy of the team.

OREGON VS. WILLAMETTE

ALTHOUGH outweighed by at least twenty pounds, Willamette's Bearcats held their opponents to a 7 to 3 victory in the initial contest of the season. The two institutions had not met in a gridiron encounter for a number of years, but in spite of the lack of "dope" predictions were freely made that the state school would walk away with long end of a one-sided score. "Shy" Huntington brought some thirty men to Salem with the expectation of letting them all get a little practice, but the game had scarcely begun when it became obvious that the supporters of the Lemon and Green had made a few miscalculations. The lighter Willamette team had a distinct advantage in the dryness of the field, and the Bearcats were able to make up in speed what they lacked in weight. Bohler put on the field a team composed as nearly as possible of last year's veterans, who fought in true Willamette style.

Penalties for offside play were numerous. Twice Willamette blocked and recovered punts in the shadow of the Oregon goal, threatening to cross for the six markers. The first time a 15-yard penalty for holding was inflicted and then Oregon recovered a fumble, and the second opportunity was converted via Tuffy's toe into three points. In the third quarter Oregon carried the ball over for a touchdown, making the final score, U. of O. 1, W. U. 3.

WALLULAH

RAREY

Rarey's last year for the Bearcats was his best. A real fight makes the battle worth while.

BARNES

Being injured early in the season, Ralph had only a couple of chances to help the team with his fight and spirit. He was sorely missed at end.

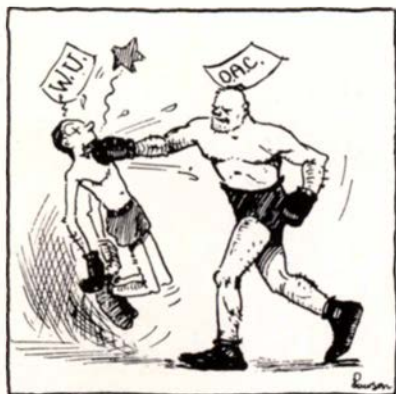

LAWSON

The strain of many battles kept the Big Swede out of a few contests, but has not impaired his ability to fight and to play football.

O. A. C. VS. WILLAMETTE

OREGON didn't expect a hard game, but got it—O. A. C. expected a hard game, but didn't get it. The field that had a week before been perfectly dry was now thick with mud. Several changes had been made in the Willamette line-up. In fact at no time were the Aggies faced by the same first team that had met Oregon the week before. The old men fought, and the new men fought, but after the first few minutes, weight and experience began to tell the inevitable tale. The Beavers plowed through the Bearcat defense almost at will, and the Bearcats' speed was of no avail on the muddy field.

However, the exhibition of pep and gameness displayed by the Willamette team throughout the four quarters of fearful battering would cheer any loyal heart. Spectacular plays many times brought the crowd to its feet. The dashing defense of Captain Zeller coupled with Barnes' scrappy playing at right end many times foiled the ambitions of the Aggie backs, but their weight and power was not to be denied and the Bearcats were crushed under it. Willamette also had the serious disadvantage of meeting O. A. C. when the Aggies were at their best, while the Bearcats were somewhat disabled by previous injuries. Final score: O. A. C. 54, W. U. 0.

WHITE

White is another vet from Coach Mathews' teams. At all times his opponent had a real man to take care of.

BAIN

"Beanie" is a veteran of two seasons. On the field or in the classroom an argument is an argument.

RAMSEY

Ramsey has a wicked pair of hands and knows how to use them. He has never yet met the lineman who could take advantage of his size.

CHEMAWA VS. WILLAMETTE

THE Bearcats again scalped the Chemawa Braves, taking them into camp to the tune of 15 to 7. The first half would have disheartened any but the sturdiest of fighters. It was a succession of plots by the twins Ill-luck and Inexperience. A blocked punt gave Chemawa the ball only four yards from the Willamette goal line. Three bucks netted the four yards and Chemawa kicked the goal. The first half ended with the score 7 to 0 against the Bearcats. This was not to last, however. They came back in the second half with the old fight and spirit which spell nothing but victory. A series of brilliant off-tackle bucks and end-runs gave Willamette two touchdowns and placed the ball for the third time on the Chemawa 35-yard line. From this point Isham booted over another three points.

During the last few minutes of play Chemawa made desperate efforts to break away by means of passes. Two were completed for good gains, but Barnes intercepted the next, and Dunnette punted out of danger. The only real fight of the season outside of the Oregon game was shown during this clash. The Bearcats seemed to snap out of their slump for two quarters, and showed a spurt of the old Willamette fight which was so characteristic last year. The final score was Chemawa 7, Willamette 15.

WALL ULAH

SOCOLOFSKY

Soc's first season on the varsity. He used his weight and many would-be tacklers wondered what hit them.

RICHARDS

It was a good man who got around Rich for an end-run. He also is a fast man under punts and going down for passes.

MOODY

Moody's weight was a welcome addition to the center of a light line. Johnny is a hard man to dislodge when he once gets settled.

PACIFIC VS. WILLAMETTE

AFTER outplaying the visitors for two quarters Willamette succumbed to an aerial attack in the third session. Willamette seemed powerless to solve Pacific's pass system. In the first quarter Zeller carried the ball over for the first score after a spectacular run, Wolf retaliated a few minutes later after completing a long pass. In the second quarter Isham raised the W. U. tally to 10 by a 30-yard drop-kick. Pacific's emissaries came back after the intermission with blood in their eyes, and three times, by means of cleverly executed passes, crossed Willamette's goal line. The dopesters awarded Pacific with 330 yards gained and Willamette with 345, but the score-keeper announced 27 to 10, marking Pacific's first victory over Willamette for as long as records are available.

The Bearcats played a steady game on the line, made more yardage than Pacific, but seemed unable to stand the test at the critical moment. P. U. showed good generalship in that after she discovered the Bearcat's weak point to be passes, she refrained from using them often enough for her opponents to become familiar with them, but saved them until they would score. During the third quarter she turned loose a succession of passes that seemed to demoralize the Willamette backfield. The final score: P. U. 27, W. U. 10.

WALLULAH

PATTON

Pat's punting toe was an important part of the Bearcat defense. This youth has two more years for the Cardinal and Gold.

ISHAM

This Freshman promises much. His drop-kicking toe is a great asset. Ishie has designs on Tuffy Irvin's old job.

CAREY

Another Freshman who made good. Had a hard job, but did it. Carey has three more years in which to develop.

WALLA WALLA

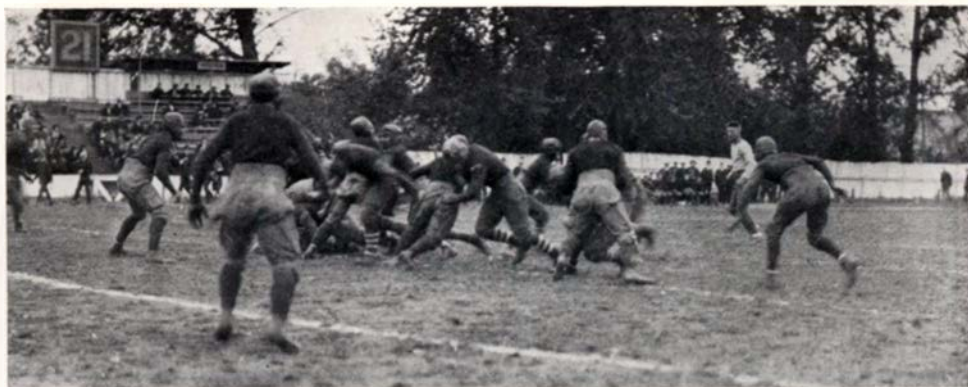

WHITMAN VS. WILLAMETTE

thought he stepped out of bounds, and called him back. Whitman made most of her yardage by straight line bucks, taking advantage of her heavy backfield.

Willamette's line, which had been considered her strongest point, seemed weak during this game; or perhaps Whitman's backfield was exceptionally strong. At any rate, during the fatal third quarter Whitman seemed to pierce the Bearcat line almost at will, for five and six yard gains.

The game was played on a dry and dusty field, a new experience for the Bearcats. A strong wind whipped the dust into the eyes of the players, and worked havoc with well-intentioned punts. The final score: Whitman 25, Willamette 0.

C. P. S. VS. WILLAMETTE

TURKEY DAY saw another team take her first victory from Willamette. The Bearcats journeyed to Tacoma, where they met the C. P. S. gridsters on a slippery, muddy field. The game was marked by numerous costly fumbles by Willamette men, while all the breaks went to C. P. S. Twice in the first quarter Bearcat backs fumbled the ball inside their own twenty-yard line; twice C. P. S. scooped the ball for a touchdown. Between halves a veritable torrent of rain poured onto the field, leaving pools of water, and making it well-nigh impossible to keep footing. Willamette came back fighting in the second half and forced over a touchdown, but too late in the game. The final score was 18 to 7 in favor of the College of Puget Sound.

The string of defeats this season seemed to have sapped the fight from the Bearcats, leaving them slow and erratic and lacking in punch. The many numerous changes in the line-up seemed to spoil the unity and teamwork of the organization. But football at Willamette cannot remain at such a low ebb. Upward reaction is due, and the Bearcats will retrieve this season's losses. At 'em Bearcats!

W. BRYAN MCKITTRICK

Athletic Manager, First Semester

The athletic manager faced a difficult situation in the 1921-22 athletic season. The fire destroyed all equipment, dressing and locker rooms, showers, and, in fact, everything but the bare field. But Mac drove into his task with all the energy and enthusiasm of which he was capable. He arranged for the erection of temporary showers in the basement of Waller Hall, and the use of two rooms in the same building for dressing rooms. It was also largely through his efforts that the University was able to secure steel lockers at a remarkably low price from the Government.

Not satisfied with this routine work, Mac wrote an individual letter to each man of last year's football squad, urging them to return as early as possible and emphasizing the need for co-operation with the new coach. Nor did Mac slacken in his efforts when the season began. He could be found at almost any hour on the athletic field, working on the new bleachers, repairing the fence, or directing the Frosh in marking off the field.

JAMES C. CAUGHLIN

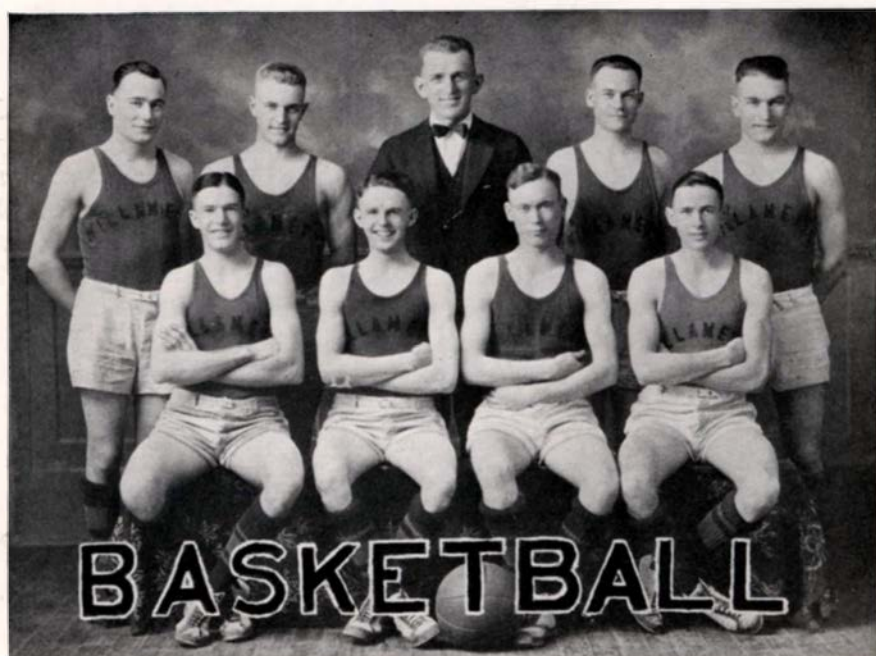

Athletic Manager, Second Semester

When McKittrick gave up his position as Athletic Manager in the middle of the basketball season, Coughlin stepped into his shoes. This change was not so disastrous as might be expected, for "Coffee" had been Mac's right hand man since the start of the basketball season, and already had a good grasp of the situation from the managerial standpoint. He carried the season through to a successful finish in the State Interscholastic Basketball Tournament.

Then "Coffee" started work on Track, Baseball and Tennis. The diamond was put in shape, new track equipment secured to replace that lost in the fire, and the tennis courts resurfaced with asphalt.

DIMICK

Guard

"Squint" is a veteran of three years and a rarin' to go Bearcat. Coach Bohler picked him for a position on his mythical all-Northwest team. Little tricks like nailing a basket from the jump-off against an Idaho player twice his size are nothing for this young man.

THE Bearcats faced a very heavy schedule in basketball with only two letter men, Dimick and Gillette, as a nucleus. Doney and Socolofsky, from last year's second squad, and Logan and Patton, from the Frosh team of last year, were moved up to the varsity. They all played like veterans and with any luck at all in locating the basket would have decisively beaten most of the teams played. The floor work of the Bearcats was far better than that of any other squad which performed on the local floor during the season. However, they were woefully weak at hitting the basket or possibly a consistent jinx pervaded the Bearcat camp all season. The last two games with Oregon might be regarded as exceptions to this for we witnessed a complete reversal of form and Jeter, Squint and Hugh ended their varsity basketball careers in a blaze of flashy and triumphant playing. A very interesting encounter was the annual Alumni game. The has-beens gathered the strongest quintet possible and invaded the Bearcat floor. Numbered among the former greats were Rein Jackson, stellar center of the team of 1920; Rarey and McKittrick, of the same team, and Davies, Sparks and the redoubtable Tuffy Irvine. Tuffy and Mac can only qualify as Alumni on their records as athletes but they helped considerably in testing the mettle of the younger generation of Bearcats. The Jackson, Rarey, McKittrick combination threatened to upset the aspirations of the young hopefuls but Jeter and Logan overcame the lead which had been piled up and the younger generation romped home winners 25 to 20. Of interest to many was the failure of Rus to loop in his two customary points from mid-floor—perhaps he forgot to pack a rabbit's foot.

Bearcat hopes soared when Whitman College was met and defeated in the first conference game. The Bearcats piled up an early lead of 10 points but in the second half allowed this to be cut down and overcome. Fighting to the end, they managed to work the ball down the floor and Patton came through with the needed two points just before the gun sounded. The following night, Friday the thirteenth, was too much for the Bearcats. They took a nap of sufficient length in the first half to allow the Whitman players to gain a commanding lead. They fought back and, playing an uphill game, scored more points than Whitman in the second half, but were nosed out by the score of 24 to 20. Another instance where the Bearcats didn't succeed in pulling up the grade.

The Idaho Vandals, after twice conquering Oregon, came to Salem for two tilts with the Bearcats. They played a hard bang-up game in which they made weight count and emerged victorious from both frays. In the first game they piled up a big lead during the first half. The ever-fighting Bearcats tore in with blood in their eyes in the second session and clearly outplayed their heavier opponents, outscoring them by four points, but were unable to overcome the lead of the Idaho tossers. The second game started much like the first, with the Vandals taking an early lead, but the Bearcats were unable to come through with the customary second-period rally which should make a battle out of it. Idaho checked closely and held Logan and Gillette away from the basket. From long range positions the Willamette scoring propensities were remarkable for their absence and the verdict was 32-10 with Idaho leading.

On the way to Walla Walla the Bearcats stopped off in Portland long enough to play their old rivals, Multnomah. They battled through two torrid halves with Multnomah a few points in the lead most of the time. Toward the close the Bearcats rallied, scoring times enough to bring the score to a tie. With but a minute to go a Multnomah forward dropped in an almost impossible shot which ended the game, Bearcats losing 26-24.

In the series at Whitman the Missionaries battled their way to the front in both games, but it took forty minutes of nip and tuck fighting in each game for them to gain the ascendancy. Concerning the last game one of the Walla Walla daily papers made this statement: "Time was up, and Willamette's opportunity to tie the score was up to Doney, center. He tried, the leather struck the outside of the iron and the cause was lost. The youth on whose eyes and hands depended so much, broke under the strain. He and his teammates went off the court with the admiration of the galleries, for cleaner sportsmen and better losers seldom if ever come before the public."

LOGAN - - - - - Forward

This fighting lad from the sagebrush country has shown that he has in him the making of as good a player as Willamette ever produced. Many an opposing guard found that "Vic" was too much for him. He has been elected to captain next year's team.

The size and strength of the Beavers were too much for Willamette in the two O. A. C. games. The big Aggie players towered above the diminutive Bearcats and literally forced their way to the basket and dropped in the points. Time and again the mammoth Hjelte, O. A. C. center, followed in shots that missed and took a second try which practically assured them of another two points. It was an impossibility for a small man to effectively guard him when following in shots. Out on the floor the Bearcats twisted and squirmed through many holes and worked the ball into a position from which to shoot but minus a tall man to follow in and battle with the big O. A. C. men, they would once again be thrown on the defensive. The second game played at Corvallis was somewhat of a repetition of the first but the Bearcats held the Beavers to a lower score on the larger floor.

In an inter-sectional game with the University of Nevada, the Bearcats were more successful. For the first time during the season the Willamette men seemed to have an eye for the basket. At the start Nevada held a slight lead but this was soon overcome and the Bearcats were never again headed. Bradshaw, of the Nevada team, played exceptionally well and broke through for points occasionally, but the game was Willamette's all the way. Near the close of the contest a succession of sensational shots by Gillette, Dimick and Doney put Willamette safely in the lead and the first game ever played with Nevada was won 30-22.

Following this exhibition, Bearcat hopes sailed high. It was confidently expressed that Willamette would take a quartet of games from Oregon in retaliation for last year's defeats, but the Lemon-Yellow tossers upset the dope and captured the first two games. The old jinx which was supposed to be buried made a re-appearance and shot after shot balanced on the rim only to fall back again outside the hoop. The first game was closely contested. Near the close of the game the score was tied 16 all but U. of O. managed to cage four points while Willamette's best was only one counter. Score: 20-17. The second game wasn't even close. The second period rally failed to arrive and the Bearcats seemed to be completely out of luck. Ill-luck with close shots did more harm even than on the previous night and again Willamette was vanquished 28-12.

After these defeats only two games remained on the schedule; the two return games with Oregon. Feeling ran high and the whole campus breathed of a determination to clean up on Oregon. Amid an outburst of the old Willamette fight that carried everything before it in a victorious tide, the Bearcats returned and outfought, outgamed and outplayed Oregon in the two remaining games. The old fight had saved the day and U. of O. was relegated to the cellar in the Northwest Conference standing where Willamette could look down at her.

Predictions regarding the 1922-23 season are, of course, more or less guess work. One thing is certain, however: things cannot be stacked against the Bearcats' chances any more hopelessly than was the case during the past year. Three men will be lost by graduation, as was the case in the season just closed. These three players, Dimick, Gillette and Doney, will be keenly missed. However there will still be a considerable amount of good material left in school. Logan, the captain-elect, will of course hold down a forward position. "Vic" has been going stronger every year. When he entered school two years ago he had hardly made the acquaintance of the leather globule. He soon got the hang of the thing, however, and even this year he was one of the mainstays of the varsity team, rivalling even the redoubtable Gillette.

There will be a wealth of material from which to draw for the guard positions. Socolofsky and Patton, both of whom made their letters at this position, will be on deck. Also the Rooks of this year will have some contributions to make. Ashby and Emmel have both shown up well in the games in which they have participated. Ashby gained quite a reputation in high school, winning a place as guard on the all-state team. Emmel, however, never played basketball until this year. But he has, even with that brief opportunity, shown a considerable amount of aptitude for the game.

One of these four men will probably have to be moved up to a forward berth to keep Logan company. The position of center will in all probability be the hardest to fill. All things considered, Willamette's chances in basketball should be for a considerably better team next year.

ASHLAND HIGH—TOURNAMENT WINNERS

THE 1922 State Tournament was the most successful by far of the basketball tournaments ever held in Salem. Large enthusiastic crowds attended each game and cheered on their favorites in their attempt to cop the title. Some of the teams were necessarily doomed to early disappointment in the shape of elimination, but despite this a very noticeable spirit of good will attended each game. The proceeds, which were divided among the nine teams were greater than ever before and helped materially in meeting the expenses of the visiting teams.

Ashland, a clean and hard-fighting team of basketeters, succeeded in bearing away the winners trophy cup. They played a consistent game and had a pair of forwards who knew how to break in for the desired points. Perhaps the hardest fought game of the series was the one between this Ashland team and that of Astoria. This game occurred in the semi-finals and ended with the score of 28-27. Diamond, Astoria's center, dropped in a basket just before time was called ending the game, but the referee had already blown his whistle for held ball. Amid the din of the exciting finish it was impossible to hear the whistle and the result of the battle was in doubt for some seconds. Astoria fought for every point in each game in which she participated, and staged wonderful second half rallies. Her team fully earned the title of the "Fighting Swedes." The other teams all deserve high commendation not alone for their playing but also for general behaviour. The opinion of all spectators was that the players well represented their respective schools.

Freshman Basketball

THE class of '25 started their basketball career amid a spirit of gloom. Very little real tried material appeared at the start of the season, but a little experience served to round out a real team. At the opening of the second semester, "Bill" Ashby, of Salem High fame, registered and greatly bolstered up the personnel of the team. At the close of the season they were an entirely different team, as evidenced by the defeat they handed the State Normal School.

In the first game with Scio, neither outfit showed any marked ability to cage the ball while the second game between the two teams was featured by the remarkable tendency of the Frosh to bank their shots off the low ceiling of the Scio gym, thus spoiling many shots. However, the two games with Salem High were real battles. In each game the yearlings led by one or two points at the end of the first half, only to lose out in the second half. Once again the Frosh fell; this time to Silverton High School. One or two of the Silverton men possessed too true an aim when not closely guarded, coupled with the confusing habit of dribbling the ball off one wall of the gym which proved to be good strategy for the high school men. Not content with the prospect of closing the season with an unbroken string of defeats, the Freshmen journeyed to Monmouth and took on the Normal School five. The Frosh displayed better form, fought harder, and deserved to win this their final game of the season.

McKITTRICK

First Base

For four years Mac has played sterling ball. The final year was his best.

SIX letter men and several second string men answered Coach Mathews' call for baseball aspirants. These veterans along with some good material from the Frosh class promised much, but unforeseen troubles waylaid them before the season had progressed far. Just at the time it was needed most the gym burned, destroying all the baseball equipment.

After only one preliminary the Bearcats jumped into their first conference season. The first two games were with Oregon. In the first clash Irvine pitched a steady game, coming in winner. U. of O. used three pitchers and almost two full teams in an attempt to stem the tide, but all in vain. The Bearcats romped home with a 6-3 victory under their belts. The next day, however, Oregon turned the tables. The Bearcats started strong—in the first inning they pounded out enough bingles, coupled with walks, to drive three runs across the rubber. In the fourth the Oregon batters began to connect up with the ball. Before the end of that canto they had chased in five runs. The following innings were exhibitions of weird baseball with the Lemon- Yellow tossers winning 12-7.

The next clash was with Chemawa. This was perhaps the best battle of the year. Bittles, the veteran Indian pitcher, and Irvine for W. U. were in top form. Bittles allowed two hits, and Irvine allowed only three. After nine innings the Indians left the field rejoicing, having scored the only run of the game in the seventh inning. Just one year later the Bearcats were to turn the tables.

The Aggie game was another hard-fought affair, featured by the heavy hitting of Sommers, an O. A. C. outfielder. Willamette was unable to force any runs over the plate while O. A. C. scored four tallies by making their five hits count.

The second game with Chemawa was another pitchers' battle between Irvine and Bittles, and again Bittles won by a one-point margin. Score 3-2.

The final series was played at Walla Walla with Whitman as the contenders. Three good games of baseball were played, of which the Bearcats were only able to win one—the last. Whitman sewed the first game up with an eighth inning rally in which three runs crossed the platter. Final score: Whitman 4, W. U. 3. The second game was a battle royal for seven innings, but Ellis weakened in the eighth and five runs were chalked up, spelling defeat for Willamette. On the third day it was W. U.'s turn to win in the eighth inning. With the score tied at 2 all, Tuffy slashed out a two-bagger. Davies slammed a fast one into the infield which was booted around long enough for Irvine to dash in with the winning run.

Ten members of the team received letters last fall: Irvine, pitcher; Towner, catcher; McKittrick, first base; Page, second base; Basler, third base; Shafer, third base; Davies, short stop; Power, Dimick and Ganzans, outfield. This team, with a few shifts, has remained almost intact for the last two years, and has been recognized as one of the best in the conference. Dimick and Towner are the only ones able to turn out for the 1922 season, all the rest having graduated, left school, or completed their four years of varsity baseball. This necessitated the building of an entire new team this spring. A few of the squad men, however, were left to serve as a nucleus for this year's team.

For this season it has been decided not to enter a team in the Northwest Conference, contrary to the custom of the past few years. This course was deemed best, in view of the fact that last year's varsity team was very badly scattered on account of graduation.

However, this year's team is more or less inexperienced, it is worthy of note that it is composed almost entirely of Freshmen and Sophomores. The present line-up will remain practically intact for the three coming seasons, which indicates that a strong team is in the making. "Squint" Dimick, veteran of three years, is the only Senior on the squad. Heretofore he has played principally in the outfield, but this year he is taking his regular turn in the box. He is getting by nicely with the old left wing. In addition to Dimick there are a number of others on the pitching staff. Ellis and Robins, from last year's squad, are showing up well. Ashby, the Freshman twirler of last year's Salem High team, shows great promise, and within the next year or two should develop into a star of the first magnitude.

Towner, who is, aside from Dimick, the only letter man on the squad, is playing a bang-up game behind the bat. He is also swinging a wicked war-club, being one of the heaviest hitters in the outfit. There are a number of promising men available for infield positions. Shepard seems to be reasonably certain of the first bag position. He is a first year man who comes from Salem High, where he held down the same station. At present there are quite a flock of contestants for the keystone sack. Edwards, Logan, Regele and Vinson are all working out, and probably both the short stop and second baseman will be chosen from this quartet. The first three of these are Sophomores, and this year is the first time out for all of them.

Isham, another yearling, is almost assured of the third base position. He possesses a lightning whip and an uncanny accuracy in his throws. He is also a heavy hitter, batting in the lead-off position.

In the outfield there are Gillet, Milliken and Coryell. All three of these are second year men and have received one season's training under Coach Mathews. They are all good reliable fielders, and after developing their stick work a little will be extremely valuable men. Ginn, another Sophomore, has been used as utility man. He is able to hold down any position from catcher to outfielder. He is also a good consistent hitter.

Although no conference teams will be met this season, a number of games have been lined up with independent college teams, including Pacific University, Albany College, Linfield College, North Pacific, and Mount Angel College. The Chemawa Indians will be met in the usual annual battle.

TOWNER - - - - - Catcher

It took a good man to steal second on Towner.

SHAFFER - - - - - Third Base

Earl proved himself a baseball player in his first year. Another heavy hitter.

Batting seems to be one of the Bearcats' greatest weaknesses this year, just as it has been for the last season or two. With the object of strengthening this phase of the Willamette playing, Coach Bohler early had a number of batting cages erected on the athletic field, and these have been put to considerable use during the early part of the season—when weather permitted.

Unfortunately the weather man has been one of the Bearcats' most formidable opponents this year, not allowing the club to get away to a real start until comparatively late in the season. With the advent of a new gymnasium things will undoubtedly be considerably different. Several indoor batting cages will then be available, and old Jupe Pluvius may try in vain to put a damper on the Bearcat efforts.

As regards equipment there was practically nothing on hand at the outset of the season. The flames that took away the old gym took with it almost every baseball uniform belonging to the school. What few escaped were some that their wearers had happened to keep out of their lockers on the fatal night when the old building went up in smoke. A large number of new suits have been purchased, however, and everyone on the squad has been supplied with a uniform. The diamond has been moved a few yards west from where it was last year. The east end of the bleachers, which were erected last fall have been torn down and set up by the baseball diamond just behind the first base line. All things considered, baseball at Willamette is progressing very well.

ELLIS - - - - - Pitcher

Dave showed good headwork and considerable ability as a twirler. He showed up well in the Whitman series.

Track

THE 1921 track season promised a revival of form and importance rivalling pre-war days. The loss of the old gymnasium, however, blighted the hopes and ambitions of the track aspirants and left the squad with no equipment other than good intentions to run with. Spikes, jerseys, trunks, and all other equipment perished with the historic old gym. This situation has crippled Willamette in regard to spring athletics to a great extent, but hopes are held out for a speedy return to the former standing in track and baseball.

A track squad of about a dozen men were out working into shape when the fire abruptly ended the season. Irvine and Ford were out for the sprints and Tuffy was also depended upon for the broad jump. Jackson, Barnes, Flegel and Towner were showing good form in the 220 and 440-yard dashes. The half and mile runs were well cared for by Fox, Logan and Gillette. In the hurdles Ganzans and Irvine were showing up well. In the pole vault the Lyman brothers and Vinson were preparing to uphold the standards of W. U.

In an early season dual meet with Chemawa the Bearcats suffered a defeat, and shortly afterwards of necessity suspended training for the year. Perhaps the most thrilling event of the meet with the Indians was the sensational finish made by Fox when he nosed out Warbonnet for first place in the half mile. In the field events Chemawa clearly had the advantage, but the track events were hard fought and the winners evenly distributed between the two teams.

With the promise of a new modern gymnasium to be built in the near future, track athletics should come to the fore by leaps and bounds. Several promising new men have already enrolled at Willamette, and many more have signified their intention of coming to wear the Cardinal and Gold.

Although handicapped to a considerable extent for 1922, a more extensive track campaign has been outlined. A team will be sent to the Oregon State Relay Carnival to be held at Eugene, dual meets with some of the non-conference schools have been arranged for, and a dual meet with Whitman is under consideration. Besides these meets a few men will undoubtedly be sent to the Northwest Conference Meet to represent the Bearcats in track.

Zeller and Pollock are among the fastest of the aspirants for the 100-yard dash, while the same pair, together with Barnes, seem to be showing up the best in the 223. In the quarter mile run Satchwell, Perrine, and Ferguson are all good men.

Logan will probably be used in most of the distance runs, having made somewhat of a name for himself as a long distance runner. In both the mile and the half mile other men, such as Martin, Perrine, and Satchwell are showing up well. The two Vinson brothers, Willis and Jack, are stepping over the high hurdles in good shape, the former also taking the low hurdles at a good clip. Barnes is also a hard man to beat in the low hurdles.

Pollock and Griffith are perhaps the best in the high-jump, both showing a considerable ability in that activity. Pollock is also a good man in the broad jump, although Elmer Strevey crowds him hard. The Vinson brothers come into the limelight again in the pole vault. Skeen and Ashby are both good with the javelin, while Socolofsky and Sheperd will probably represent the school in the discus throw.

NOBLE MOODHE

"Nib's" record speaks for itself. During the season of 1921 he proved his superiority to the ranking player of every school in the Northwest Conference at that time. Moodhe's strong points are his almost invariable steadiness and his uncanny accuracy.

HUGH DONEY

In many ways Hugh is probably the most finished racquet artist who has ever worn the W. He handles himself on the court as though he had been born with a racquet in his hand. With a little more steadiness he would be just about unbeatable.

MARGARET BOWEN

Margaret has shown herself a very worthy successor to the invincible Mary Findley. Although lacking some of her predecessor's aggressiveness she excels Mary in the accuracy of her shots and the general headwork of her game.

Women's Tennis

THE Willamette co-ed representative played in two conference matches, both of them being at Eugene. Playing against Miss Slotboom, the U. of O. champion, she was defeated in straight sets, 6-3, 8-6. The following day she met Miss Neilson, of O. A. C. In this match Miss Bowen, after losing the first set, 3-6, came back strong in the second and ran up a score of 5-0 on her opponent. Before a sixth game could be played the game had to be stopped in order to allow the O. A. C. representative to leave for Corvallis.

Men's Tennis

“POINT set.” It was the final moment of the Willamette-Oregon tournament of May Day a year ago. Honors had broken even so far, and this final set of the doubles match was to decide the closest net melee that the two schools had had for years.

Back and forth the ball went until at last—

“Game, set, match.” The goddess of victory had finally settled upon Oregon.

With the vital exception of that last set the other two conference tournaments were practically a duplication of the Oregon tussle. In each of these tournaments Doney gave his man a hard run, but lost, while Moodhe took his opponent down the line without serious difficulty. The doubles, which decided the tournament, were very close from start to finish, but in both the W. S. C. and O. A. C. contests they finally were decided in favor of Willamette.

Inter-class Rivalry

AS THE school year draws near its close, more and more interest is manifested in interclass rivalry. As is usual, the first events, cross country, debate, basketball, and Freshman Glee, come and go without a great deal of interest in the comparative scores. But as the season draws to a close, and it becomes possible to forecast the final result with some degree of accuracy, opinions become rife, and interest increases.

The annual track meet, held April 21 on Sweetland Field, was the scene of much interest. Dean Pollock, for the Seniors, took individual honors, with $19\frac{1}{4}$ points to his credit, while Vinson and Zeller, both Juniors, divided honors for second place with $12\frac{3}{4}$ points apiece. The outcome of the meet was uncertain until the final race had been run, now one class in the lead, now another. After the first four or five events it became evident that the race was between the Juniors and the Freshmen, with the odds slightly in favor of the youngsters. But in the last few events the representatives of '23 jumped into the lead, and after the final relay the score stood: Juniors 40, Freshmen 40, Seniors 30, Sophomores 16.

The interclass oratorical contest has been won by the class of '22. Fred McGrew, representing the Seniors, took first place, thus winning for his class, not only five points in the interclass rivalry contest, but also that of engraving the class numerals on the Minna L. Harding cup, which has been donated by the head of the Public Speaking Department. This cup becomes the permanent property of any class which wins it two successive years.

The events yet to come are baseball and tennis. Baseball is a new experiment, since this is the first time for some years this activity has had a place in interclass rivalry. As a result not much is known of the prospective chances of the various classes and of the men who will make up the various teams. The permanency of interclass baseball depends largely upon its success this year. According to the dopesters the Juniors have a little the best of the argument in having Ellis and Robbins for pitchers, although Ashby of the infants shows up well on the mound. The Seniors also promise to put a good infield on the diamond, and the second year men will doubtless pull a dark horse stunt.

In tennis the final results are still very uncertain, although the personnel of the teams may be forecasted. Gillette and Sackett, last year's winners, will probably represent the Seniors; while Huston, Alden and Richards show up well for the Juniors. Mickey, Ramstead and Warren, who took second last year, will make a strong bid for the class of '24. For the Frosh, a little less is known, although Findley and Von Eschen, of Salem High, are well known; also Walsh, who made a good record in the Willamette Valley tournament last summer, and Emmel and Hammond are working out well.

The final result is in no wise sure as yet. A winning or losing streak by any class will materially change the standing. At present the score is: Seniors 14½, Juniors 11, Sophomores 10½, Freshmen 17.

Yell King "Fergie"

IT IS often stated that one of the greatest benefits to be derived from intercollegiate athletics is the creation and development of school spirit. If this be so then the position of Yell King is one of great importance, for on this leader falls the burden of feeding and strengthening this same school spirit. And seldom is a man found better fitted for such a position than is Verne Ferguson. Fergie has the required amount of pep and initiative, as well as that elusive spirit of leadership that is so necessary to one who would lead a crowd.

Song Queen Mildred Strevey

FULLY as important in arousing school spirit as the Yell King is the Song Queen. If there is one thing for which Willamette is especially known, it is for her wealth of college songs. The annual Freshman Glee brings each year four new songs which are added to the already long list, from which Willamette is enabled to select the best and most popular. If these songs are to be sung as they should be, a good leader, who has the ability and personality necessary to properly lead in student singing, is essential. And just such a leader was Mildred Strevey. Mid herself has pep enough to instill enthusiasm into the most stolid onlooker, and make him sing if he can or try if he cannot sing. Mid is always on hand at every game or rally to lead in encouraging the Bearcats.

DEBATE AND ORATORY

Oratory

THE annual oratorical contest of the Oregon Oratorical Association was held this year at Newberg, March 18, 1922. Roy Skeen represented Willamette, using the oration "United Efforts in the Battle of Life" with which he won the inter-class contest last year. Though Willamette did not win the contest, Mr. Skeen ably acquitted himself and we are proud of him.

The oratorical contest was won by the representative of Oregon Agricultural College. The title of the winning oration was "Our Brother on the Baltic."

Men's Debate

THE past season has been completely successful in the realm of men's debate, the Willamette men winning four and losing none. The first two contests, one with the University of Redlands and one with the University of Denver, are especially worthy of mention. Both of these institutions had teams of enviable repute. In both debates the Willamette team upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: that the union shop should prevail in American industry."

The Redlands "invincible trio" as they were called, were the first to be taken into camp. These debaters admitted themselves to be the best coached team in the United States. The contest between them and the Willamette men was undoubtedly the closest of the season, and not until the final vote was read did the audience draw a comfortable breath. Redlands presented a very strong case, but could not quite overcome the affirmative case which the Willamette team was able to advance. Indeed, the Redlands men later made the statement that in Salem they met their strongest opposition of the season—and Redlands met some of the strongest teams in the West.

Two weeks later the University of Denver was met and defeated by a unanimous decision, although the mountaineers had even a more logical case than the Redlands men.

Willamette University

COLLEGE OF LAW

Tribute of the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon to the Law Department of the Willamette University

Extracts from a letter written by the Supreme Court of Oregon, to the President of the University, bearing date of December 29th, 1913:

"In our examination of applicants for admission to practice Law in Oregon, we have always found the graduates of the Willamette Law School as full and well prepared as the graduates from any of the Law Schools, including the leading colleges of the United States; and graduates of the Willamette Law School have repeatedly taken first honors in such examinations. We have also observed that many of the Alumni of the Willamette Law School have taken high rank in the practice of their profession, and are among the prominent and useful citizens of the Pacific Northwest thus reflecting credit not only on the Law School, but on the Willamette University, which they regard as their alma mater."

The College of Law has several special advantages. It is located in the capital city where the Supreme Court is almost constantly in session. The Law Department has exceptional facilities in its nearness to the State Library, containing more than thirty thousand volumes, to which the law students have free access.

This school is fully accredited by the State and Federal authorities for the payment of benefits to those entitled to them under the returned soldiers, sailors and marines educational aid and vocational training acts.

The home of the Law School is on the college campus. Law students are members of the Student Body of the University and have the opportunity of engaging in the various student enterprises and activities, and do in fact take a prominent place in the student affairs.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Applicants for admission to the Freshman year must be at least eighteen years of age and must furnish certificates of good moral character. Graduates of high schools maintaining a standard four-year course of study, or educational institutions whose course is equivalent to such high school course, are admitted without examination, other applicants are required to pass satisfactory examination in the essential subjects of a four-years' high school course; in special instances, persons whose educational qualifications are deficient may have the opportunity of making the necessary grades in the College of Liberal Arts or the Academy during the time they are taking the Law Course.

The course covers three years, graduates receiving the degree of LL.B.

FEES

Tuition, $60.00 per year. Student Body fee, $10.00 per year.
