

Pre-War Spirit Shown at NAIB Meet

By Dave Card

With buses, cars, motorcycles and thumbs providing the transportation, approximately 350 Willamette students attended the district National Amateur Invitational Basketball tournament held at Portland Monday and Tuesday, giving evidence of a real return to pre-war school spirit.

The Bearcat rooters, along with the Willamette band, were certainly in evidence in the Portland Ice Arena where the tournament was held, and the Willamette partisans were able to hold their own in any and all rooting contests with the home-town Portland rooters.

While the Bearcats carried off only second honors in the tourney, and Southern Oregon college was awarded the sportsmanship trophy, Willamette can definitely be proud of the spirit shown. The Willamette and Portland bands carried on quite a bit of competition, and it seemed to be the general consensus of opinion that the Jason tooters more than held their own.

The large number of students representing Willamette came straggling back at all hours of the night and morning according to reports, with some weary hitchhikers getting back as late as seven o'clock Wednesday morning.

There seemed to be several vehicles bearing Bearcat stickers that just couldn't make the long haul back, with one car reported breaking down at Oregon City on the way back. Another could get no further than ten miles out of Salem on the way to the Wednesday encounter, and its occupants were forced to hitchhike the rest of the way.

The tiresome night was evidenced by class attendance Wednesday, with some profs reporting only a 50% attendance. There was more than one bleary-eyed student hoping with all his heart that class cuts were not recorded for Wednesday, while several of the many professors in attendance at the game seemed a little too sleepy to accurately check the class roll.

Knitzer Makes Appearances At Willamette

Willamette students were given three opportunities this week to hear Joseph Knitzer, the well-known violinist, who spent Monday and Tuesday on the campus.

Principal event on Knitzer's schedule was a concert Monday evening in Waller hall. Because of the basketball game that night, however, many Willamette students were unable to attend the concert.

Knitzer and his accompanist, Donald Shapiro, presented a program for Tuesday chapel in the Presbyterian church. Playing a program of great variety, Knitzer was well received, and responded with two encores. Dean Melvin Geist, speaking in the chapel program, said that more cultural events such as Knitzer's recital could be made available to Willamette students if enough interest were shown on the part of students.

Knitzer's final appearance on the campus was Tuesday afternoon at 1 p. m. when he played in the College of Music recital hall.

An instructor and soloist of world fame, Knitzer has for the past several years been head of the violin department of the Cleveland Institute of Music. Following his appearance at Willamette, Knitzer left for Los Angeles where he is to appear as soloist with the Los Angeles Symphony.

Captivating his audience with the first notes of his opening selections, Knitzer showed extraordinary skill and versatility in a variety of selections, from the Chopin "Nocturne in C Minor" and Brahms "Waltz in A Flat" to the gayer rhythms of a Jamaican rumba and a group of American Kentucky folk tunes. His encore numbers were "Valse Bluettes" and Stephen Foster's "I Dream of Jeannie."

Eastern Chaplain To Give Sermon At Baccalaureate

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, prominent religious leader, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon before Willamette's graduating seniors Sunday afternoon, June 4, in the First Methodist church.

He was born in Portland in 1884, and since 1948, has been with the Chapel of Four Chaplains in New York city. The chapel was built and maintained as an inter-faith shrine in recognition of the four chaplains who gave up their lives to soldiers when the troopship "Dorchester" was sunk during the war. One of the chaplains was a son of Dr. Poling.

Three members of the traveling Austrian troupe who will present "Merry Scenes From Austria" in Waller hall next Tuesday pose here in their native costumes.

'Austrian Scenes' Set For Tuesday Evening

A variety program, "Merry Scenes from Austria," will be presented next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Waller hall by a group of 31 Austrian university students on a good will tour of North America.

Appearing in authentic Austrian costumes, the group will present a program based upon life in the Austrian Alpine mountains and villages including songs and dances of the people. One of the featured performances will be the famous "Arch Duke Johan" yodel which is considered the height of yodeling attainment.

Some of the group will arrive Tuesday morning to give a preview of the evening's entertainment at chapel. They will be guests of the University while on campus with housing and meals being provided by the various living organizations. The International Relations club is taking charge of publicity and ticket sales.

Dr. Susanne Polsterer, 24-year-old holder of a doctorate degree from the University of Vienna is mistress of ceremonies and Dr. Oskar F. Boch is director of the group.

Tickets will be on sale on campus and in Miller's department store tomorrow and Monday and Tuesday afternoons for the Tuesday evening performance. General admission is $1.20 and reserved seat tickets are $1.50.

The goodwill gesture was originated in Austria by the Amt-fuer Studentenwanderungen of Vienna, a non-commercial and non-political society founded after the first World war as a token of gratitude for help received from U. S. and British students. The purpose of the tour is to spread International understanding and a spirit of cooperation and good fellowship among the students of different nationalities, races and creeds.

In the last 25 years, the existence of the goodwill group has brought together over 16,000 students from 20 different countries in the International centers in the Alps.

The "Goodwill Tour to the United States" is under the patronage of the Chancellor of the Austrian Republic and the Minister of Communications. It is sponsored by the UNESCO commission for Austria, the Austro-America Society, the Austro-America Institution of Education, the Austrian National Union for students and a large number of university professors.

Class Action Sharpens Vision Of Swimmers, Hoarse Singers

By Don Scarborough

The cloud of obscurity covering Glee activities has lifted this week with the announcement by the freshman class of final preparations for the challenge next week. The vision of shivering swimmers, hoarse vocalists, and bedraggled Blue Mondayers was sharpened by news of activity by the other three classes.

The freshman class, led by manager Tom Scheidel, met Thursday to polish up challenge speech tactics, and plan their schedule for the singing contest. Jim Jackson and Scheidel are supervising committees which include: song committee, Amaryl-lis Lilles; formation, Dave Beery; costumes, Grace Connell; parodies, Ann Stackhouse; publicity, Jo Ann Richardson and Valerie Deardorff.

100 Pints Set As Blood Quota For Willamette

Emphasizing that Willamette must fill its quota of 100 pints of blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile is in Salem next Tuesday, George Adams, chairman of the blood drive, has asked that everyone keep their appointments.

Recently Oregon State gave 600 pints of blood when the Bloodmobile was in Corvallis, and Tuesday, which is designated, "Willamette Day," is a "good opportunity to give Willamette a good showing" according to Adams.

Anyone interested is invited to "drop in" between 1 and 5 p. m., at the First Methodist church where the Bloodmobile will be stationed. It will not be on campus. Most of the blood collected here will be used in the Salem area.

In connection with the program, G. Herbert Smith has commented, "The Blood Bank of the American Red Cross is, in my estimation, one of the greatest humanitarian programs of our country."

Play Tryouts

Tryouts for the May Weekend play will be held at 7:30 next Thursday in Waller Little theater, according to Ruane B. Hill, instructor of drama. Hill said that anyone interested is invited to attend.

The cast and choice of play will be announced the Monday following tryouts.

Gunn, Scheidel Capture Firsts At Linfield Speech Tourney

Jack Gunn and Tom Scheidel brought home two first place trophies from the Linfield tournament held in McMinnville last weekend. Gunn won in senior men's extemp, and Scheidel won in after dinner speaking.

Frank Lockman placed second in interview, a fairly recent addition to contest speaking. Betty Ferguson and Nancy Marks placed third in senior women's debate, and Jack Gunn took a third in one man debate.

All freshmen wishing to participate in the song fest are requested to contact Lilles or Scheidel.

The seniors, under Ray Loter, began practice last week. The juniors, with Manager Art Dimond, will begin practice Monday. The song chosen was by Martha Benard—the third time her song has been selected by that class. While freshmen, the juniors took first place. Last year they placed second. Dimond anticipates the largest turnout in their history.

Senior and junior committee heads were not available for information at press time.

The sophomores met Thursday to choose their song. They plan to start practice early next week. Sophomore manager Dave Place stipulated that glee information cards must be turned in before tickets can be given out. Those wishing to sing are to notify Don Benson as soon as possible.

Rod Beals is in charge of the formations, Betty Mullens, words and music; Jo Colony, parodies; and Bill Bissell will direct the singing. The sophomores came in third last year.

Latest announcement by Duane Denney and his Glee committee clears up the ticket situation. Participating students will be entitled to two tickets. These tickets will be given to the class manager according to the list of participating students. Participants will then obtain their tickets from their class manager from Wednesday, March 22, to Friday noon, March 24.

Participating members of a class are those who are either singing the night of Glee, or who are working on a class committee, i. e., formation, direction, etc., according to Denney.

Non-participating students will be allowed one ticket. A sign-up list will be posted in the student body office and the Law School. All desiring tickets must sign before 4:00 p. m. Tuesday, March 22. No names will be added to this list after the dead-line. Tickets may be picked up upon presentation of the ASWU card on Thursday, March 23. The absolute dead-line is 4:00 p. m. Friday, March 24.

Members of the general Glee committee, under the Glee manager, will obtain their tickets from the head of the ticket committee, Prudence Edwards.

Tickets will be set aside for the benefit of the housemothers.

Denney advises that these rules be followed to avoid any disappointment by last-minute ticket seekers.

Over 450 students participated in the tournament.

Senior high school speakers and debaters from Oregon high schools will hold their annual tournament on the Willamette campus today and tomorrow. Registration will be at 8 o'clock, and the first contests will start by 9 o'clock. WU speech and drama students will judge the contests.

Thirty high schools are expected to attend.

Collegian Features

Interest Could Bring Events

In an introductory talk to the Knitzer recital at last Tuesday's chapel, Dean Geist said that more cultural events such as the Knitzer program could be made available to Willamette students IF ENOUGH INTEREST WERE SHOWN BY THE STUDENTS.

Since Dean Withey was not on the campus during Knitzer's visit and he is the gentleman who has charge of chapel planning it might be well to make student reaction to the Knitzer recital a matter of public record.

Students liked Knitzer's playing so well that they applauded him into two encores, and were late for 11 o'clock classes. Anytime the administration gets tired shuffling chapel absentee slips, they can schedule a return visit for Knitzer. They won't have to take attendance.

That's what the students have been saying all along!

Let's Turn Out for Glee, Too

Willamette students went all out in support of their team at the National Amateur Invitational Basketball tournament held in Portland Monday and Tuesday. Some 350 students motored and hitchhiked to Portland for the event and reports show that outsiders were greatly impressed with the spirit of students and the performance of the Willamette university band which far outshone the opposition in unofficial competition.

If the showing at the basketball tournament is any indication it seems that students could make this Glee the best since pre-war days if they get out and work.

The tradition involved in Glee is enough to warrant the fullest cooperation on the part of each member in every class. Certainly it is the biggest event of the year and it is one that has brought Willamette university nationwide recognition.

Next Time Try the Ferry

From now until the end of the semester students will note all the bulletin boards plastered with travel papers. $3,985.37 TRIP TO BEAUTIFUL BALI and all that sort of thing.

Also you will note that the Collegian is getting the latest scoop to its readers in regard to all these "economical" trips. We just don't want anyone to think we aren't catering to the high class trade.

A tip to the less flush who still want a water trip . . . Try the Independence ferry, bud.

BEEFS and BOUQUETS

Willamette Spirit Soars To the Editor:

On behalf of the basketball squad and the athletic department, I would like to express my appreciation publicly to the student body and faculty for the fine support of our team this season.

Willamette spirit reached a peak during the last ten days of our season that I would like to see continued in the years to come. The support given us during our tournament in Portland was tremendous and each and every one of us was thrilled by it.

No little credit should be given the band which easily outplayed all opposition during the year. They were an extremely potent factor at the ice arena Tuesday night.

I have heard many old timers say they have never seen such a demonstration of a Willamette student body supporting a Willamette team as was shown recently. We sincerely hope our students will pick up next year where we left off in 1950. A real cheering section is a vital factor in the winning of any game and though we try to build "character", it is a lot more fun to win. Thanks again.

35-Year-Old Symbol Turns Out to Be Panda

By Wally Southard

"A cornered cat will fight savagely and the bear is a symbol of strength; put the two together and you have a ferocious animal, a 'Bearcat.'"

This idea was propounded some 35 years ago in chapel by Pres. Carl G. Doney as a suitable symbol for the reborn fighting spirit of the Willamette varsity, according to Les Sparks, head of the physical education department.

Les recalled that the football outlook in 1915 was very low. That was the year that a new coach, Robert L. Mathews, came out to the university. As a coach Mathews was able to bring out about "25% more fight in the athletes." It was for this new fighting spirit that Pres. Doney suggested the name, "Bearcats."

Even before this time, however, there were some around the university who were in a

"bear" frame of mind. A story from the September 29th, 1915 Collegian reveals that during the half-time between the Varsity-Alumni football game, the Alumni were given new "Pep" when shown their mascot, "Maggie", a black bear. But unfortunately not even Maggie was enough inspiration to the alumni, and they went down to defeat, 27 to 0.

Later in the same year, in the November 17th issue of the Collegian, appears what is probably the first reference to the Bearcats. The story reveals the outcome of the Willamette-Pacific non-conference football title, a game won by Willamette by the score of 13 to 7. "Bearcats" appears in the head and also in the body of the story.

Since that time, the name "Bearcats" has been closely associated with the university, both in print and picture. The picture usually is represented by the head of a bear, whereas the printed word is often shortened to 'Cats.'

Now it is quite incongruous to picture a bear head and call it a cat, but such has been going on for a long time. Back in 1940, Paul Hauser, who was writing a column for the Oregon Statesman, wanted to know where the university got its bearcat model which was being displayed on the football schedule posters.

The yell squad today has what appears to be a bear suit, with a long tail. This suit, when worn, is evidently their idea of what a bearcat looks like.

Down in the book store one can find tee shirts with the head of what appears to be a bear imposed thereon. Mrs. Larson says that the model was taken from a panda bear, which is, up to this point, the closest thing to a bearcat yet mentioned.

Well, what does a bearcat actually look like? According to the Oxford Dictionary, a "red bearcat or panda" is a "small raccoon-like carnivore of the southeastern Himalayas, with long reddish-brown fur, darker below, and ring tailed."

The Encyclopedia Britannica gives even a fuller description of the animal, declaring it to be "... one of the raccoon family which inhabits the eastern Himalayas to a height of 12,000 feet ... equal in size to a large cat, glossy reddish-chestnut fur, darker below with a white face and a long, ringed tail ... inhabits forests and feeds almost exclusively on vegetable food, but eats insects when it can get them ... spends most of its time on the ground but has semi-retractable claws and is able to climb trees ... is said to be a dull-witted, defenseless creature, reminding one of the kinkajou ... (The kinkajou is a racoon-like animal which inhabits the forests of South and Central America, and is often tamed for a pet.)

Now it may come as quite a blow to some students that Dr. Doney's Bearcat and the actual animal are quite, quite different. But it is better to suffer the blow now than later. At least we know now what our bearcat represents, and we can be justly proud of it.

But for heavens sake; don't ever mention that we're related to the kinkajous.

Study Troubles? Take Them to the Testing Service

You may look dumb, but Oh you kid!

Counseling that is based on surface impressions may miss the "Oh you kid!" Impressions and even shrewd guesses are too often inaccurate or at best, half truths.

In case you have crossed eyes, inverted ears and a knotty pine head, it may be some consolation to know that you may be down but you aren't out.

The Willamette counseling department provides a testing program designed to reveal all your "hidden talents."

"Tests are not cure-alls", says Dr. George B. Martin, who is in charge of the testing program. "Tests are tools by which fairly reliable information may be obtained, but they are not fool proof."

The purpose of testing at Willamette is to secure "fairly objective" information about the student so that advisers do not have to depend entirely upon "intuition."

The English orientation and general psychological test given to all entering freshman students are the only required tests, but there are others.

If you think the general psychological test didn't bring the best out of you, there is the General Intellectual Capacity test which is more detailed and will confirm or correct the results of the general psychological test.

In case you are having trouble "making friends and influencing people", you might try one of the several personality tests. These "reveal areas in which personal contacts with others appear weak." Some of the more detailed of these tests are given by the psychology department faculty. Arrangements can be made so that your "areas of weakness" are not made a part of the public record.

In case you are worried about whether your talents best qualify you for dish washing or short order cooking, you might take some of the vocational interest tests. These are designed to show the career field in which you would be most interested. They are used as aids to students in selecting their major field in college.

The dilly of them all, though, is a series of Selected Aptitude tests. These "help the student find the areas in which he has ability to do good work, particularly at the college level." Maybe the reason you're knocking down all those D's is that you don't know how to pick them. These tests should help.

If you still get those troublesome D's, you might try one of the reading tests. Often the student having trouble with his course work is one of the "bright boys" according to all the test standards. Sometimes his trouble is related to difficulty in reading.

The reading tests not only determine whether the student is having trouble with his reading, but also what the specific trouble is. He may then secure the cooperation of the education department in planning a program to assist him in remedying the problem.

In case you cannot decide which of these tests might reveal the solution to your own difficulties, don't be discouraged. Your faculty adviser may be able to suggest the tests you need. Or you can contact Dr. Martin directly.

The testing program is only a primary step in the counseling service. The tests provide clues to the difficulty. Afterward there is the problem of "doing something about it." Dr. Martin points out, that "After the difficulty is located, the solution usually depends upon the students' patience and cooperation."

Detailed information concerning any phase of the testing program may be secured by either students or faculty by contacting Dr. Martin directly.

Youth Hostellers Plan Trips For Summer in U.S., Europe

American Youth Hostels, an organization whose young-in-spirit members travel "on their own steam," is sponsoring many low-cost trips throughout the United States and abroad this summer, national AYH officials have announced.

Hosteling is inexpensive hiking or cycling alone or in small mixed groups with most overnight stays in hostels which are

WU Students Will Engage in Marine Group's Activities

Willamette university has been selected by the United States marine corps as one of the 145 accredited colleges and universities from which 770 students will be enrolled for summer training leading to reserve and regular commissions.

The students, freshmen and sophomores, will be trained during one of two six-week periods beginning July 2 and July 23 in platoon leaders class, junior course, marine corps schools, Quantico, Virginia. Transportation and expenses to and from Quantico will be provided for all who are accepted for this program, plus a salary of $90 a month during the program.

Unlike the reserve officer training program, platoon leaders do not take military subjects during their academic year. They receive all military instruction during two summer periods of six weeks each, at Quantico.

A marine platoon leader procurement officer will visit Willamette university for several days the last week of March for the purpose of interviewing interested students.

College of Music Adds Two to Staff

Two new part-time faculty members have been added to the staff of the College of Music, announces Dean Melvin Geist.

Robert Sonderskov of Portland, who is second cellist in the Portland symphony orchestra, is now teaching cello at the College of Music on Saturdays.

Katherine Schissler is a new part-time instructor in piano. She graduated from the Willamette College of Music in 1948 and received her master's degree in piano at the University of Michigan last month.

Polls Close Today

Election of officers for the YWCA will close today at 4 p.m. Polls are located in Eaton hall and all members are urged to vote, according to Eleanor Loveless, president.

maintained by local Youth Hostel groups. This mode of travel originated in Germany and has now spread to 26 countries.

Membership requirements are a love of nature and exercise and two dollars for an AYH youth pass (three dollars for those over 21). The pass allows members to stay in any hostel for a charge of 50 cents or less per night. Hostels provide separate sleeping quarters for men and women and a common kitchen where hostellers cook their meals. Recreational facilities are usually available, also.

Summer US hostel trips include east and west rolling hostels which is travel by train and bike, and a seven-week national parks-High Sierras trip for hikers. Rolling hostels will go to the Grand Canyon and Yellowstone park.

Groups will travel to Canada to see the Canadian Rockies, Gaspé Peninsula, Ontario, the Maritime Provinces and the Saguenay River area. Experienced hostellers will be able to go to Mexico, Guatemala and Alaska.

Hosteling in parts of Europe will cost about $780 for six weeks. The British Isles, Scandinavia, France, the North Sea area, Central Europe, Western Europe, the Mediterranean area and Southwest Europe are areas to be visited by American hostellers this summer.

Details of itineraries and trip costs can be obtained by writing to AYH National Headquarters, 6 East 39th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

Dr. Holy to Speak To Teachers' Club

Dr. Thomas C. Holy, a member of the faculty of Ohio State university, will speak before the Future Teachers of America club next Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in Chresto.

Recently Dr. Holy has been contracted by the state of Oregon to make an investigation to determine what the Oregon taxpayers are receiving from the basic school funds supporting the educational system. This survey is part of a comprehensive study of the Oregon school system. This study is to include methods of school financing, school buildings and some phases of the curriculum. The study is to be completed not later than September 1, 1950.

Progress reports will be presented monthly to the state board of education by Dr. Holy who will cooperate in drafting legislation necessary to carry out the recommendations contained in the survey report.

Dr. Holy arrived in Salem Wednesday and has made his headquarters in the state capitol. He will be available as an consultant and will appear before various committees.

Puritan Staff to Meet

The Puritan, campus humor magazine, is in need of gag writers, business men and women, publicity experts and other assistants, according to John Piper, editor. He says that no experience is necessary and those interested should attend a meeting next Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Collegian office.

Nation's Churches to Observe 'One Hour of Sharing' Sunday

"One Great Hour of Sharing", a program of relief for displaced persons and refugees, will be the 11 o'clock service in churches in Salem and all over the United States, Sunday.

All church-goers are asked to attend the service and contribute generously, for the money is to be used for displaced persons and refugee relief and for moral and spiritual aid in Asia and Europe.

The program is sponsored by the American Council of Churches, which is composed of 19 religious or denominational groups. It is the outgrowth of a similar program held last year for the same purpose, which was entitled, "One Great Hour."

Transcribed dramatic stories describing individual cases of people who have been helped by these offerings have been broadcast this week, at different times, over KOIN.

A Willamette graduate, William McReynolds, will speak at the First Congregational church service, according to Reverend Seth Huntington, minister. He worked for a year in the bombed churches of England, and also helped set up a work camp for refugees in Germany.

Yes, Even Though the 'Cats Lost

Jason Would Have Been Proud

Jason Lee, Willamette's founding father, would have been awfully proud Tuesday night.

Over 300 Willamette student rooters traveled to Portland to boot the ball club home in their NAIB finale with Portland's Pilots. The school band decided to go up at the last minute—did a bangup job.

But the enthusiasm was what impressed. Not in the last 10 years has the Bearcat spirit reached such heights. Sportsmanship was at its best, yells at their loudest. Nor did they reduce the volume when the tide turned for Portland.

If the fire the boosters displayed Tuesday is any indication of the renewed spirit that's been reported up Willamette way, then things are looking up for Chet Stackhouse's football team next fall and for Johnny Lewis when those sophomores and freshmen have aged another year.—The Oregon Statesman.

State Department Slates Tests For Foreign Service Positions

Competition for appointment to the foreign service was announced this week to Willamette students by the Department of State.

With written examinations scheduled for September 5-8, 1950, the results of the test will enable men and women to attend the training school, with chances for promotion to higher positions in the foreign service in future years.

Candidates who pass the written examination will be given an oral and physical test in the early part of 1951, and those who are successful in all three will be eligible for training.

Two Willamette men, from a total of less than thirty men who succeeded over several hundred competitors, were among those chosen for training last year. Bob Sayre and Harold Adams are attending the foreign service school in Washington at the present time.

All inquiries should be addressed to the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C.

MBS Broadcast Prompts Six-Day Choir Rehearsals

The College of Music's a cappella choir is practicing six days a week in preparation for recording a transcription to be broadcast over the Mutual Broadcasting System April 2 and 8.

After final rehearsals on next Thursday and Friday afternoons, the record will be cut Saturday morning, March 18.

The choir won the right to make the transcription when executives of MBS approved the audition records made by the choir in January.

Bearcats Dropped By Portland; Take Second in NAIB Tourney

By Tom Brennan

In the opening round of the district two tournament of the National Association of Intercollegiate basketball at the Portland Ice arena Monday night, the Bearcat go-getters inched past Northern Idaho 52-49, but in the Tuesday night finals, the favored Portland U Pilots earned a national tourney berth by chilling the Northwesterners 79-60.

Tuesday night the rink palace held an enthusiastic Willamette section that was bolstered by the band and for the first ten minutes of the tussle, it looked as if they might have a chance to raise real pandemonium. The Bearcats however, had to reckon with a five foot five inch hoop wizard named Happy Lee.

Against Southern Oregon College of Education, eliminated from title contention 59-47 in the second game Monday, the ex-Astorian Lee potted nine. The next night he netted 12 out of 18 shots from the floor and three from the foul stripe for 27 counters to lead both the 'Cats and the Pilots.

The Idaho Logger outfit came to Portland sporting a nifty record of 21 wins to eight losses. Ahead at the intermission 37-27, the Bearcat quint's lead went phffitt! as the Lewiston barrage boomed for 13 tallies in the first nine minutes of the second period.

In that time the lagging Jasons picked up only three and so went behind 40-39 with 9:15 gone. Doug Logue tied it at 40-40 and Lefty Nordhill fired for two. Logue canned another singleton but Dick Fike retaliated to make it 43-42. Loder's charity toss and Fike's field goal knotted it again at 44-44 with seven minutes remaining.

The Bearcats pushed on to 49-44 only to have Rollie McNair, NICE's master of the falling away shot, contribute two which was matched by Fike. Then Hugh Bellinger stepped to the foul stripe on two infractions, one each by McNair and Dick Hilding. Three out of four dropped in and, as in an earlier Linfield battle, Bellinger's free throws put the Jasons in the winner's circle.

Willamette pulled out in front in the Portland game as Chuck Robinson hooked in his favorite twice and added two gifters. With seven minutes gone the tie was at 14-14. Then Jack Winters converted his free throw to start rolling up the Pilot lead. That one point broadened to a steady eight as the 'Cats couldn't take advantage of their free ones. By the halftime the Pilots held a 38-30 bulge.

Four minutes after play resumed Jim Winters, former All-City ace from Roosevelt, started tearing all over the floor and dumped in four consecutive two-pointers in a minute and a half. With seven minutes gone, the Torson crew led 48-33 and kept just about that margin to the 70-60 finish.

The Bearcat hoopster's piled up their biggest score of the year in hurtling over Lewis and Clark in the season-closer 94-70 last week. Ted Loder accounted for 19 while Al Fedje, playing his best game of the year, clicked for 11.

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

Large Turnout Greets Lewis For Initial Baseball Practice

Over thirty aspiring baseball players answered coach Johnny Lewis' initial call Monday, and Lewis has already started regular practice.

While there are a number of lettermen returning from last year's squad, Lewis says that all the positions are still wide open, especially first base. Last year's regular first-sacker, Bruce Barker, graduated and his understudy, Bob White, is now counted among the pitching aspirants.

Lewis has been sending his crew through hitting practice as well as infield practice. Catcher Chuck Massey was especially outstanding in the hitting department, smashing out several long drives.

Among those turning out for pitcher was diminutive Ralph Onzuka. Though small, Onzuka has already demonstrated a good fast ball and fine control. Onzuka is a left-hander, and along with Bert Lund and Bob White form the southpaw pitching battalion.

Following is the Northwest conference schedule:

April 15, Pacific vs. Lewis and Clark at Portland, College of Idaho vs. Whitman at Walla Walla, Wash.; April 18, Linfield vs. Lewis and Clark at Portland; April 22, Lewis and Clark vs. Pacific at Forest Grove; Willamette vs. Whitman at Walla Walla (double header), Linfield vs. College of Idaho at Caldwell (double header); April 24, Willamette vs. College of Idaho at Caldwell (double header), Willamette vs. Linfield at Walla Walla (double header); April 28, Pacific vs. Willamette at Salem; May 2, Pacific vs. Linfield at Forest Grove, Willamette vs. Lewis and Clark at Portland; May 3, Whitman vs. College of Idaho at Caldwell; May 6, Willamette vs. Pacific at Forest Grove; May 10, Lewis and Clark vs. Linfield at McMinnville; May 13, College of Idaho vs. Pacific at Forest Grove (double header), Whitman vs. Lewis and Clark at Portland (double header), Willamette vs. Linfield at McMinnville; May 15, College of Idaho vs. Lewis and Clark at Portland (double header), Whitman vs. Pacific at Forest Grove (double header); May 18, Linfield vs. Willamette at Salem; May 18, Lewis and Clark vs. Willamette at Salem, Pacific vs. Linfield at McMinnville.

Baxter, Betas Top Volleyball

Baxter moved into a tie for first place with the Betas in the A volleyball league with two wins over the SAEs. Last Thursday the Baxterites defeated the SAEs 15-4 and 15-9, and Tuesday they came out on top over the same team 15-7 and 15-6.

Sigma Chi is now in third place in the A league with three wins and one defeat, while the Campus Y runs fourth with three wins and two losses, their latest win being over the Sixty-Niners. The Sixty-Niners pulled out of the cellar spot by defeating the Independents 5-15, 15-4, and 15-8.

The B league leaders, the Betas, came through with another win, taking the last two games from the Baxter C team after dropping the first. In other B league action, the SAEs moved into fourth spot with a forfeit win over the Phi Deltis, and the Baxter B's pushed the Phi Deltis further into the cellar spot by identical 15-12 counts.

Bonowitz Scores 173 to Top Frosh

Joe Bonowitz, lanky forward from Grant high of Portland, led the Willamette frosh basketball team in scoring for the season with 173 points. He was followed by Bob Smith, bespectacled center from Burns who had 144 points for the season. Dale Green, a forward hailing from Lakeview, was on Smith's tail with 143 counters.

Jim Johnson's cagers did not enjoy a too successful season, winning 10 and losing 12. They compiled 870 points while their opposition did somewhat better, scoring 880 points.

Individual scoring:
Bonowitz 173, Smith 144, Green 143, Jewell 95, Denney 74, Hande 67, Richartz 62, Ruff 33, Skimas 27, Miller 22, Moodhe 8, Cocking 3, others 19.

From the Sidelines

By TOM YATES

If you're a close follower of the fortunes of John Lewis' baseballing Bearcats you may be in for a few surprises one of these balmy spring afternoons. The way things look at this early date, affable John may be shuffling his lineup around like a riverboat gambler does a deck of Bicycles.

Currently in the experimental stage is the conversion of a couple of last year's infielding lettermen into pitchers. Tabbed as a sure thing to break into the mound corps is fireballing Gordy Lenz. Hard throwing Gordy has been "burning out" first basemen with his scorchers from his hot corner spot in past seasons. He threw a couple of innings for the 'Cats last year and showed enough stuff that Lewis decided to give him a chance at a permanent lease on a toe plate.

White May Hurl

The other erstwhile twirler is lefty Bob White who has been strictly a first baseman up 'til now. Lewis reports that White has lots of potentialities and could conceivably be the southpaw mainstay he's been looking for.

Under the heading of possible shifts come the names of Dick Brouwer, Irv Roth and Lou Scrivens. Brouwer will probably get a chance to switch from his last year's outfield spot to take a try at the first base assignment.

Irv and Lou both could handle an outfield spot without any qualms, both of them having played the outer pastures for semi-pro nines last summer. Roth, at this time, is ranked as the number two catcher behind Roy Harrington, and Scrivens is figured to be a big winner on the mound. However, returning outfielders are but three in number, including the aforementioned Brouwer, so either Irv or Lou might be asked to move their big bats into the outfielding set.

Three "Rahs" for Hughie

We'd like to toss out a few words of praise to hustling Hugh Bellinger of this year's Conference champion Bearkid basketballers. Hughie rates in our book as the most underrated of the starting five.

The All-stater from Salem high has always seemed to be the guy who was most likely to break up a tight ball game with his daring pass interceptions and accurate howitzer shots from out front. Hughie also clears a lot of balls off the boards, especially considering the fact that his guard position doesn't call for any special aptitude in that particular phase of the game. In one of the Whitman outings he controlled seven balls off the backboards.

Although the outcome of the Lettermen vs. Faculty basketball game was still unknown when this edition went to press, it's a sure thing that the entire student body will be eventual winners when they take in the Letterman's Ball tomorrow evening. Entire proceeds from last night's funfest go into the financing of the dance, which may consider the top social event of the year. Incidentally, special praise should go to Pete Hoar and 'Nig' White for the swell promotional job they did on the game.

WASTEBASKET STUFF

Question of the week: Can you think of a better nickname for our sporting troupes than the nonexistent—and not too ferocious—Bearcat!

Laugh of the week: John Lewis pondering how he's going to keep Stack from luring his baseballers out to the track field.

Hats off: To Frank Gatchel, Willamette's own Connie Mack. Frank is loosening up his throwing arm for another year of pitching, marking his third season in thirteen years.

Stackhouse on Tour

This past week the campus missed the figure of Coach Chester Stackhouse, as he was away on a speaking engagement in Eastern Oregon. His principal engagement was at Nyssa high school.

On his way to Nyssa he paid goodwill visits to many other high schools enroute. In his absence the job of track coach was taken over by his newly appointed managers, Howard Payne and Bob Graham.

Three of Willamette's all-time track record holders are pictured pointing to their respective names on the record board in front of the gym. Included are Bob Hall, Ted Mertz, and Brazier Small. Hall and Mertz are still attending Willamette while Small, who set his record in 1915, is now a Salem attorney.

Baxter Paces Bowling Loop

BOWLING STANDINGS

	W	L	Pts

Baxter No. 3	3	6	4
Sigma Chi No. 1	3	6	4
Beta Theta Pi	3	6	3
Phi Delt No. 2	1½	4½	2½

The Baxter No. 1 bowling team continues to pace the intramural bowling loop, although splitting two-two with the SAE No. 1 squad in the last week's play. The Phi Delt No. 1 five moved into a second place tie by taking three out of four points from the fourth place SAE No. 2 team.

In other league action, Sigma Chi No. 1 captured three out of four from Baxter Hall No. 3, Sigma Chi No. 2 took four from Baxter No. 2, and the Independents took three out of four from the Betas.

Ben Valdez of the SAE No. 1 team carried off both high game and series individual honors, rolling a 225 game and a 544 series. The Sigma Chi No. 2 team carried off the team honors, bowling a 947 game and a 2691 series.

Sigma Chi No. 2 and Phi Delt No. 2 are short three games because of byes due to withdrawal of one team. They will, however, bowl the same number of games as each team in the league will now have a bye for one week.

The Independents and the Phi Delt No. 2 squads tied one game, so each received a half-point for their efforts.

Intramural Skiers To Meet March 19

The date for the intramural ski meet has been officially announced as March 19. All living organizations are asked to hand their entry list in to Al Miles by the middle of next week.

In the mens' division, the maximum team will be six men of which the four best timing records will be taken for the team event. In the girls division any number may enter, but only the two best times will be counted towards the team honors. Awards will be given to both winning teams and outstanding individual performers.

Bearkits Dropped By Pioneer Frosh

Holding a 20-10 halftime bulge, the Willamette frosh suddenly collapsed as the Lewis and Clark frosh came back after the halftime intermission to hand them a 37-29 beating in the final game of the season at the Willamette gym last Friday night.

The Bearkits ended the season with a record of 10 wins against 12 losses, but it looked as though they were going to break even with a win over the Pioneer frosh.

Bearkits Find Range

The two teams were deadlocked at six-all with eight minutes gone. Willamette found the range in the next eight minutes, jumping to a 20-10 halftime lead. They converted eight out of nine free throws in the first half.

The roof fell in on the hapless frosh in the second half, however. Led by Jack Berke, Ron O'Brien and Duane Rasmussen, Lewis and Clark came roaring back. Before they knew it, Willamette found themselves in a 22-22 tie with the Pioneers. Lewis and Clark continued to pour on the coal, leading 32-23 with four minutes remaining. Willamette had scored only three free throws up to that time while the Pioneer frosh were getting 22.

Scoring Well Divided

Willamette finally found the range again in the last four minutes, but could only gain one point on the red hot Pioneers during that time.

Scoring was well divided on both squads in this final game. Berke collected 10 points for high point honors for the evening. Following him were Rasmussen and O'Brien who garnered eight counters apiece. Bob Smith and Wally Richartz shared high point honors for the losers, each checking in with six.

Stack Holds Time Trials in Practice

The first time trials of the season were run at Bush's pasture Friday afternoon, and some very good early season times were reported.

There were times taken in the 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 660 yard run, 880 yard run and three-quarter mile run. Efforts were also recorded in the discus and the shot put.

When the results of the survey of the gym class were tabulated, it was found that there is a surprising amount of latent talent in school that is not turning out for track.

This week there was posted on the backside of the track record board a list with the names of many men Coach Stackhouse would like to see out for track. All men in gym classes are asked to consult this list.

Saturday afternoon will see the running of time trials at Bush's pasture and are slated to be held at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Coronation Ceremony at Intermission To Be Highlight of Dance Tomorrow

Intermission at "Club W" tomorrow night will find Muriel Baney, Del Fisher, Shirley Griffin, Dona Mears and Marie Corner being escorted down a maroon-carpeted aisle to the bandstand, one to receive the crown and title of Varsity Queen.

The annual formal dance is sponsored by the Letterman's club with the whole campus invited to honor their queen elect. The dance will be in the gym between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock. Flowers are in order.

A false ceiling and vari-colored drapes will cover the walls, plus indirect lighting and a revolving chandelier providing a play of shadows. A waterfall has been planned for one part of the room and the bandstand will dominate the south wall. Burnell Ambrose is heading the committee planning decorations.

Maxine Muckle Married Sunday at Pi Phi House

Wedding vows of Maxine Muckle and Alvin Pietschman, both of Portland, were exchanged Sunday at 4 o'clock at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house. Dr. Robert Gatke officiated at the nuptials, which were read before the windows in the solarium amid an arrangement of spring flowers, palms and candles.

Shirley Weist of Portland sang and Beatrice Nagl played the wedding music. Lighting the tapers preceding the ceremony was Nicki Haynes. Dr. Dan Trullinger of Oak Grove gave his cousin in marriage.

Preceding the coronation ceremony at 10:15 p.m., Queen Virginia Wilson of the 1949 court will wear the crown which will then be presented to the queen of 1950. She will assist in the ceremony conducted by Roy Harrington, president of the Letterman's club. Immediately following the coronation the queen and her court will be interviewed over station KOCO which will then broadcast a half hour program of the dance music.

Gifts of a wrist watch donated by Holly Jackson and a gift from Howard Maple will be presented to the queen, who will also receive a bouquet of maroon roses. Orchid corsages will be given to the princesses. Working on the coronation committee are Desmond Walker, Howard Olson and Larry O'Dell.

Dave Longton's band will come from Portland to provide music. Traditional red felt dance programs with a large yellow "W" on the cover have been ordered by Roy Harrington. Refreshments of punch will be served by members of the club under the direction of Chuck Bowe. Sponsors for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stackhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Lestle Sparks.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white marquisette fashioned with lace inserts and a lace ruffle at the long pointed sleeves and V neckline. Her head dress was a lace picture hat with white satin streamers. The bridal bouquet was of white freesias and net.

Martha Bernard was her sorority sister's only attendant. Her gown and head dress were of aqua color, and fashioned similarly to those of the bride. Stanley Sharp of Portland was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the sorority house. Mrs. Fred Hargrafen of Portland cut the bride's cake. Assisting about the rooms were Geri Bowles, Nancy Adams, Colleen Schodde, Joanne Oliver, Inie Lou Wilhelm, and Gyla Master-son. Kay Stark and LuDene Hargrave greeted guests at the door.

Soph Honorary Taps Three Men

After a honeymoon in San Francisco, the couple will be at home in Portland. The bride graduated from Willamette in February, and was a political science major. Mr. Pietschman is a 1949 graduate of the University of Oregon, and a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Sigma Alpha Chi, sophomore men's service honorary, tapped three new members Wednesday to make a total of thirteen in the group.

Those tapped were Rod Beals, Glenn Halliday and Dave Card.

Wesleyans Invite Campus To Oriental Dinner Tonight

Wesleyans will be hosts to townspeople, students and guests at a Japanese dinner in the dining room of the First Methodist church from 5:30 to 7:30 tonight. The dinner is a project to raise money for the support of a Polish student on the campus who is sponsored by the YWCA. Oriental food, tea and cakes will be served by costumed waitresses and continuous entertainment will be provided.

Phil Phipps, general chairman of the dinner, has announced that the dining room has been transformed into an authentic Japanese garden outside a restaurant under the direction of Pat Pomeroy. Jim Wilcox is in charge of the entertainment which will feature a Japanese story teller and a magician. Japanese music will be played during the evening, and receptionists dressed in Japanese costumes and headed by Rose Marie Wilhoit, will greet guests at the door. Each guest will receive a program in the form of a miniature fan.

Nancy Lawson is in charge of publicity, and Mary Jo Wigginton has charge of tickets which may be purchased for $1.00 at the bookstore or the First Methodist church office. Pat Long heads the food committee, and clean-up will be taken care of by Stan Aschenbrenner.

Alpha Chi's Elect Powell

Margaret Powell of Beaverton was recently elected president of the local chapter of Alpha Chi Omega for the ensuing year. Miss Powell, a junior in the school of music, has been active in a number of campus organizations during her three years at Willamette.

Soon to assume the duties of vice-president are Ellen Reynolds, newly elected first vice-president, and Eleanora Loveless, second vice-president. Alice Wilhelm will serve as corresponding secretary, Jean Doolittle as recording secretary, and Lois Gottwald as treasurer.

Semi-Formal Set By Independents

Independents will hold their spring dance next Friday evening, March 17, from 8:30 to 11:30, in Baxter lounge. All independent students and their dates are invited to attend.

The affair will be semi-formal. In keeping with the St. Patrick's day theme, each person attending the dance should wear a touch of green. Flowers are not in order.

Mu Phi Group Elects Officers For Next Term

Officers of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary, have been elected for the coming year. President will be Lois Gottwald, active in music activities.

New officers are Gladys Blue, vice-president; Norvada Smedley, treasurer; Jodie Johannaber, corresponding secretary; Martha Benard, recording secretary; Doris McCain, warden and publicity; Jean Rice, historian; Jodelle Parker, alumni secretary; Beverly Gustafson, assistant alumni secretary, and Margaret Powell, chaplain.

Mu Phi is planning a musicale and team for April 23, as the first event of the second semester.

SAE Traveling Secretary Visits Coast, Willamette

Drew Minter, traveling secretary for the western provinces of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was a guest this week at the SAE house.

With a visit to the Oregon "sea monster" and a flying trip to the scene of a fire on Tuesday, he enlivened his stay with variety provided by Salem happenings.

At least twenty-five local SAE's joined Minter last night when the three Oregon chapters of Sigma Alpha Epsilon journeyed to Corvallis to attend the Founders' day banquet held there.

Woodburn High Gives Textbooks

Thirty volumes of a state adopted textbook currently in use in Oregon high schools were presented to the history department recently by Woodburn high school, according to Chester Kaiser, assistant history professor.

The book, Story of Nations, is a text on world history and will be used by prospective teachers in the social sciences as a guide to prepare lectures and examinations on the high school level, Kaiser said.

Education Notice

Seniors and graduates planning to teach next fall, and who have not completed their credentials with the college placement service, must make their record complete before the Oregon Education association meeting April 3 and 4.

Proudly exhibiting his white cheer-leading sweater, hilarious Herbie Smith directed the yell section for the faculty basketball team last night at the annual Lettermen-faculty rivalry.

Yell-Leader Smith and Faculty Battle Lettermen in Basketball

By Bill MacDougall

With (G.) Herbie Smith leading yells and such eminent basketball players as "Dependable Dan" Schulze pitting his brawn against the Willamette lettermen, the annual basketball game between the professors and "W" men got off to a hilarious start last night.

A capacity audience, mainly composed of students, watched their sedate professors whoop it up against the lettermen who played a hard, but uneasy game.

Unofficial reports to the Collegian said that flunks had been promised to many of the student participants by the score-conscious faculty, but a spokesman for the faculty stated that the accusation was "ridiculous, absurd, and how did they find out?"

The white-sweatered cheerleader, affectionately called "Smitty" by his student backers at the game, had been disqualified from performance in the

Training Schools Send U.S. Officer To Interview Men

Willamette men who are interested in applying for Aviation Cadet Training or Officer Candidate school, are asked to contact Captain Carol A. Mitchell, United States procurement officer, any time from 1 o'clock Monday morning to 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in Room 211 of the Post Office building.

He will interview and give examinations to anyone interested in making application for the training or school program.

Men from 20 to 26½ years of age, single or married, who are high school graduates, and have two years of college credits, in the case of the cadet training, are eligible to apply.

game by a decree from his colleagues, who were irritated by his lack of practice.

Some confusion was reported due to a mixup in uniforms, and lettermen as well as faculty were attired in varied costumes consisting of parts of baseball, old basketball, and football uniforms. Watergirls for each team kept the teams from yielding the battle at intermission.

Two "fabulously honest" referees were the game officials, according to Herb Johnsrud and Pete Bryant, who, incidentally, were the above-named officials for the scrap.

Many team members saw only limited action at the hands of the hard-fighting opponents, including "Battling Bob" Gatke, "Happy" Harold Jory, and "Dizzy Deans" Melvin Geist and Robert Gregg.

Bob White of the Lettermen's organization was chairman of the event, and the twenty-five cent admission fee will be used to help finance the Lettermen's ball, scheduled for Saturday night at the gymnasium.

Among players for the student team were Bill Kukahiko, Al Minn, and Newt Kohahio, who served on the defensive squad. The coach for the "W" men utilized the platoon system, employing both defensive and offensive playing.

Chapel Notice

Though chapel plans were not yet certain, due to Dean Raymond A. Withey's absence, a student chapel committee member reported that a student body meeting will be held on Tuesday, as well as the freshman Glee challenge.

Thursday's chapel in the First Methodist church will feature a speaker whose name was not revealed to the Collegian.

Lausanne Hall Hears German Band, Spontaneous Serenade

A brassy German band and a swarm of noisy singers swooped out of the night on Lausanne hall last week, when members of three fraternities on the campus staged a spontaneous serenade for that living organization.

Emerging from what originally was a derisive serenade by the SAE's to their Phi Delta neighbors, the German band of the Phi Delta Theta group soon joined the noise contest, and members of both organizations then marched on the Sigma Chi wing.

Hocking Becomes Ill After Meeting

Severe illness this week was the cause of the third week of absence from his classes at Willamette of Dr. George Hocking, head of the language department.

Following a trip to a romantic language professors' meeting, Dr. Hocking fell ill, and was forced to remain out of school last week. Reporting to his first classes Monday, he was reportedly advised to return home when he felt weak.

Students in each of his classes have taken over professorial duties, with Dr. Paul Beal supervising the classes during Hocking's absence.

Exchanging sings with the Sigs while the Betas listened quietly in their house, the main body was joined by the Sigma Chi's, plus a few Beta Theta Pi members, with a sprinkling of Baxter hall men who proceeded to march on the women's dormitory en masse.

A nocturnal dance of reportedly primitive origin was performed by two men to the appreciative women, who heard the vocal toast by the men to the Lausanne house mother as well as the outnumbered Beta group.

Lights in the president's residence next door did not appear even when the German band rendered several numbers, or when the women replied to the men with appropriate songs of school spirit.

Over 200 WU Students Holding Positions Secured Through Offices of Two Deans

By Jill Larson

More than 200 Willamette students are holding part time jobs secured for them through the offices of the dean of students and dean of women, according to figures released by Dean Regina Ewalt this week.

Baxter's kitchen, Lausanne's cafeteria, and Bishop house take the lead in employment of Willamette students. On-campus employment includes approximately 101 students in the music school, library, law library, infirmary, gym, bookstore, and the office. Average payment per hour is sixty cents.

Employment secured by the dean of students and dean of women for students off-campus includes 75 men and 41 women. Eighteen women and 68 men are excused from chapel because of employment during school hours. Many other students are employed off campus by securing their own jobs, Dean Ewalt said.

Jobs held by women are primarily typing and shorthand, filing and typing, and waitress work. Positions held by Willamette men include general construction and labor, office jobs, and selling jobs.

The office of the dean of women is having difficulty in matching job openings with skills registered, according to Mrs. Ewalt. The office is also trying to assist students in finding summer jobs, she says.

Sherman Bliss, managing editor of the Wallulah, asks this week that anyone who can develop and print pictures and would be interested in doing so for the Wallulah please contact him or LuDene Hargrave in the Wallulah office.

WSSF Sets Fee Of Tour at $290 Plus Daily Cost

Two hundred ninety dollars is the latest figure quoted by a student tour group, this time by the World Student Service Fund, for round-trip to Europe from Quebec.

Not including the three to six dollars per day figure for the two months tour of Europe, the transportation is by way of Rotterdam, Holland. From there, according to press releases sent to the Collegian, trips to various parts of Germany for study and recreation will be provided.

Nearly all Western European nations will be available for WSSF tours, and special summer courses in many of the continent's finest schools will be included in this program.

Proposed study of subjects from sterilization to languages will be offered, and combinations of courses will be practically open for any type student that attends the summer trip. Other trips will include visits to Scandinavia, Germany, France, the low countries, Italy, Austria, Switzerland and Great Britain.

Oils Next on Exhibit

Margaret Simpson's exhibit of oil paintings will be the next group of paintings to be on display in the north wing of the Art building. Paintings will be up in time for Glee.

any normal woman want to look like a man?

3. Will it eliminate ladies day at the ball parks and other such masculine considerations for the "gentler" sex?

4. Is it liable to alter the conventional order of courtship? It seems likely that, with so many new money earning opportunities open to them, that the girls would soon be paying at least their share of the dating expenses.

Is Clouting Serious?

5. Will it make clouting one's husband an offense comparable in seriousness to wife beating?

6. Will it have any effect on those colleges which still adhere to the double standard and impose a wealth of restrictions on their women students? These are questions that seem most important to the author of this article and in looking over the said piece of material, I can hardly help but ask this question in return: Be ye mice or men on the Western Washington campus? If you keep them fat and barefooted you won't have any trouble with them.

Exchange Notes . . .

By Paul Southworth
Exchange Editor

Payment of money, for many people, no matter what the reason, is painful, to say the least.

However, according to the Pioneer Log of Lewis and Clark college, the "Ancient and Honorable Order of Lewis and Clark Tuition Takers" were perhaps attempting to facilitate the valuetudinarity of the somewhat disquieting situation (in other words, ease the pain) last Friday. On the receipt machines was taped this quotation from Benjamin Franklin:

"An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest. If a man empties his purse in his head, no man can take it away from him."

Merit Obvious

Whether or not the Pioneers found solace in the quotation, the merit within is obvious and it would behoove us to live under that famous saying which has remained none the less true since the day Franklin came forth with it.

The Senate has passed by a vote of 63-19 a proposed amendment to the constitution which would give women completely equal rights with men. The amendment still must be passed by the house of representatives and three-fourths of the state legislatures. Here are a few pertinent questions asked in the Western Washington Collegian of Bellingham, Washington, which go unanswered in the newspaper and radio reports.

1. Does it mean that all current forms of courtesy and respect e.g., hat-tipping and seat-giving, may be forgotten and dropped into the realm of quaint old customs?

Shirts Foretell Fate

2. Will the women, intoxicated by their new found equality forget their sex which, indisputably, has been their number one asset through the ages? A hint of such disaster is foretold in a recent Life magazine articles that featured "man tailored shirts for women." This poses the obvious question: why would

The Amen Corner

Prof. Herman Clark of Willamette will lead Wesley in a discussion, "A Faith in Christ," on Sunday. The recreation hour begins at 5:30. Informal singing will be done during the dinner hour.

Rev. O'Callaghan will lead the second in a series of Lenten discussions at this week's meeting of Catholic club. Members will meet at 7 p.m. at St. Joseph's hall.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend an informal dinner being arranged by Westminster fellowship for this Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Those attending will be charged 75 cents per plate. Scotty Washburn is general chairman for the affair which will be held in the social hall of the First Presbyterian church. Entertainment will be provided.

The theme, "New Venture," will be the focus of interest at this week's meeting of Senior Baptist youth. Walt Judd is in charge of the service. Inspirational group singing will be led by Jerry Bull, and Norman Mann, Wilma Dunn, Jim Lacy and Evelyn Bartlett will each participate in the devotions. The service begins at 8:15 at the First Baptist church.

A forum, "The Christian Appraises World Government Plans," will be held on Sunday evening at 8 p.m. in the First Congregational church. Principal speakers are Judge James T. Brand, associate Justice of the Oregon Supreme Court, and Dr. Orval Etter, former attorney for the League of Oregon cities, and now far west secretary of the fellowship of reconciliation.

Members of Phi Zeta Christo will again have a Bible study on another portion of the book of Acts. Lucille Proctor will lead the discussion, and Glenn Lukinbeal will have charge of worship. Refreshments will be served to the group at 6 o'clock.

Game Postpones KOCO Broadcast

Again this week, like last week, Willamette Fireside, heard over KOCO at 9 p.m. Monday evening was postponed due to the broadcasting of a local basketball game.

Scheduled for next week's Fireside is an all Sigmund Romberg program featuring Betty Jean Mullin, Bob Gwinn and Terry Murray.

Campus Group Blocks Move By YMCA to Remove Clubs

Attempts to prevent the area YMCA meeting in Salem last week from removing the charter for student YMCA organizations on campuses from their constitution were blocked by the successful efforts of Willamette's Y group.

Dave Handy, one of the leaders who moved to prevent the action when it was discovered shortly before the convention, said that the area delegates were sympathetic to the plans of the campus Y, and had reconsidered their move.

Officers who also worked to prevent the action were the newly elected quartet of Millard Bates, president; Handy, vice-president; Wally Gutzler, secretary; and Bob Borquist, treasurer.

Future plans of the new cabinet include more fellowship meetings within the campus group, a successful book drive, a large delegation to the training camp at Seabeck, plus assistance in school functions.

Civil Service Has Jobs for Seniors

Caseworker, employment security deputy and personnel assistant positions are open to graduating seniors, according to an announcement from the State Civil Service commission.

Examinations for these posts are open to college students who will graduate by July 1 and applications for the tests must be submitted by April 8.

Each class is the beginning technical position in its field of public service and starting salaries are, caseworker, $200; employment security deputy, $220, and personnel assistant, $240. Pay is based on a 40-hour week.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States and residents of Oregon. Application blanks and further information may be obtained from the Civil Service commission office or the Oregon State employment service in Salem.

YW Elects New Officers Today

Polls for election of YWCA officers will close today at 4 p.m. Nominations were made at the monthly meeting of the group Monday night.

Those contesting for the post of president are Florence Goodridge, Joan Holbeck and Joanne Oliver. Secretarial nominees are Nancy Marks, Jean Crakes and Barbara Baker. Those running for treasurer are Mary Lou Ratcliff, Ann Klindworth and Marge Aldinger.

The presidential nominee with the second highest number of votes will become vice-president.
