

FOOTBALL TAKES FORMER PLACE IN W. U. ATHLETICS

Thirty-six Men Answer Call of Gridiron; Seven Letter Men Are Now On Hand

COACH MATHEWS BACK

Wednesday First Practice; Dimick in Charge of Early Workouts; But Few Men Experienced; Average Weight Light.

Judging from the size of the squad and the class of material turning out for football, it is evident that Willamette is, to take her former place in athletics and turn out a team equal to those of pre-war days. Captain Dimick issued the first call for football candidates last Wednesday, and approximately 30 men responded.

All the men are working hard under Coach Mathews, who has just returned from his summer's work in Washington. There are two departments of the game in which the coach excels. Not only for leadership but also for strategy Coach Mathews is widely known. In years past Coach Coach Mathews, who returned Monday evening.

Mathews has often organized teams from scanty material. This year, with an abundance of good men to draw from and a school spirit which will undoubtedly run high, we may expect splendid results.

Since the first call for football material was made, several additional candidates have reported, bringing the total up to 36.

Of the present turnout there are seven men who have won their football letters in previous years, Harold Dimick, Paul Wapato, Russell Rarey, Edwin Socolefsky, Loren Basler and Frosty Olson of the 1917 team are reporting. Athill Irvine, who won his letter in 1916 is also back in the game. Irvine filled the quarterback position in that year. Other men

THE MAN EMBARRASSED

University Y. M. C. A. Welcomes a Curious Silent Student.

Members of the Y. M. C. A. who engaged in helping the new students to find rooms and register did a large amount of work and helped a number of newcomers to find themselves. As an example of the zeal displayed by the students the following story is vouched for by those in charge.

One active young gentleman whose duty was to meet the trains, discovered only one person in the crowd leaving the S. P. train who could possibly be a Willamette student. He approached the young man in question, introduced himself and tried his best to make the stranger welcome to Salem.

He attributed the fact that the young fellow did not seem enthusiastic when he admitted that he had come to Salem to enter school. But our Y. M. C. A. conductor seized his suit case and started him over toward the W. U. campus. It was not until the pair were traversing the tennis courts that the conversation disclosed a strange fact. The new student was in Salem to attend—not Willamette University—but the Boys' Training School.

NEW MEMBERS ON W. U. FACULTY

Prof. Rentfro Is New Head of English Department

Miss Lyda Fake Heads Home Economics Department; Miss Holman New Instructor in Music.

Three new instructors have been added to the faculty. Professor Lyda Fake heads the home economics department, which has been created this year. She graduated from Milwaukee Downer College, in 1916 with the degree of B. S. in Home Economics. Since that time she has been instructing in this subject in Missouri from where she came in July. Miss Alice Holman, a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, will teach piano, theoretical, and public school music. Professor J. L. Rentfro, head of the English department, comes from Newbury, Mass. He took graduate work in Boston and Harvard, where he taught classes under Prof. Greenough. In Boston, he finished one year of theology. Last year he taught in the University of Illinois.

FACULTY SPEND THEIR VACATION IN VARIOUS WAYS

Franklin Climbs Rainier; Pack Donkeys are Popular, Also Flying Machines

MATTHEWS LECTURES

Dean Alden Secures Lausanne Funds; Mrs. Dodd Aids Red Cross Bureau; Prof. Von Eschen Visits East; Prof. Ebsen Climbs Too.

Where have the faculty members been roaming this summer. Listen! Professor Matthews has traveled about 2700 miles in short distances. Beginning May 16 he gave nine high school commencement addresses; five lectures in Ashland, on the Bible; preached 17 times, including 13 services in Portland. His recreation consisted of four days spent on the ocean beach with his mother.

Many other of the professors were equally tireless in their continued efforts for W. U. Dean Alden was successful in swelling the wealth of the New Lausanne.

Professor and Mrs. Peck journeyed for eight weeks in true trapper fashion, about Curry county, not in search of fame, but rather on the lookout for extraordinary bugs, birds and flowers. Their zeal was not in vain for many new varieties of wood lore were discovered and captured. Part of their way was eased or rather made completely interesting by the presence of burrows to escort them along. For a short interval of time they located on the farthest western point in the U. S. A., Cape Blanc.

Mrs. Dodd helped care for the needs of the soldier boys. Professor Franklin was among the successful 36 who reached the top of Mt. Rainier. He joined the Portland "Mazama" Mountain Climbers in their annual trip. Professor Ebsen also sampled mountain climbing. He was not thoroughly enough impressed however to care to choose it as his life occupation.

Professor Von Eschen journeyed eastward for three or four weeks. Miss Richards accepted Salem as her summer abiding place and almost immediately the Statesman claimed her as their city reporter. Time was found, however, to accept the challenge to "come-up-higher." She was literally lifted above things earthly. She reports it the most wonderful event of her life and for evermore now airplanes are but commonplace things at Willamette for one of our faculty folks has ridden therein.

Mrs. Prof. Miller is still in the East but will soon return.

Dr. Van Fossen, Trustee, Died at Home in Ashland

The news of the death of the Rev. H. W. Van Fossen, D. D., comes as a sad shock to all of his university friends. He died suddenly at his home in Ashland, some three weeks ago.

Dr. Van Fossen was born in Licking county, Ohio, on January 23, 1847. Most of his ministerial charges were held in Minnesota. At the time of his death he was superintendent of the Klamath district and was a trustee of the university.

Dr. Van Fossen is survived by a wife and a daughter, Mrs. G. R. Overmire, of Seattle, Washington. He also leaves one brother and two sisters.

Willamette Evening to Be Held by Conference

Beginning October 1, the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its annual conference. At this time Salem will be the privileged host to over 200 ministers and their wives. The conference extends over a period of about eight days. A cordial invitation is given to the students to attend the various sessions of the conference which will convene in the First M. E. Church, on the corner of State and Church streets.

One evening of the conference will be designated as Willamette evening. On this occasion, the 75th anniversary of the founding of the institution will be commemorated by a special service. Dr. B. L. Stowers, president of the board of trustees, will preside. The speakers of the evening are to be Judge H. L. Benson, Pres. C. G. Doney and Bishop M. S. Hughes.

DONEY WELCOMES YOU

Freshmen And Returned Service Men Are Cordially Greeted.

Willamette University is 75 years old, and has just admitted the 76th class. It had little to offer the first class; one building and one teacher in the midst of a primitive wilderness. But it must have had courage, determination and faith. The last class is admitted to a great wealth; the spiritual residuum of all its predecessors, the traditions and customs which make the institution uniquely distinctive, a material equipment and faculty quite up to date. Likewise, the school retains courage and Christian faith.

To all that Willamette was and is to be we welcome you. We wanted the freshmen to come and it is expected that they will give and receive much, that they will achieve the culture and training which will make them complete citizens of the world in which they are to live. The return of the service men gives complete joy. During their absence we followed them with hopes and prayers and now that they are here we are glad. —Carl G. Doney.

SEABECK BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Willamette Well Represented in All Main Activities of Y. M. C. A. Conference

Seabeck Gains in Its Popularity With College Men As Fellowship Center for Men of the Northwest.

Willamette's delegation at the Seabeck conference in June broke all records. With a total of 19 delegates, the second largest present, Willamette University gave Seabeck a stirring demonstration of her spirit.

From the start, the "Woolyheads" were a Seabeck landmark but when the quartet appeared Willamette was given undoubted lead. A concert on the lagoon featured part of the Seabeck program. An evening of song with some members of the faculty, followed by "treats" and other evenings of serenades kept the students aware of Willamette's presence.

Then in the track meet we gained another victory, taking the majority of points, and winning the pennant offered for that part of the program.

Every minute of the time was filled. Tennis, baseball and classes, swimming, hiking and lectures filled a short week of vacation that will always be remembered by the happy 19. Seabeck is an ideal vacation spot and it offers ideal vacation experiences. Willamette has founded a reputation at Seabeck, but Seabeck has won an even greater one at Willamette.

The associations are wonderful. One meets faculty members who can advise; men who can appreciate. There are members of other colleges with whom college problems are discussed. Seabeck furnishes a thorough vacation for the student.

New Club Is Organized; Beta Chis Have House

From now on there will be a house full of girls located at 785 Court street, and it will be known as the Beta Chi House.

The dormitory is so small this year that other accommodations were necessary, and so a group of girls rented the house and have a home large enough to accommodate 15.

The house is operated by the girls with the aid of Mrs. E. C. Richards as house mother.

Old Custom Declares Holiday

Since Wednesday is always Salem Day at the state fair, Willamette annually falls in line with custom and tradition and declares a holiday on such date. The announcement of the resumption of this custom which, though never given up, caused a burst of cheer from the students who were in chapel, Monday. W. U. has an exhibit at the fair which is being arranged by Dr. E. C. Richards. Willamette's field secretary.

EGGE LIBRARY IS WORTHY GIFT TO UNIVERSITY

Collection Includes Volumes of Best Literature and Many Source Books

WALLACE GIVES BOOKS

University Receives 254 Books From Wallace Family Library; Pres. Doney and Alice Page Give Valuable Works.

Numerous contributions have been received by Willamette university during the summer months in the way of books for the university library. At present the library contains more volumes than in any previous year of its existence.

Chief among these contributions are those of Mrs. A. E. Egge, Mr. Paul Wallace and President Doney. A number of volumes were also purchased from the University Library fund.

The contribution of Mrs. Egge consists of 85 volumes from the library of her husband, the late professor A. E. Egge. This collection includes choice volumes of the best in literature, and source books in the same subject. The principal volumes are: The Athenaeum Press (a series of works on English literature), ten volumes of short stories by American authors, ten volumes of English short stories, numerous source books for Chaucer and the early British writers, Anglo-Saxon and Norman literature, Craik's English Prose, Waid's English Poets, a few books on history, essays and various textbooks.

Mr. Wallace's contribution are choice works from the Wallace family library and include: The works of George Eliot, Irving, Bancroft's History of the U. S., Waverley Novels (illustrated), Thackeray, histories, textbooks, Howell, Longfellow, Black and histories by Macaulay and Grosset. Mr. Wallace contributed 251 volumes altogether.

President Doney gave 52 books which include the best works on Theology, Methodism and sociology.

The books purchased by the university include: The Classics, eight volumes of Latin literature and seven of Greek, and also numerous works on history. The classics, which include 15 volumes in all, contain the history, philosophy, oratory, religion, law, essay, science and drama. Most of the well-known classic authors are included in this set. Their work are a survey of national literature in translation. The volumes contain several illuminated manuscripts and portraits of the most famous authors who wrote in Latin and Greek.

A library of oratory by Dewey, in 14 volumes will serve as a very useful set for reference work in oratory. The university also purchased the "American Nation," a set of historical works in 26 volumes.

Miss Alice Page, who is now teaching in Coe college, Iowa, made important contributions to the library, and these will be discussed in detail in a later issue.

Men's Club Obtain House; Full Organization Soon

A group of men students have purchased the Moore house at 520 Oak street, and are fitting it for a club. There is a membership of 23 in the house now, and several more will be added in the near future. No permanent organization has been effected as yet, but it will be completed in a few days.

The house is exceptionally well fitted for the purpose, especially with the addition of a sleeping porch which has just been completed. The officers at present are: President, Harold Dimick; secretary, Leland Austin; manager, Oscar Olson. Meals have been served at the house for the past week.

The club membership at present consists of Leland Austin, Francis Cramer, Harold Dimick, Merrill Gilling and Oscar Olson; 20; Paul Day, Laurence Davies, Harold Emmet, Paul Flegel, Loren Basler, Russell Rarey, Raymond Rarey, Ralph Thomas, Byron McKittrick, and Paul Wise, 21; Benjamin Beck, Hamon Demark, Sheldon Sackett, Lester Dyer, Harry Rarey, Gary Gillette, 22; and Vernon Sackett, 23. More definite announcements will be made concerning the new organization in the next issue.

FLEGEL GIVEN JOY RIDE

Power of Mind Over Matter Doubled By This Upper Classman.

Some people ask for rides, others pay for them, and still others have rides forced upon them. Paul Flegel happened to be going thru Salem two weeks ago Sunday, and thought he would stop over and attend church. We are very sure he wanted to go to church—St. A very able delegation met him at the train, and Paul went "joy" riding to Silverton, and various other places of interest around Salem, while some one else in town was wondering if she had read a certain letter rightly. Paul said he never wasted so much time in all his life, since a very small fraction of the day was left to spend at 316 N. Church street.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC HAS MORE ROOM

Three New Instructors Also Assist in Handling Large Music Registration

Misses Ross and Johns Will Teach Piano and Voice, Respectively; Miss Holman New Assistant.

Willamette College of Music has increased admirably in proportion to the rest of the university and at the present time has an enrollment of 34 for the study of piano, 26 for voice culture, one for instruction in violin, five for organ lessons and 18, three and nine for the classes in harmony, public school music and history of music, respectively.

This extensive growth in addition to the change with respect to the girls' dormitory has made new and larger quarters necessary for the music school. Only five rooms of the old Music Hall were used, but nine rooms of Science Hall are now accommodating the department. Three of these on the second floor are applied for instruction and six on the third floor furnish pleasant, spacious room for practicing. Nine pianos are being used in addition to the pipe organ in the chapel.

Dr. John R. Sites, who has charge of all university music, is teaching voice, violin, cello, and sight singing, and is instructing the Girls' Glee Club, and the First Methodist Church choir of 69 voices. The choir is larger than ever before and gives promise of efficient service to the church and university. In addition, Professor Roberts resumes his work in biology and piano and three new instructors in whom Willamette has abundant reason to place her confidence, are endeavoring to make this the greatest year that the college of music has ever known. Those who are working there for the first time are Miss Lucile Ross for piano, Miss Ruth Johns for voice and Miss Alice Holman, who comes from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Massachusetts, for piano, history of music and public school music.

Without doubt God is silent, simpler, dominant, natural science at a standstill, philosophy naive, letters scant, and all things inspired by commoner darkness.—Walt Whitman

SCHOOL OPENS; ENROLLMENT IS LARGE AS EVER

Many New Courses Offered; Home Economics Is New; Law Begins Oct. 1

REGISTRATION UP TO 349

Delayed Students Returning Every Day May Raise Total Above 400; Returned Soldiers Affiliated With Various Classes.

With the registration for the fall semester practically complete with the exception of the College of Law the Registrar's books show that there are 349 students in Willamette University. This is the largest registration in the history of the institution and it is due to exceptionally large freshman class, and to the return of many service men, who have recently been discharged from the army and navy. Many of the freshmen boys have only lately returned from the service.

There are 12 students again in school who left with Co. M in 1917 and who saw almost 18 months service in France. The returning Co. M men who are affiliating with the seniors are: William Kelly and Welcome Putnam. Those who have joined the ranks of juniors are: Dwight Kloster, Ray Atterbury, Bryan Conley, Vernon Kloster, Rein Jackson, William Sherwood and Leslie Bailey. Ed F. Holt, Victor Collins, Dean Pollock, Clarence Carpenter and Athill Irvine will affiliate with the sophomore class.

There are also a number of men again in school who learned how to be good freshmen with the class of 1921, and also of 1920. There men are now affiliating with various classes. There are also a number of upper classmen coming from other schools to Willamette and some troop who were here in the S. A. T. U. last year.

The registration this year, when complete, will probably be much larger than at present, and when the students in the law school have registered it will probably reach the 400 mark. Last year the total registration was 318, while in the year 1915, 1916, 377 students were registered, and 282 in 1914-1917. The freshman class alone numbers 135 this year, 23 of whom have won scholarships from their respective high schools.

With the opening of this semester a wholly new department of domestic science which is located in the east half of the first floor of Science Hall. The department is under direction of Miss Fake and the equipment used is strictly up to date and several practical courses are open to the women of the school.

Cookery and foods, a new course, is a very practical course, teaching the planning, cooking and serving of meals. There are 30 in this class which is divided into two sections of 15 each. Textiles, another course which is being taken by 12 young women, deals with fibres and fabrics

YOUR WELCOME.

To say you are welcome were superfluous.—Shakespeare.

Universities everywhere are welcoming thousands of students at this time. To you who have chosen Willamette as an Alma Mater, we wish to extend the hand of collegiate friendship.

We welcome you to our traditions, to our times for study and play, to a long list of successful alumni and to ourselves.

YOU ARE WILLAMETTE.

Have you ever felt that perhaps your actions were the cause of some comment? That your words may have fallen on ears which you had not intended should hear?

DON'T DO IT.

Nobody loves a falsifier. Such a person can do more damage to a good cause than an army and navy put together, oftentimes.

WE WANT YOU.

To insure a successful Collegian this year, we want your help. We need it, too. If you are at all interested in reporting, ever have been or ever will be, let us know about it.

WILLAMETTE'S WELCOME.

It is indeed a pleasure to welcome the returned service men who are back in school. And it is also a pleasure which has long been looked forward to by Willamette University.

PROFESSORS GLAD TO HELP YOU.

Not only new students but older students as well, have trouble in selecting their course of study. Appreciating this fact, and realizing the difficulty of making appointments during school hours, the following list of professors with their respective addresses and telephone numbers has been compiled.

ALUMNI NEWS.

Mr. Frank B. Irvine, A.M., '98, editor of the Oregon Journal of Portland, was orator for the 75th commencement exercises held at Willamette in June of this year.

Six former students of Willamette were among those selected by the local post of the American Legion to attend the state convention at Portland last week, September 18 and 19.

Dr. Charles H. Raffety, graduate in medicine from W. U., died May 10 in Portland. His estate, valued at $59,000, was left to his widow, Mrs. Sarah Almada Raffety, the sole heir.

Dr. David Raffety, graduate of Willamette school of medicine, was one of the many members registered at the annual meeting of Oregon Pioneer Society this summer.

The funeral service of Mrs. W. H. Odell, who died in Salem Friday, July 4, was held at the First Methodist Church on Monday afternoon.

For many years General Odell was president of the board of trustees of Willamette University, his predecessors in that office being Jason Lee, David Leslie and J. L. Parish, and he was a member of the General Conference of 1900.

"What is said to be the skull of an infant was unearthed at the Blevins mound near Albany by members of the party of summer school students and faculty of Oregon Agricultural College who went on an excursion to the mound under direction of J. B. Horner, professor of History at the college.

Professor Horner is a graduate of Willamette, in the class of 1885. Professor Horner was one of the patrons of the Historical pageant presented on the campus during the last commencement season.

Dr. John Reynolds died at his country home near Salem June 22, 1919. He was a trustee of Willamette University, and Dean of the Medical College of the university.

Adolph Spiess '18 is teaching at Colton, Oregon, this year.

LITTLE LAUSANNE SIMILAR TO OLD

Remodeled Music Building Provides Home for Women Until New Home Built

Sleeping Porch Causes Many to Be Tardy or Absent at Important Times; Furnace Is Big Help.

There was born upon the campus about the 12th or 13th of September a daughter to Lausanne Hall, and though a bit more modern she resembles the parent quite markedly.

Such is her pedigree, but there is more to be said about Lausanne Junior. Her most modern feature is a comfortable sleeping porch, which accommodates 12 young women and causes late breakfasts—or no breakfast—on cold mornings.

The present Lausanne most resembles the old Hall in that she inherits some inconveniences and circumstances have thrust others upon her, which fact makes living in perfect orderliness a trifle difficult at times.

However, there is a serious aspect to the new home as there was to the old. It is still Lausanne and the 26 girls who live there love it and are anxious to make their college life and that which follows just what it ought to be.

RUTHLESS WARNING IS DELIVERED TO FROSH

Bloody Posters Arouse Phantoms of Future Torments to Be Administered to Infants of '23.

One might have expected to see the bright verdure of the lawns dyed a deep crimson by this time after reading the dire prophesies which were spread around over the campus, backed and apparently vouched for by flaming 22's.

To the onlookers who were from neither of the interested classes, the situation was closely studied. Would the sophs stalk to and fro with daggers in their teeth, like the pirates of old? And would the infant class sneak in and out with terror in their faces?

The posters are an index of life and pep residing in the sophomore class, and are not to be lightly disregarded by the freshmen. One thing the author of this poster did accomplish which no one ever attempted before: he showed how pleasant and refreshing the millstream is, and practically convinced his readers that nothing is so desirable as to be thrown in the race.

Y. M. RENDERS SERVICE

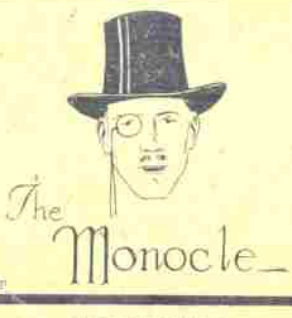

Employment, Board and Lodging As Well As Advice Offered.

New students: Willamette Y. M. C. A. is welcoming you. It's members have been working for this welcome for weeks. Now that school has actually started you will help greatly by taking advantage of its conveniences.

Have you read the handbook? It was printed at a good deal of expense and hard work by the Y. M. C. A. We think this is a mighty fine little book and contains all the information you will need to have.

The vest room is another convenience; tables and chairs are there to use and a nice sofa on which to take that morning nap. Speak to the fellow behind the desk, he'll find you a room, a job, or a place to eat. Don't be afraid to ask him to do something for you.

The Wednesday evening weekly get-together is the big Y. M. C. A. activity. That's where all of the big men of Willamette have started and are still going. Come every Wednesday evening. There's sure to be something real good for you there.

THE MONOCLE.

The Monocle has wondered for some time how college spirit may be defined. The conclusion is reached that each individual and class has its own ideas and opinions regarding this loyalty to school.

The little freshman entered the car carrying a suitcase and a hat box. She looked timidly for a seat and then slipped quietly to a place beside a self-possessed young lady who smiled a welcome.

"You're going to Salem, too?" asked the freshman and the self-possessed lady said she was.

"Oh dear," the freshman went on, "I've never been to a large town and I'm scared to death. I'm going to college and I never saw one before. The dormitory is full and I have no room. They said to come and there would be a place for me, but where, where? I may have to sit up all night in the station, and tomorrow night and for every night. Oh dear!"

The monocle sat behind and he had to see and he had to hear, and he wanted to do both. He wished he might talk, also but the well poised young lady said many cheerful things to the freshman.

Campus service-machines met the little freshman and junior, and in two hours the little freshman was unpacking her trunk and in another hour was writing home to tell the first chapter in the Wonder Book of Willamette.

and the judging of materials, also a comparison of commercial and home made articles. The home, a third course in this department, deals with the building, furnishing and managing of a home and is taken by about 10 young women.

The kitchen accommodates 16 students at one time, and is exceedingly well furnished and has a dining room in connection, which will accommodate six persons.

The sewing laboratory will accommodate 24 girls, and is fitted with new machines and equipment. The sewing department has also a fitting room and the course in dress will be given next semester.

Corner Remodels Store; Takes on More Business

No—"the old school shop ain't what she used to be." When 'Iky' corner began remodeling his bazaar he did not quit till he had a real store in its place.

So that he would not find it compulsory to move the stove into the hall, Corner has built a miniature mezzanine floor for office space and storage room.

The jewelry is also attractive, there being many new designs for society and association pins and insignia. Then there is a show case devoted to useful notions where every look brings something new to light and if you don't see what you want it is because you haven't looked long enough. Quiz day will be tabbed with Ivan if business does not slow down so he can take in a class now and then.

FOOTBALL TAKES FORMER PLACE IN W. U. ATHLETICS

who have defended the school colors in years past are: Paul Brown, of the 1915 team, and Floyd McIntyre, David Lawson, Lester Day, Paul Flegel, and Ralph Curtis, from the team of two years ago.

Johnny Medler, quarterback on the 1917 squad, and Henry Spiess, center for the team of that same year, are both unable to turn out this season.

Among the men who have played on service elevens during the past year are: McIntyre, who filled a position with the Marine team at Bremerton, and Basler who, while in the navy, and on duty in England, represented his organization on the gridiron.

Among the new men who have had previous experience, and who are showing up well at the present writing are: Smith, who played for the Camp McArthur, Texas, team last year, and Radslinger, who played on the eleven representing the U. S. S. Wyoming, 1916 champions of the navy.

Quite a few of the candidates have had high school experience and are expected to show up unusually well. Miles, who enters as a senior, played tackle for one year on the Salem high team. Hull has also played on one of Salem's elevens. Ramsey, who comes from Prineville, was a star in the backfield for Crook County High School.

Other promising candidates from which the team will be picked are: White, R. Zeller, H. Lyman, Allington, Barnes, Power, Sherwood, Moody, Nickel, P. Day, Lawson, Masters, Scholl and Caion.

SOCIETY

With the opening of the school year, society has involved itself for the main part into a series of "get acquainted" affairs while through the summer various reports have drifted toward Salem concerning the activities of alumni and ex-students.

A pretty home wedding occurred in Salem on the 29th of August when Miss Ruth Hodge became the bride of Mr. Paul Todd. Both the bride and groom were previously connected with Willamette University, Mrs. Todd having graduated in 1917. Mr. Todd attended the university while his father was its president. Lately he has been an ensign in the navy. Mrs. Todd was a member of the Adelante Literary Society, while Mr. Todd was a Websterian.

Miss Marjorie Flegel was the luncheon guest of Misses Muriel Steeves and Fay Peringer Saturday evening after the trip to Chestnut Farm. A movie provided the entertainment during the latter part of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Metcalf are now in Chicago where they are attending Northwestern University. Mrs. Metcalf was formerly Miss Lola Cooley, Willamette University '18, while Mr. Metcalf is an ex-Willamette student.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Miss Muriel Steeves and Miss Fay Peringer were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Legge and Miss Margaret Legge at their country home last Sunday. In the afternoon the party motored to Silverton.

Miss Olive Mark was a Salem visitor during registration week. She returned to her home in Sheridan Friday afternoon.

Miss Mary Paroungian left Salem on September 13 for Clatskanie where she will teach this winter.

Coney Island was transported from New York to Salem by the Epworth League of the First Methodist Church last Friday night and all the Willamette students were given a chance to take in all its attractions. From the time that the guests entered the Union Station and received their railway-tickets there was not a moment without its thrills. Fashion shows, grand opera, vaudeville, peanuts, fortune-telling and the like kept the students until the last train for the campus had whistled loudly a dozen times. As the Epworth League covered all the expenses of the trip, the students had nothing to worry them except the fears that they could never look another worry in the face.

"Chestnut Farm" is a magic title which always betokens the very best of good times, and this year it was more betokening than ever. A hundred freshman girls were assembled at Eaton Hall and put under the personal care of all the been-there-once-before's. After the conductor on the Chemeketa street car line had been subjected to his annual party, the girls were led past the asylum and the hike to Chestnut Farm began in earnest. Once there the girls were welcomed by a receiving line consisting of the Misses Mary Findley and Velma Baker and Mrs. Doney. Alphabetical divisions put the girls into several groups, scattered over the lawn where games of a get-acquainted nature were staged. Apples, served by the boxful strengthened the breathless maidens for that trying ordeal of having a picture taken. While the pumpkin pie and cider (Chestnut Farm Special) were being served music was furnished by Lorelei Blatchford and Freda Campbell. Old girls and new joined in their appreciation of the hospitality of the Y. W. C. A. and the ladies of Chestnut Farm.

The Misses Charlotte and Elizabeth Tebben entertained one evening in August at their new home in Laurelhurst for all the Willamette girls who could be gathered together from Portland and its vicinity. About 15 young ladies were present to enjoy the games and the music. Mrs. Ewing sang. After this dainty refreshments were served.

On August 11, at Milton, Oregon, a son was born to Rev. and Mrs. Paul F. Green. Mrs. Green was formerly Miss Ruth Peringer. The baby has been named Jean Paul. Both Mr. and Mrs. Green were popular W. U. students, the former being of the '19 class and the latter, of the '18 class. During his course Mr. Green was president of the Y. M. C. A. and also president of the Philodorian society. Mrs. Green was president of the Philodorian society in her senior year. She was also chairman of the W. U. Chapter of the Red Cross, and a member of the executive committee. Rev. and Mrs. Green and son are now living at Moscow, Idaho.

Announcements have been received of the birth of a daughter, Priscilla Lucille, on August 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schramm. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schramm are old W. U. students and were very popular during their courses here. Mrs. Schramm was a prominent Philodorian and for several years taught in the school of music. Mr. Schramm was a Websterian.

On July 8 an 8 1/2-pound daughter, Janet Ruth, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robertson. Mrs. Robertson will be remembered as Louise Benson who graduated in the class of '18. She was a popular member of the Philodorian society and the possessor of a wonderful voice, which combined with her charming personality, won her a host of friends.

Invitations to a party at the home of Sibyl Smith were received by Willamette students with unusual interest during the last week in July. They were as mirages seen in the desert, but proved a reality instead of a mere vision, for the party was a true W. U. party, permeated with school spirit. Games were played and the evening closed with the serving of delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Collins motored down from Portland last Sunday to visit Grace and Truman Collins.

On Wednesday, September 10, Miss Margaret Wible was married to Mr. Arlie Walker. The wedding took place at 8 o'clock in the morning with only the immediate family present. Mrs. Arthur Wible sang "A Birthday of my Life Has Come," and Miss Vivian Isham played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The service was read by Rev. M. T. Wire, after which the party retired to the home of Mrs. Arthur Wible where a six course breakfast was served. The bride was dressed in the gown which she wore as Willamette's May Queen last spring, and she carried a bouquet

Thomas, Harrisburg, and Carrol Rahskoph, Marshfield.

Five scholarship students are from Washington; Elmer Streyer, North Central, Spokane; Mary Elizabeth Hunt, Lewis and Clark, Spokane; Audrey Montague, Pomeroy; Margaret Bowen, Walla Walla, and Ruby Rosenkranz, Colfax.

Girls' Inter-Society Rules

Rule I.—That each society shall hold its reception and each new girl shall have an opportunity to attend each society at least once and not more than twice before the second Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Rule II.—That no girl shall be invited to join a society, either by verbal or written invitation, before the second Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Rule III.—That an inter-society council be established to consist of two members from each society to be appointed by the presidents of the respective societies at the last business meeting of the school year.

Rule IV.—That these rules shall be published in the Handbook and the first issue of the Collegian.

Prof. Ebsen Acts As Tutor

Idol Is Presented to University; Winans Donor

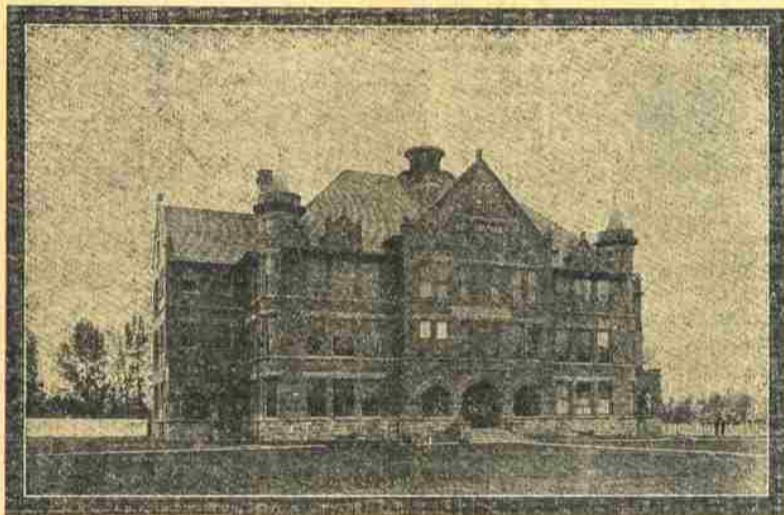

Mark Sullivan, Editor Colliers; Fanning, Baritone; Lecturers; Music Artists and Glee Club.

A Lyceum course of unusual merit is to be enjoyed by the people of Salem this fall and winter under the management of three Willamette students—Story, McKittrick and Bartholomew. There are to be seven numbers in the course including concert companies, a male quartet, a baritone soloist, and three of the most accomplished speakers on the American platform today.

These Lyceum numbers are the very best obtainable anywhere, for they have been carefully selected from both the Menely Lyceum Bureau and the Ellison-White Lyceum Bureau. This should place them above the average in lyceum courses for these numbers represent the pick of the talent handled by these agencies.

One of the best known magazine editors in the United States will be heard in the person of Mark Sullivan, editor of Collier's Weekly. He will bring a personal message from the peace conference and will interpret it to his audience from an unbiased viewpoint.

Frank S. Regan will give one of his famous illustrated lectures. Mr. Regan is a cartoonist of national repute and during the last few years has gained an enviable reputation as Eaton Hall, scene of Y. M.-Y. W. reception.

Dr. Bohn, a man who ranks with William J. Bryan as an orator, will lecture on "The German Mind." Dr. Bohn is the author of several books which have gained commendation throughout the United States.

The great baritone soloist, Cecil Fanning, will appear in this course along with his accompanist and teacher, H. B. Turpin. In American concert circles Fanning is known as a "rapid repeater" for one program never suffices, with the result that each succeeding year finds the number of his concerts nearly doubled.

The Katherine Carrol Smith Concert Company is sure of a prominent place among the different concert companies. Their program which is made up of high class music and readings has been the delight of all audiences.

The program of the Chicago Retail Company—"The Company Artist"—includes clever character sketches, and their string and saxophone quartet has given the company great popularity.

The appearance of a male quartet is looked forward to with keen delight by all Lyceum audiences. The Ricketts Glee Club, four wonderfully accomplished singers, comes to Salem with the best recommendations. The Club is an organization which offers musical programs with an unusual number of popular entertainment features. The company was organized for the purpose of pleasing every class of Lyceum patron and in this it has succeeded admirably.

Definite action was taken Friday toward the organization and maintenance of a men's boarding club. A meeting was called under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Campus Service branch, to start the movement. At this meeting Dean Pollock was elected president, Paul Wapato, vice-president and Noble Moodho, secretary-treasurer. It is the purpose of this club to provide board for members as nearly as cost as possible.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Service Held to Commemorate the Founding of Willamette.

Willamette University is 75 years old. Its birthday, to be exact, was August 16, 1844, on which date the school was first opened for work. The completion of 75 years of continuous and honorable history has properly called for a celebration. This began with the great Pageant which was staged by Professor Miller during the Commencement season. It was continued by exercises in the First M. E. Church August 17, when President Church gave a brief address, followed by a scholarly and brilliant paper by
