PRICE FIVE CENTS

BEARCAT SPEAKERS PLACE HIGH IN FRAY

Witty Wins Second and Pro Third at State Speaking Contest in Albany

PRESS EXTEMPORE TOPIC

Ten Colleges Represented: First Places Won by P. U. and Eugene Bible Inst.

Willamette University, represented by Robert Witty and Margaret Pro, received second place in oratory and third place in extemporaneous at the contest sponsored by the Oregon Forensic Association and held at Albany College last Friday, April 13. Dr. Clarence W. Green, president of Albany College, presided at both events.

First place in the peace oratorical contest was won by Mr. Ladd, the entrant from Pacific University at Forest Grove, on his oration "Peace by International Justice". Mr. Earl Sloan of the Eugene Bible School was given first place in the extemporaneous contest with Mr. Barnard Joy of O. S. C. a close second.

Mr. Witty failed to receive first place on his oration "Footprints of Death" by one third of one per cent, while Miss Pro barely placed third by a fraction of a per cent above Mr. Adamson, the representative from Monmouth.

The peace contest, which began at 2:30 and continued until after 5, had ten entrants. These orations, in the order of their delivery, were: "States That Obscure", U. of O.; "Stone Mountains", Pacific College; "Guard on Peace", Albany College; "The Truth, the Light and the Way", Eugene Bible University; "The Inevitable", Monmouth Normal School; "Footprints of Death", Willamette University; "Peace by International Honor", Pacific University; "A Peace Conscience", Linfield College; "Our Destiny", Ashland and "The Man is Naked", O. S. C.

The general topic for the extemporaneous speeches was the influence of the press. Eight representatives entered this contest: "The Influence of the Press Through Advertising", Catherine Nicholson of Pacific University; "The Influence of the Lindbergh Publicity", William Fitzpatrick of Albany College; "The Influence of the Cartoon", Margaret Pro of Willamette University; "The Influence of the Press on Criminality", Bernard Joy of O. S. C.; "Truth as Found in the Press", Earl Sloan of Eugene Bible University; "Influence of the Press on Moulding Public Opinion", Willis Jones of Linfield College; "Yellow Journalism", Glen Renard of Pacific College; and "Influence of the Press on International Affairs", Mr. Adamson of Monmouth.

The coaches acted as judges in both contests, voting on all but their own representatives.

After the extemporaneous contests a supper was given at Woodward Hall.

DEBATE TOURNAMENT DATE POSTPONED A WEEK LATER

Willamette Will Be Host to Meet Sponsored by Oregon Forensic League

The debate tournament sponsored by the Oregon Forensic League and announced for April 20 and 21st will be held in the Willamette Chapel on April 27 and 28th. This change has been made in order to give the teams more time for better preparation.

Each member of the association may enter both a men's and women's team. Two defeats will remove a contestant from competition.

Two debates will probably be held each morning and afternoon and one each evening. The coaches whose teams are not participating will judge the debates.

COLD KEEPS PRESIDENT FROM WORKING IN OFFICE

Dr. Doney Expects To Be Able To Return To Duties At University Today

While in Portland Monday, Dr. Carl Greg Doney visited Dr. M. C. Findley who has been seriously ill in a hospital there. Dr. Findley is a member of the board of trustees of Willamette University.

Since his return to Salem, Dr. Doney has been confined at home with a severe cold which has been causing him considerable discomfort. However, he is expected to return to his duties at the university today.

FOREST GROVE DEBATERS MEET WILLAMETTE WOMEN

Oregon Style of Debate Makes Contest More Interesting for Debate Auditors

Tuesday evening the women of Willamette University met the women of Pacific University in a non-decision debate held in Waller Hall at 8 o'clock.

Esther Lisle and Bernice Mulvey each gave eight minutes of affirmative constructive argument and answered the negative cross examination. Edith Starrett cross examined the negative and gave the final summary for the affirmative.

Harriet Klumpp and Jessie Poole gave the negative constructive speeches and Andrew Noble summarized the negative case.

Dr. Aiden was the presiding chairman of the evening. By a vote both previous to the debate and afterward according to whether they favored affirmative, negative or were impartial, the audience gave the decision to the affirmative.

KIMBALL WILL START PICKERING MEMORIAL

Permanent Endowment for Purpose of Peace Honoring Deceased Classmate Begun

The students of Kimball School of Theology have started a permanent endowment as a memorial to their late classmate and friend Rex A. Pickering, for the purpose of establishing a peace library at Kimball. The faculty of the school, the trustees, and friends of Rex here in Salem, on the two charges which he served, and in his former home in Idaho, as well as friends of the peace movement are being asked to contribute.

Rex Pickering was one of the student leaders on both the Willamette and Kimball campuses much interested in the cause of peace and nothing was nearer to his heart. He was practicing to take a part in the pageant "The Terrible Mead" when he took sick just a week before his death. It was this pageant which caused so much commotion in Salem because it was so strongly against militarism. The students who are sponsoring the memorial feel that there is nothing which Rex would desire more for the purpose than the thing planned.

WILLAMETTE STUDENTS CAST IN ONE ACT FLAYS

Many Avail Themselves of Opportunity for Dramatic Expression

Many Willamette students have availed themselves of the opportunity for dramatic training and expression and have been cast in the different roles of the series of one act plays to be given on Friday evenings at the Oregon theater under the auspices of the Salem Drama League.

In "The Travelers" by Booth Tarkington which will be given one week from tomorrow night will be a cast composed largely of Willamette students. Jean White, Kathleen Garrison, Ruby Curtis, Raymond Derrick, and John Minto have parts in this play, which represents the adventures of a group of American travelers in a strange hotel in Sicily.

In A. A. Milne's "The Boy Comes Home", Carleton Gains has been given the part of the returning soldier boy.

The cast for "The Land of the Heart's Desire" has not yet been selected. Any students who would be interested are eligible for the tryouts. The plays are being coached by Miss Marjorie Walker. Donald Grant is acting as line coach. Everett Faber is stage manager for the production.

CONSISTENCY CONSIDERED IN WESLEYAN DISCUSSION

Dean Roy Hewitt Leads Wednesday Meeting; Student Inconsistencies Cited

"Consistencies and Inconsistencies" was the topic discussed by Dean Roy Hewitt at the noon meeting of the Wesleyans yesterday. Making his subject of inconsistencies specific in its application he said that there are many well meaning students on the Willamette campus who show signs of becoming decidedly inconsistent. The majority criticize with the rapidity and venom of a Big Bertha, some of the inconsistencies of the faculty, business men and ministers. Then with the same rapidity—perhaps unconsciously, but obviously, fall into the same attitudes and practices practiced by those whom they are in the habit of criticizing.

Mrs. Winifred S. Haggitt, dean of women at Washington University has been president of the convention and has also been acting as hostess to the visiting deans.

The first meeting, on Wednesday, was held in conjunction with the Associated Women Students' conference which convened at the same time. This afternoon following a luncheon given at the Inglewood Country Club, a second joint meeting will be held. The conference will end tomorrow with a formal dinner and ball at the Olympic Hotel in Seattle, given in honor of the visitors.

PORTLAND ALUMNI CLUB HONORS LAW GRADUATES

Charles W. Erskine, Assistant in Office of the United States Attorney, Honored

PORTLAND, Or., April 19—(Special)—Charles W. Erskine, new assistant in the office of the United States attorney, was honor guest at the regular monthly meeting of the Portland Willamette club at Henry Thiele's restaurant here Monday night.

Mr. Erskine took his law degree at Willamette university in 1913. He had practiced law at Bend up to the time of his appointment to the federal legal staff by George Neuner, United States attorney and Willamette graduate in law in 1908. He was president of the Central Oregon Bar association and was active in American Legion affairs. Mr. Erskine spoke briefly, dwelling particularly upon his experiences while playing football for Willamette under Dr. Sweetland.

Millar E. McGilchrist, for the past five years a member of the United States attorney's staff and recently appointed special assistant to the United States attorney general, was also to have been honored at the meeting. However, pressing engagements immediately preceding his departure for Washington, D. S. Tuesday, prevented.

Members of the club sent him their wishes for his success in his new field of endeavor and expressed satisfaction that one identified with Willamette university had received such a distinguished position. Mr. McGilchrist received his degree in law at Willamette in 1916, later serving on the law school faculty during the time that he was assistant state attorney general.

J. W. McCulloch, who succeeds Mr. McGilchrist in the federal attorney's office, is also a Willamette law man, although he did not take his degree at the university. He represented Marion county in the legislature a number of years ago and later served as district attorney for Malheur, Harney and Grant counties. He has practiced law in Portland for the past three years. Mr. McCulloch was also invited to the meeting, but found it impossible to attend on account of a previous engagement. It is the purpose of the club to honor him later.

Miss Glenn Teters sang a solo and responded to an encore.

THE AIMS OF EDUCATION

CARLEISLE, PA.—There are three ideals in education: the marketable, which would secure an education in order to earn a better living; the decorative, where one acquires an education for high social standing; and the creative, which furnishes a vital, functioning influence in society. Dr. Leon C. Prince, professor of history in Dickinson College, told the members of the Women's University Club at a meeting recently.

The school board of Ashland has elected Margaret Arnold to fill the position of instructor in music in Ashland high school for the coming year. Joy Hills is planning to teach Latin in Salem High school next year.

The Chancellors has been the name selected by the new organization among the law students. The purpose of the club is to furnish a better understanding among its members of the purpose and ethics of the legal profession. The plan for the bi-weekly programs calls for giving each member an opportunity of presenting some question of legal importance.

The Chancellors were organized at a banquet at the Spa on Tuesday, April 3. The second meeting was held last Tuesday night at which Odell Bennett led the discussion on the Baumes law and James Braly, presented the discussion on the doctrine of attractive nuisances.

Officers of the organization are Farwell Booth, president; Edwin Goodenough, vice-president; and Alvin Kurtz, secretary-treasurer. Other members are Odell Bennett, Ivan McIver, Bruce Spaulding, Arthur Knox, Ralph Campbell, James Braly, Gordon Shelley, Robert Starrett, and Herbert Swift. The faculty member is E. M. Page, Professor of Criminal Law and Procedure.

ADELANTES DISBAND INFORMAL SESSION

Society Concludes That Its Existence Is No Longer Necessary on Campus

FIRST FOUNDED IN 1906

Other Organizations Have Taken Over Functions Once Performed by Group

Concluding that the necessity for their society no longer existed, the members of the Adelante Society on April 11 officially decided to disband. The society believed that the functions once exclusively performed by the society were now being carried on under changed campus conditions by new organizations and that the further continuance was unnecessary.

This decision marks the passing of a society which dates its beginning from 1906 when The Adelante Literary Society was founded to cultivate "Literary and Social Culture" and to afford practice in parliamentary law. At that time there were no social organizations such as sororities or fraternities on the campus and the joint social functions of the Adelantes and brother organization, the Websterians were events of unusual interest. The society also took an active part in the different campus activities.

In 1925 the society, feeling that the interest in purely literary activities did not warrant the retention of this name or purpose dropped the literary part of their name and were henceforth known merely as the Adelante Society. The purpose of the society from this time has been entirely social.

The other societies on the campus of similar nature have not yet announced any actions which would seem to indicate any intentions of dissolving. Some of the societies continue with a literary part included in their program while others have stricken the term literary from their titles.

The larger part of the equipment of the society will be given to the Y. W. C. A. and the remainder will be sold.

MISS MELTON IN CHARGE OF MACDOWELL CONCERT

Franz Schubert Centennial Motif for April Program at Castilian Hall

The April program of the Salem MacDowell club which will be given in Castilian hall on the evening of April 20, will be a Franz Schubert Centennial program with Miss Frances McGilvra, director of piano and theory department at Willamette University, in complete charge.

Miss Melton is building the entire concert about a lecture which she will give under the heading of "Franz Peter Schubert—Why Do You Wear the Crown of Immortality?" Those who heard Miss Melton give her Beethoven talk at the Beethoven anniversary program in Waller hall a year ago, under the sponsorship of the MacDowell club, have no doubts as to the artistry and musical value with which she will enrich her Schubert talk.

The Beethoven society of Willamette university and the Schubert octette, under the direction of Miss Minnetta Magers, will assist. Litz's transcriptions of Schubert's songs will be played as piano solos. The octette will sing some of Schubert's loveliest songs and several of the octette members will sing solos as well. Lawrence Deason, baritone, will assist also.

A piano and violin ensemble with Helen Price and Helen Bridgeman at the first piano, Edith Findley and Genevieve Junk at the second piano, and Iva Clair Love, violinist, will play the Unfinished Symphony. Miss Love and Miss Lucile Ross, pianists, will play Schubert's Ave Maria.

CLASSES VOTE FINANCES FOR STUDENT LUNCHEON

The classes have been requested to appropriate funds for the student lunch to be given on May Day. Thus far all classes with the exception of the Freshmen have appropriated funds for this purpose. In their regular class meetings on Wednesday the seniors voted to appropriate $25, the sophomores $40, and the Juniors voted that they would assume one-fourth of the total expense.

As class athletic manager, the seniors, elected Henry Oberson to fill the vacancy left by the withdrawal of Gurnee Fleisher from the university.

HOSPITALITY IS MOTTO FOR MAY DAY FESTIVAL

Invitations for Event Ready for Distribution Friday According to Report

The hospitality phase of May Day will be emphasized more this year than formerly according to Manager Frank Van Dyke. The Cubs will be stationed on the campus on Friday, May 4, to direct visitors and to give them any needed information. The hospitality committee is to have a delegation of students at Christy Cottage to show the campus and the points of interest in Salem to the visitors.

The coronation service will be on the lawn back of the Supreme Court building. Due to the absence of Dr. Carl Greg Doney, the speech of welcome will probably be given by Governor Patterson.

Saturday night will be Willamette night at the Elsinore.

The programs this year are in distinctive new colors and will be of a different style than they have been formerly.

The invitations will be ready for distribution on Friday.

STUDENT ELECTIONS ATTRACT ATTENTION

George Poor, Candidate for Wallulab Editor, Only Petition Filed

SATURDAY IS DEADLINE

Possibility of Second Election Looms as Number of Candidates Increase

Candidates for student body offices seem to be convinced of the permissibility of being dark horses. With Saturday being the last day upon which constitutionally petitions can be filed with the executive committee that of George Poor for the position of Wallulab editor is the only one which has been given to the executive committee with the required number of signatures.

However, petitions for all the offices are now in the process of circulation. From early indications the most interesting contests will be those for the lesser important offices.

For the office of president of the student body that of Kenneth Litchfield is the only one known to be in circulation. Litchfield is president of the Blue Key and has held the position of second vice-president during the past year. Also he is a letterman in tennis and basketball and has taken an active part in all student body affairs.

From all indications William Smullin will be unopposed for the position of Collegian Editor. Smullin is at present manager of the Collegian, was president of the Junior class for the first semester, and is a former president of the Cubs. His major school activity during the past three years has been with the Collegian.

For the position of Wallulab Editor George Poor will be opposed by Frank VanDyke. George Poor is now acting as managing editor of the Collegian and has served in other journalistic capacities. VanDyke is now editor of the athletics section of the Wallulab and worked on the Collegian staff last year.

For the office of first vice-president petitions are being circulated of Joan White, Georgia Fairbanks, and Bureva Culbertson. All three are members of the junior class and have taken an active part in school and class activities. The possibility of three candidates being on the official ballot complicates matters because it makes probable the necessity of holding a second election. This fact comes from the constitutional provision requiring an absolute majority in order that a candidate may be elected.

Three petitions are also being circulated for the office of second vice-president. Reeve Betts, Paul Götter, and Ivan White are possible candidates for this position.

Beatrice Lockhart and Boulah Wampler are the two probable candidates for office of secretary.

These reports are not final and it is possible that before the deadline of Saturday evening other petitions will be circulated and filed with the executive committee.

Marie Dunlavy

Scherzo Tautantique.....Spross

A GIANT IN THE EARTH

Decisions occasionally have to be made when things of immediate consequence have to be declined in order that dreams for the future may some day come true. The tragedy is that many are not willing to sacrifice the present for the future.

Ole Edvart was at one time faced with making the momentous decision of whether he would accept the very promising business proposition of becoming the master of a Norwegian fishing boat or whether he would take the next boat for New York and a new world with all its vague promises. Needless to say he accepted the challenge of the opportunity to adventure into a new field which offered the possibilities for the greater development. Success was not immediate. Years of work as a Dakota farm hand and persevering efforts in order to obtain a college education followed. It was not until after many years of work that the youthful dream of becoming an author was realized when "The Giants in the Earth" was accepted by the people of two different nations as a national epic.

This brief biographical suggestion only indicates that often it is well not to allow the present to obscure the future.

We suggest that possibly some of our graduating seniors would possibly be better off as well as the world in which they live if they would reconsider their decisions to impose themselves temporarily on the teaching profession in order to secure the financial remuneration and turn their endeavors to what they really desire to do.

WE VIEW WITH ALARM

It is now open season for anyone politically inclined to mount their private little rostrum and to discuss "the universe, a waitress and the nation" and in general to settle the affairs of another political year. Locally speaking, since it would hardly be proper for us on this occasion to point with pride to the achievement of the present student administration of which we are more or less a part, we accept the alternative of viewing with alarm because it gives us the opportunity of pointing the way toward avoiding the impending crisis.

However, we do think that we might profit from a consideration of the qualities which are required of the different candidates in order that they may most adequately answer the needs of the elective positions to which they aspire.

The office of student body president is from the point of honor the most important which the student body has to bestow. The office calls for a person of considerable executive ability who has the background of a wide experience in student affairs. Ideally, the perfect student body president should be one who could stand before the public as the representative of the best in the student body in every respect. He should above all be a man who is able to make a decision and exercise good judgment.

The position of Collegian editor calls for an additional set of qualifications. The selection for this position should be made solely on the basis of demonstrated ability and interest in journalistic activities. In the offices which might in a sense be called popular it is excusable for the student to allow his personal prejudices to enter into the consideration, but in the case of this office the vote should be cast only after carefully evaluating the merits of the candidates in respect to their ability to put out a publication which will be a credit to the university and the students who attend Willamette.

The same considerations would hold with respect to the election of Wallulah editor, with the possible modification that because of the fact that the selection has to be made from among the sophomore class the basis for making a decision has to take into consideration potentialities as well as past achievements.

The other positions which will be filled owe their importance primarily because of the fact that they carry along with them membership in the executive committee of the student body. This committee is the most important single governing body in the student body administration and no selection should be made without due thought being given to the capacities of the candidates for first and second vice-president, and secretary to counsel and cast decisive votes in the session of the executive committee.

IN A MOMENT OF WEAKNESS

An editorial writer for the Eugene Register answers the question frequently asked of those who are responsible for editorial columns as to how they manage to find something to write about by the answer, "We write about something worth while if we can find something worth while to write about, and if not, we do the next best thing. The next best thing, sometimes, is to write tommyrot."

We pass on the answer of our more experienced member of the fourth estate with the hope that it will satisfy the inquisitive and that they will not pursue their inquiries further and embarrass us by the question as to how often we fail to discover something worth while to write about.

According to the Pacific University Index the students have for the first time in the history of the institution selected a married woman to reign over their May Day festivities. We trust that there are no doubt compensations for every situation.

We notice that the latest additions to our campus scenery include some signs which read to the effect, "No parking allowed on the campus." It is such regulations that lead to disrespect for law.

According to the latest regulations the middies at Annapolis have to learn how to play golf. What these educators will not do in order to make another requirement is not worth mentioning.

Occasionally it is a great honor for an organization to exist longer than sister organizations. However, it is also occasionally the more courageous thing to be the first to give up the ghost. We congratulate a former literary society on its agreement with us as to the latter action being the most desirable.

BOOK REVIEW

Editors Note: The book Immigration Crossroads, was written by Prof. Constantine Panunzio, who was formerly head of the economics and sociology department of Willamette University. The review is written by Robert C. Notson who studied under Prof. Panunzio when he taught at Willamette and later had occasion to know him when he was in New York as the assistant director of the Foreign Language Information Service.

Immigration Crossroads, by Constantine Panunzio, New York: The Macmillan Company, $2.50.

No subject is so much in need of an accurate and authoritative treatment as that of immigration. So much has been written and spoken, in the midst of bitter contention, for which there was little basis save that of ignorance or prejudice that the average citizen or student finds himself bewildered.

On the eve of renewed congressional consideration of the question, it appears that there is a rising tide of dissatisfaction with the present immigration law, despite the fact that it was hailed but a short time ago as the panacea of all our immigration ills. Both friends and opponents of the law seem to be pretty well agreed in the opinion that it has not proved its asserted merit.

Unable to agree on any measures to improve the situation our national legislators have postponed action in the matter for another year to give time for investigation and study. It will be surprising if discussion is not liberally tinged with politics. It will prove refreshing, therefore, to delve into the pages of Immigration Crossroads by Constantine Panunzio, professor of Social Economics at Whitler college.

The book is an extraordinary piece of analytical writing on a highly controversial subject and demonstrates clearly the wealth of experience and study which the author has been able to command in its preparation. It will prove of particular interest to readers who knew Dr. Panunzio when he was on the faculty at Willamette University.

Those who have read the author's former volume "The Soul of an Immigrant" are familiar already with the strong, well-rounded background which he has for this work. Dr. Panunzio, a native of Italy, landed in Boston when he was 18 years old with 50 cents in his pockets. By persistent efforts he was able to take degrees first at Wesleyan University and then Boston University. He has been engaged in educational work for the past eight years, with liberal time spent in studying immigration problems.

Mr. Panunzio understands both the culture of the old world and that of the new; he knows the viewpoints of the immigrant and the native American. He admits a strong sympathy for the immigrant because of his own experience but his real purpose is to find the truth rather than to attempt any sort of propaganda on behalf of the foreign born.

His analysis is searching. After reviewing America's immigration policies from the beginning and pointing out their effect on European peoples, he concludes that the present policy is charged with tragedy both because of the unfavorable reactions on international relations and because of its unfavorable effect upon a large portion of our foreign born population. Late amendments have not only worked to defeat their own ostensible purpose but have done actual harm, he thinks.

Dr. Panunzio's plea is for a broader understanding of the question and a better solution than the present one. John Palmer Gavil, writing in the Saturday Review of Literature, says:

"He is scholarly yet dramatic, human yet scientific in handling a question which thus far has been merely bunched and bedeviled by ignorance."

The student of immigration problems will not have the basis for well-rounded opinion unless he has read Immigration Crossroads. It represents a sound viewpoint which must gain further attention and in the end have a marked influence in shaping our immigration policies.

CODE OF UNDERSTANDING DRAWN UP AT SYRACUSE

Obligations of Student, Faculty, and Alumni listed as Suggestions for Harmony

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—The following code was recently published in the under-graduate newspaper at Syracuse University as embodying suggestions from students, faculty and alumni as a basis for community understanding.

AS A STUDENT—
I believe that I am entitled to a full return for time spent in the classroom and that I should attempt to secure it by a cooperative attitude toward instructors, a freedom from antagonism, and evidence of my desire to understand their points of view.

I believe that prevalence of "crib-binge" would not only destroy the morals of the college, but lessen the value of its academic degree. I personally shall not be guilty of it.

I believe that I have a share of responsibility for the orderly life of the campus, and that where any form of lawlessness exists it is my duty to aid in stamping it out.

I believe that I should not profit financially by any position of trust or responsibility connected with student affairs, unless by an open arrangement fully understood and approved by my fellow students.

I believe that students should share in the planning of all legislation which governs student affairs.

BAROMETER CELEBRATES DATE OF ESTABLISHMENT

Changes From Monthly to Oregon State Daily Barometer Result of 32 Years

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis—(P.P.)—The Oregon State Daily Barometer was 32 years old March 16. It used to be published monthly.

"The students of Oregon State college have long felt the need of a suitable publication to represent their interests, and to help them socially and fraternally," says an editorial in the first issue of the College Barometer.

The staff then consisted of only 11 members. Subscription price was 75 cents a year and 10 cents for a single copy; many advertisements were in the early editions.

The first weekly Barometer was issued every Saturday, beginning in the fall of 1906. It had four columns instead of two and consisted of four pages.

The name was changed to O. A. C. Barometer in 1908. It was a semi-weekly paper, beginning in that year. In 1922 the paper became the O. A. C. Daily Barometer.

This year the name was changed from O. A. C. Daily Barometer to ORregon State Daily Barometer.

Student Comment

The other evening at Christian endeavor meeting we heard one of our number thanking a kindly Providence for the friends he has. And he did well.

In our experience here in school we have heard many speakers tell us that the greatest thing we get from college is our friendships. We will hardly go as far as to repeat that statement, but we will venture to say that a college career without friendships formed is a rather futile existence. One's friends are his greatest stimulating power for good, and a group of close friends may do much to make an otherwise empty life one of purpose and accomplishment.

Very often we realize too late in our college career that we have been brushing elbows with people whose acquaintance we wish we had cultivated. Sometimes these people are classmates, sometimes students who will graduate before us, sometimes they are professors. In any event we come to realize that we have passed by an opportunity that was almost thrust upon us, and that we are losers solely through our own negligence. The thought of the poet comes strongly to us as we recall the sentence, "It might have been."

Every fellow student is a potential friend. He is a new realm to be explored. There can be no greater adventure than that of seeking and finding a friend, and there is no place where there are more opportunities for starting such adventure than on our campus.—A Student Spectator.

GOOD OLD DAYS FOUND IN OLD CATALOG BOOKS

Oregon State College Students Had To Wear Uniform of Cadet Gray

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis—(P.I.P.)—Things are different now than they were in the old days!

"If the faculty advises any student to withdraw from school, or his parent or guardian withdraw him, refusal to allow this request or advice of the faculty shall result in expulsion of such student." That was in the college catalog as late as 1892 to warn students.

Reports of absences or misconduct were given to the President each evening and students were required to answer for the offense the following day. The President would then assign punishment for the offender.

Penalties were in the form of demerits: five for absence from recitation, drill or chapel; two for being late at recitation, drill or chapel; three to five for disorder at recitation, drill chapel or about the college campus; two for being out of uniform and five for being in Corvallis during college hours. Any student punished by 50 demerits during a term or 25 in a month was subject to expulsion.

A uniform of "cadet gray" was to be worn every day during college hours. The catalog said it was "suitable for all occasions".

Each student was required to work one hour a day. This work was along the lines of the course he was taking. Pay for this work was from 10 to 15 cents an hour.

Two Game Series Billed With O.S.C.

Tennis Squad Meets First Competition

Sport Sidelights

Indoor Baseball Next Event in Donut League

The baseball game with Linfield that was scheduled for Tuesday of this week has been postponed until today. If it rains the game will be postponed until a later date.

The interclass track meet scheduled for April 28 has been postponed until May Day. The meet scheduled with Pacific on this date has been cancelled because of the Washington relays and unless another meet for May Day can be secured the classes will vie for honors on this date.

The Willamette W club seems to be unable to get a room in the gymnasium to furnish for a club room. The room that was originally intended for a club room is now taken by the museum and the only other room, the girl's rest room, is furnished by the Town and Gown club and, although it is very little used, it cannot be turned over to the club for their use.

Prospects for having a freshman tennis team that will play matches with other schools are very good. Graduate manager Sparks has received several letters from high schools wishing matches and it would without doubt be possible to schedule matches with the Oregon State Rooks at the same time the varsity plays. There is some good material in the freshman class and such a team would insure future varsity players of high caliber.

In a thrilling game of indoor baseball the Freshman Law Class defeated the Juniors by a score of 15 to 14 in thirteen innings, last Thursday morning on Sweetland field.

Led by Red Denman who was coach, manager, captain and pitcher, the Freshman got off to an early lead but the Juniors finally got organized and tied up the score at ten all when Karl Corey went in to pitch for the Frosh. The Juniors immediately greeted him by driving in two runs, but the Freshman came back in their half of the inning and tied the score again.

Neither side was able to do anything in the ninth and the game went into extra innings. In the first half of the tenth the Juniors scored twice and appeared to have won the game but the Freshman led by their indomitable captain came back in their half and scored two runs for themselves largely because of sloppy fielding by the Juniors. Goodenough, who pitched for the Juniors, deserved to win the game but poor support in the field let in many unearned runs.

In the thirteenth the Juniors got a man as far as third base but he died there when Corey struck out Litchfield who was pinch hitting for Derrick. Then the Freshman came to bat and drove out three straight hits and the game was over.

NEW REGISTRATION MARK

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis—(P.I.P.)—A new registration mark of 3800 full time students has been reached. The grand total including summer session and short course students is 5200. The school of commerce leads with 843, while engineering comes second with 536.

MANY TRACK RECORDS WILL BE BROKEN

Squad of This Year Has Possibilities of Bettering Showing of Previous Years

Reviewing Willamette track history, we find many records by former Willamette athletes which are really remarkable and would look well in any competition. However, the difficulty is, so Coach Sparks states, in the fact that these outstanding performers have not been grouped but has established their records over a period of approximately twenty years.

During the past few years, Willamette has been woefully weak in the sprints and no one has pressed the school record of 10 seconds flat in the 100 yard dash or 23 seconds flat in the 220 yard dash. It seems though, that with the material turning out this year, Coach Sparks will soon have a trio of sprinters who will again strengthen our team in these events. Small and Ford hold the record together for the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

The record in the 440 yard dash is 51 4-5 seconds and is held by Jackson, former Willamette quarter miler. Several men in the last few years have come close to this mark, but none so far have equalled or broken it.

Logan holds the record in the mile, with a time of 4 minutes and 33 seconds but with Willamette strong in good milers this year, this record may possibly be bettered.

Hartley in 1926 established the record in the high jump. His best performance is 5 feet, 8 inches and looks good enough to stand for this year at least. In the pole vault, Jack and Bill Vincent are co-holders of the record. Their height is 12 feet, 6 inches. Strey with a jump of 22 feet and 11 inches holds the record for the broad jump.

Stollzeize, also of 1926, holds both the shot and discus records. His mark in the shot is 38 feet, 11 inches and in the discus, 119 feet, 9 inches. Coach Sparks predicts that both of these records are in danger because several good weight men are now turning out.

The record for the low hurdles is 25 4-5 seconds, while the best time made in the high hurdle event is 16 4-5 seconds. Irvine holds the low hurdle record and Jack Vincent is the holder of the record in the high hurdles. Ruch is the present holder of the javelin record. His mark is 170 feet, 9 inches and with a year of added experience, he should easily better his old mark. Also in the two mile, Hathaway is the holder of the school record. His time for the race is 10 minutes and 10 seconds. The 880 yard dash record is 2 minutes and 4 seconds established last year by Flesher. Flesher is not in school this semester and his record is likely to stand.

Bond, Boothby, Collingsworth, and Flesher, hold the record in the mile relay. Their mark is 3 minutes and 41 seconds and will be hard to equal or beat.

These records have been obtained by reviewing old Collegians and are as accurate as possible. They may serve as an incentive for the 1928 tracksters and give them something to shoot at.

OREGON STATE TEAM MEET BEARCAT NINE

Two Game Series Scheduled for Friday and Saturday at Corvallis

With the Linfield game postponed "Spec" Keene is pointing his players to the two game series with Oregon State on Friday and Saturday of this week at Corvallis. The squad is very much unprepared for the games, having had only five days of outdoor practice this year.

Although they lost to Columbia University last week, Oregon State will present a strong lineup and Coach Keene will be satisfied if they break even in the series.

The starting lineup has not been chosen but the men will be picked according to the opponents' pitcher and how the men are hitting. Either Kaufman or Cardinal will start behind the bat and Ledbetter will get first call to do the pitching. Vestberg or VanNise may start the second game in the box. Welch and Mussy have been fighting it out for the first base job and the one that is connecting with the ball the best will get the call. Adams has been showing up in fine shape at second and will undoubtedly start. Girod and Braly are about an even choice for the shortstop position and Hawk and Troxel seem to have the third bag to themselves. In the outfield Dietz seems to have one position clinched and the other two will be filled by Gill, Ruch, Harmon, Roundtree, or Satchwell. Mussy or Braly may be shifted to the outfield. Vestberg will be used as a pinch hitter. This lineup should hit much harder than last year and will field the ball every bit as well if not better than last year's club.

April 20 Oregon State at Corvallis.
April 21 Oregon State at Corvallis.

DONUT SERIES INCLUDES INDOOR BASEBALL GAMES

Six Teams Will Enter League; Staff Competition Promised Among Entrants

Plans are being made for the organization of a six team indoor baseball league in which games will start next week. The league will be composed of the four fraternities, the Law school, and one non-organization team.

All the games will be played at 4 o'clock except the Law school's which will be played on Saturday. Each team will play twice a week. In dry weather the games will be played on the athletic field but in case of rain the gym can be used.

Considerable enthusiasm has been shown over the organization of the league and it should furnish some stiff competition among the teams entered.

WOMEN TENNIS TRYOUTS EVENT OF COMING WEEK

Freshmen Have Promising Candidates Eager To Fill Any Possible Vacancies

With two matches scheduled for next week the women's tennis team will have to have their tryouts in the next few days. On Wednesday the women meet the Monmouth racquet-ers at Monmouth and on Saturday they face a stiff match with Linfield at Salem.

Two members of last year's team which enjoyed a very successful season are back and will no doubt play their usual game. Louise Nunn, who has been elected captain, and Louise Findley are the veterans. There are several promising players among the freshmen and the other members of the team will probably be chosen from them. Pauline Findley appears to have one place secure and Margaret Morehouse, Louise Garrison, Edith Starret, and Dorothy Pemberton will fight it out for the remaining place.

The schedule is as follows: April 25—Monmouth at Monmouth April 28—Linfield at Salem May 5—Monmouth at Salem May 12—Whitman at Walla Walla

PUGET SOUND TRACK TEAM SHOWS STRENGTH IN MEET

University of British Columbia Wins In Contest with Tacoma Institution

Puget Sound showed that it is going to make a strong bid for the Northwest Conference track championship when it walloped the University of British Columbia 88 to 43 last week. Four Puget Sound men, Tatum, Darrow, Fassett, and Ganero, collected 56 points between them.

Puget Sound took eleven first places while the Canadian school could only secure three. Good marks were made in all the events despite the muddy field and the slow track. Garner took the shot put and the discus with throws of 38 feet and 120' 6". Fassett copped the mile and two mile races with times of 4:40 and 10:8. Tatum took the high jump with a jump of 5' 9", the half mile in 2:8 and the 440 yard dash in 52 seconds. Darrow showed his heels to the field in the 100 and 220 yard dash.

PACIFIC AND O.S.C. MEET TENNIS SQUAD

Competition for Positions on Squad Unusually Close; Fifth Man Not Picked

Wednesday and Friday of next week will see The Willamette Varsity Tennis team in action against Pacific and O. S. C. Although the Willamette team has had hardly time to get themselves into shape they may console themselves with the fact that other teams have been similarly handicapped.

The match with Pacific will be held on the Willamette courts at three o'clock next Wednesday with probably White, Minto, and Litchfield representing Willamette, according to Captain Litchfield, and White and Minto will form the double's team. Competition this year is exceedingly close and no man has a clear run of victories to his position on the team. Everyone on the team has been defeated by some other member more than once. Minto and White showed their wares the other day when they defeated the High School doubles team 6-0, 6-1.

Pacific last year had a comparatively weak team and gave the Bearcat squad little competition but this year they have a number 1 man from Seattle by the name of Bowitt with whom the Willamette men became acquainted at Seabeck a couple of years ago and know only too well his prowess. If Coach Frank has unearthed any additional new material, the match Wednesday ought to be replete with thrills. However the Badger tennis team is handicapped during this wet weather because their dirt courts do not get sufficient time to dry between showers.

The match with Oregon State will be held on the O. S. C. courts a week from tomorrow the 27th of April. Willamette was defeated last year by O. S. C. in two matches, both times by a close score of 4-3. Atkinson, No. 1 man of last year, has graduated but it is expected that Ayres and King of last years Rooks can ably fill his shoes. In fact Ayres will probably play No. 1 man against Willamette. Captain Litchfield announced that White, Minto, Howarth and himself will compose the first four men on the team while an elimination match between the four outstanding freshman, Hagaman, McGilvra, Ring and Glass will be played in order to select the other man.

If two doubles teams are used, Minto and White, and Litchfield and Howarth will make up the two combinations.

SCHOLARSHIP IMPROVES

U. C. L. A., Los Angeles, April 10—(PIP)—Showing a decrease of 350 as compared with the number issued at the end of the first six weeks of last semester, 3150 scholarship notices were sent out last week.
