HOOPERS WILL MEET VANDALS ON THURSDAY

Former Coast and Conference Champions Loom Ominously Before Bearcat Den

PACIFIC GAME TUESDAY

Badgers Trim Scratchers to Tear Bearcats' Ears; Bearcats Show Fangs and Growl

Thursday night the Bearcats will clash with the University of Idaho Vandals, on the local floor.

For the past two years Idaho has been champion of the coast and also of the Northwest conference. This year, however, they showed the wrong foot out of bed first, by losing two or three games which has practically eliminated them as championship contenders.

A few days ago they delivered a telling defeat to the University of Oregon in a 30-24 battle. Oregon swears by their hair that they will crush the barbarians in the return battle on their floor this week. Oregon is in the lead in both conferences.

The University of Washington also knocked them basement-ward in the conference by winning by 2 points over them in a hard-fought battle in Moscow last week.

Despite these drubbings the Bearcats maintain little, or no hope of defeating the Vandals, but nevertheless, pledge that they will live up to their contract and play a game of basketball. The game will prove one of exceptional interest.

Pacific University will present a rejuvenated line-up when they appear on the local floor Tuesday, Feb. 26. Some of the older lettermen are not appearing in the line-up of the recent encounters. The men replacing these seemed to be adept at the art and are holding themselves in check in order to play an avenging game, and return with the Bearcats' ears.

The Badgers have lost every game this season and Willamette is feeling so altruistic that she will do all in her limited power to help them keep a perfect record.

The first encounter on the Pacific floor ended with a 32-18 score with Willamette on top. This cannot be taken for evidence that the coming battle will be an easy one, because Pacific will fight harder than before, and are displaying an improved aggression. They managed to hold both Whitman and Gonzaga to closer scores than did the Bearcat machine.

Hertzog Leads Gospel Team Service at Dundee

A gospel team which conducted services at Dundee last Sunday reports unusual success. The team consisted of Violet Coe, Edwin Johnson, Charles Nunn and Mildred Jones.

The team left Salem on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, participated in a social at Dundee in the evening, and conducted church services Sunday. Ten people responded to the call for new decisions given by Mr. Hertzog, and many determined to consecrate their lives to Christ.

DOES WILLAMETTE BID MR. CUPID? REPORTER SEEKS VOTE ON ARCHER

Is Willamette University a matrimonial bureau? This question has been cussed and discussed at some length on our campus and the reporter set out to discover from a representative group of the students what their ideas were on the subject.

CAROLINE STOBER LEADS "YW" ON REVERENCE

The third of the series of meetings being conducted by the girls of the Y.W.C.A. was held Feb. 14, at 4:15 in the Association room. Carolyn Stober led the meeting on the theme, "Reverence." A short business session, at which the organization voted to send a representative to a national Y.W.C.A. convention at New York, was held. Mrs. Forrester gave a vocal solo as a special number of the afternoon.

Miss Stober took for her Scripture reference, Matthew 18:1-14. The passage dealt with Christ's discourse of the necessity of people becoming as humble as little children.

FRESHMAN LEAD IN INTERCLASS SERIES

At the present time the rooks stand at the head of the list in the race for the interclass basketball championship title. According to Harold Regele, Chairman on the Interclass Rivalry committee the percentage rating of the various classes is as follows: Freshman 1000, sophomores 500, juniors 250 and seniors 250. The rooks have won all four games played; the sophomores won two and lost two and both the juniors and the seniors who won two lost two.

In the boys' games played Monday afternoon the freshmen beat the sophomores in a fast game that ended 11 to 12 for the rooks. The junior boys took the sophs in to camp for the time of 12 to 8. Both of these games were characterized by rough playing.

Starring for the Rooks were Kelley, Roundtree and Mann. The Sophomats were Haines and Montoy with Pindley and McKinney playing well for the Juniors. Moorehead of the junior squad played a good game of football. The most consistent players for the seniors were Ganzans, Vincent and Warren.

Two girls' basketball games were played Monday between the sophomores and juniors, and the freshmen and the seniors. With Rosteln, Balzger and Fanning playing a stellar game for the sophs they trimmed the junior women's quintet by the score of 14 to 11.

The outstanding players for the juniors were Moyer, Clover and Smith.

A more decisive victory was registered when the rookesses won from the senior loop 14 to 0. The first year damsels showed a marked ability to play a fast game—on the floor and the feature of the game was the team work in which Raught, Clamp and Fleisher played prominent parts. The fastest ladies of the senior aggregation were Sykes, Hill, and Howard.

This afternoon promptly at 4 o'clock the finals of interclass series will begin. The first two games will be between the women's teams with the boys' games commencing as soon as the co-ed contests are finished.

Even though the women's rules differ from those used by the men in playing basketball the following men have served as referees in the tournament: Steingraber, Fasnacht, Nakano and Jones.

In the matter of points toward the interclass rivalry cup the winners of basketball games will rate as follows: 5 points first place; 3 points second; and 1 point third.

RUSH PARTIES LURE

All Bids will be Issued on Thursday—Replies Come in Friday; Normalcy Next

Uncommon indeed is the sight of two young men walking down the street with the arms of each securely woven around the waist of the other. For men the involved mystery has always been, "Why do girls like to be embraced each other?" yet certain it is that when a campus full of girls reveals no feeling, there is a reason. Perhaps the men on the campus have noticed that the Willamette girls have suddenly suspended arm weaving, and perhaps the men have wondered why. The reason is that this week is open season on voraciously rushing.

The season commenced Monday and will continue until Friday evening. During this time the sorority girls are not allowed to display personal relationship with the new girls. True, they may speak to them when they pass them on the campus and they may smile at them in the same impersonal way they might smile at some young man; but when it comes to the serious practice of intimacy—that is taboo. Not even may they talk around with the new girls, or in any way betray signs that they are anxious for certain girls to join their particular sorority.

Last night the Beta Chi sorority gave its rush party from 5 until 7:30. This evening, at the same hour, the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority will give its rush party. Thursday evening, all the rush parties being over, the sororities will send out invitations by (Continued on page 3.)

CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE FOLK OWN LIBRARY

The class in Contemporary British Literature has upon the novel idea of possessing a circulating library of its own. Each one of the 30 members of the class will contribute $2. the total cost of a textbook, towards the library. This will purchase about 45 volumes some of which have already been purchased by Professor Whittier.

Miss Mary Wells will be the librarian. Her duty is to distribute the books each session. The plan is to circulate the books among the members so that each one may have the opportunity of reading all the books of modern poetry. At the end of the term the class will be called upon to do as they wish with the books. American as well as British authors will be studied.

MISS KALLSTED AND DR. RADER SPEAK

The call to Christian service was echoed by Dr. Marvin Rader and Miss Frances Kallsted, two prominent workers in home and foreign mission recruiting work last Thursday and Friday in chapel. From Thursday noon until late Friday evening a continual stream of students visited the speakers, Dr. Rader occupying Dr. Doney's office and Miss Kallsted had Miss Dora Rickard's office.

"Boundaries are being done away with in the old world of ours," said Dr. Rader in his talk Thursday. He told how the radio and swift means of transportation had made the world smaller and smaller until now it is nothing but a big house in which people may communicate with one another by simply ringing a bell or pushing a button. He spoke of the radio making it possible to hear from South America or from Africa, and of people now thinking in terms of "my world" instead of "my country."

And then on the question of war, he pleaded for world cooperation, the league of nations, and the world court, and the getting together of men from each nation who have not only their own country at heart, but who could feel the warmth of fellowship of the entire world. "How can we solve the problems of the world unless the nations of the world stop preparing for war with each other?" he said with a firmness that showed that he knew and believed what he said.

Miss Kallsted, occupying the platform Friday, told in her simple and open way of the wonderful opportunities for Christian service for students who wished to make the best of their lives on earth. "Why are we here?" she said as she sounded out some of the very questions that were lurking in the hearts of every student.

Then came the story of the rich king's offer to all of the beautiful maidens of the land who wished to enter the great beauty contest, the most beautiful to be made the queen of the land; Esther, a poor girl, who was not aware of her beauty until friends urged her to try, was made the queen, and she used her position to save her people. The wonderful opportunities for education and living of American students caused Miss Kallsted to pronounce them millionaires.

Both speakers were agreed that it mattered not where the field of service, but the willingness to go wherever God calls, whether into the ministry, into business, or into industry.

"I have talked until I am almost exhausted," said Miss Kallsted when she had finished her day's interview last Friday.

FANS SEE REAL BASKETBALL IN WHITMAN CLASH

Last Five Minutes of Play Were Tense Moments — Teams Were Very Evenly Matched

FINAL SCORE IS 37 TO 36

Captain York Does Stellar Work for Missionaries; Fasnacht Is Bearcat Mainstay

The Missionaries, we would scarcely say defeated, claimed victory over the Bearcats by a margin of one point in one of the most intense and hard-fought battles played by the local team in three years. At the end of the first half the score stood 16-16. Throughout the second half the odds were first stacked against one team and then the other. The game ended with the visitors just one point in the lead, score 37-36.

The game furnished a rapid series of thrills from beginning to end. Whitman in the first five minutes of play established a six to fourteen lead over the Bearcats. Coach Rathbone then resorted to a substitution, Hartley for Logan, and the score took a decided turn. For some time the new machine played a threatening game, bringing the score up 16-16 by the end of the first half.

The Missionaries came back strong again in the second half and plied up a seven point lead, Logan was then shot into the same in place of Hartley and again the tide of the battle was turned. Willamette approximated the Whitman score by two points when Logan cashed another basket. Hartley, substitute for Jones, followed close on Logan's heels for a second and Willamette held the advantage.

With only a minute to play and Willamette in possession of the ball, slow headwork resulted in an attempted long pass to Fasnacht which was intercepted by York. Fasnacht, in an attempt to recover the ball, was knocked out and Erickson filled in the gap. In the meantime Fry converted a basket which evened the score again. Twenty seconds of playing time, the game became more tense. Hartley, in an attempt to break an almost certain shot, tangled with York and the referee called him for holding. York converted one of the two tries and added the winning point to the Whitman score.

Among the Willamette players there was no outstanding work done. Robertson played his usual fast game. Erickson was up to his usual trick of smashing ominous plays. Patton played a more steady game than usual. Logan was not entirely up to the form he displayed in the second game with C. P. S. which is held to be the best display of basketball he has ever given on the floor.

Lineup: Willamette (26) (37) Whitman Fasnacht (14) F. (16) York, Robertson (4) F. (12) Fry Logan (6) C. (3) Young Patton (6) G. (2) Fani Erickson (2) G. (2) Frank Substitutions: Willamette, Hartley (6) for Logan, Logan for Hartley, Jones for Erickson, Hartley for Jones, Erickson for Fasnacht. Whitman, Douglas for Frank.

COSMOPOLITANS HEAR DR. RADER GANDHI, HINDU PATRIOT, IS TOPIC

The Cosmopolitans took a trip around the world in an hour with Dr. Marvin Rader last Friday evening at their regular discussion meeting. The Hindu, Gandhi, and world fellowship were the two main topics for discussion.

Gandhi, the idol of 300 million low caste people in India, gave up his millions which he had earned in the practice of law, and went from the highest caste to the lowest caste to live, preach, and suffer. He is trying to get the Mohammedan chiefs to see the wrong in social inequality. He was thrust into prison and remained there until nearly dead, when released just recently on account of the demands of the people with whom he had sympathized and on account of the fear of another great war in India by the British officials. It was the opinion of Dr. Rader that Gandhi stands today as one of the leading citizens of the world. News regarding his work is covered by the British and by the upper class Mohammedans, and thus none but missionaries and sinners are aware of the great crisis.

The great Hindu leader takes his stand on the side of Christianity, but is holding back from making this public at present because of his influence on the Mohammedan side. The world will never forget Gandhi, although he is small in stature and humble in spirit. "Sixty-five nations a family," said (Continued on page 2)

THE GLITTERING GATE

O portals of dim Paradise,
What lies beyond the moon?
A gate that glitters like champagne,
And croaks a mad, gay tune?
O portals of dim Paradise,
Beyond the rainbow's curve,
A-down dim Heaven's crimson slates,
Do reeling spirits swoon?
Heaven then is just beyond—
And is my mother there?
O, Jim, this is not Paradise,
But stars and dark despair."

-AUDRED BUNCH

To the activities of the past week has been added the formal opening of sorority rush season, which is to reach a climax by pledging the latter part of the week.

The annual Washingtonian banquet scheduled for Friday is anticipated as a delightful affair for the students, sponsored by the members of the Washington society.

Out-of-Doors Lures Tri-C Class

The first picnic of the early spring was that given by the members of the Tri-C class of the First Presbyterian church, on last Friday evening. The merry party gathered at Waller Hall and journeyed to Bush's pasture, where a bright fire in the middle of the pine woods, served as the center of attraction. Toasting waffles and marshmallows added to the delights of the picnic supper.

Adelantes Hold Formal Initiation

The Adelante Literary society received 12 pledges into full membership at their regular meeting on Feb. 15. After a very impressive initiation ceremony refreshments were served consisting of valentine special ice cream and macaroons. The new members are: Louise Kaufman, Remoh Tryer, Cleo Weddle, Eleanor Merewether, Anna Howell, Kathryn Rossman, Katherine Kirk, Mildred Herwig, Lorna Lovett, Helene Gragg, Esther Hollingworth and Bertha Green.

Places were set at Phi Kappa Phi Sunday for Mrs. Elmo S. White and the Misses Amanda Wagner, Mabel Flock, Flora Webb, Myrtle Brownlee, Charles Ellery, Michael Edwards, Lewis Skirvin, Harold Bante and Fern Kelley.

Miss Palmer Entertains

The Beta Chi Sorority was delightfully entertained at an informal dinner party given by Miss Phyllis Palmer, a resident member, at her home at 6 p. m., on February 13. Other guests were Coach and Mrs. Rathbun and Mr. Fred Patton.

About the room were hearts, large, small, and middle-sized dangling on red ribbons from the chandeliers. Miss Palmer and Miss Florence Young, who assisted the hostess in entertaining, wore valentine costumes, heart shaped aprons, red beribboned, over sheer white dresses with the daintiest of valentine caps.

On the table dimly lighted by red candles was a centerpiece of white icicles on either side of which were two large white cakes decorated with "B.X." in red candy letters. As favors each guest received an old-fashioned valentine bearing a quaint verse. The following menu was served: Cabbage and celery salad, mayonnaise, tricasson of veal, sweet pickles, creamed potatoes, hot rolls, fruit, marshmallow pudding, sunshine cake, fruit punch, and heart shaped mints.

Lausanne Has Formal Dinner

Willamette has many traditions, but none more enjoyed than the annual Valentine party at Lausanne hall. This year it was a formal, and proved a great success. The girls wore their evening dresses, and the bright colors of their gowns seemed a part of the gay color scheme. Daffodils with fern and freisias decorated the tables. The waitresses, dressed as French maids added a formal touch to the occasion. The girls had previously drawn names, and bought valentines for the girls whose names they drew. The valentines had been placed on the tables and formed place cards. The following guests were present: Dr. and Mrs. Doney, Dean and Mrs. Alden, Dr. and Mrs. Steeves and Mrs. Dodd.

Palladians Indulge in Poetry

The regular meeting of the Palladians was held on Wednesday, Feb. 13. An interesting program of poetry was enjoyed on this occasion.

Ella St. Pierre read an original paper entitled "A Poet's Place in Life." She gave us a charming conception of the qualities which a true poet has. Erna Shelburne interpreted a humorous poem which amused her audience.

A short business meeting was held.

For the first meeting in the new semester, the Clonian Literary society held an extemporaneous program, the subject being Abraham Lincoln. The first number was the song, "America," by the society. Violet Coe gave a very interesting and worth-while report on "Abraham Lincoln"—the play, by Drinkwater. A short sketch of Lincoln's life, giving biography, some ideals, and general principles that governed his life, was given by Adelia Gates. A well made comparison of conditions in Lincoln's time with the conditions of today was given by Elizabeth Silver. The last number was a humorous anecdote told by Carmelita Barquist, after which a short business meeting followed.

Dean Richards entertained at dinner Wednesday evening, Feb. 13. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. George Pearce, Miss Helen Pearce, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Mrs. Pearce, and Mr. Launer.

Delta Phi entertained the following at dinner Sunday: Aubrey Fletcher, Albert Logan, Oury Hisey, Kenneth Wylie, John Fasnacht, Wendell Balsiger and Leland Chapin.

About 75 representatives were present from nearby Epworth League chapters, including those of Jason Lee, Leslie, Corvallis, Keisero, Silverton and Ashland. The purpose of the rally was to set before the young people the outline of the world service program of the Methodist church. The hall and tables were bright with decorations suggestive of St. Valentine's day. During the evening the following talks were given: The Call of the Hour... J. E. Purdy, The Call of the Near... Dr. J. B. Wood, of Corvallis, The Call of the Far... Rev. C. E. Powell, To Your Stations, O Epworthians... J. E. Purdy.

POETS' CORNER

TOMORROW
Today I want no lover,
Tomorrow I will cry,
To see his tall, dejected form
Go swiftly riding by.

THE RAIN
The world is melted to tears to-mite,
For just outside the pane,
A sobbing breath is faintly heard,
A sighing, soft refrain!

And the tears of Heaven are falling fast
In a tremulous, silver stream,
And the kindly dark in her sheltering arms
The sorrows of Nature screen.

And all the griefs of the Universe,
Soem lodged in my heart to-mite;
My every that is tinged with pain,
For, struggle tho I might,

I know the mists outside my door,
Can only a symbol be
Of the shadows of eternal woe
That seep into you from me.

BEAUTY
Morning, sparkling and bright
Dancing gaily along,
Filling the sky with her music—
Thou art a maiden's song.

LITERARY NOTES
Last Wednesday evening the Philodorian Literary society listened to an enjoyable program entitled "Treats." Henry Moore, with "Desire" as his topic, discussed ambition. Judging from his talk it is certain that he will be a great man if he carries out all of his ideas. Otho Love sang two songs. The first, "Danny Boy," and the second, "Where My Caravan Has Rested."

After a five minute recess, the business meeting was called to order. The business of the day was the installation of officers for the coming semester. George Oliver, the retiring president, administered the oath to each. Harold Regel, the new president then accepted the gavel and the meeting was adjourned to meet at the Rose room of the Spa for officers' treats.

Harold Regel presided as toast master and amid great hilarity of wit and humor "Willamette Specials" were enjoyed. Those responding with toasts were Alvin Bond, vice president; Dwight Findley, secretary; Frank Jensen, assistant secretary; James McClintock, treasurer; Rayson Chapin, critic; Gerald Pearson, reporter, and George Oliver, sergeant-at-arms.

The Lincolnian club installed its new officers in its regular meeting last Wednesday: Paul Pemberton, as president; Moss W. Anderson, as vice president; M. E. Cortwell, as secretary; P. R. Thanto, as critic and reporter, and Lloyd A. Wheelwright, as treasurer.

Following the installation an extemporaneous program on Lincoln was held. Interesting talks on the life of the great American as well as on the things that he had done were given. The club is planning "big things" this semester. So watch out!

WALLULAH COUPONS ARE NOW ON SALE

The Wallulah will be ready for distribution on May Day this year, according to the latest reports from the staff. All of the class photographs have been sent to the engraver and much of the copy is now in the hands of the editors.

The 1925 Wallulah will be a volume of 272 pages in a stiff, dark-brown binding, with a very striking cover design. Several new features are contemplated which will be more or less marked departures from past issues of the annual.

Under administration, the first of the seven or eight sections, will be informal snapshots of the faculty members, instead of the usual posed photographs. A picture of the Board of Trustees will also appear in this section.

The next portion, to be entitled "The Student Body," will include pictures of all students enrolled in liberal arts, law and music colleges of the university, and Kimball School of Theology as well. The Student Body section, besides consisting of all the class pictures, will include pictures and accounts of the various student committees which have functioned during the year.

The next section to be called "College Life," is a distinctly new feature. It is to be a pictorial account of the year's activities. There will come the usual departments covering Forensics, Music, Publications, Athletics, Organizations and concluding with an unusually good satire section of jokes, pictures and cartoons.

Tickets, which were put on sale last week, may now be procured. Edwin Thomas is in charge of the coupon sales. A great many coupons have already been sold.
