Campus Chest Solicitors Set $1250 Quota For Campaign

Again the cry around campus shall be "Beat $1250!", as Campus Chest solicitors will launch their big drive during the week of October 20-25.

ED HALL, manager for Willamette's only charity drive of the year, announced that the quota for the entire school is again $1250, which amounts to a quota of one dollar per student.

Working hard on this year's staff are Andy Snyder, Betsy Rhodes, solicitations and Jerry Spoonmore, Ed Knappe, publicity. Representatives from each living organization will be appointed later.

CAMPUS CHEST is only 9 years old. Earlier at Willamette various charitable organizations on campus conducted their own campaigns throughout the year. Student leaders decided in student council that

Corporation Plan Announces Gift

Willamette received its first gift, this week, under a corporation employees' matching plan, Dr. G. Herbert Smith, University president, announced.

The Dow Chemical Company matched a $100 contribution given to the University by Tyrone Gillespie of Midland, Michigan. Mr. Gillespie was a member of the class of 1937.

The employees' matching gift plan is now in its second year of operation at Dow and constitutes a comparatively new method of support to accredited institutions of higher education around the country.

Parents to Overrun Campus; Two Activity Packed Days Set

Homesick frosh and sedate seniors are counting the days until next Friday and Saturday when moms and dads will invade the campus for the weekend to see in what state their sons and daughters live nine months out of the year.

ALTHOUGH VISITING with their progeny is the main order of business, Jim Brentlinger, manager for the eighth annual Parents' Weekend, has planned a varied program for the guests. Friday night will feature the presentation of the Roman farce, "The Twin Manachime," to be followed by open house at all living organizations.

Saturday noon, parents and students will meet in the gym for a barbecue. After lunch, there will be an opportunity for the parents to meet with the faculty in the library to be followed by a coffee hour.

CLIMAXES OF the weekend will be the performance of two songs by each living organization at the all-school sing Saturday afternoon, and the Willamette-Linfield grid contest at 8 p.m. at McCulloch Stadium.

Since its beginning in October of 1951, attendance at Parents' Weekend has steadily increased. This year about 500 parents are expected to visit the campus.

RADIO AND television publicity for the event has been widely distributed in the forms of news briefs and releases to 23 radio and television stations in Oregon, Washington, and California.

On October 7, KPOJ's Patti Cooke will interview Ruth Parrett, Willamette freshman and the 1958 Portland Rose Queen, and her father concerning Parents' Weekend. The interview will be held at 9 a. m. on the "Chuck Bernard with Patti Cooke" show.

JOHNNY Carpenter of KOIN radio and television will tape a phone conversation with Jim Brentlinger. The tape will be used sometime in the near future.

Pat Holcomb, secretary of the Parents' Weekend student committee, and her father, Mr. Fred F. Holcomb, president of the Willamette Parents' Association, will be interviewed at 19 a.m. on October 9 by Kay West on radio station KEX.

Frosh to Flock to Polls

Oakdale Apartment Open to WU Couple

A vacancy in the Oakdale apartments, located in the 900 block on Mill street, has been announced by Mr. Richard Petrie, financial vice president. The apartments are university property and are rented for $45 a month to university couples.

There are now three married couples living there, Mr. Petrie said. Prospects should apply at the office of Walter S. Blake, dean of students.

Exquisite Signs, Placards Aid Vigorous Office Campaigns

By STEWART BUTLER

Today's election will climax a frantic week of campaigning for the freshmen as they elect this semester's class officers.

Many frosh have been involved with painting signs, while others have shown their partisan support by displaying campaign buttons and placards. The candidates themselves put on such a vigorous campaign that it has easily outdone the excitement of Oregon's gubernatorial race.

But after 3 p.m. today, the signs will be left to the delight of the squirrels, who have always shown a liking for campaign literature, and to the maintenance men who will clean up the weatherbeaten and squirrel-ravaged signs.

Freshman candidates are Bob Bishop, Ray Blouin, Fred Doshier and Frank Sites, president; Marcia Finzer, Bob Fisher, Lynn Hales, Tom Hemingway, Dick Lawson, Stan Sather and Judy Smith, vice president.

Sylvia Takeuchi, Barbara Henken, and Marcia Ruby, secretary; Dave Ackerman, Mike Estort, Neal Galash, Nancy Grey, Ginger Keats, Patti Martin and Tom Morris, treasurer.

Sergeant-at-arms candidates are Doug Austin, Jerry Jefferson and Kenny Moore.

Larry Willingham Selected Rotarian of The Month

Larry Willingham, student body president, and political science senior scholar, has been chosen Rotarian of the month for October.

WILLINGHAM'S long list of honors earned during his three years at Willamette include being on the honor roll for six semesters and holding Mary L. Collins and Crown Zellerbach scholarships.

Activity-wise, Willingham has served on the rally squad, was sophomore class president, Glee formation leader, and is a member of Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Alpha Chi, sophomore men's activity honorary, and Omicron Delta Kappa, upperclassmen's honorary.

HE IS also a member of both Phi Eta Sigma, freshmen's scholastic honorary, and Arnold Air Society.

Responsibility of the Rotarian of the month is to attend weekly Rotary meetings, representing Willamette.

Mums Available

Once again pretty cardinal and gold mums will brighten up the Willamette campus.

Students should sign up in their living organizations as soon as possible so that each mother can wear a mum to the Parents' Weekend football game. The cost of the mums is $1.00.

HAROLD B. JORY

Harold Jory Dies in Calif.

Harold Jory, Willamette registrar from 1946 to 1958, passed away last Friday in a Palo Alto, California, hospital. Jory suffered a severe coronary thrombosis Friday morning and never regained consciousness.

Services were held Monday in Palo Alto. Cremation also took place in that city.

Mrs. Jory requested in a call to President G. Herbert Smith that in lieu of flowers, contributions be made to the Jory scholarship fund for the university. The fund was started many years ago when Jory's father was head of the WU math department, although no use of the money has yet been made. "Eventually, it is hoped that the fund can support a math student and will be known as the Jory scholarship," Smith said.

"Farewell Willamette," WU's traditional commencement song, was sung for the first time at graduation exercises by Jory. He received his BA from Willamette and his MA from Stanford.

Salem tribute and recognition will be given Mr. Jory at the next faculty meeting, at the Sunday service of the First Methodist church and during the Rotary Club meeting Wednesday, according to Chaplain Dr. Harley Zeigler.

Recognition was given in the presence of Willamette students during yesterday's chapel.

Campus 'Up' on Quemoy; Chinese Prefer Reds

The Collegian conducted the first student poll of the fall semester earlier this week, based on the broad question "What are your feelings about the defense of Quemoy and Matsu?"

The response given the poll seems to indicate that Willamette students are both well informed as to the nature of the far Eastern conflict, and widely divergent in their opinions concerning the solution of the problem.

IN ORDER TO gather as random a view as possible, we spoke to students from each of the four classes, both male and female, representing the Greeks and the Independents in equal numbers.

The major conclusions were as follows: Those in favor of remaining on Quemoy and Matsu to fight, 20%; those against, 60%, and those with no opinion, 20%. The question of recognizing Red China in the United Nations: for recognition, 60%; against, 30%; and undecided, 10%. When asked if they felt that the U.S. had made a wise choice in deciding to make their stand on Quemoy and Matsu, 10% replied yes; 50% no; and 40% felt unqualified to judge.

Many comments were made elaborating on the answers given. We shall try to give a few examples here:

"THIS ENTIRE matter is a diversionary tactic, designed to take attention from the near East, where Nassar has appointed stooges among the Syrians, in the first of a series of moves that are intended to weaken the strongholds of the Western World."

"If we don't stop Communist aggression here, it will continue with even greater force. The people of the free world are already beginning to believe that we will never fight over a matter of face."

"The troops of China have been supplied with Soviet weapons, but Russia is afraid of starting a war at this time for fear China will prove to be too strong for even the Russian military machine."

"THERE COMES a time when nations must assume their moral obligations, even if it means war. Hitler used the same tactics as the Reds, taking some land, saying that that would be all he'd take, and then taking some more."

"Defending these islands only gives the Communists a chance to fire on us; we ought to let people in that part of the world decide what's best for them."

"The United State's position is both unrealistic and untenable. Red China should be seated in the UN. Prolonging the life of Nationalist China is sheer madness."

"CONGRESS and the president made a grave mistake when they agreed to help protect Quemoy and Matsu."

"It is about time we realized that the Communists are in control of China, and Chiang Kai-shek and his few Nationalist followers are no longer the legal government."

"I don't think that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu are vital to the defense of Formosa, but I don't think that we should stand by and let Red China take them over after we have promised to defend them."

"The people who sold us a bill of goods caused us to take this defense stand, and the American newspaper did little or nothing to properly inform its public."

Jew Pictures China's Stand Over Mix-up

For 41 days Communist guns have pounded and partly blockaded Quemoy and Matsu, two small islands east of the China coast. Some 130,000 of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist soldiers and civilians are fighting back.

Terry Jew, senior physics major who came to the United States from China about two years after the Communists gained control of his country, says that Nationalist Chiang Kai-shek will never gain control of China again.

"COMMUNISM offers a hope to the Chinese—hope to at least hang on to their lives," Terry said. "After the Reds took over, promising land to the poverty-stricken people, the standard of living was raised."

Terry, who is very close to the Quemoy situation, does not want to say whether the West should or should not defend the controversial off-shore islands. But he describes the position of the U. S. as seen by the Chinese:

"The United States can defend these islands if they feel it is their national interest. Should these small islands be given to Red China all Southeast Asia and Japan would be endangered. Therefore the Chinese feel that the U. S. should defend them."

"IT IS ONLY legal for the U. S. to recognize Red China as the government of the Chinese," Terry continued. "We should not think that China is under Chiang's government because it is not. The Red government is the government of China."

Why are the Reds so much more popular with the all-important Chinese people?

Terry's explanation hinges on the importance of agriculture to the Chinese. Up to the time the Communists took over the mainland of China the majority of the Chinese were very poverty-stricken, many not having enough to eat because they were under selfish landowners.

WITH COMMUNISM, Terry explained, all the land was divided among the 600 million people giving everyone at least a small part. Now the standard of living, though still low, is better than before.

"Besides giving everyone land, Communism endeavored to educate the people. Before this, the majority of the citizens of China had no way in which to communicate with their fellow men."

"In the eyes of the Chinese, Chiang Kai-shek is taking advantage of the United States," Terry said.

THE CHINESE people are bitter toward the West for three reasons. Diplomatic relations during the 19th and 20th centuries took advantage of the Chinese people; the U. S. is backing Chiang in Formosa against the wishes of the Chinese and Communist propaganda is influencing the people.

"You see," Terry added, "Communism is popular among my people because of the advantages it promised to them. But the price they pay is high. Eventually they might realize that Communists cannot rule China forever."

"Matsu and Quemoy are the beginning. Chiang Kai-shek will never again control the mainland of China."

Yocum Needs Info

Addresses are lacking for numerous WU students, according to Registrar Richard Yocum. He asks that those who failed to give this information at registration please come to the registrar's office as soon as possible since addresses are necessary for permanent records. Students whose addresses have changed are also asked to notify the office.

Crisis Livens Beirut Studies

Eating curry and rice, the nourishment of the Indian, sometimes hitch-hiking, sometimes traveling by train at $1.50 for 300 miles, Herb Talabere started from Oregon, studied in India last year and then thumbed his way to the Belgian Congo and up through Europe.

Also on his "Junior Year Abroad," Herb studied at the University of Alahabad, where, he grinned, he had a vacation at least once every two weeks.

NOW BACK at Willamette for his senior year, Herb, a Phi Delt majoring in history, found an India that lived up to all his expectations: a long history, a rich culture and a country important in today's world affairs.

Although the University is primarily English-speaking, one of Herb's classes was conducted in Hindustani — and then translated into English. He found that the standards there seemed lower than they are in American schools, although he admitted that the fault may have been partly that of the students. "We only had one test a year so most of us goofed off until we suddenly had to bear down at the end."

Communist professors, classes in Marxism and books written in India but plagiarized from America or England were normal at the University.

WHAT TALABERE learned didn't stop with the University. Paying a tutor high wages — $8 a month — he and a friend received daily lessons in Hindustani.

"It was impossible not to learn; we were always in contact with the people," he said. On the third-class trains, on which there wasn't even enough room to stand, there was always someone who could speak English. Talabere and his friend managed to travel all through India on these crowded trains during their many vacations.

The question he was asked most frequently was what he disliked most about the Indian culture. "They have a strong inferiority complex here," Talabere explained. "The Indians also wondered why the U. S. doesn't recognize Red China and they said that we are arming Pakistan so she can take Kashmir away."

HE ADDED: "I agreed with most of their complaints about our policies."

Communism, the strongest opposition party in India, interests the country highly, and students there never fail to ask how strong it is within the U. S.

One explanation for Russia's popularity is the method of giving economic aid. "Sure, we give aid, but we spread it around so that it doesn't show up. But Russia is building a steel mill, and that the people can see."

"All of India is politically alert because she fought for her independence so recently in 1947," Herb said, telling how little is known of the resources in the country.

GIRLS, according to Herb who is used to American dating customs, lead a dog's life. Subject to a curfew at 6:30 every evening, they aren't allowed to date for fear of spoiling their reputation. On one date he managed to wrangle, he pedaled a bicycle while his girl rode in a rickshaw.

School started in July and got out in early April so that students would not be studying in the grueling hottest part of the year. For four months after his examinations Talabere traveled around India and then by boat from Bombay to Africa.

This was real experience. Third class boat from India took 1500 people who slept on metal bunks in rows on the deck. The lights were on all day and night while kids howled and people chattered, but this, according to Talabere, was just what he wanted — to know the people first hand.

HERB landed in Kenya and hitch-hiked to the Congo and then up to the Sudan. From Africa he went to Europe, but did not find it nearly as challenging or interesting to him as the Far East. He motor-scooter up to England and then back to the continent again where he bought himself a Volkswagen.

Yearbook Here Just in Time For Parents

Arriving unannounced and unexpected Willamette's yearbook, the Wallulah, hit the campus with a bang last week—surprising nostalgic and somewhat irritated students who had been worrying that it would not be available until October.

Upperclassmen thumbing nostalgically through the pages spent the day it arrived secretly sizing up pictures of favorite girl friends or denying fervently any resemblance to their own pictures.

The books, which are still available, arrived just in time to show off to parents on their annual visit to the campus. The yearbooks are in the Student Body Office for those forgetful creatures who haven't claimed theirs yet.

Harold Jory . . . a personal tribute

I want to pause a moment to pay a heartfelt tribute to my friend and colleague, Harold Jory, who died last week. Willamette has never had a more loyal alumnus nor a more representative one. He loved, lived, revered, and radiated the "Spirit of Old Willamette." His father was Professor of Mathematics before the turn of the century. And Harold himself was associated with Willamette, from his youth as Academy and University student to his recent Registrarship, for fifty years! He helped make Willamette athletic and musical history.

He had the distinction of being the first to sing the poignant "Farewell Willamette," since sung annually at Commencement only. He was a member of the first quartet to sing the traditional May Day "Make Way for the Queen Today." And he would tell you with a twinkle in his eyes that he was probably the first student to "go out for football" all four years without making the first string. But, more important, Harold Jory was "first" in the hearts of many faculty members and students.

We shall painfully miss his towering figure, his merry eyes and friendly smile, his booming voice, his masterful Registrarship, his unflinching good nature and gentle humor. For Harold Jory has joined that goodly company of Old Willamette's great and inimitable servants—Doney, Matthews, and the rest—whom I like to call "The Immortals." He has "fought the good fight," he has "finished the race," he has "kept the faith." —P.G.T.

The Social Scoop

TOUGH STUFF

Willamette's starting eleven may think that they have it tough in the Northwest Conference, but according to Mike Graydon, star intramural football man for the Phi Delt Fireballs and the pride of Oswego, they don't know what opposition is. Making a fantastic leap to retrieve a pass, Graydon landed off balance and separated his shoulder. The bitterest pill of all, though was that it wasn't even in a game, where he could have been covered with glory; it happened during a scrimmage on the green with the brothers.

TOAST YOUR HEALTH

Overheard on campus being hummed by a freshman leaving the infirmary, Willamette U's cough syrup in hand: "He wore a bright red rook lid and White Lightning was his load..." It seems it didn't take some of the freshman long after catching their rush week colds to discover the invigorating and miracle-working elixer which makes them breathe puffs of smoke after each dose; what's more it's free. Cough syrup parties are already the rage; there's a black market booming. The hardier souls can drink it straight, but according to the syrup connoisseurs, it's a passable beverage when mixed with seven-up or orange juice.

HEY, JOE!

Just to prove that the age of chivalry is not dead, (and also to get a good look at the new coeds) the members of Beta Theta Pi sent out post cards during the summer to all the incoming freshman women, reminding them that the Sons of Wooglin would assist them with their luggage. Foolishly chairman Joe Karmos, signed his name to the cards, so every call that came in was for Joe; it was a long hard day, says he, but some of the brothers helped. Remarked one: "You'd be surprised how hard it is to catch a sweet young thing's eye when you're hauling a 170 pound trunk." Remarked Joe: "Next year someone else can write the post-cards."

LAW DOPE

The average age of the Law School student is 25.6 years, according to Dean Reese's famous yearly statistics, and 52.5 per cent of the Willanette law students are married. A total of 56 per cent of the men are veterans, and the future jurists have a total of 74 children. Students from 67 different pre law schools are represented including students from China, Switzerland, Mexico and Alaska.

Arnold Airmen to Entertain Prospective Angel Flighters

Candidates for Angel Flight will be honored at a tea on Sunday afternoon in the Doney Hall lounge from 3 to 4 o'clock. These Freshman women have been nominated by their respective living organizations, and the members will be chosen by Angel Flight's counterpart, the Arnold Air Society.

PRESENT AT THE tea will be Angel Flight members from previous years, and the members of the Arnold Air Society. Special guests are the air faculty and their wives: M/Sgt. and Mrs. Donald R. Curtiss; Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edward M. Fritsch; Capt. and Mrs. Richard B. Jenkins; S/Sgt. and Mrs. Dennis Moore, Jr.; T/Sgt. and Mrs. Leslie N. Ostlund; Maj. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Pennell; Capt. and Mrs. William F. Wright; Capt. and Mrs. Douglas S. Weart; M/Sgt. and Mrs. Robert R. Ward.

Candidates will fill out questionnaires at the tea; Sheila Tomlin, Angel Flight president, will give a talk; and Marilyn Wood, drill instructor, will explain that particular aspect of Angel Flight.

THE NEW members, to be announced soon, will be chosen for poise, personality, size, physical coordination, and interest in the organization. The girls tapped for membership will be put to work at once learning routines for upcoming performances.

Both the seniors are psychology majors and have been active in campus affairs during the past three years. Miss Clark has been president of Panhellenic, president of Kappa Delta Pi and is this year's Homecoming committee secretary. Erickson is social chairman of his fraternity.

Proposed Constitution Changes Explained by Student Officer

By GORDIE MacPHERSON
ASWU Member-at-Large

There has been, in the past, a general concern on the Willamette campus as to the rights and governing jurisdictions of the Student Organization. During the preceding year, the Constitutional Revisions

Committee presented to the Student Body an aggregate of changes which they felt were beneficial in the clarification of such question and I am not alone in the belief that the proposed changes will be and are an offer to the students to make a step in the direction of self government having as the ultimate goal a free organization with unreserved rights to pursue the execution of the nominal and basic student functions as well as certain resources to the administrative theory of student government.

The last attempt to pass such amendments failed for the reason that a constitutional quorum was not cast, this being evidence of the lack of interest. However, seeing the general student interest in this matter as being predominant over many others, I would say that there was another reason such as an overall low percentage of voting, which may have been due to any number of reasons.

We, the student body officers, would ask that you look at the changes carefully and then after careful consideration, cast your vote one way or another. In this manner you will enable us to be cognizant of your opinions en-toto. In other words "Get out and Vote."

Here Is the Text of Revisions

Present Wording

PREAMBLE

We, the students of Willamette University, in order to provide an organization for the control of all matters of general student concern, do hereby ordain and establish the following constitution.

ARTICLE II - OFFICERS

Sec. 3. The first vice-president shall assume the duties of the president in the absence of that officer and shall act as chairman of the Activities Board.

Sec. 4. The second vice-president shall be in charge of ASWU elections.

ARTICLE IV - ELECTIONS

Sec. 1. Except for the rally squad, elections shall be held at least one month before the close of the second semester, the date to be set by the Student Council. The Rally Squad shall be elected in February. All candidates for the elective offices of the Association shall be nominated by petitions of 25 members of the student body. The petitions must be presented to the Student Council at least one week before election; whenever possible, at least two candidates for each office shall be named.

Sec. 2. The Australian ballot system shall be used for all elections.

Sec. 3. All members of the Association whose names appear on the official poll books shall be entitled to vote.

Sec. 4. The voting hours shall be set by the Student Council and published at least one week before election day.

Sec. 5. All officers except the member-at-large shall be elected by a majority vote and in case no candidate receives a majority the Student Council shall call a new election within one week; at this election only the names of the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall appear on the ballot.

Sec. 6. The runner-up for the position of student body president shall automatically be elected member-at-large.

Sec. 7. Membership of the Rally Squad shall consist of four women serving as a song team and three men as a yell squad, to be selected in February of each year, serving for the next school year. The student body will vote on the candidates as individuals, voting for as many candidates as there are positions to be filled. The four women and three men receiving the highest number of votes will comprise the rally-squad. The two women and two men receiving the highest number of votes will then be voted upon in a new election. The woman and man winning a majority shall become song queen and yell king. In the event of a vacancy occurring in the Rally Squad, that candidate with the next highest number of votes will fill the vacancy.

ARTICLE V - VACANCIES

Republicans Hold Meeting; Prexy Chosen

Sophomore Pete Weisel was elected president of the Young Republicans at their initial meeting Wednesday. He replaces Bruce Philippi who transferred to the University of Oregon this year.

After discussing the year's projects, which include hosting the state Young Republican convention here later this fall, and many worthwhile "election time" ideas, the club reconvened at the Republican headquarters to hear Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson speak.

Secretary Benson was available after his speech for a question and answer period in which club members participated.

Anyone seeking information about the programs for Young Republicans, membership, or with the desire to help with pre-election activities, should contact Barbara Sherk at the Delta Gamma house.

Game Tickets To Go on Sale

"Tickets for the Parents' Weekend football game with Linfield will go on sale Monday through Friday in the business office," said Dave Lewis, business manager.

As in the past, sections C and D of the football stadium will be reserved for students and parents on a reserved ticket basis. However, in case of a cloud burst, these sections will be forced to close; consequently, seating will be on a "first come, first served" basis. Section B will continue to be reserved despite any change of weather.

The cost of the reserve tickets will be $1.80. Students must bring their own student body tickets to the business office at the same time they purchase their parents' tickets, thus enabling students to sit with their parents.

Students who do not go with their parents must have their student body cards punched in the business office in exchange for a reserve ticket.
