Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION FRIDAY NIGHT

H. M. A. HANDED A BOUQUET

The Hill Boys were Sent Home to the Tune of 22 to 3

They were both out Played and out Weighed, but Played a
Plucky Game

Hill Military Academy was defeated by the Varsity last Saturday, score 22 to 3. It was an easy victory, but gave splendid practice to our team. Hill Military did not expect to receive such a large bouquet, some of the members expecting to win the game by a close score.

The Varsity out-weighted the visitors and as the result of hard and consistent practice, harmony of players and backed by an enthusiastic spirit from the rooters, fairly pushed Hill at their will. The Hill team is a plucky squad, and played a good consistent game but are not in collegiate class.

The Willamette sons did good work in plays and line plunges. Each man showed up well and we have a team to the credit of the school. Although it amounted to only a practice game one can notice the improvement over the squad of last year.

The line seem to work together and shows results, while the back field is a great deal faster and has much vim and go.

Blackwell did some fine work in breaking up plays and getting through the line and nabbing men for three and five yard losses. Westley, McKnight, McRae and Bellinger were all good in breaking up Hill's formations and making opening for the man with the ball.

At quarter Booth is doing good work. He handles the team well and did excellent punting averaging from 35 and 40 yards. Several "subs" were used and did well, but show the lack of experience. In making yardage Rader, the plunging, fullback heads the list, with average of 230 yards. Cummings 167, McMeachin 100, McKnight 80, Lowe 65, Westley 35, McRae 25. Booth punted on an average of 300 yards.

The big left tackle on Hill, did great work on the kick off, booting the pigskin back of the goal line on several occasions.

Game was called at 3:06, Prof. Kirk, Salem high school, referee. Moore, field judge.

The spirit of last Saturday's games was the best seen. The ladies surely have won a warm place in the heart of the players. The fellows will have to go some to keep up with mark set by the ladies.

Doc Flegel can handle the rooters to perfection. The noise is enthusiastic and inspiring and the yells are excellent.

Let all the students unite in swelling the move of true spirit that has come this year. Each student need roster his germ, that it may grow and bear fruit.

PUNTS.

The Hill lads fought hard but were far out-classed.

The spirit shown Saturday was excellent. Next time go one better.

Blackwell surprised the Hill boys somewhat, once or twice. No? Yes?

It is no disgrace to be beaten by a superior force if you do the best you can.

Did you see the way Rader carried the ball Saturday? There was class to it.

Bellinger, Lowe and McRea come in for commendation for their good work against the Military boys.

We want more college spirit to the square inch in Willamette University than anywhere on the Pacific Coast.

There was something doing in the near vicinity of Westley when he hit the line. Oh, you Kiddo with the wringley eyes!

It is to be hoped the girls will continue their excellent work in the line of cheering. Those new yells and songs sounded well.

Booth is generaling the team better this year than last. Booth ought to come near making the all-Northwest quarter back this year.

Help Flegel in the yells. Learn the yells and don't be afraid to open your mouth. Flegel will see that you don't put your foot in it. Squee!

Cummings and McMeachin were good ground gainers against Hill, each making long and effective runs. Mc. is a good leader for the team.

On first touch-down, after a run of 35 yards, Rader threw his knee out of joint. Later in game, a Hill player suffered a like mishap, and left the game.

Paul Homan loomed up brilliantly in Saturday's game. A 40-yard run for a touch down is not made every day. Whose heart did you say fluttered then?

McKnight sure tore things up whether he carried the ball or not. "Fitz" is playing for his last year, as he says it is his last season. We hope "Fitz" will do as good work in the game with Multnomah next Saturday.

If you noticed, there were about as many business men out at the game Saturday as at the biggest game last year. That means that Willamette is making good. When the team makes good, then business men will support it. When the business men support the team, it is the bounden duty of every W. U. student to support it.

WILLAMETTE HAS HONOR SOCIETY

Wearers of the "W" About to Complete Organization

Comprises only Foot and Basket Ball
men. Track and Base Ball
Initiated Later

The athletes of Willamette University have completed all preliminary arrangement for the institution of an organization whereby the undergraduates will be in position to better advance the athletic interests of the university.

The society will be an honorary athletic one and only those making the official athletic W will be eligible to membership. At the present only the football and basket ball men will be initiated at the organization of the society.

This organization is the result of the splendid new athletic spirit now manifesting itself at Old Willamette. At present there is no college in the country of the size of Willamette possessing a more loyal or active undergraduate body.

Sometime in the near future the fraternity will be launched by a big banquet. President Homan and Dr. W. H. Byrd, dean of the medical department, will be the chief speakers.

A committee has been appointed to frame up a constitution and to name the organization.

Another initiation will be held commencement week for the baseball and track men. The following men will comprise the organization at present: Blackwell, Booth, Rader, McMeachin, Cummins, McKnight, Westley, Bellinger, Lowe, Homan, Zimmerman, McIntyre, Schramm, Minton, Bellinger.

Win the game for W. U.

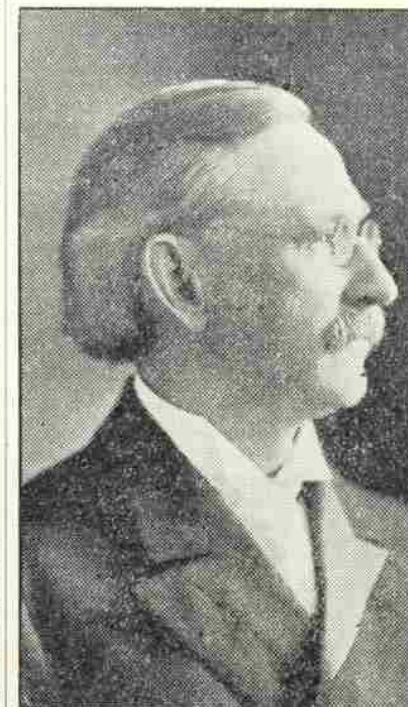

Coach Sweetland's work of last year is beginning to show in the effectiveness of the Varsity eleven. He needs support to carry out his plans. Because the coach has his plans "laid out" is no sign they are dead.

Now, just boost a little. Its easier than knocking. Besides, there is something to boost for. Lay aside all petty dislikes, get a view of the great institution Willamette has been, of the greater institution it will be, and you will find plenty of reason to be a booster.

Dr. Lyman B. Sperry, of Oberlin, Ohio, will be in Salem October 23, 24 and 25. He will visit the University on Monday, the 24th, speaking at Chapel, and at other meetings during the day. Dr. Sperry is a very able and pleasant speaker, treating his subject in an original manner.

PHILODORIAN SOCIETY

The Philodorians Start the Year's Work with Good
Program and Fine
Interest.

In a very spirited and interesting meeting on last Thursday evening, the Philodorian society rendered their first literary program, since their re-organization for the Academic year. Through for the Academic year. Though the program was intentionally short, as there were other matters that had to be brought before the meeting, the spirit and ability manifested by those who did participate, gave evident proof that the high standard for literary work, which the society has always held, would again be maintained. The first number on the program and one of the most pleasing, was a solo by A. W. Beckley, in which he was accompanied on the piano by his sister Miss Hattie Beckley.

The next number was a lecture by Harry McCain. He took for his subject, the liquor question, and speaking largely from an economic standpoint, produced some strong and conclusive arguments in favor of the prohibition of that traffic. Members who heard Mr. McCain's lecture and also that of Ex-Mayor Rose while he was in this city, stated that had they been matched in public debate, Mr. McCain would have had altogether the better of the argument.

The usual ten minutes parliamentary practice was then engaged in, which was carried on very ably both by the president and the other members of the society who took part.

The debate which followed, Resolved that the assembly plan of nominating candidates is the preferable one in Oregon, was very strenuously contested. The affirmative side of the argument was held by John McNees, and the negative by Neal Tim-

RAILROAD PERKINS TO SPEAK

Local Y. M. C. A. Secure a Permanent Portland Worker

Will speak on the subject of Bible
Study at the Sunday Afternoon Meeting

On Sunday, October 16, the Y. M. C. A. meeting will be in charge of the Bible Study Committee. The committee, consisting of Alfred A. Schramm, Neal Zimmerman and Paul Homan, have engaged an outside speaker. R. R. Perkins of Portland, known as Railroad Perkins, will speak. He is an enthusiastic man and full of his subject. The committee is to be congratulated upon having secured the service of Mr. Perkins and all man will appreciate the opportunity of hearing the gentleman.

merman. The discussion was then opened to the society; those speaking on the affirmative were, Harry McCain, Mr. Chalp Perry Reigelman and Robert Shepard; those speaking on the negative were A. W. Beckley, Guy Woods, and George Wilson.

After a short intermission the officers for the incoming term were installed.

Alumni, students and friends are invited to contribute at any time. If you take interest in Willamette let us know it through its paper. Address all communications to the Editor-in-Chief.

Do you know, one of the prime ways of showing college spirit is by respecting the authorities and reverencing the traditions of the college?

"College, in its primary sense, a collection or assembly.

"Spirit, from spiro, to breath or below; hence breath, wind, air in motion."

These two sentences were copied verbatim from Webster's Dictionary and may be of use in arriving at a definition that will adequately define "College Spirit". From the union of two of the meanings above given, we might easily and with no visible strain upon grammatical niceties, reach the conclusion that "College Spirit is a collection of air in motion," and we submit that it would be difficult to frame a more concise or happy statement of a fact than the above.

"A collection of air in motion." We might ask the questions, how large a collection and to what extent has motion been imparted to it? Is this "collection" the largest possible under the circumstances and is its motion the impetus imparted by a vigorous student body united by the bonds of common interest? If not why? To descend to concise examples and bring things nearer home, we would cite our own school. During the few days the members of the Alumni were reviewing old acquaintances in the city and about the school, more than one was heard to remark that "College Spirit seemed so much stronger than when he (or she) last visited here." There's a reason. It is an indisputable fact that more interest is being taken in student affairs by students this year than has been exhibited for many past years. There is a greater current of spirit proceeding with more velocity and coming from and embracing a larger number of students than ever before. The importance of student interest cannot be over-estimated. It is the store house of possibility. It is the spring whence gushes the lubricating oil that makes things go! It is as imperative to the needs of a successful college as students themselves. How far will "College Spirit" go? Will it force the football squad through the ranks of larger, more experienced opponents? Will it tear great holes in the opposing line? Will it wring victory from defeat and plant the pigskin behind the enemy's goal? We contend that it will. Will it give logic and force to the debater, eloquence and power to the orator, strength to the athlete? We hold that it will. Will "College Spirit" be of any benefit to the old school as an advertising medium? In our estimation no better could be conceived. When once the great fount of college spirit is struck, its sources are inexhaustible, its application broad as the universe, its results, wonderful.

Every student in school should interest himself in student activities. Remove interest and spirit from a college and it's a pretty listless proposition. We should not be like Quakers and wait for the spirit to move us; move the spirit and keep it climbing right along and hustling to get out of the way. A few words more and the end of this Epistle draws nigh. We mustn't forget that every one can help. It's not up to one or two to make good as spirit generators, while the rest let things go hang. One way of showing interest is by paying the Student Body Tax. This is not a large amount, considered as an individual expenditure, but in the aggregate it amounts to considerable. This is an assessment that every good Willamette man and woman should pay, and, be it to their everlasting credit, the most of them are paying it. Our income from this tax constitutes one of the main sources of revenue for conducting student activities, and unless there is a considerable sum realized in this way, a deficit is bound to result. Another way in which all may help is by subscribing to the Collegian. This year the paper is the best in the history of the institution and is a feature in which we may all be justly proud. Do it now!

A collection of air in motion—keep it moving. If you haven't been a booster in the past, start now; there's still hope. We believe with Tennyson:—
"All precious things, discover late,
To those that seek them issue forth;
For love in sequel works with fate,
And draws the veil from hidden worth".
—J. W. C.

ADELANTE SOCIETY

Adelantes Enjoy Social as Well as Literary Afternoon.

Friday afternoon the Adelante Society held the first meeting of the year. It was well attended by the old members and also by many new girls whom we hope will join our ranks.

One of the interesting features of the program was a paper on "The Women of the Future."

The quotations from the Freshmen were rather disappointing as the Freshmen had evidently been too busy to say many things.

The news and jokes of the day were summarized in the Ginger Can by Edena Clarke.

Miss Shumway's music was greatly enjoyed as usual.

After the program and business meeting an informal reception was held for the visiting girls, at which chocolate and wafers were served.

Though many of the former members have not returned to school this year, nevertheless, with the help of the girls joining us at this time we expect to make this the best year the society has known.

Y. W. C. A.

Sunday Afternoon, Oct. 9, '10.

The meeting was ably lead by Mrs. Bosworth who presented the subject, "The Value of Bible Study while in College", in a very impressive way. At the close of the meeting every girl was convinced that it was well worth while, and a great many signed up for one of the Bible Study classes. Girls, you can't afford to miss this side of your College Life, for after all it counts the most. There was a large attendance and prospects are bright for a prosperous year. A vocal duet by Misses Edgington and Bradley was very much appreciated. Come and assist by your presence and receive help thereby.

INTERCOLLEGIATE.

The following is gleaned from the Chemawa American, Mr. Jayme was an active student in Willamette three years ago:

Fortunato Jayme, for ten years a resident of Chemawa, as student and employe, departed on Sept. 28 for his old home in Pilar, Panay Island, P. I. While here he made many warm friends. He was always studious and industrious and we believe he will meet with success in his old home, should he elect to remain there. He was but at little lad when he was brought to the United States with a regiment returning from the Philippines, but he returns to the land of his birth a man. He became so thoroughly Americanized while here that we predict he will feel somewhat a stranger when he reaches the spot which his memory fondly cherishes as "home." He is a printer and is missed by "the boys" and for years to come Fortunato will be remembered by us. He will arrive home during the fore part of November.

The University of Oregon, University of Washington and Stanford University have formed a tri-state debating league. The old triangular league comprising Idaho, Oregon and Washington was recently dissolved. The new league will have the initial debate in November.

The attention of a few freshmen is called to the following suggestions offered. They are to be sure but suggestions, but they are the product of the experience of others. It may be safest to observe them, as freshmen of former years can testify.

"Don't tell all you know to a stranger. He may know a few things himself."

"Don't try to do all the talking in class. Give the instructor a chance."

"Don't call a senior "kid." Perhaps he made the same mistake when he was a freshman."—Whitman Pioneer.

RESPONSIBILITY OF COLLEGE WOMEN.

A question that is puzzling the heads, and hearts, of moralists, jurists, and sociologists in all parts of Europe and America is that of the increasing number of divorce cases, with women as the applicants; they, more, than the men, desiring to be free from the bonds of matrimony. It is a grave question, as thereon hangs the basis of the modern home, the marriage of one man to one woman, who shall be so joined until death do them part. Is the tendency of modern society the cause? Are business life, ambition, society, taking such strong hold of the twentieth century woman that the call of the home, of wife-hood, of mother-hood, of the fireside are forgotten? Will the whole moral fabric of the world be changed, if conditions continue?

A great responsibility lies with the college woman. She gets her education in college; then, she educates, by her example, her less fortunate sisters. If the college woman is traitor to the best interests of the human race, if she repudiates her privilege of being mother of mankind, what can be expected of her less favored sisters who look to her for example? If the college woman stands for, and endeavors to preserve, the marriage tie, then will they have performed a service inestimable to the human race.

WEBSTERIANS ELECT OFFICERS

Want Only Workers Among Their Number.

The Websterian Debating Society held its first regular meeting last Friday evening. A short program was given, consisting of an address of welcome by President Schramm, a piano solo by Robt. Eakin, and three or four extempore and impromptu speeches by members.

In the business session which followed, the following officers were elected:

President, Chas. B. Harrison.
Vice-Pres., Harold Jory.
Rec. Secy., Harry A. Wann.
Cor. Secy., A. N. Minton.
Treasurer, A. A. Schramm.
Critic, Carl Hollingworth.
Sergt.-at-arms, James Crawford.

The aim of this society is to give effective training in literary and debating lines, and to this end, the society is limiting its membership to those men who are willing to take the time and pains necessary for high-class literary work. All men, and especially college men, who are interested in literary work are invited to visit the Websterians before joining any society.

A STRENUOUS BEGINNING

Lausanne Hall: If some evening about 7:15, when the shadows softly come and go, you should happen to pass this mansion, you might stop to wonder at the rays of beautiful effulgent light coming from the windows. Then you would discover their source in the figures of girls sitting with books in their hands and with halos of glory surrounding them. "What is the meaning of this?" I hear someone ask. Look again. Do you not see the molecules of wisdom darting hither and thither. Listen. Surely you catch the gentle accents falling from their lips like benedictions, "amo, amabam, amabo, moneor, monebor". Perhaps you feel curious about the daily lives of such individuals. Their schedule is something like this: Study hours, breakfast, recitations and study hours, luncheon, more recitations and study hours, dinner, and still more study hours. Occasionally the routine is broken by some mail, or by the arrival of a newcomer such as that of Gertrude Dougherty this week. It is to be hoped that the present blissful state of affairs will continue for some time to come.

G. S. A. ELECT YELL LEADER

Following a meeting of the student body on last Friday morning, in which Yell Leader Flegel spoke very forcefully on the subject of "rooting and rooters," in the masculine gender, the G. S. A., which is by interpretation, Girls Student Association, held a meeting and took matters into their own hands. Believing that girls have a place as cheerers at football games as well as boys and determining to prove that if not indispensable they are at least helpful, they proceeded forthwith to elect a yell and song leader for the year from their own number. Miss Mae Hopkins, a member of the senior class, who comes to us from South Dakota. Wesleyan was chosen for this office. Miss Hopkins is a young woman of attractive personality and a born leader and especially fitted to fill this position successfully. A few new songs and yells were practiced and there is promise of more in the future. The girls made their debutante Saturday afternoon at the game with Hill Military Academy, and needless to say it was a successful one.

FOOT BALL MEETING

Y. M. C. A. Hold Meeting in Interest of Clean Athletics.

The Sunday afternoon meeting proved to be an inspiring one. Full-back Luke Rader led with a stirring talk on "An all Round Man." He emphasized the fact that unless a man is physically well developed he is in no condition to cope with life. He took as a starting point the "Cleansing of the Temple" and brought out how Christ must have had a great physique to forcibly throw out the money changers and those who polluted the temple.

McKnight spoke of "Off-side" and pointed out how fair play is always the best and only satisfactory way in every thing relating to play or life.

Coach Sweetland gave an extremely interesting talk on "Clean Athletics." Every man was impressed with the way the doctor handled this phase of student life.

Alfred Schram reviewed the life of Rose, a prominent student, athletic and Y. M. C. A. man.

Special music by the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. mixed quartet and spirited songs by the men made this a meeting full of profit and joy.

Every Sunday at three o'clock in the Websterian Hall you will find a cordial welcome, and it will be an hour well spent.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETING

The Freshmen of Willamette University held their first meeting October 6th and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President, Paul Homan.
Vice-President, Laura Heist.
Secretary, Lola Bell Cook.
Treasurer, Paul Todd.
Sergeant-at-Arms, Errol Gilkey.

Athletic Manager, Ralph Homan.
Collegian Reporter, Mildred Bartholomew.

Yell Leader, Bert Warford.
While the Freshmen have not said they considered themselves a particularly superior crowd, the Sophomores, at least those of Lausanne Hall—have intimated that such was their opinion by aiding the Freshmen Hall girls in serenading their president the night following the election.

The size of the class of 1914 has not yet been determined, but certain it is that no matter whether they come up to the standard in numbers or not, they will in live interest and loyal support of their new Alma Mater.

JUNIORS LAWS ORGANIZE.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Junior Law Class. They are here in fighting trim to do their share of winning victories and laurels for the cardinal and old gold. From the sage-brush plains of Eastern Oregon, from the alfalfa fields of Idaho, from the icy wilds of Alaska, from the forest pimeval, and from the heart of our great cities they have gathered in these ancient bowers of wisdom and learning, consecrated by the deeds of the great men gone before, that they may receive inspiration and stimulus for their life's work.

It numbers among its members, editors, farmers, bronco-busters, preachers, in arance agents, miners, bill-collectors, and bankers. Some array themselves in the garb of man, others in the dress of woman. But one and all these avowed disciples of Coke, Blackstone and Kent are here to make their influence felt, and whether it be in the class room, on the athletic field or in the form of oratory and debate the record which this class will have behind it will be proclaimed by the succeeding generations and classes that take their places in these memorial halls, as the brightest page in all the proudest history of Willamette University.

On Monday, October 10, the class organized and elected the following officers: President, Geo. Wilson; vice-president, Ab Minton; secretary, Mrs. Stone; treasurer, Mr. Stringer; Collegian reporter, Perry Reigelman; sergeant-at-arms, Lloyd Westley.

Keep your eye on the Junior Laws!

Recording Secy, Mae Hopkins.
Cor. Secy, Marie Schmidt.
Treasurer, James Crawford.
Sergeant-at-Arms, Theodosia Bennet.
Collegian Reporter, Alma Haskin.
Social Chairman and yell leader, Guy Woods.
Manager for Glee, Wesley Beckley.
Though the class is not as large as the one that finished last June it has among its members students prominent in many activities of college life, and we predict that this year's class will be one long remembered.

STRAYS.

Perry Prescott Reigelman.
Each mountain has a summit
Where golden glories shine;
Each ocean has its plummet
To pierce the seething brine.
Each trouble has a crowning
That melts the darkness
through;
Each wave of care, a-frowning,
Has deeps of love for you.
No heart but winds the valley,
No eye but has a tear;
So, let us climb, not dally;
Nor longer, filled with fear.
No laughter where is waiting,
No smile where all is blue;
No heights to climb, no scaling
Unless the heart beats true.

"You will live longer and wear sunnier faces for the rest of your days if you hear Dr. Sperry lecture."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.
