

Registration Begins Tomorrow For Nearly 400 New Students

One of the largest freshman classes in Willamette's history is expected to go through registration lines tomorrow in the Library starting at 8 a.m.

According to Charles Paeth, director of admissions, unofficial figures arrived at previous to the opening of Orientation week place the total at somewhere near 400. "If these calculations prove correct," Paeth said, "the class of 1959 will be the largest freshman class at Willamette since 1948."

Paeth pointed out that Doney Hall, Baxter Hall, and South Hall, the reconverted infirmary, are all full. Men's housing was so critical that the top floor of the Salem YMCA has been rented for University housing.

Registrar Harold Jory reminds freshmen and returning students that there will be no alphabetical schedule used Saturday or Monday as has been the practice in the past. Registering will be handled on a first-come-first-served basis.

A fine of $5 will be levied on anyone failing to register before 5 p.m. Monday.

Mr. Jory suggested that everyone follow the instructions in the registration book and use ink on all pages but the trial study plan.

Tryouts Next Week For Annual Show, Varsity Varieties

Tryouts for Varsity Varieties will be held on the Waller stage next Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Ken Renshaw, director.

The annual all-campus talent show, to be presented October 7 as a feature of Parents' Weekend, will be the first production on the new Fine Arts Building stage.

According to Renshaw, the theme of the show is flexible enough that "any kind of act, from any walk of life" will integrate into the show. He especially urges freshmen to attend the tryouts. Tryouts Tuesday will be from 7 to 10 p.m., Wednesday from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m.

Anyone interested and unable to attend the tryouts should contact Renshaw at Phi Delta Theta or Penny Lilles, assistant director, at Phi Beta Phi.

Backstage hands, set designers and painters are also needed, he added, and interested persons should contact Bob Braddy, stage manager, at Phi Delta Theta.

At present, plans have been made for the entire cast to travel to Oregon State and Lewis and Clark colleges and South Salem high school to present Varsity Varieties.

Parents Informed Of Insurance Plan

Letters were sent out to parents of new and returning students this summer informing them of the new medical plan sponsored by the Associated Students.

If the student's parents did not wish to subscribe to the plan they were asked to fill in a card and mail it to the business office.

The student accident and sickness insurance plan, known as the Associated Students of Willamette Plan, was given approval and endorsement by the student council last spring.

The plan, underwritten by the Continental Casualty Company of Chicago, will cost $4.95 per semester, per student.

DON PETERSON

Peterson Named Homecoming Boss

Junior Don Peterson was named this week to take charge of Homecoming Weekend following the resignation of Pat Farley.

Farley gave the reason for resigning as being an over-loaded work schedule due to a change in majors.

Peterson had petitioned the student council in the spring for the job at the time it was awarded to Farley. The appointment was made this week by ASB president Dave Finlay.

All Juniors to Take New Test Thursday

All juniors are required to meet in Waller hall, room 206, Thursday at 2 p.m. for the English communication test, being administered now for the first time.

Sponsored by the English department, the test will determine the level of the student's language ability so that special assistance may be administered to students weak in certain areas.

Students whose language skills are judged insufficient will receive help from Prof. James Douglas in a two-hour, no credit course.

Remedial work indicated necessary by the test must be completed before a diploma will be granted.

Collegian Change

An innovation in make-up of The Collegian will be noted next week as the first six-page edition in many years will be published.

Previous printing methods had made six-page editions too impractical and costly.

Plans are this year to fluctuate editions between eight pages and six, depending on news and ad availability.

New Buildings Welcome Large Freshman Class

By DUANE ALVORD
Collegian Editor

Eighty excited women moved into the new women's dormitory, one of the largest freshman classes in Willamette's history met in the new auditorium-fine arts building, and the new infirmary served as physical examination center for new students. Thus, Willamette university opened the doors for its one-hundred-fourteenth year as an educational institution — a year in which students will initiate the results of the most ambitious building program ever undertaken here.

FINAL TOUCHES on the three new structures were completed before freshman students arrived for Orientation week, with seeding and landscaping still to be undertaken. According to President G. Herbert Smith, grass seeding will be completed next week. A long range plan of landscaping will also begin soon.

The entire month of October will be set aside for formal dedication ceremonies. The first of these ceremonies will take place Saturday, October 1, with an academic convocation in the new auditorium. Representatives from other colleges and universities in the area are being invited to join with the trustees and faculty of Willamette in the academic convocation for the presentation and dedication of the three buildings.

FOLLOWING the convocation the three buildings will be open for inspection by guests of the administration who have made the buildings possible. Public open house will be held the following afternoon.

The following weekend, Parents' Weekend, Varsity Varieties will be presented in the auditorium. Parents' convocation will be held in the building on Saturday, October 8, and there will be open house hours scheduled on the afternoons of October 8 and 9.

BLANCHE THEBOM, Metropolitan Opera star, will be the first of the artists of the Distinguished Artist Series to appear in the auditorium.

The next event of the dedication month will be held in connection with Homecoming Weekend, October 28, 29, and 30. Prof. Ralph Dobbs will be presented in a piano recital in the auditorium on Friday of that weekend. Convocation and open houses are scheduled for the alumni also.

THE FINAL event of the dedication month will be Tuesday, November 1, when the University will sponsor The Dublin Players, a drama troupe, in the auditorium.

Sigmund Readies Challenge Drive, Seeks Solicitors

An interested representative in each organization on campus is the aim of Volney Sigmund, this year's student Challenge Fund chairman. "With the help of every student, the student Challenge Fund will be completed this year," he stated.

The Challenge Fund was originated to assist in the raising of funds for the buildings being used for the first time this year. Started in 1953, it was hoped that the Fund could be completed that same year with a $10 donation from each student. The goal was set for $10,000; however, only half the money was collected.

According to Sigmund, solicitors will contact freshmen in their living organizations, and all others are strongly urged to contribute.

Vacated Buildings Put to New Uses

President Smith announced plans for use of two existing campus buildings and told of seeding plans for the tract of land on the southeast corner of campus to be used as an intramural field.

University house, which last year served as a women's residence, will be used this year as a special guest house for guests of the University.

The old Infirmary building has been redesigned to house the overflow of freshman men. Bishop house, last year a men's residence, has been sold to the Presbyterian church.

Grass seeding operations on the proposed intramural field is scheduled to be completed next week.

New Cards Needed To Alter Courses

It was announced this week by Dr. Robert Gregg, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, that a new rule adopted by the Committee on Scholarship and Petitions will change procedure for petitioning, dropping or adding courses somewhat.

The new rule will require students to secure instructors' signatures in the order indicated on the new blanks. A passing or failing grade on all withdrawals will also be clearly indicated on the drop add card.

New drop add cards are available in the Registrar's office and new petition blanks in the office of the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts. In the future, no old blanks of either kind will be accepted.

Neuberger Speaks In Waller Saturday

Oregon's junior U. S. Senator Richard L. Neuberger will make his first appearance on the Willamette campus and in the Salem area since returning from Washington, D. C. He will address an expected capacity crowd of Independents tomorrow night at 7 p.m. in Waller Hall.

Neuberger's talk will highlight the initial meeting of Independent groups this fall as they begin a membership drive and campaign to increase Independent activity on campus, says Don Agnew, Independent Association chairman.

The senator will deliver a 45-minute speech entitled "A Bill of Rights for American Politics," in which he will discuss "the need for political courage and for an end to present smears and character assassinations in the public life of our country."

Professor Charles Jens of the Willamette Law School will introduce Neuberger. Willamette last heard the youthful senator at a 1954 Tuesday convocation during his successful Democratic bid for the Oregon congressional office.

"The Association extends an invitation to all Independents, Greeks, and townspeople to attend," states Chairman Agnew.

T'n T at Ten

Tuesday's convocation in Waller hall will be for all new students. President Smith will deliver his annual address "Ways to High Scholarship" at that time.

Thursday's program will take place in the auditorium and is also designed for new students. At that time they will be introduced to campus organizations and honoraries.

Nine New Members Join Willamette Faculty for '55

Nine additions to the 1955-56 faculty were announced this week. Seven have been added to the College of Liberal Arts and one each in the Law and Music schools.

Dr. Paul G. Trueblood, a foremost authority on Byron, has been named head of the English department to replace Dr. Helen Pearce who retired this spring.

An alumnus of Willamette, Dr. Trueblood received his degrees of master of arts and doctor of philosophy at Duke University. Last year he served the English department at the University of Oregon.

CAPTAIN HOWARD Wesley Fitch will act as assistant professor of physics this year. Capt. Fitch, who holds an MS degree from Columbia University, has had teaching experience in naval assignments as well as in civilian capacity.

Named as assistant coach and instructor in physical education is Gerald Long. Long's background includes a BS degree from Oregon State College, graduate work at Portland State College, and high school coaching experience.

SERVING in the University library with the rank of instructor will be Mrs. Magdelaine de Tirefort. Mrs. de Tirefort received her degree in library science from Columbia University.

New to the Air ROTC staff will be Major Kenneth Pennell, assistant professor of air science. Major Pennell reports from Albrook Air Force Base, Panama, Canal Zone.

Also new to the Air ROTC department will be Technical Sergeant Robert Ward, from Lincoln Air Force Base in Nebraska. Ward will serve as an instructor of air science.

A WILLAMETTE graduate of 1954, Miss Patricia Jones will serve as a part-time instructor in the language department. While attending Willamette Miss Jones majored in French. She continued her studies during the past year at Duke University and this summer completed work toward her MA degree.

The Rev. Joseph Harding, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church at Four Corners, will serve as a part-time instructor in the religious department. The Rev. Harding holds a BA degree from Emory University and a STB degree from Boston University. He also has taught at pastor's school at Emory.

A PART-TIME instructor of sociology will be Dale Dykman. Mr. Dykman holds a BA degree from the University of Idaho and is serving as director of physical education at the Salem YMCA now.

In the Law School, Charles Gromley has been named professor of business association and legal methods. Gromley holds degrees from Pennsylvania State University, the University of Kentucky, and Georgetown University. He comes to the Willamette law school from the University of Nebraska.

In the College of Music, C. Allen Gove has been named instructor of cello and composition. Gove is a graduate of Illinois university.

No Trite Welcome Here

Nothing is quite so trite as a "welcome" editorial to the freshman class. Even more trite is the practice of excusing yourself from being trite with tradition. We think we should say welcome to such a large and intelligent-looking bunch as the class of 1959 even if it had never been done before in history. Flinging tradition away as an excuse, and using real sincerity as a motive, The Collegian joins the entire student body in offering a welcome to the class of 1959. We've been expecting you.

You may claim this next statement is even more trite, but, "honest injun," we have a big year planned. And you are cast in a mighty big part of our plans.

Now, if there are any doubts as to our sincerity in welcoming you, our claim in expecting you, or our enthusiasm for a big year we're sorry. We will just have to tear down our new buildings, send home our fine faculty, dismiss the efficient administration, discourage the ambitious student body officers, and sell The Collegian's typewriters if you are too offended. Then again, this act might convince you once and for all that we really are sincere.

It would be much easier for both of us if you would take our words for what they mean—a sincere and warm welcome into the Willamette family and an invitation to join in our plans for a big year.

Keeping Rush Clean

Rush week is a mighty important week in a college student's life, especially if he is a freshman and is faced with the decision of going "Greek" or remaining independent.

If fraternities and sororities are living up to the goals they claim they strive for, then they will realize the soberness of the situation: the freshman is in and will present their cases constructively and honestly. And if the Independents are honestly pledged to the program they support, they too must present their case constructively.

"Dirty rushing," destructive criticism of opposing camps, "hot-boxing," and "pocket-pledging" have no place with either the Independents or the Greeks.

Both groups have lofty goals. Included in these goals are pledges to uphold the laws of the land, the school, the national organization which they are affiliated with, and to conduct themselves like true ladies and gentlemen.

If a freshman runs into the previously-mentioned violations he should be able to tell very quickly the depth of sincerity of the organization he is considering.

Thanks for the Time

Editors are always indebted and thankful for the staff and reporters who aid them in getting out the paper. Just how much this assistance is essential can readily be measured when the editor is minus his regular crew.

This editor is in just such a situation. This first issue of The Collegian comes to you through the tireless efforts of the immediate staff, as The Collegian has no reporters this early in the year.

To those immediate staff members who gave so much of their time, and the rush chairmen who let them, the editor says "thanks."

Concert Ticket Sales Begin Monday; Nelson Stresses Season Pass Basis

Ticket sales will begin Monday for the 1955-56 Distinguished Artist Series Bill Nelson, concert manager, announced today.

"The stress in ticket promotion," Nelson said, "will be to buy the season ticket rather than individual tickets." Nelson stated a desire to put the series on an entirely seasonal basis with a sell-out.

Nelson listed the fact that the series will be held in the new fine arts auditorium as a big selling point. "Acoustically the building is one of the finest on the West Coast and will undoubtedly add to the audience enjoyment," he said.

Of the 1200 seats available in the new auditorium only 287 are designed for student use. Willamette students are urged to get their tickets early.

First of the artists to appear on the new stage will be Blanche Thehorn, mezzo-soprano, star of the Metropolitan Opera. Her appearance, October 21, will be an event of the dedication month for the new buildings.

Carl Palangi, bass-baritone star of opera, concert and television films, will be the second artist to appear here. He will present his concert November 17.

Drama Students Earn Credit For Summer Theater Work

Six University students earned two hours credit for summer school work with the Pentacle Theater in a "very successful" season, according to Robert Putnam, head of the Willamette drama department.

Louise Owens, Dan Boone, Barbara Rühle, Ruth McCormick, Dick Geer and Jeanne Bowers worked with other Willamette students and people from the surrounding areas in producing three plays. In addition to memorizing parts and rehearsing, the students created costumes and designed and painted the sets.

Joseph Raynor Comes to WU As Head Chef for Baxter Hall

By JEAN MARTIN
Feature Editor

Donning the head chef's cap at Baxter hall this year is Joseph A. Raynor, with some 15 years of cooking experience to his credit.

It was right after lunch on his first day of cooking for the school (and in between conferences with salesmen and Miss Jack) that I found Mr. Raynor busy in the Baxter kitchen. As he put it, he is a "working chef"; not only does he direct the cooking at Baxter, but he also uses a few pots and pans himself.

"However," Raynor emphasized, "the kitchen is under the very capable supervision of Miss Jack. And

Library Display

Celebrating the 100th anniversary of the publication of Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," the Willamette library this week featured a display of original manuscripts of poems, letters and essays.

A striking feature of the manuscripts, many of them signed by Whitman in a large, bold hand, is the poet's evident search for the precise word. Because of crossed out words and lines, some pages are almost unreadable.

Loaned to the Willamette library by the Oregon State library, the display was available for only a short time, going back to the State library Wednesday.

I have efficient personnel who have been very helpful to me — especially since I am new here."

Raynor is indeed new to the school, although he did cook for the state police and the Giants training camp this summer at Willamette University. However, he is not acquainted with Salem. Following a hitch in the service during World War II (yes, as a mess sergeant! He also operated in several officers' clubs), he worked with the State Motor Vehicles Association here for a year and a half. Raynor also recalls being chef for the Golden Pheasant in Salem when it opened.

Coming to Willamette from a position as cook at the Woodburn Boys' Training school, Raynor previously managed hotels in Texas and New Mexico for about four years.

A native of Little Rock, Arkansas, Raynor attended the University of Arkansas, lettering in baseball. But it was not until the 1930 depression that he became a chef—a profession he has been out of only once.

Auditions Set for Choir, Band; New Facilities Thrill Musicians

Preparing for another year of music with auditions this week and next are the Willamette University choir and band.

Under the direction of Don Gleckler, choir auditions are scheduled this week in the Music Hall choir room. Auditions will be held today between 10:30 and 12 a. m. and between 2:30 and 4 p. m., while tomorrow's auditions will be between 3 and 4 p. m.

Mr. Gleckler has urged that all students, new and old, make the earliest possible auditions. An additional schedule for auditions next week will be posted in the choir room of the Fine Arts building.

At their first rehearsal next Wednesday, the choir will try out their new facilities in the Fine Arts building, which Mr. Gleckler has described as "really a thrill to work in." Permanent risers, improved library facilities, and a better office are but a few of the new choir facilities.

And as the choir is selected and rehearsed, plans will be focused toward their spring tour. Under the leadership of Tom Loree, business manager, the dates and additional details for the annual event will be worked out.

Equally busy will be the University band, under the direction of Maurice Brennan's baton. Auditions for new students begin next Tuesday at 3 in the Fine Arts building. Students playing special instruments are especially needed, remarked Mr. Brennan.

3 Housemoms Change Places; 4 Others New

Joining the freshmen as newcomers to WU this year are four housemothers, while still others, well known to many Willamettes, are now "moms" in different houses.

A former housemother at Oregon State, Mrs. Emma Beckman, is now with the Chi Omega house. Mrs. Ruby Randsome from Seattle has become housemother for the Delta Gamma house.

Coming from Yakima where she was active in the YMCA is Miss Betty Beantrow, who in addition to her studies at Willamette is the assistant housemother at Lausanne hall. The Phi Delta Theta house welcomes Mrs. R. C. Dillingham, recently a housemother at College of Pacific in Stockton, California.

Mrs. Hester Payne has moved this year to the Beta Theta Pi house. She was previously housemother for Chi Omega. Also moving around is Mrs. F. C. Wissenbach, former University house "mom," who has become Doney Hall's housemother. From Bishop House to South Hall came Mrs. Edna Stokes.

Retaining their last year's positions as housemoms are Mrs. Elvah Stanley, Alpha Chi Omega; Mrs. Kathel B. Hibbert, Baxter hall; Mrs. Merle Kaufman, Pi Beta Phi; Mrs. Ella Watson, Lausanne hall; and Mrs. Helen Ledingham, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Cavern in 'Black'; Baxter Budget Met

Baxter men will continue last year's system of food service, reported Richard Petrie, business manager. As a result of the system established last year, the 1953-54 deficit was wiped out and a profit was realized.

Adding to the general joy in the financial line, came the announcement that for the first time in its history, the 'Cat Cavern ended the year with a balanced budget. The Bookstore kept in the swim of things by also breaking even.

Mr. Brennan is also looking forward to occupying his new quarters in the Fine Arts building.

Highlighting fall plans for the band will be its performance at Varsity Varieties and the dedication of the new building. Football games and basketball games will also keep the band busy until next semester. Tentatively on the agenda is a Tuesday chapel concert in December.

Requirements Rise For Fine Art Credit

Both semesters of a two-hour appreciation course in Art, Music or Literature must be taken by upper division students before graduation, to comply with a new requirement set up by the faculty. It will "give students an appreciation of the fine arts while engaged in study for their major field," according to Dean Robert Gregg.

Students may take History: Art Survey from Dr. Cameron Paulin, Appreciation of Literature from Dr. Paul Trueblood, or Introduction to Music Literature from Dr. Willis Gates.

Law Alterations

With the law library office now situated in the former treatise room, the College of Law sports several architectural alterations this year. Changes have also been made in the library, and another door has been opened to classroom one.

Spring Semester Honor Roll Students Announced; Juniors Lead Pack With 39

One hundred nineteen students were listed on the honor roll for achieving grades from 3.5 to 3.9 for the spring semester. Included in this list were 39 juniors, 36 seniors, 22 sophomores, and 15 freshmen.

Board of Trustees Picks Names For New Campus Structures

The Board of Trustees, meeting this summer, selected official names for the three new buildings on campus.

Willamette's new health center is now known as the C. P. and Fannie Kay Bishop Memorial Health Center. This building and its furnishings have been contributed completely by one son and four grandsons of the Bishops as a living memorial.

The new fine-arts building officially bears the name Willamette Auditorium and Fine Arts building. It is dedicated to the many friends of the University who contributed to the Challenge Fund.

Carl Gregg and Jennie Evans Doney Residence Hall is the official name of the new women's dormitory. Doctor Doney served as president of Willamette for 19 years from 1915-1934, the longest term of any president here.

Dr. Doney, when learning of the official naming, expressed his appreciation to the board saying: "If there be thoughts too deep for tears, there are emotions too profound for words. When your telegram came yesterday I was indescribably moved and grateful. That you . . . should have the new residence for women be known as 'Doney Hall' is a distinctive honor, an honor deserved by Jennie and shared with me."

4-Points Number Less in Springtime

Thirty-five four points, 14 less than a year ago, were recorded for the spring semester, according to Registrar Harold Jory. Class totals included 11 freshmen, 7 sophomores, 6 juniors, 10 seniors, and 1 graduate student.

Those earning four point averages were Robert Allen, Charles Anderson, Sharon Bates, John Bone, Orville Clark, Sally Cooney, Eugene Corey, Marie DeHarport, Donald Eilert, Eldon Erickson, David Finlay, MaryLou Fitzner, Myra Friesen, Julia Fullager, Tom Gooding, Nancy Groth, Marilyn Hanthorn, Dale Harris, Gay Kent, Thomas Loree, Ian MacIver, Lou Ann Mergler, Muriel Miettunen.

Whitman Reveals Library Additions

Two important changes have been instituted in the library, according to Ainsley Whitman, University librarian.

Students majoring in education will find helpful the new curriculum section containing sample text books used in Oregon high schools.

Two sets of encyclopedias will be available for home use during a three-day period at the circulation desk. "Although these encyclopedias are a little older edition, most of the material is the same," Whitman stated.

In addition to these changes, there has been one staff replacement. Mrs. Magdelaine de Tirefort has been appointed head of the circulation and reference department, replacing Mrs. Marciel Looney.

The special display set up this week will be one commemorating the explorers Lewis and Clark.

Pick Up Wallulahs

Wallulah editor Sally Jones issued a plea this week that all returning students who have not picked up last year's Wallulah do so immediately.

Spring and fall semester student body cards must be presented to claim the annual.

The Wallulah may be picked up in the Wallulah office this week.

Reese Announces Bar Results; 1952 Law Class Ranks High

Twenty four Willamette men have passed their bar exams, it was announced at the College of Law this week. These men, entering their first year of law school in 1952, represent 66 and two-thirds percent of their original class. As pointed out by Dean Reese, this percentage is higher even than the national average of men graduating from law school alone (65 percent).

The new members of the Oregon and Washington bars are Richard D. Barber, Gerald F. Bartz, Frank E. Bocci, Ralph W. Bolliger, Eldon F. Caley, David E. Card, William J. Daw, George R. Duncan Jr., Arthur A. Franzke, Cecil H. Johnson, Thomas P. Joseph Jr., Harold J. Lance,

William D. McDonald, Wm. Philip Merriam Jr., Robert F. Nichols, Frank D. Riebe, Armand L. Riveness, Harry Slack, Robert M. Schaeffer, Robert S. Stone, Ronald A. Watson, Marvin J. Weiser, John F. Weisser Jr., and Nicholas D. Zafiratos.

Ogdahl Works Gridders for Opener

Coach Ted Ogdahl and his new assistant coach Jerry Long have been carrying on "daily double" practices for several weeks in preparation for Willamette's season opener against Whitworth college.

Mentor Ogdahl will have to fill the shoes of such line standouts as Andy George, Norm Dyersdahl and Bob Dyer who were lost through graduation. In the backfield versatile John Kent leaves another gap to be filled along with that of end Phil McCallister. Both Kent and McCallister were seniors.

Also lost from last year's squad are backs George Bardsley and Harvey Neffendorf. Bardsley was a near triple-threat man, doing a good share of the ball carrying and most of the team's kicking. Neffendorf was Ogdahl's number one field general.

Stepping into Neffendorf's shoes at the important quarterback slot will be Benny Holt. Holt is no stranger to the Willamette campus, having last played in the '52 season. Benny, from Hawaii, will handle most of the passing and kicking on top of running the team on the playing field. Behind Holt will be Keith Harris from Menlo Park JC in California.

LETTERMAN Dean Benson, an All-Conference man, will be back to hold down one of the flanker positions. Another letterman, Jerry McCallister, will probably play the other end spot. McCallister was converted from a quarterback to an end this season. Vic Backlund and Tom Head are back from last year's JV squad along with Shrine all-star Rex Domaschofsky from Dallas to fight it out with Benson and McCallister for the wing spots.

The tackle slots should be ably filled by lettermen Dave Anderson and Dale Greenlee. Another bright prospect is Sam Haina from the '52 squad. Haina also played ball for Portland State two years ago where he was a top lineman. Behind these three are Bob Griffin from South Salem high and Gary Reed from Woodburn.

In the middle of the line at the guard posts will be Charley Koani back after the 1951 season and lettermen Gordy Chang and Vern Coates. Two freshman ball players, Jack Seboda from Vancouver and Dave Ogdahl from Franklin high of Portland, round out the guards.

At the pivot spot Ogdahl will have letterman Chuck McClure to help fill the spot left by Ken Cooper, a conference standout in the '55 season. Doug Card and Danny Feller are also vying for Cooper's old position.

IN THE BACKFIELD Ogdahl will count on his little speedsters Windy Sequeira and Bobby Zoelch, both lettermen, to pack a lot of the mail from their halfback positions. Behind Sequeira at left half are Claris Poppert and Skip Alexander. Over at the right half position along with Zoelch will be Jim Andersen from South Salem and Earl Jambura from Pendleton.

At the fullback spot Mentor Ogdahl will count on letter winner Chuck Colling and freshman George Koani, along with Bob Cottner and Tom Carr.

Coach Ogdahl has a nucleus of nine lettermen and three returnees from seasons gone by to work around, along with players returning from last year's squad and several good freshmen prospects. The Bearcats could field another Conference winner with the array of talent that Ogdahl has on hand.

VIC BACKLUND

JERRY McCALLISTER

Pictured above are two leading contenders for end positions on the Bearcat squad, Vic Backlund and Jerry McCallister. Backlund, a sophomore from Bandon, moved up from the JIV squad this year. McCallister, a letterman, has been converted from a quarterback to end this season.

L&C Main Threat To Bearcat Title

The Willamette Bearcats who last year shared the conference crown with College of Idaho and Lewis and Clark, should be looking for another winning season.

The conference trail won't be an easy one for the Jasons, however, with the Lewis and Clark Pioneers displaying much the same talent that made them a powerful club last year.

The Pioneers are loaded with talent again this year and are looked to by many experts as one of the top small colleges on the coast. Such backfield stars as Gene Flippen, Jim Johnson and bone crunching fullback Earl Engbretson return with a little more seasoning to lead what should be a topnotch offense.

A big, beefy line, with such standouts as Bill Stempel and heavyweights Don Johnson and Tom Daklos, in front of Coach Joe Huston's backfield should open the holes for the backs to run through and give LC an airtight defense.

The Linfield Wildcats also rate an outside chance despite the loss of such conference stars as Bob Halstead, Chuck Harriman, Al Tarpenning and Drannan Hamby.

Subscription Drive

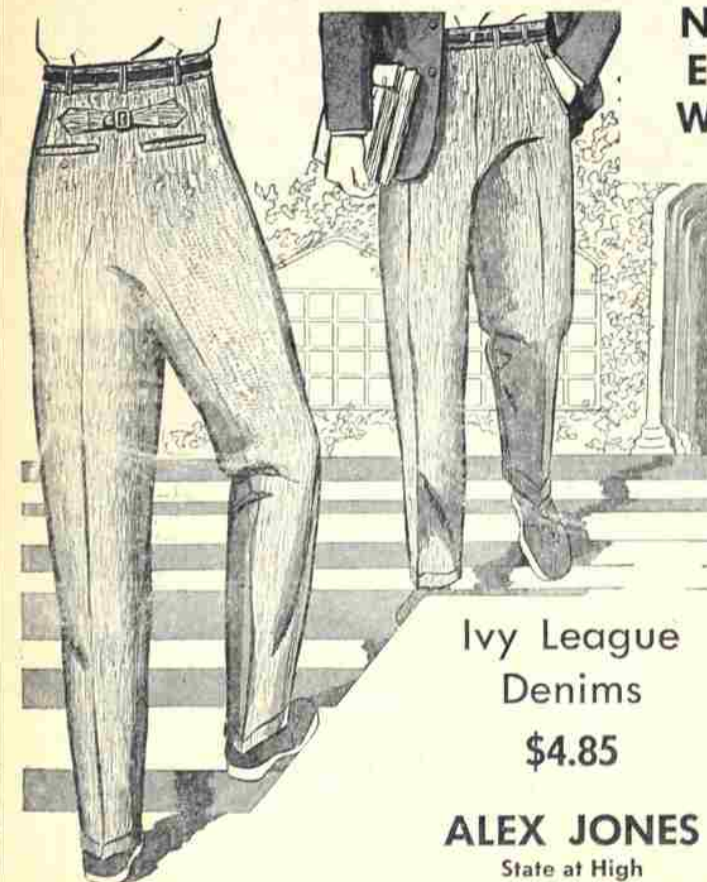

The Collegian announced the beginning of a subscription drive for the 1955-56 Collegian. Two dollars will buy The Collegian for the entire year and will cover costs of handling and mailing anywhere in the United States.

Subscriptions will be on sale in The Collegian office all next week.

Bob Dyer Coaches Junior Varsity

The 1955 Willamette JV squad will be under the tutelage of Bob Dyer. At the moment Dyer is assisting head coach Ted Ogdahl and his assistant Jerry Long in pre-season training.

Dyer was one of Ogdahl's stalwarts in the middle of the Bearcat line last year. Bob played on both defense and offense at a guard position.

The junior varsity squad is usually made up of the freshmen football candidates and those players who do not see too much varsity action.

Beware Lid-less Frosh!

Lettermen began taking notice of lid-less freshmen late this week and issued a warning as to the consequence of such a daring act.

All freshmen who have not purchased rook lids as of yet may do so at the University bookstore.

Big Crop of Freshmen Recruits Strengthens Football Prospects

Coach Ted Ogdahl greeted 30 new aspirants for the 1955 football team at the beginning of this week as the Bearcats began their second week of workouts in preparation for the Whitworth game September 24. All of the new prospects were freshmen except Skip Alexander, a sophomore halfback.

The new men swelled the Willamette turnout to a total of 53.

Most of the freshman recruits are now working out under JV coach Bob Dyer.

Those freshmen who were reported in camp this week are: Jim Anderson, Duane Beamer, Wayne Bibb, Gerald Cleys, Bot Cotner, Jerry Cyphert, Cletus Daily, Rex Domaschofsky, Keith Driver, Jim Griffin, Bob Griffin,

Richard Hazlett, Farrell Hyde, Earl Jambura, Jerry Kenega, Terry Lesh, George Koani, Bill Lewis, Gordon MacPherson, Dennis Mihm, Jim Moore, Norm Nathan, Dave

Ogdahl, Vern Olson, Bob Parker, Dave Peterson,

Gary Ruid, Jim Scott, Jim Sitzman, Ken Snyder, Don Thompson, George Umtuck, Warren Walker, Ralph Williams and Fred Wade.

AROTC Plans Flights

Willamette's Air Force ROTC detachment announced tentative plans for two flights to Fairchild Air Force Base in Spokane, Washington, in the month of October.

The first is scheduled for October 6, with all sophomore members of the program invited. The second will be held for freshmen men on October 13. Faculty members have also been invited on the trip.

The tentative plans call for an all-day excursion at the Strategic Air Command base.

NY Giants Return To WU for Training

Last year Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants expressed interest in returning to the Willamette campus for the club's pre-season training. Apparently Howell was more than interested, for the Giants returned for their second straight year.

The pro club took up lodging in Baxter hall and used McCulloch stadium as a training spot. Last year the Giant staff was very high in their praise of the WU facilities.

The New Yorkers fared well while in the Pacific Northwest, winning their exhibition game in Seattle against the powerful San Francisco 49'ers. In Portland the Giants dropped an overtime heart-breaker to the always dangerous Los Angeles Rams.

Get RO Uniforms Now

Col. Norman Todd urged freshmen to pick up their ROTC uniforms today or prior to noon tomorrow. Uniforms will be issued in the basement of the gymnasium.

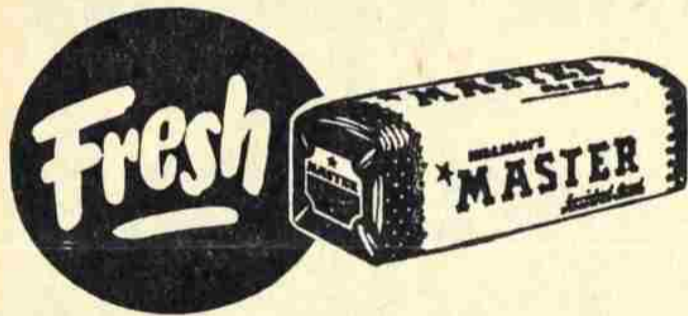

It will be necessary for freshmen to pick up uniforms before they can complete registration. Receipts will be given when the uniforms are picked up and the cleaning bill paid so that students can go through registration lines in the library.

Return to School Brings Engagement News

SHIRLEY WITTERS

CAROL LUSCH

MYRTH LORING

The beginning of the school year is usually a popular time for engagement announcements and this year proved no exception.

Announced at a family party this summer was the engagement of Carol Lusch and Jerry Gritsch.

Miss Lusch is a sophomore sociology major and the present Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

GRITSCH is a junior economics major and is affiliated with Sigma Chi. He is former sergeant-of-arms for his class.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Another summer engagement is that of Shirley Witters to Glen Murray.

Miss Witters is a senior philosophy major and serves as senior scholar in the religion department. She is former rush captain for her sorority, Delta Gamma.

Murray attended Linfield College but will transfer to Willamette this fall where he will continue his pre-ministerial studies.

A June wedding is planned.

A TELEGRAM that arrived at a birthday dinner told friends of the engagement of Amy Jo Blomberg and Rich Butler.

Miss Blomberg is a sophomore music education major and is affiliated with Delta Gamma. She is also a member of Beta Alpha Gamma and Mu Phi Epsilon.

Butler attended Willamette for two and one-half years where he served as president of his class. He is now attending the University of Oregon business administration school. Butler is affiliated with Sigma Chi.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Announced to friends recently was the engagement of Myrth Loring to Lawrence Monk.

THE BRIDE-ELECT, a junior, is a former member of Beta Alpha Gamma.

Monk graduated from Willamette in June and is now studying at Drew Theological seminary in Madison, New Jersey.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Rush to Conclude Tomorrow

Fall rush activities were launched by Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma and Pi Beta Phi on Tuesday with informal open houses to acquaint new women students with the sororities.

Tomorrow's events include the second preference luncheons and the first preference formal banquets. Rushes meet to receive their bids tomorrow evening.

Charlotte Stark was general chairman of Alpha Chi Omega's Wednesday function "Happy New Year." Chi Omega presented "Under the Sea," and decorations were planned to give the effect of the ocean bottom.

Rushes attending Pi Beta Phi's Wednesday function entered a huge tepee-covered door into the house where an Indian atmosphere prevailed at the "Pi Phi Pow Wow." The guests walked the gangplank at Delta Gamma's "Pirate Party" where they were entertained with music from the H.M.S. Pinafore.

On Thursday pink angels and red devils were the decor at Alpha Chi Omega's "Saints and Sinners" party. A pink color scheme and southern entertainment were in keeping with the theme of Chi Omega's "Chi O Cottonland" party.

The Social Scoop

By FLOSSY HODGE

Open houses, exchange dinners and mixers are included in the Orientation Week social calendar for new students at Willamette.

Those new students not participating in rush attended open houses at Baxter Hall Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

This evening an ASWU "Get-Acquainted" party will be held in the gym from 9 to 10 o'clock. Tomorrow evening independent students will gather at Baxter hall at 8 o'clock for an informal dance.

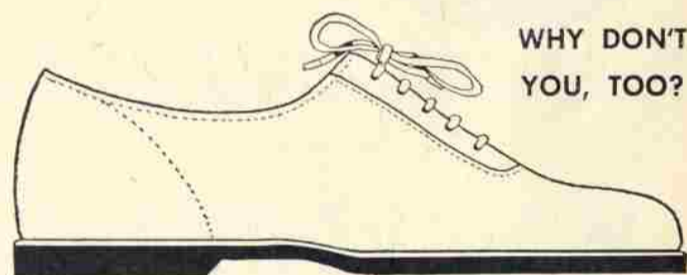

"IT'S COMPULSORY!" Pete Reed, Lettermen's Club president, stated when questioned about the necessity of freshmen wearing rook lids. The colorful red and gold caps went on sale last Wednesday. October 25 will be the day of reckoning for misbehaving freshmen when the famed Kangaroo Kourt is called to session.

One of the first social events of the year was a congratulatory tea for graduates of the Willamette law school who passed the bar examination.

Armand Riveness, Gerald Bartz, Frank Riebe, Harry Slack, Nick Zafiratos, George Woodrich, Richard Barber, Frank Bocci, Ralph Bolliger, Eldon Caley, Arthur Franske, Robert Heil, Cecil Johnson, Thomas Joseph, Harold Lance, James Lewelling, William McDonald, William Merriam, Frank Nichols, Robert Stone, Ronald Watson, Marvin Weiser and John Weisser were feted Monday.

Interest and envy was created among returning women students as well as freshman women as Doney Hall, new residence for women, opened its doors this week. The new dormitory houses 80 women.

Doney Hall Residents Find Discomforts as Well as Luxury

Living in Doney hall, new women's residence, may seem like luxury to some, but to the 74 girls who inhabited the dormitory this week there were many disadvantages. Most of these were temporary inconveniences, however.

The Doney girls have been isolated all week without the use of telephones, washing machines, and ironing boards. These needs will soon be met, the University administration promises.

Most inconvenient and the biggest surprise to the new residents was the fact that there were no racks for towels and wash rags. Consequently, the backs of chairs have been substituted until towel racks are installed.

All is not inconvenient, however.

Doney girls were quick to praise the large portable closets with sliding doors in each room. Even the most conservative of the new women admire the modern design and taste of the recreation room in the basement.

Snack rooms have been built on each floor where the women can make coffee. A refrigerator and stove is provided in each of the snack rooms.

Also an item of admiration is the new grand piano in Doney's

Mock Democratic Convention To Highlight WU Election Year

One of the highlights of the 1955-56 school year promises to be the mock political convention which is scheduled for May 12. Work is already underway in preparation for the Willamette-sponsored event.

This will be the second time that Willamette has sponsored the affair, a realistic replica of a political party's national presidential nominating convention.

Due to the fact that next year is supposed to be a crucial year for the Democratic party and also that an "out" party convention offers the greatest latitude for interest, the 1956 Willamette mock convention will be a mock Democratic national convention.

Chairman of the state-wide convention, the only one of its kind sponsored by colleges, is Dave Barrows, who urges full student participation. "No convention is ever a success until the people support it wholeheartedly," Barrows remarked.

Assisting Barrows in preparations are Gay Kent, correspondence; Pauline Coulter, publicity; Darlene Snodgrass, programs; Skip Alexander, physical arrangements; Don Peterson, resolutions; Lewis Bright, banquet; Kent Hotaling, demonstrations; Marian Rutledge, treasurer; and Tom Murdock, state delegations.

Students interested in assisting with preparations for the convention should contact Dave Barrows.

Frosh Elect

Freshman elections are scheduled for Monday at 3:30 in the gym, according to Dave Finlay, student body president. A president and secretary will be elected to temporary offices. Permanent elections will then be scheduled for the freshman class for two weeks later.

beautiful lounge.

Getting to the lounge, however, is proving somewhat of a problem. Women entering the side door on the north must go up a flight of stairs and down again in order to get to the lounge. A short-cut through the dining room to the lounge has been banned.

The Doney dining room received its food over a specially built hallway connection to Lausanne hall. A warming kitchen in Doney hall keeps the food until it is served.

Maps of the Willamette campus and the surrounding area have been prepared by the campus YMCA and have been placed in buildings around the University.

Kappa Delta Pi Establishes Campus Education Honorary

Beginning as a new honor society on the Willamette campus is Theta Lambda, 203rd chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an honor society in education.

Officially installed at the University on August 5, Theta Lambda becomes the second chapter in Oregon, Alpha Omega, at Oregon State College, having been chartered in 1928.

Elected as officers of the organization were Robert Robins, president; Dorothy Taylor Patch, vice-president; Rosella Brutka, secretary; Margaret D. Simms, treasurer, and Dr. Kenneth Lottick, faculty counselor.

Frances Miller Batchelder, Lora Ellen Bates, Rosella Patsy Brutka, Judith Grant Butler, Marjorie Leonard Ruid, Anita Betty Norton, Helen Lindsay Allen, Joan Terhark, Dorothy Taylor Patch, Robert W. Howe, Kent Myers, Robert Robins, Rosemary Rowell, Margaret D. Simms, Sarah Morse Venegas, and Judith Ann Wood are the recently initiated members.

Faculty members are Dr. George B. Martin and Dr. Kenneth V. Lottick, while Mrs. Carmelite Weddle, superintendent, Keizer school, and Milton R. Baum, principal, Silverton high school, are alumni members.

Five additional members are to be initiated this fall.

Entertaining at the August installation was Jean Turnbull, a 1955 graduate of the Willamette College of Music and an education major pursuing graduate work during the current year.

Installing officer was Dr. John J. Harton, executive first vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi and a faculty member of Fresno State College.

WU Handbook Greets Frosh; Guide on Way

The revised Student Handbook was handed out to all new students during orientation assemblies, and the Fusser's Guide is scheduled to appear about October 1, according to Suzy Platt, editor.

The Handbook, a general information booklet for new students, contains the names and brief sketches of all campus organizations, the University rules, and campus traditions. According to Dick White, editor, the social chairman's handbook was incorporated for the first time.

As soon as students register, the Fusser's Guide staff will receive their names and addresses to incorporate with those of the faculty and administration.

Venegases Given Immigrant Status

The day before Congress adjourned in August, it passed a bill cancelling the proposed deportation of two Mexican-born daughters of Mrs. Sara Venegas, senior in secondary education.

When Mrs. Venegas moved to Salem in 1953, the girls, Maria Elena, 6, and Sara Lucia, 8, entered the country on temporary visas. When the visas expired, they were eligible for deportation by immigration officials.

The new bill, according to Mrs. Venegas, grants them immigrant status without forcing them to return to Mexico and re-enter the United States. She added that she must pay "a regular immigrant fee" to the government, but that naturalization papers would be applied for, so the girls may become American citizens.
