Bustle of Activity On Tap for Guests

By ROSEMARY STEPHENSON

Owing to their immediate receptivity to all which encompass them, Willamette students are well oriented by this time for the coming year. This weekend will enable Willamette parents to also receive a clear picture of the life which will be engaging their sons and daughters' most vital and enthusiastic interests for the following academic months.

THIS EIGHTH Annual Willamette Parents' Weekend will typify many campus activities which will be directed to the interests and enjoyment of all parents.

In the past, similar to other college campuses, Willamette held the standard Dads' Weekend. But, on October 6, 1951, the Dads' Club of Willamette University voted to include mothers in their organization; the Parents' Association and Parents' Weekend of our University campus were born. In the constitution of the parents' group are found these words: "once a Willamette parent, always a Willamette parent."

EACH YEAR as part of the Parents' Weekend, the Parents Association holds its annual meeting where election of officers and current business is brought before the parents.

This weekend will be inaugurated by the University drama department which will stage the production of Plautus' "The Twin Menaechmi" at 8 p.m. Friday evening in the Fine Arts auditorium. After the play, living organizations will be open to parental visitors.

Roman Farce Set Tonight

By BARBARA BALSIGER

"The Twin what?" you say. Don't let the name get you down. "The Twin Menaechmi" (men-ike-mi), a Roman farce by Plautus, promises to provide lively entertainment tonight and give W.U.'s Parent's Weekend a great start.

The complicated plot involves twin boys with the same name separated early in life. Menaechmus I (George Rogers), knowing of his lost brother (Jack Hjelt) decided to devote his life to search for him. With his friend Messino (Ken Rony), he travels widely.

The plot thickens as odd things begin to happen. Unknowingly he is mistaken for his brother with the same name, and a delightful mix-up ensues.

A great deal of spice is added to the play by Erotem (Carol Hille), Menaechmus' II's girl friend, his wife (Jo Gannon), Brush (Jim Chadney), his father (Roger Hunniman), the doctor (Jerry Parks), the maid (Gail Larson), Slave I (Tim Connell) and Slave II (Carol Kirschner).

THE PARENTS' Association meeting will be held at 11 on Saturday morning in the auditorium. Speakers will include President C. Herbert Smith, Student body President Larry Willingham, and President of the Parents' Association, Fred F. Holcomb. Providing the program will be Dean Walter Blake speaking on counseling, Dr. Howard Runkel accentuating the academic side at Willamette, and Dr. Richard Petrie explaining the financial side.

The noon hour will bring on the barbecue in the gym for all students and their parents, after which the faculty will meet and talk with the campus visitors and their offspring in the library.

WITH 12 LIVING organizations participating, the all-campus sing will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the gym. Dinner will follow for the guests and their hosts at 5:30 p.m. in each student's living group. To climax the Saturday Parents' Weekend schedule, the victorious Willamette football team will meet Linfield at 8 p.m. at McCulloch stadium. Last year the two squads battled for the championship in the season's final game. At that time Linfield emerged the victor, but this year with the Bearcat's three impressive wins in the 1958 season, a different story may be told.

AS A FINALE to the busy day, a leisurely coffee period will be joined in by parents and sons and daughters at the respective living organizations.

Frosh Elect Officers; Eye Homecoming

Frosh elections over, the rookie neophytes began this week getting ready for Homecoming, only three weeks away.

The newly-elected frosh cabinet composed of Ray Blouin, president; Lynn Hales, vice president; Sylvia Takeuchi, secretary; Dave Ackerman, treasurer, and Percy Jefferson, sergeant-at-arms, is already investigating ways to receive the sophomores in the traditional grease pole climb coming up.

The new class is also preparing for the early morning leaf-rake. Some optimistic freshmen have prophesized that because of the warm weather the leaves are not going to fall this year, but upperclassmen label this as impossible.

Unaffiliated Meet

Willamette unaffiliated town students are urged to attend a meeting in Waller Chapel, on Monday at noon to choose representatives to student council. Town students make up between one-half and one-third of the student body, and this election of representatives is important.

Blood Donors Scheduled To Receive Special Meals

Blood donors for Willamette's blood drive next Thursday will be served special breakfasts and lunches in all living organizations that day. The meals will include those foods which should be eaten before donating blood.

THE BLOOD Drive will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the gymnasium. Dot Manker, manager in charge, asks that, "everyone respond and volunteer to give blood when the representative from your living organization contacts you."

To acquaint the Willamette students, especially the freshmen, with the nature of the blood drive, Warren Walker donated blood at convocation last Tuesday. This was an actual demonstration on stage to explain the ease and painlessness of giving blood.

FROM OCTOBER 13 to 16 there will be a display in the library having to do with the Blood Drive. Terry Boyd is in charge of this display.

Trophies will be given to the mens and womens living organization which has the most members donating blood. The rating for the trophy will be on a percentage basis of the eligible members in the house or dorm. Last year the Delta Gammas and the Sigma Chis won the trophies.

PUBLICITY manager for this year's drive is Dale Daniels, Audrey Horton is in charge of the special meals, Butch Parks and Larry Sterling are in charge of the convocation service. Betty Toy is secretary and has taken care of the corresponding and written work connected with the Blood Drive. Jim Manwaring is manager of the physical arrangements.

Those in charge of the various living organizations are: Sylvia Takeuchi, Nancy Adams, and Arta-lee Weber for Lausanne; Carol Gillet for Doney, Judy Teugel for Pi Beta Phi, Carolyn Fry for Delta Gamma, Hannah Meara for Alpha Chi Omega, Linda Leenhouts for Chi Omega, Ruth Applegate for Alpha Phi, Dean Kohntopp for Baxter Hall, Warren Walker for Beta Theta Pi, Pete Manning for Sigma Chi, Gordon Jones for Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Roy Chapin for Phi Delta Theta and Nancy Forbes is in charge of the town students.

Fill out, cut out, and turn in to your organization representative.

Benson, Touring Northwest, Recommends Farms to Youth

"There's a great future in farming for today's youth," said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, backing up his statement with the 19 percent increase this year in farm product prices.

THE SECRETARY appeared satisfied with the success of his farm program during a press conference at the Marion County State Republican headquarters in Salem last week.

However, when he was asked about the recent resignation of his personal friend Sherman Adams, former assistant to the president, Benson said, "Governor Adams was a loyal, efficient public servant who was assassinated politically while people like Hoffa go free."

Benson, who was in the Northwest to confer with political leaders, spoke at Republican dinners and had "heart to heart" chats with the local farmers.

THESE FENCE-POST discussions are one of the best ways to keep abreast of the farmers' problems and their attitude toward government policy, Benson explained.

The family is still the backbone of today's farm-family farms are not a thing of the past, the secretary emphasized, adding that ninety-six percent of the U. S. farms are family type. This is the same percentage as it was thirty years ago.

"MODERN equipment and technological devices are making it possible for the family to farm larger areas more profitably.

"Farming has become a scientific job, taking special technical training and practice to be successful.

In fact, some say it is more difficult than training to be a doctor."

STUDENTS completing their college education will find opportunities in farming, or related fields such as farm machinery, or production of antibiotics.

Though Benson is in favor of price supports when there is a severe decline in prices, he isn't in favor of high artificial supports that take a commodity out of a competitive range.

The U. S. lost two-thirds of its world-wide cotton markets because of high prices, he said.

Job Challenges Benson's Aide

"Public administration is a fascinating occupation, offering many opportunities and real challenges to the interested college graduate."

This is what Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Bert Tollefson told the Collegian during a stop-over in Salem last week.

STILL A YOUNG man, Tollefson got an early start toward his career. He was an assistant to the governor of South Dakota at 21 and the youngest state leader of the March of Dimes.

Today it is just as easy to find the assistant secretary at the White House as on a Wisconsin produce farm at 5:30 a.m.

LIFE IS HECTIC for Tollefson. When traveling he and Secretary Benson usually snatch only three hours sleep per night, he explained. During the interview with the Collegian he was interrupted several times to answer questions and check arrangements.

During Benson's tours Tollefson keeps one eye on the secretary besides providing statistics for him and checking all the physical arrangements.

it's inevitable that . . .

Up for approval by the voters today and next week is a revision of the constitution of the Associated Students of Willamette University. This same constitutional revision failed to pass last spring when a quorum of the student body neglected to vote. With the bright and shiny official voting booths gathered by student officer Culy it is inevitable that at least some students will vote out of pure curiosity. A further number will gather at the polls to cast their vote for an eye-catching Homecoming Hostess.

It is also inevitable that in this process the majority of voters will follow the trend of their parents and cast unthinking ballots. The revision is necessary and the result of careful work on the part of student government leaders. The student body owes it careful thought and full support.

The students should do themselves a favor in the hostess vote by choosing from the beautiful slate a girl with grace, maturity and sincere friendliness.

ASWU voting percentages have been praise-worthy in past semesters. It is hoped that the results of this election inevitably will picture a high degree of mature thinking as well.

Barney, Though 40, Chipper as Ever

By DAVE KITCHENER
Collegian Staff Writer

Judging from the rug he cuts on the sidelines of the football field it's hard to believe that Barney Bearcat just turned an elderly 40 years old.

Only eleven years younger than Freshman Clee, war-baby Barney was born during World War I when the mascotless W.U. football team rolled to many victories under Coach R. L. Mathews.

HE WAS nameless, homeless and considerably different looking than he is now. The tranquil, stubby creature roaming around today is a far cry from the scrappy, fighting first bearcat which claimed the Himalayas of Tibet as home.

When Barney first arrived the Willamette footballers were known for their tenacious, battling spirit and this prompted President Carl Doney to refer to them as "bearcats." The name stuck and soon the bearcat graduated to mascot.

BARNEY WAS born, but he had a lot of changes ahead of him.

The late cartoonist, Darrel Procter, (WU '20) was the first to draw interpretations of the now famous Bearcat. His early drawings of a ferocious Bearcat became very popular during the days of Spec Keene's powerful teams of the '30's.

AS HE AGED the Bearcat gained a little weight around the middle and became a mild looking creature with two stubby legs, and an oversized "WU" sweater.

An old fellow of almost 30 and the Bearcat still was minus a name. A football team making a trip to Honolulu for a game with the University of Hawaii decided on Barney about 10 years ago.

THIS WAS also the first time the friendly Bearcat got down to the playing field to entertain his fans.

And now, getting into a cheer, poking fun at the referees or demonstrating a strategic play it's hard to imagine that there was ever a time when Barney wasn't.

Dear Ed

An increasing number of students have expressed concern from time to time over the fact that there is little opportunity here at Willamette to make known the convictions and opinions of the liberal minds.

While this does not mean that all liberal ideas have been stamped beneath the feet of conservative tradition, we do feel that the historically conservative attitude, not only at W. U., but in the city of Salem and the state of Oregon as well, has been growing somewhat weaker during the past few years.

THAT OREGON no longer stands as a Republican stronghold, and that the Young Democrats of Willamette have recently realized a substantial increase in membership are factors which conclusively suggest that the Liberal is rising to a position of importance. In view of this fact, it seems that the Liberals should rightfully be granted an opportunity to express their opinions.

Therefore it would seem to me that the Collegian should support a column in order to evaluate and explain the liberal viewpoint concerning subjects of general interest to students.

WHILE THIS almost certainly involves comments on some controversial issues, it is recognized that such a column should not be considered simply an outlet for radical unrealistic or unreasonable opinions. However, it is hoped and urged that students will submit to the Collegian any ideas or issues which they would like to see discussed.

Special Collegian Writer.

PE Peps Up Campus Coeds

Cheering the football heroes isn't the only sport occupying Willamette coeds this fall. Bowling, archery, team sports and folk dancing are the other interests.

Bowling is a popular activity, according to Dr. Gale Currey, head of the women's PE department and bowling instructor. The 90 students presently enrolled in the course meet on Monday, Tuesday or Thursday. Dr. Currey said that the enrollment might reach 100. If enough interest is shown, she reported, an intramural league will be started in which living organizations can compete.

WU's archery team is hoping to retain their national championship. The feminine Robin Hoods captured first place in class D of the National Intercollegiate Archery meet last year for the third consecutive time.

Girls at Willamette take part in team sports such as volleyball and basketball. Later WU teams will play teams from other colleges in this area.

Folk dancing is the class open to both men and women. If enough students are interested, a folk dancing club will be organized and will meet once or twice a month.

College Prof's Art Selections Exhibited in Fine Arts Gallery

By JUNE SMITH

Richard Prasch's "Facade" of a red building shouts in our eyes—"I am sturdy and homely! I am as honest as a fat lady in a bright dress!" This oil, painted by a faculty member of Portland State College, is one of twenty pieces currently on exhibit in the Fine Arts Gallery. Nine pen and ink drawings four water colors, six oils, and one gouache promise a variety of interpretation.

WORKS OF THE 40 year old artist were selected by Dr. Cameron Paulin, head of the Willamette art department, to represent several stages in the development of the artist.

Prasch's personality seems to change with the media. His drawings are not studies for paint, they are valuable statements in themselves. "Landscapes in Ink," is an adventure with varied ink line. Impressionistic marks leave his pen to convey earth, water, and sky, sliced in half by staccato marks indicating human made structures.

"CARNIVAL" IS portrayed with ink on rice paper. The ferris wheel, the waste paper on the ground, the trapeze ladder, and all the line impressions Prash has captured become a labyrinth of gay forms that sing carnival tunes.

"Composition With Heat Ducts," done in gouache (opaque water-color), is to me the most pleasing piece in the show. It is a relaxation

Rademaker Plans Trip

Dr. John Rademaker, head of the Sociology department, will travel to Washington, D.C. to attend a meeting of the Council of American Association of University Professors, to be held November 7 and 8.

Rademaker is one of thirty-seven members of the committee whose purpose is to form policy to present to the association as a whole.

for the eyes and a playpen for the brain. Close examination reveals a myriad of textures and resulting colors, applied with patience, directed by genius.

WHAT CAN color do to shape? What can shape do to color? "Still Life With Pepper" and "Roof Tops and Ventilator Forms" are two oils which offer some interesting answers.

A rich background of teaching, and exhibition experience is evident throughout the show. Richard Prash attended The Cornish Art School in Seattle, where he was born, The Art Center School in Los Angeles, and The California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco.

Gala Homecoming Predicted

By SVELLEN STANLEY

Homecoming Weekend (flu bug allowing!) promises to radiate all the gaiety and spirit expected of the traditional festivities honoring Willamette alumni, this year. Manager Emil Muhs and his committee chairmen have already begun work for the action-packed weekend of November 1.

PRESIDING OVER the festivities will be the Homecoming Hostess to be elected by the student body. Primary elections will be held today and Monday from a host of ten candidates, three of whom will vie for Hostess in run-off elections next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Traditional activities officially commence with the freshman leaf rake at 5 a.m. Friday morning, October 31, followed by a doughnut hour sponsored by the sophomore class at 6:15 a.m. At 6:30 that night a rally will be held.

A CHANGE from previous years is the scheduling of the Homecoming dance a semi-formal affair, Friday night rather than Saturday.

Distinguished Educator to Be Guest on Campus This Week

Dr. Goodrich C. White, retired president of Emory university and former president of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, and his wife will be special guests on the Willamette campus Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, President G. Herbert Smith has announced.

DR. WHITE will speak both at the October faculty meeting, scheduled on Wednesday instead of Tuesday, and at the regular meeting of the junior honors students Thursday.

Dr. White, now a consultant on college problems for the Association of American Colleges, will also meet with Dr. Richard Petrie, chairman of the University self-study committee, Dr. Smith said. Dr. Petrie is one of nine committee members who are making an extensive study of all phases of the university.

THE STUDY IS being made in anticipation of a survey of Willamette in 1960 by the Northwest

Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, the accrediting body for institutions of higher learning in this area.

Willamette has been a member of the association for a number of years and was first accredited in 1925. "Our school hasn't been evaluated during the 17 years that I've been here," President Smith commented.

Members on the committee are Dean Robert Gregg, Dean Melvin Geist, Dean Seward Reese, Richard Yocom, Dr. Martha Springer, Dr. Chester Luther, Dr. James Lyles and Dr. Smith.

Paeth Starts Visitation Program

Charles A. Paeth, director of admissions, kicked off the Fall Visitation program this week by beginning a two week tour that will take him to various high schools in eastern and southern Oregon.

The Admissions Office reports that October 20 through October 31 Paeth will be visiting California schools, while Don Peterson, admissions counselor, will be talking with high school students in Tacoma and Yakima, Washington.

These tours are designed to acquaint high school seniors with Willamette by explaining to them the requirements, purpose, and traditions of the school. "Most of the high school seniors will be contacted at this time," remarked Paeth. "We in the Admissions Office are predicting a very busy and profitable fall."

Dean Ewalt Relieved at Doney

Joining the Willamette staff Sunday as Doney Hall's new housemother was Mrs. Bertha Nygard of Portland, replacing Dean Regina Ewalt who has been acting as the housemother since school started.

Mrs. Nygard was born in Great Falls, Montana, and during her lifetime has traveled extensively in the Bahamas, United States and in Canada. She also has been very active in Camp Fire Girls, P.O.E. and in her church, Rose City Park Presbyterian church.

She is the mother of two married daughters and the grandmother of two.

Although the job of being a mother to 78 girls will probably be rough at times, Mrs. Nygard thinks that "she will love it."

Flu Shots Available

Vaccine for the flu is available to all students and may be obtained in the Health Center. One injection is sufficient, and the shots are only one dollar.

nual event, is open to all living organizations. Centered around a slogan, which the Homecoming committee selects from contest entries, the signs will then be judged and living organizations will compete for various trophies.

OFFICIAL festivities for the alums begin Saturday morning with an alumni association meeting, registration, and a barbecue at noon.

Ritchie Granted Leave

The leave of Carl Ritchie, acting instructor of speech and drama, for one semester has been announced by President G. Herbert Smith. Mrs. Margaret Ringnald will teach his course, Fundamentals of Speech, a three hour beginning speech section, during his absence.

Ritchie has been director of publicity for the Ashland Shakespearean festival and is needed in Ashland while preparations for the festival are being made.

Scholastic Honorary Initiates Four; President, Secretary Also Elected

Eldon Olson, Jerry Spoonmore, Ed Knappe and Peter Stenzel were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, sophomore men's scholarship honorary, last Tuesday evening.

BILL RICHTER and Lyle Tucker, respectively, were elected to fill the vacated posts of Bob Trelstad, president, and Earl Rollins, secretary, who transferred to other schools.

Other officers of the organization are Wayne Senner, vice president, Dale Mortensen, treasurer, Mike Myers, historian, and Registrar Richard A. Yocom, faculty advisor.

AT THIS meeting, Richter was elected to represent the local chapter at Phi Eta Sigma's bi-annual convention at the University of Wisconsin at Madison during the third week of November. Senner was chosen alternate. Doctor Smith will also attend this convention.

Plans for a joint function with Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's equivalent of Phi Eta Sigma, were also discussed.

Council Presented Revived Program

Revisions to the Student Insurance Program were presented at the Student Council meeting this week. These amendments were explained by Gordon McPherson, student body member-at-large, that they may be brought to the attention of all students a week before voting. Voting will be held today and Monday, for the primaries, and Tuesday and Wednesday, for the run-offs. In order that these amendments may be passed, it is important that all students vote to obtain a majority. The By-Laws to the Student Insurance Program are as follows:

- I. The Committee shall consist of two members appointed by the Student Council, plus the Student Body Treasurer who shall act as chairman, plus the Broker who shall act in an advisory capacity. II. Duties of said committee will consist of the following:
 - A. Have the power to remove the broker when he does not meet the requirements to fulfill his obligation to the school.
 - B. Set up the requirements of the health policy and call or direct the broker to call for bids every two years or as set by the Student Council.
 - C. Have a complete working knowledge of the insurance policy.
 - D. Be able to explain the policy to any student who seeks this information.
 - E. Assist the insurance broker in his activities in the presentation of the program to the students.
 - F. Work closely with the Health Service to ascertain the quality of the policy in operation.

G. Keep a continuous file of all information including all bids, the actual insurance policy, and copies of all correspondence handled by the committee and the broker.

H. Handle the insurance pertaining to Student Body equipment.

III. Operation of the Program:

- A. That the Student Insurance Program be handled through an insurance broker—who ever it may be . . .
- B. That the broker be directed to issue bids when Student Council directs. These bids will be used to compare the actual policy with other programs.
- C. The policy should be reviewed by the committee and broker every two years at the minimum. This will constitute a complete review of the set standards and an issuance of bids to competing insurance companies.

200 Wallulahs Unclaimed In SB Office

For those "delinquent" students who have not claimed their 1958 Wallulah yearbooks, there are approximately 200 still available in the student body office, according to Marilyn Wright, office secretary. Layout work and picture scheduling for next year's Wallulah is now being done by the ten staff members, according to Artalee Weber, layout editor.

"Because of trouble in the past in scheduling pictures," stated John Galbraith, "Larry Sterling has been selected as co-ordinator between the dark room and the Wallulah." Now, anyone who wants pictures to be taken should contact Sterling, who will have a schedule of the photographers taking pictures and the pictures to be taken. Whenever possible, he should be told what kind of picture is to be taken.

German Law Prof To Speak at Convo

Dr. Ignaz Seidl-Hohenveldern will speak at the Law Convocation next Tuesday, October 14. Dr. Seidl-Hohenveldern, professor of law at the University des Saarlandes in Saarbrueck, West Germany, will be speaking at the Berkeley School of Law today and will travel to Willamette by way of Yosemite National Park. He will go on to Minneapolis for an October 29 engagement.

He is in America as a reporter of a Committee for Nationalization and his topic at the convocation will be "Protection of Private Property Against Nationalization."

By Steve Taylor

McCulloch Stadium may be the scene of the roughest game of the season for Ted Ogdahl's Bearcats when the Wildcats of Linfield, defending Northwest Conference champions, take the field at 8 p.m. tomorrow night.

Linfield and Willamette are the only two NWC teams still working on an undefeated season, and will be pulling hard to maintain that record for the following week.

Coach Ted Ogdahl, a perennial shaker of head and wringer of hands, asserts that he has exceptionally good reason for that palsied state this week.

Wildcats in Top Shape

According to Ogdahl, "Linfield's a real good team. I understand from reports that they're at full strength, and just as strong as they were when they took the title last year."

"They have more depth than any team we've met this year," Ogdahl continued, "and we'll really have to be in top shape to beat them. Durham (the Linfield head coach) has been clearing his benches in every game, and from my information, they're almost as good on the third squad as they are on the first."

In their opener, the Wildcats plowed through the hapless Wolverines of OCE at Monmouth, gaining a 32-6 victory. They followed up by outscoring Whitworth, 23-13, and opened conference competition last week by trouncing Whitman 21-14.

Bearcats Hold Edge

On the basis of scores of games played against schools met by both Linfield and the Bearcats, Willamette has a slight edge. Unluckily for prognosticators and football coaches, there is a 90% margin for error in that system of prejudging a game. At any rate, WU played a preseason game-scrimmage against OCE at Monmouth, and trampled them to a 39-0 defeat, following up in their opener in like style by whipping Whitworth 41-6.

In other fields of comparison, Linfield started the season with 14 lettermen, eight less than the Bearcats boast, although two of those 14 were on the all-conference team last season. Tackle Terry Picknell, who is, incidentally, the father of three children, was all-conference in that position, and is still playing a hard brand of football. The other all-conference man for the Wildcats is Sel Spray, their fullback. Spray "only" managed to get on the second team of the conference picks last year, but is making up for it now, having been named in the honorable mention column during the first week of the season, and making NWC Back of the Week for his performance against Whitworth.

Just in passing, it seems to us that a vote of thanks might have been offered to Whitworth by the backs at both Linfield and Willamette. Although a non-conference team themselves, they were the other team in the games that got the Back of the Week award for two straight weeks, with Stan "King" Solomon, Willamette's outstanding halfback, garnering the honor during the first week of the season.

"New" Parrish Sharp

Among the promising young freshmen Linfield has produced is Bill Parrish, the younger brother of Ron Parrish, All-Conference Quarterback for Linfield last year. Ron, with another all-conference teammate, Vic Fox, is coaching at Linfield this year, and has said that Bill is better than he was himself during his freshman year.

This will be the 34th meeting between the two schools, with Willamette having the edge there as well, having taken 24 games, and split 2, while Linfield has won 7 of the meets.

Willamette hasn't done so well in the past few years, beating the Wildcats last in 1954. They played to a 12-12 tie in 1956, but last year saw Willamette gain a 14-0 lead in the first half, only to see their hopes of a victory and the conference championship dissolve in a 27-14 defeat.

Linfield Champs Twice

The Wildcats have held the conference championship for two straight years, and aren't likely to give it up easily, even to as formidable a crew as Ogdahl's Bearcats have been this past month. On the other hand, the Bearcats will be trying doubly hard for a win to quiet those who felt that the Pacific game was a little ragged.

Jasons Second In NAIA Poll

The Bearcats lost all the statistical edge in the Northwest Conference via their game with Pacific last week. All was not lost however, for the Jasons have received the second place rating of the nation's small colleges for the second consecutive week. In the results of the NAIA poll announced yesterday, the Bearcats were rated second behind East Texas State.

- Close Calls -

By JIM CLOSE

Quite frequently one may hear an older sports fan mourn the "Golden Age of Sports," the days when men were men and each man who started played the whole game; the days when they played the game without "all the fancy gear and protection devices"; and the days when a grid coach might inspire his team to greater effort by making a single comment at half-time such as "let's win this one for good ol' Tech," or simply "shall we go girls?"

A Real Crowd Pleaser

Saturday night at Forest Grove we had the good fortune to see a back in action who would have warmed the hearts of the old timers, just as it thrilled the present day fans. Jack Nehring of Pacific played every play of the game but one and he was just as dangerous on the last play as he was on the first.

The stocky fullback ran and passed and played defense like a demon. He carried the ball 39 times to gain more than half of the Badger's total yardage. With seven minutes remaining in the game Nehring left the field for the space of one play and returned promptly to the fracas to batter once more at the Bearcat line. As the game drew to a close Nehring would get up slowly when he was tackled and return to the Badger huddle. On the next play he would have the ball once more and be running for all he's worth.

Ducks Surprise Big Red

Last week we printed a discourse on "desire," commenting on its value to a football team. We mentioned the Big Red of Oklahoma and the University of Oregon Webfoots as outstanding examples of teams with "desire." Last Saturday the two teams met at Norman, Okla., and as was expected the Sooners won. The margin of victory was only six points however. The Ducks came home with all the statistical edge and the feeling of moral victory that comes with holding the number one college team in the nation to one touchdown. "... It isn't if you won or lost, but how you played the game," and the Ducks played it hard and courageously all the way.

Ogdahl's Do It Yourself Team

If the Bearcat's method of substitution at the guard position resembles a Chinese fire drill, it is the product of experience. Ted Ogdahl has given Gary Raid, Howard Stroebel and Bob Griffin, permission to substitute freely for each other at any time during the game. The three lettermen guards take turns resting for a few minutes on the side lines and then dashing in at an appropriate moment to relieve one of their comrades in arms.

Ogdahl says, "they know pretty well what they are doing and it keeps them reasonably fresh by giving each one a brief rest. The only time Jerry and I restrict their substitution is when the game is exceptionally close. So far it has worked out very well for us."

Alums Dot Coaching Ranks

Alums dot the coaching ranks of both schools in the clash. Willamette boasts grads in Ted Ogdahl and Vic Backlund while the Linfield mentors include Vic Fox and Ron Parrish. Both Fox and Parrish are recent grads of the McMinnville school and both played football under Paul Durham.

Intramural Football Squads Complete Opening Rounds

Action in the two intramural football leagues got under way last week, with close scores dominating the scene.

WHEN opening rounds were over, Baxter was sole possessor of first place in the Tuesday-Friday league, and the Sigs, Betas, and Sig Alphas were in a three way tie for top spot in the Saturday loop.

Cliff Hussey's pass to Massa Watanabe netted Baxter a 6-0 win over the Betas as Tuesday-Friday play started. The Betas nearly tied the game at the finish, but were denied a touchdown after being held on Baxter's one yard line.

THE BAXTERS brought their record to 2-0 when they shut out the Sig Alphas, 25-0 last Tuesday. Allan Girod's two touchdown passes were not enough as the winless SAE's dropped an 18-14 thriller to the Sigs in the same league last Friday.

Saturday action saw two of three scheduled games played.

Beta and Baxter were engaged in a tight defensive struggle until Warren Walker scored on a pitch-out with less than two minutes left in the game to give the Betas a 6-0 win.

GARY WINNER caught two TD aerials and Frank Caruso caught another as the Sigs romped over the Phi Deltas, 26-0.

The Law School had only six men on hand and had to forfeit their game to the Sig Alphas, who were awarded a 1-0 victory.

IN THE Tuesday-Friday league, made up of five teams, one game is played on Tuesday and another on Friday, with one team drawing a bye. The six member Saturday loop finds all of its teams in action on Saturday mornings.

Both leagues are round robin affairs. At the end of the regular schedule, the two top teams from each circuit will meet in a playoff to determine the intramurals champion.

TODAY, THE Betas meet the Phis. In tomorrow's action, the Sigs open with Baxter at 9:00 AM, and the following contests pit the Phis against the Laws and the Betas against the Sig Alphas.

Badgers Tough as Bearcats Triumph 27-14; Coach Ogdahl Praises Offense, Nehring

"I'm real happy," said Ted Ogdahl, reflecting on last week's 27-14 win over the Pacific Badgers. "The Badgers are the 'upset' team of the conference and I would have been happy to beat them by one point. With that multiple offense of theirs and a running back like Nehring, they are different from any other team you'll meet all year. I don't think our boys were 'down' for the game, they were just a little upset by the complex Pacific offense, they all played a real fine game." Thus the Bearcat mentor reviewed the Pacific game.

First Quarter Scoreless

A see-saw battle punctuated with punt exchanges marked the scoreless first quarter. The Jasons' first scoring drive began when Denny Sarver stole a Nehring pass on the Willamette 36, returning it to the 40. From this point the Bearcats moved 60 yards in 11 plays to score with Keith Driver plunging over from the two-yard line. Stan "King" Solomon booted the conversion to give the Bearcats a 7-0 lead.

Willamette's second drive came late in the second stanza with Solomon taking a Badger punt on the Willamette 8 and returning it to the 25. Solomon, Sarver and Earl Jambura carried the 'Cats running attack to mid-field, where Driver uncoiled a 29-yard pass to Lee Weaver at the Badger 21. Five plays later, Jack Berkey scrambled wide around left end for the TD. Solomon added the extra point and the 'Cats owned a 14-0 lead with 1:03 remaining in the first half.

Nehring Heads Drive

In the second half, the Badgers forced the Bearcats to punt as the Willamette offense sputtered out at the 'Cat 43. Dave Woodford took Driver's kick on the Pacific 25 and returned to the 30. Nehring carried the ball on 11 of the next 14 plays that moved the Badgers to pay dirt. With fourth down and a yard to go at the Bearcat 10, Denny Rieger skirted left end for the Badger TD. Don Iverson booted the point and the scoreboard read 14-7 for Willamette.

Willamette ran only two plays following the kick-off, when Dick Ramsey grabbed a Driver pass to give the Badgers possession at their own 25. Pacific was forced to punt when three tries at the line netted them minus one yard to the 24.

Solomon Sweeps End

Solomon took the Badger punt and stepped out of bounds at the Bearcat 47. From there the 'Cats began a 53-yard march to their third touchdown. Highlight of this drive was an end sweep good for 25 yards by Solomon. At the end of the third quarter the 'Cats had possession on the Badger one-foot line at second down.

On the first play of the final quarter, Driver smashed over for the score, Solomon converted and the Bearcats led 21-7.

Hinds Scores on Steal

Following the 'Cats' kick-off, the Badgers ran two plays from their 17 and exchanged 15-yard penalties with the Jasons when John Hinds swiped a Badger pass and scampered 22 yards for the final Bearcat TD. Solomon's PAT attempt was wide, his first miss in 11 tries, leaving the score 27-7 for the 'Cats.

The Badgers came back for one more TD on a 77-yard march in 15 plays. Again it was Willamette vs. Nehring with Nehring adding the coup de grace by throwing a 32-yard touchdown pass to Iverson. Iverson made the PAT setting up the final score of 27-14 for the Bearcats.

Bearcat Howard Stroebel Is NWC 'Lineman of the Week'

By JACK RASMUSSEN

The second week of Northwest Conference football action saw another Willamette griddier gain conference acclaim.

HOWARD STROEBEL, Willamette's 220 pound junior tackle, was selected conference "lineman of the week" for his outstanding performance against the California Aggies.

Stroebel, playing his third year on the Bearcat varsity, earned a spot on the all-conference second team last year.

BEARCAT line coach Jerry Long was very pleased to hear of Stroebel's citation. "He's always capable of rising to the occasion," commented Long. "Howard had a good night against Linfield last year and we're expecting a fine showing from him Saturday."

A native of Mt. Vernon, Washington, Stroebel played two years of varsity football at Mt. Vernon High School and was an active member of the boxing team. He was an all-conference football choice in his senior year.

ALTHOUGH training and studies keep him busy, Howard still finds considerable time to devote to the youth of Salem. He has been an active member of "Young Life" since coming to Willamette. This year he is the assistant director of the "Young Life" activities at North Salem High School.

Tennis Tourney Entries Due October 15

Applications for entry into the Men's Fall Tennis Tournament, which will be held later this month, are due in Les Sparks' office no later than October 15.

There is no necessary talent needed for one to enter the two-week tournament. All males who are interested are invited to try their tennis luck.

This is the first year of the tournament. Tennis coach Les Sparks says, "I hope the Men's Tournament will become an annual affair. I'm sure we can arrange it if enough interest is shown."

Scottish Philosopher to Be Speaker at WU Chapel

Dr. John Macmurray, professor of moral philosophy at the University of Edinburgh, will present the Chapel address Thursday in the Fine Arts auditorium.

A native of Maxwellton, Scotland, the professor holds degrees from Glasgow University and Oxford. He has served in several university posts as professor of philosophy and has held his present title since 1944.

Dr. Macmurray's philosophical interests have been described as wide, with a tendency to emphasize the practical aspects and application of philosophy.

His visit here is sponsored jointly by the Danforth Foundation and the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges.

Cash Offered For CR Posters

Are you talented artistically? Would you like to make money with your talent? Then enter the Christian Resources Week poster contest, invited Joan Sherrill, poster chairman.

The rules are simple: use your imagination to draw a poster depicting this year's theme, "The Critical Christ." Use black India ink on 11 by 16 inch white poster paper. The winning poster will be reproduced and used on campus in conjunction with C.R. week publicity and on the cover of the chapel programs.

First and second prizes consist of $15 and $10 respectively. Contact Miss Sherrill, if you are interested.

Biology Prof. Named To Ed. Committee

Dr. Martha E. Springer, professor of biology, has been appointed to the Committee on Higher Education of the American Association of University Women.

During her two-year term Dr. Springer will attend two committee meetings in Washington, D.C., and make several visits to colleges and universities around the country to examine their standards. She has just completed a two-year term on the Committee on Standards and Recognition of Colleges and Universities.

Education Association Recruits Members

Student memberships are now being received for the campus chapter of the Student Education Association, according to faculty advisor Dr. Homer H. Hawes. All students planning a career in teaching or having an interest in the discussion of educational topics are qualified for membership.

Willamette's chapter is affiliated with both the Student National Education Association and the Oregon Student Education Association.

Applications for membership may be made at the office of Dr. Hawes in room 3 West of Waller Hall.

Long, Willingham Plan Busy Year for Group

Under the leadership of Bill Long and Larry Willingham, the Arnold Air Society is planning a year of many activities.

Plans are already being made for the annual Military Ball which will be held just before Christmas vacation. A "name" band is now being sought.

A tea was sponsored last week for the girls who were selected by their living organizations as candidates for the Angel Flight. Members of the Arnold Air Society chose a limited number from these girls for the women's drill team.

These girls will perform at basketball games as well as other functions. In addition, they will help sell concessions at football games, and also co-sponsor the Military Ball with the Arnold Air Society.

Law School Names Keynoter For 75th Year Celebration

In celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Willamette College of Law, Robert Burham Watts, distinguished leader in law and in church affairs, will give the keynote address in the special ceremonies October 31.

THE CEREMONIES, which are scheduled for 8:15 in the Fine Art auditorium, will also include addresses from Dr. G. Herbert Smith, and Dean Seward Reese of the College of Law.

In addition to the general public, leaders in religious, state, legal and industrial affairs will attend the affair.

Young men and women, between 20 and 30, who are in good health, single, and familiar with farm life, are encouraged to apply for trips. Applications and information are

Meier & Frank Greet Parents

Again this year Meier and Frank is helping the students of Willamette welcome their parents. Friday evening from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. there will be a special dinner menu in the Oregon Room restaurant for the parents and students. During the dinner hour there will be a fashion show of college styles by Willamette men and women.

At 8:30 p.m. under the clock at Meier and Frank there will be a drawing. Some lucky women students will be receiving a Jantzen skirt and sweater set, a dress, or a complete hair restyling. The men will receive a pair of Crosby Square shoes, a pair of Claybrooke slacks, or a four piece thermos kit.

Letters have been sent to all Willamette parents and in this letter was a card to be filled out and placed in a box at the information desk at Meier and Frank in order to be eligible for the drawing.

Living Groups Prepared for Campus Sing

The All-campus sing tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Willamette gym will culminate many hours of trying song practices in each living organization.

TWELVE CAMPUS groups will sing two songs of their own choice; the fraternities and sororities will each present one of their own fraternity songs and a non-fraternity song.

The past years have seen competitive song contests by the living organizations on May Weekend complete with judges and prizes. But, due to the very busy days of May Weekend, the campus sing was introduced last year to Parent's Weekend on a non-competitive basis as a tribute to all Willamette parents.

THE DELTA Gammas will sing "Hair and the Moonlight as their sorority sing, and "Isca's Castle," a Czechoslovakian folk song, "Alpha Phi Chant" and "Fraternity Man" will be shared with the audience by the Alpha Phis.

The A Chi O's will be on stage with "A Wonderful Guy" from South Pacific and "Alpha Chi Dreams." "Panhellenic Toast" and "Many a New Day" will be sung by the Chi Omegas. The Pi Phis will sing "Pi Phi Symphony" and "Vanka 'n Tanka," the Russian equivalent to an American folk song.

THE WOMEN'S dorms will join in with "Look for the Silver Lining" and "You Don't Have to Sing a Song—Just Whistle."

As far as the male voices go, Baxter Hall will contribute "Baxter Fellowship Song" and "Sophomore Philosophy." "The Beta Drinking Song" and "The Winter Song" will be heard from the Betas. The Phi Deltas plan on "There's Nothing Like a Dame" and "Phi Delt Smoke-rings."

"The Fellowship Song of the Sigma Chis" and "By the Light of the Silvery Moon" will be on the afternoon agenda from the Sigs. "Dear SAE" and "Tumbling Tumbleweeds" will be sung by the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

WU Noted for TV Classes

Willamette has the distinction of being the only independent college in Oregon taking part in the TV classes sponsored by the Ford Foundation in cooperation with the Oregon State Board of Education.

The two classes, a general chemistry course consisting of both lecture and laboratory on TV taught by Dr. Slabough of the Oregon State faculty and an English composition course taught by Professor Jack Bellamy of Oregon College of Education, are part of a two-year experiment to determine the advisability of continuing them. Dean Gregg said judgment of the program would be suspended until spring, when its effectiveness for Willamette will be evaluated.

available at all county extension offices in Oregon or at the state 4-H office, at Oregon State College in Corvallis.

THE STATE 4-H office is eager to get more applications, particularly from young men. Those interested may indicate an interest in a country, but final decision is made from the national 4-H club foundation in Washington, D.C. Deadline for applications is October 18.

Winners selected for trips will travel abroad in 1959 on spring, summer or fall programs. They will live and work on farms in an assigned country for four to six months, learning all they can about farm life, and taking pictures to bring back home to share with others.

YD Selects New Officers

The Willamette chapter of the Young Democrats elected two new officers at their meeting October 7. The new secretary, Sandy Newton, and new program co-ordinator, Cathy Causbie, took over their duties immediately.

Panel speakers for the evening were Herb Carter and Del McDonough, candidates for the House of Representatives. Among the topics discussed were the pros and cons of a sales tax in Oregon and the usefulness of the state Board of Control.

Friday, October 10, a Y. D. dinner will be held in Albany. The dinner is $1.50 a plate. The speakers for the evening will be U. S. Senator Wayne Morse and U. S. Representative Charles Porter. People interested in attending should contact President Dan Marsh who will see that transportation is provided.

UNESCO Slates Meet

Next Thursday, from 6:30 to 7:30, a get-acquainted meeting will be held at the Phi Delta Theta house for all students interested in UNESCO.

The purpose of the meeting is to help those students from foreign countries get to know those from the United States.

There will be light entertainment, and refreshments will be served.

Beauty-Wise Class Names Ten Junior Class Charmers

Next week students will elect the 1958 Homecoming Hostess, the junior woman who will reign over all Homecoming activities and welcome alums to their weekend.

THE JUNIOR class, according to custom, has picked ten girls; and from this group the student body will elect three finalists in the primaries Monday and Tuesday. From these three in the run-offs Wednesday and Thursday, the hostess will be elected. The ten candidates are Sue Trueblood, ReNaye Hall, Judie Hume, Sharon Lowery, Rosemary Stephenson, Ann Fields, Jo Warren, Jane Dedrick, Sylvia Quiring, and Joyce Biggs.

JUDIE HUME is a red-headed English major from Salem. A member of Chi Omega, Judie has been rush chairman for her house. Another Salem girl is Rosemary Stephenson, member of Pi Beta Phi and a journalism-social science major. This striking blonde also holds the honor of being named Willamette's best-dressed coed.

Sharon Lowery, Alpha Phi transfer from U. of O., is pledge trainer and concentrates on English literature. At Oregon she held a Max Tucker award.

AN IDAHO girl, Ann Fields, is a stately blonde biology major who lives at the Delta Gamma house. Another Delta Gamma is Jo Warren, from Vancouver, Washington, with crisp, naturally-curly brown hair. An art major, Jo spent her freshman year at Arizona State. Miss student body secretary, Sylvia Quiring, hails from Hermiston and majors in psychology. This winsome young lady is a member of Alpha Chi Omega and BAGs.

"DIMPLES" WOULD be a good nickname for Jane Dedrick, president of the Chi Omega house and a delegate to the Model United Nations. This honor student is from Longview, Washington, and majors in political science. A graceful Salemite, Sue Trueblood majors in art and is a member of Delta Gamma.

ReNaye Hall has been active in Pep Cats and Honey Bears. A sociology major from Sweet Home, this vivacious gal lives and works at the Blind School. Joyce Biggs is a strawberry blonde from Oregon City and majors in music education. Joyce's main activity is her position as president of Doney Hall.

Arnold Airmen Name Members To Angel Flight

Twelve new members have been chosen for Angel Flight by the Arnold Air Society, announced Sheila Tomlin, Angel Flight president.

These girls are Sherry Dickerson, Georgia Ferguson, Judy Hicks, Mary Knott, Kaye Morast, Ruth Parrett, Priscilla Prouty, Sandi Riggs, Marcia Ruby, Bonnie Scott, Sylvia Takeuchi, and Sue Wilson.

These new freshman members will fill out the organization to twenty members smartly marching in their sharp blue skirts and white jackets. Besides service, Angel Flight compliments the men's marching exhibits with some precision work of their own.

Service-wise, Angel Flight helps out the ROTC in the concession stand in McCulloch Stadium at each football game. During registration the girls played secretary to the ROTC department.

Future plans include putting on the coffee hour tomorrow for parents as their contribution to Parents Weekend.

Greeks Sport Shiny New Pins

The fall semester brings sorority and fraternity initiations and many Greek members have been trading pledge pins for sparkling new member badges.

THE LONG-AWAITED pins are seen on newly initiated Greek members of all four fraternities and Chi Omega sorority.

Three Chi Omegas were initiated on Friday at the Chapter house. They are Linda Leenhouts, Joan Beatty, and Jan Beggs. The sorority's award banquet, held at China City, brought honors to Linda Leenhouts as Model Pledge, Joan Beatty as the Outstanding Pledge, Joan Thronson for best GPA improvement and Jane Dedrick for Scholarship.

FRATERNITY men greeted the end of hectic work sessions and the trials of being a worked-on initiate as the brothers introduced formal initiation ceremonies.

New wearers of the Sigma Chi cross are Jerry Auvinen, Ed Hall, Dennis Toomey, Doug Ward, Todd Jessell, Jim Manwaring and Chuck Cheeld.

SIGMA ALPHA Epsilon newly initiated members are Ellison Chandler, Jerry Darby, Eldon Olson, Wayne Senner, Jim Wright, Gary Hollen, Jerry May, Jay Thompson, Gordon Jones, Bob Roy, Bill Fritts and Russ Peterson. Thirteen Phi Delt members as of last weekend are Lee Weaver, Glen Smallcomb, John Frederick, Jim Robinson, Buz Wilfert, Jim Busch, Jack Rasmussen, Larry Thompson, Grant Marsh, Dale Bunse, Glen Durham, Gary Buell and Roger Grabinski.

THE BETA diamond now belongs to Ron Van Noy, Bob Pierce and Tony Meeker.

Further initiation ceremonies will be held by the other women's Greek groups later in the semester.

The Social Scoop

By JUDY OLSEN

HOLD IT

Don Williams, a man of many talents is no photographer, but nobody told Ezra Taft Benson and the other Republican party dignitaries at a recent meeting that the Beta was all actor, not a gentleman of the press. After borrowing Frank Bash's empty press camera he busily posed every bigwig in sight and "snapped" pictures of their campaign smiles, handshakes and ordered them into what he considered original and newsworthy poses without cracking a smile. (No, he doesn't belong to Young Democrats.)

BARNEY MISSED IT

Barney Bearcat, our motheaten and overworked mascot spends so much time publicizing the Old Historic Temple and surrounding territory that he bemoans the fact that he misses half the laughs. For instance, Barney says that he'd give anything to have seen the havoc that broke loose in Lausanne Hall the other a.m. when early risers found signs in the lavatories. On third floor each stall bore a card saying: "Out of Order, go to First floor," on second floor the cards said to go to third, and on the first floor the cards said to go second. It took the milling, sleepy eyed coeds a while to catch on to the fact that it was a practical joke. Another sight Barney consistently misses is the Beta steambath. He says he wishes he'd seen strapping he-men John Jelderks and Wayne Feller bravely offer to get rid of an obnoxious but appealing stray cat for one of the sororities. Their start was stalwart but one look into the cats big green eyes and they went soft and took it home to Waynes' mother. The final big thing our old buddy missed out on was speechless Tom Honl dodging flying glass and packs of gum as a car plowed straight toward him through the window of the State Street Market. It must be his magnetic personality!

SENTENCE COMMUTED

Lettermen's Club president Frank Caruso has granted a pardon to the harrassed members of the class of 1962 for good behavior and guarantees them immunity from the artistic impulses of the strong armed wearers of the Cardinal W after 5 p.m. Up to this time, the athletes have been insisting that the beanies be worn 24 hours a day. Take heart, frosh, Homecoming isn't far off.

By-Laws Revisions
ARTICLE X - RALLY COMMISSION
 Sec. 3. Membership of the Rally Squad shall consist of four women serving as a song team, and three men as a yell squad, to be selected in February of each year, serving for the next school year. The student body will vote on the candidates as individuals, voting for as many candidates as there are positions to be filled. The four women and three men receiving the highest number of votes will comprise the rally-squad. The two women and two men receiving the highest number of votes will then be voted upon in a new election. The woman and man winning a majority shall become song queen and yell king. In the event of a vacancy occurring in the Rally Squad, that candidate with the next highest number of votes will fill the vacancy.

Sec. 4. The duties of the rally squad shall be to provide leadership for the student body at athletic contests and related activities. The primary duties of the yell squad shall be to lead yells and the song queens to lead songs.

ARTICLE XIII - ELECTIONS COMMITTEE
 Sec. 1. Membership of the elections committee shall consist of two students from each of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. The chairman will be one of the representatives of a class; these members and chairman will be selected by the second vice-president of the student body upon approval of student council.

Sec. 2. This committee is authorized to assist the 2nd vice-president of the Student Body in the function of elections. All operations of this committee shall be in accord with a set of election rules and duties listed below.

a. Names of candidates shall be posted in all living organizations, the student body office, the Cat Cavern and Eaton Hall three days before the primary election.

b. Any names which appear on all ballots must be printed on these ballots. If a mistake is made on a ballot, opening of the polls shall be postponed until correct ballots can be printed.

c. The person manning the ballot box shall write down in a special notebook the names of all persons who vote, getting these names from the student body cards. When the polls are closed, the number of names of voters and the number of ballots cast must tally exactly or the discrepancy must be at least 10 less than margin of victory for the winning candidate(s).

d. Ballots shall be kept locked up for two weeks after an election, then destroyed if there is no challenge.

e. The elections committee shall be comprised of a man and a woman from each of the sophomore, junior and senior classes, and there shall be no more than one person from any one living organization. The chairman of the elections committee shall count as one of the two representatives from his class.

f. Only members of Sigma Alpha Chi, Beta Alpha Gamma and the elections committee shall be allowed to man ballot boxes, count votes, or transport ballot boxes or ballots.

g. Members of the elections committee who are candidates shall not count votes on their own particular ballot.

Articles appearing in the by-laws after these have been renumbered in order to insert the Election Committee at the end of the committees. Copies of constitution are available in student body office.

One method for "hitting the moon" by passing the $1,250 Campus Chest goal is demonstrated by Jerry Spoonemore, left, and Ed Hall, campus chest manager, on the right. Victim is Willard Bunney, student body treasurer.

Campus Chest Plans Kickoff

Hey, there, got a buck? will be the watchword of every solicitor as the tenth annual Campus Chest drive leaps into action during the week of October 20-25. This year's aim will be to beat last year's achievement of $1250.

The progress of the week's drive will be registered for all to see by a very up to date method: A rocket to the moon. Every dollar that is given will push the projectile a little closer to its destination.

Ed Hall, manager for Willamette's consolidated charity drive, announced that with the Student Council's approval, $450 of this year's donations will be presented to Laszlo Dezsofi. Dezsofi is sponsored by the World University Service and is attending Willamette under its auspices for two years. During the Hungarian revolt, he was able to escape from that country on Christmas day. He is now in his sophomore year at Willamette.

A student may either pledge the amount he wishes to give, or wait until a solicitor knocks on his door. The most important thing is to get that rocket to the moon!

The bulk of the donations will be divided among the Scholarship funds sponsored by the YMCA, YWCA, and UNESCO, and to the World University Service, National Scholarship Fund for Negro Students, and to the United Fund in Salem.

Staff Appointed For Law Handbook

Members of the Willamette College of Law Legal Handbook staff were appointed Monday—for the last time.

Since the Handbook began publication 12 years ago it has now run through the alphabet of legal cases and so after this year will cease publication. This year's version will actually be a supplement to the 37 issues which have so far been issued over the dozen years.

The handbook consists of instructions given by the judge to juries during trials and the subsequent comment of the Oregon Supreme Court on the judges' instructions.

EXECUTIVE board members of the staff this year are E. Gepe Stunz, editor; John Ester, assistant editor and Richard May, business manager.

Second year class members of the staff are Pat Albano, Neil Bennett, John DuBay, William Schant, and Mrs. Helen Simpson.

THIRD YEAR class members are Marvin Hansen, Alfred Laue, Robert Stevens, Robert Simpson and Norman Webb.

Advisor to the Handbook staff for the last nine years has been Dr. John C. Paulus, law professor.

BAG's Choose Three

Norissa Leger, Kathy Bernard, and Sandi Seely were tapped as new members of Beta Alpha Gamma, sophomore women's service honorary, at Tuesday's convocation.

These new members were picked on the basis of activities, scholarship and character.

Best Slogan Nets $10

A $10 first prize will be awarded to the winner of the Homecoming Slogan Contest, which will refer to the game with the Puget Sound Loggers. The slogans will be judged by a homecoming committee. All students are eligible and must put their names on all entries, according to Frank Bash. Slogans will be taken in the student body office until noon, October 17.

All entries will be accepted for judging with the exception of "Bearcats Pound Puget Sound." It was the slogan accepted in 1956.
