GENERAL STATEMENT.

Location.

Salem, the capital of Oregon, is most beautifully situated on the east bank of the Willamette river, fifty-three miles south of Portland. Rich farm land lies on all sides and extends away for many miles. The scenery is delightfully varied by hills on the south and across the river on the west. The streets are wide and have a considerable decline westward toward the river. Several living streams of water flow through them into the Willamette, and in their course turn the powerful wheels of the great flouring mills, of which Salem is justly proud. It contains a population of nearly 6,000. The Willamette University, founded at a time when Salem was scarcely a town site, has had the opportunity to grow with the city and impress its work upon the society. For morals and high state of Christian society, Salem is far in advance of most towns of its size. The official position of so many of its residents, in county and state, render an increased culture to society. Many of the state educational institutions are located here, with their officers and teachers, which circumstance adds another advantage to the location of a University. The buildings are immediately in town, and places of business are of easy access. The campus on which the main building is situated contains about eighteen acres. The people of Salem have ever given non-resident students a cordial welcome to their homes, their churches and society, so that, although among strangers at first, they are soon made to feel that they are among friends desiring and striving for their best interests. All circumstances combine to make Salem the best University town on the coast. It is not too large so as to absorb the interests of a University in its business affairs, and is not so small as to be unable to accomodate all its interests. Its ministers, lawyers and physicians are among the ablest in their profession, the people are educated and its physical features render the city healthful and beautiful for homes.

Literary Exercises.

Special drill will be given in composition, elocution and general literary exercises throughout all the courses of study. These exercises are additional to those mentioned in the curricula.

Every student in school is expected to perform literary work the third Thursday of each Semi-Term, unless excused for equivalent work in Literary Societies or in Elocutionary classes.

Correlated Academies

It is the design of these schools to prepare students as nearly as possible for the Freshman class in the College.

Certificates from the correlated Academies will give the student bearing them the desired standing in the University without an examination on the studies embraced in the certificates.

These Academies are: Umpqua Academy, located at Wilbur, Oregon, L. A. Edwards, A. B., Principal; Sheridan Academy, located at Sheridan, Oregon,, Principal; Santiam Academy, located at Lebanon, Oregon, J. L. Gilbert, Principal; Drain Academy, F. W. Benson, A. M., Principal.

Library.

There are about 2,800 volumes in the library of the University, to which is added from time to time, by purchase and donations, books useful to students and teachers in the prosecution of College work. The present year much interest has been shown in the library, and many useful books have been read. S. W. Holmes is Librarian.

Government.

The government of the University aims to be mild, but firm in what few regulations it has. Constant thought is exercised to cultivate qualities of manhood and womanhood discoverable in nearly every student. Whenever a student aims to do right, and be diligent and successful in his daily work, he scarcely realizes that he is under government. While the general oversight has especial care for Christian training, yet the school is non-sectarian in its teaching and government. Its courses of study are little different from any other institution of equal grade.

Literary Societies.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the school. They have a commodious and well-furnished room in the University Hall. In these societies the students obtain much of the culture which is so useful in almost every vocation, by writing, reading, declaiming, delivering orations, musical renditions, by discussions and criticisms. The Philodorian Society meets at 3 P. M., and the Philodorian meets at 7 P. M. on Friday of each week.

The Presidents of the Literary Societies for the school year, are as follows:

PHILODOSIAN.

First Term.....	Æolia F. Royal
Second Term	Æolia F. Royal
Third Term.....	Minnie Frickey
Fourth Term.....	Maggie Brown

PHILODORIAN.

First Term.....	S. W. Holmes
Second Term	J. Y. Swayne
Third Term.....	A. W. Reeves
Fourth Term.....	Levi McGee

Needs of the University.

Large and immediate additions to the funds of the University are much needed. One or two Professorships should be established at once.

A suitable hall for recitations in the College of Liberal Arts must be erected in the near future. Thoroughly to equip this institution upon the plan proposed, resources several times greater than any now possessed will be absolutely necessary. The Trustees cannot doubt but that the friends of the school and public spirited men and women will create the needed facilities. The University is now only beginning to live. The character of its life will depend upon the help of those who have money, and who have such love for Christian training as to bestow it upon the institution for this purpose. The corporate name of the institution is Willamette University.

Form of Bequest.

I give and bequeath to Willamette University the sum of..... dollars, to be safely invested as an endowment for the support ofProfessorship in the College of Liberal Arts.

Rules.

After long experience, the following rules are found to secure the best general government of the school. It is thought best to publish our rules in order that all may understand clearly under what restrictions they place themselves, by becoming students of this University. No well regulated institution can succeed without rules of government, any more than the State without laws.

General Rules.

1. Payment of tuition, each term, in advance.
2. Attendance at some Church on Sunday morning.
3. Study during recitation hours and from 7 to 9 P. M.
4. No profanity, or the use of tobacco in the school.
5. Attendance at chapel services each day.
6. Permission for temporary absence from school and town.
7. Examination every five weeks in the Academy ; every term in the College. Written reports in scholarship and deportment will be sent to the parents of each student after every examination.
8. Half price for one study in school ; full price for two or more. Students having studies in more than one grade will pay the tuition of the higher grade, provided they take two or more studies in that grade.
9. Time lost by sickness can be transferred, but no money is refunded.
10. Students coming from other Colleges must bring recommendations from the College they left.
11. No student will be entered at the beginning of a term for less than a term ; nor will any student having withdrawn from school during the term without permission of the Faculty, be granted an honorable dismissal.
12. No student is allowed to board at a hotel or public boarding house.

To Students.

When you arrive in Salem, come directly to see the President, who will give you all necessary information relative to rooms, board, &c., and will find lodging for you until you are permanently settled. You will thus save your money and find out just what to do.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

THOS. VAN SCOY, PRESIDENT.

MRS. C. C. B. HAWLEY, DEAN.

MRS. GEN. W. H. ODELL.

MRS. G. W. GRAY.

MRS. MARY E. KINNEY, A. M.

I. This department of the University provides instruction:

1. In Music—(see Conservatory of Music.)

2. In Art—(see Art Department.)

II. It provides a home for all lady students from a distance, whether taking lessons in Music or Art, or reciting in any other department of the University.

It affords a place of residence, under careful supervision, and amid refined and orderly surroundings.

Board in Woman's College Hall with everything furnished except towels, napkins, and bed clothing, $3.50 per week. A well-furnished room is supplied. But the occupants are expected to have a room-mate. Day board, and board for those who supply their own furniture, is put at $2.50 per week.

Many parents object to sending their daughters from home to a school where, from want of a College home, under proper oversight, they are compelled to board in families, that, as a rule, acknowledge no responsibility to parents or to the University.

It offers to all the students of the Woman's College—those resident in the building and those living in the city—a center or place of gathering for lectures and for such social events as may pertain to the home life of the department.

The Dean, and other teachers reside in the Hall, and thus it becomes a religious home, and at the same time is surrounded by all the good influence of college life.

Care is taken in the furnishing of the building, in the regulations pertaining to the household, and in the internal life of resident students and officers, to maintain the atmosphere and surroundings of a refined and gentle home, so as to make residence in the College Hall a means of education.

It is not designed making the Hall a means of income to the University; it is not a financial venture, and has nothing in common with the aim of a boarding house. On the contrary, the cost of residence is placed so low as to bring the advantage of the Hall within the reach of all earnest young women desirous of an education.

For price of board, etc., in the Woman's College, see expenses under "General Statement."

Regulations for the Woman's College Hall.

1. Five weeks payment for board in advance.
2. Proper care of room and personal appearance.
3. Attendance upon family worship.
4. Permission for temporary absence.
5. Saturday afternoons are given the ladies for calling and shopping.

Mail is delivered each day, and a person is employed to perform errands and to attend to the janitor work.

The study room will be warmed and open for study each morning at 6 o'clock for those who desire to study before school.

Due care will at all times be exercised to promote the health, comfort, moral and social well-being of every inmate of the College.

UNIVERSITY ACADEMY.

Information.

The University Academy provides instruction in five different courses.

First. The Preparatory Classical, embracing three year's study, prepares the student for the Freshman class of the same course in the College of Liberal Arts.

Second. The Preparatory, Latin and Scientific, embracing three years of study, prepares the student for the Freshman class of the same course in the College of Liberal Arts.

Third. The Preparatory, Literature and Art Course, which is the same as the Latin and Scientific, prepares the student for the Freshman class in the same course in the College of Liberal Arts.

Fourth. The Teacher's Course is prepared for those who do not wish to take a College course, but who desire to fit themselves thoroughly to teach in the public schools of common and high grade. It embraces a three year's course. See Course of Study for the branches taught in this course, and statement under Normal department.

Fifth. The Business Course aims to give the student the most thorough and practical education that can be obtained in two year's study. A thorough knowledge of all kinds of business papers, such as promissory notes, drafts, checks, deeds, mortgages, etc., together with the laws relating to them, and the more important principles of political economy will be required, and great care will be taken to give the student the latest and best information in all the studies of the course, which is described in another place.

All the studies preparatory to any of the Academical courses, are taught in the Grammar School.

Diplomas.

Students completing any of the five courses in the Academy will be awarded diplomas certifying the work done. All who desire diplomas must write a graduating essay or oration, and hand it in to the President by the first day of May. A committee will select eight of the best of these productions to be delivered at the graduating exercises.

YOUNG MEN'S BOARDING HALL.

One year ago, a building was purchased and remodeled so as to accommodate forty young men and boys with good rooms at a charge of $1.00 a month for each room, and table board at $1.50 per week. In this way, two boys have generally roomed together and reduced their room rent to fifty cents each per month. There are rooms in the University building for thirty more young men at the same price. Many of those in the University building have taken their meals at the Boarding Hall, which is only two blocks distant. More than eighty young men have boarded in the Hall either all or a part of the past year, with an average of nearly fifty during the whole year.

The President of the University and family board with the young men and exercise a general oversight. Mrs. A. R. Boeschen performs the duty of matron, and Mr. Boeschen has general charge of the cooking. Mr. B., having had much experience in this work, is most competent. The design is to charge the young men for board only what the material and cooking cost. For the price, the board has been very satisfactory, and supplies a long felt want in the University.

The young men are expected to supply furniture for their own rooms. This will cost from $6 to $15 each, according to the value of the furniture. Many buy second-hand furniture. All furniture can be re-sold when the students leave. Furniture can be left in the rooms and no room-rent is charged during vacation. Bed clothing can be brought in a trunk or box, and save buying.

Board for five weeks in advance and room-rent for ten weeks in advance is charged. Any one being away for more than one week at a time, on account of sickness, will be given credit on board for time lost, but no room-rent will be refunded. The greatest care has to be taken to meet expenses in boarding at such low rates. Students, on arriving in Salem, can come directly to the Hall and find a home and friends at once. Board and tuition for the school year will cost from $92 to $112, according to the advancement of the student:

NORMAL INSTRUCTION.

Special training is provided for those students who are preparing for the profession of teaching. An English course, consisting of such studies as are considered most practicable for teachers of high school and common school grade, has been arranged. Students completing this course of study are awarded diplomas. More students have graduated from this course than from any other Normal School in the State. It has become very popular with those who desire a good practical English education. Those who have pursued studies in other good schools, and wish to take advance standing in this as well as any other of the courses laid down in this Catalogue, can do so by presenting a certificate of scholarship in the schools which they have left. In addition to the regular course of normal study, lectures on the theory and practice of teaching are given by the President and other prominent educators of the State actually in the work of teaching; so that the student not only obtains a good education, but also learns the most advanced and best methods of instruction. The success with which graduates from this school are meeting in almost every county of the State, and in other States and Territories, is of great encouragement to the authorities of this institution. With the increased facilities for board and cheap living for students, not excelled anywhere, the outlook for a very large attendance was never so hopeful.

COURSE FOR NON-RESIDENTS.

The course prescribed herein for the degree of Ph. B., is issued by the University. The idea is to put regularly arranged work under the direction of the University within the reach of non-residents. The purpose is to afford a tolerably full course of Academic reading to those who cannot attend a College.

Remarks Concerning the Course for Ph. B.

It is a course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy, and is intended to occupy about four years of study. This is not an arbitrary limit, but a student may complete it in such time as he may be able. It will be seen that a generous range of electives is allowed in order to meet the wishes of persons pursuing different branches of science. The course covers more or less of the following departments: Language, Mathematics, Natural Science, History, Mental, Moral, and Political Science, Rhetoric, Æsthetics, and Christian Evidences. All required studies of the first five units (indicated by I., II., etc. See course of study.) must be taken, and those also of one of the remaining four units. It is left to the student to choose which one of them he will pursue. To this number must be added from the lists denominated Elective, or from the other language units, enough studies to make the number forty. If an additional language unit is taken as Elective, at least the required part of it must be taken.

No examination for entrance to this course is required. Still, it will be observed that considerable preliminary training is necessary in order to prosecute it successfully.

Certificates from reputable schools can be accepted for certain parts of the requirements for Ph. B.

General Remarks.

So far as texts are concerned, the courses are suggestive. Those laid down are works which, in comprehensiveness, will be taken as the standard for the preparation of examination work. Where substitutes are desired, they should be submitted to the President for the approval of the Faculty.

Where examiners are not already appointed, candidates are at liberty to name, at the time the matriculation fee is paid, some person of known standing before whom they desire to sit, and the Faculty will decide upon his acceptability. Preference will always be given to the nomination of clergymen, or educators not officially connected with the matriculant. The work of examiners is supervisory merely, as question papers are sent to them by the Faculty, and the answers returned by them for marking.

The times set for the examinations are the months of April and October, before the first day of which requests for papers should be in the hands of the President, and all papers must be written before the first day of the following month. The questions are topical, and relate principally to general facts. Fairness and a proper test of one's knowledge are thus assured. Matriculants may request such papers as they choose, for the University does not prescribe what, or what number of subjects, are to be taken at the semi-yearly examinations.

It is not required that candidates for Ph. B. present themselves at the University.

THEOLOGY.

Rev. Nehemiah Doane, D. D., Lecturer.

At the beginning of the present year, a Lectureship in Theology was established for the purpose of furnishing students who are preparing for the Christian ministry as their life work, increased facilities for acquiring such preparation.

This department comprises instruction in the external, internal, collateral, and experimental evidences of Christianity, and in all the Doctrines and Duties set forth in the Holy Scriptures, following the order usually pursued in extended treatises on these subjects.

The design is, to adapt these lectures, as much as possible, to the capacity of all classes of students, whether they are more or less advanced in their studies. Nearly thirty students, preparing for the ministry, have been benefitted by these lectures during the past year.

ANCIENT LANGUAGES.

Rev. Thomas Van Scoy, D. D., Professor.

Five recitations a week through four years, and three recitations a week for one, are given in the Latin language and literature. For the first three years, the grammar is constantly taught, together with Latin prose, composition, and the reading of the standard authors. In the second and third years, special attention is given to construction and the formation of sentences. The fourth and fifth years are devoted mainly to the literature of the language and reading the best authors. The same method is pursued with the Greek. In addition to the classic literature, one recitation a week during a year is given to the study of Hellenistic Greek and the reading of selections from the New Testament. The study of Hebrew is continued for one year. Most of this time is spent upon the structure of the language. The student is able to read selections from the Bible during about half the year, and obtains such a knowledge of the language that he is able readily to pursue it by his own effort.

NATURAL HISTORY AND LITERATURE.

Wm. S. Arnold, A. M., Professor.

Quite a large collection of fossils, minerals, etc., is provided for the aid of the teacher in imparting the most practical knowledge of Geology and Minerology.

Zoology and Botany are illustrated by a great many specimens of Natural History gathered from various parts of the country; most of the animals and birds of Oregon, and neighboring States, are represented by stuffed specimens, nicely mounted. Physiological charts, a superior manakin, skeleton bones and other material, render the advantages for the study of Physiology most excellent.

The most thorough work is done in English Literature, Political Economy and Book-keeping, as well as other kindred studies in a business education.

The object in this Department, is not only to familiarize the student with the text book, but also to make him an intelligent observer of the works of nature about him.

MATHEMATICS.

T. C. Jory, A. M., Professor.

The course embraces Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry with its usual applications, Analytical Geometry, and Calculus.

Thorough instruction is given in the principles of these branches, with a view to the development of the power of independent thought and original investigation. In addition, therefore, to a careful study of the demonstrations and solutions furnished in the text-books, original demonstrations of many theorems are required, and the most important conclusions of the mathematicians are carefully traced to their sources, the definitions and axioms on which they ultimately depend.

Finally: in order to develop a habit of careful attention to details, without which progress is difficult and excellence impossible, correctness, conciseness and neatness are required in all class exercises, both oral and written.

ART DEPARTMENT.

Miss Marie Craig, Instructor.

Information.

This work is in charge of an accomplished instructor. Drawing and design are taught, as also painting in all its branches.

It is hoped that the friends of art culture will aid in the equipment of a studio with gifts of casts, specimens of pottery, art works and charts.

Decorative art is made a specialty. When the weather is suitable, the pupils of the department are taken by their teacher to sketch from nature. Many of them make very rapid progress. Pupils are first taught pattern drawing, then put at the more difficult work of drawing from objects. Afterward, they are allowed to advance to paintings in India Ink, and Sepia and Oil painting.

At present, this department of work is made to supplement the course in literature and art, for the completion of which the degree of Bachelor of Literature is conferred. It is hoped from the present success of art work in the University, soon to be able to outline a curriculum and award honors for advancement in this with its correlated branches of study.

The Art Department and Conservatory of Music comprise the work designed to be done under the auspices of the Woman's College.

ELOCUTION.

Miss Binnie DeForest, Ph. B., Instructor.

This line of study is in the charge of a teacher who has made this important branch a special work. The students are arranged in classes, and special drill is given to each one to develop the vocal organs, by which a great ease and variety of utterance is attainable. Much care is taken also to acquire a proper emphasis and expression to voice, feature and gesture, in order to bring out and impress the full meaning of the author. Public exercises are appointed frequently during the year, in which the students render such pieces as will make a first-class entertainment, and at the same time give confidence and readiness in delivery. By this method the poorest readers have, in a short time, not only become good readers, but have been able to render before an audience, in an excellent manner, very difficult pieces.

About one hundred of the students have received special elocutionary instruction during the present year. These students are excused from the regular duty of declaiming in the various sections appointed for this work under the other teachers.

A prize contest in declamation is appointed during Commencement week each year to be engaged in by ten persons, selected from those taking regular elocution lessons.

SCIENCE.

Rev. S. A. Starr, A. M., B. D., Professor.

Throughout the entire Junior year, instruction is given in mechanics, hydrostatics, acoustics, electricity, heat and optics. The text book used in physics is Snell's Olmsted.

During the first and second terms of the Junior year, instruction is given in inorganic and organic chemistry, and during the second term qualitative analysis is taken up, and the students are made familiar with chemical reactions, and acquire skill and precision in chemical manipulations; each student performs his operations and makes his investigations under the immediate supervision of the Professor.

In the Academy, the last two terms of the third year, the class study Steele's Descriptive Astronomy, and are made familiar with the constellations of the heavens, visible in our latitude, during the year; and in the College the Senior class receive instruction in Loomis' Mathematical Astronomy, during the last two terms of the year.

In the department of Philosophy, the subjects taught are the facts of mental phenomena: embracing the cognitions, feelings and conative powers; the laws of thought; the philosophy of the beautiful and good; the history of philosophy; the evidences of Christianity; and the analogy of Bishop Butler.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

Miss Bertha Moores, B. S., Instructor.

German and French are taught in this department. From one to two years are spent on each of these languages. In the Modern Literature course and in the Latin Scientific, the study of these two languages is continued through two full years. After completing the course in the grammar and reading exercises, the most popular and standard authors are taken up, and the student is made acquainted with the very best German and French literature. Care is also taken to make the student acquainted with a vocabulary of words in common use so as to render the task of learning to converse in these languages as easy and practicable as possible.

COMMON ENGLISH.

Miss Minnie Cunningham, B. S., Instructor.

This work comprises a thorough training in those common English branches preparatory to entering upon the more advanced courses of study. Many parents prefer to send their children to the University, while yet quite young, in order to have the advantage of being regularly trained for the higher courses, in the same institution, and in order to obtain the benefits of association with older and more advanced school-mates. The department of Common English has been provided for such pupils. While pursuing these branches, and while they are constantly mingling with those in advance of themselves, these younger pupils become enthusiastic to continue their study, and a very large per cent. of them go on into the higher grades.

FRANKIE JONES, PRINCIPAL PIANO DEPARTMENT.

Piano, Organ and Harmony.

EVA COX,

Piano, Organ and Thorough Bass.

LULU SMITH, ASSISTANT TEACHER.

Information.

The Conservatory of Music affords facilities for a thorough and symmetrical education in the theory and practice of music. The value of music as an element of culture depends very largely upon the other elements of culture, literary and scientific, acquired with it. It is therefore, advised that the pupils in music pursue at the same time some other study or studies in one of the departments of the University. An exclusive musical education will, however, be given to those who desire it, and instruction may be taken for any longer or shorter time. Special opportunities will be afforded to those who desire to fit themselves for the profession, either as artists or teachers.

Pupils have the choice of two courses, the Virtuoso and the Post Graduate. The Virtuoso course requires the pupil to have a thorough knowledge of the Theory of Music, including Harmony, History of Music, including a familiarity with the lives and works of the Great Masters; to become an artist upon some instrument or as a singer.

The Post Graduate course adds to the Virtuoso course the study of Counterpoint and Fugue, Orchestration, and continued studies in advanced piano-forte playing and voice training, preparing the student for the degree of Bachelor of Music in Course.

By attending the Conservatory, pupils are brought under the influence of systematic teaching, and in the associating with other pupils are stimulated to more earnest effort. The instruction given is according to the methods now in use in the best eastern Conservatories. Persons on this coast who desire a complete and satisfactory course in Music need not be at the expense of going East. Salem is well adapted as a city for a school of Music, being as it is, in many respects, the Boston of the Pacific Coast. The society in Salem is of the very best, and all influences are of an elevating character.

The Conservatory has ample facilities for all who wish the best instruction, having at present five teachers, five pianos, three organs—one being a fine pedal instrument. All pupils are advised and encouraged to take a regular course and graduate.

The free advantages deserve special mention. They are equivalent to fifty free lessons each year if pupils take the advantage of them. 1st. Public rehearsals are held twice each term, at which pupils of the proper advancement appear in songs and instrumental solos, four and eight-hand pieces. 2d. Lectures upon Musical History, etc., are given occasionally. 3d. Pupils of the fourth and fifth grades will receive two terms one lesson each week in methods of teaching. 4th. Chorus rehearsals are held once a week. 5th. Pupils have access to the Conservatory Library.

Visitors are always welcome, and are invited to come and see the regular work of the pupils.

Branches Taught.

Class Teaching.

The class system of teaching music is very popular wherever it has been thoroughly tested. Pupils improve faster when brought into competition with each other than when privately instructed.

WM. H. HOLMES, Esq.,

Professor of Criminal Law, Constitutional Admiralty and Maritime Law.

J. T. GREGG, Esq.,

Professor of Common Law and the Law of Evidence.

Course of Instruction.

The course of study in the College of Law occupies two years, the students being divided into two classes, the Junior and Senior.

The daily exercises consist of lectures and recitations from standard text-books, the latter being accompanied by oral explanations.

The student will be frequently referred to the leading cases on the subject under consideration, and required to be prepared for questions upon them at the next exercises; they will also be encouraged to put questions freely to the instructors at all recitations.

Moot courts will be held regularly, at which one of the professors will preside, and the students will act as counsel. The students will be required to draw all the necessary pleadings according to the common law or equity forms, as the case may be, and discuss their sufficiency.

The plan of study comprises various branches of common law, equity, jurisprudence, commercial, international, constitutional, criminal and maritime law.

The first year of the course is devoted to the study of general commentaries upon municipal law, the law of contracts, of real-estate and commercial law.

The second year includes equity, jurisprudence, the law of torts, criminal law, evidence, pleading and practice.

The principal text-books to be used in the course are Blackstone's Commentaries, Tiedman on Real Property, Kent's Commentaries, Parsons on Contracts, Cooley on Torts, Bispam's Equity, Wharton's Criminal Law latest edition, Greanleaf on Evidence, Chitty on Pleadings, Vol. I., Bliss on Code Pleading and Daniel on Negotiable Instruments.

Other text-books will be used for reference and illustration.

It is believed that a number of students can obtain positions in law offices in Salem and get the use of books free of charge.

Students will find their own books.

State Library.

Students have free access to the State Library, which contains a large collection of law text-books and complete set of the United States Supreme Court Reports, and the reports of nearly all the States and Territories.

The Courts.

The Supreme Court of this State holds all of its sessions in Salem and sits nearly the whole school year. The Circuit and County Courts have regular sessions in this place. Students can attend these Courts when cases of importance are being tried, and become familiar with legal business.

Lectures.

Members of the Faculty will, in addition to the ordinary expositions given during recitations, deliver lectures upon important legal topics when deemed advisable, and also eminent members of the bar from different parts of the State will deliver lectures to the students occasionally.

Examinations.

In addition to the examinations which will occur at the beginning and close of the year, the classes will be examined as frequently as the Faculty may deem it advisable.

Students desiring to enter the Junior class will be examined as to their qualifications on the third Tuesday of September, and they must at the same time, unless they are personally known to some member of the Faculty, present certificates showing that they are possessed of good moral character.

Graduation and Degrees.

Students who have pursued the full course of study and have passed satisfactory examinations and complied with the rules of the College of Law, will be recommended by the faculty for graduation, and the corporation will confer upon them the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Admission to the Bar.

The Faculty confidently hope that arrangements will be made by which graduates of this College will be admitted to the bar of all the Courts of this State without examination.

Attendance and Deportment.

It is desirable that all students enter the school at the beginning of the year.

All students will be expected and required to attend all recitations of their respective classes, and to pursue their studies diligently, except when excused from so doing by sickness or other good cause.

Students will be expected and required to conduct themselves with propriety, and to refrain from intemperance, gambling, and other misconduct, and to obey all rules and regulations adopted by the Faculty or Trustees.

Classes.

Students will not be admitted to the Junior class unless they possess at least a good common school education, and, if they have not received a degree from some college of art, they must satisfy the Faculty that they possess such education. A knowledge of Latin is desired, but not required.

The students who pursue their studies at this school for one year and pass a satisfactory examination in all the studies of the Junior year, will be admitted to the Senior class.

Students who have pursued the study of law a year in some other college of law, or have studied law under a competent instructor for at least one year, and pass a satisfactory examination by the Faculty of this college in the branches taught in the Junior year or their equivalents, may be admitted to the Senior class.

Scholastic Year.

The school year begins on the third Wednesday in September of each year and ends on the third Wednesday in May, and this year constitutes one term. Students will not be admitted for a shorter period than one year.

Expenses.

The charges for tuition will be $50.00 per annum for the first year, one-half of which must be paid or secured at the beginning of the year. A fee of $5.00 will be charged at graduation to those receiving diplomas.

Board and Lodging can be obtained at reasonable rates.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The twenty-second annual Course of Lectures will commence on Tuesday, October 11, 1887, and continue six months. Commencement exercises for conferring degrees, will be held Monday, April 9, 1888. There will be a vacation from December 23rd to January 3rd. Lectures will also be suspended on Thanksgiving day.

Didactic Lectures.

Principles and Practice of Medicine.—Four lectures are given each week, throughout the session, in this department. The principles of medicine are considered, as illustrated in individual diseases, special attention being devoted to the diagnosis, prognosis and treatment of diseased condition.

Principles and Practice of Surgery.—Three lectures are given each week on the subjects included in this important department.

Anatomy.—Four lectures are given each week throughout the course on this subject, special attention being devoted to the clinical and surgical anatomy of these parts, which are of every day value to the practitioner.

Physiology and Histology.—Four lectures a week throughout the term are given in this department. The lectures are illustrated by diagrams, black board sketches and experiments. The history of the body is carefully described and illustrated.

Chemistry and Toxicology.—Three lectures are delivered each week on general chemistry. The subject of Toxicology receives careful attention.

Obstetrics.—The regular course in this department embraces three lectures each week. The lectures are illustrated by charts, models and with the manikin.

Materia Medica and Therapeutics.—Three lectures are given each week throughout the term. The physiological action of drugs, their therapeutical uses, and the rules which govern their employment in the treatment of diseases are the topics specially dwelt upon.

Diseases of Women and Children.—Three lectures each week throughout the session will be given in this important branch.

Lectures on Special Subjects.

Diseases of the Mind.—The lectures on this subject will be both clinical and scholastic, and will have special reference to the improved methods of research and treatment established by the most recent investigations.

Medical Jurisprudence.—It will be the effort of the lecturer on this subject to teach in a clear and concise manner the relation of the physician to the State—his obligation and privileges, as well as the bearing of medical art and science upon the detection of crime and protection of the innocent, unfortunate and irresponsible.

Eye, Ear, Throat, and Nose.—The course of lectures in this department will be of the most practical character, one didactic and one clinical lecture being given each week during the session with practical lessons on the use of the ophthalmoscope, laryngoscope and otoscope.

Clinical Lectures.

The Faculty, recognizing that no instruction is complete which does not include a certain amount of personal experience, have given clinical teaching a prominent place in the curriculum. Clinical lectures will be given at the Good Samaritan and St. Vincent's Hospitals twice a week and four clinical lectures each week will be given at the College.

Dissections.

The dissections are made under the immediate direction of the demonstrator of anatomy. The students form themselves into classes, generally of five each, and the material is assigned in the order in which they are formed. Students are required to dissect all parts of the cadaver at least once. This constitutes a complete course in dissections, and will be required in all cases before a candidate is eligible for graduation. The Faculty has had an improved Fisher refrigerator built in the basement of the new College building, in which anatomical material can be perfectly preserved at all seasons of the year. It has a capacity for thirty subjects, and is so constructed that the material is not frozen but preserved at a uniform temperature of 36° F. The frequent opportunities for securing material during the summer months, and its preservation any length of time, enable the Faculty to assure their students an abundant supply, and to offer them excellent advantages for prosecuting the important study of anatomy.

The New College Building.

The new College building which has been in course of construction during the past year, is now completed and will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies before the opening of the next session. The original plans of this beautiful and substantial building have been carried out in the most liberal manner. It is situated on Fourteenth and C streets—the geographical center of the city—is convenient to the city hospitals, and several street car lines.

On the first floor is the clinical lecture room, of ample size, with etherizing room, waiting room, and dispensary, adjoining. On the left of the main entrance is the museum, which is spacious, well lighted, and handsomely finished. On the same floor are the gentlemen's cloak room, toilet, and janitor's living rooms.

On the second floor is the main amphitheater, well ventilated and lighted, and capable of seating one hundred and fifty students. Opening out of this are the chemical laboratory, anatomical rooms, library, and faculty rooms, ladies' cloak room and toilet are on this floor.

On the third floor is the dissecting room, lighted from above and from all sides, thoroughly ventilated, well supplied with water, and with accommodations for twenty tables.

Terms of Admission.

The requirements for admission are :

1. Credible certificates of good moral character. 2. Diploma of graduation from a good literary and scientific college or high school, or a first grade teacher's certificate. Or, lacking this, a thorough examination in the branches of a good English education, including mathematics, English composition, and elementary physics or natural philosophy.

The diploma or certificate must be presented to the Dean of the Faculty, who may (if any doubt exists in regard to qualifications of applicant) subject him to examination.

Admission of Women.

Women will be admitted on the same terms and have the same advantages as men.

Regulations and Requirements for Graduation.

The candidate for the degree of M. D. must be of good moral character, and at least 21 years of age. He must have attended at least two full regular sessions of lectures, not within one and the same year, of which the last shall have been in this COLLEGE, and the previous one—or more—either here, or in some regular college, authorized to confer the degree of M. D., and in which Anatomy, Chemistry, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Physiology, Surgery, Practice of Medicine, Obstetrics and Diseases of Women, Pathology and Hygiene, and Medical Jurisprudence are embraced in the Curriculum. He must have studied medicine for not less than three years, including private tuition, under a regular graduate of medicine, or some regular institution, and have attended at least one course of Clinical Instruction and of Practical Anatomy. Candidates for graduation will be required to take the Dissecting Ticket of this College for at least one session. This rule does not apply to those who are already graduates of other recognized schools.

He must exhibit his tickets, or other adequate evidence of attendance on the required courses of lectures, as well as a satisfactory certificate of his entire period of study, to the Dean of the Faculty, and at the same time present to the Dean a thesis of his own composition, correctly written in his own handwriting, on some medical subject, and pass a satisfactory examination by the Faculty, which shall be written, in Anatomy, Physiology and Hygiene, Chemistry, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Obstetrics, Diseases of Women and Children, Surgery and Practice of Medicine and Pathology.

Students who have attended one complete course in a recognized Medical School, where attendance on two complete courses is necessary for a degree, and where the same branches are taught as in this, are permitted to become candidates by an attendance here on one full course; the rules of graduation being in other respects observed. They are also exempted from the payment of fees upon attending a second term, except a nominal fee of $10.

Students of Dental Colleges where a five months' winter session is held, and where full courses are given on Anatomy, Materia Medica, Physiology and Chemistry, may become candidates, after attendance on two courses at such Colleges, and one full course at this College, with another on Surgery, Practice of Medicine and Pathology, Obstetrics, Diseases of Women and Children and Hygiene.

Students of Colleges of Pharmacy, where full courses are given on Materia Medica and Chemistry, may become candidates, after attendance on two courses at such Colleges, and one full course at this College, with another on Anatomy, Surgery, Practice of Medicine and Pathology, Physiology and Hygiene, Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children.

Students who have attended two full courses on Anatomy, Chemistry, Materia Medica or Physiology, may be examined on any of these branches, at the end of their second course. They are thus enabled to devote their last course to the didactic lectures on the remaining branches, and to clinical study.

Students who have attended two full courses of lectures in other accredited Medical Colleges, are entitled to the tickets of a full course in this College for $80.

Graduates of other accredited Medical Colleges will pay the matriculation fee, and $80 for a general ticket.

To graduates of approved Dental Colleges, the fees for a general ticket are for the first session $100, and for the second session $60; and for College of Pharmacy, the fee for a general ticket is $100 for each session.

No honorary degrees in medicine are granted; and graduates of other schools, who offer as candidates for graduation in this College, are required to attend the lectures, and to pass an examination before the Faculty.

All College dues, and also the Diploma Fee, must be paid before the examination for the degree. But the Diploma Fee is returnable to any one who may withdraw from, or fail at the examination.

All fees are payable in advance ; promissory notes are under no circumstances accepted as payment ; and no ticket is issued until full payment for the same has been made.

Text Books and Instruments.

The work first named on each subject is preferred.

Medical books can be obtained of W. B. Ayer & Co., in this city, at catalogue prices ; and it is recommended that students supply themselves with at least one text-book upon each chair. The following works are especially recommended.

ANATOMY.—Gray, Wilson, Quain, and Heath's Dissector.

PHYSIOLOGY.—Dalton, Yeo, Marshall and Carpenter.

MATERIA MEDICA.—Farquharson's Therapeutics and Materia Medica. Bartholow, Wood, U. S. Dispensatory.

MIND.—Blonford, Maudsley, Bucknell, Hammond, and Tuke.

MEDICAL JURIPRUDENCE.—Wharton and Stille.

CHEMISTRY.—Youman's, Fown's, etc.

OPHTHALMOLOGY AND AURAL DISEASES.—Juler's Hand Book of Ophthalmic Science and Practice. Nettleship's Student's Guide to Diseases of the Eye. Roosa on the Ear.

The latest editions only of text-books should be purchased by students.

A "dissecting case" containing all the necessary instruments, can be bought for $4.00.

Terms.

The fee for a full Course of Lectures is $120; Matriculation ticket (paid but once), $5; Demonstrator's ticket for each course, $10; Graduation fee, $30. Tickets for one or any of the Departments may be had separately at $20 each, with Matriculation fee paid but once.

Students who have paid for two full courses in this school, are entitled to attend free of charge thereafter.

No variation is made, under any circumstances, from the established fees of the College.

The Expense of Living in Portland, Etc.

The expense of living in the city of Portland will, of course, vary according to the views and habits of students. At the present time, good board, including lodging, fire and light, may be had at a convenient distance from the College, at from $5 to $7 per week. Pains are taken to provide a list of boarding-houses in the vicinity of the College to suit the wishes and means of students.

Persons desiring further information are requested to address the Dean of the Faculty.
