Queen Polly Will Reign Next Weekend

Polly Pollock was chosen to reign over the May Weekend festivities as the students votes were tallied at a Wednesday election. Her princesses will be Betty Ferguson and Avis Roberts.

Queen Polly, major in English literature, has been active in Delta Gamma, being pledge president, rush chairman, and panhellenic representative. She was a Collegian reporter in her junior year, and her professors and friends know her as dependable and cooperative, friendly, with a ready smile for everyone.

Polly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Pollock, are both graduates of Willamette. Mr. Pollock, in the advertising business, is on the board of trustees, and was the former president of the Portland Alumni club.

The ten candidates for queen were introduced at last Tuesday's chapel, and each gave a short speech telling about herself.

Florence Goodrich is in charge of helping to plan the court's wardrobe and entertainment.

Queen Polly, along with other senior girls, has been enjoying late permission as a reward for passing orals early this week.

She is being married this summer to Al Fedje, also a senior, son of Dr. and Mrs. Roy A. Fedje.

May Week Approach Prompts Promises, Hurried Preparations

By Bill MacDougall

Two o'clock permissions, by courtesy of the Deans, dismissal of classes on Friday after 11 a.m., by courtesy of the faculty, and no corsages at the Saturday formal, by courtesy of the campus males and student council, will be welcome additions to the May Weekend plans of the University next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

With sororities and fraternities singing night and day before their presentation on Friday at 11 a.m. and 12 noon, respectively, everyone was beginning this week to feel the pinch for time. Waller hall lights burned late as players in the drama, "The Man who Would Be Sick," polished their lines for Thursday evening's performance for Salemites and Friday night's for University residents.

Rivalry Gets Spotlight

Class rivalry will also enter the spotlight on Thursday night, when sophomores attend the barbecue watch from 7 to 8 p.m., freshmen from 8 to 9 p.m., seniors from 9 to 10 p.m., and juniors from 10 to 11 p.m.

The barbecue will begin at 1:15 p.m. on Friday afternoon following the fraternity sing, and will be served by Sigma Alpha Chi and Alpha Phi Omega, Willamette service honoraries. Entertainment for the afternoon event will start at 1:30, though barbecue chairman Ted Loder said that he could not yet announce the actual numbers scheduled. The class with least attendance will clean up the trash on the following day.

Sixty cents for non-campus residents, and twenty-five cents for all others, including sororities, will be the price of tickets for the barbecue. Each living organization will receive an allotment of tickets which must be sold before 10:30 a.m. on Friday, under penalty of a straight sixty-cent ticket for all who fail to buy one beforehand.

Trucks Will Pick Up Women

Trucks will pick up women from each living organization at each hour before the Thursday evening watch. If the weather is favorable, the barbecue will be held on Sweetland field without the use of the grandstand.

Charlie Nee will head the May Weekend entertainment, and Marion Sparks is the chairman of the dance committee. "In a Japanese Garden" will be this year's theme for the formal on Saturday night. Coronation of the queen will be held in the sunken gardens of the capitol at 1:30 on Saturday.

Sophomore-freshman rivalry will flare anew on Saturday afternoon, when the men from the two classes will vie to gain and defend the greased pole at 3 p.m. on Saturday, while sophomore women will dance in the daisy chain at the same hour.

Concluding the festivities on Sunday will be services at the Methodist church.

Escorts for the May queen candidates on Tuesday were Loren Ranton, Roger Adams, Al Fedje, Buz Sawyer, Dave Place, Earl Fedje, Harry Summers, Art Dimond, Bill Moore, Warren Eckles and Bob McMullen.

Vote in Chapel Soon Will Select Collins Scholarships Candidates

By Elizabeth Morley

Three women and three men from the sophomore class will receive the Mary L. Collins scholarship awards for 1950-51 this year instead of the usual four awards given. Student body members will vote for ten in the near future, in chapel.

The registrar's office announces the following sophomore men and women, who have a g.p.a. of 3.30 or better and thus qualify as possible candidates for the Collins scholarships:

Men to be voted on are George Adams, John Anicker, Keith C. Bayer, Arthur O. Bishop, Wallace Boe, Eldon Caley, Glen Halliday, Cyril Hull, Ted Loder, Bill MacDougall, Marquis McClanahan, Wayne Meusey, Ralph Onzuka, Pat Paddock and Russell Zink.

Any sophomore students with an accumulative g.p.a. of 3.30 or better whose names might have been omitted from this list should report to the president's office not later than May 4.

The Mary L. Collins scholarship was created by Truman W. Collins in December 1941 in honor of his mother, Mary L. Collins. The first two scholarships were awarded for the college year 1942-43 and were held by the late Dix Moser and Eleanor Todd Wilson. The purpose of the fund is to offer financial assistance to a very limited number of students on the basis of character, leadership and scholarship.

Amounts and conditions surrounding the awards are subject, from year to year, to the discretion of the supervisory group.

From the ten receiving the largest number of votes, the faculty will select three women and three men having the best records. Each of these will receive $200 for the junior year and $200 for the senior year, over and above any other scholarship held, provided the student stays at Willamette.

Application blanks for the Collins graduate scholarship must be in by May 6, according to word from the president's office.

Last year's Collins scholarship winners were Jackie Chute, Art Dimond, Jack Gunn and Diane Proctor.

Past Election Returns Bring Comment From S.B. Officer

"I like 'em," said Art Dimond, second vice-president, Tuesday about forthcoming student body elections. "If we don't get a larger vote this time, we won't get a larger vote."

A less than fifty per cent balloting which has prevailed in recent elections was the cause of this comment which was echoed by other officers as they discussed the prospects of elections scheduled here for May 9.

Though petitions for the offices of president, first vice-president, second vice-president, secretary, and class representatives for next year's sophomore, junior and senior classes were being filled by many students, interest in the spring elections was questioned by Dimond, who said that some candidates in the past year have won a bare majority of votes, and that small sections of the campus were able to swing the vote one direction or another.

Petitions will be due in the ASWU office by 4 p.m. on Wednesday, May 3, and must be signed by 25 registered members of the student body. Nomination speeches will be given at chapel the following week.

Polls on May 9 will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. as well as 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday. If a revote is necessary, then it will take place on the same days of the following week.

Petitions are to be written in this manner: "We, the undersigned of the ASWU, wish to place upon the ballot for student body elections the name of _____, candidate for the office of _____."

Dead Week Starts Monday, Provides Rest From Exams

Dead week will return to its former Monday to Friday place as the seven days before May Weekend, decided the faculty Tuesday in its regular meeting.

Since the Wednesday to Wednesday week of no tests had been approved only in connection with Freshman Glee, the former practice will again be used. No action was taken to change the procedure, and the question was raised only for clarification, according to faculty members.

No tests will be permitted by the administration next week, though the following Monday will again be open to examinations.

Fifth Year Due Future Teachers

Students planning to enter the teaching profession will have to go to school for at least five years in order to receive a certificate from Willamette, according to an action taken this week by the faculty. The plan will go into effect with this year's sophomore class, but Dr. George Martin, head of the education department, hoped that as many upperclassmen as could would take the fifth year.

The purpose of the plan is the promotion of fewer but better trained teachers. Permission to enter and continue in the teacher-training courses may be refused when the evidence indicates that the student does not possess the qualities leading to a successful teaching career.

Martin said that the reputation of the University would increase by such a plan. He added, "We feel that it is better to train 30 or 40, doing it well, and then place them, instead of the present group of about 60." Many of the teachers turned out each year have not been placed, he said.

The education courses during the junior and senior years will be secondary to the requirements for graduation and to the proper preparation of prospective teachers in subject-matter areas.

Student teaching will be taken during the fifth year. Emphasis will be on teacher-training and certification.

A student applying for admission to the training program must have an over-all grade-point-average of 2.5. In addition, he must receive permission of the head of the education department and have a satisfactory record as reported in the dean's office.

The minimum program and recommended semester includes secondary School in American Life (fall, junior year) Educational psychology (fall, senior year), General methods (spring, senior year), student teaching (each semester, fifth year) Teaching methods (either semester, fifth year), Oregon history and school law and other special courses which may be added later.

No student will be assigned to student-teaching without the written approval of the department or departments in which he plans to teach and of the education department.

This approval will be based on completion of required course with acceptable grades, good use of oral and written English, and evidence of strong teaching abilities.

A story based on government statistics in regard to teaching prospects is printed on page two.

Let's Leave It Up to the Profs

The recommended changes in attendance regulations represent modifications, not revisions. Good enough. No one will argue with the slow approach. But even modification should aim at a reasonable improvement.

The only important innovation is that attendance at upper division courses is left to the individual professor's discretion. Attendance at lower division courses remains unchanged. Retained is the childish disciplinary system of compulsion and what amounts to a double penalty for absence, which students object to in the present system.

From an administrative point of view it no doubt makes for a pretty set of records for absences to be turned in and analyzed into neat categories such as excused, unexcused and legal cut. It may gratify the conscience of administrative officials to put people on probation for not attending class. But it does not get the important job done. That is still left to the professor.

Most professors we have talked to say that they don't care whether a cut is legal or an absence is excused. If class work is missed it must be made up or these profs grade accordingly. This seems reasonable. Putting students on probation as well does not seem reasonable. Requiring them also to trot around and get a trumped-up excuse signed appears like a tithe to the red tape addicts.

Students are supposed to come to Willamette for an education. No matter how entangled in red tape they become they will get that education from their professors, not the personnel deans.

It seems reasonable that office records should be maintained for freshmen students during an orientation period. It would appear practical that thereafter the individual professor would want to maintain a record of attendance at his classes. If the professor needs the assistance of the personnel deans, he knows how to secure it. Also if he notices a student who needs the assistance of the personal deans, he will advise that student accordingly.

If three cuts are to be legalized they ought to be allowed whenever the student chooses to take them, including before and after holidays and vacations. The legal cut of course is misunderstood by students. We are not supposed to take the legal cuts. They are merely an administrative device. That is the trouble with the suggested new attendance plan. It is an administrative device. It is not so much a modification as it is a codification of what already exists.

We say, leave it up to the individual professor to adjust his attendance requirements to the needs of his individual course.

Prospect Good for Grade, High School Teachers

Graduates trained for elementary teaching should find a wide choice of employment opportunities in most states this spring. On the other hand, prospective teachers at the secondary level will find a highly competitive employment situation in all but a few subject fields.

Last year, only one student completed training for elementary teaching for every three who were needed; this year, the shortage will be nearly as acute. The number of students completing preparation for high school teaching in 1949 was four times as great as the demand; the oversupply in 1950 is expected to be even greater.

Prospects for Elementary Teachers

The need for teachers in elementary schools will continue to increase over the next several years. According to a recent study by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, enrollments in grades one to eight will probably rise sharply for the next seven years in most states and then level off. The total number of elementary teaching positions will therefore increase considerably, perhaps by more than 260,000 in the next seven years. The number of new teachers required annually will be greatest about 1953, the year when the sharpest increase in enrollments is expected.

Many more new teachers are required each year as replacements than for new positions, even in the current period of rapid growth of elementary school population. On the basis of a conservative rate of seven percent, it is estimated that over half a million elementary teachers will be required in the next ten years to replace those who die, retire, or leave the classrooms for other reasons. In addition, a sizeable number will be needed to replace some of the persons now teaching on emergency certificates.

Prospects for Secondary Teachers

Strong competition for high school teaching positions is expected in the country as a whole for the next few years at least. However, the distribution of teachers both by locality and by subject field is such that some schools suffer shortages while others have many applicants for each job. With few exceptions, shortages are now limited to rural areas and such special subject fields as home economics. The greatest oversupply in most states is in men's physical education, the social sciences, and English.

It is likely that education and experience requirements will be raised, in line with the prewar trend. Students taking training for high school teaching should plan to get a master's degree in order to qualify for the best employment opportunities.

The requirements were raised at Willamette this week.

Enrollments in grades nine to 12 are expected to decline until about 1952. Therefore, the need for high school teachers will be limited largely to replacements

Attendance regulations are again under discussion. The faculty sub-committee on regulations, with the cooperation of the student council, has formulated a tentative plan which it will submit to the educational policy committee next Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Faculty members are invited and students are asked to present their considered opinions to members of the student council who will be given a chance to express student reaction at the meeting.

Faculty members are invited and according to Dr. Martin, chairman of the committee on regulations, "students are invited to present their considered opinions to members of the student council who are invited to this meeting and will be given a chance to express student relations."

THE PROPOSED PLAN

The following recommendations regarding the procedure by which the University policy on attendance may become effective in practice represent a modification and not a complete revision of the present regulations. It seems best to modify and to make changes which may prove useful, giving each change a fair trial, and then to move on to such other modifications as subsequent experience may show to be desirable.

With this in mind, the problem of attendance regulations has been considered under the following four headings: attendance requirements, attendance reports, absences and excuses.

1. Attendance Requirements

- The policy of Willamette University is one which expects all students to attend classes regularly.
- Attendance in Lower Division courses (100-299) is required and regular attendance reports are expected.
- Attendance in Upper Division courses (300-599) is at the discretion of the individual faculty member, controlled by requirements which he may determine according to the needs of the particular course.

2. Attendance Reports

- Attendance records should be kept by individual faculty members in sufficient detail to make possible accurate absence reports.
- Absence is reported daily in Lower Division courses.
- Absence in Upper Division courses is reported—

- When an excessive number is accumulated for the student and after the student is given prior information of the action, and
- For all students receiving a D or an F at the mid-term report periods.

- This attendance report is to be turned in with these grades
- A form will be provided for this purpose.

3. Absence

- More than three unexcused absences in Lower Division courses will be cause for probationary action by the Personnel Deans.
- Absence in Upper Division courses may be judged by the standards set by each faculty member for the particular course.
- Absence in all classes before and after holidays and vacations is subject to probationary action by the Deans.

4. Excuses

- Absence excuses are obtained from the Dean's office and are presented to the faculty member to permit make-up work.
- Excused absences may be allowed by the Dean's office for such reasons as may be justified.

Want to Move a Greenhouse? See Dan Schulze

What happens when a greenhouse suddenly finds itself in the middle of a street?

If anyone is qualified to answer this question, German Professor Dan Schulze is. For he has just been granted approval to sub-divide three and a half acres in south Salem hills by the city planning and zoning commission. And that's where the greenhouse comes in.

In order to serve the lots gained by sub-dividing, a street had to be laid out. The street, which nips a part of Dr. Schulze's present driveway, bisects his greenhouse. Of course, it isn't practical to run a street through a greenhouse. What does he plan to do? Why, tear it down and move it to a new location. That's what happens to all greenhouses that wind up in the middle of the street.

But, according to the Doctor, the greenhouse was only one problem of many incident to the sub-division. There were rocks and trees to be dug out, and surveyors had to lay out the land. (The figure Dr. Schulze named for the surveyor's fee was enough to make this reporter want to turn to surveying.) Nearly every city official in Salem had to sign the approval. In addition, a city ordinance complicated matters and forced the Doctor into making up names.

The ordinance states that any area affording more than four lots from sub-division is an addition and has to be named. Dr. Schulze used a combination of three letters from his wife's first name and his own to come up with "Amedan." In similar manner, he named the street, but this time he borrowed three letters from each of his sons' names. Salem's new street will be known as "Merdell" Avenue. Thus, he said with a smile, "The Schulze family is immortalized in Salem."

At least one faculty member will be Dr. Schulze's neighbor. Dean Robert Gregg has begun construction on one of the lots directly below Dr. Schulze.

The south Salem hills have long attracted faculty members. In addition to Dr. Schulze, one may find Prof. Murco Ringnald and Band Director Maurice Brennan up where the view is of the city and the mountains. At present, Coach Chester Stackhouse is building a home up in the district which threatens to become a faculty members' second campus.

Living in the hills can have its ups and downs, according to Prof. Ringnald. This is especially true in the winter when "unseasonal" snow and ice cover the streets. Automobile driving becomes too much of a chore, especially that part of it which requires the putting on of tire chains.

Hence, Prof. Ringnald disclosed, he preferred walking the distance to the university rather than struggling with the chains. That is, unless someone more gifted in such matters dropped by to pick him up.

Oh, for the life of a hill dweller.

Spring Fever

TIME TO TALK

Next Tuesday the student council will meet with the faculty committee to discuss the proposed attendance plan discussed on this page. Thereafter it will be too late for students to beef and complain about "arbitrary rules." Read the proposed plan. Tell the members of the student council what you think. If you can't corner one of them in the halls write a letter to Russ Tripp, student body president, and leave it in the student body office. Other members of the student council are Rog Adams, first vice-president; Art Dimond, second vice-president; Chuck Patterson, member-at-large; and Rod Beals, Jack Gunn, Dick Hartley, class representatives.—The Editor.

Honor Society Hears McCall At Conference

College students go into the world of decision without practical decision-making experience, was the observation of Lawson McCall, executive secretary to the governor, who spoke to a large representation of Blue Key representatives gathered on the Willamette campus last Friday.

McCall further blasted at modern educators "who make student life in and out of the classroom too prescribed."

Willamette dined and entertained the nearly 100 Blue Key men, delegates from 11 west coast chapters, as its part in the first western conference ever held in the Pacific Northwest. Most of the meetings were held at Oregon State college. The Blue Key is an upper-classman service honor fraternity.

Russ Tripp, ASWU president, Bob Skirvin, president of the local chapter, and Jack Brown acted as hosts. Scotty Washburn helped conduct business sessions where ideas on student activities and organizations were exchanged.

While in Salem, the delegates toured the state capitol and talked with Governor Douglas McKay.

Chapters attending the conference included Willamette, OSC, Lewis and Clark, Pacific, and chapters of Nevada, Idaho, University of Southern California, Fresno State college, Santa Barbara, San Jose State, and Chico State.

Friendly Feeling Result of Freedom Among Teachers

The friendliness and "family" feeling which exists among the members of the faculty of the Music school are due chiefly to the fact that all faculty members are given unlimited freedom in developing their respective fields, thinks Melvin Geist, dean of the school.

Although there are no restrictions placed on the individual instructors in developing their fields, at the same time, an attempt is made to integrate the all-over musical program for the benefit of the student.

Suggesting other reasons for this friendliness among the faculty, Geist mentioned the receptions which he and Mrs. Geist customarily hold after concerts in which faculty members have participated.

Faculty meetings are held from time to time so that faculty members may discuss their problems. In addition, they are free to discuss their individual problems with the Dean at any time.

Costumes for May Weekend Play To Arrive, Drapes Not Available

By Kent Lawrence

Everything from wigs to silver buckled shoes have been put in a trunk and shipped to the Willamette drama department in order to costume the cast of the May Weekend play, Moliere's seventeenth century comedy, "The Man Who Would Be Sick."

Velvet drapes ordered for the stage will not arrive in time for the performances according to Prof. Ruane B. Hill, director, but substitutes have been ordered. The costumes, however, which were designed especially for this play at Beloit college, Beloit, Wisconsin, were expected to arrive yesterday. Fittings began tomorrow.

Heading the cast of six men and five women is Ray Loter as the man who would be sick, Argon. Bernice Isham will play the wife who is dutiful to her husband only when necessity or convenience makes it worthwhile. The eldest daughter, Angelique, the female member of the romantic complication of the comedy, is portrayed by Sue Mellor and her younger sister, Louison, by Jill Larson. The lover is Cleante, enacted by Garold Mienke.

Toinette, the quick-witted maid, is Nicki Haynes. Both Keith and Kent Lawrence will be seen as Dr. Diafoirus and Ray Pearson will be his stupid son Tomas. Ella Lou Ball will play Argon's sensible sister, Elmire, Vern Adkinson his doctor, Purgon, and Bob Witham his angered apothecary, Fluerant.

On set Wednesday night, Prof. Hill told the cast, "We have spent $1000 for this play. We want this to be the biggest production of the year." Most of the $1000 has been spent on permanent fixtures.

For the past three weeks the cast has been working on sections of the play. Tonight, for the first time, the entire play will be rehearsed at one practice.

Kovacs, Balkan Expert, to Address Student Chapel Audience Tuesday

Imre Kovacs, foremost expert on the Balkan situation, will speak to Tuesday chapel audiences next week on the topic "Balkanitis: Chronic and Cureable." He is the last in a series of speakers appearing before the Salem Knife and Fork club and concentrated to address the Willamette student body.

Kovacs, a native of Hungary, now part of Yugoslavia, was educated in schools in Hungary, Germany, Serbia, Romania. He went to Yale and studied at Juilliard School of Music in New York. In addition to English, he speaks five other languages fluently.

Recently, he traveled through nine European countries, lecturing at the invitation of the Nation Council of the YMCA. He has also served as national chairman of the American-Hungarian Federation for Democracy.

In addition to being a lecturer of note he has a reputation as a singer and was once soloist at Radio City, New York.

Psychology Club Attends Lecture

Prof. Charles Derthick, his psychology class in clinical testing, and a few of the psychology majors attended a lecture at the Oregon State hospital on the Szondi Test of projective techniques.

The lecture was given by Professor Ray, a member of the faculty at Oregon State college. Ray explained the methods and ratings of the test to the group. He is now working with the test at the State hospital.

Contest Winners Fly to Beaches On Inaugural Trip

Five Willamette university students were winners of a campus-wide contest sponsored by the Collegian for courtesy flights on United Air Lines inaugural DC-4 run from Salem.

Winners who flew to Oregon's beaches included Donna Palmer, Bend; Russell Day, San Francisco; Doug Webb, Vancouver; Charles Chong, Singapore, and John Piper, Portland. Steve Nicks, Redlands, Calif., received honorable mention.

Nancy Montgomery, Willamette graduate of 1949, was the stewardess on the large air liner.

Robert Fenix, Travis Cross, and Buch Smith, members of Willamette's faculty also took the flight to the coast Saturday afternoon.

All members of the trip were well pleased with the trip and were all fascinated with the luxury plane. Everyone was shown through the airplane, even spending time in the pilot's room.

Answers to the contest were: under the Jason Lee sign by the music hall; under a booth in the 'Cat cavern; in Schneebles' dog house; the victory bell; the press box in the grandstand; the circuit rider on the capitol grounds; the gate keeper; and in an Indian basket in a museum case in Eaton hall.

Coeds to Visit Island School

Willamette coeds will be welcomed by the University of Hawaii at the summer session of that school in Honolulu from June 26 to August 4.

The visiting faculty at the Hawaiian school will be from universities and colleges from across the United States, and also from the Orient. Five thousand students will be enrolled, and taught by 450 administrators and faculty members.

With a minimum of three semester hours required for the session, the school requires only a transcript of the women's Willamette records for entrance.

Bearcats, Pacific to Clash at Bush's This Afternoon in Conference Game

Pacific university will attempt to detour the Bearcats' ramble to Conference honors this afternoon in a tiff scheduled for three o'clock. Tuesday, the Salem club goes against another league foe, Lewis and Clark.

The Pioneers have certainly earned their loop victories to date shading Pacific, 7-6, and walloping Linfield, 12-8. Pacific later evened the count by nipping L-C 1-0.

Vikings Here Thursday

Thursday, Arba Ager's Vanport Vikings visit the capitol city to try their luck with the Cats, now sporting a season mark of eight wins, balanced against four defeats.

The latest loop action shows Linfield to have skinned College of Idaho twice on Saturday, 9-6 and 19-9. Then the Wildcats crossed paths with the Bearcats for a one-day stand at Walla Walla, breaking even in the doubleheader. Linfield and Whitman, with 3-2 records, are tied for third spot behind the runner up Pioneers.

C of I Last

Pacific has a .500 percentage in only two games played, leaving the Coyotes of Idaho to drag their tale down the cellar stairs. Linfield's series at Caldwell topped several marks for the 1950 campaign. The Coyotes committed 13 bobbles while the Wildcats racked up 19 runs. Another feat was accomplished by the Badgers' Johnny Nauman who was credited with both the wins.

Nauman hurled the opening seven inning stretch and lasted until the fourth of the second when he was blasted for seven runs. By that time, however, his teammates had piled up a safe margin with eleven tallies.

Top Hurters Listed

An unofficial tabulation of pitching results around the circuit names Nauman of Linfield (2-1) and Bob Garrett of Whitman (2-1) as the hottest pitching prospects so far.

Probable starter for the Forest Grove club this afternoon is big Jim Hudson, three-year letterman. Coach Pete Jonas also can draw on Lyle Carter, Homer Davis, and Bill Crandall, reserves last year. Most of the work at the other end of the battery is handled by Bobby Morrison. Stan Russell covers first, Joe Moran second, and Al Anderson, transfer from OSC, patrols third. Frank Buckiewicz works at short. Captain Don Morrison, Walt Stanis, and Vic Miller walk the outer beats.

Net Squad Meets OSC There This Afternoon

After having a scheduled match with Portland university rained out Wednesday, the Bearcat tennis squad will travel today to meeting Oregon State College at Corvallis.

The local netters now hold a record of one win as against two losses, their last a 9 to 0 shellacking at the hands of a strong University of Oregon squad.

The Willamette Frosh tennis squad, losers to OCE in this only match to date, will tangle with the Salem High School team April 29 on the university courts.

A match that was scheduled by the varsity to be played April 22 with Pacific was called off because the two schools had a mix-up on the date of the match. As a result, the meet with Pacific has been moved up to May 1.

Bowling Called

There was no intramural bowling last week due to a conflict with the intramural softball schedule, but the regular action is slated for this week, according to bowling league secretary Ben Valdez.

Track... ..Notes

This week set a new precedent in Willamette track history, when Bob Hall, Willamette's ace javelin tosser, left Tuesday evening for the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa. This is the first time any man representing Willamette has competed in a national track event. The meet will take place Friday and Saturday of this week, and from the results turned in last year at this meet, Bob has a very good chance of earning a place. Coach Chester Stackhouse said, "Bob is but paving a way by which we hope to see many other Willamette trackmen follow."

Mark Cotton and Scott Thompson bettered their own marks in Tuesday's triangular meet with O.C.E. and Vanport. Mark, in a tie for first with O.C.E.'s Robin Lee, cleared 11 feet even in the pole vault, this bettering his own record by six inches. This was the best performance turned in by a Willamette pole vaulter this season. Scott Thompson bettered five minutes in the mile while taking second to O.C.E.'s Holdorf. This was also the best performance turned in by a Bearcat miler so far.

Last week's intramural meet showed that Willamette has almost a surplus of talent, or at least willing individuals, in the track field. Each living organization produced men in abundance with around 25 entries showing up for the sprints, shot put, and hurdles. Baxter hall had to scrape so low for a relay team that they came up with one averaging 205 pounds per man. Those making up the "fat man's" relay team were Don Boudon, Stan Aschenbrenner, Phil Gallo, and Howard Payne.

Pioneers Here Friday

This Friday afternoon, the Bearcat thinclads will run against a strong Lewis and Clark aggregation. The Pioneers, as well as the Bearcats, are undefeated in dual competition so far this season and should provide an interesting battle. The meet will be held at Bush's Pasture and is to start at 2:15. Coach Stackhouse plans to use his same lineup as before, with the exception of Bill Ewaiko who will be entered in the sprints.

Bearcats Win Three of Four; Gain NW Conferenc Lead

By Tom Brennan

Splitting a pair with Whitman, winning 7-6 and slipping 2-1, but sweeping a twin-bill from College of Idaho, 6-1 and 11-6, Willamette's ball club has climbed to the top spot on the Northwest conference.

The pitching duel in the Walla Walla opener was between Bob (Stretch) Garrett, who allowed three Bearcat bingles, and Lou Scrivens, whom the Missionaries touched for four safeties. Willamette virtually had the victory on the books until the bottom of the sixth inning. Dave Perlman had doubled and been driven in by Irv Roth in the initial frame to score the first run.

The Whit's efforts went for naught until, in the sixth, Ken Meyers got off a two-bagger, Dick Neher walked, and pinch-hitter Cub Wall batted them both home.

Both teams received some help from errors and walks in the nightcap. Whitman tallied twice in the first frame on two boots, a wild pitch, and a single. Four more Missionary runs crossed the plate in the fifth when pitcher Lefty Nordhill walked in one man and Dick Coon, Whit chucker, drove in three barsrunners with a long single.

Roth Comes Through

Willamette was handed four runs on two walks, three costly bobbles, two battery errors, and two singles in the second. These runs and an unearned singleton in the fourth put them ahead until the big Whitman fifth. In the sixth Perlman and George Matile saved the win with singles and Irv Roth, at his best with the heat on, laced a long double to left to bring in the tying and winning runs.

Moving over to the Coyotes' lair at College of Idaho, the 'Cats took both ends of the doubleheader to submerge Clem Parberry's aggregation into the basement with no wins and five losses.

Glenn, Gatchell Win

Two runs in the first inning of the opener saw the visitors go in front for good on a triple and a single. Frank Gatchell showed good control, fanning seven and walking just one. The Coyotes grabbed a one-run lead until, with a three-run outburst in the third, the Lewismen started the baseball rolling but hard. The big inning came in the fifth when five men scored on five hits and an error. John Markoskie continued boosting his batting average with three blows for four times up in the initial game. Mike Glenn and Gatchell both notched their second win of the year.

Out On A Limb

By David Card

Coach Johnny Lewis can certainly count on a sound pitching staff this year, as was evidenced by the fine showing the hurlers gave on the recent road trip. It is interesting to note that of the four teams playing doubleheaders Saturday and Monday, only Willamette had a strong enough pitching staff to use a different hurler each game. Not only that, but the Bearcats were on the road carrying only a minimum of players. A quick look at the pitchers' total earned run mark is still another point in their favor, as the Bearcat moundsmen have allowed only 1.92 earned runs per nine inning encounter.

Stocks Leads Hurlers

Larry Stocks, with two wins and no losses and 9½ scoreless innings to his credit tops the list, while Larry O'Dell is second with five scoreless innings. Gordy Lenz has yet to give up an earned run in four innings. Mike Glenn, with a 7.75 earned run mark, is tied with Stocks in the win-loss column with a pair of victories and no defeats. Claude Nordhill and Lenz each have a single win and no losses, while Frank Gatchall has turned in two wins against one loss. Lou Scrivens leads the squad in strikeouts with 10 in 14 innings, while Nordhill has been the wildest, walking nine in 10½ stanzas.

Matile Top Hitter

While the pitching was looking good on the trip, Coach Johnny Lewis was also pleased with the way the hitting is picking up. While the Bearcats have a lowly team average of .224, this is 20 points higher than last week. George Matile continues to lead the regulars with a .333 mark, although Pitcher Frank Gatchall has a .400 mark. Matile and Freshman Dave Perlman lead the squad in the extra base department, each with six extra bases. Irv Roth has proved to be a good clean-up hitter, driving 11 runs across the plate.

Willamette's track squad, while still anything from great, has turned in some good performances and had little trouble defeating OCE and Vanport. Outside of Bob Hall and Ted Mertz, Willamette has no outstanding men but good training and a lot of "guts" are keeping them out in front.

Here and There . . .

"Wot" hopped in the mix-up between the intramural bowling and baseball schedules. The bowling league is probably the soundest of any of the 'mural programs, and it seems a shame that nothing has been worked out to clear up the conflict in dates - - - another one of those "hesitation balks" was called against Willamette, this time against Mike Glenn - - - Ted Mertz is the high point maker for the track team with 55½ compared to Vern Shangle in second with 19¾ - - - congratulations to Bob Hall on his trip to the Drake Relays. Here's hoping that Bob has a good day and gives the Willamette tracksters some good publicity - - - the Bearcat baseballers have turned in six double plays so far this year - - - the varsity reserves looked good in taking a trio of baseball games this week. Congratulations to "Shoes" Olson for his coaching.

Track Squad Third by Half Point in Triangular Meet With Portland Pilots, Linfield Wldcats

The Bearcat thinclads dropped their first track engagement last Friday afternoon, taking third in the triangular meet with the Linfield Wildcats and the Portland University Pilots. The Pilots took first place with a total of 69½ points, while Linfield was second in nosing out the Bearcats 46½ to 46.

The Bearclads Ted Mertz repeated again his high individual scorer with 18 points. Ted compiled points with firsts in the high and low hurdles, high jump and a second in the century. Keith Marshall, Linfield's husky weight man, took second in the individual honors with 13 counters on first in the discus and shot put and a second in the javelin.

The race of the day was in the century when Bob Herndon of the Pilots nosed out Mertz of Willamette in the good time of 9.9. Herndon also turned in a winning performance in the 220-yard dash. The other louble winner for Portland was Bill Pendleton in the mile and two mile runs.

Reserves Win Three

The Willamette Varsity Reserve baseball team won three games last week, defeating Grants Pass high school 15-4 and 4-2, and Chemawa 17-3.

Bearcat Cindermen Win First Place From OCE Wolves, Vanport Vikings

The Willamette cindermen racked up another victory Tuesday afternoon against the Vanport Vikings and the Oregon College of Education Wolves. The Bearcats won handily in rolling a total of 85½ pints to 56½ for OCE and 19 for Vanport. It was the best track day that the Bearclads have experienced this season and all were able to turn in top performances.

Bearclads Come Through

Millard Bates a surprise entry in the 440-yard dash came through with a booming second for his first outing in this event. Bob Miller copped a first in the half mile while turning in a 2:08 performance. This is his first win of the season and it was also the best time that a Willamette half miler had turned in.

Mertz High Again

Once again Ted Mertz was high individual scorer with a total of 20 points. He had a perfect day in winning four first places, including the 100-yard dash, high and low hurdles and the high jump.

OCE had two double winners for the afternoon. Bob Posey took first places in the 220-yard dash and quarter mile, while Dick Holdorf turned in wins in the mile and two mile.

440-yard dash—Posey (OCE), Bates (W), Murdock (W), James (OCE). Time, :34.5.

Sigs Top B Softball; Four Teams Top in A

Sigma Chi took over first place in the intramural softball league April 25, when they topped the Phi Delt 6-2 in four innings of play. The A league lead is shared by the Phi Delt, Law School, Beta and Sigma Chi, each with one win and one loss.

It was the Sig B crew's third win when they defeated the Phi Delt Babes. After two and a half scoreless innings the Sigs Brought in three scores to go out in front. The Phis brought the score to 3-2 in the first of the fourth.

In other B contests the Sigs and Phis won over the Baxter B squad and the faculty. The Sigs taking their contest 17-0 and the Phis edging the Profs 3-2. The faculty showed hitting power against the SAE nine to hand the SAE's a 13-4 defeat.

The Lawyers topped the Baxter A's 11-9 in their only contest thus far, despite the fact that Baxter out-hit the Law nine 6-4. The Lawyers collected nine runs in the regular five innings and Baxter tied this score in their half of the fifth. The law school collected two more runs in their sixth inning while blanking the Baxterites.

The Phis took an early 7-1 lead over the Sweat Sox in the first inning and went on to win 13-3.

'Fraternity's Contribution' General Topic Of Panhellenic Workshop Tomorrow

Sorority women from the University of Oregon, Oregon State and Willamette will join for a Panhellenic workshop on the Willamette campus Saturday, April 29. Discussions will be around the general topic "The Fraternity's Contributions to College and Community Life," and problems common to sororities on all three campuses will be discussed. Members of Willamette Panhellenic will act as hostesses.

Registration will be between the hours of 9 and 10 a.m. in the music school. Of special interest will be a display of philanthropic and service projects of the various sororities arranged by Willamette Junior Panhellenic under the leadership of JoAnn Richardson.

General Assembly in Waller

Waller hall will be the scene of the General assembly at 10 o'clock. Dean Regina Ewalt, Willamette, will give the welcoming address. Representatives from the three colleges will participate in a panel discussion based on the topic "The Fraternity's Contributions to College and Community Life." Three aspects of the problem will be presented including, cultural contributions by Diane Proctor, Willamette; social contributions, Jean Gillenwater, University of Oregon. Approximately 350 sorority women and alumni will attend the general assembly which will disband at 11:15 when informal discussion groups will meet at each of the sorority houses for two 45-minute sessions.

One active and one alumna will preside at each meeting. Topics and leaders at the 11:15 to 12 o'clock groups will be: 1. Scholarship, Betty Ferguson, Alpha Chi Omega and Mrs. George A. Fletcher, Chi Omega. 2. Standards, Patty Jo Hammond, Delta Gamma and Mrs. William Seaman, Sigma Kappa. 3. Alumnae-Collegiate Relationships, LaFyrne Showacy, Chi Omega and Mrs. Vivian H. Pitman, Alpha Xi Delta. 4. Fraternity Education, Janet Stark, Pi Beta Phi and Mrs. F. W. Johnson, Alpha Delta Pi. Groups will change at 12:15 to: 1. Officers Training, Eleanor Loveless, Alpha Chi Omega and Mrs. J. E. Mulligan, Alpha Chi Omega. 2. Pledge-Member Relationships, Nancy Phillips, Delta Gamma and Mrs. Blaine Devers, Zeta Tau Delta. 3. Philanthropic Projects, Colleen Schodde, Pi Beta Phi and Mrs. Rena T. Lowery, Alpha Gamma Delta. 4. Junior Panhellenic, Claribelle Easton, Chi Omega and Mrs. Keifer, Panhellenic adviser, Oregon State.

Luncheon in Baxter

Guest speaker at the 1:15 luncheon held in Baxter hall will be Mrs. William Greig, National Panhellenic collegiate adviser, west coast. Toastmistress for the event will be Roberta Batey, past president, Willamette Panhellenic. Out-of-town guests attending include Dean Bash of Oregon State, Dean Wickam of the University of Oregon and district and province sorority officers and supervisors.

A panel discussion on "Living In" will continue the business of the day when the assembly reconvenes at 2:30 p.m. in Waller hall. The panel will be conducted by a "question-answer" procedure on the problem of having freshmen live in dormitories the first year of college. Leading the discussion will be Pat McGinty and Shirley Hillard of the University of Oregon, Norma Ellis and Marilyn Hill of Oregon State and Wesley Woodard and Inie Lou Wilhelm of Willamette. At 1:15 problems of "rushing" will be presented for consideration. Campus rush chairmen from the three colleges will lead, with Jo Colony representing Willamette. A short summary speech covering all problems brought out during the day will end the workshop at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Alice Nelson, Willamette Panhellenic adviser, and Patsy Older, vice-president and general chairman of the workshop, have co-ordinated the several weeks work and the many committees which have been preparing for the affair.

Tri-College Panhellenic was organized last year and the workshop will be an annual event to be held on each campus in rotating years.

YW's Retreat to Santiam

Officers, advisors, and cabinet members of the campus Y.W.C.A. will leave tomorrow evening for a week-end retreat at Schramm's cabins on the Santiam. The purposes of the retreat are to review the progress of the past year, install the new officers, plan the program for next year, and discuss plans for sending girls to Seabeck, the summer camp on Hood's canal near Bremerton, Washington.

Eleanora Loveless, Louise Holmes, Wesley Woodward and Ann Swanson will install the incoming president, Joanne Oliver; Joan Holbeck, vice-president; Barbara Baker, secretary; and Marjorie Aldinger, treasurer.

Heads of the various committees who will be planning projects for next year are: Shirley Clifford, Christian faith and heritage; Jackie Johnson, world relatedness; Florence Goodridge, personal and campus affairs; Sue Shipley, social responsibilities; Marceline Hutchinson, regional representative; Shirley Griffin, big-little sister chairman; Nancy Marks, membership; Patricia Long and Jean Biden, finance; Ann Klindworth, community service; Betty Jean Mullin, social chairman; Margaret McDermott, firesides.

Members of the advisory board going on the retreat will provide the food for the group. This board consists of Mrs. Robert F. Anderson, Mrs. Steve Anderson, Mrs. Robert Fenix, Mrs. Regina Ewalt, Mrs. Leslie Sparks, Mrs. A. E. Ullman, Miss Joyce Lam-aroux, and Mrs. William Barber.

Greek Firesides Enjoyed By Houses Wednesday

Alpha Chi-Phi Delt

An exchange dinner, dancing and a program of varied entertainment highlighted the evening at the Phi Delta Theta-Alpha Chi Omega fireside last Wednesday evening.

Acting as master of ceremonies for the program, Bill Bissell introduced Bob Hilmer, Glenn Duus and Norman Lawson who presented a short skit; Larry O'Dell, accompanied by Margie Powell, sang "Carry Me Back" and "Mother Machree"; variations on the theme "Chopsticks" were rendered by pianists Bob Hern and Jeff MacDougall; Jim Miller and Dave Place entertained with humorous parodies.

DG-Sigma Chi

Members of Delta Gamma and Sigma Chi were entertained with an exchange dinner Wednesday evening, with the Sigma Chis playing hosts for a fireside immediately following. The informal dinners were held at 5:30.

Features of the fireside program were piano solos as played by Don Yunker, and this was followed with vocal numbers by a quartet consisting of Dick Bolton, Jack Brown, Don Yunker and Babe Maudlin. Bob Wilson, accompanied by Bob O'Neill on the piano, played several selections on the saxophone. Later in the evening, refreshments were served to the group, with dancing also on the agenda.

Shirley Weist Tells Engagement

Letters spelling out "Shirley and Johnny" embossed on small gold and black cards, announced the engagement of Shirley Weist to John Whipple at the Pi Beta Phi chapter house Monday evening.

Miss Weist, a former student at Willamette, is now attending Lewis and Clark college in Portland where she is majoring in education. She plans to teach in Portland elementary schools next year. Whipple, also a former Willamette student is now completing his studies in chemical engineering at the University of California. While on campus he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta and was a member of Sigma Alpha Chi, sophomore men's service honorary.

May Breakfast Tickets to Be Sold

Tickets for the annual May Weekend breakfast, sponsored by the YWCA, will go on sale Monday, May 1, in Eaton hall, the 'Cat Cavern and all living organizations, as announced by Marge Aldinger, publicity chairman for the event. Prices will be 35 cents for Willamette students and 60 cents for guests.

Open to students, faculty and guests, the affair, honoring the queen and her court, will be held in the Lausanne dining room Saturday morning, between the hours of 8 and 10 a.m.

Gift Suggestions Displayed Today In Bookstore

Mother's Day gift suggestions will be displayed in the University bookstore beginning today, announced Mrs. Delsia Larson, bookstore manager.

A Mother's Day gift book will be featured in a center table arrangement of jewelry campus plates and stationery, she said.

Orders for "Campus Zoo," a new book picturing animals in situations characteristic of campus life, are now being taken by Mrs. Larson. A sample of the book is in the bookstore and a minimum of 12 orders must be taken. "Campus Zoo" was created by Clare Barnes, Jr., author of "White Collar Zoo" and "Home Sweet Zoo."

Plastic key tags, which were ordered several weeks ago, should be picked up as soon as possible, says Mrs. Larson.

'Scientific' Research Reveals Tendencies of Homo Jasonus

By Gallup X. Kinseed

A scientific, but not very, research project undertaken in the interest of curiosity, has just received word from the automatic analogometer at Harvard that computations on homo Jasonus have been completed.

The homo Jasonus in question is the average student here on the campus and he really does quite a few amazing things. For instance, he has enough interest in his studies to withdraw 2.5 books and magazines from the library each month, but a hearty 15 per cent of his kind were on probation last semester for low grades of excessive class cuts. Undoubtedly the correlation here is that the students at Willamette are earnestly intellectual,

Humor Mag Copy Due by Monday

Copy for the humor magazine contest which the Puritan is sponsoring must be in by Monday, according to Editor John Piper.

A different style of magazine is going to be presented this semester, he said, with fewer pictures and ads but with more stories. Plans include fewer pages, with the humor content being increased.

"Included in the magazine will be an hilarious picture of one of the faculty members," Piper promised.

Dick Unruh and Paul Neiswander are assisting Piper with the publication. Ed Fitzsimons, ex-Willamette student, will again draw the cover.

Present plans, according to Piper, are to make the humor magazine available to students June 1.

Sophomores to Meet

The sophomore class will meet in the Waller hall chapel at 4 p.m. President Sherm Bliss urged that all members be present.

Wallulah to Send Printer Last Copy

The Wallulah staff, working late at night to meet deadlines, will be ready to send the last pages of the 1950 book to the printers tomorrow.

McEwen Photo shop photographers were employed by the Wallulah to help meet last minute picture deadlines.

LuDene Hargrave, editor, says that the book will still be late, but due to the cooperation of all who had to have pictures taken and retaken, it will be published sooner than expected. After a conference with the printer, Miss Hargrave will be able to announce the approximate date of delivery.

Students Lead Philosophy Club Discussion On Theological Question in Sunday Program

By Phil Shaw

A theological question was discussed by the Philosophy club Sunday evening in a panel-forum in Baxter hall. "What can we know about God?" was the theme of the discussion which was led by Douglas Nicoll, Jack Thompson, and Stan

Aschenbrenner who each represented a different religious or philosophic point of view.

Thompson appealed to the natural theology of the Catholic church as set down by St. Thomas Aquinas. By observing nature, he stated, some of the attributes of God can be deduced. Thus, he concluded, from the Design and Order of the universe we can infer God is a creative intelligence; from the moral law inherent in man we can deduce that God is the supreme law giver; from the fact that life in this world is dependent on other life and so on, some place along the line there must be an independent being who is the Creator.

Perfection Impossible

Thompson admitted that because of our imperfect senses we cannot know perfection, which he contended God embodied. In later discussion he added that we shall never know or see God in this life or the hereafter, but can only know him through Jesus Christ.

As a Protestant, Nicoll restated some of the arguments given above and added another basic traditional concept of God being a benevolent and merciful father of all mankind who forgives the shortcomings of his children, and who asks only that "man recognize these errors and repent."

Experiences Determine Concept

He continued by attempting to show that in spite of the fact that man cannot receive knowledge of God through sensory perception, this does not deny his existence. He said we can only try to give rational conceptions of him in terms familiar to and derived from human experience. Thus, when the lives of millions of people are guided by their faith in God, he concluded, their knowledge of him cannot be questioned.

The "skeptical philosopher" role was taken by Aschenbrenner, who utilized the mind-experience forms set forth by Kant, 18th century German philosopher. "Experience through sense perception and apperception is the only source of knowledge," said Aschenbrenner. Then it follows, he said, that if God is knowable, one may ask through what source did the representation or knowledge come. If this source actually gives knowledge and is rational, it will be explainable, he said. Those who claim to have knowledge of God and cannot explain it, are not rational and do not have knowledge, he concluded.

SAE's to Sponsor Dinner for Needy City Organization

SAE's will sponsor a charity dinner for "a needy Salem organization" next week, said vice-president Bob Shangle Wednesday.

Tuesday night is the appointed night for the dinner, though plans of the town group may cause that date to be changed. The dinner will begin at 5:30 p.m., and all members are expected to be on hand for the occasion.

Entertainment for the underprivileged youngsters will be provided by pledges and freshman members, and will include an informal party for them afterwards in the chapter house.

Hatfield Tells IRC Of Hoover Report

"Hail the Hoover Report" was the topic Wednesday of Prof. Mark Hatfield in an address to the International Relations club which met in Chresto cottage.

Hatfield, political science instructor and candidate for the state legislature from Marion county, has been an active Republican in the state for several years, and has studied the Hoover report in detail.

Townpeople were also present at the meeting. The business meeting was not held Wednesday, and future plans of the group had to wait until the next session, according to club officials.

Petitions Due

All petitions for positions on publications should be submitted to Dr. Daniel H. Schulze by May 10, according to Jack Brown, publications manager.

Applications are open for consideration by the publications board for Rook Bible, Fuzzers' Guide, Wallulah and Collegian editorships and the position of Publications Manager.

Dad's Day Set For Inaugural

A Dad's Day program will begin next year as an added attraction to the Homecoming festivities.

The student council decided that parents as well as alumni should be welcomed at the game and other activities of the Homecoming weekend.

Plans will be made for a dinner or luncheon and for a conducted tour of the campus. The parents will be invited to the Homecoming game with Hawaii, to be played in the new McCulloch stadium.

A chairman will be appointed next fall by the council.

'Quixote' Film Set For State Theatre

Three showings of the Spanish film, "Don Quixote," have been scheduled for the State theatre on May 11, announced Dr. George Hocking, head of the Willamette Spanish department.

Recently shown in Portland and attended by many university Spanish students, the film will be shown at one matinee and two evening performances. The movie was taken in Spain, but has English sub-titles.

Seniors Urged to Sign Up For May 19 Taft Beach Trip

Seniors who wish to go on the senior class beach trip must sign up today or Monday on notices which are posted on the bulletin boards in Eaton hall, the 'Cat Cavern and the Music hall, according to Ed Cairo, class president.

The beach trip, which is an annual affair and includes the traditional senior skip day, is scheduled for the weekend of May 19 to May 22. Questionnaires will be given to all seniors who sign up and includes questions concerning the student's name and address, need for transportation and number of nights the student wishes to stay at the coast.

The group, which will number approximately 90 seniors and their guests, will stay at the Taft Heights hotel. Entertainment will be under the direction of Roger Adams. Doris Kimble and Marjorie Quamme will take charge of the food and any contributions of food will be welcomed, they said. Ron Nichols and Chuck Patterson are publicity chairmen and Bob McMullen is in charge of transportation.

The beach trip is not a date affair, Cairo stressed, and all seniors are urged to attend.

Avis Roberts, Roberta Bailey, Chuck Patterson, Betty Leonard and Betty Ferguson test reaction to hitch-hiking in front of the capitol in preparation for the senior beach trip, May 19-21.

UNESCO Seeks To Unite With 3 Language Depts.

Efforts to unite the campus UNESCO organization with the three language departments at Willamette began this week, led by Don Carpenter, student head of the local United Nations group.

Spanish, German and French majors were urged by Carpenter in Tuesday chapel to become a more integrated group, with special luncheons, parties, and discussions scheduled in which they will speak in the foreign tongues.

An understanding of national groups the world over is the long-range goal of the movement, and will tie in with the educational program sponsored by UNESCO since its inception here last fall. Organized under the student direction of Lowell Miller, its faculty advisor is Prof. Edward Kollman of the philosophy department.

The language groups will discuss the problems of countries where their tongue is spoken, as well as those in all parts of the world.

Carpenter said that though language majors will form the greater part of the movement, any student taking the subject will be welcomed to meetings, and that all interested persons should contact him so that they may begin in the near future.

Soph Coeds Needed

All sophomore women interested in being in the May Weekend Daisy Chain, are invited to see Jackie Johnson before Tuesday.

An excellent student at Middlebury College, Vermont, Paul found time to win the coveted All Sports Trophy in his senior year. He graduated in June, 1938.

He then joined a coated paper mill firm as research and control man. Pearl Harbor changed all that—Paul went to Maxwell Field to begin Aviation Cadet training.

An outstanding Cadet, 2nd Lt. Paul Buskey was held over as an instructor after graduation. Then he was assigned as a pilot in the Air Transport Command.

His big plane education was topped with 23 missions over the far-famed "Hump," flying C-54 transports. After V-J Day, he stayed on in the Far East until March of 1948—specializing in Air Intelligence.

Back home, after accepting a Regular Air Force Commission, Captain Buskey went to Air Tactical school, was there rated an outstanding student, and won assignment to Command and Staff school.

Today, Captain Buskey is an Air Intelligence Officer on MATS Headquarters Staff at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C. He looks forward to a rewarding future in the U. S. Air Force.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attn: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.
