

By GEORGE McLEOD

Over two hundred thousand men and women are locked up in American penitentiaries today.

Eighty thousand hopeful young Americans receive college diplomas each June.

From one of the harshest prisons in the country, the Oregon penitentiary under Warden Lewis has become one of the best managed penal institutions in the United States.

Under the laws of this state all first offenders who have served one-third of their sentences and whose conduct since incarceration has been favorable...

The board meets at the penitentiary the second Thursday of each month. Each prisoner to receive consideration is brought in, questioned, and permitted to discuss his case.

Recommendations are then made to the Governor which he may accept or reject at his option.

The Governor granted 110 conditional pardons in 1937. This is only one-half as many as Governor Meier averaged each year and is one-third less than Oregon's average for the last 25 years.

It must be realized that most prisoners will sooner or later be released. At that time the law provides that they be given a prison made suit and the statutory five dollars.

Parole for society if those inmates who are not habitual criminals may be released under the careful supervision of the board which in most instances sees that they are provided with jobs before being sent back to their communities.

Local Speakers In Debate Meet

Willamette speakers find themselves in the midst of a warm tournament at McMinnville. The four men's debate team and the two women's teams have finished two rounds.

The extempore speakers were the first to enter the tournament and have spoken three times. The orators also have gone through the third round.

Between 250 to 300 speakers representing some 30 schools are competing in this regional Pi Kappa Delta tournament.

Tryouts For "Mass" Held On Thursdays

Tryouts are still being held on Thursday nights for those wishing to participate in the "St. Cecilia Mass," to be presented by Philharmonic choir.

The Songmen will present another in their series of bi-monthly broadcasts from Waller hall, next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 over KEX.

Love Songs Sung Campus Couples

Cupid and Professor Cameron Marshall, head of Willamette's music department, staged their annual Valentine's chapel Monday morning.

The program included: "Till I Awake," sung by Watson Dutton for Rodger Foster and Madelyn Best; "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," sung by Betty Starr and Helen Woodfin for Charles Donaldson and Dorothy Wright.

Greek Theaters Enter Discussion

The Classical Club's first meeting of the second semester was a potluck supper at Chresto Tuesday, Feb. 8.

Wesleyans, the national organization for the promotion of interest in missionary work, was also formed on the campus in 1922.

The French club founded in 1922, meets the first Thursday of every month. It is composed of students who are interested in French games, dances and customs.

President to Speak To Citizen's Group

President Bruce Baxter's program for next week begins on Tuesday, February 21, with the convention of the Oregon Merchants' association at the Marjion hotel.

On Wednesday, Dr. Baxter is invited to address some 600 featured citizens of the best year (1927) at a meeting in Portland's municipal auditorium.

Commemorating Oregon's 75th birthday on Valentine's day the Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers held a brilliant affair at the Congress hotel in which program Dr. Baxter participated.

Ten Special Interest Clubs Carry Boast Large Memberships

By CAROLYN WOODS

Besides the national and local honorary fraternities on the campus, there are at least ten clubs that include various fields of study.

These clubs wield a strong influence on the campus and form an important phase of student extra-curricular activity.

One of the oldest organizations is Coffee House, which was organized in 1922. Its purpose is to develop a deeper interest in individual and creative writing.

Phyllis May is president of Coffee House, and Dillon Jones is secretary. Professor E. C. Richards is the faculty adviser.

Wesleyans, the national organization for the promotion of interest in missionary work, was also formed on the campus in 1922.

John Whitaker, Betty Moser, Barbara Pinney, Wirt Fairman, Don Smith, Carol Read, and Barbara Royle are the Wesleyan officers.

The Women's Athletic association has been actively organized since 1928. This organization is composed of women who have earned one hundred points in athletics or have won a letter in varsity athletics.

W. A. A. officers include Marguerite DuRette, Kathryn Thompson, and Jean Amundson. Miss G. Curry is the faculty adviser.

The French club founded in 1922, meets the first Thursday of every month. It is composed of students who are interested in French games, dances and customs.

The Physical Education Club, also formed three years ago, is composed of physical education majors. The organization meets monthly to hear outside speakers.

Andy Van Otter is president of the P. E. club, and the remaining officers are Francis Fisher, Marguerite DuRette, and Jean Amundson.

Expedition To Siberia Is Slated By Local Student

A chance to help prove the theory "that man filtered in to North America from Siberia," has been given Bill Laughlin, Willamette freshman.

Bill expects to leave between May 15 and 20 for the Kommander Islands, off the coast of Siberia, where he will help excavate caves and other burial spots of the early Indian tribes.

Mr. Harlicka came to the Oregon country two years ago and stayed for some time at the Laughlin home. While here he made a small expedition of Indian grave excavating near Mt. Angel.

Later Bill sent in an application for a position as one of the men to accompany the anthropologist on his regular summer trip on which he annually takes from four to six college boys.

The trip will begin about the middle of May and will end late in August. Expenses will be shared by the Institute and the boys taken on the trip.

Oppens to Attend NW Theater Meet

On Wednesday, February 16, Mrs. Chester Oppen, drama director for Willamette, Mr. Chester Oppen and Miss Mary Elizabeth Keils left to attend the annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Region of the National Theater conference, at the University of Washington, Seattle.

The conference brings together teachers, actors, and writers interested in dramatics. It is estimated that there will be about 200 present.

These paintings have been on display previously in Seattle at the Northwest Show, in the Portland Art Museum, at the Regional exhibit of American Artists' Congress for the American Profession League, and in Wichita, Kan.

Miss Fowler has recently loaned that two of her wood engravings, "Monday Morning" and "Lark Supper," have been accepted, and will be exhibited at the First National Print show by the Larkins Beach Art Association.

This display of pictures in the West is a mark to be proud of, and it is hoped that the exhibit will be a success.

Sixty-Five To Get Membership Pins

Sixty-five pledges of Willamette's six Greek-letter societies will be formally initiated this weekend, the sorority services being held at 4 p. m. Friday afternoon at the respective houses.

Neophytes of Greek Letter Organizations Take Initiations

Sigma Tau initiates include William Campbell, Max Dietrick, Charles Donaldson, Bernard Hagelorn, Arnold Hardeman, John Horton, Warren Lewis, Edwin McWain, Mark Neary, Connie Schneider, Kenneth Sherman, Roger Strench, and William Parker.

Alpha Psi Delta will initiate Robert French, Fred Bernau, William Phillips Jr., Robert McKown, Gerald Laurens, Robert Brady, Melvin Cleveland, Wendell Patch, Quay Whasam, Roger Baker, John Lindbeck, Richard Jewett, William Borden, Kenneth Hunt, Dick Jones, George Schreiber, and Howard Eberly.

Kappa Gamma Rho will include in its membership the following pledges: William Byars, James Cheatham, Albert Klansen, Robert Testers, Willis Bardwell, Harvey Blesley, Winston Bunnell, Raymond Bauer, Edward Cook, Thomas Hall, Henry Kortmeyer, Richard Tatro, Frank Kehler, Charles Barry, and Elmer Wedel.

New Students Feted At Chresto By Y.W.

On Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9:30, Chresto Cottage, Student Union was the scene of a party for students new to the campus.

Informal games were played during the evening and light refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis were the guests of honor.

The party was under the general direction of Marguerite DuRette, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. social committee, with the assistance of Harbette Winslow, Janice Murray and Margaret Mary.

Oh, pretty girls in your gilded cages. Who prims and struts with shining faces. Is it much too wrong for us, with awe, To say there was a touch of faldorf?

It is a cold and rainy night, outside the wind whistles and moans in the trees. The wayward one, deep in the shadows, eyes wide with the wind, he sees through the rain-swept campus a brilliantly lit building.

Author line the sidewalks and people journey toward the building, talking briskly. They are happy. A strange commotion is taking place in the hall. He cautiously circumvents the structure, wondering what is going on within.

He does and in the far corner of one room hovers a person of gilded finery. She bows and twirls and continually says: "Won't you come in!" But on the wall a snake skin is strung. There are odd trinkets

DELAY MEANS VETO

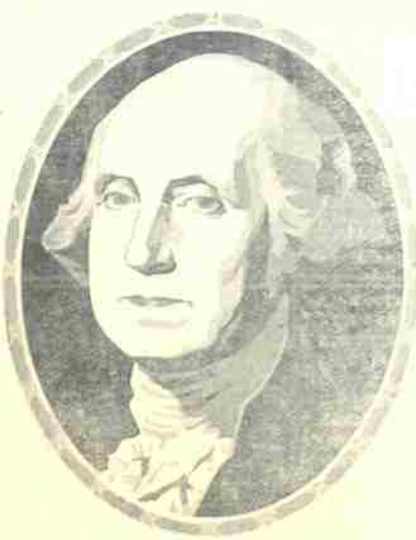

It is the customary thing each year at Freshman glee time for one or two rather ticklish problems to crop out at the last moment regarding seating arrangements or tickets for the contest. And usually the problem creates quite a stir only to be dropped because time prevents last-minute changes in the program of the event which has grown to be the outstanding function of the Willamette university school year. Time is always the deciding factor in the arguments that arise and many good ideas have had to be abandoned at the last moment simply because a lack of that element has forestalled any action. This year's committee should allow the experiences of the past to guide them in their actions. Any changes in policy of the glee should be brought to the immediate attention of the graduate manager and the students. Delay will only mean certain veto of any ideas for changes in the handling of the glee.

Ten Special Clubs

 percent foreign students and 40 percent American students.
 An annual tea and coast trip form a portion of the club's program.
 The International club's first and second counselors are Tais Yada and Barbara Jones. The faculty adviser is Dr. D. H. Schulze.
 In the fall of 1937 the Little Theater Guild was formed to develop dramatic talent among students. The organization presents several plays and skits each year. Acting, costuming, play-writing, make-up, and scenery are all studied in these productions. The aim of the Little Theater Guild is to present different types of plays throughout the year.
 Little Theater Guild officers are Lanelle Chapin, Ed Minneman, Loye Borardas and Howard Temple. Mrs. C. T. Oppen and Professor H. E. Raho are the club advisers.

 Paint Spots was organized in 1934 to promote an interest in art. The selection of members is on the basis of interest rather than ability. This club aids other organizations in the line of decorative ideas and makes scenery for plays.
 First term Paint Spots' officers were Betty Craney, Marjory Nelson, Natalie Neer, and Ralph Woodall.
 In 1935, the University Vespers, which had held informal meetings on the campus, was moved to the Educational Temple of the First Methodist church. In weekly meetings this group seeks to present a well rounded program of religious and allied activities for student participation. Discussion groups, frequent parties and "Cookie Jar" are among the Vesper activities.

 The members of Vespers' cabinet include Margaret Taylor, June Breasted, Olive Clemes, Echo Johnson, Verna Vesper, Marian Chase, John Voss, Eugene Hill, John McNeas, Lawrence Edwards, Ralph Woodall, John Lindbeck and Bob Howe.
 The most recent club to be formed on the campus is the Mathematics club, which was organized in the spring of 1937. The society is working toward a program to include both the practical and the social sides of mathematics. Membership is open to all those students interested in the subject.
 Leonard Smith is secretary-treasurer of the Mathematics club while Dr. Matthews is the faculty advisor.

Introducing . . .

Prof. Morton E. Peck

Professor Morton E. Peck, A. B., A. M., head of the Biology department and originator of the Willamette Herbarium, graduated from Cornell College, graduated from Cornell College, he came to Willamette in 1903. During his preparation for professorship, Professor Peck spent three years in research work in Central America.

Professor Peck is beloved as a friend of the students admired as a professor, and respected as a man; his broad, perfectly completed knowledge of his work and his earnest, constructive application mark him as worthy of the respect held for him.

It has been our privilege to attend one of Professor Peck's classes, and to observe his quiet, effective manner of presentation. Also, we notice that no matter how complex or how unexpected the question of the inspiring student, Professor Peck is never embarrassed for an answer and an explanation. Such, in our opinion, is a complete knowledge of a very broad subject.

In the 30 years that Professor Morton E. Peck has spent at Willamette, there has been many an earnest, fresh freshman wax and wane and become stiff and waxed into a mighty senior; there has been many a class in the Mill Glee Stream; and many an idea and many a friend has come and gone. But through those years, there has been a continuous adherence of one philosophy—"I have never ceased to admire the power of the human mind to resist information."

Fireside Group Meets At Home of Dr. Pierce

Dr. Helen Pierce entertained members of the student body at her home on Sunday afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00 o'clock, as her contribution to the weekly Faculty Fireside. Various travels and books were among the topics of informal discussion. Late in the afternoon a light supper was served. Those attending the Fireside were Leone Burdick, Barbara Chapler, Cora Davis, Lillian Hart, Melvin Viken, Leonard Schurr, Steve Montgomery, Roger Strench, Dan Moses and Wallace Turner.

Championship Series

 Big Bill Anton, 1937 all-conference center, who has been confined to his bed with illness for nearly a month.

The Willamette starting lineup, which probably will not be known until nearly game time tonight, will be chosen from Anton, Bob White, Jerry Gastineau, Howard Eberly, Otto Skopik, Johnny Kolb, Walt Weaver, and Larry Nunnankamp, with Dwight Catherwood, Oscar Specht, Dick Jones, and Cecil Queseth almost certain to see service in the two-game series.

Light workouts daily and the tune-up clash with Oregon Normal school Tuesday have been scheduled for the Bearcats this week, with work on a tight zone defense and the Salem collegians' ring-around-the-rosy offense, which proved highly effective against Whitman, occupying the major share of Maple's attention in practice sessions.
 Game time for both games is 8 p. m.

Step, 2, 3, 4

 Your formation will never look the same twice, and you'll make a mistake every time.

In the wild heat of pre-Freshman Glee enthusiasm, you make reckless bets, heart full of trust in your class. As the day of reckoning draws nearer and nearer, you remember that someone has to wear the night shirt to school or roll a peanut with his nose, and it will probably be you. No one ever refused to pay a Freshman Glee bet. . . . It is a debt of honor, and no matter how foolish you feel, you'll have to pay . . . and pay . . . and pay . . .

On the last night before Freshman Glee, you'll wonder why you ever decided to come to college, you'll wonder why you ever went out for Freshman Glee, you'll wonder why such an infantile practice as Freshman Glee was ever invented, you'll wonder why you were ever born. But you'll find out. If you live through Freshman Glee, (and most of us do) you'll find life worth-while after all. If the whole school goes crazy, you might not as well too. It's lots of fun being nuts—I know—I've gone through one Freshman Glee.

Heralded as one of the world's greatest mentalists, The Great Virgil, the psychic enigma, comes to the State theatre for a three-day engagement starting Sunday, February 27th.

The Great Virgil is credited with having prophesied more national and international events and disasters than any other living psychic. Included among Virgil's outstanding predictions were the Los Angeles flood disaster in the winter of 1933, the Montana earthquake, the re-election of Coolidge, the election of Hoover, the war between Italy and Ethiopia, the payment of the soldier bonus, the bank failure of 1933, the capture of Dillinger and many other events, in many cases giving correct detailed information and dates.

The Great Virgil, who makes his headquarters in Hollywood, has given readings to many of the great movie stars, politicians and other people of note, giving them valuable information and advice which has helped them in their careers. The Great Virgil has also located many missing people and lost and stolen articles.
 The Great Virgil will answer questions each night from the stage of the State theater and everyone entering the theater will have an opportunity to secure a private reading from him there.

Arnold Thonstad was elected president of Paint Spots at their regular meeting Tuesday night, February 13 at Cresto Cottage. Other officers for the spring term are Marjorie Nelson, vice-president; Beth Hall, secretary; Merrill Cray, business manager, and Janet Powell, publicity manager.

Pledges were informally initiated at the pot-luck supper by having to serve the supper, wash the dishes, and use the floor as their table. Paint Spots pins were formally presented to Anita Allison, Beth Hall, Marjorie Nelson, Janet Powell, and Arnold Thonstad. Miss Fowler's painting were hung for the exhibit.

Eleven potential authors were present at the Coffee House meeting Wednesday, February 9, in Cresto Cottage. Many interesting works were read and discussed. Bill Hall read a paper entitled "What Hope?"; Beverly Brown touched high spots of human character in several sketches; Don L. Smith read some amusing poems, and Al Vosper read a stirring article.

Plans are being made for a compilation of some of the best articles and essays read this year.

Coffee House will hold another stimulating meeting next Wednesday, February 23, at 7:30 p. m., at Willamette Lodge.

Bush's Pasture will be the scene of a Wesleyan weiner roast Friday night, February 18, from 8:00 to 11:00 p. m. In case of rain, the group will roast hot dogs in the fireplace at Cresto. Singing and games will follow.

John Whitaker led the meeting Tuesday night, February 15, which was the third in a series on philosophies of life.

Y. W. ANNOUNCEMENT

A meeting for all members of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Tuesday, February 22, at 7:00 in Cresto Cottage. Martha Okuda will be in charge of the program the text of which will be a discussion of the return of a worldwide Day of Prayer. In previous years this was an annual event, and the local Y. W. C. A. feels that it should be continued as such.

Arnold Thonstad was elected president of Paint Spots at the meeting held on Tuesday night at Cresto Cottage. Student Union, Marjorie Nelson, Beth Hall, Merrill Cray and Janet Powell were elected vice-president, secretary, business manager and treasurer, and publicity manager, respectively.

The five new members who were initiated at the same meeting include Janet Powell, Beth Hall, Marjorie Nelson, Anita Allison and Arnold Thonstad. Both informal and formal initiations were held and each new member was presented with a carnation.

International Club members were guests of Jessica Kinsey and Virginia Bendicksen at the home of Mrs. Shaw, Wednesday night, February 16. Beth Hall spoke on life in Sumatra, an island off the coast of the Malay peninsula, where she lived for five years. A discussion of life there occupied the entire meeting.

Dinner Dance By Sigma Tau Gala Event of Friday

One of the highlights of the social calendar was the Sigma Tau formal dinner-dance last Friday evening at 8:30 in the Mirror Room of the Marion hotel. Maurice Bimford and his orchestra from the University of Oregon played for the dancing. Patrons and patronesses included Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Gatto, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Schulze and Prof. and Mrs. Egbert Oliver.

William Hanzen, vice-president of the fraternity was general chairman of the affair and assisting him were Grover Williams, William Parker and Max Dietrich.

The tables, each seating two couples, were centered with bud vases of daffodils and acacia, and favors and programs bearing the crest of the fraternity marked places for the guests. Over the balcony was a large Sigma Tau fraternity pin, attached to which on either side were two pledge pins. The pins were electrically lighted.

Guests included the Misses Elizabeth Savage, Eleanor Sederstrom, Margaret Hauser, Betty Taylor, Marjorie Van deWalker, Elizabeth Williams, Verna Vosper, Cathrin Headrick, Irma Calvert, Marguerite Smith, Dorothy Wright, Barbara Benson, Nancy Wilson, June Charbonneau, Alice Hope, Helene Truelsen, Catherine Faxon, Betty Markee, Grace Bailey, Mitze Arntner, Alene Fairclough, Narmaree Williams, Janet Hinkley, Betty Wethey, Melva Belle Savage, Joy Cooley, Alice Speck, Jeanne Probert, Betty Addison, Jane Campbell, Betty Ann Thomas, Mary Henstley, Isabella Mischler, Tony Cummings, Lee Larsen, Enid Winningham, Billie Smith, Marie Williams, Lillian Briggs, Beverly Bales, Madeline Best, Maxine Goodenough and Eileen Goodenough.

Cap and Gown Honors Soph Girls

The five members of Cap and Gown and their adviser, Dean Olive M. Dahl, last night at Frederickson's honored six outstanding sophomore women at a formal dinner. Miss Betty Taylor was in charge of arrangements. The table was attractively centered with spring flowers and candles, while placecards bearing a mortar board marked each place. On the program for the evening were the Misses Lillian Hart, Beverly Brown, Ina Bennett, Irma Oehler and Dean Olive Dahl.

Three Sororities Initiate Pledges, Dine and Dance

Climaxing a semester of pledgehood to each of the three sororities on the campus has been the present week of informal and formal initiation. Informal initiation began last Monday and although it has been confined to the chapter houses, evidences of it have been noticeable on the campus.

Delta Phi sorority closed its informal rites Thursday night by giving initiates an informal party of games and refreshments at the chapter house. All three sororities will enjoy formal initiation at 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, followed by formal banquets and the inter-sorority dance at the Salem Armory. The Delta Phi banquet is being planned by the Misses Lillian Hart and Enid Winningham and will be held at the cocktail room of the Marion hotel at 6:15. New members honored by this sorority are the Misses Juanita Cross, Harriette Coons, Elizabeth Lewis, Olive Clemes, Martha Rose Roddy, Alene Fairclough, Helene Truelsen, Marjorie Van deWalker, Kay Taylor, Betty Taylor, Virginia Moore and Elise Sharp.

The Beta Chi sorority dinner will be held at the Golden Pheasant. A patriotic theme featuring red, white, and blue appointments, Washington and Lincoln silhouettes, and tiny silk flags will be used. Miss Lucille Brainard will act as toastmistress. Miss Melva Belle Savage and Mrs. C. A. McCarger will welcome the new initiates. Miss Phyllis Phythian will speak for the juniors and Miss Leona Burdick for the sophomores. Miss Pat Schramm will respond in behalf of the new members. Girls being formally initiated are the Misses Jewell Minier, Doris Brown, Helen Mallett, Helen Bennett, Pat Schramm, Janet Hinkley, Jeanne Probert, Lucy Fisher, Beverly Brown, Geraldine Parker, Julia Foglesong. Additional guests at the banquet will be Miss Marjorie Christenson, Miss Ruth Fick, Miss Mary Erickson, Mrs. C. A. McCarger, Mrs. Chester Luther, Mrs. Paul Wallace, and Miss Esther Giffard. Alpha Phi Alpha sorority will hold its formal initiation service at 4:00 o'clock Friday, February 18, at the chapter house when six initiates, Virginia Harris, Catherine Mackay, Barbara Lamb, Gayle Dennison, Sophia Hughes, and Grace Meisiger will become members.

Following the ceremony the new members will be honored at a formal banquet to be held at the Quells at 6:00 o'clock. Miss Marjorie Jones is general chairman for the banquet.

Valentine's Day At Kappa Gamma Rho

Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity members caught the spirit of the season Sunday, Feb. 13, when they entertained with a St. Valentine's dinner. Lovely red tulips provided the decorative keynote. Miss Antonette Irish and Mr. Pat Crossland whose wedding took place on Feb. 14, were the honor guests. Dr. and Mrs. Lovell were also guests.

The guests bidden were the Misses Martha Herman, Helen Rodgers, Ruth Ramsdon, Dorothy Murphy, Lorene Tompkins, Mary Jeannette Sargent, Barbara Young, Irene Bliss, Minnie Bunch, Lois Burton.

Hosts included Bill Fisher, Ellsworth Morley, Bob Nelson, Harry Mohr, Vern Rierison, Charles Neville, Irwin Wedel, Kendall Tiesinger, Bob Anderson, and Laurence Nunnenkamp.

Sigma Taus Have Sweetheart Dinner

Sigma Tau entertained with Sunday dinner on Feb. 13, honoring co-eds at their annual sweetheart dinner. Mr. William Hanzen was in charge of arrangements. The table was centered with a crystalbowl of red roses on a large mirror; two red candles at either side were placed on smaller mirrors on which were also placed white pottery cupid figurines. Each place was marked with a small heart placecard.

Guests for the Valentine dinner included: Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Schulze, the Misses Melva Belle Savage, Alice Speck, Margaret Hauser, Madeline Howe, Maxine Goodenough, Cathrin Headrick, Lillian Briggs, June Charbonneau, Grace Bailey, Eileen Goodenough and Elizabeth Williams.

Hosts were Wayne Doughton, Herman Estes, Lloyd Riehl, Bob Farmer, Dayton Robertson, Talbot Bennett, George LaVatta, Buzz Hagedorn, Otto Wilson, Harlon Sheldon and Grover Williams.

Daleth Teth Gimel Initiates Pledges Saturday Night

The formal banquet of Daleth Teth Gimel to be held Saturday, February 19, at 6:30 o'clock at the Quells cafe, in one of the high-lights on the social calendar of February.

A nautical scheme for decorations and place cards is being carried out under the direction of Willetta Smith, general chairman for the dinner.

The program for the evening schedules: Dean Schultz of Reed college as the main speaker, Dean Olive M. Dahl, and Marian Chase, president of Daleth Teth Gimel. All of the speakers will emphasize the future of social service work in the United States. In the event that Dean Schultz will be unable to attend the banquet, Miss Lewis, new director of Young People's work at the first Methodist church of Salem, and former social welfare worker, will be the main speaker of the evening.

Delta Phi Mothers Meet Monday

The Delta Phi Mothers' club met for the afternoon, Monday, Feb. 14, at the home of Mrs. Charles Sherman. A regular business session was held and later refreshments were served. The sorority members surprised the club by a gift of several Valentine boxes of home-made candies and also issued an invitation to all Delta Phi mothers to come to the Court street chapter house Wednesday at 6:00 p. m., for a buffet supper in their honor.

Assisting Mrs. Sherman as hostesses were Mrs. Gordon Black, Mrs. S. L. Johnson, Mrs. Stanley Clemes. Present for the meeting were Mrs. F. A. Well, Mrs. Dave Pugh, Mrs. W. R. Speck, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. W. Gardner, Mrs. Don Upjohn, Mrs. Bert Hulst, Mrs. King Bartlett, Mrs. Stanley Clemes, Mrs. Franklin Thompson, Mrs. D. C. Burton, Mrs. A. H. Young, Mrs. L. S. Cross, Mrs. James McGilchrist, Mrs. S. L. Johnson, Mrs. Gordon Black and Mrs. Charles Sherman.

Library Party Last Friday

Mr. Robinson Spencer entertained the members of the library staff and the student library committee with a very enjoyable party Friday, Feb. 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scott on Court street. Numerous games were played which carried out a library theme.

Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. Franklin and Mr. Forrest Mills. Students present were the Misses Margaret Gillette, Lois Burton, Doris Hayes, Marguerite DuRette, Agnes Mickey, Marian Sanders, Helen Smith, Carolyn Woods, Norma Fuller, June Aasheim, Elizabeth Fitzpatrick, and Don Smith, Robert Neff, Bill Clemes, Mel Viken, Lando Hebert, Carl Mason, Ed Minneman, and Cecil Wickline.

Miss June Aasheim and Miss Lois Burton assisted Mr. Spencer.

Valentine Dinner At Alpha Psi Delta

Members of the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity were hosts at the chapter-house for a Valentine dinner, Sunday, February 13, at one o'clock.

Decorations of the rooms and the table carried out the Valentine motif. Spring flowers and tall tapers graced the table.

Special guests at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Vazakas and Professor and Mrs. Herbert Rabe. Covers were laid for Elizabeth Dotson, Shirlee Thomas, Barbara Lamb, Barbara Chapter, Janet Hinkley, Nadyne Kellogg, Elaine Sherman, Maxine Aasheim, Alice Midwood, Dorothea Klotzling, Marguerite Smith, Imogene Bowser, Frances Pickard, Carol Heuser, Frances Eidmann, Robert Wilson, Robert Kuecher, Richard Jones, Frank Goerlin, Charles Watt, George Schreiber, Charles Roblin, Cecil Quesseth, Curtis Johnson, Sam Kyle, Basil Aiton, Wayne Brainard, Dan Moses, Wendell Patch, Henry Frantz, Mr. and Mrs. George McCallister, and Mr. and Mrs. William Schreiber.

Wrestling Team Rapidly Getting Into Condition

Under the tutelage of Verne Rierison, senior here, the Willamette wrestling squad is rapidly rounding into shape for the coming meets which tentatively have been arranged with Linfield, University of Oregon, and the Portland Y. M. C. A., and Multnomah club teams.

Rierison, who comes from Camas, Wash., high school, was south-west Washington champion for two years at 129 pounds, and was also runner-up in the Pacific Northwest Amateur Wrestling tournament held at Portland in 1934.

Other men who are turning out are Art Olson, former Montana state light heavyweight high school champion, and George Clark, Earl Nichols, and Tats Yada, all from Salem and former Oregon state high school champions.

Reeves, Burger Turn Out
Bob Reeves and Paul Burger, former Salem high lettermen, are contending for positions on the Willamette team. Reeves was runner-up in the 135-pound division of the Oregon tournament held last year.

Other men turning out and making bids for spots on the squad are Ardo Stocks of Medford, Bill Hinkley of Ashland, Don Smith of Rupert, Idaho, Cecil Wickline of Warrenton, and Cortis Berry of Portland, manager.

Coach Rierison urges all men who are interested in wrestling, inexperienced as well as experienced, to turn out.

"We will be glad to teach any students who have had no experience in the science of wrestling, and we encourage them to turn out for some excellent exercise and muscular development," stated Rierison.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

W.A.A. Reporter

by
CORNELIA HULST

Now that soccer and basketball are over with, our attention is about ready to turn to spring sports. Archery will continue this semester, and tennis, swimming, and baseball will be topmost in the minds of all W. A. A.ers.

Ruth Yocum has already started a regular mob of beginning tennis enthusiasts. Probably there will be another large turnout when Frances Faber starts another class soon.

Volleyball to Continue
It was expected that volleyball would be finished up this week, but probably the final tournament game must wait till next week. At least we'll turn to have the floor cleared in time for the early and late and between times Freshman Glee practices.

History was made Thursday night when a selected group of volleyball girls attempted to defeat a boys' team, headed by Don Brandon. If the girls won (too late for the press) . . . well, will that mean the man was right who said that in the ages to come, women will be the ruling power while men sit back and take the submissive second place?

Eight Girls to Play
Anyhow, the eight girls who will be playing are Frances Faber, Carroll Gardner, Dorothy Moore, Ruth Yocum, Barbara Kuntz, Jean Anusson, Althen LaKant, and June Brasted.

Although Miss Curry is expecting any day to hear the outcome of the "archery tournament by mail," she still hasn't gotten word. However, along the archery line, archery practice for W. A. A. points will be started soon. Probably there will be a beginning class for those who have the interest but not the experience and skill.

Badgers Upset W. U. Hoopmen To Jumble Race

Pacific 44-33 Win Spoils Title-Seeking Hopes of Beareats

Playing on their "cornerless" home court, a band of sharpshooting Pacific Badgers threw a monkey-wrench into the championship hopes of the league-leading Willamette Beareats last Friday night at Forest Grove, by scoring an unexpected upset Northwest conference victory, the first of the year for the last-place Badgers.

Overcoming a 19-16 deficit at the half-time, Coach Pete Miller's proteges made good 19 of their 19 final canto shots to post a 44-33 win.

Weaver Outstanding
The Beareats, led by Walt Weaver, all-conference guard, tried hard to catch the Badgers in the final period; but the loss of Bill Anton at center and Weaver, both of whom left the game on four personal fouls, hampered any chances the local Maplemen may have had of catching up.

State Intercollegiate Tourney To Start Thursday

Entry of Sons Will Make Next Week's All-College Meet on WU Court Largest In Ore. History

Willamette Bearcats Are Favorites To Capture Championship: Trip To National Joust In Kansas City Beckons Titlist

By Paul Sturges

The entry of Southern Oregon Normal, reinstated last week by the state A.A.U. after an earlier suspension, will make next week's state intercollegiate tournament here the largest all-college hoop tourney in Oregon history.

Only two full-fledged tournaments have been held in recent years, the one two years ago at University of Oregon in which only five quints competed and last year's competition at Portland at which there were eight teams.

SONS Are Ninth Team

The SONS are the ninth club to officially enter the three-day tournament slated for Willamette's gym next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Others are Willamette, Linfield, Oregon Normal, Albany, Pacific C., Portland U., Eastern Oregon Normal and Mount Angel.

Although official pairings have not yet been made up by tournament officials, it is probable there will be three preliminary or elimination games Thursday afternoon and another pair Thursday night. Semi-finals are slated for Friday evening and the championship tilt for Saturday night.

Willamette Is Favorite

Willamette's galloping Bearcats continued to rate the title of the "team to beat," for the right to enter the national intercollegiate tournament at Kansas City, in last week's competition.

Upset by Pacific university, the "Cats" came right back to spill another strong favorite, Oregon Normal, by a 61 to 45 margin. Portland University continued to rally after a poor early season, with a third victory over Mount Angel college.

Those three quints, along with Southern Oregon Normal, winner of the 1936 tournament, will probably go to the starting post as favorites to win the coveted championship.

Tickets on Sale Today

Students are advised to watch local papers and bulletin board notices for official first round pairings and starting times for all games.

Tickets permitting students to witness every game in the three-day tournament will go on sale today in Graduate Manager Leslie Sparks' office for one dollar.

2 W. U. Football Stars Turn Pro

Elliott "Tootle" Becken and Dick Weisgerber, members of Coach Spee Keene's Pacific Northwest conference football champions for the past four years, have signed contracts to play professional football, it was announced recently.

Becken, star guard from Astoria, has signed a contract with the Cleveland Rams of the American league. Becken, who has been all-conference guard for the past two seasons, was placed on the Little All-American eleven last fall, and in 1936 earned the trophy for being the team's "most valuable player."

"Weisy," Becken Co-Captain. Weisgerber, 210-pound Little All-American fullback in 1936, and all-conference for four seasons, signed with the Green Bay Packers of the National circuit.

The Little All-American fullback, who hails from New Jersey, and Becken, 192-pound lineman, were co-captains of the 1937 Northwest conference champion Bearcats.

A strong Sigma Tau aggregation dropped one of the league leaders, the Stubbies, by a score of 38 to 18, to prove themselves one of the strongest teams in the league.

The Frosh forfeited to the Independents, and the Law School slaughtered the P. E.'s, 52 to 29, to provide a Roman holiday for the opener this week.

In the second game of the week the Alpha Psi's turned in almost as convincing a performance, by defeating the Twisp's 42 to 11. In the final game covered to date the Kappa's dropped the Freshmen 26 to 5.

High School teams over the entire state are swinging down the home stretch in their 1937-8 casaba schedules and interest from here on in will center on the battle for the right to represent the various districts at the meet to be held here in March. The above map shows the districts of the state which will be represented here. With the exclusion of the usual two Portland high school teams, districts six and seven will each send two representatives to the annual classic.

Bearcats Break O.N.S. Jinx, Win By 51-47 Score

Anton, Baughman Stars of Hard-Fought Tilt

Coach Howard Maple's Willamette Bearcats nosed out a 51 to 47 victory over the Oregon Normal school Wolves last Tuesday night at Monmouth to break a three-year jinx which Coach Al Cox Teachers had run up over the Salem collegians.

Previous to Tuesday night's game a Willamette basketball team had not taken a victory from the neighboring Wolves in three seasons of competition.

Accurate firing by the Bearcats and the stellar work of Bill Anton, center, who guarded Bill Baughman, center and chief scoring threat of the Monmouth team, contributed largely to the 17 to 3 lead which Willamette held at one time and the 30 to 12 advantage with which the Maples-men left the floor at half-time.

The second half, with Anton ruled from the game via the four-foot regulation after two minutes of playing time, was a complete reversal of the previous period. Baughman and Mohler began to run wild under the basket, and Dick Groganquist suddenly got "hot" from all parts of the court.

Baughman Stars Anton, with 4 field goals and 3 free throws in the little more than half of the game which he played, led the victorious Bearcats in scoring with 11 points, while Baughman, with 1 field goal and 10 free throws, given him when the Bearcats took to fouling to stop the tenky center after Anton was ruled from the game, led both teams with 14 counters.

W. U. 51 O. N. 47 White 4 P. 9 Mohler Gastineau 9 P. 3 Miller Anton 11 P. 16 Baughman Quesseth 7 G. 4 Peterson Specht 5 G. 11 Groganquist Substitutes, for Willamette: Catherwood 1, Westover, Skopel 4, Kolb 1, Neunenkamp 3, Eberly 4. For Oregon Normal: Lewis 2, Hagedorn 2.

Frosh In City Playoff

Coach Leslie Sparks' Willamette Freshmen team drew a bye in the second half playoff of the city "A" league. As a result, the Bearkittens will meet the winner of the C.Y.O.-General Pinettes game for the second half title, and the winner of this contest will play the Chemawa Indians, first half titlist, for the 1935 city championship.

Field Narrows Down In Battle For Salem, Baker Look Strong

Places In State Hoop Tournament

Early in December, 261 high school basketball teams began the annual trek that yearly leads 16 of the best teams in the state of Oregon to Willamette university late in March for the annual state high school hoop tournament. The teams, 59 "A" schools and 202 "B" schools, have been battling ever since for the various county, league and district titles that will eventually qualify 16 outfits for the state classic.

Baker Looks Strong Competition in narrowing down in many districts so that it is possible to select a tentative list of prospective teams, merit based solely upon the season's record, for the coming maplecourt fiesta.

In district one, Baker high, after several years' absence seems practically assured of a berth in the state meet. The Bulldogs, coached by George Allison, former McMinnville mentor, have beaten everything in sight in eastern Oregon, and, according to advance dope from that sector, Bulldog rosters foresee further successes at Salem. The Bakerites have one of the tightest defenses Eastern Oregon fans have seen in many years and have a passing attack that has completely baffled all opponents. The Baker Bulldogs seem state tournament bound and are sure to be classed as darkhorse candidates for the title now worn by Bellfontaine's Giant-killing Bells.

Hood River Contender Though The Dalles and Pendleton by any means be counted out of the race, as yet, in district two, Hood River high, paced by the brilliant Millard Carnes, point gathering guard, seems to have the inside track at present. Carnes has proven the backbone of the Apple-picker, five all season and upon his shoulders rest the hopes of that quint. Thus far this season McLaughlin high, The Dalles, and Pendleton, have had to take back seats to Carnes and his teammates, and there is little evidence that that any of the three will rise up and smite the Hood River boys out of a place in the state tourney.

In district three it looks like Klamath Falls again. The Pelicans are another team that is built around one individual. He is their racy pivotman, Musselman, who showed here a year ago. Bend's Lava Bears loom as the chief opposition for the defending district champs.

Corvallis May Come In district seven Corvallis, beaten only twice all year, is virtually sure of a berth, while University high of Eugene, and St. Mary's of Eugene, are staging a nip and tuck battle for the second position. In district eight, Roseburg, Marshfield, and North Bend appear about even, with any edge going to the Marshfield Pirates. In district nine, Ashland tops the list and is expected back, though Medford and George Hubbard's Grants Pass Grizzlies are not out of the race as yet.

District ten will be represented again by Salem, the host team, and the Capitol City boys, plainly over the in-and-out system that developed them early in the season probably will go to the post as oddsmen favorites for the title, despite the fact that the team is made up solely of sophomores and juniors. The Senators, who started the season without a single experienced player, and lost by large scores to Oregon City, Astoria, and Corvallis, have in the last month beaten each of the above outfits by wide margins. The coaching wizardry of Harold Busk which last year put a title contender in the race after the team had been ridiculed by write-over alleged soccer society affiliations of certain players and which developed a state champion football eleven in the second year at the local institution, has struck again, and in the Salem Senator quint is seen one of the favorites for the title.

Portland Out Portland schools are definitely out of the tourney, announced GSHFAA officials this week. In their stead will be an extra team from both districts six and seven. However, should the difficulties with the state association be ironed out, Lincoln and Jefferson would probably be the Portland teams, with Roosevelt a possibility.

District 15 will probably be represented again by Athena. Last year's district champs have virtually the same outfit back again this year and are very much in the running for their second successive trip to Salem.

District 14 has virtually conceded a second straight title to the Chiloquin Redskins who have been running roughshod over all opposition. District 15 also has watched last year's champion district outfit swap all opposition this year. Amity high, led by their sharpshooter Glosy, seems well on the way to another journey to the tournament.

District 16 is a tossup at present with Monroe and Thurston conceded the best possible chances of winning.

Corvallis May Come In district seven Corvallis, beaten only twice all year, is virtually sure of a berth, while University high of Eugene, and St. Mary's of Eugene, are staging a nip and tuck battle for the second position. In district eight, Roseburg, Marshfield, and North Bend appear about even, with any edge going to the Marshfield Pirates. In district nine, Ashland tops the list and is expected back, though Medford and George Hubbard's Grants Pass Grizzlies are not out of the race as yet.

District ten will be represented again by Salem, the host team, and the Capitol City boys, plainly over the in-and-out system that developed them early in the season probably will go to the post as oddsmen favorites for the title, despite the fact that the team is made up solely of sophomores and juniors.
