STATE CONVENTION.

A Report of the Convention of Last Week.

By 8:30 Saturday morning all seats in the Chapel of the Willamette was filled with young and enthusiastic workers, ready for the services of the day, the sacred concert filling the first half hour, consisted of the following numbers.

Piano solo, Miss Jennie Crawford.

Vocal duet, Misses Bessie Cornelius and Nellie Parsons.

Piano solo, Miss Bertha Anderwartha.

Vocal solo, Mrs. Selvy.
Willamette University Glee Club.

At 9 o'clock, Miss Constance McCorkle, State Secretary of Colorado, talked about Bible Study. Her remarks were full of strength and help to one and all.

At 10 Miss Smith presided over the business meeting, at which time reports from all colleges and from the officers of the state board were read.

Three conferences were held at 11:15—the faculty: which was presided over by Mrs. Farnham. Their program:

1. Physical Development—
(a) "Oversight of Students' Health."

[b] "Intercollegiate Sports,"
Miss Carter.

2. Social Life—Miss Starr.
[a] "Proportion of Time,"
Miss Silsbie.

[b] "Matters of Etiquette,"
Miss Carson.

3. Spiritual Life—
[a] "Influences in Students' Boarding Homes," Miss Smith.

[b] "Faculty as a Help in Development of the Spiritual Life," Mrs. Hawley, Miss Grover. The Alumnae committee was under the leadership of Miss Warfield, and the following topics were discussed:

"Relation of the Alumnae to Their Associations."

"Relations of the Alumnae to Their State Work."

"Relation of the Alumnae to Their Home Church."

Miss McCorkle was leader of the student conference and spoke with her usual nobleness of thought, just such words as are needed to help one in their every day life. The following was the program:

"Place of Association in College Life?" Miss McCorkle.

"Bible Study," Miss Frances Cornelius.

"Enrollment," Miss Alice McKinley.

"Preparation," Miss Smith.

"Attendance and Study," Miss McCorkle.

After this hour came the always enjoyable lunch hour. Miss Clara Holmstrom had this part of the program in charge.

The after dinner hour was spent in listening to toasts by the delegates.

College songs and yells were also given during this hour.

At 2 the afternoon session was opened by Miss McCorkle speaking upon Bible Study.

At 3 the student conference of the morning was concluded.

The state board held its meeting at 3:30.

At 4 group conferences were held, each department discussing the subjects relating to their particular committee.

At 7 a reception was given in the M. E. church parlors, the State Board and Mrs. T. T. Geer receiving. A very pleasant time was spent in meeting and becoming acquainted with all.

JOHN C. HERTZ.

Philodorian.

The Philodorian Society boys manifested a good deal of new spirit at their meeting Friday evening, November 21. It was election night, and every one seemed most anxious that the best officers should be chosen, as will be seen by the following names of those elected:

President, R. F. Morris.

Vice-President, Arch Jerman.

Secretary, Chas. E. Skidmore.

Assistant Secretary, Harry Spaulding.

Treasurer, Roy D. Price.

Censor—Ronald C. Glover.

Librarian, F. W. Poorman.

Sergeant-at-Arms, J. Reichen.

We are glad to note that R. B. Wilkins is again an active member, and that Edgar Meresse has joined the society, and hope that more of the Seniors will follow suit. Roy Knotts, of the first year class, is another new member, and several names are on the table.

Minnesota's students have formed a Scandinavian literary club.—Nebraskan.

Entered at the postoffice at Salem as second class matter.

CLASS spirit is high. Never in the history of the school has there been such enthusiasm as is being shown by the students this year. This is as it should be. Class organization and loyalty tends to hold the students together, helps to give them that spirit of fraternity which is and should be characteristic of a college student. There have been some rousing yells among the classes, especially the prep. classes. We should take an hour off some time and hear them. Such a howl is raised each time a yell is given that it is completely drowned. We want to know what they sound like without accompaniment.

There seems to be something wanting in either the ethics, the morals or the memories of some of our students. The number of announcements of books lost during the month past if put together would make a long list. Students should be more careful with their books; they should be careful with their books; they should be careful that when they pick up a book it is one of their own; when they lay a book down they should try to remember where it is placed.

The Louisville Medical College has 24 men enrolled in Bible study.—Nebraskan.

CORVALLIS WINS.

At 21 to 0—Second Team Defeats Reform School Again.

For the second time during the season, the Willamette University foot ball team went down to defeat before the Corvallis team, but what is considered a victory for the visitors may be also construed as a half victory for the Methodists, who contested every inch of ground with a stubbornness that was marvelous for a team so light as compared to their giant opponents, and succeeded in keeping the score down to 21 to 0, whereas on the former occasion, the Farmers on their home gridiron had a regular walk-over and piled up a score of 67 to 0.

The Willamette team exhibited marked improvement in every position taking into consideration that the Corvallis boys are in the very "pink" of condition, having been practicing and getting into condition for a final bout with their rival—the Albany college team—which begins to look as though it will materialize after all.

Both teams did some excellent work, and some star playing was exhibited upon both sides. The University boys made an excellent showing as individual players.

Pollard, at full-back, played a strong game, gaining ground whenever he was given the ball. Judd, centre, was also an aggressive player, and batted through the opposing line at will. Lucas, left half, did excellent work tackling, and bucked his man to a stand still.

Prior to the principal game the Second Team played the Reform School, defeating it by a score of 12 to 0. The game was well played and deserves more particular mention, but lack of space prevents.

The University of Colorado celebrated recently its quarto centennial anniversary with a great eclat. The entire city of Boulder was decked with silver and gold—the university colors

One of His Best.

Of the countless good stories attributed to Artemus Ward, the best one, perhaps, is one which tells of the advice which he gave to a southern railroad conductor, soon after the war. The road was in wretched condition and the trains consequently were run at a phenomenally low rate of speed. When the conductor was punching his ticket, Artemus remarked:

"Does this railroad company allow passengers to give it advice, if they do so in a respectful manner?"

The conductor replied in gruff tones that he guessed so.

"Well, Artemus went on, "it occurred to me that it would be well to detach the cowcatcher from the front of the engine and hitch it to the rear of the train, for, you see, we are not liable to overtake a cow, but what's to prevent a cow from strolling into this car and biting a passenger."

The Wesleyan, of University Place, Neb., has finally resolved to have an exchange column. We are glad to see this much needed improvement in our esteemed contemporary.

The Nugget welcomes the weekly in these terms: "The Willamette Collegian has changed from a monthly to a weekly paper. We are glad to welcome it in its uniform."

The high wind of Monday succeeded in lowering a part of the foot ball fence.

The Newberg delegation to the Y. W. C. A. convention visited Chapel Friday.

The Annual staff are hard at work and are sparing no effort to make a success.

The basket ball game between the girl teams of McMinnville and Willamette have been called off.

The last one of the unsightly cottages on the southwestern part of the campus is now being moved off.

The manager of the men's basket ball team is making out the schedule of that team for the coming season.

The delegations to the Y. W. C. A. convention from U. of O. A. C. and Albany college, attended Chapel Monday.

While we are having improvements made in every direction, why can we not have our system of electric bells improved.

The lecture by Dr. Williamson, which was to have been given Monday night, has been postponed on account of the gospel meeting now in progress.

Miss Bessie Poley of Lostine, who was in the College of Music last year, has been visiting friends at Willamette for the past week.

The foot ball season for Willamette will end on Thanksgiving, when our team will meet the Mouth team on our field.

The Thanksgiving vacation will include Friday, thus giving a large number of the students an opportunity to visit their homes.

Herr Gunter the German artist will assist in turning out the Holiday work at the "Cronise Studio" over N. Y. Racket Store.

ANNUAL.

Announcement of Interest to All.

The Annual Board is more than anxious that they should secure some good snapshots around the school. If you have a camera try your luck at a foot ball game, or catch one of the pros, or prominent students in a characteristic pose, and let the Annual publish the result. Don't show it around—we do not wish to publish anything that every one has seen. Did you hear a good joke on some one the other day? Think it out and hand it to one of the Annual Board—it is just what they want. Have you handed in your suggestion of a name for the Annual yet? Remember, the contest closes in a few days, and we need your idea.

Some Annuals of other colleges are going to be placed in the library this week, and if you really do not know what an Annual is we ask you to go there and find out.

Freshman Class.

Miss Winnifred Rigdon has been elected secretary of the class, to take the place of Miss Ruth Fields resigned. The question for the Fresh-Soph debate has been chosen, and is:

Resolved, That the railroads in the United States should be owned and operated by the U. S. government.

The Sophs have not yet chosen their side.

The Freshmen are going to hold a try out for positions on their team, there being six contestants on the field.

The debate will be held before the Xmas holidays.

We are sorry to note that Mr. Walter Keys has been compelled to return home on business, and will not be with us for some weeks. This may throw Mr. Keyes out of the debate and oratorical contest, and greatly weaken our teams.

Patton Bros. sell better grade of tablets for school than others and at a less price—compare the stock with other lines that you have seen when you buy.

TO MY BOOKS.

Silent companions of each lonely hour,
Friends who can never falter or forsake,
Who for inconstant roving have no power,
And all neglect, perforce, must calmly take.
Let me return to you, this turmoil ending,
Which worldly cares have in my spirit wrought,
And o'er your old familiar faces bending,
Refresh my mind with many a tranquil thought;
Till, happily meeting there from time to time
Fancies the audible echo of my own,
I'll be like hearing in a foreign clime
My native language spoke in friendly tone,
And with a sort of welcome I shall dwell
On these, my unripe musings, told so well.

EXCHANGE AND COMMENT.

We notice with great pleasure that many of the students are reading the exchanges with an avidity and eagerness that is truly commendable. There is much to be learned from a careful habitual perusal of these typical college publications. Such a reading will help to foster a more genuine college spirit and will import in our midst appropriate customs and venerable usages in vogue in other institutions. Let every student give attention to this important habit of doing systematic reading for the securing of valuable information. Our exchanges are replete with breezy and helpful suggestions. Our aim is to increase our exchange list and to obtain more especially papers published by the larger universities.

The Seniors of the University of California have adopted the old Princeton custom of gathering on the campus on one night of each week to sing the old college songs.—Nebraskan.

At Stanford University the band plays during foot ball practice, and it is claimed the men do not feel fatigued while listening to the music.—Nebraskan.

Yale has a $300,000 Y. M. C. A. building. Among its superb equipment are a gymnasium and a roof garden.—Nebraskan.

The Y. M. C. A. of Washburn College is rejoicing over a new room granted by the college authorities. It is located in the Chapel building and is well lighted and has steam heat.

The Universities of Pennsylvania and Virginia have entered into a two-year debating agreement.—Nebraskan.

Do not be particular about going to a famous college. Make the college you go to famous.—Nebraskan.

Yes, if you're a Freshman be sure and put two of those high school pins on your coat lapel.—Pacific Wave.

A Letter From An Alumnus.

A few days ago one of the Alumnae of the University residing in this city, received a letter from John R. Hume, '93. We are permitted to make some extracts from the letter for the benefit of those who were acquainted with him. The letter in part said:

Ten years have come and gone since we met for a few short months in the old college halls, but they have not served to efface, from my mind at least, the pleasant memories of those days, and your letter by the last mail, brief and pointed though it be, rekindles in my mind the reflected light of those earlier days on the sunset shore.

Probably you will be interested to know something of the checkered career of your old school fellow since we parted in '93. When I left Salem I went to California and located in San Jose, intending to take up a course in Leland Stanford, Jr., when I met an English newspaper man who said he thought I would succeed in the journalistic line, so I went on the staff of a British paper—and sailed about the Pacific Ocean, Atlantic Ocean, and Mediterranean Sea for several months, attached to a war ship. I was in Honolulu, Oahu, Hong Kong, Nagasaki, and Valparaiso, on the Pacific. On the Atlantic I was chiefly at Tangier in Africa, Port Said in Arabia, Dover and London in England, and Edinburgh in Scotland. While there I met some of my kinsmen and found that one of them, the present Earl of Hume, was in Parliament as representative Peer from Scotland. * * *

Previous to this time I had closed my contract with the British Colonial Press Association and completed my course in Literature and in Arts in a Jesuit University in this city. Then I went to London again and took a course in St. Bartholomew's Hospital and the Royal Hospital of the Diseases of Childhood, which, through the patronage of the Earl of Hume, I was permitted to do as patron student to the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII.
