

Menuhin to Present Concert On Salem Stage Thursday

By Darrel deChaby

Yehudi Menuhin will appear in a concert sponsored by the Distinguished Artist Series in the Salem high school auditorium on Thursday, December 20, at 8 p.m. Featured in the program will be the works of Tartini, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Bartok and Paganini.

Surrounding the life of any great artist are usually anecdotes which are interesting because they throw new light upon the life of that artist. Some of these bear repeating for that reason.

On the occasion of Yehudi Menuhin's debut with the Berlin Philharmonic in 1929 at which he played the Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms concerto, he was approached by an excited, bushy-haired man who exclaimed: "Today you once more have proved to me that there is a God in Heaven." With these words he lifted the young Menuhin off his feet and kissed him. The excited little man was Albert Einstein.

Bloch Pupil

Menuhin is a close friend and former pupil of the great composer Ernest Bloch, who now resides at Pebble Beach. Menuhin once received a letter from Bloch, then residing in Switzerland which said in part: "It is good and necessary to have advice from different men, different schools, different points of view. It generates independence—later you will emerge Yehudi Menuhin alone—free from all influences." Bloch composed the work "Abo-dah" for Menuhin and it has become a permanent part of his repertoire.

Bartok Impressed

Menuhin met the late Bela Bartok in 1943 and considered him the greatest of contemporary composers. The two men met, exchanged brief greetings and began to play Bartok's sonata for violin and piano. When they had finished Bartok remarked, "I thought works were only played like that after the composer was dead." It was on this occasion that Menuhin asked Bartok to compose the sonata for solo violin which had its first performance in New York in 1944. Thus we probably owe to the fact that Bartok was so impressed with Menuhin's artistry, the presence of this brilliant and imaginative work in the violin repertoire.

Menuhin has made over 185 recordings since the age of ten, among them all of the Bach paritas and sonatas for violin alone. He has appeared in several films, among them "Stage Door Canteen" and played the sound track for the film "The Magic Bow," a J. Arthur Rank production on the life of Paganini.

Life of Firsts

His life is a succession of "firsts." He was the first here, the first there. He was the first to play this work, the first to record that work. In his continued exploration of the world of music, a man such as Menuhin was bound to make discoveries. As far as we are concerned, Menuhin's latest "first"—his first appearance in Salem will be most significant for us.

A humanist as well as a great musician, with a strong sense of social and human justice cutting across nations and classes, races and religions, Menuhin believes that "music is so close to humanity that one must go to humanity to develop oneself as a musician."

Yehudi Menuhin, world famous violinist, will perform next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Salem high school auditorium. Tickets to the concert are still available, according to Harley Hoppe, concert manager.

Sororities See Two Prowlers

Prowlers have been reported at the Alpha Chi and Chi Omega houses during the last week. Witnesses at Alpha Chi described the man seen in their yard as wearing a plaid jacket, while the Chi O's nocturnal visitor was in a long overcoat with no hat.

The police department has requested that women's residences report all suspicious loitering at once. If possible the automobile license number should be secured.

Eight Colleges Represented In Mock Republican Conv

Bob Small, chairman of the Mock Republican Convention, has announced the committees formed for the operation of the convention next spring. Chairman Small also announced the tentative list of participating schools which include Oregon College of Education, Linfield, Lewis and Clark, Vanport, Southern Oregon College of Education, University of Oregon, Oregon State college and Willamette.

Chairmen Bob Packwood and Bob Batchelder constitute the Speakers' committee. The Personnel committee includes Roger Emmons, Bill Lasswell, and Pat Pomerlo. Making up the resolutions committee are Fenton Hughes, Burke Samuelson, Dick Lewis, and Jack Wilson.

Marilyn Merz heads the State Delegations committee and is assisted by Dave Card and Wally Snyder. Francis Smith, Amayllis Lilles and Daline Montag form the Correspondence committee and Bob Batchelder is in charge of Demonstrations. Physical Arrangements committee is headed by George Buland and assisted by Glenn Gregg. Paul Barkla and Eldon Caley are treasurers.

Small revealed that there is still plenty of room for people who want to work on the convention. Those interested should sign up on the sheets posted throughout the campus for the purpose, Small said.

Unesco Shows Movie Tonight

The tale of a man who has trouble proving he's not dead will be presented tonight at 7:30 in Waller hall. The man is Colonel Chabert and his exploits will be shown in the movie of the same name by UNESCO.

"Colonel Chabert" is written by the famous 19th century novelist Honore'd Balzac and depicts the misfortunes of the French officer in Neapolian's army who is wounded severely and tossed into an open grave as dead.

After "coming to life" Chabert runs into difficulty reclaiming his estate and convincing people he is flesh and blood. Starring in the production is the French actor, Raimu. The film is in French with English subtitles.

The second 20-minute film is "Animals Unlimited." It was filmed in Kruger national park in South Africa where wild animals roam unmolested.

Tonight's movie is the third in a series of foreign films sponsored by UNESCO:

Halls Close at Six

All halls and residences will be closed at 6 p.m. next Friday, December 21, according to Dean of Students Mark O. Hatfield. Housemothers should be able to leave for the Christmas vacation on Friday. No evening meal will be served.

Southern Pacific is running a Holiday Special, leaving Salem the 21st and 22nd at 6:15 p.m., and arriving at the San Francisco ferry at 12:50 p.m. All seats must be reserved through the S.P. ticket office.

Duff Talks Ike With Dean

Senator James Duff lunched with the Oregon Eisenhower committee Saturday and discussed the local political situation, Dean Mark Hatfield reported.

"The Oregon Republican club has been controlled by the conservative element in the past," Hatfield stated. "They were criticized for sponsoring Senator McCarthy's visit last summer, and so they decided to present both sides of the question by bringing Duff, who is a liberal."

Duff was one of the first to become interested in Eisenhower promotion, Hatfield said. Recently he has been touring different sections of the country to check Eisenhower sentiment.

Travel Index Put Into Effect

A new plan for the coordination of student travels on weekends and vacations was announced today by Dick Mercer, sophomore representative.

Students wishing rides home or having room in their cars for passengers are urged to stop at the student body office and fill out a card that will be matched to occupy the vacancies. The plan will be in effect every week end with special emphasis on vacation periods, said Mercer.

Names and destinations will be accepted by the student body office staff starting today. Students will be notified as soon as their car is full or their ride secured. Arrangements will be made by the driver and passengers for dividing the cost.

Glee Run-Offs

Reuben Menashe and Fred Schmale are in the run-off for Glee Manager following this week's election. Balloting will be held in Eaton hall Tuesday and Wednesday, December 18 and 19, to determine the holder of the position.

Aldinger Places Second in Extemp; Men to Represent WU in Discussion

Marge Aldinger won second place in the annual women's extemporaneous speech contest held at Lewis and Clark Wednesday, according to Dr. Howard Runkel. Speakers from eight colleges participated. Miss Aldinger won a cash prize with her talk, "Should McCarthy be expelled from the Senate?"

Five Willamette men will contend for the honor of representing Willamette in the annual Town Meeting Discussion Tournament sponsored by Vanport college which will be held in Portland January 14 and 15. They are Tom Scheidel, Jim Wood, Earl Atkinson, Robert Schaefer and Elliott Motschenbacher.

Dean Robert Gregg will act as judge in a contest Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. in 203 Waller to select the delegation of three speakers allotted each university.

The question for the 1952 tournament is "What should be the terms of a peace that would end the cold war?" In Portland the delegates will participate in symposia on this problem before five audiences of various types throughout the city.

The tournament is rated by Dr. Howard Runkel, coach, as the most stimulating and useful of any in which Willamette university takes part. The speakers address large audiences of various types and must defend their positions under questions from the audience.

The Big Lie

Tell a big lie to millions of people, tell it over and over without bothering about facts or logic, without regard to how preposterous or ridiculous or vicious it sounds at first, and pretty soon it acquires the status of fact with those unhappy people who are not in a position to check the facts.

Pretty soon even the injured and slandered parties, who know better, are panicked into fighting the big lie or negotiating over it, just as if it were the truth. Actually this is the old concept that the end justifies the means, no matter how immoral the means may be.

Dear Students:

Featured on this page are two letters, both written angrily, showing two opposing ideas. Both letters are poor. The Collegian editor's because it was written hastily, and, though portraying her personal feelings, it was written as representative of student opinion.

Miss Freeman's letter is poor because, as an agent of Mr. Wood's, she should try to improve public relations for him. No matter what kind of letter is received by a congressman, it should be answered with tact and diplomacy.

Representative Wood sent the editor material relating to H.R. 5080, which asks the United States to withdraw completely from the United Nations. The third communication from him contained a sheet on UNESCO, calling the organization, "the greatest subversive plot in history." The editor has told Mr. Wood that she would not print his "stuff," but it is in the Collegian office for anyone interested. Material of this type should be ignored, not fought.

What's the point of printing all this?? It isn't pride in either letter. It is this.

This shows the kind of person who too often get elected to represent us. We should know who we are voting for, lest it happen here. —MLL.

Now, first SHE said . . .

November 13, 1951
Salem, Oregon

Mr. Wood;

As a recent voter, and the editor of a good-sized college newspaper, I would like to know some of the background of H.R. 5080. Specifically, what do you expect to accomplish by this bill? Who are the kind of people who are inducing you to sponsor it? Are you aware that the American Flag Committee is a Fascist organization?

I cannot believe that a representative of the people would deliberately sponsor a bill such as H.R. 5080, when it would be to the people's detriment for such a bill to pass. I would like to know what influenced or inspired you to this measure?

You have wasted quite a bit of money in supplying college papers with your viewpoint. Your communication containing the fallacious argument against UNESCO was not the first notice received from you. As we college editors are flooded with propaganda material of all kinds, we usually investigate thoroughly before we subject intelligent readers to things we cannot prove the worth of. No editor will print your stuff, Mr. Wood, without a more complete outline of your purposes. So far we're probably all having a big laugh as we light matches to the material you've sent.

We on the Willamette campus wish you could be a part of our UNESCO group. It contains all college leaders. Faculty and students alike attend its functions. It is one of the first constructive groups I have ever belonged to. Perhaps the Congressional Record did carry the record against UNESCO, but, if you had investigated further, you would have found that it had been completely exonerated of charges such as yours. As for questions of sex education. My parents had answered all such questions long before I was six, so no teacher was influencing me. Student teachers from our education departments would heartily deny your accusations.

The United Nations has, and is, proving its worth. Without the UN, the United States would be considered as bad as the Communist states. As an American, you should work for the support of the UN. A lesson in history may help. We withdrew from the League of Nations when it could have saved us from the last war suffered. With proper guidance and support from the people of all countries, the world will succeed in its drive toward peaceful settlement of its major problems. Please do not act back in the 1800's.

Send me the information I request, if you can. My congressman would never vote for the bill, so it would be useless to approach him on it, even if I felt the same way. Also, when do you come up for re-election? This also interests me.

Little Man on Campus

by Bibler

"She's actually a big help. The Congressman sometimes lets her write letters for him."

... and then HE replied

December 1, 1951

Dear Miss Lee:

Your letter of November 13, 1951, addressed to Congressman John T. Wood, has been referred to me for reply.

I am amazed at the total ignorance of the facts of life exhibited in the language you have used in writing to Congressman Wood.

If your impudent, flippant, and utterly stupid letter correctly reflects the educational standards of Willamette university, they must be exceedingly low, when the "editor of a good-sized college newspaper" writes to inquire when members of Congress "come up for re-election."

I am particularly amused at your statement: "No editor will print your stuff, Mr. Wood . . . So far we're probably all having a big laugh as we light matches to the material you've sent."

You attempt to do by ridicule what you cannot do by logic or facts. The attached reprints from newspapers with more than a million readers should dispel the delusion responsible for your silly remark.

While you were gleefully and boastfully burning the material in a manner so reminiscent of Nero fiddling while Rome burned, loyal and patriotic Americans in all parts of the United States were sending hundreds of dollars to pay the Government Printing Office for reprints of H.R. 5080 and material relating to it.

Scarcely more than a century has passed since thousands of loyal, patriotic, God-fearing men and women traversed 2,000 miles of savage wilderness in covered wagons to raise the Stars and Stripes over the Oregon Territory — to build homes, schools, and churches; and to establish a Christian civilization in the Pacific Northwest.

How tragic that a crew of half-baked intellectuals composed, as you say, of "faculty and students alike" should desecrate the halls of learning, built at great personal sacrifice by these sturdy pioneers, and try to replace the Stars and Stripes with the spider-web banner of intrigue, atheism, and slavery.

As the departed pioneers look down on this blasphemous spectacle there must be sadness in Valhalla and the compassionate prayer of "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." I am wondering just how long the sons and daughters of those departed pioneers will tolerate this sickening situation. If they fail to rise and smite the desecrators of their heritage, they are unworthy of their noble forebears.

You apparently are some of the economic internationalists who would bankrupt the United States and subvert our Liberty and Freedom by making the United States the supporting cog in a world super-government, in which we would be outvoted by the have-nots of the remainder of the world. One of the first acts of a World Government would be to repeal our immigration laws and admit millions and millions of these have-nots, and thereby lower our standard of living to that of the coolie and the Hottentot. Is that what you want?

As I read your letter and note the sinister doctrine that has permeated and influenced the thinking of many of your citizens, I can more readily understand why the great state of Oregon is mis-who joined with Snow White in an effort to discredit Senator Joe McCarthy in his courageous fight to drive subversives from the State Department. Even more discreditable was his effort to smear the magnificent General Douglas MacArthur whose shoes he is unworthy to unloose.

Fortunately, the good people of Maryland who were nearest the scene and spectators at the Tydings "whitewash," gave their answer decisively at the polls. McCarthyism has come to mean opposition to subversives in government; and you can't sneer, or smear, or laugh that off with doubletalk; a tricky application of semantics, or the left-wing technique of calling loyal, patriotic Americans "Fascists," "Isolationists," or "Nationalists."

Thank God for our Isolationists and Nationalists. "Nationalism" is just another word for "Patriotism." But show me an internationalist; and I will show you a potential traitor to the United States.

Frankly, Miss Lee, I feel sorry for you in your confused and twisted thinking, and with the sincere hope that I may aid you to think straight, I am enclosing several reprints from the Congressional Record carrying statements by Congressman Wood. But I am fearful my efforts are "Love's labor lost" for "There is none so blind as they that won't see."

Very truly yours,
Sally Freeman, Secretary to Congressman John T. Wood

Drama Quartet Formed

Recently formed was the Willamette university drama quartet under the direction of Dean Graunke. Members of the quartet are Sue Mellor, Judy Wood, Phil Hammond, and Doug Graham. They perch on high stools as they read, occasionally getting off to move around the stool for bits of business. Prof. Graunke says he would like to see the drama quartet become a permanent fixture in the drama department and next year hold tryouts for it. The drama quartet has already made appearances around Salem, and more are scheduled.

THE CASUAL OBSERVER walking or driving about the streets of Salem these days will find a lot more evidences of the fact that a man named Menuhin is going to fiddle for us at the high school auditorium December 20 than he did before the Sayo concert. I feel that the recent reorganization of the Distinguished Artist series will produce more than casual results at the Menuhin concert.

Distinguished Artists is here to stay. Promoting a series such as this is a very complex business. The better organized the series the more immediate and far reaching the results. Indications are now that we are going after those results as only purpose and organization can allow us to. Thanks to those who are giving so much of their time to make this thing click.

Raimu Returns

Don't forget the UNESCO-sponsored film "Colonel Chabert" tonight in Waller hall at 7:30. The film, a story of the French revolution, stars the brilliant French actor Raimu. Those who saw "The Well Digger's Daughter" last year will not forget the wonderful comic performance of this actor. Better go early for best seats; the last two films really packed 'em in.

BEEFS

To the Editor:

As director of the Christmas Chapel play, "Lesser Lines," it has come to my attention that many people are wondering why we have chosen the particular play that is now in production. I would like to publicly answer this question.

It has been the experience of most of us, each year, at Christmas time, to attend some form of pre-holiday church service. It is the universal custom to present some sort of dramatic endeavor at these services. Quite often, these plays are the run of the mill plays about the life of Christ, the birth of Christ, the miracle of Christmas. Most of us have become thoroughly used to such productions, and to the conventional ideas about Christmas. We no longer see Christmas for what it is. As a matter of fact, our whole society is beginning to look upon Christmas as little more than a huge merchandising exchange period; a period of big business; witness the advertisements of the majority of the large stores as displayed in most of our newspapers.

We, this is, Jim Scott, the people who are working with me on "Lesser Lines," and I, feel that it is time to do something about this disinterested lackadaisical feeling about Christmas. We feel that Christmas is a time of year when, if you do nothing else, you must think. It is the time for you to have a "Retreat" with your "self" and with your "soul."

Student Survey Reveals Cheating Habit

Faculty to Mull Causes and Cures

Cheating, its causes and possible remedies, will be considered when the faculty meets at its next meeting in January, according to Dean Robert Gregg. Basis of the consideration will be a student council survey completed this week that says "There is cheating among the students at Willamette university."

The committee, composed of Cliff Gregg, Bill Reigel, Bob Stone, and Dr. Howard Runkle, interviewed 10 professors on the frequency and reasons for cheating.

According to the survey, it was unanimously decided that there is cheating among the students. To remedy the situation the professors suggested more efficient proctoring of exams and better seating arrangements. Objective Tests Bad

Also, they said, essay rather than objective tests might eliminate some possibilities for cheating. Some sort of honor system was also considered. However, the majority of the questioned professors said the honor system would not work.

Some said books should be left outside during tests. One professor felt that many short quizzes are effective, while another favored proctored open book tests.

The first step in eliminating or reducing cheating, said the survey, should be taken by the professors. A disciplinary committee might be set up they said. More proctoring of tests was advised.

Objective tests, such as multiiple choice or true-false, were more conducive to cheating. However, professors felt that objective tests could not be eliminated.

Mark Blue Books

One professor said tests should not be mimeographed too soon before the examination and blue books should be marked by professor before giving them to students.

Professors agreed that a few cheaters in a class can force others to cheat also. One professor said roommates should stop doing each others work. Upperclassmen should indoctrinate the lower classmen in an honor system, some said.

Willamette was not the only school bothered by cheating. A poll of students at the University of California revealed that more than half the undergraduates cheat. A survey by the Oregon Journal revealed the widespread cheating of Oregon colleges.

Reduce Temptations

Lewis and Clark said "cheating is reduced where the temptations do not exist." Oregon State and Oregon were both afflicted. State said reasons are the "easy opportunities for cribbing and grading on the curve."

Reed college said it was not bothered because the school has no grading system and no temptation or incentive to cheat exists. Other schools agreed that the overemphasis on grades was one of the roots of the problem.

Faculty Announces Changes In Scholastic Probation Rules

Students who fall below a C average or receive Ds in a third of their hours for the semester may be put on probation, according to a new ruling made Tuesday by the faculty. The new

Second Warning Due Violators Of Parking Rules

Student parking violators will be given an additional warning before being put on probation, according to Dean Mark Hatfield. The student handbook mentioned two warning notices instead of one as the Dean's office announced earlier, he said.

Hatfield also called attention to the two-hour parking limit for 10 stalls on State street in front of Eaton hall. City officials hope to ease the parking situation for visitors or part-time students who need only short-time parking.

The two-hour limit on 12th street was to have been removed but no action has been taken so far as Hatfield knew. No progress was reported on a near-by parking lot which is being planned for campus-city use.

plan goes into effect next year. Two changes were made in scholarship rules, according to Dean Robert Gregg. A full-time student will be put on scholastic probation at the end of any semester unless he passes in at least 10 hours.

Formerly a student had to pass in 12 hours. Dean Gregg felt it was an educational improvement not to require passing in 100 per cent of the minimum load. A number of schools have the same ruling, said Gregg.

The second change said a student may be put on probation if he received a D or lower in a third of his work. Or he may be put on probation if his grade average for the semester falls below a C.

Formerly a student was placed on probation if a third of his work had a grade of D or lower unless he had at least two hours of A or B.

Under this ruling, said Gregg, it was possible for a student to go four years without being on probation, and yet fail to meet graduation requirements which are a 2-point.

Under the new ruling a faculty committee has some discretion and may or may not put the student on probation, Gregg said.

Panel to Answer Questions For Men at Tuesday Convo

All men students will meet in Waller hall for Tuesday convocation, for the purpose of questioning and meeting a board of specialists chosen to answer questions concerning the armed forces, draft status, national guard, and student ROTC groups.

Students have had questions answered by various offices concerning draft and selective service status. The confusion resulting should be eliminated in the panel discussion Tuesday.

Represented on the panel will be the National Guard, Commander Bunn from the Navy and Marine Center, Chief J. E. Brown from Navy Facility, the Air Force Liaison Office, Army and Air Force Recruiting, Capt. Brown for the Army ORC office, and Colonel Mason from the State Selective Service in Portland.

Petitions Filed For Kollmann

Petitions submitted to Pres. G. Herbert Smith this week concerning the dismissal of Dr. E. C. Kollmann will be referred to the faculty committee of the Board of Trustees at its next meeting, according to Dr. Smith.

In commenting on the petition, Dr. Smith emphasized the complexity and magnitude of the total program of retrenchment which is being carried out by the University in view of an anticipated decline in enrollment which is expected to continue, nationally, until 1954. Willamette experienced a slight decrease in enrollment this year. According to figures obtained from Harold B. Jory, 1064 students enrolled for this semester as compared to 1069 for the first semester of last year. Mr. Jory estimates the number of "drops" to be increased slightly over last year at this time, however.

Dr. Smith admitted that the proposal to obtain a professor who would teach both religion and philosophy to replace Dr. Kollmann, if actualized, might be detrimental to the philosophy department although he believed it would not be. Examples furnished by such instances in other universities are not conclusive on this point, he said.

Over 400 names were secured on the petitions which were seen by an estimated 60 per cent of the student body.

Choir to Sing In State House

The Willamette a cappella choir will observe one of the University's Christmas traditions again this year, when they give a program of Christmas carols in the state capitol building. Next Monday at 3 p.m. the robed choir of 60 voices will begin its procession through the capitol building, singing the familiar Westminster carol, "Angels We Have Heard on High."

They will then gather in the rotunda to sing many other well-known songs of the Christmas season to an audience of state employees and students and faculty of the University.

Tryouts Scheduled for Two Dramas, One Planned for Religious Week

Tryout periods for two Willamette dramatic productions to be presented in February have been scheduled for next week.

"Papa is All" will be cast Thursday with tryouts from 1 to 5 p.m. in the Little Theater in Waller hall. In addition to this tryout period, Dean Graunke, who as head of the drama department will direct the three act comedy, has announced that appointments can be made for private reading tryouts for students who are unable to tryout Thursday afternoon.

Tuesday from 6:45 to 9 p.m. Garold Meinke will conduct tryouts for "Through a Glass Darkly," the one act play to be presented, under his direction, as part of the Religious Emphasis week program.

Three men and three women are required to fill the six parts available in "Papa is All" and "Through a Glass Darkly" has a cast of three women and four men.

According to Mr. Graunke, "Papa is All" is a regional comedy concerned with the quaint dialect and domestic customs of a Pennsylvania Dutch family near Lancaster. Papa Aukamp is a bearded, club-footed tryant who doesn't hold with such inventions of the devil as the telephone, radio, movies and inside plumbing."

Concerning the Religious Emphasis week play, Mr. Graunke states, "Through a Glass Darkly" is a message play against religious intolerance.

Radio Students Give 'Angel'

"Studio A" last night broadcast its Christmas presentation of "The Littlest Angel," featuring Audrey Bliss as the Littlest Angel, and Rollin Cocking as the Lord. The show was directed by Barbara Remelmeyer and script adaptation was by Audrey Bliss.

Monday night's broadcast of "Campus Chatter" consisted of an interview with Bob Kaplan concerning the Christmas play. The play, entitled "The Lesser Lines," will be presented in chapel Thursday. In charge of the program were Margaret Conklin and Earl Atkinson.

"Campus Chatter" will be given next Monday at 10:15 p.m. on KOCO by Rollin Cocking and Gussie Krause. "Studio A" is aired Thursdays at 10:15 p.m. on KOCO.

'Cats to Meet Chico State In Early Week Clashes

With a chance to move above 500 percent, the injury-riddled Willamette Bearcats will take on the winless Chico State Wildcats next Monday and Tuesday nights. Tip-off time for both games is set for 8 o'clock on the home floor.

The Bearcats evened up their win-loss record last weekend as they downed the College of Puget Sound Loggers twice for their only wins in the current campaign.

Chico State has suffered four straight setbacks this season. Single losses were at the hands of Fort Ord and College of Pacific. The remaining two losses were inflicted by University of Nevada. While the Willamette crew is idle this weekend, the Wildcats will meet Pasadena Nazarene in a two game series.

Girod Out

Lost to Bearcat squad for an indefinite period is Daryl Girod. The capable guard was bed-ridden early this week with a reoccurrence of a glandular infection.

Still favoring their injuries are Doug Logue and Ted Loder. Dick Mase was added to the injured list when he suffered a hand injury in the CPS game Friday night. Coach Lewis hopes that all three of them will be ready to go Monday night.

Coach Gene Maxey will start four veterans and one yearling against the Bearcats. The freshman making the starting five as a pivot man is George Maderos. The other four starters are Vere Butler, a Far Western conference all-star and lead-scorer for the Wildcats last year with 1147 points. J. B. Wilson, a one year letterman, will be up front with Butler. In the back court it will be one year monogrammer George Langen and Ellis Rolls, a two year letter winner and the tallest man on the squad at six feet and four inches.

Barring injuries, Coach Lewis will have Loder, Mase or Larry Smith at the forward spots and Logue at the center position. Hugh Bellinger, Dick Hoy or Lou Scrivens will be Coach Lewis' selection for the starting guards.

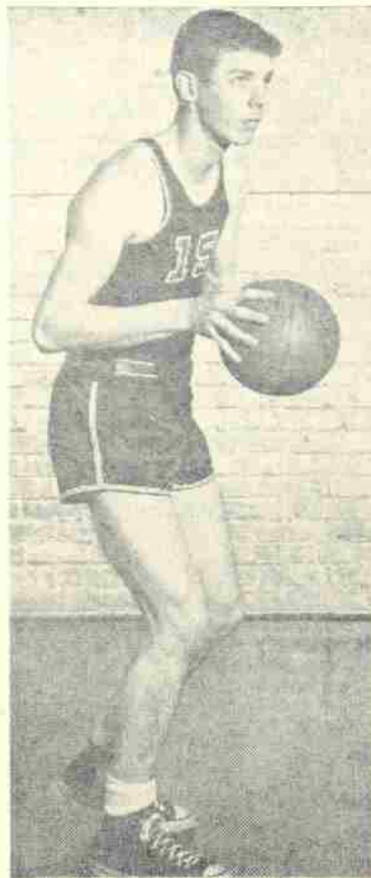

WAA Caps Archery Competition This Week

Willamette's WAA archery teams finished shooting this week in their bid for top honors in national competition. The local bow and arrow artists are trying for first place honors nationally this year after finishing second the past two years.

The first team, consisting of Ursula Glaeser, Kathy Kenyon, Jane Connell, and Pat Click, racked up totals of 2008 and 2090 points in their first two weeks firing. Results of the third week were not secured in time for publication.

In addition, the WAA is starting basketball with the first practice held last night. Practice will continue every Thursday night following the holidays.

Tops

Tops in height among the regulars and tops in scoring is Doug Logue, lanky Bearcat center playing his last year as a hooper at Willamette. Logue leads all scorers so far with 65 points.

Frosh Top Multnomah In Season's Opener

Coach Sam Vokes' Willamette Bearkittens open their season action with a bang as they walloped the Multnomah college quintet 75 to 28 last Wednesday night in Portland.

The frosh team completely dominated the play throughout the game and the Bearkittens had nine points, all on free throws, before the Portlanders were able to reach the scoring column. The halftime score was 48 to 16 with the Bearkittens on the long end.

The big spark in the Willamette drive was Dick Bertram who canned a total of 27 points for the evening. Larry Baggett, Ken Havernick and Larry Scheeler followed with eight counters apiece.

The fast break of the Bearkittens worked all evening and it was Bertram who was on the scoring end of the drive most of the time. Coach Vokes employed all 16 players on the traveling squad and they all looked good, according to the frosh mentor. Baggett and Scheeler looked very impressive on the backboards while Chuck Lewis played a good defensive game as a guard.

Willamette Stops CPS Loggers Twice; Capture First Victories of Campaign

By John Swensen

Willamette gave the College of Puget Sound Loggers a rough welcome last weekend as they handed the Lumberjacks a pair of defeats during the two-night stand. CPS bowed to a 71-60 thumping Friday evening and came back to be downed 72-65 Saturday. It was the first two wins for the Bearcats in four outings.

Saturday night a polished Lumberjack squad forced coach Johnny Lewis to play only his regulars, in sharp contrast to the Friday night fray in which the entire Cardinal crew saw action.

Led by Dick Mase and Doug Logue, the Bearcats grabbed an early lead Friday and held it the distance for the first Bearcat win of the young season. Opening fast, the 'Cats led 24-13 at halftime. Before two and one half minutes had expired, Mase had personally collected 7. Although holding their own during the second period, the invaders faced a 41-30 deficit at halftime.

Girod Fouls Out

A feature of the opening half was the ball-handling of Freshman hoopster Daryl Girod, who many times set up tallies for his teammates. Girod played a hard, fast ballgame, but was thumbed from the encounter midway through the third period via the personal foul route.

The Cardinal and Gold picked up during the third quarter to hold a 55-37 lead at the beginning of the final period. In the final canto the 'Cats used the entire squad. Mase and Logue potted 17 counters each in Willamette's 71-60 win, and Ted Loder followed with 12. Doug Logue carried the scoring load Saturday night, hitting the hemp for 23. Dick Mase scored 16, and Larry Smith came through for 10. The Loggers of the Evergreen conference played teamwork ball Saturday, with four regulars scoring in the double figures.

Willamette Holds Lead

Willamette moved out to a 20-14 first quarter lead, and enlarged it to 36-28 at halftime. The Lumberjacks moved up to only a five-point deficit, 54-49, at the three-quarter mark.

The Bearcats faced a pressing fourth quarter rally by the Northerners, but staved it off to pocket the contest 72-65.

During the tussle, 45 infractions were whistled, 26 against the Methodists and 19 against CPS. Mase and Dan Invee, lanky Logger sharpshooter, both left the game after five fouls.

Half-Time Skit Set

Members of the Associated Women's student body will put on half-time entertainment at the games Monday and Tuesday. The AWS will give skits at all home games the rest of the season.

Three-Way Deadlock Looms in 'C' Loop; Hot Races Develop in Other Ball Circuits

A tie for first place will be the trophy for the winner of the Beta-Baxter "C" league game tomorrow afternoon. The winner will be tied with the Sigs, who are idle this weekend.

In other "C" league tilts, the Phi Deltis with a 1-0 record will be battling the AA's for a piece of the first place glory. The AA's will be trying to crash the win column for the first time. The SAE's and the Oregon State hospital crew will both be trying to climb out of their cellar spots.

In the "B" league, the AA's will be shooting for their second win against no losses against the SAE, beaten in their only start. The Betas will clash with the Phi Deltis, both teams trying for their first wins.

SAE's Win

Wednesday night in "A" league play, the SAE's barely managed to edge out the All-Americans 28-27. The SAE's held a 15-11 halftime lead, but the AA's began to rally in the second half behind Millard Bates' 15 points and came within a field goal of winning. Vern Zeuske led the winners with 10 points.

The Betas rallied in the second half to overcome an eight to seven deficit at halftime and whip the Baxter team 27-19. Larry Standifer led the winners with seven points and Harold Moyer was high for Baxter with five counters.

The Phi Deltis led all the way to win their fourth straight game in "A" league competition Monday as they trampled the Sigs 27-17. George Porter led both teams with eight points. Bill Bissell and Paul Nieswander each had seven for the winners.

Baxter Loses

The Baxter "A" squad was the victim of the worst defeat of the season as the SAE's trounced them 51-19 in Monday night's second game. Zeuske led the winners with 12 points. He was followed by Bob Willcutt with 10. George Connelly was high for the losers with six points.

In "B" league play last week the All-Americans trounced the Betas 41-23 and Baxter slid past the Sigs 22-19. In the first tilt, Irv Roth led the AA's to the win as he dumped the ball through the hoop for 12 points. Duane Shield and Al Bellinger followed him with 11. Harley Hoppe led the losers with eight counters.

The Baxter quintet edged out the Sigs to win their second contest against no setbacks, as Don Rose scored nine of Baxter's 22 points. Tom Joseph had the losers' highest total with six.

Sigs on Top

Sigma Chi moved out in front of the "C" league on the strength of their 29-21 conquest of the team from the Law school. Wally Boe tallied 12 of the Sig total while Roger Rook scored eight points for the lawyers.

The Beta-SAE tilt was the closest of the day, as the stalling tactics employed by the Betas in the last 45 seconds prevented the SAE's from any further scoring and preserved a 16-15 lead for the Betas. Al Siebert and Tom Schrock were high for the winning Betas with six points apiece, but SAE Gordon Singleton was high for the game with eight.

The Baxter quintet licked the team from the Oregon State hospital 29-16 as Stan Shaw scored 11 points to lead his teammates. Andy George led the losers with seven.

SAE Keglars Capture Bowling League Lead

The SAE No. 1 team climbed into first place in intramural bowling last Thursday as the Sig No. 2 squad lost to the Beta No. 1 team by a score of 2 to 1. The SAE's were awarded top honors as they dropped the Baxter No. 1 squad by a score of 3 to 0.

The Beta squad moved into third place behind the Sigs by their victory over the Sigs. The Baxter squad still remained in the first division despite their loss to the league leaders.

In other league action, the Baxter No. 2 team dropped the Phi Delt No. 1 squad by the score of 2 to 1. The Beta No. 2 team edged out the Phi Delt No. 2 squad 2 to 1. The SAE No. 2 team won their match by forfeit as the Sig No. 1 team failed to field a full squad.

Bearkittens Slate Full Week of Play

The Willamette university Bearkittens open a full week of basketball play tonight when they travel to Newberg to meet George Fox in a twin bill. The Bearkitten first and second teams will play the George Fox Quakers in the main event while the third and fourth strings will face the Quaker Jayvees in the preliminary.

Coach Sam Vokes' Bearkittens will meet Multnomah college next Monday night in the preliminary to the Chico State-Bearcat game. Tuesday night the 'Kittens will again take to the floor in the prelim, but this time against the Sandy high school quintet.

The game against the Portland International Airport squad, scheduled for the home floor, has been canceled, but the game with Newberg high school will be played next Saturday night preceding the Central Washington College of Education-Willamette tilt.

The frosh squad will remain idle during the Christmas vacation, but will get back into the groove when they tangle with the Linfield frosh January 12 at McMinnville.

'Cats Shaping Up

Injuries have been a major worry so far this season for Bearcat basketball mentor John Lewis, but the genial cage coach is much happier now as most of the injury hampered players have recovered from their ills. As a matter of fact, the 'Cats will be in better shape than they have been in any game this season when they meet Chico State Monday and Tuesday. All of Lewis' hoopers will be ready to go against the Wildcats except freshman guard Daryl Girod who recently came up with a recurring glandular infection which is a holdover ailment from his high school days. Other ailments this season have benched some of Lewis' best battle-scarred veterans, namely Ted Loder with a hip injury, Doug Logue with his old ankle troubles, and Hugh Bellinger who had an influenza attack.

The absence of three players like Loder, Logue and Bellinger means a lot because that particular group of three placed on the all-conference first team last year. It looked pretty conspicuous to see Loder and Bellinger sitting a good portion of last weekend's CPS tilts out on the bench. Saturday night saw Logue join them for awhile as the newcomers and second stringers carried on the battle.

Logue Booted by Pilot

The only time that Logue, Willamette's top court performer so far this season, was forced to ride the bench for much length of time was in the Portland clash when he was unable to play the second half. Besides his ankle bothering him, Logue got kicked in the head during a wild scramble on the floor. Bellinger, Lewis happily reports, is rapidly showing signs of reaching last season's form. Hugh had it pretty tough at the beginning of the season this year — getting married, having to face his wife's cooking attempts, and then an attack of flu was just too much for him. Loder is the only member of the three that is not completely healed. However, Ted's hip injury is getting much better and we should be watching the Loder of old perform in the near future as only he can.

Northern Lights, Icebergs Decorate Baxter Formal

"Northern Nocturne" is the theme of the Baxter formal dance to be held at Baxter hall tonight from 9 o'clock until the last dance at 12.

A mural in three dimensions will greet the guests as they enter the dance. It will be a panorama of icebergs with the northern lights done in luminous paints reflecting blue and white lights hidden below. At the side of the room will be an authentic waterfall and a pool. Carl Blanes, in charge of the decorations, has planned these to realistically carry out the effect of the frozen North.

Shorty Krake, who is in charge of the programs, has designed a scene of snow capped mountains for the cover. In the programs, instead of the customary dance numbers, will be a verse.

Jim Wilcox, general chairman for the function, has asked Chuck Johnson and his band to play for the event.

Refreshments, planned by Don Boudon, will be punch and "snow balls."

Chaperons for the dance will be Mr. Robert Reid, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Kollmann, and Mrs. Bertha Johnson, house mother for Baxter hall.

Guests who have been invited to attend "Northern Nocturne" are Dean Regina Ewalt, Dean Mark Hatfield, and Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith.

Children Entertained

Phi Delta Theta made this Christmas a memorable one for 30 underprivileged children yesterday afternoon. At 5:30 the children arrived at the chapter house where they had dinner, after which they were given gifts by Santa Claus.

The presents were donated by the members, and Sears and Roebuck company gave the house defective toys which they repaired for the children. Approximately four toys were given to each child.

George Collins, social chairman, was in charge of the project.

30 Men Take Draft Test

A selective service test was given to about 30 men students last Thursday morning in Waller hall. The three-and-a-half hour test was given to those men, mostly freshmen, who had received their admission cards to take the test through their local draft boards.

The test was one of two measures that their local draft boards may use to grant continued deferment for college education. A score of 70 or better is required on the test to justify consideration on this basis.

The other measure which their local draft boards may use to determine deferment is their standing in the class. This may be used in place of the test.

Students Act on Committees For Discipline, Student Union

Jackie Johnson and Lou Prediletto were named as student members of the discipline committee last Wednesday. Their names were selected by the faculty members of the discipline committee from a list of six nominations of the student council.

The discipline committee meets on matters involving dismissal, and serious breaches of discipline. Miss Johnson will be referred to the cases involving women students, Prediletto in those involving men.

A committee has been nominated by the student council to investigate ways of raising money for the proposed student union building.

The council felt that a coordinating body should be selected who could determine what activities on the campus could contribute to the student union, and this body could develop financial means for building the student union in the near future.

Tom Joseph, as treasurer, was elected to head the group, with Carolyn Vester, Dick Mercer, and Sue Mellor assisting.

All students who are interested in helping on the committee are asked to contact Tom Joseph, or leave their name in the student body office.

Indeps to Meet

There will be an Independent Town Students meeting in Waller hall next Wednesday at 12:15.

Future Student Leaves Japan

Kenzaburo Mizugake, a 20 year-old Japanese student, left Kobe, Japan Wednesday on his journey to Willamette where he will enroll next semester.

Mizugake, a high school graduate, has studied three years at Kwansui Gakin university. At Willamette he will major in economics preparatory to entering foreign trade.

A manager of the English speaking society while in high school, Mizugake has also served as president of the Christian Youth Fellowship for the past year. Formerly he occupied the position of secretary of the fellowship.

Elmer E. Smith, a friend of Kenaburo, will be his host while he attends Willamette.

Pre-Med Club Makes Survey

The Pre-Med club, in conjunction with advisor Dr. Cecil R. Monk, has released the results of a recent survey determining the number of pre-medical students and those in related fields on the campus.

The survey revealed that 84 students are now pursuing the study of pre-medicine and associated studies. The strongest representation is in pre-medicine with 53 enrolled, the largest number being sophomores with 17.

Pre-dental and laboratory technology are second in population with 11 in each. Freshmen are represented strongly in pre-dental with five and sophomores in lab technology with six. Nursing is next in line with six and one half of these are freshmen.

Pre-veterinary lists one freshman and one sophomore and physical therapy one freshman.

The only course with a senior enrollment is pre-medicine with nine.

At a club meeting held last Wednesday the pre-meds heard a lecture by Dr. Robert E. Joseph of the State Tuberculosis hospital. Doctor Joseph demonstrated the various surgical techniques connected with the treatment of tuberculosis. He illustrated his talk with X-rays of several patients at the hospital.

Psych Club Seeks National Charter

The Willamette Psychological Association, advised by Dr. Charles H. Derthick, expects to apply for a charter in the national psychological honorary, Psi Chi, before the Christmas vacation.

Application was referred to the national honorary by the association two years ago but was lost in the mail.

If the application of the Willamette organization is accepted, it will be the first in the state of Oregon to meet the requirements. Washington and Washington State are two members of Psi Chi in the area.

by Acting Oregon Supreme Court Chief Justice Arthur D. Hay. The ceremony, in the court room of the supreme court, was witnessed by members of his family, fellow attorneys, representatives of the governor's office and the corporation commission, and the outgoing PUC commissioner, George H. Flagg.

Heltzel has served as legal advisor to the corporation commission since 1942. He attended Willamette first in 1932-33, transferred to the University of Oregon, and entered the Willamette Law school in 1935, receiving an LLB in June of 1938.

This appointment is of particular interest to Willamette students, as the Public Utilities Commissioner rules on all phone company tariff rulings.

Hoss to Interview Men in Service

Willamette students and faculty members who have close relatives serving in the Armed Forces in Germany, France, or England, are invited to submit their location to Stevens and Son, Jewelers, before January 6.

Dave Hoss, who will go to Europe next month under the sponsorship of KSLM and Stevens, will attempt to contact them for interviews and news stories. Complete information can be obtained at Stevens and Son, State and Liberty.

While overseas, Hoss will also act as special correspondent for the Capital Journal.

Ursula Glaeser and Hellmuth Schreima, Willamette foreign students, were heard this week on a KSLM "Preview to Europe" broadcast.

'In a Dream' Play Scheduled Thursday RE Week Planned For Late February

By Ann Shidell

"In a dream that I dreamed I was dreaming"—from time immemorial men have wondered and searched after God, often dreaming of the world beyond our earth.

"Lesser Lines" will be given next Thursday at the Presbyterian church.

Jim Scott, in his play, "The Lesser Lines" cast his protagonist "I" as a dreamer in a futuristic setting of cubes and spheres of a world beyond. Floating and falling "I" felt himself to be at the world's center. In the distance he saw a man. A contraction of space brought the man near and "I" asked, "Who are you?" "I am Entity" was the reply. "I" felt as if he had known Entity for a long time.

Marvelling "I" tries to understand the mystery of this unknown place. If this be earth's center where is Dante's Inferno? Entity, of his great wisdom, states that man has searched for truth, God is truth, but man accepts the near truth, partial wisdom, and pseudo facts. Man's own ego has warped him in his search for God—man looks for man's God and not the God of man. "I" kept on searching and seeking the truth.

The set will be a suggestion taken from the first line of the script—a box within a box within a box. The action will take place in the innermost box—lights and filmy material will be used to give a dreamlike effect. The action will be in a pantomimical form, but not pure pantomime. Special effects will be used to put across the main ideas. Actors will not be speaking the lines but will be acting over the narration.

"Lesser Lines" is being directed by Bob Kaplan with Dorothea Anderson as co-director. Members of the cast include Bea Kauffman, Jim Hitchman with Jane Fooshee and Marion Putman as narrators.

"Christ's Way Today?" will be the theme of Religious Emphasis week to be observed on campus February 26, 27 and 28.

Sponsored by the Interfaith Council, the main speaker will be Dr. Glenn Olds, who will address the student body daily at 10 a.m., Wednesday at the First Christian church; Tuesday and Thursday chapels at the First Methodist church. A former Willamette student, Dr. Olds is presently university chaplain at the University of Denver. A coffee hour in the Cat Cavern will be held at 4 p.m. on Tuesday for those who wish to become better acquainted with him.

Plans are under way to secure guest speakers for all 11 a.m. classes on one of the days. Professors will invite outside experts from their fields who will relate the connection between the department and Religious Emphasis week.

Firesides on Wednesday will also include guest speakers. A movie is tentatively planned for Thursday. Concluding the week will be the play "Through Glass Darkly" on Thursday and Friday evenings.

More representation in planning is being stressed for the year's event, according to Not Lawson, RE week general chairman. All living organizations will actively be represented.

Committee chairmen working on the project include Ver Groves, program; Shirley Clifford, worship; Carl Blanes, essay and poster contests; Sue McElhinny, hospitality; Dick Unruh, RE week programs; and Joe Benninghoff, library displays.

Announcement of New Drill Team Members Delayed by Improvement of Inexperienced

Members of the newly organized AROTC rifle team will be announced after Christmas vacation, Capt. T. M. Velde, coach, reported. Two five-man teams will be selected with one alternate for each team. All men who have tried out for positions will automatically be members of the rifle club.

Choosing of the team has been delayed, Captain Velde said, because of the great improvement shown in some of the men who had had no previous training.

Early in January the teams will compete with ROTC groups from over 500 colleges and universities throughout the country in the William Randolph Hearst postal match. Each school will fire at its home range. The professor of air science and tactics must witness and certify the targets used for the match. The targets will be mailed to the director of Air Force training in Washington, D. C. The office of the Secretary of Defense will evaluate the results.

A perpetual championship cup is awarded to the winning team. In addition, trophies and medals are given in each of the six army areas in the country. Oregon is situated in the Sixth Area, along with Montana, Idaho, Washington, California, Utah, Nevada, and Arizona.

Willamette has received invitations from the University of Kansas and the University of Delaware to participate in postal matches during the spring semester. When a school invites other teams to compete in a match, it acts as host for the event by scoring the certified targets as they arrive by mail.

For three weeks, candidates for team positions have been firing on Monday and Thursday evenings in the Reserve Armory. Twenty-two caliber rifles are used for the shooting. The target range is 50 feet, and the target is one and fifteen-sixteenths inch in diameter. The bull's eye is only one-eighth inch in diameter.

Firing is done from four positions: prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. Although the emphasis up to now has been on acquiring proper positions and breath control, several men have made scores in the 90 per cent group. The highest score to date is 97 out of 100.

"Although the scores are not yet comparable to those of schools with several years experience," Captain Velde remarked, "I am well satisfied with the early season performance."

The rifle team is a voluntary extra-curricular activity for purposes of recreation.

Hillcrest Sees Show

Willamette's Varsity Varieties was presented by students to the girls at Hillcrest school. The hour long show was given on December 6. Eight acts were presented.

Islands Show Due Monday

A special Christmas broadcast from the Capitol rotunda will be featured Monday at 3:30 p.m. for release over KPOA in Honolulu.

Fifteen students from the Hawaiian Islands, the a cappella choir, Governor Douglas McKay and President G. Herbert Smith will be featured on the program.

The program will be tape recorded by station KSLM and flown to Honolulu for re-broadcast during the Christmas season. Dave Hoss will emcee the show.

This is the third year in which students who have not been able to return to their homes in the Islands have had the opportunity of sending Christmas greetings to their friends and relatives in Hawaii by radio.

The program will follow the annual Christmas caroling by the a cappella choir through the halls of the Capitol.

Young Demos Select Caley

Eldon Caley, Willamette senior, was recently appointed to a vice-presidency on the executive committee of the Young Democrat Clubs of Oregon. Appointments were made by President Walter J. Dennis to fill vacant offices and were approved by the committee.

Other officers named were Ed Ridderbusch of Tillamook, vice-president; Noreen Kelly of Medford, national committeewoman; and student division co-chairman, Joan Long of Marylhurst college.
