

GRADS' RETURN TO BE BIG EVENT

Art Erickson Manager for Homecoming Week-end November 18-19

Plans for Homecoming are being directed this year by Art Erickson. Although all the plans are as yet not definitely settled, the manager hopes to complete arrangements by the end of the week. According to reports from the alumni association, that group is not in favor of the carnival which the A. S. W. U. has sponsored for the past two years. To take its place on Friday night there may be a skating party or a bonfire. The freshmen and sophomores are cooperating in an effort to obtain permission from the city to build one on Olinger Field or another suitable place.

The Slogan contest is being conducted this week by the school. In order to get an appropriate 45 letter sentence to use in the signs, each sorority, fraternity, and Lausanne Hall erects a homecoming sign in its yard illustrating the slogan. The winner of the sign contest is awarded a silver cup, and also the person who writes the winning slogan is awarded.

This year the annual tilt between Willamette and Whitman is to be played Saturday afternoon. One reason for not having a night game is that more of the alumni will be here Saturday than on Friday.

The manager, the yell king, the song queen and the vice-president plan to arrange for a "Pop" banquet on Friday night similar to the one last year.

The homecoming play is another annual event, and this year "The Rivals" by R. B. Sheridan will be presented. Following the play the alumnae hold their banquet at one of the downtown hotels.

NEW SORORITY HOUSE FOR ALPHA PHI ALPHA

Members of Alpha Phi Alpha sorority will be moving into their new home at 750 North Summer street Friday or Saturday of this week-end.

The property was formerly that of N. C. Kafoury. This residence is ideal in every way for a sorority home, there being nine rooms besides a large sleeping porch, two good-sized hallways and a full cement basement.

The location is excellent in as much as the distance from school or town is not great.

The yard, spacious and well landscaped, is beautified by the mill creek.

Willamette to Broadcast Over Radio Stations

Glee Clubs to Present Opera "Bohemian Girl"

Production Will be Given in February; Choir Work to Start Nov. 1

Only after prolonged correspondence has Professor Cameron Marshall, head of the music department, been able to secure "Bohemian Girl" for the annual presentation of the Philharmonic Choir. The final arrangements were completed October 16 with Tams-Witmark Company of New York, who hold the booking rights.

"Bohemian Girl" is known as one of the old standard operas, and far surpasses in quality any student presentation yet produced on the Willamette campus. Professor Marshall estimates the time required to perfect the opera at three months, which will make the date of presentation fall near the end of February. Work on the choruses will begin about November 1, with casting completed shortly after.

The combined glee clubs will do all the work of staging, as well as the managing. The opera is divided into three acts, and has nine leading roles.

"Bohemian Girl" is adapted by Hunn from the ballet "The Gypsy," the music of which was written by Balfe. The original production was at Drury Lane, November 27, 1843.

Professor Marshall directed the first practice of the Philharmonic Choir on Monday, October 17. Although no special program for the year's performances has been made, the group will start work on selections for a Christmas presentation.

Members selected for the choir after competitive tryouts were held are:

Barbara Barham, Ruth Schreiber, Clara Wright, Anna Jo Fleming, Edythe Glaisyer, Ruth Mort, Margaret Notson, Harriette Adams, Helen Knight, Doris Turrell, Jeannette Scott, Elizabeth Boylan, Elizabeth Clement, Carol Braden, Verdella Mueller, Marjorie O'Dell, Martha O'Dell, Bernice Rickman, Pat Gallagher, Molly Gallagher, Dorothy Durkee, Eleanor Henderson, Marjorie Wunder, Grace Elizabeth Holman, Deana Shepherd, Roberta Varley, Mar-

NEWSPAPER WORK EXPLAINED TO STAFF

Collegian staff members were officially introduced to the mechanism of the Collegian at the first meeting of the staff Friday night, October 14, at the Ak-Sar-Ben confectionery. Reo Young and Louis Magin, co-managers of the Collegian, explained the business end of the paper and its importance, asking the support of the editorial staff in making the paper a financial success. Lois Wilkes, the editor, explained the process of making the Collegian, from the time that the assignments are received to the time the copies are given to the students after chapel. It was announced that a tour of the Statesman printing plant by the staff members is being considered. This tour, which will not only prove interesting but also will give a more thorough knowledge of the construction, will show the linotype machines in action, the setting up of the paper, its printing, and lastly the folding and trimming of the printed paper.

Since this meeting was a decided success, it is planned that other such meetings will be held throughout the year.

A unit set is to be used in portraying the different rooms of the play. The same set is used throughout, but by the use of various properties it will be made to represent a boudoir, a parlor, and two different lodgings.

The play will be presented in the Salem high school auditorium the evening of November 19.

In the managing staff Alfred King is the main supervisor; Luella Allen, technical director; Frank de Lespinasse, stage manager; Molly Gallagher, costumes; Katherine Holden, scenery design; Katherine Earle, properties; and Richard Upjohn, lighting.

The costumes for "The Rivals," which is a period play, are being reproduced by Miss Latimer's class in Historic Design.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB IS TO MEET OCTOBER 19

Members of the Shakespeare club will hold their second meeting for this year on Wednesday, October 19, in Willamette Lodge. They are engaged in reading "Twelfth Night."

Students interested in taking part in the activities of the Shakespeare club may see Dr. Kohler or Annabel Toose.

Politics Attract Interest in W. U.

Republican, Democratic, and Socialistic Parties Represented on Campus

Willamette students are becoming "politics conscious." In the last two weeks, both Socialist and Republican clubs have been organized on the campus with rumors of a like organization for those with Democratic inclinations. To further arouse interest, the Collegian will sponsor a straw vote.

The Socialist club plans to obtain a speaker and will send members to speak outside the campus if so desired. The Republican organization will challenge the Socialists to a debate on issues supported by the respective clubs.

Officers of the Republican club are: Ray Lafky, President; Madeline Schmidt, Vice President; and Barbara Barham, Secretary. Enoch Dumas is president of the Socialist club and Lucille Brown, secretary-treasurer.

BILLS BEING PAID, INTERNATIONAL HOUSE ENDS

All bills having been paid, the International House closed last week with a clean slate. As much as the members of the club regretted the closing, it was deemed advisable to do this rather than run the house at a loss.

During the summer 11 students had promised to live in the house this coming year and they also had prospects of several others. However, when school opened only two were financially able to live at the house.

A counselors' meeting was called Monday evening by Eugene Smith, first counselor, at which plans were made and discussed for the coming year. These will be presented to the members of the club at the next meeting.

WILLAMETTE STUDENTS RECOVERING SLOWLY

Margaret Nunn, a sophomore, who is recovering from a severe injury received in an automobile accident last July near Coos Bay, is reported to be much better.

She has been in the Wesley Hospital in Marshfield until last week. During her stay there she received one hundred eighty letters from her many friends, which did much to pass away the long hours.

Although she will have to remain in her plaster cast a few weeks longer, she was able to return home last week. Margaret reads quite a bit and is being entertained by many visitors. How soon she can return to school is not known.

Harold Rhoten, a senior, who is spending the winter in a hospital in San Jose, California, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Rhoten states that he is doing as well as can be expected. He is kept rather quiet and must submit to a several hour rest period every day.

President Doney and Band Represent Willamette at Ceremony Oct. 15

Marking the end of the old Oregon trail and commemorating the founding of The Dalles Indian mission of the Methodist Episcopal church, a monument was dedicated at The Dalles, Saturday, October 15. The monument, which is about four feet high, is located at the junction of two streets entering The Dalles.

The program, held Saturday afternoon, included talks by the mayor of the city, Dr. Fred Thompson, Dr. Carl G. Doney, who presented the monument, Judge Charles F. Carey, R. A. Hutchinson, D. J. Butcher, who represented Gov. Julius L. Meier, Rev. Joseph Knotts, and W. S. Nelson.

The University band played a selection and Joseph White, a Mohawk Indian, sang two solos.

KOAC and KGW Profer Services for New Radio Feature by Bearcats

Through the courtesy of radio station KGW, Willamette will, if tentative plans are concluded, present a series of weekly radio programs, beginning the latter part of next week, which will inform the public of the purpose and ideals of the university.

The generous offer of radio time by station KGW was made after KOAC, state owned station at Corvallis, had proffered a similar invitation, and the university had presented one program over the air from the state college. On Tuesday, October 11, Dr. Doney spoke, and Miss Elizabeth Clement and Miss Jeanette Scott presented musical selections.

Another half hour over KOAC is planned for October 25. Dr. Serva B. Laughlin will speak on the subject, "Will the American farmer become a peasant?" Music will complete the program.

A faculty committee headed by Professor Jones has been put in charge of arranging the sketches to be offered over KGW, and a draft of the first five programs has already been submitted by the committee to the production staff of the Oregonian station. The half hour broadcasts will consist

Band Makes Trip To Trail Marker

On Saturday, October 15, twenty-one members of the band made a trip to The Dalles to furnish music for the dedication of the monument which was presented by the students of Willamette to mark the end of the Old Oregon Trail. The expenses of this trip were paid from the money left over from that which was gathered for the erection of the monument.

Band membership is still open to anyone wishing to join. Those playing reed instruments, saxophones and clarinets are especially welcome. One hour's credit is given for a year's work.

Practice is held every Wednesday evening at 7:15 in Chresto Cottage.

At present the members of the band are working hard getting ready for their appearance at the game Friday evening.

ASPIRING WRITERS ATTEND COFFEE HOUSE

About a dozen students expressed an interest in creative writing as evidenced by the attendance at the open meeting of Coffee House last Wednesday evening, Oct. 12. Nearly all of the aspirants read something of their own creation, and some of them joined in the criticism and discussion. The material read indicated that much may be expected of the freshman class this year. Some of the older members read and criticized, also, after which refreshments were served.

PROFS MONK, BROWN SECURE EQUIPMENT

Coming as a surprise to students of the Science Department, is news of the approaching installation of an enlarging machine which will occupy space in the basement of the Science Building. The project is the result of the combined efforts of Professor Monk and Professor Brown and will enable those interested to make lantern slides for scientific investigation.

The use of the machine will not be considered a strictly departmental privilege—but has been secured for the benefit of all those students who may be interested.

VESPER SERVICES TO BE HELD BY Y. W. C. A.

The campus Y. W. C. A. will hold its annual recognition service this Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel. All new girls on the campus, and especially the freshmen, are urged to be present for the lovely vesper program where they will be given the opportunity to formally affiliate themselves with the organization.

BEARCATS MEET ALBANY ON FRIDAY

Walt Erickson Out for First Conference Game of Season in Salem

In their first conference game on their home field, the Willamette University pig-skin chasers will tackle Albany college under the arc lights here Friday night.

Outside of the loss of Walt Erickson, star halfback, the Bearcat forces will probably be in their best condition since the season opened. In the game at Caldwell last Friday, Erickson hurt the ankle again which has been keeping him out of the lineup most of the time since the opening game with Oregon State. Except for a few bruises and scratches, the rest of the squad are in good condition and are raring to go.

Albany college, although a great deal smaller than their northwest conference brothers, won two games and lost three last year, which is not such a bad record for their first season of conference competition. This year, under a new coach, Lappenbusch, the Pirates have failed to get going. They lost their first game to College of Idaho and were downed by Whitman 12-0 in their second start. In this game with the Missionaries, Albany showed some real defensive power when they stopped Nig Borleske's attack on the one yard line. So far they have failed to show very much in the way of offensive power. This may be credited to the fact that they are playing under a new coach with a new system which is unfamiliar to the players.

COLLEGE LEADERS HOLD CONFERENCE

About sixty college representatives, outside of the Salem contingent, attended the Northwest Conference of the Association of American Colleges held at Willamette University on October 7 and 8. On the two-day program were included such speakers as Dr. Robert L. Kelly of New York City, who is secretary of the Association of American Colleges and an authority on the problems of education and colleges; President Irving T. Maurer of Beloit, Wisconsin, who is the president of the Association of American Colleges and president of Beloit College, and Dr. E. S. Jones of Buffalo, New York, who is professor of Psychology in the University of Buffalo.

"The College of My Dreams" was the subject on which President Irving T. Maurer spoke Saturday afternoon, when he outlined some of his plans for a "dream college." In addition to high scholastic standards, President Maurer's ideal college was to have not more than 200 young men and women students, who were "intellectually alert" and who were to meet in separate classrooms.

Dr. E. S. Jones presented a comprehensive examination plan which was to take the student 25 or 30 hours to complete. The partially oral and partially written examination was to last over a period of several days during which professors from other colleges were to assist in quizzing the student.

Conference participants expressed appreciation of this year's conference and a resolution was adopted that next year's conference again be held on the Pacific coast.

POST RUSH-SEASON GLIMPSES

Between the stock-holders of the local water company and the Democrats, it looks like we'll all be drinking sewage!

The War Department tried to play a cute little trick that was only stopped when peace lovers the whole country over wrote their protests. Our above-board department back in Washington, D. C., evidently finding business poor, tried to stir up a little love for another war by compiling a list of Biblical quotations (and everyone knows how they can be twisted) to prove conclusively that we are not abiding by the will of God when we are not at war. Upon writing the Department for a copy of the pamphlet, the Willamette professors were informed that the Secretary had decided not to publish the list. Just goes to show what public opinion will do.

"THE UNBIASED PRESS"

Newspaper propaganda is at it again. The Oregonian says that the Japanese want war. We wonder who is trying to drum up business this time—the militarists, munition manufacturers, or the undertakers?

Well! Vote 313 X No—on account of we must not repeal the state prohibition enforcement law. Here's a juicy bit on the national question—

Wet propaganda: "Prohibition enforcement costs the country billions of dollars."

The truth: Total cost of prohibition enforcement, 1920 to 1931, $284,156,524; collections from fines and penalties and revenues from taxes on lawful and distilled and fermented liquors $548,688,884. The net is a balance in favor of the government of $264,432,269.—Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, Director of Prohibition.

SORRY, FOLKS!

Since the Collegian has been out in size and number of issues this year, alumni news has necessarily been cut also. This means that items must be as brief as possible and sometimes a few will have to be left out entirely, depending upon the space available for us. However, we shall do the best we can under circumstances, and any news items you may be able to contribute will be very welcome. This is your column, remember, and the cooperation of every alumnus will make it the kind you like to read.

VITAL STATISTICS

At a beautiful and impressive ceremony at Centenary-Wilbur Methodist church Thursday evening, October 13, Miss Ernestine Eunice Crandall became the bride of Charles Alfred DeGraff, with Rev. Thomas A. Atchison officiating.

Mr. DeGraff, A.B. and LL.B. '29, is associated with L. Meredith Woodworth, A.B. and LL.B. '29, in the practice of law in Portland.

Miss Hazel Reece, ex-'28, was married to William E. Peak, September 6. They are living in Portland where Mr. Peak is associated with the Varney Air Lines.

At the formal banquet, last of the rush affairs to be given by the Beta Chi sorority, Miss Ethel Adam announced her marriage to Daniel Schreiber, '26. The marriage took place July 1 in Dallas. Mrs. Schreiber is registrar of Willamette university and Mr. Schreiber is connected with the J. C. Penney store in Salem.

PERSONALS

Clive Zeller, '28, who underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis in a Vancouver hospital, is reported as recovering satisfactorily, though his condition for a few days was serious. He is now at his home in Battleground, Washington. Mr. Zeller is a member of the high school faculty in the latter place.

Professor Herman Clark received a letter from Treval C. Powers, '25, in which the latter writes: "I am still in the Research Laboratory of the Portland Cement Association, and while our activities have been considerably curtailed by the depression, we really have little to complain of, as far as our work is concerned. We find it difficult to be satisfied with the middle west as a place to live, however, and hope someday to re-establish ourselves on the Coast." Mrs. Powers will be remembered as Trista Wengar, prominent contralto of Salem and ex-Willamette student. They have two children, Billy and Alice.

THE WHISPERING CAMPAIGN

This Week's Fable: W. U. students aren't interested in politics.

In Ed. Psych. class the other day, Dr. Sherman made the following revealing statement: "If you're Republicans when you're young, you'll always be Republicans. If you're a Methodist when you're young, you'll remain a Democrat."

And here we thought all good Methodists had gone socialist!

Gene Smith tells us that while hither and yonning this summer, he learned many lessons in truth. On one occasion, a beautiful gypsy lady prevailed upon him to be allowed to tell his fortune. He insisted that his fortune consisted of nothing, since he didn't have a cent on him. But, like most ladies where Gene is concerned, she refused to take "no" as an answer. She seized his palm and proceeded to conjure forth the usual warnings concerning wine, women, and song, while Gene kept iterating and reiterating, "I haven't a cent on me," like a wound-up doll.

When the gypsy's revelations had come to a glorious termination, she asked our hero, "Now, will you do something for me?" "I haven't a cent—" began Gene.

"Give me your handkerchief," ordered the lady.

"It's not very clean, and you might catch my cold," demurred the bashful lad.

However, when that worthy rag had been extracted, Gene was ordered (in a tone that fairly hypnotized him) to put his hands down into the bottom of his pockets.

"Now close them and take them out," was the next mesmerizing command.

As one in a trance, Mr. Smith withdrew his fists. Upon following the order to open them, he revealed a few silver dollars and change clutched in each—while he kept repeating, "I haven't a cent on me."

The gypsy made a grab—and the last seen of Mr. Smith, he was heading south, with her derisive jeers and laughter lingering in his ears.

Executive Council Makes Selections

At the last meeting of the executive council, the following members for the Honor Code committee were selected: as senior representatives, Alvis Love, Marion Moore, Harold Rose, and Robert Mouch; junior representatives, Eugene Smith and Percy Sweet; sophomore representative, Anna Jo Fleming; and Law representative, Joe Felton.

Arthur Erickson has been chosen Homecoming manager, Hal Teft, band manager, and Morgan Gallagher, manager of the music association.

THETA ALPHA PHI IS BUSY PLANNING PLAYS

At the regular meeting of Theta Alpha Phi held last Monday, plans were made for the homecoming play, "The Rivals," and the group discussed the one-act play "The Third Angle," to be given in chapel sometime in the near future. The rest of the meeting was spent in listening to "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" by Rudolf Bies, which was read by Savilla Phelps. The next meeting will be held Nov. 7, at the home of Prof. Rahe.

Professor Johnson: I would like a preparation of phenylisothiocyanate.
Lila Cation: Do you mean mustard oil?
Prof. Johnson: Yes, I can never think of that name.

F. Haley: Who invented work, anyway?
F. Mills: You should worry; you'll never infringe on his patent.

TESTIMONIAL

Editor, Collegian, Willamette University,
A line to compliment you on your paper as an advertising medium—I advertised for my lost dog recently and offered a reward. Fifteen minutes after the paper was off the press the hound read the ad, stuck the paper in his mouth and came home to claim the reward.
Yours for results,
TED PARKER.

"Are you a clock watcher?" asked the business man of the haggard graduate who had just applied for a job.
"No," replied the average (but honest) student, "I'm a bell listener."

M. Hanz: I don't see how football players ever get clean!
L. Underwood: Silly, what do you suppose the scrub teams are for?

A LETTER TO A BLIND DATE

Dear Laura:
I do hope you had a good time at Homecoming. I am so glad your brother suggested that I have you up. Please don't worry about getting mixed up and coming up a day early. I probably would have used those cuts doing some foolish thing like going on a week-end. Sorry I was so sleepy Saturday night that I had to desert you for such a long time, but my roommate says that he's very glad I did because he so enjoyed that long talk with you about the Russian situation. I am certainly glad that your father and mother were able to come up with you. Wish I could have seen more of them. I am just beginning to realize how foolish it would have been to have gone canoeing Sunday afternoon. You know, I have always admired girls who always know just what is the right thing to do. I think it is grand that you thought that the sermon Sunday morning was the best thing about the parties. You are such a change from most of the girls I know. I am awfully sorry that I can't have you up to parties in the fall but I have just decided that I will try for Alpha Kappa Nu. Some of the boys are having a spread downstairs, so I think I'd better go down before they drink up all the milk.

Love,
JOE.

FILM FLICKERS

Beginning Friday at the Elsinore is the mystery thriller, "The Phantom of Crestwood." The cast, including Karen Morley, Ricardo Cortez, Anita Louise, "Skeets" Gallagher, and Sam Hardy, should put on an excellent performance. Those of you who are thrill addicts, be sure and take it in.

Next week begins a run of "Two Against the World," starring Constance Bennett and Neil Hamilton.
"Two Against the World" is Constance Bennett's second starring production for Warner Bros., having previously scored a tremendous international success in "Bought." The screen play was written by Sheridan Gibney from a story by Marion Dix and Jerry Horwin. It was directed by Archie Mayo and the cast supporting Miss Bennett includes such splendid players as Neil Hamilton, Helen Vinson, Gavin Gordon, Allen Vincent, Walter Walker, Eulalie Jensen, Alan Mowbray, Roscoe Karns, Hale Hamilton and Oscar Apfel.

The Arizona Wranglers, of KNX fame are appearing in person at the Grand Theatre beginning next Tuesday, October 25. Those of you who are acquainted with their radio programs will be anxious to hear them.
Ramon Novarro in "Huddle" starts October 23 at the Hollywood theatre, continuing through Tuesday.

Marriage Is Announced

At the final formal banquet, last of the rush affairs to be given by the Beta Chi sorority, Miss Ethel Adam announced her marriage to Mr. Dan Schreiber, a graduate of Willamette in 1927. The marriage took place July 1 in Dallas, and had been kept a secret until then.

The announcement was made by Mrs. F. A. Elliott who read the announcement between the third and fourth courses of the dinner.

A clever "old-fashioned" idea was carried out in the appointments for the banquet with a color scheme in the shades of orchid. Favors which further carried out the idea were tiny silhouette plaques in ivory and black which were cleverly passed to the guests by Miss Leone Spaulding appropriately dressed to fit into the decoration note.

Willamette Students Guests at Carlin Home

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carlin delightfully entertained a group of Willamette students in compliment to their son, Earl Carlin, at their beautiful home on South Winter street on Friday evening, October 14.

Guests were the Misses Gwendolyn Hunt, Claudia Buntin, Josephine Cornoyer, Dorothy Durkee, Betty Bonnell, Ruth Chapman, Mildred Miller, Marcia Brown, Dorothy Minnick, Eleanor Trindle, Isobel Morehouse, Grace Day, Frances Stewart, Elva Sehon, Helen Boardman, Dorothy Ghormley, and Dorothy Dalk; the Messrs. Earl Carlin, Arthur Fisher, Ralph Stearns, Frank Halsey, Sam Bowe, Olvin Bowe, Reo Young, Forrest Mills, Francis Crouch, Earl Potter, Bill Lemmon, L. B. School, Ray Griffith, Parker Gies, Arthur Smith, Marshall Hartley, and Jack Grant.

Informal Reception Honors Miss Olga Steeb

Following the concert of Miss Olga Steeb, noted Los Angeles pianist, she was guest of honor at an informal reception given by Dr. and Mrs. David Bennett Hill in their home for Miss Frances Virginia Melton and her piano students.

Miss Winifred Byrd, noted New York pianist who is visiting here, and Miss Melton presided at the serving urns, and the Misses Helen MacHirron, Helene Price, Barbara Pierce, Virginia Cross, Flavin Downs, and Charlotte Hill assisted in the serving.

Willamette students who attended the reception were Miss Elizabeth Clement, president of the Beethoven society, Miss Frances Laws, chairman of the concert committee, Miss Helene Price, Miss Ruth Schreiber, Miss Marjorie O'Dell, Miss Elizabeth Boylan, Miss Clara Wright, Miss Helen MacHirron, and Mr. Fred Harris.

Sigma Tau Pledges Hosts

The pledged members of Sigma Tau were hosts for a delightful informal evening at the fraternity house Saturday evening, October 15. An unusual program followed by refreshments was enjoyed.

Guests for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. E. G. Oliver, the Misses Dorothy Ghormley, Isobel Morehouse, Josephine Cornoyer, Agnes Gordon, Marcia Brown, Mary Hazard, Esther Giffard, Lois Underwood, Elaine Chaney, Helen Keudell, Doris Unruh, Wanda Landon, Gladys Hughey, and Betty Bonnell.

Collegian Staff Entertained at Ak-Sar-Ben

Members of the Collegian staff enjoyed an informal party at the Ak-Sar-ben on Friday night, October 14. Miss Lois Wilkes, Mr. Louis Magin, and Mr. Reo Young were in general charge of the arrangements.

Present for the affair were the Misses Lois Wilkes, Helen Childs, Ellen Nasburg, Louise Anderson, Florence DuRette, Elaine Chaney, Virginia Heath, Florence Zweifel, Ruth Schreiber, Edythe Glaisyer, Katherine Earle, Olive Jones, Virginia Kaiser, Florence Marshall, Helen Boardman, Jeryme Upston, Edith Sidwell, Molly Gallagher, and Margaret McGee; and the Messrs. Frank Childs, Jay Gile, Paul Hauser, Reo Young, and Louis Magin.

"Exchange" Dinner Guests

An interesting event of this week was the "exchange" dinner idea carried out by the members of the Delta Phi sorority and the Sigma Tau fraternity on Monday evening.

The dinner table at the Delta Phi house was lovely with its arrangement of autumn flowers and tapers.

Covers were placed for special guests, Mrs. Lillian Hageman, Miss Phyllis Dennison, Messrs. Sam Bowe, Frank Halsey, Tyrus Hillway, Reo Young, Forrest Mills, Ralph Stearns, Lowell Eddy, Phil Armstrong, Herbert Hardy, Tho Hatten, and sorority members, Misses Janet Weil, Ruth Chaney, Frances Laws, Faith Sherburne, Brenda Savage, Lois Wilkes, Margaret Notson, Dorothy Minnick, Elizabeth Clement, and Ruth Clement.

An oriental idea was carried out in the table appointments and in the program at the Sigma Tau house.

Covers were placed for special guests, Dr. and Mrs. George Alden, the Misses Cynthia Delano, Aletha Kelly, Pauline Livesay, Alvis Love, Naomi Hewitt, Beula Cramer, Francis Stewart, Ruth Chapman, Elaine Chaney, Gwendolyn Hunt, and Marie Ledbetter, and hosts, the Messrs. Don Egr, Earl Potter, David Moser, Robert Magin, Ralph Foster, Arthur Smith, Raymond Griffith, Olvin Bowe, Melvin Zahrlty, Ralph Barber, and Bliss Leslie.
