LIBRARY ADDS BOOKS DURING THE VACATION

Changes in Rules For The Use of Books Listed By Assistant Librarian

CLOSE CHECK TO BE KEPT

New Arrangement of Books and Additional Shelving Makes For More Efficiency

Several changes and alterations have been made in library rules; and in order to prevent confusion and misunderstanding, the full list is given and explained:

Time: periodicals—(except the latest issue) one week; reserved books and the latest issues of magazines—9:00 p. m. to 8:45 a. m.; books checked out for room use must be returned by the time the library closes; and all other books may be kept two weeks. One renewal is usually granted if necessary.

Books checked out of stock for room use must be returned by the time the library closes. All other books, two weeks. Books may be renewed once—see Librarian.

Books may be recalled if needed. Fines—2c a day for books, 1c a day for periodicals, 5c an hour, 15c a day for reserved books, 5c for failure to turn in promptly, books taken out for room use, 3c for first notice, 10c for second notice.

The following ruling was adopted by the faculty, May 18, 1926:

One week after the second notice has been sent by mail to library delinquents, if their delinquencies are still unadjusted, they are to be reported to the Registrar's office.

The office will then give notice that the person delinquent is dropped from all classes.

Persons thus dropped may return to classes only upon the adjustment of all delinquencies and the payment of all fines and an additional charge of one dollar for collection. They are also to bring the Registrar a statement from the librarian that all library delinquencies have been cleared away.

The library is asking that all books taken from the stacks be checked out. If it is intended to use the book for only a short time, write the name on a slip of paper and leave it and the book card at the desk. To check a book out for over night use, sign name on the card. All books are to be returned to the desk.

Books have been somewhat rearranged in the stacks. Space has been made at the west end of the stacks nearer the windows for the six and seven hundred applied arts and fine arts, and the English reserve shelves are now located at the east end of the inner row of stacks. All other reserve shelves are between the eight and nine hundred sections, directly back of the delivery desk.

Periodicals have been arranged around the rear window ledges according to classification, going from left to right, or west to east, with the general periodicals following the classification and arranged alphabetically. Back numbers of magazines are kept in the side room—the general in the east room, and the classified in the west room. New steel shelving has been added to these rooms, which will make it easier to find and use the back numbers of magazines.

About two hundred new books have been added recently, greatly strengthening the departments of sociology, public speaking, Latin, Greek, Spanish, literature, and rhetoric. Several valuable gifts have been received of both periodicals and books. B. J. Hoadley has donated some particularly interesting volumes of Charles and Mary Beard, "The Rise of American Civilization."

Reporter Finds New Dean Very Congenial and Eager to Know More of the Far West

Great has been the anxiety and expectation surrounding the coming of the new Dean of Women, Miss Olive M. Dahl. Whenever two or three have been gathered together during the vacation period, the burning question has been, "What do you know about the new Dean?"

Now let the troubled water subside. She has arrived, looked us over, and conquered us completely. Confidence reigns, once again supreme.

YM-YW RECEPTION AGAIN TO BE HELD IN LIBRARY

Committee in Charge Promises To Put On Unusual Program For Traditional Event

The committee working on the YM-YW reception for next Saturday evening is making every effort to make this traditional affair of the opening of the school year different. The committee has decided to hold the affair in the library again this year instead of the gymnasium by reason of the fact that the library is smaller in size and will give a better opportunity to realize the purposes of the reception.

The library is to be decorated like an old fashioned garden.

The committee in charge while refusing to reveal the character of the program, insist that it is to be of unusual attractiveness.

The leaders of the different committees are Florende Emmons, refreshment, Jean White, decorations, and Beatrice Lockhart, details.

FORENSIC ACTIVITIES ANTICIPATE SUCCESS

Extensive Plans Made For Coming Year; Freshmen and Varsity To Compete

Extensive forensic plans are being outlined for the coming of the opening year. Dr. J. O. Hall, forensic coach and head of the public speaking department has announced that study will immediately begin upon the subjects which are to be used for debate.

Irene Brightaupt, women's debate manager, has set October 11 as the date for freshmen women's debate tryouts. This is the first time in Willamette University history that there has been a freshmen women's varsity debate squad. It purpose is to develop underclass women in ability so that they will assume formidable significance as upperclassmen and capably fill vacant places left by graduating classes.

On October 18 the freshmen men will compete for freshmen varsity debate places, followed by upperclass women on the 25th and by upperclass men on November 1st.

The question chosen by the Oregon forensic conference last spring will be used for all tryouts. It is stated: Resolved that American investors and investments in foreign countries should be protected only by the government in which the investment is made. A second question resolves that the essential principles of the Oxford system of education should be embodied in American colleges and universities. An additional subject on the Philippines question may be agreed upon by the different schools.

During the early part of next week a forensic banquet will be held in order to obtain an idea of those who are interested. Just preceding the close of school in the spring twenty-five students met in a social group and signified the part of forensic in which they intended to participate.

FROSH WEARING NEW CAP

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28.—(PIP)—Freshmen are wearing a new hat this semester. In place of the old style felt "crusher," the traditions committee has selected a new "dinky." This new hat is solid blue with a gold button. Due to the abolition of hazing, the sophomores will not be able to enforce the tradition of wearing the frosh hat. According to the present outlook it will not be necessary to inflict a penalty for violation as a majority are following the custom.

HEWITT NEW LEADER OF W. U. LAW SCHOOL

Efforts To Attain Standardization To Continue Until Object Is Realized

FIFTY STUDENTS ENTER

Dean Van Winkle To Continue As Dean Emeritus; No Faculty Changes Made

The Willamette University Law School, with an enrollment of fifty students, will continue under the leadership of its new Dean, Roy A. Hewitt, without change in course or faculty. Of the total number enrolled in the law school twenty are Freshmen, nineteen are Juniors, and eleven are Seniors. The newest interest of prime character to the school, according to Dean Hewitt, is the initiation of a movement to supply the Willamette Law School with library and other facilities which will comply with the demands for standardization. The law students have always had, and still have, easy access to the largest library in the state; consequently there is no need for a large law library on the campus. It is purely to meet the needs of standardization that this library movement is being started.

The Willamette University Law School, which has a record of forty-four years of outstanding history, has always been led by able and conscientious men. Dean Hewitt comes to Willamette from O. A. C., where he was assistant professor in political science for four years and associate professor in the same department for three years. He carries the degrees of Ph. B., L. B., from Willamette, M. A. from Clark University at Worcester, Massachusetts. He entered the old Willamette Academy in 1900, attending the academy, the university proper, and the Law School, being graduated and admitted to the Bar in 1909. While in W. U. he played on Bearcat athletic teams which met any or all teams, with an even chance to win any game.

He spent five years in practice of law, three of which were with the McMinnville firm of Lange, Hewitt, and Nott. Mr. Nott, who graduated from Willamette with the degree of M. A. is now District Attorney of Yamhill County and a strong supporter of W. U.

Dean Hewitt succeeds State Attorney-General I. H. VanWinkle, who has been made Dean Emeritus, giving his advice when it is needed.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—(PIP)—Due to the scarcity of jobs for students attempting to work their way through school, the alumni employment bureau has advised men, who have not sufficient money to carry them through the first two or three months, to attempt working their way but to quit school and go to work until they have earned enough to put them through at least one year.

CUBS ELECT NEW MEMBERS TO FILL SOPHOMORE QUOTA

Organization Gets Underway On The Work of the Year; Steering Committee Appointed

The Cubs have elected to membership seven new men who are: Leonard Speaker, Thomas Potwin, Stephen Mergler, George Poor, Harold Shellhart, Curtis French, and Jess Deetz. The organization now numbers fifteen, there being eight old members back. In the course of a week or so ten freshmen will be pledged.

A committee which will meet all visiting athletic teams has been elected and during the secret practices of the football team the field is being patrolled by members of the club. The vigilance committee, whose duty it is to enforce the wearing of Freshman hats is headed by John Versteeg.

Only sophomores and freshmen men are eligible to membership in the club. The main duties of the organization are: to enforce tradition, take charge of campus work, and take charge of the crowds at games. Frank Van Dyke is president.

PIP PRESS ASSOCIATION

The editor of the Collegian has received notification from the president of the Pacific coast intercollegiate press association that the annual convention will be held at the University of British Columbia on October 17 and 18. Both the manager and editor of the Collegian are planning to attend.

COVETED BEARCAT TROPHY WON BY FRESHMAN CLASS

Sophomores, Outnumbered Three to One Take to the Millstream After Losing Annual Scrap

The frosh by reason of their superior numbers vanquished the sophs in the annual fight held last Friday night in front of the gymnasium.

A new plan was tried this year in order to insure that the fight would consist of something other than strategy. A bearcat was tied to the top of a 25-foot greased pole and the second year men surrounded it.

The sophomores were on hand a half hour before the scheduled time all attired in their worst, while the freshmen make their rally considerably later from Music Hall where they had been holding a conference.

If the bearcat had been tied more securely to the pole, the final result might have been different. At the end of 15 minutes the second year men, outnumbered three to one, were flat on their backs and the frosh had shaken the bearcat off the pole after a vain attempt to climb up its greased surface.

After the fight the sophomores all took to the millstream.

By gaining possession of the bearcat the frosh have the honor of protecting and displaying the leather animal for a year.

WINDOW DISPLAY SHOWS FAMILIAR CAMPUS VIEWS

Pictures Taken By Student Attract Much Attention; Campus Scenes Are Portrayed

For the Willamette student one of the most interesting features of the annual fall opening was the window display of Willamette campus scenes made by the Klasic Photo Shop. The pictures were taken last year for the 1927 Wallulah by Wendell Keck, and many of them were used in the College Hours and Satire sections of that book, although some of them were not published in the annual because of lack of space.

Of special interest are five enlargements dealing with such familiar scenes as the freshman initiation, a fraternity initiation, a picture of Dean Clark playing the part of Father Time and beheading the weeds of the lawn with his scythe.

KIMBALL GRADUATES LEADERS OF CHURCH

Important Positions in Oregon Conference Held By Former Willamette Students

Kimball students are in the majority in the Oregon Conference according to a chart which Dr. Hammond has prepared there being fifty Kimball men to thirty-eight outsiders. Rev. Thomas Acheson, pastor at Jackson Lee, Salem W. U. '23 and Kimball '18 and Rev. W. S. Hall Kimball '20 of McMinnville were elected to general conference which meets next May in Kansas City, Missouri. Leroy Walker, W. U. '25 and Kimball '27 was appointed to St. Helens, where a new forty thousand dollar church has just been completed. Of interest to many Willamette students is the appointment of the Rev. S. D. Johnson to succeed the late Rev. DeYoe at Leslie church, Salem. Rev. Johnson is well known in the conference coming here from St. Helens.

Four elders were ordained by the Bishop Sunday afternoon, of which three are Kimball students or graduates. They are Leslie Bailey, W. U. graduates, Kimball '25, John A. Linn and Edward Withnall at present in Kimball. Of the six elected to deacons orders at the same time five are Willamette and Kimball men. They are Benjamin J. Harte, A. B. Kimball '28, Meredith A. Groves, W. U. '29, Kimball '29, George Gordon, Kimball '29, Henry E. Cross, Kimball '27, Leroy Walker, W. U. '25, Kimball '27, Miss Grace I. Drive was the sixth being elected to deacons orders of the local preachers course.

Six Willamette and Kimball men were admitted into the conference on trial. Thomas Potwin Jr., W. U. '29, Edward Terry, W. U. '28, Oliver Gill Kimball '25, Marcus Berthone Kimball '23, Ezeron H. Gardner, W. U. '29, Wayne Wright, Kimball '29. The following Willamette students were appointed to serve churches this year: Wilmer Briggs Brooks and Hubert Everett H. Gardner.

ENDOWMENT GRANTED TO ESTABLISH CHAIR

Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie Assist Development of Public Speaking Department

$25,000 TO BE BESTOWED

On September 13th Mr. I. S. Gillespie and Mrs. Emma Wilson Gillespie, founders of the Gillespie School of Expression which has been successfully operating in Portland, Oregon for the past 25 years, pledged twenty-five thousand dollars to be used for the development of the Department of Public Speaking of Willamette University.

This endowment became effective after the death of both donors upon the condition that the chair of public speaking be known as the Gillespie Professorship and if the department develops sufficiently that it later be known as the Gillespie School of Expression.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie are graduates of the University of Iowa. Mrs. Gillespie specialized in Public Speaking while there. She was also a professor in the Portland University, which operated in Portland, Oregon about 30 years ago.

COLLEGIAN STAFF CHANGES ANNOUNCED BY THE EDITOR

Failure of several members of the staff selected last year to return to school has necessitated a reorganization of the Collegian staff.

Ella Pfeiffer, the new associate editor, was previously society editor and has had considerable experience as a reporter. The literary editor is Dorothy Ellis, who is also secretary of the Coffee House. The forensic department will be in charge of Margaret Pro, a member of last year's varsity debate team. Margaret Arnold, prominent in glee club activities and specializing in music is to be music editor. Camilla Gates, exchange editor; Everett Gardner, Kimball editor; and George Poor as managing editor complete the editorial staff with the exception of the other sports editor who has not yet been selected.

CLUB OUTLOOK BRIGHTENS WITH OLD MEN RETURNING

Try-Outs For Places On the Club To Be Held Today At Five O'clock In Music Hall

Pres. Willis Hathaway reports that the prospects for a winning men's glee club of this year are very favorable with eighteen old members on the campus.

The officers of the club who were elected last year are: president, Willis Hathaway; vice president, Hugh Roberts; manager, Laurence Schreiber; and secretary and treasurer, Paul Geddas. Manager Schreiber is already busy lining up a trip through eastern Washington and Oregon, to include Walla Walla, Pendleton and Ellensburg.

The old members who are back are making competition keen for places in the personnel. The members on the campus are: First Tenors: Crayon, Wright, Robinson and Taylor; Second Tenors: Geddas, Schreiber, Pemberton and Smith; baritone: Trueblood, Altund, Hathaway, Herman and Wilkinson; basses: Kaufman, Sprecker, Kelly and Roberts.

ENROLL FOR TRAINING

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—(Special)—A total of 3,100 men have already enrolled for training in the basic course of military science at the University of California at Los Angeles according to an announcement by Colonel Guy G. Palmer head of the Military Department at U. C. L. A.

The advance course of the military will Colonel Palmer stated, will be limited this year to 725 officers, only 25 of whom will be admitted this semester. Fourteen companies, in addition to a band, will comprise the U. C. L. A. unit at the University this year. They will be separated into three battalions. Freshmen enrolling in the Military Science Department received their uniforms Saturday, while old members of the unit were mustered and received their uniforms Monday.

FRATERNITIES WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE THIS YEAR

Interfraternity Council Passes Rule In Regard To The Breaking of A House Pledge

At a special meeting of the interfraternity council held after chapel on Tuesday the council voted that the fraternities would hold open house this semester and sent in a request to the Dean of Women for a date on the social calendar.

In regard to the breaking of a pledge the council went on record by passing the following rule: "No man may accept a bid from any fraternity after having broken a pledge to another fraternity until a period of ninety days has elapsed after breaking his first pledge, except on condition that he be given a release by the fraternity to which he was first pledged."

REPORTER DISCOVERS HOBBIES OF FACULTY

New Members of Teaching Staff Are Revealed By Means of Their Avocations

Several new teachers have been added to the Willamette University faculty for this year. Professor C. R. Monk is taking the place of Professor R. Darwin Burroughs who taught in the Biology department last year. Professor Monk is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan in Lincoln, Nebraska. He graduated with the class of '26 and then studied for a year at the University of Illinois where he obtained his Master's degree. He says he likes to do many things besides his regular work, but he has no particular hobby. He is a member of the Gamma chapter of Beta Kappa fraternity.

Mr. Joe Kasberger, is one of the new assistant athletic coaches. He formerly attended O. A. C. and was a star football and baseball player there. After finishing at Corvallis he coached athletics at Mt. Angel. Hunting is his hobby. It is said he would rather hunt than eat.

Mr. Kenneth Denman, the other assistant coach, graduated last year from O. A. C. He is taking law at Willamette, and assisting in coaching. He played football under Coach R. Keene at Corvallis High and showed fine playing ability in college. His "hobby" is German police dogs. Both Mr. Kasberger and Mr. Denman are members of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Dean Roy R. Hewitt the new dean of law school graduated from Willamette University and has been teaching political science at O. A. C. He obtained his Master's degree at Clark University.

Dr. A. A. Vazakas, new professor in the language department, is teaching German, Spanish, and French. He attended New York University where he obtained his Bachelor's degree. Later he got his Master's degree at Columbia University, and his Doctor's degree at the University of Chicago.

Then he did 2 years graduate work at the University of Paris. He taught for 10 years in his own school—the Vazakas School of Language in New York. This school was closed during the war. Dr. Vazakas likes to read Greek literature during his spare hours.

REGISTRATION SHOWS LARGE FROSH CLASS

Freshman Week Gives New Students Opportunity To Adjust Themselves

PLANS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Freshman week is over and Willamette has a freshman class of two hundred and three members! Ninety one boys and a hundred and twelve girls have registered. This registration is not quite as favorable for scratch-lists as last year when more than fifty percent of the class was boys, however W. U. may boast of the largest class for some years.

This year the freshman class is literally drawn from half the world; Indiana is the farthest eastern point Indiana is the farthest eastern point from which the adventurous youngsters have come, but we have with us three freshmen from the Philippines and one from far off Shanghai, also one from Alaska, Oregon, as usual, sends the greatest number of students; one hundred and sixty three coming from the home state; from Washington there are twenty three; from Idaho six and one each from Indiana, South Dakota, Oklahoma, California and Ohio.

After enrollment with the registrar Friday morning, the Freshmen underwent the much feared English examination, after which they regained some of their pep by the participation in college songs and yells. Friday evening President Doney spoke to the Freshmen on "The University—Its History and Ideals." Saturday beginning at nine o'clock Dean Erickson spoke on the "Different Branches of Knowledge" after which there was a tour of the campus in order that the Freshmen might become acquainted with the various historical spots. During the tours of the campus, of which there were two, the museum was visited, this being the first time in several years that the specimens have been in proper condition for exhibition.

One of the most enjoyable events of Freshman week was the party on Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Monday and Tuesday were chiefly occupied in conferences. Prof. Von Eschen talked to the Freshman on student organizations after which the A. S. W. U. president, Charles Redding, also spoke to them.

Monday evening the faculty reception was held and Tuesday evening a large number enjoyed a pleasing entertainment in the chapel at which the public was welcome.

The usual difficulties of freshman registrations were almost unnoticed Tuesday when the freshmen signed up for their various courses. This situation was probably due to the ability of the faculty through the medium of Freshman week to place before themselves the different phases of the curriculum. By the program arranged by Professor Clark and Dean Erickson every Freshman had eight conferences with different department heads.

In the opinion of many members of the faculty Freshman week as an experiment was an exceptional success, judging from the attitude of the Freshmen and the upper classmen who were on the campus during that time. The faculty without exception are well pleased with the success of Willamette's first Freshman week and intend to carry out a similar program next year, shortening the time by one day.

A MATTER OF HISTORY

In spite of the fact that the United States is relatively a new country and often said to have little or no respect for tradition or age, we find that American educational institutions are not slow to exploit their history in building up prestige and work up emotional enthusiasm for the support of their various enterprises. Willamette has long been aware of its unique history, and nearly every member of its student body has consciously or unconsciously taken pride in the glorious past.

Several college generations have read in the catalog the statement, "Willamette University is not only the oldest college on the Pacific slope of the United States, but it was the very first school for white children to be opened west of the Rocky Mountains and with one exception the first west of the Mississippi river." The exception alluded to is Iowa Wesleyan College, which according to its own statement, "Iowa Wesleyan College has never had its age challenged, has never had its right to advertise itself as being the oldest educational institution west of the Mississippi River having had continuous existence infringed upon."

The Collegian is loath to infringe upon the claims of the sister school of Willamette. However, it does wish to call attention to the fact that Willamette might very well claim the coveted title of being the oldest educational institution. If the Indian school established by Jason Lee were to be taken as the beginning, the date is 1834. It was in 1839 that the collection was taken on board the Lausanne to answer the need of a school for white children, and it was in 1842 that the Oregon Institute was organized. Where Iowa Wesleyan is able to lay its undisputed claims to priority is in the fact that it was chartered as an institution of collegiate rank in 1844, while Willamette did not rise to this position until 1853.

However, since there are sufficient honors to go around, we will let the matter rest with the hope that some curious student will make some research in the subject and clarify the situation.

WANTED—A DATE

Wanted, a date—by the most retiring and bashful young man on the campus, by the most confirmed woman hater, by the most sophisticated and habitual fusser, by anyone who comes within the category of a normal college man.

Wanted, a date, who can take a man seriously, but does not make the mistake of taking him too seriously, and at the same time has the consideration of conceding a man to be something other than a source of means of transportation and theater tickets.

Wanted, a date, who has an intelligent interest in the affairs of the day and is not entirely dependent on that superficial thing called a line for conversation material.

Wanted, a date, who includes in her vocabulary some descriptive adjectives other than wonderful, gorgeous, and swell.

Wanted, a date, who has good taste and discretion and at the same time is not handicapped by a prudish conscience or a sense of duty which prevents her from forgetting herself in the enjoyment of a good time.

Wanted, a date, who is capable of being her own natural self for just one evening.

DOES WILLAMETTE QUALIFY?

Familiar words and phrases are often used loosely and without any regard for their original intent and meaning. Willamette proclaims at every opportunity, whether it be through a paid advertisement or from the chapel platform, that it is Christian institution, yet only a very few in the student body either realize or are able to define adequately the meaning of the term Christian college.

William C. Covert, quoted in the Epworth Herald, gives a definition which ought to be provocative of thought on the part of any student who feels that he is a responsible part of the university. He says, "Schools are Christian when the life they lead, the culture they impart, the philosophy they vitalize, the atmosphere they generate, the character and personality they objectify harmonize with the principles, ideals, and projects of New Testament Christianity."

After scarcely two weeks of school the question immediately arises in the mind of any serious student, "Is Willamette living up to the high standard which it declares to uphold, and am I in any way responsible for the successful realization or the ignoble failure in attaining the high goal which has been set?"

Some idea of the extent to which football has been commercialized may be gained from the figures just released by the University of Southern California. Arnold Eddy, ticket manager, estimates that the Trojans will receive $625,000 during the 1927 football season, which is a considerable increase over the total of $544,000 taken in last year. Of this sum he estimates that over a $100,000 will be clear profit after all running expenses have been paid.

As might well be expected the first school to offer a full four-year collegiate course in technical training for the motion picture industry is the University of Southern California located at Los Angeles.

After glancing over the summer casualty list of the society page one is almost forced to the conclusion that although it takes a man four years to get a college education that according to the ways of a man with a maid it takes much less time for him to forget all that he ever learned.

FRESHMEN ELECT LEADERS FOR FIRST HALF OF YEAR

Salem High Graduates Win Three Out of Four Positions on First Year Roster

In the election of a temporary Freshman class president to head the class of '31 for but two weeks, the incoming Fresh on September 29 officially accepted the advice of Charles Redding, student body president, against "rushing in where angels feared to tread." Raymond Miller, of Salem, in contest with but one other candidate, was named to preside at the Yearling conclaves until October 4, when a permanent executo succeed him. Miller is reputed to have been a leader in high school circles in Salem and is a pledgee of the Sigma Tau fraternity.

Francis DeHarrport of Salem, who nominated Miller, was elected vice president and Rosalind Van Winkle, daughter of a Salem attorney, was chosen secretary. Chester Ring, an outstate student from South Dakota, and pledged to the Kappa Gamma Rho was elected treasurer. All officers save the president will serve for the entire year.

At the meeting, representatives of the sophomore class and the vigilance committee announced the coronation with the green later in the week and delivered brief lectures on inter-class

Willamette Writers

"Remember that you are an actor in a drama, of such a kind as the author pleases to make it. If short, of a short one; if long, of a long one. If it be his pleasure you should act a poor man, a cripple, a governor, or a private person, see that you act it naturally. For this is your business, to act well the character assigned you; to choose it, is another's."

THE SUPREME SCULPTOR

Great Master, touch us with thy skillful hand.
 Let not the music in us die.
 Great Sculptor, hew and polish us
 Bring forth thy form within us.
 Spare not the stroke! Do with us as thou wilt.

Let there be naught unfinished, broken, marred.
 Complete Thy purpose, that we may become
 Thy perfect image, for Thou art our God.

WHAT DO I GAIN

If I lay waste and wither up with doubt
 The blessed fields of heaven where once my faith
 Possessed itself serenely, safe from death;
 If I deny the things past finding out;
 Or if I orphan my own soul of one
 Who seemed a Father, and make void the place
 Within me where He dwelt in power and grace;
 What do I gain, that am myself undone?
—M. McKEE

TO A SUNFLOWER

Thou brown-eyed maiden in thy slender grace;
 Thy dainty hood fringed round with golden lace;
 Alluring, modest, shy, yet ever want
 To lift thy dusky face into the font
 Of light; from which there pours
 Upon thy head
 A turbulence of glory, heaven-fed.

INJURIES RESULT OF HARD PRACTICE PLAY

Showing of Varsity Eleven Against the Yannigans Is Not Very Promising

The varsity football team had an opportunity to show its wares for the first time on last Saturday when they met the Yannigans on the local oval. Only in the first quarter did they show the drive that will be needed for a winning team. The team played in typical early season form. The line looked weak, neither charging their man out nor blocking with any degree of accuracy. During the game the varsity men made four touchdowns and one safety, but this was due more to the inexperience of the Yannigans than any excellent playing.

on the part of the first string eleven. The passing threat of the team seems at this time to be considerably lessened on account of the lack of a passer. The decision of Riedel not to return to school is felt considerably in this department. Several receivers of more than ordinary ability have been found in Glass and the De Po brothers.

Several injuries were the result of last week's play. Satchwell, a promising freshman, dislocated his shoulder and will be out for the rest of the season. Zeller and Lang have been having considerable trouble with their knees. McKenzie, not content with cutting his head while diving this summer, ran into bicycle while attempting to tackle Winslow out of bounds and as a result broke his nose. Reg De Po and French suffered minor leg injuries.

In the play on Saturday Versteeg, Hauk, and McKenzie were the only players who showed up very well, although Zeller, during the short time that he was in the game, proved that he had not forgotten how to make his off tackle gains.

Coach Denman acted as referee while Coach Caseberger was coach of the varsity men and Coach Sparks head of the Yannigans.

Coach Keene journeyed to Eugene to see Linfield hold Oregon to a 7-0 score.

BEARCAT COACHING STAFF LARGER THAN EVER BEFORE

Kaseberger, Denman, and Sparks Assist Keene in Rounding Out Best Possible Team

This year Willamette has the largest and most competent coaching staff in its history.

Spec Keen, who is in his second year at Willamette heads the list. Spec started his athletic career in Salem. During his high school days he was one of the mainstays of the black and red on the gridiron, ball diamond and basketball court. While in college he played football at the University of Missouri and baseball at O. A. C. After his graduation from college he coached the Corvallis high school teams for two years. He was then called by O. A. C. to tutor the rooks, but proved so efficient that he was made assistant to Paul Schlessler. During the four years previous to coming to Willamette, Spec had the opportunity of becoming familiar with the Rockne system of football.

Joe Kaseberger is one of Spec's right hand men. He played football at O. A. C. and Mt. Angel. He has coached for three years at Mt. Angel. This is his first year at Willamette but he has shown every man out on the field that he means business and expects the same from them.

Kenneth "Red" Denman is another of the assistant coaches. He also hails from O. A. C. where he played under Keene and Schlessler for three years. Red is giving his attention to the backfield aspirants.

Les Sparks completes the coaching force. He is helping Coach Keene with the line. Sparks is a graduate of Willamette where he played basketball and football. His coaching experience was gained at Berkeley and Salem high schools. Also he has for a number of years handled the Willamette freshmen.

As a result of this increase in the size of the coaching staff each football man receives more individual attention and the possibilities of green men developing quickly are greatly enlarged.

CHURCH PLEDGES AID TO ENDOWMENT DRIVE

Efforts To Continue In Order To Get Full Benefit of Education Board Offer

Support, financial and moral, and personal service, in order to bring to successful conclusion the Willamette University Building and Endowment Campaign instituted four years ago, was generously and loyally pledged by a combined assembly of the Oregon Conference and the Laymen's Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Oregon, which have been in session here during the past week.

The pledge contains, in part, the following four resolutions as means of sustaining and advancing the work of Willamette University: "(1) Early fulfillment of every pledge to which we are a part, (2) To use our best endeavors to cause others now delinquent to do the same, (3) To continue our efforts in securing other aid in whatever form or manner available to the end that the whole of the pledge of $350,000 of the General Education Board may come into the possession of the University and be added to its permanent endowment fund, (4) In furtherance of the purposes herein set forth we will give aid and encouragement to the representatives and friends of the University in collecting due obligations and in obtaining other financial help and otherwise give our earnest cooperation."

When the campaign for funds was inaugurated, the General Education Board made to the University the unprecedented offer of $350,000 under the provisions that Willamette pay off its debts and raise an additional $650,000. Due to the loyal efforts of those connected with the campaign and to the generosity of the people, all debts have been paid and there remains but $250,000 to be raised.

The raising of this final amount will bring to Willamette the sum of $1,000,000, the remainder of the pledge of the Education Board, thus bringing the permanent endowment fund to over $1,500,000.

Both the ministers and the laymen show great interest in the University and they are urging the continued seeking of money in order to take full advantage of the offer of the Education Board.

SUPPORT OF CHESTO IMPROVEMENT URGED

President of YM Issues Statement Explaining Purpose of Furnishing Room

In an effort to start again this semester the movement for the furnishing of Chesto cottage as a room for the use of the men of the school, James Rettle, the president of the campus Y, has issued the following statement explaining the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. in this particular project.

"How About a Men's Room?" "There has been a feeling on the part of some of the men on the campus that we should have some room which the men can call their own. The old Y room which was intended for that purpose was in its last days not respectable to say the least. As yet there has been nothing to take its place.

Last year the Chrestonian Literary society quite graciously consented to grant the use of their cottage to the student Y. M. C. A. providing that the Y become responsible for the upkeep of the building. Some effort was made to raise the necessary money for new furniture among our alumni and others. In the end about $50 was received which has remained in the bank since then.

The writer has looked into the possibilities of such a project and secured price lists from several furniture dealers. To furnish the cottage nicely with a large davenport, easy chairs, library table, and floor rugs would require about $300 in addition to the money which is already on hand. This would mean only a small contribution from each student if all the men feel that we need it. It is a strictly non-coeducational proposition in regard to finance, of course. Women who have read this far may read on.

The plan in mind was to make the room open to all men of the college during the school day and perhaps on some evenings if any certain organization or committee wanted it for a meeting place. It would be open to men eating their lunch during the noon hour. Some of us feel that this would be a friendly cross roads for all the men of the university, and is sort of a home on the campus where men may meet at leisure hours."

WSC COACH LOOKS TO CALIFORNIA COMEBACK

Hollingsbery Finds Unusual Enthusiasm and Spirit on Campus at Berkeley

BERKELEY, Sept. 21.—"I look for California to stage a big comeback." This is the estimate of the California Bears made by Orin E. Hollingsbery, head football coach at Washington State college and the "man of the hour" in Pacific northwest football.

Writing to friends at the Berkeley school, Hollingsbery, former Olympic club coach, said, "I had occasion to note while in San Francisco the spirit of enthusiasm and confidence of the Berkeley institution. This was decidedly lacking last year. It is too much to expect Nibs Price to attain the top of the heap because of reverses last year and the slow building up process that must necessarily follow. However, it will be no surprise to find him well up in the final rating."

The Washington state mentor, whose team is one of the favored participants in the 1927 race, favors Stanford to win the conference title. "Stanford has a wonderful array of talent and the present game works in perfectly with the Warner system," he observed.

"Southern California, Idaho and Washington should be battling on practically even terms for the next ranking position," he added. "Howard Jones, Charley Erb and Enoch Bagshaw have splendid material to draw from this year and will put mighty fine teams on the field. Because of the way the schedule is drawn up, it would not surprise me to see the Idaho Vandals fighting it out for first or second honors in the conference. Erb will have probably the heaviest team by far and, believe me, it will be composed of mighty good football men.

"Although losing some of their best players, Washington and Southern California will each have a strong nucleus for championship possibilities.

"Oregon, OAC and Washington state will be fighting hard to keep out of the second division. However, of the four teams, I honestly feel that we have an excellent chance to crowd ourselves up among the first five of the conference.

An interesting event of freshman week was the party at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening, Sept. 17, at which the freshmen were guests of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

"Feeture It"

One may measure shoes by feet or feet by shoes, but the foot remains a standard of measurement. One may bury a foot ruler a yard deep—you will have a foot still; but a foot, still or moving, is still a good measure of a man. This is true because a man is in his feet not on his feet. Women too are in their feet. Equally true, then is the statement that some little women are far bigger than some big men. This fact compels the admission that the features of feet are not measured by feet but by positions, attitudes, likes, and dislikes.

Reasoning from this, one is further justified in saying that feet are connected more closely with the heart than with the brain. To further prove this thesis it is only necessary to give the following logical inferences: a centipede has much feet but little brain; since there is no relation between feet and brain, an elephant, on the other hand, has a large heart and large feet; therefore feet are related to the heart. So true is this that "to lose your heart" or to be "sweet off your feet" are often used as synonyms.

Other examples are easily found by considering some of W. U. professors' famous feet.

A certain professor noted for ability to ask questions; to demand "what the author says," and to scare the daylight out of a student has very friendly feet. They are quite playful. One foot loves to jiggle up and down on its toes. The professor's brain is cold and logical but his heart is big and humorous. So are his feet. I don't mean they are funny—I mean they have a sense of humor.

Another professor must have a very neat, prim heart. His feet are always carefully placed. Are you there? And there? Ah! No need to sing to them "little feet be careful where you take me to." They are so nice.

Other professors' feet are no less interesting. Consider them. Not their size, not their shape. Consider their mannerisms, attitudes, actions, and likes. Remember always: He that knows the feet never knows defeat.

So very young and green
I met a girl with soft brown eyes
The softest I've ever seen.
The year I was a Sophomore
My love, she was a blond.
But summer came; I loved no more
I should have been more fond.
When I was just a new Junior,
My love, I quickly found.
It's taken all my Senior year
Those memories to drown.
