When I was so very tiny,
As I breathed so very pretty,
But one night old, wee was I,
Mere babe just two days old was I.

Oh, that drake had words aplenty,
Songs abundant, bird of summer.
There the drake, he sang songs for me,
Bird of summer, much it spake me.

Mother then took me to the meadow,
In the bright heath she did lay me.
Set a drake to rock my cradle,
Placed a summer bird to push me.

Here I wee lass learned songs so many,
Silly child got words aplenty.
All of these songs I placed on paper,
All of these words I wrapped in writing.

Now I warble words so many,
Now I trill out tunes aplenty

Soloists: Rosalind Fraser, Sarah Fullerton, Katy Ohsiek, Alana Gwilym Tso

I have a good mind
take into my head
to start off singing
begin reciting
reeling off a tale of kin
and singing a tale of kind.
The words unfreeze in my mouth
and the phrases are tumbling upon my tongue they scramble
along my teeth scatter.

Brother dear, little brother fair one who grew up with me start off now singing with me
begin reciting with me
since we have got together
since we have come from two ways!
We seldom get together
and meet each other
on these poor borders
the luckless lands of the North.

Let's strike hand to hand fingers into finger-gaps
that we may sing some good things
set some of the best things forth for those darling ones to hear for those with a mind to know
among the youngsters rising
among the people growing.

Yes, I want to die!
Now, with love, I kiss the mouth of my lover.
Ah, dear and sweet kiss,
You give me such a feeling that I may pass on.
Oh my life, on this pale breast!
For pity's sake, love me.
Oh, the mouth, the kiss.
The words return again to say:
Yes, I want to die!

I am not Yours

David C. Dickau

Pianist: Zachary Duell

Soprano Solo: Rachel Warren; Pianist: Eric Samelson

A Jubilant Song: O! Listen to a jubilant song.
The joy of our spirit is uncaged,
it darts like lightning.
My soul it darts like lightning.

We sing prophetic joys of lofty ideals.
We sing a universal love awaking in the hearts of men.
O! to have life, a poem of new joys,
to shout! shout! shout!

For we sing to the joys of youth,
and the joy of a glad light-beaming day.
O! Our spirit sing a jubilant song that is to life full of music, a life full of concord, of music,
a life full of harmony.

To dance and exult, to shout and leap.
O! to realize space and flying clouds.
O! to realize space, the sun and moon.
O! to be rulers of life, of destiny, and of life.
