Willamette Collegian

CAT'S PURR

The Jolly Up skating party came off Saturday night with many kicks and contortions. In fact, there was a kick every moment, a wallop every minute, and a bang every now and then, when, after a spirited argument with their owner, the legs of some aspiring amateur resolutely spread apart like a pair of compasses.

In spite of, or because of these little casualties, the party was a howling success. Those who were proficient in the gentle art of guiding their pedal extremities glided gracefully around the floor and howled at the others, who, in turn, howled at each other, although their mirth was committing disorders to their equilibrium. Psychology students were fascinated by the problem of finding out which foot was the strongest minded, and of counting the pain spots when they sat down suddenly; freshman forgot their green cap and ribbon wrings in the absorbing task of keeping their wheels under control; and invariably when that shik in the W sweater asked that girl with the cute haircut to skate with him, they both got tangled up and went down in a heterogeneous heap.

Professor and Mrs. Marsh, and Mr. and Mrs. Leamer also furnished much diversion with their efforts. They persisted, however, and all, especially Mrs. Leamer, enjoyed themselves immensely. And so the evening wore on, and eventually, having conquered to some degree their wayward legs, the guests drifted toward the hot dogs and pickles and punch. After they had eaten, suddenly the floor looked extremely hard and their heels, as they thought of them, seemed most wonderfully soft. They surrendered, and wandered homeward.

Hewitt To Give Address

Dean Roy R. Hewitt of Willamette College of Law, will deliver an address at Colton next Friday night. The address which will concern some phase of international relations is to be one of a series of lectures which is being sponsored in that community this winter.

TRACKSTERS WILL TROT ON CINDERS

WORK BEGINS IN SPRING

Chresto Cottage Wood Supply and National Frats Discussed at Meeting

Among the results of the Blue Key meeting held Tuesday noon, will be the supervision of the building of a cinder track for next spring. All university men will be urged to do as much work as possible on the track, as well as on new tennis courts. The Southern Pacific consented to furnish the cinders and is dumping them near the Daid. There will be a curbing around the track and the path will be graded.

Another matter of business discussed at the luncheon was the problem of securing wood for Chresto cottage. It was reported that great fuel might be obtained free at Painter's Woods.

Some discussion was held as to whether or not the Blue Key should enter social activities. A motion was passed to appoint a committee to confer with the vice president of the student body in arranging a university party.

Vice President Smullin announced that the Portland alumni had invited all Willamette students to attend the Christmas meeting at Henry Tully's on December 27. The meeting is to be on the same order as the one last spring except that the alumni instead of the students will be hosts.

At President Doney's suggestion the committee appointed to investigate the national fraternity question is planning a trip to Eugene to see R. A. Booth on the (Turn to Page 3, Please.)

SALEM DRAMA LEAGUE PRESENTS "JON" FIRST

"Gay Little Wife" Also Given Large Audience Witnesses Tragedy and Farce

Monday night at the Elsinore theater the Salem Drama League presented to a large audience the first of a series of productions. The "Dear Little Wife" by Gertrude Nunn is a gay comedy of Japanese life. A dainty little Japanese wife was skillfully entertaining a lover in the absence of her husband, when her husband unexpectedly returned. She then managed quite cleverly to get rid of the lover and quiet the suspicions of her husband.

Ruth Jones Smith, as Sakahari, made a winning little wife. Norman Purbeck, as Hagayama, the husband, and R. W. Tavener, as Takigura, the lover, both handled their parts quite capably.

From the lightness of the first play one was suddenly plunged into the tragedy of "Jon", a de- (Turn to Page 3, Please.)

LON CHANEY TO BE WITH STYLE SHOW

"While the City Sleeps," starring Lon Chaney, is to be the moving picture at the "Kollege Kapers" and Style Show to be presented at the Elsinore on December 17.

Collegiate stunts will precede the style show.

Christmas gifts and appropriate accessories from the different shops will be featured by the models.

Tickets to the show will be sold for the regular price of sixty cents. The Y. W. C. A. will have charge of ticket sales and will receive 50 per cent commission on all tickets sold previous to December 17.

COLLEGE LIFE

The car moved by in the moonlight,
Along south winter street.
The moon cast a ghostlike shadow,
On the car on its mission sweet.
The road, a pathway of darkness,
Led to the girls' hall door,
And her boy-friend came rattling—
Rattling—
Rattling—
Her boy-friend came rattling,
Thrilled to the very core.

Up on the driveway he rattled,
And stopped in the girl's front yard.
He pressed with his hand on the horn,
But the hall seemed locked and barred;
He whistled a tune at her window,
And who should be waiting there,
But his sweetheart's vigilant guardian—
The dean, his sweetheart's guardian,
Smoldering and red with anger
At the lover's nerve and dare.

"Away," said the vigilant dean,
"The flower you seek is gone,
She left with a lad of my choosing,
A fellow of brawn and brawn."
Young lips quivered in the moonlight
On a face of ashen gray.
He'd lost his only sweetheart,
His blond-haired, blue-eyed sweetheart.
He jumped in his Ford in the dooryard,
Rattling rode away.

Up to the corner he rattled,
And took a sharp turn to the right.
On up State street he traveled,
Till he saw a front parlor light.
The sidewalk, clothed in shadows,
Led to the Beta Chi door,
The boy crept stealthily—
Stealthily—
Stealthily—
Near, the knocker is no more.

DePOE NOW RECOVERED FROM INJURY IN GAME

Charles DePoe who was hurt to the game with Whitman last Thursday is now fully recovered with apparently no bad effects. "Chuck," when he was hit by one of the Whitman men who was running interference for his teammate, had his neck thrown out in such a manner that it rendered him unconscious for about an hour.

INFLUENZA RAGES AT LAUSANNE HALL

14 SENT TO INFIRMARY

Epidemic Started During Vacation. University to Remain Open Regardless

With 14 cases of influenza in Lausanne Hall reported to date, it seems as though the epidemic which started at Stanford early this fall has started its course on the Willamette campus. With Dr. Downs and Miss Curry in charge, the entire south wing of the first floor of the hall has been converted into an infirmary, and for once silence reigns.

The epidemic started Thanksgiving vacation, with Muriel Scheidt the first victim. Others followed rapidly, until virtually all of the women who remained in the hall over the vacation were afflicted with the disease. Most of the women are reported to be improving, but some are still seriously ill.

Ruth Bauer, Evelyn Lindberg, and Elsie Allen are reported to be the most seriously ill. Dean Olive M. Dahl and Alice Lane, president of the hall who are among those on the sick list, are improving rapidly, but are as yet not able to be up.

Although it has been rumored about the campus that there is some talk of closing the university because of the epidemic, yet there has been no confirmation of the report from those in authority.

Ceremony At O. S. C.

President Doney and Dean Hewitt plan to go to Corvallis next Thursday to take part in a ceremony at Oregon State College in honor of men and women who have received doctor's degrees during the past year.

FRATS AND SORORITIES VISITED BY MARAUDERS

Beta Chi's Report No Damage Done but Kappa House Faces Worse. No Clues Found

Some of the fraternities and sororities were the victims early last week of playful pranksters who thought it would be fun to raid the houses or at least decorate them with applications of putric acid here and there.

The Kappas fared worse than the others. The inter-fraternity scholarship cup disappeared along with two other cups, one of which was the Junior trophy. An Indian blanket was also missed. The Alpha Psi sign vanished but was found later. The Beta Chi's report no damage done but just a few tricks played on them.

This matter has been turned over to the police, but as yet nothing definite has been ascertained concerning the marauders. No satisfactory clues were discovered. The police, however, have in their hands one name which might be connected with this escapade.

ENDOWMENT COMMITTEE COMPOSED OF 11 MEN

Twenty-four members of a committee who are laying plans for a financial drive for Willamette university beginning about the first of next year, met in Portland Monday and discussed several programs outlined by various members, according to Dr. Carl G. Doney, president.

A committee of 11 was named yesterday to take full charge of the campaign. It was thought a smaller committee would be less unwieldy and be more efficient. Those named on the committee are R. A. Booth, R. L. Stevers, C. G. Doney, W. W. Younger, Paul Wallace, J. A. Oaks and R. R. Hewitt, with Bishop Titus Lowe and E. C. Collins honorary members.

WOMAN GLEESTERS PLAN TRIP NORTH

PROGRAM IS RELEASED

Group Will Leave March 16. K. Everett is Manager, M. Miller Ass't. Director

North toward Seattle is the direction the Women's Glee Club will travel on its annual concert tour this year. The group will leave by bus on March 16 and will return at the end of spring vacation. Portland will be the first stop and Vancouver, Washington, the second. Other points in the itinerary are Camas, Klabor, Kent, Tacoma, Port Orchard, and Bremerton. Preliminary to the trip, trial concerts will be given near Salem and in neighboring towns.

In addition to the ensemble numbers, readings will be given by Helen Pemberton; Grace Henderson will play several piano solos as well as accompany the chorus; and solos will be sung by Josephine Albert and Frances McGilvra, president of the organization. There will also be a stunt and a number of duets.

Following is the program as it will be given:

- Daffodils-a-blowing, by German.
- The Snow, by Edgar.
- "Are They Tears, Beloved," by Gries.
- Thy Beaming Eyes, by McDowell.
- Salutation, by Gaines.
- Mah-Lindy Lou, by Strickland.
- Lover and His Lass, by Dunn.
- A Tragic Tale, by Fox.
- Japanese Love Song, Thomas-Salter.
- Oh, When I Get to Heaven.
- A Bird Flew, by Clokey.

Katherine Everett is manager for the glee club this season, and Marjory Miller has succeeded Professor Bohon as director. Aside from offering vocal training to women of the university, the club concerts serve as an advertisement for Willamette.

President Doney Goes to Corvallis. Dr. Doney will speak to the Corvallis Ph. D. Club on the subject, "The Service of Scholarship" on Thursday, December 13.

LOCALS

Mr. Keith Rhodes, captain of the football team at Willamette two years ago, was the guest of Ian MacIver last week-end. Mr. Victor Rhodes also visited Salem and attended the Whitman game.

Miss Nita Crail of Portland was the week end guest of Maida Caldwell.

Miss Dorothy Whipple spent the Thanksgiving vacation at her home in Vancouver, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Cushing of Oregon City spent Thanksgiving at the Sigma Tau house as the guest of their son, Stearns, Jr. In the afternoon they attended the game.

Wm. Wolfe, Cecil Swope, C. A. Kells, and Rev. C. Murray Keeler were the leaders from Salem who attended the Northwest Older Boys' Conference at Corvallis last week-end.

Claudine Gerth, '28, spent the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of her parents in West Salem.

President Doney spoke at the funeral of George Griffith, Tuesday, December 4.

Dr. McCormick has been preaching at Valsetz, Oregon, for two months. A community church has been organized as a result.

Dr. McCormick spent Thanksgiving with his sister, Mrs. W. A. Dewhurst of Portland.

Mrs. John Reed spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Oregon City.

HAYES BEALL CHOSEN HEAD, CITY ORDER

Hayes Ball was elected president of the Salem Young People's association at the combined banquet and business meeting held Friday night in the Y. M. C. A. dining room.

Other officers chosen were: Vice-president, Edith Starrett; secretary, Irma Babeock; treasurer, Enoch Dumas; chairman Look-out committee, Edith Jenks; chairman program committee, Marjela Feustman. Members of the nominating committee included Doris Clarke, Lucille Harland, Sarah Dark and Rose Hull.

The business session included the adoption of a project to exchange leaders of the various young people's societies as designated by suggestions from the different groups. Irma Babeock, Edith Jenks and Marjela Feustman were appointed as the committee in charge of arrangements.

A December meeting will not be held on account of the holidays. The January meeting will be a social affair, with all the societies in the city entering into a song contest to be judged by competent critics. The winning song will be used officially.

"W" CLUB TO PRESENT BABY BLANKET AT PARTY

Plans for a party to be held Friday, December 14, were made by the "W" club at a meeting last Monday. A feature of the affair will be the presentation of a miniature "W" blanket to Baby Madeline, Spec's young daughter.

Envoy Entertains in Chapel
An amusing and entertaining program was presented in chapel Monday morning by Envoy Walter Jeffery of Detroit, Michigan. Envoy Jeffery's program consisted of several vocal numbers and novelty piano selections.

DIARY HOLDS RECORD OF PIONEER SHIP

Brewer Diary Holds Records of Events of Early Pioneer Ship

A new light has been shed upon the Lausanne and its famous voyage, as a diary written by Henry Bridgeman Brewer, a passenger on the ship, has been brought to light after its long storage in the safe at the Kimball School of Theology. The diary relates the occurrences on the Lausanne, a vessel on which Jason Lee, the founder of our college, and his missionaries came to the Oregon country; and the occurrences at the missions here and at The Dalles where Mr. Brewer was connected with the first Methodist mission on the Columbia river.

This aged diary written in a beautiful script is in the possession of Dr. Canse of Kimball, who has published two installments of it in the Oregon Historical Quarterly. Another article will appear in the December issue of the Quarterly. This number will run the account of the doings at the old Methodist mission at The Dalles which was the scene of the most remarkable revivals ever held among the Indians of Oregon. Hundreds of converts were made, and according to the written statement of Dr. McLoughlin, chief factor of Hudson's Bay Company, the genuineness of this work among the Indians was shown in their boat-comes up and down the river. Formerly they had lost heavily in rich furs at this gateway on the river road, but with the revival, he declared that the losses were practically overcome.

It is surprising to note that the first few lines of the diary, which is written from a personal viewpoint, relates Brewer's marriage to a young woman twenty-one years old which occurred just before embarking on the journey. He stressed the solemn compact which he had entered—marriage.

The party left New York City on the Lausanne in October, 1839, and arrived at the mouth of the Willamette on May 31, 1840. They reached Vancouver on June first. The trip took them into the south Atlantic, around Cape Horn, up the Pacific, and to the Sandwich Islands, now the Hawaiian Islands. From this place, they sailed across to the mouth of the Columbia. They covered a distance of 22,121 miles in 236 days, from the city of New York to Fort Vancouver.

Recently, Dr. Canse received an interesting letter from Miss M. Louise Brewer, a daughter of Henry Brewer, who now lives in Amherst, Massachusetts. She mentions in her letter the reprint of an old picture of Mr. Brewer in the September issue of the Oregon Historical Quarterly and says: "I am much pleased with Father's life-like portrait. It is in features and expression."

Mr. Brewer by his diary has added another treasure to our school history and has given us a background for the early Oregon missions.

SALEM DRAMA ORDER

Pressing tale of a fisherman's hut on a stormy coast of Scotland. It was written by Mrs. Odell Savage of Salem, an alumnus of Willamette University. The play, based on the ill-fate brought by the coming of the bird of ill-omen, proceeded through the treachery of a fisher-boy's best friend to the logical end when the body of the wronged boy, drowned at sea, returned to vindicate him. The sad life of the fisherwomen who bear their sons to be fishermen was sympathetically portrayed by Teresa Prescott, wife of Prof. Prescott of Willamette. Peter, the father of Jon, was impressively interpreted by Oliver Huston. The other members of "Jon", each of whom contributed his part to its effectiveness, were Lillian King, Stanley King, Gertrude Ross, Robert Naimeyer, Thomas Fathom, and as villagers Helen Rudolph, Lou Thompson, Edith Wetjen, Margaret Myers, Jack Spong, James Protzman, Harold Colgan, and Francis Colgan.

To see a collection of photographs made by Professor Loeb of the physics department of the University of California. Professor Loeb is an amateur who has pursued the artistic phase of photography with definite purpose, and the photos shown here last Tuesday afternoon were given considerable approval by the students who saw them.

The collection included treatments of water scenes, sand dunes, odd tree formations, sunsets and architectural subjects. Of special interest were Professor Loeb's photos of tall buildings, and of certain architectural details. Several pictures of sailing ships and their rigging also received favorable comment.

In connection with talks on spirit given by Coach Keene and Professor Monk it was noted that the secretary be instructed to write to each of the men who left school at the end of the football season, inquiring his reasons for leaving school. It was also suggested that during the next freshman week, matters pertaining to school spirit be emphasized.

Thanksgiving Dinner Served at Lausanne

On Thanksgiving day a most delicious Thanksgiving dinner was served at Lausanne Hall. Because of the early hour of the football game there was no program after the dinner.

Those present were Professor and Mrs. F. D. Leamer, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Dean and Mrs. F. M. Erickson, Miss Curry, Professor and Mrs. C. R. Monk, Professor and Mrs. H. C. Kohler, Miss Dahl, Mrs. Dahl, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Johnson, President and Mrs. Doney, Mr. and Mrs. Canse, Camilla Gates, Ruth Bauer, Leta Hall, Mildred Hubbard, Ruth Margaret Hall, and Eva Gorham.

Students Attend Jolly-Up During Holidays

On Saturday evening, December 1, there was a Jolly-Up party for all Willamette students at the Dreamland Skating rink. The party was well attended despite the fact that many students were gone for the vacation. After a most enjoyable evening refreshments of hot dogs and pickles were served.

Beta Chi's Have Line Party for "Jon"

The Beta Chi sorority enjoyed a line party at the Elsinore theatre on Monday evening when the Salem Drama League presented the two short plays, "A Dear Little Wife," by George Dunn and "Jon," by Mrs. Odell Savage Ohling. Mrs. Ohling is a member of Beta Chi. Those in the group were: Beatrice Lockhart, Helen Pemberton, Jean White, Faye Cornutt, Josephine Albert, Eloise White, Louise Brown, Katherine Everett, Frances McGilvra, Ella Howard, Elma White, Grace White, Emily Brown, Mary Jo Wagner, Margaret Wood, Loretta Fisher, Dorothy Young, Florence Power, Helen McPherson, Evelyn High, Roby Laughlin, and Rosalind Van Winkle.

Delta Phi's Attend Show at Elsinore

Members of the Delta Phi house who formed a line party for "Jon" were:

Mrs. John Reed, Miss Marion Bratz, Miss Lena Medler, Miss Edith Findley, Miss Pauline Findley, Miss Dorothy Bonshard, Miss Gertrude Oehler, Miss Bernice Nelson, Miss Clare Love, Miss Rae Windust, Miss Nellie Badley, Miss Dorothy Pemberton.

Alpha Phi Alpha Mother's Club Meets

The Alpha Phi Alpha Mothers' club of Portland met at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Hanke on Friday afternoon to discuss social plans for the Christmas holidays. Several of the active sorority members were present. Tea was served by the Misses Mary Clamfield and Helen Hanke.

The Salem Alpha Phi Alpha Mothers' club held a business meeting at the sorority house Tuesday evening.

Professor and Mrs. F. D. Leamer were the dinner guests of Professor and Mrs. R. M. Gathe on Monday evening, December 3.

Student Guests At Rowe Home

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Rowe had as their dinner guests Thanksgiving day, Miss Bertha Babcock, Ray Miller, Paul Ackerman, Sam and Olven Rowe.

The rooms were attractively decorated in the holiday colors.

Additional guests for the evening were: Miss Dorothy Bonshard, Miss Marion Bretz, Miss Dorothy Moore, Miss Lillian Scott, and Miss Billie Cupper; Mr. Fritz DeHarport and Mr. Floyd Albin.

Hall Drawing Room Scene of Tea

Late Thanksgiving day afternoon, Dean Dahl delighted the girls of Lausanne Hall by serving tea informally in the drawing room. The special guests of the occasion were Mrs. Dahl, Mrs. Johnson and Miss Curry.

Eloise White Entertains Grade School Girls

Miss Eloise White entertained her club of grade school Girl Reserves at her home with a party last Friday afternoon. Miss Barbara Moberg assisted the hostess with the refreshments.

Open house will be held at the three sororities Saturday evening, December 15. The hours as set by the inter-sorority council will be:

Delta Phi—7:30 to 8:30.
Beta Chi—8:00 to 9:00.
Alpha Phi Alpha—8:30 to 9:30.

Jenny Delsell, former Willamette student, visited in Salem during the holidays. While here she attended the Jolly-Up and the football game.

COEDS IN AUSTRALIA DON'T RATE SO HIGH

STOSKTON, Calif.—Co-eds in universities and colleges of Australia have no social standing with the males that lord it over their institutions of higher learning, so declares N. C. L. Nelson, leader of the debate team of the University of Sidney, which recently opened its American tour at the College of the Pacific.

"In classes the front of the room is separated from the rear by a bar or rail," Mr. Nelson explains, "and co-eds sit in the front leaving the back of the room for the men."

Neither do the men pay any attention to the college women on the Campus and it is seldom that a college man would think of "dating" a college girl or having anything to do with her in a social way. Nelson continued.

"Woman's place is in the home," is Nelson's opinion, and he evidently practices what he preaches for he was the only one of the trio of forensic stars who appeared on the Pacific platform that was engaged.—Educational News.

NEW STATEMENT OF Y. W. C. A. PURPOSE

Prominent Women to Lecture Numerous Fields of Work Offered to Girls

The chairman of the membership committee, Anna Mary McKinley, has planned two meetings for the Young Woman's Christian Association, at which the new statement of purpose will be considered. The program for the first meeting will include a lecture by Mrs. M. E. Kirk concerning the history and background of the new basis for membership. Her talk will be followed by a general discussion of the subject by the girls. At the second meeting, to be held next Tuesday afternoon, Miss Dorothy Pennell, the student Y. W. C. A. secretary at Oregon State college, will talk on "The Why of the New Purpose" showing its value to the members. After these two gatherings an opportunity will be given to the girls to subscribe for the new statement. As these meetings are of great importance to the campus all of the members are urged to attend.

The new statement of purpose was accepted last year by the Sacramento convention, of which the National Students Council is only a part, and for several years the leaders of various organizations have been trying to work out a plan to take the place of the old one whose basis is the church membership plan. The plans will be submitted to the girls for their approval some time this week or next week.

Many fields of work are offered to every woman student by the several committees of the Y. W. C. A. The social service committee offers especially varied opportunities for service. It works with the children of the Blind school and Deaf school, the men and women in the Old People's Home, and the Girl Reserve societies in the city grade schools. The Girl Reserve leaders, headed by Beatrice Lockhart and Rosalind Van Winkle, cooperate with the Girls' Work committee of the local Y. W. C. A., providing leaders for the clubs in the two junior high schools and the seven grade schools. Doing this type of work develops in the student leader qualities of initiative, leadership, and originality. Any girls who are interested in this endeavor may be given clubs by reporting

Freshman Goes Into Color Daze Finding That Majority of Those In Purest Grouping Are Females

"What's in a name?" was the query under a photograph printed in the Wallulah a year or so ago. The picture was of five people on the campus whose surname was "White." Then there were five; now there are eight. Seven of these are women, leaving the senior class president alone in his glory. Members of the faculty and students in receiving lines have frequent difficulties in remembering "whose sister is she and whose sister she isn't."

In addition to the above group are the Browns and the Millers, with six and five, respectively. However, whereas a surname sometimes lends distinction by reason of its commonness, an off-present given name usually results in confusion and humorous situations. For some unknown reason, people with the same name seem to gather in the same places. In one sorority there are five Helens, another women's house holds three Dorothys, and a third has four Margarets. The total number of Helens enrolled at W. U. is ten; of Dorothys there are eight; and of Margarets, thirteen. The most predominating masculine name in school is Frank, with a total of ten, four of whom belong to the same fraternity.

ANOTHER OFFICE IS BROUGHT TO CAMPUS

Members of the Independent College President's association met at Reed College in Portland Friday. "The college in service for our students and our country" was the theme of the conference. The speakers included President Carl Gregg Doney; Dean Roy Hewitt; Dr. John F. Dobbs, president of Reed College; Dr. Levl T. Pennington, president of Pacific College; Dean U. G. Duback, O. S. C.; William R. Barnhart, Pacific University; Dean James H. Gilbert, U. of O.; Dean Ruth M. Stone, Pacific University; and Clement H. Sierers, Pacific University.

The main part of the discussion covered the military training in our colleges. One example was used of a student at the University of Washington who was expelled because he objected to military training on conscientious grounds. The members of the association decided on a less direct course than compulsory military training.

President Doney was elected president and Dr. Franklin was elected secretary of the association. Dinner was served and entertainment furnished for the delegates by the members of Reed College.

The conference will be held at Pacific University next year.

L. CHAPIN TELLS OF CHINESE STUDENTS

An interesting contrast between Chinese and American students is given by Lee Chapin, a former Willamette student, who has spent much time in China recently. Chinese students, he explains, attach the greatest importance to political questions. If a student were to openly favor the Communists, for example, the result might be a question of life or death to him, depending upon the popularity of the Communists at that time. However, a student here in America may freely state his preference for the Republican or the Democratic party, and it makes no difference at all.

A great many of the students of Lingnan University, at Canton, China, where Mr. Chapin taught,

EX-WILLAMETTITES HAVE CELEBRATION

The Willamette alumni in New York held a reunion at the O. S. C.-N. Y. U. game. About twelve were present, among whom were Thelma Mills, "Jim" and "Happy" McClintock, Walter Hiff, Led Emmel, Robert Wilty, Victor Logan, and Kenneth McCormick. The following account of the game was given by Kenneth McCormick.

The W. U. reunion was a noisy and complete success. The O. S. C.-N. Y. U. football game was great. No one had any thought but that N. Y. U. would tramp upon, annihilate, and otherwise dispose of O. S. C. Our team simply outplayed the New Yorkers at every point of the game. N. Y. U. is considered the best straight college football team of the east. That certainly puts O. S. C. up. The New York sports writers were tickled to death with all the tricky plays and called it the best passing game of the season. They negotiated some of the most impossible passes I ever saw. And O. S. C. never did what was expected at a crisis. If the conventional thing was to punt they would run with ball; to pass they'd buck the line.

become officials in the Government. The Chinese secretary of the Legation at Geneva was a student of Lingnan.

Mr. Chapin finds Chinese students extremely serious and very patient, and more anxious to learn than American students. But they lack the enthusiasm and satisfaction in life, the happy spirit of American youth.

INDOOR SQUAD HAS STABILITY

Basketball at Willamette Successful Because Players All "Stick"

If "Spec" Keene, athletic mentor at Willamette university had his football squad stabilized as he has the basketball squad, the gridiron season that has just ended would have been rather a different story.

Not that the football season was without its triumphs, nor is there any complete assurance that the basketball season will produce a Northwest conference title for the Bearcats; but at least, the basketball squad is composed as it should be, and the football squad, through no fault of the coach, was not.

Many Veterans Out

The present group of 13 aspirants for places on the basketball team include one man who will be playing his fourth year as a regular; three who will be playing their third season, two who have earned a letter only once; four hopefuls from last year's freshman team, one from the year before, and only two freshmen.

That insures a team built up from the bottom, with scant hope for mushroom players to thrive. The freshmen, Gibson and Scales, are good men, but they'll have a hard time breaking into the regular lineup; they will have to show that they mean business.

Sophs Have Advantage

The results from last year's freshman team are not flashy, but they are good steady players, and will have the advantage, when it comes to picking regulars, that the coach knows they are stickers. This list includes Hammond, DeHarport, Margers and Baldere. Steelhammer is the candidate from the freshman team of two years ago.

Lettermen include Litchfield, who has played three years at forward; Hank Ledbetter and Flesher all guards, who have played two years; Ashby, a guard, and Adams, a forward, who were regulars one year. The list of lettermen will be increased to seven when Cardinal, last year's center, arranges his work so that he can turn out.

Are Good Students

The reason for this advantage in stability which the basketball squad has over the football squad, is due primarily to the scholastic sufficiency of the indoor athletes. Building up a similar condition among the gridiron squad is something toward which Coach Keene is striving, with gradual success.

The basketball squad at present is under the direction of Earl Shafer, who brings the same thoroughness into play in his work as a coach, that he exhibited as a player at Salem high and the University of Oregon. He is naturally quiet, but a capable leader. The squad will be taken over by Coach Keene next week.

QUARTETTE PROVIDES PROGRAM AT ROBERTS'

Several Willamette students were present at an interesting recital given in the T. S. Roberts' studio one night last week. Solos and ensemble numbers were sung by a quartette consisting of Granville Morgan, Carol Shearer, Everett Craven, and T. M. Blenkinsop. Jean Harper played the following pieces on the organ: Kamel Ostrov, by Rubenstein; Tocata in D Minor, by Bach-Nevin; and Meditation, by Starr.

LINFIELD IS TO HAVE NEW BUILDING FINISHED

LINFIELD COLLEGE, McMinnville, Ore., Dec. 4.—(PIP)—If present indications may be relied upon, study will be begun in the new building, Melrose hall, by the first of the second semester and possibly by the middle of January. Plastering is practically at a close and the heating units are in place while the woodwork remains yet to be done. The contractors seem positive of their reply that the building will be finished by the second semester and plans are being laid for a dedication ceremony to take place at that time.

Youngest Student Girl

S. C.—Miss Neomi Neman, thirteen year old student, registered at the University of Southern California after passing the university board examinations. She is the youngest student who has ever registered at the university.

Miss Newman is of Russian parentage and has only been in this country seven years. She did not attend high school but was tutored by her father, who is a master of eight languages. Having mastered three languages already, Miss Newman intends to begin work seriously in February with Latin, German and Italian. Miss Newman has been granted a special Russian scholarship by President von Klein-Smid because of her exceptional ability. She intends to work for her A. B. and Ph. D. degrees.

If you can be a Frosh, when all about you
Are staring cross-eyed at your green lid,
If you can hear without a failing spirit—

If you can talk aloud in the library
Without the consciousness of being seen,
If you can learn to stop and look and listen
Before you leave the chapel,
'twould be keen,
If you can take a hall girl to a party
And keep your head whatever be the cost,
Then at the quiet moment of the parting
Hear—"Lights Out!"—and find your chance is lost,
If you can do what other Frosh are scared to

Willamette Slightly Outpunts Opponents and Makes More First Downs

In the final game of the season, the Willamette Bearcats suffered the worst defeat in years at the hands of the powerful Whitman squad. The score was 45 to 0.

The line plunging of Nielson, the end running combination of Reese, Haynes, and Applegate, and the passing of Holmgren, were too powerful for the much lighter Cardinal and Gold squad.

Whitman scored two touchdowns in each of the first three periods and one in the final period.

Willamette slightly outpunted Whitman, the Bearcats averaging 32 yards to Whitman's 30. This slight advantage was offset by the returns of Haynes and Applegate, while Willamette was unable to return much because of Holmgren and Lindman's splendid defense work.

The fighting Bearcats, through the passing of Englebretson to Duppe and Page, made 15 first downs as compared to Whitman's 14. This slight advantage was again offset by the flashy runs of Reese, Nielson, and Applegate.

Willamette attempted 23 passes, 11 were completed for a gain of 94 yards, while 10 were incomplete and two were intercepted for long gains by Whitman. Whitman tried 8 passes, completing two for a gain of 57 yards, the other six being knocked down by the Willamette backs.

After working the ball from deep in their own territory, the Bearcats lost the ball twice upon their opponents' ten yard line.

Englebretson, in the backfield and Bob Hillis, on the line, starred for Willamette. Nielson, Holmgren, and Bagley were the mainstays of the Whitman squad.

The starting lineup was:
Willamette—Ends, Mumford, Pope; tackles, Versteeg, Rasmussen; guards, Hillis, Carpenter; center, Ackerman; full, Page; half, Ellis, French; quarter, DeFon.

Whitman—Ends, Holmgren, Lindman; tackles, Calley, Hart; guards, McKellar, Ladley; center, Anderson; full, Nielson; half, Bagley, Council; quarter, Haynes.

FIRST GAME WILL BE DECEMBER 18

Six Veterans Available for Use on First String. One Uses Voice Muscles

December 18 is the date set for the first public appearance of the Willamette university basketball quintet. On that date the cardinal and gold will take on the Oregon Mohawks, independent organization, made up for the most part of former university and college stars. The game will be played on the local floor.

Now that the football season is over, although perhaps not quite forgotten, intensive drill on the maple court will be the rule from now on for the Bearcats. Quite a large number of players have been working out under the tutelage of Earl Shafer, former Oregon star, but a few of last year's players have not been out because of their participation in football. Coach Keene expects to take active charge of the hoop squad next week.

Six veterans from last year are out for their old positions and form a nucleus around which the

THREE WAY TIE MARKS CLOSE OF CLASS BALL

The boys' interclass basketball games, which were played November 29, 27, and 28, ended in a tie between the Freshmen, Sophomores, and Seniors, each class having won two games and lost one.

In the first game, the Freshmen defeated the Seniors. Two Freshmen teams were used. The first squad scored more points, but lacked the team work of the second team. The Juniors were easily defeated, in the second game, by the Sophomores, who showed much of the form that helped them win the championship last year. The Seniors defeated the Sophomores in the most thrilling of the games. Two overtime periods were needed to decide the winner. The Freshmen easily won from the Juniors on Tuesday, Wednesday, after the Juniors had forfeited to the Seniors because of the absence of players, the Sophomores won from the Freshmen by a close score in an exciting game.

coach hopes to build a winning aggregation. Cardinal, last year's heavy scoring center, promises to be even better this year, although he hasn't a cinch on the position. Adams and Litchfield, forwards, and Ledbetter, Flesher and Hank, guards are the other veterans working out. All three guards are the hard fighting type of players.

Waddell, last year's pivot man for the freshman crew, is working out nightly, but has difficulty in getting up in the air high enough on the tip off. Troxel, a mighty fine prospect for a guard position, is working his vocal muscles at the present time with the glee club, but may be induced to get into the game later on.

Other promising material from last year's frosh outfit includes De Harport, Page, Marsters, Bladlee, Harmon and Gibson.

Coach Keene will no doubt take two of this year's freshmen players and put them on the varsity squad if a pair of them can be found who are outstanding players. However, the coach says, they must be interested not only in basketball but also in their studies.

A shift in the style of play for the Bearcats squad will be in order this year, according to the coach. A man to man defense will be used instead of the play in former years, when the defense was based on where the ball was on the floor. A fast breaking offense will be used as in the past. Later on in the season a modified style of delayed offense may be adopted, particularly during the last minutes of a game when the team is in the lead.

No "barn storming" trip will be made by the team this year. The time usually devoted to such a journey will be used by the squad in getting up in their studies. The Christmas holiday vacation period at the school starts December 18 and continues until the first of the year. The Bearcat hoop squad will return to the school to practice December 27.

Several pre-season games have been scheduled and others will be added later on. Oregon State college will be seen here January 2, with a return game at Corvallis, January 4. A tentative date of January 8 has been set for the appearance of Oregon here. The

BEARCATS COMPLETE EIGHT GAME SEASON

Final Total Scores give Opponents Decided Margin of Point Balance

Whitman closed the Willamette football season Thanksgiving day, when they administered a 44 to 0 defeat upon the Bearcats. The victory for Whitman gave them the conference flag with four victories and no defeats, while the defeat sent Willamette into a tie with Pacific for fourth place.

Willamette opened the season with a 36 to 0 victory over the Lindfield Wildcats and showed a fairly strong offensive. However the game brought out the fact that the Willamette team wasn't consistent. The next game with C. P. S. brought out the fact that Willamette had lots of fight but rather poor in the fundamentals of game, such as tackling, blocking and running interference. The game ended 25 to 18 in favor of Willamette.

After a rest of two weeks the Bearcats entrained for Boise, Idaho where they were severely upset 44 to 6. In the game the men were supposedly affected by the rare altitude and numerous injuries. Three days after the Bearcats got home from the Idaho disaster they played the Pacific eleven only to lose again, this time by the score of 6 to 0.

The final game of the season was the already mentioned Thanksgiving day contest in which Whitman won easily 45 to 0. Thus ended the Willamette 1928 football record with 2 victories and 3 losses.

In three post season games Willamette was defeated by University of Washington 35 to 0 and by University of Oregon 38 to 6. They won from Albany college 38 to 6 while the Bearcat second team defeated the Chemewa Indians.

A summary of the season:

Willamette	6 U. of Wash.	26
Willamette	6 U. of Ore.	38
Willamette	36 Linfield	0
Willamette	25 C. P. S.	18
Willamette	38 Albany	6
Willamette	6 U. of I.	44
Willamette	0 Pacific	6
Willamette	0 Whitman	45
	111	183

Bearcats will play the Webfoots at Eugene in a return engagement January 12. Multnomah club will be played either late this month or the fore part of January. Negotiations are underway for games with the University of Washington, Idaho and Washington State. These games are problematical, however.

DELTA PHI, BETA CHI AHEAD IN HOOP TILTS

Two of the inter-sorority basketball games have been played, leaving the Delta Phi's and Beta Chi's ahead in the tournament. Monday the Delta Phi's won from the Independents in a fast game, with a score of 19 to 11. Wednesday noon the Alpha Phi Alpha's lost to the Beta Chi's, 26 to 0.

In the former game, outstanding work was done by Benna Brown and Dorothy Pemberton, Delta Phi, and by Judith Young and Dorothy Eastridge, Independent. Kenneth Litchfield refereed the games.

The Beta Chi's had an experienced group, including four members of the victorious sophomore team. Their line-up consisted of Jean White, Fay Irvine, Mildred Pugh, Emily Brown, Frances McGilvra, Rosalind Van Winkle, and Marvell Edwards.

Players for the Alpha Phi Alpha's were for the most part totally inexperienced but fought bravely to the end. Their team was composed of Muriel White, Helen Breithaupt, Donna Hildehelm, Loretta Varley, Margaret Warnke, and Alvina Breithaupt.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bowe, Miss Bertha Babcock, Mr. Sam and Olven Bowe motored to Oregon City over the week-end.

Whitman this year has seven lettermen upon whom to build their title hopes for the coming season. Nig Borleske is confident that he can mold his men into a unit which will again cop the conference flag in basketball.

In the starting lineup against Whitman Thursday there were six men who were playing their first year for Willamette, two who were playing their second; two who were playing their third, and one who was playing his fourth year.

The caliber of football played in the Northwest Conference may receive one of its most severe tests if plans being formulated in Walla Walla are carried out. Whitman officials are attempting to stage a game between the Missionaries and Occidental, the champions of the Southern California conference. Occidental showed their power by holding Southern California to a 19 to 0 score in Los Angeles. The game, if played, would probably be in that city.

COLLEGIAN PICKS ALL STAR OUTFITS

With the finish of the 1928 Northwest conference schedule, Thanksgiving day, the Collegian has essayed to pick up an all-conference teams from the point of view of how the other teams played with or against the Willamette eleven.

The most outstanding team and undisputed champion, Whitman, places three men on the first team and four on the second. In addition, the Whitman captain, Holmgren is also chosen as captain of the mythical team. The College of Idaho ranks next, with three men on the all-conference team and one man on the second team. College of Puget Sound rates two men on the all-conference first team while also placing two men on the second team. Willamette, tied with Pacific for fourth place has two candidates for the first team and two for the second team. Pacific rated two men good enough to receive mention.

At the end positions, Captain Holmgren of Whitman was the most outstanding man in the conference. Holmgren, besides being a wonderful defensive player can also be shifted to the backfield and is depended upon to do the passing and punting for the teams. He is also a deadly pass receiver. The other end position goes to Baldrige of College of Idaho. He is a big man, and fast, who handles himself well, both on defense and offense and has been one of the mainstays in the coyote line.

Pollock, Pacific, and Caley Whitman get the call for tackle positions. Both men are big and aggressive and have played consistent ball all season.

Teams Chosen on Basis of Way Men Played Against Bearcats in Games

The guard positions go to Bob Hills, Bearcat, and Lappenbush of the College of Puget Sound. Hills is one of the scrappiest players in the conference and is consistent, while Lappenbush, although playing tackle this year is equally good with plenty of stuff. Gillam of the College of Idaho center, stands out head and shoulders above the rest of the centers of the conference and is a player of the Stadleman type.

Chuck Depoe gets the call over Gilliam of C. P. S. for the quarterback positions. Chuck has demonstrated his ability both in open field running and in plunging the line, while Gilliam although fast and clever has not been such a consistent player as has Depoe. Purvis and Dille get the call for first-string halfback positions. Both men are triple threat men and have been the main plugs in their respective backfields. Cranor because of his injuries, which kept him out of the game most of the time would have been a sure winner again this year, had he been able to ply consistently, smashing type of football.

Closing the conference year with an impressive performance, Whitman defeated Willamette 45 to 0 on the local field. The powerful Missionaries finished with an unmarred record of four victories.

C. P. S. and College of Idaho tied for second place. This is the first season in league history that has not found College of Idaho on the topmost rung.

Pacific and Willamette were knotted for fourth place, while Linfield wildcats and showed a down the cellar position without a victory or a point scored in conference competition.

Thanksgiving concluded the most successful year in conference history from every standpoint.

FAMOUS BATTLE SCENE IS RE-ENACTED FOR "WINGS"
One hundred and twenty airplanes were used by William Wellman, one of Hollywood's youngest directors, in filming the battle scene of the St. Mihiel drive for "Wings," the great Paramount war aviation spectacle which the Elsinore theatre is now playing. "Wings," which was nearly two years in the making, is America's story of the World war from the aviator's standpoint.

The cream of America's aviators were gathered together for the air battle picture, which was taken on location at Leon Springs, near San Antonio, Texas. There a battle

Opinions Rendered In Regard to University by Various Persons. Sentiment Voiced of Heat Need

Not to be outdone by one of our local papers, the Collegian decided to interview some townspeople, Willamette faculty members, and a number of Willamette students for opinions concerning our university. Several persons interviewed informed the freshman reporter that they had had too much turkey to have any opinions, but the following items were collected:

Floyd Albin, foreman manager of the freshman class, said: "If all chapel speakers were as modern and intelligent as the president of Philomath College, I am certain there would be more genuine interest shown in chapel exercise."

Dr. Franklin, librarian, said: "There are good traditions and bad traditions. Occasionally they should all be examined, and, unless they prove their worth, should be revised—scrapped—though this cannot be done by individuals. In my opinion, paddling and the mill race belong to a cruder age."

Ivan White, president of the senior class and Blue Key fraternity, said: "You might quote the Hon. William Spullin as saying that love is the delusion that one woman differs from the rest."

Dean Erickson said: "Talk about self-educated men. The college student is self-educated or not educated at all. He merely has better opportunities."

Lydia Childs, junior, said: "We certainly need a place on the campus to keep our books. We use so much energy packing them back and forth that we have none left to expend upon their contents."

Catherine Mulvey, a feature writer for the student body paper during her career at Salem High school, said: "I'm afraid to write a feature for the Collegian because it's so intellectual, dag-nabbit."

Reverend Taylor of the First Methodist church said: "I wonder does Salem fully appreciate the high type of citizenry we have in the faculty of Willamette University. Scholastic, modern and efficient in their profession. But that is not all, they are home builders and take an active interest in civic affairs. Personally, I find them the most cordial and fraternal group anywhere. They are loyal to the highest ideals of the university but also interested in the welfare and success of other institutions and people. They are Salem's best asset."

Edith Findley, vice-president of the freshman class, said: "I am proud to be a student in such a historic school. However, I wish to voice the sentiment of my fellow-freshmen when I say that there should be more heat."

J. C. Nelson, principal of the Salem High school, said: "It seems to have become an accepted fact that the best scholars in our graduating classes are very likely to choose Willamette as their college. In the class of '28, twelve of those who stood in the first or highest quarters in scholarship chose Willamette, as against three who chose other colleges. It should be very gratifying to Willamette as it is to the high school to feel that it can be numbered among the institutions that still regard scholarship as an important function of college life."

Professor Learner of the physics department said: "I am for Willamette University 100%. There are yet many fields open for improvement here, but the rate of progress in standardization is indeed gratifying."

"I have noticed particularly that the majority of the students here at Willamette appear to have more leisure, as exhibited by loitering about the campus, than I have observed in other colleges and universities. All students attempt to place first things first, but its activities are hampered by our present building. We need sound-proof rooms for individual and group practicing, and a heating system so the temperature needn't disturb our work."

On being interviewed, several persons remarked that they thought college dances should be permitted here. If this privilege were allowed, they said that they thought it would eliminate the attendance of public dances by university students.

Mrs. Jones—My dear, dead husband never complained of my cooking.

Mr. Jones (her second venture)—Perhaps that's why he's your dear, dead husband.
