

W. U. PLANS TO GREET ALUMNI

Arrangements for Ninth Annual Homecoming Near Completion

C. P. S. GAME SCHEDULED

Al King Suggests Winning Homecoming Slogan, "Pound Puget Sound"

Willamette's ninth annual Homecoming is at hand! Manager James Allison and his committees have been working hard on plans for one of the biggest events of the year, and everything is in readiness. The major attractions are the "W" club banquet, the game between the Bearcats and Loggers, and the Theta Alpha Phi play.

"Pound Puget Sound" is the catchy slogan suggested by Al King. The sororities and fraternities are anticipating keen competition on the homecoming "Welcome" signs which are to be judged on originality, cleverness, and appropriateness for the day and night display. The Alpha Psi Delta fraternity have the cup now and are planning on keeping it.

The program has been outlined as follows:

The "W" club banquet is held for all football men at six o'clock. At 7:15 there is to be a big pep rally under the leadership of Donnell Sanders, followed by a bonfire. A student carnival, a new feature this year, is to be held in the gymnasium. Each student organization is to be represented, and a great deal of enthusiasm has been aroused on account of the cup which has been offered as a prize to those presenting the best act.

Saturday morning will begin with the registration of alumni at 10 o'clock, and an informal gathering in Chresto cottage. The Bearcats and Loggers will meet on the gridiron in the afternoon, and it is hoped that Puget Sound will be pounded as they have never been pounded before. The Alumni banquet will be held at the Masonic temple from 5:30 until 8 o'clock Saturday evening. The climax of Saturday's program will be "The Queen's Husband," a three act comedy, to be given by Theta Alpha Phi at 8:15 in the high school auditorium.

A. S. W. U. COMM. TRANSACT BUSINESS

Student Officials Select Class Members of Honor Code Committee

The executive committee of the Associated Students met October 13, at which time the Honor Code committee was appointed. Members named are: seniors, Lars Nelson, Rosalind Van Winkle, Virginia Edwards, and Virginia Slusser; juniors, Betty Ogden, Clarence Poor, and Wesley Roeder; sophomores, Harold Rose and Alvis Love.

Other business was the decision to purchase a camera in conjunction with the university, and the report of the auditing committee.

Women Shoppers Use Clever Ruses to Evade Paying Fare

Local Professor Makes Observations on Street-Cars

"Women shoppers are worse cheaters than any other class of people." This is the opinion of Professor E. S. Oliver and the result of his observations of the patrons of the Seattle street cars. He hastens to add, however, that the same women may be strictly honest in their other dealings.

Other classes of street car patrons, such as workmen, business men, school children, and picnicers, are relatively scrupulous about paying their fares; but, according to Professor Oliver, a great many women shoppers manage, by hook or crook, to get a free ride.

STATE TOURNEY AT W. U. AGAIN

The Eleventh Annual Basketball Tournament Comes to W. U.

The Eleventh Annual State Basketball tourney will be held in the gymnasium at Willamette university during the inclusive dates of March 18 to 21. This announcement has just been made by Mr. John L. Gary, secretary of the State Athletic Board, following a recent meeting of that body.

The teams from the ten districts of the state and two teams invited from larger districts, will compete for the state championship. Graduate Manager Sparks has stated that arrangements will be made for enlarging the seating capacity of the gymnasium. A more efficient plan will be arranged for handling the teams as well as the crowds. The W. club as well as the Cubs will again assist Professor Keene and Professor Sparks.

Honor Code Comm. Elects L. Nelson Premier Chairman

Lars Nelson, senior, was selected as chairman of the Honor Code Committee at its first meeting Monday afternoon, and the first Friday noon of each month set as the time for regular meetings.

The committee which was appointed at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Students has as its purpose the enforcement of the honor code of the university. Definite plans as to methods to be used in this enforcement were made at the Monday meeting.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP STATISTICS ARE GIVEN

In a survey completed by Dr. S. B. Laughlin during the past week, statistics concerning representation of various denominations on the campus were gathered. What is considered the most startling bit of information is that 17 students prefer to affiliate while in Salem with some other church than the one to which they belong.

Of the 115 who have no church membership only 24 have no preference. A total of 407 students are members of churches.

Of these, 14 are Baptists; 12 Roman Catholics; 18 Christian (Disciples); 2 Christian Science; 4 community churches; 15 Congregational; 12 Episcopal; 10 Evangelical; 8 Friends; 1 Greek Orthodox; 8 Lutheran; 5 Mennonite; 225 Methodist; 2 Nazarene; 63 Presbyterian; 1 Reformed; 1 Seventh Day Adventist; 3 Unitarian; 3 United Brethren.

RALLY LUNCHEON DEFIES J. PLOVIUS

Governor, Mayor, Business Men Extend Encouraging Words to Team

All-prevalent in the scheme of things on the Willamette campus Thursday, October 15, was the student pep luncheon. In spite of threatening clouds a table was spread beside the grandstand on Sweetland field for football players, coaches, speakers, faculty members, and student representatives. Students gathered in the grandstand, where the guests of the occasion were finally compelled to retreat before the onslaughts of Jupiter Pluvius.

Practically the entire student body attended this luncheon-rally, which was arranged by Blue Key.

With Frank Van Dyke, president of Blue Key, as toastmaster, no speaker was too serious to be humorously introduced. President Carl G. Doney spoke of the enthusiasm and interest manifested in the opening season of football and extended the best wishes of the faculty to football men and coaches gathered there.

Dean Frank M. Erickson spoke in behalf of the faculty assuring the squad of that body's hearty support.

Governor A. W. Norblad, representing the state, called to the attention of the group the high standing which the university has throughout the United States, and expressed his wish that these standards might continue to apply to scholastic records, athletics and other activities. He prophesied that the attention of the entire state would follow the Bearcats into Idaho and wished them success.

Warren McMinnimee, president of the Associated Students, spoke in behalf of the student organization, urging that a start toward another championship should be made in the game with College of Idaho.

It was the assurance of Coach Roy S. (Spec) Keene that not only would the team fight to the finish but that in all ways the individual members would ably represent Willamette.

Later in the hour, Mayor T. A. Livesley tendered the good wishes of the city of Salem to the departing team.

The introduction of Yell King Donnell Sanders of the individual members of the squad was received with prolonged applause.

Luncheon was served under the general direction of Howard Miller, and more singing and yelling engaged in.

No chapel exercises were held Thursday and time usually spent thus was given over to the celebration.

MINSTREL SHOW TO BE PRESENTED SOON

"The Willamette Minstrels" which is to be presented by the Willamette Men's Glee Club is rapidly taking shape. The various parts have been assigned, and frequent rehearsals are appearing on the schedule. The minstrel show will be put on in Waller Hall on Friday night, November 7.

Clark Wood has been chosen for the interactor, while the end men will be Ralph Foster, Evans Hamilton, Earl Henry, Ronald Hewitt, Lawrence Deacon, and John Gilhousen. A snappy line of chatter has been promised for the production.

Arrangements are being made for a complete renovation of the stage in the chapel for the minstrel show. "The Willamette Minstrels" is the first major production to appear in the chapel for some time, and something new in the line of programs is expected.

Students Exhibit True Willamette Loyalty and Pep

Last week the students of Willamette proved to the doubting public that they had spirit and bits of it. Through hallway and stairs before morning classes, with wild enthusiasm they made Eaton Hall ring from cellar to attic with "Fight Sons of Old Willamette" and other Bearcat songs.

Homecoming Comedy Will Delight Audience

With Amusing and Abhorrent Roles

"The Queen's Husband" may be a comedy to some folks, but it certainly has some of the tensesst moments that any kind of drama could possess. Light and sound are most effectively arranged to give the best background to the action. The whiz and boom of cannon and the flame of the burning city are shown from the castle window.

The character work is especially artistic. Wesley Gordon is doing some rather remarkable work as King Eric. He catches the spirit of a monarch in general, and of this king in particular.

Ralph McCullough, General Northrup, has developed an alarming chin and the biggest bombastical-booming voice you can imagine. It is fortunate that the play is near its finale, or he might grow that way, and after you have seen the play, you will agree that that would be disastrous for Ralph. The author, Robert Emmett Sherwood, not being content with creating General Northrup what he is, has introduced another belligerent in the character of Laker (Willis Shuler), who leads the opposition to Northrup. And when in the third act the two actors begin arguing, the dead earnestness of them will grip you until you find yourself fairly hating General Northrup.

The Queen (Faye Cornutt) and Princess (Buena Brown) have unusually good voices for their parts. There is a touching scene between the King and Queen, when he pleads for Anne's future happiness, that may make some of you wish you had brought your handkerchief. Laurence Brown has taken a part, that of the King's secretary, that might have been rather flat, and has developed it into one of the play's attractions.

STUDENTS OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF VIRGIL

All through the week of October twelfth and all through this year people throughout the world are celebrating the two thousandth birthday of Virgil, the famous Roman poet. W. E. Kirk, professor of Latin at Willamette, who has leave of absence for one year, took the Aeneid cruise, and is now in New York studying at Columbia university. Dr. Doney gave a talk Friday in chapel honoring Virgil. A group of Willamette students went to Portland Saturday evening to see the play, "Dido and Aeneas," put on by students of Grant high school.

About 30 Latin and Greek students celebrated Virgil's birthday on October 15, by giving a banquet at the Argola. Honor guests at the banquet were Dean and Mrs. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ellis, and Dr. Cambriaire.

The program was as follows: "The Bimillennium Vergilianum," Leon Norris; "Virgil," Kathleen Skinner; "The Virgilian Cruise," Muriel White; "The Influence of Virgil on Literature," Mary Allen; and the reading of Tennyson's poem "To Virgil," Rosetta Smith.

Mary Louise Morley was in general charge of the banquet, and Rosetta Smith, of the program.

PROFESSOR CLARK LEADS WESLEYANS

Thirty members were present when Professor Clark led the Wesleyans in a discussion of "What place has religion in our lives?" The same topic will be continued at the next meeting, and students are invited to join in these discussions.

PROGRAM OF SPEECH DEPARTMENT VARIED

Thursday evening, Oct. 26, the Willamette public speaking department presented a miscellaneous program of readings, pantomimes and poetry selections.

The list of participants were as follows: Readings, Margaret Warnke and Beulah Graham; Pantomimes, Lawrence Brown, Fred Harris, Thomas Gayne, Helen Boardman and Florence Marshall; Poetry, Selection, Ronald Hewitt; and Current Events, Lois Wilkes.

PICTURE DATES SET

All class pictures for the Willamette must be taken within the next three weeks. Freshmen pictures have been completed, sophomore pictures are to be completed this week, junior pictures in the week starting October 27, and seniors are to have their pictures taken by November 5. Students are urged to abide by these regulations.

W. U. ALUMNI MEET AT HENRY THIELE'S

Students and Alumni Boost Sale of Tickets for Homecoming

About 100 Willamette alumni and students met at Henry Thiele's restaurant in Portland, Monday evening, October 20, at the annual Pre-Homecoming dinner. The purpose of the meeting was to boost the sale of the combination ticket for the play, football game, and alumni dinner, which sells for $1.75, a saving of 50 cents on the price of the three events separately.

Mr. Charles Redding, '28, president of the younger alumni, as toastmaster, introduced the following speakers:

Frank Van Dyke, president of the Blue Key fraternity; Dr. Warren McMinnimee, president of A. S. W. U.; Mr. James Allison, manager of Homecoming, and Coach Leslie Sparks, who spoke for Coach Keene. Mr. Sparks gave a detailed account of the College of Idaho-Willamette game played October 17. Other features of the program were a reading by Miss Elma Nell, a piano solo by Mr. Robert Magin, and a trumpet solo by Mr. Gustave Klompel. The program closed with college yells led by Yell King Donnell Sanders, and songs led by Song Queen Helen Cochran, accompanied by Miss Grace Henderson.

About 20 students went down from Salem.

REVOLUTION TOPIC OF CHAPEL ADDRESS

Dr. George P. Howard, the South American representative of the Good Will team, delivered an address in chapel last Tuesday, October 14.

Dr. Howard was born and raised in South America, where he has been engaged in missionary work, so he has a first hand knowledge of the South American conditions. He gave some enlightening reasons for the many revolutions in South America. He said that the dictators use force to keep themselves in power so the only way the people have of gaining any power is to use force themselves. Revolutions have been caused by the people working off their adolescence. In the schools there they have no sports so the students work off their excess energy by taking part in the political uprisings. During the present time revolutions are occurring in South America because of financial depression which is felt in all the world—perhaps less in the United States than any other country.

He contrasted very clearly the North Americans and the South Americans, and said that the people in Argentina refer to us as "United Statesians." He declared that the ideal American would be a combination of the idealism of the South American and the restless activity of the North American.

Dr. Howard explained the idea of the South Americans: "Why say a thing in ten words when you can say it in fifty and make it so much more beautiful?" He concluded his address with the following Spanish phrase: "La felicidad se halla solo cuando se busca para otros." This means: "Happiness is found only when one seeks it for others."

PUGET SOUND SENDS 200 ON EXCURSION

Following Coach Keene's system of arriving on the field a short time before the game, a special train will disgorge 200 C. P. S. rooters at the spur across the Millstream from Sweetland field at 1:15 Saturday.

Because of the late hour of the arrival the game will start at 2:30 instead of 2:00 as previously announced.

PROGRAMS PRINTED BY A. S. W. U.

Programs for the Homecoming game, published by the Associated Students, go on sale Friday.

More pretentious than ever before, the booklet containing approximately 94 pages will feature players from the opposing teams and includes considerable artwork.

The programs were edited by Ralph Schomp.

ATTENTION, ALUMNI!

All alumni are requested to register immediately upon arrival at the campus in Chresto cottage. Professors and students will be there to greet the alumni. The graduate manager and student body is interested in keeping this register of homecomers.

SPEECHES FEATURE CHAPEL PEP RALLY

Jones, Keene, and Ackerman Stress Importance of Student Attitude

Chapel last Wednesday was turned over to the students for a Pep meeting. Speeches, songs, and yells were the order of the day.

Professor Jones spoke first. He talked of pep and told the students that pep could do anything. He gave as illustration the story of a small Californian college which was to play one of the big schools. The game was dooped to be a complete walk-away for the larger school, almost a practice game. The small school worked up such a degree of pep and fight that their team went out on the field and beat the large school by a large score. Professor Jones particularly emphasized the fact that fight and pep were the most essential things in the student-body's part in winning a game.

"Spec" Keene spoke of the kind of pep the students should have. He said that the rowdy, boisterous kind of pep that never came through in a pinch wouldn't do anybody any good. The kind of pep we need is the kind which starts in class at 7:45 in the morning and lasts right around to that time the next morning when it starts all over again, every hour of the day, every day of the year. Pep should be just as good in the classroom as it is out in the bleachers when our team is winning the game. He also mentioned the fact that we should never let anyone say anything against Willamette for she is our school and it is up to us to stand up for her.

Paul Ackerman, senior on the team, was next called upon. He assured us that the team would do their best to win the game and that if we did our part, they would do theirs.

To add to the festivities of the occasion, the fraternities organized several noise parades which were pulled off before chapel started.

Helen Cochran led in several songs and Don Sanders who was in charge of the meeting directed the men in some yells.

Doney Delivers Sundry Addresses to Varied Audiences

Last Sunday, October 19, Dr. Doney delivered the morning address in the First Methodist church at Corvallis, on Friday, the 17, he spoke at the Lincoln high school assembly. Today, he is in Oregon City attending the Clackamas county teachers' institute.

GATKE SECURES NEW SPECIES OF FLOWERS

As an addition to his lovely gardens, Professor Gatke has received a twenty-five year old chrysanthemum from his father's garden in Portland. This particular plant is of a rich cream color, and Mr. Gatke considers it a great addition to his collection.

Sunday Sermon Sweepstakes Inaugurated at Cambridge

University Students Bet on Length of Sunday Sermon

Cambridge, England—(IP)—The various restrictions which tend to make life dull for Cambridge university students on Sundays, no longer holds any threat to the happiness of a large number of the undergraduates since the inauguration of the "Sunday Sermons Sweepstakes."

Unwittingly, the pastors of 12 local churches play the biggest part in the operation of this newest and strangest sporting event which has already become famous. What it amounts to is betting on the length of the Sunday sermons of the pastors.

CARNIVAL WILL ARRIVE FRIDAY

Plenty of Fun and Inexpensive Food Promised by Committee

TEAM TO BE PRESENTED

Campus Organizations Will Sponsor Concessions and Booths

Noise, gaiety, color, in fact everything but the odor of the country fair, will fill the gymnasium Friday night when students and alumni gather for an informal good time on the eve of the ninth annual Homecoming.

A dozen booths created and sponsored by campus organizations will surround the room while as many bally-hoosers will cry their wares. There will be games of skill with prizes offered to those who partake. Drama will flourish.

Food there will be in abundance at the maximum price of 2 1/2c a unit. Needless to say, food will not be served in the gym, but Chresto will serve as an annex to the fairgrounds for the evening.

There will be tickets, rolls and rolls of them, selling at two for five cents, each ticket admitting the bearer to one booth, side-show, shooting gallery, golf course, whatever the drawing card may be. Money thus collected will be turned into the athletic fund.

And last but not least, the team will be there, gathered on a platform plain for all folk to see and not a little of the noise will be made for their benefit.

This is the first year the carnival has taken the nature of a fair of such proportions and it is the hope of those who have had most to do with its planning that it will be so successful as to warrant its retention as a traditional portion of the Homecoming celebration.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS ALUMNI WELCOME

Members of Faculty and Student Body Will Greet Alumni at Chresto

The Y. M. C. A. plans a welcome for returning alumni, which will be given in person by members of the faculty and student body at Chresto Cottage. The Y. M. C. A. will be fittingly represented by a booth at the carnival.

Hayes Boall, president, attended the northwest Y. M. C. A. Council for college Y's last week and brought back some new ideas for the local organization.

The Y. holds its bi-monthly meetings at the cottage, to which all young men are cordially invited. Professor Clark led the discussion last Wednesday evening, speaking upon "The Model 'Y'." Religion.

A Christian Service team was recently organized by Ed Rounds and Glen Huston, the purpose of which will be to supply Christian workers. Those needing workers for Sunday services should get in touch with the team.

HEWITT ADDRESSES COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

Oregon State College, Corvallis, Ore.—Roy H. Hewitt, dean of the school of law, Willamette university, well-known speaker and noted traveller, will speak on "My Impression of the Latin American Countries" at the second meeting of the Cosmopolitan club tomorrow at Shepard hall.

Dr. Hewitt taught political science here from 1920 to 1927. He has traveled in China, Japan, Korea, and Manchuria. As the leader of a group of travelers this summer, he was in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru and Bermuda islands.

The Filipino string band under the leadership of Aurelio Gabriel, junior in vocational education, will play. Florence Merryman, senior in home economics, will lead the club in social games. All foreign students and their friends are invited.

TO THE HOMECOMERS

There should be a few more of you this year, for some eighty students stepped from active collegiate life last June accepting their new roles as alumni, then, too, some should be attracted by a sense of curiosity, an urge to see just what we look like with a million dollar endowment hovering over us. Still others, of course, who are athletically minded should return out of an eager desire to see a football team in action that miraculously brings home the bigger score. And then, there are those whose favorite professor has bidden them to especially return or, a few, at least who just must come back to see how the younger sister or brother is getting along. For some reason all of you should be here Saturday to commemorate the ninth annual homecoming of Willamette University.

The students are proud of the alumni and have often had occasion to be grateful to them. They welcome you cordially to the old campus of W. U. with its lovelier, more extensive campus and this new air of progress that it has assumed.

PLEASE READ AND HEED

For the sake of charity and in the name of benevolence and mutual aid, read this and heed:

The business men of Salem are visited weekly by the advertising managers of the Collegian. It's the old principle of football again—defensive and offensive play. As the situation stands now, the seekers of advertising are decidedly on the offensive working uphill with plenty of resistance. This should not be the circumstance, of course. Many people, especially practical business men, expend money reluctantly—perhaps it is fairer to say cautiously—but the Collegian should receive advertising from these business men without carrying their soliciting to the straining point. The firms should not be hesitant in accepting the advertising manager's offer. The students of W. U. should purposely patronize—purposely patronize Collegian advertisers. There are just so many things we have to buy—things well-wishing parents or friends forget to send—and these purchases should be received exclusively by those who advertise in the Collegian (or, of course, by any who seem prospective). And—this next step is as important as purchasing in the designated place—tactfully "suggest" that you are connected with W. U. There are a hundred ways to get that over. It should be especially simple for coquettish young coeds whose every word—at times and to certain ones—carry subtle implications.

Remember this plea. The very life of a newspaper is sustained through that rare nutrient—advertising—and advertising is obtained from contented advertisers and advertisers are contented when they perceive the fruits of their advertising and this perception of the fruits comes from the simple act of patronizing those specific business shops that patronize the Collegian.

Clarence Darrow says:

"Man has uncovered no evidence whatever that indicates that death is not the end." Believing what we have heard about the lower regions and the type that go thereto, we do not envy Clarence Darrow's prospects in case he is wrong.

"Recent revelations in the Harvard Crimson bring out the fact that 57% of the Radcliffe graduates who marry take Harvard men for husbands. This, however, is not as bad as it might be, as 95 per cent of the Radcliffe graduates do not marry at all." Well, that does have a bad side. Our memory brings out the fact that 99 per cent of Willamette women who marry choose Willamette men for husbands, and here is where they hand one to Radcliffe—99 per cent marry. Must be the climate.

In the Oregon State Barometer we see under a big head "O.S.C. Campus Leaders"—a young ladies' name immediately preceded by the note: "Participating in many activities." Rather than an inspiration or a kindling of our desire to really be somebody, this should be an admonition, for the surest way to eventually drag a good, clean name in the mud is to connect it to a group of diversified, unrelated organizations as well as to a course of study and attempt to to "get by."

Announcements

The Epworth League of the First church will meet at 6:30, October 26. Elma Nell is to lead the group in a discussion on the topic "Friendship with God Through Poetry and Books." This is another of the very interesting series of topics on "Friendship with God." Special music has been arranged. The league is growing and is anticipating a still larger group this next Sunday. You are cordially invited.

Sunday Sermon

(Continued from page 1) quantity, and is the object of the bets of the casual followers of the sport, and is usually given long odds. Odds on a Bishop are automatically cut in two, however. Not long ago the sweepstakes narrowly escaped bankruptcy when a minister who substituted for a long shot and on whom bets were allowed at regular minister's rates, set a new record by preaching for 56 minutes. Statistics reveal that 2 1/4 minutes is the average length of a sermon, with one which lasted only nine minutes holding the record in that direction to date. Length of prayers is not taken into account in calculating the extent of the pastor's remarks.

Along the Way

The Wayfarers (Through popular demand and the ready consent of the editor-in-chief Fleisher, the Pen Anonymous will again become the Speer Shaker. I'm happy to be with you again and I'm glad you liked my old name so well that you were bold enough to mention it. Excuse me if I speak in the Lindbergh plural now and then because I have a very capable understudy whose contributions and suggestions I feel happily obliged to acknowledge.)

Whitman hasn't sent for those tags that we offered to send them unsight and unseen to help raise money to send a rotators' section for the game, but we don't feel hurt because we know how it is—rush, rush, rush. Scarcely a chance to eat. We could forget it though if they would just acknowledge our offer. If they do not send for them, we will scatter them around here before the Whitman game and make them sorely regretful that they did not seize them when the offer was open. As we have said before, that which was imprinted on the little red square helped us in no little way, last year.

"The two dark-haired freshmen girls from second and third floors of Lausanne who are supposed to know something about green laquer wish to announce that they had two very efficient (?) sentinels who deserve some mention. They also wish to congratulate Sherlock and his pard for such marvelous detecting. Signed?????"

My dear young friends, we humbly apologize for not having mentioned that you did have two such sentinels. And now, may we as humbly suggest that there is one little error in your well-conceived note: Knowing as positively as Sherlock that you had two sentinels, is not the word "supposed" a bit untruthfully used.

An older lady, riding on the street bus, despairingly murmured, "Oh, I do wish that good looking boy would give me his seat."

Doug Sinclair, George Seales, and Dwight Adams collided in the aisle in an attempt to respond to the older lady's request. We've been trying to keep it a secret but we guess somebody told them. Vanity of vanities says the Speer-Shaker.

We see that the members of the Trojan camp at University of Southern California, at Los Angeles, are smarting under the sting dealt to their athletic card when those plucky Washington Stater's handed them a neat defeat.

Tweet tweet, revenge is sweet; Whitman won and won and then got beat.

(And how)

We had almost decided that it was Dick Bauman versus Harold Rose. Then, we redecided that it was Ralph McCullough versus Harold Rose. Now, we are completely undecided because we saw this certain young lady talking cheerily to Al King. Somebody set us straight.

This is my final word, this my last refrain, If you don't tread the straight and narrow, The Shaker will expose your name.

Sensationally yours, THE SPEER SHAKER.

Years Ago

(Campus doings of other years as pictured in past Collegians)

FIVE YEARS AGO

October 30, 1925

Willamette graduates are scattered all over the United States and the northwest in particular, both in groups and one by one. In Salem there are now 179 alumni, of which 17 are teaching in the public schools and three professors: Matthews, Gatke, and Clark, are on the Willamette faculty. The others are: Margaret Cooper, Merle Hockett; Dayneport, Lina Helst, Gertrude Reeves Smith, Lola Cook Bellinger, Beryl Holt, Lella Johnson, Lestle Sparks, Veima Baker Leggo, Elsie Leopold, Barnette Harris, Marion Linn, Marjorie Minton, Mable Robertson, Grace Tyler, and Marie Von Eschen.

Do football captains make good pedagogues? Apparently so, for with one exception the men who headed the football teams of W. U. from 1920 to 1925 have taken up the profession of teaching.

A lucky succession of forward passes in the last half of the final quarter, after they had been outplayed by the Bearcats during all the previous part of the game, gave College of Puget Sound a victory of 7-5 over Willamette last Saturday. In one of the scrappiest games either school has played in a long time, while Willamette lost from the standpoint of score, according to reports actually admitted by Tacoma papers, the Salem team was the superior during the entire contest with the exception of the passing streak mentioned.

TEN YEARS AGO

October 20, 1920

"Where do we fuss?" is the question these cold autumnal days. Canoeing is a trifle chilly, park benches are damp and disagreeable, sorority parlors are not always available for couples who have reached the stage where they want to be alone a good share of the time.

Last Sunday, while rain drizzled and cold breezes chilled the hapless wayfarer, the son of a prominent faculty member and his lady fair did seek refuge in the Spa. There they occupied a booth and chatted to their hearts' content for one hour and 15 minutes over a piece of pie and a glass of water each—and left without eating all of the pie. Simple, indeed, if you have the (pie) crust.

FOURTEEN YEARS AGO

October 11, 1916

With all plans for the formal inauguration of Dr. Carl Gregg Doney as president of Willamette university, completed to the minutest detail, every eye is turned toward the event of momentous significance to educational circles of the state and northwest which will occur in the First Methodist church next Friday beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning.

At a special student body session yesterday, President Fleger appointed Artie Walker, Grover Gates, Arnold Grafapp, Violet Maclean and Gertrude Cunningham as a committee to arrange for the annual frosh-soph bag rush. There shall be at least twelve men on each side, but if the smaller class has more men eligible the other class shall put as many more in the contest.

Eaton Hall Proves to be Scene of Fussing, Studying and Singing All Carried on Around the Piano

Time: A morning somewhere between October 12 and 18. Place: second floor of Eaton Hall.

Cast: the Willamette university student body. A bell is heard and the curtain rises on students rushing out of various doors to the center of the stage where a piano stands. Most of the students carry notebooks and at least one other book. There is a general uproar, in which the following remarks can be distinguished:

A Boy: The exam? Oh rotten. A Girl: I think I'll wear that black silk dress—you know the one—

A Boy: What are you going to do tonight? Because I thought you might—

A Girl: Oh, I'm so sorry, but I can't go. No, I simply can't. A Boy: Think we'll win?

A Girl: "Oh, he was the handsomest man! Tall, you know,—and dark—and his eyes—"

The roar is somewhat subdued by the appearance of two girls. One sits down at the piano and begins to play, while the other one, the song queen, leads the songs. Only a few begin the song, but as the crowd grows, the volume increases. To make a long story short, it seems that

"A cannibal king with a big nose ring Got stuck on a Zulu maid," etc. And then there is a frenzied exhortation to

"Fight, ye sons of old Willamette, Fight, till the battle's done; With valor ever bold for the cardinal and the gold Fight till the victory's won," etc.

Each song is followed by wild clapping, and then a yell is given, led by the yell king, who maintains a regal balance on the piano stool. Song Queen: (with a wave of her hand) That's all!

The mob disperses amid renewed uproar and these remarks:

A Boy: Everyone doesn't get to class on time after this singing, so the class will be a little shorter, anyway, thank goodness.

A Boy: "Say, old man,—sorry to cut you out, but during the songs, I asked her again, and she's going with me."

A Girl: She finally paid back the money she owed me. I certainly needed it, and I was just about to ask her, when she came across with it while we were singing.

A Boy: My French? No, I haven't studied it. All I know about it is what I got from glancing over it during the songs.

A Girl: Well, we got an idea for that party. Yes, during the songs.

This singing and yelling is a miniature pep rally plus. Plus what? Oh, various kinds of business transactions.

A bell rings and the students disappear through various doors. Curtain.

"Little Theatre" Secures Two New Stage Sets

Rabe States that Real Improvement is Being Made in Play Practice Rooms

When the Homecoming play runs off smoothly to the pride and satisfaction of everyone next Saturday night, remember a few of the following facts, and you will have all the more to be proud of:

Willamette dramatic students are enough interested in their work to construct, by dint of real labor, two complete stage sets, and all the accessories. One of these sets is being built on the foundation of an old set resurrected from the basement of the gym. The other is completely new. These sets make it possible to have almost any kind of a room by merely changing the placement of the various parts of the sets. With every play a few new windows or doors are added, and eventually Mr. Rabe will have some real equipment with which to work. The stage of the Little Theatre was built not for beauty, primarily, but for a real training ground. The stage is almost as large as that of the high school, thus making practice on the home stage much more practical. The students are working on the lighting effects, and are gradually improving these fixtures.

LAW SCHOOL HOLDS MEETING AND COURT

Mr. Roy A. McCourty presided over the meeting of the Law School student body Wednesday evening. At this meeting plans were discussed concerning a banquet to be held in the Marion hotel, October 30, at 6:30. Members of the Law School faculty and their wives, Dr. and Mrs. Doney, and members of the Law School student body, will be present. Two out-of-town speakers will participate in a very interesting program. A surprise feature, the nature of which has not yet been revealed, has been promised as a part of the program.

A moot court case was held Wednesday evening in the Moot court room. The plaintiff counsel were William Huth and Bernard Newby, while Miss Olive Doak and Fred Bynon upheld the defendant counsel. The case was argued on Fraud and Default at the session of the Moot court.

A Girl: She finally paid back the money she owed me. I certainly needed it, and I was just about to ask her, when she came across with it while we were singing.

A Boy: My French? No, I haven't studied it. All I know about it is what I got from glancing over it during the songs.

Fetes, Contest, Play, Celebrate Homecoming

There is a snap in the air and a blue in the sky that tells us autumn is really here. It also announces the time for Homecoming—for the gathering at Willamette of former students. This year will of course be a better Homecoming than ever before. With the many events planned for their enjoyment the alums must have a good time. There will be banquets, a carnival, a football game, and a play. Besides these general campus activities the sororities and fraternities will entertain for their alums.

Alpha Phi Alpha and Delta Phi are each planning a luncheon for Saturday noon with business meetings preceding. Beta Chi alumnae will be guests at an informal tea Saturday afternoon at the Gray Belle following the play.

Alpha Psi Delta will give a breakfast Sunday morning with a social time afterwards. Kappa Gamma Rho will entertain alumni with a social hour at the fraternity house after the play Saturday evening. The alumni of Sigma Tau will be guests at a party at the Gray Belle following the play.

Thus with campus activities and house activities the alums will not lack for something to do.

Junior Women Are at Home To New Girls

The junior women were hostesses at a beautiful formal tea given in honor of the freshmen women at the home of Mrs. E. C. Richards Friday afternoon. Baskets of variously shaded yellow flowers gave a note of color to the rooms.

Receiving were Miss Beuna Brown, Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, Miss Olive M. Dahl, and Mrs. E. C. Richards.

During the first hour Mrs. G. H. Alden and Mrs. M. E. Peck poured; during the second hour Mrs. Roy S. Keene and Mrs. C. R. Monk.

The guests were entertained by a program including a vocal duet by Miss Irma Sawyer and Miss Elizabeth Ogden, a reading by Miss Nellie Badley, a marionette solo by Miss Edith Findley, a vocal solo by Miss Elizabeth Ogden and a piano solo by Miss Edith Findley.

Sigma Tau Entertains Extensively

A party carrying out the Halloween idea was given by the pledges of Sigma Tau on Friday, October 17, at 8 o'clock. After a number of interesting games and refreshments had been served, the guests were presented with toy Halloween cats. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar White and the Misses Cynthia De Lano, Marjorie Law, Pauline Findley, Rebecca Kemler, Barbara Elliott, Lulu Allen, Betty Cheshire, Ruth Gillette, Mildred Kester, Faith Sherborne, Ruth Fick, Eleanor Henderson, Margaret Morris, Edith Clements, Lucille Millhollen and Magdalena Schmidt.

At a delightful dinner last Sunday the Sigma Tau fraternity entertained a number of guests. Beautiful ferns and clever place cards decorated the table.

The guests included Dean and Mrs. Frank M. Erickson, Miss Evelyn High, Miss Helen Pemberton, Miss Maxine Ulrich, Miss Cynthia De Lano, Miss Mildred Kester, Miss Lulu Allen, Miss Geneva Breithaupt, Miss Dorothy Franks, Miss Mildred Leighton, Miss Dorothy Brant, and Miss Eloise White.

Mrs. Carl G. Doney gave one of her lovely informal teas for all girls of Willamette university at her home on S. 12th street Monday afternoon. These are always very enjoyable, and make an opportunity for both Mrs. Doney and the university girls to become better acquainted. Those assisting Mrs. Doney were Miss Dorothy Boshard, Miss Rebecca Kemler, Miss Mary White, and Miss Mary Scott.

Professor John Notly Nichols, who played and sang in chapel recently, was the guest of the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity on the same week-end. Professor Nichols has been on the R.K.O. circuit for six years and is now taking a year's rest in Portland.

Large Numbers Attend Alum Banquet

The program was given by present students who motored to Portland to attend. College songs led by the Song Queen and yells by the Yell King, readings, speeches, and instrumental music furnished the evening's entertainment.

Y.M.-Y.W. Gives Annual Formal At Lausanne

The Y.M.-Y.W. annual reception at Lausanne hall was more formal and lovelier this year than ever before. The large rooms were decorated with palms and autumn leaves, and made a perfect setting for the evening dresses.

A modern orchestra furnished popular music, and vocal solos by Miss Helen Cochran and Mr. Laurence Deacon completed the musical numbers. "Thursday Night," a one-act play, the cast of which was Miss Helen Pemberton, Miss Elizabeth Ogden, Miss Lulu Allen and Mr. Charles Campbell, was also presented.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB HAS FIRST MEETING

Plans for Year Discussed and Interesting Program Presented

The Willamette Shakespeare club held its first meeting of the year at Willamette lodge Tuesday evening, October 14, at 8:00 o'clock. An interesting program was planned, and plans for the year were discussed. Any student in the college—regardless of his line of studies—who feels an interest in the literary and artistic aims of the club was cordially invited to come to the meeting.

Last year—the first season of the organization—the members of the club greatly enjoyed the reading and partial enacting of Shakespeare's plays, as well as the interesting bits of literature which were read or recited by various students. It is an organization in which any student may participate if he chooses, or may at least enjoy the work of others.

RESOLUTION IS PASSED

Frat Men Hold Rally Before Train Leaves

Townpeople Rush to Windows at Sound of Lusty Cheering in Street

The fraternities on the campus had a special rally of their own last Thursday night. Just before the student body went "en masse" to see the football heroes off on their victorious journey. Many townspeople pricked up their ears, and dashed to the windows to see what was going on. There, in the center of the street was a long line of moving men shouting at the top of their voices W-I-L-L-A-M-E-T-T-E. Who says Willamette doesn't have any spirit?

EASTERN COLLEGES STUDY WILLAMETTE

Prestige and Standards of W. U. Admired by Other Student Bodies

President Carl G. Doney stated in a recent chapel meeting that people all over the country are becoming more and more interested in Willamette university. This is especially true since the completion of the million dollar endowment campaign.

Recently one of the well known universities of the east requested a friend of that university to make a study of Willamette university and its policies. This survey is to try to determine how Willamette maintains such high standards and prestige. President Doney was asked "What is the secret of your school?"

It is the desire of other institutions to be patterned after Willamette. It is most certainly a great honor for Willamette to be recognized in this capacity.

Freshmen Appoint Committee Members At First Meeting

Royal blue and gold were selected by the freshmen as their class colors in a meeting of their class last week. The colors were chosen with provision for change.

Eugene Smith was elected as freshman member of the inter-class rivalry committee. Charles Gianoli is in charge of the annual bonfire to be held before the carnival Friday evening.

College of Idaho Beaten 34 to 14 After Willamette Pulls Last Quarter Rally

By BILL WARING
After a nip and tuck struggle for three periods the Willamette university grid squad managed to down College of Idaho with three terrific drives in the last quarter, ending the contest 34-14. This was the first game on the Idaho new field and Governor H. C. Baldrige dedicated the field. The game was anybody's game until the last period. Idaho held the lead of 14-13 all during the third quarter. Willamette scored first early in the first period on a straight drive from the middle of the field. However the Coyotes came right back and evened the count in the same period. Both teams scored in the second quarter but Willamette failed to convert the extra point so the Idaho team took the lead 14-13. The home team made both of its touchdowns from long passes. Whitney was the main ground gainer for the College of Idaho. O'Conner was responsible for a number of Idaho's gains when he hurled passes with unerring accuracy. Erickson was the main field runner for the Bears and accounted for four of the touchdowns. Lang also did some very nice playing. On the line Jones, Carpenter, Philpott, and Cardinal all played a good, hard game. However, the whole team did so well that they all stood out. A fifty yard drive down the field with Erickson making long gains coupled with a completed pass brought what proved to be the winning touchdown of the game. Willamette added two more counters in rapid succession after Cardinal and Ackerman intercepted passes deep in Idaho territory.

Pass Football Rougher Than Original Game

Although pass football is supposed to be an easy game, and quite devoid of possibilities for accident, the do-nut league at Willamette seems to be an exception. In the very first game, which Alpha Psi team won, "Hoot" Gibson, star basketball man, on the fraternity team, received a broken nose in a collision with Lars Nelson, also an Alpha Psi, who played on the faculty team. The next week it was reported that another player, Dwight Adams, on the same team received an injured wrist. The cause of these minor accidents is not known, but it may be explained by the vicious fighting spirit of the Alpha Psi team which is now in first place.

SOPH HALF

A badly injured wrist suffered in the University of Oregon game a few weeks ago didn't stop Walt Erickson, from scoring four of Willamette's touchdowns against C. of I. last week. He'll repeat Saturday against the Loggers.

WILLAMETTE IS AT HEAD OF STANDINGS

Pacific and Whitman Share Positions on Conference Heap, However

N. W. Conference
	W. L.	Pct.
Willamette	1 0	1.000
Whitman	1 0	1.000
Pacific	1 0	1.000
College of Idaho	1 1	.500
Puget Sound	1 2	.333
Linfield	0 2	.000

The College of Puget Sound, Pacific university and Willamette closed the third week of conference competition with victories. Linfield succumbed for the second time this season and lost to the College of Puget Sound 12-0. This was the first victory of the year for College of Puget Sound. In a game played on the Pacific university field, Albany was snowed under 62-0. The Whitman Missionaries lost a non-conference game to the Idaho Vandals 46-0. This game does not change the northwest conference standings. Games played during the second week of rivalry were won by Pacific university and the College of Idaho. Pacific university defeated Linfield 12-0, while the College of Idaho held College of Puget Sound to a 14-0 score.

BIG THREAT

Ted Lang's line plunging abilities kept the Coyotes worried throughout the game last week and he put over one of Willamette's touchdowns. He'll bear watching Saturday.

LARGE NUMBER OF ROOTERS COMING

At Least 250 Expected to Arrive Saturday for C. P. S. Game

The College of Puget Sound of Tacoma will invade the Willamette campus Saturday when the football teams of the schools will meet in a Northwest conference game. The Bearcats are favorites because of their thrilling victory over the strong Idaho team at Caldwell last week, nevertheless the Bearcats do not underestimate the power of the Loggers and are working hard for the game. Advance notes report the Washington team to be accompanied by two hundred loyal rooters who will help Willamette celebrate their annual homecoming.

STANFORD CLAIMS BICAN INELIGIBLE

Berkeley, Cal., Oct. 18.—Stanford university has protested the eligibility of Nick Bican, University of California tackle and center, athletic officials of the two institutions revealed today as they met to discuss the case. Stanford's protest is based on the discovery that Bican played football for a season at Willamette university in Oregon before he entered Sacramento junior college from which he was transferred to California. Protestants claim Bican is ineligible under the transfer rule and this is his fourth year of football competition. He played a season with Willamette, one at Sacramento and this is his second at Berkeley. In 1928 he was a California student but did not play. W. W. Monahan, California graduate manager, said the protest has not been accepted and he would fight to maintain Bican's eligibility.

Sportorials

"Spec" has confessed he didn't "say much of anything" to the boys in the dressing room between halves of the Willamette-College of Idaho game last Friday night. Wonder what it was then.

The only possible explanation we can figure out is that the pep shown by the entire student body before that game must have lingered with the men before and during the game. For some reason or other it just "got let out" in those last eight minutes. We'll bet the Coyotes thought something got let out.

"The biggest pep rally of any seen here in four years." That was how one local paper phrased it after its reporter had eaten with the football boys and sat right across from the governor. He's probably right, at that. We had never seen anything like it before and we've heard many others say the same thing.

There's going to be nothing easy about this game with C. P. S., and believe us, we've got to keep our pep up and popping just like last week, if we're going to walk away with another game on the left hand side of the standings column. Remember, there will be a lot of alums waiting for a demonstration of the pep we showed before the last game. Let's show them.

At last Willamette is coming into its own. Now in California they actually concede that if a man plays a year at Willamette university it is classed as intercollegiate competition. Have you read about the commotion Nick Bican, a center here about four years ago, has caused between "Pop" Warner and "Nibs" Price, coaches respectively of Stanford and U. S. C.? We won't repeat it here, but look elsewhere on the sport page, where its reprinted verbatim from the Oregon Statesman.

PIRWITZ BRINGS MANY NEW GRIDDERS

Virtually All of Team Composed of Freshmen and Sophomores

Coach Ed Pirwitz of Puget Sound brings with him a team with plenty of promise for the Homecoming game here Saturday afternoon, and although, on paper, his men will go into the game the underdog, men who follow football expect a fight from the Washington boys.

Two men of the aggregation coming down here this weekend will be remembered from the 1928 squad, both of them playing here that year. They are Captain Vic Ranta and Don Shotwell, ends.

A big guard, Ray Sulkosky, although a new man, comes with a reputation. Then there are Chet Baker, fullback, Ocky Johnson, John Newell, and Richardson, backs. In the line Orv Smith and Harold Dabroe hold down the tackle berths, Deane Pettibone, the other guard, and Frank Keuss, center.

Plenty of reserves will back these 11 men, according to reports from Tacoma, the home of C. P. S. Most of the team are new men, Ranta and Shotwell, juniors, being the oldest men on the squad.

Pass football is an interesting variation of football. It may be played with practically no equipment and at a moment's notice. It is just like regular football in every particular except that there is no tackling, no blocking, and that anyone is eligible for a pass. The man is down when he is touched and some excellent broken-field running is called into play. The game in that respect patterns after the old rugby. There are no signals and the theory of the offensive is quite haphazard but it demands quick thinking and is sometimes interesting. Although the pass is the favorite means of advancing the ball, the punt is used quite often and runs from regular formation are sometimes made for good gains.

Toot-Toot! Tweet! and Game's on

Because of the late arriving time of the rooters' special train from Tacoma, the Willamette-College of Puget Sound game has been scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Saturday instead of half an hour earlier, it was announced Wednesday. The special train reaches Salem at 1:30 and half an hour was considered insufficient time to get the visiting rooters from train to bleachers—especially if they happened to be hungry. The Willamette squad showed a little more "fire" in its Wednesday practice than it had in Tuesday, due partly, perhaps, to some indications that shakeups might be in order before Saturday. The two backfield combinations groomed for the college of Idaho game bid fair to be broken up.

Tumbling is New Bearcat Pep Outlet

A tumbling and pyramid building class has recently been organized at Willamette University and is included in the work of the department of physical education headed by "Spec" Keene. Evans Hamilton and Jim Nutter, both sophomores, are the leaders and directors of the class. About ten fellows have turned out so far and about five more will be added to give sufficient numbers for complex pyramids. Plans are being made for a team to be formed by the class to put out exhibitions between halves of the basketball games and on special occasions.

The working being given now is mostly elementary as very few of the fellows have had any work of this nature before. Twice a week the novice tumblers are accustomed themselves to unusual positions and strengthening the muscles that will be used later on. The forward roll, hand stands, and hand springs and hand walking have received most of the attention and a few simple combination stunts have been attempted. Several football men intend to join the class when the pigskins are closeted for the winter.

Willamette Men See Idaho Game at Caldwell

Thirteen Accompany Football Team to Opening Conference Tilt

Thirteen Willamette students were so enthused over the College of Idaho-Willamette game that they went all the way to Caldwell, Idaho, to witness the victory. George Loyd drove his car and was accompanied by Franklin Basher, Don Faber, Al Haworth, George Scales and Bill Waring. Don Sanders was so anxious to see the game that he got on the football car and arrived at Caldwell all right. However, he was put off the train at Pendleton on the return trip.
