Faculty Says Court Set-up Proposal Bad

Professors On Record As Opposed To New Judgeships

Constitutional Change Favored; FDR Motives Questioned

By BILL CLEMES
Willamette University social science professors are one hundred per cent opposed to President Franklin D. Roosevelt's recent proposal to increase the Supreme Court membership to 15 judges and to force retirement of all judges over 70, an investigation revealed.

Dr. Robert M. Gatke, Dr. S. B. Laughlin, Dr. Lyman C. White and Prof. William C. Jones, all went on record as opposed to the president's proposal. Also Dr. Roy M. Lockenour, dean of Willamette's law school, and Prof. Herbert E. Rahe, head of Willamette's speech department, declared themselves opposed to the Roosevelt proposal.

Partial Commendation

Although expressing sympathy for Mr. Roosevelt's desire to bring industry under federal control legislation, Dr. R. M. Gatke declared himself opposed to the president's proposal because he feels that a constitutional amendment is a far more satisfactory way of controlling industry.

"Personally I am opposed to Mr. Roosevelt's proposal," Dr. Gatke said. "I feel that a constitutional amendment would be a far wiser plan. I also feel that a constitutional amendment would insure more effective control over industry."

Unlike the rest of his colleagues, Dr. Gatke commended certain features of the president's speech. "I feel that the suggestions by the president to keep closer track of the lower courts and to speed up court procedure by having the bill go directly from the district to the supreme court are highly commendable," he said.

Fallacious—Laughlin Says

Dr. S. B. Laughlin declared himself opposed to Roosevelt's proposal because he felt that the plan was based on two fallacies.

"I think there are two major mistakes in our president's speech," Dr. Laughlin said. "First is the assumption that men over 70 are incapable of holding office. Some of the best judges we've had have been over 70 years old. The second mistake is the proposal to increase the court personnel to 15 members. In my opinion a 8-7 decision is not better than a 4-5 decision. In fact it is worse because it is more expensive."

Dr. Laughlin felt that President Roosevelt was taking unfair advantage of the supreme court. He felt that Roosevelt would have been far wiser in recommending to the court a need for a two-thirds majority to declare laws unconstitutional.

Not the Solution

When asked concerning his opinion of President Roosevelt's proposal, Dean Roy M. Lockenour said, "I think that the supreme court needs to be liberalized but this is not the way to go about it for two reasons.

First it is unwise because it raises the antagonism of a lot of people. The method, itself, is bad, for a chief executive to get control of the supreme court. In the second place the affects of this plan are only temporary. There is no insurance that the court if liberalized by President Roosevelt will remain liberalized. Merely increasing the size of the court does not mean liberalizing a court. At best the court can be liberalized only for a short period of time."

Motive Questioned

In analyzing the president's action, Dean Lockenour gave three underlying motives behind the plan. First, he believed, that President Roosevelt realized the need for reform. Second, he believed President Roosevelt desired to get even with the supreme court for invalidating much of his legislation. Third, he believed, that President Roosevelt desired to put through legislation similar to that which was declared invalid by the supreme court.

Prof. Herbert E. Rahe opposed the president's plan on two grounds. First he believed the

Minneman Ready For Oratorical

Three Prizes of State Meet Total $100 As Speakers Gather

Professor Rahe and Edwin Minneman will drive to Forest Grove to attend the State Peace Oratorical contest at Pacific University, Friday, February 12th. The contest is an annual event which is participated in by six schools—Pacific University, Pacific College, Oregon State, Linfield, Portland University and Willamette.

All of these schools will have a delegate there except possibly Pacific University which may not enter because of its being host to the affair. Oregon State has been winning very consistently of late but it remains to be seen whether it can keep up that good record.

The sponsors of the contest are the Misses Seabury who give prizes of $50, $30 and $20 for the three best orations. Contests of a like nature are held in each state and the winning speeches are sent to a national contest where they are judged for similar prizes.

Ed Minneman, Willamette's representative, was selected for a group of eight other students in a series of campus tryouts. Runners-up in the tryouts were Warren Peters and Bill Clemes.

Minneman's oration takes as its basis the fact that we should have a country and world endowment with cooperation rather than one run on the principle of competition as we now have it. Building up that spirit in the youth of the world is his idea of a means to achieve peace.

Guild Dance Set For February 26

Members of Little Theatre Guild are busy making plans for an informal dance to be held February 26 at the Salem high school gymnasium.

At the club's meeting in Christ-to Monday night it was decided to sell tickets for the dance to other Willamette students for 50 cents a couple. All students interested in the dance are urged to get in touch with a Little Theatre Guild member. A good orchestra is promised.

Other business brought up at the meeting was concerned chiefly with the production, "Twelfth Night," which is being directed by Genevieve Thayer Oppen. This Shakespearean play will be given in a matinee performance and night performance March 12.

Registration Figures Show Expected Growth For Second Semester

Thirty-five new students have already registered for this next semester. This number is about evenly divided between transfers and freshmen. However, registration is not yet completed and more students are expected to enter soon.

Registration has been retarded some because of the snow, which hampered the return of students home after exams and the arrival of new students.

Including the students registered last semester and new students the total is now about 750 with registration not yet closed.

First Year Glee Song Writer Tries Hand at Composing But Dislikes Upperclass Reticence

By Frances Smith
What? Oh, don't bother me now. I'm making up the words to the freshmen's Freshman Glee Song. I may write the music, too. I don't think the committee will mind.

Say just what is this Freshman Glee, anyway? Ask an upperclassman? But I've asked an upperclassman. You know how they are. They look at you like you were miles away and with an all-enveloping gesture that goes with the description of a cyclone, they say, "Oh, you've heard about it? Wait and see!"

Oh, yes, I have a hazy idea of what it's all about. Anyway some one has to write a song—a novelty song. You know—a song that will live in the hearts and on the lips of Willamette students for years and years.

WOE IS ME!

Probably the above cut could be best explained by quoting the note which accompanied it to the editor's desk. "Veep, Natalie Neer drew the cartoon for this so it is a pledgee view of the situation. Note the pale face—no make-up. Betty C."

Jones Subs For Bishop Baker In Portland Talks

Professor William C. Jones motored to Portland early Tuesday to fill five engagements in substitution for Bishop James C. Baker, speaker for the Emergency Peace Campaign. Bishop Baker was called East unexpectedly, and Professor Jones was asked to take his place.

Professor Jones engagements included high schools, a luncheon at the Kiwanis club, and a Religious Workers' conference.

Rowland L. Miall, speaker for Salem, accompanied Professor Jones on his return trip, and the remark was made by Professor Jones in his introduction of Mr. Miall that misconceptions of Englishmen could be found strewn all along the road from Salem to Portland.

Orchestra Will Give Concert February 15

The Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, directed by Jacques Gershkovich, will present their second concert of the season on Monday evening, February 15, in the Leslie School Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

Bernard Barron, Cellist from the Portland Symphony Orchestra will be the soloist.

Tickets are fifty cents for students and may be obtained from Miss Wood in the secretary's office. The following Willamette University students are playing in this concert: Rae Hungerford, Barbara Jones, Mary Sadler, Jean Racey, Elizabeth James, Walter Rush, Donald Scott, Dale Smith, Frank Tyler, Raymond Johnson, John Laughlin.

Interest Shown In School Music; Pianists Organize

Enthusiasm and interest prompted the organization last Wednesday evening of a piano club on the Willamette campus, under the supervision of Miss Eness and Miss MacHirron. At present, membership is limited to the piano students of the two supervisors.

The purposes of the organization are to furnish members opportunity to gain experience in playing before an audience, to extend the students' knowledge of piano literature, to keep in close touch with developments in contemporary musical art, and particularly to develop in the students a sound musical background in the history and theory of music. The club hopes to federate with a national piano organization sponsoring contests of both solo and group work.

At their initial meeting Ina Bennett was elected president, Cloyd Riffe, vice president; Belle Brown, secretary, and Janet Byrd, head of junior group. Committee heads include Mary Virginia Nohlgren, Jean Ardice Racey, Aris Jones, Marion Chase, Ralph Gustafson, Mary Jeannette Sargent, Olive Clemes, Muriel Jones, and Dorothy Wright. Meetings are to be held weekly.

Prizes Offered For Econ Test

Prof. Jones announced Monday to his Principles of Economics class a test over outstanding things for the last six months in the field of art, literature, music, international affairs and national affairs. The test is put out by the "Times" magazine company and will be given some time toward the end of next week.

The Economics class will be divided into two sections—one for the men and one for the women. To the man and woman making the highest score a five dollar book will be given as a prize. The winners may choose from a list of books which they desire. Such books as T. E. Lawrence's "Seven Pillars of Wisdom" are on the list.

Fraternities Report Pledging of New Men

Fraternity rushing and pledging activity is reported to be more extensive for the beginning of this semester than for any second semester program of its kind in recent years.

Alpha Psi Delta reports the pledging of Calvin Ritchie, Toledo; Bryce Logan, Portland; Robert Jones, McMinnville, and Bob Kneischer, Salem.

Lighting To Be Revamped For Play Set

Permanent Improvement Of Willamette Stage Scheduled

Three Performances of "Twelfth Night" Are Planned

Willamette stage limitations have at least been practically eliminated, it was revealed this week by the management of "Twelfth Night."

The administration of the university in co-operation with the Drama Department is calling in a staff of professional electricians to rearrange the lighting system in the Chapel. Lighting will be controlled from a panel on the platform, and arrangement has been made to accommodate spotlights and dimmers.

Although the original script of "Twelfth Night" calls for 16 set changes, "streamlining" has reduced the number to four. With a set of well-rehearsed stage hands the play gives promise of being the smoothest, from a production standpoint, of any yet attempted by the Willamette Drama Department.

Dress Rehearsal Listed

The total staff of "Twelfth Night," including actors, stagehands, electricians, make-up men, and directors numbers well over 25. Having ready access to the chapel, the cast is arranging a number of dress rehearsals. This, according to Mrs. Oppen, director of the production, will give smoothness and polish.

Plans have been made to give three performances to accommodate the audiences, one being a matinee for Salem school children.

Willamette Gets First Of Series In Oregonian Sunday College Feature

Willamette University had the honor of being the first of a series of Northwest universities and colleges presented in the Oregonian. This acknowledgement of Willamette consisted of a page of pictures portraying representative women of the campus. An excellent picture portraying Eaton and Waller halls was also included.

A short description gave a general picture of the university itself.

Coeds whose pictures were included were Rachel Yocum, a senior from Salem and a physical education major; Rosemary Huffman, from Centralia, Washington, and president of the University Women's Athletic association; Martha Warren, a senior from Garibaldi; Annette Jordan, a senior in law from Castle Rock, Washington; and Anna May Unrath, senior from Roseburg and last year's song queen.

Glee Committees Are Announced For Seniors

Senior class freshman glee committees, appointed by President Randall Kester, were announced at a class meeting last Tuesday.

James Pyke, Anna Mae Unrath, and Warren Peters were named as members of the formation committee. The committee on songs includes Gwen Gallaher, Frank Pemberton, and Luella Corn.

Songmen Busy In Spring Schedule

One Item of Spring Tour To Be Song Meet of State Colleges

The popular Willamette University Songmen under the direction of Professor Cameron Marshall will go on another of their annual spring trips this year from April 4th to the 14th. Varying their schedule a little from last year the warblers will visit southern Oregon for a week before making a four day stand in their old stamping ground around Portland where they have built up a large and enthusiastic following.

Included in their itinerary for Southern Oregon are Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass, Roseburg and Eugene. A few tentative dates in some of the smaller towns in this region have been secured. In the Portland vicinity the boys will appear at The Dalles, Hood River and St. Helens. In Portland the Songmen will sing at several large churches and at four of the city's high schools.

State Collegiate Meet

While at Portland they will appear in a men's glee club contest between Willamette University, Oregon State College, University of Oregon, and Reed College, sponsored by the Dads' Club of Grant high school. The prize is three hundred dollars, which will be divided according to rank among all of the participants. The novelty idea is the theme of the contest which will give Willamette's singers an excellent chance of winning due to the similar theme of the Freshman Glee.

A radio broadcast over KOIN is being arranged for, although no definite statement has been given out.

Accompanying the Songmen as pianist, will be Ina Bennett. No announcement has been made about additional artists to make the trip.

Interfrat Group Plans Annual Jig

Negotiations were begun at the February meeting of the interfraternity council held last Tuesday at the Kappa Gamma Rho house, for the interfraternity dance, to be held sometime in March.

This meeting was the first for the council's new personnel which now consists of officers elected for the second semester. Louis Herschberger, Alpha Psi first vice president for the second semester, took over the duties of council secretary.

Special stress was laid by Dr. R. M. Gatke, president, upon a review of fraternity initiation rules. The three houses are scheduled for initiation activity in the near future.

Laborer Injured At Capitol Site

Wilbur L. Duncan, 30, laborer at the new state capitol site, lost a forearm in an accident which occurred early Tuesday afternoon.

Duncan, who lives at 624 North Capitol street, was rushed to the Deschutes hospital immediately after the accident. He had climbed up on the side of the gravel bunker where he evidently lost his balance and fell, catching his arm in a cog wheel of the mixer machinery.

Wallulah Staff Works On Picture Mounting

Work on the Wallulah is progressing rapidly, according to Lloyd Riehl, manager. Picture mounting is occupying the attention of the staff at present. Riehl states that a few students have not had their pictures taken and that in order to get the pictures into the Wallulah they should have them taken this week.

Crowd Gives Applause To Campaigners

Miall and Dr. Reinhardt Hold Audience For Two Hours

Action, Not Mere Talk Urged As Solution To Problem

By EDWIN MINNEMAN

Dark-haired, dynamic Dr. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, 20 years president of Mills College, and careful-thinking, enthusiastic Rowland L. Miall, graduate of Cambridge University and world scholar, speaking in behalf of the Emergency Peace Campaign, Tuesday evening at the First M. E. Church of Salem held an audience of approximately one thousand people enthralled for a space of two hours.

Claiming that the "education point of view is the cheeriest and one of great age and respectability," Dr. Reinhardt attacked the problem of war by offering education as a means of bringing "order out of chaos."

Must Keep Informed

"Our task is never dying. The minds of student and teacher alike must keep informed. We must get rid of the ambiguity of language," said Dr. Reinhardt, first speaker of the evening as she suggested that nations yield their sovereignty to a degree which would at least keep people in over-populated countries from starving.

Dr. Reinhardt stated that the women of America are doing their part by making peace discussion as intelligent as bridge playing. "We have brains enough. We must turn our laboratory experiment into a world experiment," said the speaker as she praised America's experiment in democracy.

Turning the rostrum over to Mr. Miall for the remainder of the evening, Dr. Reinhardt said: "We must make of our knowledge and faith—we must make of them actions."

Distribution Needed

Mr. Miall, world scholar and student of law, economics and modern history, marked a distinct contrast to Dr. Reinhardt in his manner of speaking.

Quiet-mannered and with a somewhat less humorous attitude, Mr. Miall outlined some of the objectives to pursue for those who really wish to work for peace. "The problem before the present generation is that of distributing the things we've got in the world," stated the speaker after a few introductory remarks.

He, like Dr. Reinhardt, believes that the people of America must attempt to learn and to understand the problems that confront the over-populated nations. "I wonder why we go on saying peace, peace, peace and say little about justice," said Mr. Miall.

America Is Hope

Mr. Miall told in a graphic manner how every person in England and every person on the continent of Europe expects and fears that war will come in the near future. He again assented to the views of Dr. Reinhardt in holding up America as the hope of the rest of the world, saying: "America has an opportunity and a responsibility."

"In the deepest resources of the personality we like war!" said Mr. Miall. He suggested that mankind use the qualities of pungency in his personality to attack his real enemies—sickness, starvation and floods, and he made note of the fine way in which this is being done now in the region of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Wallulah Staff Works On Picture Mounting

Work on the Wallulah is progressing rapidly, according to Lloyd Riehl, manager. Picture mounting is occupying the attention of the staff at present. Riehl states that a few students have not had their pictures taken and that in order to get the pictures into the Wallulah they should have them taken this week.

Lausanne Hall Gives Annual Open House

Lausanne Hall announces its annual open house and invites students, faculty members and townspeople to inspect its halls and rooms on Saturday evening from 7:30 to 9:30.

Previous to open house the girls living in the Hall are giving a formal dinner in honor of Mrs. Baxter in recognition of her help and contributions to the Hall. Both Dr. and Mrs. Baxter will be present and the girls will present the latter with a gift in appreciation.

After the dinner the Hall will be open to visitors. During the first hour the line will be composed of Dean Dahl, Dr. and Mrs. Baxter, and Willette Smith; while during the second hour Dean and Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. Mills and Evelyn Harding will receive.

Sigma Tau fraternity entertained a rush with an informal dinner last Friday with Joe Harvey in charge. After dinner the men attended the smoker held at the Y. M. C. A.

The Misses Gwen Gallaher, Ruth Tacharner, and Dorothy Dingle visited in Portland last week end.

Initiation Ceremonies To Take Place Friday

Willamette's official sorority initiation week will end tomorrow, with formal banquets being given by each of the three houses, much to the relief of the initiates.

Alpha Phi Alpha will give its formal banquet for newly initiated members Saturday night at the chapter house. House colors of red, gold and white will be used to carry out the decorative scheme.

Beta Chi is initiating the Misses Dorothy Wright, Irma Calvert, Leone Burdick, Marguerite Du Rette, Charlotte Kallender, Helena Schneider, Ethel Denham, Evelyn Sherck, Barbara Benson, Suzanne Curtis, Betty Lou Lacy, Betty Savage and Ella May Morris.

Formal initiation will take place at the chapter house at 4:30 Friday. Following the ceremony a banquet will be given at the Quille in honor of the new members.

Members of Sigma Tau fraternity will entertain their sweethearts with their annual Valentine dinner to be given next Sunday at 1:30 in the chapter house.

Miss De Long Is Married

Culminating a month of engagements and weddings was the marriage of Miss Betty De Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. De Long, and Clifford Wilme, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wilme.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilme are freshmen at Willamette this year. Mrs. Wilme is a member of Delta Theta Gamma.

Independents To Entertain

Next Friday night the Independent men and women and D. T. G. members are having a "bum" party in the gym. Prizes are to be presented to the wearers of the best costumes.

Miss Mary Jeannette Sargent was the guest of Miss Mignon Wall of Corvallis for Saturday and Sunday.

The members of Delta Phi sorority elected Miss Anna May Unrath president of the sorority by house action last Wednesday.

Miss Esther Nelson is at present ill at the Salem Deaconess hospital.

Formal Climax To Initiation

The climax of initiation week will come tomorrow night when Alpha Phi Alpha, Beta Chi and Delta Phi units in the annual Intersorority Formal following their separate initiation banquets.

The three housemothers, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. T. A. Elliot, and Mrs. Fred A. Well will be special guests. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman White, Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rahe.

Honor Fraternity Plans Show, Trip

Of interest to many W. U. students will be the amateur program to be given under the sponsorship of the Blue Key in the near future.

President Aden in making the announcement stated that several troupes will be held before the presentation of the program, which will be conducted in the manner of popular radio amateur programs familiar to all students.

Either next Saturday or the following Saturday is the tentative date set for a Blue Key stag party for which the members will journey to Mt. Hood to ski.

Present officers of the organization are: President, Dwight Aden; vice president, Ty Gillespie; secretary, James Pyke; and treasurer, Harry Mosher.

After a rigid examination of qualifications, the chapter has awarded Don Brandon a $25 scholarship. The funds for this award is obtained from their annual sale of state basketball programs, which will this year be under the supervision of Warren Peters.

President Aden also made the announcement that the Blue Key will enroll 10 or 12 new members in the near future to take the place of graduating seniors.

Potluck Dinners Each Mon. Night

Monday night from 5:30 to 6:30 p. m., the first of a series of student body potluck dinners was held in Christo Cottage, and it is reported to have been very satisfactory for those attending.

After the dinner a general discussion was held on campus problems, songs were sung, and games were played. Twenty-five students attended the Monday meeting.

Lillian Graham, second vice-president of the student body, is in charge of the potluck dinners. Each week twenty-five names are chosen at random from the total school enrollment.

It is planned in this manner to bring together diversified groups of the campus and thereby promote a wider acquaintance among the students.

Frosh Choose Officers

February 9th saw the end of the old Frosh regime and the election of new officers.

Cecil Quesseth of Salem succeeded Dick Walker as president, and Barbara Chapler of Portland now occupies the position of vice president, which was held by Ester Vehrs.

The incoming officers are faced with the problem of Frosh Glee and also of arranging a freshman party.

Dayton Robertson, the Glee manager has called upon the freshman to respond to the cry for talent both in art and especially in music.

Showing talents at the Hollywood Theater is a double feature—"Two in a Crowd" with Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea and Stuart Erwin in "Women Are Trouble."

THE RAMBLING SHOPPER

By Uncle Willie

Hi-de-ho, blokes—er, folks! Here's your Uncle Willie—remember me?—again, and this time Uncle would play Cupid, except that it's awful gosh darn cold for Uncle to be running around in his birthday suit, with bow and quiver.

His first Valentine goes to Paul (Bunyon) Bennett, Alpha Psi flash (dim-bulb), who has had to stand up under a lot of what the following is just a sample, to-wit: Betty Howell: "Say, Paul, who is this Coc Quesseth I've been hearing so much about lately?"

Bennett: "Aw, he ain't so hot." Betty: "Well, you needn't get jealous."

Bennett: "Aw, he's a little forward on the —."

Betty: "Oh, I'm not afraid. I like men like that."

If Uncle is not too forward may he suggest that Valentines will look sweeter if they have their clothes Zoric Dry-Cleaned at the Salem Laundry? Thank you.

It is reported that Dean Schulz's good wife is temporarily incapacitated right now with a little sniffer ailment generally called Sinus.

Well, well, well, Uncle hears that it isn't safe to bet with this paper's distinguished Society Editor. It seems that there is a certain pretty damsel at the B. X. house who got tired of being left out of the "engagement" picture, so she ups and announces her plighted troth to some hero back in the hills of old Montana.

As one frat man said to another: "Down by the old mill stream, where I first dunked you—" and speaking of dunking, pals, there's nothing that makes your coffee taste so good as the delicious donuts from Madsen's Bakery.

Here is a choice bit that Uncle expects will ruffle the stoicism of Bill (Gandhi) Clemes. It seems that prior to a certain dance last year Bill had to leave town, and would not be back until the night of the dance.

Something new and different in campus parties is being planned for next Friday night, at the gym, when independent men and women stage a "hitch-hikers" party.

One portion of the evening's entertainment is to be devoted to games on the gym floor and those attending are requested to come equipped with gym shoes.

As the theme would indicate, the party is to be based upon what has become a typically revered American type of travel. For the best outfits the wearers will receive prizes.

Committee heads, appointed by Marion Chase and Eugene Hibbard who are in general charge are: Games, Margaret Magee; decorations, Grant Ridley; refreshments, Althea Moore; music, Helen Ridley; skit, Evelyn Welch; publicity, Willette Smith.

 Willamette 43—C. P. S. 28; Idaho 42—Pacific 29; Idaho 19—Pacific 33; Whitman 43—Pacific 29; Whitman 40—Pacific 20.

SCHEDULE

Feb. 12—Willamette at Albany.
 Feb. 15—C.P.S. at Whitman.
 Feb. 16—Willamette at Pacific; C.P.S. at Whitman.

Sharing the league lead with the Whitman Missionaries with an unblemished record to date, Spec Keene's Bearcat hoopers take on the dark horse outfits of the loop in their pair of clashes this week—Don Faber's up and coming Albany Pirates and Roger Folgate's speedy Pacific Badgers.

The Cardinal and Gold tossers kept their unbeaten pace last week with a pair of fairly easy victories over the supposedly strong Puget Sound Loggers and are pointing for another dual triumph this week. This would enable them to enter the crucial series with Whitman, February 19-20, with a perfect slate.

However in the Pirates and Badgers they are taking on some strong opposition. Both teams, while subject to their bad nights here and there, have rolled up impressive records this season, and should they be "on" against the locals the Keenemen might see their championship hopes go glimmering.

The only other games on tap this week are the Logger-Mission tilts at Walla Walla Monday and Tuesday nights. The Bearcats are counting on the Sounders to upset the high flying defending champs, which would clear the path toward the title for the Salem basketeers. But the odds are all against the Timbermen. In all probability the Missionaries will invade Salem one week from tomorrow night with eight consecutive triumphs.

Whitman ran her string of consecutive league wins to 29 Monday and Tuesday evenings when Borleske's crew took Pacific to a pair of cleanings, 43-29 and 40-20.

Grenier Leads Oil Quintet's Victory Over Varsity Five

Sparked by their behemoth center, Howard Grenier, Union Oil's strong independent hoop team downed Willamette's basketeers 30 to 18 in a close checking tilt at Oregon City Tuesday night. The defeat ended a Bearcat victory streak of five straight games.

The winners led at halftime 14-10 mainly on the strength of two howitzer shots by "Spook" Robertson just before the gun. They had things pretty much their own way in the second canto, outscoring the Salemites 16 to 8 in that period.

Anton with 7 points for Willamette and Grenier with 11, led scorers. Summary:

HIGHEST SCORER

BILL ANTON (left), 6 foot, 4 inch pivotman has taken a big lead over his teammates at tossing in points this season. The "Greek" is expected to make a serious bid for all-conference honors.

DEFENSIVE ACE

WALT WEAVER (right) is without peer as a defensive guard in Northwest basketball circles. "Fagan" always gets the assignment of guarding the opposition's best scorer and invariably turns in a fine job.

KOLUMN KOMMENT

By BOB KEUSCHER (Collegian Sports Editor)

Northwest sports writers, particularly L. H. Gregory, peer of all scribes on the coast, have devoted considerable space praising University of Oregon's "new" batting average system of figuring efficiency of the Webfoot basketball players. The average is figured on the basis of the number of shots taken at the basket and the field goals made. As it works out, a .300 average, as in baseball, is a good average and the mark all players attempt to hit.

However I believe a little light on the history of the system would be in order here. For several years now "Les" Sparks, rook hoop mentor, has used a score-book of his own creation that not only checks the percentage of shots taken, but the exact place from where each was made. In addition fumbles, bad passes, and assists are credited. Another feature is a special chart to check substitutions. The book has worked so well that Coach Keene has adopted the same book for his varsity games.

Here are the "batting averages" of the rook basketeers for their first 18 games:

Player	Fg	Shots	Pct	Pts	Gms.
Hagedorn	27	102	.2647	76	17
Quesseth	29	261	.2644	165	18
Wagner	27	109	.2477	84	17
Shinn	4	17	.2353	15	8
McKibbin	15	71	.2113	38	16
Stacy	18	70	.2571	29	15
Williamson	1	5	.2000	2	1
Caray	1	5	.2000	2	1
Hager	1	5	.2000	2	1
Patric	2	10	.2000	4	2
Ransom	1	5	.2000	2	1
Turner	1	10	.1000	2	2
Catherwood	2	34	.0588	7	12
Kyle	2	10	.2000	4	2
Gids	0	9	.0000	0	2
Ritchie	0	6	.0000	0	2
Baker	0	1	.0000	0	1
Total	179	820	.218	449	18

An addition to the record next year will be a check on work under the backboards, with a special column to indicate the number of times each player takes the ball off. All this may be a little hard on the score keeper, but what a check-up of his players the coach gets! We wonder how long it will be before the sports pages begin carrying batting averages of all the college and high school teams.

Mighty dangerous those Albany Pirates who play host to Willamette's Bearcats tomorrow night. They've taken plenty of beatings this year, some from teams Willamette has taken in stride, but when they are "on" those Bucs are unbeatable. In the first game at Walla Walla, the Fabermen put up a terrific battle and lost only 24-28. At Caldwell they enjoyed two "hot" nights in a row and trounced the Coyotes twice. In one game against C. P. S. the Pirates lost only on strength of a closing Logger rally. Victims of Faber's team have been S.O.N.S. and St. Martin's, one of the best teams in Washington. If they're on tomorrow night—look out Bearcats!

Like last year, a state A. A. U. tourney will decide Oregon's entry in the national A. A. U. meet in Denver. Eight schools will make up the collegiate tournament scheduled for Portland early in March. They are Linfield, Oregon Normal, S.O.N.S., Willamette, Pacific, Mt. Angel and Portland. An eighth entry will be chosen from Pacific College, Albany College and Eastern Oregon Normal. Here is a fine chance for the Bearcats to take a swell trip, providing they can win the appointment from Oregon.

Taking up the second half of play just where they left off at the end of the first round, the General Finance quint of the city major league crushed the Willamette Frosh 34-16 last Thursday night. On the same bill the "Y" Crunchers, a group of Willamette boys, downed Oregon Paper and Grand Theater beat Valley Motor.

Tonight's round of games brings together the Rooks and Grand Theater, champs last year, pits the Crunchers against the mighty Finaceers, and matches Valley Motor and Oregon Paper. Games are played on the Y. M. C. A. floor at 7, 6 and 9 o'clock.

In the minor loop the Willamette Cubs, a team composed of Dext Russell, Bill Hall, the Crabtree brothers, Erwin Potter, Me-Rae, and Frances Schmidt, have taken over the second half lead by downing U. S. Bank, first half champs, and Company B.

High scorer in the major sector is little Cecil Quesseth, freshman head-eye, with 53 counters. He is followed by Morley, Grand, 32; Herberger, Valley Motor, 51; and Clark, Y.M.C.A., 47.

Minor league leaders are Marvin Ritchie, U. S. Bank, and Allison, Safeway, each with 52.

The Bearcats, on their return home, had very little praise for the spirit of the Logger fans, the crowd sentiment being the poorest the locals have met in several years.

Rough Skirmishes Go To Fighting Cats, 35-32 and 42-28

Willamette's varsity hoopers loomed as serious obstacles to Whitman's aspirations for another conference title this year as they returned home Sunday fresh from double victories over the College of Puget Sound Loggers at Tacoma Friday and Saturday nights. The triumphs put the Methodist aggregation in a top place tie with the Missionaries, each team having no losses to date.

In the initial tilt the Bearcats managed to eke out a 35-32 win in a contest featured by 31 fouls. The Keenemen got off to an early lead and were ahead at halftime 20-11. They increased the margin in the second period until Smith, Morris and Tollefson began to go to work for the Loggers and brought C. P. S. up to within two points of a tie score, with only a few minutes left. Anton and company "got their bearings," though, at this point and pulled the game out of the fire.

Anton and Smith, C. P. S. forward, lead scoring with 11 points apiece. Morris turned in a nice floor game for the losers.

Saturday evening the Cardinal and Gold quintet virtually eliminated C. P. S. from championship consideration by trimming the Tacomas 43-28. As in the first contest, there was a maximum of rough play, 27 personals being called altogether.

The Bearcats, with every man in the starting lineup contributing to the score, built up a healthy margin early in the game and increased it as the fray progressed. They held a 22-14 advantage at the half.

Jerry Gastineau was high scorer of the evening with 10 points, all from field goals. Morris of C. P. S. and Weaver, local guard, tallied nine apiece.

Lava Bears Lead Way, District 3

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of five articles discussing the merits of the leading high school basketball teams of the state, with special emphasis given the best squads of each of the 16 districts to be represented at the State Tournament scheduled for Willamette University, March 17-20.)

History is seemingly repeating itself in District three where, Bend high, after playing mediocre ball all year, has of late moved to the fore as the best bet to represent the southeastern corner of the state, here in March.

Last year the Lava Bears played only average ball throughout the year, losing three straight contests to the Klamath Falls Pelicans, perennially a favorite in the district. However when tournament time rolled around and the two outfits lined up for the payoff, the Bend five rose to the occasion and won the title. In the state meet the Lava Bears beat La Grande but lost to McLaughlin and Salem.

This year the Bend boys, playing under a new coach, Jerry Lillie, ex-St. Helens mentor, have progressed slowly, but flashed real form last week to smother Klamath Falls for the first time in three starts. Stars of the outfit are Isted, diminutive passing flash, and Hendershot, giant center, who is famed as the best high school pole vaulter in the state.

Last year's trip, Bend's third, was by far the most successful that school has enjoyed—the representatives in '21 and '24 falling by the wayside on the first day. The Pelicans have been more successful, losing out in 1933 on the first day, but reaching the finals against Astoria in 1934 and losing a battle for fourth place in 1935. Miller of the '34 team is the only man from either team to receive all-state honors.

In District four, which comprises Clackamas and Multnomah counties, Oregon City, last year's entry, and Milwaukie, never a tournament representative, lead the way. The Pioneers, from the falls city, do not appear quite as strong as last year's entry and do now have it that Milwaukie's veteran five should get the ticket to Salem. Both these fives are members of the "Big Nine" conference and their league meetings should throw plenty of light on the question of supremacy. Should Oregon City win its way to the state go, it will be her third trip here. In 1932 the team lost both its starts and last year it lasted but one day longer.

In District five, Astoria, always one of the most colorful quintets to appear here, is well on its way to its 17th tournament with a team that promises to more than uphold the reputation of the lower-Columbia metropolis. Led by three veterans, "Sandy" Sandness, Tulyo Pippo, and Hiram Parker, and little Clifford Anet, brother of the now-famous Bobby, one of the greatest Fishermen stars ever to appear here, the Astorians have progressed rapidly and now loom as one of the best quintets in the state. Of course, many Willamette fans would like to see Eddie Frantz being his St. Helens team here, but for Eddie's outfit to accomplish something done only once in 15 years seems an impossibility.

In their 17 trips here, the Fishermen have won four state titles, have played in six championship tilts, and boast 19 all-stars, most famous of whom are Westergren '22 and '23; Vstad '30, Palmberg '31, Bergstrom '32, Anet '34 and '35, and Sarpola '34, '35 and '36. Sarpola holds two all-time records—most points in four games (59) and most field goals in a game (15)—and shares two others—most points in a game, 27 (Howell, The Dalles) and most times all-state, 3 (Sanford, Salem).

GETS FIRST CALL

Harry Mosher ranks as "Spig" Keene's number one substitute, seeing service in nearly every contest and always coming up with a creditable performance. The ex-Salem high hooper is a speedster and lends lots of fire to his teammates.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

By DAN MOSES

The strong P. E. Staff paced by Dick Weisgerber and George Erickson handed the Swishers their first defeat of the season last Wednesday 27 to 16 in a thrilling upset victory which left the strong Independent "A" team and the Fish Chokers the only undefeated teams in the league.

In the other game played last week Alpha Psi Delta broke into the victory column for the first time with a win over the Rooks in which "Bun" Bennett, Bob Jones, and "Jonathan" Kelly each contributed two field goals in the last five minutes of play. The Alpha Psi's began the game with a starting lineup which averaged only about five feet seven in height and with the diminutive Bennett as the jumping center who proved to be the outstanding man on the floor; Louis Herberger also played an outstanding floor game. For the Freshman, Bob Keuscher was the whole show; entering the game in the latter part of the first half, Keuscher sparked a Freshman rally which carried them into the lead which they did not relinquish until the last quarter. Weakley also was outstanding for the frosh.

As the season progressed many of the teams which were weak at the start are improving. Sigma Tau, the Independent Bees, Alpha Psi Delta, and the Freshmen Bees have all shown marked improvement and will provide tougher competition for the other teams.

A meeting of the managers of the teams will be called sometime this week by intramural sports manager, George Erickson, to revise the schedule for the rest of the season, to arrange for games postponed, and to consider the dividing of play into halves to afford teams making a slow start a chance in the playoff at the end of the season.

The league standings Tuesday morning:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Independent A's	5	0	1.000
Fish Chokers	3	0	1.000
P. E. Staff	5	1	.833
Swishers	4	1	.800
Sigma Tau	2	3	.400
Ind't Bees	1	3	.250
Alpha Psi Delta	1	3	.250
Freshmen B's	1	4	.200
Law School	1	4	.200
K Gamma Rho	0	4	.000

Scores of games from January 15 through February 8:

Swishers 16—Clark, Highland, 2, Kahle 6, Orren 7, Gallon 1; Alpha Psi Delta 4—Guerin, McDowell, Johnson, Mathews, Anderson 2, Mosier 2, Aden.

Independent A's 27—Pike 5, Hibbard 6, Wiewenick 5, Smith 9, Edwards 3; Freshmen 13—Baker, Potter 4, Smith 3, Keuscher 3, Frantz 2.

P. E. Staff 49—Schmidt 6, Weisgerber 11, McAdam 16, Hogenson 1, Abbott 4, Sparks 2; Sigma Tau 14—Dunbar 2, Shepard 4, Gladden 2, Harvey 4, Fowler, Eland, Wilson 2.

Fish Chokers 39—Joyce 12, Burnett 2, Siroio 4, Becken 2, Canessa 3; Kappa Gamma Rho 15—Mohr, Wedel, Clarke 6, Davis.

"REV" NOT "RED"

Typographical errors make some odd mistakes sometimes. Such was the case last week, when a cut and story of Willamette's star athlete, Bill Beard, was run in the Collegian calling attention to the fact that he had a new nickname. However, the name is "Rev," not "Red" as printed.

It seems that Beard lived, for a time, last year with a misleader and while boarding with him, cultivated the habit of attending church. His teammates immediately dubbed him "Deacon." Of late, however, they have shortened this to "Rev" (Reverend). So "Rev" it is, not "Red." Our apologies to Mr. Beard.

Lienhart, Brink, Gustafson 9.
 P. E. Staff 41—Sparks, Schmidt, Weisgerber 14, McAdam 5, Hogenson 5, Abbott 4, Erickson 9; Independent Bees 18—Bertelson 4, Trommlitz 2, Crabtree 2, Potter 2, McRae, Haglwaru 8.

P. E. Staff 33—Sparks 6, Weisgerber 12, McAdam 7, Commons, Schmidt 4, Abbott 4; Kappa Gamma Rho 16—Lienhart, Gustafson 11, Davis, Clarke 5, Wedell, Kester.

Independent A's 40—Hibbard 12, Pyke 9, Wiewenick 6, Edwards 3, Crabtree 10; Sigma Tau 19—Wilson 2, Estes 4, Gladden 2, Dunbar 5, Fowler, Smith.

P. E. Staff 27—Sparks 2, Weisgerber 10, McAdam 7, Commons, Erickson 10, Abbott 2, Hogenson 2; Swishers 16—Bennett 2, Russell 2, Clark 6, Hyland, Gallon 4, Orren 2.

Alpha Psi Delta girls walked away with the intramural basketball tournament by defeating Lava-Sum Hall team with a score of 28 to 8 last Saturday. Due to a forfeited game by the Beta Chi girls, this game stands as decisive for the tournament. Those girls playing for the A. P. A. Sorority were Jenn Anunson, Barbara Kurtz, Margaret Engdahl, Muriel Martin, Marjorie Jones, Rachel Yocum, Ruth Yocum and Marjorie Herr.

Volley ball practice started on Tuesday evening. All girls interested better dash out to the gym to sign up with Mrs. Royer.

The Achery Tournament, sponsored by the National Section of Women's Athletics, a division of the A. P. E. A., begins this week, lasting through the next three weeks or until February 27. Each girl participating will shoot three arrows or ten ends. There will be several classes, depending upon the length of the indoor range. Girls have been practicing at 20 yards with a regulation or forty-eight inch target. The scores of the four highest girls each week will be turned in as a school team. These will be registered as the results of the tournament. Girls who have turned out for tryouts are Lunelle Chapin, Vesper Eldridge, Willetta Smith, and Esther Callison. Mrs. Royer is selecting high point girls from her archery classes who will also enter the preliminary contests. Natalie Reichert of Oregon State College, is head of the northwest division of the tournament.

Each year finds a new group of girls displaying letter sweaters on the campus. The girls' point system is a mystery to many, so here is opportunity to clear up your questions concerning the subject. The Women's Athletic Association was organized . . . to promote health, sportsmanship, physical efficiency, athletic accomplishments, and love of the outdoors . . . among the women of Willamette. To join, an applicant must have one hundred points in athletics, aquatics and hiking. To retain eligibility, she must earn one hundred additional points, or more, each year. Members are also required to have a "C" average or better. Not more than one hundred points may be made in one sport in one year. To receive points a girl must participate in a tournament and a designated number of practices. To receive her sweater, a girl receives points in six different sports, four of which must be major sports (basketball, baseball, volleyball and soccer).
