Scarborough, Ulrich to Study Under D.C. Semester Plan

Two juniors were nominated this week to participate next semester in the Washington, D. C. Semester plan. According to Dean Robert Gregg Don Scarborough and Bob Ulrich were nominated by a faculty board Tuesday to represent Willamette in study at the American university at the nation's capital. The selections must be confirmed by American university officials.

The two men, majors in the field of social science, will attend special seminars and prepare a research paper while at the University in addition to attending regular classes. They will leave for the East late in January in time for the beginning of the spring semester.

The project for the semester, worth three hours of academic credit, involves detailed research on political science or allied subjects.

This is the second year in which Willamette has participated in the plan. One of 16 schools selected to send students, Willamette last year was represented by Sherman Bliss and Bob Small.

While in Washington the men will gain first-hand experience in the field of social sciences and public affairs. Scarborough is a journalism-history major from Woodburn, Ulrich, a major in political science from Garner, Iowa.

The American Semester plan is open to junior social science majors.

Sigs and SAE Recover Items Stolen Over Thanksgiving

Clothing and valuables worth more than $1100 were returned Tuesday after two fraternities were burglarized Sunday while the campus was deserted for Thanksgiving vacation, according to Dean Mark Hatfield.

Clothing and money totaling $1000 had been taken from the Sigma Chi house. Sigma Alpha Epsilon lost a radio and clothing worth $100.

The goods were rescued by a student who had seen the men on campus and became suspicious when he heard of the robberies. He contacted them and "talked them into returning all the stolen goods." He wished to be unidentified, according to Hatfield.

The men will not be prosecuted

Cocking Made Dec. Rotarian

Rolling Cocking will be December's Rotarian of the Month, according to student body president Sherm Bliss. Chosen by the student council he will attend meetings of the Rotary club during December.

Cocking, from Salem, is a business administration major, a member of Phi Delta Theta and has been active in campus affairs. He was president of his class last year and is junior class representative this year.

Selection was made, however, for his work as head of the recent Varsity Varieties show which has also made appearances at Oregon and Oregon State this week. Three hundred dollars was contributed to Campus Chest from the show held two weeks ago.

Tyler Is New Air Instructor

Master Sergeant Ernest L. Tyler was added to the Willamette faculty last week to complete the authorized personnel for Willamette's AROTC staff.

Sgt. Tyler will be an instructor in Air Science and Tactics and will teach flight operations to Air Science III and IV students.

The Willamette AROTC detachment now has the full complement of staff members authorized in accordance with the number of cadets enrolled. Four officers and six airmen are now with the detachment.

now that the articles have been returned, Hatfield said. Neither was connected with the university, he added.

Room doors to the two houses were unlocked over the holiday. Hatfield said all fraternities had been warned to lock doors, while Baxter reported no losses.

Salem city detectives entered the case Monday, dusting for fingerprints at both houses.

Campus Chest to Continue Drive Monday to Increase Contacts

A new drive to contact students who were not approached for a contribution to the regular Campus Chest drive will begin Monday, according to Felix Calkins, campaign chairman. Chest solicitors will conduct the drive. An estimated $692 has been collected in this year's Campus Chest and Red Cross drive. Approximately $300 was cleared from Varsity Varieties. The goal is $1200.

Many students were not contacted during the drive and to give these students and faculty

Sen. Morse, Hatfield Meet; Ike Mentioned

Oregon's "Ike for President" drive was boosted this week when Wayne Morse, United States senator from Oregon, and Dean Mark Hatfield conversed Wednesday. Hatfield, himself a state representative from Marion county, said only that he and Morse "talked about General Eisenhower," and released no details.

Earlier this year Hatfield was instrumental in putting Eisenhower's name on Oregon's primary as a Republican candidate for President. He is also a Democratic candidate, "but he won't run as a Democrat," said Hatfield.

Hatfield is now the executive secretary for the Eisenhower for President movement in Oregon. William L. Phillips, Salem business man, is chairman of the drive.

Morse and Hatfield also had dinner at the Sigma Chi house Wednesday night with several members of the Young Republicans club.

Stone New Veep for Indep Group; 1952 Convo at WU

Bob Stone, sophomore from Port Angeles, was elected vice president of the Pacific Coast Regional of the National Independent Students Organization at the first annual convention of the group held recently on the Washington State college campus.

The Willamette delegation, composed of Don Boudon, Don Brand, Robert Redding, Bob Stone, and James Wilcox, secured next year's convention for the Willamette campus. The 1952 convention will be worked into the Willamette calendar in the fall, and few plans have been formulated as yet. Stone, as vice president, holds the position of organizer and chairman for the next convention.

The purpose of Willamette's participation is to promote an active independents organization on the Willamette campus, one which will draw and hold all unaffiliated town and on-campus students. It is felt now that Baxter and Lausanne halls are simply clearing houses for fraternities and sororities.

If such an organization were realized, the recreational facilities of Baxter hall would be available to the town students.

A council of representatives from each unit would be organized. While each independent student unit would still be considered a separate organization, the possibility of combining for certain social activities would be offered.

A constitution for this region was formed at the convention, each delegate returning to his campus with plans for constitutions on individual campus levels. At the meeting, such things as social activities, finances, Greek-Independent relations, and off-campus independents were discussed. A rally on the WU campus to promote the formation of a complete organization will be held next week. Officers will be elected and the constitution ratified.

Members of the NISO in the northwest region include such major schools as University of Southern California, USC, Washington State, U. of Washington, Oregon State college, and the University of Idaho. The region includes California, Idaho, Oregon, Nevada and Washington.

There will be further discussion at the next meeting of the town students next Wednesday at noon in Waller hall. All town students are urged to come to this next meeting as those students present at the last meeting feel that a representation of less than 10 per cent is not a large enough representation to decide the fate of a group of students numbering over 300, said Stone.

Use East Doors

Students who are attending the basketball game this Saturday are requested to use only the east doors of the gymnasium. This is to prevent congestion while entering the gym. The east doors are to be used throughout the season.

University Concert Series Forms Executive Committee

Executive Committee is the name of the newly formed "board of control" organized by Manager Harley Hoppe and Assistant Manager Phil Ringle for the purpose of serving as the general policy making body for the university sponsored Distinguished Artist Series.

The Executive Committee consists of the series manager, assistant manager, Student Body Treasurer Tom Joseph, and the following department managers: Jim Jackson, tickets; Charles Ruud, written publicity; Ward Sligh, out-of-town publicity; Bob Schaefer, service club publicity; and Ann Gibbens, publicity to music teachers. Further departments include the town publicity in the charge of Jim Hitchman and the Sax's service club; campus publicity under the direction of George Buland and assisted by a representative from each living organization; church and schools, Richard Scott. Mary Campbell is serving as secretary to the committee. Completing the list of committee members is Harriet Bennet who will be in charge of the ushers furnished by Bag's, Sac's and Cap and Gown.

Stemming from the Executive Committee is the Executive Concert Board which consists of the committee and the group of students representing the individual living units. The purpose of the Executive Concert Board is related to decisions concerning future concert series.

Advising the committee and the board are Dean Melvin H. Geist, Dr. Edward C. Kollmann, and Maurice L. Cohn who is serving in the capacity of financial advisor.

At the committee organization meeting which was held on Tuesday, discussion resolved to press the sale of single tickets and also continue the sale of season tickets.

The next meeting is being held in Eaton 2 on Tuesday.

Band Concert Due at Convo

The Willamette university band under the direction of Maurice Brennan will play its first concert of the year next Tuesday at convocation. Students will hear a wide variety of selections, including two solos by William Bissel and Herbert Brower.

The program will include: "Euryanthe" by C. M. von Weber, "Ballad for Evening" by Morrissey with a baritone solo by William Bissel, two parts of the "London Again Suite" by Eric Coates, "Procession of the Nobles" by Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov, "American Folk Rhapsody" featuring four American folk songs arranged by Clare E. Grundman, "Trumpeter's Lullaby" by Leroy Anderson with trumpet solo by Herbert Brower, "Sleigh Ride" by Leroy Anderson, "Sunset Soliloquy" by H. L. Waters, "Little March" by Clare E. Grundman, and the Finale from the Fourth Symphony in F minor by Tchaikovsky.

Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. the band will play this same program for the public at Cascade high school.

Navy to Visit Monday

U. S. Navy men will visit the Willamette campus Monday from 9 to 4 p.m. They will be in the Cat Cavern, and will discuss naval reserve and officer training programs with interested students.

Indeps to Meet

Independent Town Students will meet in Waller hall at noon next Wednesday, according to Dick Mase, president of the group. Important features of the NISO will be discussed.

State Schools See Varsity Varieties

Eight acts from Willamette's Varsity Varieties were given this week at the University of Oregon and Oregon State. The troupe appeared Tuesday at Oregon and Wednesday at Oregon State.

The exchange assembly is a new idea on Oregon campuses, according to Tom Scheidel, chapel manager. Its purpose is to promote better student attendance at assemblies and to give Oregon colleges a chance to show off their best student talent.

Other colleges will perform at Willamette's Tuesday convocation in the future.

Third Time Is Charm; Students Pass Revisions

Both proposed amendments to the student body constitution passed by large majorities after a two-day extension was granted on the second election held, Larry Smith, election manager, announced.

The proposal to elect a yell king and song queen in the spring elections passed 447 to 150. The amendment to include the Collegian editor as a non-voting member of the student council was approved 535 to 62.

The first election was held November 5 and 6. Only 410 votes were cast so the student council decided to hold another balloting. It was necessary that 501 students vote in order for the election to be valid. A second try polled 453 ballots. This time the council decided to extend voting time.

Pay Phone Airing Set

A formal complaint against pay stations and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company was filed with the Public Utilities Commissioner early this week. On the strength of this complaint, entered by the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders, PUC commissioner George Flagg has arranged a meeting between telephone officials, college leaders and their representatives, and interested parties for next Tuesday morning. Both sides will bring pro and con arguments into the open. This will not be a hearing, but a fairly informal meeting.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, a branch of the Bell system, installed pay stations at the University of Oregon and Willamette early this fall, under a ruling (not to be confused with a law) defining semipublic service as applying to college living organizations.

So that Willamette students will not be confused on the ruling, it reads: (K) Semipublic service will be furnished in semipublic locations: in locations where there is a collective use of the service by a number of guests, members, employees or occupants; or in locations where there is a combination of public and subscriber usage.

College living groups are in no sense semipublic. Persons do not walk in off the streets to use our telephones. We live on the college campus three-quarters of the year, making the college more a residence than our family home.

We hope that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company is willing to listen to reason on this issue, since they have failed to show any great need for this substantial increase in revenue, and still have persisted with this flagrantly unjust policy.

The good will of well over 12,000 potential customers is at stake. Telephone companies are usually on the look-out for public opinion, but they have failed miserably in this latest venture.

BOUQUETS

To the Editor:

Congratulations to Rollin Cocking, Bob Witham and all who took part in the 1951 "Varsity Varieties." I've never enjoyed a more impressive and varied outpouring of college talent and can name many so-called "professional" shows which lacked the luster and pace of this one. Surely no worthwhile project at Willamette should ever fail with so much buoyancy and artistry available to support it!

... No Hard Shoes, Pliz

The start of basketball season has brought the inevitable new coat of varnish to the gym floor.

During Thanksgiving vacation, floor sealer, and varnish, was used to fill nicks and holes in the floor. Until the close of the basketball season, no hard soled shoes will be allowed on the floor.

Kampus Kaleidoscope

By

DARREL deCHABY

WALLACE COWAN, manager of the Capitol and Elsinore theatres, was host to a group of Willamette music students and faculty members Monday afternoon, November 19, for a Salem premier showing of the film "Men and Music." Purpose of the showing was to promote interest in the film which will be shown for the general public sometime in January. We wish to thank Mr. Cowan for his courtesy in showing the film and are certain that those who saw it will tell their friends so that when the film is shown it will have an enthusiastic reception.

The film is much the same as "Carnegie Hall" but without the encumbering and ineffectual plot of that film. It is an admirable experiment in showing the informal as well as the formal aspects of the lives of some of the world's greatest concert artists. The artists in the order of their appearance are Artur Schnabel, Jan Peerce and Nadine Connor, who appear together, Jascha Heifetz, and Dmitri Mitropoulos with the New York Philharmonic orchestra. The four episodes of the 90-minute film are held together by a commentary of the noted author, composer, critic and man-about-music, Deems Taylor, who introduces the artists in their order with a few well-chosen remarks.

Sorry!

My apologies to Ted Loder for my remark that they don't seem to raise anything in South Dakota but dust and pheasants. It appears that they also raised Ted. No doubt we will have good reason to be happy about this with the approaching basketball season.

Menuhin Next

The next artist on the Willamette Distinguished Artist series will be the violin virtuoso, Yehudi Menuhin, who appears at the high school auditorium December 20. The sale of season tickets for the series is being continued to accommodate those who still want them. Tickets now sell for $6.00, $5.00 and $4.00 for the three remaining concerts, and can be had at Stevens and Son, jewelers.

Met Starts Saturday

The Metropolitan Opera will broadcast for the first time this season at 11 a.m. tomorrow. La Traviata will be

Senior Bench Still Presents Question; Frosh Dares Upper Class to Act Now

By Donna Pallin

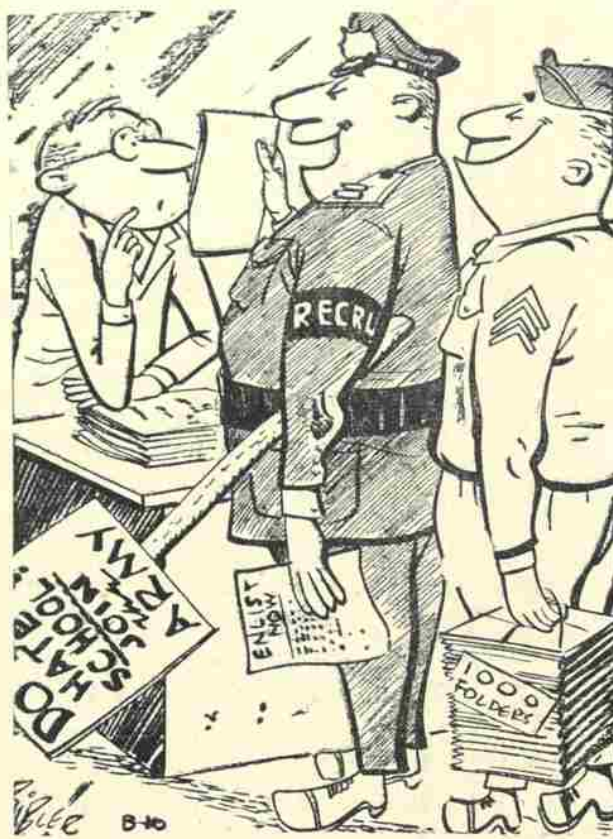

Is the class of '52 indifferent to the fate of their beloved bench, or are they just too poor to retrieve it? They could at least follow the example of their predecessors! After all other methods proved futile last year, the class of '51 finally resorted to bribing an unknown freshman to the tune of $12 and received the information that the bench was residing at the bottom of a hill in a cemetery near the new home of Coach Stackhouse. Then with the help of several sophomores they returned the bench to the campus. The total cost of their trouble was $20.

Even though the seniors don't seem to care for the lovely little structure, they could at least maintain the tradition and if nothing else they could also pay a few underclassmen to do their dirty work for them. Besides, the freshmen don't wish to keep it in hiding until 1955 and thus deprive the future freshman classes of the adventure of hiding it.

It seems that the seniors either failed to find their sacred bench in time to replace it for Homecoming, or else they found it and decided to let it rest in peace. Whatever the reason for its continued absence, it was truly missed by many returning alumni.

Little Man on Campus

by Bibler

"Professor Hatfield, would you mind if we staple one of our little folders to all the 'F-papers' before you hand them back?"

Several seniors have been heard to say that "everyone" knows where it is. So, if this is true, why aren't the seniors interested enough to reclaim their property and return it to its proper place? Besides, how can the seniors be so sure they know where it is, when the freshmen seem rather vague as to where they left it last?

It has been suggested by one enterprising freshman that if the seniors really don't want the bench back, they could plant a flower garden or something in its place because although it is not a piece of artistic beauty, its absence leaves a distinct mark in the campus landscape. However, if they did this, they would have to weed the flowers, and everyone knows that the upkeep of a bench is much easier than that of a flower bed.

The seniors have also let the class of '55 break the previous record of six weeks set up by the class of '54, as it has been much more than six weeks since that daring band of 14 freshmen absconded with the senior bench at 3 a.m. on the morning of September 25.

Since 1946 the bench has had five abusive treatments—1946, it was put in the center of the football field; 1947 and 1948, it was painted various colors; and in 1949 it was moved about ten feet.

Campus 'Classes' Classic Clansmen

By Bob Stone

Trying to better relations between freshmen and upper-classmen, I came across some enlightening information. In each problem of this nature, it is necessary to get at the root of the trouble itself—in this case, the freshmen.

A biologist might classify the types of germs hindering the growth of a living being, and thus enable other workers to combat the germs successfully. Like the biologist, I sincerely hope this classification of freshmen will be received by advanced relationalists in the growth of the perfect living organization, which must include beanietoting freshmen. Having been a member of this class and having closely observed these same freshmen through their first weeks of college life, enables me to classify them into six major categories. Perhaps there are several minor species, but I feel confident even they can be placed in one of the following types:

SKIRTSOFANIAC:

The skirtsofaniac is quickly recognized, especially in mixed company. A slight protrusion of the eyeballs and an increase in breathing on seeing a member of the opposite sex differentiates this type from any other type. In some instances a low whistle may issue forth, further characterizing this species of male freshman. The skirtsofaniac's room is adorned with Petty and Varga girls and calendars dating back to the New Deal era. His memo pad is completely filled with girls' telephone numbers. It has been said this species is very particular—only having dates with anything that wears a skirt.

HYPER-CRANIATIC:

This scientific term is self-explanatory. The "big-head" is easily recognized on or off the campus. His well-rounded, pre-college education and accent-to-match denotes his noble birth. Feeling that Fate pre-ordained the necessity of his existence, the hyper-cranatic justifies his super-intelligence by bettering his associates with his presence. It is not necessary to search for this typical freshman, since he will go out of his way to assure you of his nearness.

HOMO-SICKIAN:

At the first appearance the homo-sickian may elude the ablest of relation experts. Upon continuous observation during the first two weeks away from home, however, this species will show definite symptoms of his disorder. These symptoms include gazing longingly at a family portrait, a photograph of a girl, or a picture of the family dog or horse. Between classes you may bump into him on the sidewalk, for his mind is focused miles away in reveries of the past. Acute cases of homo-sickian can be heard at night sobbing their liness to the world. Many homo-sickians return home rather than bear this torment.

TURTLOID or OSTRICHOD:

This type of freshman has the two scientific names of Turtloid or Ostrichoid and either may be used interchangeably. This species of freshman recoils from any human organism. The turtloid walks alone between classes and can be found beside the radio or reading a magazine, grateful no one is trying to strike up a conversation. If an unsuspecting female sympathetically pries a turtloid from his shell, it is quite possible for him to transform into the genus-talkalottus.

GENUS-TALKALOTTUS:

This species is quickly recognized. Unless you make a hasty retreat upon being introduced to him, in one-half hour you will know where he is from, personal traits of his family and friends, his philosophy of life, his reason for choosing Willamette, his favorite sweater girl, his choice of president for 1952, and his translation of progressive jazz. A mere nod is enough to start the genus-talkalottus on an oration in any field known. Funny books are believed to be his chief source of information, although this point is hotly contested, especially by one of the genus-talkalottus type.

PHYSIO-ANATAMANIAC:

Sometimes referred to as Atlasoid, the physio-anatamaniac is easily discerned by his bulging biceps, low I. Q., and fat wallet. The check he cashes each month is justly earned by keeping himself eligible, staying clear of injuries, and eating at the training table. The physio-anatamaniac is adept at football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, and skiing. This freshman can be seen between practice session wearing a high school letter-sweater with four stripes. The presence of this species is justified by building the enrollment of his college through the medium of the sports-section headlines.

Davies is a 1951 Willamette graduate and is now attending the University of Oregon Medical school in Portland. He is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Pi Phi Alum Engaged

Members of Pi Beta Phi learned of the engagement of Nickie Haynes and Garold Meinke last week when poems on the dinner table told of the betrothal.

Miss Haynes was graduated from Willamette in 1951 and is a member of Pi Beta Phi. She is now employed at Willamette as admissions counselor. Meinke, president of Phi Delta Theta, is majoring in radio. No date has been set for the wedding.

News Told at OSC

Announced on the Oregon State college campus Sunday evening was the engagement of Susan Sward and Jim McHale. The news was told at the Alpha Gamma Delta chapter house.

Miss Sward is a sophomore at Oregon State and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta. McHale, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is a junior majoring in psychology. No date has been set for the wedding.

January Date Set

The engagement of Doris Ewen and Pete Bryant was revealed at a special house meeting at the Alpha Chi Omega house on the University of Oregon campus last week. The wedding has been set for January 12.

Miss Ewen, a former Willamette student, is now a junior at the University of Oregon majoring in business education. Bryant was graduated from Willamette with a degree in physical education and is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He is now employed in Astoria.

Bearcats Show Power By Stopping Chico 53-7 In Last Game of Year

Led by Chuck Lewis, Chuck Koani and Benny Holt, the Willamette Bearcats ran roughshod over the Chico State Wildcats on the McCulloch turf on Saturday, November 17, as they closed out their grid season with an impressive 53-7 victory.

The running of Koani and Lewis was the prominent factor in the game. Time after time the pair would slam into the line or skirt the ends for huge gains. Holt's quarterbacking and passing sparked the team the rest of the way.

The eight TD's scored by the Bearcats were evenly divided in the two halves. Bob Shangle and Lewis each scored once in the first half and Koani tallied twice, giving the Bearcats a 27-0 halftime lead.

Lewis scored two of the four six-pointers turned in by the Bearcats in the last half. Mark Cotton and Tom Summers each scored a TD on pass interceptions to round out the Cardinal and Gold scoring.

Chico's only score of the game came in the final period when Ken Crandell flipped the ball nine yards to Art Guerre for the tally. Bill Marcus booted the conversion for the seventh point.

WAA Volleyball Eight Slate OSC Tomorrow

Willamette's WAA volleyball squad will participate in the volleyball sports day to be held at Oregon State college tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The starting lineup for the team will consist of Captain Sharon Griswold, Kaijia Lietuviets, Ann Blatchford, Alice Savage, Marilyn Withan, Dorothy Miller, Pat Click and Liz Gunn.

Substitutes Inez Adams, Donna Sebern, Helaine Lung, Leah Conner and Robin Douglas will also make the trip to Oregon State tomorrow.

'She Deltas' To Dance

Winter landscape scenes in blue and silver will decorate the Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter house at the "Mid-Winter Fantasy" semi-formal dance to be held tonight, from 8 to 12.

Cal Horn, dance chairman, has planned the evening of music and entertainment. Bob Howe is in charge of decorations, which will include snow scenes following the winter theme. Bob Ulrich is in charge of programs.

Willamette Hoopsters to Open Season Against Strong OSC, Portland Fives

With five weeks of heavy practice behind them, the Willamette Bearcats open their 1951-52 basketball season against the highly rated Oregon State Beavers tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Bearcat hoop pavilion.

Coach John Lewis' Bearcats will travel to Portland the following Tuesday night to meet the potent University of Portland Pilots on the Portland maple boards.

The starting lineup for the Bearcats has not been set by Lewis, but Doug Logue has the inside edge for the center slot. In the front court Ted Loder and Dick Mase or Larry Smith will get the starting nod. Guards Daryl Girod and Lou Scrivens or Dick Hoy will probably receive starting berths.

Also likely to see action are forwards Dick Brouwer and Claude Nordhill. Bob Shepard, Bob Smith and Ray Williams will be ready to give Willamette additional help at the pivot spot. Guards Cliff Girod, Hugh Bellinger and Benny Holt will be ready to aid the Bearcats in the back court.

Slats Gill, Oregon State coach, will start lettermen Jack Orr and Danny Johnston at the forward positions. Monogrammer Bob Edwards will open at the center spot. Jim Padgett, letterman, is slated for one of the guard positions. The other spot will be filled by freshman Bill Toole, all-stater from Klamath Falls.

The second five on the Oregon squad consists of Jim Nau and Jim Sugrue, veterans; Ted Romanoff, and Art Henriksen, transfers; and freshman Jay Dean, all-state speed merchant from Nampa, Idaho, and Ron Robbins, a sophomore who captured all-state honors twice while at Marshfield high.

The Portland game definitely will not be a breather for the Bearcats as James "Mush" Torsion, Pilot cage boss, has his starting five back from last year. The Portland team represented the northwest in the NAIB basketball tournament last year.

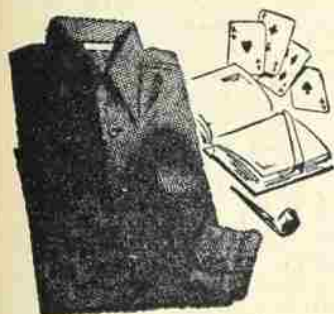

The starters will be Ray Foleen and Andy Johnson at the forward spots. Million Harvest McGilvery will be at the pivot spot. Ken Strode and Jim Winters will be in the Pilot back court.

Scrimmage Today

Sam Vokes, freshman coach, will conduct a full length scrimmage this afternoon at 5:30 p.m. in the gymnasium in order to cut his present squad of 50 hopefuls down to workable size. The Bearkittens open their season in Portland against the Multnomah College quintet December 12.

Fred Lincoln, chairman for the event, promises chills and thrills, and stated that this "off-campus" dance will be a "different" kind of entertainment.

The entertainment is a deep, dark secret, known only to Bill Jessup, chairman. Refreshments are being planned by Loren Ranton.

Trials and suspense for the "She Deltas" will be met as the guests will don levis, pedal pushers, wool shirts, and sweaters for the dance.

Sponsors are Mr. Robert Reid, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Derthick and Major and Mrs. Campion.

Annual State Young Republican Convention Begins Today; Willamette Sends 14 Delegates

Approximately 600 Young Republicans will convene for their eleventh annual state convention to be held this evening and tomorrow in Portland. Two-hundred of these will be delegates from county and college chapters throughout the state including 14 representatives from the local chapter of the Willamette campus.

Featured speaker of the first evening will be Paul Geddes, president of the Oregon Bar Association, member of the Oregon House of Representatives from Roseburg, and graduate of the Willamette law school. Other Friday convention speakers will be Lawson McCall who is secretary to Governor McKay and Mrs. Donald Arth, co-chairman of the Young Republican National Federation from Redlands, California.

Following the Friday evening banquet, committee meetings will be held starting at 9:30 Friday night. The committee meeting will be held in the afternoon.

A banquet will follow on Saturday evening and the night's featured speaker will be U. S. Senator Wayne Morse.

Delegates from the Willamette Chapter attending the meet at Portland's Congress Hotel will be Bob Batchelder, Bob Packwood, Francis Smith, Marilyn Merz, Dolly Montag, Bob Small, Dave Card, Glenn Greggs, John Roehr, George Buland, Jack Stoaks, Bill Lasswell, Sherm Bliss and Dave Belch.

Willamettes delegation at the convention will be allowed 11 votes regardless of the fact that 14 are attending.

Contestants for Speech Meet To Be Selected Tuesday

Tryouts for the annual all Oregon college extemporaneous speaking contest will be held Tuesday at 3 p. m. in 203 Waller, according to Dr. Howard Runkel. One speaker to represent Willamette will be selected from the men contestants and one from the women participating.

Contestants will draw their topics in the speech office, 201 Waller, at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday. The general topic for the men's division is "The Future of Inter-collegiate Activities" and for the women's division, "McCarthyism." The Willamette delegates will vie with representatives from eight other colleges and universities at Lewis and Clark college December 13.

Four Willamette debaters presented a model debate on the topic "Resolved: that a permanent program of wage and price control should be adopted" before a forensics class at the Salem senior high school yesterday. Participating in the program were Thomas Scheidel, James Wood, Elliott Motschenbacher and Marion Putman.

Frosh Woman On College Board

Heather Strange, freshman, has been chosen to be a member of "Mademoiselle's" national college board. She is one of 700 college students who competed for a place on the board, according to "Mademoiselle."

As a college board member, she will report to the magazine on Willamette life and scene. She will complete three assignments which will help her explore her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion or art in competition for one of 20 guest editorships to be awarded by the magazine next June.

The team will meet every Monday and Thursday from 3 to 5 p. m., in the National Guard armory.

ROTC Status Exempts 59

Out of 126 applicants for draft deferments on the basis of plans for taking advanced AROTC, 59 have now been accepted by the board of review.

Following completion of the necessary paper work, the applicants accepted will be deferred from the draft until completion of their college educations, with the stipulation that they will take advanced air science and accept a reserve commission in the air force upon graduation from college.

The remaining 67 applicants have not been rejected. Their applications have been set aside pending consideration when the next report of grades is made at the end of the current six-week period. The board will also deliberate further on applications at the end of the semester.

Applications for the AROTC deferment may be submitted to the detachment office in the gymnasium at any time.

THE MODERNE

305-315 Court

No longer will the halls of SAE resound with the tinkle of falling glass—not since one member ran his arm through a frosted glass door. Add his name to a sizeable list of men who have made similar splashes and you get a group which shivers at the mere mention of "glass." But they'll change their minds when they see the glass and crystal ware at The Moderne Gift Shop where the entire campus can find the best in Christmas gifts. For quality add to your Christmas list "Duncan Miller or Cambridge Crystal from Moderne's," and don't forget the famous "Westmoreland Milk Glasses."
