

WILLAMETTE TO LOSE SERVICES OF SWEETLAND

RECOGNIZED AS BEST COACH IN NORTHWEST

Doctor Has Done Much to Build Up Athletics at Willamette, Devoting His Entire Time to His Department and Doing Much Hard Work.

Dr. G. J. Sweetland, Jr., who is now serving his fifth year as athletic director at Willamette, has accepted a similar position at Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., and will take up his new duties next fall. He will also supervise the physical training of the young women of the affiliated school, William Smith College.

While it has been well known on the campus that the doctor was receiving many tempting offers from schools both on the coast and in the east, the announcement that he would not be here next season was considerable of a shock to the ardent supporters of entering the conference and those who take an interest in intercollegiate sports.

The following telegraphic dispatch has been received from Geneva confirming the announcement of the doctor that he would not be here next year:

"That Dr. G. J. Sweetland, Jr., of Salem, Oregon, has been engaged as physical director at Hobart College next year was the announcement made by President Lyman R. Powell today. His salary will be in the neighborhood of $3000.

"Hobart's new head is sparing no efforts to make the college one of the best in the United States and he is selecting on his faculty the strongest men that can be obtained."

Dr. Sweetland has achieved remarkable success everywhere he has coached in the east, middle west and Pacific Northwest, and the school on Seneca Lake is to be congratulated.

Record Is Great One.

For three years Coach Sweetland's high school eleven at Ishpeming captured the championship of Michigan; following that his university of North Dakotans won three state championships in four years, defeating Juneau's South Dakotan varsity the only time they met, 26 to 6.

The veteran then became interested in orchard lands in Oregon and came west, coaching Everett high school for one season and losing only one game.

In four years at Willamette Dr. Sweetland has done wonders. He has put Willamette on the map in every branch of athletics, particularly football. During his regime Willamette has administered defeats to the University of Oregon and the crack Multnomah club, while his basket ball and baseball teams have won victories at various times over all the strong Northwest colleges.

Willamette's football eleven walloped Montana a year ago, 30-9. Last fall Willamette exerted a strong claim on the state championship by virtue of its 6-3 defeat of Oregon, which later tied with the Oregon Aggies, 10-10.

He Is Hard Worker.

Dr. Sweetland is a hard worker, an expert in every line of physical training, is a graduate in liberal arts, in medicine and holds an aster arts degree.

While Hobart is a trifle too small to successfully cope with Yale, Harvard, Syracuse and other top-notch eastern colleges, its teams can count on the best handling to be obtained. The Episcopians, in fact, will be fortunate if they hold the Salem wizard more than one year, for it is known that some of the big Northwest schools are after him for 1915.

"Prunes" may be here, February 21.

O. A. C. HERE MAY DAY

Track Team From Corvallis Feature of Gala Day Program.

Leland R. Sackett, manager of track, announces that Willamette will meet O. A. C. here on May Day. The track meet on May Day is always the big event of the track season and Sackett considers himself fortunate in having arranged the meet with the Corvallis school for that time.

Varsity students are taking more interest in track this year than has been exhibited for several seasons and with Prof. De Bra devoting his entire time to that sport Willamette should be well represented the coming season.

What is worse than being salmioned by a girl? To have 'em on both sides. Oh, fellow citizens, pity those Frosh.

Doc. Sweetland will be there with all his spontaneous geniality. Be there, February 21.

RENOVATION OF HALLS FINISHED

Interior of Society Rooms Present Many Changes. Expert Praises.

After much hard work on the part of the Philodorian and Philodorian the Phil Halls are ready for occupancy, having been completely remodeled and renovated throughout.

The two society rooms have been united by a large arch with two immense pillars on either side and old style arch effect carried out in detail. The walls have been retinted and their appearance greatly improved by panels around the bottom and giving the upper third a different tint from the lower wall. The appearance of the woodwork has been transformed by a coat of old ivory which greatly increases its beauty.

Heavy dark brown curtains are to be hung in the arch, being so arranged as to pull back with a drape effect when the two rooms are thrown together or hang in heavy folds when only one room is desired.

The windows are to be covered with scrim curtains with gold cloth side drape and a dark brown cap covering about two feet at the top of each window. The phi, the society emblem, will be placed in the center of each of the top drapes finished in a rich gold. The curtains in the arch will also have large phi in the center.

The majority of the work of remodeling has been done entirely by voluntary labor on the part of members of the society. In this way hundreds of dollars have been saved and the society has been able to make many improvements that they could not otherwise have made.

Mr. F. G. Craig, one of the best authorities on interior finishing in the state and well known for his marvelous work in the finishing of the interior of Sweetland's confectionery store, Portland, visited the halls to inspect the work and give advice in regard to the final touches. He expressed himself as well pleased with the color scheme selected by Mr. Little and praised the work of those who had done the renovating. All the members of the society are unanimous in their praise of the excellent work of Mr. Little in supervising the reconstruction and express themselves as well pleased with their renovated quarters.

SAD DAYS FOR THE SHARP EYED STUDES

Resolutions have been adopted by the women of Indiana state university which lead to the establishment of the honor system for the classroom. The same rules will be applied to examinations shortly if the plans of the recent mass meeting carry.

JUNIOR PLAY REHEARSALS UNDER WAY

CAST INCLUDES ALL MEMBERS OF CLASS

Special Costumes Necessary and Extensive List of Scenery to Be Used Manager Doane Planning to Play to Packed House.

The play "Canterbury Pilgrims," which is based upon Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, requires fifty characters, and is a stupendous undertaking. The Juniors are to be complemented upon the choice of such a classic. From the standpoint of art the New York Times says, "Outside of the covers of Shakespeare it would be hard to find anything of the kind at once more original and more nearly on Shakespeare level." The Dramatic Mirror says, "Every line of the 'Canterbury Pilgrims' seems to have been wrought with infinite pains. The play possesses splendid literary qualities and is actable." Prof. MacMurray has seen the play presented and knows that it cannot be outclassed by any of the present day productions.

Author Is MacKaye.

The production is written by Percy MacKaye, one of the greatest present-day dramatists. Dramatic critics commend his work very highly. Something of the importance of the work can be seen from the fact that the play is dedicated to E. H. Southern and Julia Marlowe.

Cast Is Large.

Chaucer ..... Seth Axley
Knight ..... Ivan G. McDaniel
Squire ..... Bruce W. McDaniel
Friar ..... Roland K. Pfaff
Miller ..... Mr. Walker
Cook ..... Emery Doane
Pardoner ..... Harry Irvine
Merchant ..... Paul Irvine
Carpenter ..... Paul Smith
Doctor ..... Harold Jory
Yeoman ..... Arnold Hall
Clerk ..... Mr. Kaiser
Host ..... Merwyn E. Paget
John Wycliffe ..... Paul Todd
Richard II ..... Glenn McCaddam
Wife of Bath ..... Daisy Mulkey
Johanna of Kent ..... Miss Lula Lent
A Nun ..... Mildred Bartholomew
Servant Girl ..... Kate Barton
Mistress Bailey ..... Miss McBride

The theme motive of the play is "Armor Vincit Omnia." The characters are placed in many humorous situations, and the comedy is of the highest nature.

Prof. MacMurray comes to Willamette highly recommended as a student of the dramas and of dramatic interpretation. He received his degree from the University of Minnesota, in which institution he studied under Dr. Benton, one of the foremost dramatic critics of the time. He has staged several successful plays of this nature, and the Juniors fully appreciate the opportunity of study under his direction.

Costuming Is Costly.

The scenery required is extensive and beautiful. The costuming is very picturesque. After viewing this magnificent production the student of Chaucer can appreciate more fully the works of this great writer. The play is one which no one can afford to miss, both from the literary and the artistic point of view.

The troupe will make their appearance on May Day evening. Emery Doane, the manager, says, "The house will not be large enough to accommodate the crowd. The students of Willamette and the people of Salem appreciate high-class art, and the Canterbury Pilgrims is of that class."

MULTNOMAH IS COMING

The Multnomah basket ball team will invade the varsity gym Saturday, February 28. This contest will terminate the basket ball season.

The Multnomah lineup is exceptionally strong. McRae, old time Willamette star, will be in the clubmen's lineup as will also Darling, the former O. A. C. center of conference fame, and Rossman, a former University of Minnesota star.

Willamette has experienced considerable difficulty in getting her basket ball team organized this season but will be right up and coming with whatever of the squad is able to play when the time for the game arrives. Carson, our elongated center is out at present with injuries and two other members of the first team lineup in very poor condition. It is doubtful if these obstacles can be overcome before the Portland clubmen arrive for the closing game.

WALLULAH SOON TO BE ON PRESS

Manager Smith Worried Over Picture Situation--Many Unphotographed.

The Wallulah, the varsity year book, is fast nearing completion and will soon be in the hands of the printers.

The first portion of copy will be sent to press this week and the present plan is to have the volume completed by the first of May. Every indication is that it will appear on time.

In these "snappy snaps" of student life will be found views that were posed, imposed and opposed.

The collection of cuts will be by far the largest ever found in our popular Annual. The volume will be bound in fine black Morocco with gold lettering. The sections will be separated by beautiful half-tones.

The manager will be glad to receive any views of the campus or buildings.

The Seniors and Sophs are in the lead in having their pictures "took." Manager Smith is becoming quite anxious about finishing this work and urges that all who have not done so visit the studio this week as it will be too late after a Saturday.

All the different phases of college life will be covered and each of the college organizations will be represented by cuts and writeups. Cartoons will also be present in copious quantities.

The literary department will also be well handled and will contain productions in poetry and prose.

Merit is the key-word in this department and only the best will be published.

The Junior class contains a large number of "live wires" and their annual is expected to be right up to the minute in every respect.

BOOTH HEADS FROSH

Seventeeners Choose Officers for Second Semester.

It was a source of much gratification to the verdant seventeeners that they were able to conduct their class election in almost as business-like a way as is the wont of the upper classmen.

Presidential honors were bestowed on Warren "Toots" Booth, who will be assisted by Carrie Cooksey, vice president, Alpheus Gillette, secretary, Gladys Chandler, treasurer, and Earl Flegel, sergeant-at-arms.

Staff Meeting, Friday at 1 p. m.

LARGE NUMBER OF AWARDS TO BE PRESENTED

Athletes and Forensic Men Will Receive Their "W's" Saturday.

WILLAMETTE SPIRIT WILL BE ON QUI VIVE

Live Speeches, Good Music, Good Yells on Tap—Alumni All Urged to Come and Participate in Good Time.

Said Roscoe Fawcett in the Oregonian on a recent memorable occasion, "Dr. G. J. Sweetland's Methodists sprung the football sensation of the season yesterday when they defeated the University of Oregon 6 to 3." Saturday evening, in the chapel, the men who turned that immortal trick, along with the others who have in conflict defended the cardinal and gold, will receive a material expression of appreciation for their efforts. On that evening, beginning at 8:15, will occur the highest program ever arranged for an award day at Willamette, with speeches, Willamette songs and cheers, music by Glee Club and Ladies' Club, and a general flow of enthusiasm, culminating in the presentation of some 35 awards to varsity athletes, debaters, and orators.

The Program.

The program will be given as previously announced except that State Treasurer T. B. Kay will take the place of Governor West, who has found it impossible to be present. Paul Homan, as "W" Club president will preside. Kinney Miller, of Eugene, is expected to speak of "The Old Days," while Charles B. (Brick) Harrison will speak for the more recent alumni. Mr. Kay will respond for Willamette's outside friends, Miss Ruth Young for "the girls." Dr. Sweetland will be on hand with some "fitting remarks." The awards will be presented by President Homan.

Yell Leader Paul Todd has everything in hand for a demonstration in the way of rooting and slinging. He has two special requests to make. One is that all students bring their handbooks Saturday evening, unless they know all the popular Willamette songs. The other is that men and women flock together separately in their seating. Special seating arrangements will be made.

Glee Club to Appear.

Probably the star card on the program is the appearance of the Glee and Ladies' Clubs for the first time this year. The Glee Club will give their ever-popular "Ode to Willamette," "Take Me Back," and "Old Willamette."

Every Willamette student is expected to be present without urging. The local and also out-of-town alumni and old students are being sent an urgent request to come back and get in touch again with the life of the university, and especially to use their influence for putting Willamette's athletics on a higher plane.

By an oversight, mention of the fact was not made in last week's Collegian that forensic "W" men would receive their awards as well as the athletes. Willamette holds her debaters and orators in no lower esteem than her athletes. In debate, the gold black "W" pin will be awarded to Seth Axley, Paul Smith, Glen McCaddam, and Charles Ohling, in oratory to Eric Bolt. The athletic awards were announced last week.

Saturday evening at 8:15.

There are comparatively few essentials to correct living, and they are all based on the golden rule; but there are innumerable nonessentials, and it is in these that bigotry and intolerance live and thrive.

OUR MOTTO—"A SQUARE DEAL."

HAVE you ever seen "It?" "IT," the creature who knowingly casts reflections upon the character of another because of petty jealousy or irresponsibility? You will find "It" everywhere—in the church, factory, club or school. "It" is the curse of the small college.

"We see the world through our own eyes and all life takes the color of our own living." Just because you happen to judge certain acts as contrary to your own standards does not necessarily brand them as wrong. Perhaps, if you should stop to consider, you would find that you yourself are a great deal farther from the path of "squareness" than your neighbor you are seeking to ruin. Nothing is more despicable than "It"—"It," that sneaking, skulking, whining gossip—the germ of the hotbed of scandal, discord and strife.

"There are some people who know so little that they seem to know it all," and straightway they tell their neighborhood news to the nearest gossip. More than one person, square and upright, has been made to appear in a false position because of the gossip spreaders.

"Self righteousness and self complacency blind us to the good there is in others and renders us ridiculous in the eyes of men and women of true culture and real discernment." It would be a great blessing if some of us would take this little quotation to heart and apply it regularly, and twice on Monday, so as to be sure and get a full dose. It will act better if taken without water.

"For the love of scandal innocence has no friendliness." In all institutions, the people with the broader visions of life will not be found belittling the lives of their fellow students or slurring the reputation of their associates. They have a purpose in life and know only too well that "the love of scandal dwells in minds that have grown old in scenes of intrigue and debauchery."

INTERCOLLEGIATE

A Christian Association will be organized for the men at Reed in the near future.

On the reclassification of the colleges of the United States Whitman was placed in the A class.

The Girls' Glee Club at Whitman will take a trip to Spokane and other inland Empire points during the Easter holidays.

The tuition of each student in the U. of Illinois costs the taxpayers of that state $300 per year, according to Pres. E. J. James.

In the first basket ball series played in the Eastern division of the conference league, U. of Idaho won all three games from Whitman.

The U. of Oregon has recently installed a new swimming tank and organized a water polo team. A game with Multnomah has been planned for the spring.

A match between the O. A. C. and U. of O. co-ed teams will be held in May. Another between U. of O. and U. of California awaits the decision of the Athletic Council.

A short story class held in Portland as one of the extension courses of the U. of O. has met with great success. From a membership of 25 it has increased to over 50 in a very short time.

As soon as those now taking the civil engineering course at O. A. C. and U. of O. either quit or graduate, that course will be abolished at both colleges, because there are not enough students taking that subject to justify its maintenance.

The faculty of U. of O. has voted to abolish hazing of every description, thus paving the way for student government. A student council will be formed as soon as an investigation of the system of student rule used at other colleges is completed.

With their appropriation campaign now over and their plans under way for a new $100,000 building to be ready for occupancy by the second semester of next year, Pres. Campbell of U. of O. announced that attention would now be given to increasing the efficiency and scope of the various departments. An architectural course, which will treat of the various kinds of structural designing, will be added and a school of commerce established. This last will not be a duplicate of the work given in business colleges, but its object is to prepare men for consular service and commercial work in foreign lands. Economics, finance, foreign languages, and sciences will be included in the course.

TAKE BIG JOY RIDE

Willamette Boys Have Big Time with Borrowed Auto.

Five Willamette students had a very exhilarating joy ride in a borrowed automobile one evening this week. A leaking carburetor in the gas wagon was the source of much annoyance to E. Paul Todd who cranked and puffed at the machine until exhausted, when the sedate Paul Homan appeared on the side lines. He speedily imbibed the spirit of the game and was soon in action alternating between matches and cranking. It remained for Charles Ohling and Maxwell Ball to succeed in coaxing the rebellious engine to snort in a decidedly forcible manner by a reversing of the throttle. The two former mechanics were let off at a convenient spot and the two late comers jumped in and started off. Wesley Todd was picked up in passing and he became inveigled into the horseless carriage and was persuaded to try to charm the engine by means of the crank. The second delegation of joy riders by this time were getting sleepy from their two-hour ride under the chilly, frosty starlight and soon slowed up and turned homeward. When last seen in the neighborhood of 1 o'clock Wesley Todd was venting his personal persuasion and critical spleen on the buzz cart in question, which had moved exactly half an inch from the time when his illustrious brother started the ride at 7:30.

DRAMA CLASS IS LARGE

Many Enroll For Subject Just Added to the Curriculum.

Dramatic interpretation is among the new courses being offered this semester for the first time. The course deals with the origin and history of the drama and includes a study and lecture work on some of the modern dramas and dramatists. Professor MacMurray who has made special preparation along this line is giving the course.

At present the class numbers about 60 and its size continues to increase. Because it was impossible for all desiring the subject to come at any other time the class has the unique distinction of being the only class that meets at 12:30.

Professor MacMurray has laid interesting plans for the latter half of the semester. After the class has become thoroughly familiar with the art of dramatic interpretation he intends to present a drama upon the campus. Twelfth Night, the play under consideration, is admirably suited to the outdoor presentation. The stage will probably be somewhere in the eastern part of the campus where the trees and shrubbery make a beautiful background for the comedy.

The class is very enthusiastic and are anxious to begin on the play.

COURTS PUT IN SHAPE

Armed with shovels, rakes, and hoes, a small band of enthusiastic students appeared on the tennis courts on Saturday afternoon prepared to clear the courts of fallen leaves, rocks, sticks, candy sacks, grass and sundry other superfluties of a winter's residence to "the tall uncut."

The middle court was attacked with much vim and now poses a fair playing surface on which the co-eds may gambol at will. As Dr. Sweetland stated at the student body meeting Friday, the game of tennis will be primarily for the young ladies, as they are mutually excluded from the more vigorous sports.

Five courts will be prepared for use this spring, thereby leaving room for all comers. Each college class is to keep one tennis court in playing order and, since the academy students seem to be so proficient in courting, it is thought well to allow them the privilege of fixing the fifth court.

With the courts in good condition tennis surely will be a popular pastime.

AT THE KLOSHE KLUB

Miss Krenning was a guest at dinner Sunday. It is rumored she called to inspect Kloshe Klub etiquette.

Manager Stanford Moore has returned to school after being ill at his home in Lents for over a month. He is reported as filling his father's pulpit on several occasions while he was home.

Merwin E. Paget, son of B. Lee Paget, a member of the Willamette University board of trustees, who has been at his home in Portland for the past two weeks is back again.

James Corpe, who has been a regular attendant at all Kloshe Klub meetings the past semester, left Tuesday morning for Montana where he will sell the old reliable aluminum. He will be back next fall.

The club members are very busy nowadays trying to keep all the university affairs straightened out and running smoothly. No policies in regard to the coming student body election have been announced.

Full utilization of school property and the development of the civic center plan are among the things brought to the attention of the state by the extension division of the University of Kansas.

SOPH CLASS ELECTS

Fair Sex Rewarded With All the Offices Within Gift of Class.

The Sophomore class election on Thursday was conspicuously militant in all its aspects. The air rebounded with the toots of the steam roller with the exhaust on in full blast and reverberated in unanimous and exhilarating motions in favor of respective members. The heavyweight division predominated in the final roll call and the decision was rendered in favor of Genevieve Avison, president; Beryl Holt, vice president; Ada Ross, secretary; Anne Ketel, treasurer; Ruth Boyer, reporter, and Ermine Harding, sergeant-at-arms.

University of Michigan, Feb. 16.—The Michigan Union, which now has a membership of 2751, is believed to be the largest student union in this country. It is estimated that 32,000 persons were entertained at the 400 luncheons, dinners, "get-togethers," "loungers," etc., last year.

Y. W. C. A. HAS NEW CABINET

At a special meeting on Friday the Y. W. C. A. elected officers for the following year. The following were chosen: President, Mildred Bartholomew; vice president, Lella Lent; secretary, Esther Emmel; treasurer, Ann Ketel.

The heads of the departments of the cabinet have not yet been chosen but will be decided upon this week.

The cabinet this year holds a position of unusual importance because of the cabinet conference and for this reason it is gratifying to know that such competent officers have been selected.

This is a very interesting affair and is an unusual opportunity to gain real information upon the Y. W. C. A. as a world power, as well as an inspiration in our own colleges. This will necessitate some extra effort on the part of all who are interested in the work but especially on the part of the cabinet members.

Miss Bartholomew, the president, is well fitted to fill her office in a creditable manner. She has been an active worker in Y. W. C. A. work ever since her entrance to college and will put life and zest into her work.

The vice president, Lella Lent, worked enthusiastically last year in the department of which she is now head. Her work consists in editing the handbook, corresponding with prospective students during the summer, meeting the trains in the fall, and helping the new girls to find pleasant places to live, and carrying on the membership campaign. This is a very important office and one which in a great degree determines the success of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Lent is well fitted for her work and has already begun to lay her plans for the future.

Miss Emmel is also well equipped for her office as secretary, which is the intercollegiate and publicity department.

Anne Ketel, the newly elected treasurer has proven herself a capable member of the last cabinet and will certainly fill her new office well.

The policy of the new cabinet has not been definitely determined as yet but the president states that it will be the aim of the cabinet to make the meetings of one hour as vital and interesting as possible. Some meetings along the line of social service have been planned. These should be a real source of inspiration to every girl.

WEBSTERIANS ELECT

Cider and Doughnuts Play Prominent Part in Meeting.

From the first number on the program to the hard cider and doughnuts at the close of the session, the Webs endured a thoroughly enjoyable two hours and a half last Wednesday evening. Emery Doane presented an interesting paper on "American Roads," and Earl Flegel distinguished himself by a talk on advertising. The debate on "Resolved, that emigrants shall be excluded from the United States for the next ten years" was, by nature, impromptu, and resulted in a rousing farce in the hands of Herman Clark and Alpheus Gillette of the affirmative, opposed by Harold Jory and Wesley Hammond on the negative. With the decision of the judges in favor of the affirmative. The society held a live business session with the election of the officers for this quarter. Political schemes, log-rollers and fiery speeches were vehemently hurled forth in every direction. Paul Homan was the survival of the fittest in the presidential race, Leland Sackett succeeded in swimming to shore, with the vice presidency. Timon Torkelson will keep the minutes with Earl Flegel at his left hand in the corresponding secretaryship. Jingle, Jingle will be Leland Bond's byword as he will be at the helm in the financial department; order will be maintained by ex-President Ben Neustel. With the aforesaid refreshments as the aftermath, the Web passed into a spirit of informal fellowship which closed with an immortal story by the irresistible Ray Mark.

SOCIETY NOTES

Last Wednesday evening the doors of the Philodorian and Philodorian halls were once more opened when an informal house warming was held. The Philodorians took matters into their own hands and carried out a plan based on the time honored scratch list method of the boys. Needless to say, the invocation was marked with decided success.

The evening's program, reading, Lulu Cullen; poems, J. R. Bain; piano solo, Prof. MacMurray; talk on advertising, Ralph Bagley; vocal solo, Ava McMahon; Little Orphan Annie, Hall Girls, was of exceptional merit and was thoroughly enjoyed. "Little Orphan Annie" was somewhat of a hoax as the "hall girls" appeared only by proxy; but the fraud was overlook as their proxies made a decided hit. Just observe Teeter's resemblance to Ava McMahon and try to imagine Charles Hall in Helen Wastell's hat.

The Misses Inez Goltra and Lucile Kuntz entertained at a Valentine party Friday evening at the Kuntz home on Fourteenth street.

The "Sorority House" was the scene of a most enjoyable dinner party last Friday evening when Miss Estella Chappell entertained a number of friends. The dining room and table were prettily decorated with hearts and cupid.

Miss Rosemond Gilbert was a charming hostess at a small party given in her apartments Friday evening. The evening was delightfully spent with games and music. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Welch, Miss Ione Lewis, Miss Clara Perkins, Miss Gilbert, Lloyd Haight, Jack Bartlett and Tinkham Gilbert.

The members of the Junior class were guests of honor at a large party on Saturday evening at the Court street residence of the Burens. Mr. and Mrs. Max O. Buren, Dr. and Mrs. Gaylard H. Patterson, Professor Wallace MacMurray and Miss Mary Cone received. Valentine decorations of growing red hearts and jaunty Dan Cupids, hung amid clusters of brilliant red carnations and festoons of greenery made the drawing rooms gay for the occasion.

The Durbin residence on Court street was the scene of a brilliant social function Wednesday when Miss Durbin was presented to society. The rooms were beautifully decorated with clusters of scarlet carnations and greenery. Several hundred society people called during the afternoon.

At Cornell University, this year, United States bureau of education at Washington, D. C. Among the men of the student body, advertising space has been secured in the Cornell Daily Sun, usually on the editorial page. Three times weekly this space (4 3-8 by 3 3-4 inches) has been used in displaying tersely worded information. Emphasis is placed on the scientific phase; information from only the most authoritative sources is used.

Last year this same work was carried out by striking poster exhibits placed in prominent places on the campus and about the buildings. A series of lectures on the liquor problem by professors and anti-liquor leaders is also conducted each year and a rousing prohibition oratorical contest held in the winter. The 65 members in the prohibition league have petitioned the faculty for a credit lecture course modeled after that at the University of California. They are also arranging student study classes.

Fewer Ministers.

Oberlin, Feb. 17.—An analysis of the professional distribution of graduates of the collegiate department of Oberlin College was rectly prepared by Bailey B. Burritt of the "Somewhere just emerging from college, or starting to practice law in a country town, are those young men who 20 years from now, will succeed Roosevelt, Bryan, Wilson, LaFollette, as the moral and political leaders of their generation. What will their issue be? The questions that agitate us now will have been settled. We think that one of these leaders will be a man who recognizes that alcohol is a poison and the prohibition in this country is quite largely a commercialized incident of the liquor business."—Colliers.

Every student and every professor (140 in all) in the prohibition league and every student enrolled in a one hour credit course on the liquor problem is the striking situation at Johnson Bible College, Tennessee.

Miss Letitia Thompson of O. A. C. Jamette Medical student, was a Salem visitor over Sunday.

The students were glad to note the safe return and presence in chapel of Mr. Paget, Jr., otherwise known as "Peggy."

The Adelante Literary Society was honored by the presence of two of their former prominent sisters, Mrs. Ross McIntyre and Mrs. Floyd Utter, at their meeting last Friday.

Ornithology is proving to be a very alluring course. According to Professor Peck's request, parties of ones, threes, fives and sevens have been going in search of specimens?

One of the most delightful luncheons of the week end was given by Ruth Boyer at her Winter street home. Story telling and singing around the fireplace were enjoyed by the Misses Mulkey, Lent and Boyer and by Messrs. Van de Vert, Sackett and Rice.

Dainty and extremely exquisite was the luncheon given by Miss Margaret Poisal Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Ices and candles carried out the idea of the season. The guests were the Misses Young, McMahon, Wastell, Avison, Kuntz, Goitra, Bartholemew, Garrison and Holt.

That the lecture on "Colds, their causes, preventions," et cetera, was greatly appreciated by the women of the Hygiene class was shown by the overwhelming attendance Monday afternoon. If the enthusiasm continues to increase at the present rate, more commodious apartments will necessarily be sought. Girls, be sure to hear Dr. Morse next Monday at 3:30 p. m.

The "Eta Beta" girls initiated two new members into their midst Friday night. A Valentine breakfast was served the following morning in the Ambrose-Cooke apartments. The tables were tastefully decorated with red candles and hearts. This breakfast was the crowning feature of the initiation. Present were the Misses Aileen Ambrose, Ester Cox, Florence Cooke, Lucille McCully, Marie Sneed and Pauline Pennebaker.

The Misses Barnes and Housel gave many of their friends a jolly time in their cozy apartments last Saturday evening. For some seasonable games were the source of pleasure, while for others, more industrially inclined, the tating shuttle was most energetically plied. Those who enjoyed the evening were the Misses Tobie, Johns, Sneed, Waldron, Ketel, Perkins, Winters, Thomas, Wheelton, Barnes, and Housel.

Miss Lulu Weseman was hostess at a very charming Valentine dinner Saturday evening. The table was artistic with ivy, sumac, angels, and a large heart centerpiece. Ices were ornamented with hearts. The after-dinner hour was spent with music and games fitting to the season. Those bidden were: Miss Edith Sherwood, Miss Aggie Alford, Miss Agnes Nichol, Mr. Percy Stoute, Mr. Benjamin Neustel, Mr. Joseph Gerheart, and Mr. Lester Proebstel.

COLLEGE NEWSPAPERS ARE TOO STRICTLY REGULATED

Such is View of Dr. Halcott Williams of Columbia School of Journalism.

College and university newspapers would be of a great deal more worth to their communities if those in control of the institutions were not so critical about the news printed, according to Halcott Williams, head of the school of Journalism, of the Columbia University. Dr. Williams speaks from personal experience. Some forty years ago he was managing the sheet of Amherst College, he printed a report of the financial condition of the school and brought down all the wrath of the "powers" on his head. Now, however, the faculty of Amherst has gotten over its fright and prints its report bravely every year.

"I tell young college journalists that they deal with too many petty things on the campus. I advise them to go out and find what's wrong and print it."
