

'Winter's Tale' Cast to Begin Dress Rehearsals at Parrish

Dress rehearsals will begin Monday for the twenty-four member cast of Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale," which will be presented at Parrish junior high school by the Willamette university players Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights next week.

Costumes were expected to arrive Monday, according to director Ruane B. Hill, drama professor. Actors will be put to a final test in three dress rehearsals in their first performances on the new stage of Parrish school.

High school students from Portland and other schools throughout the state will witness the final rehearsal on Wednesday, upon special invitation from the University.

Stanley Sheets, son of Prof. Alfred Sheets, will play the role of Mamillius, son of King Leontes of Sicilia, who will be portrayed by Bob Kaplan. Backdrops for the production are draperies, which will be emphasized by minor furnishings.

WU Prospects To Be Feted

Setting a new precedent in the promotion of Willamette university, prospective Willamette students from Portland high schools and their parents will be guests of the University on the nights of December 27 and 28 at the Crystal Ballroom of the Benson hotel in Portland. Pres. G. Herbert Smith announced this week.

Principal speaker of both evenings will be Dean Mark Hatfield, while Portland students enrolled at Willamette who are at home for the Christmas holidays will act as hosts and hostesses. The premiere of Willamette's recently completed on-the-scene technicolor movie of campus life and a musical program will complete the planned entertainment.

Plans have been made to hold a similar party in San Francisco during spring vacation, and another tentatively slated in Vancouver after the first of the year.

Truman Wired Protest

A group of Willamette student telegraphed President Truman this week expressing misgivings as to the actions of Gen. MacArthur in his authority as military leader and urged that India's Nehru be appointed mediator in the Korean situation.

Ore. Civil Service Invites Applicants For Accounting

Examinations for accountant positions with the state are now being conducted by the Oregon Civil Service commission. Forms may be obtained at any Oregon Employment Service office or at the State Civil Service commission office in the Public Service building in Salem. The wage scale varies between $272 and $336. Qualifications include two years' responsible general office experience including one year of accounting work, and completion of two years of college work or its equivalent.

National teacher examinations will be given in February, according to Dr. George Martin, head of the education department, who will provide additional information to interested students upon request. Tests will include general culture, mental abilities and basic skills, and professional information, and several other tests of specific subject matter.

The play is divided into twelve scenes, with only one intermission. "Winter's Tale" concerns the banishment of the king's daughter at her birth, and her later return as the wife of Prince Florizel of Bohemia, nephew of Leontes.

Tickets will go on sale next week in the student body office, and adult tickets will be sold at downtown locations, as well as by Kiwanis club members, co-sponsors of the play.

The 35-voice De Paur Infantry chorus, directed by Capt. Leonard De Paur, will be the second presentation of Willamette's 1950-51 concert series. The group will sing Sunday at 8:30 p. m. at the Salem high school auditorium.

Pierce Elected to Region Post As Vice-President of IRC

Jack Pierce, Willamette sophomore and president of the campus International Relations club chapter, was elected vice-president of the Northwest Region last Saturday at the annual conference held on the College of Puget Sound campus. This is the highest elective position in a region. The president is usually the vice-president from the previous year.

UNESCO Plans Film Series Here

Charlie Chaplin's face may soon adorn a movie screen at Willamette in a proposed cultural movie series sponsored by UNESCO, which will include both foreign and domestic films.

Approval by the student council to underwrite the cost of the first two movies Wednesday removed the last barrier from a program which will bring a great variety of films to the campus each semester if the first showings are financially successful.

UNESCO, represented by Don Carpenter, promised that the movies will be available to all students at a cost not exceeding thirty-five cents a ticket. The first movie will be shown January 12.

ASWU Finance Probe Opens

Where does the student body spend too much money?

Investigators began this week to probe into financial reports of ASWU-sponsored organizations as the "Little Hoover administration" opened its drive to make the student body into a more efficiently-run system.

Jack Gunn, chairman, announced that the commission had been split up into three groups to look into the finances. One body will investigate allocation of funds, he said, while the second will report on the us-

DePaur Infantry Chorus Here Sunday in Concert Series

Thirty-five male voices of the de Paur Infantry chorus, sponsored by the associated students of Willamette university, will be heard in the Salem high school auditorium Sunday at 8:30 p. m.

The male vocal ensemble is made up of 35 ex-GI Negroes under the direction of Leonard de Paur, known before the war as associate conductor of the famous Hall Johnson choir. De Paur, who enlisted in the army as a private and rose to the rank of captain, directed the chorus for the production, "Winger Victory," the play written for the army air forces by Moss Hart.

The chorus was the first important musical attraction to spring from World War II. This group was originated in 1942 by the men of the 372nd infantry stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., and gave more than 2,000 concerts for American armed forces during three years of world travel. Twenty members of the group are college graduates. Four are taking advanced courses at Columbia, and two at Julliard School of Music and one at City College of New York.

The program will include a variety of songs from many lands visited by the chorus on army tour, songs of World War II such as "The Ballad of Roger Young," songs of Latin America sung in Spanish and Portuguese, Negro spirituals, and secular and religious pieces, including "Ave Maria," and a Bach madrigal.

This Salem appearance is sponsored by the Associated Students of Willamette university, and is the second in a series of outstanding concerts. This is the fourth transcontinental tour of the chorus which has received a "sell-out" audience each time.

Self Rule Okayed

As of this week, four of the men's living organizations have approved the self discipline measures proposed by the student council last week and referred to each of the men's living units.

Those approving were Bishop manor, Baxter hall, Sigma Chi and SAE. The remaining two fraternities had not taken final action but were expected by their various members to approve.

Gunn Takes Speech Prize

Jack Gunn, Willamette senior, was the only Oregon winner of a first place at the annual forensic tournament of the Western Speech association in Los Angeles, November 20-22. Gunn won a gold cup signifying top honors in the experimental speaking contest.

Tom Scheidel, sophomore, was one of the 16 students out of a total of 60 who qualified for the semi-finals in the extemporaneous speaking division.

Gunn and Scheidel won all three of their debates in the preliminary rounds, but were eliminated in the finals.

The two members of the Willamette forensic squad competed with a total of over 400 students representing nearly every college and university in the far western part of the United States.

Portland Students To See WU Film During Vacation

Edwin Armstrong, director of financial development, announced today that a 30-minute movie depicting life at Willamette will be shown at WU parties in Portland on December 27 and 28 at which students will be hosts to interested Portland high school seniors.

Plans are being laid for a showing of the film on the Willamette campus sometime after the first of the year.

After some necessary retakes, the film is now being edited and Saturday it will be sent to California for final processing and the addition of a sound track.

WU Painting To Be Shown

A painting by Carl Hall, Willamette artist-in-residence, was selected from among contributions by thousands of artists to be included in an art exhibition by the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City December 8.

Hall's contribution, "Currents" submitted two months ago was selected from 6248 contributions as "truly representative of what American art is doing."

"Currents" will appear with 307 other paintings in the museum's show "American painting today—1950."

Hall will speak today before a meeting of the Soroptomist club in St. Paul's parish, Oregon City.

Lawyers to Hear Study Problems

A round table on study problems for freshmen law students, sponsored by Phi Delta Phi, law fraternity, will be held December 7 in Chresto cottage, a law school source announced this week.

Members of the junior and senior classes of the Law school will join with the freshmen in discussions of study techniques, source materials, approach to examinations, etc., with the aim of assisting them to make the most of study time and help them in organizing knowledge in preparation for final tests.

Czech Student Arrives Thursday

Jan Hajda, long-awaited student from Czechoslovakia, arrived on campus Thursday noon, according to Dean Mark Hatfield. To be housed in Baxter hall, he will audit courses until the end of the fall semester.

History Repeats Itself

Glancing through Collegian issues of nearly ten years ago, we got the impression of world events strangely paralleling those which have been shaping up during the present school year.

In the same issue, dated almost exactly nine years ago to the day, in which Mark Hatfield's cut was first used, headlines heralded the war which had broken out that very week. "Rulings Affect WU Japanese," "US Asks Report From WU Men," and "Campus Aids Nation's Plans for Defense" were some of the news stories which gave the Collegian of December, 1941, a very sombre appearance.

Editorial warnings of that first wartime issue of the paper advised students to be on guard against propaganda. They also cautioned Willamette's men and women to "be rational at a time when rationalism is not the vogue." They further stated, "We feel that college people should not become victims of unreasoning hatred toward the Japanese people, innocent really of any crime except that of being puppets to military warlords. This country faces two struggles today: one is military against the axis powers and their allies; the other mental and moral against the poison of hate. We are determined to retain those qualities which insure that this country will remain a democracy of free and thinking citizens."

In the present war scare, we cannot help thinking that everyone in the world—Chinese communist, Scotch highlander, Russian peasant, and American student—is a human being entitled to the respect and dignity that God intended for him. Blind nationalism in any country, including the United States, makes war inevitable, and now the communist warlords have bullied their people into another war, which has already entangled this nation.

Can we escape war? As a separate and completely independent nation in a world of many separate and independent nations, we cannot.

The answer to the hopes and dreams of the thinking citizen of the world today is obviously the United Nations. Certainly, it is weak, often exasperatingly slow, and defective in many respects. A great civilization, however, with an enduring "Pax Moderna," must be a unified one, even at the loss of some of our rights as individual nations.

With a strong organization of truly United Nations, war is not inevitable! In a UN actively supported by the thinking citizens of the United States and the world, we may someday escape the terrible tribulations of war. In another decade, college students of 1950—or those who have survived—will be in a strong position to determine world events.

Indeed, we must be rational. We must choose a path to peace. The United Nations is that path.

BEEFS-BOUQUETS

To the Editor:

On the nights of December 7, 8 and 9, approximately fifty Willamette students will be presenting the first theatre production of the 1950-51 season.

The play is William Shakespeare's "The Winter's Tale." It is a difficult play to do, whether from the director's or designer's or actor's point of view. It will be extremely important to all of these people that the production be well attended.

For the first time, a community organization has expressed an interest in Willamette theatre activities. The Salem Kiwanis club has offered to co-sponsor all three of Willamette's plays. Their half of the proceeds (having shared all production expenses in the beginning) will go to the activities of their underprivileged children's committee. The other half of the profits will be turned back into operating expenses of radio and theatre activities on campus.

Community interest is high. The question in this writer's mind is whether interest on the campus itself is high. In the past, student and faculty attendance at theatre productions has been middling, or less.

It is certainly hoped that attendance and interest will be more conclusive than formerly.

R. B. HILL.

To the Editor:

Mr. Brown and Mr. Yates, in true collegiate fashion, read only the words of my recent letter and failed to grasp the true thought contained therein: i.e., there are too many activities that lend nothing to a well balanced cultural background.

Both gentlemen need to re-examine the definition of "social activity" that precludes other than the pleasant activity of dancing or the authorized activities so naively referred to as the "major" social activities at Willamette.

If, as Mr. Yates has stated, too much social activity is a "yearly lament" then there must be too much social activity. Harold C. Lentz.

Glee Elections to Be Held

A Christmas theme, done in blue and silver, will provide holiday atmosphere tonight at "Frozen Fantasy," the annual Lausanne formal. Couples will dance to the music of Wayne Meusey and his orchestra amid silver tinsel draped along the walls, silver icicles, and snowflake patterns cut from blue gilded paper in frosted window panes. The snowflake pattern will also be carried out in the programs.

Wilma and Harriet Aller, social chairmen for Lausanne hall, are acting as general chairmen of the dance, and have asked Jane Not-son and Carolyn Crane to plan the decorations. Nancy Gore is in charge of the programs. Gloria Kainu has secured the band and Edna Staveland will serve punch a la mode and cookies from a corner refreshment bar. Evelyn Bolliger has made arrangements for the hall, Harriet Bennet is cleanup committee chairman and Betty Howell is in charge of publicity.

Intermission entertainment, planned by Phiscilla Pruner, will feature trio numbers by Barbara Remelmeyer, Lorraine Lauber and Mary Lou Johnson. Jane Gray will present a piano solo.

Betty Jean Mullin has asked Dean Regina Ewalt, Dr. and Mrs. Howard W. Runkel, Dr. Cameron S. J. Paulin, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bird and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie O. Williams to sponsor the affair.

Flowers are in order. All unaffiliated town women are invited to attend.

Beta's, SAE's Entertain At Semi-Formal Dances

Members and pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and their dates will dance amid an array of spun glass and blue lights in a "Mid-Winter Fantasy" at the chapter house's semi-formal dance on Saturday night.

Jim Switzer is planning the extensive decorations around a blue and silver color scheme. Two walls in the den will be completely covered with aluminum foil. An ancient tree, covered with silver grey bearded moss on a base of spun glass, will provide background for a spun glass snow man highlighted by blue lights. The living room windows will be banked with spun glass with blue lights shining through from outside. The dining room windows will also be banked with spun glass with a village scene silhouetted on one window and Santa and his sleigh silhouetted on another large pane.

The SAE's traditional green Christmas tree adorned with silver icicles and blue lights will be a center of attraction along with the silver Santa Claus descending the fireplace, lighted only with blue light from inside the chimney. Guests will select their flowers from a tree in the foyer.

John Grabow, social chairman, has appointed the following committees: special entertainment, Bill Covert and Gene Holliday; decorations, Jim Woods, Dale Ackerman and Glen Spence; refreshments, Ward Stanton and Larry Carrol, while Kent Myers will act as chairman of clean-up.

Sponsors for the evening will include Mrs. Higbee, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Beal and Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg.

Betas Dance Tonight

To the music of the Charlie Nee trio, couples at the Beta Theta Pi house dance tomorrow night, will dance in a wintry, "Wooglin's Den", amid a Christmas ski lodge atmosphere. The theme honors Wooglin, patron saint of Beta Theta Pi, and decorations will follow the holiday mood. Santa Claus, making a special pre-season appearance, will present a gift to each guest.

Earl Killifer and George Matile are co-chairmen of the decorations committee, Cliff Gregg is arranging the entertainment, and Buz Sawyer is in charge of invitations. Refreshment chairman John Ambler will serve hot cider and cookies.

Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Lovell, Mr. Robert Reid and Dr. and Mrs. John Myers have accepted Jim Jackson's invitation to sponsor the affair.

Semi-formal dress is in order.

Frosh Honorary Entertains at Tea

Freshmen women who achieved a grade point average of 3 point or better during their high school years were honored at a tea given Tuesday evening in Lausanne hall by members of Alpha Lambda Delta. Requirements for entrance into the honorary were explained by Sue Shipley, president, and Dean Regina Ewalt. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

The tea was held following the initiation of new members Virginia Benner, Wilma Aller, Jane Foosee and Shirley Helweg.

Late Pers Given

One o'clock late permits were given Friday night for the Lausanne hall inter-dorm formal dance according to Regina Ewalt, dean of women. The Saturday night deadline for the two fraternity dances is 12:30 a. m.

The program included short talks by each attending instructor and Dean Seward P. Reese, and skits presented during intermission. Grant V. Mumpower was master of ceremonies and Lauren Miller and Don Marshall planned the program.

Three Women Reveal Engagements And Wedding Dates This Week

Members of Delta Gamma and Lausanne hall were surprised early this week by several announcements of engagements and wedding dates.

Doris McCain Engaged

A series of Shakespearean quotations found at the Delta Gamma house during the dinner hour Tuesday evening prefaced the announcement of the engagement of Doris McCain and Ted Loder.

Miss McCain is a junior major in music and a member of Delta Gamma. Loder, also a junior, is a philosophy major and is affiliated with Beta Theta Pi.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Lausanne Hears Troth

Yvonne Grinnell announced her engagement to Dale Wallace of Portland Tuesday evening during dinner at Lausanne hall.

Small red hearts were used as decoration on the tables and the traditional box of chocolates was passed revealing a picture of the couple.

Miss Grinnell is a freshman on the campus and Wallace is employed in Portland.

Wedding Date Told

Members of Delta Gamma received news of the engagement of Maria Puckett and Paul Gander during dinner Monday evening. The wedding date has been set for January 5 at the First Congregational church in Salem.

Miss Puckett, a former Willamette student, is a member of Delta Gamma and is now employed in Portland. Gander attended Oregon State college.

Bearcats Begin Hoop Wars Against Strong Chieftains Tonight at Seattle

Coach Johnny Lewis' Willamette Bearcats will open their 1950-51 basketball campaign tonight when they meet the Seattle university Chieftains in Seattle.

"The boys have shown plenty of improvement, but still do not have the spark which they had last year," stated Lewis yesterday morning before boarding the train for Seattle: Doug Logue,

Ted Loder, Dick Brouwer, Al Brown, Chuck Robinson, Larry Smith, Claude Nordhill, Lou Scrivens, Hugh Bellinger, Ken Benschopf and Dan Montag are the Bearcats making the jaunt to Seattle.

Regulars to Open

Lewis plans to open with last year's starters who are Logue and Loder, forwards; Robinson, center; and Scrivens and Bellinger, guards, though everybody will probably see action in the two-game weekend.

Coach Al Brightman's Chieftains are gunning for their fifth straight victory in tonight's game. They have already played in four games this year, but still have 31 games to go. They have downed Western Washington, 88-67, and Alpine Dairy, 60-53. The Chieftains established an all-time high scoring mark in a single game when they trounced University of British Columbia, 94 to 61. The following night Brightman's boys again scored 94 points as they defeated UBC again this time by a score of 94 to 72.

O'Brien Twins to Start

Bill Higlin, Elmer Speidel, Les Whittles, John O'Brien and Ed O'Brien will start for the Chieftains. Reserves Bill Cheshier, Bob Fieser, Bob Hedequist, Jack Doherty, Jim Hill, Oscar Holden, Bob Miller, Ray Moscatel and Jerry Vaughan will also see action.

The O'Brien twins, who are slated to start tonight, are the "Basketball's Gold Dust Twins" called such by the nation's sports writers for their sterling performances on both offense and defense. John, who is the better of the two, scored 539 points last year for the Seattle university Frosh squad and is averaging about 20 points per game this season.

The Chieftains with the attitude of "this is our year" use the fast break to overcome their small height. They average 6' 1" per man. Coach Brightman vowed that the team would run their opponents ragged this year and according to their previous showings they are living up to that vow.

'Cat Harriers Fourth In Cross Country Run

Thirty-three hopefuls from OSC, Oregon, Portland U, Willamette and Lewis and Clark ran the three-mile course at Portland U in the Portland invitational cross country run on Saturday, November 17.

Team scoring was as follows: OSC 39, U of O 54, Portland 63, Willamette 75, and Lewis and Clark 116.

Crossing the finish line first was Pete Mundle of the University of Oregon in the time of 16:55.0. OSC, however, took home the team trophy. Others placing in the meet were: 2nd, Fisher, OSC; 3rd, Pendleton, Portland U; 4th, Wetzler, OSC; 5th, Fullerton, OSC; 6th, Honeycomb, Portland; 7th, Wes Stauffer, Willamette; and 8th, Ralph Stevenson, Willamette.

Wally Boe, Ted Daigle, and Jerry Kelly from Willamette finished 16th, 19th and 28th. Darrell Brown and Jerry Grimm completed the Bearcat roster entering the run.

Pacific Badgers Stop Willamette Bearcats 26-7; Drop Bearcats to League Cellar With Whitman

The Willamette Bearcats finished their grid season on a dismal note, losing to the Pacific Badgers at Forest Grove by a 26-7 count. The loss gave the Bearcats a season's record of four wins, two ties, and four losses. Injuries greatly hampered the team in the final game as was the case nearly all season. Willamette won its first four games, tied the next two, and then dropped the last four to give the final total.

The winning Badgers scored right off the bat to take an early lead, and scored a single touchdown in each stanza as they kept the lead throughout. Willamette's only score came in the third quarter when fullback Bob Taylor intercepted a Pacific aerial and raced 55 yards for the touchdown. Taylor was aided by excellent interference, especially on the part of big Art Beddoe who kept up with the swift back all the way.

Final for Seniors

The touchdown was the third in the final two games for Taylor, a senior who had seen little action in his four-year stay at Willamette.

This game was the final one for several of Willamette's outstanding griders including Captain Chuck Bowe. Others seeing their final action included Beddoe, Taylor, Al Minn, Bill Ewaliko, Keith Sperry, Bob DeBord, Burnell Ambrose, Jimmy Noa, and Charley Nee.

A League Begins 'Mural Basketball; B, C Leagues Start Slate Tomorrow

Baxter hall, the Hoosiers, the Betas, and the All Americans were winners of the first A league intramural basketball games held this week.

Close games marked the play as Baxter and the Hoosiers eked out one-point victories in the Monday night openers. Baxter topped the Sigs, 24-23, on Wally Richartz' last second field goal, while the Hoosiers squeaked past the Phi Deltis, 20-19. Tuesday evening, the AA's tripped the SAE's, 32-26, and the Betas walloped Bishop manor in the only one-sided game so far, 42-21.

The intramural setup this year is made up of three leagues, A,

B and C. The A circuit, consisting of the teams mentioned above, will play on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The B loop will play its games on Friday afternoons or Saturday mornings. The league has six teams competing. Five teams compose the C league which plays on Saturday mornings or afternoons, according to when the B teams play.

High scorers in the action so far are led by Bob Jewell of the Betas with 14 points. Del Githens of the Hoosiers dumped in 13 counters while Baxter's Wally Richartz and the AA's Dick Mase tallied 12.

Frosh Ball Starts; 30 Prospects Out

Frosh basketball started last Monday as 30 prospects reported to their new hoop mentor, Sam Vokes.

Vokes stated that most drills this week will consist of fundamental ball handling and conditioning. Assisting Vokes this year will be a former Willamette basketball player, Pete Bryant.

The two coaches have stated that the team has a very rough 19-game schedule facing them as they play only three high schools this year. The rest of the games will be against college frosh teams. Among the tough ones the Frosh will play will be a home and home series with the Oregon State Rooks and the Oregon Frosh. Portland's Babes are also on the schedule for a game.

Duane Shields, Jim Moyer, Layton Gilson, Gene Timms and Ray Williams are now working out with the frosh.

Student Lounge of Aquinas Hall
Providence College
Providence, R. I.

Meeting the gang to discuss a quiz—or just killing time between classes—the Student Lounge of Aquinas Hall at Providence College is one of the favorite places for a rendezvous. At the Student Lounge, as in college campus haunts everywhere, a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola is always on hand for the pause that refreshes—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Plans for the proposed Alpha Chi Omega sorority house, subject to war demands, were nearly clear this week for construction before next fall. President Margie Powell said that the group hopes to move 28 members into the $60,000 or more structure in September.

AXO's 'New Home by Fall' Hangs on World Conditions

"A new home by fall" is the expectation of Margie Powell, president of Alpha Chi Omega, who announced this week extensive plans for a new sorority house to be built soon, barring a change in world conditions, at a cost in excess of $60,000.

Construction will begin sometime near the first of the year, she said, unless additional unforeseen developments force a further postponement. The Korean war, with its building restrictions and sudden price rise delayed any construction since June when architectural plans were first approved.

The three-story wooden structure will be built on Chemeketa near 14th and will house 28 women. The lot faces the Mill stream.

Other world developments could easily cause further postponements, Miss Powell said. Next fall, however, was set as the planned moving date. No contractor was announced.

The present building, rented from the Presbyterian church, has been used since 1947.

'Worthal' Coming!

"Worthal" is coming to the Willamette campus. Arrangements are now being completed to publish this now famous cartoon series by Bibler in the Collegian. The cartoon now appears in college papers in 36 states including the Oregon State Barometer and the University of Oregon Emerald.

Willamette Students Steal Paul Bunyan Axe; Whitman, Phi Delt Freed of Year-Old Guilt

The Willamette-Whitman axe was stolen last year by members of the Willamette student body, according to information received this week from a reliable source. This announcement followed closely the disappearance of the axe last week for the third time in five years.

According to the source, five men took the axe to "raise a little excitement."

The entire group, he said, is now in the armed forces. And although no other identification was made he said the men lived off campus and that four were from homes outside the continental United States.

The group entered the Cat Cavern following last year's Whitman game by breaking a small window. The Paul Bunyan axe was then shipped to Whitman which, after some delay, returned it C.O.D.

Whitman, although confused by the unexpected gift, made no strong complaints since it had never seen the axe, except when swiped, since 1946, when it became a symbol of rivalry between the two schools.

The Willamette group again perloined the axe the day after it was returned. Entrance to the Cat was made this time through the unlocked front door. It was shipped to friends in Oakland, California, who painted it and inscribed the sign of Phi Delta Theta on its handle before returning it.

At no time, the news source said, was anyone outside the Willamette campus responsible for the removal of the blade. All threats made to certain schools, he said, were in vain.

Rotarians Honor Football Captain During December

Chuck Bowe, senior and captain of the 1950 football squad, was voted Rotarian-of-the-month for December by the student council Wednesday.

Bowe, who is a four year letterman, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He was president of that group when they became national in 1949, and is also a member of Blue Key, upperclassmen's honorary.

A married student, he became the father of a baby boy, Larry Stewart, this fall.

Musical Variety In Concert Today

A varied program of music by the Willamette chamber orchestra in its first concert of the year and six student soloists will be heard in the College of Music recital hall this afternoon at 3 p.m.

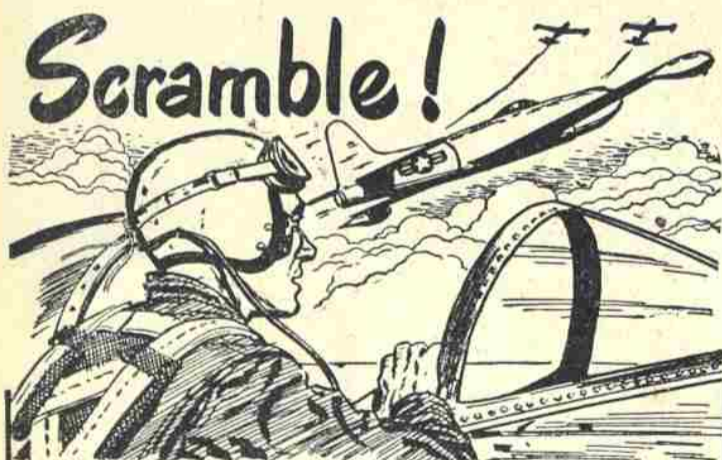

Heard will be Glennis Allen, mezzo-soprano; Virginia Benner, pianist; Wayne Meusey, pianist; John Kaemmer, baritone; Charles Nee, tenor; and Gladys Blue, pianist.

He may be contacted for interviews through the director of admissions' office.

The American Institute for Foreign Trade, now in its fifth year, is located at Thunderbird Field, Phoenix, Arizona.
