

Election Platform

Candidates Explain Their Reasons For Seeking Offices.

PRESIDENT

Next year will be my fifth year at W. U. Even in these few years which have passed under my observation, I believe that there has been a noticeable improvement in the spirit of the student body, individually and collectively. The president of the student body is in a strategic position to urge and stimulate this progressive movement, and, if elected to that position, I shall serve to the best of my ability.

Kenneth Litchfield.

COLLEGIAN EDITOR

Realizing the fact that the Collegian is the outstanding news organ of any school on the coast, one can only pledge his best efforts to the maintenance of that standard.

Paul Geddes.

After having been connected with the Collegian during the past three years I am seeking election to the office of Editor, realizing full well what the job entails. In doing this I am pledging myself, with the help of my staff, to put out a paper which will be not partisan in nature, but a paper representing the news and true spirit of the Willamette campus. I will do my utmost to answer the challenge of the standard set by former year's publications, and the promise of the future with the ever-growing W. U. spirit.

Wm. B. Smullin.

WALLULAH EDITOR

Since entering Willamette, my prime interest in school activities has been along journalistic lines; and I would welcome and enjoy the opportunity to continue along this line as the editor of the "1929 Wallulah." If elected, I will do my utmost to see that our Alma Mater is represented by the best possible annual.

Incidentally, I will assure all steady fusers that they will not be placed in any compromising situations in the satire section of the publication.

In speaking of college annuals, it might be well to quote the words of Boney, who says "The art of a thing is, first its aim, and next its manner of accomplishment."

Frank Van Dyke.

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

If elected to the office of first vice-president, it shall be my aim to sponsor many and better student body social affairs, to promote the spirit of friendliness and union among all students, to co-operate with the other student body officers and to faithfully perform to the best of my ability all other duties of this office.

Georgia Fairbanks.

Student body social activities, which should attract the whole group, are the main problems of the first vice-president. Some, whom I think for the honor of the nomination, have by petition placed my name on the ballot for this place. If I am selected, I will fulfill the duties of this office to the best of my ability.

Reulah T. Lanier.

I am interested in seeing every girl on the campus in student body affairs and would make an effort toward effecting some sort of organization of women students similar to that known as A. W. S. at some other universities. Also, since social affairs fall into the department of the first vice-president, I would like to see the feeling of friendliness

DEBATING TOURNAMENT DEFINITELY CANCELED

Willamette Forensic Season Approaches Close; One Oratorical Contest Remains

The state debate tournament sponsored by the State Forensic association and scheduled for the week-end of April 27 and 28 at Willamette has been definitely called off.

Due to the fact that the association had but recently decided to hold the tournament, many of the schools were unprepared, not all had been debating the subject for the debate contest. In other schools, the forensic season was completed and the team disbanded. Only one university besides Willamette had signified its intention of participating.

The forensic season at Willamette is now nearly completed. There are remaining but two inter-collegiate freshmen debates and one oratorical contest. When the season is over, the Forensic Festival, annual affair to stimulate and encourage forensic activity for the ensuing year, and the Bar-W banquet will be given.

PROFESSION OF FORESTRY EXPLAINED BY OFFICIAL

Deputy State Forester Speaks in Chapel in Observing American Forest Week

S. F. Cronmiller, deputy state forester, spoke in Chapel Tuesday on the profession of forestry. He presented the profession as an opportunity for service and success and defined forestry as the protection, care, and utilization of our forests. His appearance was in accordance with the nation-wide observance of American Forest Week from April 22 to 28.

According to Mr. Cronmiller the first national forest was established 37 years ago and the first institution to give instruction in forestry in the United States was Cornell which first offered a course of study in 1890. The number of such institutions has now increased to 25.

He emphasized the special opportunity for forestry in the west where the last large stand of virgin timber remains. He also explained the permanency of the profession by showing that there were at least 522 million acres of land in the country which were fitted for no other purpose than that of timber production.

NEW PLAY LEAD PICKED FOR IBSEN PRODUCTION

Jesse Turner Takes Part Dropped by Frank Alfred; Date Set for May 25

Jesse Turner, a freshman in the law school, has been selected to take the leading role in the Theta Alpha Phi play, The Master Builder. This selection came as the result of the vacancy in the cast left by Frank Alfred who found that it was impossible for him to carry the extra work necessitated by practice for the play.

According to announcement the play will be given in Waller Hall on May 25. The play is heavier in character from that of the usual college play and is calling for unusually heavy practices by the cast which is being coached by Dr. J. O. Hall.

DELEGATES EXPLAIN CONVENTION PROGRAM

Louise Nunn and Frances McGilvra Return From Conferences at Seattle

That it was fortunate that no candidates for student body offices were included among the Willamette delegates to the convention of Associated Women students seems to be the opinion of Frances McGilvra and Louise Nunn who returned this week from the University of Washington. They expressed the opinion that the Willamette candidates might learn a few things which would change the quiet character of the present campaign. When it comes to high power methods the local office seekers are comparative amateurs and shrinking violets.

As for regulations, they have come to the conclusion that their alma mater might be worse, although it did not approach in any way the liberality of the University of California at Los Angeles. At the University of Washington they found that upperclass women had to be in by 12:30 on week-end nights and that freshmen only enjoyed such privileges once a week-end and had to stay in after 7:30 during the week. Considering the fact that to attend the different functions that it was usually necessary to go a considerable distance, the difference with conservative Willamette rules might readily be explained.

Both delegates expressed the desire to see Willamette affiliate in some way with the other college women groups. This could in their opinion best be done by having an organization of Associated Women Students on the campus. The first step in this direction they suggested was making provision for the first vice-president of the student body to assume the duties which would normally be those of the president of the associated women students. Such an organization would provide for better contacts with the women students of other camps and would better centralize the conduct of peculiarly women activities which are now carried on by different organizations.

Reports at the convention would seem to reveal that the best method of conducting the big sister movement was that somewhat similar to that used at Stanford. Here the big sister has a group varying in size from ten to fifteen girls and she lives with this group in the dormitory during the first two weeks of school. That this plan in a modified form might be used at Willamette was thought possible by the delegates.

Both of the Willamette representatives were high in their praise of the University of Washington as a host. Every need was anticipated and the details admirably planned.

DONEY DEPARTS FOR GENERAL CONFERENCE

President Serves as Delegate At Large to Methodist Governing Body

GOVERNOR CROWNS QUEEN

University Head May Not Return to Campus Until Commencement in June

President Carl Gregg Doney will leave tomorrow for Kansas City to attend the sessions of the General conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. President Doney is the delegate at large from the Oregon conference. He plans to be gone at least a month and possibly may not return before commencement.

Governor L. L. Patterson has consented to take the place of President Doney at the coronation services for the May Queen.

President Doney while at the conference will serve on the three important committees of the Episcopal church: Education; and Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals. These committees meet for three sessions each week, making a total of nine committee appointments each week on the schedule. The general conference, which is the most important governing body of the Methodist church, will be composed of about 800 official delegates from the United States and all parts of the world. Other delegates from Oregon are the Rev. Sidney Hall, Dr. A. L. Howarth, and the Rev. Thomas Acheson.

President Doney just returned last evening from Spokane where he gave the commencement address for the Spokane Deaconess hospital graduating class.

CUBS NOMINATE OFFICERS; FINAL VOTE TAKEN TODAY

Miller and DeHartport Nominated to Lead Underclass Organization

The Cubs, underclassmen's campus service organization, met in Eaton Hall last Thursday to nominate officers for the coming year. The candidates for office are as follows: President, Raymond L. Miller; Vice-President, Francis L. DeHartport; Secretary, Frank E. Mason; Treasurer, Ralph S. Schomp.

Today at noon the Cubs will meet at the New Salem restaurant for lunch, at which time further nominations may be made. Election of officers and installation will conclude the noon meeting.

QUEEN VIRGINIA MERLE ENTERTAINS ON SUNDAY

Royal Party Now Complete; Willamette Night Offers Unusual Features

The first event anticipating May Day will be on this coming Sunday afternoon when Queen Virginia Merle will be "at home" to all her subjects between the hours of three and five o'clock at the Delta Phi sorority.

The queen's party has been officially chosen. It will consist of Queen Virginia Merle, and maids of honor Phoebe Smith and Genevieve Junk. The escorts of the royal party will be Kenneth McCormick, Charles Redding, and Paul Trueblood.

The Queen's car is to be a Chrysler Imperial Sedan.

David Smith Jr. has been chosen as crown bearer. Plans for Willamette night, the concluding feature of the May Day program planned for Saturday evening at the Elsinore promises to have several attractive features. The senior girls will put on the stunt which won for them first place at the co-ed carnival period. The May Day manager promises the costumes for the event will be fitting and proper, but not too fitting and not too proper.

Miss Kathleen La Raut Wren, a former May queen will sing at the musical concert to be given at Waller hall on May 5.

STUDENT BODY ASSUMES HANDBOOK PUBLICATION

Science Students Who May Leave On Field Trip Have Privilege Of Voting

If the biology and zoology classes determine to take a field trip on Friday they will not have to lose the privilege of voting in the student body elections according to provisions made in the meeting of the executive committee for the taking of their ballots immediately after chapel today in the student body office. Also for the convenience of

DECEASED INSTITUTIONS OBJECT OF INVESTIGATOR

Earl Pemberton Finds Records of 32 Institutions of Higher Learning in State

One of the students on the Willamette University campus, Earl Pemberton, has been engaged for some months busily digging up the dead institutions of higher learning in Oregon. No, he is not an excavator, or even a ditch digger, but an industrious Senior scholar in Sociology satisfying his burning curiosity. His research work in the field of dead Oregon colleges has led him into some exciting adventures. Some of the records he has read would make the exciting tales learned in English History seem tame.

Mr. Pemberton has found thirty-two dead colleges in Oregon. Some of them seem to have had almost as many lives as the cat we have heard about, for they revive from time to time, and die again. One of these dead colleges, Oregon City College, started as early as 1849, but it died young, being buried about seven years later. At Monmouth there was a school known as Monmouth University which later became Christian College. Both of these institutions were under the Christian church. They ceased to exist and Monmouth State Normal was founded. Years ago the Methodist Episcopal Church South organized Corvallis College which later became O. A. C. and which is now unofficially called O. S. C.

Portland University was a rival of Willamette for years. It was as large as Willamette and was supported by Methodists. Ashland College was founded by the Methodist church and the school that is now known as Southern Oregon State Normal is running under a charter that was given to Ashland College by the State Legislature to conduct a normal school.

Most of the deaths of these institutions, according to Mr. Pemberton, were caused by financial difficulties and factional troubles among the church supporters.

Most of the work being done by Mr. Pemberton is primary work, which has never before been collected and written into one thesis. He has found material at almost every large library in the State, including the libraries in Portland, Salem, O. A. C., U. of O., and the Portland Historical Society library.

ANNUAL STAFF INCREASE PUBLICATION PAGE SIZE

Borders of Book Printed; Proof Sheet Being Corrected Daily by Editor

The size of the Wallulah for this year has been increased from eight by ten and a half inches to nine by twelve and a half inches. This increase in the size of the page standardizes the size of the page so that it is the same as that used by other annuals of the larger colleges. The book this year will contain 256 pages in comparison with 238 pages as of the preceding year. The increase in the size of the pages will make up for the decrease in the number of pages.

The cover is gray embossed with a design depicting a bit of Oregon scenery. The color scheme of the book calls for the printing of the border in gray and the design featuring another bit of Oregon scenery. The borders were run through the Statesman press early this week.

DISTRICT CHANCELOR INSTALLS FRATERNITY

Delta Theta Phi Takes Place of Blackstone Club; Honorary Members Received

Last Saturday afternoon April 21, 1928, marked the advent of the national fraternity Delta Theta Phi to the College of Law of Willamette University. District Chancellor Thomas B. Collins installed the Charles E. Wolverson senate being assisted by several members of the Portland Alumni senate. The installation took place in the Salem Elks' Lodge, the privileges of which were also for the banquet following.

The charter members that compose the members of Wolverson senate were the former members of the Blackstone club that has since nineteen-twenty-three been a semi-honorary organization within the law school. Membership has been based on general professional ability.

Delta Theta Phi came into existence in 1905 when the three most eminent national law fraternities combined to form Delta Theta Phi. There are at present sixty-four chapters on the campuses of the large colleges in the United States. Pres-

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB CLOSE CONCERT YEAR

Home Concert Marks Climax of Successful Season at Oregon Theatre

PROGRAM WELL SELECTED

Club Under the Direction of Professor E. W. Hobson Give Real Concert

The Women's Glee club brought their twentieth annual concert season to a successful conclusion last night in their home concert at the Oregon Theatre. Under the direction of Professor E. W. Hobson, director of the school of music, the club presented a program which was a concert in the proper sense of the term, the program being not merely good entertainment. The club displayed the results of a season of intensive training and practice. The ensemble numbers of the club showed that the personnel was well balanced.

Soloists for the concert were Margaret Arnold and Frances McGilvra, and Marjory Miller. Jean Hobson, accompanist for the club played one piano number and an encore. Edith Findley played two numbers on the marimba.

Other features of the program were two readings by Kathleen Garrison and a stunt presented during the intermission.

The program for the evening was as follows:

DRAMA LEAGUE PRESENTS "THE STRONGER," FRIDAY

Tryouts for "The Land of Heart's Desire" Planned to be Held Next Week

Under the auspices of the Salem Drama League a series of one act plays in which several Willamette students participate will be presented at the Oregon theatre in the near future.

"The Stronger" is to be presented tomorrow evening, and the "Horseshoe" a week from today.

"The Traveler," a play by Booth Tarkington, which will be given two weeks after May Day, includes four Willamette students in the cast. These students are Kathleen Garrison, Jean White, Raymond Derrick, and Jack Minto.

Carlton Gaines is the boy in "The Boy Comes Home" which will be presented in the near future.

Tryouts for "The Land of Heart's Desire" by Lady Gregory will be held next week. A notice will be placed on the bulletin board in Eaton Hall as soon as a definite date is decided upon. Willamette students are urged to try out.

These plays are being directed by Marjorie Walker with the assistance of Donald Grant.

FRATERNAL COUNCIL CALLED BY CHAIRMAN

Drawing up of Pledge Rules for Next Year Subject of Special Consideration

A special meeting of the inter-fraternity council has been called for today by Prof. Robert M. Gathe chairman of the council. The special subject which will come up for consideration is the drawing up of definite fraternity pledge rules to go into effect for next year. Since the adoption of the new constitution for the council it has definite powers regulating such matters.

Other items of business will also be considered at this meeting

CO-ED REVELERS RELEASE LONG SUPPRESSED ENERGY

Program of Carnival Revels Daring and Ingenious of Normally Quiet Co-eds

Didn't we have fun. Loud bursts of laughter. A shifting mass of color. Was it a portrayal of the "Melting Pot" or had the inmates from the institute which makes Salem famous been liberated? No, it was just Co-ed Carnival. Daring Freshmen appeared as Spanish Cavaliers, Russian slave drivers or pirates. Independent Co-eds blossomed into coy, artful hoop-skirted maidens. Congenial groups organized into families and ludicrously dressed themselves accordingly. Damsels ordinarily deemed timid and modest threw much aside and proved that "you never can tell." Boys appeared in abundance. (It is to be hoped that at least some of them were girls in disguise.) Towels and gunny sacks were forced into the realm of fashion. One far sighted vamp of 1850 had provided herself with a hat big enough to hide two—better than umbrellas. Four wicked looking members from a deck of cards paraded back and forth. A faculty lady was there with flaxen curls and a Dutch costume. One original individual succeeded in attracting an audience most of the evening. She had made herself look so like the Hunch Back of Notre Dame that even the stalwart pirates shivered at the sight of her.

The Freshmen began the program of stunts. They staggered upon the stage singing "The Volga Boatman" and tugging at a rope which seemed sufficiently heavy to be attached to Hercules, himself. When all the spectators were wiping their eyes in sympathy, out rolled one of their classmates dressed in rompers and calmly mounted upon a kiddy-car tied to the rope.

Next came a bit of Sophomore mysticism presenting five pretty husky looking spirits. Then came the Junior stunt with six snappy chorus girls (extremely note worthy) and several artistic tableaux.

The Seniors, decked out in pajamas and bathing suits marked the climax of the evening with their musical comedy entitled "Through the

DEAN DAHL COMMENTS ON WASHINGTON MEET

Conference Contributes Much of Practical and Idealistic Value to Delegates

"Draw taut the bow, set the mark high on the rugged hill. It matters much where the targets are. We can acquire the skill," was the challenge from Dean Jamison that permeated the entire spirit of the recent conference of Deans at Seattle, according to Dean Oliver M. Dahl who was in attendance there. She states that this conference was well worth while in both its practical and idealistic qualities.

One of the most informing speakers at the conference, says Miss Dahl, was Dr. George K. Pratt, Vice President of the National Committee of Mental Hygiene who brought forth the thought that the leaders of young people should look to the motives and causes rather than to the physical expression of restless youth, and so to remove the underlying trouble rather than to create inhibitions through superficial methods of correction.

Considerable emphasis was laid on physical well-being for women in regard to scholarship from the standpoint of diet and housing conditions. It was said that the most serious phase of the problem was to be found among those living in private homes which do not lend themselves so readily to satisfactory regulation. Yet, it is particularly in sororities that the most crowded housing conditions exist, on most campuses.

Miss Theima Mills, alumna of Willamette University, presented a paper on the Committee System of Administering Dean's Work as Miss Helen Bishop, Dean of Women at the University of Wyoming, could not be present. Miss Mills is now Director of the Dormitory at the University of Wyoming.

The Misses Louise Nunn and Frances McGilvra drove to Seattle with Miss Dahl as delegates from the Willamette University Associated Student Body to attend the Associated Women Students conference, which was also meeting there. The two conferences held joint meetings once each day.

Miss Dahl gave unstinted praise for the exceptionally well-organized entertainment that was afforded the delegate guests. The most attractive places of the city were obtained for their enjoyment.

Miss Dahl also noted a number of pleasing features of the U. of W. campus. An attractive new library is being erected there, but the most

STUDENT ELECTIONS CENTER OF INTEREST

Litchfield Unopposed for Presidency; Smullin and Geddes for Collegian

CLOSE CONTESTS LOOM

Second election possibility as Result of filing of additional Petitions

After tomorrow afternoon the student body elections for another year will have become an event of the past.

Unless some unforeseen events arise Kenneth Litchfield who is unopposed for the office of president of the Associated students will become the chief executive of the student body for the coming year. Litchfield is a letterman in tennis and basketball, is president of the Blue Key service fraternity, and a member of Delta Theta Phi, legal honorary. His election will again mark the continuation of the practice of selecting the student body president from the membership of the law school.

Since the report of last week William B. Smullin who is running for the position of Collegian editor has encountered opposition in the form of Paul Geddes, who is the editor of the 1928 Wallulah. Smullin is manager of the Collegian at present, and has been prominent in class affairs as well as being a former president of the Blue Key service fraternity, and a member of Delta Theta Phi. Both men are members of the Blue Key.

George Poor and Frank VanDyke are the two sophomores who aspire to the editorship of the 1929 Wallulah. Both have been members of the Collegian staff and Poor is now managing editor of the Collegian while VanDyke is sports editor of the Wallulah.

The race for the vice-presidency assumes the character of a triangle with Jean White, Georgia Fairbanks, and Reulah Lanier each making one corner. Georgia Fairbanks has been prominent in dramatic activities on the campus, has held class offices and has served on the staffs of both the Collegian and Wallulah. Reulah Lanier has held different class offices and been director for Freshman Glee. Jean White holds the position of social chairman of the Y. W. for the coming year, has held various class offices, and been prominent in the affairs of the W. A. S.

For the office of secretary there are four candidates. All are members of the junior class and have been prominent in the class activities. The four women are Mary Clamfield, Alice Lane, Beatrice Lockhart, and Reulah Wampler. Mary Clamfield is the society editor of the Collegian and an officer of the Phi-Opsolans. Beatrice Lockhart has served on the cabinet of the Y. W. and on the staffs of the Collegian and Wallulah. Alice Lane is associate editor of the Wallulah and a member of Coffee House.

Three men are candidates for the second vice-presidency. Reeve Betts, Ivan White, and Wilburn Swafford are the candidates for whom petitions have been filed. Betts is leading man in the junior play of this year. White is a letterman in tennis, has been manager of football, and is now the junior representative on the executive committee. Swafford is manager of the song book and prominent on the cabinet of the Y. M. C. A.

The entrance of more than two candidates for the office of first and second vice-president makes it highly probable that there will have to be a second election to determine the outcome for these offices. This results from the fact that the student body constitution provides that it is necessary for a majority vote in order to elect.

JOURNAL OF MORPHOLOGY PRINT MASTER'S THESIS

Professor Monk Receives Galley Proofs for Article in Science Publication

Professor Cecil Monk has just received the galley proofs of his master of arts thesis which will be published in the June issue of the Journal of Morphology. The thesis is the result of work done at the University of Illinois during the years 1926 and 1927. The subject of the thesis is "The anatomy and life history of a freshwater mollusk of the genus Sphaerium." The freshwater mollusk is popularly known as a finger nail shell and is about the size of the little finger nail.

The article will be about 32 pages in length and will include six text figures along with two plates of drawings of the details of the anatomy of the mollusk.

ADVISING OUR ELDERS

The trustees are probably the most frequently condemned and at the same time the least known group of any affiliated with Willamette university. If either the students of faculty desire to explain the absence or the presence of some thing, which is at the time proving particularly unpleasant they immediately lay the blame at the foot of the trustees who continue blissfully ignorant of the rich reward of ingratitude that they are receiving for their public service.

This is not written in the spirit of criticism, but is rather an effort to express the appreciation of the student body, toward those members of the trustee committee who saw fit to visit the campus last week and get actual first hand information from students in regard to student opinion and student activities, and to urge the continuance of such a policy and the wider use of it in the future. We do not know whether they are entirely satisfied with their findings, but at least they could not have failed to get something of the student point of view and have a better basis on which to carry on their work as trustees.

We do not presume to dictate to our elders as to what should be a proper course of action, even though we may have definite opinions on the matter, but we do suggest that other trustees might find it possible to make the opportunity of knowing the student body better and allowing the students to know them. The benefits of such action would be mutual. Both students and trustees have fundamentally the same aspirations and desires to be realized for Willamette.

The trustees are busy men and hold responsible positions. We appreciate their services, but we do believe that all concerned might profit from a somewhat closer co-operation between students and trustees.

IF YOU DON'T WEAKEN

Theodore Roosevelt was a living example of the strenuous life. He not only advocated it but practiced it. Yet at the same time he gave this advice to college students who were considering attending college with the intention of working their way through by their own efforts: "Take a job for a couple of years, save enough money to allow you to study leisurely until your funds are gone and then repeat the process."

Coming from a man who would naturally be expected to counsel proceeding ahead toward the realization of a goal at all costs, this idea of the inadvisability of a student spending a large part of his time which should normally be devoted to scholastic work in earning the funds where with to continue his education merits at least a second consideration.

A writer in the Century magazine even suggests that one of the first questions which should be asked of prospective students is whether or not they have the necessary funds to enable them to hope to secure an education. According to this same writer, "One job is enough for any man; two means a thinning out somewhere; three means slavery."

No doubt a large percentage of the low grades, on the part of the men students at least, can be explained on the basis of too much outside work. A tired mind and a tired body will refuse to respond to even a strong will.

On the other hand we have numerous examples of those who waste hours which might just as well be spent in some form of labor. The ideal combination would seem to be that of the seriousness and the value of time, which comes as the result of the necessity of working one's way, along with the opportunity of doing something more than that which is absolutely required, which is the privilege of the student who does not have to provide for his own immediate financial needs.

Every situation has its compensations, and students whether working or merely carrying on the one duty of students, have the opportunity of enjoying a great life if they do not weaken.

IN ANTICIPATION OF VACATION

The New York Post recently ran the following account of an interview with a business man:

"Whenever a college man applies to me for a job I never inquire about his scholastic standing. What I want to know is how he spent his summer vacation—three months per annum, and before he gets his degree that amounts to a whole year, the most valuable, I think, of his entire collegiate course. Never again will he have a similar opportunity. If he has wasted it, I know something about him; he has a record worth showing."

If every college student who aspires to some day holding a job would try to satisfy the particular whim which some successful business man follows in selecting his employees, there would be many more foolish actions of college students seeking explanations. However, this thought in regard to the selecting of the method of spending the vacation period has merits.

A student might well choose to spend his vacation period in some phase of the work which he some day hopes to follow permanently. If this is not possible, there are many other opportunities open to those who are seeking to make the vacation months days of profit and enjoyment.

Begin to plan your vacation now and take some definite purpose in view in laying your plans.

We wonder if the little refrain "Got to have a date" sung by the senior girls was the result of their experience at the senior reception.

An economics student had discovered that there is one automobile for every six people in the United States. The sixth persons at Willamette have been mostly absent when the distribution was made. This is one social injustice which is felt most acutely on a fine Sunday afternoon.

Editorial writers of several metropolitan papers have seen fit to comment on the smoking habit of a four-year old infant. Perhaps we might get by heavier if we confined our remarks on this subject to infants of a more advanced age.

According to a report some college women admit that they spend 55 minutes of each day just talking. This is another proof of the frankness of the modern generation.

ELECTION PLATFORM

forthright by more affairs on the special which would include every student body member.

Joan White.

SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT

If I am elected I will endeavor to carry out the duties of the office and in any manner possible those with I am associated to keep the Willamette Student body above par in finance and in spirit.

Reeve Beta.

I am interested in the advancement of the student body and will, if elected, do my best to keep the financial standing abreast with the other student activities.

Wilburn Swafford.

It is the duty of the second vice-president to issue student body tickets, to supervise the construction of the annual budget, and to serve as a member of the executive committee. If I am elected, I will endeavor to faithfully fulfill the duties of this office as well as to co-operate in every possible manner with the other student body officers.

Ivan White.

SECRETARY

I solemnly promise if elected to read the minutes so that they can be heard by the smallest freshman in the farthest corner of the room.

Mary Clamfield.

My manager is out of town, and I refuse to say anything that will incriminate me.

Beatrice Lockhart.

I will if elected fulfill the duties of the office of secretary to the best of my ability, and as a member of the executive committee will strive to secure better feeling among the organizations on the campus.

Beulah Wampler.

SPORT SIDELIGHTS

Tryouts for the Freshman tennis team will be held this week by an elimination tournament. Fourteen men have entered and the matches will be run off this week. The men as they are paired are as follows, Page-Kellow, Ring-Patton, Hageman-Waddel, McGilvra-Hollenberg, Baldersee - Gilhausen, Harmon - Hollister, Glass-Well.

attractive feature of all to Dean Dahl was a new gymnasium for women, which she believes is of primary importance in giving the women of the university an equal opportunity with men in the field of physical education.

Miss Dahl hopes to see a number of the benefits derived from the conferences applied to the Willamette campus.

Surely the following chorus has a lingering survival power almost equal to the famous "Hallelujah Chorus."

Oh, we haven't many more days here
Not anyone of us stays here
We'll be starting along
Humming a song
From tonight
We haven't acquired much knowledge
But we're glad we came to college

BASEBALL TEAM LOSES SECOND PRACTICE GAME

Leifbitter Pitches Entire 9 Innings; U. of O. Scheduled For Week-end

The Chemawa Red Skins severely trounced the Willamette Bearcats yesterday for the second time this season by a score of 11 to 5. The lack of a second string dependable pitcher was severely felt. In the course of the game Coach Keene used 5 pitchers with little success until he used VanNise who was fairly dependable.

Sol Fleury, Salem Senator outfielder, pitched for the Indians for the first six innings of the game and allowed but two hits and struck out nine men. He also connected for a three base hit.

C. Meachem scored in the last of the third after stealing to second and going to third on a hit by Atkins. In the last half of the fourth Johnson walked, Pratt singled, Curley tripled scoring Johnson and Pratt. C. Meachem doubled, G. Meachem walked, Atkins singled scoring C. Meachem. George tripled scoring G. Meachem and Atkins, but was out on third when he overslid. Johnson walked and then Spencer fled out. In this inning Chemawa scored 7 runs on five hits and made enough so that the Bearcats were unable to surpass their lead.

The Bearcats scored first in their half of the fifth when Ebinger was safe on an error and Cardinal doubled. The Indians scored again in the sixth when Atkins was safe on an error by Girard, and Fleury tripled. Goudy replaced Fleury at pitcher and issued walks to the first three men to face him. Hawk fled out but Trachsel doubled scoring Dietz, Adams and Welch.

The only redeeming feature of the game is that a second string pitcher was unearthed. With additional experience Yannice promises to be a valuable asset to the team.

The box score is as follows:
Willamette AB H R
Dietz, M. 4 0 1
Adams 2 4 0 1
Massey 1 1 0 0
Hawk 3 5 1 0

OREGON STATE DEBATERS SEE PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

Secret Service Men Order Debater to Take His Hands Out of Pockets

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, April 25 (PIP)—Senator McNary, you are the kind of a senator I like to see bring in young men who go around the United States debating and winning," said Vice-president Charles Dawes when the Oregon State debaters were presented to him at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Dawes congratulated the men cordially and showed much interest in the debaters of the western colleges, report members of the team.

True to form, Mr. Dawes was smoking an up-side-down pipe, much to the amazement of Grant McMillan, alternate debater, who could not see how the tobacco stayed in the pipe.

The team then went to meet President Calvin Coolidge. Before entering the president's office the team stood waiting in the hall. John R. West, manager, was standing in the usual collegiate manner with his hands in his pockets.

"Take your hands out of your pockets!" commanded a secret service man.

West did not hesitate. He had no intention of killing the president.

Senior Girls Place First

At Co-Ed's Carnival Frolic

Saturday night the chapel of Waller Hall was the scene of the stunts of the annual co-ed carnival.

The senior girls won first place with their musical comedy, "What Alice Wondered," written and directed by Elizabeth Hyde. Needless to say, the title had nothing to do with the nature of the production, which was one of the cleverest ever presented on such an occasion.

The freshman class presented a highly dramatized version of "The Valgar Boatman" and well-deserved its award of second place.

"Sophomore Mysticism," which placed third, featured white-clad mystics and a healthy spirit voice which revealed many campus secrets.

Fourth place was given to the Junior class stunt "Songs and Pictures," which was a series of pictures representing well-known songs.

After the stunts were presented, the costumed group went to the gymnasium, where a grand march was held, and afterwards dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

Doney's Honor Senior Class

With Reception at Lausanne

Honoring members of the senior class, President and Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney entertained Friday evening with a lovely spring reception in the parlors of Lausanne Hall. Baskets of pink and white tulips, white lilacs and apple blossoms were used in decorating the rooms.

The evening was spent with games and music. Martina Pruitt accompanied by Margaret Schreiber gave several vocal selections and Mrs. Harry Crouse gave Scotch songs and readings.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cakes, macaroons, coffee and mints were served by the Misses Winnie Arthurs, Mary Allen and Yvonne Cornell.

Guests of honor included Dean and Mrs. Frank Morton Erickson, Dean and Mrs. Roy R. Hewitt, and Miss Leila Johnson.

Young Couple Surprise Friends

With Marriage Announcement

The wedding of Margaret Johnson and Rodney Alden was announced last Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Martin F. Ferrey at the home of Dr. W. A. Johnson, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Alden is assistant librarian at Willamette University, and was graduated from the university last June. Mr. Alden is the son of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Alden, and obtained a bachelor of arts degree at Willamette in 1923. He was graduated from the law school last June and passed the bar examination the following month. He has recently opened up an office in the First National bank building.

The young couple are making their home at the Hazelhof apartments.

Miss Helen Pollock, Miss Winifred Graham, and Miss Josephine Bross entertained in honor of Mrs. Alden's marriage at the home of Helen Pollock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pollock, 602 N. Winter street, Tuesday evening. Pink tapers, pink tulips and spiraea were tastefully arranged about the rooms. During the evening three tables of bridge were played, honors being won by Alice Putnam and Ella Pfeiffer. At the refreshment hour dainty corsages of sweet peas and forget-me-nots which revealed a card bearing the announcement of the marriage were presented each guest. Mrs. Alden was given a bouquet of spring blossoms. Those present were: Mrs. Alden, Mrs. John C. Pollock, Mrs. Roy Harding, Mrs. Webster Ruble, Mrs. Ralph Curtis and the Misses Lella Johnson, Alice Putnam, Dorothy Ferrier, Betty Rice, Genevieve Junk, Helen Baird, Elizabeth Hyde, Ella Pfeiffer, Bertha Orford, Helen Pollock, Winifred Graham and Josephine Bross.

University Men Enjoy Annual Stag-Mix at "Y"

The University men staged their annual stag-mix at the Salem Y. M. C. A. Saturday night.

There was first a series of basketball games, between four teams of mixed fraternity and independent membership. Then followed two boxing matches, one between Glenn Huston and Ramond Waddill, the other between Van Bateson and Carl Galaher.

Clever stunts were presented by the Alpha Psi Delta and Epsilon Delta Mu fraternities.

Punch and doughnuts were served as a conclusion to the evening's program.

Helen Benefield of Corvallis and Lorraine Darby of Monmouth were the week-end guests of Georgia Striker and Leona Clothier.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Edwards of Portland visited at the Delta Phi house Monday.

Mrs. J. H. Lewis of Portland visited Margaret Lewis at the Delta Phi house, Friday.

Delta Phi announces the pledging of Miss Frances Virginia Melton as an honorary member.

INVESTIGATORS DISCOVER STUDENT'S LIFE NORMAL

Average Woman Student Spends 55 Minutes of Day Just Talking; Men 40

MOSCOW, Idaho.—The popular picture of a college student busily burning the midnight electricity for study or amusement is greatly exaggerated, judging by diaries kept by 100 students at the University of Idaho.

During one week, according to Science Service, the students kept scientifically precise records of their activities all around the clock. The diaries were analyzed by Prof. C. C. Crawford of the department of education, and Alfred G. Goldsmith.

The students averaged eight hours and 20 minutes sleep a night. Women students put in 55 minutes a day "just talking." The men spent only 40. Personal activities, such as dressing and self-beautification, took up an hour of the average man's time. The women spent an hour and three-quarters on personal up-keep.

University men on the other hand, spent almost three hours a day on amusement, 35 minutes more than the women students. The average student put in more than an eight-hour day in study and classes for the usual five-day school week.

The average student's life, as pictured in the diaries, is a normal one and holds little that is startling, the investigators state.

HAYWARD WILL TRAIN INDIAN DISTANCE MEN

University of Oregon Track Mentor Will See That Red Skins Train

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, April 26 (FIP)—Bill Hayward, who has coached Oregon track for the last quarter century and has acted as trainer for many Olympic stars, has been secured by the Oregon Cavemen to train Mad Bull and Flying Cloud, Karook Indians, for the annual Redwood Empire Indian Marathon from San Francisco to Grants Pass, Oregon.

Mad Bull won the 480 mile race last year and Flying Cloud was second, but the Indian runners were considerably handicapped by improper training. Immediately following the marathon, which begins June 14, Hayward will sail for Amsterdam, where he is one of the trainers of the American entrants in the Olympic games.

Dean Hewitt Speaks on Sportsmanship in Athletics

The chapel program yesterday was put on by the "W" club. Kenneth McCormick, president of the organization, introduced Dean Roy Hewitt who spoke on "Sportsmanship."

In his address, Dean Hewitt spoke of the need of physical culture for all human beings; and said that competition in games was one of the best ways in which to secure this physical culture.

He said that football was a man's game in which true sportsmanship was a great factor. To learn the give and the take necessary in football one has to be a real man.

As basketball becomes more and more a science, Dean Hewitt said that he had more respect and enjoyment for it. Track takes clean living in order for an individual to succeed. The need in all sports, however, is that one shall be a true sportsman.

In chapel yesterday Dean Hewitt spoke regarding the benefits of participation in intercollegiate athletics. The same truths hold for intra-mural athletics. Until this year there has not been a systematic attempt to put on a constructive program of intra-mural activities. The success of the schedule of this year in this particular may not have been all that it might have been, but the success has been sufficient to warrant further attempts in this regard.

The Freshman Law class conclusively demonstrated its ability to best the Juniors at indoor baseball when they won last Thursday's game by a score of 12 to 2. This is the second victory for the first year men. The Freshmen started out in fast shape and scored eleven runs in the first three innings. After the third inning Litchfield, pitcher for the Juniors, got better support and held the Freshmen to one run for the rest of the game. Corey pitched heady ball for the first year men and had good support from Denman and Campbell.

WHITMAN SHOW STRENGTH IN EARLY SEASON GAMES

Walla Walla Aggregation Have Record of Six Games Straight to Credit

Whitman College with a free hitting team and four strong pitchers has emerged from six games undefeated and is picked to clean up the Northwest Conference.

In its first game Whitman defeated the strong Columbia University nine, and then won from the University of Idaho team. On its road games the Missionaries first took Ellensburg Normal into camp 4 to 3 and 12 to 11. College of Puget Sound bowed before the slugging of the Walla Walla boys in two games 8 to 5 and 4 to 0.

The pitching of Waterman and the hitting of Bailey, outfielder, and Eckhart, third sacker, have featured all the games this season.

WILLAMETTE DEFEATED IN PRACTICE ENCOUNTER

Chemewa Proves Too Much in First Game; Ledbetter Pitches Good Ball

In their first game of the year the Willamette baseball nine lost to the Chemewa Indians 4 to 1 last Friday. The Bearcats showed themselves weak at the bat and they could only collect three hits of the pitching of Fleury.

Keene used three pitchers, Ledbetter holding the Indians scoreless for the three innings that he was in the box. Versteeg and VanNise each hurled for three innings but couldn't hold the Indians down.

Keene used three pitchers, Ledbetter holding the Indians scoreless for the three innings that he was in the box. Versteeg and VanNise each hurled for three innings but couldn't hold the Indians down.

Batteries: Willamette, Ledbetter, Versteeg, VanNise; Kaufman, and Cardinal. Chemewa: Fleury and Atkins.

MISS MARGARET BARNARD SPEAKS FOR WESLEYANS

Red Cross Workers of Lane County Presents Opportunities of Social Service to Campus Group

The Wesleyans had a very interesting meeting, Wednesday noon, with Miss Margaret Barnard, of Eugene, as the speaker. Miss Barnard is the American Red Cross worker in Lane county, and is presenting the opportunities of the social service worker as a profession to students on various campuses. Since the Wesleyan club is composed of the students on the Willamette campus who are preparing themselves for, or are considering, some phase of Christian full-time service, Miss Barnard showed that some knowledge of social problems and how to meet them is needed by nearly every religious or church worker. The Portland School for Social Workers, which is a part of the University of Oregon, gives excellent training for social service. One advantage in the Portland school is that it is near at hand. Ministers are continually meeting with social problems. Missionaries and other church workers also would find use for any social service training they may obtain during their period of preparation.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TRYOUTS PLANNED FOR THIS WEEK

Matches Scheduled with Linfield Team for Saturday on Home Court

Tryouts for the women's tennis team that is to play Linfield here Saturday are being held this week. Eight women are paired off in an elimination tournament which will decide the positions of the winners on the team.

The two lettermen Louise Nunn and Louise Findley are paired with Emily Brown and Kathleen Garrison and should win their matches. Of the new candidates Pauline Findley, Margaret Morehouse, and Edith Starret have showed up the best. Edith Starret won from Betty Lewis 6-2, 7-5 in her first match. Pauline Findley is matched with Margaret Morehouse.

The Linfield women have not played any matches this year but they have practiced with the McMinnville H. School girls and should be in good shape for the match.

MAY DAY TRACK MEET DEFINITELY ARRANGED

Linfield Promises to Give Plenty of Competition for Bearcat Cinder Artists

With Linfield definitely scheduled to compete in the annual May Day track meet, a new interest is being shown among the W. U. tracksters. The class meet, which was scheduled for May Day, has been changed to next Tuesday, and will be a determining factor in selecting the team to compete against Linfield.

Linfield, with a veteran squad on hand, will furnish plenty of competition. The Linfield team has been practicing faithfully and have been showing fine form in early season workouts. Willamette, with poor track conditions, is somewhat behind the rest of the schools in conditioning, but with the good weather, they will be ready to go at top speed on May Day.

At present Willamette looks likely to score a good share of their points in the distance runs. In both the mile and two mile, capable men will enter. The loss of Fesher is a serious blow to the locals' chances in the half mile, and it is likely that this event will have to be taken care of by some of the new men turning out.

Willamette is given the edge in the weights events and looks equally strong in the javelin. Last year Willamette took the first three places in the javelin, and with the same men back again, Willamette seems likely to repeat. In the 440 yd. dash Willamette has some good men, upon whom Coach Sparks is counting to take points. Linfield made a clean sweep this year; however, some of the Freshmen sprinters may strengthen the squad in these events. In the jumping events, Linfield again seems to have the edge, and it is likely that they will score the major share of points in these events.

By winning the relay, as the last event, Willamette was barely able to nose out Linfield in last year's meet. The fact that Linfield has practically the same track-team of last year, seems likely to furnish a closely contested and spectacular meet again for the 1928 track meet.

LAW SCHOOL VICTORIOUS IN INITIAL DONUT GAME

Law School Combines Good Pitching With Airtight Fielding and Heavy Hitting

Displaying a powerful attack and an almost airtight infield the Law School opened the Donut League indoor baseball season Monday afternoon with a 18 to 7 victory over the Sigma Tau. The game was played in the gym because of the wet field.

Grabor, pitching for the Sigs, was wild and he was given poor support by his teammates. He had plenty of speed but the Lawyers connected with his delivery at will.

Corey did some nice hurling for the Law School and he was backed up well by his team who forced many men at second and made three double plays.

Mort and DeHarport were the shining lights for the Sigs, while Denman, Campbell, Goodenough, and Ebinger played fast ball for the Lawyers.

ALPHA PSI BEST KAPPA IN SECOND DONUT GAME

Pitching and Bunting of Litchfield Outstanding Feature of Loose Game

In a slow and ragged game the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity defeated the Kappa Gamma Rho Fraternity team in the second game of the first annual indoor league.

Litchfield was by far the outstanding man of the game. He allowed only 7 hits, some of these were due to sloppy fielding. Besides he won his own baseball game by knocking out two home runs and a double.

The game however was a very poor exhibition of fielding and batting. During the first three innings neither team scored. In the last half of the fourth Litchfield lifted a mighty drive that traveled almost the entire length of the football field. In the first half of the fifth the Kappas came back to tie the score with singles by Gaines, King and Risley. Some of these hits were due to errors however. In the last half of the fifth the Alpha Psi's were held scoreless but in the last half of the sixth they scored four runs off of Tomlinson who had relieved W. Kaufman for the Kappas. Six singles and one home run by Page were garnered in this inning. Again in the first of the seventh the Alpha Psi's scored. White walked and then Litchfield drove a fast one through left field for a homer. The Kappas attempted to rally in the last half of the seventh when Gaines walked and C. Kaufman and Risley singled to score Gaines after two outs were called but Bateson ended the game by hitting three fouls.

Litchfield struck out 11 out of the 27 to face him and made seven men line or fly out.

The box score of the game is as follows:

Kappa Gamma Rho	B	H	R
Ring	2	1	0

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET SCHEDULED NEXT TUESDAY

Hopeful Fresh Out to Garner Points for Interclass Rivalry Competition

The annual inter-class track meet, to be held Tuesday, promises to be a closely contested and highly spectacular meet. The large number of determined rooks and the high quality of veteran men indicates close competition in all events.

In the sprints the Fresh will be strong and at present look to have first and second places clinched. In the distances and in the jumps the upper classmen hold the edge, while the weight events seem evenly divided. At present the Fresh look strong in the hurdles and are counting on points in this event.

All men in the University having previous track experience or having track ambitions, are urged to enter the meet. The entries, in the dashes are limited to one man from each class, with a fifth man to be chosen. In the field events each class is limited to two men, but in the distance runs as many men from each class may be entered as wish to.

VARSITY TENNIS MEN PLANS THREE MATCHES

Mommouth, Oregon State College, and Linfield Billed to Meet Bearcats

The Willamette Varsity Racquet-tees play three matches this weekend. Today they meet the Mommouth team at Momouth Minto, Litchfield and White will form the three singles teams while Litchfield and Haworth will form the doubles combination. Minto has found himself and is playing the best tennis of any man on the team. Unless Litchfield and White can snap out of their apparent slump, Minto will have a cinch on the number one position.

Tomorrow Willamette meets the O. S. C. team at Corvallis. Willamette will be represented by five singles men and two double teams. The men representing Willamette are Minto, Litchfield, White, Haworth and Hagaman. Hagaman is a freshman and will get his first varsity competition. He is rounding into form and may be made third or fourth man on the team as soon as he is given a chance to eliminate the veteran players.

Saturday against Linfield the team will be seen in action on the home courts for the first time this year. The team that will be used will probably be the same as is used against Monmouth unless a change is deemed advisable.

BEARCAT NINE DEFEATED IN CONFERENCE LEAGUE

Vannice Gives Promise of Becoming Good Relief Pitcher in Chemewa Game

The Willamette baseball nine traveled to McMinnville Tuesday and lost to the Linfield Wildcats in their first conference game 7 to 6.

The Bearcats were able to hit the delivery of Martyn, Linfield hurler, but they eased up whenever they gained a lead and let the Wildcats overtake them. Five errors marred the playing of the Willamette nine.

Ledbetter pitched the entire nine innings and hurled a fair game, giving if anything too many good balls. Several changes were made in the outfield but the infield remained intact with Hawk at third, Glrod at short, Adams on second and Welch on first. Kaufman was relieved by
