

PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS GRADUATE BIG CLASSES

Address by Dr. Young Feature of Impressive Exercises Friday.

MARKS LAST MEDIC COMMENCEMENT

Charges to Classes, by Dr. Griffith and Judge Burnett, Full of Practical Advice

The commencement exercises of the Colleges of Law and Medicine occurred last Friday evening at the First M. E. church, when 37 Law students and 9 Medical students completed their professional courses.

The address of the evening was given by Dr. Benjamin Young, of Portland. With his usual force and eloquence he presented the beauties of a life devoted to an altruistic ideal.

He spoke of the rapid pace of modern American life, and the necessity of adequate preparation and the proper spirit with which a young man must equip himself in order to successfully face the activities of life.

First, the intellect must be supreme over the body. But more than this, the young man must have moral muscle, for the power at the heart of the universe is spiritual. Then the ideal has become a great force in the life of the world today. It is the ideal of service that has captured the world; it is the ideal of service that makes the earth beautiful; and the ideal of service will bring about brotherhood among all men. Dr. Young closed by presenting to the graduates this ideal as the incentive of their future careers.

The degrees of M. D. and LL. D. were conferred by President Homan.

In the charge to the Medical class, Dr. Griffith spoke of the obligations which they as doctors must assume, and then gave several points of advice from the doctors of the faculty which would be of use to them as they begin their practice. He also mentioned that this was a notable event in the history of the school since it is to be the last graduation of the College of Medicine, because of the recent merger of that school with the medical department of the University of Oregon at Portland. He spoke of the recent tendency among American Medical schools toward consolidation. As his opinion of the matter he said that he considered that this was unwise as it did away with the small schools where the students come in personal touch and under the more immediate instruction of the professors, than could be possible in the larger schools. Besides this, it would tend to make the cost of a medical education much higher and out of the reach of all except wealthy young men. Dr. Griffith's talk was very timely and much appreciated.

Judge Geo. H. Burnett delivered the charge to the Law graduates. He spoke of their coming practice in the profession and the duties which would come to them. The standard he set for them was "Do the best there is in you."

Dr. Griffith presented the Tamise medal for highest scholarship during the four years' medical course to Chas. E. Bates, who some time ago took highest honors in the state examination.

The musical numbers on the program were rendered by Prof. R. B. Walsh, and by Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, whose solo "Haymaking" won great applause to which she answered with an encore. The peerless orchestra played several selections during the evening.

A crowd which packed the church to the doors was present to appreciate the

WALLULAH IS OFF PRESS AND IN BINDERS HANDS

Advance Copies out in very few Days and distribution last of next Week.

The Wallulah has just left the printers and is now in the bindery. Advance copies of the edition will be out Monday or Tuesday of next week, or perhaps even the latter part of this week. The sale will probably start the middle of next week, some morning after chapel. It is the plan of the management to place tables in the chapel from which the sale will be directed.

The first copies will go to those who have already paid up a portion or all of their subscription. All are awaiting the arrival of the Wallulas with eager expectation and from the forecasts it promises to be well above the standard set by former classes.

No Conference Champs.

By winning 14-4 from University of Oregon in the baseball game last Saturday, O. A. C. caused a triple tie in the western division of the conference and accordingly there will be no conference champion this season. Washington State College is champion of the Inland Empire and has Oregon won Saturday, would have played Oregon for the championship of the conference but under the present conditions there will be no championship series.

President Homan returned Thursday evening from his trip east to attend the University Senate at Buffalo, May 7 and 8. He was also in New York and Boston on business.

ANNUAL HIKE HELD BY CO-EDS

Track Meet, Eats, Stories, Fire, Babbling Brook Add to Morning's Pleasure.

Co-ed morning with the birds, a dew drop hike, a frizzle feast, and a hilarious good time, which was announced merely as a morning hike, was the centre of attraction Saturday morning. The annual Co-ed hike was held at that time in the region of Bush's pastures. The plans had been well laid with everything prepared for an early start. The alarm clocks were on duty and by five thirty a large number of the girls were assembled in high glee awaiting the commander and the chaplain, and at about six o'clock, tramp, tramp, Chaplain, commander, and remainder of the Hall girls, appeared and the active advance upon a good time began.

The first series of events upon arrival at the green sward was a farce track meet, well endowed with fun, frolic, and exercise. The shot put honors were carried off by the Junior girls. A football made a good shot. Heaving of the sphere was a feat soon mastered. In the races, records were smashed, splintered, scattered, shaken up and strewn promiscuously among the four college classes, Juniors and Freshmen taking high honors.

A feed followed the field events. Its sumptuousness superseded all past events. Good things followed good things. A cheerful blaze took off the sharpness of the morning air. The birds caroled their morning songs. The beautiful woods furnished the scenery for a fine Shakespearian drama. The bark of the angle worm, waiting impatiently for the robin to come and get him, could be heard, but all was peace. Not a boy, man, or child showed his face to mar the pleasure of this one big time.

After the eats, good stories, always appreciated, were told. The babbling brook rippled by on its way to the mighty sea. The faint cry of the newsboy two miles away was the only jarring feature. Story followed story. Mighty deed followed mighty deed. Greek talked with Roman. The dy-

JOINT RULES ADOPTED BY WOMEN'S SOCIETIES

Philodossians and Adelantes Obviate Membership Difficulties.

SCHOLARSHIP STANDARDS ARE FIXED

Rules Are Designed to Do Away With Abuses in Securing New Members

The Philodossian and Adelante literary societies, true to their ideals in promoting fraternity and unity, and in ever aiming toward high standards of efficiency, have lately agreed upon a set of inter-society rules which they hope will prove of benefit to both of the societies in the pursuit of their common interests.

In some respects old customs have been changed while in others the current practice has only been expressed in a definite way. In order to keep the standard of work done in the societies high, they have required that a definite scholarship record be maintained as a qualification for membership.

A change has been made in the manner of receiving new members. In removing any possibility of seeming partiality in the issuing of invitations to membership, the new method aims to give the new student a free choice of the society with which she wishes to affiliate herself. The provision concerning "Parties" gives each society an equal chance to present its various attractions to the unprejudiced minds of the new students, while the rule for "Posting" provides that no aspirant to membership need be ignorant of the method of procedure. The "Ambassador Council," with the faculty member as an experienced advisor, provides for amicable and just settling of differences. The rules are as follows:

Qualifications for Membership

A. High school or Academy graduation.

B. At least ten hours of regular college work or its equivalent in other departments successfully carried; which means that any girl who fails to carry this amount shall be dropped from the membership roll of the society at the end of the semester. Such cases to be considered by the Ambassador Council herein mentioned.

Application for Membership

A. The Ambassadors shall distribute application blanks of their respective societies on the Friday of the second week of school.

B. Applications shall not be received.

CONFERENCE RALLY TOMORROW

Christian Associations Meet Jointly Under Trees to Boost Summer Sessions

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 the Y. W. C. A. will hold a joint jolly-up under the trees near the gym. The meeting is to be in the interest of the student conferences which are to be held at the beach soon after school closes.

This has been a successful year for the associations, and they should be well represented at these conferences.

The meeting Thursday evening is to set forth the object of the conferences and what they mean to the students. The bon fire and eats will be sufficient to attract those who are not otherwise interested.

A lively program is arranged and everybody is asked to come and join for a good time.

UTOPIA-SEEKERS PROPAGATE NEW SOCIAL ORDER

Cardinal Principal is "No Feminine Society until in Junior Year"

There bids fair to be an overturning in the social order of the campus. Among the embryonic sociologists which are sprouting in these parts are three who, being lured on by a vision of a campus utopia, have formed a small society which shall work out the condition they seek.

The charter members and sole stockholders in this society are the three bosom friends, Luce, Rice, McMillin. Thus far the society has proved a great success—that is, it has kept the tender young members away from the injurious influences of the fair sex.

The cardinal principle of the organization seems to be that the infantile adoration of a beloved is not to be indulged in by the serious-thinking young man until perhaps, his junior year, when he may set about his business of the heart in an earnest and sensible manner.

The society sincerely believes that the vision has come to the great men of the world only through great, personal soul-struggle, and the members admit that it has been through many a tribulation that they have been driven to see the light; and perhaps a cool glance from the fair ones has added to their determination to hold their vow.

It might be suggested to the boys that the spring was rather a bad time for soliciting members for such a club as this, and it might be suggested to the public that for all such societies, "there's a reason."

AMENDMENTS UP FOR VOTE

Raising of Student Body Fee Will Be Settled at Meeting Tomorrow Morning

The amendments to the Student Body constitution will be considered for final action at the Student Body meeting tomorrow (Thursday) morning after chapel. These amendments are most important measures to come before the Student Body this year, comprising the increase of the Student Body tax from $1.50 to $2.50 a semester and the giving of the Collegian to every student who holds a Student Body ticket. These amendments if approved by the students in this vote will be submitted to the Board of Trustees for their approval. Upon the ratification by the students and the Board of Trustees, the amendments will become a part of the constitution. The statement with regard to them published in the last issue of the Collegian was unintelligible through defective proof-reading. The amendments, however, are self-explanatory. Sentiment in favor of them is apparently wide spread.

WEBSTERIAN TRY-OUT TONIGHT

Bolt and Jewett Would Represent in Inter-society Contest

Tonight, at the Websterian meeting, occurs the try-out to select the Web. representative for the Inter-society Oratorical Contest. Two candidates are out for the honor, Howard Jewett, '16, and Eric Bolt, '15, who represented Willamette this year in the state contest. The judges will be Prof. Patterson, Prof. Krenning, and Prof. Matthews.

The other three societies will hold their try-outs later. All have candidates in the field.

Miss Graham to Teach in Salem High Miss Margaret Graham, '12 who for the past year has been instructor in academy English has been elected to a position in the English department of Salem High School. She succeeds Miss Frances Poble, '12, who has resigned from the position.

SOPHOMORES SURPRISE BY TAKING CLASS MEET

Win by 2 Points Over Seniors Who Were Doped to Win Out.

FRANCIS, DOANE HIGHEST POINT WINNERS

Juniors Third With 21 Points—Preps Taek 15—Freshmen Trail Along With 10.

By the taking of the relay, the final event in the inter-class track and field meet, the Sophomores were awarded the winning number of chalk marks in the annual inter-class meet held last Friday, scoring 39 to the Seniors 37.

As had been expected the Seniors took the lead right at the start and proceeded to maintain it down to the final race when the Sophs came in for the relay and the meet. The fact that the Sophs entered more men and fought for the seconds and thirds accounts for their victory. Up to the relay the Seniors had taken 6 firsts while the Sophs had only 3 winnings to their credit but the minor places they had taken in the different events proved to be their salvation.

To "Pruney" Francis belongs the honor of winning the most points. The big Senior took three firsts tied for first in another event and took second in another, making a total of 21 points.

Next to Francis in the list of point winners was Emery Doane, another all around athlete who happens to grace the Sophomore ranks. Doane totaled 16 points. Another Sophomore who figured in several winnings was Seth Axley. He placed in the 50, 100 and 220 and ran the final stretch of the relay.

Mills the leading point winner in varsity meets also made his presence felt, running the 50 yard dash in 5 1-5 according to the only watch timing the events and thereby setting a new record for inter-class meets if it cannot be recognized as world's record breaker on account of the absence of 4 other watches.

Frank Bagley of the Academy, put the preps on the map by running close second in both the shot put and in the discus throw. He is a good man and should render valuable service on the first team squad next season.

Shisler was the Freshmen's point winner placing in the sprints and finishing close to the Sophs in the relay.

The score for the meet was: Seniors, 37; Juniors, 21; Sophomores, 39; Freshmen, 10; Academy, 15.

The barring of Westley from the weights and pole vault and Stearns from the distances made a difference in the final score of the Seniors and Juniors, while the sickness of Harold Jory was disastrous for the Sophs in that they lost places they had counted on in the jumps and distances.

The results of the meet are as follows: 50 yard dash, Mills (J), first, Francis (S) second, Axley (Sop) third, time 5 2-5; pole vault, Stearns (J) first, Bolt (Sop) second, Smith (Sop) third, 8 ft., 9 in; 220 hurdles McInturff (S) first, P. Homan (J) second, Small (F) third, time 29; mile, Hoffman (A) first, Chalcraft (A) second, Ohling (F) third; 100 yard dash, Francis (S) first, Axley (Sop) second, Shisler (F) third; shot put, Doane (Sop) first, Bagley (A) second, McInturff (S) third, distance 30 ft., 9 in; 120 hurdles, Stimpson (S) first, Doane (Sop) second, P. Homan (J) third, time 30; broad jump, Doane (Sop) first, Mills (J) and Homan (J) tied for second, distance 19 ft., 2 in; 220 yard dash, Francis (S) first, Shisler (F) second, Axley (Sop) third, time 24; 440, Marsh (Sop) first,

REMEMBER

That the vote on the increased Student Body tax tomorrow determines whether Willamette is to progress in athletics, forensics and other activities, or whether she is going to settle into a rut for at least another year.

A WILLAMETTE SONG BOOK

Some means must be taken to perpetuate the splendid songs which each year are prepared for the Freshman Glee.

Heretofore many songs worthy of being established in the list of Willamette songs have been rendered at the Glee, the catchy choruses whistled and sung about the campus for a month or so, the songs revived at class functions for a few months, and then allowed to lapse into oblivion. This year's songs, though presented less than two months ago, are little more than memories, excepting perhaps the Freshman chorus, whose melodious strains are still occasionally to be heard.

Not a Glee has been held but produced at least one song worthy of permanence, yet, with a single exception, all have gone by the road for want of some system of preserving them.

It would be impossible now to collect all the songs which have been presented in the past. Perhaps the best of them could be secured. At any rate, songs will be produced in the future just as good, or better, than in the past, and it is not too late to begin collecting them now. There are those in Willamette whose ambition it is to publish a song book, containing, if not all, at least the best of the Glee songs. This has not seemed practical this year, but there seems to be no reason why it could not be accomplished within a year or two. This will be impossible, however, unless each class takes pains to preserve its own songs. The best plan would be for each class to make two permanent copies of its songs, these to be collected into safe-keeping until such a time as the college song book is published. Then, if all could not be used, they could be put through a sifting process. After publication, continued use will establish the popularity and permanence of certain songs. By occasional revision of, and additions to the book, Willamette can have a collection of songs unsurpassed. This is no dream. It is a thoroughly practical and comparatively easy proposition.

The annual Glee will furnish the material. If the classes will do their part in preserving it, the Willamette song book is not far distant.

"THE LOUD LAUGH"

Goldsmith turned his guns at rather a widespread species when he introduced his youth with "the loud laugh that speaks the vacant mind." Just for charity's sake, we won't emphasize the "vacant mind" feature here, but we might suggest that, about the campus, the "loud laugh" has a tendency to appear at most inopportune times. At chapel, in the class room, at social functions, and almost anywhere where one would expect to find decently considerate conduct, any little witticism, or perhaps a slip of the tongue, or slight mistake, is apt to bring forth a series of crude guffaws.

It might not be out of place to suggest, very gently of course, that little personal mistakes are not generally considered proper occasions for convulsively laughing and such indulgence certainly bespeaks more of the "vacant mind" than of a highly cultivated sense of humor.

It may not have occurred to a few that a little thoughtfulness and refinement in controlling their risibilities would be appreciated upon occasion.

An active sense of humor is certainly to be desired, but it need not be inseparable from the disagreeable "loud laugh."

A LITTLE FRANK SPEECH.

There is something wrong with the moral tone of any campus when it looks without disapproval upon practices which violate the most fundamental rules of good taste and decency. Certain it is that on this campus there is too little outspoken opposition to practices to which the foolish and unthinking are addicted. Any reference to that breach of good morals known as "intensive fussing" is generally made in jest and the whole matter passed off as a joke. The fact is, however, and practically every man here knows it, that when he takes liberties with any girl who is so weak or so ignorant as to permit it, he is demonstrating his own lack of moral ideas or moral backbone, and at the same time casting a shadow upon the good name of the girl.

None of us desire to hold an "holier-than-thou" attitude toward any of the fellows with whom we mix. In a matter of this sort, however, it is worth while for self-respecting people to risk an accusation of that attitude rather than to pass up in silence a manifest abuse.

THANKS

In looking over our exchanges we must give to the Tahoma, of Tacoma, Wash., the credit for the best example of what a magazine in a large high school can be. Among the college news paper exchanges the honor goes to the Willamette Collegian, for the best manifestation of real, live college spirit.—McMinnville College Review.

POLISH

There is a woeful lack of that refinement of manner which we call polish, among us of the University. There are too many of us who have not passed through enough experience to have acquired the ease and the gloss which should stamp a University man. In fact there is a most regrettable spirit among many of the student body which tends to move away from polish, rather than toward it. Polish means courtesy, ease in bearing, good appearance, calmness, education and politeness. It means that finish which shows off to best advantage the gold of the man.

Polish is the plus on a man. Take a man who has nothing else, brain, soul or body and give him polish, and he has a thing which is much. A man of sterling qualities, with polish, represents the finest type of educated man. It is polish which the world expects to see on the educated man, more than any other thing he has gained, for it represents the outward result of greater advantages. Polish smoothes the relations of man with man. Polish is something which distinguishes between the gentleman and others, regardless of whether they are aristocrats or not.

Polish is an attribute which can be developed. It comes easiest to the aristocrat or "well born" for he has the early incentive and surroundings, but it comes not to him as a birthright. In these times it is the birthright of every man, if he has the brain to understand the need of it and the will to acquire it. It needs vigilance, care, forethought, and mingling with men and women.

The rough-and-ready man is at bottom just as fine, just as good, and just as admirable as the polished man—but he does not show it so well. The rough-mannered man may be in essence a nobleman, but he lacks the passport to recognition. The unpolite may have good hearts, but they make their own way through. The uneasy man in public, the bashful man in company, the man who is not finished will always feel chagrin, anger and disappointment. The polished man is at home and comfortable under all circumstances.—Wisconsin Daily News.

Prof. and Mrs. Peck took the college physiology class on a picnic last Thursday afternoon.

Herman Clark and his Academy class in physics took a little picnic trip Monday afternoon.

While we are on the press, word comes that Miss Emma Loughridge '14 and Paul Blanchard, ex-'13 and recently graduated from Stanford were united in marriage Friday evening at Grants Pass, the home of both. Miss Loughridge left the University about two weeks ago to attend the Stanford Commencement, and had been expected back here.

The ceremony was a very sudden affair or else Miss Loughridge has slipped a keen one over on her friends here. Details will be published later.

"THE VOICES OF THE WOMEN"

One Act Play to be Given at Y. W. C. A. Thursday, June 5

This little play to be given by the missionary department of the Y. W. C. A. is an interesting and attractive portrayal of the women of many lands. The girls will appear in elaborate and representative costumes and a colored girl, Miss Halsel, of the Yew Park school is to represent the "Voice of Africa." Come and see how the women dress, as well as how they live.

There will be several exceptionally good musical numbers, also.

Don't forget, Thursday, June 5.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TODAY

Financial Matters and Election of the Treasure on Tap.

The executive committee of the Student Body meets this afternoon at one o'clock. At this meeting, besides routine business, all financial matters relating to Student Body activities for the year will be disposed of. The election of a successor to Merwin Paget as Student Body treasurer will also be taken up.

Friends of Merwin Paget were glad to see his smiling face once more sending its radiant beams across the campus. "Peggy" has been on the sick list for some weeks past and is not entirely recovered as yet. However he found himself able to attend the school held at the dorm Saturday night. He returned to his home in Portland Monday morning. He will not be in school the remainder of the semester.

Mr. Martin Schreiber and Miss Bertha, father and sister of George and William Schreiber and Mrs. Michael Schreiber, an aunt, all of McMinnville, were in the city over the week end attending the graduating exercises of the College of Law, and the dedication of the new German Methodist church last Sunday.

Oliver Matthews, who has been very ill for some time, was able to visit the campus again last Thursday afternoon and is now doing nicely.

Dr. James Lisle, librarian of the University, was the principal speaker at the G. A. R. memorial service, held in the armory Sunday afternoon.

SOCIETY OFFICERS INSTALLED

Philodorian Elects State Platforms as They Take Up Duties

The regular meeting of the Philodorian society was called to order last Wednesday evening by Vice-President Vandervert, who occupied the chair during the ceremonies attendant upon the installation of the newly elected officers.

Each retiring and each incoming officer issued a short, direct statement as to the nature of what his aspirations for his society might be, and each voiced an earnest and straight-forward appeal that every member strive to maintain and preserve in the coming year that standard of excellence and energy and permanence for which the society has so insistently stood during the past months. After an important business meeting the assembly adjourned to enjoy in tranquility and repose the unmolested fruits of a good Philodorian installation.

Prohis Nominate.

At a meeting of the nominating committee of the Prohi League last Monday night, nominations were made for next year. The election is to be held at the regular meeting on Monday, June 2.

The candidates are as follows: president, Jacob Stocker; vice-president, Arnold Hall, Elizabeth Luce; secretary, Howard Ransom, Harvey Tobie; treasurer, Leila Lent; reporter, Mabel Goyné.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Ohling, of Albany were in the city last Sunday visiting their son Charles and daughter Elmo, of the Freshman class.

Miss Marguerite Deering spent the week end in Portland.

MARSHALL DISCUSSES PROBLEM

Considers Growth of Catholicism Menace to Protestant America

What is America's greatest problem? This question was answered in a strikingly forceful and convincing manner, to the Y. W. C. A. girls last Thursday afternoon, by the Rev. Mr. Marshall, pastor of the Baptist church. Of all the great and urgent problems which America is now struggling to solve, Mr. Marshall considers this one the most vital, "Shall America be kept Protestant Christian?" The truth of his position he demonstrated by statistics. Out of the ninety millions of the population of the United States, only twenty-two million are Protestant, while fifteen million are Catholic. Over ninety percent of the million immigrants who come to America each year are Catholic. An added menace to the Protestant Christianity of the United States is found in the fact that while the first generation of Catholics are fanatically loyal, and the second, liberal, the third generation usually is atheistic. The girls count Mr. Marshall's address as among the strongest of the year.

WEBS TALK CURRENT AFFAIRS

Japanese Situation in California, South Pole and other Topics Considered

Last week the program of the Websterian society was on current events. The talk by Mr. Rice on "The Japanese in California" was good and gave a clear idea of the real condition of affairs in that state. Mr. Gilbert's paper "The New Pope," gave a clear understanding of some information regarding the candidates for the position in case of the death of the present Pope. "The South Pole," by Mr. Jewett, was educational and interesting, as it gave a detailed account of the trip of Captain Admunsen to the pole and return. "J. P. Morgan," by Mr. Luce, threw some interesting sidelights on the life and career of that great financier. An excellent, impromptu debate on the question: Resolved, That J. P. Morgan was a good citizen, was won by Seth Axley on the negative, Paul Homan supporting the affirmative. Fifteen minutes of parliamentary practice, with Eric Bolt in the chair, was followed by a brief business meeting.

PRESIDENT HOMAN SPEAKS TO HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

Vice-President Todd Also in Demand for Commencement Addresses.

In addition to his many other speaking dates, President Homan is busy these days giving addresses before High School graduating classes. He delivered the baccalaureate sermon at Creswell Sunday evening and tonight delivers the commencement address at Estacada. His schedule for the coming week includes addresses at Roseburg tomorrow evening, Myrtle Creek June 4 and Albany June 6. A number of requests have been refused on account of conflicting dates.

Vice-President Todd preached the baccalaureate at Hillsboro last Sunday and is scheduled for the graduating address at Astoria June 20. Because of other duties he has been unable to accept several invitations to speak. He will be at La Grande Sunday, speaking in the interest of the Second World's Christian Citizenship Congress. Prof. Matthews spoke before the Senior class of Woodburn High School Sunday evening.

CLARK GETS FOUR-YEAR PIN

Glee Club Votes Him Usual Honor Emblem for Long Service.

W. W. Herman Clark recently received a four-year honor pin from the Glee Club. This pin was voted him at the annual business meeting of the club a short time ago. Clark has been a faithful member of this organization for the last four years, and has just completed a very successful year as its manager.

When asked how it looked to him, Clark said that it looked about like the others but he thought it shone a little brighter. So it does, so it does, farmer!

U. S. C. TAKES INTER-STATE PROHI CONTEST

Grathwell, of Pacific, Takes Second in Contest at Forest Grove Saturday

The Inter-state Prohibition Oratorical Contest for the Pacific coast states was held at Pacific University, Forest Grove, last Saturday, May 24.

The contest resulted in the first honors going to Earl H. Haylock, of University of Southern California. S. W. Grathwell, of Pacific, won second place.

The other contestants were Eugene K. Sturgis, of University of California, Dewitt Davis, of University of Idaho, and Addie Patterson of Seattle Seminary.

ANNUAL HIKE HELD BY CO-EDS

ing fire cast its last blushes upon the green tuft. The coffee grew cold. The chief cook's gentle voice broke all the still quietness. The charm was broken. Time had come to close another annual event and with hasty steps the baskets—empty—were prepared and the happy Co-eds "wended their wear way homeward" content in having kept a secret.

(Ed. note—As such an event is, "in the best circles," considered more or less outre and unladylike, the Collegian has been requested to ignore it. Of course, under the circumstances, we have felt under obligation to accede to the request.)

O. A. C. FAILS TO PUT IN APPEARANCE FOR CONTEST

Game Scheduled for Last Wednesday Off.—New Baseball Material Developed.

Willamette fans were robbed of the only chance afforded so far this season to witness an intercollegiate baseball contest by the non-appearance of the O. A. C. nine, for the game scheduled with them for last Wednesday afternoon.

The "Aggies" were in Seattle when the game was scheduled and were to stop here on their way home. All necessary preparation were made for the game and Dr. Stewart, athletic director of O. A. C., was in the city awaiting the arrival of his team, but they failed to put in an appearance.

Dr. Stewart used every means within his power to locate the team, wiring to Portland and Seattle and the conductors on different trains where it was thought the team might possibly be, but no team could be located.

The failure to play the game was the biggest disappointment local fans have had this year.

Just why the team did not arrive is not known here, as no explanation has yet been received from the athletic authorities at Corvallis.

With the team broken up by the closing of the Medical and Law Schools, re-arrangement of the entire lineup has been necessary. Those who have left are Steelhammer, catcher; Hamilton, first baseman; McRae, third baseman, and Howard, center fielder.

The new lineup is not entirely settled. Doane is now doing the receiving, Young is covering the first bag, and Gates has been called in to cover the third sack. This leaves two stations in the garden vacant and during the remainder of the season the material on hand will be worked out to fill the vacant positions and build up a line of subs for the others.

Since there is not a man on the present squad that graduates this year, a good nucleus for next year's nine will be built up during the remaining portion of the season. Every man possessing or willing to develop talent along baseball lines is wanted on the field, as everything possible is being done to develop material for next season.

ed before November 1st, and all replies to applications shall be issued within two weeks after their receipt.

C. A copy of the Inter-society rules shall be found on the back of each application blank.

D. No girl shall be allowed to visit more than two regular literary meetings of each society before November 1st.

Dues

The initiation fee in each society shall be 50c. Dues shall be 50c per semester.

Parties

A. Neither society shall hold its opening reception before the third Friday nor later than the fifth Saturday of the school year.

B. The first opening reception shall be given in alternate years by alternate societies, beginning with the Adelpians in 1913.

C. The expense of the opening reception shall not exceed $15.

D. Each society may entertain the Adelpians at one literary and one social afternoon during the year.

Faculty Membership.

DISTRICT NUMBER 'LEVEN CLOSSES SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Guests at Lausanne Forget Erstwhile Dignity and Frolic in "Kid" Attire.

It surely was a crowd of jolly good students that attended the district skule at Lausanne, Saturday night, for when good clothes and long dresses were laid aside, when collars were discarded and hair let down in pigtailed and curls, dignity went also and every little boy and girl forgot to be otherwise than just natural. Accordingly, Jennie squirted water out of a rubber ball and Willie tormented those in front with a rubber band and some paper wads, while others found pleasure in the sand pile. So great was the disorder in the primary room that Miss Prim, who is sometime erroneously known as McMahon, was bothered as to how to keep the children quiet, and the program prepared was somewhat hampered. But, by means of lettered squares of pastboard, some industrious little ones at last learned to spell such ez words as dawg, while some outlines of zoology were learned by means of needle and string.

In the higher grades Miss Prudence Precise also had her troubles until the time came for closing exercises, when the older children filed into the primer room and listened to a little program of home talent. The inevitable singing and piece-speaking were tolerated, and all the little Sophomores united in a touching motion song entitled "Rock-a-bye Baby." Two talented girls played a piece with a Chinese name, and some pupils of German design rendered the soulful ballad: "Aeh, mein lieber Augustine," after all of which came an interesting and instructive pantomime of certain familiar scenes and characters about the hall, in which mention must be made of the excellent work of Miss Lucile McCally, who took the part of villain, Cupid, who caused the trouble.

Refreshments were served from lunch buckets and baskets, out under the trees, which were beautifully lighted with Japanese lanterns. After every one had consumed as much as mother had packed in, a few games were played, when the bell rang calling the children back to school. Being obedient little pupils, they all ran back to receive their report cards and have their pictures taken.

Certainly the evening was most enjoyable, and the Hall girls richly deserved the cheer which the erstwhile primary boys gave, out on the front steps.

"IKE" CLAIMS GREAT RECORD

Says He Was Never Late to Class—Investigation Being Conducted.

"Ike" Bellinger, medie grad, football star, and possessor of many other cognomens, dispenser of droll jokes and "Sunny Jim" grins reports, now that he has received his diploma, that he is guilty of the misdemeanor of having never been late to class.

His statement to this effect has called forth several faculty meetings and special investigation of the class books is being conducted. If such investigation fails to disprove the veracity of his allegation a Carnegie medal will be applied for.
