WASHINGTON WINS BY LARGE MARGIN

AERIAL ATTACK Baffles

Bearcat Line Too Light To Hold Heavier Team, Keene Makes Many Substitutes

Although they failed to score, the Bearcats held the University of Washington Huskies to four touchdowns last Saturday and baffled them with their short passes which netted 115 yards gain.

The strong Washington eleven crashed through for two touchdowns in the first quarter. Carrol and Dalquist smashed the line for steady gains and carried the ball 60 yards for the first touchdown. After an exchange of punts Washington took the ball 30 yards for the second touchdown just before the quarter ended.

The first quarter ended just as the fans expected, Washington, with its superior weight, ploughed through the Willamette line for repeated yardage. The second quarter started in the same way, Carrol carried the pigskin for the third and last touchdown via the line bucking route.

Bearcats Begin Passing

Then Mort received the kickoff and Willamette took the offensive, loosing an aerial attack that advanced the ball from their own 25 yard line to the Huskies 35 yard line. A pass, Inglebretson to Adams, counted for 10 yards, Inglebretson to Cranor, 15 yards, Cranor to Adams, 5 yards, and another Inglebretson to French netted 10 yards just as the half closed with the score 19 to 0.

The third quarter found the Bearcats fighting hard to stop the Husky rushes, Ruch and Versteeg were nabbing the Washington backs and stopping them for short gains. French intercepted a Washington pass on the 25 yard line stopping one march for a touchdown, and Cranor hooked another and returned it 15 yards.

In the fourth quarter Riedel went in for Adams and completed several snappy passes which netted two first downs. However the Washington backs were beginning to solve the Willamette passes and

Lausanne Hall Coming to Front As Result of Plan Being Carried Out by Dean O. Dahl Last Sunday

A well meaning statistician has remarked that if Willamette acquired any more traditions she would have enough—well plenty anyway. And now we have a new one!

Last year Dean Dahl went to a convention for college deans and came back with many new ideas. Some of these evidence themselves now and then to our advantage. The latest one seems worthy of mention. A gent's check room at Lausanne which operated for the first time last week.

Men calling for dates and finding a few superfluous coats on their hands, may deposit them on the banister in lower hall. Eventually after numerous slippings off and trappings the coats will find their way into the inner sanctuary, the Deans office. There they may be found when the owners re-

UNIQUE PROGRAM HELD BY WESLEYAN STUDENTS

Worship Service Follows Luncheon W. Wright Sings Solo and Professor Speaks

A very unique program was carried out in the meeting of the Wesleyans, Wednesday noon. After the luncheon which immediately precedes each meeting, the group went over to Cresto Cottage for a worship service. Multigraphed programs were handed to each one at the door, the service being conducted without announcements to avoid all possible distractions from the quiet atmosphere of the occasion. A solo, "In the Garden of Prayer," was sung by Mr. William Wright, and Prof. Hertzog, of Kimball School, gave a short discourse on "Vision."

Last week on Thursday the first meeting of the year was held. The president of the Wesleyans, Mr. Pat Dahlin, talked concerning the coming meetings of the group. The programs being planned include group discussions, devotional meetings in which an interesting, capable speaker will be invited to talk. There will not be more than one of each type of meeting conducted during the month.

MARJORIE MILLER TO DIRECT GLEE

The Glee clubs have wholeheartedly begun their practice for the year. Marjorie Miller has been appointed assistant director of the Women's Glee club. She has been a member on the club for the last two years, and is well fitted for her new position.

Edith Findley will be the accompanist for the Men's club and Grace Henderson for the Women's Glee club. Edith Findley was marimba soloist on the women's tour of last year. Grace Henderson sang in the club last year and did some of the accompanist work.

The club wish to announce that Rook Bob Wilson saw fit to take fifteen spats after which he entered the mill stream. This punishment was incurred as a penalty for not wearing his green lid.

REPORTERS WILL RECEIVE TRAINING

RICHARDS TO GIVE CLASS

Salem Newspapermen to Give Instruction Based on Their Experience

At a meeting called Tuesday by Professor Richards arrangements were made to give a course in newswriting for students interested in this work. Twenty-five students indicated that they would take the course. In the university catalogue the course is listed as upper division work, but because of the large number of underclassmen who desired to take the course arrangements have been made to admit them.

Practical Work Given

As foundation for the course the text "Graded Exercises in News Editing," by George C. Bastian will be used. The class will meet at 1:15 on Thursdays. William Smullin, editor of the Collegian, will have charge of a part of each class period, and special study will be given the problems of the Willamette Collegian.

Professor Richards and William Smullin have enlisted the services of several Salem newspapermen for the course. They will give talks on style in newswriting and give other practical information. Included among these men are the Messrs. Earl C. Brownlee and Sheldon F. Sackett, owners of the New Oregon Statesman; Mr. Tom Akers, city editor of the Statesman; Mr. E. A. Brown, advertising manager of the Capital Journal, and Mr. Ralph Kletzinger, advertising manager of the Statesman.

Will Aid Collegian

While the primary purpose of the course is to give both theoretical and practical training in the art of writing news stories and doing other newspaper writing, the benefits of the course are not expected to end at that point. Much of the copy turned in to the Collegian editor has had to be re-written because of fundamental errors in newswriting technique. It is expected and hoped that this work will improve the quality of the stories in the Collegian and that it will save a large amount of work for the editorial staff.

CAMPUS Y. M. C. A. HOLDS CABINET UNION MONDAY

At a meeting of the cabinet of the campus Y. M. C. A. called Monday afternoon by Harold Shellhart, president, nominations were made to fill the offices of vice president and secretary, left vacant by failure of two men to return to school. Harry Stone was elected secretary and Everett Gardner and Lester Manker nominated for vice president, to succeed Wesley Gordon. Election for this office will be held at a special meeting called for this afternoon.

Other business of this session included plans for the coming membership drive and work of the campus service committee. It was announced that the Salem Y. M. C. A. will extend privileges to members of the campus "Y" similar to those given last year.

NEW BOOKS LISTED IN THE LIBRARY CATALOG

Most of The Books Are to be Read in Entirety and Not to be Used as Reference

"There is more truth than poetry," to be found within the bindings of the 356 books which have been placed on the shelves of the university library since last June. Although there are, among these recent additions, many volumes of literature, such as: "Selected Poems of Amy Lowell," "Essays of Our Time," and "Outline of Literature and Art," in five volumes, John Drinkwater and Sir William Orphen, the greater percentage deals with social and scientific problems, history and government, and questions which are receiving the most attention today.

Among the most outstanding of these new books are: "Creation by Evolution," by Frances Mason, "Oxford History of U. S.," by Morrison, Gertrude Atherton's "Immortal Marriage," "The New Social Research," by Bogardus, "The New Morality," by Durant Drake, "Europe and the East," by Norman Dwight Harris, and two of Elmer's social science books from the university of Southern California.

Many of these are not especially valuable as reference books but are meant to be read in their entirety either as outside reading in regular courses or by the student who is not enrolled in classes discussing such questions.

Modern educators are stressing the fact that the library should not be merely a reference room but a university in itself. They point out that a student is limited in classroom courses and that often the student who begins specializing early lacks the broad viewpoint which a truly cultured and educated person must possess.

It is to perform such a service as this that new books are being added daily to the university library.

MANY TURN OUT FOR FRESHMAN DEBATE

The coming year promises to be a big one for freshman debate. Many experienced debaters from different sections of the Northwest have signed up for the try-outs which will be held next week.

The question this year is, "Resolved: That the policy in the United States of offering higher education to all the people should be abandoned."

Those who have already signed up for the try-outs are Margaret Eddie, Independence; Clark Week, Chela high school; Clay Pomeroy, Grant high school; Harvey Reynolds, Mt. Vernon high school; Phil Duffard, Utah; Charles Campbell, Dallas; Lillian Beecher, Enterprise; Marjorie Moser, Tenino, Washington; Isabel Childs, Helen Brethaupt, Hayes Beall, Jack Routh, and Ray Luffy of Salem.

Upperclass try-outs will be held as soon as the freshman team is chosen.

The tallest and shortest men at the University of Oklahoma were found to be six feet eight and five feet four, respectively.

PANEL OF MEMBERS FINALLY COMPLETED

HATHAWAY BEATS WHITE

Van Dyke, Adams and Findley Other Representatives Three Classes Break Tie

With an election held Tuesday following the chapel exercises, the panel of members of the executive committee of the student body was made complete. At a previous meeting, held last Friday election was complete only for sophomore class and faculty representatives. In the other three classes the voting merely served to narrow candidacy to two from each class. The members elected at large are now: Willis Hathaway, senior, Frank Van Dyke, junior; Dwight Adams, sophomore; Edith Findley, freshman; Dean Frank M. Erickson, faculty.

Committee Important

The executive committee is really the business organization of the student body. It has the power of appointment of numerous subsidiary committees and managers of various activities, including Homecoming; managers of the Collegian and Wallulah and each of the major athletic sports. The executive committee supervises the expenditure of all student body funds, and is the real sponsor of all intercollegiate contests and activities.

Two of the recently elected student representatives have had previous membership on this committee. Frank Van Dyke, junior representative, was freshman representative two years ago. He is a member of Alpha Psi Delta fraternity, manager of the 1929 Wallulah, and is a letterman in track. Dwight Adams, sophomore member, is serving his second consecutive term, having represented the freshman class last year. Mr. Adams is a member of Alpha Psi Delta fraternity and a letterman in basketball; he is also active in boys' work at the city Y. M. C. A. Dean Erickson, faculty representative was student body treasurer last year, and is in practically as close touch with the business of the committee as though he had served on it before.

Other Members Active

Willis Hathaway, senior member, throughout his college career has been active in the work of the men's glee club, and last year was president of that organization. He is a member of the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity and for two years has been a letterman in track.

Miss Edith Findley, newly elected freshman representative served on the student council of Salem high school, and held other positions of responsibility while there.

WELL KNOWN GIRL DIES IN PORTLAND

Dorothy Fisher Succumbs After Long Illness—Campus Members Remember

The many friends of Dorothy Fisher, ex '28, were saddened by the news of her death last Friday, September 28, at 10:30 a. m. Funeral services were held Monday in Portland, Dr. Doney officiating, and interment was in Rose City Park cemetery.

Miss Fisher was senior scholar in rhetoric last year, and was prominent in many activities. In her third year in school she was vice president of Lausanne Hall; she was a Clonian, vice president in her third year, and treasurer in her second year; she was very active in Y. W. C. A. work and in the Girl Reserves, and served on the Y. W. cabinet in her third and fourth years. As chairman of the World Fellowship committee from Willamette, she drew up a plan for World Fellowship which was adopted by the Seabeck convention, and the colleges of the Seabeck division. This was the first time that this committee was active at Willamette.

Much Church Work

Another feature of her work on this committee was the sponsoring of the International reading room in Eaton Hall next to the Y. W. room. This reading room was secured largely by her efforts. She was a member of the Beethoven Society, of the Wesleyans, of the Coffee House, and of the French Club. She was an active member of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Portland, and was affiliated with the First M. E. church here. She was president of the Bearcat Forum of the First Methodist Sunday school in her third year. In 1927 she was chosen by the students to receive the Albert prize, which is given by Mr. Albert, of Salem, to the student who has been the most faithful in study and scholarship, and has made the greatest progress toward the ideal of character, service, and wholesome influence.

Miss Fisher was born in Cottage Grove, Oregon, on August 5, 1905, but spent most of her life in Portland. She was graduated from Washington high school, Portland, and entered Willamette after a year at the University of Oregon. She completed the first semester's work of her fourth year, and would have graduated last June had she been able to complete her second semester's work, but her health failed during the second semester, and she was ill from then until the time of her death last Friday.

Surviving her are her aunt, Mrs. F. H. Leitner, with whom she made her home in Portland, and Frederick Fisher, her younger brother.

The current issue of "The Christian Student", quarterly magazine of religious education, published by the board of education of the Methodist church, carries an article by Dr. Carl G. Doney. The title is "Willamette Has Kept the Faith." The article contains considerable historical material, and gives a concise but comprehensive account of the present facilities of the university. Three campus photographs accompany the story.

Three women students were recently enrolled in the Palo Alto school of aviation.

LOCALS

Hugh McGilvra '28, editor of the Washington county News-Times, was on the campus over the week-end. Mr. McGilvra reports that the town of Forest Grove is a very good little business district.

Mrs. O. P. Hoff returned to Salem Monday to assume her position as housemother at the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority. Mrs. Hoff, who is well known in Salem, has spent the summer visiting points of interest in European countries.

Nat Beaver who graduated in 1927 and was Willamette's registrar last year is living with his mother at 11 Howland street, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Henry Oberson '28 is living with them and both Beaver and Oberson are taking work in the Harvard Medical school.

Word was just received that one good football had been thrown through one good window at the gymnasium. Page the graduates manager.

Herbert Erickson is now studying at Stanford University for his master's degree in Business Administration. Erickson, who is the son of Dean and Mrs. Frank M. Erickson, was graduated from Willamette University in the class of '26.

Since his graduation, Mr. Erickson or "Beany" as he was known on the campus, has been known as coach at Central Point high school where he has turned out winning teams. As a student here, he was a member of Sigma Tau and an outstanding guard on Willamette basketball teams.

Gerald Pearson, also of the class of '26, is studying at Stanford for his Ph. D. degree in physics. Earl T. Brown, for seven years professor of physics at Willamette, is working toward his doctor's degree there.

Merle Bonney, '26, and Gilbert Wrenn, '26, are also attending Stanford.

SENIORS CONTEMPLATE BUYING CLASS RINGS

Committees Appointed to Act On Problem of Library Rules Cooperation Asked

At the Senior class meeting yesterday, the students voted to have those wishing to attend the two lectures to be given by the Ellison and White Celebrity Bureau pay an admission fee of 25 cents. If there is a deficiency in the school's guarantee, the class will make it up in proportion to its numbers.

There were changes made in the library committee; Mary Clamfield and Carol Pratt having resigned. Those on the present committee are: Wilburn Swafford, chairman; Anna Mary McKinley, Lloyd Harder, Beulah Wampler, Ruth Margaret Hall, Elma White, and Frank Alfred.

Lloyd Harder was elected treasurer of the class. He replaces Mr. Keck who has dropped back to the Junior class because of his many extra curricular activities and additional work in his major subject.

It was decided to leave the selection of the rings to the discretion of the committee. Those functioning on the committee are: Neil Bruneau, chairman; Anna Mary McKinley, Lloyd Harder, and Carol Pratt.

Cigarette smoking by women students at Ohio Wesleyan University will be followed by their expulsion from the school, according to the president of the institution. The university also has a ban on student automobiles and student marriages. The women of the university are permitted to dance if they will file a written request from their parents with the dean of women.

JUNIOR CLASS NAMES MUMFORD AS CHAIRMAN

At the junior class meeting yesterday considerable discussion was given to the matter of guarantee for the proposed lectures to be given in Waller hall. The class finally voted to give guarantee in proportion as the ratio between the class enrollment and the total student body, to charge class members 25 cents for tickets to the lectures, and if necessary to make up deficit on the same ratio as the guarantee.

At this meeting William Mumford, formerly of the class of 1929 was elected interclass rivalry chairman for the juniors.

A BLUE KEY MEETING CONVENES AT SPA

At the first meeting of the Blue Key fraternity, held Tuesday noon at the Spa, the following men were elected as officers for the new term: president, Ivan White; vice-president, William Smullin; secretary, Don Grant; treasurer, Reeve Betts.

Members of the Blue Key organization initiated Garney Cranor, William Mumford, Frank Lombard, Frank Alfred, and Kenneth Vannice.

The fraternity voted to put on a meeting of the alumni in Portland for the purpose of interesting them in home-coming. It is believed that this year can be the most successful concerning home-coming if the alumni are interested through the efforts of the students and student associations.

The fraternity also voted to assist the athletic department in working up enthusiasm and student body support for football games.

It was decided that the Blue Key men confer with the faculty for establishing more suitable and adequate places for text books.

As a last issue, the fraternity discussed the possibility of a reading room for the men.

Immediate action will be taken on all the issues.

BENNETT COLLEGE HAS NEGRO INSTRUCTORS

GREENSBORO, N. C.—The faculty at Bennett College for Women is comprised of nineteen Negro college women, three of whom hold master's degrees and ten hold bachelor's degrees from the best universities of America. Miss Gladys B. Johnson, who has her master's degree in the Science of Music Education from Northwestern University, is the first Negro girl ever to receive that degree from Northwestern. Miss Carol B. Cotton, dean of the college, holds an M. A. from Columbia University. Miss Alice G. Taylor, who received her bachelor of arts degree at Morgan College and her master's degree in Education at Columbia has taught for eight years in the public schools of Maryland. Miss Taylor comes to the college as teacher of Education.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman.—Approximately 125 former high school athletes and other aspirants answered the first call for freshman football candidates today. Coach Carl Schladerman will start immediately preparing the yearlings for the four-game schedule which starts in three weeks.

LINFIELD LOSES TO COLUMBIA UNIV.

Nine Lettermen Fail to Return Line Larger but Weaker Have New Coach

Linfield's eleven proved weak in several departments in the game Saturday with the Columbia university Cliffdwellers from whom they took a 13-0 defeat. The line although larger, lacked the charge of the Irish and the plays showed the lack of precision which characterized the plays of the Portlanders.

Linfield lost nine of her eighteen lettermen and of the nine returning seven were linemen leaving a sad lack of backfield material for Coach Sielk to choose from. In the Columbia game two ends were used as ball packers, Todd and Weaver, the former a super-varsity man who was converted into a halfback, and the latter a regular end who is now calling signals.

"Phil" Warren, Linfield's bid for all-conference honors last season, is filling the other half-back position, and "Flute" Lambert, the only other backfield letterman to return is working in the fullback job.

Strand, a former tackle, and Druse, a rook from Yakima high, will probably again get the call for the wing job. Villers, a husky rook from Ellers, Idaho, will probably start at one tackle, but the other remains unknown. Harvey Pierson, regular guard last season, held that position last Saturday but acquired a wrenched neck in scrimmage which may hold him out of the game.

Both the guards that started against Columbia are on the sick list, Lambert being laid up with the flu and Ownbey with infection, which is causing Sielk trouble in choosing his material for the center of the line.

John King, ex-captain and all-conference second last season, will no doubt enter the game at the pivot position although Victor Jones of Waterville, Washington, has been keeping him busy to keep his job.

Sielk was satisfied with the performance of his Wildcats during the last game, stating that since they had had a shorter practice session and a new system to learn, they did unusually well against the Irish.

Nearly two-thirds of those voting on the question of extra-curricular activities at the University of Kansas declared that they considered the taking part in certain extra curricular activities more important than receiving high grades.

MRS. FRANKLIN STARTS CLASS AT NEW CHURCH

Beginning at 9:30 Sunday morning, October 7, Mrs. H. C. Franklin will have charge of a class of students at the Presbyterian church to study the Bible as literature. The study will be based on Moulton's Literary Study of the Bible, taking up the different forms of literature found in it, such as the odes, doom songs, rhapsodies, lyrics and quatrains. Dr. Moulton was both a student of literature and of the Bible and in his book he has written all the passages in poetical form so that their literary qualities are easily seen. There is a copy of the book in the Willamette university library which will be used for reference.

Mrs. Franklin took this course from Dr. Moulton himself and still has all her outlines with which to direct the study.

The 1928 annual of the students of Stanford university was dedicated to Herbert Hoover after permission was granted by him. Hoover is a Stanford graduate.

Epworth League Sponsors Entertaining Kickoff Party

The Football Kick-off party held by the Epworth League of the First Methodist church last Friday evening was a very peppy affair. The room was attractively decorated in cardinal and gold to represent a football field. There were pep speeches given from the side lines by Stanley Satchwell and Warren McMinnimee. Norabel Pratt was elected Song Queen and Stearns Cushing was selected as Yell King for the evening. Most of the evening was spent in playing football. There was a grand march preceding the refreshments, which, in keeping with the football atmosphere consisted of buns, hot dogs, pop, and dices.

Elma White, as president of the Epworth League, had charge of the arrangements. Mary Allen and Norabel Pratt planned and directed the entertainment. Louise Brown had charge of the refreshments.

"Chubby-bufft co-eds are the most studious," was a statement recently made by the director of physical education at the University of Arizona. "The slender co-ed is more frequently distracted from studious pursuits," was one of the chief arguments presented. According to this they have the opportunity either to become studious or to reduce and become popular.

KIMBALL COLLEGE ENROLLMENT LARGE

Number of College Men Greater Than Last Year. Graduating Class to be Small

The completed Kimball registration shows nine out of the sixteen full time students to be college graduates. Of these nine six are Willamette grads. Mrs. C. O. Branson '26, Harry Crouse '28, Bennett Chapel, Portland, Theodore Mitzner '27, Harrisburg, Edward Terry '28 Jefferson, Ormal Trick '28 assistant at Leslie M. E. and William Wright '28 assistant at First Presbyterian are all well known to many Willamette students. The other three college graduates are H. H. Allen, Amity, Linfield '28, Wilmer Briggs College of the Pacific '28, Donald, and James H. Ernst C. P. S. '26 Scholls. This is the largest number of college graduates as well as the largest number of Willamette graduates to have attended the school at one time. Only three are planning to graduate this year, Mrs. C. O. Bronson, George F. Gordon and H. H. Allen.

The enrollment of W. U. students at Kimball is larger than usual with thirty-eight registered for from two to ten hours. Several of these are religion majors. The most popular course among these students is rural sociology under Professor Hertzog with Dr. McCormick's Teachings of Jesus a close second.

Several of the full time Kimball students have been transferred to churches near Salem from Washington in order that they might attend school.

Students and friends of Kimball School of Theology are invited to the annual reception given by the student body on Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the library of the school.

SOPHOMORE CLASS WILL HAVE A "LINE" PARTY

At the meeting of the Sophomore class Wednesday they decided to have a line party at the Hollywood theater October 12. At the close of the program, the students will go to the Pat Boy Barbecue for refreshments.

The class elected Frances de Harport interclass rivalry chairman. Mr. de Harport has been active in campus affairs; he was president of his class in his Freshman year, played on the Freshman basketball team, and was also president of the Cubs.

SCIENCE CLUB HAS ITS FIRST WEEKLY MEETING

Curtis Reid Chosen President of Club—Ten New Members to be Chosen in Week

The science club of Willamette held their first meeting of the year in room two, Eaton Hall, on Tuesday. Curtis Reid acting chairman was elected as president for the coming year.

Business was taken up concerning the plans of the club for the present semester. Next week ten new students will be pledged, and two new faculty members will be chosen. These latter are to fill the memberships left vacant by vacating professors of last year.

Other officers elected were: Lloyd Harder, vice president and Lloyd Girod, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the club is to further more interest in the field of science. The club meets bi-monthly in the evening at which time they take up new experiments.

TWENTY-FIVE MEN MEET AT THE Y MONDAY NITE

They Are to Take up Work as Heads of The Clubs—After Dinner Several Talks Given

About twenty-five university men met around the table at dinner at the Salem Y. M. C. A. last Monday night to enroll as leaders of the various clubs of the Association. After the dinner was served Mr. Win Wolfe, boys' secretary, presented the plan to the men while Mr. Kells, secretary, explained the purpose of the clubs, and the value both to the leaders as well as to the younger members themselves.

Dr. Brown, supervisor of the boys' work, delivered a brief talk to the men concerning the work, and according to him much benefit is to be derived by the leaders in this work.

Mr. Kells made the statement that Salem had contributed more men to the Y field of work than any other association in the state. Most of these men started in with just such work as these men are beginning.

The men who take up the work of leaders have the same privileges of the use of the building extended to them as do the regularly paid members. This is an added inducement for them to give up two to three hours of their time to engage in the work.

After the meeting the men adjourned to the tank where all partook of a good swim.

MARRIED

Eva Tacheron became the bride of Hugh Bell this summer. Miss Tacheron was a member of Beta Chi and of the class of '26. Mr. Bell was a Sigma Tau and graduated with the class of '25. He received his master's degree at Stanford university this spring.

At a home wedding in Aberdeen on August 18, Sue Baker became the bride of Herbert Hartley. Mr. Hartley is a member of the Sigma Tau fraternity and was affiliated with the class of '30. Miss Baker attended the University of Oregon.

They are making their home in Aberdeen, Washington.

Esther Roeder became the bride of George Taylor of Coquille this summer. Miss Roeder was a member of the class of '23 and has taught in the high school at Coquille for several years.

Gladys Wilson became the bride of Emerson Black of Hood River this summer. Miss Wilson was graduated from Willamette in '22 and Mr. Black is a graduate of O. S. C. They are living in Hood River.

At eight o'clock this evening the student body of Kimball School of Theology will hold its annual reception. This reception is for Kimball students and faculty and for Willamette university students taking courses at Kimball.

ROOK FOOTBALL MEN GOOD MATERIAL

Fifteen Men of Freshman Class Turnout—Several Show Up to Advantage

In reviewing the first year varsity football squad candidates who are making strong bids for positions, we find that Willamette has one of the most likely looking groups of fresh players in several years. By actual count nearly 15 men are showing possibilities which may land several varsity berths.

An backfield aspirants Englebretson from Rainier, Oregon, has shown up well. "Engle" handles himself well when hitting a line and can also hold up his share of the defense creditably. With more practice as a punter, Englebretson promises to be one of Willamette's steady backs.

Garrison from Woodburn is also showing up well, and although light, his aggressiveness is impressive.

MacBee and Sonkson are other rook backfield men who lack only experience to make more varsity material.

At end, Willamette's weak spot, six rooks show possibilities. Smith, shifted from backfield to end is making a fight for one of the wing positions, while Gibson has been holding down the other berth.

Hills, a punter, Mootry, West Linn, and Tucker, of Tillamook, are other end candidates who are expected to develop as the season progresses.

In the line several men are putting up strong competition.

Hills of Momoc, Washington,

MEET THE TEAM

May we introduce Garnie Cranor, two-year letterman and flashy all-conference halfback. Garnie's uncanny ability as a ball-carrier and his excellent defensive playing was a big factor in the Bearcats' good showing last year. Cranor has had a rather late start, but has gradually been hitting his old stride and should win all-conference honors again this season.

Paul Ackerman comes from Monroe, Washington. Where that is we do not know, but we do know that "Ack" can surely toss the ball. Making his letter last year at the position of center, Paul is going good again this season. As this is only his second year The Bearcats are assured of a good center for two years to come.

"Pat" Emmons, scrappy Bearcat guard, needs little introduction to W. U. football fans, his speed and fight is remembered by fans. This will probably be Pat's last season for Willamette as he graduates next spring.

has shown well as a guard, while Rasmussen from Chemawa works well in a tackle position. Pope at center is making a strong bid and has strengthened the squad in that position.

Other linemen who are showing up are Holt, tackle; Bob Hills from Seattle; and Carpenter, a backfield man whom "Spec" has shifted to a tackle position.

If the rooks continue to show their present fire, they will make some of the older men hustle to hold their positions.

A REVIEW OF GAMES PLAYED AND TO BE PLAYED AND INFORMATION ON THE ELEVENS IN THE NORTHWEST CIRCUIT.

In the Pacific-Oregon game last Saturday it was brought out that Willamette has at least two teams on the schedule that will be plenty difficult to beat.

Although Oregon piled up a large score against Pacific the P. U. gridgers showed flashes of form which will make them more dangerous to opponents in their class. Oregon also indicated what they might do to the Bearcats when the two teams meet October 13.

College of Idaho, a member of the Northwest conference and last year's title holders, met their first defeat of the season last week-end at the hands of the Brigham Young university eleven. The Idaho men showed enough, however, to make them appear serious contenders again for this year's laurels in the Northwest circuit.

While Oregon was downing Pacific, the Columbia university Cliffdwellers defeated the Linnfield Wildcats on the Multnomah field in Portland by a 13 to 0 score. The Linnfield team put up a good fight but was outclassed in team play and aggressiveness. As this was Linnfield's first game of the season little hope can be gathered on what the team of Coach Sielke's, the Baptist school's new grid mentor, will do later in the season.

When in doubt, consult the Collegian Professional Directory. It is reliable.

Only a Dream

The preacher had been doing his stuff for nigh on to two hours, and the length of the sermon and dryness of the subject was beginning to tell on the congregation. In fact, Deacon Beggs, who was seated near the rear end of the church, had dozed off. Finally, the minister became pretty well exhausted, so he ended his sermon with the following words: "We will close with a short prayer. Deacon Beggs will lead."

The deacon awoke with a jerk and replied: "It ain't my lead; I just dealt."

Keeping pace with the change of styles, our ads change with the new style of the Collegian. Here you are—just interesting news about Men's Wear.

The trench coat is the most conspicuous of the new styles for fall among the collegians. It's to be had in either rain-proof cloth or rubber. The pick of the lot has a full corduroy lining to give added weight and warmth.

Noticed the increasing number of derbies being worn in Salem? To many Englishmen the "bowler" is known as the "Billy-rook" a slang expression combining the names of the man who first popularized this form of headgear—William Coke, Earl of Norfolk.

Selling two to one over its competitors is the Scotch grain oxford, in either tan or black—the outstanding footwear for fall. They're smart style in the correct "rat" last.

Our featured color ensemble this week includes a suit of one of the new rich browns, a green shirt, a brown and white check tie, and socks of solid brown with an embroidered clock decoration. The hat has the new narrow brim and tapered crown.

Sportorials

The spirit of the Willamette student body is reflected by the team in practice each night. The coaches state that the spirit shown so far by the teams is nothing upon which to predict a successful season.

One fact notable in the coming Oregon game is the spirit, always predominant in Oregon teams. It has been said that this has won more games for Oregon than their coaching and material combined.

Willamette opens the 1928 conference next Saturday with Linfield college at McMinnville. The game played on the Linfield field and with the weather decidedly of a wet nature, looks as though the Wildcats had more than an even chance to come out on top.

With a new coach and plenty of promising material, Linfield has been hard at work in preparation for the Willamette contest. In lone play, Linfield has several experienced men, King, all conference center is back and going better than ever and is counted on as the key man in the line defense.

Warren, speed-demon is the mainstay of the backfield, is experienced and heady and is expected to be one of the Wildcat best ground gainers.

In the Bearcat camp the situation is somewhat different. Recuperating from the Washington game has taken time and snap from the coaches' plan and W. U. will not enter the game with full strength.

Gibson, end; Flock, tackle; Mort, guard; Sonksen, full; and Tucker, end; are all definitely out of the Linfield game because of injuries. Three of these men are regular and their places will be hard to fill. Other men who sustained injuries in the Washington game who may or may not be in shape by Saturday are: Versteeg, tackle; Cardinal, end; Depoe, quarter; McMullen, full; and Ackerman, center. Other men who are not in shape are Ellis, and Halstead.

The one apparent fact is the game will be a fight from start to finish with Linfield having a slight edge. Let's reflect the spirit we expect in the team by being at the game and behind the team 100 percent.

Perhaps some good football material can be uncovered when the gym classes of Coach Sparks play tag football. At least they evidence plenty competitive spirit, which is what the Bearcat team needs.

The announcer at the University of Washington game had things mixed when he announced that Carrol seemed to have a twisted ankle while the doctor was working on his neck.

First Villager: "They must be having one of them tar masquerade parties tonight."

Second Villager: "Naw, they ain't. That's only Hank Slocum's son what's been off to college."

Included in the enrollment of the University of Washington are fifty Russian students who were exiled from the nation of their birth after having fought under the flag of the "White Armies".

FIRST METHODIST CHOIR LOFT IS AGAIN FILLED

Attendance Exceeds That of Last Year—Dr. Fred Taylor Gives Short Talk

The First Methodist choir loft is again filled with white robed Willamette singers. With the large per centage of last year's members who have returned, and with the many new music students the attendance exceeds that of last year.

At the first practice of the season Dr. Fred C. Taylor made a short talk of appreciation and passed around a treat as a good wish for another successful year.

Professor E. W. Hobson is directing in his own spirited fashion. He has chosen new music of the highest quality. Already enthusiastic practices have begun for the first concert of the year.

YELL KING REPORTS BUSSES MAY RUN

All Who Expect To Go To game Saturday at Linfield Sign Posted List

Yell King "Buck" Winslow announced that the Southern Pacific would run busses to McMinnville for the game with Linfield this Saturday, the fare being a dollar and five cents round trip.

He also said that he did not want this proposed trip to be confused with the excursion which the student body will take when the team plays the Badgers at Forest Grove.

All students who are interested in the trip to Linfield and think that they will be able to go are requested by Mr. Winslow to sign the list posted on the bulletin board in Eaton Hall.

SWEETLAND FIELD STAYS FAIRLY DRY

Benefits of the improvements made on Sweetland field before the Willamette university football training season opened, are now proving their worth. While the Salem high players are "up to their eyes in mud" on the temporary gridiron at the school field, the Bearcats, so far at least, have been keeping comparatively dry on the well rolled playing surface topped by sawdust.

The increased slant and deeper drains at the sides of the field are also showing results in keeping the gridiron free of the mud holes that have characterized it in the past. Too much rain may overcome the effect of these precautions, but for the present, the improvements are doing what was expected of them.

Speaking of famous athletes, "I'm always on the team," said the horsefly.

WILLAMETTE NIGHT AGAIN TO BE HELD

The cubs are planning a Willamette night at the Elsinore theater October 26. This will follow the pep rally which will take place in the downtown streets. The entertainment at the theater will be in the form of a rally the purpose of which is to arouse enthusiasm for the game with the College of Puget Sound. In addition to the feature pictures and the Manhattan players the yell king and song queen will lead the students. The presence of the Bearcat team on the stage will add much to the enthusiasm of the crowd. All Willamette students should attend and give the team their best support.

News Bits From Here and There

EVANSTON, Ill.—More rigid requirements for first year women will be in effect at Northwestern University this year, President Walter Dill Scott has announced. Only those from the upper quarter of their high school classes will be eligible for admission, instead of from the upper half as heretofore.

These more stringent requirements not only will tend to equalize the number of men and women on the Evanston campus, but they will enable the university eventually to carry out its policy of requiring all women students to live either in university dormitories or their own homes, according to President Scott. It is estimated that taking only women from the upper quarter of their high school classes will tend to make the ratio of first year women to men about 333 to 450.

A beauty contest without any girls! Impossible? Yet due to the lack of co-eds on the campus, of the Oregon Agricultural College, they decided to have a beauty contest for men. But instead of dividing the vote into sections for the man with the most beautiful back or the man with the prettiest hair, they divided the ballot thusly:

1. Best looking football man.
2. Aggie with the cutest smile.
3. Best looking Aggie.
4. Most bashful Aggie.

BUT every ballot must be signed, and the ballots will be published each week in the Aggie. That may be a good way to prevent wise-cracking, but it may cause worrying over the problem of which man it would be hardest to pacify.

Whatever the weakness of the Coolidge administration, our wisened but smiling president has given some pearly words of wisdom on the subject of education.

W. U. Endowment Fund Campaign To Be Renewed

Dr. Carl G. Doney, president of Willamette university, Wednesday sent out a call to 15 alumni and members of the board of trustees to meet next Tuesday to make plans for finishing Willamette's endowment campaign.

In order to meet the requirements of the board of education of the Rockefeller foundation, it is necessary for the university to raise approximately $280,000 within a year. In a former campaign pledges were made for an amount sufficient to meet the demands of the board of education, but many pledges were not paid in full.

Dr. Doney indicated Wednesday that a few substantial subscriptions have been made toward the deficit, but that the campaign now projected will have to raise practically all of the $280,000.

The program at the armory will begin at 8 o'clock, opening with the singing of "America" led by Dr. H. C. Epley. The speaker will be introduced by T. B. Kay, state treasurer. Hal Ross, secretary of state, is another official who will be present.

The meeting will be closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Mrs. Hallie Parrish Hinges.
