Smith to View ROTC Annual Review

Demonstrations summing up a year's work will be presented to President G. Herbert Smith Wednesday at the AFROTC detachment's annual President's Review at McCulloch field Wednesday at 7 p.m.

THE ENTIRE detachment will participate in the event, which will include an inspection by President Smith and marching demonstrations by the drill team and Angel Flight.

Also on the agenda is a "pass in review" in which the troops will march past the honored guests.

INDIVIDUAL and group awards will be presented with the Sons of the American Revolution award being given to the student with the highest academic standing in Air Science I.

The Convair Cadet award, the American Legion cup, and the Air Force Association Medal will go to outstanding students in Air Science II, III and IV classes respectively.

OUTSTANDING members of the band and drill team will be given an Elk's plaque, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars cup will go to the best basic cadet.

Outstanding achievement in laboratory leadership in each class will be rewarded with the Chicago Tribune award, and the Governor's Pennant will be awarded to the outstanding squadron on the drill field.

In addition to President Smith, the Little Colonel of the detachment, Janice Bean, and visiting officers of the armed services will witness the review.

SB Office Closing

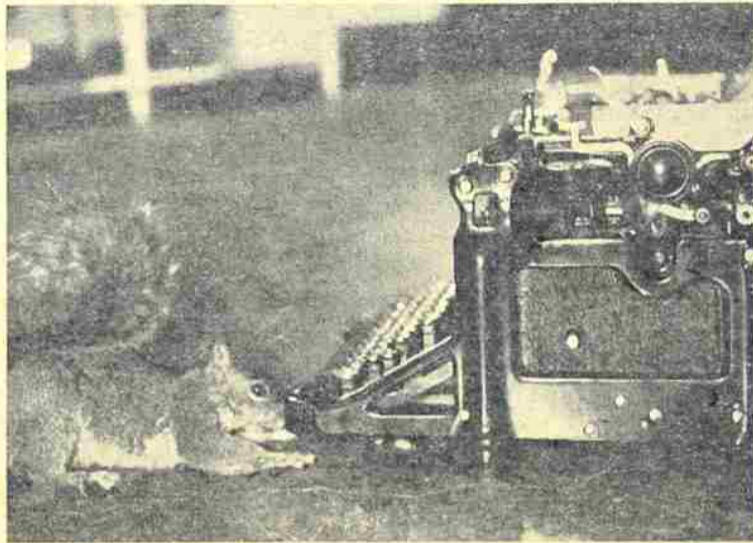

A sure sign of the approach of the end of a semester is the close of the student body office. Office manager Sondra Roark announced this week that no more work would be accepted after May 30.

Applications will be available next week in the SB office for anyone wishing to work there next year, Miss Roark stated. All applications must be turned in by 4 p.m. Friday afternoon.

Pre-Registration Booklets Due In Registrar's Office By 5 p.m.

Pre-registration booklets are due in the registrar's office by 5 p.m. today, Harold Jory, registrar, announced. In the first two days this week approximately 400 booklets

No Nuts Here!

Many a tired scholar, beckoned to the cooling waters of the rock quarry or the scenic beauty of Silver Creek Falls, can appreciate the baleful stare being rendered the typewriter by our curious rodent. Turn-about is fair play, let us hope, and students can now enjoy the squirrels' freedom while those frisky little denizens of nature hustle and bustle to stock up a new supply of nourishment for the coming winter. Mutual of Omaha to Insure; Manker Chosen Blood Head

Three students were elected to student body positions and Mutual of Omaha was awarded Willamette's insurance contract for the 1958-59 school year in Wednesday's council meeting.

MUTUAL OF OMAHA was a darkhorse previously unconsidered in the insurance issue. They had been informed of the date their offer was due, but submitted it two weeks late. However, there was no letter sent to them originally, thus transaction was arranged by telephone. Coverage is for 24 hours a day, for the premium of $12 per semester, with a maximum medical coverage of $1000.

Blood Drive chairman next year will be Dot Manker. In her platform, she outlined emphasis on the potential blood giving individual by demonstrating the giving process from beginning to end through convocation.

SHE FEELS that the blood drive will be a success only through the publicity it receives, and the manner in which the publicity is directed at the student.

Barbara Huff and Marge Stout were elected to publications board. Publications board members decide the policies for, and coordinate all publications, make appointment of editors, and budget and select contracts.

Rogers New Chapel Head

George Rogers was unanimously chosen next year's chapel manager at Monday's Religious Life Council meeting. Rogers will select a chapel board which will have four or five students who will decide on speakers, student ministers and themes.

ROGERS stated that he will welcome student suggestions, ideas, and constructive feelings which could be useful for improvement of the weekly hour. Tentative plans include obtaining information with an organized survey on student suggestions.

Building programs for a number of chapels around one central theme is another suggestion Rogers has. This might include inviting the same speaker back. He also hopes to take advantage of a wide variety of speakers, both from topic and denominational standpoints.

Honors Given 90 Students

Expected presentations and some surprise awards keyed Willamette's first Activities Award Program in yesterday's convocation. Approximately 50 students were named to campus honoraries and another group of 40 students received individual awards for their contributions to student activities.

After turning over the gavel of A.S.W.U. officially to student body president Larry Willingham, retiring president Wayne Carr was presented with the Student Body President's Award by Willamette University president, Dr. G. Herbert Smith. Taking top scholarship honors were Delta Gamma and Beta Theta Pi for the fall term competition among living organizations. Sue Snyder accepted the Willamette Valley Alumnae Panhellenic Association Plaque from Mrs. John Hann for the Delta Gamma 3.1235 G.P.A. The Delta Gammas also accepted the Willamette Scholarship Trophy from Dean of Women, Regina Ewalt.

Alpha Phi Initiation Scheduled Saturday

One of the highlights of the school year for the Greek letter societies takes place this weekend in the form of activities for the first pledge class for the Willamette chapter of Alpha Phi.

THE NEWEST SORORITY on campus, Gamma Tau chapter of Alpha Phi has several events scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday, including initiation, banquet, church attendance, model chapter meeting, and reception.

Snake Lake Gang Warned in Court

Eight Willamette students, along with 22 other people, were summoned to court Wednesday afternoon to face charges of trespassing at Snake Lake.

Accompanied by Richard Yocum, acting dean of students, the eight went before Judge E. O. Stadter to receive a moderate fine. The fine was suspended and the students given a warning not to return to the ol' swimmin' hole.

Snake Lake, known to Willamette as the rock quarry, has been a popular spot for students this spring. However, the owner felt it necessary to enforce the trespassing restriction after extensive property damage has been done.

The students involved were penalized only to the extent of court costs.

SINCE RALLY queen Pat Duffy will not return to school next fall, Karen Henninger will take a position on the rally squad, and runoff for rally queen between Elaine Buckinger and Barbara Smith will be held soon.

President Smith and student body president, Larry Willingham, decided to re-activate the student affairs committee next year. In the past there were 13 faculty members to four students.

Under next year's policy, there will be six faculty members and six students. The student council voted that the persons selected would be recommended by Willingham, then reviewed and passed by the student council before final appointment.

YD's Give Charter To Oswego Group

The Willamette officers of the local chapter of Young Democrats traveled to Oswego Tuesday evening to charter a new YD group organized by Richard Allender, former congressional page boy for Richard L. Neuberger.

Post mortems of the primary election and financial outlooks will head the agenda at the State Executive Board meeting to be held at Willamette this Sunday at 6:30, announced Dan Marsh, YD prexy of the local chapter.

Present at initiation ceremonies, which will be held in a room of the Fine Arts building at 1 p.m. Saturday, will be two national officers of Alpha Phi, Mrs. Marian Keys, national president, and Mrs. Helen Plumb, national membership chairman.

ALSO IN attendance will be Mrs. Virginia Baldwin, the sorority's district governor, and representatives from Tau and Beta Upsilon chapters at the University of Oregon and Oregon State College.

Pledges to be initiated include 20 coeds and 11 women from the campus and Salem communities. Among these 11 women are Dean Regina Ewalt, Mrs. H. H. Brooks, mother-in-law of President Smith, and Mrs. Maurice Brennan, wife of Willamette's band leader.

AT 6:00 p.m. Saturday, a formal banquet, honoring the new members, will be served at the Marion Hotel.

Sunday will see three activities for the Alpha Phi's. They will attend St. Marks Lutheran Church in the morning, hold a model chapter meeting at 2 p.m. at Lausanne Hall, and be honored at a reception from 3 to 5 p.m. in Doney Hall.

Admission to the reception will be by invitation.

Eugene Corey To Give Recital

Eugene Corey, organist, will give a recital in the First Methodist Church Sunday at 4 p.m. Organist for the tour choir for the past two years, Corey is also a member of the band and orchestra.

He has studied organ for the last three years from Prof. Josef Schnelker. Before that, he had played piano for 10 years and had been organist for the First Methodist Church in Oregon City.

His program includes "Chaconne" by Couperin, "Von Himmel hoch da Komm ich her" by Pachelbel, "Von Gott will ich nicht Sassen" by Bortolomeo, and "Basse et Dessus de Frompette" by Clerambault, in the first group.

Bach's "Praeludium and Fugue in G Major" is the second group, with the third made up of "Choral No. 3 in A Minor" by Franck.

The fourth group will feature three Vierne compositions, "Berceuse," "Pastorale" and "Divertissement." "Tocatta from Symphony No. 5" by Widor will complete the recital.

The public is welcome to attend.

A chemistry major, Corey holds Crown Zellerbach and Max D. Tucker scholarships and an award from the Oregon City Elks club.

aid Kingsley and Robert Schaefer were presented band keys by band director Maurice Brennen.

Susan Platt was named winner of the George Putnam Award and Richard Forcum winner of the Charles A. Sprague Award. Both prizes were for outstanding contribution to the college newspaper.

Robert C. Notson Annual Wallulah Awards were presented to John Galbraith and Judy Taylor for their contribution to the college year book.

Beta Alpha Gamma, sophomore women's service honorary tapped Maureen Avery, Karen Kettering, Carol Woodbury, Terry Boyd, Ann Harper, Gail Larsen, Lee Wilkinson, Karen Henninger, Barbara Royer, and Marcia Humphrey for membership.

Omicron Delta Kappa, upperclass leadership honorary for men, named Dean Bishoprick, Bill Long, Conrad Moore, Bill Bullard, Frank Bash, Dave Landis, and Dave Steward as new members.

Mortar Board and Angel Flight also recognized previously announced new members before the student body.

No Trespassing

Quarry Raid Routs WU Swimmers

By DAVID KITCHENER

As a result of the rising temperature last week, many WU resort seekers took off for the rock quarry, also known as Snake Lake, located about 10 miles northwest of Salem.

However, all the fun came to an abrupt end last weekend. The reason: Snake Lake is on private property, and the owners are not very fond of the idea of many people trespassing on it. As a result, the Marion county sheriff, Denver Young, conducted a "raid" on the lake.

THE SHERIFF first entered the temporary resort area Friday night, when he took 26 names, many of them Willamette students. On Saturday afternoon, the names of five additional WU students were taken.

Young said that the students' names are being submitted to the district attorney, who will then consult the property owners. If the owners wish to press charges, the students will receive citations and possible fines for trespassing.

IN EXPLAINING his action, the sheriff says the owners have been troubled by trespassing for several years, and that this has produced harmful results.

"Beer bottles and beer cans have been strewn all over the place," commented the sheriff. "Signs have been torn down, gates wrecked, and there has been much petty theft and vandalism. We have often warned the kids against trespassing, but all we get are horse laughs. So, we decided to crack down."

IT IS THOUGHT that a major part of the damage has been done by high school students.

The sheriff added that the owners are worried about the possibility of law suits if someone should get hurt. In the lake there are many boards with nails sticking out of them, there are dangerously steep drops from the bank to the water in some areas, and the bottom slopes steeply right off shore.

PLEASURE SEEKING Willamette students have been forced to move to new territory. Many have settled for the Willamette river, but the water has been designated as polluted. For the time being, this seems to be the best outdoor swimming area, however.

One thing is sure. Students who sneak in to Snake Lake in future will probably receive stiff fines, warns the sheriff.

Such ado over a place to swim leads to this question: With all the Oregon rain, why aren't there plenty of lakes in this area?

At Second Glance

WITH THE ROCK QUARRY off limits according to the sheriff, and the sun in its continued effort to squelch California rooters, versatile Willamette students Larry Stratton and Dianne Dickson are discovering many ways to "beat the heat," even if it comes to breaking the famous Bearcat "Blanket Rule!" Ike's Nod OK's Culy Campaign

President Eisenhower is a very busy man these days, but not too busy to be interested in Willamette politics. This was brought to light by a recent letter to Stan Culy, newly elected Second Vice President at WU.

DURING HIS campaign, Culy sent many post cards to town students telling of his interest in serving them as Second VP.

As a campaign gimmick, one of Culy's campaign managers, Jerry Cyphert, sent a card to President Eisenhower, telling of Culy's political aspirations. Included on the card was the statement: "We'll vote for you if you vote for us."

TO STAN came a swift reply from Washington.

Dear Mr. Culy:

Your card to the President has been received. He appreciated your thought in writing to him and sends you his best wishes.

Sincerely,
Sherman Adams

Speaker, Once a Jew, Accepts Protestantism in Catholic Chile

Frank Arabela, yesterday's speaker to the campus Newman Club, is in a unique situation. From Chile, Arabela was a Spanish Jew until he was converted to Christianity recently.

In his position as a convert to Protestantism from the Jewish faith and living in a predominantly Catholic country, Arabela was able to analyze the three religions for his audience.

ABOUT thirty-five years ago, under Chilean President Arturo Alessandri, said Arabela, the Catholic Church and the Chilean government separated. "But the influence of the Catholics remains high," he added. The Catholic Church in Chile is tax-exempt and receives some support for schools from the government.

Said Arabela, "Of eight million Chileans there are 100,000 Protestants." Protestants in Chile maintain private schools - rated among the best and most exclusive in the country - with most of their aid coming from U. S. dollars. Baptists and Methodists comprise the greatest number of protestants.

JEWS IN Chile number about 60,000, most of them known as Spanish Sefaradi Jews. They have synagogues in Valparaiso, as well as in Santiago, Arabela said.

Though speaker Arabela uses excellent English, Al Zavala, Newman's president, interpreted some ideas which were difficult for the Chilean to phrase. Zavala, of Mexican descent, speaks both Spanish and English fluently.

MR. AND MRS. C. L. McCloud, parents of Willamette student Paul McCloud, are sponsoring Arabela, who came to the U. S. to study art.

His talk concluded Newman's speaker series for the semester. The first speaker for next semester will be Dr. Harley Ziegler.

Concerning Criticism-

Educators Want Cooperation

It is impossible to obtain a major in one of the largest departments of the College of Liberal Arts and it also has no graduates. However, it is the only department which offers graduate work.

It is, of course, the education department.

Dr. James R. Lyles, Jr., head of the department, estimates there are slightly over 100 juniors, seniors and graduate students presently enrolled in education courses, while scores of freshmen and sophomores plan to enter the teacher preparation program.

ONE JUST doesn't decide to go into the program, however. The students who enter the teacher education field are carefully selected.

A cumulative grade point average of 2.5 is required of prospective teachers as well as recommendations of major professors.

What should an education department accomplish, and how should it fit in with the other departments of a liberal arts college? Dr. Lyles and Dr. Homer Hawes, associate professor of education, have definite ideas on this subject.

"THE EDUCATION department depends upon close cooperation of all other departments," Dr. Lyles commented. Secondary teachers must be well-educated people and ought to have a very broad and liberal education.

He stressed that teacher education by its very nature is made up of so-called academic capabilities, professional capabilities, and personal qualities.

Its primary responsibility, Dr. Hawes feels, is to organize and direct an "adequate program of teacher preparation." This program, according to Dr. Lyles and Dr. Hawes, should include a study of human growth and development, principles of American education as a function of society, the philosophy, psychology and sociology of education as well as techniques of teaching.

IN COMMENTING upon the recent rash of criticism leveled at the schools and teacher preparation, Dr. Hawes again pointed out the importance of educating people to an understanding of the school within society.

"If many critics had a better understanding of the nature of the problem, they would be no less vocal, but much more constructive in their criticism," Dr. Hawes said.

The problem facing American education cannot be solved through attacks on the system, but requires intelligent cooperation between critics and educators was the feeling of the education professors.

TO STRUGGLING students trying to meet requirements for teaching certificates, the standards sometimes seem expressly designed to baffle their hopes.

Who sets up these requirements? According to Dr. Lyles, the State Board of Education through the State Department of Public Instruction sets the standards for colleges to meet. Every college preparing teachers must be evaluated every five years by either a committee set up for this purpose by the Department of Education or by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

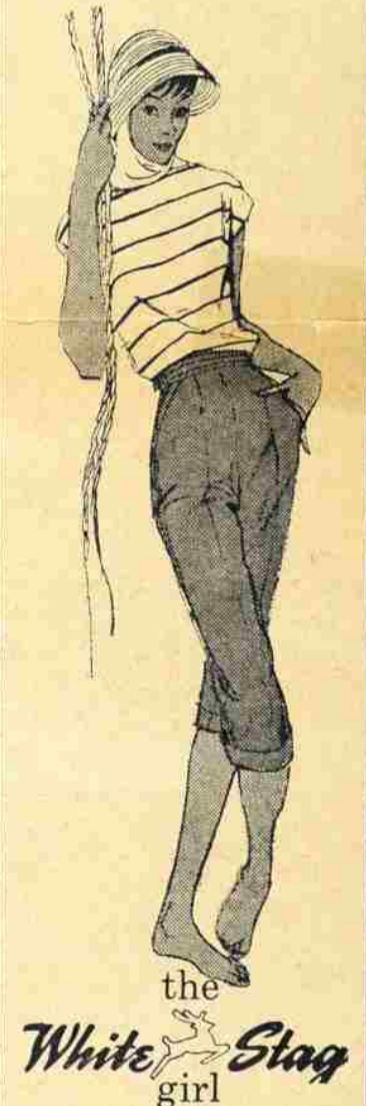

TEACHER certification requirements are officially adopted by the State Board of Education and are acted upon by the Legislature.

Willamette's professors of education are active in many more areas than simply straight teaching. Both Dr. Hawes and Dr. Lyles are kept busy fulfilling frequent speaking engagements before educational and professional groups.

Here's a Real Problem

So Willamette thinks it has parking problems!

Sophomores at Syracuse University are not being allowed to have cars on campus. This is the school's latest step in trying to solve the parking problem: 85 percent of the college-affiliated autos can't be parked on university lots.

Your Town Press of Salem was awarded the printing bid for the 1959 Wallulah in last week's Publication Board meeting. Also at the meeting Frank Bash and Lewis Seagraves were selected darkroom manager and assistant manager respectively for next year.

Drama Honorary Initiates Quartet

Four new members of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic honorary, were initiated in ceremonies at the Fine Arts building Tuesday evening.

The new initiates are Yvonne Hill, Ross Stephen, non-drama majors, and Barbara Bredsteen and Laural Tiller, who are both drama majors.

According to Robert Putnam, drama director, members of Theta Alpha Phi are chosen because "they show some expression of support of the theatrical effort of the department over a period of time." He also remarked that this support is not only shown in actual on-stage acting, but back-stage work as well.

Mary Beth Feller, retiring president of Theta Alpha Phi, announced the new members of the honorary at the annual awards banquet last week.

Dave Stall, owner of the press and a Willamette alumnus, earned the bid on a competitive basis from two other concerns in the east. The local aspect of the Salem concern was one of the factors taken into consideration.

Anyone who wants to work on the yearbook and especially anyone who has had experience is urged to contact John Galbraith, next year's editor.

Galbraith said that particular emphasis is being placed on building an experienced staff for the publication. Two journalism seminar courses are available for credit.

Bash will stress increased organization and delegation of authority in the darkroom which should facilitate getting pictures taken on time. Seagraves will be in charge of darkroom processes.

Choir Auditions Slated

Auditions for a cappella choir for next year will be held May 26 and 29 in the Fine Arts building, room 145W.

All those interested in auditioning for choir should sign up with Prof. Don Gleckler in the Fine Arts building. Times for auditions are Monday, May 26, from 4 until 5:15 p.m. and Thursday, May 29, from 4 until 5:15.

Seniors Elect Dean Short Alumni Rep

Dean Short and Muriel Miettunen were elected permanent representative and permanent secretary respectively of the class of 1958 at a senior class meeting Wednesday.

THE HONOR accorded Short follows an active college career during which he most recently served as student body treasurer and president of his fraternity.

Miss Miettunen is currently serving as co-editor of the Wallulah, has been active as accompanist for Freshman Glee, and is past president of Doney hall.

PLANS for the beach trip to Oceanlake were discussed at the same meeting and the seniors were reminded that caps and gowns must be picked up at the bookstore Tuesday and Wednesday only for use at the senior chapel Thursday and the remainder of the senior commencement activities.

Glee banners are available in the student body office for all seniors who participated in Glee. George Hoyt, class formation leader, announced that there were a few extra ones available for non-participants.

Caps, Gowns Ready For Seniors Next Week

Seniors must pick up their caps and gowns in the bookstore Tuesday and Wednesday for senior chapel Thursday at 11 a.m. The $5 deposit will be required at this time.

Gowns may be kept until immediately after commencement, June 8, when they must be turned in and $2.25 of the deposit money will be returned.

Seniors Organize Final Activities

Plans for the senior beach trip and chapel were discussed and organized at a recent senior meeting last week.

Dr. Luther will be the main speaker at the senior chapel, which will be held May 29. Dr. G. Herbert Smith and Al Siebert, senior class president, will also speak.

Following the chapel service the seniors will depart for their traditional beach trip which will last until Sunday when Baccalaureate services will be held. Thursday afternoon the group will visit the festival of flowers at Depoe Bay.

A full schedule of events are planned for seniors who wish to participate as a group. General chairmen for the trip are Diane Wickstrom, housing; Chuck Marsters, food; Joyce Hill, chaperones; and Fred Chambers, recreation.

Tyro Politicos To Introspect

Students from 11 Oregon colleges and universities will gather here Saturday to evaluate their participation as interns in the primary election campaign which ended last week.

THE STUDENTS have been helping in the campaigns of 13 candidates for major offices to learn more about politics. The program is under the sponsorship of the Oregon Citizenship Clearing House.

All the interns will deposit reports of their activities during the primary campaign, said William G. Cornelius, executive secretary of the Clearing House. Cornelius said "students have worked diligently for their chosen candidates" and have learned much about practical politics.

Institutions participating in the program are Lewis and Clark, Linfield, Marylhurst, Oregon College of Education, Oregon State, Pacific, Portland State, Portland University, Reed, Southern Oregon College and Willamette.

Primary Class Election Begins Wednesday

Polls will open at 7:45 a.m. Wednesday and Thursday for primary elections of class officers, student body constitution revision and yell queen. Run offs will be conducted the following Monday and Tuesday.

Eaton hall post will be open until 3 p.m., Collins until 1 p.m. and the library until 2 p.m. John Sweeney, election chairman, said.

The student body office will be open for voting from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m., while law students should vote at any of the open polls.

Polls will be manned by new members of Beta Alpha Gamma and Sigma Alpha Chi service honoraries.

Constitutional Revisions Recommended

Seventeen changes in the constitution are being recommended by the Constitutional Revisions Committee under the direction of Skip Alexander, student body member-at-large.

These changes will come up before the student body for a vote in a student wide election next week. Careful consideration has been taken in making the changes and students are urged to consider them.

Changes are as follows: old preamble. We, the students of Willamette University, in order to provide an organization for the control of all matters of general student concern, do hereby ordain and establish the following constitution.

New preamble: We, the students of Willamette University, in order to provide a supreme organization for the control of all matters of general student concern, do hereby ordain and establish the following constitution.

Article II - Officers

Section 3. The first vice-president shall assume the duties of the president in the absence of that officer and shall act as chairman of the Activities Board.

Revision. The first vice-president shall assume the duties of the president in the absence of that officer and shall act as chairman of the Activities Board and Rally Commission.

Section 4. The second vice-president shall be in charge of ASWU elections.

Revision. The second vice-president shall be in charge of ASWU elections and the Elections Committee.

Article IV - Elections

Section 1. Except for the rally squad, elections shall be held at least one month before the close of the second semester, the date to be set by the Student Council. The Rally Squad shall be elected in February. All candidates for the elective offices of the Association shall be nominated by petitions of 25 members of the student body. The petitions must be presented to the Student Council at least one week before election; whenever possible, at least two candidates for each office shall be named.

Revisions. a. ASWU elections shall be held at least one month before the close of the second semester, the date to be set by the Student Council.

Section 2. The Rally Squad shall be elected in February. All candidates for the elective offices of the Association shall be nominated by petitions of 25 members of the student body. The petitions must be presented to the Student Council at least one week before election; whenever possible, at least two candidates for each office shall be named.

b. The Australian ballot system shall be used for all elections.

c. All members of the Association shall be entitled to vote upon presentation of student body card.

d. All officers except the member-at-large shall be elected by a majority vote and in case no candidate receives a majority the Student Council shall call a new election within one week; at this election only the names of the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall appear on the ballot.

e. The runner-up for the position of student body president shall automatically be elected member-at-large.

f. All vacancies which may occur in the ASWU elective offices shall be filled by popular ballot at a special election, with the exception of Rally Squad elections as provided in Article 10, Sec. 3.

Section 2. Class elections, Homecoming, Freshman Glee, May Weekend, and special elections shall be under the jurisdiction of the second vice president of the Student Body and the Elections Committee.

Article V - Funds

Section 4. c. If at the end of any school year the surplus in the capital outlay fund is greater than the sum of the appropriations of the two years immediately preceding, the excess over said appropriations shall be transferred to the student union fund.

Revisions. If at the end of any school year the surplus in the capital outlay fund is greater than the sum of the appropriations from that fund for the two years immediately preceding, the excess over said appropriations shall be transferred to the student union fund.

Article VII - Student Council

Section 1. The Student Council shall consist of the following:

c. Faculty members without vote:

A member of the faculty selected by the council for a term of one year, and the general manager of the student body.

Section 2. The General Manager shall be appointed by the Student Council upon the recommendation of the student body president and the president of the University.

Revisions. c. Faculty members without vote:

A member of the faculty selected by the council for a term of one year, and the general manager of the student body who shall be appointed by the Student Council upon the recommendation of the student body president and the president of the University.

Section 3. The council shall enforce the Constitution, shall have charge of elections, shall be responsible for adherence to traditions; shall make appointments for ASWU activities, committees and boards as provided for in the Constitution and By-Laws; and shall be responsible for the general interests of the Association. The Council shall be the chartering agency for all student activities with the exception of those under Panhellenic or Inter-Fraternity control.

Section 4. Emergency powers may be granted to the Council by a three-fourths vote of the Association. When such emergency powers are granted, the Council may act on all matters without strict adherence to the Constitution. Such powers shall be granted only for one year at a time and only when school or national emergencies make such action practicable.

Bearcats Divide Twin Bill Share Basement With Whits

By JIM CLOSE

Winning 5-3 and losing 6-5, the Bearcats split a twin bill Wednesday with the Lewis and Clark Pioneers. The division gave the 'Cats the dubious honor of joint occupancy of the NWC cellar with the Whitman Missionaries.

IN THE first game the Pioneers jumped to a quick 2 run lead in the first inning. Joe Johnson drew a walk and Jack Ward knocked the next serving over the center field wall for a home run.

The Lewismen bounced back in the third frame to score four markers on a walk, a single and a pair of homers back to back by Vic Backlund and Frank Caruso. Backlund's blow came with Tom Moore and Dick Hamada on base, while Caruso got his four bagger with the bases empty.

THE PIONEERS retaliated in the top of the fourth, scoring a pair of counters that proved to be the victory margin. Two hits, a walk and two costly Bearcat errors accounted for the L-C tallies.

In the bottom of the seventh, the Bearcats threatened as Tom Moore opened with a screaming triple. Dick Hamada popped up and Backlund stepped to the plate. On the third pitch, Backlund powered a long drive down the left field line that was grabbed by Royce McDaniel on the best fielding play of the day. That stemmed the tide and the Bearcats were finished.

THE SECOND game the 'Cats scored once in the first on singles by Howard Speer and John Frederick and a walk to Caruso. Two consecutive triples in the fourth backed with two singles, scored four runs for the Bearcats.

Bill Acker knocked out a home run in the Pioneer second and two hits plus two Bearcat boots combined to give the L-C nine two counters in the fifth. This was as close as the Pioneers could come to the Bearcats in the final contest of the season.

Vic Backlund, Howard Speer, Dick Hartley, Jack Fowler and Brad Lucas played their last game in a Willamette uniform, in the Bearcat final game victory.

Team Effort Nets NWC Tennis Title

Team strength made the difference as Willamette's netmen successfully defended their Northwest Conference title at Walla Walla last weekend. The Bearcats copped the trophy by scoring thirteen points, only one more than Whitman who took 2nd.

WHITMAN captured both the singles and doubles titles but lacked the depth necessary to earn the team victory.

In the singles play, Willamette advanced three men to the semi-finals while Whitman had only one. In doubles competition, Willamette again had a two to one advantage entering semi-finals play.

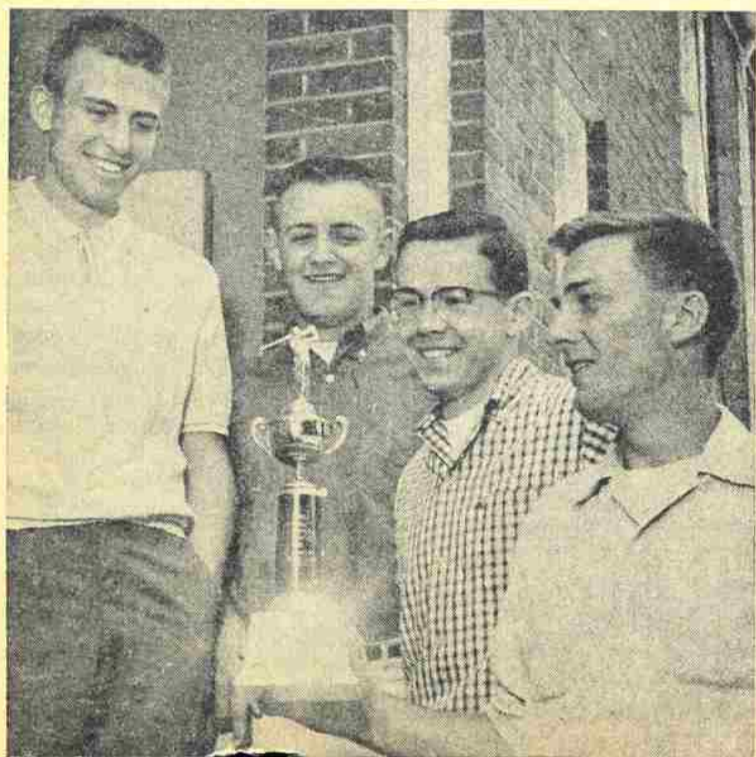

Willamette earned a definite advantage when Bob Bennett defeated Whitman's Jim Hite, 6-2, 6-2. Bennett's win cinched the title for the Bearcats since it left only one Whitman player in contention.

INDIVIDUAL honors went to Whitman's Jerry Bratton. He took the singles title with a 3-6, 6-2, 6-2 triumph over Jerry Kalapus of Pacific. Then Bratton coupled with teammate Jim Hite to down Roger Stewart and Fred Minifie of Linfield, 6-2, 6-2.

Tim Campbell, Willamette's top man, was defeated by Bratton, 6-4, 6-4 in semi-final action. The contest was extremely close, sixteen of the twenty going deuce before one or the other went on to win.

THIS MAKES the eighth straight year that Coach Les Sparks' teams have nabbed the conference title. This year's team consisted entirely of freshmen and sophomores. The only returning lettermen from last year's squad were Tim Campbell and Gerry Winner. Two newcomers, Bob Bennett and Dale Daniel showed great improvement over the season and should be very strong next year. Glen Durham should also provide some real help for next year's squad.

Scoring behind Willamette in conference play were Whitman, 12; Linfield, 7; Lewis & Clark, 6; College of Idaho and Pacific, 4.

Golfers Easily Stroke Their Way to NWC Crown

The Willamette golf team easily stroked their way to another Northwest Conference championship at the conference match held Friday at Walla Walla.

AS LONG AS golf has been a part of conference competition, the Bearcat teams have consistently dominated play. This year was no exception as Coach Jerry Long fielded the strongest team seen in NWC circles in many a year. The four Bearcats placed 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 6th in the field of 24. Their low aggregate score of 220 was 24 strokes better than the Whitman team who took second.

Leading the pack was Jan Aaseth, Willamette's gift from Norway. Tournament victories are regular occurrences for Jan. He won the Norwegian Junior Championship in 1956 and took 2nd in the Scandinavian Open last year. Jan shot brilliant golf, scoring 76-72-148 for the thirty-six hole test. His game was consistent and, with the exception of a couple of 3-put greens, he admitted satisfaction with his performance.

NEXT IN ORDER were Joe Karmos and Rusty Beaton who both shot 156. Completing the Bearcat lineup was John Holmes with a 160.

The long, narrow Walla Walla course provided a real test of skill. The greens were very fast and required delicate putting.

Much to the dismay of the rest of the conference, Willamette will have its entire team back next year. Besides winning the conference title, the Bearcats again went undefeated in conference play. Gene Paterson and Dick Renn completed the regular six-man team.

COACH LONG has indicated that the team will enter the NCAA match which is to be held at Eugene next year.

As reward for their low scores in the conference golf meet, three Bearcat golfers earned berths on the all-conference golf squad.

SELECTED were Aaseth, Karmos and Beaton from Willamette and Keith Stanwood from Whitman.

Aaseth, Beaton and Karmos are all sophomores. The three will be back next year to defend their title.

Backlund Signs Pro Baseball Contract

Hailed the greatest all-around athlete in the history of Willamette, Victor Backlund, has made a great decision concerning, not only his athletic career, but his future in general. Backlund signed his first professional contract last Wednesday night with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Throughout the current baseball season, a scout for the Los Angeles Dodgers has been eyeing the Bearcat catcher. Finally, after the Lewis and Clark doubleheader last Wednesday night, Backlund decided he wanted to be a part of the Los Angeles organization and professional baseball in general.

Following graduation, he will report to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League. Here he will work out for about eight days. After receiving the once over from Spokane, he will probably report to the Great Falls club on a 24-hour recall basis.

The signing of a professional baseball contract rings down the curtain on a brilliant collegiate career, which has been highlighted with many academic and athletic honors.

Backlund gained the distinction of making the Northwest all-star first team in all three major sports in one year. He was a senior scholar in the history department, and was named the outstanding member of his social fraternity in the nation.

Sigs Win Crown; Betas Beat Alphas

The powerful Sigs racked up another championship last Wednesday when they edged the Phi Dels 2-1, in intramural badminton. The win gave Sigma Chi a perfect 4-0 won and lost record as their schedule came to a close.

In the other match, the Betas beat the Sig Alphas, 2-1.

With two games remaining to be played next week, the Betas will clash with the Baxters to determine runner up position. The Phi's and SAE's will also vie, with the champion Sigs drawing a bye.

Backlund, Caruso, Speer Are Selected

Three 'Cats On NWC All-Star

These three Bearcats, (left to right Howard Speer, Vic Backlund and Frank Caruso) have been named to the 1958 All-Conference baseball team of the Northwest Conference. This is the second consecutive year that Backlund and Caruso have been selected for the honor team. Backlund backstopped the Bearcats, while Caruso ably held down the initial sack. Speer patrolled the outfield and supplied the clutch hit for the Lewis squad.

Although the Willamette University Bearcat baseballers wound up in the cellar of the Northwest Conference, along with Whitman, the squad was still honored by having three of their star performers selected on the mythical Northwest Conference All-Star team.

THE THREE Bearcat All-Stars are Vic Backlund, Frank Caruso, and Howard Speer. Honorable mention went to Willamette's Jac Fowler, Tom Moore, and Hisao Sato.

The naming of Backlund to the mythical dream team completed an athletic sweep for the great competitor. Backlund was an All-Northwest Conference fullback in football, an All-Northwest Conference forward in basketball, and now an All-Northwest Conference catcher in baseball.

BEARCAT first baseman Frank Caruso made the team for the second straight year. Last year, the coaches selected Frank as a third baseman to the team. Known for his long ball hitting, Frank proved to be a better than average first baseman after he made the switch from the hot croner.

The selection of Howard Speer to the team capped a brilliant senior year for the clutch-hitting outfielder. Speer transferred from Oregon State College after his freshman year, and had to lay out his sophomore year. After having a mediocre season last year, Speer proved to be the most consistent hitter of the current campaign.

CARUSO will be the only Bearcat first team selection returning next year. Both Backlund and Speer graduate in June.

The first team selections consisted of: Backlund and Dick Brown, Linfield; catchers, Dick Stephens, LC; Bob Graham, Pacific; Bob Perkins, C of I; and Carl Meeuwssen, Linfield; pitchers.

INFIELD selections were: Caruso; Pete Ward, LC; Ron Morrison, C of I; Bob Persin, C of I; and Joe Jackson, LC.

Outfielders named were: Speer; Bill Braum, Pacific; Jack Riley, Linfield; Royce McDaniel, LC.

Spence Sets NW High Jump Mark

Willamette University's track and field team returned from the Northwest Conference championship meet, which was held in Walla Walla, with a not too impressive fourth place. However, thanks to Skip Spence, the Bearcat team received ample recognition.

Spence broke the Northwest Conference high jump record with a brilliant leap of 6' 1 1/4". This broke the old mark of 6' 3/4" set by Al Tarpenning of Linfield back in 1953. Willamette's Dale Hartman won the other first place victory for the Bearcats, when he ran the mile in 4:27.4.

Once again, this year the star of the meet was Whitman's Dave Klicker, who paced his team to victory in the annual championship meet. Little Dave assumed an ironman role as he rolled up 35 1/5 points in helping Whitman accumulate their 36 3/4 total points.

Klicker set a new record in the low hurdles when he cleared the barriers in :23.7. He also won the high hurdles, the broad jump, and the 220-yard dash. Six other records were set in this year's meet, including Bill Machamer's :48.4 time for Linfield in the 440.

Linfield's Bob Crane set a new javelin record, when he bested the old mark of 203' 4 1/2", which was set by Willamette's Bob Hall in 1951. Crane's new mark was 204' 3/4 inch.

Bearcats Claw Linfield, 12-8

By JIM CLOSE
Collegian Sports Writer

Capitalizing on two home runs and four defensive errors, the Bearcats outlasted the fast closing Linfield Wildcats, 12-8, last Thursday at Bush Park.

After a scoreless first frame, the 'Cats scored 5 runs in a wild second inning that saw three Jason singles and a trio of Wildcat boots set up the five tally score.

Frank Caruso opened the inning with a single, followed by Vic Backlund who was safe on an error. The next two batters flied out and the Bearcat rally seemed doomed, but Keith Driver delivered a solid base hit to score Caruso from second and the barn door was open. Dick Hartley gained life on an error that scored Backlund and set the stage for Hisao Sato's three-run homer over the centerfield fence.

The Lewismen scored a lone marker in the third stanza as Caruso garnered his second hit of the day on a long home run to deep center field.

The Bearcats scored six more in the fourth inning to round out their scoring for the day. Driver opened the frame and gained first base when he was hit by a pitched ball. Hartley followed with a walk and Tom Moore beat out an infield single to load the bases. Dick Hamada brought Driver home with a single and the bags remained full. Caruso stepped to the plate and capped his sterling performance of the day with a triple to right field to score three more B'Cat tallies. Howard Speer kept the fire going with a single to score Caruso and was brought in on the next play, as Ted Farley knocked out a sharp double down the left field line.

The Wildcats scored three runs in the sixth on three singles, a double, a walk and an error. In the Linfield seventh, three walks loaded the bases and Wildcat hurler, Don Herman, made a strong bid to save his own ball game with a grand slam home run. Linfield scored once more in the eighth canto on a single and three consecutive Bearcat boots. With one out and two on in the eighth, Jack Fowler came on to relieve Hartley on the mound and turned in a sparkling relief job to save the Willamette win.

Believe it or not, the baseball is hiding in the outstretched glove of Frank Caruso as Linfield left fielder Ken Davis is called out on a close play. After this play in the Linfield four-run seventh frame, the Bearcats went on to win the game, 12-8.

Lawyers Win Moot Point?

With head bowed, the Collegian Sports Department wishes to apologize to members of the Law School for the inaccurate reporting of last week's intramural softball game.

The Collegian reported that the men of Beta Theta Pi had trounced the Lawyers 8-1. However, a quick check of the record discloses that the Law School defeated the Betas, 2-1; and largely on the strength of lawyer John Mullin's home run.

Malahini Holiday to be Setting For Phi Delta Theta Islanders

The Phi Deltas have been dreaming and working and they say they'll take their dates on a Malahini Holiday tonight. The brightness of the Hawaiian sun of the South Pacific will be setting, leaving only dark silhouettes on the beach as a background for the annual sword and shield spring house dance.

TO QUENCH the guests' Pacific thirst, not cocoanut milk, but an exotic and exciting drink has been promised by general chairman, Hall Sisson.

This Island paradise will be created at Randall's Chuck Wagon, and the evening will be begun by a banquet there.

DEL CUMMINGS has arranged for the music for the evening, Dick Bell's combo. Dave Marsters is in charge of creating this island paradise with decorations. Chaperones for the dance will be Captain and Mrs. William F. Wright, Prof. and Mrs. Howard A. Mader, and Prof. Earl Holmer.

Honored guests on this imaginative flight into fantasy include President and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Dean and Mrs. Melvin H. Geist, Dean and Mrs. Robert D. Gregg, Dean and Mrs. Seward P. Reese, Dean Regina Ewalt, and Dean and Mrs. Richard A. Yocum. Mrs. Charles "Mom" McElhinney is another special guest.

IMAGINATIONS will have full sway as the Phi Deltas and their guests dream up costumes to fit the theme of their dance.

On this particular South Pacific island a poor working Phi Delt might run into anything from begging beachcombers to King Tuilaha himself, from a brown-skinned native with his canoe under his arm, to the president of Ford Motor company complete with leis and ulcers.

The Phi Deltas have found a fine answer to this business of having to study for finals: get away from it all on a Malahini Holiday.

Final Fling

The class of 1961 will have its Freshman Final Fling at the Pi Beta Phi house on Saturday night from 8:30 to 11.

Freshman members of the sorority will be hosting the affair to which all members of the freshman class have been invited. Dancing, cards and games are on the agenda as well as food for the attending bearkeepers.

First Veep Names Choice

JO HEALD

A surprise announcement at the Delta Gamma house Monday night was the engagement of Jo Heald, a junior from Milton-Freewater to Bob Simpson, second year law student.

Miss Heald is first vice-president of the student body and campus editor of the Collegian. Simpson, a graduate of University of Oregon where he was a member of Delta Upsilon, is to compete in the national moot court competition.

No definite date has been set for the wedding but it will be after Miss Heald's graduation next spring.

Emil Muhs to Lead Baxter Hall Men

Officers for the fall semester were elected at Baxter hall this week. Newly elected president is Emil Muhs.

Assisting Muhs will be Chuck Foster, social chairman; Larry Stratton, student council representative; Lyle Tucker, secretary; Dave Steward, treasurer; Pete Briggs, house manager; and Gary Lovre, song leader.

Saturday the old and new officers will go to Vancouver for an officer's retreat at the home of Ron Wilkinson, outgoing president.

Pinnings

Susan Trueblood, Delta Gamma, and John Trelstad, Phi Delta Theta. Marcia Humphrey, Delta Gamma, and John Wood, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Maggie Moore, former Willamette student, and Bill Graham, Phi Delta Theta.

GREAT GREEKS

Phi Iota Omicron, the latest informal Greek group on campus elected officers and had its first serenade. Spence Erickson, elected president because he is the tallest and the members wanted a man they could look up to, is to be assisted by Dick White, pan-hellenic representative; Eldon Olsen, anti-social chairman; Tony Meeker and Dave Mertz, mere members, and Terry Jew and Bob Craig, less-than-mere-pledges. The group's first serenade served a practical purpose. They sang for their supper at the DG house.

FOGGY FOGGY DEW

Though quarters were a little crowded, three hardy sons of Jason decided to sleep on the porch of the Beta house this weekend. Except for nightmares about falling off their cots, the trio consisting of Rod Bernklau, Ed Grossenbacher and Don Williams, had a quiet evening of healthy rest . . . until some wise guys doused them. Soaking wet they spent the rest of the night in the relative safety of the basement, sans blankets, sans cots, sans sleep.

NEVER TRUST A MAN

Sue Snyder was pleased when she received eight letters in one mail delivery, and she was telling Bob Hellenthal about it on the phone. After the disclosure about the letters he went on to talk of many things at great lengths, great enough lengths to have several buddies go to the Delta Gamma house, ring the bell, ask for Sue and carry her to the Millstream and drop her in. She had the last laugh though, when she sent him six letters and saw him take a chilly dip the next day.

Mortar Board Initiates Ten

The gold and silver ribbons and small diamond shaped pin of Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary, were placed around the necks of ten new initiates Sunday.

The Lausanne lounge was the scene of the first initiation ceremony performed by the new Willamette chapter. President Jeannine Mercer officiated at the ceremonies at which the cap and gown clad ini-tiates received their ribbons and handbooks.

They included Sue Snyder, Barbara Roach, Marge Stout, Joan Sherrill, Barbara Dennis, Sondra Roark, Martha Eagleson, Sandra Moore, Kay Ruberg and Sandi Harris.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served to the new members, their parents and friends.
