Cross Gets State Job In College Publicity

Info Director To Quit Post

Travis Cross, director of information at Willamette, will take over the duties of director of information for the Oregon state system of higher education on June 15, with his office on the University of Oregon campus in Eugene.

Cross' new duties will be to coordinate news of the Oregon colleges which include the University of Oregon, Oregon State, Southern Oregon College of Education, Oregon College of Education and the University of Oregon Medical school.

Cross will be one of five men in Chancellor Paul Packer's office in Johnson hall and will replace Melvin Lester who resigned because of ill health.

When asked of his feelings toward his new position, Cross replied, "I appreciate the total cooperation extended to me by Willamette's administration, faculty and staff this past year in our efforts to more effectively publicize Willamette. The new opportunity, in Chancellor Packer's office, to serve higher education on a wider basis, is one that could not be resisted."

Cross has been employed by Willamette as director of information and alumni affairs. Prior to this, Cross attended Stanford and Willamette, and was in the navy public information office in Florida.

Cross' successor has not been appointed, but several persons have applied.

Pay Fines Now

All persons not paying library fines before Friday, June 2, will not be allowed to take final examinations, according to University officials.

Calendar Readied

Social chairmen of all campus and living organizations, and anyone interested in scheduling events for next year will meet Monday in Eaton 2 at 4 o'clock. Ideas and recommendations for the social calendar are especially needed, said Jack Brown, ASWU first vice-president.

Alumni Day Preparations Set; Includes Luncheons, Reunions

Alumni Day on the Willamette campus will be more extensive this year than ever before, Director of Alumni Affairs Travis Cross announced this week.

Schedule of activities include: Saturday, June 10—12 noon, luncheons scheduled by the various reunion classes; 4 p.m., business meeting of the Alumni Association, President Ed. Averill, Portland, presiding; 6 p.m., Alumni Association banquet, $1.50 per plate, Baxter hall; 6:30 p.m., Senator hotel, Law Alumni association banquet, President Joe Felton, presiding; 8:30 p.m., faculty reception for seniors, Lausanne hall.

The entire class of 1950 is invited to the Alumni Banquet.

Cross reports, as dining facilities will extend into Baxter's living room.

Dean Robert Gregg will speak to alumni on "My sophomore year at Willamette." William L. Prosser, dean of the school of jurisprudence at the University of California, will address the law alumni.

A five-year reunion plan has been installed for this year, according to Cross, who expects the introduction to take a few years for complete success. Welcomed back will be Classes '49, '45, '40, '25, '30, '25, '20, '15, '10, '05, and '00.

Twenty-five year medallions will go to members of the Class of '25 and '00.

Proceeds to Go to University For Use in Lighting Stadium

Streamers and brightly-decorated booths with a smattering of the sawdust atmosphere of a county fair will convert Willamette's gymnasium into a "Big Top" ASWU Carnival tomorrow night.

With the backing of various Salem organizations, the ASWU Carnival, sponsored by the student body, will turn all proceeds over to the University to be used for lighting the new stadium at McCulloch field, slated for completion by next fall.

At least eighteen booths of assorted types will be spread about the gym, according to chairman Jack Wilson. Prizes for both the winning women's and men's organizations will be awarded for the booth offering the most originality and greatest profit.

Jo Colony, decorations committee chairman, said that the gym will be decorated with streamers of crepe paper tied together in the center to carry out the "Big Top" theme. Construction of the booths will wait until tomorrow morning.

The affair will last from 7:30 to 11 p.m. tomorrow night. Publicity was being circulated throughout Salem this week, in addition to a sound truck touring the city and spot announcements on local radio stations.

Large quantities of colored crepe paper to be used on the booths will be furnished to the organizations, such as service honoraries, that do not have the necessary funds. Lumber for the booths is being furnished by the student body. They will be built in the gym.

One of the main features of the decorations will be a miniature football field. The decorations will be put up tonight and will be finished before the building of the booths tomorrow, according to Miss Colony. Music for the affair will be a live juke box operated by students inside an imitation juke box. Dancing will be held upstairs later.

Annual Honor Chapel Sees Deserving Students Awarded

By Don Scarborough

The men behind the scenes who turned Willamette's wheel of fortune were rewarded this week at a special chapel in which prizes and acknowledgements were passed out freely in exchange for a record of unusual achievement.

Russ Tripp gave what he considered the biggest award, the reins of the ASWU, to Stan Aschenbrenner, new student body president. Dr. Dan Schulze, retiring general manager, received from the student body a power saw and a package of band-aids "to keep him busy this summer."

Officer's keys were given to Russ Tripp, student body president; Roger Adams, first vice-president; Art Dimond, second vice-president; Pat Howard, secretary; Dick Hartley, senior class representative; Jack Gunn, junior class representative; Rod Beals, sophomore class representative; Elliot Motschenbacher, law school representative; Chuck Patterson, member-at-large, and Delbert Tillotson, activities board.

A Homecoming key was awarded Stan Aschenbrenner and certificates went to Don Benson, Jackie Chute and Bob Muhr. Dick Endsley received a May Weekend key and his committee, Florence Goodridge, Dave Place and Don Phillips, certificates.

A Whip Whitman key was given to Dave Beckett; a Campus Chest key to Jean Carrico Barber; a yell squad key to Bud Corner, and certificates to Bo Brooks, Pat Click, Jack Kiekel and Bob Hilmer.

Duane Denney received a Freshman Glee key, while his committee, Wes Ishikawa, Tom Yates, Phil Ringle and Barbara Baker were awarded certificates.

Jack Brown

Brown Chosen May Rotarian

Jack Brown, Sigma Chi junior, has been chosen the Rotarian for the month of May by the student council. He will serve as ASWU first vice-president next year and will assist on the Collegian feature page.

Brown served as publications manager this year and was the junior class president this semester. He is a member of Blue Key, senior men's honorary. As a sophomore, he was the advertising manager of the Collegian and a member of Sigma Alpha Chi, sophomore men's honorary.

Willamette-Salem Orchestra Plans Sunday Program

The recently-organized Willamette-Salem orchestra, under the leadership of Dr. Willis Gates, will give a concert on Sunday afternoon, May 28, at 3 o'clock in the Waller hall auditorium.

The program for the concert will include Mozart's "Overture to Don Giovanni," the "Clock" symphony by Haydn, and Beethoven's sixth, or "Pastorale" symphony.

This will mark the first concert by the Willamette-Salem orchestra, which was organized from the University orchestra and the Salem community orchestra. Gates emphasized that the orchestra personnel is composed of approximately two-thirds Willamette students.

The concert is open to the public, and there will be no charge. Gates expressed the hope that there would be a good student attendance at the concert.

Editor Makes Collegian Staff Appointments

New Editors to Assume Leadership Next Week

Announcements of Collegian editorial positions by newly appointed editor Bill MacDougall included Mary Louise Lee as news editor, and Prudence Craig, present society editor, as feature editor.

Stan Nelson will take over the sports page and Jean Gilmer will edit the society section. Next year's photography and rewrite editors will be announced next week.

Jack Brown, newly elected first vice-president of the student body, will assist Prudence Craig on the feature page. Shirley Helweg will assist Jean Gilmer on the society page.

Top sports writers will be Bob Hilmer and Frank Winship. News writers will be headed by Elizabeth Morley, Jill Larson, and Harriet Booth.

The newly appointed staff will assume their duties with next week's Collegian which will be a four-page paper, said MacDougall.

MacDougall said that the paper will begin publication next fall during freshman week, preceding all-school registration in the middle of September.

New publications manager Don Pritchett stated that he hopes to make a definite appointment next week to the post of advertising manager of the Collegian. Appointment of a new circulation manager will not be made until next fall, according to the editor.

Jim Freeman, reporter this year, will take over the duties of copy editor.

New Staff Takes Over

As this edition goes to press, another Collegian staff signs the journalistic "30" to a year of publication. With mingled feelings of relief and regret we type the last cut caption, check the final galley of proof and see the forms locked up for the last time.

During your editorship, Bill, you, just as we did, will experience the thrill of scoops, exclusives, hot news, late breaks and last-minute changes phoned in after the paper has been locked up. You will also know the disappointment that comes when no matter how hard you try, some blunder creeps in, some one changes details on a story at the last minute and does not let you know, some important decision is reached too late to make the deadline, or some story does not break right for you.

You will know the exhilaration of the responsibility that will be yours—the responsibility to get the news, to get it right and to get it to your readers when it is fresh. And oftentimes, you will feel the power of the position you have when you find that you have not only to get the news, but in many circumstances, you have to make it.

Throughout the year the Collegian has received a lot of cooperation and in return we have tried to give whole-hearted service. To those who have had a special part in producing the Collegian goes the sort of appreciation which words cannot express—to the staff editors and reporters, to the Statesman crew, to Prof. Ringnald who spent many hours at the Collegian office on Wednesday nights giving advice and suggestions.

As we close our final issue, a glance at the future reassures us that the Collegian has the kind of editor needed to guide the paper through the next school year. Along with numerous problems and disappointments will come a feeling of achievement as the paper hits the streets Friday mornings and the students eagerly read it during their Friday morning classes.

Good luck, Bill.

Successful Election Campaign

Out of a field of twelve candidates for nomination to the House of Representatives, Mark Hatfield topped the list.

With all due respect to our favorite political science instructor, we think it is significant that Mark's campaign manager was Travis Cross.

If all goes well, we may look forward to at least one bright light in next year's legislature.

There are other good men around. It is too bad that there are not enough men like Cross to see that they are called to the public's attention.

Sidewalk Obstacles

In case anyone cares, the reason the sidewalks around the campus are torn up is that tree roots have grown up under the cement. The idea is to pull up the walk, cut out the roots and re-lay the cement.

We just mention this because there are some students who suspect the reason is to erect obstacle hazards to trip over at night.

How about some lights on the barricades? Good girls are supposed to be home in bed before dark, but why try to prove it.

Oversight

If everyone at awards chapel did not get an award it was only an oversight.

After All, Not Everyone Can Become Intellectual

Grad: "I'm from Willamette university and I have specialized in industrial psychology."
 Personnel manager: "What's your name?"
 Grad: "John Smith. Oh yes, I would like to mention that I did a term project on the effect of alcohol on production."
 Personnel manager: "Age?"
 Grad: "Thirty-four."
 Personnel manager: "What kind of a job do you want?"
 Grad: "I feel that I could do a great deal towards increasing your production by applying the latest methods that have been developed in the field of industrial psychology."
 Personnel manager: "Any physical disabilities?"
 Grad: "I'm slightly on the hyper side with respect to my thyroid gland but my studies in endocrinology tell me that it's nothing to worry about."
 Personnel manager: "Criminal record?"
 Grad: "No sir, I'm from Willamette."
 Personnel manager: "How much do you weigh?"
 Grad: "Two hundred."
 Personnel manager: "Did you graduate from high school?"
 Grad: "Yes."
 Personnel manager: "Ever handle a shovel?"
 Grad: "Yes sir. As a matter of fact I made an analysis of the emotional patterns of men while they dig ditches."
 Personnel manager: "Oh, really? Have you ever done any work with a wheelbarrow?"
 Grad: "Well sir, as a matter of fact I have."
 Personnel manager: (lifting phone on his desk) "Charlie, I think we have a man for that job out in the gravel pit. I'll send him out tomorrow."
 Grad: "Thanks."

There's Always a Solution: Write It Yourself

Apparently no one told the new editors of the Collegian what they were getting into when they accepted their positions for next year.

At the beginning of each semester there are usually a dozen or so "experienced writers" who rush in proclaiming that they are ready to present their talents to Willamette students. They speak of reforming the campus editorially and some of them say that they would like to do something to improve "that lousy sheet last year."

You have to be tactful about asking the writer to do an assignment because you don't want to make him mad.

After condescendingly agreeing to do an assignment William Allen White II leaves.

Tuesday night comes along and no story shows up. This doesn't worry you too much, however, because stories often come in on Wednesday night.

Wednesday night arrives and the masterpiece still doesn't get in.

Desperation sets in. A quick call to the culprit's fraternity informs you that he hasn't been seen.

Then you tackle three or four of the old standbys around the office and manage to talk them into contributing something—anything. If you're lucky you will get the page filled but it is more likely that you will find yourself shy about ten inches at one o'clock in the morning.

Wanting to get out of the office before 3 a. m., you finally manage to compose something yourself that you would rather not print but have to.

The next day you run into your friend walking down the campus. You tell him, "Say I didn't find that story last night."

He replies, "I just couldn't write it this week, friend. They had us pledges on the cleanup committee for last night's fireside. I gotta swell idea for next week though."

At this point you quietly remove your weapon from your shoulder holster and do what must be done.

Dogs, Squirrels Have Fleas, But So Can Humans

A nebulous rumor of undefined origin has been circulated the past fortnight. It implies that canine pets may be banned next year from campus living units. The idea, says the rumor, comes from health authorities, who are dubious as to the cleanliness of units harboring dogs.

It occurs to us that this is an excellent idea. Filthy creatures, these pups. While we are at it, let's really clean up the campus. All manner of squirrels consider Willamette's hallowed trees their exclusive property. Everyone knows that a squirrel is a rodent . . . ergo, a quadruped Typhoid Mary.

Now that the subject arises, we are shocked that almost a century has passed with nothing done to eliminate the pests. Classes of supposedly upright and respectable Willamette students have virtually ignored this menace. They have let it multiply before their very eyes. Senator McCarthy should be notified.

But we digress. Before we can attack the insidious squirrel problem, we must eliminate a couple of dogs who have presumptuously inhabited portions of the men's living quarters for the past few years. The fact that these animals might help out with the squirrel-chasing if allowed to stick around should have no bearing on the question.

It merely makes a vicious circle of the whole business.

We propose that someone appoint a committee to investigate Toni, Cookie, Nugget and Schneebles and their subversive activities. This done, a clean-up campaign may be properly launched. Let us no longer avoid this vital issue!

Collegian Features

BEEFS and BOUQUETS

Editor's note: Travis Cross, Willamette's director of information and alumni affairs, will leave his present post and begin his job as director of information for the Oregon state system of higher education in June. The following is an open letter to the class of 1950.

Dear Fifties:

Bev and I think the senior beach trip was a most appropriate conclusion to our "official" Willamette service. It was fun and we thank you for asking us. From Eugene, we will no doubt often wish we had chaperoning opportunities.

May I ask each member of the class of 1950 to take an active interest in the Alumni association. The contacts you make in the association are helpful throughout life, to be strictly practical, and the pleasurable reunions are thrilling and revitalizing.

Membership in the Willamette family is your privilege via attendance. This has been one of Willamette's greatest years what with the research grants, the Carnegie tie-ups, a national recognition of the a cappella choir, the building of McCulloch stadium, the championship and co-title in basketball and baseball, the foreign study summer course—these and other achievements will cause generations to say, Churchillian-wise, this was "their finest hour."

Increased alumni interest will better the prestige of Willamette and will cause her to continually grow toward greater goals.

Pre-Registration Books Due Today In Jory's Office

Pre-registration books should be returned to the registrar's office by 4 p.m. today according to Harold Jory, registrar. The books will be returned next fall and even though some books are still incomplete, they should be returned today, he said.

Students returning but unsure of next semester courses may obtain a special form from the registrar's office. Transfer students should notify the registrar's office and may obtain a special form.

Jory said that 500 students have picked up books for pre-registration and Monday, the busiest day, totaled 450 books distributed. There will be approximately 650 preregistering for liberal arts and music, he said.

Preregistration for the law school will be held later with about 100 students expected to register, Jory estimated.

Painting and art works of all kinds, as above, will be featured during the summer months in the art building in the display room. All compositions are products of Willamette students. (Photo by Phil Wimer, USAF.)

Complete Art Display Features Examples of All Students' Work

By Marlene Vincent

A complete art show featuring all the departments is on display in the art building, according to Carl Hall, artist in residence. Every art student has an example of his work on display, Hall said.

Dr. Cameron S. J. Paulin's classes of commercial art feature window displays, signs and layouts of the campus. Various products are shown with consumer appeal.

The graphic arts classes picture examples of etchings in which plates are printed by filling incisions with ink, wiping the surplus from the surface of the plate, and pressing prepared paper against it. The paper is forced into the depressions, taking up the ink and retaining a slightly embossed effect characteristic of engravings and etchings.

Examples of lithography or "stone printing," and of silk screen printing which is the youngest of the graphic arts processes, may be seen in the exhibit. Also aquatints which are acid-bitten tone prints, wood cuts and engravings, and linoleum block prints are on display.

The art structure class has shown charcoal and pencil drawings, water and oil paintings. Some of the paintings are along realistic lines while others deal with abstract thinking.

Both beginning and advanced paintings are shown. Examples of the actual wood blocks, and plates that the students work with are featured. Some of the senior art students are Dale Cleaver, Ron Nichols, Pat Parsons, Tom Edwards and Margaret Simpson. Miss Simpson has a pastel chalk mural displayed.

Prof. Kollman to Take Oral To Complete Doctorate Work

Prof. Edward Kollman left for Harvard university this week where he will take an oral examination as the final step in obtaining his doctorate of philosophy. The examination, by the philosophy faculty of the university, will cover his doctorate thesis on "Creative Imagination."

The thesis was submitted April 1, and accepted on first admission. The test will be given May 31 and subsequent award will be made a week later at Cambridge, Mass. Kollman will return June 4.

The 467-page historical, analytical, and interpretive study of imagination was begun several years ago, according to Art Dow, philosophy senior scholar. Last year he made an extended trip east to gather source material. Much of the references came from books found only in eastern libraries.

Philosophy classes have been turned into reading periods until June.

Frosh Netters to End Season Here Saturday

Tennis season will end officially tomorrow for the Willamette Frosh tennis squad when they square off with North Bend high school here on the local courts. The varsity netmen closed their season two weeks ago with the playing of the Conference meet.

In the meantime, the Frosh, who have not fared well this season, dropped another match, this one to Dallas high school, 5 to 4. Only John Ambler and Ray Myers were able to salvage singles wins while the Bearkit netters pulled two out of three in the doubles.

Results:

Singles: Reed (D) defeated Acheson (W), 7-5, 6-1; Buhler (D) defeated Denny (W), 6-2, 6-3; Ambler (W) defeated Regehr (D), 6-1, 6-2; Hodges (D) defeated Harris (W), 61, 5-7, 9-7; Myers (W) defeated Saunders (D), 6-4, 6-3; Smith (D) defeated Moodhe (W), 6-4, 6-4. Doubles: Buhler-Reed (D) defeated Acheson-Denny (W), 7-5, 1-6, 6-2; Harris-Ambler (W) defeated Regehr-Hodges (D), 6-4, 7-5; Myers-Moodhe (W) defeated Saunders-Smith (D), 4-6, 8-6, 11-9.

Willamette Gains High Standings in Women's NW Archery Tourney

Willamette's women's archery teams copped first, second and fourth places in the Northwest Sectional Intercollegiate Archery tournament. This completes a great year for the gal archers who already took second place in the National tournament with Shirley Allen winning the National individual crown. Shirley did not compete in the Northwest meet.

Only four colleges entered the competition which was open to all Northwest schools. The other colleges were Reed college, Washington and Washington State college. Reed placed third in the tournament.

The tourney took place between April 17 and May 7. The scores are compiled and sent to Reed college for judging to determine the winner. Each girl shoots 60 arrows at a 24-inch target from 15 yards.

The Willamette girls who entered competition and their scores were: Team 1, Pat Click 476, Betty McAfee 456, Lei Kealoha 454, Catherine Kenyon 428. Team 2, Barbee Sherman 426, Beverly Gustafson 412, Carol Givens 410, Sally Humble 404. Team 3, Lowena Horsley 396, Joan Aitken 378, Esther Perkins 358, Edythe Holland 352.

'Cats Tie for Diamond Toga With 18-8 Win in Final Tilt

Willamette and Linfield ended the Conference baseball season in a dead heat, each club turning in a seven won, three lost performance. The Bearcats turned the trick by scalping Lewis & Clark 18-8, while it took Linfield ten innings to down Pacific 12-11.

Strangely enough, the method determining the baseball champions of the Northwest conference was put this year on a straight win-loss percentage basis and in its trial year two teams wound up in a tie for first place. No provision was made at the last fall league meeting for a play-off so a tie it remains. For the first twenty-odd seasons of circuit there was a title play-off between the best of the western teams and the two eastern colleges.

Score Every Inning

Johnny Lewis' boys scored in every round of the final game to punch out an 18-8 TKO over the Pioneers. Three L-C hurlers might as well have thrown basketballs, for the Bearcats hammered them for 15 blows including home runs by Dave Perlman, Chuck Bowe, and Roy Harrington.

Harrington, incidentally, in his last time up in the last game of his senior year, got what he'd been trying to get for a mighty long time, a home run. Nice finish for a distinguished athlete at Willamette.

The Bearcats' scoring power snowballed as it gained momentum. One run came in each of the first three frames, then three in the fourth, then two and three more. The seventh inning explosion off Dick Tydeman made any Pioneer visions of victory go up in smoke for good.

Perlman Hits Hard

Perlman had a day for himself with a homer, a double, and a single. Bowe's circuit blow with two on went to the farthest corner of the park and he later added two singles to that. Gory Lenz and Irv Roth collected two hits apiece.

In annexing their seventh title in the 22 league seasons since 1927, the Bearcats crept up to Whitman's record of nine championships. The other outfits in the league have parceled out six first places and a tie in the two-decades plus. From 1940 to 1943, inclusive, the Jasons took the diamond trophy every year which gives at least the longest title string. Whitman has only three consecutive, '37, '38, and '39.

Out On A Limb

By David Card

As the school year draws to a close, the Willamette Bearcats can look back on a fairly successful sporting year, with three Northwest conference crowns under their respective belts. Starting out with football, the Bearcats had one of their poorer years under the new coaching staff headed by Chester Stackhouse. The team did show, however, possible future strength. From football the emphasis turned to basketball, which was perhaps the brightest spot in the entire season. Coach Johnny Lewis presented a sophomore-studded squad that rolled to the Conference crown, and the runner-up spot in the District NCAA playoffs.

Spring found the Bearcats hitting a measure of success, although Willamette finished third of the three teams competing in the Conference ski meet. In baseball, however, the story was different and the Lewis coached squad turned in a tie for the Conference title with Linfield. Golf was one of the brighter lights as freshman Bill Wittenberg led the squad to the Conference crown for the second straight year. Tennis was another low-spot as the Bearcats failed to gain either the singles or doubles crown. In track, the incomparable Ted Mertz was unable to pull the Willamette squad through, and the Bearcats had to be satisfied with fourth place.

"Outstanding" Nominations

While we're on the roundup, we might do what is usually fatal to sports editors, naming outstanding athletes in each sport. Here are our nominations: football, Bill Ewaliko; basketball, Lou Scrivens; baseball, George Matile; golf, Bill Wittenberg; tennis, Cece Conners; skiing, Tom Edwards; and track, Ted Mertz. For the outstanding all-around athlete for the year, however, our nomination goes to Al Fedje who was a standout in football, basketball and track and gained the distinction of being the only Willamette three-sport letterman this year.

Track season has not yet reached a complete close, as three of the Bearcat cindermen are scheduled to compete in an invitational meet to be held at Lewis and Clark tomorrow. Trackmen from the Northwest conference and the Evergreen loop will compete. Those entered from Willamette include Vern Shangle in the broad jump, Wally Boe in the mile, and Bob Hall in the javelin. On the subject of track, Vern Shangle came through with the chips down in the Conference meet when on his final broad jump, he advanced from sixth to fourth place to enter in the money.

More Track News

Bob Hall once again broke his javelin record in the meet, only to have the throw disqualified because of a foul. Unofficially Ted Mertz broke the school record in the 100 yard dash, being timed at 9.9. The record will not stand, however, as his 9.9 gave him only fourth place. Mertz also tied the school record in the high hurdles, tying his own record of 15.5 seconds. Congratulations to Bob "Slick" Miller for his performance in the half mile. Miller ran a 2:03.6 half mile which, while only sixth in the race, was much faster than any turned in by a Willamette runner this year.

Since this will be our last chance to pound out "Out On A Limb", we would like to congratulate a fine sports staff for its co-operation this semester. To Frank Winship, Tom Brennan, Bob Hilmer, and Stan Nelson a hearty "thank-you." We'll be turning over the reins to Nelson for the next year, and we hope that Stan enjoys it as much as we have. Also thanks for the co-operation of coaches Les Sparks, Jim Johnson, Chester Stackhouse and especially Johnny Lewis. Without this excellent co-operation, a Sports Editor's job would be difficult indeed.

Here and There . . .

The three double-plays turned in by the Willamette Bearcats in their final game marked their top effort of the season. Bearcats Take Fourth in Conference Track Meet; Mertz Again Top Scorer Willamette's thinclads compiled 41½ points to cop fourth place in the Northwest conference track meet held Saturday at Whitman college in Walla Walla. Lewis and Clark came in an easy victor with a total of 71½ points, while Whitman was second with 47 points followed by Linfield with 45. Pacific was fifth with 15 points and College of Idaho came in sixth with a total of 4 points.

Ted Mertz, Willamette's ironmen, led the individual point scoring efforts with a total of 17½. Mertz compiled these points with a win in the high hurdles, a four-way tie for first in the high jump, second in the low hurdles, third in the 220 yard dash and a fourth in the 100 yard dash. Bob Hall came through with another first place for the Bearcats with a win in the javelin, tossing the spear 191 feet. Jimmy Noa gained a three-way tie for first in the pole vault at the height of 11 feet 6 inches. This was Noa's best vault of the year.

Deane Moore, Lewis & Clark's ace distance man, set two new Conference records, shaving eight seconds off the mile record with the new mark of 4:24.9, and also clipping a slim five-tenths of second off the half mile record to establish a 2:00.1 record. Another record was broken in the hundred, when Lewis and Clark's Bud White erased his own century mark of 9.8 with a fine 9.7 performance. White also came through to record a win in the 220-yard dash.

Sigs Ahead in Both Softball Playoffs; Betas and SAEs Gain Final Rounds

The A and B league intramural softball play-off got under way last Monday with the Sigs leading in both leagues at press time. In the A league, Sigma Chi shut out the Sweat Sox 5-0 and edged the Betas 3-2 in extra innings. The Sig Babes gained the final round after defeating the Phis 6-2 and nipping the SAEs 4-3.

The Beta A's knocked the Lawyers out of the play-off with a 9-2 win on Monday and a 9-4 victory on Wednesday. The Betas were booked to meet the Sigs Thursday for the A title.

SAE was scheduled to play Sigma Chi Thursday, after eliminating the Phi Deltas by a 6-3 count, for the championship. The B league Betas were eliminated after losing two games, one to SAE 18-8 and another to the Phi Babes 25-6.

The first Beta-Sig tilt lasted nine innings instead of the usual seven because the score was knotted at the end of regular play at two all. The Sigs found their batting eye in the first inning to score two runs off George Adams. They lost their stick power after that and failed to score until the ninth inning when they put one across to win. The Betas picked up their only runs in the fifth frame on two hits off Sig pitcher Babe Maudlin. The Beta pitchers, George and Ken Adams gave up 13 hits between them while the Betas collected four off Maudlin.

The Beta B pitchers suffered losses also as Jack Falkenhagen and Gene Walters lost to the SAE and Phi Delt clubs respectively by 18-8 and 25-6.

Scrimmage Slated In Spring Football

With four of the 12 days of spring football practice completed, the big event that will cap the first week of drills is the first intersquad scrimmage which will be held tomorrow. Next season's Bearcat gridgers will then face another six days of workout with another scrimmage due on the final day, Saturday, June 3.

Forty men are now out and that includes every candidate for next year's team that is in school now. Head Coach Chester Stackhouse put the men into rough work early this week and stated that it will be rough for the remainder of the spring drills. The men are taking it well and are in their fighting every minute. Stack commented enthusiastically on the spirit of the squad saying, "Their hustle is very commendable."

Wilcox-Pierce

Announcement has been made of the forthcoming marriage of Mary Ellen Wilcox and Jack Pierce to take place on June 12 at 8 p.m. in the First Methodist church in Salem.

Miss Wilcox will graduate in political science with the class of 1950.

The couple will make their home in Salem, and Pierce will continue his studies in the political science department. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma.

James-Eckles

A basket of walnuts, delivered at Tuesday dinner to Alpha Chi Omega president Margie Powell, was the first clue to the engagement of Ruth James and Warren Eckles. Each shell contained a clue written on a small slip of paper, the last one directing Miss Powell to call a given telephone number for the final answer to the riddles.

The phone number was that of Eckles' parents who then announced the engagement. Miss James also passed the traditional box of chocolates to her sorority sisters.

The bride-elect, whose home is in Palo Alto, Calif., is a member of the 1950 graduating class and will receive her degree in psychology. Eckles will continue his studies in the Willamette College of Law next fall. He is affiliated with Sigma Chi.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Kibbey-Kruse

Sally Kibbey surprised her Alpha Chi Omega sorority sisters at dinner Tuesday evening with the announcement of her engagement to Donald Kruse of Roseburg.

Small slips of paper with the names "Sally and Don" encased in plastic capsules and concealed in individual pieces of cake told of the coming event.

Miss Kibbey, whose home is in Coos Bay, is a sophomore in the school of liberal arts. Kruse attended Oregon State college.

The couple plan to wed in the early fall and will make their home in Roseburg.

Panhellenic Picnic Held

Members of Alpha Chi Omega and Chi Omega were especially honored at the Panhellenic achievement picnic held Thursday evening at Holman State park. Mrs. Alice Nelson, Panhellenic advisor, presented the award for the sorority having the highest g.p.a. to Alpha Chi Omega, and the award for having the greatest improvement went to Chi Omega.

Following a picnic supper planned by Patsy Older and the social chairmen of the four sororities, group singing was led by the ukelele accompaniment of Louise EATINGER and Amaryllis LILLES.

Jean Gilmer, Panhellenic president for next year, acted as mistress of ceremonies for the recognition ceremony. Members of last year's Panhellenic council were introduced. Mrs. Nelson gave the achievement awards to representatives of the two honored houses, and presented a gavel to Roberta Batey, retiring president of the council.

A silver tray with the inscription "Willamette Panhellenic, 1950" and the Greek symbols of the four sororities on campus was given to Mrs. Nelson as a parting gift. Dean Regina Ewalt, assisted by four alumni advisors, will assume the responsibilities vacated by Mrs. Nelson. Advisors attending the picnic were Mrs. Kenneth Potts, Pi Beta Phi; Mrs. Betty Hanauska, Alpha Chi Omega; Mrs. Madeline Dyer, Chi Omega, and Mrs. Clayton Forman, Delta Gamma.

Aschenbrenner Attends Meet With Western School Leaders

Student body presidents from all colleges and universities west of the Rocky mountains are meeting this week at the 25th annual convention of the Pacific Student Presidents' association in Yosemite National park.

Stan Aschenbrenner, newly elected president, and Jack Gunn, member-at-large, are representing Willamette at the meeting. Meeting in the famous Awhan-see hotel, the student leaders will take part in discussions of problems of student government with campus leaders from 11 western states, British Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska and Mexico.

Fresno State college of Fresno, Calif., is the host school for the 1950 convention. The general topic of the meetings is to be "The Role of Student Government in Democracy."

More than 250 colleges and universities are represented in the student presidents' organization which is the only one of its kind in the country. Representatives of ten major universities from other parts of the country were invited to observe the PSPA in action and, possibly, to take home ideas for forming similar organizations in their own areas.

Vaughn Monroe Will Appear At OSC Dance

Vaughn Monroe and his orchestra will appear at the Gill Coliseum on the Oregon State campus May 27 to present a musical stage show. Besides Monroe, who sings both popular and classical tunes, the band features a comedy singer, Ziggy Talent, comedian Jay Lawrence, and the Moonmaids, a quartet of Texas vocalists.

Talent is one of the best known men in Monroe's band, having started with Monroe in Boston where the band was born. He sings only a few specialty songs, but has made many of them famous. Among their most famous are "Josephine, Please No Lean on the Bell," "Sam, You Made them Pants Too Long" and "I Wanna Be a G Man." His newest tunes are "Maharajah of Magador," "Morris" and "Vitamins."

The Moonmaids are four girls from Texas who were hired by Monroe from a snapshot and a home recording. Vaughn was impressed by their looks in the snapshot, their voices on the record, and their educational background and hired them while the band was in New York. They are featured on almost all of Monroe's new recordings and are heard currently on his CBS radio series.

Seniors Present Final Chapel

Robed seniors will march into the Waller chapel June 1 to attend the final chapel of the year which is dedicated to them.

Dean Robert Gregg has been chosen by the class to deliver the main address. Grace Ashford, accompanied by Jo Brazie, will sing "Farewell to Willamette." Patty Jo Hammond will play the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance."

Senior chapel, an annual program, will be presided over by Ed Cairo, senior class president, who will introduce Gregg and present the gift of the class to the school to Pres. G. Herbert Smith.

No chapel program will be presented Tuesday.

Library Displays Collection, Films

During this past week, the Oregon State library has been exhibiting a collection of rare "Don Quixote" volumes belonging to Miss Nell Unger, a Portland librarian who collects them as a hobby.

In addition to the volumes there are stills from earlier productions of the Quixote film starring Feodor Chaliopir, the Russian basso.

The collection contains volumes printed in England, Japan, Spain, and Mexico. The earliest printing in the collection was in 1820 in London.

The language department is planning to get a series of foreign films on a seasonal ticket basis for next year, Dr. George Hocking, head of the language department said.

"Collegiates" Trio To Sing for SAE

The Collegiates, consisting of Joan Dingman, Jane Thurston, and Gay Simons have been invited to sing at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house in Corvallis, Saturday, May 27. They will provide the entertainment for the SAE's formal banquet.

The Collegiates have performed for Willamette students on many occasions. They were finalists on the Ted Mack KEX Amateur Hour held in Portland earlier this spring. Because of this, they have been invited to sing on the Old Gold show from Portland and for the Barney Keep show. School, however, interferes with their participating in such ventures.

Drama Group Selects Nominees For Fall Election

Nominations for offices in the newly forming Willamette Players were made Wednesday by their nominating committee. The officers will be elected next fall by the organization.

The nominees include director, Marian Sparks; assistant director, Sue Mellor and Ella Lou Ball; secretary, Shirley Dean and Jane Fooshee; business manager, Dave Place and Jack Larson; stage manager, Margie Guice and Phil Hammond, and radio manager, Dorothy Judd and Nickie Haynes.

The purpose of the organization is to bring drama and radio to the student level, according to Phil Hammond, temporary chairman. Any student who is interested in the fields of drama and radio is eligible for membership and will be required to participate in these activities. The membership fee is fifty cents per semester.

ASWU Secretary Phones 'Thanks'; Plans to Graduate

Patsy Howard, secretary of the student body, telephoned Pres. G. Herbert Smith Tuesday to inform him that she would return to Willamette in time for graduation.

Absent from school for some time due to illness and an operation in California, Miss Howard called the University to thank the officials for the awarding of the Percy Willis prize, which was announced in Tuesday chapel in her absence.

She expressed her regret at not being able to receive the award personally, but was "deeply impressed by the honor."

Miss Howard was elected student body secretary last year and served in this capacity until her leg injury operation this spring.

Ashford, Soprano, To Present Senior Recital Monday

Grace Ashford, soprano, will offer a senior recital on Monday, May 29, at 8:15 p.m. in the Waller hall auditorium.

Art Dimond will accompany Miss Ashford in a four-part program. Four numbers by Mozart, including an aria from "The Magic Flute," will make up the first part of the program. Four songs by Schumann and a Wagner aria will comprise the second portion.

Dvorak's "Gypsy Cycle" will be featured by Miss Ashford in the third section of her recital. The familiar "Songs My Mother Taught Me" will be included under this group of seven songs. In her final group, Miss Ashford will sing four numbers.

As a senior in voice, Miss Ashford is giving her recital as a partial fulfillment for the degree of Bachelor of Music.

Mark Hatfield, professor of political science, received the most votes of the four Republicans nominated for representative in the state legislature from Marion county. Hatfield, with the three other Republican nominees, will be opposed by four Democratic candidates in the final November election.

Hatfield said he was extremely grateful for all of the support he received, particularly to those who helped so much in the campaign. In the coming election, he will continue to exercise the same policies and hopes to receive more such gratifying support.

John Steelhammer, graduate of Willamette Law school, was another candidate nominated for the House of Representatives.

Richard Reimann, student at Willamette, was on the ballot for state senator, but withdrew from the race in favor of another Willamette graduate, Steve Anderson.

Al Loucks, Salem oil dealer, received 47 per cent of the votes for Mayor of Salem in a campaign in which many Willamette students participated. Loucks will be opposed by Harry Collins in the November elections.

Puritan Offers Third Publication

One of the newly recruited salesmen for the Puritan tries to make a sale. In next picture one of the newly recruited Puritan saleswomen tries a different approach.

Students Meet Sale Hawkers In Early Morn

Forecasts were for a lively dead-week Monday as the Puritan humor magazine, one week ahead of schedule, went on sale this morning. Early risers were greeted by the cheery cries of swarms of hawkers as the staff made a valiant effort to unload their wares and make an eight o'clock.

Editor John Piper announced a massive sales campaign to rival any political rally. Several neighborhood stores as well as the campus will feel the effect of the Puritan's sales appeal, he added.

The book had been scheduled to appear next week to hearten bedraggled students caught in a last minute effort to study. However, said Piper, "the staff has tests, too."

The price remains the same as last year but "one picture alone is guaranteed to be worth the price," he said.

A little smaller than usual, the magazine, according to previews, contains "a lot of small packages." Ads have been enlivened with the usual type of attention-getting jokes.

'Y' to Sponsor Drive

The campus YMCA will hold a drive next week for athletic equipment which will be given to the state training school for boys at Woodburn.

Town students and faculty members are especially asked to contribute any kind of sports equipment. It will be used in the rehabilitation of the boys and is one of the YM's annual projects.

All articles may be brought to Chresto Cottage and the members will contact high school and grade school students individually.
