12 to Vie for '54-55 ASWU Officers

Big Ballot Headed By Menashe, Shrock

Political fortunes of twelve candidates go on the block Monday morning when polls open for the election of five ASWU officers for the 1954-55 school year.

Juniors Reuben Menashe and Beta Tom Schrock will battle at the polls for the student president's office, key race in the campaigns which began Tuesday with speeches during the regular convocation.

Menashe was out of town for the speeches, but John Kent plead the current student body first vice president's case.

Shrock, manager of the recent May Weekend, encouraged greater student participation as the main plank in his platform.

Also presenting their cases at the Tuesday meeting were candidates for first vice-president, Chuck Carter, Tom Steeves and Dale Patton; for second vice president, Kent Holmes and Chet Daniels; for treasurer, Gino Pieretti and George Bleile; and for secretary, Julie Mellor, Gussie Krause and Jo Howard.

The loser in the presidential race automatically becomes member-at-large on the council.

T'nT at Ten

Five student speakers will compete in the Doney oratorical contest during convocation Tuesday.

Thursday's chapel program had not been confirmed by publication time.

Ex-Slovak Editor, English Prof Receive Faculty Appointments

Dr. Vojtech E. Andic has been appointed associate professor and chairman of the economics departments and James S. Douglas will serve as assistant professor of English on Willamette's faculty next fall, Pres. G. Herbert Smith revealed today.

Dr. Andic, who replaces Dr. Robert Haley, is former editor of the Slovak Daily and associate editor of the Czechoslovak Press bureau in New York. He will assume his new position on June 14 for summer session.

Currently on the business administration staff at Milton college in Wisconsin, Dr. Andic, who became a naturalized citizen in 1942, took asylum in this country during the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. He served as Czechoslovak consulate member for cultural and press relations and as a scriptwriter and announcer for Czechoslovak shortwave broadcasts from 1941-48.

He received a MA degree in economics from Columbia University in 1950 and was granted a PhD degree from New York university in January. He held the Lisle fellowship in seminars for three years at Freedom House, New York.

Douglas, who replaces Prof. George Edwards, is presently on the staff at Gustavus Adolphus college in St. Peter, Minn., and received his MA degree from the University of Iowa. Previous to 1947 he taught in the Iowa public schools.

Wilker, Runkel to Be Graduation Speakers

Speaker for Commencement exercises on May 30 will be Arthur V. Wilker, and Dr. Howard Runkel will address Baccalaureate services for graduating seniors on May 23, President G. Herbert Smith revealed this week.

Wilker is trustee of the Educational Fund of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation of New York City, which provide four-year scholarships or two incoming freshmen each year. Dr. Runkel is head of Willamette's speech department.

Dean Urges Owners To Circulate Cars, Avoid Parking Fine

Additional information was disclosed this week by Dean Mark Hatfield's office explaining the campus parking situation. Hatfield warned student car owners to change their overnight parking places daily.

The Dean told the Collegian that the police department will not enforce the overnight parking ordinance as long as no other parking space is available, contrary to a Collegian report last week.

However, Hatfield said that there is an abandoned car ordinance which subjects any car parked in the same stall for three nights to being towed away. The city plans to enforce this ordinance.

Renewed enforcement of this ordinance stems from a complaint by the street cleaning department about student cars parked on State street.

The Dean's suggestion to students is that they rotate their cars between Twelfth, Waverly and State so they will not be seen repeatedly in the same general location.

Hatfield commented that the police have to enforce the act but are willing to cooperate if the students keep their cars moving.

We Were Wrong

There is cheating at Willamette. Editorially we said there wasn't.

Col. Norman Todd verified yesterday afternoon that copies of a freshman ROTC examination had been taken from two of the classrooms. He termed the situation "a gross violation of University principles and practices."

"Appropriate disciplinary action will be taken by the department and the University," he said.

The same examination is given in all four sections of freshman ROTC. The tests were presumably taken to serve as "ponies" for men who had not yet taken the test.

Jackson, Ruud, McKinney to Fill Publication Posts

Barbara Jackson, Chuck Ruud and Bill McKinney were appointed to top publication posts for the coming year by the publications board this week.

Miss Jackson will serve as publications manager, Ruud has been named editor of the Collegian, and McKinney will assume editorial position for the Wallulah, Willamette's yearbook. All three will be seniors.

Also named to editorial responsibilities were Tom Murdock and Eldon Erickson, freshmen, who will be co-editors of the Fusser's Guide, the student directory.

All three main posts were filled by students experienced in campus publications. Miss Jackson has served as society editor and campus editor of the Collegian.

Ruud, now at American University in Washington, D. C., on the Washington Semester plan, has filled both news editor and campus editor spots.

Responsibility in the dark room and associate editorship of the Wallulah qualified Me-

Kinney for his appointment. The three will also serve on the publications board.

Deans and professors from accredited law schools in ten western states are expected for the annual conference of Western Law Schools at Willamette this weekend, according to Seward Reese, Western Law Schools chairman and dean of Willamette's Law school.

Sheldon D. Elliot, president of the Association of American Law Schools and professor of law at New York university, will be in Salem for the conclave. The Willamette Law school will play host for the two-day convention.

Registration, Sight-Seeing

Registration begins this morning at 9 in the Marion hotel lobby, with Prof. Edwin Butler in charge. Special sight-seeing tours, including the state capitol, outstanding industries and Willamette university will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Dr. Roy M. Lockenour is making all the arrangements.

Visitation to Willamette law classes will be held from 8 to 11:50 this morning and a 12:50 luncheon is planned for Baxter hall's dining room.

This afternoon, events directed by Dr. Reginald Parker and Prof. John Paulus will feature conferences with Oregon state officials, a tour of the state penitentiary, and a series of informal discussions at the University.

"Library Fund Promotion"

A panel meeting of "Library Fund Promotion," headed by Vernon M. Smith, librarian and lecturer in law at the University of California Law school, is slated for 4 at the Marion hotel.

At this evening's banquet Prof. Lawrence W. DeMuth of the University of Colorado School of Law will preside. Soprano Betty Jean Joseph and tenor Ted McIlvanna will provide entertainment.

Tomorrow's agenda will provide for an early morning late-registration period from 8:30 to 8:55 in the Marion lobby.

The four principal sessions of the conference will get underway with a discussion on "Classroom Teaching Techniques," with Prof. Edward L. Barrett, Jr., University of California, as chairman.

Panel of Six Professors

The panel will include Professor George R. Wicks, University of Southern California; Sanford K. Kadish, University of Utah; Edward A. Hogan, Hastings College of Law; Kenneth H. York, University of California, Los Angeles; Sam D. Thurman, Stanford; and Kenneth J. O'Connell, University of Oregon.

"Treatment of Borderline Academic Cases" will be discussed by Dean Vernon X. Miller, University of San Francisco, chairman; Prof. Orrin B. Evans, University of Southern California, and Dean Edward L. Stimson, University of Idaho.

Curriculum Discussions

Dean George Neff Stevens, University of Washington, will direct "The First Year Curriculum—Aims, Objectives, Content and Method." Participants will be Prof. Harry Gross, University of Washington, "What Are the Problems in Teaching First Year Students?"; Prof. Robert W. Swenson, University of Idaho, "What Courses and What Coverage in General?"; Prof. W. J. Brockelbank, University of Idaho, "Introductory Courses, Orientation Courses, and Similar Techniques of Helping the New Student Get Started."

The final panel will be "Experiments in Teaching Professional Responsibility," with Dean Robert Kingsley, University of California, acting as chairman. Dean William L. Prosser, University of California, and Prof. Sheldon D. Elliott, New York university, will participate.

On Your Honor

Neither presidential candidate made mention of the honor system in his campaign platform, and the issue—if it is an issue—remains altogether on the discussion level. No concrete steps have yet been taken toward any action. Student opinion expressed in last week's Collegian poll, however, posed a very pertinent question: Do we need an honor system? Is there a real problem of cheating at Willamette? We'd be inclined to agree with those who feel that there is very little dishonesty during test times on this campus.

Proponents might be quick to respond, however, that the honor system is more a matter of giving students the right to exercise their honesty. Overseeing professors and proctors make honesty a necessity rather than a choice. College students are, after all, mature individuals. There will be no proctors to oversee them in post-graduation assignments.

But provisions for an honor code also carry consequences for violations. Violators would have to be reported by someone. What difference whether the "proctors" be colleagues or professors? As for an honor committee, what more could they do than establish guilt and impose a standard punishment?

A real honor system would have no threat of punishment to influence a "free" choice. And after all, no matter what the system, where there's a will to cheat, there always is a way. Honor is an "inside" operation; it's an exercise of conscience. It doesn't require praise or punishment and it need never cease to function.

The big concern of every student is receiving fair returns in terms of grades for the work he has done. He doesn't wish to see the curve distorted by someone's dishonesty—nor his own grade inflated by his own. And he wishes to have his work fairly evaluated by the individual who grades it.

In this department of grading, a law student dropped by the Collegian with an excellent suggestion already in operation at the Law school. The grader knows a test and paper by a number only and can have no preconceived notions of its worth on the basis of past record.

When a student receives a test he is assigned a number on record in the office. That number is the only identification on the paper until after it is graded. Then the professor can match names and number. Unless he is a handwriting expert, he can remain objective in his evaluation.

Suggestions such as this toward preventing unintended dishonesty seem more practical. As far as conscience is concerned, who says we aren't already under an honor code?

Never Underestimate a Ballot

Every vote counts. Election manager Gay Weeks will verify the fact that in every election held this year, at least one contest has been determined by a one-vote margin. Next week is the big election of the year. Vote!

Student Body Roundtable: Necessity of Creativity

By Jim Hitchman

Our first thoughts about such a title usually center on the necessity for creativity as a necessity for growth. Here we shall expand the term into more phases. Any definition for us here would be fairly loose and would have creativity as something out of nothing or out of existing materials. The latter instance is by far the most common.

You may look at creativity as an ability for someone else and not yourself. You may see it as non-essential, since our life is now relatively easy to sustain. Perhaps you see creativity as necessary for growth, and as the means for finding new horizons.

Our American culture, looking ahead to tomorrow, is dependent upon creativity. While Asiatics look more to the past and Latins look more to the present, our society is based more on the value of getting something accomplished. Another consideration is that human nature, as we have come to cherish it, is in need of creativity. The chance for change, the element of chance and surprise, are all vital to human beings. All of this demands invention. All of this demands pathfinders and bridge-builders.

Colleges and universities like Willamette are bastions of learning and creativity. In more ideal societies such as ours is here, new ideas, projects and plans of action have the best opportunity to be born. In these strongholds lies the opportunity for creativity, the opportunity to expand our horizons. Robert Browning phrased his ideas of what life should be with, "Progress is the law of life; man is not Man as yet." And a drive to create something, whether in music, poetry, athletics, science or human relations, is a drive for progress and happiness.

Standing Still?

It seems rather preposterous to assume that we have found and are profiting from all there is to find. Are our social customs and scientific findings going to remain at a standstill? Hardly. The twentieth century and the year 1954 appear as a mere flicker in the 600,000 years that man has existed. Things will probably change quite a bit; they did in the past. Part of this change is from mass movements which cannot be halted by individuals and part of it comes from the creativity of a few groups.

John Godfrey Saxe says a lot with a little with, "Tis wise to learn, 'tis God-like to create." For most of us, knowledge has to be the foundation for a creation. We usually create by putting already known factors in different order, or by altering them. Necessity seems to be the mother of many inventions and man produces well with a goal in sight or when he is under pressure. Matthew Arnold, the Victorian literary giant, points out that criticism is a good springboard for creations. Some gifted souls create things in a leisurely atmosphere. Probably the general appearance is that most men create better when they are not weighted down with duties.

3-Point Plan

Consequently we have within our grasp a three-factor combination. It amounts to the need for creativity, the best environment for it and the means for action which is you and I. Thomas Gibbons stresses our importance as the third ingredient with,

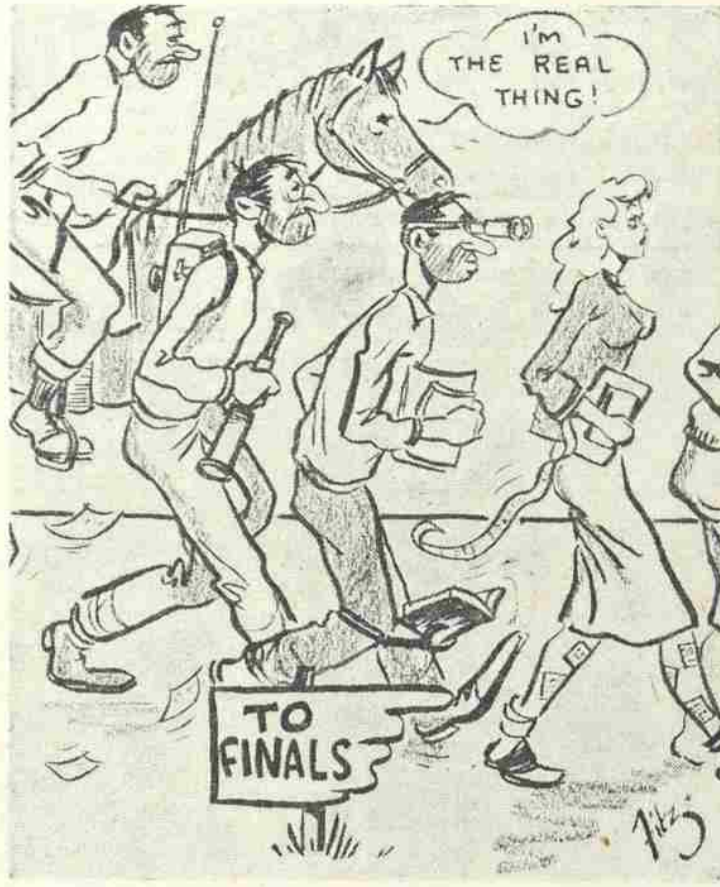

"That man may last, but never lives,

Who much receives, but nothing gives,

Whom none can love, whom none can thank—

Creation's blot, creation's blank."

... Is This Willamette?

Scott Asks: It's Reasonable . . . Isn't It?

By Jim Scott

A professor back at the reformatory once told the graduating class that analogy, simile, and metaphor were wonderful teachers; but only if the one to be taught had the capacity to go beyond the illustration and grasp the real meaning behind it. It was only yesterday that I got an inkling of what he meant and this is how it came about.

Mr. Swift, a crop-duster, was out in his airplane spreading fertilizer over some real estate belonging to Zeke and Jake who had hired the pilot to perform said job, in order to increase the anticipated yield from above-mentioned field. Both farmers Solomonly watched the busy airplane and when the job was completed Zeke ceased his half-hearted whittling of a pine sliver and said, "You know Jake, the job that feller in his airplane just finished puts me in mind of a lot of people I know!"

After a while of silence Jake shifted a straw to the other side of his mouth and replied, "Yea, it does and it doesn't. There's a lot of people with their heads in the clouds who run around and spread a lot of stuff just like you said; but then that feller in the airplane has got a real purpose to what he is doin'. And if you notice, he only goes where there is some seed to benefit from what he does and there is none of that stuff that is going to do any harm even when a little of it blows outside of the area it was meant for."

Weeds and Words

After a prolonged pause Zeke countered, "Well, what you say is right but it's wrong 'cause you're saying that gossips and such like only operate in cultivated areas and that isn't the case either. Besides it seems that the grass and the weeds are going to be affected both the same and that's just the way gossip and the like works."

Jake chewed his straw for a while before replying, "Well, this same feller who just fixed

Letters . . .

(Editor's note: The following letter arrived just before press time.)
To the Editor:

Does wearing a Greek pin permit you to get grades without working? Here at Willamette there's a great turmoil for an honor system. We don't deserve one.

A test was given in the ROTC department to the freshmen. By the third class period, there were ponies in circulation. Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Chi had copies of the test taken from the 8 o'clock exam, giving those wearing a pledge or member pin the right to an "A" if they memorized the answers.

Everybody in the 8 o'clock class isn't blind. We know the names. What good would it do to announce them? What does a fraternal organization stand for? We believe it is the duty of the Greeks to watch their own morals. But is it fair that some should lose and some should win by foul means?

If a fraternity is powerless to enforce codes of decency, then there is no place for Greek organizations on this campus.

Wyatt Kersh
Tom Dellinger
Bob Baumann

this field will take to dusting crops later on and then the parasites and such will suffer and the blossoms and so on will benefit—now, gossip-spreaders don't cause results like that."

Truth Dusting

Zeke finally said, "Hold on now. There's a mite of difference between the job we just had done and the dusting part of it. They ain't the same and oughtn't to be run together. If I was to talk about dusting I would say it's more like spreading the truth—sort of helps to make a better world 'cause it makes more room for the good to prosper."

Jake gazed across the field for a long time and then quietly concluded, "I reckon I ought to agree with that—unless, 'course that there pilot is a workin' for somebody else!"

The previous conversation helps to explain what the professor meant and it somehow goes with something else he used to say . . . On the eternal camping grounds of reason, the tents of emotion are forever spread.

Kittens, Politicians Share Spotlight

By Duane Alvord

A lot has happened since the Collegian came out last week. In fact, things happened so fast that to remember anything is next to impossible . . . especially funny things. If you stop to think about all the studying there is to do and how much time there will be to do it in you can't help but develop a dismal attitude.

On the other hand, if you fully realize the proportion of both it becomes a little humorous—this hopeless struggle to catch up with your life.

"Bill" came through for me, anyway. "Bill," the recently adopted and mis-named cat at the Pi Phi house, gave birth to four kittens Monday. Since the delivery date corresponded with the birthday of Dean Regina Ewalt, one of the offspring has been named "Reggie" in her honor.

Some of the State street women were disappointed that the kittens didn't arrive during the weekend for "rush," but even Cheerios couldn't help that.

There is much to say both pro and con about Oregon's junior senator Wayne Morse but one thing can't be denied—he is a master politician. A form letter that we received here at the Collegian office this week shows proof of this.

Senator Morse has an ample supply of eye brows, a perfect small-farm home background, and a knack for talking and writing "real folksy-like."

Morse reports that he had a couple of Oregon students attending college in Washington, D.C., drive his car and trailer to Eugene, transporting with them three Devon beef cattle. "I believe they are the only Devon cattle in the state, and I was pleased to find they are thriving on Oregon grass," Morse said.

Remarking on his recent visit to his Oregon home Morse added, "My daughter, Judith, was particularly pleased to find that the barn was almost empty of hay, because she is planning to be hostess at a spring term dance for her friends."

Gee, I wonder if I'll get an invite!

WUPs Pick Winship, Fountain As Outstanding Actress, Actor

Liz Winship and Bruce Fountain shared honors as "best actress" and "best actor" for this year's theater season in drama awards presented by Prof. Robert M. Putnam at the Willamette University Players' picnic Wednesday.

Miss Winship played the lead role in Sophocles' "Electra" and Fountain starred in the May Weekend production of Cohan's "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

Supporting Awards

Other awards included Barbara Ruhle as "best supporting actress," and Dave Finlay as "best supporting actor." Theater service awards went to Bill Hagemeyer and Clarine Woolery.

Awarded to an individual outside the drama department, the Theater Production award was presented Bill McKinney for his contributions to theater work. Beverly Lytle and Bill Hagemeyer received the Campus Chatter awards and Clarine Woolery was named the "most promising radio student."

Beth Chur h was named outstanding freshman.

Theater positions for next year were also announced, with Clarine Woolery to serve as drama manager and Jean Thomas as senior scholar.

"Baldpate" Financial Success

Wednesday night's picnic, held at Paradise Island, was planned by Clarine Woolery and Jean Thomas. Included in the program was a summary by Prof. Putnam and WUPs' president, Liz Winship, of the year's happenings in the drama department. "Seven Keys to Baldpate," the department's last production, was described as financially successful.

According to Miss Winship, Theta Alpha Phi, dramatic honorary, will tap new members at awards assembly on May 25. Members are chosen by a point system.

Vocal, Instrumental Numbers in Recital

Vocal and instrumental numbers will be included in this afternoon's student recital in the Recital hall at 3.

Ronald Hershberger will perform the piano composition, "Prelude in D Flat, Op. 28, No. 15" by Chopin. Cella Varner, contralto, accompanied by Lisbeth Shields, will sing "Iris" by Wolf and "Mountains" by Rasbach.

"Adagio" and "Tarantella" by Gavallini will be played by Don Miller, clarinetist, with Barbara Fraitag at the piano.

A string quartet will play "Quartet in G Major, Op. 77, No. 1" by Haydn. Quartet members include Marilyn Hawthorne and Lawrence Monk, violins; Roberta Graham, viola; and Margaret Huson, cello.

The public is invited to attend.

A Big Gavel for a Big Job

First vice-president candidates Dale Patton, Chuck Carter and Tom Steeves eye the gavel which might be used to preside over the Social Activities Board next year. One of the three will be chosen during elections held Monday through Thursday next week.

New Text Book Cites Willamette Debaters

Willamette university's forensic program won recognition in a new textbook entitled "Argumentation and Debate," published this month by the Dryden Press of New York City.

Included in the volume, 503 pages in length, is a model "cross-examination debate" which took place at Willamette last year. Representing the University were Tom Scheidel and James Wood. Their opponents in the debate were a Pacific university team.

Debate topic was the national subject during the 1952-1953 season: "Resolved: That the Congress of the United States Should Enact a Compulsory Fair Employment Law."

Scheidel won the unprecedented distinction while debating at Willamette of being invited in three successive years to participate in the national invitational tournament at West Point, New York. Wood was included in this event in 1953. Both men are now teaching assistants in speech—Scheidel at the University of Washington, Wood at the University of Oregon.

Dr. Howard Runkel, Willamette's director of forensics, anticipates that the new text "will enjoy nation-wide adoption" because of its sponsorship by Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity which has chapters on campuses in almost every state in the country.

Retreat Cancelled

The Unesco retreat scheduled for tomorrow has been cancelled, according to Willie Ludlow, president. Facilities at Camp Silver Creek were not available for Saturday.

Four Junior Women to Counsel In Lausanne Early Next Fall

A special program of freshman counselling in Lausanne hall during the first six weeks of fall semester will be administered next year by Cap and Gown and staffed by four qualified women from this year's junior class.

Feeling that orientation should extend beyond the first week of school, Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, proposed the counselling program to Pres. Smith this spring and received his approval.

Applicants are now being sought from junior women, who must indicate their interest by 4 p. m. next Tuesday to Dean Ewalt. Women will be screened for their personal, social and academic qualifications.

The counselors will live in Lausanne during the six week period and will receive half the amount of their board expenses from the University. They will help freshmen women in adjustment and orientation problems and will not be able to participate in rush activities.

The counselling program is forerunner of a tentative and more extensive program proposed by Cap and Gown for the new women's dormitory, when permanent housing will be available for counselors.

Nancy Stuart Wins Toastmistress Honor

Top honors were won by Nancy Stuart, director of information and alumni affairs, at the Toastmistress club regional meeting held in the Gearhart hotel last Saturday.

She will travel to Louisville, Ky., this summer to represent the Northwest in the international contest, in which nine candidates will compete.

Miss Stuart will use the same prepared speech in the Louisville contest, as is custom. Her title is "The Most Wonderful Word in the World," and in addition, she will give an impromptu from seven to ten minutes in length.

Five candidates and representatives from Canada, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Alaska attended the regional meeting.

Varsity Ball Pictures

Proofs of pictures taken at the Varsity Ball are available in the bookstore, where orders may be placed, according to Mrs. Delsia Larson, bookstore manager.

Bearcats Face Full Ball Slate

With just two weeks of actual league play left, the Willamette university Bearcats face one of the most dangerous if not longest weekends today and tomorrow as they take on the strong and able league-leading Wildcats from Linfield and the Coyotes from Idaho.

Three more games are on the agenda the following week as the Lewismen play single games Monday, Tuesday and Thursday with Whitman, Lewis and Clark and Portland State College respectively.

Today, Coach Roy Helsler, the always capable ex-Portland Beaver flinger, will bring his conference leading Wildcats in to McCulloch stadium for a single game starting at 2:30.

The big reason why the Linfielders are on top is because of righthander and all-conference twirler Del Coursey, back again this year causing many a headache. Coursey is sure to be Coach Helsler's choice for mound duty today.

The outfield department for the Linfielders this year has depth as well as power in Joe Brock, a junior, and senior Ad Rutschman, the do everything little player.

First baseman Arnold Owens, a .382 hitter last year, combined with short stop Milt Kruegers and third baseman Mel Ruark, both .291 hitters, make the McMinnvillers strong around the base paths.

College of Idaho, whom the Bearcats previously defeated in a doubleheader at Caldwell last Monday by scores of 6-3 and 9-8, are the opposition for the Bearcats Saturday afternoon in a single game.

The probable pitcher for the Coyotes will be either Troyer or Arnold, Arnold being the combination pitcher and outfielder. Catcher Hebeiger and first baseman Hayer teamed up with 2nd baseman Kenevar could give the Bearcats a tough afternoon.

Monday, the Bearcats face another test, this one against the Whitman Missionaries, who just last week produced the double defeat that knocked the Bearcats from first place to second.

Coach Joe Beidler will be bringing a strong crew to Salem, featuring the pitching Aronson brothers, who both defeated Willamette in their last outing, plus the hitting power of third baseman Bill Ward, second baseman Del Klicker and first baseman Dean Lodmell. Game time for this one is 3 o'clock at McCulloch stadium.

Two Portland teams provide the action for the Bearcats this Tuesday and Thursday, as Willamette tangles with the Lewis and Clark Pioneers and Portland State College.

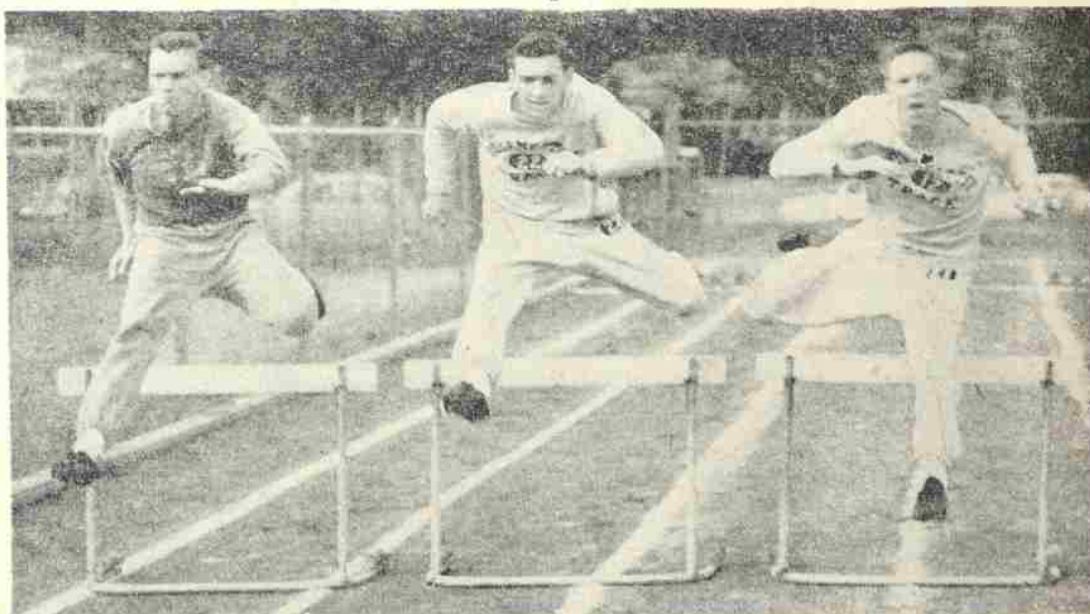

The Bearcats outlasted the Pioneers in a doubleheader three weeks ago, 8-5 and 10-6, one of the victories at the expense of Ray Hyde who will probably be the starter for the the Pioneers at Lewis and Clark next Tuesday.

The game with the Portland State College Thursday is the only meeting between the two clubs this year.

For the Jasons, Coach John Lewis will probably start Mickey Coen against the Wildcats today and Dave Gray will face College of Idaho tomorrow.

Andy George will most likely get the nod from Mentor Lewis against the Missionaries, and Mickey Coen repeating against Lewis and Clark Tuesday. Either Dan Feller or Gino Pieretti will receive the pitching assignment in the single game against the Portland State college crew.

Willamette Hurdlers Prepare for Their Next Test

Norm Dversdal, Dean Benson and Larry Standifer, left to right, Willamette hurdlers, prepare for the Lewis and Clark meet which will be held in Portland tomorrow afternoon. Dversdal and Standifer have been the leading hurdlers for Willamette and Benson, the conference high hurdle champion, has received the doctor's okay to run after being sidelined the first part of the season. ## 'Cat Baseballers Remain in League Race

Willamette Drops Two To Whitman On Trip

The Aronson brothers and Whitman knocked the Willamette Bearcats out of first place in the Northwest conference baseball standings by winning a doubleheader by scores of 10-6 and 1-0 last Saturday in Walla Walla.

Noel Aronson won over Andy George in the opener and Sid Aronson defeated Mickey Coen in the nightcap. The double loss dropped Willamette from the unbeaten ranks and first place in the conference. The Bearcats had a 5-0 mark before encountering Whitman on their eastern road trip.

Whitman built up a big 10-2 lead in the early portion of the first game and then cut short a Bearcat rally in the ninth inning. Three of the four runs in the big Willamette inning came on a bases-loaded triple by Gary Shugarts.

Noel Aronson fanned 12 Willamette Bearcats as he won over George who yielded 11 hits and lost his first conference game in four strats.

The second game was a thrilling hill duel between Sid Aronson and Coen. The Whitman pitcher gave up three hits and Coen allowed only two, but one was a double by Dick Fain in the sixth that scored the game's only run.

Phi Delts Lead 'Minton Play; Sigs Top Tennis

The Phi Delts maintained their lead in intramural badminton and the Sigs remained on top in tennis as the two teams won their matches the past week.

The Phi Delts edged the Wits 2-1 in their match and the Sig's badminton won over the SAE's 3-0. In the only tennis match, the Sigs stopped the SAE's 5-0.

Sigs, Lawyers Remain Undefeated in Softball

There was no game played in the "A" league last Monday night on account of rain, but in the "B" circuit there was plenty of activity as the Betas defeated the Phi Delts, 15-1 behind the one-hit pitching of Don Morrison.

Tuesday afternoon the SAE's dropped Baxter, 18-14, in a hard-hitting contest. In that evening's "B" circuit tilt, the undefeated Sigs edged the SAE's 5-4 in one of the tightest games of the season.

In Wednesday afternoon's game between the Law Schoolers and the Betas, the Lawyers proved to be just a little too rough for the Betas. The final score was 13-4. In the Wednesday night contest the SAE's barely downed Baxter 17-14 in a free hitting contest that saw both teams give up runs by committing errors.

The intramural softball teams are now in the midst of the second round of the round-robin play that will decide the two teams that will represent the two leagues in the play-offs.

There are only two teams with undefeated records at this point. The Sigs in the "B" league and the Law Schoolers in the "A" are the two unbeaten leaders.

Bearcats Nip Coyotes To Keep Hopes Alive

The Willamette baseballers kept their pennant hopes alive as they swept a doubleheader from the College of Idaho Coyotes by scores of 6-3 and 9-8 last Monday in Caldwell.

Dave Gray was the hero in the College of Idaho series as he pitched the Bearcats to victory in the first game and batted in the two runs and scored the winning one in the nightcap.

Gray won his third straight game of the year in the opener as he limited the Coyotes to five hits. In the second game which went into two extra innings, Gray tripled in two runs and then stole home to score what proved to be the winning run.

Andy George started in the second game and received credit for the win although he needed help from Mickey Coen in the ninth.

Women Athletes Enter Sports Day Tomorrow

Willamette's women's tennis team will meet the Marylhurst team this afternoon on the home courts starting at 1:30 and will travel to Reed college in Portland tomorrow afternoon for the sports day which will also include archery and softball.

The tennis squad won their second match of the season Monday with a 3-0 win over Oregon College of Education and suffered their first loss against Oregon State Tuesday by the score of 4-1.

In the OCE match Peggy Buckley and Mary Ann Schoessler won their singles and Pvonne Bowles and Judy Mortz teamed up to win the doubles. Against Oregon State the doubles team of Buckley and Schoessler won the only match for Willamette. Mary Polales and Bowles lost their doubles match and Buckley, Schoessler and Polales were defeated in the singles.

Willamette Meets Pioneers Tomorrow Four-Year Undefeated Record at Stake

A strong Lewis and Clark thinclad squad might hand Willamette its first track defeat in four years when the Bearcats meet the Pioneers tomorrow afternoon at Palatine hill in Portland.

The powerhouses of the conference can be generally compared by their scores against Linfield. The Pioneers downed the Wildcats 102-29 while Willamette took the Linfielders 92-39.

Outstanding performer for Coach Eldon Fix's Portland squad is Caley Cook who recently set three meet records against Pacific. His mark in the 100-yard dash was 9.8, in the broad jump 22' 4 1/4" and in the low hurdles 24.9 seconds. Against Linfield he lowered his low hurdle mark to 24.5. All three of Cook's records are better than the marks that Willamette runners have turned in so far this season.

Lewis and Clark's Pat Adams will probably take the discus. He established the Pioneer mark at 140' 5 1/2" this season. The Bearcat's Layton Gilson, top discus man, has not hit this distance as yet.

The Lewis and Clark mile relay squad of Rich Neal, Pete Hopkins, Jim Smith and John Eagle turned in a new meet record of 3:33.7 against Pacific.

Willamette's relay squad should run close with them, having turned in a 3:34.7 against Whitman.

Both the high jump and the pole vault should be close with Willamette's Merlin Schultze and Larry Thompson going to about 5' 10" which is the same height that Bob Chiodo of Lewis and Clark has hit. Thompson and P near Chuck Gender both vault to about 11' 6".

In the other events Willamette will probably have the edge. The Bearcats' two conference champs, Jim Hitchman in the shot put and Stan Neperud in the javelin, should have no trouble in garnering their firsts. Frosh 440 flash Judson Jones who set the Willamette record of 50.1 seconds against Whitman should also have a trouble-free afternoon.

The team's chances of extending their four-year unbeaten record was bolstered this week with the return of Dean Benson, conference high hurdle champion. Benson missed his own high hurdle record of 15 seconds by one-tenth of a second in his first race of the season last Tuesday against the Oregon Frosh.

Oregon Frosh Top Jayvees in Track; Zoelch Ties Record; Benson Returns

The University of Oregon Frosh defeated the Willamette Jayvees in a dual track meet last Tuesday at McCulloch stadium by the score of 68 2/5 to 51 3/5.

Coach Ted Ogdahl used only first year men in track against the Frosh except for Don Empey in the mile and Bob Zoelch in the 100-yard dash because there were no Jayvees for these two events. Dean Benson, another letterman, also ran, but it was the first hurdle race for the year for the trackster who was out with a blood ailment diagnosed as mononucleosis.

Zoelch turned in the best mark of the meet as he tied the Willamette 100-yard dash record with a 10 second performance. Benson turned in the two other good times with a 15.1 seconds run in the high hurdles and 24.8 seconds in the lows. The first one was one-tenth off the school record and the latter three-tenths short.

Willamette Tracksters Edge Whits; Judson Jones Breaks Own 440 Mark

Whitman gave the Willamette trackmen their toughest meet of the season last Saturday afternoon at McCulloch stadium, but the Bearcats came through with a 74-57 win for their fifth of the season.

Judson Jones broke his own 440 record as the Bearcat speedster ran the course in 50.1 seconds, two-tenths of a second quicker than the mark which he set against Portland two weeks ago.

Bill Van Horn tied the Willamette 100-yard dash mark at 10 seconds flat. It was the second time this season that Van Horn turned in the tying time and the fifth in his collegiate career.

Willamette won the meet on the strength of seconds and thirds as Whitman took eight of the fifteen firsts. The Bearcats proved to be stronger in the field events as five of the seven firsts for Willamette were in the field portion of the meet.

Harold Parrott of Whitman was the individual star of the meet as he won the 880, mile and two-mile events. Dave Klicker of Whitman was the only other man to win more than one event as he won both hurdle races.

Javelin—1st Stan Neperud (Will.), 2nd Monical (Will.), 3rd Klise (Whit.). Mark: 188' 6 1/4".

Bearcat Netters Near End of Season's Play

Coach Les Sparks' Willamette netters have three more matches before they enter the conference meet next Friday at Lewis and Clark.

The team travels to meet Linfield today and Lewis and Clark Tuesday and hosts Portland university Wednesday.

The Bearcats defeated Pacific 7-0 last Saturday on the home courts and lost to the visiting Oregon State squad 6-1 Tuesday.

The results with the winning team players listed first are as follows:

Willamette over Pacific:
Singles—Bud Mull over Don Berg 6-1, 6-1; Rich Butler over Berle Akers 6-0, 6-1; Ian MacIver over Dave Sigurdson 6-1, 6-1; Charles Carter over Neil Cays 6-3, 6-2; Don Smith over Chuen Wong 6-3; 6-2.

Doubles—Mull and MacIver over Berg and Akers 6-0, 6-2; Norman Cocking and George Chambers over Cays Sigurdson 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Oregon State over Willamette:

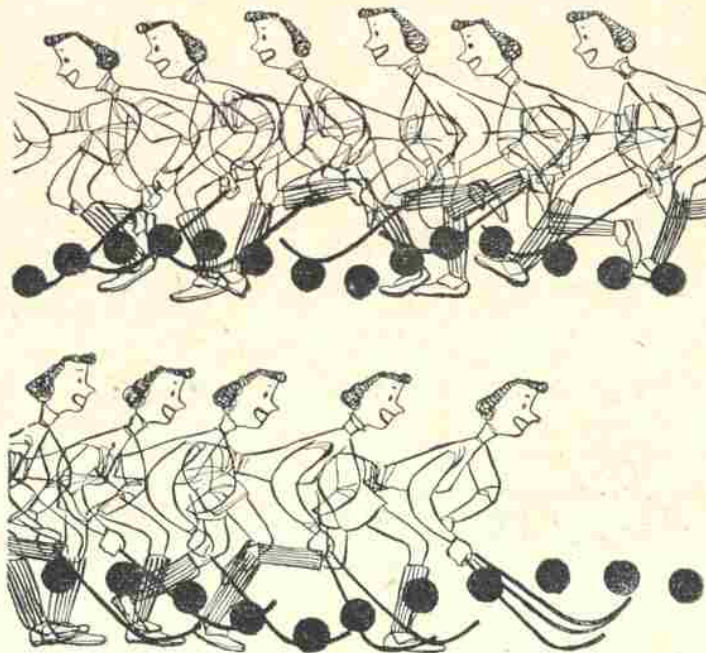

Singles—Wayne Luhr defeated by Bud Mull 6-2, 6-4; Ed Day over Ron Butler 6-1, 6-0; Pete Carter over Ian MacIver 6-2, 6-4; Irv Hill over Charles Carter 6-2, 6-4; Pete Overton over Don Smith 6-1, 7-5.

Doubles—Dey and Carter over Mull and Butler 6-1, 6-4; Luhr and Hill over MacIver and Carter 6-3, 7-5.

Dancing on Weekend Schedule

Dancing — costume, formal, informal, and come as you are — is on the agenda for this weekend, as four organizations will be presenting their spring dances.

Wits Have Hobo Theme

"Hobo's Haven," a costume dance, will be sponsored by the Willamette Independent Town Students tonight from 8:30 to 12 o'clock at the home of Francis Smith.

Continuing with the theme will be the "Poor Hobo's Fund," which will be an admission charge of 25 cents.

Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Gehlar, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Sanders. Honored guests invited are Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Smith, Dean Regina Ewalt, Dean Mark Hatfield and Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg.

"Carousel" for Alpha Chi's

Concession booths, a laughing lady and a merry-go-round will be on view for members and guests of Alpha Chi Omega this evening as they present their spring house dance, "Carousel," which will be held at the chapter house from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Dress will be of the casual type, announced general chairman Charlene Miner, and party favors of carnival prizes will be distributed to the contest winners.

Novel Games Planned

Besides dancing, the couples will find themselves amidst a ferris wheel, balloons, confetti and a Tunnel of Love, all of which is planned by Nancy Holcomb and Mary Jane Thompson.

Refreshments of candy apples, pink lemonade and peanuts, which will be served by clowns, have been planned by chairman Margie Knockenhour.

Marge Leonard has arranged for entertainment, which will be a side show and fortune teller.

Chaperons, invited by Jo Howard, are Dr. and Mrs. Howard Runkel, Mr. and Mrs. Don Gleckler and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Williams.

Honored guests will include Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Smith, Dean Regina Ewalt, Dean Mark Hatfield, and Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg.

SAE'S Have "Hot" Theme

Couples attending Sigma Alpha Epsilon's "Fireman's Ball," will be wearing "whatever they were wearing when the fire broke out," announced Tom Steeves, general chairman. The dance will be held tomorrow evening from 9 to 12 o'clock at the chapter house.

Half of the house will resemble a firehouse, according to Neil Daugherty, decorations chairman, and the other half will be shown as a burned-out house.

Music by Band

The Blue Notes will provide music for the evening.

In honor of the event, Dave Gray, refreshments chairman, has concocted a new punch, a direct variation of the traditional Sigma Alpha Epsilon punch.

Chaperons for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Howard W. Runkel, Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis and Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson.

Honored guests include Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Dean Regina Ewalt, Dean Mark Hatfield, Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bucholz.

A trip to Road's End beach is planned for Sunday.

Phi Deltas Plan for Formal

The American Legion hall will be the scene for Phi Delta Theta's formal spring dinner dance, to be held tomorrow evening from 7:15 to 12 o'clock.

The hall will be decorated like an outdoor garden, according to Don Bunse and Willie Thompson, decorations chairmen. Tables and floral settings will be placed around the sides of the dance floor.

Dinner to be Served

A pork dinner will be served, according to Doug Wall, general chairman, and Bruce Patton's orchestra from Linfield college, will provide music for dancing.

Honored guests, invited by Bill Jessup, include Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Smith, Dean Mark Hatfield, Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg and Mrs. Madeline Dyer. Chaperons will be the officers of the Mother's Club and the Alumni Association.

On Sunday a trip to the beach home of Mrs. Spears at Neskowin is planned.

Inez Adams

Amy Girod

Engagements News Revealed

May Day brought a surprise serenade to the members and guests at the Alpha Chi Omega house when the engagement of Inez Adams and Dick Gusey was announced.

Miss Adams is a junior majoring in education. Gusey, also a junior, is a member of Beta Theta Pi majoring in economics.

A poem concealed within a box of candy revealed the engagement of Betty Gilmore and Phil Brown Monday evening at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Miss Gilmore is a freshman majoring in sociology. Brown is a junior sociology major from Klamath Falls.

An old fashioned album with pictures of Amy Girod and Dick Mase revealed their engagement to guests at a dinner party preceding the May Weekend dance.

Miss Girod is a sophomore music major, and is a member of Beta Alpha Gamma, Alpha Lambda Delta and Mu Phi Epsilon.

Mase is attending Willamette doing graduate work, and while on campus was active on the basketball team, and was a member of Cardinal Key.

After an August wedding, the couple will be at home in Hood River, where Mase will teach and coach basketball at the high school.

The Social Scoop

By JULIE MELLOR, Editor

Cap and Gown women held an informal fireside Wednesday evening at the home of their advisor, Dr. Martha Springer, in honor of the seventeen junior women eligible for membership. Barbara Manley, president, was hostess for the event, and advisors present were Dean Regina Ewalt, Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg and Dr. Gale Curry.

SAE's Choose Howard

Loyal Howard was elected president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon this week. Assisting him will be Dick Adams, vice-president; Ross Kines, recorder; Eldon Erickson, social chairman and correspondent; Dave Amsterry, chaplain; Tom Steeves, house manager; Pete Loder, chronicler; Mike Munz, herald; and Jim Scott, warden.

Pi Phi Given Award

Jane Notson was named recipient of the Amy Burnham Onken province award last week. This prize is a national Pi Beta Phi award in honor of their past grand president. Miss Notson will be one of 13 women representing their respective provinces to vie for the honor of being the outstanding senior member in the nation.

Officers Elected

Sigma Chi members elected Ken Cooper president for the coming year. Other officers are Don Humphreys, vice-president; Rich Butler, secretary; George Kell, treasurer; Ron Butler, pledge trainer; Jim Hornberger, historian; Gino Pieretti, associate editor; and Bill Wheat, corresponding secretary.

AAUW Reception Planned

The American Association of University Women—AAUW—is sponsoring a reception for all graduating women at Baxter hall Thursday evening at 7:30.

Beach Trip Slated

Beta Theta Pi's and their dates will travel to the coast Sunday for their annual beach trip.

The Amen Corner

Westminster Fellowship will meet at 4:30 Sunday evening for a buffet supper followed by an address on "Christian Youth in Government," by Attorney General Robert Thornton. All Presbyterian young people of college age are urged to attend.

Mr. Jacquith, curate of the St. Paul's Episcopal church, will be the speaker for Canterbury Club, Sunday night at 6 o'clock, following evening prayer and supper.

Wesleyans will meet at 6 o'clock Sunday evening for supper and recreation. The evening's program and meditation will be in the form of music presented by members of the group, under the direction of Winnie Waltz.

Thursday, at 10 o'clock, Newman Club will meet in the Willamette library, in the Northwest history room, for worship and a meeting.

Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock all senior members of Wesley Fellowship will be honored at a formal banquet in the church dining room. All other students are requested to buy tickets from a Wesley representative in their living organization, or from Carolyn Milner. The planning committee, under the direction of Donna Pallin, chairman, consists of Marilyn Ludlow and Faye Hunter, food; Carolyn Milner, publicity and tickets; Tom Foster, waiters; Tom Raitt, cleanup; Carolyn Burr, program, and Shirleen Schleining, decorations.

Surprise Testimonials Honor Lockenour, Haley This Week

Two Willamette professors, Dr. Roy M. Lockenour and Dr. Robert Haley, each with over a quarter of a century in the teaching field, were honored this week with surprise testimonial dinners.

Tuesday night one hundred of Dr. Halsey's students honored him at Lausanne hall. They presented him with a briefcase in acknowledgement of a varied teaching career begun 33 years ago.

Dorothy Tanning, senior in economics, was principal speaker. Gerald Rolfsness was chairman of the affair.

Plans June Retirement

The head of the economics department, who will retire in June, has his B.A. from Harvard, his masters degree from Oregon State and his doctorate from Northwestern university.

Appointed to the Willamette faculty in 1948, Dr. Haley was formerly on staffs at Geneva college, Missouri Valley college, Northwestern university, Oregon State and Linfield college.

Dr. Lockenour's dinner which payed tribute to his 25 years of service to the College of Law was held Wednesday noon at the Senator hotel in the Capitol room, with over 150 in attendance.

Former Student Speaks

Guest speaker at the banquet was W. W. Balderree, former president of the Oregon Bar Association and a Willamette law graduate.

In recognition for Lockenour's service to Willamette the Law school student body presented him with a leather briefcase.

Attending the banquet were law students, graduates, and members of the Oregon Bar Association.

Two Vie for Second Veep

Kent Holmes and Chet Daniels will oppose each other for office of second vice president in elections next week. Duties of this officer include handling elections and representing the students on the council.

Art Exhibit Displays Miss Notson's Work

Art work from her four years at Willamette are included in the senior exhibit of Jane Notson currently on display in the gallery of the art building.

"The exhibit shows a diversity of materials in the various solutions Miss Notson has given to them," Dr. Cameron Paulin, professor of art, stated.

Weaving, oil painting, etchings, ceramics, water colors—opaque and wash—and some commercial work of Miss Notson's will be displayed. Dr. Paulin pointed out that viewers should notice the growth that has taken place in Miss Notson's work over the four-year college period.

Also on display are projects from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes, which will be shown in other parts of the art building.

Pi Phis, Betas Win May Weekend Sing

May Weekend, graced with sunny spring weather, was pronounced "just right" by guests and students alike, and especially by the members of Pi Beta Phi and Beta Theta Pi.

That social sorority and fraternity were winners in the annual all-school sing held in connection with the weekend, which was attended this year by 200 high school seniors.

Runners-up in the Saturday competition were Alpha Chi Omega sorority and Sigma Chi fraternity.

Other highlights included the parade through Salem Friday, culminating in sophomore-freshman competition at McCulloch stadium. The freshmen, victors in the fall pushball contest, beat their academic peers again in both the greased pole climb and tug-of-war.

On Saturday afternoon, Queen Carolyn Crane was crowned by a former queen, Betty Jean Joseph, on the green of Eaton. Princesses Jane Gray and Alice Girod completed the court and a capacity crowd was in attendance to witness the coronation.

Stewardess Interviews Set Monday, Tuesday

United Air Lines will interview women interested in becoming stewardesses, with representatives to be on campus Monday and Tuesday for interviews.

To qualify for the positions women must have completed two years of college and be 21 years of age. Senior women are especially urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Two Willamette women have already been accepted by United Air Lines this year. Donna Cheney and Carolyn Crane, both seniors, will begin work for United as stewardesses after graduation.

Women interested in interviews should contact Dean Ewalt.

Miss Shields' Recital Set Wednesday

Miss Lisbeth Shields will be presented in a senior recital by the College of Music Wednesday evening at 8:15 in Waller hall.

Miss Shields, whose home is in Castleford, Idaho, will graduate with a major in piano and theory. At the end of her junior year, she was given the Alpha Chi Omega award, and was chosen to receive the Presser Foundation scholarship in music.

Mu Phi Secretary

She is also a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary, in which she held the office of corresponding secretary. Liz is a member of Delta Gamma where she holds the office of treasurer and sings with the Delta Gamma quartet.

Miss Shields has written the winning Freshman Glee songs for the past two years, and recently wrote a popular song, "From the Day We Met" which is in the process of being recorded.

Original Piece Included

She was chosen as the entrant from Oregon in the Association of American Penwomen Creative Writing Contest. Her original composition, "Baachanel" will appear on the program for that association. She was chosen as the December coed of the month.

Miss Shields' recital will be in four parts. The first includes "Toccata in D Minor" by Froberger-Bauer. The second part includes three compositions by the well-known composer Chopin: "Prelude in F Minor," "Nocturne in C Minor," and "Fantasy in F Minor."

16-Part Selection

Following on the program will be "Carnaval" by Schumann, which is in 16 parts. These parts are "Preamble," "Pierrot," "Arlequin," "Valse Noble," "Eusebius," "Florestan," "Coquette," "Replique,"

"Papillons," "Chopin," "Pantalon & Columbine," "Valse Allemande," "Paganini," "Aveu," "Pause," and "March of the Davidsbundler."

The fourth part of Miss Shields' recital will include five numbers: "Eclogue" by Milhaud; "Baachanel" by Lisbeth Shields; "Travel On" by Otterstrom; "Rhapsody F Minor" by Dohnanyi, and "Sheep and Goat Walking to the Pasture" by Guion.

Varsity Varieties To Travel to U. of O.

"Varsity Varieties" will travel to the University of Oregon with "almost an entirely new show" to stage Willamette's exchange assembly there Tuesday, according to director Tom Larson.

Only two acts from the variety show presented last fall during Parents Weekend are included in the new show, he said. Both are dance interpretations: "Dagnet" by Ron and Rich Butler, Marilyn Parker and Judy Mortz, and "Jungle Drums" by Ted Primrose.

Theme for the new production is "Gone Fishing." Master of ceremonies Don Stofer "goes searching for night crawlers (worms) and ends up finding the cast," Larson reported.

Cast members include Sophie Goritson, with her "piece of fruit"; Donna Jenkins singing "The Heat Is On"; the ROTC chorus singing "Hymn to a Hero" and "Clancy Lowered the Boom"; and Tom Larson singing "The Day We Met."

Band to Be Featured In Concert Sunday

Clarinetist Page Bailey and tenor Herb Brower will be soloists for the University band concert Sunday evening at 8:15 in the gymnasium under the direction of Maurice Brennen.

The concert will open with "Siegfried's Rhine Journey" by Wagner, followed by "Sol de Concors" by Messager with Page Bailey featured on the clarinet. Next on the program is "Royce Hall Suite" by Willan, which includes "Prelude and Fugue," "Minuet," and "Rondo."

Howland's "Sussex Psalm" will be followed by Newman's "Conquest" from the motion picture, "Captain From Castile."

Second part of the concert includes "Divertimento" in six parts by Persichetti. Herbert Brower will sing "High Flight" accompanied by the band, and the band will continue with "Introduction and Tango" by Helbig; "Ballad for Band" by Gould; "Irish Washerwoman" by Anderson; and "Pines of the Appian Way" by Respighi.
