SALEM, OREGON 97301

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

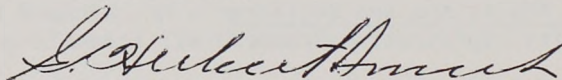

TO THE STUDENTS OF WILLAMETTE

As we look forward to the college year 1968-69, we are anticipating the start of a building project to which Willamette students have looked forward with very real anticipation. Plans for the new University Center are being completed with the expectation that bids will be taken during the summer of 1968 and construction started on this building which will provide the campus center for students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the University. Plans for this building have been developed over a period of more than three years with students and faculty joining trustees in working out the facilities which will be included for recreation, education, and social life. It is anticipated that this building should be completed for the school year 1969-70.

A number of basic changes have come to the Willamette campus during the past year. These include the complete reorganization of the curriculum and the educational program for undergraduates; the creation of the College of Law Council to include trustees, faculty and students in the study of matters of concern to the College of Law; the reorganization of the student affairs and discipline committees of the University to provide equal student and faculty membership; and the reorganization of the Student Senate to be more truly representative of the students. In all, these changes have been effected in a spirit of cooperation after careful consideration by all parties of the best interests of the University community. Only in such a spirit can true progress be made, and at the same time, a climate conducive to educational excellence be maintained.

During its long history, Willamette has had but one goal and that is to provide the very best possible educational opportunities for the young people who come here seeking their college work. We welcome you to this campus and invite you to share in its heritage and to add to the good name of the University by giving serious devotion to intellectual achievement which in turn will enhance Willamette's reputation as you go on to graduate school or into your chosen profession.

Sincerely,

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

HISTORY

In 1834, Jason Lee and his missionary associates started a school for Indian children beside the Willamette River about ten miles north of Salem. To meet the need of a more advance school, the citizens met in the home of Jason Lee and on February 1, 1842, a body of by-laws was adopted and a Board of Trustees appointed. This date was considered to be the founding of Willamette University. The name was changed in 1853 when the Oregon Territorial Legislature granted a charter to the "Wallamet University." The first president was Dr. Francis Hoyt, and the Oregon Institute was retained as a preparatory school.

The university began with five students and one instructor; in 1859, Willamette graduated its first student, Emily J. York. Through the effort of Alvin Waller, a building was begun in 1864, now known as Waller Hall, which was completed in 1867 with the help of the townspeople.

In addition to the College of Liberal Arts, professional schools were established. The Willamette Medical School, started in 1866, was the third founded west of St. Louis and was operated until 1913 when it became part of the University of Oregon. The College of Law was established in 1882, first in the Pacific Northwest, and has given continuous service. The College of Music dates back to 1869.

Dear Incoming Student,

In an age when student ideas and actions are influencing and virtually revamping the characteristics of entire nations, it is important that you, as a university student, have knowledge of the various structures and organizations in which you will participate. The purpose of the Alotadata is to acquaint you with the existing organizations and structure of our university community. Catherine Ingram, the editor, has put forth substantial effort to provide a reference containing answers to everyday questions concerning Willamette University.

Hopefully, through use of the Alotadata, you will take the time to become informed and therefore an active part of our community. The Associated Students of Willamette University welcomes you as a member of our university and the nation-wide student community. It is our sincere hope that you become an integral part of Willamette University and influence her character, just as it will influence you.

Sincerely,

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

"Students at Willamette are governed by three bodies: The administration, AWS (both covered elsewhere in this section), and the ASWU (Associated Students of Willamette University). Much has been said and written recently about 'student rebellion' on university campuses throughout the nation and the world. One may tend to think that Willamette is behind the times, or that its student body is 'non-activist' because we haven't stormed the library or moused around the President's files. But such activity has been unnecessary in the past because of the working together of the three divisions of the University (administration, faculty, and students) through their respective organized bodies. Students at Willamette have achieved, or are in the process of achieving, many of the things that students around the nation are rioting for. We are fortunate that we don't have to waste our time demonstrating loudly to deaf ears, but that we can sit down and discuss our mutual problems through open channels. If you, as students of Willamette University wish to initiate change, drop policies, or otherwise exert your influence on Willamette, these are the channels that are open to you. Use them." The Collegian is the predominant means of informing the student body about events and activities of interest to a college community, and at the same time a vehicle by means of which students can use their talents for feature writing, interviewing, reviewing, etc.

The paper is only what the students themselves desire it to be. The quality is measured by how hard one works to compose a story, and the interest and support given to it by the students.

The Collegian belongs to the students, and should be the voice, not only of the student body as a whole, but also of particular interest. In order that you may be proud of it, support it ... work for it!

1. TO WORK ON THE COLLEGIAN, OR CONTRIBUTE TO IT, CALL THE COLLEGIAN OFFICE (EXT. 224) OR GO TO THE COLLEGIAN OFFICE - IN BACK OF LAUSANNE BY THE MILL STREAM.

JASON

The Jason is the official campus literary magazine containing poetry, short stories and art reproductions - all representative of the "creative minds" of Willamette University students.

2. The theme this year centers around a more total representation of the student, his inner reflections of the exterior - what he thinks about and how he expresses it - manifested through art and literature.
3. Anyone interested is welcome to work on The Jason (now entitled, "Jason's Fantasy"). Contact Kathy Bullock, Art Editor, or Wendy Wolf, Literary Editor (ext. 347).
4. Anyone can submit writings or art work to the editors of the magazine. FRESHMEN ARE URGED TO CONTRIBUTE!

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

The University expects from its students a high standard of conduct, based on Christian ideals. Students must show respect for law and order on and off campus. A student's registration is considered a pledge to abide by the standards of the university and its governing board.

USE OF DANGEROUS DRUGS AND NARCOTICS

Because of the mounting evidence concerning the effects in the use of dangerous drugs and narcotics, a statement of position by Willamette University was presented last spring and adopted by the Student Senate. The statement is:

1. The unauthorized use of depressants, stimulants, hallucinogenic drugs, narcotics, and marijuana is in direct and basic conflict with the educational purposes of the institution.
2. The purchase, use, possession and distribution of marijuana and LSD as well as other dangerous drugs are strictly against the law.
3. Expert medical opinion indicates that the use of dangerous drugs may lead to psychological and physiological damage as well as cases of psychotic breakdown.

The serious educational, legal and medical consequences, therefore, make it imperative that Willamette University take strong disciplinary action up to and including dismissal against any student found to be involved in the illegal purchase, use, possession or distribution of dangerous drugs and narcotics.
