ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Wallowa Lake Again to Be Seat of Willamette for Vacation Months.

The fifth annual session of the Willamette University Summer School will open June 29 at Joseph, Oregon, and continue until August 7. The summer school at Joseph is becoming a very popular place for summer instruction, this being due both to the fortunate natural surroundings and to the quality of the instruction which has been given.

The purpose of the summer school is to give instruction in methods to teachers and to prepare high school pupils for advanced work.

These instructors will go from Willamette, President Homan, Professor, J. T. Matthews, who is dean of the school, and Florian C. Von Eschen. These will be assisted by O. C. Whitney, a prominent educational authority of southeastern Washington; Charles E. Coe, principal of Crook County High School, and J. C. Conley, superintendent of Wallowa County schools.

Preparation will be given to teachers for examinations in the following branches:

One-Year State Certificate. Arithmetic, grammar, physical geography, reading, school law, theory of teaching, writing, penmanship, history, geography, civil government.

Primary Five-Year State Certificate. Method in reading, method in arithmetic, method in language, theory and practice, orthography, method in geography, writing, physiology, psychology.

Five-Year State Certificate. All subjects required for one-year State Certificate and algebra, physiology, American literature, psychology, composition.

Life State Certificate. All subjects required for a five-year State paper and bookkeeping, general history, physics, botany, geology, plane geometry, English literature, history of education.

Wallowa County, especially the region around Joseph, is fast becoming known to the people of the State as the "Switzerland of Oregon," and many people make it their outing ground for the summer. To those who wish to combine pleasure and profit the summer school offers great opportunity, and many teachers and others will doubtless take it this year, as last.

EXPENSIVE GIFT IS RECEIVED.

Senator Booth Presents Library With Dictionary of "Religion and Ethics."

The campaign for a larger and more modern library for Willamette received an added impetus when the advance installment of Hon. R. A. Booth's gift was received, six large and expensive volumes of Hastings' "Dictionary of Religion and Ethics" fresh from the presses of the Scribner Co. Four more are to follow, making a set of reference work much needed at present.

It might be said in passing that Dr. Hastings has chosen his authorities upon the different phases of religion and ethics from men who represent the most modern tendencies in philosophy, giving a broad, scientific basis to the work, which is one of the most notable contributions to classified knowledge upon the subjects with which it deals. This dictionary is a much needed and much appreciated addition to our reference works, and also shows the progressiveness and broad vision of its donor.

SCANDINAVIAN LANGUAGES STUDIED IN AMERICAN SCHOOLS

The study of Scandinavian languages was first introduced into American colleges and universities some five years ago and has been gradually extended until during the last four or five years its spread has been rapid, not only in colleges and universities, but also in high schools and grade schools, especially in Minnesota and the neighboring states. The State College of Washington was the first state institution west of the Rocky Mountains to introduce Scandinavian studies into its curriculum. In 1905-6 two courses were offered in Norwegian, and the next year two courses were added in Swedish. In 1911-12 the number was extended to six, the next year to seven, and in 1913-14 to eight.

"ON TO COLUMBIA BEACH" IS THE Y. M. C. A. SLOGAN

Plans Are Being Laid for Big Delegation From Willamette.

SEVEN MEN ALREADY AND MORE EXPECTED

University Has Been Well Represented at Session for Years Past—Was Winner of Last Season's Track Meet.

"Columbia Beach" is at present the password of the University Y. M. C. A. and President Harold Jory and his associates are rapidly lining up a strong delegation to represent Willamette at this great annual ten-day conference of college men.

Already seven or eight men have declared their intention of attending the conference, and from the interest being displayed it seems as though Willamette would have a very creditable delegation, probably in the neighborhood of fifteen men.

No name has so many delightful memories for several hundred college men throughout the Northwest than that of Columbia Beach. For ten years, from a hundred to a hundred and fifty men have gathered at this place for ten days each year, and here, in the quiet of an attractive natural setting, discussed and settled great questions of life, lived in intimate touch with leaders of high ideals and achievements, enjoyed the sports of sea and forest, made friendships with men from every college in this region, and had their vision broadened to see that these colleges usually met as rivals have the same ideals as they, and to see that men from every college were viewing life as an opportunity for service.

It is impossible to do justice to Columbia Beach. There are the most attractive of surroundings: Deep woods, a lake, and just over the dune the ocean. There are sports for everyone—baseball, tennis, canoeing, tramping, surf-bathing. There are large meetings, where eminent speakers treat subjects of vital interest to men, and small group meetings for study and consultation on religious questions. There are the personal interviews with men who know men's problems. All these combine in forming the atmosphere of the place and yet they are not perhaps the biggest thing. The spirit of Columbia Beach is to be found in the spirit of comradeship and good-feeling which pervades the camp. By the end of the first day in camp, men from a dozen colleges are on the best of terms, and before the ten days are gone there is engendered intimacy and mutual respect of the utmost confidence. There is no artificial reserve between student and leader. The democracy is complete.

The men who have been to Columbia Beach count it the biggest experience of their lives almost to a man. Columbia Beach is a religious conference, in the very widest meaning of the term. It does not neglect the specific field of Bible and mission study and Christian service, but its great work is in teaching men how to live and achieve the highest service. The men come back to their colleges with a new conception of the work they may do. Its appeal is to action.

Columbia Beach is not religious in any sense that suggests sanctimoniousness. Never was a crowd more alive. The rush for the big open air dining hall and the way everyone lays to at dinner after a dip in the surf is a sight for the gods. Everyone goes in for the sports, practical jokes and "rough house" are not wanting, and the lid is completely off on stony night.

Willamette has been prominent at Columbia Beach of late years. Her men have been leaders there. Last year Willamette ranked first in the sports. Homan, Doane and Neustel won the track meet for her. A soccer team composed of Willamette and U. of W. men won the soccer game against the conference. President Homan has

WILLAMETTE TO HAVE ASPHALT TENNIS COURTS

Business Men Make Proposition Which Is Promptly Accepted by Executive Committee.

As the result of a movement among the business men started by "Chauncey" Bishop, Willamette is to have two asphalt tennis courts.

The condition upon which the men make the offer is that they shall have the privilege of playing on the courts during the summer vacation and the student body shall bear a certain proportion of the cost of providing the courts.

At the meeting of the executive committee Tuesday noon definite action was taken accepting the offer of the business men and voting to pay the student body share of the cost of installing them.

The tennis courts will be a permanent improvement which will fill a long felt want among the students of W. U. Any sunny day throughout the winter tennis can be indulged in and a dry spring will not be a necessity for putting out a winning tennis team.

The intention is to add these courts to the present number giving the university six first-class courts.

PREB AND STOCKER HAVE AN ADVENTURE

Inseparable Duo Carry Gospel to Canby—Stocker Pulls Plug in Pulpit.

When Stocker accepted a Sunday appointment to preach at Canby and asked Proebstel to accompany him, he little realized that Jonahs can exist in cycling trips as well as in certain salty seas. It seems that the day being warm, Stocker deposited certain gentlemanly adjuncts in the shape of collar, tie and coat in the crate at the back of Proebstel's wheel as his own basket was missing. Proebstel had previously promised Professor Walsh to be blooming soprano soloist at the penitentiary in the afternoon, but finding the day warm he stopped at every hay stack and tried to telephone to Salem to Stocker's impatience as the hour of feeling the flock was rapidly approaching. Finally in disgust Stocker rode on ahead and told Proebstel to follow. Naturally Proebstel took the wrong road and had ridden five miles toward Salem before he discovered that he was not proceeding in the right direction.

Stocker meanwhile was at the church and, with the choir singing the opening hymn, was not a little disturbed at Proebstel's nonappearance. When he tried to borrow a coat he was told that, as it was a new one the occupant could not remove himself from it; a yellow one was offered, but Stocker would have sooner preached in a bathing suit. Happily, a gentleman on the back seat took pity on him and presented his coat. As the hymn was nearly over Stocker accepted and, not stopping for collar or tie, ascended the pulpit and proceeded to dispense a rousing good sermon. As he "waxed eloquent" he unconsciously felt in the front pocket of the coat for his notes and, to his astonishment and mortification and to the amusement of the congregation, produced a plug of tobacco. Proebstel meanwhile had arrived, but under the embarrassment of the occasion refrained from entering the church. Later, when returning home, Proebstel's wheel broke down and he was forced to hop ten miles before striking a train. "The way of the Proebsterian limited is a hoodoo to efficient administering of the gospel in appropriate raiment," quoth Stocker, and the nurse of mortification agrees with him.

Dartmouth students have started an agitation to establish moving picture houses in Hanover, the seat of the University. "Movies" are now "tabooed" by the local authorities.

for six years been one of the most popular of the leaders and speakers.

No Willamette man can put in better ten days than at Columbia Beach even at considerable sacrifice. The conference this year meets from Friday, June 12, till Sunday, June 21. This conflicts with Commencement, but this need not interfere with those who are able to go. With a nucleus of seven or eight men already signed up, it seems that Willamette should not be represented by less than fifteen men to keep up her good reputation at the conference.

WILLAMETTE MEN SEEK IMPORTANT POLITICAL PLACES

Successful Men Desire to Be Nominated at Primaries May 15th

PROMINENT ALUMNI WITH GOOD RECORDS

Hawley, Hetzel, Richardson, Ford, Vin, John Martin and Others Are Competent Men for Offices of Trust and Responsibility.

One of the tests of a school's greatness is the number of men who attain to public positions of trust and responsibility after leaving their Alma Mater. Willamette is extremely fortunate in this respect, for tomorrow many of her students are to be endorsed by the voters of the state. Among them are senators, representatives and supreme judges. Willamette students should see that these men, representative of our "varsity," are put before the people in the right light. Students talk of class spirit and loyalty. Here is a chance to put into actual practice your school spirit and staunch loyalty. Willamette's men must ascend to the pinnacles of fame.

Willis C. Hawley is seeking to succeed himself as U. S. representative from the first district. His excellent past record is a high recommendation for future service.

Charles A. Johns is a gubernatorial candidate who has a large following. He is a successful business man and promises a business administration.

Charles L. McNary is a young man who has already made an enviable record for himself in the office, he now holds. He has a high type of judicial mind and a legal training and practice which are invaluable in the duties pertaining to his office.

James G. Heltzel, who is a candidate for state senator, is a graduate of both the Liberal Arts and Law Departments of Willamette University. He was president of the Philological Literary Society several times and was editor of the "Collegian" during his last year in school. After graduating he was an instructor in the Department of Law for five years. He was a member of the Oregon Legislature in 1913.

Mr. Heltzel has made a long and careful study of the laws that Oregon already has and of the interpretation placed on them by our Supreme Court, and is well qualified to act wisely in repealing or improving the law one is now required to obey. He believes that a few laws should be enacted, that some should be repealed and many others abolished.

Dr. J. O. Van Winkle, republican candidate for coroner of Marion county, is an alumnus of W. U., having graduated from the college of medicine in '05. He took an active interest in various student affairs, having served as manager of the Glee Club, as a member of the W. U. quartet two years, vice-president of affiliated colleges, and also served on the Annual staff. His literary education was obtained at the U. of Oregon before entering Willamette. He also took a post-graduate course in College of Physicians and Surgeons at San Francisco. He is endorsed by the physicians of Marion county.

Geo. M. Brown is a prominent candidate for the important office of attorney-general. William P. Lord also aspires to this office. Both are competent men and worthy of support.

Ivan B. Martin desires to be a state representative from Marion county.

B. S. Vin is running for justice of the peace.

ST. Richardson is a seeker of supreme court honor.

OUR MOTTO—"A SQUARE DEAL"

WILLAMETTE is putting her men before the peoples of the world. The American schools are fast becoming noted for their men of morals. Willamette, as one of these representative schools, is finding her own along this line. Our 'varsity is not noted for its great business men, its engineers or farmers, but it is recognized the school world over as the home of moral character and reputation. While the good being done is infinite, some have a tendency to forget the other more material and concrete things of life and become decidedly narrowed, thus hampering both themselves and their Alma Mater. It takes individuals with strength of character to remain isolated from the real world in a secluded work adapted to self-broadening, and still progress in both directions, character and knowledge, knowledge not only of character but of the world. Willamette has men of character. Willamette has men of rigid disposition. What it wants now is more men of true, sterling concrete build. It takes backbone with a thread of sentiment to make the world go round.

IN A SCHOOL the size of Willamette there is always the danger of dissatisfaction because of the immediate lack of concrete advancement. In after life the old grads look back upon their days in old Willamette, as periods fraught with greatest pleasure and progression. Although we may not be able to detect advancement while we are here, in the days of life after leaving the old 'varsity, we will be able to cast a glance back over the intervening months and years and point to the old year books and say: "Those were the happy days." What better recommendation for school training.

NOW is the time for the students to get busy and look for their summer's employment. It pays to plan your work for years ahead, and one of the first things needed is the filthy lucre, in spite of the fact that many people claim they live for life and not for personal ex-totation. We all must eat, and that costs money. There are many summer positions open if the student knows where to look for them. Get busy and hit the hayfork.

THE primary election occurs tomorrow. Students should get busy and study up on the requirements of each office and the ability of the man running for that position to fill it. The work of trying to pick your man is a task, if rightfully done. As one local Methodist pastor says: "It is a hit or miss job anyway, and we must do our best to see that the right man gets the place." The legislature has passed laws raising the taxes. The people have then added greater burdens to their now sufficient load by allowing other laws to become legal under their very eyes, laws that carry with them appropriations amounting to millions. Such apparently trivial appropriation bills are what cause the increase in tax paying. We must see that these are stalled before reaching the degree of perfection which the politicians are wanting to have them. There are those running who are in favor of the abolishment of certain boards and commissions and others who are crying "Cut down the useless boards." The students must see for themselves the adequacy of the elimination or retention of these so-called useless commissions. Put Willamette men where Willamette men belong.

SOCIETY

On Friday evening the members of the Epworth League of First Methodist Church gathered in the church parlors for a social hour, which was enjoyably spent in games and contests. Refreshments were served by Misses Reigleman and Penn, and Messrs. Jewett and Odgers.

One of the most enjoyed and most unique social affairs of the year was the "Wild Goose Chase" given by the Misses Gertrude Eaken, Ruth Hodge and Eva Hogue, on Saturday evening. The "chase" began at the Hodge residence on Twelfth street. After bagging several geese the hunting party went to "Jack Frost's" where each bought a penny's worth of goods with the funds which they had received for their game. Then after considerable wandering the party arrived at the Hogue "Lodge," where a delightful hour was spent in pursuit of the "Green Goose."

Having captured the "bird," the hunt was continued to the Eakin home. Here dainty refreshments of ices, wafers and coffee and mints were served. All three residences were beautifully decorated for the occasion. Flocks of green geese hovered around the chandeliers. Rosebuds and snowballs were used in profusion.

Following the annual custom of the Freshman class of the 'varsity, the class of '17 entertained the Seniors of the Salem High School in Eaton Hall, Saturday evening.

The rooms were artistically decorated with Scotch broom and masses of snowballs. The lights were shaded by green and white streamers. A short program was given. Miss Eugenia McInturff sang, Miss Evadne Harrison read and Prof. Wallace McMurray played a piano solo.

Delicious ices and wafers were served. During the evening about 200 members of the two classes called.

Lausanne Hall entertained extensively during the May Day festivities. The guests were initiated into the mysteries of true dormitory life by participating in jolly spreads and numerous "stunts."

Miss Beatrice Honey was the guest of Miss Edith Lewis during the week end. Miss Honey was a former classmate of Miss Davis.

Miss Ruth Tasker entertained Misses Helen Barley and Isabel Munn of Portland for several days in the "K Corner."

Miss Edith Lewis, Lilian Downing and Ruth Henderson, of Portland, spent the week end with Miss Ione Lewis.

Miss Hortense Ingalls was the guest of Edith Lornsten.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ruby and family, of Portland, visited Miss Eleanor Ruby on May Day.

Miss Hazel Smith, a former Willamette student, was the guest of Miss Annie Ryan over Sunday.

One of the prettiest hall spreads of the year was given by Miss Avis Ogden on Sunday last. The occasion celebrated the birthday of the hostess. Delicious "eats," including a birthday cake "from home," were served by the hostess. Several Sunday night callers also appreciated the cake. The following made merry: Misses Hallie Sampson, Floria Lachmund, Avis Ogden, Clara Perkins and Ione Lewis.

Misses Cox and Cook startled the curious public recently by renting "a one-horse shay" and journeying forth unaccompanied by any "mere man."

Miss Chandler visited her cousin, Miss Nina Graves, of Portland, over Sunday. Miss Ruby was also in Portland during the week end.

Miss Helen Ogden visited her sister at Lansame Hall for several days.

Mrs. T. C. Doughty and family motored from Sheridan to spend Sunday with Lilah Doughty.

Miss Lulu Wessman spent a delightful week end at Corvallis, visiting at O. A. C.

Miss Ruth Young enjoyed a visit at Albany.

Miss Electa Chapman was recently hostess at a pleasant but informal dinner in honor of Miss Evadne Harrison's birthday. Present were Miss Harrison, Miss Leila Lent, Miss Chapman, Mr. Van de Vert, Mr. Jory and Mr. Bolt.

Miss Keith Van Winkle is pleased with a visit from her mother.

SUMMER CONFERENCE THEME AT Y. W. C. A.

Meeting Thursday Will Be Devoted to Presenting Charms of Ten Days at the Beach.

Can you shut your eyes and see the ocean with the long lines of creamy waves dashing against the beach? And can you feel the vibrating thud which an unusually large breaker makes as it hits the rocks? And can you smell the delicious odor of oyster broth and clams fried to a turn? Or see the interesting faces of men and women really worth while? And does your heart still shir as you recall some words which especially stirred you?

If these experiences do not fill a treasure room in your house of memories and you want them to, come to Y. W. Thursday and learn how they may become your own.

Conference is our theme, a magnificent one and it will be interestingly handled. Oh, girls, do come and get a glimpse of the possibilities of ten days by the sounding sea. Miss Van Winkle will have charge of the meeting.

MISS AUSTIN DELIVERS MISSIONARY ADDRESS AT ALBANY

Miss Laura Austin, president of the senior class, was the speaker of the evening at a special missionary meeting held at the Albany Methodist Church last Sunday evening.

Miss Austin spent five years as a missionary in India and her address contained much interesting information about the customs of the people of that far off land. She was greeted by a packed house, several of her fellow students being in the audience.

FROSH ISSUE CHALLENGE FOR INTER-CLASS MEET

Representatives of College Classes to Clash in Track and Field Events.

A challenge was issued by the Freshman class Wednesday morning to the other classes for an interclass track meet to be held tomorrow afternoon. Even before the challenge was issued the upper classes, who were anticipating something of the kind, had lined up their material and were getting their teams organized. The rules of the meet in regard to the entries will be the same as those of last year, that is, that point-winners in any intercollegiate meet will be barred from those events in which they have taken points. Some changes have been made in the season's track schedule. The triangular meet which was to be held between O. A. C., Multnomah and Willamette at Corvallis tomorrow, has been called off. The meet to have been held here last Friday with Pacific University was called on account of the rain. The return meet with Pacific will be held at Forest Grove, Friday, May 22.

It is the opinion of Manager Sackett that the interclass meet, which is the topic of much speculation around the campus, will be exceptionally fast this year. So much new material is out that only a few will be greatly hindered by being barred from events.

BIG MUSICAL EVENT NEXT WEDNESDAY EVE

Dean Mendenhall to Present Choir and Glee Clubs in Numerous Selections.

The next musical attraction of the year is to be in the First M. E. church on next Wednesday evening, May 20th. The program will be given by the church choir, assisted by the Glee Club and the Ladies' Club, in all about 60 voices.

An admission price of twenty-five cents will be charged, which goes to the Ladies' Aid and will be used by them in the purchase of a piano.

University students are urged to attend this concert and are given assurance of a program well worth hearing.

With Bernstorff pitching sensational ball Southwestern, of Winfield, Kansas, won from St. Mary's Friday, 1-0.

Commencement Program

Park Methodist Church, will deliver the commencement address.

The commencement of the college of music will probably be held in connection with that of the college of liberal arts, according to tentative plans.

On Sunday morning, June 14, President Homan will preach the commencement sermon in the First Methodist Church, before the senior class of the College of Liberal Arts.

Sunday afternoon will occur the farewell meeting of the Christian associations. The meeting will be held in the university chapel and will probably be led by the president of the university.

In the evening the farewell sermon to the Christian associations will be delivered in the First Methodist Church. The speaker for the evening has not been definitely chosen as yet.

Monday of commencement week will open with a "Senior Breakfast." The breakfast will be very original but also quite dignified, only wearers of the caps and gowns being present.

After breakfast will come a morning baseball game. The team who will invade the campus on that date has not definitely been selected, but the manager has negotiations under way.

In the afternoon "The Girls' Willamette Club" will hold exercises both in the chapel and at the grave of Jason Lee in memory of the founder of our university. In the evening will occur either the president's reception or the Inter-Society Oratorical Contest.

Tuesday will be class day proper. The morning will open with a soccer game and probably a class skit or play. Following the opening numbers a pictorial history of the class will be presented. This is planned as one of the most elaborate numbers of the program.

At noon the annual senior lunch will take place. All members of the student body sitting down together for the last meal that this particular Willamette family will take together.

In the afternoon will come the stunts by the three other college classes. The intense rivalry between each of the take place, all members of the student themselves to the limit in providing the entertainment for the afternoon.

In the evening if the tentative plans are carried out will occur the most spectacular event of commencement week. The entire campus will be held in a mass of excitement as the speakers insure that they will exert stunts will be presented on different

MADE FRIDAY

Amendments Adopted at Last Student Body Meeting are of Great Importance.

DEBATE COUNCIL AND ORATORICAL ASS'N QUIT

Certificate to Be Presented With Each Sweater Award Hereafter—May Day Is Made Week-End Celebration.

At the student body meeting held last Friday morning all the proposed amendments to the student body constitution were finally read and passed.

The amendment regarding oratory and debate makes article V. of the by-laws read as follows:

Section 1. Inter-collegiate debates and tryouts and inter-collegiate oratorical contests shall be arranged by the forensic council, composed of three boy-W men, at least one of whom shall have received his W for representing the university in oratory and at least one of whom shall have received his W for representing the university in debate, a representative of the faculty who shall be the professor having charge of the coaching of the debaters and orators and the president of the student body who shall be ex-officio chairman of the council.

Section 2. Elections for the Forensic Council shall be held at the first regular meeting of the student body in May.

Section 3. The first meeting of the forensic council shall occur within ten (10) days following its selection, at which time it shall elect a manager. The manager shall not be selected from the regular members of the council, but shall be an ex-officio member of the same.

Section 4. The manager shall have charge of the financial management of all debates and tryouts and all oratorical tryouts, and shall represent the university as executive committeeman at the meetings of the State Oratorical Association. He shall be required to give bonds to be approved by the executive committee in the sum of one hundred ($100) dollars, to be written within ten (10) days after his election.

Section 5. All moneys accruing from any debate or oratorical contest shall be placed in the hands of the treasurer of the student body within three (3) days after the event.

All bills contracted must be placed in the hands of the executive committee within one week after same have been contracted, that they may be passed upon by the said committee.

Managers desiring money in advance for approaching contests must present statement of probable expenditure to the executive committee.

Section 6. The manager must render full written report of all moneys received and expended to the executive committee within ten (10) days after each contest.

The next issue of the Collegian is to be edited by the Freshman class. At a recent meeting they elected Earl Cotton to act as editor and L. Bond in the capacity of manager. This is the first special edition taken hold of by an individual class this year and shows that the Frosh are up and ready to further the interests of their class. The material will be gathered by the class reporters and edited by them, although all material will be handed in under the supervision of the present editorial staff, which, however, is not responsible for articles inserted.

The provisions of this amendment are really self-evident. The debate council and the oratorical association are dissolved and the further management of oratory and debate will be vested in the forensic council. The three student members of this council will be elected at the regular student meeting to be held on tomorrow morning.

Under this present interpretation of the constitution and by-laws, the prohibition oratorical contest is not a student body enterprise. However, a committee has been appointed to draft amendments looking to the management of these contests by the student body.

The amendment to article VI. of the by-laws, concerning awards, is as follows:

First—Eliminating the words "after receiving such award or sweater" of the first paragraph of section VI.

Second—Eliminating the last paragraph of section VI. and adding section VII. to read:

The awards shall be given publicly after the close of the first semester to those who have earned them during the previous semesters.

The date shall be decided by the "W" club.

The president of the university shall make the presentation.

The provisions of this amendment have been used for the past two years excepting that a certificate shall be awarded with each sweater so that in case the sweater is lost or becomes worn out, a person may by the evidence of his certificate secure another sweater.

Another amendment of special interest is the one which passed, making May-day a week-end celebration to cover two days. It is as follows:

Amendment to the student body constitution, adding section 7 to article VIII. of the by-laws, making May-day a week-end celebration.

Section 7. When the first day of May does not fall upon Friday, the festivities shall be held upon the next succeeding Friday and may continue on the following day if the committee on May-day so desires.

tana, speaking of the New England Dictionary which was started twenty-more years for completion. This marvelous work, of such stupendous structure, is the most complete record of the development of words, having for its contributors the great enlightened educators of the entire world. The present editor is Jas. H. Murray of Oxford University. The progress in the past twenty-five years has brought the contributors down to the letter T, although the bound forms in the University Library extend only to the letter P.

The dictionary aims to furnish an adequate account of the meaning, origin and history of English words in general use. The English vocabulary is considered under the three main heads of literary, common and colloquial, and subdivided into scientific, technical, foreign, dialect and slang.
