FOREWORD

OUR AIM IN PRESENTING THE 1935 WALLULAH IS TO SUGGEST THE SPIRIT AND PERSONALITY OF LIFE ON THE WILLAMETTE CAMPUS. NAMES, PICTURES, AND SKETCHES BETWEEN THE COVERS OF THIS BOOK INVITE MEMORIES OF GENUINE LAUGHTER, STAUNCH FRIENDS, MELLOW BRICK BUILDINGS SILHOUETTED AGAINST AN EVENING SKY, THE WELCOME SHADE OF MAPLE TREES IN SPRING, AN EXCITING FRESHMAN GLEE NIGHT, AND, ABOVE ALL, THROBBING HUMAN PERSONALITY.

IF IN THE YEARS TO COME, THIS BOOK SERVES TO CLARIFY AND INTENSIFY YOUR COLLEGE DAYS AT WILLAMETTE U., WE, THE WALLULAH STAFF, SHALL BE RECOMPENSED FOR OUR LABORS.

PRESENTING

LAST fall we welcomed you, Dr. Baxter, as our new President. Now in the light of your success we again bring our most joyful salutations. Already you have so closely identified yourself with Willamette that we find in you our highest conception of the ideal in thought and action for Willamette men and women.

Within the period of the events herein recorded, you have become one of us. As we pass in review our experiences and accomplishments of this year we feel your personality permeating and enriching them. So smoothly have you picked up the tempo of Willamette life, so harmoniously have you expanded and deepened it that we know our dynamic progress could be led by none but a master conductor.

We see in your leadership more than the mere academic development of Willamette. The high idealism which you bring to us both in word and deed, the energy with which you attack problems large and small, the interest and devotion which you show in individual and community relationships exemplify a character that is an inspiration to the student body.

ADMINISTRATION

BRUCE RICHARD BAXTER

President of The University

IN COMMENDING this issue of the Wallulah to the friends of Willamette I wish also to commend the University which it represents. For nearly a century Willamette has been a synonym for character, scholarship and culture. In the attainment of these objectives students have lived and worked in an environment and association which has been more like membership in a large family than any other comparison of which I know. The pages of this book, with a record of a year's achievement, show clearly that the days have not been dull, but that recreation and social activities have had their rightful place. However, the reader who will go beneath the surface will find that the present student generation has not departed from the principles and ideals of those sturdy Christian pioneer founders of Willamette University. We are constantly seeking to relate these principles to the new day. I am deeply appreciative of this opportunity of bringing this word of greeting to the many friends of the University.

Cordially yours,

Bruce Richard Baxter

AMEDEE M. SMITH, Chairman, Board of Trustees

Board of Trustees

UPON the Board of Trustees rests the establishment and maintainence of the policies of Willamette. The Board meets regularly in January and June, and at other times when business of the University requires attention. The Executive Committee of nine members meet each month to conduct the current business.

Dean of The University

TO REGULATE the entire curriculum of Willamette is the main purpose of Dean Frank M. Erickson, but in the process he constantly proves himself to be the friend of every student. One of his most important duties is to establish contacts between the students, faculty, and trustees for the mutual benefit of all. Through his sympathetic supervision of the Loan Fund many students have received aid which determined, perhaps their whole college career. From his example as well as from his able guidance many of the policies of Willamette are determined.

Dean of Women

DEAN Olive M. Dahl handles one of the most difficult positions in the Administration of Willamette by being responsible for the understanding between the students and faculty, and by guiding the trend of all social events. Dean Dahl has, by her supervision of the women's scholastic competition, raised the standards and ambition of all organized women's groups. Throughout one's college life, from the Freshman days, bewildered with difficulties, to the Senior year with culminative suggestions, one is assured of a cordial welcome from Dean Dahl, and cannot but be influenced by her poise and personality.

School of Music

THE Willamette University School of Music offers a valuable course to anyone interested in Music, whether for cultural or professional purposes, and a thorough technical training in all branches. Cameron Marshall has an unlimited influence upon all the students in the University through his Men's and Women's Glee Clubs and the Mixed Quartet. Their popular performances over the radio and in civic music circles have done a great deal to present Willamette to thousands of people. Professor Marshall's Valentine Day Chapel has become one of Willamette's most prized traditions and symbolizes the personal interest which he has taken in the students.

School of Law

AS DEAN of the Willamette University School of Law, Roy Lockenour can well be proud of the esteem which the Law School has attained. Instruction is given by experienced attorneys and its library is unsurpassed. It's graduates have attained recognition throughout the Northwest in public life as well as in the legal profession. The purpose of the Law School is to give men and women the best training in law, and to inspire them with the highest ideals of the profession. As a Law School, it is over fifty years old and looks forward to a future of activity, with hopes of soon becoming standardized.

Business Secretary

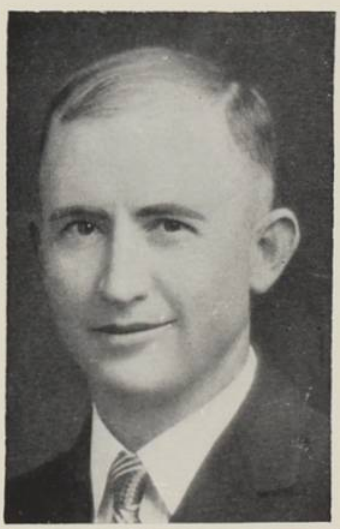

AS THE courteous and efficient business secretary of the University, Mr. N. S. Savage is largely responsible for the business policies of the school. His helpful attitude toward students with financial problems has won him the respect and admiration of all who have come in contact with him. His office receives student body fees along with the tuition. The student body fees are distributed by the graduate manager among the campus activities and the tuition fees help to meet the expenses of the University.

Recorder

AS RECORDER in the Registrar's office, Mrs. D. Schreiber makes one of the earliest contacts with new students of Willamette. Throughout the four college years every student is in contact with her, for through her office goes all the form of registering and re-registering. She also edits the yearly catalogue of the University and distributes literature to prospective students of Willamette. Through her efficiency and helpfulness Mrs. Schreiber has proved herself valuable to everyone in Willamette.

Graduate Manager

LESTLE J. SPARKS is appointed Graduate Manager each year by the student body executive committee of which he becomes a member. As Manager he is responsible for the financial affairs of the Associated Students, and he accounts for every dollar taken in and spent by the Cardinal and Gold teams.

The managers of all the various activities, class and student body, present their budgets to him and keep him informed throughout the year concerning their expenditures. By means of this material the Graduate Manager must prepare a budget for the entire student activities and keep those activities within the budget. This system was installed in 1929 and through the service of Mr. Sparks it has proved very successful and promises to continue as such in the future.

Senior Scholars

EACH year the heads of the various departments choose those who are to act as assistants in their departments during their senior year. The choices are based upon scholarship and ability to profit by the opportunity. The duties of the senior scholars are to make special studies of the teaching methods, examine and criticise papers, and assist in the laboratories.

President of the Student Body

UNDER the leadership of Dick Lucke, the Student Body has had another successful year. Guided by the student opinion, he has headed the most important student organization, which carries on forensics, publications, dramatics, and the extra-curricular activities in athletics. With a democratic spirit prevailing, this year has added another to the successive years of merit of Willamette University.

Erickson, F. Lucke, R. Sparks, L. Hedin, N Fleming, A. Manning, K
Johnson, D. Black, E. Ennor, H. DeLespinasse, F. Kester, R. Robison, J.

Executive Committee

¶Student government depends upon the co-operation of the students, and the interested work of the student leaders in the executive committee. The governing body of the A. S. W. U. is composed of the student body president, the first and second vice-presidents, the secretary, the editors of the Collegian and Wallulah, a representative of each of the classes, a faculty advisor and the graduate manager. The committee has controlled all matters concerning the entire student body, appointed all standing committees, and approved all financial transactions.

Interclass Rivalry Committee

¶All affairs of inter-class and inter-mural activities are controlled by this committee. This includes basketball, tennis, baseball, pass ball, swimming, and forensics. It is made up of a chairman, elected from the student body and one representative from each class.

Feather, S. Harris, F. Jones, M. Sutton, B.

Brown, L. Frantz, E. Mosher, W.

Constitutional Revision Committee

¶This committee serves to draw up all amendments to the Constitution of the A. S. W. U. As a standing committee it was appointed by the executive committee and its members for this year have proved very capable.

Library Committee

¶This group was organized for the purpose of taking charge of the discipline in the library, but it also has created a wider interest in the cultural possibilities offered. Cash prizes are offered to the students reading books recommended by the committee and writing the outstanding reports of these books.

Brainard, W. Eddy, L. Gardner, W. Manning, K.
Marean, M. McDonald, D Mosher, W. Schrack, A.

Cannady, G. Fleming, A. Gallaher, G. Harris, F. Magin, L.

Honor Code Committee

¶To unobtrusively enforce the Honor Code which the Associated Students of a few years ago adopted, is the outstanding duty of this committee. Any honor system rests upon the respect of the individual students for themselves, their fellow students and their Alma Mater. The purpose of such a committee as this is to increase student interest, class morals, and respect for the efficiency of the committee.

Wallulah Advisory Board

¶Acting as directors for the annual publication of the Willamette Student Body, the Wallulah Advisory Board maintains a close check upon the policies and the budget of the year book. The Advisory Board offers invaluable advice and service through its work as an intermediary between the Wallulah and the Executive Committee. It is careful in considering the business success possible in the publication of a year book.

Black, E. Eddy, L. Moser, D. Potter, E.

Review of The Year

THE growth of the College of Liberal Arts at Willamette has been rapid in recent years and this year is certainly no exception. During the last fifteen years the requirements for entrance and for graduation have steadily advanced and the faculty and student body have doubled in size. The progress of these years if not complete by itself is obviously the basis for continual improvement in the near future. There has been an increase in the number of the student body of this year over that of last year, but this fact is most important as evidence of the trend to enlarge future student bodies. The new English courses show the beginning of a movement to add both cultural and professional value to Willamette's curriculum, which is, of course, more important than any specific course which could be added. The attitude toward progress is unmistakably present this year and though the evidences of it may not seem spectacular it will prove to be the ground work for many changes. The landscaping which has been done these past months helps to keep the campus an appropriate part of the civic center of Salem, the capital of Oregon, but it has been done with the vision of future building changes, which is vastly more valuable.

That the quality of the work of Willamette University is attested by the Association of American Universities is a permanent compliment to the administration and an inspiration to all generations of students, present and future, for a greater interest in the University. The interest of the student body and administration, combined, has been, this year, a promise and pledge that Willamette shall continuously progress toward it's high ideals.

Senior Class History

THE class of '35 with four college years behind them although perhaps a little less boisterous, have still that enthusiasm and class spirit which they brought to the campus as Freshmen in the fall of '31.

During these years they have added to Willamette's glory in athletic, forensic, dramatic activities, and have helped to maintain her high standards in all fields.

Avoiding the icy mill stream, the class received one third, two second, and one first place in Freshman Glee.

One of the members, David Moser, had the unusual distinction of being yell king in his first year at Willamette.

As Sophomores, the class proudly introduced new jackets of black and green to the campus. On the same day a special Sophomore edition of the Collegian was published; while in the evening the Bearcat Follies, a new and interesting entertainment, was presented by the class of '35.

May Week-end they presented "Come Out of the Kitchen", with an entire cast of Juniors.

Flunk day, anticipated for two years, was thoroughly enjoyed by the class.

In the fall of '34 the Seniors came back to the campus to make their last year a memorable one for themselves and for the University. During the previous summer three members of the class: Garfield Barnett, Fred Harris, and Amelia Schrack were fortunate in representing Willamette at a student conference in Japan. In the early spring of 1935 Garfield Barnett and William Mosher made a debate tour of the middle west and south.

The Seniors, the first class to graduate with Dr. Baxter as the president of Willamette University, extend to him the best hopes and wishes that his first four years at the University will be as happy and profitable as theirs have been.

Junior Class History

SILENCE reigned, a tenseness of anticipation and suppressed excitement filled the air—and then came Dr. Matthew's solemn rendition of: "And the first place goes to the Juniors." Bedlam ensued, with shouts of victory, applause, the rush to the platform. The class of '36 had made history. Three times in as many years it had taken the coveted red and gold Freshman Glee banner. Three times Helen Benner's music had won first place.

This same group of Juniors, in the fall of '32 had come as Freshmen to the campus, full of enthusiasm and intent upon making an unusual record. Participating in all of the extra-curricula activities, members of the class completed a very successful year.

As Sophomores, in rust colored sweaters they maintained an active part in campus life, again entering into the fields of athletics, forensics, music, and dramatics.

Upper class men now, they continued with the same spirit under the direction of Steve Anderson, Doris Unruh, Anoka Coates, and Bronc Williams.

In the fall the Junior tea given by the women of the Junior class for the Freshman girls and the faculty women, was a lovely affair.

Constance Smart won two first places in oratory, while in the field of music Elizabeth Boylan also won two firsts.

Particularly in athletics, both men and women were prominent. In women's sports those taking part were Lois Underwood, Wanda Landon, Winifred Gardner, Anoka Coates, Esther Gibbard, and Florence DuRette. Esther Black has the unusual record of being on the All-Star basketball team for three successive times. The men taking an active part were Don Burch, Kenneth Manning, Maurice McCann, Talbot Bennett, Bronc Williams, and Carl Rhoda.

A high spot in the galaxy of Junior affairs was the informal given at the Armory, February 9. Each Junior invited a guest. So a jolly crowd of students danced till the stroke of twelve under a veritable ceiling of multi-colored balloons.

On April the tenth the class was given the privilege of presenting a radio program over KOAC at Corvallis. In addition to presenting individual talent, they sang the three winning Glee songs.

May Weekend, under the management of J. D. Welch, was very successful. The class presented "The Goose Hangs High," with an entire cast of Juniors.

Then, after two long years of anticipation, the class went to the beach for one whole day.

With three successful and happy years drifting into the background, the class of '36 looks into the future with enthusiasm for its last year as Seniors, and to the winning of Freshman Glee for the fourth consecutive year.

Sophomore Class History

SEPTEMBER 18, 1933 was a memorable date for the present Sophomore class; it was the day that their history as a class began.

Ribbons and tasseled caps occupied their attention until Homecoming, when sterner thoughts developed. In a body they arose at four o'clock in the morning and raked the leaves from the campus. They completed the week-end in triumph with "The Servant in the House", in which Dorothy Keeton, Sherwood Nicholas, William Miller, Robert Anderson, and Lee Elmaker took part.

In their Sophomore year, with the Homecoming play, "The Perfect Alibi", the class added Martha Warren and Frank Pemberton to the list of their dramatically talented. While in the traditional Freshman-Sophomore bagrush they were victorious by a 17-16 score.

An athletically-minded class, they placed Dwight Aden, Bill McAdam, Don Mills, Don Brandon, Bob Vogt, Darrell Newhouse, Bill Stone, and Charles Versteeg and Bill Sutton on the basketball team. Don Burch, Orville Schwab, Dwight Aden, Don Mills, and Bill Sutton played baseball; Bob Vogt, Harry Mohr, and Ty Gillespie were on the track team; and Harrison Winston and Joe Harvey made the tennis team. The girls were equally active in sports. In their Freshman year, Rachael Yocum and Anna May Unrath made the All-Star basketball team. The next year these two and Lucille Brainard were named All-Stars.

Harold Pruitt, Bill McKinney, and Harrison Winston represented the class in forensics. George McLeod took part in the Peace Oration Contest; Lawrence Morley placed in the After Dinner Speaking Contest; Randall Kester won second place in the Keyes Oratorical Contest.

Musically and poetically the class has decided its talent is simply undiscovered. For two consecutive years they placed fourth in Freshman Glee; but they arose heroically at four o'clock in the morning to practice. And the Glee itself during their Freshman year, with its Medieval theme, was one of the most original in years.

During the first year there were several parties, including the Freshman-Sophomore picnic and an "Olympic" party. As Sophomores, they shared in the Freshman-Sophomore dance, the first of its kind to be given at Willamette, and were hosts to the Freshmen at a Sports party given at the Y. M. C. A.

Shortly before Christmas the class appeared in bright blue Sophomore sweaters with contrasting letters and numerals.

Having succeeded thus far in escaping Cubs' paddles as Freshmen, and in wielding them as Sophomores, the class of '34 is ready to buy its first cords next fall and have a third try at Freshman Glee.

Freshman Class History

AMID splashes of paint, paddles, cardinal and gold ribbons, Frosh caps, and '38 flags waving over Eaton and Waller Halls, the class of '38 made itself known to Willamette.

No time was lost in organizing the class. Sam Hughes was elected president, Ruth Yocum, vice-president, Irma Oehler, secretary, and Charles Neville, treasurer.

True to tradition, the campus was raked by the Frosh boys in the early morning hours of the day set for Homecoming. They were given moral support by the Freshie girls with doughnuts, sandwiches, and hot chocolate.

The class was well represented in the Homecoming play, "The Perfect Alibi," by Margaret Faxon, who carried the lead, Louise McAllister, Edwin Meyers, and Charles Douglass.

The music department also had its quota of Freshmen. The most outstanding of which were Ralph Gustafson, Ina Bennett, Mary Jeannette Sargent, Lois Burton, and Mary Elizabeth Kells.

In forensics Marjorie Biddle, Melva Belle Savage, Lorene Tompkins, and Charles Neville upheld the honor of the class.

Members of the class were prominent in sports. In football the most outstanding were Elliot Becken, and Dick Weisgerber. In basketball Lawrence Nunnenkamp and Bill Beard led the Frosh squad.

The girls also shared the honors in sports. The Girls' All-Star Basketball Team selected Frances Faber and Marguerite DuRette as two members of its first team. Ruth Yocum was chosen as a substitute.

Freshman Glee was a great success not only because it was sponsored by the Freshman Class, but also because it was under the able management of Ralph Gustafson. Although we did not win first place in the Glee, our formation, under the direction of Everett Gary, did not earn us a pre-spring dip.

We issue a warning to other classes. Beware of us, for we promise that we will be one of Willamette's outstanding classes.

RAPID progress toward standardization of the law school has been made in the past two years due to the tireless effort of Dean Roy M. Lockenour. Improvements in the organization of the curriculum and revised methods of instruction also reveal his work. And he is to be highly commended for all that has been accomplished.

WILLAMETTE University College of Law, founded in 1883, is the second oldest law school on the Pacific Coast. Its graduates are holding responsible and influential positions in many different vocations requiring legal training, and are located in all parts of the world. One is a member of congress; another, consul to the Dutch West Indies; a number are supreme, circuit, municipal, or county judges; several are in the federal service at the national capital; many are acting as district or city attorneys; and a large number have positions at the state capital. Others have entered business such as banking, mortgage, and insurance companies. Everywhere they are successful.

Classroom instruction is the very best, since only instructors having long experience in both the teaching and the practice of law are employed. During the past two years a number of courses have been added and the method of instruction changed in others. Emphasis is placed on the so called practical courses such as code pleading, evidence, briefing, examination of abstracts and trial practice. Two years of pre-law are required for admission, with three or more recommended.

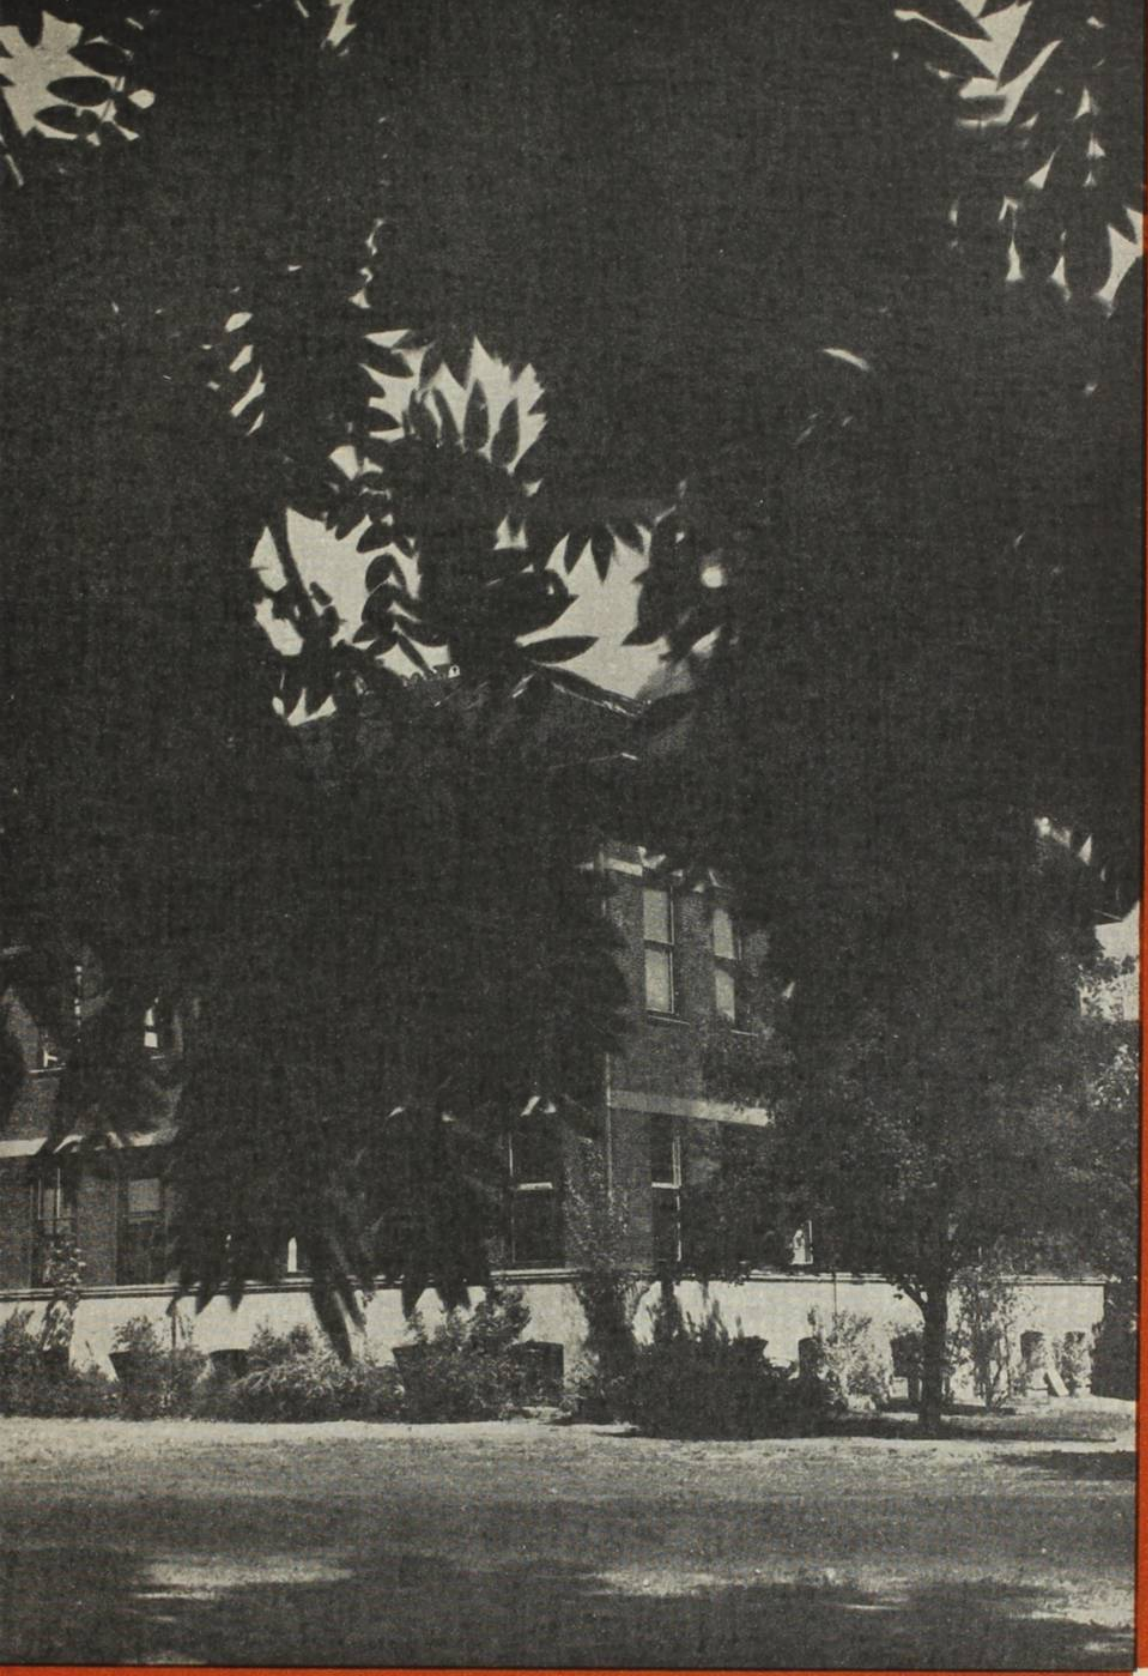

Students have access to the large supreme court library across the street from the school in addition to the university law library. Near at hand are the municipal, justice, county, circuit, and supreme courts, as well as the numerous departments of the state government. Consequently, an unusual opportunity is afforded not only to the study of law, but also to observe its practice and application.

PERSONALITY, service, scholarship, christian ideals—these four qualities determine the selection of girls for Cap and Gown. The Cap and Gown organization, composed of five Senior women, seeks to stress the qualities which will make up the highest type of womanhood on the campus.

This year Cap and Gown which was organized in the spring of 1933 has opened various channels for social development through cooperation with the Y. W. C. A. in presenting faculty teas, through assembling a booklet on campus etiquette to be published early next fall, through honoring the Freshman women who have excelled in scholarship with a dinner, and through furthering the use of Chresto Cottage.

THE Willamette Chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha has annually received official congratulations from national headquarters for its excellent program and for the outstanding success of its members in Pacific Coast Forensics. The organization is purely honorary. The membership is kept small so that election will constitute a real honor for achievement in forensics.

Every year Tau Kappa Alpha sponsors the Keyes Oratorical Contest, in interclass debate competition, and an inter-class extemporaneous contest. This year the fraternity sponsored the Oregon State High School Extemporaneous Speaking contest here at Willamette.

WILLAMETTE is indeed fortunate to have its Law School recognized by the establishment of Delta Theta Phi. The main purpose of this national legal fraternity is the attainment of high scholarship united with the thought of promoting justice and high ideals in the legal profession. Banquets are sponsored at which prominent lawyers and legal authorities add their lectures to the more informal discussions of the students.

MEMBERSHIP of the International Club consists of sixty per cent foreign students and forty per cent American students. The club was organized in 1931 by Mr. and Mrs. William Hall to create a feeling of closer relationship between the foreign and American students. It creates a place for the incoming foreign student in that it gives him a place where he can feel at home on the campus. Intermingling with students of other races teaches him American customs and to use fluent English. The club meets bi-monthly to discuss international relations.

An International Club tea is given each school year to socially acquaint the student body with the club. Each year the members also take a coast trip. The motto of the organization is: "International Good Will."

THE Willamette Wesleyans, which was organized on the campus in 1922, welcomes students interested in Christian life and development. The organization challenges students to round out their college careers by cultivating thought and feeling along religious lines. The Wesleyans aim to foster religious experience and a spirit of Christian fellowship. Modern and campus religious problems are discussed at the meetings and inspiring speakers introduced.

A larger attendance and a more enthusiastic spirit have characterized the weekly meetings this year. The social side has been well taken care of by several successful parties.

LITTLE Theatre Guild was organized on the campus in the fall of 1933 by Professor Rahe with its chief purpose to develop dramatic talent among the students. It gives the student a chance to get additional practice impossible to get in the classroom and affords a training ground for students who want to enter major campus plays but have not the confidence and experience.

Entrance into the society, the requirements of which include ability and interest in acting, costuming, play-writing, make-up, or scenery, is determined by tryouts held each year in the fall.

Working on and presenting different types of plays has been the aim of Little Theatre Guild throughout the year. As a melodrama "Monkey's Paw," a one-act play in three scenes, was presented. A serious effort in characterization was made in the production of a Welch play, "Merry Merry Cuckoo." Much credit for the organization's success can be attributed to Miss Genevieve Thayer who assisted Professor Rahe with pantomining, voice training, and the finer points of acting.

BLUE Key is a National Honor Fraternity of men who have distinguished themselves by worthwhile service to Willamette University. Membership is by invitation extended only to Junior and Senior men.

Since its inauguration Blue Key has taken a leading part in constructively moulding student opinion, and in promoting student activities. As a national organization Blue Key strives to keep students of this university in contact with students of other universities; and as a local organization Blue Key strives to develop student spirit and student interest. The most outstanding event of the year was the Father and Son Banquet attended by over three hundred. It is hoped that this may grow into an annual university "Father's Day" in the near future.

Each Blue Key man upon his initiation pledges himself "to become a worthy citizen, encourage and promote the welfare of the community so as to reflect only credit upon Willamette University."

BECAUSE of the need of an organization on the campus to promote more interest in art, Paint Spots was organized in the spring of 1934. The members of this group are selected more upon their interest in art than upon their ability. A general project is carried out through each semester but the members may also work on something else.

Paint Spots held a studio opening in Chresto to give the faculty and students some idea of the work being done. A similar art exhibit was held in April of the second semester.

SERVICE is the primary purpose of the Cubs organization which is made up of a limited number of Freshman and Sophomore boys.

The Cubs instruct the Freshman class in the proper respect for Willamette's traditions and customs. They are always on the alert to be of aid to the Freshmen who are not as yet aware of all that is expected of them as Willamette students.

This year the Cubs showed their worth as a service organization by very ably handling the crowds at all our home athletic contests. They also contributed their services to taking care of the large crowds at the State Basketball Tournament.

"AN ACTIVITY for every girl or a girl in every activity," is the aim of the Women's Athletic Association. Every girl on the campus who is interested in sports may become a member providing she earns 100 points in any one sport. When 750 points have been earned a red "W" is awarded and when 1500 points are earned in six out of the eight sports a white sweater with a red "W" is awarded.

W. A. A. sponsors girls' athletics, university play nights, and play days for other schools.

WITH the advent this year of the Greater Willamette era, a new and active organization has made its debut upon our campus. This group, known as Campus Vespers, has drawn to its membership students of all church groups who are actively interested in campus religious and social questions. It has sought to present a well rounded program of religious and allied activities in which everyone might participate. It has sponsored weekly discussion groups which have combined the element of worship and the treatment of vital campus problems.

Members of Campus Vespers include the following:

ANY Willamette student who professes an interest in science will be considered eligible for candidacy to membership in the Science Club.

Reorganization of the Science Club took place this year. The club has aimed to arouse interest in the practical nature of science in those on the campus who are primarily interested in the natural laws which govern the universe, to promote individual research, to acquaint the membership with new phases of theoretical and applied science, and to secure contact with technical and industrial experts outside of the university.

During the year the club had the good fortune to secure Mr. Wiggin, of the Ballistics Department of the State of Oregon, as a speaker for one of their monthly meetings.

TO GIVE students that are interested an opportunity to enjoy and broaden their appreciation of the works of Shakespeare and other great authors the Shakespeare Club was reorganized this year. During the second semester modern contemporary authors were studied at the bi-monthly Sunday afternoon meetings. Reports of the music, life, and customs were made by the members at these meetings to help them receive the most from his readings.

STUDENTS taking the classics are eligible to membership in the Classical Club. The purpose of this society is to further interest in and appreciation of the Greeks and Romans and their languages. Bi-monthly meetings are held with Mrs. Ellis as the faculty advisor.

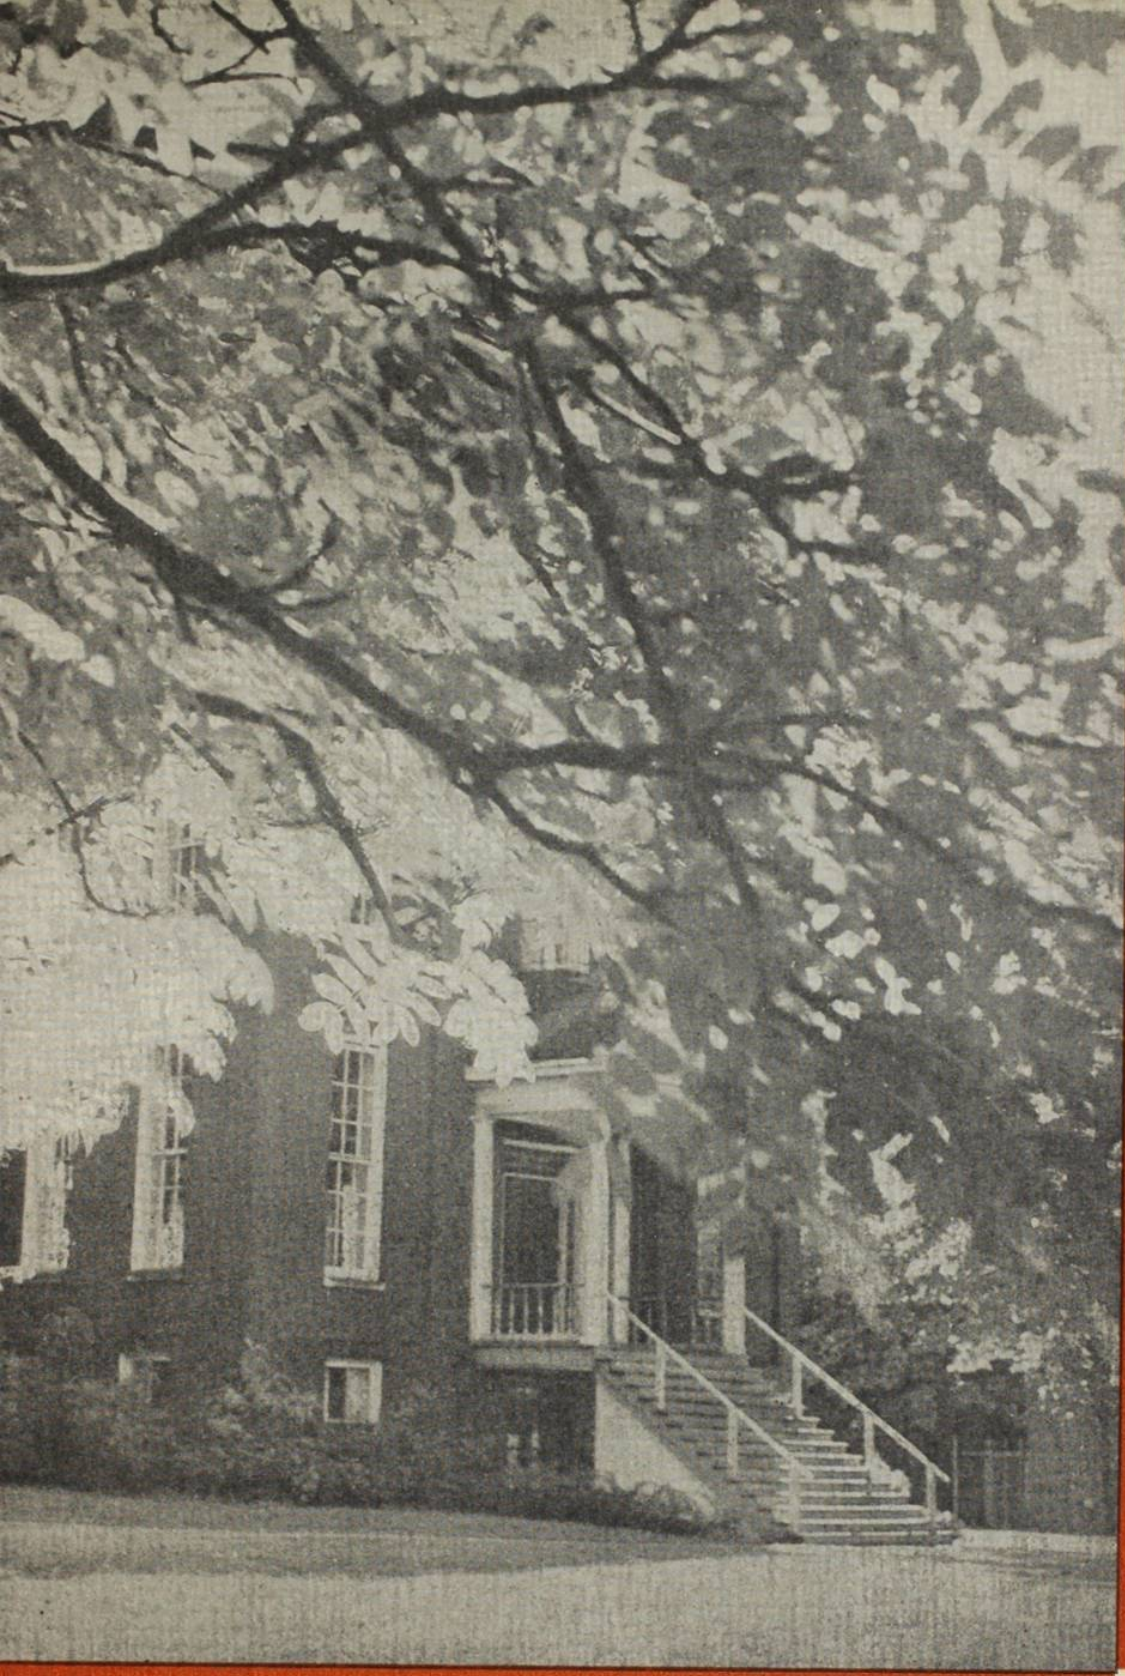

French Club

NO ENGLISH is spoken at the French Club meetings as the purpose of the organization is to aid pupils to become fluent and precise in their use of the French language. At the meetings French games are played, riddles and axioms are presented interesting manners, and progressive stories with amusing and startling details are told in French.

The club has no definite membership, but is open to all those who feel interested enough to attend. This year the meetings have been very efficiently conducted under the leader-

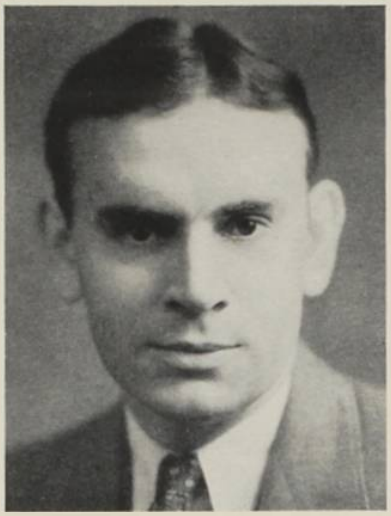

ACTIVITIES

Forensics

WILLAMETTE'S 1935 debate and public speaking season, under the direction of Professor Herbert Rahe, has proved the most successful in the history of the school, with a Midwest Debate Tour, championship of the Linfield Tournament, and a succession of first and second places in oratory and extemporaneous speaking as highlights of the season.

PROF. HERBERT E. RAHE

In the Intercollegiate Forensic Association of Oregon contests, Laurence Morley placed third in the After Dinner Speaking group. Talbot Bennett won second place in the Extemporaneous contest, a division in which Willamette in the past six years has had three first and three second places. George McLeod won first place in Old Line Oratory for men, and Constance Smart first place for women. In the Pacific Forensic League's contests at Whitman, George McLeod tied for second place in Oratory; William Mosher took third place in After Dinner Speaking; and John Rudin placed second in Extemporaneous Speaking. In the Linfield Tournament, Constance Smart placed first in Women's Oratory; George McLeod tied for third place, in a field of twenty contestants, in Men's Oratory; in Extemporaneous Speaking, Willamette, with four contestants entered out of a total of twenty-eight, won first and second places, and tied for third; altogether, the Willamette group came home with three of the six trophies given in the tournament.

With this enviable record behind him, Professor Rahe plans for a still more ambitious future. He expects the 1936 Men's Debate team to participate in the Pacific Forensic League convention at U. C. L. A. At the same date he hopes the newly-organized Women's Debate team will either make a Northern trip or go to Los Angeles also. With the organization of a Freshman debate squad already accomplished, a trip is planned for them as well; and the State High School Extemporaneous and Interpretation Contests are expected to be continued and developed.

Debate

THE most important event of the men's debate season was the 7,500 mile midwest trip taken by Garfield Barnett and William Mosher throughout March. Altogether, they participated in twenty-two debates, of which five—one each with Tulane and Chicago, and three with Utah—were non-decision. They won contests with these schools: Gustavus Adolphus, Albion, Augustana, Coe (three debates), Louisiana State, Southern Methodist, Denver University, Illinois Wesleyan, Northwest Nazarene, College of Idaho, and Cornell; thirteen, in all. They lost but four of the twenty-two, to Southern Methodist, University of Iowa, Westminster, and Brigham Young. This is the last year for both men, and each has had a most successful career. Mosher has participated in seventy-four debates, with forty-seven wins, sixteen losses, and eleven non-decision contests. Barnett has debated eighty-one times with fifty wins, twenty-one losses, and ten non-decisions.

The other debate groups have done nearly as well. In the I .F. A. O. contests, the men won seven out of eight debates, the women two out of six. While they won only one of the four Pacific Forensic League contests, they won nine out of the ten Linfield Tournament debates, with special honors to Randall Kester and Laurance Morley. Six men's teams and three women's teams, one of which, composed of Lorene Tompkins and Marjorie Thorne, won four of its six debates, when entered in the tournament.

Other debates were also held with Gonzaga, University of Washington, Brigham Young, and Lewiston State Normal—seven debates in all, of which three were won and the other four non-decision.

EVERYTHING goes, when the faculty stages a play; and "So This Is London," put on early in January by Willamette's most dignified pedagogs, was surely no exception. From Professor Jones' maltreated cigar (we suspect it was rubber), to Professor Rahe's British accent, the entire play was a revelation of things we never knew our faculty had. Other high spots of characterization, such as Professor Oliver and Dr. Gatke as the two butlers of the story, helped to put the audience regularly in a state of near-hysteria.

The play, which was the first faculty performance since "The Thirteenth Chair," of several years ago, was staged for the benefit of the student loan fund. Nearly three hundred dollars was cleared for this purpose. Not only the cast, but also the entire managerial staff, was made up of the faculty or their wives; and most of the Christmas vacation was spent in more or less humorous rehearsals.

Miss Leila Johnson of the high school directed the play, and Professor Jones was its business manager.

Music

PROFESSOR Cameron Marshall, with his annual Valentine's Day Bouquets, colorful operas, numerous radio broadcasts, and dryly humorous encouragement to budding musicians, is fast becoming a Willamette tradition; in spite of the fact that all these things have been developed by him since 1930, his first year on the campus. "Go see Prof" is the answer to any questions asked about the music department; and however he answers it, you'll find you've enjoyed the interview.

PROF. CAMERON MARSHALL

In conjunction with the present policy of Willamette expansion, Professor Marshall has been working for several years toward standardization of the music school. This would mean that Willamette, after making any changes necessary to enable it to join the National Association of Music Schools, would become a member of that organization and thus automatically be eligible to give the Bachelor of Music degree. At present nearly all Willamette's music courses conform to the association's requirements.

Music students at present may have only either a music diploma or graduate with a B.A. degree. In the past three years, however, courses have been raised to such a degree that they either equal or excel the association's requirements. With the awarding of a B.M. degree, the school of music will gain real recognition for its merit.

One of the most active of Willamette organizations is the mixed quartet, which averages several appearances each week. Composed of Kathryn Smullin, soprano; Harriet Adams, contralto; Earle Potter, tenor; Richard Smart, bass; and Clara Wright, accompanist, the group has been this year Willamette's official representative among the Oregon high schools. The first Sunday of each month they have sung over KEX, and have appeared also over KOAC, at the Boys' Glee Club concert, and on numerous other occasions in Salem and surrounding towns.

Probably the most widely enjoyed concert of the year was the "Plumber's Opera," which the quartet, assisted by Burtis Preston, staged early in March. Other features of the same evening were a concert given by the Boys' Glee Club and a love song contest.

Treble Clef Club

THE Treble Clef Club was organized separately this year from the Boys' Glee Club, in order that the two might take the place of the former Philharmonic Choir. Its purpose, to encourage the development of ensemble and choral work among the women of Willamette, has been appreciably furthered this year. Meeting twice a week under Professor Marshall's direction, the club has experimented with various types of choral pieces as well as studying general voice work.

Boys' Glee Club

THE Boys' Glee Club has been an important reason for Willamette's prominence in music this year. Concerts have been given by them not only in Salem, but throughout Oregon and Washington. Their first concert, with Eleanor Moore, soprano, and Dalbert Jepsen, violinist, as soloists, was given shortly before Christmas. Late in March they sang a program at the Centenary-Wilbur Methodist Church in Portland. The climax of the year came early in May when they toured Washington, singing at Seattle, Renton, Tacoma, Centralia, Kelso, St. Helens, and several other cities en route. Helen Benner, contralto, and Hume Downs, violinist, were soloists on this trip.

WILLAMETTE'S band, reorganized this year under the direction of Alexander Melovidoff, has well prved its value as a means of furthering school spirit. It has played at all home games and also accompanied the football team on its trips to Portland and Linfield. Several performances were given on Sweetland field between football halves, with Dorothy Dingle as drum major.

In addition to playing at games, the band has given a number of concerts. Early in January the midwinter concert was presented at Waller Hall, and other appearances have been made during Music Week and at the Odd Fellows Lodge May 20. A full evening concert was given early in April at Lyle, Washington. The band thus well takes the place of a university orchestra, giving an opportunity for musical training to Willamette students, as well as helping materially to develop school spirit.

The director, Alexander Melovidoff, is new to Willamette this year, but has behind him a varied career of musical experience. Beginning in 1917, he played with a Chautauqua tour and in the United States Navy Band under John Philip Sousa; taught violin and saxophone in California and Lawrence, Kansas; was soloist at the Hollywood Bowl and concert master for several California theater orchestras; and became in 1931 orchestral instructor at the Chemawa Indian School.

Dr. Guy Woods

Alumni

PROBABLY the most foremost reason for Willamette's getting the kind of students it wants and progressing so well in its policy of expansion is the continued effort of the alumni to interest promising students in the university. There are alumni organizations in New York, Los Angeles, Berkeley, and Portland, as well as a state Willamette Alumni Association which has been particularly active. Moreever, there are informal groups of Willamette graduates active in Southern Oregon and in Chicago, where a dinner in honor of Dr. Baxter on his recent visit there was given.

Homecoming and Freshman Glee are the two occasions when the alumni make a particular effort to return to the campus. This year a dinner was given Homecoming evening, and in informal get-together was held after Freshman Glee.

Officers of the state Alumni Association are Dr. Guy Woods, '11, president; Hugh McGilvra, '28, first vice-president; Lois Wilkes, '33, second vice-president; Rev. Ross Anderson, '26, third vice-president; Fay Sparks, '25, secretary-treasurer; Grace Elizabeth Smith, '17, Clarence Emmons, '31, Mary Findley Lockenour, '20, members of the executive committee.

Collegian Editor

DAVID JOHNSON

"EDITOR JOHNSON" has brought this year to the Collegian a definite personality—that of a true newspaper head. Throughout the year, his policy has been to reflect accurately the activities and best thought of Willamette students; and through his editorials to support or constructively criticize campus activities without fear or partizanship. Largely through his efforts, this year's Collegian has been not only a record of events, but also a dominant factor in campus life. No current issues were ignored or half-supported; if they were to benefit Willamette, the Collegian worked wholeheartedly for them, and the editor was the strength behind that support.

Time passes, and opinions change. But of one thing we are certain: the 1934-1935 Collegian will stand out from the years before and after it as the best work of a real newspaper man.

Collegian Manager

GEORGE SELF

BEING Collegian manager is no sinecure, as ad-getters from the very first paper to the present manager will readily testify. It involves not only coaxing ads and then more ads from Salem business men who want to know just why they are spending their money, but also the supervision of a budget reaching into the thousands of dollars each year.

Even dutiful staffs grow tired of always asking for money, and therein is the point where the manager's personality comes into play. Fortunately for this year's Collegian, George Self is the type who doesn't know how to take "No" for an answer. Knowing that without his ads the Collegian can never go to press, George simply doesn't expect his staff to come back on Monday afternoons until their full quota has been reached.

A Collegian manager must be a combination of persuasive salesman and expert accountant; and on his financial ability depends much of the paper's actual being. The 1934-1935 Collegian will be remembered as a paper whose manager made it, in spite of a curtailed income, a real financial success.

Collegian Staff

ACTIVITY. That's the keynote of the Statesman office when the Collegian's making ready to go to press. And that frenzied, last minute activity results in a paper that's entirely up to the minute, furnishing whenever possible, Willamette news to Willamette students very soon after its happening. Furthermore, with the addition this year of the United Press bulletins and pictures, the Collegian gives national news as well.

Maintaining only a small regular staff, it welcomes student contributions and letters of opinion whenever they have a bearing on current affairs. It intends to be actually as well as nominally the official publication of Willamette. Not only do present Willamette students read it, but membership in the Alumni Association carries with it a subscription to the Collegian; thus graduates remain in touch with current activities on the campus. With only minor changes, its policies have remained much the same since its beginning in 1889. And with another year behind it, the Collegian maintains its record as the mirror of Willamette life.

Wallulah Editorial

ESTHER BLACK

NEWSPAPERS are at best only temporary records; and Willamette with its overflowing calendar of memorable events, needs a more durable, more lasting aid to memory. With its many pictures and few, brief explanatory notes, the 1935 Wallulah is an effort to fill this need. Not merely a list of events, for that would be only a duplication; but rather, a stimulus to the memory which, once awakened, will bring back more fully those happenings throughout the years.

To be successful, each Wallulah must make its appeal to every student; for at its best, it is a different book for every person by whom it is read.

To combine these different viewpoints into one representative of the whole of Willamette has been the editor's task; to fulfill it to the satisfaction of each individual, the endeavor of the staff.

Wallulah Managerial

EARL POTTER

THE WORK of the managerial staff of the yearbook is primarily concerned with changing potentialities into actual forces. Upon it rests the responsibility of making the book financially a success. To it is given the control of student yearbook moneys in the expectation that they will be expended with foresight and economy. With it the editorial staff cooperates in order that each plan may reach its highest state of perfection.

In handling the business of the annual a great responsibility is evident in the influence of each manager and his staff upon the future policies of yearbook management.

The managerial staff of the 1935 Wallulah has cooperated in every way to produce a distinctive book with these facts in mind.

Still further recognition should be given this group for its proficient eforts under the present economic difficulties.

Handbook Editor

DORIS UNRUH, editor of the 1934 edition of the "Rook Bible" is to be congratulated. By consistently thoughtful work she produced a handbook helpful to Freshmen.

Messages of welcome to our campus, useful information such as a social calendar, school songs, traditions, organizations and their officers, and rushing rules are included in this index to Willamette school life.

The handbook is presented to the Freshman at the beginning of the school year. He is expected to carry it with him at all times, and to conduct himself according to the high ideals of the University described within.

TREES

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the sweet earth's flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

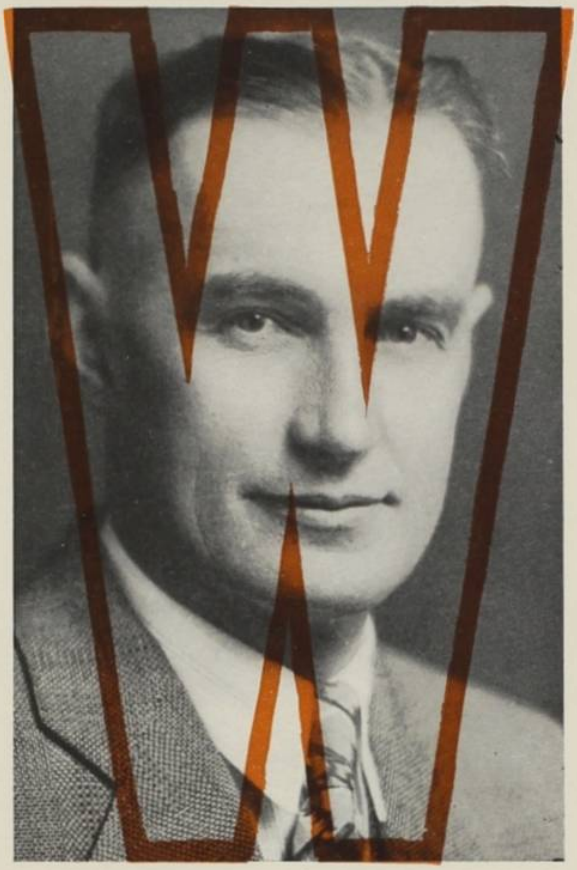

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

—Joyce Kilmer.

ATHLETICS

GIVEN a squad of 22 lettermen and a fighting bunch of Freshmen, Spec Keene moulded a football team that was the greatest ever assembled at Willamette in the history of the Northwest Conference. Faced with a tough schedule that placed them against the Oregon State Ironmen and an invasion into California, the team went through the season with only one defeat and that to Oregon State; although Willamette looked better in defeat than Oregon State did in victory. They climaxed the season by topping the Northwest Conference.

Not only did the 1934 team glory as a unit but also as individual stars. Three players gained national recognition: Captain Loren Grannis was chosen on the Little All-American first team; John Oravec led the nation in the matter of touchdowns and was second to Shephard of Western Maryland for high scoring of the nation. Dick Wiesgerber led the nation in conversion of field goals. The 1934 All-conference team found seven Bearcats upon its roster: Versteeg, Balkovic, Hoyt, Grannis, Wiesser, Oravec and Wiesgerber.

Led by the dashing Oravec, Willamette pounded up and down the field to score five touchdowns and make four conversions for a humiliating 34 to 0 victory over the Pacific University Badgers. The Willamette line functioning with exacting precision opened large holes for the backs to run through. This was the largest score made since 1913 against Pacific. Willamette rolled up a total of 334 yards and 16 first downs.

By virtue of Weisgerber's two successful tries for points after the scoring of two touchdowns in the first half, Willamette beat the tricky Wolves from Oregon Normal School. Willamette's line showed vast superiority in play throughout the first half but fell victims to a fast passing attack of the visitors in the second period. They were held to a 14 to 12 score.

Coach Maple and Capt. Grannis Talk it Over

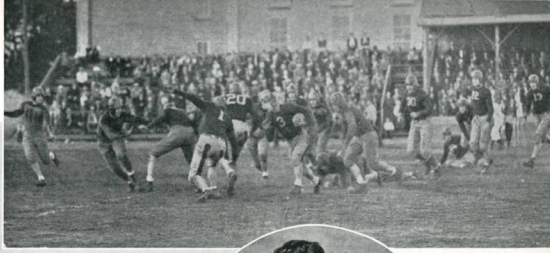

Playing in a field that was a sea of mud, the second conference game of the season resulted in a route for the previous highly touted Linfield squad. Five times the Bearcats crossed the goal line, and twice did Weisgerber convert, scoring 32 points to Linfield's 6.

Taking advantage of two very decided breaks the Oregon State "Ironmen" were able to score twice on the Willamette Bearcats in the first game of the season for both teams. The Bearcats held the Ironmen to even terms throughout the last half, submitting to a 14-0 defeat.

In the first invasion of California soil since 1905, the Willamette squad beat down a strong San Jose state football team. Willamette had the better of the game from every standpoint. It was again the story of Oravec and Weisgerber leading the attack and piling up much yardage by virtue of long runs. San Jose had previously beaten Nevada which had defeated the St. Mary's Gaels.

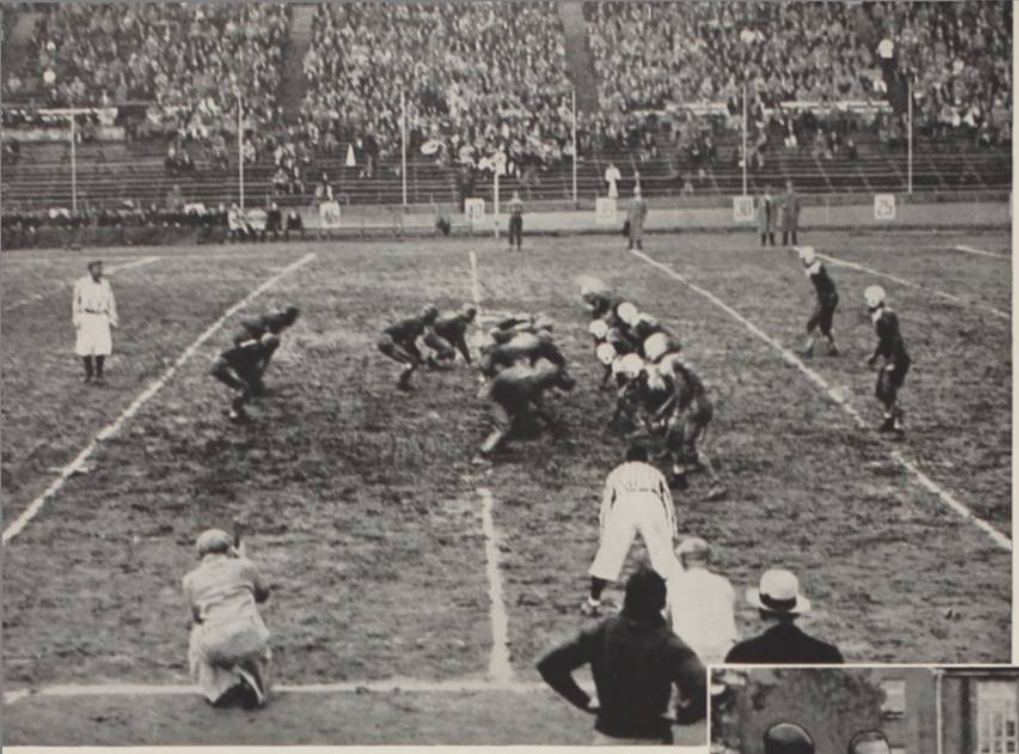

Delivering the most crushing defeat any Northwest conference team has received at the hands of another, the Willamette Bearcats closed their season with a 75 to 0 massacre of the once dominant Missionaries from Whitman college. Every combination tried by Keene produced touchdowns. Oravec led the parade with a total of 42 points to boost his season total to 120 and a tie with the nation's leading scorer.

Coming out of the north with the full intentions of repeating their 6 to 0 defeat of the previous year, the Loggers of Puget Sound were soundly trounced by a highly geared Willamette squad to the tune of 27 to 0. Led by the Touchdown Twins, Oravec and Weisgerber, the Bearcats steamrolled the Loggers, leaving no doubt as to the superiority of the two teams.

The Driving Rods

Stopped by a gluey gridiron, the Bearcats eked out a 6 to 0 victory over the Columbia Cliffdwellers in a non-conference game at the Multnomah stadium. The work of Stone who replaced Weisgerber was the bright spot of an otherwise drab game. This defeat avenged a 13 to 0 licking dealt by the Cliffdwellers the previous year.

With Oravec scoring four touchdowns and Weisgerber converting after each one, the Bearcats scored an easy victory over the Albany Pirates in their first conference game of the season.

BASKETBALL

WHILE the basketball season was not too successful as games won and lost go, it proved to be one in which members of the squad gave their best in every game. The scores indicate the closeness of the games throughout the season. Willamette scored 629 points to their opponents 759. Willamette won six while losing 17. At the start of the season only four lettermen answered Coach Keene's call for the squad. One of these, Jim Burdette, was ruled ineligible, which weakened the team considerably as he had been an All-conference forward last year. With the three remaining men, Manning, Lemmon and Frantz to form the nucleus of a team, Spec filled in with members from the freshman team of the previous year.

Oregon defeated Willamette in both games by narrow margins. Oregon State took two from the Bearcats by five and three points respectively. This was deemed an impressive showing as the Staters went on to win the Northern Division of the Pacific coast conference

Willamette dropped three games to the highly touted Southern Oregon Normal team. Willamette won one out of three games with the Union Oil team of Portland. The Bearcats defeated the University of Portland in two games. Oregon Normal took two from Keene's proteges.

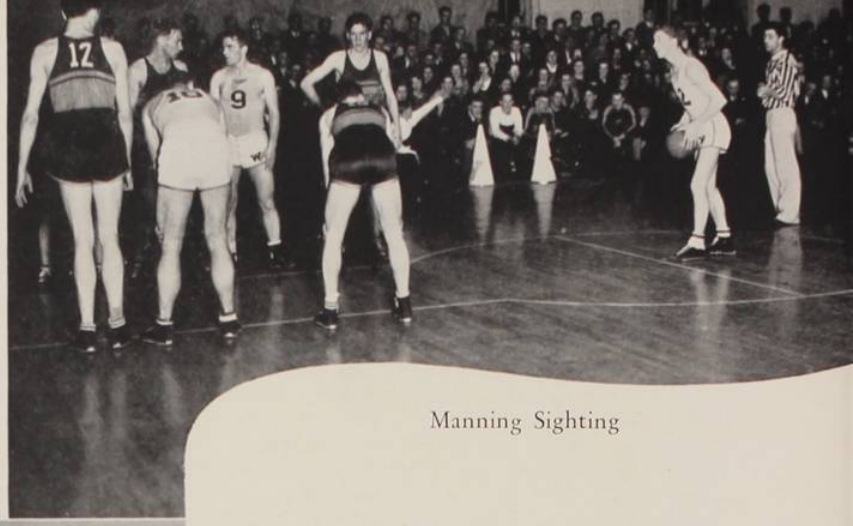

In the conference games, Willamette won four and lost five. Pacific U. won two close games by the scores of 17 to 16 and 33 to 26. Willamette defeated C. P. S. 24 to 22 but lost the first game 33 to 26. The Bearcats won both of the games from the Albany Pirates and one game from the touring College of Idaho team. Whitman, the conference champions, closed the mediocre season by winning two hard-fought games from the Keene men by the scores of 26 to 25 and 29 to 28. These games were two of the best ever staged on the Willamette floor from the spectator's viewpoint.

The members of the team to win letters this year were Ed Frantz, Kenneth Manning, George Erickson, Manville Petteys, Bill Lemmon, Harry Mosher, Don Brandon, Charles Versteeg and Al Pietila, manager.

Only three men are lost by graduation, Ed Frantz, guard, Manville Petteys, center, and Bill Lemmon, forward. Besides the returning lettermen there will be many likely prospects from the Freshman squad fighting for positions on next year's varsity.

Ed Frantz was the outstanding man of the season and the spark plug of the entire team. His defensive work at guard was of the highest calibre, while he led his team in scoring for the season. He was rightly recognized when he was placed on the All-Conference team.

Astoria State Champions

JOHN WARREN'S fighting Fishermen from Astoria again carried off the State High School basketball championship at the State tournament held in the Willamette gymnasium. Astoria was winner of the cup the previous year and heavy favorites to repeat this year. They fully fulfilled all expectations by giving Warren his last championship. He goes to Oregon U. this coming year.

Besides winning the championship, Astoria placed the same two men on the All-State team as they had the year before. Ted Sarpola, forward, and Bob Anet at guard. Hank Nielson was adjudged the best sport of the tournament.

Their was an abundance of good players in the tournament. The All-State team named was: Sarpola, Astoria, and Hergert, Jefferson, forwards; Gale, Oak Ridge, center; Fisher, Oak Ridge, and Anet, Astoria, guards.

The second team was: Sandoz, Corvallis, Mabee, McMinnville, forwards; Hardy, Ashland, center; Burns, Benson, guard.

O'Donnel of Columbia Prep was chosen as the most valuable man to his team.

BASEBALL

FOLLOWING spring vacation Coach Keene issued his call for baseball. The squad that turned out gave every promise of becoming a championship team. Many Freshmen turned out along with the lettermen of the previous year. Bill Beard ably filled the place left vacant at third by the graduation of Gribble. Harriman, at short, proved to be a sensation, while second base was taken care of by John Oravec, and Manning continued to play a bang-up game at first. In the outer garden Aden, a heavy hitter from the previous year, was the only letterman. He was supported by Heuman and Weisgerber. Mills, a catcher in '34 retained his position behind the plate.

The pitching staff contained the able Don Burch as the mainstay. He was supported by Erickson, Tweed and McCann, a catcher, whom Keene converted into a twirler.

The Bearcats played an early game with the Oregon penitentiary gang, emerging with a hard-earned victory.

Opening the Oregon series with a special ceremony honoring Bill Rhinehart, the Oregon coach, Willamette was defeated 7 to 5 in a ten-inning game. The following day they journeyed to Eugene to avenge the defeat with a 9 to 5 score. Tweed pitched a great game and was aided by Erickson's home run.

BASEBALL

Willamette won both games of the Oregon State series to keep intact a record of victories over the staters. They defeated the Beavers 9 to 7 and 10 to 3; Don Burch pitched both games.

McCann, hurling his first game for Willamette, won over the Oregon Normal Teachers in an exciting game by the score of 4 to 3. Aden's homer with two men on was the deciding factor.

The University of Portland, with a string of victories over many Northwest teams, was defeated in an 11-inning game. Harriman broke up the game in the 11th with a single, scoring Manning. Burch again turned in a fine game on the mound.

Pacific, champions of the previous year, were beaten in both games. Burch held the visitors in check while his mates piled up a substantial lead in the first game. The final score was 10 to 3. A week later at Forest Grove, Burch again choked off the Badgers while the team went on a batting spree to pile up a 16 to 6 score.

As this book goes to press, two important series still remain to be played. The team winning both games when C. P. S. and Willamette meet, will automatically become the Western Conference champions and will go to Walla Walla to play against Whitman, the Eastern Conference champions, for the Northwest Conference title. The C. P. S. encounter will feature two of the strongest teams in the northwest with Puget Sound sporting victories over Washington State, Washington, and Whitman, while Willamette has a victory over Oregon and a double victory over Oregon State, who at this time is leading the northern division of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Conference.

The game against Portland University on May 20 will feature Bill Hatch, a St. Louis major league prospect, as pitcher against the slugging Bearcats. In a previous encounter, Willamette defeated Portland with Hatch pitching, 6 to 5, in eleven innings.

Oravec Rounds Third

Coache Keene and the Willamette baseball fans are looking forward to another great team next year. Only two players will be lost through graduation, Pete McCann and Ed Tweed, both reserve pitchers for this year's squad. Three juniors to return are Don Burch, pitcher; Kenneth Manning, first base, and John Oravec, second base.

Beard Safe at Third

"Doc" Baxter Looks On

The sophomores returning for two more years of competition are Don Mills, catcher; Bill Sutton, utility infielder, and Dwight Aden, center fielder. Four Freshman stars return: Vincent Harriman, shortstop; Dick Weisgerber, left field; Bill Beard, third base, and Al Heumann, right field.

With these prospects in view, together with this year's outstanding record, Willamette should again have a championship team.

TRACK

COACH LESTLE SPARKS, genial graduate manager, coached the Willamette track squad during the 1935 season. Ten lettermen; namely, Dean, Brown, Barnett, Vagt, Cannady, Connors, Crossland, Gillespie, Carpenter and Waltz comprised the nucleus of the squad. Felker, a point winner for two years, was also available.

An early season Interclass meet was won by the Sophomores who presented a strong running array. The Freshmen, trailing by nine points, were a close second. The Seniors, twice winners, finished in third position. Vagt, sophomore weight man and jumper, was high point man for the afternoon with 12 points. Others who showed well were McDonald, freshman; Aden, sophomore; Tipton, junior, and Chapin, senior.

The Bearcat varsity runners opened their season's competition, racing to a 79 to 47 victory over the Salem Y. M. C. A. aggregation. Cannady, Gillespie and Captain Ross Brown starred in this event.

Over With Inches to Spare

The Bearcats swept the weights against Oregon Normal, but were outscored by the Teachers who scintillated in the sprinting and hurdling races. The final tally favored the Monmouth athletes 73½ to 57½.

Tuttle Trying for Points

Competing in a four-way meet at Corvallis on May 10 against Oregon State, the Oregon State Rooks, and Pacific, Willamette slumped to a fourth place, gaining only eight points. McAdam placed second in the shotput with Brown third in the mile.

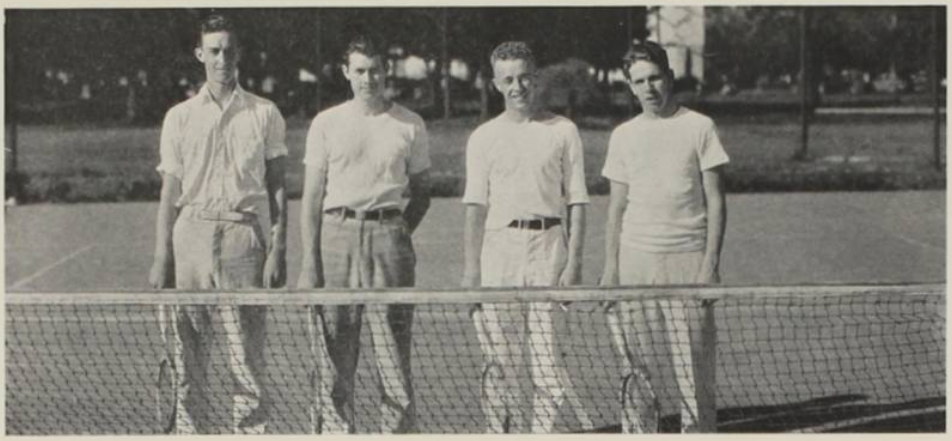

You Do It This Way, Lads

On Your Marks

As the Wallulah goes to press the cardinal cinder men are preparing for a five-way meet May 24 to be held in Forest Grove. The teams entered are Willamette, Pacific, Linfield, Albany, and Puget Sound. On May 30th Coach Sparks will accompany ten men to the Northwest Conference meet at Walla Walla on the Whitman oval.

WINSTON, BRAINARD, BENNETT, HARVEY

Men's Tennis

THE Bearcat netmen, under the direction of Coach Sparks, have made great progress in the tennis realms this year. The team has been built around the Northwest Conference Singles champion, Talbot Bennett who annexed this crown in 1934. He has upheld his honors during the present season, winning every match, and is a heavy favorite to again be crowned "champ" in the Conference tournament to be played in Portland on the 25th of May.

Harrison Winston, Joe Harvey, Wendell Brainard and Bill Stone complete the five man team. Bennett and Winston pair together to make one of the strongest doubles team in this conference.

The team opened the season this year against Oregon State, losing 5-2 matches. Other losses were dealt by Linfield 4-3 and Reed 4-3 matches.

Two of the finest intercollegiate teams in Oregon met when the Bearcat netmen were defeated by the University of Portland 7-5 matches. The highlight of the day was the defeat of Paul McBride, high ranking player in the Northwest, by Bennett 6-2, 6-3. In the doubles, Bennett paired with Winston, slammed out a 6-4, 6-3 victory over McBride and Walker.

Willamette has defeated C. P. S. 5-2, Pacific 7-0, and Oregon Normal 4-3 and 7-0. To date they have won four matches and lost five.

Prospects are exceedingly bright for next year with only one man lost through graduation, Wendell Brainard, No. 4 man.

MISS CURREY

UNDER the capable leadership of Miss Currey, a department steadily increasing in proficiency and value is the Willamette department of women's athletics. The prime objective of the classes is to offer activities in which every girl on the campus may participate. The girl with little experience is encouraged, as well as those girls who have had previous training.

W. A. A.

ON A campus the size of ours, the W. A. A. is afforded the opportunity of functioning in spirit with the ideal of the ancient Olympics, namely, "all sports for all." Every girl is given an equal opportunity to participate as a member of the various teams, and these teams are balanced in such a way that more or less of an equilibrium in ability is maintained. The 1934-35 W. A. A. executive board was composed of the officers and managers of the various sports.

Soccer

PRACTICES for the first major sport of the year, soccer, were held in the fall; the tournament game being played off the first of May. Although the final game ended with a 0 to 0 score, both teams displayed better cooperation and more skill than in previous years.

Basketball

THE basketball tournament took the form of a round robin series, and after the play-off an all-star team was chosen by a designated committee.

Forwards—FRANCES FABER, RACHEL YOCOM
Guards—ESTHER BLACK, LUCILLE BRAINARD
Jump Center—MARGUERITE DuRETTE
Side Center—ANNA MAE UNRATH
Substitute Forward—RUTH YOCOM

Volleyball

THIS year showed a decided increase in interest in volleyball. The all-star team chosen in this sport was:

LUCILLE BRAINARD
ESTHER BLACK
FRANCES FABER
CAROL GARDNER
ROSEMARY HUFFMAN
IRMA OEHLER
ANNA MAY UNRATH
MARTHA WARREN

Baseball

BASEBALL commanded the usual attention and an extraordinary amount of chatter lent the enthusiasm necessary for the success of softball games. Those reporting for practice were: Jo Anderson, Esther Black, Lunelle Chapin, Ruth Cramer, Florence DuRette, Marguerite DuRette, Frances Faber, Carol Garnder, Winifred Gardner, Sydney Hannafore, Rosemary Huffman, Dorthy McDonald, Lillian Potter, Irma Oehler, Jessie Pyron Lorene Tompkins, Lois Underwood, Anna May Unrath, Martha Warren, Seiko Watanabe, Ruth Yocom, and Rachel Yocom.

Hiking

UNDER leadership, hikes ranging from 1 to 15 miles in length were held weekly. Credit is given for only 200 miles during one's college career, one mile being awarded for each mile. Girls hiking were: Esther Black, Frances Faber, Carol Gardner, Winifred Gardner, Irma Oehler and Anna May Unrath.

ALL-STAR BASKETBALL SQUAD

Middle row: RUTH YOCOM, ESTHER BLACK, LUCILLE BRAINARD
Bottom row: FRANCES FABER, ANNA MAE UNRATH

Tennis

ONE OF the largest ladder tournaments in years characterized the contest for this year's varsity tennis team. Rachel Yocom was No. 1 ranking player, Isabel Morehouse, No. 2, Wilma Patheal, No. 3, Lillian Potter, No. 4, and Wanda Landon, No. 5. Twelve hours practice was required, as well as participation in a tournament to win the 100 points in intramural competition.

Archery

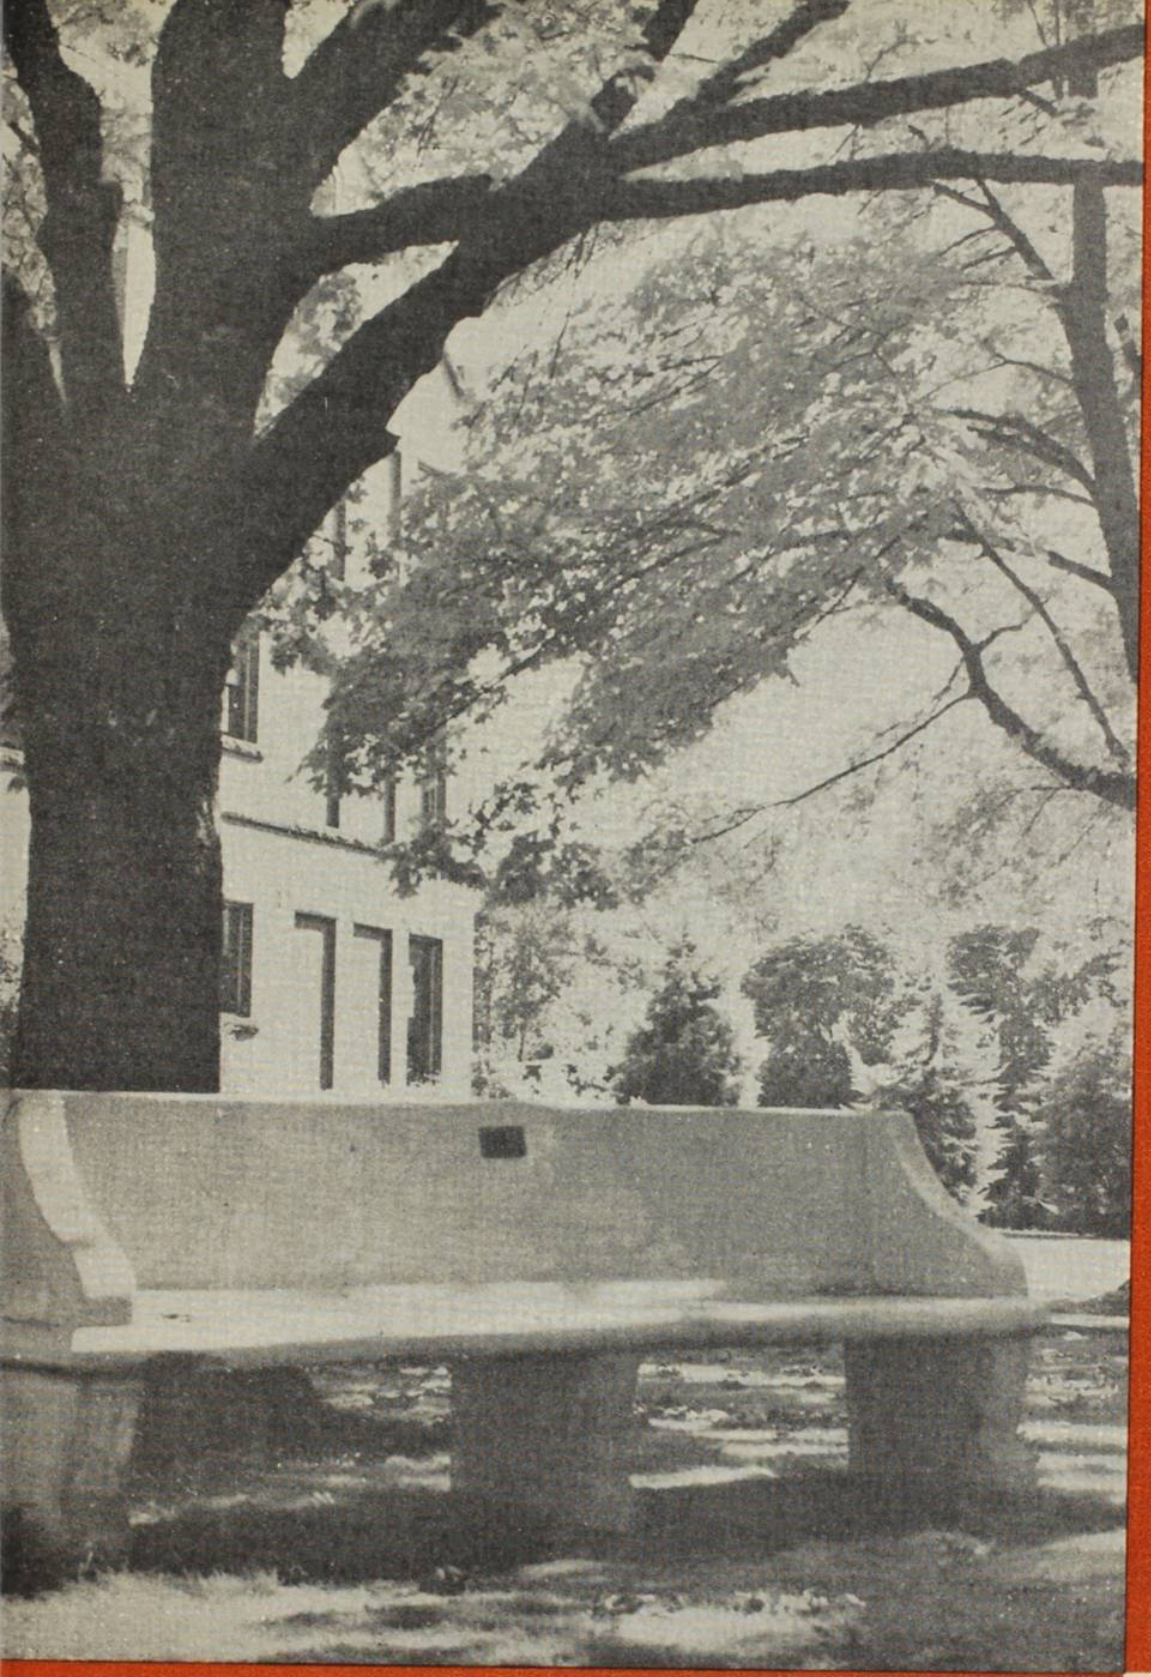

JO ANDERSON managed the two archery seasons. The first group shooting in the fall, arched inside; while those participating did their shooting on the girls' outside range. Girls earning 100 points in this sport were: W. Putnam, F. Faber, F. DuRette, M. DuRette, E. Black, A. Thompson, R. Huffman, L. McDonald, J. Anderson, R. Cramer, C. Gardner and L. Tomkins.

Swimming

THIS was the first year that organized swimming has been undertaken, in view of its initial success it is hoped that a precedent has been established. Fifteen girls participated in the tournament which included free style, crawl, back stroke, side stroke, relay and surface dives.

TRADITIONS

HOMECOMING . . .

A cross section of Willamette . . . the often tread step of the Old Historic Temple . . . red paint on the honored senior bench . . . Freshman initiation and Homecoming. These are traditions — the Willamette that will always live.

FRESHMAN GLEE . . .

Professor Matthews, a tradi ion himself, announces the winners—Class of '36, the losers, Class of '37. To the winners, for the third time, the prized cardinal and gold banner—for the Sophomores, the parody, "the Sophomores regret they did not win the Glee," and their second dip in the icy Millstream amid rain and snow!

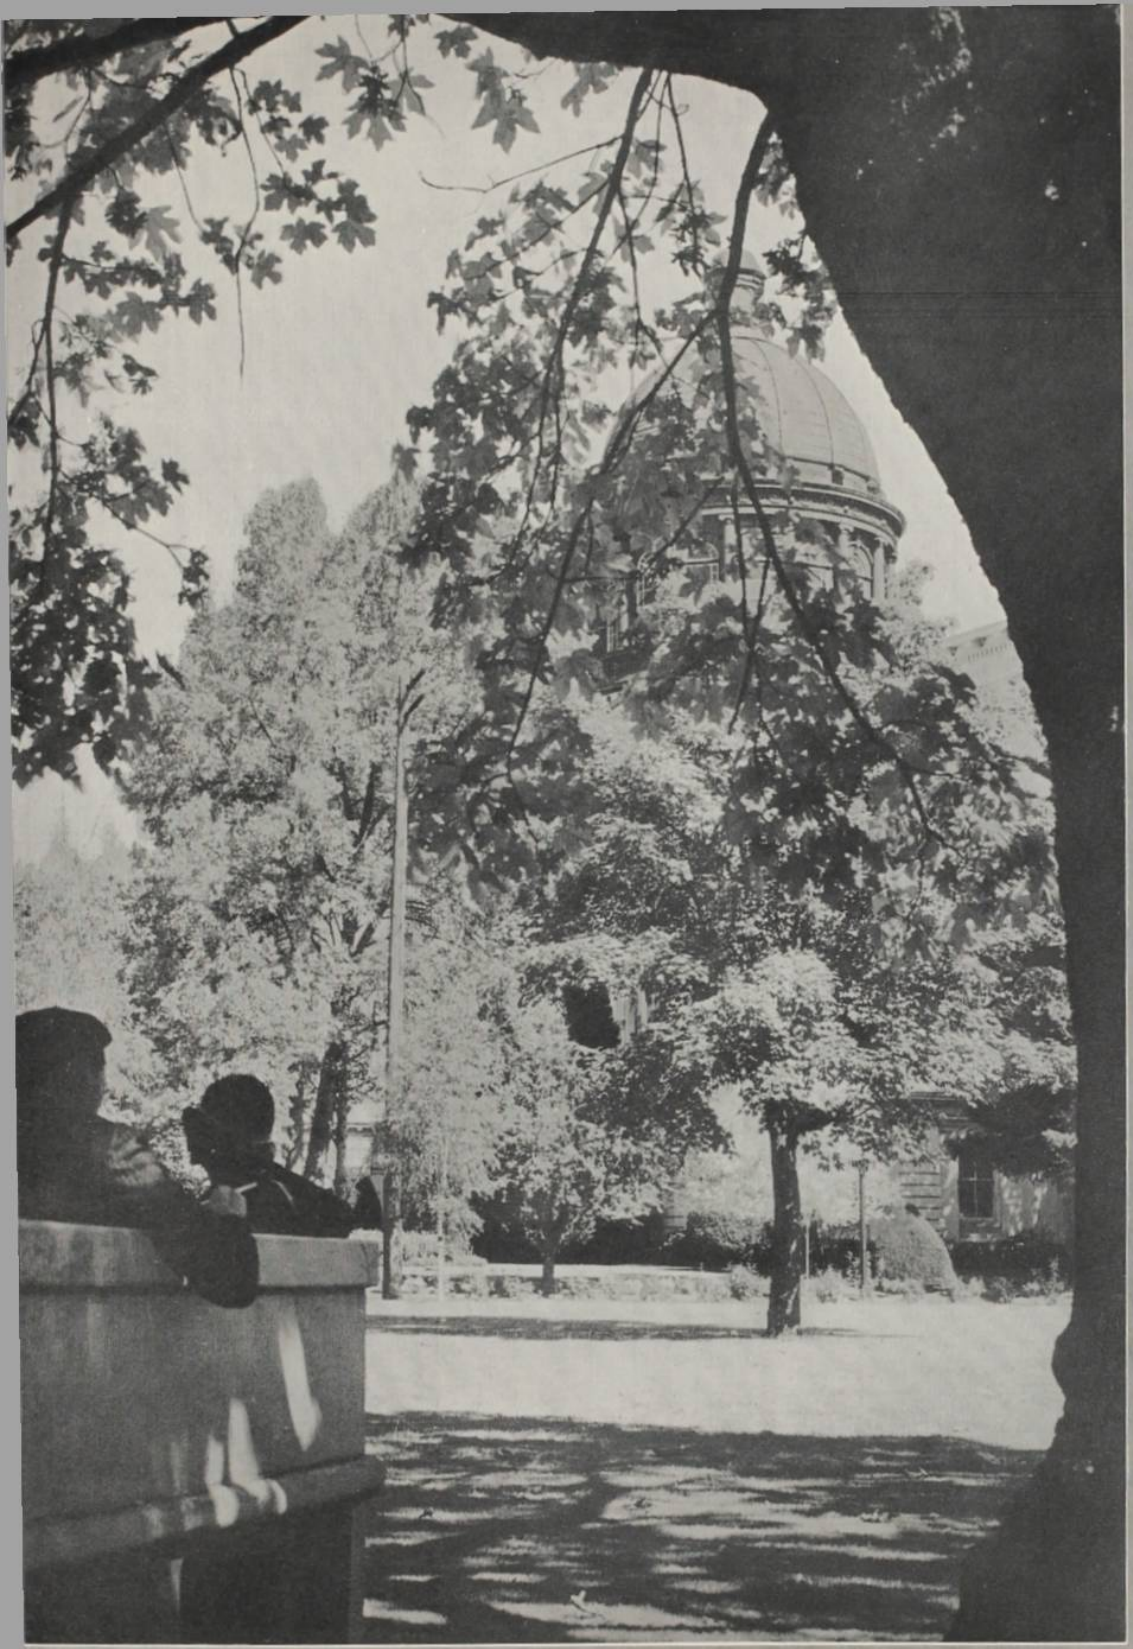

MAY WEEK-END . . .

Bright sunshine and May flowers forming a setting for a tall, stately, blond queen, and dark, vivacious princesses . . . Dr. Baxter crowning his first Willamette May Queen, Frances II . . . the age-old May pole dance . . . the Junior play, and the tug-of-war—exciting events to the students, but thrilling spectacles to campus guests.

AROUND THE CAMPUS . . .

Around the campus . . . Winter goes and the sun worshippers come forth . . . Gals and fellows loafin', jestin' and jokin'—this is college life.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

SALEM, OREGON

Approved by Association of American Universities

MEMBER OF AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN

WILLAMETTE is essentially a small college and has the ideal of encouraging smaller class groups and intimate personal relationships between student and teacher. It is proud that it can support a faculty of 46, and that, with a student body of 600, it can avoid the crowded conditions and the impersonality of the larger university. No student is "lost in the crowd" at Willamette.

Willamette, however, is able to afford approximately the same advantages in curricula in its College of Liberal Arts, College of Law, and School of Music as do the same schools in the larger university. The extra-curricular activities at Willamette in forensics, dramatics, athletics, music and publications are as highly developed as in the larger institutions. Willamette affords the additional advantage that each student enjoys the development of personality that comes from participating in activities of his own choosing.

College of Liberal Arts

A wide variety of strong courses lead to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Liberal electives allowed. Graduates are certified to teach in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho. Work leading to Journalism, Medicine, Law, Business, etc. For bulletin, Dean F. M. Erickson.

College of Law

A Law School with the great advantage of the State Courts, Law Library and official life. Lectures by leading judges and attorneys of the state. Graduates lead the profession. For bulletins, Dean Roy M. Lockenour.

School of Music

Instructors are American and European graduates. Courses in Piano, Voice, Violin, Pipe Organ, Theory, Public School Music, etc. Choir and Glee Clubs. For bulletins, Director Cameron Marshall.

THE CAPITOL
GOTHIC ARCH
of
EATON HALL

Tragic Glory

Enveloped in flames the historic old capitol portrays to the end its beauty and dignity. Completed in 1876 the building served faithfully for nearly sixty years as capitol for the State of Oregon. The massive copper dome, the winding stairways, the beautiful porticoes, the stately Corinthian columns will always live in the memory of every Willamette student. We will not forget that tragic night of April 25, 1935.
