

SECOND ANNUAL CONFERENCE IS EVENT OF NOTE

Three Day Session of Future Ministers and Mission Workers Held at W. U.

88 VISITORS REGISTER

Bishop Sumner, of Portland, Gives Opening Address—Many Study Classes—World War Popular Theme—Optimistic Note.

The second annual Ministry-Missions Conference of the Oregon colleges was held at Willamette beginning Friday evening, April 6, and lasting until Sunday evening. Students representing eleven institutions registered for the conference, the total number of out-of-town delegates being 88.

Bishop Sumner, of Portland, gave the opening address of the conference Friday evening in the University chapel on "The Challenge of the Sacrificial Callings." He was preceded by Mr. Ivan B. Rhodes, city secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Oregon and Idaho who spoke of "The Need of a Complete Gospel Message."

Promptly at 9 o'clock Saturday morning the two sections of the conference opened: the women meeting in the Y. W. C. A. rest room and the men in the Y. M. C. A. room. The speakers addressing the women were Miss Tiriza Dinsdale of U. of O., Mrs. A. M. Petty of Portland, Miss Elizabeth Wheelon of the Portland Y. W. C. A., Dr. C. M. Hill of Berkeley California, Miss Nellie Cole, a missionary from Turkey, and Miss Elizabeth Fox, dean of women at the University of Oregon. Addressing the men were Dr. C. S. Nash of Berkeley, Cal., Pres. Carl G. Doney, Rev. E. B. Martin, Dr. W. H. London of San Francisco, and Dr. C. M. Hill of Berkeley.

One of the most significant sessions of the conference was at the Saturday night meeting when professor N. R. Coleman of Reed College spoke on "The World War and World Evangelization." This address was followed by talks from Mr. Gale Seaman on "The Board of Missionary Preparation" and "Our Eighteen-Year-Old Millionaires" by Dr. A. M. Petty of Portland.

Miss Elizabeth Fox opened the sessions Sunday morning at 9:45 with a meeting considering "Our Prayer Habits." Sunday afternoon Dr. E. A. East, who has spent ten years in medical work in Burma, gave a thrilling account of some of his experiences there. Following him, Mr. J. D. Foster, Y. M. C. A. secretary of the U. of O. talked of "The Student Volunteer, Who Is He, and What Should He Do?" and Mr. Seaman spoke of "An Adequate Motive for Missionary Service." The closing meeting of the conference was held Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church, with J. D. Foster presiding. Two young men told why they were planning to enter the Christian ministry and two men and two women told why they were planning to become foreign missionaries. At 8:30 President Levi Pennington of Pacific College delivered the closing address on "Foreign Missions: The Work of All Christians."

Those responsible for the conference are very enthusiastic over the success of the meetings and the executive committee has already begun work for next year's conference which probably will be held at McMinnville. Much enthusiasm was created for the work of the Christian ministry and of foreign missions. Murray Keefer, chairman of the local committee in charge of the conference, was assisted by Wm. Nichols, Ruth Winters, Rita Hobbs, Pearl Crowder, Aetna Emmel, and Homer Tasker.

Joe McCallister, Law Student, to Drill City Cherrians; to Organize

Joe McCallister, law student, formerly colonel of the cadets at O. A. C., and a sergeant in Company M during the recent Mexican expedition, was appointed drill master of the Cherrians last Friday night. There are 135 men in line, and the plan is to be organized into a company in accordance with government regulations before long.

Outsiders are not eligible because membership in this organization is confined to Cherrians. They will drill every Wednesday evening.

SPRING SPORTS SHOW SIGNS OF INACTIVITY

Games With Penitentiary and U. of O. Called Off—Student Vote May Decide Issue.

Other than the daily practices, activities in both baseball and track have almost ceased to be. Schedule with the penitentiary nine, last Saturday, was called off on account of the rain, and the meet with the University of Oregon team for tomorrow was also cancelled. No other games have been definitely scheduled.

Since athletics have been seriously crippled by college men enlisting, it is probable that all inter-collegiate contests will be cancelled. The varsity is lacking in material capable of developing representative teams. Student body interest is also in other things than sports. As to the continuance of the sports in Willamette for this year it is probable that a student body vote will decide the matter.

HOMAN WRITES FROM WAR ZONE

Working Among British in Mesopotamia; to Follow Abraham's Example

Is With Army Y. M. C. A. of India—Censor Keeps Military Situation Lock Up in Persian Gulf.

Amara, Mesopotamia, January 16, 1916.

Dear Sam: Your letter of October 5 reached me yesterday after following a "pussy-wants-a-corner" course for over three months, which isn't so remarkable, since it had to go to the very last place on earth to find me. It was some time ago that our old friend Abraham very wisely decided that lower Mesopotamia was no place for him and wandered off into other latitudes. A few thousand years later I come wandering to very nearly the same place and it doesn't take me very long to realize what a wise man Abraham was. I shall shortly follow his example.

There isn't such a lot to say from here. Campaign topics are taboo. There is a censor who sees that the military situation is kept pretty tightly locked up within the jaws of the Persian Gulf. The principle things to describe are immeasurable deserts, palm trees and Arabs, with a fauna of asses and camels, and the principle thoughts you think about the country are not nice thoughts, nor fit for such a respectable clientele as your own. However, there is enough that one's journalistic sense can catch hold of and expand to quite considerable proportions. If I run out of real matter, I can discourse on Herodotus and Xenophon, who, however, stopped short of here, or of the glory that was Babylon. When I begin that you will understand that I am at an end and will trouble you no more.

Just now I am at Amara, about a third of the way up the Tigris toward Bagdad, and considerably below Kut-el-Amara, where Townsend's army was caught last spring. I have not been able to get up into the fighting line yet and my adventures have been no more exciting or romantic than having sandflies in my bed at night and tons of sand down my neck by day. But in spite of it all, I acquire a prosperity of spirit which belies my simple habits.

My best and kindest regards to old friends at W. U. and every good wish for the success of "Old Willamette."

Sincerely and cordially yours,
—Paul T. Homan.

Three Men Leave School

Not only is Willamette losing many of her men on account of war but for various reasons others have been forced to leave. Keith Lyman left Friday for his home in Gresham. Harry Crisp and Floyd Holmes will return to their homes in Washington the latter part of this week. This takes three more prominent men from the freshman class.

The O. A. C. Barometer says: The action of the cadet band in voting to offer its services to the government as a unit has been the most striking manifestation of war spirit on the campus in the last week.

PROHI CONTEST IS NEXT WEEK

I. P. A. Convention, April 20 and 21, at McMinnville; Business Meetings

Margaret Garrison to Represent W. U. in Oratorical Contest—Large Delegation to Attend.

The I. P. A. state convention which is to be held in McMinnville April 20 and 21 is to be the best in many years. There is to be at the opening an executive committee meeting. In the evening Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, of Willamette University, will give the address. Saturday morning, April 21, the appointments of committees and the reports of delegates will be held. Mr. R. H. Rolofson, national field secretary, will speak at 10 a. m. The final business session will be held at 11, in which the report of the state officers will be given and the new officers elected. The afternoon will be spent in a live discussion of plans for the coming year.

The oratorical contest has been set for Saturday evening, April 21, thereby making it possible for a larger number of students from other colleges to attend. The orators and their orations are as follows: "A Nation Impregnable," Walter Elefelter, McMinnville College; "Substitution Versus the Saloon," Erwin Barendrick, Pacific University; "The Unfinished Task," Cecil Lupper, Eugene Bible University; "A New Reconstruction," Margaret Garrison, Willamette University; "A Call to Arms," Amy Capson, University of Oregon.

The judges are as follows: Delivery—G. Everett Baker, of Portland; Phillip J. Kuntz, Rainier, Wash.; the third not yet chosen. Composition—Prof. Arthur R. Priest, Seattle; Mr. Virgil Hinshaw, Chicago; Prof. Roy W. Glass, Philomath.

The delegates who will go from here are Miss Fern Wells, state secretary; Miss Faye Wells, local treasurer, and Miss Mabel Boughey, local secretary. On Saturday, April 21, about 20 of the local league are going over to attend the contest.

CO. M AT LA GRANDE

Has Headquarters in Basement of First Methodist Church.

With full war strength Company M now has headquarters at La Grande, in the basement of the First Methodist church. Reports have it that the company is doing guard duty. The railroads and machine shops are closely guarded.

One Willamette member of the company says: "It will be all right if we have to guard somebody's backyard, if it does Uncle Sam any good. We are working for him now. 'We're in the army now!'"

Spiritually speaking one may feel sure the Willamette men will not wander far away from home, as all are used to attending Sunday school and Epworth League in the basement of a church.

SIX MORE STUDENTS GO

Makes Total From Willamette 42—Oiling Joins Regulars.

To the list of the men, who answered Uncle Sam's call to arms, published in last week's Collegian, six more names must be added. This will make a total of 42 from the student body.

The men who enlisted in Company M are: Willis Bartlett and Karl Chapler, seniors; Frank Grosvenor, law student; and Edward Rauch, freshman. Leslie Bailey, a theology student joined a Eugene Company. Merrill D. Ohling, a sophomore, enlisted in the medical department of the regular army.

Frank Barton Visits W. U.

Frank W. Barton, '12, was a campus visitor last week. Although he is a stranger to most of the students, Mr. Barton states that he is always glad to visit "Old Willamette."

At present Mr. Barton is a reporter on the Morning Oregonian.

IDAHO GLEE CLUB ENDS TOUR.

The Idaho Glee Club was forced to discontinue its tour. After the Boise concert the club went for an auto drive, in a collision one of its members was severely injured and died that night. As a result all the dates were cancelled, and the club returned to Moscow.

Max Ball Joins Company M

Among the bananas registered in Company M from Willamette, Max Ball is pre-eminently in a class by himself, being an alumni, one time Collegian editor, a regular reyer of pop and a conscientious fusser.

If Max does not soar to Napoleonic heights it will not be because his friends do not wish him the best of success.

W. U. AUXILIARY TO RED CROSS IS ORGANIZED

MISS GRANT CHAIRMAN

Is Largest Auxiliary to Willamette Chapter—Two Divisions of First Aid Classes—Are Members of National Society.

With officers elected, by-laws adopted and classes planned, the university auxiliary of the Willamette Chapter of the National Red Cross is now a definite organization.

Those interested in the Red Cross work met on Tuesday and, with Miss Todd presiding, discussed plans for organization and elected Miss Eva Grant chairman. Another meeting was held on Thursday at which time the by-laws as outlined by the national society and enlarged by a committee appointed by Miss Grant were adopted. Other officers elected were vice-chairman, Miss Edith Bird; secretary, Miss Beatrice Walton; treasurer, Mr. Louis Stewart.

Mr. Wm. A. Hush, the organizer, again met with the officers and others on Friday to answer any questions and suggest further plans for work. He also telegraphed to Washington for the authorization of the doctors nominated to teach the First Aid Classes.

This class is so large that it will probably be necessary to divide it into two sections. Miss Gertrude Cunningham has been elected president of the class and will complete the plans.

Because of smallness of numbers the classes in "Home Dietetics" and "Home Care of the Sick" will be combined under the instruction of one nurse. Miss Edna Billings is president of the class.

Work in the classes will begin as soon as possible and will undoubtedly be of practical value to the many who are interested. Between 40 and 50 members are now enrolled which makes it the largest auxiliary to the Willamette Chapter. All of the students paid their dollar dues which makes them members of the National Society.

NEW AMENDMENTS TO RAISE STUDENT DUES

Fee To Be Increased 50 Cents Per Semester—Collegian to Receive $1.00 Per Year From Fund.

At the next regular student body meeting two amendments will be considered. One to the constitution and the other to the by-laws of the organization. If passed, the student body fee will be raised from $2.50 to $3.00 per semester, and the appropriation to the Collegian will be doubled or 50 cents per semester. The amendments were posted April 6. The one to the constitution is:

To make Article III, Section 2, fellows. Space was not available in last week's issue.

The dues of the organization shall be three dollars ($3.00) per semester, payable upon registration, upon payment of which the student shall be entitled to a ticket admitting him or her to all athletic and other contests conducted by the student body during that semester, and to a subscription to the Willamette Collegian.

The proposed amendment to the by-laws is:

To make Article II, Section I, read as follows: All moneys received from the student body shall go into a general fund, to be expended by order of the executive committee, except that 50 cents per semester for each $3.00 fee collected shall be turned over to the manager of the Willamette Collegian for the support of that paper.

The faculty of the University of Kansas favors full credit for recruits from the students.

KIRK PICTURES MAN OF IDEALS

"Formal Discipline Has Not Been Disproved"; Idealist Result of Discipline

Supreme Task of Life Is Control and Discipline of Self—Dual Forces Discussed.

"The supreme task of life is the control and discipline of self." This was the leading thought in Professor Kirk's lecture "The Practical Idealist" as delivered Monday night.

"In human society," says Professor Kirk, "there are several groups of people when we classify them according to their aims in life. Some have no aim, others are selfish, but the practical idealist represents the best tendencies of modern life educational, social and economic.

"The practical idealist recognizes two forces in life—the individual and social, and since society is made up of individuals the individual is of the greatest importance to the practical idealist.

"The practical idealist," states the professor, "is an active man. He is altruistic in the broadest sense. He is a leader. He can sympathize, he meets people on their own plane and so it is that he gets a response. He realizes the many inequalities in property holding, opportunities and station and tries to harmonize all discordant factors in our complex life.

"There is a practical idealist in every walk of life. He is the champion of justice."

At this point in the lecture Professor Kirk pictured the practical idealist as a man possessing the finer aesthetic qualities that go to make this life beautiful and then launched into the educational aspect in the producing of practical idealists in modern society, with special emphasis upon formal discipline.

"The doctrine of formal discipline has not been disproven," says Professor Kirk, "it is adaptable in education where the principles are similar and also as a stimulus to moral effort. The practical idealist differs from other men in that he has self control, a serene and noble optimism, for he is not a slave to his emotions. This serenity he has gained by some form of formal discipline."

DELEGATES BANQUET WELCOMED BY KEYES

Seventy-five People Enjoy Banquet and Toasts at Spa Friday—All Colleges Are Represented.

Seventy-five people attended the beautifully appointed dinner at the Spa last Friday evening which formally opened the sessions of the Ministry-Missions Conference held at Willamette University April 6 to 8. Seated at the head table were the honor guests: Mr. Gale Seaman, Y. M. C. A. student secretary of the Pacific coast and chairman of the Conference; Mayor Walter Keyes, of Salem; President Carl Gregg Doney; Miss Dinsdale, Y. W. C. A. secretary of the University of Oregon; Miss Junia Todd, dean of women at Willamette University; President W. H. London, of the San Francisco School of Theology; Miss Nellie Cole of Forest Grove, and President C. M. Hill, of the Berkeley Theological School. Mr. Seaman was toastmaster of the occasion and toasts were responded to by delegates from University of Oregon, Eugene Bible School, Oregon Agricultural College, Pacific College, Pacific University, Reed College, Philomath Normal School, McMinnville and Albany Colleges, Chemawa Indian School, Kimball College, and Willamette University.

Mayor Keyes welcomed the visitors to the city and Dr. Doney welcomed them in the name of Willamette University. Miss Jane Neil Scott, Y. W. C. A. secretary of the Pacific Northwest, brought greetings from the city association.

Easter Morning Service in Women's Rest Room

Easter morning about twenty women of the university met in the rest room for an Easter service. Mrs. E. C. Richards read the story of the first Easter day from the gospel of John giving the women a new vision of the risen Christ as a dominant factor in all the world.

After the service the girls sang Easter songs at the Willamette Sanitarium, the Old People's Home, and at the homes of President Doney, Prof. G. Euben, and Dr. H. Talbot.

JANE NEIL SCOTT GIVES NATURE OF Y WORKERS

Northwest Y. W. Secretary Characterizes Prominent Persons.

In a pleasing informal manner Miss Jane Neil Scott, Northwest Y. W. C. A. secretary of city and student work, gave the women of the university, at their Y. W. meeting Thursday, a review of the meeting of the National Board of Christian Associations, that was held in New York city last year.

Her personal characterization of a number of prominent association workers was especially striking. The scholarly-appearing Dr. H. Foadick she pictured as a curly-headed, fiery, overgrown boy. Miss Bertha Condee, the national student secretary, she described as a tall, red-haired lady extremely interested in life.

Miss Mildred Wiggins delighted those present with a beautiful sacred solo the words of which she was the author.

GILLETTE HEADS Y. M. FOR TERM

Special Election Necessary to Re-establish Cabinet; Study Classes Formed

Many Men Sign Up For Bible Study—Harold Nichols, Treasurer—Bible Study, Blaine Bedingfield.

With a view of temporarily filling the places of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet men who have enlisted, the association held a meeting Wednesday night.

The cares of choosing men to fill these places were entrusted to the cabinet men, who have selected the following to fill vacancies: Alpheus Gillette, president; Harold Nichols, treasurer; Harold Eakin, devotional meetings; Homer Tasker, extension work; Blaine Bedingfield, Bible study and Paul Doney, membership. The terms of these officers will expire at the end of the association term, unless the regular return, Mr. Gillette, being a senior, will be replaced by a special election, upon graduating.

Chapel, Tuesday morning, was given over to a consideration of Bible study. Many men signified intentions of joining one of the classes.

Rosamond Gilbert Elected to Executive Committee

Rosamond Gilbert was elected to fill the vacancy left in the student body executive committee, made by Errol Proctor. Miss Gilbert is a senior and has ever been popular in student activities. As a leader in the planning and carrying out of college functions her oversight is unsurpassed. Miss Gilbert is also acting as associate editor of the Collegian.

SALEM MEN TO DRILL

City Y. M. Makes Opportunity For All to Receive Military Training

About 100 local men have decided to drill every Monday evening at the Salem Y. M. C. A. Joe McCallister, a law student, has charge of the drill work at present. Later on the men will organize and elect a captain who will appoint the other officers from men in the company.

The city council wired the government last week for rifles, and they are expected in a few days. The arrival of the guns will enable the Company to go through the entire drill as prescribed by the government.

A number of Willamette students are in line now, and others who wish the training are welcome, according to McCallister. No physical or mental examination is required, and the drill work is not confined to members of the Y. M. C. A. Those wishing to take part in the drills should see Mr. Gingrich, physical director of the Salem Y. M. C. A.

Health Specialist Turns Chapel Into Gymnasium

Thursday morning chapel services took the form of a gymnasium class. Dr. J. C. Elliot, health lecturer, spoke in chapel on the importance of good health, emphasizing the necessity of a great lung capacity. He also gave causes and cures for pulmonary disease.

After his lecture Dr. Elliot put the students and faculty through several strenuous exercises which proved amusing as well as beneficial.

MILITARY DRILL INTRODUCED BY R. L. MATHEWS

Men Vote to Have Drill Two Nights Each Week; Some to Take Officers' Exam

ALL MEN WANT TRAINING

Successful Candidates in Local Officers Reserve Examination; Will Go To Training Camp at Santa Barbara, Cal.

That Willamette students may be better fitted to do their part in the defense of their country, Coach R. L. Mathews has initiated military training. Although it is not compulsory, practically all of the students have availed themselves of the opportunity. As the result of a vote of all the men it was decided to have the drill Tuesday and Thursday night of each week for two hours. Coach Mathews is acting as captain. The minor officers will be selected by examination.

Since, with four or five exceptions, all of the men have never had any previous training, the drill so far is of the simplest nature. However, a decided improvement can be noticed from practice to practice, and in another week or so the more complex tactics will be learned. No military paraphernalia is available for the student use, but despite the absence of the khaki and the Springfield, the men feel they are doing something worth while. Coach Mathews says it is a matter of protection to the men to be trained.

Several university men are also planning to take the examinations for the officers reserve of the regular army which will be given tonight. Military training, education and character are some of the things to be passed upon.

Although there are some 40 men that plan to take the examinations, most of them citizens of Salem.

The Willamette men who have been out for drill are: Bynon, Vincent, Booth, Austin, Burleigh, Fliegel, Gregg, Bedingfield, Hayden, Callahan, McCallister, Neuner and Page. All plan to take the examination tonight. Captain Rosenberg, of the local street railway company, has charge of the Salem contestants. In order to qualify for the examination, all aspirants are required to present three letters of recommendation. A lieutenant from the regular army will examine the boys.

The successful contestants in tonight's examination will be given three months military schooling at the government school, Santa Barbara, California. After completing this course, the students will receive commissions entitling them to the same status as the graduates of West Point. Most of the boys covet a second lieutenantcy, but a few are trying for a captain's commission.

College men all over the country are taking a keen interest in this organization, and many have enlisted prior to this time. The entire football squad at the U. of O. are members of the Officers Reserve Corps.

WALLULAH PROGRESSES WITH WORK TO DATE

Help Is Willingly Given By Varsity Women—Engraving and General Make Up Is Artistic.

Any one who does not believe that the management of the 1918 Wallulah is a live, breathing, active organism should visit their office in Waller hall and watch them work.

Ruth Spoor, editor-in-chief, says that the engraved plates of the first 64 pages were received Monday and that the special write-ups and printed matter will be ready for proof making very soon.

During the week just past several girls have been helping Miss Spoor with the pasting, a laborious task and one requiring no small amount of work. That these girls did excellent work will undoubtedly be reflected in the artistic arrangement of the finished book.

Many new features, never before attempted at Willamette, are to be included in this year's annual. This will mark the publication of the fifth Wallulah at Willamette. That does not include the junior annual edition of the Collegian put in by the class of '12 nor the "Comet" published by the class of '15.

The first Wallulah was organized by the class of '92 and the other dates follow: '05, '12, '14 and '17.

By Carrie Cooksey

Social activities in the university at the present time have taken a patriotic and military trend. The young women are taking a keen interest in the organization of the Red Cross auxiliary. Classes have been formed and work along the various lines has begun. This indeed shows the true patriotic spirit of the Willamette women. Parallel with this new activity the men have been organized into a company for military training. These movements indicate that Willamette students are truly patriotic not only to our school but to our country as well.

If ever an Adelante had a pain or ever hoped to have, they found a sure cure for every kind of ailment on Friday afternoon at the regular society program. Every possible remedy was offered, some for physical or contagious diseases, and even a prescription for the lovesick was prescribed. Miss Emma Minton presented a paper on "Who's Who in the World's Doctors." It was interesting to note the development the doctors have made from time to time in their profession, the discovery of the latest uses of the X-ray, the extermination of fatal diseases, and the great progress in surgery. "Pills" was an exceedingly original paper read by Miss Nellie Patchin. The general characteristics of pills was humorously related, and some clever verses added greatly to the charm of such a lofty subject. Miss Carolyn Sterling discussed "The History of Vaccination" from its earliest stages of development until the present time. Miss Evelyn Reigleman favored the society members with a beautiful vocal solo, the words of which were original and in harmony with the rest of the program. Yes, there truly have been some heart-sick maidens around the university the past week, and although this is declared the most difficult ailment to cure, some of these felt cheered for a short time at least. The remedy for the disease was presented in a short playlet entitled "Young Doctor Devine." The scene was laid in a girl's seminary, where man was an unknown quantity. An epidemic was raging in the village, and news came that a young doctor was coming to vaccinate all of the girls. With these glad tidings, each pupil determined to captivate the young man, but when Dr. Frances Devine turned out to be a female practitioner, each heart collapsed never again to have faith in Devine doctors. Those taking part in the playlet were Misses Lola Cooley, Averill Harris, Rosamond Gilbert, Esther Taylor, Elizabeth Tebben, Helen Wood, Mildred Wiggins, Gertrude Cunningham, and Mabel Broughey, as the doctor. A short snappy business meeting closed the afternoon's fun.

The Leslie M. E. church held an Easter service beginning at 6:30 with a prayer meeting April 8. After the communion service was held, the "Live Wire" class went to Mr. A. C. Bohrnstedt's for breakfast. Every one brought their own eggs and all had an enjoyable time. They stayed there for Sunday school, during which Rev. R. H. Reed of Mapleton, Mr. Belasco of McMinnville College, and Mr. Bohrnstedt gave excellent talks. The class then went in a body to the Easter sermon at 11. In the evening an Easter program of sacred music was given by the choir of 40 voices.

Miss Tircia Dinsdale, the Y. W. C. A. secretary of the University of Oregon, was in Salem over the week-end. Miss Dinsdale was for seven years the city Y. W. C. A. secretary in La Crosse, Wisconsin. She came to the West a year ago and is now working with the student association at Oregon.

Probably one of the most distinctive and altogether delightful social events in university circles for some time was the formal "At Home" given by Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mrs. M. C. Findley, at the home of the former, 316 N. Church street, Saturday afternoon, April 7. The hours for receiving were between two and five. Miss Genevieve Findley met the guests at the door, and Miss Louise Findley conducted them upstairs. In the receiving line were Mrs. Carl Gregg Dohey, Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Miss Mary Findley, Mrs. M. C. Findley and Miss Muriel Steeves. Those assisting in entertaining the guests were Mrs. Ronald Glover, the Misses Helen Hunt, Christabel Jewett, Elsie and Etta White.

During the first hour of serving Mrs. Laban Steeves and Mrs. Alfred Schramm cut the loaves, and later their places were taken by Mrs. Charles Bates and Mrs. Ralph Walton. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Ray Smith, Mrs. Floyd Utter, Mrs. Ray White and Mrs. Fred Thompson.

The Easter color scheme of purple and white was carried out both in the decorations, and refreshments. In the reception rooms, lilies and greens were used most artistically, making a pretty setting for the affair. The atmosphere of spring predominated in the dining room. Early spring flowers were used exclusively in the decorations here, a pretty feature being the cluster of purple "lamb tongues" which had been sent from Grants Pass for the occasion. Before the guests departed they were invited to visit the museum where a rare privilege was afforded them in being allowed to view some of the world's most famous paintings, sculpture, and relics of history. This social event of the week proved a delight to the hundred guests who called during the afternoon.

Miss Bernice Knuths had as her guest during the week-end Miss Georgia Weber of Brownsville.

Miss Nettie Briggs had as her guests over the week-end her nephew Mr. Raymond Briggs and his friend, Mr. Carl Eckval, both students at McMinnville College.

Very snappy and business-like was the meeting of the Philodossians when they convened "at the sign of the gavel" last Friday. A "spell down" class in parliamentary law was conducted by Miss Edna Billings, and so well informed were her pupils on the intricacies of Roberts Rules of Order that only a few forgetful lassies went down under her rigorous questioning. A delightful change from this mental exercise was a violin solo by Miss Elizabeth Levy, who played in a highly artistic manner a number of movements from Verdi's "Il Trovatore." Fine points gleaned from the previous test in order were then used in a parliamentary practice at which Miss Helen Goltra ably presided. In every respect the program proved entertaining as well as practical.

Miss Constance Geiger, from Pacific University, attended the recent conference at Willamette, and while here was the guest of Miss Ruth Stewart.

Mr. Philip Bartholomew spent the week-end at his home in Portland.

President E. H. Todd, of Puget Sound College, spent Sunday with his sister, Miss Junia L. Todd.

Miss Ethel Hansen spent the week-end at O. A. C.

Miss Elizabeth Fox and Miss Dinsdale were Sunday evening luncheon guests at Lausanne hall.

Miss Marguerite Wible had as her week-end guest Miss Helen Leighton of O. A. C.

Mr. Carl Emmons, who is a junior in the University of Washington, spent the past week at his home in this city.

Miss Clara Manning, of Portland, is spending several days in the city as the guest of Miss Ethel Fogg.

The following delegates to the Ministers Missions Conference were guests at Lausanne hall over the week-end: Misses Etta Grunes, of O. A. C.; Effie Gibson, Eugene; Lena Newton, Ethel and Gladys Grim, of Eugene Bible School.

Mr. Guy Holcombe, of McMinnville College, visited his aunt, Mrs. Garrett, at Dewdrop Inn Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Dinsdale, Y. W. C. A. secretary at Oregon University, was the Sunday dinner guest at Dewdrop Inn.

Mrs. W. E. Taylor and sons, Worth and Keith, en route to Los Angeles, California, were in the city Friday night and Saturday. Mrs. Taylor visited with her daughter, Miss Esther Taylor, who is a senior in the university.

In honor of Sergeant Gralapp, Miss Teresa Fowls gave a dinner party Tuesday evening. The dining room was decorated with flags and yellow daffodils. Mr. Gralapp served as a question and answer box for several hours. The guests learned some of the peculiar habits of each Willamette soldier. Covers were laid for seven including Mrs. Fowls, Barbara Steiner, Catherine Fowls, Arnold Gralapp, Earl Flegel, Robert Gatke, and the hostess.

Madame Margarithes, a high born French woman, who despite the crises in France has taken time to write a letter of congratulations and to express her best wishes to Jeanette Rankin on her election to congress.

Military Training at U. of W. Students at University of Washington may substitute instruction in various lines of war emergency training up to four hours.

Condon—To Miss Evelyn Cathey and her parents are due the thanks of several members who enjoyed a most bountiful dinner.

Ewing—Here the club was surprised to find James Ewing's mother and sister waiting to deliver to us a huge box of good things to eat. Mrs. Ewing accompanied the club to Hepper to hear the concert.

Arlington—Two fine cakes from Mrs. Cox and another from Mrs. Hockensmith were fully enjoyed by everybody.

Abolishes Inter-class Football. The University of Southern California, at the advice of the president, has abolished inter-class football. This action was taken as a result of the serious injuries to the players in the past three years.

MILLER DETERMINED TO PREPARE FESTIVAL. May Day is a great day for students and friends of Willamette University. This year the real May spirit is to be manifest. Hap Miller, manager, has definite plans for a most artistic program.

Umatilla—Kate Barton brought a number of her friends from Hermiston to hear the concert. Also the club was surprised to again meet Prof. Dunton of Moro.

Pendleton—Certainly the people of Pendleton are to be praised for the excellent showing which they made. With practically no advertising the club appeared before a fine audience. This concert was substituted for the Spokane engagement with only a day's notice.

Athens—To Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Emmel and to Walter Gleiser are due the thanks for the fine entertainment while in their city. Not only did they give the usual reception, but they succeeded in providing a "Chicken Dinner" for every man. The Stewart and Coppel families kindly opened their homes to the men for the dinner.

Wallawa—There is a question as to whether the Quaker Show is to be thanked—anyway we had a good crowd.

Enterprise—Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Jory met the fellows here. An experiment was made with a sacred concert on Sunday evening, with excellent results. Many who were deprived of the privilege of hearing the fellows at the regular time availed themselves of this opportunity.

Joseph—To Helen Wastell, Paul Irvine and "Roary" Mc (Caddam), the club is indebted for the reception given after the concert. Just what position "Mac" holds in this community could not be determined.

Despite the fact that there was over eighteen inches of snow a big bunch went up to Wallawa Lake on Sunday. It was a fine "hike."

All that were not invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, enjoyed the hospitality of the Hotel Jennings for a Sunday dinner. A special Willamette feast was something unusual.

Elgin—To Elgin must be given the credit for furnishing the best opera house on the entire trip. It was the only Municipal Theatre discovered.

La Grande—In order that the tour might have a proper end, the La Grande Epworth League gave the fellows a reception in the church. Some were unable to attend on account of the hasty departure.

To Mrs. E. C. Richards—it was a truly brave spirit that would undertake to chaperon a bunch of college people for six weeks, and considering the satisfaction that Mrs. Richards was able to give, no small amount of praise is due her. Certainly, she has the thanks of every person in the party.

Mathews Visits Barracks, Finds Boys Well Cared for, Takes Mess with Officers. Prof. J. T. Mathews made a flying trip to Vancouver Wednesday afternoon to see his son Oliver who is a member of Company M.

The professor says that when he arrived at the barracks the university boys nearly eat him alive they were so glad to see some one from Willamette. The one Collegian that he had in his pocket was devoured ravenously.

In the evening Prof. Mathews took mess with the officers and he declares them to be as fine a group of gentlemen as one may want to see.

Prof. Mathews says that the boys were getting along fine, that they were well fed, clothed and housed; altogether he was highly pleased by his visit.

MILLER DETERMINED TO PREPARE FESTIVAL. May Day is a great day for students and friends of Willamette University. This year the real May spirit is to be manifest. Hap Miller, manager, has definite plans for a most artistic program.

Umatilla—Kate Barton brought a number of her friends from Hermiston to hear the concert. Also the club was surprised to again meet Prof. Dunton of Moro.

Pendleton—Certainly the people of Pendleton are to be praised for the excellent showing which they made. With practically no advertising the club appeared before a fine audience. This concert was substituted for the Spokane engagement with only a day's notice.

EXUBERANT EXPECTANCY PRECIPITATES STUDENT

JUDGMENT; S. P. STATION IS MECCA

Thursday and Friday of last week saw most of the students gracing the depot walk instead of class rooms, looking for the train which would carry Company M to some far away place.

The rush started immediately after chapel Thursday and in 15 minutes all were awaiting the arrival of the train. But it carried only a car of naval militia, and despair fell over the assembly. However the over abundance of jollity that was present gave vent to itself in the form of college songs sung for the benefit of the "Jack-tars."

Despite announcements to the effect that Company M would not be through before afternoon a few who are related to Bantem's donkey remained. The station master made so many varying statements and every one had such positive knowledge that the Company was on its way that it was fairly bewildering.

At 1 o'clock word was received that the boys had not left Vancouver. But at 2:40 a loyal band was at the depot to meet a train that never came.

From that time on every south-bound train was met without success. Friday morning two specials were announced and at 9:02 a wildly surging crowd eagerly recognizable as highly intellectual beings from Willamette ran madly to the depot just

Websterians Study Present Day World-Wide Problems

Websterians studied history in the making last Wednesday evening, dividing their time between three of the most important of recent occurrences. Revolution in Russia was the topic of Harold Eakin who gave the story of the strides toward democracy in that great country. The nation's position in regard to the world war was discussed by Earl Flegel. Laban Stoeves and Gustav Anderson gave sketches of the glee club trip, the former telling about Nurse Girls at Walla Walla, and the latter effervescing on the subject of Coyotes and Chickens.

The regular election of officers will take place at the next meeting.

Some Pretty Baby Is Collegian Cub

A cub reporter of Collegian renown was sitting with a "friend of the pair" next the aisle in the Ye Liberty flicker joy house Saturday afternoon.

A fair one, Solomon in all his glory was never arrayed in electric lights, as a part of the musical performance commenced to sing a motion song on her way down the aisle.

Posing in front of Cub with outstretched arms she sang in touching tones, "Pretty Baby." Then she backed off down the slope and looked on either side for another handsome man but cub to relate "Pretty Baby" Cub Collegian renown was all she found.

Co-eds Hold All Sophomore Offices

The sophomore class, being almost a co-ed organization, elected at the meeting last Wednesday Miss Margaret Fuller to fill the vacancy left by Raymond Attebery as president. Miss Leila Johnson was chosen vice-president.

The class has now all women as officers. The men declined all nominations saying, "We may not be here long."

President Wilson's speech to congress was the subject of a thoughtful discussion in Prof. Hancock's advanced rhetoric class last week. The professor read the speech as it appeared in the papers and then the students brought out ideas from their own personal understanding of the situation.

Professor Matthews Preaches at Silverton

While on his regular fortnight preaching appointment at Willard a week ago, Prof. Matthews received a hurry call from the Methodist preacher in Silverton.

When the professor arrived in Silverton he found the minister to be in a sad plight. A severe attack of poison oak had made it impossible for him to appear before his congregation. Prof. Matthews preached for him in the evening.

POETS OF FUTURE

Willamette University Heads the List in The Poets of the Future.

A College Anthology for 1915-16, edited by Henry T. Schnittkind, Ph. D. with an introduction by William S. Braithwaite.

This book contains one hundred and forty of the best poems written by American university students during the past college year. Sixty colleges are represented in this anthology. Our purpose in publishing this book, which will become an annual event, is two-fold. We want to encourage the best literature in the universities, and to show to the poetry lovers in this country what a wealth of gems of the purest ray has hitherto been inaccessible to the public. For the age of poetry is youth, when ideals are still real and the artistic temperament has not yet been tainted through contact with the stern material realities of life. Keats did his best work at the college age; so did Shelley, so did Byron. The college student writes not for a living, but because he has something within him that will not remain unspoken.

In instituting the Harvard dramatic contest a few years ago, Mr. John Craig proved to the world that the college playwright can go the professional playwright one better in the matter of thought and technique. You will find the same to be true of college poets. The College Anthology reveals to us the literary masters of the future in the making. Order this book. You will thank us for calling it to your attention.

It is a handsome 12 mo. volume, made in two editions.

I. Cloth with gold stamping, $1 net, $1.10 postpaid.

II. Leather, with gilt edge, boxed, $2 net, $2.10 postpaid.

Published by the Stratford Company, Boston.

Order this book through the Willamette Collegian.

The statement that Willamette University heads the list in "The Poets of the Future," is a correct statement, inasmuch as the Literary Editor of the Boston Post, which has the largest circulation of any morning paper in the East, has selected Head Balm's "Grip" as the best poem in the book.

MOSHER-MADE SUITS RECOGNIZED for QUALITY

There's an inexplicable something about our suits that makes them stand out above the ordinary. Anyone can instantly recognize their quality and know them to be tailor-made.

It is not alone the high quality of the material—neither is it due wholly to the excellence of our workmanship and our painstaking care of minute details. It is the result of all these, and the fact that the garment is not only cut to fit you but is MADE TO FIT YOU.

REDUCED PRICES For Ladies' and Men's Suits

For a limited time we are offering a reduction of $2.50 to $10. These suits will be of exactly the same degree of excellence as characterizes our suits bought at any other time.

We are enabled to make this reduction by reason of the fact that we purchased the materials before the recent increases in price.

Come in and look over our new textures—you will enjoy seeing them and we will enjoy showing them.

Chas. K. Cranston, Ph. B., '83, is secretary of the Pendleton Commercial Club. His service was greatly appreciated when he helped to advertise the recent glee club concert in that city.

Marie Whipple, A. B., '04, declines with thanks the degree M. D., '83, recently bestowed upon her by the Collegian. She fears that such a youthful accomplishment might dim the fame of men like Lowell and Byron. The aforesaid degree belonged to Marie Ella Whipple, now Mrs. Ella Whipple Marsh, formerly of Long Beach, Cal.

True to his nature "Mac" had to get in on the advance trip. On March 24, therefore, Glen McCaddam was at Joseph, Or., enjoying the glee club concert and also visiting with other W. U. friends, Paul Irvine and Helen Wastell, instructors in the Joseph high school.

Among the W. U. people taking part in the Elk's recent presentation of "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" were James Mott of the law department, who acted as director; Walter E. Keyes, instructor in criminal law, bills, and notes; and Robin D. Day, graduate of law in 1913.
