New Editors Named to Collegian

As the semester ends, several changes in the Collegian staff are announced by Eric Bergman, editor.

Jim Oakes, who for a year has edited sports on the campus paper, will devote his last semester here to other major studies. He will graduate in June with a degree in Journalism-History. Succeeding Oakes is Dale Reynolds who has been assistant sports editor for two semesters. Oakes will continue sports writing for the Oregonian and campus news writing for the Oregon Statesman.

Former News Editor and present Society Editor Dona Adams also leaves the paper this semester to continue other studies. Succeeding her is Mary Louise Lee, a freshman, who is former business manager of the Salem High Clarion and generally experienced in newspaper writing and composition.

Bergman also announced the appointment of Stan Hawk, present Collegian copy editor, who will succeed Norman Stone as feature editor next semester. Stone is a pre-med student and finds that his time must be used in that direction.

Succeeding Stan Hawk as copy editor is John Connet, a present reporter and staff member of the Collegian. Earlyne Foley will assist in copy editing and society.

Bergman expressed his appreciation of the good work of all the new and succeeded members of the staff and asked the continued cooperation of the faculty and student body in "making the Collegian one of the best in the nation."

He also announced that the next issue of the Collegian will be published on February 11. Sixteen more issues of the Collegian will be published this school year.

Pre-Registration Fees Narrow Billfolds as New Term Nears

By Bill MacDougall

Pocketbooks will open next week, as students begin to deposit a minimum payment of one-half tuition and one-third of dormitory costs for pre-registration.

Registrar Harold B. Jory announced that trial study cards are due immediately in his office, even if all signatures have not been obtained. Those who have not completed card signing are asked to register on Monday, February 7.

For students living off campus, only the down payment of one-half tuition will be necessary. All holders of completed and fully signed study cards are invited to make deposits now.

Jory said that no new students have registered with his office, although February 7 will see the addition of more students. He also confirmed a report that no beginning freshmen will be admitted for the spring term. The only new entrants are those transferring from other schools and former students returning to the campus.

"In order to complete registration, all library fines and school accounts must be paid before finals", said Vice-president Robert Fenix this week.

Veterans are reminded to bring their trial study cards and fee slips into the bookstore so that the cards can be typed up in advance. Books will be issued on Monday, February 7.

Those veterans who will discontinue their education either by withdrawing or by graduation, at the end of this semester should fill out an interruption of education card with the Veterans Administration. These cards may be obtained from Deena Hart in the Registrar's office.

Indep Prexy

Robert Rabourn, senior, Portland, (above) was this week elected president of the Associated Men of Baxter Hall.

Knight to Speak At Graduation

Dr. John Knight, former religious counselor here on the campus, has been selected as speaker for the June commencement exercises.

Knight, who was on the campus three years ago, is now Chancellor at Nebraska Wesleyan university and has accepted the presidency of Baldwin college in Berea, Ohio.

Rabourn New Baxter Hall President

Bob Rabourn, senior in psychology, has been elected to replace Jerry Thorn as president of Baxter hall for the spring semester.

Other officers chosen at the recent election are Carl Blanes, vice-president; Ed Cairo, secretary; Jim Garrett, treasurer; Glen and Roger Halliday, sergeants-at-arms; Rex Lindemood, chaplain, and Ernest Dietrich, Stan Aschenbrenner, Jim Spangler and Chuck Gutzler, executive committee.

Education Job Notice

All education majors who desire assistance in obtaining employment after graduation in February or June, should file their names with the Teacher Placement bureau in the Registrar's office, according to an announcement by H. B. Jory this week.

Students, Faculty Members Active at FEPC Hearing

By Earl Van Lydegraf

Willamette faculty members and students were prominent at the Oregon senate hearing on the proposed fair employment practices act at the state house Tuesday night. The hearing saw members of labor, business, church, civic and political groups present arguments in favor of senate bill six, which seeks to guarantee fair employment practices to minority groups within the state.

Two Oppose Bill

Two people spoke against the bill. One was a representative of the restaurant owners association and the other was Mrs. Louise Palmer Weber, a professional lobbyist.

Professors John Rademaker and Ray Lockenour spoke for the bill. Rademaker talked on the view of social scientists toward minority discrimination and Lockenour represented the Oregon council of churches. Willamette student Conley Ward represented the Young Democrats. The student committee for FEPC headed by Carolyn Wilkes, Mary Louise Lee, Prudence Craig, John Thompson, Tom Bartlett and Jack Gunn helped to publicize the hearing among local church groups as well as the Willamette campus.

Wide Group Represented

David Robinson, chairman of the Oregon committee on FEPC, introduced the various speakers representing the Roman Catholic and Methodist churches, AF of L and CIO, Portland council of social agencies, White Stag Manufacturing company, Eagle Lumber company, Young Republicans and Young Democrats and the Oregon Council of Churches.

Former Oregon Governor Oswald West spoke for the bill as did representatives for the civil rights congress and the Progressive party.

Stage Crew Needed

Prof. Edward T. Gibson urges all men interested in stagecraft work for the remainder of the year to contact him at once. The course in stagecraft is offered for credit, and any volunteers will be welcome.

'Save Power,' Says Company

Student and faculty are asked for their cooperation by an appeal from the electric companies during the present power and fuel shortage due to the low and frozen rivers. It is asked that unnecessary lights be turned off and doors and windows be kept closed to conserve fuel.

Lately, the campus has appeared darker than usual, because many of the lights have been turned out in the various halls, according to Robert Fenix, vice-president.

Students Attend Clinic

Approximately 100 WU psychology students attended the clinic held at the Oregon state hospital last week, where patients, representing different cases, were asked questions pertaining to their illnesses.

Two Chapels Per Week Due For Everyone

All Willamette students will be required to attend chapel twice a week next semester. The additional chapel, to be held on Tuesday, will be in the gymnasium as the new bleachers, donated by one of Willamette's trustees, are now available.

"As the Tuesday chapel for all students was never discontinued, but merely suspended during the war because of crowded conditions, it is logical to re-establish it now that there is room for everyone", stated Dr. Raymond Withey.

"Tuesday chapel is the student's chapel and we hope that it will help to create a good spirit and unity among the members of the student body", remarked the Dean. The programs under the direction of Tom Bartlett will be made as interesting and varied as possible.

Cuts will be on the same basis as they have been in freshman chapel the past semester.

'Professor, Please' Slated for KOCO

The second in a series of 13 weekly programs entitled "Professor, Please", will be presented next Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. over station KOCO by the Willamette chapter of the Future Teachers of America.

The program script, written by Addyse Lane, will present the problems which will face those who are planning to enter the teaching profession and some of their possible solutions. Those who participated in last Wednesday's program were Dr. George B. Martin, Vera Jack, Francis Kettleson, Bob Bailey, Dorothy Hill Wood, Merle Akeson and Addyse Lane.

Come the Reds Again

The dismissal of professors of long standing from the University of Washington this week because they were avowed members of the communist party has brought this issue to the attention of college readers throughout the nation once again.

Also an article in the Oregon State Barometer, written by our old friend Tom House, indicates that there may be communist activity at our own state college. Of course, this brings the matter much closer to home and makes us wonder how much such activity is on our own campus.

A remedy in the case of the professors at the University of Washington has been suggested in the form of signing affidavits which provide for non-communistic practices. This has been tried in the labor unions and caused much ferment. It seems a very feeble remedy also since an avowed communist would certainly not live up to an affidavit. Of course, the administration would have the professor in a much more precarious position in case the professor were caught in communist activity.

As the matter now stands, the university is liable both to prove that the professors have tried to overthrow the U. S. government and that they are actually anti-U. S. minded. Their non-reinstatement surely will depend on proving these points. Otherwise the university might be called undemocratic.

Certainly it is much easier to not hire a communist in the first place than to fire one after he became one during 20 years of satisfactory service at a university.

A Semester Passes

As another semester draws to a close, and since no paper will be published next week, the editor wishes to thank the student body, faculty and especially the staff for helping to successfully complete 17 issues of the Collegian.

Our especial thanks go to Jim Oakes who helped remodel the office last summer and whose sports pages and columns have been most outstanding during the past two semesters. Dale Reynolds, his able assistant, now takes over. Jim graduates in June and has too many journalistic credits already, he says.

Norman Stone and Dona Adams both have been excellent in their editorships.

Eileen Scott, our news editor, the number two editor on the paper, has been gratifyingly helpful during our absence at conventions and during a sickness this month.

All the staff has done a grand job—thanks from ye olde editor—EB.

Congratulations, Graduates!

Twenty-two seniors will graduate from the university next week. Whether they leave the campus or not, congratulations are in order by the Collegian, students and faculty.

How high they go on the thermometer of life depends on the heat of the degree that is presented to them.

Got a College Degree? Grab That Shovel!

By Jerold Mulkey

When and if the time comes for the mighty class of '49 to be thrust from their academic shelter into the cold world to seek gainful employment, there will await the cap bedecked and gown draped graduates a surprise... or two.

But we should shoulder our responsibility to society and weigh carefully the possibilities, such as they are, of avoiding the enlisting in the growing ranks of the unemployed.

However, if you are looking for the good life, seriously consider the glittering future of becoming a small but important cog in the complicated machinery of the State of Oregon.

You can start at a good white tee-shirt job at a salary, using the term mighty loosely, ranging all the way from $175 to $180 per month depending on whether er you are a suma cum laude or just a plain old cum laude. However, money isn't everything.

First, you take a civil service exam to determine if you can read. If you can't, they test you with pictures. I don't know how difficult the pictures are but I heard of one that showed two college students taking a final exam. The question: which one has the pony?

After the test, the departmental head cross examines you to see if you might possess any special abilities such as licking an envelope, or if not that, opening a desk drawer... well, anyway, there must be something.

So now you are ready for work, again I use an honest term rather loosely, and they break you in to the rigorous routine of the office. First you learn to play footie with the big blonde typist; she has to be big because she sits three desks away. Then try tit-tat-toe with the guy at the other end of the office using semaphore code.

When time hangs heavy, don't despair, because the salvation of all lies in "coffee time". If you are young and full of spirit you can try for an endurance record sitting in the coffee shop. The old timers only stay about a half an hour.

To get back to the material, you get a raise in pay every six months whether you need it or not. This is called an automatic. The first automatic raise after deductions amounts to 19 cents. This may sound like an exaggerated American success story but you will have to take my word for it.

Well, graduating and getting a job is a horrible thought at best, but I still think Moe the Fitz has the answer. Stay at Willy-mette until there are no more courses left to take, then transfer.

BEEFS and BOUQUETS

Letter to the Editor:

This Tuesday evening I spent another two hours in the Willamette library in an attempt to catch up on school work. However, as has been the case all winter long, both this year and last, I found it difficult, if not outright distracting, to try and put my mind to studying when the library is as cold as it has been. I note that the temperature reads about 62 degrees in the

Thanks

A sincere thanks to all of those who have helped me in putting out the feature page during the first semester of this year. It has been enjoyable working with the Collegian staff and the experience gained from them has greatly aided me.

In regard to resigning the position, I have found that it is difficult to mix atoms with an editorship and do a good job of it. I intend to maintain my courses in journalism, however, and join the staff of Collegian reporters.

I know that Stan Hawk, our new editor, will do a magnificent job of editing the page and he has already shown his ability as a writer.

Norman Stone

main section and a degree or two colder in the newspaper room, around 8:00 at night.

Also, consider the plight of the several music students who have practice hours at the music building in the evening. These practice rooms, located in the basement to begin with, are hardly conducive to effective work with a piano when fingers become too cold.

I understand that the central heating plant is shut down at 5:00 in the afternoon because there is no one kept there to see that steam is maintained. But the library and the music hall remain open for another four or more hours, and students find it necessary to use both places, of course. Why cannot the University see to it that heat is maintained in these buildings, at a reasonable degree of comfort and not cold? I wonder how many colleges in the country operate their libraries in the manner we find here?

This condition, as long as it persists, is not fair to the students enrolled at Willamette, who after all, are paying no little sum of money to remain in school. It seems to me that a situation such as this is entirely uncalled for and ought not to have arisen in the first place. Have the authorities concerned considered this matter at all?

—Bill Harris

(Editor's Note: The same might apply to Waller hall, especially the Collegian office.)

On the SOUTHard Side

By Wallace D. Southard

After driving around the other day for about forty-five minutes until I found a parking place within hitch-hiking distance of Willamette, I was irritated enough to try to find out why there were so many automobiles in this area at this time of year.

I contacted a few Willamette students and asked them why there was so much congestion around the school, and finally, after getting mumbled and somewhat incoherent answers, punctuated with the words "final examinations", the seventh student I talked to, a coed, told me that the legislature was in session in the capitol. (She was probably a major in political science.)

Having assuaged my irritation somewhat, I turned my attention to final examinations and asked myself, what is there about finals that will cause a student to direct his mental processes solely toward them, and make him oblivious to such an important function of state as the meeting of the legislature?

Well, I reasoned, examinations are important from the standpoint of the veterans. If they flunk out, the check stops coming every month, and they have to go to work. A horrible thought.

Then from the standpoint of the other students, if they fail, father will call them back home and put them to work in his sausage factory learning the business. That's a horrible thought, too.

The more I thought about the question, the more convinced I became that I should forget about it. I decided that students had a right to think about finals, even to the point of going around in a fog. But I had thought about the question too long, and the inevitable had to happen.

That evening in the library, Ed Nordyke came over to me and whispered, "Shall we go out and get a cup of coffee?"

"Bzz, rubble two, sine of Theta, final examinations", I answered.

Probation . . . No! Not That

(Name Withheld)

I'm on probation. One day I got a letter from the head office. It said something to the effect that I've been charged with excess cuts in one of my classes and would I please hurry on down and clear myself. I goes down and after a verbal tussle with three secretaries I figure that it's no use and I leave the place with a deep feeling of guilt.

"Just what is this probation?" I ask the first student I meet.

"Probation!", he says. "Well, I tell you, when you are on probation you can't participate in plays if you are a drama student, unless you use a stage name, and if you happen to be in the journalism department they won't let you work two nights a week helping to put out a sheet for the school."

"Well", I says, "I'm majoring in hiking. How does probation affect me?"

"It doesn't," he says, "unless you should happen to get in a position where you might be representing the university. Now you might do this if you should get lost some day. There would be a search and publicity and the first thing you know the papers would be full of information about the student from Willamette who got lost. Then you would be representing the school and the results of such a thing might be serious. My advice to you, (name withheld), is that if you get lost, don't get found."

With this thought on my mind I left my friend (name withheld), who is also on probation, and proceeded on my way. I have resolved that no more will I have such a stigma attached to my name and henceforth I will save my cuts for nothing but important occasions.

WU Cafeteria Fees Lowest in Northwest

By Eric Bergman
A survey compiled by mail through Miles Putnam, editor of the College of Puget Sound Trail, would seem to indicate that food prices at Willamette's cafeteria are on the average below that of other Northwest colleges.

Putnam postscripted in a letter to the Collegian that he "had to withhold the more favorable aspect of your (Willamette's) meal system" in the article published in the January 7 issue of the Trail, but "Willamette and EWCE look the best of all to me. Our January 14 issue has a letter from one of our (CPS) students highly praising Willamette."

Complains of Costs

The Trail article was published by Putnam after a student last fall complained of the high cost of meals at CPS. The survey of food prices which Putnam completed by mail included eight colleges in the Northwest including Willamette.

The average, and WU prices are here quoted for the information of students:

| Item                 | Aver. | WU |
|----------------------|-------|----|
| Bread and butter     | 4     | 4  |
| Toast                | 4½    | 5  |
| Milk                 | 8     | 5  |
| Coffee               | 5     | 5  |
| Fruit juice          | 9     | 6  |
| Tomato juice         | 8     | 6  |
| Hotcakes             | 14    | 15 |
| French toast         | 18½   | 15 |
| 2 eggs               | 22½   | 18 |
| Cereal and milk      | 14    | 10 |
| Spaghetti            | 23¼   | 23 |
| Meat dish            | 27    | 30 |
| Vegetable            | 9½    | 6  |
| Potatoes             | 9     | 6  |
| Soup                 | 10    | 10 |
| Chili                | 22    | 23 |
| Vegetable salad      | 11    | 12 |
| Green salad          | 10½   | 12 |
| Cottage cheese salad | 10½   | 12 |

Total .....240¼ 223

The Trail article, of course, was compiled last fall and prices may have changed since then, but on the whole, it seems to speak well of the prices at Willamette's cafeteria.

Class Officer Elections Set February 14

The date for the election of class officers has been set for Monday, February 14. The date has been moved up in order to avoid conflict with Religious Emphasis Week and also to give the officers elected as much time as possible to work out problems relating to Freshman Glee.

At the request of Al McMullen, student body second vice-president, class meetings have been called for 4 o'clock, Tuesday, February 9. The request was made to enable the Collegian to publish the names of nominees and thus insure fair and adequate publicity for all the candidates.

The seniors will meet in the Little Theatre, the sophomores in the chapel and the freshmen in Waller 306.

Law school juniors nominated John Horton for the presidential post; Howard Kaffun, vice-president; John Copenhaver, secretary-treasurer and Bill Stortz, representative.

Valentine Contest To Open in Cavern

A red and white valentine will be posted in the Bearcat Cavern on Monday, February 7, by a committee of students for the Valentine's Day drawing which will bring to the winning couple a valentine box of chocolates.

Only couples may sign up on the numbers on the heart, and one person may sign for the two.

The drawing will be made by ASWU president, George Hurt, on Valentine's Day.

A picture of Ted Loder, shown after a ducking last fall has been found in the Collegian files. Will the person who loaned the picture to the Collegian please pick it up on the editor's desk anytime next week.

Paeth to Visit High Schools As Counsellor

Charles A. Paeth, Jr., director of admissions, says he will visit "Portland suburban high schools January 31, February 1 and 2." He will accompany a group of representatives from other Oregon independent colleges.

"When such a group visits a high school", Mr. Paeth remarked, "it is for the purpose of giving information to, and counseling this year's graduate." During the visit, students who have chosen Willamette call at his table or room and he gives them information about what WU has to offer. He then makes individual appointments if they request further information about financial aid and specific requirements.

When he returns from a visit, he contacts each student he met, by letter, and takes up his specific case. This furnishes a direct contact for the person with the school and with a counselor. The purpose of Paeth's office is not only to further public relations but also to offer aid to the entering student.

Ritchie to Plan Sets for 'RUR'

With intensive practices starting next week, the final touches are being put on "Rossum's Universal Robots" which will be presented Wednesday, February 16, the second week of the new semester, in Waller hall.

The set for "R. U. R." is being designed by Carl Ritchie who has an interesting and unusual plan in mind. Eloise Purdy and Ray Fedje are in charge of costumes which have to be ordered from a New York costume house. Special costumes are being used by the robots.

Final casting for robots includes Maury Underwood, Doug Webb, Allan Franzke, Dave Anderson, George Juba and Dave Beckett.

Margaret Guice is in charge of ushers, Joan Baldaree and Dolores Banz are taking care of ticket sales, Ray Loter and Mary Louise Lee are working on publicity, and properties will be procured by Dorothy Wood and Marion Spann. Lighting and sound effects will be handled by Joe Power.

The price of tickets will be announced in the February issue of the Collegian.

In "Rossum's Universal Robots", the Religious Emphasis Week play, a mechanical man and woman are transformed into a new Adam and Eve to begin again a world of living, breathing, reasoning humanity. The only human not killed in the mass massacre of the human race realizes the truths of all the ages in the epilogue of "R. U. R." by Karel Capek.

William Merriam, Freshman Glee manager from Salem, who was this week named Rotarian for the month of February by the student council. He succeeds Eric Bergman, Collegian editor, Rotarian for January.

Huffman to Act As Consultant For Art Gallery

Esther Huffman, acting professor of art, is now the consultant to the art gallery of the R. L. Elfstrom Company in Salem.

Upon the resignation of Larry Boulter, management of the gallery and art supply department has been taken over by Mrs. Karl Becke and Mrs. Maison, with Mrs. Huffman acting as the consultant in her spare time.

The gallery re-opened yesterday with a showing of watercolor painting by Carl Hall, the university artist in residence.

The new supervisors plan to re-arrange the gallery and provide more interesting exhibits in the future, among which will be a collection of Sung porcelain, a number of Matisse drawings, and a collection of Old English silver.

Dorm Full As Semester Close Nears

By Phil Gallo

In reply to the Collegian's query, "How many men will be moved into Baxter hall next semester?", the only reply from Dean Raymond Withey was, "I wish I knew."

At present the dorm is so full that the Phi Delt's have had to move Schneebles outside to his dog house. Twenty-five have planked the ten-spot on the line to be put on the Baxter waiting list, with only 10 or 12 vacancies coming up. When pledges move into fraternity houses their places in Baxter will be filled by independent men.

No changes are to be made in the occupancy of Laurel hall, as the 19 Rooks plan to remain there. At the last tally, 32 freshmen were living off campus in cellars, old attics, and the YMCA. Forty-two upperclassmen are non-campus residents and 72 "old folks" are married men living off the WU grounds.

The housing problem will be alleviated slightly, according to Withey, by the fact that no new freshmen are to be admitted the second semester and next year those who so desire will be knit into "one big happy family" at Baxter.

Bar Examiners Meet Lawyers

The Board of Bar Examiners of the Oregon State Bar association will have a luncheon with the senior class and faculty of the Law school at the Senator hotel today. The purpose of the meeting is to suggest study methods and also types of questions to expect for the Bar examination in July.

Cat Teamwork—Logue to Brouwer

Linfield, Pilots Term-end Foes For Lewismen in Cage Clashes

With a tight Northwestern conference race taking form, the local cagers will need a win over Linfield when they meet in the Willamette gym next Friday night after a week's lay-off for exams. The following Tuesday the talented Lewismen will travel to Portland where they tackle the high flying Pilots in a return engagement.

In their first Linfield game, the Bearcats forged ahead in the final minutes of play to win by a 51-44 count in a hard fought game. Bob Williams was the TNT of the Linfield offense that night, totaling 19 points and playing a steady defensive game. Linfield Has 1-1 Record

To date, the Linfielders have broken even in conference play with a win over the hapless Pacific Badgers, against their earlier loss to the Bearcats. Willamette has a 2-1 record in conference starts, their only loss being administered by Lewis and Clark in an upset. With such talented men as Williams and Neil Abrahamson, Coach Glen Hubbard's Wildcats will be out to "skin the Bearcat".

Regardless of the former meeting of the clubs, the Bearcats will hold the edge by virtue of the Pacific comparison. The Jaspers walloped Pacific by a 34 point margin while the Wildcats could do no better than 9.

Cats Invade Pilot's Court

When the Bearcats tangle with Portland university again in Portland, the Pilots will be favored by virtue of their earlier 65-60 win. In that game the diminutive Chinese flash, "Happy" Lee, rang up 24 points in one of his first big scoring nights of the season.

However, Willamette fans can give the Bearcats hope since in their previous meeting the Pilot edge early in the game was the determining factor. Throughout the second half the Cats dominated the play.

Pilots Edge Seattle

The Pilots are fresh from a sweep of two games from the Seattle College Chieftans, who twice defeated Willamette last season.

Coach Lewis is now busy grooming a very capable second team, which has shown the fans some excellent basketball and they will undoubtedly be the bulk of next season's starters.

Bearcats Drop NW Conference Lead to Pioneers, Tip Vanport

By Dave Card

Any hopes held by Willamette basketball fans that the Bearcat hoop squad would come through with a perfect record in Northwest conference play came to a rude ending last Friday, as the Lewis and Clark Pioneers upset the Lewismen 65-56 on the winner's home court. This Willamette loss tumbled the Bearcats from the league lead into a tie for second place with the College of Idaho, and handed the top spot to the Pioneers. Willamette regained a measure of prestige Tuesday, rolling to a lopsided 85-54 win over the Vanport Vikings in the Willamette gym.

Friday's game saw big Bob Pollard of Lewis and Clark prove just too much for the Bearcats to handle, pouring in 24 counters before he fouled out in the final few minutes. Ted Loder, Willamette's freshman flash, kept the Willamette squad close behind Coach Eldon Fix's Pioneer quint, but fouled out with approximately eleven and one half minutes remaining in the game.

Neither team seemed at top form for the game, but the Fixmen came nearer to their normal form, especially at the free-throw line. Lewis and Clark connected for 20 out of 26 free throws in the second half, and this deadliness at the foul line was a vital factor in the win.

Following Pollard in the Lewis and Clark scoring came Gordy Mills with 14 counters. Dean Sempert also played an outstanding game for the winners, combining with Pollard to control the backboards, and checking Willamette high-scorer Bob Johnson to three field goals.

J. Johnson Scores 16

After a slow start, center Jim Johnson bagged high point honors for the Willamette quintet, scoring 14 points in the second half to give a total of 16. Loder scored 12 points even though fouling out early.

The tiff was marked by a total of 50 fouls called by officials Chappie King and George Yerkovich, with three Bearcats and two Pioneers leaving the game via the foul route. An additional technical foul was called on Willamette Coach Johnny Lewis for protesting the calling of Loder's fifth foul.

Willamette Win Easy

The Willamette-Vanport fracas was strictly no contest, with brothers Jim and Bob Johnson pacing the Bearcats to a 32-9 lead with six and one half minutes left in the first half. At this point the subs took over and ran the halftime score to 41-23. With the starting lineup back in at the opening of the second half, Willamette stretched its lead to 62-26 midway through the half. From there on in, Coach Lewis let the Willamette subs see extensive service, with the final score standing 85-54 in favor of the Bearcats.

Willamette, after a poor passing attack shown during the first part of the game, demonstrated some smooth floor-work in the second half. In an attempt to gain the utmost height advantage over the short Vikings, Lewis started 6' 5" Doug Logue at guard, and this move paid off as the winners controlled the backboards throughout.

Eight Squads Open Mural Volleyball Mix

Volleyball play will open on Wednesday, February 9, according to Les Sparks, intramural director. With basketball over and the indoor net artists straining at the leash, ten teams have entered squads in the championship fight, with several others tentatively planning to compete.

Those now signed up include Sigma Chi, Phi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, Rubes, Baxter Hall, Laurel Hall, the Band, the Law School, and the Independents.

Tough Schedule Facing WU Frosh Quintet After Exams

Coach Jerry Lillie's Froshcats will temporarily swap basketballs for textbooks during the final exam week, but will resume basketball by playing Linfield, OSC, Portland and Grants Pass in the week following examinations.

Riding the crest of an enviable 11-1 record the Willamette Frosh will renew warfare against the strong Linfield Freshmen next Friday night before the varsity encounter. The last time these two teams met, Willamette managed to eke out a one-point, 36-35 win.

It will be remembered that in their first meeting the Bearkitts had trailed for three quarters before finally forging ahead. A strong Linfield finish fell short. However, the Wildcat team has lost its star player, guard Bill Anderson, to their varsity. While, on the contrary, the local five have been strengthened by two additions, Al and Hugh Bellinger from the varsity.

The local future varsity hopes will face the powerful Oregon State Rooks at Corvallis next Saturday night. The OSC Rooks hold wins over the Oregon Frosh, Tigard and Lebanon. The Oregon Staters have only one loss marring their record and that was a 41-36 defeat by Salem high, who the locals downed 39-37.

The Portland Babes play host to the Bearkitts Tuesday, February 5. The Pilot frosh already have Lillie's squad notched on their belts, giving the latter their only loss of the campaign to date, a 49-44 edging. In the previous outing "Skooter" Skuzeski scored 21 points to pace the Babes.

Thursday, February 10, the Bearkitts will travel south to engage with the Grants Pass high Cavemen. The Cavemen are paced by sharp-shooting forward Vernon Craft and center Keith Bertrand.

'Kits Continue Victory Splurge With Wins Over L&C, Molalla

The Freshman basketballers moved toward the end of their first semester in Willamette togas by trouncing Lewis and Clark 49-31 last Friday night in Portland, and Molalla high 49-26 on Tuesday night.

To date, the freshmen have lost only one game, that being to Portland, and have won 11, for an impressive record at the half-way mark in the season.

Waldo Unruh hit the hemp for 16 points in the L and C game, and was high point man for the game, although Forward Reid was close behind with 15 for the Pioneers.

As has been the case in most of the games played this season, the Froshcats led all the way in the Lewis and Clark game, being on the long end of a 33-19 score at the halftime whistle.

The Molalla game was strictly

"no contest" as the 24-point difference in the score shows. Dave Chamberlain and Dan Montag led the Bearkit attack with 7 points apiece. All 14 men on the Frosh squad scored, and the 'Cats were able to "hog tie" all the Buckeroos except a flashy little guard, Grant Schiewe, who was high man with 12 counters.

Phi Alphas, Rubes Finalists For Mural Basketball Title

By Bill Bonnington

By virtue of their two win, one loss record in this week's intramural basketball playoffs, the Rubes won the right to meet the undefeated Phi Alpha A's for the 1948-49 championship. Third place goes to the Phi Deltas with one win and two losses, while the winless Sheiks took over the number four spot.

In the opening night of the playoffs on Monday, the Phi Delt five squeaked through to a 32-31 victory over the Rubes. The Rubes had victory in their grasp after a long uphill fight when they stole the ball in the last seconds of play, but they missed their lay-in just as the gun went off. Al Blacic of the losers and John Slanchik of the winners were high for the game with 12 counters each.

In the nightcap the Phi Alphas rolled over the Sheik's quintet by a 48-21 margin. The fraternity men grabbed the lead in the first minute with a basket by Bob Douglas and were never in danger. Douglas and Bob Lokie topped the scorers with 15 and 13 points respectively.

Tuesday night in the second round, the Rubes came back to edge the Sheiks, 33-31. After a close game throughout, the Rubes held tight to their slim lead to grab their first playoff victory. Ambrose D'Eagle led the Rubes with 11 and Ivan Lowe was high for the losers with 15.

Phi Alphas Win Again

The Phi Alpha squad racked up another victory in the night's closer with a 22-16 win over the Phi Deltas. The Phi Alphas showed lots of ball handling ability in a slow moving game. The scoring was led by Chuck Bowe and Al Miles of the victors with five and six points respectively, and Rog Adams and Ron Coffey of the Phi Deltas with seven and five.

The Rubes got sweet revenge Wednesday night as they returned the Phi Delt's compliment of Monday and whipped the fraternity squad by a narrow 21-20 margin.

Sigs Upset Has Beens

In last week's games, the Sigs grabbed their first win at the expense of the Has Beens, 32-25, as Bill Kukahiko dropped in ten points to take high honors for the Has Beens and for the game.

"B" league play found the Betas slipping by the Phi Delt B's in a defensive battle, 10-8, and the Phi Alpha B's romping the Phi Delt C's, 25-12.

Sports Orbit

by Oakes

A week of rest is on the agenda for our hard playing Bearcats with nary a contest to be played until February 4 when the Linfield Wildcats invade the local lair. The game will usher in the final eight-game stretch drive for the basketballers, seven of which are conference games. Of the 16 games already played only three have been with conference teams. The remaining non-loop affair will be a return match with the Portland Pilots at Portland, February 21.

Bearcats Lose, Scribes Cool Off

What with Eldon Fix's Pioneer crew chopping down our Bearcats to size it's interesting to note how fast the scribe experts around these parts have quickly switched to another party as favorites to win the loop title.

It was the Associated Press that put our Cats on the spot at the first of the season by naming them the team to beat in the loop race.

Scribe Bill Hulen, who keeps tabs on the Northwest conference race for the Oregonian, has this to say in his Sunday "Northwest Notes" column: "Lewis and Clark's 65-60 thumping of the Willamette Bearcats Friday night makes two facts pretty clear concerning the current Northwest conference basketball race. They are: (1) It's unpredictable and (2), the definite L-C title threat."

We'll Still Take Our Bearcats

Hulen also a few weeks ago designated our Cats the team to beat which may have had a lot to do with the locals getting the "favorites" tag stuck on them.

Well, we haven't given up the cause yet and still think the Bearcats will take it. To be sure they're going to have to show more than they have up to now but we believe they "have it" and will impress it on the Pioneers when they show up here February 18.

To our mind the big question mark is still the ability of guard Ted Johnson to make a definite comeback. Last year it was his drive that pushed the Lewismen along as far as they got and if he can recapture it in time it could mean the championship. He'll make no 257 points this year as last but his drive may be the thing that will count.

Staff Replacement, Reynolds for Oakes

We never thought that as sports editor we would ever write an obituary. Yet that is exactly what we're doing right now. Yep, this is the last time that "Sports Orbit" will appear in the Collegian and the last time that the Sports Page will be edited by one Jim Oakes.

It's kind of hard relinquishing command and stepping out of harness with the Collegian but we feel that Dale Reynolds, who has been the editor's right-hand man for the past year, will make a fine, capable and responsible editor. He will take over in the next (Feb. 11) issue.

Many, Many Thanks in Order

Before closing the door, however, this editor would like to make a few acknowledgements. First of all to coaches Jerry Lillie, John Lewis and Les Sparks goes hearty thanks for the splendid cooperation throughout the past year.

Our thanks also go to Publicity Director Charles Barekley who always gave us a helping hand when most needed.

Then, last but far from least, many thanks to the staff that worked so hard and faithfully the past semester. They are Ken Nerison, Dave Card, John Williams, Mickey Newell, Bill Bonnington, Lowell Maudlin, Joyce Kelley and Dale Reynolds, the trusty right hand man who shouldered much of the burden of the editor.

WHAT'S COOKING?

We've had a large number of inquiries from college men who want to know how to get into Aviation quickly—We think the idea is fine, but it isn't as easy as all of that. But, you can save time, get to be self-supporting in a shorter length of time and lay a foundation for a prosperous future career with great opportunities, and rapid advancement.

First of all, to undergraduates: continue and complete your education if possible. But if your plans are upset and you do not know what course to follow, get in touch with us, we may be able to help you.

Secondly, if you are an engineering student about to graduate, call us, we can help you after graduation to familiarize yourself with aircraft engineering practices that will enable you to step directly into a responsible aircraft position.

We have many college students and graduates with us who are filling the gap between academic education and practical application on the job.

If you are interested in Aviation and more money, it will pay you to get full details.

Spring Rushing Opens February 7 With Panels

AN campus unaffiliated women interested in rushing during spring rush week from February 8 through 10, are urged to attend two panel discussions on Monday, February 7, for the purpose of acquainting them with the Panhellenic organization on campus and the national women's fraternities here.

The first informal discussion group will be conducted by the Pledge Panhellenic Council at 4:30 on February 7 in Waller hall chapel. The Panhellenic Council will answer further questions on the campus chapters and the process of rushing at a meeting of all interested women at 6:30, also in the chapel. Since both panels will be informal in the hopes of enlightening the prospective rushee with the rushing procedure at Willamette, the councils hope all interested women will attend.

Scheduled functions during the spring rush week will begin on Tuesday, February 8, with open houses at the four sorority houses from 3:15 to 5:15. Since there will be no registration for spring rush, women wishing to attend the open houses will meet in front of Waller at 3 to be escorted to the four houses. Rushees will pick up their bids at 6:30 the same evening in the office of Mrs. Alice Nelson, Panhellenic advisor. Informal firesides will be held at the houses from 7:30 to 8:30 Tuesday night.

Two informal functions are scheduled for Wednesday which are a salad between 4 and 5 and a fireside from 7:30 to 8:30. Rushees will pick up their bids at the Panhellenic office in the gym at 9:30 Wednesday night.

Preferential functions will be a tea from 4:15 until 5 and a dinner from 6:30 to 8:30 Thursday, February 10. After the rushees pick up their final bids at 9:15 they will immediately return to the house of their preference for firesides until 10:30, late hour granted for the evening.

No communication between fraternity members (house and town girls) and rushees will be allowed during rush week except during rush functions and at the Panhellenic office. Silence shall begin immediately after open houses and shall terminate with the acceptance of formal bids by the rushees on Thursday evening. A Panhellenic pledge fee of $1 shall be assessed each woman pledging a fraternity.

Any women who have further questions concerning rushing are urged to see Mrs. Nelson in her office which is in the gym.

These staunch and sturdy westerners hanging over the bar attended the Delta Gamma "Sutter's Creek" dance last Friday night. Nonnie Faaborg is dressed as a bag of gold and Jean Carrico is a Mexican senorita. Escorts Jim Minturn and Ted Busselle are representing western gentlemen.

Adams Leaves Page to Lee; Prevues Spring Social Whirl

Although students and faculty alike are apparently rejoicing over the new social restrictions and limitations, they are dejecting news for the social editor of this weekly. It is therefore with deepest sympathies for her that I turn over the social whirl of WU to my predecessor, Mary Lee.

Having glanced over the somewhat meager social calendar recently compiled by Bill Harris and his organization representatives, I discover most of the social activities which Mary will be typing out for the reader next semester. I cannot foretell the announcement of rings and wedding bells which are always life-savers to "soc" editors, but below is a short preview of the extent of the social life of the average WU student during spring semester.

Cupids, hearts and lace will bedeck the Pi Beta Phi house on February 12 for their annual Valentine formal which seems to be the only dance scheduled for the month. Religious Emphasis Week, which will feature firesides at all living organizations on February 15 and the production of the play, "R. U. R.", the next two evenings, will be sponsored on campus the second week of the month. Only other events besides several basketball games are all sorority initiations on February 19 and Lausanne Open House the next day.

Absence of any activity will prevail the first two weeks in March except for Freshman Glee. All Friday and Saturday nights during the month will be filled with formals and semi-formals starting with the Inter-Fraternity and Chi Omega formals on the 11 and 12. Other dances are the Bags-Sax dinner dance, the Delta Gamma semi-formal, the Alpha Chi Omega formal, the In-dep formal and the Lettermen's ball over which a freshman girl will rule as queen.

"Women will pay all" at an ASWU dance on April 16, while Beta Theta Pi will entertain with their formal the following weekend. The last weekend of the month will find everyone hoping for sunshine for the annual May festivities which will continue through Sunday, May 1.

Phi Alpha, Sigma Chi and Phi

Delta Gammas Elect Officers

In top position at the Delta Gamma house during the next year will be Inie Lou Wilhelm, who was elected to the presidency in Tuesday chapter meeting. Earlyne Foley will step into the vice-president's position.

Recording and correspondent secretaries will be Gloria Stone and Louise Holmes, while chapter and house treasurers elected were Margaret Atwood and Jean Rickli. Jean Carrico and Martha Brooks will be scholarship and rush chairmen, respectively. Filling the social chairman's post will be Nonnie Faaborg. Polly Pollock will represent the DG house on the Panhellenic council.

Ritual, standards and activity chairmen will be Doris Walser, Shirley Ambler and Mary Louise Hinkle, respectively. Anchor correspondent and historian will be Ellen Montague, while Joan Holbeck will handle publicity for the sorority. Nancy Phillips will be work manager.

Delta Theta have all planned formals for May 6 and 7. Baxter hall will entertain formally May 28. Beach trips by the four classes

Since she is graduating next month from Willamette, Addy Lane turned over the gavel which she wielded this past semester as president of Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, to Pat Holtz, vice-president.

Dean Regina Ewalt and Miss Olive M. Dahl were special guests at the luncheon at the Golden Arrow yesterday when Miss Lane turned over her presidential duties. Other members of the honorary present were Vera Jack, Aldene Gould, Marilee Olson and Virginia Atkinson.

Truman Higher Education Report Starts Controversy

President Smith Finds Major Faults in Proposed Program

By Charles Carter

A current target for much discussion on a nationwide scale is the report handed to President Truman by the President's Commission on Higher Education. This report runs to six volumes and covers practically all phases of higher education, including its basis on elementary and secondary schools. Much of the report covers government aid in the fields of general support, capital outlay and individual tuitions. The commission proposes that under the federally aided program, the nation's faculty members would number some 300,000 and college students would number 4,600,000 by 1960.

The last issue of Time magazine (Jan. 24) carries an article concerning the recent meeting of the Association of American Colleges which was attended by some 400 college presidents, including Dr. G. Herbert Smith of Willamette. Below are presented excerpts from the Time story and from some controversial sections of the report, together with comments by, and the declared opinions of, President Smith as given to the Collegian (at the Collegian's request). It should be born in mind that this is a highly controversial issue and space prohibits anything approaching a comprehensive presentation. Dr. Smith's opinions are his own and do not necessarily imply those of the association, of which he is a director.

TIME SAYS: "... (the college presidents') biggest worry: whether to ask for federal aid. They decided ... by endorsing ... federal scholarships for college students ... But (they didn't like) everything the commission said ... They (were not) in favor of blindly distributing scholarships without a stiff examination of ... intelligent merits and financial needs ..."

DR. SMITH SAYS: "I am convinced that colleges should not ask for direct appropriations from the federal government to aid the colleges. Support should continue to come from the local constituency. The federal dollar cannot be appropriated without federal regulation and, ultimately, federal control."

TIME QUOTES THE COLLEGE PRESIDENTS as saying: "The association sees in the proposal of the ... Commission for a sudden rise in the number of ... college students (see above) a great danger that we shall multiply our educational performance at its lowest level ..."

DR. SMITH expresses agreement with this statement and belief that it is possible for total enrollment to exceed the college potential.

THE COMMISSION'S REPORT (Vol. V, financing) states:

"... Federal funds for the general support of higher education should be distributed among the states on an equalization basis ... Government to give some aid ... (to) the wealthier states, but its primary responsibility is to insure ... an acceptable minimum program in the poorer states ..."

DR. SMITH SAYS: "Pretty theory, but impractical. The federal government must of necessity check on the taxpayer's money wherever it is appropriated. Furthermore, no tax dollar is increased in buying power by virtue of a trip to Washington. The states now have all the power to tax which is necessary to give adequate support to public higher education."

THE COMMISSION'S REPORT states: "... Federal funds for the support of current educational activities and for general capital outlay should be appropriated for use only in institutions under public control (i.e., state schools) ..."

DR. SMITH is of the opinion that this is vital to the preservation of the present "check-and-balance" maintained between public and private institutions, although he does not approve of the plan of which it is a provision.

THE REPORT states: "... Sound public policy demands ... that state and local public educational bodies be able to exercise at all times the right to review and control educational policies in any institution or agency for which public monies are appropriated and expended ..."

DR. SMITH states that this is necessary for this type of program, but that the program itself, as a whole, is not acceptable.

THE REPORT states: "... (there should be) free choice ... (of) educational institution, regardless of whether ... under public, private, or church control ... scholarships and fellowships ... are paid directly to the qualifying individuals."

DR. SMITH SAYS: "This is acceptable to the Association of American Colleges and is proper in case of a federal program of scholarships."

Co-ed Short Story Contest Offered By Mademoiselle

Mademoiselle, fashion magazine for women, is again holding its annual short story contest for women undergraduates. Awards of $500 are being given for each of the two best stories and they will be published in the August, 1949 issue of Mademoiselle.

The contest is for women undergraduates only and stories which have appeared in undergraduate college publications are also acceptable if they have not been published elsewhere. Length of the stories is to be 3,000 to 5,000 words, type-written, double-spaced on one side of the paper only, and are to be accom-

Herb Opens Used Car Lot at Eaton

Encroachment on the field of free advertising was found in the guise of "Honest Herb's Used Car Lot" placed unceremoniously on the front porch of Eaton hall early last Wednesday morn. The "Lot" consisted of one (1) slightly used Ford sedan, vintage of 1916, owned and operated by Jack Weisser and Don Benson, both freshmen. The car, by the way, was found in fine condition, barring the status of the tires (all were flat) and the absence of the steering wheel.

Also, residing on said lot was one (1) doghouse in extremely fine condition due to recent construction following the latest motif and belonging to one (1) Schneebles, mascot of the Phi Delta wing. Schneebles, after spending a cold night in the snow, failed to make any comment about the loss of his house.

Dean Withey Cracks Down On Excuses

Dean of Students Raymond Withey this week indicated that many students are still confused concerning the procedure to be used in submitting excuses to his office for classes and chapels missed.

He issued the following statement regarding such procedure: "Persons desiring to be excused from class because of illness must secure an excuse blank signed by the school nurse. This means that anyone becoming ill must inform the nurse at once in order for her to put his name on the list of ill students and thereby entitle him to a legitimate excuse for illness."

Signatures Important

"Anyone desiring to be excused from class for any reason other than illness must secure an excuse slip signed by either the Dean of Women or the Dean of Students. Such excuses must be secured, for the most part, in advance before such an absence takes place, except in the case of absolute necessity when due to some unforeseen emergency when a student is prevented from attending class and must notify the Dean of Students of such absence after the event."

Instructors' Signatures

"After securing an excuse slip, properly filled out by either the nurse or the Personnel Deans, the students must then secure the signature of each instructor of each class which he has missed, thus clearing his absence with his teachers. After doing this, he must return the completed excuse slip to the Office of Dean of Students."

"All excuse slips must be returned within a two-week period of the time of such absence for which they are made out. Failure to return the excuses within a two-week period of such absence will result in such excuse slips being invalid and not accepted," Dr. Withey stated.

Salem to Hear World Famous St. Olaf Choir

The world famous St. Olaf choir will present a program of choral arrangements in the Salem high school auditorium, Monday, February 7, at 8:15, with special rates for students. Directed by Olaf C. Christiansen, son of the founder, the choir has since its inception in 1911 been acknowledged as one of America's foremost choirs.

Composed of St. Olaf college students, the choir has performed annually for the past twenty-two years in joint concert with the Minneapolis symphony orchestra. Called one of the seven musical wonders of America by John Sherman of the Minneapolis Star-Journal, the organization has been the feature attraction during many notable gatherings, such as the Inter-nation rotary and the National convention of music supervisors.

During its local appearance, the choir will sing several arrangements which have been presented by the Willamette a cappella choir. These include Benedictus, A Joyous Christmas Song and others.

It is possible to secure tickets for this production through any member of the Willamette a cappella choir.

Seniors Average 2 Years Older At Penn College

State College, Pa. (IP)—The trend toward older graduating seniors still continues at the Pennsylvania State college. The average senior on this campus now is nine months older than the average senior of two years ago, according to a study just completed by Dean of Admissions William S. Hoffman.

The average senior today is 23.4 years of age as compared to 22.6 years in 1946. In the pre-war year of 1938, he was only 21.8 years of age.

Musically Inclined Freshmen Sought by New Glee Chairman

By James Miller

Introducing Larry O'Dell, the smiling Irishman from Coos Bay, who, having been recently elected to the post of Glee chairman for the freshman class, has begun his regime with an extensive survey of all freshmen interested in music. This survey was in full swing the earlier part of this week and materialized in a meeting of some twelve enthusiasts on Wednesday.

The group formulated several important phases of the coming Glee with the selection of the uniforms for the freshman class. According to O'Dell, "They will consist, for the women, of white skirts and blouses with a black ribbon collar, black flats and hose; and, for the men, dark or black suits, dark shoes and dark bow ties."

Preparations for the coming event necessitated the selection of committees to centralize the class into a more organized unit. Committee chairmen elected at this time were: Bill Strobbe and Gladys Blue, co-chairmen for selecting the class song; Ann Swanson and Ann Corthell, to organize the formation; Betty Jean Mullin, to organize and register participants; Delia Saabye, Marilyn Dixon and Shirley Dean, to formulate the class parodies; Bill Bissell, director of the song; Jim Gay, director of the formation, and Beverly Gustafson, to take charge of a committee for the playing of the song on Glee night.

Larry, flushed from a brisk walk between dorms and the various outposts of the campus tracking down assistance in the preparations for Glee, stated, "All in all, class spirit has been somewhat lacking. I imagine the managers for the other classes are meeting the same obstacles, but the Freshman class should realize that their class is sponsoring this event and are naturally frowned upon by the other three classes. Those who are helping are doing a fine job, but to organize and WIN this Glee we've got to have the entire class behind us 100%."

Commentary on the Week's News

THE WORLD AT PEACE: Since Chiang's "resignation," Acting President Li Tsung-jen is reported to have ordered 50,000 Nationalist troops, loyal to him personally, to move from the Hankow area to the Nanking defense line. The Red forces are within a few miles of the city as we go to press. Chiang, whose withdrawal from the government is said by some Chinese officials as not constituting a resignation, has moved to the south, together with some personal troops. The Nationalists have officially announced that they are moving the capitol to the south, probably to Canton. There is some question as to whether the people in the Canton area will be friendly to the change. The Reds at the same time announced that they will be willing to talk peace as soon as the newly captured Peiping is completely secured. The terms that they have offered so far are said to be harsh... The big subject for discussion on the European scene seems to be the new aid program that Moscow has proposed. It would be limited to the Russian sphere, which would theoretically give borderline countries an added incentive to join that coalition. The question is, are any or all of those countries in a position to give aid to anyone. Yugoslavia is evidently left out and that would automatically eliminate Albania, since Tito holds Albania's communication lines... The North Atlantic defense pact seems to be gaining strength and members. It looks as though Sweden may eventually be the only major holdout among the western nations... The peace talks on the Palestine issue are said to be making progress. Mediator Ralph Bunche appears to us to be a rarity among UN personnel: a man who gets things done... In the current elections in Israel, Premier Ben-Gurion's pro-American, anti-Communist party is said to have a substantial lead. This should dampen the persistent rumors of Red backing.

The Home Front: An issue that can be expected to boil for some time is the announcement by the American Property Owners association that there will be 600 immediate evictions (and probably more later) in protest to rent control. Washington has expressed horror and typical sterility in stating that any counter-action is limited to local rent control agencies... Republican sources have announced that Tom Dewey will be a candidate in the next senatorial election. If he wins, it is said, he will once more be a candidate for presidential nomination. His major opponent in such a situation would probably be Taft (if he weathers the election and keeps his seat)... Gov. McKay has protested to Washington against the CVA... State legislation kicked out the lieutenant governor bill

College Retains Honor System
New York, N. Y. (IP)—Barnard College students recently voted overwhelmingly to retain an honor system at the College in preference to strict proctoring, but at least half of the students indicated that they would not report cheating if they saw it during exams or other academic work.

College Retains Honor System

The vote came at a student meeting called to re-examine the present honor system, which has been in effect for thirty-seven years. Nearly 600 of the enrolled 1,100 students were present.

Concert Cancelled

The Willamette band concert planned for last night at Sherwood, Oregon was cancelled Wednesday because road conditions became unsafe, according to band director Maurice Brennen.

The cancellation does not affect the Eastern Oregon concert tour which plans to visit Bend, Redmond and Prineville in the middle of February.
