McMullen, Brown, Bolliger Win In Elections as Sophs Revote

Political victors are polishing up acceptance speeches and putting campaign promises into action today as Willamette recovers from the excitement of Monday's and Tuesday's class elections. Top men in the senior, junior and freshman classes are Bob McMullen, Jack Brown and Ralph Bolliger. Lou Prediletto and Glenn Halliday tied for the sophomore presidency.

Eight deadlocks between hopefuls have made necessary a revote which will be taken Tuesday and Wednesday. A majority of the 538 votes cast during the balloting is required for election, according to Art Dimond, election manager.

Inter-Class Rivalry Expected

Campaign promises indicate a great deal of inter-class rivalry this semester.

Bob McMullen, of Taft, president of the seniors, has vowed to keep the Whip Whitman trophy which they captured last year, and win Freshman Glee. "We'll let everyone know the class of '50 is on the campus."

Jack Brown, junior prexy victor from The Dalles says, "Our class is living and planning for Freshman Glee."

Ralph Bolliger, freshman leader from Portland confesses, "I don't know what to do about the sophomores and upper-classmen but Homecoming plans are nearly complete."

Seniors Post Winners

Other senior winners are vice-president, Cece Johnson; secretary, Ruth James; treasurer, Margaret Austin; sergeant-at-arms (revote) Howie Lorenz and Joe Brazie.

Junior officers are vice-president (revote) Joan Klindworth and Diane Proctor; secretary, Margy Powell; treasurer, Dick Bolton; sergeant-at-arms, W. Hedeon.

Freshman Officers Elected

Elected to freshman posts were vice-president (revote) Bob Miller and John Skimus; secretary, Marilyn Whaley; treasurer (revote) Prudence Edwards and Steve Nicks; sergeant-at-arms, Jim Jackson, Norman Lawson; class representative (revote) Bob Bain and Rollin Cocking.

The Law school, which had balloting last week, elected senior president, Berkley Lent; junior president, George D. Wilson; freshman president, Eddie Nordyke; vice-president, William Hughes; secretary - treasurer, Carlotta Hendricks.

'Varieties' Opens Tomorrow Night

Show to Boost Campus Chest

Radio and television are doomed for a decline tomorrow night as Varsity Varieties, in its fourth year under the direction of Ray Loter, prepare to give Willamette's version of the goings-on in a radio and television station. The wireless' loss will be the Campus Chest's gain with all proceeds headed for this fund. Time and place of this gag-filled extravaganza is 8 p.m. at the Salem high school auditorium.

A slam-bang program of the ultra-genius variety includes a hillbilly act, a Danny Kaye dance routine, tap dancing, can-can girls, singing commercials, a give away program, Louella Parsnips—Hollywood commentator, barbershop singing, amorous tunes by campus crooners, and many other acts "to hot to reveal at this time!!"

Script writers Carol Ann Kelly, Bob Scott, George Bynois, Prudence Craig, Marion Sparks and Dave Beckett are reported to have combed the depths of the works of Joe Miller in an effort to provide the best in belly laughs.

Over 200 WU women are carrying out a telephone campaign to spread the good word to the Salem townspeople. Choice acts from the show will be presented this afternoon over KSLM.

Tickets for the show are on sale at Millers, Bergs and Quisenberrys.

Committees for the production are Jack Gunn, publicity; Gloria Stone, musical assistant; Amarillis Lillis and Joan Mintonya, production assistants; Louis Hammer, stage manager; Vern Adkison, stage crew; Phil Hammond, and Marian Spann, production assistants.

Speakers Needed

With only a few students turning out for forensics last week, Frank Lockman, forensics manager, has extended the period when students may express their interest in speaking. He urges anyone who is interested whether he has had experience in contest speaking or not to attend a meeting Monday at 3 p.m. in Waller 203.

According to Lockman, six students turned out and only two of them are veteran speakers. Trips are planned to such places as Stanford, Stockton, Tacoma and Missoula and speakers are badly needed he says.

Miniature Football Signs Win Campus Chest Sign Contest

Little signs with a football theme proved more effective than "Dumpy Dolores" to judges who awarded first prize to the committee headed by Al Miller for the Campus Chest contest.

Miller's committee, which included Bill Merriam, Millard Bates, Wes Stauffer, Loren Renton, Dave Hardy and Herman Peters won with their entry portraying a football field with minute players who advanced toward goal as contributions swelled.

Wednesday evening money received had reached $250 which was $1050 short of the goal.

Campus Chest chairman Jean Carrico urged every student to attend Varsity Varieties, benefit talent show tomorrow night in the Salem high school auditorium, with proceeds of the presentation going to the Chest which Miss Carrico said "was far behind the expected schedule."

The program is made up solely of Willamette talent. Admission is 75c for students and one dollar for town people.

Tickets are on sale in all living units, the student body office, 'Cat Cavern, Eaton hall, and at Salem high on the night of the show.

Proceeds from the Chest go to finance worthwhile community projects and the World Student Service fund, which is an international organization, collecting money to rebuild the ruined universities of Europe.

Forty-seven per cent of the donations last year went toward this project.

Chapel Notice

An ASWU student body meeting will assume the important role in Tuesday chapel next week, with all students expected to attend, except those otherwise excused.

On Thursday, a popular speaker from last year will appear at the Methodist church. Prof. John Schroder from Linfield college will deliver the address.

WU Collegian Again Rates All-American

The Collegian once again joined the ranks of "All-American" college newspapers this week when the results of judging by the Associated Collegiate Press were released.

With classes divided into four sections — All-American, first, second, and third—the Collegian staff was able to maintain its long-standing honor rating in competition with newspapers of universities all over the country.

The Collegian has varied from this standing only seven times in recent years, and then it was to receive the Pacemaker award which is granted to only a very small percentage of American college papers.

The judging placed this newspaper in the category of universities of 1000 to 2499 enrollment, making the award doubly pleasing in view of the size of Willamette.

Especially praised were Ed Fitzsimon's cartoons, the feature page, and the nameplate, while makeup on the editorial page, the typography, and the column nameplate of "Cat Chats" drew the greatest criticism from the press association.

Eric Bergman, former editor of the Collegian, and Eileen Scott Ross, news editor for last year, plus Dale Reynolds, Ellen Montague, John Connet, Earl van Lydegraf, Mary Louise Lee, and Stan Hawk were the staff editors for the prize-winning issues.

Repainted Booths Herald New Era

All that glitters in two tones is not a new Nash... it may also be the ticket selling booths at the West entrance to Sweetland field.

Mumblung that the small buildings were "older and dingier than Methuselah", the students from the art department staged a cleanup crusade this week and painted the weather-worn edifices in bright new colors.

Observers commented that no longer will it be possible for anyone to avoid seeing the buildings, since the glare will attract the attention of all passersby.

Bearcats, Band Head for CPS

Willamette Bearcats and supporters will travel to Tacoma next Saturday to pay back the College of Puget Sound's homecoming visit last year when they realized their first victory over Willamette in 20 years.

The band is working up a marching formation to present during the half-time and plans are being made for 70 other students to go and cheer for the team. Bud Corner, yell king, says that two buses have been chartered and that only the first 70 students who buy tickets will get seats on the buses.

Tickets for the 420 mile round trip from Salem to Tacoma may be purchased today from 11:45 to 12:15 in Eaton hall and the 'Cat Cavern for $4.15. There are students in each living organization who are also selling tickets. Says Corner, "Greyhound rates are $4.37 one way so it's cheaper to go both ways on our chartered buses!" Admission to the game is 50c upon presentation of a student body card.

Buses will leave from Lausanne hall at 7 a.m. next Saturday and will arrive in Tacoma about 1 p.m. for the game which is at 2 p.m. Students who eat meals on the campus will be served breakfast before they leave and sack lunches will be packed so that they will not have to stop on the way to buy a lunch. Buses will leave an hour after the game is over which will allow students time to get something to eat before returning to Salem.

Men who are going are asked to wear white shirts or sweaters and the women, white blouses or sweaters. Pom-poms will be available for all who go. The Pep-cats, who are in charge of the pom-poms, are also preparing signs and streamers to decorate the buses. Any student who is taking a car and wants a sign and streamers should contact Alice Wilhelm at Alpha Chi Omega.

The CPS homecoming manager has issued an invitation to Willamette students to attend their homecoming dance the evening following the game, r

Homecoming Dance Theme, Locations for Signs Decided

Selection of "Whispering Shadows" as the theme of the semi-formal Homecoming dance, and the placement of the signs of the women's living organizations were two new developments decided upon by the Homecoming committee this week.

Freddy Keller and his fourteen-piece band and vocalist, from Portland, have been commissioned to play for the dance.

Bob Muhr is the chairman of the Homecoming dance committee, while those assisting him are: Barbara Kemmerick, chap-erones; Alice Wilhelm, publicity; Dave Beckett, lighting; and Glenn Halliday, Joy Koeppen, Sue Mellor, Pat Stanton, Harry Summers, Gene Walters, and Jack Weiser are decorating.

The Alpha Chi Omega sign is to be erected between Collins and Waller halls, the Bishop house sign will be between Collins and the Music hall, Chi Omega's entry will be between Waller and Eaton, Delta Gamma's is to be erected between Eaton and the library, and the Pi Beta Phi sign will be built in front of the library.

The maximum cost of each sign is to be fifteen dollars, and they are to be built by nine a.m., Friday, October 28. They will be judged at four o'clock that afternoon.

The sign will be judged 50 per cent on the theme, 25 per cent on originality, and 25 per cent for workmanship. There will be separate cups awarded for the men and women's divisions.

Three hundred Pioneer representatives from Lewis and Clark college, Homecoming game foes, will be at Sweetland field to witness the annual clash. The Willamette university band will perform for the spectators during the half-time period.

Group Seeks Wheel Trophy

Searching for a wagon wheel for two weeks has been the unusual task of Blue Key, senior men's honorary, in a quest for a suitable trophy between Lewis and Clark college and Willamette.

Since the Pioneer and Jason Lee institutions are approximately the same size and so close together, Blue Key has attempted to promote rivalry between the two schools in their annual football games.

Since both are also related to a pioneer theme, the organization felt that a wagon wheel would be the most appropriate for the occasion. Present plans call for the painting of the trophy in orange and black for Lewis and Clark, and cardinal and gold in Willamette's colors.

Tentative plans of the group are to introduce the wheel at intermission of the Homecoming game, with an explanation of the plan to student bodies of both schools.

Presentation of the symbolic item will be made to the victorious college in special assemblies of the students, or at a gathering of the groups following the game.

Students Seek Open Library

Should the facilities of the Willamette library be open to students on Sunday?

This is the topic under discussion by the authors of a petition being circulated on the campus who claim that Sunday afternoon is a slack period when there is much spare time that could be used in studying and research.

Harley Hoppe, the originator of the petition, says that it has been well received so far, and that he will take it before the administration when enough signatures have been obtained.

He opes that the library will be opened from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m., but is willing to have it closed at 5:30 p.m. if it causes interference with church activities.

Student council action on the measure on Monday evening resulted in an approval vote, and the petition will be submitted to the student affairs committee for consideration by that group.

Don Benson, Stan Aschenbrenner and Jackie Chute put final touches on Homecoming plans. Aschenbrenner, chairman of the group, has included a dance, sign contest, and noise parade for the October 28-30 event. (Photo by Sheldon Green.)

Gals Seek Male With Ugly Map; Dogs and President Disqualified

The virtues of male physiognomy will grace the campus beginning Monday, according to Jerry Coen, chairman for the Ugly Man contest, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national fraternity for Boy Scouts of America. Jerry remarked, "Watch for campus posters naming Ugly Man candidates. Posting begins Monday."

"In its second year, the contest is a means of increasing the flag pole memorial fund and not for organization use", stressed Jerry.

The four sororities and the two independent houses, Lausanne and Bishop, will each nominate one Ugly Man, each house being responsible for publicizing their handsome choice. Contrary to last year's practice, the men will not name a candidate. The women may solicit votes from the men, all of whom will doubtless be responsive to the solicitous charm of loquacious femininity.

Voting to Begin October 8

Jerry Coen said, "Voting begins October 18 and will close on October 28. The winner will be named at the Homecoming dance."

Students may cast their ballot at one of the two polling places, the 'Cat Cavern and Eaton hall, where each candidate will have his individual ballot box. Voters make their "X" by dropping pennies in the containers provided, one penny equalling one vote. Each dollar bill tallies 100 counts plus 25 bonus for the candidate.

All men who ran last year are not eligible for the current contest. Aside from this regulation, anyone connected with the Willamette campus is eligible. Last year's winner, President G. H. Smith, was awarded a complete beauty facial in one of Salem's smart beauty salons.

Rising GOP College Activity Noted by Merriam at Idaho

"Catch them while they're deciding", stated John Tope, national chairman of the Young Republican federation last weekend at the ninth regional conference held in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Tope spoke at the concluding banquet of the two-day session which was marked by the interest shown in the college program relative to national politics. The possibility of lowering the voting age limit to 18 years was discussed and general approval expressed of the idea.

William Merriam, Willamette junior and Oregon director of the Young Republican college program says, "The college part in Young Republican activities is fast becoming a potent factor in national politics, and college students are, in fact, being looked upon to provide active leadership within the party. I urge students in Oregon to investigate possibilities through their campus Young Republican organization for their participation and hasten our desire for a better and more efficient government."

The state convention of the Oregon Young Republican federation is being held in Oregon City, December 9-11.

Hatfield to Back Hoover Report

Mark O. Hatfield, instructor in political science at Willamette, has been appointed along with 35 Oregonians who are heading county divisions of Oregon's Citizens committee for the Hoover report.

Hatfield made a background study of the Hoover report while at Stanford. He wrote a thesis on phases of Hoover's career and administration and consulted the former president on the matter.

Future Teachers Attend State Meet

Future Teachers of Oregon, a new organization, held their state-wide meeting at Eugene last Saturday.

Willamette was represented by Dorothy Wood, Janet Stark, Bob Robins and Dr. George Martin, and this university was selected as the site for the state meeting in March.

The campus organization will meet October 25 at 7:15 p.m. in Chresto Cottage.

Correct Proofs!

Proof sheets for the Fusser's Guide, student directory, have been posted on the bulletin boards of Eaton and Music hall. Students should check the proofs carefully and correct any mistakes in spelling or phone numbers, according to Margaret Atwood, editor.

Rallies Slated By Revamped Cheer Squads

The first of a new series of rally assemblies being held in order to initiate new yells and revive old ones will be held Tuesday, October 18, under the direction of the revamped yell squad and pepcats.

The yell squad and pepcats, led by Bud Corner and Jackie Johnson, respectively, have been very active so far this fall. Reorganization has been the keynotes thus far, and many activities have been added to their already crowded schedule. The reorganization campaign has been highlighted by many more pre-game rallies, and an increased campus advertising drive.

Corner's revamping of the yell squad has already shown its effects, being reduced from twelve to five members. It is built around Corner and Bo Brooks, both of whom are returning from last year's ranks. The additional members are freshmen Pat Click, Jack Kiekel and Bob Hilmer. The squad is instrumental in all pre-game rallies and organizing a send-off for the team when it travels.

The pepcats also play a big roll in our team support program, and have a much larger part in activities than in previous years. The most conspicuous of their clearly defined set of duties is their pre-game formations. They are also in charge of campus advertising, which in the past had been manifest by its absence. Pom-poms, which are on sale for all rooters, sectioning of band, and rooters and goal post decorating are also part of the pepcat's functions. This year they tackled the job of arranging transportation for rooters, and this is the first year that such transportation has been planned. For a start they have secured the bus facilities for the College of Puget Sound game at Tacoma, and the Linfield game at McMinnville.

Coach Chester Stackhouse and his Willamette university Bearcat football squad will bear down on this, their week, off, and practice their offense and defense for their next week's game with College of Puget Sound.

Interclass Hoop Play Commences

The inter-class basketball play got under way Tuesday when the Freshman Atoms and the Sophomore A team vied, with the Sophomores coming out on top by a score of 24-17. Dick Brouwer was high point man for the sophomores and Coulkin came out on top for the Atoms with seven of their 17 counters.

The evening's second game mixed the Juniors and Frosh Hicks. The game was low scoring, with the Juniors leading all the way and finally winning 12-4. Ray Osuna was the big scorer for the winners with three points while Lou Modhe tallied all the scores for the Hicks.

Thursday's game saw the Frosh Ticks meet the Seniors at 6:30 p.m. and the Sophomore B squad tangle with the Grads in the nightcap at 7:30 p.m.

Clem's Coyotes Thump Jasons In First NW Conference Tilt

Twenty one years—that's how long it took the College of Idaho Coyotes to snatch the golden fleece of victory from the Jasons of Willamette university.

In their first win over the 'Cats since 1928 the Coyotes clawed out a 41-14 scoring predominance in last Saturday's game at Caldwell.

Winbigler Rambles

Tom Winbigler, a smashing

halfback from Weiser, Idaho, wielded the eraser as the Coyotes rubbed out the memory of their 1948 defeat by the Bearcats, their only conference loss.

Most of the crowd of 2500 didn't care to be out in the freezing weather and viewed the game from parked cars. Despite the temperature Winbigler got hot in the second period and skirted from post to post as he turned in an All-American performance. In the second frame he crossed the TD line three times and once more in each of the two following quarters.

Minn Sparks 'Cat Recovery

The Bearcat defense tackled hard throughout the contest with Bob Hall and Keith Sperry smashing line bucks very well. Willamette perked up its offense in the second half as Al Minn zigzagged 44 yards to score in the outstanding run of the game.

In the last quarter Minn heaved the ball twice to Bonowitz who sprinted for the second Jason tally. Both Bonowitz and Dick Ruff, frosh end prospects, were described by Coach Stackhouse as potentially the best ends he has ever had on the roster.

During the halftime Dr. E. S. Oliver of Willamette's English department was interviewed on the radio and expressed his comments on the game. After the final gun Coyote Coach Clem Parberry said the game was the high point of his career. His Northwest conference eleven, with two conference wins under their belts, stands a good chance of retaining their 1948 championship.

Hula Hippers Have Field Day

Winbigler's very able teammates included Herb Imanaka, who seemed to call all the right plays at the proper time, Glen Ward and Bud Hammack, a pair of hammering halves.

Bearcubs Crush Reed 47-0;
Meet Portland Frosh Today

Five harriers met with Coach Chester Stackhouse Monday evening in the gym where it was decided that if enough of the distance men are interested, Willamette will enter a cross-country team in the Oregon Invitational tournament at Portland university, November 12.

In addition to the five men attending the meeting, several other harriers indicated their desire to run on such a team. The meet will be over a three-mile course and the Bearcat harriers will be competing against other colleges in the Pacific Northwest. Last year, George Fullerton of Oregon State college set a new record of 17.2 for the course.

Stackhouse told the harriers that they will have to begin training immediately to get in shape for the meet. He also stated that all other track men will begin their training immediately following the Christmas holidays.

Doaks Win 6-0 as Touchball
Starts; Phi Delt, Baxter Tie

A break in the weather allowed the touchballers to get under way as the Dorks edged out Sigma Alpha Epsilon 6-0 Monday, and the Phi Delt and Baxter Goons battled to a scoreless tie Wednesday.

Elliott Nosaka shined for the Dorks in Monday's play as he did most of the throwing. The first half play that paid off for the Dorks was a 20 yard aerial from Nosaka to Chuck Gutzler who went over for the touch-down. An attempted pass for the extra point was no good.

The Dorks threatened twice in the second half as Nosaka threw to Dick Briggs for 20 yards, then Gutzler passed to Doug Nicoll for another 15. Glenn Halliday caught another for the Dorks, but Al Miles intercepted for the SAEs, ending the threat.

The Dorks had the ball down to the SAEs five yard line later in the half, but an intercepted pass gave the SAEs the ball on the 20.

In Wednesday's encounter, it was Wes Stauffer of the Baxter Goon squad who was outstanding, intercepting several Phi Delt aeriels and throwing several completed ones for the Baxter team.

Neither team made a serious threat in the opening half, but the Goons started the second period with a potential scoring drive. To open the half, Stauffer ran for 15 yards and then threw to Ernie Gordon for a sec-

Fresh from a crushing 47-0 victory over Reed college, the Willamette reserves will tackle the always tough Portland university Babes this afternoon at 3 p.m. on Sweetland field.

The Portland Frosh, always a potent outfit, leveled the local gridders 19-0 in last year's game. Coach "Chief" D'Eagle and Jim Johnson's reserves opened the scoring in the middle of the initial period when Ken Sutter raced a Reed punt back 60 yards for the score. John Skimus' kick was good, but Willamette was detected offside on the play. The second try for the extra point by Jim Gay was not good. Willamette made it 13-0 in the same quarter when Bob Sanders bucked across from the six-yard marker, with Skimus' kick splitting the uprights.

Halftime Lead 27-0

The second quarter went much the same as the first. Early in that stanza Ray Meyers bucked over for a score, Jim Gay booting the placement for a 20-0 lead. Later in the same period, Ed Jarman tossed to Skimus for a 45 yard pass play score. Skimus accounted for the extra point putting the Bearcats way out front at the half, 27-0.

In the second half, Ed Jarman continued hitting the receivers on those long passes. Skimus pulled one in for 30 yards and a score in the third quarter. Gay booted another one good for the extra point and a 34-0 Willamette lead.

Passes Score Twice

Early in the fourth quarter Mark Cotton snared another Jarman toss for a score from 30 yards out. Skimus missed the try for the extra point this time, leaving the score 40-0. Just seven plays later, with the Bearcubs on the one yard stripe, Jarman flipped a short one to Skimus for the final T.D. of the day. Jim Gay successfully kicked his third consecutive extra point making the final tally Willamette 47, Reed College 0. Skimus kicked two extra points besides scoring three touchdowns on passes from Jarman.

Reed, almost completely outclassed throughout the game, were held to four first downs and the farthest they advanced the ball was to the Willamette 15 yard stripe. The Bearcats made ten first downs.

The Reed intellects were not a team of class and gave each member of the Willamette Reserves a chance to play and everyone of them shined according to the coaches. The Reed team was small except for a 347 pound tackle who was easily handled by the Bearcub linemen.

ond 15 yard gain. A Stauffer run netted 12 yards, and Phi Gallo tossed a first down pass to Gordon. Bill Bissell stopped the drive for the Phis with an intercepted pass, but the fraternity men had to kick after three unsuccessful plays.

The remaining threat of the game came as a result of a Baxter fumble recovered by Dick Cocking for the Phi Delt on the Goon's 30 yard marker. Blocked passes, penalties, and running losses nipped the threat on the first series of downs, however, and neither team seriously threatened for the remainder of the game.

By TOM YATES

Perhaps the first issue is a little early for a columnist to commit journalistic suicide, but this corner feels that an immediate diagnosing of the ills which are slowing the once mighty Bearcats to a stumble is necessary.

If Willamette was operating in a professional football league our first suggestion to Coach Chester Stackhouse would be a general house-cleaning, with the idea being to trade off most of the talent and bringing in new blood. For you see, even the battle scarred pros must have a will to win and a definite abhorrence of defeat in order to chalk up those important victories. This spirit is exactly what is missing among the local gridders. It is really depressing to observe the way Willamette football teams have been happily accepting defeat for the last couple of seasons, climaxing this gradual degenerations with the lackadaisical, nonchalant attitude which this season's setbacks have brought on.

Indifferent Play

We're not irritated because the team lost, but rather the indifferent manner in which they went about playing the games, win or lose. On the other hand, a poor loser is no more to be desired than the species which Willamette has playing under its banner, but a "good" loser might just as well toss in the towel, 'cause he is wasting his time playing in a competitive sport.

The answer to this problem? That lies with the players and nobody else. If they want to win, and hate to lose, then they will surely turn in creditable performances. Our only hope is that perhaps this little opus will make them mad enough to do just that.

Coaches Praised

Concerning Mr. Stackhouse and his staff only words of praise can be uttered. The players themselves will uphold this. The special efforts of Stack to set up a real collegiate athletic department, from the renovated locker room clear on up to the first adequate staff in years, is the most optimistic note struck in that department since Spec Keene was mentoring here. Concerning game strategy, we find ourselves somewhat lacking in the fundamental aspects of the grid sport to question the coach's moves.

While on the subject of defeat and the reasons thereof, it is getting harder and harder to overlook the jinx cast by popular weekly magazines. It has been an established fact for years that athletes featured on the cover of Time Magazine could expect defeat in the near future. Those who have been K.O'd by this jinx include Mel Patton, Hal Newhouser and Walter Hagen. 'Tis said that Joe Louis is the lone exception.

"Post" Jinxes

At any rate, Time now finds itself seriously threatened by the Saturday Evening Post for the "Jinx Title". The Post has successfully tripped up Billy Southworth, Johnny Groth and most recently Michigan's Wolverines, who were featured in last week's edition shortly before dropping their first games in three years, to Army, 21-7.

Of course, all this is merely a build-up to the delayed whammy dished up to the Bearcats by last winter's Post article on small school football as personified by Willamette. Seems like maybe it's better to remain out of the national limelight. Now if we could just talk Esquire into doing a big spread on Lewis and Clark we could count on a happy Homecoming.

Odds 'n ends:

Thought of the week—Frank Leahy would really scream if Notre Dame had to play under those Willamette touchball rules.

Scene of the week—That perfect miniature of a Bearcat in front of the library—rooted to the ground.

'Sweetheart of Sigma Chi' Candidates To Be Formally Introduced Wednesday

With formal introductions to the 25 candidates scheduled for the dinner hour Wednesday, October 19, Sigma Chi's are looking forward to starting their annual Sweetheart contest. Functions will be held on Monday evenings during the dinner hour, with girls being eliminated after each successive function. The three remaining candidates of the November 7 function will compose the court with the sweetheart being one of the three. Her identity will be kept secret until the night of the formal Sweetheart ball, November 12. The Sigma Chis will escort each candidate to the functions as long as she is asked to return. Personal appearance, looks and personality are the qualities considered in voting.

Babe Maudlin is handling arrangements for introductions of the candidates and for general arrangements of the dance. Girls invited to attend the first event are:

From Pi Beta Phi: Grace Connell, Hillsboro; Dona Mears, Roseburg; Jean Kell, Burlingame; California; Shirley Griffin, Vancouver, Washington, and Audrey Bliss, Palo Alto, California.

Chi Omega's candidates are: Gay Holsington, White Salmon, Washington; Alyce Koch, Salem; Norma Drews, Newberg; Barbara Freeman, Milwaukie; Delores Fisher, Portland.

From Alpha Chi Omega: Berniece Isham, Salem; Doris Ewen, Salem; Mary Ellen Phillips, Portland; Carol Carruthers, Warrenton; Harriet Booth, Roseburg.

Candidates from Delta Gamma are: Nancy Marks, Portland; Sue McElhinney, Salem; Gerry Gossett, Bremerton, Washington; Janice Gladden, White Salmon, Washington; Mary Jane Phillips, Portland.

Representing Lausanne hall will be: Eleanor Oakes, Portland; Isabelle Newhouse, Portland; Delores Gustafson, Eugene; Shirley Clifford, Portland.

Bishop House has elected Beverly Moody of Baker, Oregon.

Bishop House To Make "Social Debut" Tonight

Tonight at the open house dance, Bishop House, the newest university living organization, will emerge from the obscurity of the past and make its social debut on the Willamette campus.

Bishopites have gone into a huddle and come out with plans designed to surprise and delight those who wander into the depths of the medieval castle on Court street.

Joyce Kelly, social chairman, has named Cathy Kenyon to be in charge of refreshments, and Pat Pomerio as decorations chairman.

Lausanne-Baxter Dinner Is Successful Exchange

Lausanne and Baxter Halls opened their social calendars last Wednesday evening with an informal exchange dinner and fireside. Half of the members of each organizations dined with the other group.

At Lausanne, guests were entertained by Lei Kealoha's dancing and a whistling novelty by Harriet Aller.

Entertainment at Baxter was under the direction of George Wagner, and featured a whistling skit, "Little Julius" by Chuck Martin and Ernie Dietrich, and vocal renditions by a quartet composed of George Wagner, Chuck Martin, Don Brand and Dick Briggs. Phil Stoehr performed on the violin, Jim Wilcox on the piano, Dave Partin gave a humorous reading and Steve Kwang and Master of Ceremonies Ron Symons did a novelty Chinese-American skit.

The evening at Baxter was under the direction of Gary Lawrence and Jim Spangler with social chairman Muriel Roberts in charge at Lausanne.

Miss Muckle Tells Troth

A surprise to the members of Pi Beta Phi was the announcement of the engagement of Maxine Muckle to Al Pietchman of Portland last Thursday night at the chapter house. A large department store sign with a picture of the "blushing bride" was displayed as the dining room doors were opened, and a small sign with "Maxine and Al" and a picture of the ring was on each table. Large blue menus at the places with the theme "Dinner at the Rose Bowl of the Hotel Multnomah" revealed a clever use of the couple's names on each course of the meal. A variation from the traditional box of chocolates was achieved by individual boxes of wine and blue mints. The ring, designed by Miss Muckle's fiancé, is a modernistic arrangement of diamonds and sapphires on platinum.

Miss Muckle, who is the senior scholar of Dr. Robert Haley, plans to graduate in February with a degree in political science. Mr. Pietchman is a graduate of the University of Oregon, and a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity. At present he is employed by Lipman, Wolfe, and Co. of Portland. No date has been set for the wedding.

Beta Theta Pi Initiates 6 Men

Six new men wear the Beta stars following initiation ceremonies held last Sunday. These are Rod Beals, Gene Walters, Phil Hammond, Al Fedje, George Matile and Jim Carpenter. A banquet was held Sunday afternoon in honor of the event. Many alumni were present to hear the speaker, who was district chief Clarence White. George Cox, president of the Oregon State chapter of the fraternity, was a guest for the function.

Y's Sponsor Luncheon

Dr. Victor H. Sword, missionary, will be the guest speaker at this Saturday's International luncheon, which is under the combined sponsorship of the Campus Y's. The luncheon, to be held at 1 p.m. in Lausanne hall dining room, is an annual event designed to promote a greater understanding between American and foreign students on the campus.

Foreign students from other northwest colleges, in addition to those at Willamette, have been invited as honored guests. Professor Kollman, foreign student director, will serve as toastmaster.

Jottings By Gerry

We're remodeling! It appears to be a campus fad and we hated to be left in the wake.

This column will appear weekly as jottings on Willamette Students, fads, gift suggestions, and up to date tips on the newest developments in styles. This feature will replace the conventional box ad and we hope it will be of more interest and value to you, our readers.

Modern Modes located at 305 Court Street is to be our sponsor. We would like to acquaint you with this interesting store and the vast collection of goods you'll have to choose from there.

When you're "freed" from study table this week-end and are just roaming around downtown, make it a point to spend a few minutes looking around in the Moderne. You'll be surprised at the large stock of crystal, china, linen, greeting cards and other items too numerous to mention at this time.

Margaret Allen, an ex-Willamette fixture, is handling the advertising for her Mother's store. Many students will remember her and some will have to meet her. Margaret graduated from W.U. in '47 and was an active participant in school activities. She reigned as Queen of the May her senior year which should certainly ascribe to her good looks. She is around the store most of the time and is interested in the things that interest us.

This week let's start a fad instead of hearing about an old one. Whenever you purchase something from one of our advertiser's stores just mention the fact that you're from Willamette or had seen their ad in the Collegian. It will be good business for us and for them.

Eight Law Students Assume Legal Handbook Editorships

Eight Willamette law students were selected for the Board of Editors of the Willamette Legal Handbook series, a reference work for Oregon lawyers which is circulated throughout the state.

The handbook, the sixth number of which is underway now, is supervised this year by Professor John C. Paulus and is the combined effort of the students and staff at the Willamette College of Law.

Named to the board of editors were: Thomas W. Churchill, Stockton, California, formerly attended University of California, a member of Delta Theta Phi.

Roger B. Todd, Dayton, graduate of Dayton high school and Bachelor of Arts degree from Willamette.

Lent Berkeley, graduate of Franklin high in Portland and who has attended Occidental and Reed.

Joe Larkin, from Washougal, Washington where he graduated from Washougal high school, is a member of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity.

Roy Ross is a graduate of Ripley high school, Ripley, Oklahoma. He also attended Fresno State college and Santa Clara university.

Omar Halvorson of Silverton is a former student of the University of Portland and a member of Phi Delta Phi.

George D. Wilson is a graduate of U. S. Grant high school in Portland and a member of Phi Delta Phi, has attended Lewis and Clark college and Multnomah college.

James Fitzgerald graduated from Jefferson high school in Portland and attended the University of Oregon and Morray State Teachers college. He belongs to Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Legal Fraternity Votes for Hardy

Rex W. Hardy was elected magister of the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity at their annual dinner held Tuesday.

Other officers are Joe Larkin, clerk; John Matheny, exchequer; Robert E. Smith, historian. Pete Gunnar is retiring magister.

Secretary Added

The student body office has added a third secretary to its staff. The three students employed are Janet Rogers, Ella Louise Ball, and Margaret Austin.

With three on the staff, it is now possible to keep the student body office open every school day from 9:00 to 4:30. Bea Nagl is also a new addition helping in Dr. Schultze's office, thus making the secretarial staff complete.

The Amen Corner

The third in the series of "Business Standards in Christian Living" will be discussed at Sunday's meeting of Phi Zeta Christo in the basement of the First Christian church. The meeting will start at 6:00. Immediately following at 7:30, the film, "Prejudice" will be shown.

Canterbury Club will have for its weekly meeting a social evening in the Episcopal parish house. At 6:00, chapel will be held, led by Bob Robins. Supper and social activities will follow. The group will also discuss plans for a trip to Silver Creek Falls on the following Sunday.

Dr. Schroeder of Linfield college will be the speaker at Wesley, held in the Carrier room of the First Methodist church. Dr. Schroeder is the youth director and head of the department of religion at Linfield. He is also Wesleyan adviser for the college group there. The meeting will start at 5:30 when supper will be served.

Everyone is cordially invited to this Sunday's meeting of Westminster Fellowship at the First Presbyterian manse. Dr. Chester Luther, head of the department of mathematics at Willamette, will give his talk, "The Astronomer's World."

At the first meeting of the Interfaith Council on Tuesday, October 4, new officers for the current year were elected. Stanley Aschenbrenner has been chosen president of Interfaith Council and Marilyn Brooks, secretary. It was further decided that the group would meet once a month in order to coordinate the various church groups represented on campus.

At the same time general plans were discussed for the Religious Emphasis Week program which will occur in February. This year the Reverend Amos Thornburg, Pastor of the Methodist Church of Hollywood, California, has been chosen the principal speaker for the Religious Emphasis Week program.

Geist, Topping Asked to Sing

Dean Melvin Geist, tenor, and Florinda Topping, soprano, are scheduled to appear in the Friends of New Music series concert to be given in the Women's club auditorium in Portland on Sunday, October 23, at 7 p. m.

Both members of the College of Music faculty will sing a group of modern songs. The purpose of the series is to bring the music of contemporary composers to the attention of the public.

Notes From the Law School

Res Ipsa Loquitur

By Joe Larkin

This approximation of a column will appear from time to time in the future and contains items of interest concerning the Law school. The masthead is a Latin phrase used in the law and is interpreted as meaning: "The thing itself speaks; the occurrence tells its own tale."

The three classes in the Law school elected officers for the present year last week. The principal duty of the president of each class is to sit on the honor code committee which formulates rules and hears grievances concerning the honor system which is in effect at all examinations. The freshman elected Ed Nordyke, president; William Hughes, vice-president, and Carlotta Hendricks, secretary. The juniors elected George Wilson, president, and the seniors elected Berkley Lent.

The freshmen were very optimistic and elected a full slate, while the other classes knew there would be no use for more than a president.

The freshmen students with four full weeks of legal study under their belts, are now ready and extremely willing to give free advice to anyone for the asking. If you are in need of legal counsel, go over to the Law school any time between classes and freshmen are easy to spot by the heavy bags under their eyes and the generally dejected countenance they present.

Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity held its monthly luncheon in the Senator hotel Wednesday noon with Ed Stadler, local district attorney, as speaker. John Carson, president of the Oregon Bar association and Judge Rex Kimmell of the Marion County Circuit Court are booked to speak at following meetings.

There are three members of the weaker sex among the student body this year, which is an increase of one over last year.

International Weekend Opens Honoring Foreign Students

With open houses tonight from 8:30 to 11:30 in the women's living organizations of the campus, International Weekend will officially get under way. The honored guests for the weekend are the foreign students of this campus and neighboring campuses.

The women's living organizations are carrying out themes of different countries for open house. The themes are Africa, Bishop; China, Lausanne; Hawaii, Alpha Chi Omega; Mexico, Chi Omega; England, Delta Gamma; and Pi Beta Phi will not have open house because of a conflict. Each fraternity house is furnishing the refreshments at one of the sorority houses and Baxter hall is furnishing the refreshments for Lausanne hall. At each house there will be dancing and light refreshments.

A luncheon will be held in Lausanne hall Saturday at 1 p.m. with the foreign students as guests. Prof. Edward Kollman, foreign student director on our campus, will be the toastmaster. Dr. Victor H. Sword, who is a missionary from India, will be the guest speaker.

Saturday night the guests will be escorted to Varsity Varieties, which winds up the Campus Chest drive. Sunday they will attend church and then have dinner at the houses.

The chairman in charge of open house at the living organizations are Shirley Clifford, Lausanne; Barbara Benjamin, Chi Omega; Ernie Vosper, Alpha Chi Omega; Nonnie Faaborg, Delta Gamma, and Pat Pomerio, Bishop. Florence Goodrich is overall co-ordinator of the weekend.

Grads-to-Be Get Religion Alternate

Good news for upper division students who have not completed their religion requirement is that they may take another course, Living Religion of the World as an alternative of the Bible.

There are now 21 enrolled in this class, and this is the first chance upper classmen have had to take an alternative.

Another course which may take the place of the Bible is History in Government of Christianity in which 41 are now enrolled.

A new course offered this year is Worship and Hymnology.

The senior scholar for the religion department working under Dr. Norman Huffman is Doris Gragg.

Problems of Parking Space Plague Profs and Students

Where to park? WU students and faculty who drive their autos to school daily have been running into the parking problem every time they arrive on campus.

University officials have attempted to eliminate the congested parking area, but requests to city and state officials have brought about only minor improvements. Of major help are the parking lines which have been painted on State and Winter streets to alleviate the more space-consuming parallel parking.

Car-Owners Vie

Car-owners residing on campus are also constantly vying with state employees and business men for space on the local streets.

Robert Fenix, business manager, stated that the parking problem has long been a headache for the University, and will continue to be so until something further develops.

Drivers arriving at 9 a.m. or later usually cannot park any closer to the campus than the Deaconess hospital on South Winter street, according to Mary Louise Lee, town student.

Propose Campus Parking

Glenn Halliday and Don McBride, car owners living in Baxter hall, report that a parking lot on campus would allow them to keep their cars off State street for the later arrivals.

Howie Lorenz, living in the

U. of O. Pledges To Live in Dorms

EUGENE (I.P.) — Living in private homes and dormitories for one year will be a necessity beginning this term for all fraternity and sorority pledges at the University of Oregon.

Donald M. Du Shane, director of student affairs at the university, stated that the advantages of the newly-introduced program will be experience in group living, improved inter-Greek relations, and elimination of a housing mixup at the end of rush week.

University of Oregon officials also hope that the plan will bring greater fraternity and sorority participation in student body affairs, and that the problems of adjustment for the incoming freshman will be lessened.

Salem Alums Meet

The Salem Alumni Association will meet next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Collins hall.

Professor Herman Clark will speak on "Fossils: Buried and Otherwise", according to Irvin Potter, president of the organization.

Life Is Tough On Other Side Of the Tracks

Every day just three minutes before class time, dozens of off-campus students dash madly for class. And every day just three minutes before class time, the Southern Pacific sends through the Pumpkin City Limited.

This is a case history of Miss X. Collegian, file 1079:

"This morning at 7:57 a.m., I was dashing madly for my eight o'clock, making rather good time until I arrived at Twelfth street.

"I was just about to charge across the thoroughfare when, lo and behold, the wig-wag signal began to wave its ominous message. It was a short train—I made it to class by 8:30.

"This noon, I was once more madly dashing (this time for lunch) and the same train was going the other way. When the street was clear I had a cup of coffee—I was going to start on a diet soon anyhow.

"At two minutes to one I again started my dash (which by this time resembled a combination tap and sprint), and there was my companion, the train! I couldn't be late again, so with a flying leap I landed on one of the flat cars. I had intended to jump off again on the other side, but at five fifty-seven I was in Seattle, buying a ticket for home.

"That's getting off on the right track if I ever heard of it."

Collegian Polls to Discover Campus Political Preference

For the first time in many years the Collegian is inaugurating as a new feature an all campus poll. The Collegian feels that it will be of vital interest to the students of WU and other colleges to learn the opinions of this campus on questions of definite importance.

With the cooperation of the entire campus a fairly accurate reaction can be established on what is thought on various questions.

At Tuesday's chapel, ballots will be handed out with the chapel slips, filled out and returned with the chapel slips. The ballots will be made out in a definite "Yes, No, or No Opinion" form to be of convenience to the students, and ease in tabulating.

Next Tuesday the students will see this question on the poll ballot:

"By 1952 most Willamette students will be eligible to vote.

1. Check the name of the political party you would register with (whether you will be old enough to vote or not) in 1952 for the presidential election.
2. Would you vote
  - (b) a straight party ticket.
  - (a) for a man regardless of his party

Any questions sent in by students to the Collegian will be greatly appreciated and by keeping in mind the fact that this poll is to be of a serious nature, the student should be able to gain an insight on what the political, social, humorous, and serious views of the whole campus are.

Foreigners to Get IRC Membership

At an executive meeting of the International Relations club it was decided that free membership in the club will be extended to all foreign students who are interested in working towards a peaceful world. It is hoped that through this gesture the club will garner a broader viewpoint, and also have a greater variety of views brought forth during its discussion periods.

During the past the participating membership was chiefly confined to students, but this year an invitation will be sent to the townspeople to attend all meetings.

Delegates will be selected from new members to attend conferences held later in the year at other colleges and the club is also arranging to have whole groups of delegates visit this campus.
