Mrs. Huffman Earns Italian Study Grant

Rome, Italy is the destination of Mrs. Norman Huffman, wife of Willamette's religion department head, who has received a $5000 Fulbright grant for nine months of study and research.

Mrs. Huffman will sail for the University of Rome next October on the liner, Vulcania.

Plans to Finish Book

While in Italy, Mrs. Huffman plans to complete a book on the artist, Modigliani. She will work with Dr. Lionello Venturi, world authority on the artist. She studied with Venturi in New York five years ago, and will stay during part of the time in Livorno, Italy, with Modigliani's sister and brother.

Next spring she plans to travel to Florence and Milan to visit homes and palaces of Italian royalty. The research scholar will view catalogs and will photograph art objects for a future book on nineteenth and twentieth century Italian art.

Count Goes to Fifteen

The Fulbright research grant which Mrs. Huffman will receive is given to fifteen American scholars with three grants awarded for art study in Italy. The award is worth $5000, plus travel expenses and tuition.

She was interviewed by the State Department in Washington, D. C., last August, and spent last fall at the University of Chicago on research. She has worked for the past seven years on the study of modern Italian art.

The Italian government is anxious to have more research and literature on this subject, since the last book about it was written in 1898 and contained only engravings. Mrs. Huffman is the former head of the Willamette art department and was the Encyclopedia Britannica art fellow at the University of Chicago. She earned her degrees at Duke university, and plans to use her Modigliani book as her Ph. D. thesis.

President G. Herbert Smith receives a dedication plaque representative of the senior class gift from Senior Class President Ed Cairo. The gift will be a drinking fountain for McCulloch stadium.

Contract Let For Stadium

Construction on McCulloch stadium will begin in ten days, announced Pres. G. Herbert Smith Thursday, after a bid of $132,632 was awarded to Viesko and Post, Salem contractors.

Announcement came at press time, and further details will be released later. The stadium will be open by September 23, and dedicated October 14 in the University of Hawaii-Willamette game.

Final Music Recital Today

The final student recital of this school year will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the College of Music recital hall.

Betty Kuhlman, violinist, will play a sonata by Hindemith. Joe Brazie, pianist, will render a Chopin polonaise.

Two groups will perform including the Willamette Choralettes, accompanied by Gladys Blue, who will sing three numbers. These three songs include "The Loon," "Clouds Filled With Light," and "Time Is On the Wing," an old French song.

Members of the string quartet, Thomas Facey and Doris McCain, violinists; Martha Benard, violist, and Wilma Aller, cellist, will perform a Mozart string quartet.

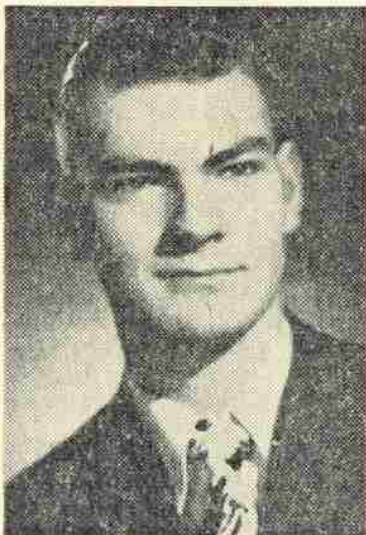

Glenn Allen is scheduled to sing four songs under the title, "Images." These songs were written by Bob O'Neill, senior music major. According to O'Neill the four songs, "Like a Gondola," "The Blue Smoke," "A Young Beech Tree," and "A Rose-Yellow Moon," are based on the impressionistic poem, "Images," by Richard Aldington. O'Neill will accompany Miss Allen on the piano.

Council Approves New Drama Club

Approval of a constitution for the proposed Willamette Players by the student council Monday night will make organization of the new drama group possible at the beginning of the fall semester.

The purpose of the organization is to bring drama and radio to the student level. Temporary chairman of the organization is Phil Hammond.

Council Appoints Harley Hoppe First Student Chapel Manager

1950 Yearbooks Available June 11

First shipments of Wallulah yearbooks will reach the campus on about June 9, announced Lu Dene Hargrave, editor, today.

June 11 will mark the second shipment of the publication, she expects, when students will be able to pick up their books upon presentation of a student body card for both semesters or identification which will show a full year's attendance at Willamette during 1949-50.

Students from Salem or nearby towns will be able to pick up their yearbooks at the bookstore, while Portland residents may obtain theirs at the printers in that city. Albert, Kerns and Bell is the firm name of the company.

Those who are willing to pay c.o.d. orders for the publication are requested by Miss Hargrave to present a card with name and address to her before the end of school. A total of 900 Wallulahs have been ordered, and seniors will be able to pick up their copies in the Wallulah office immediately following commencement exercises.

Appointment of Harley Hoppe as the first student chapel manager at Willamette was made Monday by action of the student council.

With tentative plans for a possible concert and lecture series, Hoppe began the task of preparing Tuesday chapels for next year, after having taken command of the new post created by the council at the same meeting.

Job 'Highly Important'

His appointment to the position, which ASWU President Stan Aschenbrenner said would be "highly important," followed the permission of the university to place the Tuesday chapels in student hands.

Hoppe also made three appointments Tuesday to his executive committee who will formulate plans for the student assemblies with him. Members of this group include Tom Schiedel, Jackie Johnson and LuDene Hargrave.

Council Approves Names

Meeting at a dinner at the home of retiring ASWU manager Dr. Daniel Schulze, the council approved the names of LuDene Hargrave and Dave Beckett for

The class of 1950 will graduate at the 108th annual commencement of Willamette university Sunday, June 11 at 3 p. m. in the gymnasium. Kenneth McCormick, class of 1928, editor-in-chief of the Doubleday Company of New York, will be the commencement speaker.

Baccalaureate services are scheduled for Sunday at 3 p. m. in the First Methodist church. Rev. Daniel H. Poling will deliver the sermon.

McCormick has been with Doubleday since 1930. He has served successively as clerk, manager of the bookshop, promotion manager, reader in the editorial department, chief associate editor and editor-in-chief since 1942. He is now a director in addition to editorship duties.

The class of 1950 named Dr. Robert D. Gregg, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, as their faculty speaker for the senior assembly held Thursday. Grace Ashford, Salem soprano, was chosen to sing "Farewell Willamette."

Candidates for degrees at Willamette were approved by the faculty Wednesday. Four men will receive Master of Arts degrees. They are Robert Keuscher, Karl Thelan and Chester Goodman of Salem, and Robert Matson of Portland. Nine qualified to receive Bachelor of Science degrees, seventeen for Bachelor of Music, twenty-two for Bachelor of Law, and over 80 receiving Bachelor of Arts. The graduating class includes February and summer school seniors.

The names of the graduates are listed on the back page.

Summer Term Schedule Set

Lectures, picnics and recitals are included on tentative Willamette summer school social plans. Summer session will last from June 20 to August 12 and will feature upper division liberal arts subjects. Registration will be June 19 from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Liberal arts classes will be given in chemistry, economics and business administration, education, English, history, physical education, political science and psychology.

Lower division subjects are quantitative analysis and general psychology, with social ideals in literature offered to meet half of the world literature requirement. Five graduate education courses are also scheduled. The College of Music will have piano, voice, violin and clarinet instruction.

Lectures by Dr. Leland J. Gordon, visiting economics professor from Denison university, and Bohus Benes, nephew and former secretary of the late president of Czechoslovakia, will be given in Waller hall chapel on three Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Cooper Receives Teaching Position In French School

According to an announcement from Cherbourg, France, Henry Cooper, senior scholar in the French department, has been accepted to teach English in the Lycee de Garcons in Cherbourg.

Although the announcement was not detailed, it is known that Cooper will begin his duties about October 1. Application for the position was made through the Institute of International Education. He was first accepted by the New York office and then by the French city.

Cooper will pay his own passage, although he has applied for a travel grant, and will probably stay in France for only one year. Gary Lawrence is awaiting confirmation on a similar position in another French city. He was accepted by the New York office.

Posposil to Leave For U of Oregon

Leopold Posposil, a sociology major who will graduate from Willamette in June, has received a scholarship to the University of Oregon next year. He will work on his master's degree there and will be an assistant instructor in the anthropology department.

Zdenka Posposil, a junior and a fine arts major at Willamette, will accompany her husband to the University of Oregon next year.

the publications board, with the faculty members of that group to be Prof. Murco Ringnald and Dr. C. J. S. Paulin. Jim Garrett will serve as chairman of the educational activities board.

Student participation will also be increased next year during orientation week. Not only will students serve as assistants to the faculty counselors for incoming freshmen, but they will also greet the new arrivals at bus and train depots during orientation week, according to Aschenbrenner.

Freshmen will attend exchange dinners between the Lausanne and Baxter residents during the opening week of school. Social chairman Jack Brown also submitted a plan for limiting fire-sides between men and women's living organizations to once a year, with the addition of exchange dinners between sororities, as well as those between men's organizations.

Appointments Complete Staff

Newly appointed editor of the Collegian, Bill MacDougall, has revealed the names of the students he has appointed to positions on the paper staff which were not included in last week's issue.

Don Scarborough, a reporter this year, has been elevated to the position of campus editor. This was the position previously held by MacDougall.

Kent Lawrence has been appointed rewrite editor, and Keith Lawrence has assumed the position of photography editor.

Advertising manager for the Collegian will be Hugh Nelson, according to Don Pritchett, publications manager.

This week's paper is the first issue to be put out by the new staff members.

Appointment of a new circulation manager will not be made until next fall.

Two Men to Join Faculty Next Fall

Two appointments to the faculty for next fall were made Wednesday by Pres. G. Herbert Smith.

Clarence A. Kraft, instructor in Spanish, will arrive on the campus in September from the University of Oregon where he has taught since 1946. He attended the University of Oregon, University of Mexico and University of Chile.

New assistant professor of music replacing Bennet Luden, will be Stanley Butler of Cambridge, Mass. He is a graduate of Michigan State college and Harvard, and has taught at the Longy School of Music in Cambridge and Western Reserve university in Cleveland, Ohio.

Good Will to All

To students who recalled the cheerful nature of Willamette during the early postwar period, the outbreak of bitterness in politics and other forms of rivalry seemed strangely out of place this year.

Frequently outspoken were the living organizations in their attempts to be first in not one but all activities at the expense of fellow students. Competition for offices became a race of houses, and not the selection of candidates who best fitted the posts.

Practically everyone contributed to the general ill will which characterized the last semester, whether purposely or not. Unfounded rumors and outright lies were accepted at face value.

The election at the close of the semester brought new hope to the situation as did the attitudes of the rivals, and the feelings at the first student council meeting confirmed this, when representatives of many campus organizations met together with a minimum of the jealousy which typified much of the campus last semester.

In accord with the rising spirits and unity of the campus, the Collegian will do everything in its power to promote this cause. Objectivity in reporting will be emphasized, and we sincerely hope that the Collegian, unwittingly or willingly, will not be the victim of pettiness.

We look forward to a better Willamette in 1950-51.

Better Chapels in '50

A campus which has no contact with touring lecturers, musicians, and famous dance artists is definitely lacking in some of the finer points of culture.

To remedy this situation at Willamette, ASWU President Stan Aschenbrenner this week appointed Harley Hoppe to the newly-created post of chapel manager. A more energetic person with an interest in this side of campus affairs would be hard to find.

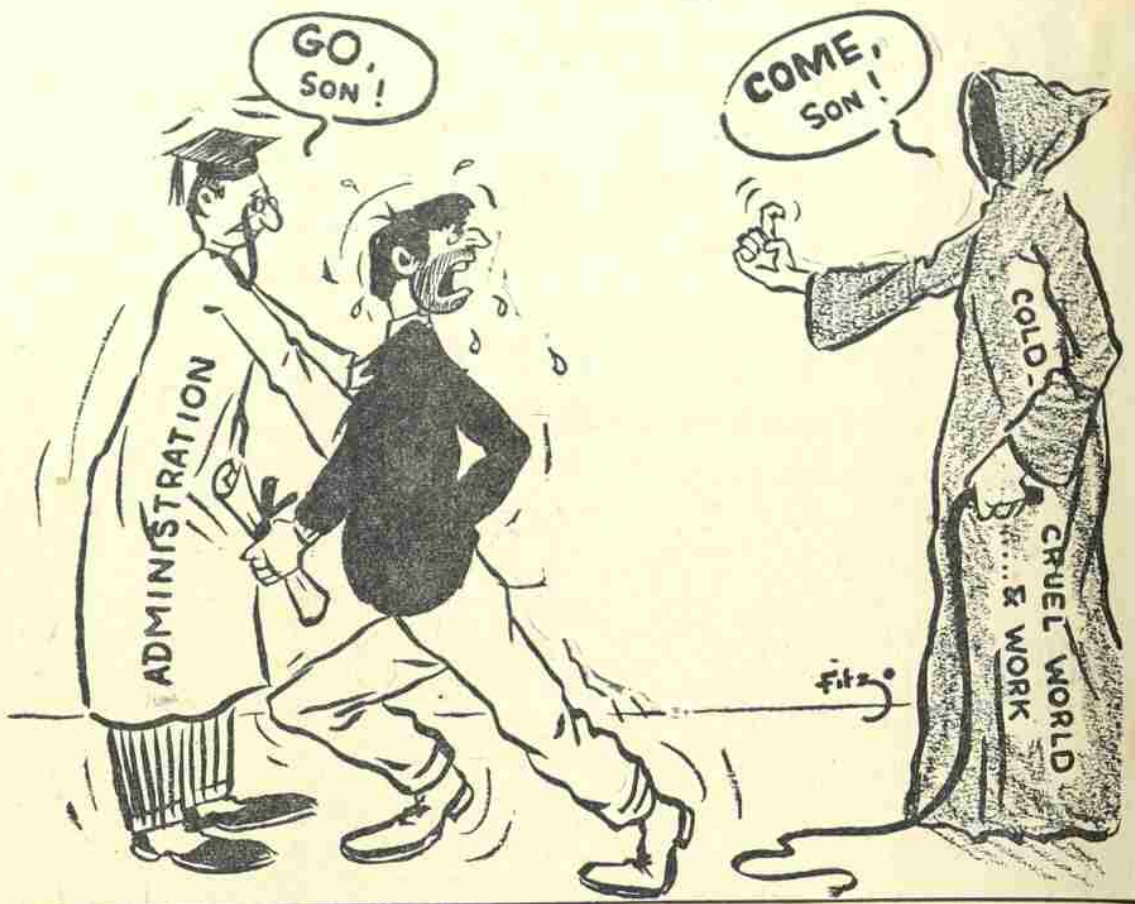

Already Hoppe is contacting booking bureaus concerning the possibility of a lecture and concert series for Willamette. Artists such as Carol Brice, contralto, Amparo Iturbi, Jose's equally famous and talented pianist sister, and Morton Gould and his orchestra could present programs for the benefit of students here. So could lecturers such as Clifton Fadiman and Raymond Swing.

They could, that is, if Willamette students are willing to pay for the programs. The cost of some lecturers is as low as seventy-five dollars, while Morton Gould's group would cost some six hundred dollars. Some of the funds for such a program are available now, but if chapels and concert series are to bring really outstanding artists to Willamette, much more money must be raised.

Pres. Smith has promised that the University will match dollar for dollar up to $500 the funds which will bring such a series. Thus if the student body will allow $500 from other funds for this purpose, and if another 500 students would purchase one dollar tickets, a total of $1500 would be available.

But Hoppe cannot bring concert artists to Willamette without the support of the entire student body. This spring is the time to settle the financial question for the program. Student support or lack of it will mark the failure or success of the proposal, and if such approval is not forthcoming, Willamette will again be by-passed by artists who annually make the jump from Portland to Corvallis without pausing for Salem.

Rude Awakening

Why I'm Giving Up After 8 Years of Dial-Twisting

By "Uncle Ray" Loter, friend of the mice in Waller hall. "I'm too old to go to college," said the dignified old gentleman at the coffee shop Wednesday, parting his beard in the middle. "Started here in '42, when the Temple of the Centuries was just a dog's dream, G. Herb had some hair, and they were still digging clay out of Sweetland field to finish Waller hall. Dr. Gatke was in his 23rd year of writing the Chronicles, and Jason Lee had just retired from the presidency in favor of Dr. Smith. The three-foot distance between couples on the campus was just being abolished, the lights in front of Lausanne had been painted red for the fourteenth time, and Dewey had captured Manila. Chapels were still being held once a day, and 8 o'clocks began at 7:45. Dr. Oliver had just written Moby Dick, spring was beginning to interest Dr. Kohler, Sparks was still trying to set up an inter-mural sports program, basket-weaving and canoe-paddling had just been dropped from the curriculum, and Gutenberg had given up the printing contract on the Collegian.

When the war came I fought and fought, but they finally took me. After three years of struggle I rose to the rank of p.f.c.

After the great hate was over I returned to the campus for a week-end visit, and was so entranced by it I signed up, four weeks late.

Wishing a broad education, majored in history, engineering, business, psychology and speech, and drama. What influenced me to major in drama was the snap course in Curtain Pulling, and Care and Cleaning of the Spotlight.

This was followed in rapid succession by a course in Dial-Twisting, and Care and Cleaning of the Microphone.

Upper-division courses included Advanced Curtain-Pulling, Seminar in Agonized Screams, and repeated Care and Cleaning of the Microphone at the request of the professor.

Took a course in ethics from Isaac M. Jordan.

Extra-curricular activities included sadistic mutilation of freshmen, participated in football disguised as a tackling dummy, and in track disguised as a 16-pound shot.

And as publications manager, through unique manipulation of bookkeeping, I managed to buy myself the racy Cadillac which I now own. Also inflicted Varsity Varieties on the peasants in collaboration with Ray Yocom.

I had a vague, undefined connection with a certain manufacturing concern which dealt largely with the construction of robots in the laugh hit of 1949, R. U. R.

Having amassed a total of 242 credit hours, expect to graduate if and when I can pass the course in Care and Cleaning of the Microphone. (Darn thing keeps getting dirty!)

As to future plans, if I can get a good job hoeing strawberries, will probably go to a trade school, 'cause "I'M TOO OLD TO GO TO COLLEGE!"

Books to Be Returned

All registration books for the next year which have not yet been returned are requested to be handed in today by registrar Harold Jory. They were due last Friday.

Seniors March in Final Chapel

Although chapels have borne the brunt of much student antagonism at various times, yesterday the seniors attended their last chapel, feeling a wave of nostalgia.

Even hardened chapel-haters grew a little misty-eyed as they marched in Waller hall to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" for their last official chapel. Patty Jo Hammond was at the organ to play the traditional march.

Ed Cairo, senior class president, gave a short talk, at the end of which he presented the seniors' parting gift. The gift this year will come in handy during the coming football season. It will be a drinking fountain for the new McCulloch stadium. A plaque will hang above it noting this year's seniors as the donors. It was this plaque which Ed presented during chapel to Pres. G. Herbert Smith.

Dean Robert Gregg was the principal speaker, being chosen by popular demand by the seniors. Grace Ashford, accompanied by Joe Brazie, sang "Farewell to Willamette" as a finale to the last chapel for the class of 1950.

The chapel was attended by the graduating class, several members of the faculty, and students from the other classes.

WU Carnival Profits $160

The "Big Top" ASWU Carnival, which was held last Saturday night, grossed approximately $245 with all income, or about $160, going to the University to be used for lighting the new stadium at McCulloch field.

Two trophies, donated by Stevens and Son, went to the winning men's and women's booths which offered the most originality and the greatest profit. Of the men's division, the Sigma Chi's were winners, with the Blue Key's running a close second and the Betas third. The YWCA was the winner of the women's division with the Delta Gamma's and the Peacocks next in order.

Jack Wilson, chairman of the ASWU Carnival, expressed his gratitude for the cooperation and interest shown by the organizations, and their efforts in making it a success.

BEEFS and BOUQUETS

To the members of the Class of 1950:

You are cordially invited to attend the Willamette university Alumni association day banquet, Saturday, June 10 at 6 p. m. in Baxter hall.

It is a pleasure to welcome you into the ranks of Willamette alumni. I am certain your associations at Willamette have come to mean much to you and each day of your future years they will mean more.

We of the Alumni association enjoy doing our bit for the Alma Mater. Whether it is chatting with a high school student about his collegiate future, helping out in a financial way by sending a few dollars to the Loyalty Fund, or by assisting graduating seniors in finding jobs—we take great pride in working for Willamette.

Your first few years out of school will probably be "occupied" with your occupation and devotion to domestic duties. Then, Willamette will reappear in your heart and mind. The pleasurable days will come back to you vividly.

Suddenly, each freshman class seems to become younger and younger. You're an alumnus.

We urge you not to wait until you're grey-thatched to show your appreciation and enthusiasm for these happy days at Willamette. Our organization welcomes you. We want to meet you, Saturday, June 10, at 6 p.m. in Baxter hall.

Sincerely,
Ed Averill, '05

President Willamette Alumni Association.

With Signatures

Dear Friends:

We feel a strong desire to express our appreciation to the many friends we have made during our all too brief stay at Willamette university, for the many acts of kindness and helpfulness.

Graduation exercises will not terminate our association with Willamette, but it will end our close and friendly relations with the people who make Willamette a wonderfully pleasant place in which to live, work and learn.

Dr. Smith, the deans, and faculty members have been exceptionally kind and considerate in dealing with our particular situations. They have given us encouragement and advice that has been extremely beneficial to us. To all of them, we can only say "thank you."

To our advisor and friend, Dr. Robert M. Gatke, we feel an extreme debt of gratitude for his marvelous advice in helping us to program our academic activity and, above all, for his fine Christian friendship which has greatly added to our real appreciation of life in all its ramifications.

We thank the students for accepting us at their level in spite of our age differences. Your marvelously tolerant and extremely friendly attitude toward us has been greatly appreciated, and it has been most inspirational to us.

To everyone connected with Willamette U., we wish you health, happiness, and success in the years that lie ahead.

Betas Edge Sigs; Cop A-League Softball Title Sigs Take B Crown After 15-9 Win Over SAE

Beta Theta Pi edged out Sigma Chi 13-12 for the A league intramural softball title Monday, May 29, after a 10-3 victory on Thursday, May 25, which left the two clubs deadlocked with three wins and a loss each. The Sigma Chi B squad, undefeated this year, won the B league title on a 15-9 win over SAE Thursday, May 25.

The title tilt scheduled for seven innings went a full nine before the Betas could break the 11-all tie. Sigma Chi broke the tie in the first half of the ninth inning when, with one down,

John Anicker drew a walk and scored on Chuck Massey's double. Massey was left at second when Paul Southworth popped out to Beta third baseman Paul Jewell and Burnell Ambrose fanned. Beta got back that one run when Jewel reached first on an error and scored on Bob Seamster's hit. Jesse Jones hit a clean single that got through the center fielder and put Seamster across with the winning tally.

Beta used both Ken and George Adams for mound duties in the final tilt. Catcher Jones led the Beta batting attack with three hits in four trips to the plate.

Sig pitcher Babe Maudlin batted four of five to lead the Sig hitting and struck out six while giving but four free passes. Chuck Massey was the other half of the Sig battery, getting two for four at the plate.

The Sigma Chi Babes topped the SAE B crew 15-9 for the B league title. The Sigs collected eight tallies in the first inning on three hits, four walks and three SAE errors. Totally, the Sigs collected ten hits to SAE's nine and each pitcher gave up eight walks. The Sigs were helped by five SAE errors while committing only one.

Doug McCloud got credit for the win with Bob Miller catching. The SAE battery was Warren Mulkey and Olwyn Davies.

Netters Lose Seven, Win 3

It was just a so-so season for the Willamette university tennis squad as they finished the season with a record of only three wins as against seven losses.

Coach Les Sparks' netters scored all three wins against as many losses in Conference play. They got to the semi-finals of the Conference tennis meet held here May 13. The other four losses were to teams out of Willamette's class. Those losses were handed them by Oregon, OSC, Montana, and Portland.

The Freshman tennis squad came out on the short end of a five and one record for the season. After losing five straight, which included a couple to the OCE varsity, they finally struck the win column in their last outing by beating North Bend high school, 6 to 1. The match was played on the local courts last Saturday.

Golfers Win 3, Lose 3; Grab NW League Title

Though winding up the season with an even-even record of three wins, three losses and one tie, the Willamette golf team walked off with the Northwest Conference championship by winning the conference four-man championship for the second year in a row.

Coach Jim Johnson's hardy crew of golfers had trouble all season with their fifth and sixth men, losing matches to Lewis and Clark and tying with Pacific because of it. But the top four, led by freshman Bill Wittenberg, topped every other first four of their opponents all season except for Portland's first four men.

Two Governors Asked to Attend Hawaiian Game

Governor Douglas McKay of Oregon sent a letter to Governor Stainbach of Hawaii inviting him to attend the Willamette-University of Hawaii football game here October 14, which will dedicate McCulloch Stadium.

The two governors, if the plan goes through, will act as honorary captains for the game, as appointed by the University. They will accompany the team captains onto the field for the toss of the coin.

There will be an auxiliary bench for the 1941 team members of Willamette who were stranded in Hawaii that year when they played the Hawaiians last. Governor McKay, who accompanied the '41 squad over, will sit with them as before.

Track.. ..Notes

By Frank Winship

This year Coach Chester Stackhouse awarded track letters to 16 men, the award of a letter being based on season's performance and participating or placing in the conference meet. Of the sixteen men receiving letters there was but one senior, Al Fedje. The remaining fifteen are expected to form a strong nucleus for next year's edition.

This year's most outstanding track competitor was Ted Mertz, who totaled 103 points in six meets. Bob Hall was the only Bearcat not to face a set-back throughout the season. Bob established a new school record with a javelin throw of 198 ft. 7 1/2 in.

Babe Maudlin was another thinclad who eclipsed an all school record this year, setting a new mark of 21 feet 7 1/2 inches in the broad jump. Vern Shangle was one of the team's steadiest point getters this season, usually accounting for five points a meet.

Wally Boe gained the nomination of the most improved runner on the team, while Norm Dversdahl was placed as the most versatile. Other men to win letters in track were: Lou Prediletto; Cliff Murdock, Millard Bates, and Al Fedje in the 440 and relay; Bob Miller in the half mile; Rod Beals and Scott Thompson in the distances; Jimmy Noa and Mark Colton in the pole vault; and George Porter and Buck Killenger in the discus.

In general Coach Stackhouse considered this as a successful season and offered a firm foundation for next year's team. The Bearcats' season performance included a win over Pacific in the season's opener, a three-way meet victory over O.C.E. and Vanport, a third in triangular meet with Linfield and Portland U., a dual loss to Lewis and Clark, and another dual loss was dealt by Whitman which was the closest meet of the season. And in the closing Northwest Conference meet the Bearcats placed fourth.

14 Won, 8 Lost, Cat Diamond Record; Matile Again Paces Hitters With .345

Bob Merkovitch of Vanport may smirk a little when he hears this but Willamette closed a successful baseball season with the definitely good record of 14 wins to 8 defeats. Of course, there were several bumpy spots on the schedule but the overall performance of the team bettered anything since the early forties.

At first the Bearcats' hitting showed signs of insufficient batting practice but the veteran-packed club soon regained the use of its hittin' eye to whack the Salem Senators 4-1. The pre-conference season climaxed with a 15-0 drubbing of Oregon College of Education.

Their eastern trip tabbed the Bearcats as an early choice to end College of Idaho's two-year domination of the Northwest infields. From this jaunt they brought home three bell-ringers in four attempts. Thirty-two hits meant the inland air agreed with the Lewismen. On their return Lou Scrivens turned in the best mound stunt of the year, a three-hit, 6-5 victory over Pacific.

Willamette looked a trifle "bushy" in dropping a tilt to Lewis & Clark and going into a second place tie with Linfield in the circuit. Title hopes rose when Pacific went down for the last time before the 'Cats.

At this stage Merkovitch pitched his legendary no-hit no-run game, the first of his two triumphs over the Salemites. Thus Vanport took the series two to one but Willamette captured the Portland U series by the same margin. Sweeping its last two matches, the 'Cats broke the triple tie to share the toga with the Wildcats of Linfield.

It was "Home, Sweet Home" this year for the men of McCulloch for they won 9 and lost 7 on the road but took five out of six on the home field.

George Matile again carried the load with 29 blows and a .345. He tied with Gordy Lenz at three homers apiece and with Dave Perlman's pair of triples. "Hustlin' George" swiped 13 of the 27 stolen bases. Irv Roth's 17 RBI's edged out Roy Harrington's 16.

Harrington, with a .405, and Lenz, with a .400, had the highest batting averages for the ten league contests. They were on the loop all-star teams with John Markoskie and Matile.

Gridmen Schedule Practice Contest

Tomorrow afternoon head football coach Chester Stackhouse will send his charges through a regular 60-minute game which will end the 12-day spring practice drills.

Portland officials will referee the game and coaches will be on the sidelines. The Bearcat coaching staff will divide the teams as evenly as possible which should result in a closely fought contest. A scrimmage was held last Saturday with each competing squad handling the ball for six plays and then giving possession to the other side who took it for six more plays.

Fall 'Murals Plan Plaque

Willamette students can look forward to a well rounded intramural program next fall, according to Les Sparks, Willamette intramural director. Plans are being laid for touch football, basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, softball and possibly soccer. A meeting of the intramural representatives from each organization will decide the program and a point system for awarding a plaque. Points will be given for competing in a sport, with extra points awarded to winners. In the proposed plan, points may be subtracted for poor sportsmanship. Each organization will have to field a team in each sport to be eligible for the intramural plaque.

Looking over the completed program the winners were as follows: touchball, Beta; A basketball, Phi Deltis; B basketball, Merry Maes; A volleyball, Beta; B volleyball, Sigs; A softball, Beta; B softball, Sigs. Tennis and badminton were not finished but the standings show SAE ahead in tennis with two wins and Sigma Chi leading badminton (2-0) with Beta close behind (2-1). Bowling and track were not considered because of fees and training required.

Four Willamette Couples To Be Married This Month

Allen-Minn, Stout-Ewaliko

Announcement has been made of the coming marriages of Shirley Allen of Cottage Grove and Albert Minn of Honolulu, T.H., and Helen Stout of McMinnville and William Ewaliko, also of Honolulu.

The double ceremony will be performed June 15 at 7:30 p.m. by Rev. Charles Dockstader of the Salmon Creek Methodist church, Vancouver, Washington. White gladioli and lighted tapers will decorate the sanctuary.

Miss Stout and Miss Allen will be gowned in identical white ballerina length dresses with shoulder-length veils. They will carry white orchids.

Mary Anne Hall and Helen Howdle, former Willamette student, will have charge of the guest books. Robert Minn, younger brother of Albert Minn, a student at Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., and James Souza of Honolulu, who is attending the University of Portland, will act as ushers.

Both couples will make their home in Salem while Minn and Ewaliko continue their studies at Willamette.

Miss Allen, who will graduate this June, is retiring president of Lausanne hall. Miss Stout, who graduated from Willamette with the class of 1949, is now an instructor in girls physical education at Turner high school.

Showacy-Pratt

LaFryne Showacy will become the bride of Gordon Pratt June 11, at an 8 o'clock double ring ceremony at the First Christian church of Portland. Reverend Myron Cole will read the vows before an altar banked with spring flowers.

As the guests assemble, Grace Ashford will sing. Jean Gilmer and Barbara Lee Miller, gowned in pastel taffeta, will light the tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, has chosen a gown of white chantilly lace. She will be attended by Mrs. Robert Ross, matron of honor, and Jo Colony, Donna Blair and Mrs. Howard Olson, bridesmaids. They will wear identical dresses of white eyelet and organdy over underskirts of pastel taffeta.

Eldrid Hutchinson will act as best man and ushers will be Bruce Barker, Howard Lorenz and Charles Bowe.

After a wedding trip to Canada and a summer in Salem, the couple will be at home in Waldport where Pratt will be instructor of vocal and instrumental music in the schools at Waldport and Yachats.

Roberts-Brennan

St. Joseph's church in Salem will be the scene of the marriage of Avis Roberts and James Brennan Saturday, June 3, at 10 a.m. Father John O'Callaghan will read the marriage vows.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father. She will wear a traditional white slipper satin gown fashioned with a lace collar and yoke, and full-length sleeves coming to a point at the wrist. She will carry a white prayer book and a white orchid, gifts of the groom.

Matron of honor for Miss Roberts will be Mrs. E. Randall Johnson of Corvallis, and bridesmaids will be Diane Arpke and Margaret Austin. The attendants will be gowned in floor-length orchid taffeta gowns.

Thomas Brennan of Salem will be best man for his brother, and ushers will be Kenneth Roberts, brother of the bride; Larry Stocks, Ed Cairo, Dick Hartley and Warren James of Omak, Washington.

Brennan will continue his work with Boy Scouts in northern Washington after the wedding. The couple will be at home in White Salmon, Washington.

Owl Reveals Engagement

A wise old owl beat the final school bell to reveal the engagement of Barbara Kemmerick and Glen Halliday. The news was told Tuesday during the dinner hour at the Chi Omega house.

An owl on the front door with the word "Who?", written on it gave the first indication of the engagement. Suspense was enhanced by a miniature bride and groom guarding the wedding ring on the table. They were encircled by five small owls bearing cards with the words, "The wise owl in the old oak tree says whooooo?"

The message directed members of the sorority to an oak tree on the lawn by the chapter house with an owl in the branches. In his beak was a card bearing the names "Glen and Barbara."

Miss Kemmerick is a sophomore from Clackamas, and Halliday is a sophomore from Alma, Nebraska. Halliday plans to continue his study of physics at the University of California next year. The wedding is planned for next spring.
