Choir on Annual Tour Over Vacation

As the first warnings of dawn creased the eastern sky on Thursday morning the 52 voice Willamette a cappella choir, under the leadership of Dean Melvin O. Geist, embarked on their annual tour. The choir left on a chartered bus which is taking it through Oregon and California on a 13-day trip to end one week from Tuesday.

Dean Geist and his wife are chaperoning the group, and Doris Loder is the violinist while Edna Marie Hill is the accompanist. In addition to the bus, the choir is employing a panel truck to transport the robes.

To Appear in California

The first appearance was at Springfield high school Thursday morning in one of the four high schools scheduled. There were two other concerts planned for the first day, one at Oakland high school and the first church concert at Roseburg.

Continuing south into California, the choir will sing today in Redding but will not perform tomorrow as it travels to Redwood City, Calif., which is the southernmost city to be reached on the tour. In addition to the Sunday appearance in Redwood City the group will sing in Burlingame on the same day. During the trip north, Monday through Saturday, the choir is to appear at churches in San Francisco, San Leandro, Oakland, Auburn, Napa, and Woodland.

A stand will be made in Chico, Calif., on Easter Sunday and a Monday concert is scheduled for Medford with two on Tuesday at Grants Pass high school and the Yoncalla high school.

After the concert in Yoncalla the choir will return to Salem on April 15.

Varied Program Planned

The program is O All Ye Nations; Lead On, O King Eternal; O Quam Gloriosum; and The Spirit Also Helpeth Us, in the first group and Jesus and The Traders and The Peaceable Kingdom in the second.

Included in the third group are Creep Along Moses; Birds Courting Song; Poor Wayfaring Stranger; Come Quickly, Lord, and Take My Soul to Rest; Prayer to Jesus; and Advent Motet.

Optional numbers are listed as Beautiful Savior; Jig For Voices; Ica's Castle; and Grandma Grunts.

List of Singers Announced

Senior Honored

Margorie Aldinger, a senior majoring in speech was awarded a plaque for being the outstanding senior woman in the Oregon and Washington chapters of Chi Omega. The plaque was awarded at the annual Founder's day luncheon at the Columbia Athletic club in Portland on Saturday.

Students Flee WU for Homes; Spring Vacation Beckons

Spring vacation begins today on the Willamette campus. Already some students have left for their homes scattered throughout the West.

Classes will reconvene on Tuesday, April 15. The extension over the usual week's vacation will eliminate the necessity of students traveling on Easter Sunday.

Those living over 750 miles from Salem who have been allowed extra traveling time before the vacation officially begins will have their excuses cancelled if they do not return for their first class following the holiday.

A wide variety of activities will engage Willamette students next week. Some have plans for work on study while others will find a welcome relief from the rigors of college life in sight-seeing tours, skiing, and trips to the chilly Oregon coast.

Members of the senior class have their tasks cut out for them as they study for comps and orals. Choir members will likewise be well occupied as they tour through Oregon and California.

All of the men's living organizations will remain open during the entire week. The Chi Omega house will be open while Alpha Chi Omega, Bishop house, Delta Gamma and Pi Beta Phi will close.

May Queen Selection; Seniors Meet April 15

Senior class members will meet in Waller hall at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, April 15 to choose ten senior women in the first selection for May Weekend queen. This is the first day of classes after spring vacation.

The student body will choose three out of the ten voted by the senior class in an election held the next day, Wednesday, and Thursday until noon. Run-offs will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday of the next week. Results of all voting will be announced in the Collegian.

Prospective Students to Attend Parties During Vacation

During spring vacation all Willamette students from the areas of San Mateo, Calif., Medford and Vancouver, Wash., will have the opportunity to attend counseling parties for high school seniors in those cities. Each of the parties will feature faculty members, student talent, and the showing of the Willamette movie in the attempt to acquaint the guests with the campus and some of our students.

The Vancouver party will be held on Monday, April 7 at 8 p.m. in the Evergreen hotel. Present at the affair will be Dean Robert D. Gregg from the faculty and admissions counselor Miss Nickie Haynes.

As the same time another party will be held in the Jackson hotel in Medford. Dean Mark Hatfield and Director of Admissions Charles Paeth will assist this group. Charlie Nee and Keith Mirick are expected to be on hand to provide talent for prospective Medford students.

Two days later in the lounge of the San Mateo, Calif., YMCA, a third party will be held for all prospects in the Bay area. Entertainment will be provided by Jane Gray and members of the Willamette choir who will be on tour at that time.

All parents of Willamette students have been cordially invited to each of the respective functions.

Comps Scheduled After Vacation

The written comprehensives for the graduating seniors will be given on April 17. The various departments will be assigned to rooms in the library. The comps will be given at 1 o'clock and the seniors will have five hours to write them if necessary.

The orals are to be scheduled as soon as possible after the comps. Dean Gregg asked that all seniors should see their major professor and arrange the time for the oral. All the members from the major department and one from another department, chosen by the senior, make up the board.

Seniors in sociology will take written comprehensives on Tuesday, April 15, at 9 a.m.

May Weekend Appointments, Plans Announced by Stone

Three of the four assistant manager positions for May Weekend festivities plus a number of plans were announced today by Bob Stone, May Weekend manager.

Appointed to the post of interclass activities manager was Bill Jessup. Coronation festivities, which is a co-managership, is to be headed by Marilyn Enns and Jim Jackson. Heading the May Weekend ball and the interfraternity sing will be Don Boudon. Stone stated that no one has been made publicity manager, but he will make that appointment soon after spring vacation.

Student body president Sherm Bliss approved all the appointments made by Stone. Bill Jessup has picked Rollin Cocking to head the entertainment committee and Don Boudon chose Don Brand to be in charge of the interfraternity sing.

"Much in the way of planning has taken place," declared Stone, "and many plans have been formulated to date."

Mock Convo Plans Advance

Tim MacDonald, a transfer student from Washington and Lee university, made some suggestions for the Willamette mock convention at a national committee meeting Saturday on the basis of his experience with the Washington and Lee mock convention in 1948. Bob Small, chairman, announced.

Mac Donald advocated a campaign manager for each leading candidate with actual campaign procedure by the various states being followed closely.

A registration fee of 50 cents will be charged to help defray convention expenses, Small said. An admission fee will also be charged for spectators.

Governor McKay will introduce keynote speaker Senator Frank Carlson to the convention. The name of William O. Douglas was suggested as a possible honorary chairman, Small said.

Bob Hilliard of Southern Oregon college of education presided.

It was feared that the Capitol sunken garden would be too wet for the queen's coronation so that event has been slated to be held in front of Eaton hall, weather permitting. Shirley Hutchinson, president of the YWCA, will be in charge of the queen's breakfast. The parade which was started last year will be continued, said Stone.

The barbecue is definitely going to be on Sweetland field again this year, contrary to rumors that it was slated for McCulloch stadium. Stone also emphasized that organizations turn in their songs in the interfraternity sing immediately.

Songs can be turned in to Stone at Baxter hall this weekend.

Torch Parade to Precede Convention

Torchlight and heated campaigning, complete with a parade, banners, signs and speeches, will spark the student rally slated for the night of April 22 when campus interest will be channelled into pre-mock convention enthusiasm.

A torchlight parade will initiate the evening's activities, beginning at the Alpha Chi Omega house and proceeding from living organization to living organization and finally to the Willamette gymnasium, where the speeches will be given.

Before the parade, a drawing will be held to pair the various men's and women's living organizations, each pair cooperating in the support of a particular presidential aspirant. Each of the five groups will be responsible for the active promotion of their candidate through the display of banners and signs and the presentation of a speech in his behalf.

Dean Mark Hatfield, state representative, and Governor Douglas McKay will speak to the main rally in the gym. Representatives from the five groups will then give their formal campaign speeches for the respective candidates.

If the 34 delegate positions allotted Willamette for the convention are to be contested, those seeking election will in turn be given an opportunity to state their qualifications for the post.

Decorated with banners, signs and bunting, the gym will provide an appropriate background for the rally, and the university band will be on hand to supply additional color and spirit.

Oh, Gall; Bitter, Bitter Wormwoods!

One of the biggest blows our nation ever experienced came early this week as Al Capp had Marryin' Sam perform his "cheapest, most hoomilatin'" ceremony on Daisy Mae and the nation's "99 per cent red-blooded American ideel, L'il Abner."

Despite the fact that L'il Abner's bachelorhood was expected, each year around Sadie Hawkin's day, one wondered, like we do with Prof. Clark at Glee, "How's he going to delay it this time?"

And why this tragedy on top of the Korean war and the presidential campaigns?

It's no laughing matter Life magazine, March 31, carried Capp's explanation. The American people, at least partially, have lost laughter. They can no longer laugh at themselves, or the silly situations they climb in and out of. Al Capp, a master satirist, is going to tame L'il Abner to more regulation funny stuff, a comic strip of normal (or nearly normal) life. Capp doesn't say he's sad, but we are.

Features like Lower Slobbovia, Jack S. (good 'ol Jack S.) Phogbound, and the luscious l'il Schmoo that was "too good for people," will be sincerely missed by the people who still think that the human race is a pretty funny bunch of animals. We don't think Al is being subversive, or is against "Big Business." We just think he's showing a few of us what we are, and what we may look like to others.

All questions whether L'il Abner will like married life, and the new comic strip. We feel a little like we'd lost something. —M. L. L.

Coffee Time, Alla' Time?

This is especially for those students who spend many hours in the Capitol Coffee Shop.

The owners don't mind your coming in for coffee, drinking it with a cigarette, and leaving, but this sitting around for an hour or two doesn't set too well with owners or state patrons, who are just a little bitter.

Ten a. m. and three p. m. are rush periods for state workers. They only have fifteen minutes. Some of you may be working over there some day, and have to wait almost the whole fifteen for a table.

Now that it's nicer weather, maybe we can ease off a little. In other words, "Slop it up and scram." —M. L. L.

Russian Embassy Visited

By Don Scarborough
WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special) — I had an experience this week that someday I will be recalling with pleasure either to my grandchildren or to a Senate Investigating Committee. I visited the Soviet embassy.

It was a very enjoyable visit and I will have nothing to hide from the investigators that they cannot learn from the FBI, which I hear, has a look-out across the street.

We had no trouble getting in. I called the embassy the day before, spoke to a couple of secretaries and officials, and got a very cordial welcome. But except for the 12 other Washington Semester students who eagerly volunteered to accompany us, I had little trouble convincing some that the visit would be strictly above board.

Some simply would not go to the Soviet embassy for fear of being associated with the subversive element. There was more to this than simply being careful of one's associations. To some of us, it was a sad commentary on the state of affairs when a 20-year old college student has to be careful that a Congressional Committee or Legion Post does not find out that he once visited a Communist embassy.

Anyhow, there were 13 of us who were overcome by curiosity. We bolstered our nerve before hand by singing "Mary Margaret Truman is the Daughter of the President" and other patriotic songs on the bus.

A polite, small man met us at the door (no peep-holes) and left us waiting in the information center. I guess it was on purpose because we picked up a vast amount of propaganda including Russian statements on Trieste, the German peace treaty (or lack of it) and Stalin's note of sympathy to the Japanese for the tortures they were suffering at the hands of the American occupation forces.

Our guide, who spoke good but barely audible English, took us for a 15 minute tour of the embassy. While we had been waiting, he made certain all cleaning women were out of the way — it was 9 a. m. — and that there were no secret plans lying about.

The inside of the embassy is really beautiful. The floors were carpeted in red and the rooms were decorated with magnificent drapes and chandeliers. All in all, it did not look like simple proletarian furnishings, and I'm sure the 70 members of the staff, all Russians, and official delegation, preferred it to their homeland.

Portraits and busts of Stalin and Lenin were everywhere. In one room the walls were decorated with both pre- and post-revolution paintings. Our guide apologized for the inconsistencies, but added that the Tsarist pictures had been collected after Russia first bought the house in 1913.

I think they wanted us to return. They gave us four bound books, including novels by Lermontov and Turgenev and a two-volume history of Russia. I say, I think they want us back but am not sure. We had two different interpretations of our guide's farewell speech. He either said, "Read them in turn," or "Read them and return (them?)"

At any rate, we will be back in April to see the Russian-made movies they are ordering from New York.

We didn't worry about anything until it was time to leave. We understood that they force you to sign a register or papers before you can get out. We all had pseudonyms ready, just in case. I was going to be Bill Covert from Camas, Washington.

Bill lost his chance to be famous, however, for they merely said goodbye. We did have a little trouble getting out, though. One of our men turned the door handle left and pushed. He struggled with it and nothing happened, until our host turned it to the right and pulled. I guess he thought we were a very well educated group.

We asked no embarrassing questions such as: When are you attacking Japan. The two of us who spoke phrases of Russian were also afraid to say anything. I don't think my command of the Russian language (Good morning, comrade, how are you? I love you, and how is your wife?) would have impressed them.

Kampus Kaleidoscope

LAID OUT like the skin of a large reptile in the Waller auditorium is the curtain which for too long a time has been rather casually draped across the front of stage until now both its color and its condition defy description. Busy stagecraft workers have been mending and reending said curtain with some interesting ideas in mind for its use in the production of the drama department's next play, "Twelfth Night."

Piano will have to go temporarily to provide more acting space. Senile old Chickering was once used as part of a rock pile in Mrs. Ring's production of "High Tor," but current production plans cannot utilize its considerable bulk.

Advance - Retreat

UNESCO members and other interested students are planning an advance—or retreat, anyway it's a movement, to Silver Creek Falls on Saturday and Sunday the 19 and 20 of April. Purpose of the outing is to study India, and Dr. Edward Kollmann, who has an extensive background in Oriental philosophy, and Dr. Victor Hugo Sword, formerly a missionary in India for many years, will act as moderators. Several Indian students from Oregon State will also attend.

Distinguished Artists

There has already been much favorable comment aroused by the list of Distinguished Artists for next season. Most people want to know when they can buy tickets. According to Phil Ringle, concert manager, plans are now being considered to give students an extra special rate of four dollars for the four concerts. Phil was wondering how many students would go for a deal like this — seats will not be reserved at this price. Those interested might contact Phil, Dick Scott, Tom Schrock, Bill Briggs or myself and let us know what you think.

The concert manager, his assistants and their committees have always kept the best interests of students in mind in making their decisions on concerts policy. Distinguished Artists isn't out to make money; all it wants to do is break even and have a reasonable margin of profit to take care of incidental expenses. If enough students want this special rate, which will be offered if they buy their tickets NOW for next season, it can possibly be arranged.

LORNA JOHANNABER has a very fine solo exhibit over in the art annex which should be of interest to all. The exhibit is composed of silk screens, prints, oils and many other interesting items. While there we noted some oil paintings of Miss Ethel Lou Stanek who has been posing with her 'cello for a project currently being undertaken by Willamette's aspiring young Rembrandt's. I always thought there is a certain wild beauty about a young woman playing a 'cello. . .

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mary Louise,

There has been a great deal of misunderstanding about the purpose, procedure, and function of the mock convention to be held here on May 10. I would like to take this opportunity to try to clear up some of the misconception which might be prevalent in the minds of some of the students.

The purpose of the mock convention, and indeed of any mock convention, is to give the student some idea of the machinery of politics. This includes the opportunity to learn more about the individual presidential candidates, the purpose of political parties, individual issues in domestic and foreign policy, the functioning of state primaries and state conventions, and the organization and procedure of a national party convention. The entire thing is a learning process. Some may not agree that there is a need to learn more about the matters mentioned above but I think that there are a great number of people who earnestly believe that need is present.

The mock convention itself will furnish the individual student the opportunity to participate in an affair which will give him a greater conception of the 1952 political picture. However, the work which is being done right now in the preparation for the convention, especially the selection of delegates to the convention and the formulation of planks to go into the mock convention platform, provides the opportunity to gain much practical experience in things which a majority of the students never have the opportunity to come near.

Our greatest difficulty seems to be that the idea of a mock convention is so totally new to the student body here at Willamette. But I think that the fact that 11 other colleges and universities throughout the state have decided that it is worthwhile enough for them to come some distance should point out the fact that there must be some value to the idea.

I do not want to put myself or anyone else working on the convention, in the position where it might be said that we have not publicized the convention enough. Each of the committee chairman and myself stands ready to explain any facet of the convention; we would welcome the opportunity to acquaint more of the students with it.

The Willamette Mock Convention is the first such convention to be held on the Pacific coast. It is a student body function. Twelve schools in Oregon are participating. It is Republican because the student body wanted it to be Republican and because of the fact that an "out" convention is more interesting. It has attracted the presence of the first national figure, other than a presidential candidate to appear in Oregon during the Oregon primary.

I want to thank you for the editorial of last week. Your statement about the prestige of the student body and the university being influenced a great deal by the success of the convention is very true. It becomes more so every day.

Sincerely,
Bob Small, chairman
Willamette Mock Convention

Concert Sales Wait for Dates Doney Competition Information Issued

Marian Anderson

Jan Peerce

Final dates have not all been set for the Distinguished Artists concert series next year, causing ticket sales to be held up until final scheduling of the dates.

Phil Ringle, series manager, promises early sales following completion of the dates. He expects to be able to begin selling season passes within the next two weeks. An extensive campaign will be held on the campus for students wishing to buy early. George Buland is in charge of campus sales.

Ringle will attempt to sell out the auditorium for next year's concert series on a season basis. He called attention to the financial benefit to students buying the season ticket if they plan to attend more than one concert.

Doney Competition Information Issued

Information about the annual Doney oratorical contest scheduled this year for Thursday, May 15, in a convocation in the Willamette gymnasium, was issued this week by the University. The contest is held in memory of the late Paul H. Doney, class of 1920, whose parents, Willamette President-emeritus Carl G. and Mrs. Doney have established as a prize two-thirds of the annual income of $1,000 for the winner of first place, and the remaining one-third to the winner of second place.

The orations are to be original, ten minutes in length and on any worthy subject. They will be judged by a board of three educators on the basis of excellence of thought, composition and delivery. Any student desiring to enter this contest should contact Dr. Runkel in the speech office in Waller hall. Manuscripts should be ready for presentation at a preliminary hearing scheduled by Professor Runkel for Tuesday afternoon, May 6.

Draft Test Offered Again

Plans for the spring selective service college qualification tests have been announced by the selective service board. The test will be given Thursday, April 24, 1952, in the Willamette university library.

To be eligible for the deferment test one must have made application to the selective service office by March 10, 1952. The applicant must intend to request deferment as a student, must be satisfactorily pursuing a full time college course, and he must not previously have taken the selective service college qualification test.

To be accepted for deferment, one must have a satisfactory grade on the test, 70 or above, he must rank well in his class, (the upper one-half of the freshmen; the upper two-thirds of the sophomores; the upper three-fourths of the juniors).

'Komachi' Set For Linfield

"Sotoba Komachi," a Japanese Noh drama will be presented by the Willamette drama department at the annual one act play tournament at Linfield college April 17.

This is the first year Willamette has entered a play in the tournament. The productions are rated as to excellence but no winner is chosen.

Willamette's entry was presented here during the series of one act plays sponsored by the department last December and January. It is an interpretation of one of the 250 plays which form the complete collection of Noh dramas, one of the earliest types of formal Japanese drama.

Barbara Remelmeyer will play Komachi, Doug Graham will again take the part of the first priest and Jean Thomas, Ann Shidell, Mike Hovis, Ed Whyte, Bob Alfred and Loris Merriott will repeat their earlier performances. LaVaughn Sleeper, a member of the chorus, and Dick Mercer, second priest, are new to the cast. The play is under the direction of Kent Lawrence.

WU Debate Team High in Olympia Speech Tourney

Willamette debaters rated high in the annual St. Martin's college forensic tournament held March 28 and 29 at Olympia, Wash.

Vying with freshman teams representing 14 colleges and universities throughout Washington and Oregon, Fenton Hughes, Hillsboro, and Paul Johnson, Albany, won second place. They participated in the final debate with the College of Puget Sound on the topic "Resolved: That a Permanent System of Wage and Price Controls Should be Adopted."

In individual events the group won the right to take part in the finals of every type of speaking event entered. James Wood entered impromptu, extempore speaking, and oratory, and was a finalist in all three. Caroline Matter was a finalist in extempore.

Howard Replaces Mazloom on Staff

Master Sgt. Robert E. S. Howard is replacing Tech. Sgt. Horace K. Mazloom on the Willamette AROTC staff, Major Norman Campion announced this week. Sgt. Mazloom is taking advantage of accumulated leave before his discharge in June.

Sgt. Howard has been in military service for 11 years. He was with the 58th Bomb Wing of the 7th Fighter command in World War II, seeing action in the Mariannas and Bonin islands. At the end of the war he resigned his commission as 1st lieutenant and re-enlisted as a master sergeant.

He was stationed in the Pentagon and was a crew member of the U. S. Air Attache in Athens, Greece, from 1948 to 1951.

Clark Lectures on Geology In Faculty Forum Series

Professor Herman Clark applied the principles of geology to Oregon in the fourth of the faculty forum series of lectures last Tuesday evening. He placed cut-out cards on a map to explain the areas of major change in Oregon for the last 190 million years.

Carrying the state through five eras of time, he showed the changes caused by erosion, volcanic activity, water submersion and other geological activities.

"Scenery is a book, a record of a romance which is a very interesting story available to those who can read it," said Clark. Constant changes producing the Willamette valley, Cascade mountains, the Columbia gorge, Grand canyon, Mt. Hood, Mt. Jefferson, Mt. Mazama, Crater lake, Mt. St. Helens and the South Salem hills were emphasized.

An interested group of townspeople, faculty, and students attended the comprehensive overview. Students were especially impressed by the history of the "Ginkgo" tree. This was a common tree of the early ages. Now one of its few descendants stands on the Willamette campus.

It resembles an oversized maiden hair fern. The Erratic rock also attracted their attention. It represents the ice age which began one million years ago. One of this group is mounted out in front of Collins hall. These came to Oregon from Northern Canada imbedded in and carried by huge icebergs.

Clark said that he hoped to make the outings and travels of those in attendance a little more interesting by his expose.

The audience felt that the popular professor manipulated his cards in a much different manner than at his "Glee" appearance and would like to have had time to hear more on the interesting subject.

The series of lectures is under the direction of Dr. Edward Kollmann and is being offered to foster an active academic program on the faculty level which will encourage understanding of subject matter and problems in various fields of the arts and sciences.

Radio Features Choir and Sports

Sunday's "Your University Speaks" program will feature the Willamette university choir at 5:30 p.m. over KOCO.

The program was produced by Jean Kyle and Norm Battaglia with the latter doing the announcing.

On April 13, "sports" will be the main topic on the University series.

The announcing for the program will be Bill Van Horn. He will interview Coach John Lewis and some members of the Willamette baseball team.

Lewis Gives Holt Nod for Pitching Against Vik Nine

By Hal Johnson
The Willamette Bearcats will open their 1952 home baseball season against the Vanport Vikings this afternoon at 2:30 p.m. on the McCulloch diamond.

According to John Lewis, 'Cat baseball coach, the Willamette club is looking good, and a little better than they did last year. However, Lewis is holding off any prediction on the outcome of their chances in the Northwest conference race because of the lack of pre-season games for the Bearcats.

In the non-conference game with the Vanport Vikings, Lewis will start freshman Benny Holt on the mound with another freshman, Harve Koepf behind the plate. Alva Brown will start at first base and Cliff Girod will be at second base. Dave Perlman and Millard Bates round out the infield as third baseman and shortstop respectively. The outfield will be Dick Brouwer in left, Denny Elsasser in center and John Markoskie in right.

OSC Score Late

Last year the Bearcats downed the Vikings in a single encounter by a score of 15-12. So far this season the Bearcats have dropped the State Pen 27-3 and played the Oregon State Beavers. The result of the Oregon State game was not received in time for publication. In Vanport's only start this season, the Vikings dropped a 8-5 game to the Linfield Wildcats.

Tomorrow at 1 p.m. Willamette's McCulloch stadium will be the scene of the second annual Willamette relays.

Final entries were received last Tuesday, and Chester Stackhouse, director of the meet, announced that the grand total of entrants for the cinder classic will include 1607 athletes from 60 Oregon high schools and 16 colleges from Oregon and Washington.

Stackhouse reported that the field has fallen from the anticipated 2000 athletes because eight high schools in Washington will not participate along with the eight schools in the Portland interscholastic league.

Ruling Cuts Entries

A ruling prohibits the Washington schools participating in meets outside the state and the Portland schools hit a stumbling block in the form of budget difficulties. The Portland schools may decide at the last minute to come, each school footing its own bill.

The program which is scheduled to wind up at 5:50 p.m., includes 100 separate races plus a maximum of competition in field events.

There will be three classes of competition. They are high school class, university class and college class. Teams from Oregon State, University of Oregon and University of Washington are in the university class. Other small- (Continued on page 5)

Bearcat Golfers Open Year With Win; Beavers Spoil Home Opener for 'Cats

Coach Sam Vokes' Willamette golfers opened their season with an easy victory over Vanport last Monday, but lost a close match to the Oregon State Beavers to spoil their home opener held last Wednesday on the Salem golf club course.

Bill Wittenberg of Willamette was medalist in both matches. He stroked to a 75 in the Vanport match and hit an even 70 to lead all golfers in the OSC match.

The Bearcats' ten and one-half to seven and one-half victory over Vanport was led by Wittenberg, Ken Baines and Kent Myers. Baines shut out his opponent Mayer, by a score of three to nothing. Both Wittenberg and Myers won by scores of two and one-half to one-half. Their opponents were Masley and Christianson respectively.

The results of the other matches favored the losing Vanport Vikings. Stone of Vanport shut out Doug Coe three to nothing. Troth defeated Dan Callaghan of Willamette two to one while Viking Murray tied Dick Church at one and one-half a piece.

The Oregon State team edged Willamette nine and one-half to eight and one-half with only two of the golfers hitting above 80. Wittenberg and Myers won over Keith Osborn and Fred Ducan three to nothing respectively. Doug Coe and Don Remlinger tied in their contest. Bob Eade edged Church two to one. Don Bailes and Bill Kessinger defeated Baines and Callaghan three to nothing in their final contest.

The next match for the Bearcats will be at Linfield Thursday, April 17, in the first conference meet for Willamette.

Willamette Diamond Nine Steamrolls to 27-3 Triumph Over Oregon State Penitentiary Aggregation Saturday

Willamette university's Bearcats showed some pert hitting, pitching and base stealing last Saturday afternoon as they launched the 1952 baseball campaign with a 27-3 victory over the Prison Greys within the prison walls.

Mike Glenn, Andy George and Benny Holt, each working three innings, except Holt, who pitched one frame, as the game was halted by a three-hour time limit, set the prisoners down with six hits. The Bearcats reached Engman, Lyng, Blair and Ward for 17 hits, including three homers and one double. The four-bag-gers were hit by Millard Bates, Dick Brouwer and Cliff Girod. Glenn hit the only double for Willamette.

The Greys got one run each off the trio of Willamette pitchers. The runs off Glenn and Holt were unearned and the run off George came on Pollock's home run. In the other four innings the Willamette hurlers had the inmates under control.

The most impressive offensive outbursts by Coach John Lewis' baseballers came in the third and sixth frames as they batted around both times. Seven runs crossed the plate in the third and 11 came in the sixth. Although the Bearcats were limited to two and four hits respectively in the two innings, they bunched the hits along with free passes and stolen bases. Nine bases on balls were given up by the Greys and 13 stolen bases were taken by Willamette baserunners. Gene Jones, Ralph Onzuka, Bates and Girod each had two to their credit.

Brouwer led Willamette in hitting with three hits in three official trips to the plate. Girod was next with three for five and reserves Jones and Duane Shields had one for two and two for three respectively. Beer, who led the Greys in hitting, had a perfect day as he collected three hits in three trips to the plate.

Glenn, who received credit for the victory, was touched for two of the six hits off Bearcat pitching. George gave up the other four hits.

An oddity of the game was that first baseman Brown went the entire route of the game without racking up a single putout. Fifteen strikeouts helped to keep the putouts to a minimum. Brown only touched the ball once during the entire game. This happened during the second inning when Glenn picked off a Grey baserunner, but shortstop Bates was given the putout as he tagged the baserunner out.

Sig Slat Squad Slides To Intramural Victory

Merlin Schulze, Dave Anderson and Bob Miller led the Sigs' ski team to an easy win in the annual intramural ski meet held last Sunday at Hoodoo Bowl. The DG's won the women's division by virtue of a forfeit.

Donna Stadart had the best time for the ladies' team. Marilyn Witham and Jean Helgeson were the other two members of the winning team.

Schulze turned in the best time for the men's division as he went the distance in 34 and one-half seconds. The Betas finished second to the Sigs while the Phi Deltas came in third. Jim Bergman, Hal Hargeaves and Doug Graham made up the Beta team. Dick Unruh, Jack Forristel and Jerry McNerney competed for the Phi Delt cause.

Sigs Show Cinder Merit to Walk Off With Top Intramural Track Laurels

By Bob Hall

The Sigs, displaying surprising strength in every event, walked off with first place in the intramural track meet held last Saturday afternoon on the McCulloch oval.

The Sigs piled up points all afternoon to double the score of their nearest competitor. They finished with a 54-point total. The SAE's were runners-up with 27 and one-third points. Baxter and the Phi Delt's finished third and fourth with 21 and 16 and one-third points respectively. The All-Americans came in fifth with an even 16 points. The Betas ended up in last place with 15 and one-third points.

During the course of the afternoon several good times were turned in. The 100-yard dash was run in 10.3 seconds by Chuck Lewis of Baxter and the 220-yard dash in 23.6 seconds and again the winner was Lewis. The hurdles were shortened to 180 yards in the lows and 70 yards in the highs. Darrell Corkery of the Sigs won both events with times of 21.0 and 9.2 seconds respectively.

The Beta 440-yard relay team looked very good in winning their event with a time of 50.4 seconds. The Sigs won the 880-yard relay with a time of one minute and 39.5 seconds.

In the field events, Merlin Schulze of the Sigs won the high jump with a leap of five feet and six inches. The broad jump ended in a two-way tie for first place between Paul Jewell of the Betas and Larry Baggett of the All-Americans. Larry Smith of the Phi Delt's captured the shot put event with a heave of 38 feet and two inches. Russ Ferg of the SAE's placed first in the discus as he tossed the platter 115 feet and 9 inches.

'Cat-Viking Clash On Local Field

outfield are the main assets on the Bearcats' defensive side. Girod, all-conference second baseman, is looking great around the keystone this season. Brown at first base, Bates at shortstop and Perlman on third bolster the team's chances tremendously. In the outfield, Brouwer and Markoskie are well-seasoned veterans with three years of experience. Duane Shield and Ralph Onzuka, lettermen, and freshmen Elsassner and Gene Jones add needed strength to outfield.

The batteries seem to be the biggest question marks. The pitching is mostly young and inexperienced. However, the hurlers do look good for the amount of seasoning that they have had, and they should develop quite rapidly when the season gets going. The catching looks good, despite the absence of Lou Scrivens, who also made the conference all-star team last season. Jack Haude and Koepf are the best looking candidates up to now.

15 Games to Go

The hitting is shaping up fairly well. Brouwer, a long ball hitter, has been showing power, as evidenced by his tremendous four-bagger against the State Penitentiary nine. Brown has been hitting well in the clutch. He batted in six runs in this same contest and hit .338 last season. Another hitter who should come through again this year is Girod, who slugged at a .371 clip last season.

Before the Bearcats can count the season over and take the Northwest conference championship, they have to play 15 more ballgames and ten of them in conference play.

Track Gives Sigs Lead For Intramural Plaque

The Sigs moved into the lead for the intramural plaque as the 54 points in the track meet gave them a total of 147 points which is thirteen and two-thirds over the second place Phi Delt's.

The Phi Delt's who have enjoyed the lead all year lost the leadership as they won only 16 points in the cinder meet to give them a total of 133 and one-third points. The All-Americans who have rested in second spot slipped to third with a total of 130 points after netting 16 points in the track meet.

The SAE's dropped one notch into fourth place as they captured 27 and one-third points in the cinder meet to give them a total of 123 and one-third points. The Baxter and Beta team remained in their respective fifth and sixth places. The Baxter team took 21 points in the meet to run their total to 100 and one-half points. The Betas who finished last in the meet with 15 and one-third points boosted their total to 85 and five-sixths points.

Second Annual Willamette Relays Tomorrow; Draw Record Number of Northwest Athletes ler colleges may enter this class, but are eligible for the college class.

Willamette will enter the university class because coach Stackhouse believes it does the participating runners more good to be pitted against the stiffer competition.

Special Races Set

Other colleges entering the meet are Central Washington College of Education, Eastern Oregon, George Fox, Lewis and Clark, Linfield, Oregon College of Education, Clark junior college, College of Puget Sound, Pacific, Oregon Frosh, Portland, Western Washington College of Education and Vanport.

From a rather large field of nominations, 14 men have been selected to participate in the two feature races of the afternoon. Eight men, five of whom have

Relays Fail to Hit 2000 Mark

Withdrawal of eight Washington high schools because of late ruling by the high school athletic association in that state put an end to hopes that the Willamette relays tomorrow would draw 2000 thinclads. With the count now 1607 participants from 60 Oregon high schools and 16 colleges from Oregon and Washington the 2000 mark would not have been reached even with the Evergreen state schools included. Yet 1607 competitors is 600 more than last year, showing the way the relays is going over. All in all, it should be quite an affair. Last year it looked like a three ring circus taking place on the field and with the added participants it ought to be more colossal than ever. It is one track meet in which there is never a dull moment. It is unfortunate that spring vacation and the relays coincide for it is an event no sport fan should miss.

Word is now out that just a few people are disgusted as a result of the intramural track meet, an event that was held this year after being disbanded last year. Seems as though that those perturbed over the situation do not look kindly on participants that were out for track and competed in the meet. The meet excluded only lettermen in track, letting in all freshmen, some of whom are obviously varsity track material. The main blasts are directed at the Sigs who won the affair largely on the performance of three outstanding freshmen who garnered 25 points between them on the strength of five first places.

Those Out of Shape Haven't Much Chance

The complainers have a definite point in that intramural sports are designed and carried out for the benefit of the many. Those that are forced to compete with men that have been out for track a month could easily be scared away from competing. What chance does a poor kid who is out of shape have against the conditioned performer? Not much when one considers just how important conditioning is to track—it's just about everything save for a little natural ability. Natural ability without condition doesn't very well match natural ability plus condition as was the case last Saturday in the 'mural track meet. Too many trackmen identified in the latter group could easily kill intramural track altogether.

Perhaps next year something can be worked out to dispel all this ill feeling. Certainly few kids that are out of shape are going to run against conditioned, and many times proved performers, when they know they haven't a chance. One solution to the problem was offered by Coach Stackhouse. He suggested the possibility of making the 'mural participants get in shape by requiring them to work out about a dozen times before the meet. Then also the rule that excludes lettermen could be extended to include all those out for track. The former idea prevails at the moment.

Lack of Interest Cuts WAA Activity

We were surprised to learn the other day—about two months late—that the Women's Athletic Association, better known as the WAA, has been defunct for quite some time. Seems as though interest has fallen off since they snagged a national first in archery last fall. Right now, the girls are limbering up their muscles in intramural competition only. Their decline came as a shock after the howl the girls raised when they thought they weren't getting the proper publicity from the Collegian. Well, maybe they'll reorganize shortly and get back to battling the other valley schools. We hope so; but before they do, cooperation is needed from the other colleges.

Sigs Earn Match For Bowling Title

The Sigs keglers downed Baxter's No. 2 tenpin squad last Tuesday to capture the second half intramural bowling championship and earn a playoff with SAE's, the first half champions, for the intramural bowling trophy for 1952.

In other action Tuesday second place Beta downed Phi Delt No. 1 4-0. This put the Betas in second place by a single point. Had the Sigs tied Baxter 2-2, it would have necessitated a playoff between them and the Betas to determine the second half winners. Had the Sigs lost their match, the Betas would have bowled the SAE's for the title.

High series Tuesday was rolled by Bud Lafky, who turned in 160, 147, 159 for a 466 total. Dick Church turned in high game of 178. The Betas captured high team game with 792.

In action last Thursday Sigs downed SAE 4-0; Baxter No. 1 tied Baxter No. 2 2-2; Beta No. 1 won 4-0 over Phi Delt No. 2 by forfeit; and Beta No. 2 topped Phi Delt No. 1 4-0. Ben Collier had high game of 181, and Jerry Coen's 493 qualified for high series. High team game honor went to the Sigs with 811.

Varsity Court Princesses To Rule at Lettermen's Ball

By Barbara Jackson

Names of the finalists in the selection of Varsity queen were revealed Tuesday night on station KOCO, where five freshmen women were individually interviewed on a disc jockey program at 9 o'clock.

Those who will be on the court for the Varsity Ball, to be held April 18 at the Crystal Gardens, are Sally Jo Grimm, Yvonne Grosser, Ruth Joseph, Frances Smith, and Pat Wegner.

Princesses for the Varsity court were chosen at a special meeting of the Lettermen during Tuesday convocation. At that time the queen was also selected, and her name will be announced at the Varsity Ball on April 18.

Tickets, priced at $1 a couple, have been arranged by Kent Myers. Tickets will go on sale to members of the student body April 16 in the living organizations and in Eaton hall, and will be sold at the dance on April 18. The admission charge is necessary due to insufficient student body funds to sponsor the dance, as has been done in past years.

Varsity Court Personalities

Sally Jo Grimm plans to major in home economics, and she also participates in hobbies such as playing the piano and swimming. From Vancouver, Wash., Sally Jo is a member of Pep Cats, and was vice-president of the Pi Beta Phi pledge class.

Hiking and piano playing are two of Yvonne Grosser's favorite hobbies. She is from Milwaukie and is enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts. Yvonne participated with her class in Glee, is a member of YWCA, and has been active in AWS.

Majoring in speech is Ruth Joseph of Weiser, Idaho. Aside from her hobbies of swimming and painting, Ruth has been active in WUP's, was recently appointed to the YWCA cabinet, and is now serving as her class secretary. She is a member of Chi Omega.

Frances Smith, who is in the College of Liberal Arts, is from Portland. Frances likes to duck hunt and enjoys listening to good music, and was initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary. Serving as Mock Convention secretary, she was also recently pledged to Alpha Chi Omega.

A Salem student, Pat Wegner is majoring in education. Pat enjoys playing basketball and volleyball, but spends most of her time at Kay's dress shop, where she is employed. Affiliated with Pi Beta Phi, she has been active in projects of her pledge class.

Ellis Von Eschen announced that gifts will be presented to members of the court. The decorations will follow the "W", Lettermen's club, theme, and have been arranged by Larry Standifer. Ken Cooper has handled publicity.

Pledge Groups Elect Officers

Officers for the pledge classes formed from spring pledging have been elected and are now assuming their new duties. Officers from the Alpha Chi Omega pledge class include Joan Currie, president; Diana Hobart, vice-president; Judy Finch, secretary-treasurer; Arden Roseberry, song leader, and Eileen Subbauer, social chairman. Chi Omega officers are Elizabeth Loving, president; Evelyn Plog, secretary; Virginia Pearson, treasurer, and Donna Jenkins, Junior Panhellenic representative.

Pledge officers in Delta Gamma are Joanne Taylor, president; Sally Cooney, secretary-treasurer; Jackie Prall, Junior Panhellenic representative, and Janet Strachan, pledge project chairman. Pi Beta Phi officers are Clara O'Neil, president; Bonnie Belle Stewart, vice-president; Pat Harris, secretary; Liz Winship, treasurer; Ann Shidell, scholarship chairman, and Elanore Rigby, Junior Panhellenic representative.

Arlene Deakins Chosen April 'Co-Ed' by AWS

Arlene Deakins

Arlene Deakins has been chosen as "WU Co-ed of the Month" for April. Miss Deakins, a senior majoring in music, was accorded the honor for her outstanding activities and character. A member of the Willamette choir, Miss Deakins arranged all the housing for the spring vacation tour.

The Associated Women Students' gold trophy will be presented to Miss Deakins during Tuesday convocation after vacation, and she will be honored by the Sorority club of Salem at one of their Wednesday noon meetings.

College Board Position Open

Lipman and Wolfe Co.'s fashion coordinator, Miss Dorothy Day, will be on the Willamette campus Thursday, April 24, from 9:30 to 11 o'clock to interview prospective College Board members.

Women will be selected on the basis of their college and activity records, personality, poise and their desire to become a College Board member. Incoming juniors and seniors are preferred although not definitely required.

Miss Day will meet with students in the Dean of Women's office, and appointments may be made with Dean Ewalt's secretary.

Inter-Varsity Meets

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 6:30 in the UNESCO room Tuesday evening following vacation for Bible Study. A discussion period will follow the meeting.

Methodist Groups Retreat at Coast

Spring conference of OMSM, Oregon Methodist Student Movement, will be held on April 18-20 at Camp Magruder. Students, attending from Wesley groups throughout Oregon, will hear Dr. J. Lem Stokes as the challenge speaker. Dr. Stokes is a national Methodist leader working with college students. Challenge addresses, discussion periods and recreation will be part of the weekend conference at the coast.

Cost of the weekend is to be $5 and reservations should be made by April 15. Those attending will need a sleeping bag or blankets and sport clothes.

Magruder spring conference is an annual activity of OMSM. The speaker this year comes from Nashville, Tennessee. Dr. Stokes was born in Korea, where his parents were missionaries, coming to the United States for his college training. He received his B.D. at Duke university, and his Ph.D. at Yale university. He is now one of the four national secretaries in the department of college and university religious life of the Methodist church. At the Lake Tahoe conference last summer Dr. Stokes was a resource speaker.

Law School Dance Held

Law school students held their semi-annual dinner dance last night at 7:30 at the Izaak Walton hall.

In the midst of flower-decked tables and decorations, planned by Charles Reeves, students of various classes gave pantomimes and take-offs on their professors. This is an old custom with the Law students, explained Dave Wheeler, general chairman.

Dean Seward Reese, head of the Law school, was asked as a special guest, and all members of the school faculty were invited.

Mu Phi Epsilon Alumnae Meet

Alumnae members of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, held their first meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Paul Hale.

A tea and musical in honor of the senior members of the active chapter at Willamette is the first project to be sponsored by the group. The tentative date of May 18 has been set for the affair, and patrons and patronesses of the group have been invited.

WU Indeps Hold Dance

Willamette Independent Town Students, organized at the beginning of spring semester, will sponsor an informal dance in the Baxter lounge this evening from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. The affair is planned so that members of the new organization can become acquainted, according to Shirley Dean, dance chairman.

Weldon Ward will be in charge of refreshments, and Frances Boatwright will plan flower decorations. Publicity is under the direction of Fred Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Graunke will be chaperons for the evening.

Troth Announced At U of Oregon

News of the engagement of Ralph Bolliger and Sally Lichty was revealed at the Alpha Phi chapter house at the University of Oregon after closing hours Monday night. Violins fashioned from pipe cleaners attached to cards announced the names of the couple.

Miss Lichty is a senior at the University of Oregon, majoring in music, and is a member of Alpha Phi. Bolliger, a junior, is planning to enter Law school next year, and is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

The wedding date has been set for late August.

April Advance Of UNESCO To Study India

UNESCO will hold an "advance" for all interested students at Silver Creek on April 19 to 20, Betty Howat, general chairman, announced this week. The theme will be a study of India.

Students will leave Salem at 9 a.m. April 19 in private cars. The cost will be approximately $3, and sleeping bags or bed-rolls will be necessary, Miss Howat reported. Clothing will be informal with jeans or pedal-pushers in order for the women.

Deadline for signing up will be at the regular UNESCO meeting on noon of April 17 in the Lusanne recreation room. Four meals will be supplied.

Dr. Edward C. Kollmann, Dr. John A. Rademaker and Prof. Alfred W. Sheets of the Willamette faculty will lead various discussions during the weekend. Dr. Victor H. Sword, a former missionary to India, will also participate and Indian students from Oregon state college will take part in the program. The conference will conclude at 4 p.m. April 20.

Student Interest Goal of YMCA Mexican Display

Rousing student interest and curiosity in connection with the YMCA sponsored Mexican tour this summer is the purpose of a new exhibit on display now in the Willamette university library. Books on the arts, social problems and history of Mexico are available to students planning to go on this tour. In reading these books they may gain a better background before visiting the many interesting spots in Mexico. Many of these books are very new and modern, just off the press.

This exhibit will continue the week following spring vacation.

Baxter Hall Men Paint Game Room

Baxter hall added a colorful note to its interior as many hands turned out to paint and decorate the game room in the basement. "The project will provide a more cheerful place for off hour recreational activities," stated Carl Blanes, committee chairman. Although most of the men of the hall have managed to put in some time on the work some of the leaders with paint brush and spray gun have been Gordon Wylie, John Swenson, Don Hayes, Don Boudon, Jim Wilcox and Cecil Ristow.

Tour of France Scheduled Again

Dr. Hocking of the language department announced this week that the French tour will again take place this year as in previous summers.

The students, approximately twenty in number, accompanied by Hocking, will leave New York by boat on June 20. Their destination is Grenoble in southern France where they will live with French families in the vicinity and study at Grenoble university during the month of July.

After completing their study, the group will do some further traveling before returning to this country.

Student Seminar Includes Job, Study

By Shirley Helweg

Opportunity to live and work in Washington D. C. during the next summer is available to college students through membership in the Washington Student Citizenship Seminar.

The seminar, sponsored by the National Student YMCA and YWCA, will be held from June 23 to August 31 in Washington. Students will hold full time jobs with government agencies, and participate in seminar discussion groups with government officials four evenings a week.

Shirley Helweg, Willamette

junior, was a member of the 1951 seminar in Washington, and Jackie Chute Calkins, Willamette graduate, attended during the summer of 1950.

Purpose of the seminar is to observe the federal government in operation by actual work in government agencies and participation in seminar discussions. Among the speakers last summer were Senator Estes Kefauver, Donald E. Stone, director of administration for ECA; Philip Jessup, U. S. ambassador-at-large; Mrs. India Edwards, vice-chairman of the national Democratic committee, and Michael DiSalle, director of OPS.

During their first week in Washington, students devote their full time to orientation. Members of the 1951 seminar met congressmen from their home states when attending sessions of Congress and special committee hearings. Of interest to the group were hearings of the Un-American Activities committee, and the widely publicized hearings on narcotics.

Meeting President Truman in a scheduled visit in the Rose Gardens of the White House was a highlight of the week. Members of the group also met Secretary of State Dean Acheson and visited the State department, Department of the Interior, Pan-American Union and Dumbarton Oaks.

During the months of July and August, students hold full-time jobs in federal agencies. Salaries range from $50 to $60 a week. By working in government agencies, students earn money to cover expenses of the seminar and learn about the organization of federal agencies and the life of government workers. Civil service jobs are secured for the students before they come to Washington.

Sightseeing in and around Washington is planned by groups of seminar students on weekends. During the 1951 seminar the group visited the Russian, Iranian and Indian embassies among others. Weekends were crowded with visits to Mt. Vernon, Arlington, Lee's Mansion, historic Williamsburg, New York City, and visiting the many museums and national monuments in Washington itself.

Students interested in the seminar should contact Shirley Helweg for further information. Application blanks are available from Miss Jimmie Woodward, 600 Lexington Avenue, New York 22, New York.

New Voters Invited to Meet

Men and women who have reached the age of 21 since last election or who will be able to vote in November and who will be registered in Marion county are invited to a special recognition party at the YMCA Monday, April 14 between 8 and 9 p.m.

All the aspects of voting will be explained at the party by prominent political authorities.

On hand to help the new voting citizens will be Governor McKay, circuit and county court judges, presidents of service clubs, Mayor Al Loucks and city council members.

Refreshments will be served. No set time is scheduled for all to be there.

Salem Rotary Elects Gregg President, Fenix Secretary

Dr. Robert D. Gregg, dean of the College of Liberal arts, was elected president of the Salem Rotary club at a meeting Wednesday noon. Dr. Robert W. Fenix, financial vice president, was chosen secretary at the same time.

The two administration members will be installed on June 25 and will begin their terms of office on July 1. Dr. Fenix is also president of the Salem Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Gregg came to the Willamette campus in 1948. In addition to his work as dean, he also serves as a professor of history. Dr. Fenix was business manager and professor of business administration from 1943 to 1947 and has held his present position since that time.

KOCO to Present Ben Hur Sunday

A radio adaptation of the religious drama "Ben Hur" will be presented over KOCO Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. by the university radio department, Dean Graunke director, announced.

Featured in the cast are Ward Armstrong, David Belch, Don Boudon, George Evans, Dick Geer, Garold Meinke, Dick Mercer, Lawrence Monk, Grant Mumpower, Marion Putman, Loren Ranton, Bob Scearce, Dick Scott and Tom Wick.

Also appearing are Margaret Conklin, Shirley Dean, Sue Mellor, Gloria Nandie, Barbara Remelmeyer and Judi Wood.

Engineer will be Bob Witham with sound effects being handled by Patsy Older, Dorothy Beachler and Loren Ranton.

Evans Declares Opening a Success

"The law school open house, March 28, was a great success, especially considering that it was a new idea among graduate schools," stated Kieth Evans, law school student body president.

He went on to emphasize that, "credit for this very satisfactory event goes to the student body, for it was their combined efforts that made it work."

Fifty-one students attended the open house. They were from Vanport, Linfield, Pacific and Willamette. It was a good turn out considering that most of the colleges in Oregon were either having finals or vacation. Five of the visitors were women; at the present time Carlotta Hendricks is the only woman law student at Willamette and she is due to graduate.

Washington Job Applicants Sought

Applicants are being sought in many areas of the state of Washington to fill positions as visitors in local county welfare departments, H. A. Lang, state personnel board supervisor, announced recently. These are merit system jobs which start at $242 with possible increases to $288 per month. Duties include the interviewing of applicants and recipients for public assistance grants.

College graduates or those who have had at least two years of college and two years of full-time work experience are eligible to apply for the written test. The examinations will be given by appointment in centers as convenient to the location of candidates as possible.

Further information and application forms may be secured through the Washington State Personnel board, 1219 Smith Tower, Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Martin Helps Review Education

Dr. George Martin, head of the education department, is serving this week on a state department of education committee to evaluate the education program at McMinnville high school.

The committee is reviewing the self evaluation which has been made by the McMinnville faculty. A number of Oregon high schools have requested the service of the state in this program.

ROTC Rifle Team Takes Midway Spot

A Willamette AROTC rifle team placed approximately midway in competition with 220 teams from over the nation, according to final scores of the AROTC teams entered in the 31st annual William Randolph Hearst ROTC rifle competition.

Willamette's number one team took the 112th spot on the list with an 820, beating such scores as the 809 shot by New York university, 804 by the University of Idaho, Duke university's 803, 796 fired by the University of California at Los Angeles, University of Arizona's 782 and 779 from Harvard university.

Willamette's second team placed 158th by beating such number one teams as: University of Arkansas—760, University of Wichita—758, University of Utah—753, Holy Cross college—741, Princeton university—729, University of Minnesota—724 and Washington university with a 664 as well as numerous other 1st and 2nd teams.

Maryland Wins

The Hearst newspaper organization which sponsored the match is now arranging for the delivery and awarding of team trophies to the top three teams: University of Maryland, University of Notre Dame; and awarding of the high individual scorer award to Donald G. Riley of the University of Notre Dame.

Headquarters USAF has indicated that "the conduct of the 1952 competition by all echelons of the command was commendable. It is a pleasure to note that 146 AROTC units entered 220 teams for the largest participation in the history of the matches."

The University of Maryland totaled 936 points out of a possible 1000 to win for first place in the Air Force competition and the right to represent the AROTC against the winning teams of the Army and Navy ROTC for the William Randolph Hearst National Defense trophy. The U of Maryland's second team placed eighth with a team total of 918, the third team placed 22nd with 904. The fourth team placed 80th

Command Change Set for August

The Air University, located at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Alabama, will assume command of all AROTC detachments August 1, 1952.

The change will not affect the policy or courses of any AROTC unit. It is merely a transfer of orders to the Air University from the Fourth Air Force and the AROTC units will be directly under the command of the Air University.

The Air University is a number of schools whose duty is to train Air Force officers. It has among its schools, academic instructors courses which all AROTC instructors will attend. The Air University will be the headquarters for all AROTC units and it will directly control the units.

Major Campion and Major Thompson attended the academic instructors course at the Air University at one time.

Last year Major Charters, Master Sergeant Hartman, Master Sergeant Morgan and Technical Sergeant Mazloom attended the course.

making an outstanding showing for Maryland university in this 31st annual match.

Kansas Second

The University of Kansas placed second with a 934, University of Notre Dame followed with 929 barely beating out the University of Tennessee which came in fourth with a 928, out-firing the men from Oklahoma A & M by a scant margin of five points. The Oklahoma A & M team took fifth place by punching out a score of 923 out of a possible 1000.

Shooting for Willamette were, 1st team: Norm Battaglia—169, Bob Carlson—168, Ted Smith—160, Bill Mosier—163, and Terry Wheeler—160 for a team total of 820; 2nd team: Don Hayes—174, Ivan Wells—161, Bob Whitakek—157, Bill McKinney—139, and Frank Stephens—135 for a total 765.

Summer School At U. of Hawaii Offered by United

College classes in the colorful and historic setting of the Hawaiian Islands will be available to local students and teachers at budget rates this summer, according to United Air Lines.

A low price of only $403 for the University of Hawaii summer session tour includes round-trip air transportation from Salem, via San Francisco, housing for the six-week term, and tuition at the university for six credit hours. Meals in the islands and transportation tax are extra.

By special arrangement with the university, United can offer a limited number of dormitory rooms at just $45 for women and $60 for men for the entire six-week term. Meals at the school cost as little as $2 a day. Other board and lodging arrangements may be made through the university or individually.

A wide range of courses in more than 24 academic fields will be offered during the summer months at both undergraduate and graduate levels, according to university officials. Registration will be June 23, with classes beginning the following day and closing August 1. College catalogues and other information are available at United's Salem office.

Delegates to Be Chosen For Willamette Mock Convo

By Margie Leonard

Willamette will represent the New England states, New Jersey and the territories with a delegation of 34 elected from the student body as a result of apportionment of delegates approved at last Saturday's mock convention national committee meeting.

Students interested in filing for delegate must do so by noon, April 21, in the student body office or the mock convention headquarters on the third floor of Eaton hall, designating the state they wish to represent. A student body election on April 23 and 24 will determine the delegations from the various states, with alternates picked from the runner-ups for the delegation for which they filed.

Delegates will not be elected on the basis of the candidate they will support in the mock convention since they will receive their instructions from the state central committee whom they will represent. In this way the delegate will learn the particular political stand taken by the state he represents, and the mock convention will as nearly as possible duplicate the actual procedure and opinions the individual states will maintain at the national Republican convention.

In all, 60 delegates are being sought from the student body to fill the Willamette delegation and to serve as alternates if vacancies arise.

Sports Fields Get Face Lifted

Dr. Fenix reports that both the baseball diamond and the track at McCulloch field are being readied for use in the near future.

Students, under the direction of coaches Chester Stackhouse and John Lewis, are assisting the grounds men in filling and leveling the track, filling the jumping pits, and rolling the baseball diamond in preparation for mowing it. A new heavy canvas backstop has been constructed for the diamond.

On the campus flowers are blooming once again and students are asked not to pick them. Flowers will be cut for special occasions, but only by the gardener.

Woman Marine To Interview Interested Coeds

Second Lieutenant Virginia Caley, USMC, will be here Friday, April 18th, to interview women interested in the Marine Corps Women's Officer Training Class.

Enrollment is open to physically qualified, unmarried women undergraduates and graduates of accredited colleges and universities. Candidates must be at least 18 years of age at the time of enrollment and not over 25 years of age on July 1 of the year which commissioned. Maximum age for former members of the Marine Corps is 27.

Undergraduates accepted for the class will attend two summer training periods of six weeks each at Quantico, Va. After successful completion of the two courses and upon graduation from college, the women candidates will be appointed second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve. College graduates may complete both courses in one summer.
