

Who's Going To Be Tight?

(Cut this out, if you want to know.)

Where'll They Get That Way?

(Cut this out, if you want to know.)

Why'll They Get That Way?

(Cut this out, if you want to know.)

CO-ED EDITION

Willamette

Collegian

Centennial Celebration in 1942

Oldest University in the West

SKATE TONIGHT

VOL. 51

SALEM, OREGON, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1940

No. 17

Four Time Winner Of Freshman Glee Home for Visit

Helen Benner, Well Known As Outstanding Musician, Spends Vacation In Salem

By MIRIAM JENSEN

The coming of Freshman Glee brings to mind a name that is soon to be known from coast to coast, that of a girl whose first claim to fame was the writing of four consecutive winning Freshman Glee songs, Helen Benner.

Not only did Helen Benner write the songs, she played the piano for them, arranged the violin obbligato, and threw in here and there her own marches, as an additional attraction. In her fourth year she left us with a song that is on the lips of every serenader—"Sweetheart of W. U." As an inspiration to prospective composers, it can be added that her first attempt at composition was the song written in her freshman year at Willamette University.

However, she is certainly not one to rest content on past laurels. Since leaving Willamette four years ago she has steadily risen and is now well upon the ladder to lasting, top-ranking success.

Your reporter's acquaintance with her was as delightful a surprise as can be experienced. Her father at the general delivery window at the postoffice mentioned that she was coming home for a two-weeks' vacation, her first in four years, and added with kindly hospitality, "Wait a few minutes and you can ride to the house when she comes from the train and you can meet her." So for the next few minutes he talked with justifiable fatherly pride of his daughter's achievements.

HELEN BENNER

Former Student Praises Willamette School of Law

In a letter to Dean Roy Lochener, George Self, former Willamette law school student now attending night law school in Washington, D. C., writes, "Compared to Willamette law school, these schools can not measure up." Self, who is working in the government treasury department and studying at Southeastern College of Law, frankly estimates that three out of four students use "canned briefs" exclusively. He explains that in such large classes as 50 to 200 people, a student may be called on only once a semester.

"In my opinion," he goes on to say, "the main trouble, actually, is that the various schools have turned their institutions into a 'mill' and have ground out lawyers by the thousands in the last few years." He writes that there is a lack of competition between students which lessens the impetus for inspiration.

Members Plan to Attend Conference

The northwest regional conference of international relations clubs to be held on the University of Oregon campus at Eugene next week-end is to be attended by several Willamette students. James Anderson, president of the local club, is to present a ten-minute paper on peace in the western hemisphere. Margaret Taylor, Paul Whipple and Bill Harrington are scheduled to take part in round-table discussions.

THE FOOTBALL POLL

Next Thursday, in chapel, the Collegian will sponsor a poll on football at Willamette and on the status of the Collegian. Though there is no similarity in subjects except that they are both student body supported, it is much easier to combine the current questions on one ballot.

This poll will ask whether the major Willamette sport should be expanded, curtailed, or abolished; whether players should be subsidized or chosen from the student body without material aid from the football-minded benefactors.

It will ask if the students would not prefer to spend the $1,500 a year now given to football for an enlarged intramural program of benefit to a greater portion of the students, and for such intramural improvements as better tennis courts and a swimming pool. It will ask if the advertising the school now enjoys from that source should not be paid for by the administration.

THIS QUESTION AFFECTS YOU! BE THERE AND VOTE!

Willamette Is Host to Play Contestants

One-Act Tragedies Will Be Given In Waller Next Tuesday Night

Tuesday evening, February 20, the Intercollegiate One-Act Play contest will be held in Waller Hall, Linfield, Monmouth, Pacific college and Portland university are definitely scheduled to compete against Willamette for the glory of their respective schools and a gold laurel wreath which is to be presented to the winning school. Albany college may enter the contest at the last minute.

The competing students are to meet in an informal get-together and dinner Tuesday afternoon. The plays themselves will begin at 7:15 p. m., with a 10 cent charge for each person who attends.

The various dramatic coaches of each of the colleges represented will act as judges for the best tragedy of the evening. The coach for Portland university is the Reverend Mr. Scheeblie; Mrs. Marian Sanders is coach at Pacific college; Mr. R. Mahaffey of Linfield; Mrs. Beulah Thornton of Monmouth, and Mrs. Genevieve Oppen of Willamette university.

Freshman Glee Plans Progress

With the date of the foremost event of the school year only two weeks away, extensive plans for the thirty-second annual Freshman Glee are being carried out rapidly. The exact date of the contest, the theme of which is "serenade," is Saturday, March 2. Chairmen to direct their respective classes in the contest are: seniors, June Braisted; juniors, Bob Brady; sophomores, John Hathaway; freshmen, Harold Adams.

Challenges have been made by the different classes, freshmen wishing to make a name for themselves, sophomores intending to better their last year's record, juniors hoping to benefit by past losses, and seniors planning to represent their other victories.

Frat Men Revolt Against Women

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—(ACP)—Women, an institution hitherto regarded as a necessary factor in the building of happy home life, will have no place in—nay! are strictly prohibited from—the home of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity—for one weekend a year at Ohio State University.

From the front of the fraternity house hangs a huge sign which proclaims in bold letters to the world that "Anti-Woman Week End" is in progress. The rules are simple and terse: "No dates, no shaves, no haircuts, no shirts, no ties or pressed trousers, and above all no communication with (and here is listed a classification without a loophole) any girl, maid, or woman."

Juniors Invite Other Classes To Skating Party

All student body members are invited to attend a skate sponsored by the junior class tonight at the Capitol rink, beginning at 8:30. Mary Head is in general charge of arrangements, assisted by Bob Brady. Pete Geisler is in charge of refreshments.

Students will be admitted at the special rate of twenty cents upon presentation of their A. S. W. U. tickets.

The skate is the first social function of the class this semester.

FRESHMAN CHALLENGE

We, the class of '43, respectfully acknowledge the blurb addressed to us in the issue of February 2. While we naturally sympathize with the weaklings who have consistently revealed a superfluity of frailties during their two and one-half years on our honorable and ancient campus, we cannot extend to them any hope of release from their disgraceful position.

The triple vainly termed a "challenge" makes an attempt at blustering. It is highly amusing. Children, be advised that though we are freshmen we read the papers, not just Popeye's, but the war dispatches also. We are inspired as we watch the heroic Finnish freshmen do things to the big blustering Stalin and his enslaved cohorts. The bombastic dictator has discovered that it takes more than noise and threats to defeat a people who are aware of their resources and of their superiority of spirit. And we want it to be known that the static emitted by the juniors in their recent broadcast created within us no fears nor misgivings. After two tragic experiences even the dumbest of creatures should know that the globe is NOT A VOISIE PARADE. Get wise, children, before you further disgrace the misguided parents who sent you here for an education.

Basketball Team Leaves on Tour

Final Plans Prepared For O.F.C.L. Meet

Eight Schools Expected To Attend Conference In Salem Next Week-end

Next week-end Willamette university students will be hosts to at least 80 delegates attending the Oregon Federation of College Leaders conference.

Those schools which have accepted the invitations to attend are: University of Portland; Oregon State college; Pacific university at Newberg; Marylhurst; Multnomah college; and Oregon's three normal schools. Six colleges are yet to send in their acceptances. Each of these schools is entitled to five official delegates and as many unofficial delegates as they wish.

The delegates will register in Salem Friday morning. The first get-together will be Friday noon, Friday evening will be spent informally, with arrangements made by June Braisted. Saturday morning will be spent in discussion groups and business meetings, and in the afternoon tours through the state penitentiary and state hospital have been planned for the delegates. That evening the delegates will attend the Sadie Hawkins dance which is sponsored by the sophomore class.

Russell Hayes of the University of Portland has organized and arranged the business meetings and discussion groups for the conference. The state house and the Willamette university library will be convention headquarters.

Wiff Achor has arranged for housing by the fraternities, sororities, Lausanne hall and Salem students.

Catalogue System To Be Revised

Mr. Spencer, Willamette university librarian, announced early this week that the catalogue system is soon to be revised. A new catalogue case has been received and during spring vacation the old one will be divided. One case will contain only subject cards and the other only author and title cards. This will expand and simplify the system for the students.

Coaches Speakers

Dr. Herbert E. Rahe

Squad Vies In Forensic Tournament

Willamette Entrants Seek To Keep Place Won at 1939 Tourney

The Willamette forensic squad will leave Thursday for McMinnville to enter the tenth annual Linfield intercollegiate forensic tournament scheduled for February 22, 23 and 24. Dr. Herbert E. Rahe, director of forensics, will accompany the group and serve as judge in the tournament. Willamette was awarded sweepstakes honors last year. The award was based on a first and a tie for second in men's oratory, and a first in men's impromptu speaking and in junior college women's debate.

Al Klassen and Bill Thomas, and Ralph May and Glenn Olds will be entered in Division A debate this year. In Division B, debaters will be Clarence Wicks and Harold Adams, Anell Payne and Wilbur Lytle, and Ray Hutchinson and Bill Harrington. Girls teams to compete are Marjorie Waters and Beverly McMillan, and Louise Tucker and Louise Black.

Glenn Olds and Tom Terjeson will be entered in oratory. In the extemporaneous division will be Sally Anderson, David Stahl, Helen Newland, Bill Thomas and Wes McWain. Al Klassen will compete in impromptu speaking and Everett Wilcox in after-dinner speaking.

Tau Kappa Alpha Initiates Formally

The Willamette chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary forensic society, held its formal initiation Friday night, February 9, in Waller Hall. Dr. Rahe officiated at the services. Bill Thomas, president of the society, was in charge of the ceremony, assisted by Al Klassen.

Initiates included Beverly McMillan, Helen Newland, Marjorie Waters, Doris Rizer, Glisla Olds, Ralph May, John Holman, Everett Wilcox, and Tom Terjeson.

Missionary From India Describes Poverty There

"The poverty of India is almost unbelievable," said Dr. Sam Higginbottom in a chapel address Wednesday. "It is not because India lacks agricultural advantages; the poverty grows directly out of their religious beliefs. One-third of the world's cattle is in India and their belief in transmigration prevents their killing them for food."

Four Game Series To Decide Hoopster Co-Championship

Maple's Men Travel to Meet Whitman and College of Idaho; Linfield Game to End Season

Yesterday morning Coach Maple and eleven Bearcat hoopsters departed from the campus for a four game series with Whitman college and the College of Idaho.

The first game of the series will be played with the Coyotes tonight at Caldwell. Tomorrow the Willamette quint will journey to Payette, where the second tilt will take place.

After their games with the College of Idaho, the Bearcats will play the Whitman aggregation at Walla Walla Monday and Tuesday. The Missionaries stepped out of their slump early this week to down a fighting Pacific five, 49-33.

Returning from their trip north, the Bearcats will encounter the powerful Linfield team to win a conference co-championship this year. It will be necessary for her to win all five of these games. At the present time the College of Idaho is leading the conference. However, the Coyotes have played more games than any of the other teams in the conference.

"Happy Howard" states that he will continue using the zone defense which has proved very successful so far this season.

For the past week the Bearcats have been putting the finishing touches on their defense and drilling hard in preparation for their trip north.

Since the four games will be played within five days, all of the boys making the trip will probably see plenty of action. Maps has not yet decided on his starting lineup.

Players Selected For Production of Goldsmith Satire

Swinging rapidly into the first stages of rehearsal, the cast of Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" got under way early this week in the initial grind in preparation for the presentation of what critics have called "one of the most significant comedy satires of all ages." So popular in appeal has the play been in the past to the general public that this drama of 18th century supersticiality will have an extended run of four days, March 6 to 9, in the Little Theater of Waller hall.

"She Stoops to Conquer" is being directed by D. de Lancy as a special project. The cast of characters as released Wednesday includes a double cast, forming two complete production units for the play. The cast: Carolyn Brown and Nadine Orant as Mrs. Hardcastle, who is shrewd and at the same time humorous, uses baby talk, and is mean in many ways; Tom Terjeson and Everett Andrews as Mr. Hardcastle, who has become indifferent to being married and who above all things likes anything old—old wine, old art, etc.; Merle Kyle and Frances Kells as Kate Hardcastle, witty, young, charming; Helen Newland and Zoe Freta as Miss Neville, a typical 18th century society girl, pampered, sweet; Douglas Olds as Marlow, who is mainly polished, a gentleman who can not get along with women of his own station but must associate with bar-maids and serving girls; de Lancy as Tony Lumpkin, a big dumb oaf with no discipline of education who spends part of his time slapping people in embarrassing places; Wes McWain and Alvin Ewing as landlords, and David Stahl as Sir Charles Marlowe.

Chapel Sched. Announced

The Willamette school of music will present a program in chapel next Thursday. Dr. Baister is scheduled to speak on Tuesday.

Charles Gilkey Slated to Speak Wednesday Noon

Dean Charles W. Gilkey of the university of Chicago is scheduled to speak Wednesday, February 21 in the Willamette chapel. Dean Gilkey has served as university preacher at Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Cornell and comes to Willamette as an outstanding speaker. He has studied both in the United States and in Europe and has traveled extensively in Europe. He has written several well-known books on the place of religion in the world today.

Thompson New Music Club Prexy

Erna Thompson was elected president of Phi Delta Mu, applied music club of Willamette University, at a meeting held last week. Clayton Wheeler is the retiring president.

Katie Harrows was named vice president (social chairman) of the organization, and Yacka Saito, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Helen MacHirron, instructor, gave an informal talk about musical selections of newspapers, and Yacko Saito played a violin solo.

Members were informed that anyone not taking applied music may become an associate member of the club. All students are invited to join, according to Miss Clara Evers, advisor.

(Continued on page 2)

"Every editor owes tribute to the devil."—MARK TWAIN

Willamette Collegian

"In age there is wisdom"

Official Publication A. S. W. U.

Editorial and Business Offices
Basement Waller Hall Phone 3088

Entered at the Postoffice at Salem, Oregon, for transmission through the mails as second class matter. Published weekly except during examination and vacation periods. Subscription rate: $1.00 per year.

1939 Member 1940
Associated Collegiate Press

Editor
FRED BERNAU

Business Manager
TOM RICHES

CO-ED EDITOR
MARION SANDERS

Managing Editor
Beulah Briggs

News Editor
Betty Thelander

Mary Barker, Marcia McClain, Shirley Caulfield, Virginia Bendixsen, Helen Davis, Doris Harold, Betty Thelander, Nancy Boles, Harriet Monroe, Dorothy Barham, Wilma Mathes, Glenerva Harnsberger.

Society Editor
Margaret Moulton

Lila Murray, Esther Gunnesdal, Belleiro Molloy, Barbara Hollingworth, Nancy Boles, Eleanor Sherman.

Sports Editor
Eva Shellito

Art Editor
Nadine Orcutt

Head Writers
Barbara Brandt, Jeannette Hulst

Typists
Betty Boydston, Rebekah Putnam

Proof Readers
Margaret Rankin

MANAGING STAFF

Assistant Business Manager
ANCHIL PAYNE

Advertising Managers
Don Judson, Gilbert Lieser

Circulation Manager
EDWIN YOST

Peeves

to the Editor

Someone seems to have declared the season open for pet peeves. So who am I not to do the conventional thing? Many times questions have been raised about football expenditures, student unions and Ir-Rev. Huntley's column, but my chief antagonism is still another thing—compulsory chapel.

Imagine college students who aren't old enough to decide whether or not they should go three times weekly to hear every thing from speech contests to trombone tooters with an Old-Time-Religion swing!

Now far be it from me to deny that we haven't spent some worthwhile moments in chapel. Once in a while we enjoy an outside speaker like T. Z. Koo or Dr. Chambers. Often we enjoy our own talent. While we like to hear about Dean Erickson's trip east, or Dr. Lovell's impressions of the European situation, or Dr. Oliver's opinions on books, or Ray Hutchinson's experiences in Europe, or Dr. Baxter's review of David Livingston's life, or Professor Jones' opinion on politics—while we like to hear these, we don't like to sit through "thrilling" reports on the Amsterdam conference, or attempts to save our souls by trombone-playing, or instructions to "catch that pass" throughout a somewhat disconnected speech, or the same talks we heard when we were freshmen, or quite a bit of nothing new from someone who happens to be a new church official.

If the Powers-That-Be were compelled to sit through the student body meetings of law-school farces and dramatic presentations maybe they too would leave after attendance was taken or bribe some proxy with a coke.

If we don't like Bernau's editorials we don't read them; if we don't like football games, we don't go; but whether we like it or not, we go to chapel and listen to the daily duet of "I Would Be True."

Don't misunderstand me; bringing the student body together is a great thing even if we spend most of our time squirming in the comfortable seats.

It is a question whether to propose a student patch or just to decide which chapels we shall attend and to beg a benevolent grant to keep the university library open during chapel.

Although we wouldn't object to the idea of chapel if we could choose what we'd like to hear, although many schools now are doing away with compulsory chapel-attendance, this is Willamette and we have compulsory chapel.

Mary Head.

Call Board

STATE

Today and Sat.—"The Real Glory," with Gary Cooper and Andrea Leeds. Second attraction, "Waterfront" with Dennis Morgan and Gloria Dixon.

Sun.—Wed.—"Dramas Along the Mohawk," starring Henry Fonda and Claudette Colbert. Second hit, "Chan in Treasure Island," with Sidney Toler and Sen Yang.

Thurs.—Sat.—"Marx Brothers at the Circus" with Florence Rice. Second big hit, "Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," starring Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce.

GRAND

Sat.—"He Married His Wife," with Joel McCrea, Nancy Kelly, Mary Boland and Roland Young.

Wed.—"Tony Martin and Edith Fellows in 'Music in My Heart,'" and Bruce Cabot in "My Son is Guilty."

LIBERTY

Today and Sat.—"Within the Law" with Ruth Hussey and Tom Neal. Second attraction, George O'Brien in "Trouble in Sundown."

Sun.—Tues.—"Gunga Din," starring Cary Grant, Victor McLaglen, and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Second hit, "Down in Arkansas," with the Weaver Brothers and Elvira.

Wed.—Thurs.—"White Banners," starring Claude Rains, Fay Bainter and Jackie Cooper. Second big hit, "Pride of the Navy," with James Dunn and Rochelle Hudson.

Student in Hospital

Avila Plek, Willamette sophomore, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis Tuesday noon at the Salem General hospital. She is reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

IT'S A DARE

Big news! Co-eds put out Collegian! It's becoming a tradition for the men on the staff to enjoy a one-week vacation each year and let the girls take over the editorial responsibilities. The event is heralded as evidence of the growing ability of modern women.

Of course we wouldn't think of questioning the superior intelligence and capability of the stronger sex. However, it would be very inspiring to the feminine journalists to see the men put out just one issue without female assistance.

We dare you to try!

Storing up Before Glee Practice Begins

By NADINE ORCUTT

Spring Weather Brings Forth Much On the Blooming Daphne

The daphne is blooming again. Not yet has it come to fullest flower, this pale pink blossom with the vivid sweet scent, but we who can remember, or we who can imagine, awaken in the morning very conscious that the daphne blooms once more. All winter long we have paid little heed to the young green and gold enamel leaves that cling tenaciously to their unlovely, angular stalks. True, there was nothing startling, nothing in the least prepossessing about the dormant bushes. Other things were more important—cramming, snow, Christmas trees, formal; with these to occupy one's mind, who could think of sunshine, spring, or daphne? Suddenly, with examinations a thing of the past, the promise of snow thoroughly dispelled, Christmas trees ancient history, and formal giving way to expeditions to the beach, the daphne is able to penetrate our thick-skulled preoccupation. There is time in the spring to begin living again, time to smell the daphne, time even to do a little lazy reference work in the library. The very best books have the following to say about the lady for whom our lovely shrub is named:

Daphne was a nymph, the daughter of the river god Ladon. Her countless sisters, being at least half-human, could not resist envying a little the calm, green eyes, the pale, small feet, the transparent, pink skin of Daphne, yet her manner was so sweet that they had to forgive her beauty. It was only by chance that Apollo, the glowing god of the sun, ever saw her. Inherent shy, the nymph was accustomed to bathing by herself in a little sheltered pool in the morning before any of her sisters was awake. The sun god, rising unwittingly early on a spring morning, saw her in her fresh young beauty and loved her at once, even as he had loved many others—as hastily, as ardently, and as faithfully. Startled by the first intense words he addressed to her, the nymph sprang from his eager grasp and ran, as she had never run before. This was sport, the kind of game the young god relished. Loping easily, he followed after her. Running thus, Daphne was forced to realize that her endurance was more than matched by that of the god. As a last resource, she turned to invocation of Ge, her mother and guardian goddess. The good mother earth did not fail her. As the girl, weary and breathless, fell to the ground, Apollo reached out to clutch her, only to find in his hand a mere handful of long green leaves and a few pale pink blossoms—blossoms emitting an odor hauntingly sweet, reminiscent of the unfortunate nymph. Even the rustling of the shrub before him still sounded like the frightened panting of his lost prey. Rueful at first, Apollo soon recovered. He chuckled; then he threw back his head and roared; at last he resumed his too long delayed journey across the sky, little knowing and caring less that he had left mankind one of its most exquisite legacies.

Yes, the daphne is blooming again. As surely as spring comes each year, the daphne creates around ancient Waller hall an atmosphere of youth, of life, of happiness. Bloom on, hopeful flower, symbol of deliverance from peril. Bloom on, that we may still retain our faith that a sorrow worn world may once more, by the time you bloom again, become a world at peace. Bloom, that in the midst of hurry, discontent, and anxiety we may stop a moment, feel your fragrance, and go on our way refreshed, knowing that, no matter what happens, the daphne always blooms again.

Four Time Winner Home on Visit

(Continued from Page One)

eager to try out her voice after her long journey, she swung into the strains of "Longing," her own now-famous song. She has a range much wider than that of other mezzo sopranos, and as she sang, it was easy to see what it is that is making her famous. She was quite willing to philosophize. "It all consists," she said, "in loving your work, in concentration, and in believing in your own power to grow. My range is much wider now than I ever dreamed possible when I was in college—all because I believed in it. And you tell those people that I haven't told once since I left Willamette—I haven't time. I have to stay healthy, and I have to have my sleep. It isn't that I don't like men, but that can come later."

"And the reason I like Chicago," she said, "is that you can get more friction per square inch there than any place else I know. You have to have competition in order to grow."

When she returns to Chicago, Miss Renner will complete arrangements to sing over NBC. She does not intend to stop until she has reached grand opera, when she is sure will come sooner than she at first expected.

Music Students Give Broadcast

"Stepping stones to a fuller life" will be discussed Sunday evening, February 18, at the University Vespers meeting in the Carrier room of the First Methodist church.

Pearl Bendixsen, chairman, will present the speakers of the evening, including Ed Cone, who will introduce the subject; Margaret Wright, who will speak on play as a part of adventure; Jane Howe, who is to present musical adventures, with Bob Mealy as soloist; Jim Anderson, whose subject is adventure in literature; and Bill Laughlin, who will speak on adventures in science.

TRIVIATA

HUNTLEY

"Being inconsequential; talk about nothing in particular"

A PAMPERO, we understand, is a wind blowing off the river Platte in Buenos Aires. A mistral is a Mediterranean wind. A Sirocco is a very hot wind from the Sahara, while a chinook is a warm spring wind. A willywa is a tickle wind blowing downward and interfering with sea gulls and kite flyers. A simoon is a torrid, unclean wind of Arabia. A Harmattan is a dry, tropic breeze wafting from the inner part of Africa. Most of the chapel talks are dry, topic winds blowing from all directions about three times a week. . . . Just thought you might be interested in knowing.

IT SEEMS that ever since the time way back in the first grade when we were patched blue-denim pantaloons, that we have been told to detect propaganda, analyze it, and to avoid it as if it were bath-tub gin.

And now that we have reached the moleskin pantalon stage, we still find that the same old song and dance is going on: "Propaganda is dangerous; avoid it as you would two-for-a-nickle cigars."

So being suddenly inspired the other day while sitting in chapel and listening to the propaganda gush out over the speaker's stand like hot air out of Versuvius, we decided that our professors were right and that propaganda is a terrible thing. So following their advice that has been accumulating all these years, we have been moved to action.

Starting next week there will be in the Collegian a new column called "Buncombe and Balderdash" written by the writer of this column; its purpose will be to "detect" and label as bunk all the propaganda dished out in chapel. This service will be free to all guest speakers, but for obvious reasons, Willamette faculty speakers will not be discussed; besides, they are completely devoid of propaganda anyway.

Watch for "Buncombe and Balderdash" next week.

AS THIS is the annual Women's Issue of the Collegian, we have graciously conceded to turn the remainder of our column over to Miss Mabel Tanners who is an expert writer on society, table manners, cooking, clothes, women, and dogs.

DEAR ladies, your petite correspondent of the fashionable has a little household tip for you: The next time you make horseradish salad, leave the horseradishes out; it will give it a distinguished, delicate flavor never before experienced. And just see how proud you feel when your guests compliment you on your exquisite taste.

Have your girls been skiing lately? Yours truly was and it was such a delightful fun, skiing is such a delightful sport. . . . tennis is delightful too, only you can't play tennis in the snow; that is what makes skiing so delightful, the snow. . . .

Seen here and there and everywhere. . . . Zula Nalcam in the elevator in a light blue satin made with low pointed neckline a shirbert front bodice with a cordory design, and the dress itself was of new taffeta with black, gold, white and chartreuse cats on a floral background. Her neck was simply lousy with heavy gold plecting to match the jacket and the two rows of cats on the skirt. . . . she looked delightfully gay. . . . Just like spring. . . .

SEEN there. . . . Betty Giggie with her hair up in a quaint, quaint Sultan Selim IV style with gay little bells on the curls at the back of her neck. . . . she looked gay and quaint. . . . Pocahontas Hall had had open house last week and though it was raining it was a delightful affair. . . . in carrying out the open house motif all the doors and windows were left open. . . . When mesquites and frogs came in, however, they were closed. . . . but it was still open house. . . . and a gay informal time was had by all including the frogs and mesquites. . . .

And finally, you housewives, what you have been waiting for; my new exclusive recipe for that new sensational Peanut Soup:

Test pan on stove until it gets hot, now let it cool, then place our pound of roasted peanuts without the shells inside the pan resting on the bottom. Items necessary:

- 1 pound peanuts
- 1 quart of water
- 1 cup horseradish (that saved from salad)
- 3 tablespoons salt

Boil two hours and serve generous red-hot helpings.

Harvard university scientists have discovered a new earthquake wave that may be used in locating enemy artillery.

SEEN there. . . . Betty Giggie with her hair up in a quaint, quaint Sultan Selim IV style with gay little bells on the curls at the back of her neck. . . . she looked delightfully gay. . . . Just like spring. . . .

SEEN there. . . . Betty Giggie with her hair up in a quaint, quaint Sultan Selim IV style with gay little bells on the curls at the back of her neck. . . . she looked delightfully gay. . . . Just like spring. . . .

SEEN there. . . . Betty Giggie with her hair up in a quaint, quaint Sultan Selim IV style with gay little bells on the curls at the back of her neck. . . . she looked delightfully gay. . . . Just like spring. . . .

Subsidation Is National Topic For Discussion

(By Associated College Press)

Although the 1939-40 football year ended in a blaze of bowl battles that drew more cash customers than ever before, the season will not be famous for its spectacular plays or players. Rather it will go down in the record books as the year of the big unfinished debate: To pay or not to pay?

Spotlighted into national prominence by the dramatic decision of the University of Chicago to discontinue intercollegiate football, the old question of subsidization of gridiron players was more rigorously discussed and more definitely acted upon than in any other year since the advent of big-time, highly-publicized pigskin encounters.

Chicago authorities canceled all football games scheduled for the future and asked Big Ten authorities to allow it to continue intercollegiate participation in the 11 other sports sponsored by it.

Meanwhile, with less fanfare and less comment from the communing quarterbacks, Loyola university of New Orleans calmly announced that it is discontinuing intercollegiate football so that the "large sums of money spent annually on football can be spent on educational expansion."

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

On other fronts, too, subsidization was a large topic of discussion. At a meeting of the College Physical Education association, Professor L. C. Boles of College of Wooster urged his colleagues not to allow collegiate physical education to become a field for men of "very limited mental capacity" to continue in college for the sole purpose of playing on teams.

GLEE GLIMPSSES

A glimpse into the Glee's past history reveals that the first Glee was held in 1908, when due to lack of new songs on the campus the class of 1912 challenged the other class to a song-writing contest. It was held in the old chapel with the doors open to all. The songs, only the words of which were original, followed in unbroken succession. A fact that should shorten the present freshmen is that the freshman class won the first glee.

The first glee was so well received that it was continued, and it grew to become traditionalized as the outstanding and colorful event of the year. Before 1927 it was held at the First Methodist church or the armory. Since then it has been held each year in the gymnasium.

Dr. Matthews from the first has fathered the ceremonies and lent himself to the cause so that now he is indispensable in carrying out the tradition. Another indispensable is the annual post-Glee splash which the present junior class has enjoyed for the past two Glee's. A freshman class has not carried off the banner since 1932.

Turning to the present—the class committees are tearing their hair in a hundred different directions trying to think of ideas and marching formations that haven't already been used after 31 presentations.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

Let's get going with our glee boys. A few suggestions might help to start them rolling. Perhaps John Laughlin would take time off from maintaining his dignity to bet Mary Head a climb up and down the stairs of Waller Hall on hands and knees. Possibly Proxy Robertson would agree, if the senior class should lose, to read in chapel his correspondence with the Lonely Hearts Matrimonial club.

ZORIC
LAUNDRY CLEANING SYSTEM

DRY CLEANING

- Safe
- Sanitary
- Odorless

WEIDER'S Salem Laundry Co.
263 S. High St. Phone 9125

STATE STREET GROCERY & MARKET
Fresh Fruits and Vegetables
Fancy and Staple Groceries
Quality Meats
Phone 9127 1230 State St.

School PRINTING
is one of Our Specialities

Just Phone 9101

Statesman
Publishing Company
215 South Commercial St.

Mellow Moon Skating Rink
Open Every Evening
CHARLES CARY
Campus Representative

- Larger Milkshakes
- Better Ice Cream

From BISHOP'S
Ice Cream Store
1316 State

"For a Treat Let's Eat Across the Street" at STUBBY'S (MILLS)
Opposite Lausanne on Winter

3 DOUGHNUTS and 1 CUP COFFEE 10c
10c Hot Dish Every Noon

HASKIN'S
138 S. COTTAGE
Just a Block From School

DRS. MORSE, ROBERTSON, POWER, BUREN, ROBERTSON and MILLER
PHYSICIANS & SURGEONS
312 Guardian Bldg. Salem

Movie Edition of "GONE WITH THE WIND" Special 69c

New 1940 World Almanacs
"Facts and Figures for 1940"—70c

COMMERCIAL BOOK STORE
163 S. Commercial Street A. A. Guetfroy

Why, Oscar Zilch, of course. Oscar is going to become very tight. Of course, Oscar's being Scotch has nothing to do with it. But then the rest of the student body won't be very sober either (technical note: Sober—meaning serious or subdued in demeanor).

Why, they're going to get that way at the "Sadie Hawkins" dance to be sponsored by the sophomore class that will be held at the Chamber of Commerce hall on Saturday night, February 24. There's no place else to do it—not another place where the conditions will be fitting and proper. What? With intoxicating rhythm from Roger Miller's orchestra, and the inebriating tunes from his vocalist... What more could you ask?

Why? Well, why do you keep turning over this page? For the very same reason. You're interested. Everybody's interested in the "Sadie Hawkins" dance. Everybody's going. That's the only place anyone will be the night of the 24th—so that's the only place... Soph Oscar Zilch says, quote: "We invite the whole student body out for a rip-roarin' time."

Your student body ticket admits you.

THE Social Scene

Willamette's three sororities have been at home to prospective pledges this week, and this afternoon preferences will be turned in, with bids issued late this evening. New pledges of each house will be honored with informal preferential dinners tomorrow evening and pledging will be held on Sunday morning. Following this, members and pledges of the three houses will attend Presbyterian church services en masse.

Jamboree

At the Delta Phi house Tuesday evening rushees enjoyed a "jamboree" of games and singing. Before the guests departed they were served apples and popcorn balls.

Miss Mabelle Lilburn was in charge of the party and was assisted by Chloe Anderson, Billie Jean Gilliam, Elvy Fredrickson, Margaret Upjohn, Bernice Marcy, and Lila Murray.

Bundle Party

Beta Chis entertained their guests with a "bundle party" on Wednesday evening, with each girl bringing a bundle of old clothes to make up a costume for some one else. Appropriate nicknames were given and the evening was spent in playing informal games.

Miss Della Willard, who was in charge, had as her committee, Jane Howe, Mary Hensley and Harriet Crawford.

School Daze

"School Daze" provided the incentive for the Alpha Phi Alpha party on Thursday evening. Hostesses were dressed as school girls and entertainment was incidental to the theme of the occasion.

Planning the affair was Margaret Rankin assisted by Catherine McKay and Dorothy Barham.

W. A. A. Banquet

Monday evening Schneider's Coffee Shop was the scene of the annual Women's Athletic Association banquet honoring new members of the organization. At the head table the letters W.A.A. were spelled out in red hearts, and each table was centered with red carnations and tall red tapers. Clever favors of red and white heart-shaped gum drops were placed at each cover.

Miss Marjorie Herr, president of the group, presided as toastmistress and introduced as speakers, Miss Ruth Anusien who welcomed new members, and Miss Jean Jackson who responded. Miss Gail Currey, women's physical education instructor, also spoke. Musical entertainment was provided by a quartet composed of Maxine Crabtree, Eve Shellito, Margaret Rankin, and Marcia McLean. Mr. Sparks also showed several reels of campus movies.

Special guests were Miss Currey, Miss Marian Morange, Mr. L. J. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Maple, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Keane. New members who were honored guests included the Misses Jean Jackson, Gayle Denison, Barbara Ferguson, Helen Nelger, Reva Schmidt, Bonnie Carmichael, Doris Crabtree, Barbara Viesko, Pearl Bendiksen, Mary Swisher, Betty Lou Strachan, June Earle, Mary Jane Hobson, and Ruth Jones.

Committee heads who arranged the affair were Maxine Crabtree, Carolyn Woods, and Margaret Wright.

Kappa Sweetheart Dinner

Members of Kappa Gamma Rho entertained Wednesday evening with a well-appointed sweetheart dinner at the chapter house. The Valentine day theme was carried out by decorating the table with red anemones, white narcissi, and red and white hearts.

Hosts and special guests for the dinner included Professor and Mrs. R. Franklin Thompson, Bruce Van Wyngarden, Miss Maxine Holt, Cliff Stewart, Miss Esther Gunnesdal, Ernie Greenwood, Miss Chloe Anderson, Gilbert Heald, Miss Esther Mae Devore, Winston Bunnell, Miss Iris McCurdy, Tom Hall, Miss Grace Baldwin, Bob Grannis, Miss Barbara Gearhart, Al Klassen, Miss Delma Jean Jones, Tom Terjeson, Miss Margaret Coan, Clayton Wheeler and Miss Jean Longley.

Winston Bunnell, in charge of general arrangements, was assisted by Loren Hicks.

Valentine Party

University Vespers played host to approximately one-hundred seventy-five Willamette students and church members at their Valentine friendship dinner held at the dining room of the First Methodist church Tuesday evening. Bouquets of pussy-willows tied with small red hearts formed the centerpieces, and the tables were scattered with tiny candy hearts. Programs and menus were in the form of a red heart-shaped booklet.

Ralph May acted as toastmaster, and Bill Tomas, Wes McWain, and Professor Rahe spoke. Irvin Potter rendered several vocal selections and Josephine Miller played marimba numbers. Group singing was led by Glen Olds with Gertrude Cannell as accompanist.

In general charge were Della Willard and Margaret Taylor who were assisted by the following committee heads—Virginia Bendiksen, Barbara Pinney, Hermie Palmer, Marian Herrick, and Jane Howe.

Sigma Tau Dinner

Sigma Tau upperclassmen will entertain Sunday, February 18, with a Sweetheart dinner at the chapter house. The Valentine motif will be carried out in the decorations. Dr. and Mrs. Oliver will serve as chaperones.

Frats Hold Open House Tomorrow

The fraternities of Willamette will hold open house for the first time in four years tomorrow evening between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30. All students and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Sigma Tau will be at home from 7:30 to 8:30. A receiving line composed of officers and faculty members will welcome the guests at the door. They will be Dean Erickson, Dr. Gatke, Dean Schulze, Dr. Oliver, Prof. Monk, John Horton, Roger Foster, Connie Schneider, and Kenneth Sherman. Roger Foster is in charge of arrangements.

Alpha Psi Delta will welcome guests between 8 and 9. In the receiving line will be Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Zeller, Mrs. Riches, Steve Anderson, Dean Trumbo, Wayne Brainard, Dick Jewitt, Dick Achor and Pete Geiser. Serving will be the Misses June Brasted, Verna Vosper and Elizabeth James. Dean Trumbo is making arrangements.

Kappa Gamma Rho will greet guests from 8:30 to 9:30. Receiving will be Dr. and Mrs. Sherman, Prof. and Mrs. Richards, Winston Bunnell, Loren Hicks, Al Ferrin and Oscar Swenson. Ed Cone and Winston Bunnell are in charge of arrangements.

SORORITY PLEDGING

Preference of sorority rushees are to be turned in to Miss Jack's office in Lausanne Hall by 4:30 p. m. this afternoon, Friday, February 16.

Junior-Senior Valentine Dance

Members of the senior class were hosts to the juniors Friday evening at an informal dance held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The Valentine motif provided the incentive for decorations. Large red hearts were placed about the walls of the room and a broken heart formed the entrance way. Music was furnished by recordings.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair were Dean and Mrs. Frank M. Erickson and Dean and Mrs. Daniel Schulze.

Irma Calvert, class vice president, was in general charge of arrangements. Assisting her were Charles Beckner and Winston Bunnell, hall; Leighton Blake and Paul Bennett, music; Margaret Upjohn, Dorothy Cutler and Erma Taylor, patrons and patronesses; Harold Hutchinson and Marvin Lacy, refreshments; Eleanor Perry, Don Ewing, and Elizabeth James, decorations.

Open House Provides Themes

After much scrubbing, waxing of floors, and cleaning, Lausanne Hall was shining bright for its open house which 235 guests attended last Saturday evening.

Visitors were taken through the entire hall, inspecting every room, many of which were unusually decorated. Pat Cormany and Jean Jackson had an Hawaiian theme for their room, using a potted palm, a grass skirt, and numerous pictures of that beautiful isle to carry out the decorations. Two huge python snake skins hung on the walls of Winston Neal's and Eloise Winn's room. One of the reptiles Winn had seen alive.

An unusual bouquet of spring flowers and white cardboard musical notes decorated the refreshment table in the upstairs living room. After the open house, Lausanne Hall girls and their friends enjoyed dancing in the parlors.

- EXCHANGES -

A small boy was saying his prayers—
"Thank Mr. Roosevelt for the bread we eat;
Thank Mr. Roosevelt for the meat we have;
Thank Mr. Roosevelt for a place to sleep;
Say Daddy, who am I going to thank when Mr. Roosevelt is gone?"
The father replied, "Thank the Lord."—Wash State Col.
They call a professors' meeting just a little forget together.
U. of Denver.

Mrs. Ivan Lovell, who was hostess for faculty fireside last week.

Students Entertained At Fireside

Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Lovell opened their home Sunday afternoon for another in the series of faculty firesides sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. The group enjoyed a lively conversation around the fireplace and later in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Lovell.

Guests included Irma Calvert, Margaret Ann Kells, Sally Anderson, Luree Norris, Esther Mae Devore, Virginia Crummer, Lucille Strauss, June Brasted, Cecil Quesseth, Richard Jewett, Kenneth Hughes and Gilbert Heald.

COMING EVENTS

- Friday, February 16 Junior Class Skate.
- Saturday, February 17 Sorority Preferential Dinners.
- Fraternity Open House, Sunday, February 18 Sigma Tau Sweetheart Dinner.
- Thursday, February 22 Lausanne Hall—Fraternity Exchange Dinners, "Are You Sure?" (table etiquette)—Kathrine Laughlin.
- Friday, February 23 Oregon College Leaders Conference.
- Saturday, February 24 Oregon College Leaders Conference.
- A. S. W. U. "Sadie Hawkins" Dance.

NEWS FROM THE ALUMNI

FAY SPARKS—'25

ENGAGEMENTS

News of the betrothal of Miss Carolyn Braden, '38, to Mr. William Dasher was revealed at a luncheon for which the bride-elect was hostess. Miss Braden is a member of Beta Chi sorority. Mr. Dasher is a graduate of the University of Oregon and University of Oregon law school and is in the legal department of the state unemployment compensation commission.

Miss Esther Vehrs, ex-Willamette student, has announced her engagement to Mr. W. Herman Burgener of Eugene. The wedding will be an event of the near future. Miss Vehrs is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha sorority. Mr. Burgener attended the University of Utah and the University of Goettingen in Germany. He is now connected with the Personal Finance company in Eugene, where the couple will live following their marriage.

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Boylan, '36, to Mr. Theodore Huntley Welch was made at an afternoon musicale given by Miss Frances Virginia Melton. Miss Boylan is affiliated with Delta Phi sorority, Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honor society and Phi Kappa Lambda, national music honorary fraternity.

Mr. Welch is a graduate of Princeton university and Harvard law school and is now practicing law in Oil City, Pennsylvania.

NECROLOGY

Walter T. Stolz, 69, died recently at a local hospital as a result of pneumonia following a relapse from an attack of influenza. He was a member of Salem Elks lodge. Mr. Stolz founded the Spa confectionery in 1890. In 1915, he joined his father in the Gideon Stolz company, in which he was active until his death.

He is survived by his widow; daughter, Mrs. Margaret Marshall; son, Richard McNary Stolz; granddaughter, Martha McNary Marshall, all of Salem, United States Senator Charles L. McNary was a brother-in-law.

Mrs. Margaret Murphy Wade, wife of City Attorney C. R. Wade of Bandon and for 30 years one of the leading persons in civic work in the community, passed away at her home near the beach, January 1. Following an illness that had kept her confined to her home for several months. She was born near Gardines, Oregon, March 9, 1882, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Murphy. She attended Willamette University where she prepared herself for teaching. She later taught for a number of years in the schools of North Bend and Bandon. She was married to Cecil R. Wade, ex-W. U., of Bandon on September 28, 1910, and lived in Bandon since that time. Surviving are her husband; two sons, John, who is postmaster at Bandon, and Eugene, who is a student at University of Oregon; and a brother, Charles Murphy of Metropolitan, California.

Mrs. Wade was school clerk, a position which she had held for several years, and aided materially during the critical post-war period to keep the Bandon school system functioning. As a member and frequently an officer of civic clubs and women's organizations, she spent a great deal of her time working for the public interests and welfare of the community.

PERSONALS

Miss Hollis Vick, '27, is Girl Reserves Secretary in Pittsburgh, Pa., with office at the Central Branch of the YWCA. She was formerly in a similar position at Greenwich, Conn.

The Marion County Bar association elected unanimously William P. Ellis, '13, president; Roy Harland, '32, vice president, and re-elected J. Ray Rhoten, '36, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Lena Medler, '31, resigned her position of physical education instructor and dean of girls at Lebanon high school and accepted a position as secretary in the county school superintendent's office at Albany.

The paralytic stroke suffered by Gus Anderson, ex-'22, world traveler and lecturer, affected his speech only. He will be hospitalized at the Wesley Memorial hospital, 2449 South Dearborn street, Chicago, for at least three weeks.

W Club Postpones 'Crawl' to March 9

According to George Sirmio, chairman of the coming W club cord crawl, the date for the event has been changed to March 9. The committee appointed is George Sirmio, Leighton Blake, and Buddy Reynolds.

APPLICATION PICTURES

Expert work to help you secure that position you wish!
$1.50 Per Dozen
CYN CRONISE STUDIO
200 First Nat'l Bank Bldg.

1940 Spring Sale WEAREVER ALUMINUM

Feb. 1-30
Doughton Hardware
355 Court Phone 6788

The Best Milkshakes in Salem

Come out after the game or social function
White's Lunch
1138 S. Commercial
Phone 5814

ED'S LUNCH

East of Capitol Theater
Chili Milkshakes Hamburgers

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY Liberal Arts - Laws - Music

SALEM, OREGON
Founded February 1, 1842
Highest Accredited
Pre-Professional Curricula
Exceptional Location
Reasonable Expenses
Christian—Non-Sectarian
"An Outstanding American Institution"
Bulletin on Request

FADS and FASHIONS

By Margaret Moulton

The Junior Class skate this evening will cause spills and spins a-plenty for many novices, but don your skirts and sweaters, girls, and prepare for an evening of fun.

Saturday evening is everyone's chance to visit the fraternities. All day long the fellows will go through the rigorous processes of scrubbing, scouring and polishing in order to be in ship-shape when they open their doors to the public in the evening.

Another rush season is nearly over, bids and preferences being due this afternoon, and sororities entertaining with preferential dinners at their respective houses tomorrow evening as a climax to a week of entertaining.

Any changes in dress to be seen on the campus in the near future may be attributed to the Y. M.-Y. W. classes on poise and dress which fashion-minded coeds and collegians attended in large groups last evening.

Lausanne Open House

Social activity last week end focused about the Lausanne hall open house where we noticed Mildred Williams in a royal blue crepe rhinestone-bedecked formal made with low neck and wide shoulder straps. Reva Schmidt wore rose slipper satin made with wide pointed yoke and tiny puff sleeves. Barbara Ferguson's dress was of peach chiffon with full gathered skirt. Among the guests were Mary Sadler wearing a loose wine coat with gray fur collar and black accessories, and Gayle Denison in a deep blue coat with silver collar. Grace Covert was trim in a black fitted coat.

At last Friday's senior dance Betty Zook wore a simple white silk blouse with black velvet skirt and wide sash of bright red velvet. Juanita Cullens' wool jacket ensemble was variegated green striped with back and front skirt pleating giving the effect of a solid green panel. Jean Schell's plain black crepe was set off by a gold heart-shaped locket, and Hilma Breuser's black dress had white lace ruffled collar and cuffs. Rosemary Detweiler wore beige sheer wool with an accented pleated skirt, and Martha Roddy's silk crepe was of light blue. Irma Calvert's navy sheer dress had a white thread running through the material forming a mesh design.

THE KLASIC PHOTO SHOP

A Card and Kodak Store
546 State Street

GAY'S CANDY SHOP

For Really Fine Homemade Candies
"They're Delicious!"
135 North High

"Juicy Jumbo" ...

... the Sandwich students are goofy about ... a Square Meal for 20c

PRINTING

As You Like It
KRAPPS and LONG
Printers
370 1/2 State Street

HARRY W. SCOTT THE CYCLE MAN

Everything for Your Bicycle
Terms to Students
147 S. Commercial

THE SPA

322 STATE

Wrestling! Join The 'Y'

FOR Supervised Gym Exercises

Including

Swimming • Handball • Badminton • Basketball • Volleyball • Fencing • Gymnastics

GET YOUR GYM CREDIT HERE

Energy!!

for Work or Play

"The Freshest Thing in Town"

Cherry City Baking Co., Salem

SPORTS

Shellito Substitutes

We went to the basketball game the other night. But we don't know much about the affair except that the Packards eventually clipped the claws of the Bears. We were busy watching the human zoo surrounding the basketball court.

Did you ever sit with a crowd of girls at a ball game? Here's a sample of their brilliant repartee.

"Oh, boy, look at number 7; I'll take him!"

"M-m-m, he's all right, but look at 8; he looks like Lil' Abner."

"Say, Dotty, did you hear the one about —?"

"Heavens, look at the way that fellow chews gum!"

"Say, is that a blanket or a skirt that girl has on?"

"Meow!"

"This is what makes coaches bald-headed; they have toupees."

"O-o-h!"

"Whoopee! points! Who made 'em?"

"I think it was Kolb, or was it Farmer, or could it have been White? What's the difference, anyhow? We got 'em."

"Let's go out and get a coke at the hall."

"I ain't got no dough nohow; besides, I don't like cokes; I'll take milk—what's it on?"

"Oh, look, Sirmio's all dressed up; wonder why? Say, didja know he's got a girl friend in Santa Barbara?"

"Yeah, we know, her name's Shirley."

"He's got another girl here in town, too."

"What's matter? Jealous?"

"Who, me?"

"Say, where did Alice go all of a sudden?"

"Hey, Nicki, do you like my hair this way? Or do you think I should comb it?"

"Say, Dotty, did you hear the one about the man who * * *?"

"Oh, darn, I got a snag and this is my last decent pair. Even these are on their last legs. Hey, didja get that one?"

"Goodnight, look at that clumsy dope fall all over himself."

"My goodness, what's everyone leaving for? Oh, is the game over? Well, that's the fastest game I ever did see!"

Is it any wonder we still don't know the score of the battle? QUOTE

A quote from the College of Idaho states: "All who follow basketball know Willamette's strength. The Bears won the conference title last season. Practically the entire personnel of the club is intact this season and Coach Howard Maple, former major league basketball catcher, has a large team that is making another strong bid for the title."

Good stuff. Course, this statement was issued the day before the game with Pacific, but far be it from us to say anything.

ORCHID

Maybe basketball players don't exactly go for orchids, but if they did, and we could afford it, we'd most certainly see that the Ragsdale boy was on the receiving end of a big bunch of said same. Looking at it from the feminine point of view, we think it's doggone inspiring the way Rags is always out there for practice every nite in spite of the fact that he seldom sees any real action in the big games. But keep pitching, Rags; everyone's for you. And you'll get your chance one of these days.

ALUMNI NEWS

By Faye Sparks

The alumni association lost a loyal member in the passing of Mrs. Madison L. Jones, well-known Salem matron, on December 7, following a long illness.

Emma Jane Hovenden was born August 23, 1858, at Hubbard, Oregon, the daughter of Alfred and Sarah Hovenden, Oregon pioneers. She was graduated from Willamette university in 1878 and taught school a year. She was married to Mr. Madison L. Jones, prominent Marion county farmer, on October 11, 1880. He was also a graduate of Willamette in '71.

Mr. Jones was the instigator for the draining of Lake Labish and developing it into the rich garden spot it is today. Besides her husband, Mrs. Jones is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Anderson Cannon of Portland, Mrs. John Withycombe of Arlington, and Mrs. Claire Jones Gray of Salem; by two sons, Ellis H. Jones of Eugene and Senator Ronald E. Jones of Brooks; a sister, Mr. Frank N. Gilbert of Long Beach, Calif.; and nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE

"A" League
Feb. 19—Sigma Tau A-Battling Barristers.

Feb. 20—Cellar Stars-Question Marks.

Feb. 21—Alpha Psi A-Cast Offs.

Feb. 22—Cripples-Battling Barristers.

"B" League
Feb. 19—Alpha Psi B-Alpha Psi C.

Feb. 20—PE Bees-Alpha Psi D.

Physical Edsters Have Play Night

With some twenty sportsters in attendance, the Physical Education club held another play night in the Willamette gymnasium Wednesday night, from 7:30 to 9:30.

Leighton Blake and June Brasted were in charge of the arrangements for the evening, which was enlivened by a rough and tumble girls' rule basketball game, relays and games. The evening was finished off with a touch of dancing.

Enjoying the fun were: Leighton Blake, Justin Weakly, George Sirmio, Dwight Catherwood, Florence Gallon, Art Gallon, June Aasham, Virginia Purst, Betty Boydston, Frances Pickard, Floyd Baker, Bob Hinman, Rosemary Detweiler, Harold McAbee, Maxine Crabtree, Marjorie Herr, June Brasted, Margo Wright, Louise Tucker, Kathleen Bloom, Verna Vosper, Doug Olds, Pete Williams, Dorothy Moore and Jack Christopher.

Another play night is scheduled for next Wednesday night.

1940 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Portland—September 28, Portland.

San Jose—October 4, Portland.

Open—October 11.

San Diego Marines—October 18, Salem.

College of Puget Sound—October 25, Salem.

Open—November 2.

Linfield—November 8, Salem.

Pacific—November 15, Salem.

Whitman—November 21, Salem.

Whittier College—November 30, Whittier, California.

University Co-eds Enter Arch Meet

Willamette University women will take part in the annual winter arch which is now in progress, it was learned from Miss Gale Currey, women's sports instructor. Two Willamette shooters will be entered each week in class "C" of the intercollegiate meet.

In the local contest among the women on the campus, two teams have been compiled.

The first team consists of Luann Green, with 434, Zillah Frogley, with 428, Marci McClean, with 398, and Esther Gunnesdal, 392. Total for the team is 1652.

Team two consists of Aileen LaRaut, Hazel Magee, Helen Hinz and Maxine Holt, with 375, 367, 367 and 364.

Forest Service May Fight Fires From Airplanes

The possibilities of lowering fire fighters from airplanes in the many inaccessible areas on the national forests are being explored by the U. S. forest service, according to regional forester Lyle F. Watts. Few sites for landing fields exist in the more mountainous parts, but often meadows or open hillside can be found where fire fighters can, perhaps, be safely landed. If this should prove to be practicable, many hours travel time can be saved and more fires stopped while they are small.

The experiment is carried out by professional parachute jumpers. The parachutes are especially designed, with flaps for steering so that the jumper can direct his course to a spot suitable for landing. A part of the equipment is a long, light rope, with which to get down if the 'chute lodges in a tree. Protection suits of strong canvas, with helmets and gloves attached and metal reinforcements, have been designed.

If the professionals demonstrate that this method of transportation can be used to advantage, selected fire fighters will be trained to land from planes. The purpose is to overlook no possibility of improving fire control practices and to take advantage of any development that has possibilities of success.

Sigs Ahead In Intramural Competition

Kappas Lose Place When Defeated By Alpha Psi Team

In the intramural "A" basketball loop, the Sigma Tau five is the only team remaining undefeated, the Kappas being downed from a first place tie by an aggressive Alpha Psi five in their last game. The past week saw many unpredicted upsets throwing the loop into a more complicated position than before.

February 7 saw the Kappas win a thriller from the Cast Offs 14 to 13. It was Stewart's long push shot in the last seconds of play that pulled the game out of the fire for the Kappas.

The Battling Barristers have dropped out of the league, forfeiting their last game to the Alpha Psi's last Thursday.

Playing their best ball game of the season on Friday, the Kappas drubbed the Cellar Stars 29 to 13. Everybody was high point man for the winners as they couldn't seem to miss.

It was Sirmio and Blake bucketing 8 apiece that gave the Cripples a decision win over the Cast Offs on February 12, 29 to 7.

On Tuesday the league leading Sigs outpointed the Question Marks 26 to 7. Chadbourne led the scores with an even 8.

The loop is now well under way with games being played every day at 5:15. It looks now like the Sigs are on the victory march, but upsets are common and expected in this loop of hard fought "battles." The coming week may show several changes.

W.A.A. Reporter

BY EVE SHELLITO

"Be it ever so juicy there's nothing like turkey dinner." So say the WAA members and guests who enjoyed the banquet last Monday night.

May we take this opportunity to express thanks and appreciation to those who helped materially to make the affair a success, by contributing to the program or by working on committees.

Further plans for that much talked-of and hoped-for ski trip were discussed in the meeting held Wednesday, the 7th. The committee appointed to be in charge of tracking down information is composed of Jean McCorkle, chairman; Betty Williams, Gwen Griffith and Dotty Lou Moore.

College Magazine Sponsors Contest In One-Act Plays

The editors of Criterion, student literary magazine of Pomona college, have announced their sponsorship of a nationwide, intercollegiate, one-act play competition, with a first prize of $50 offered by Cinematographer Robert Taylor, Pomona graduate of 1923, who will look over the winning manuscripts for screen adaptability. Other prizes are $25, $15 and 12 merchandise awards.

The editors have announced that the purpose of the contest is to encourage collegiate production of one-act plays of high dramatic merit. Competent judges are being selected, and the list includes Mary Innes, chairman of the playreading committee of the Pasadena Community Playhouse, Philip K. Scheuer, drama editor of the Los Angeles Times, and Norman Philbrick, playwright and director of dramatics at Pomona.

All entries must be postmarked no later than April 15, and should be mailed to Criterion Editors, Student Union, Pomona College, Claremont, California, from which address entry forms and further details may be obtained.

HARTMAN BROS.
Jewelers
Gifts You Love to Give and Get
Corner State and Liberty Sts.

"Buy your Paint at a Paint Store"
Hutcheon Paint Store
General Paints & Varnishes
Wall Paper
Artists' Material
Phone 6687
147 N. Commercial St., Salem, Oregon

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessing of liberty, to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

Those words are the Preamble to the Constitution of the United States, whose first signer was George Washington, President. In great wisdom, courage, and by TRUTH he led the American people to freedom. With continued wisdom, courage and TRUTH, he served as their President.

We, the following merchants, honor him by conducting our daily business with the applied principles of TRUTH and HONESTY that were George Washington's --- February 22, 1732:

Madsen's Ice Cream Store 130 S. High Phone 5152 Super-Creamed Ice Cream	Sears, Roebuck & Co. 484 State Phone 9193	The Meadows 362 State St. Phone 7517 Salem's Finest Fountain Service	THE GRILL "The Biggest Little Place in Town" Where Food is Really Good 264 N. High St. Opposite the City Hall
T. W. Creech, Drugs 1220 State St. Phone 6527 Finer Drugs and Service	Loveall's Beauty Shop 453 State Phone 7870 Salem's Home of the New Rilling Koolerwave Permanent	LA DOUS 183 N. High Phone 9661 Fine Food especially priced for College Students	Schaefer's Drug Store 135 N. Commercial FINE CANDIES
Ladd & Bush Bankers			