Eleven Attend Model UN Dr. Dehner to Head Econ Department

Eleven Willamette students will leave early Wednesday morning for Seattle, where the University of Washington will host the eighth annual model United Nations session, Wednesday through Saturday.

WILLAMETTE will represent two South American countries — Chile and Uruguay — at the convention, which will be an exact as possible replica of a real UN session.

Matters of present importance to the world will be brought up before the General Assembly, using actual UN procedures.

MAIN difference of the model UN from the real thing will be the absence of translators, as all of the 600 delegates expected to appear are from Pacific coast schools.

Each Willamette delegate will have a seat on one of the various standing committees, with the exception of delegation chairman Fred Chambers, who will be a member of the Economic and Social Council. All delegates will participate in the General Assembly sessions, where already-drawn up resolutions will be presented.

LOCAL resolutions include suggestions to increase the membership of the UN; to change the required vote for passing a measure in the Security Council to a two-thirds majority; to sanction the internal policies of the Union of South Africa; to control atomic weapons; and to control international traffic in narcotics.

Delegates also plan to bring before the International Court of Justice a dispute between Great Britain and Chile over some islands off the South American coast.

CHAIRMAN Chambers also heads the Chile delegation from here, while vice-chairman Kay Ruberg is chief of the Uruguay group.

Other delegates, picked by student council last fall, include Carol McMinimee, Karin Kattenring, Bill Lewis, Willard Bunney, Bill Richter, Barbara Goodier, Barbara Dennis, Mary Lou Krause, and Jane Dedrick, secretary.

ADVISOR to the group is economics prof. Earl A. Holmer.

The local delegation will travel by car to Seattle, arriving in time to register and attend the first session Wednesday night. They will be housed in UW living organizations.

COMMITTEES will meet every day with the General Assembly sessions at night. Climax of the four-day meet will come Saturday night with a banquet for all the delegates. Delegates will return home Sunday.

Registration and transportation expenses are being paid out of general student body funds, and various campus organizations have raised money to help the delegates, who will have to foot some of the expense themselves.

Cadet Officers Begin Flying

Seven AFROTC senior officers have qualified for actual flight training, which will be conducted here for the first time and will begin immediately.

These officers are Jim Fiske, Jerry Ackerson, Brad Lucas, Larry Martin, Doug Rhodes, Bill Weaver, and Jac Fowler, all seniors.

A contract was sealed between Willamette and the Air Force to conduct a flight instructional school for students who can meet Air Force physical and mental requirements.

Before graduation the new program will allow the top senior students to have 35 hours of ground instruction and 36 and one half hours of flight training, including one and one-half hours of CAA tests.

The cadets will qualify for a regular Civil Aeronautics Administration private pilot's license if they can pass the tests.

List Your Grad Awards

All seniors are reminded to report their graduate awards to Dean Gregg's office as soon as possible. Any fellowship or scholarship awarded for graduate work should be reported to the office on the form provided to all senior students, so that these students can be recognized for their awards at Commencement ceremonies June 8.

Dr. Albert H. Dehner, a financial expert with a law degree, has been appointed professor of economics and head of that department here, President Smith announced early this week.

DR. DEHNER will take up his duties in September, filling the post left vacant by the death of Dr. William Merrill in October.

Visiting assistant professor of economics Earl A. Holmer has been handling Dr. Merrill's classes since that time.

DR. DEHNER received his education in Ohio and Tennessee but he is not a stranger to Oregon. He was assistant professor of economics at Oregon State college from 1940 to 1947 and was stationed at Camp Adair, near Corvallis, during the war.

He has also served as instructor in economics at Fenn College in Cleveland, Ohio, and as professor of economics at the University of Tennessee.

DR. DEHNER

HIS MOST recent appointment was to the faculty of the University of Florida where he has been professor of business administration since 1954.

Dr. Dehner is the author of numerous articles, many of which have appeared in the Tennessee Law Review.

HE RECEIVED his B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. at Ohio State, with his doctoral work in the area of economics and finance. His dissertation was an analysis of stock split-ups on the New York Stock Exchange.

After his work in economics he went on to receive his bachelor of laws degree at the University of Tennessee law school.

DR. DEHNER is a member of the American Finance Assoc., the American Economics Assoc., Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi Scholastic Society, Beta Gamma Sigma economics society and the Order of the Coif legal honorary.

Polls Open Today For SB Elections

Polls opened today to select winners from a field of 16 student body officer hopefuls and 10 May Queen candidates. Primary results will be tallied Monday night with run-offs Tuesday and Wednesday.

After a week of poster-infested trees, and deep and weighty political airings, the campus will return to normalcy with the announcement of results in next week's Collegian.

Polls are open in Eaton, Collins, and the library between 7:45 and 4 daily. Dick White, second vice-president in charge of elections, has stressed the importance of high voting turn-outs during the week.

For the complete election details see page 6.

Lawyers to Meet Bar

Comps and orals are the main occupations of seniors right now.

These are the interests of senior law students also, and tomorrow the 35 third-year law students and the law faculty will meet with the Oregon State Board of Bar Examiners at a luncheon.

Afterwards each student will be interviewed by the Board, a requirement before the students can take the state Bar examination in July.

Dean Ewalt Returns

Dean Regina Ewalt, after two weeks of convalescence from her recent operation, is back at her job in a limited capacity. Doctor's orders prevent her from full-time work for the time being. The date of her complete recovery is uncertain, but she may be found in her office for a few hours each afternoon.

Installation of Mortar Board Occupies Cap and Gown Plans

Plans for the installation of a chapter of Mortar Board — nationally recognized senior college women's honorary — and for the selection of new members are currently occupying the nine members of Cap and Gown, local senior women's honorary.

CAP AND GOWN is entertaining the 19 junior women who have a 3.0 or better scholastic average to night at a dessert party at the Pi Beta Phi house from 6:30 to 7:30.

These women will fill out lists of the activities in which they've participated while in college, and from this group will be picked the first Willamette women to be chosen as members of Mortar Board.

THE MORTAR BOARD installation, scheduled for Sunday, April 27, will take place in the music recital hall at 3:30 p. m.

Invited to attend the ceremony are the Oregon and Oregon State chapters of Mortar Board, all past Cap and Gown members and all Mortar Board members in this area.

MRS. ROBERT F. DeVleming of Forest Grove, member of the national council of Mortar Board, will be the installing officer.

Following the installation, a banquet will be held in Lausanne hall at 6 p. m. Guests invited include members of the administration and their wives, plus presidents of all local and national honoraries on campus.

A business meeting of the newly installed chapter will be held later in the evening.

Fun Abounds In May Play

Finding a concertina — an old-fashioned type of accordion — in addition to coming up with a canary in a cage, plus a link of sausage are the interesting problems facing the properties crew of the forth-coming May Weekend production "Squaring the Circle."

LIKE ALL the other crews working on the play, the properties section is headed by a Theta Alpha Phi member, Mary Beth Feller, and by a non-member, who has not yet been named.

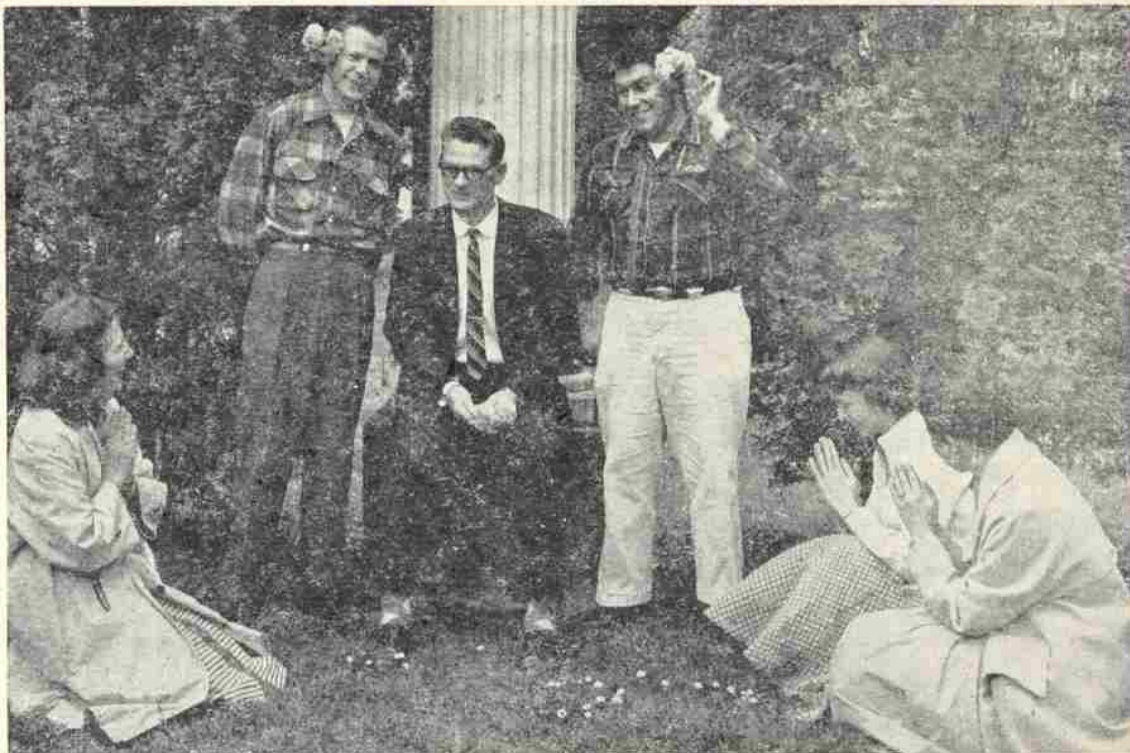

Jack Knapp will be working as the head of the stagecraft class project of designing and painting the set, which will be a simple box set of an old, dirty, beat-up living room, according to director Robert Putnam.

THE THETA Alpha Phi member and the working head in charge of the costume committee are Wayne Haverson and Sheila Grigsbee, respectively.

Some of the costumes will be designed by Sara Pope and others will be taken from the drama department's collection.

IN CHARGE of the complicated plans for ticket sales and seating arrangements of accommodating May Weekend guests is Beth Newberry.

The Queen Approaches . . .

ALIAS THE MAY QUEEN, Gordon Macpherson, surrounded by his lovely court Frank Tannehill and Norm Dyer, accepts the subservience of his subjects, Jo Heald, Toni Folsom and Lynn Schrock. Actually the group are the main brains of this year's May Weekend, two weeks in the offing. A revamp of the long time Willamette May traditions will be seen this year at the culmination of the committee's weeks of work. Activities officially begin this week with the election of an honest-to-goodness May Day Queen. (Photo by Jim Cline.)

no political garble here

The traditional harangue of politicians has been heard far and wide this week to the tune of clacking teaspoons and slurped soup. With the many changes in the ASWU constitution suggested by the sixteen candidates with verbal plans for revolutionizing school life thrown in for good measure, it is fortunate that only six of the group will actually take office next semester.

Nonetheless each candidate has been seriously sincere in his proposals and platform. The political garble of recent state and national campaigns has often seemed little more than a political gargling. At Willamette there seems to be both high caliber politicians and speechmakers.

It is hoped that those of the Willamette student body who registered to vote in their first state election this week will not be totally disappointed in the potpourri of insipid candidates and confusing issues presented by less honorable candidates than Willamette's frantic politicians.

The performance and qualifications of the ASWU candidates is one illustration of the true maturity for which, believe it or not, Willamette University is noted. —C.M.

From Mortuary to WU

"I'm probably the only mortician that ever became a university registrar" grinned white-haired Harold Jory. But when he retires this spring the energetic faculty member will have a host of other jobs behind him, too.

IT ALL started back in 1907 when Jory entered the college preparatory academy on the Willamette campus. Eight years later he graduated from Willamette with a degree in chemistry.

Dame Fortune played no part in sending young Jory here, for his father, also a Willamette graduate, had been teaching mathematics and Latin at the university for ten years.

"THOSE years at college were pretty active," said Jory, narrowing his clear blue eyes as he thought over the past. Besides going out for track for eight years he was the first person to sing "Farewell Willamette." Another first was the year the Glee Club inaugurated "Make Way for the Queen" as the traditional coronation song.

As soloist for the Glee Club music was a big part of his activities, and one of the first of Jory's many jobs was as janitor of the College of Music to pay for his vocal lessons.

EDUCATION seemed to run in the Jory family. After marrying one of the other members of the graduating class of thirty, Jory taught for six years in Oregon, and fifteen in Washington, rising to the position of superintendent of schools.

He went into business in California, and it was there that he was a mortician before he came back to Willamette — this time as registrar, catalog editor, and secretary of the faculty.

IN THE meantime there were additions to the Jory family. The same year her father became registrar Elizabeth Jean graduated from the College of Music, and his younger daughter, Evelyn, attended Willamette for two years before she married.

As president of the Salem Geological Society, Jory's dream of retirement would be to buy and sell rocks in a trailer.

"I really don't know what I'll do yet," said Jack-Of-All-Trades Jory. "I grew up with Willamette, and it's sort of hard to leave it."

Rotary Award Rated High

Purpose and principles of Rotary International were discussed this week by Skip Alexander, March Rotarian of the Month from Willamette, in an effort to explain the purpose of the Willamette honor.

FOR THE PAST several years Willamette's Student Council has each month chosen an outstanding male member of the student body to attend Wednesday noon luncheons of the Salem Rotary for a month.

Alexander expressed dismay at the lack of knowledge of students in the program and cited the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service and high ethical standards in business and professions as two of the objects of Rotary.

THE APPLICATION of the ideal of service in personal, business and community life coupled with advancement of international understanding and goodwill are also top goals of the Rotarian.

"The local Rotary group presents an extensive, comprehensive, and interesting program to the students who visit their meetings as official representatives," Alexander noted.

"AN EXCELLENT lunch is followed by, for instance, a panel of experts discussing and analyzing the economy of Salem," he said.

Other problems recently discussed have been the reason for changes in hospital administration, and petroleum and its relationships to the welfare of the Northwest.

THE ASWU member-at-large also expressed his interest in a recent program featuring the secretary of the Central YMCA in Caracas, Venezuela.

Value of the Rotarian of the Month plan was again stressed by Alexander as a method of building responsibility and interested citizens.

Both Salem high schools as well as Willamette also participate in the Rotary program. Willamette's Rotarian for April is Lewis Bright.

JAMES SMITH TELLS OF POEM PUBLICATION

The following poem, by James Smith, junior English major, will be published in "Existeria," an annual poetry magazine. The unnamed poem was written for Creative Writing last semester.

I undressed her on the busy street corner and took my pleasure
and left

She saw my soul in its fear-hunger corner and twisted a lip laugh
and left

She undressed my soul on the busy street corner
and took my pleasure
and left

Seniors Sigh With Relief; Comps Are Over--For Some

Senior English and science majors were able to stroll past the library yesterday afternoon with the comforting fact in mind that for them the oral and comp ordeal was over — for a few days.

ALL SENIORS except those majoring in music and science spent at least half their day in the library furiously summarizing in a five-hour test the knowledge gained in four years.

First to take the plunge were the English majors, who began at 8 a. m.

DR. CECIL MONK, head of the science department, explained that science majors are spared the written test because they have already demonstrated their ability through their lab reports and undergraduate work.

The department feels that an oral examination is sufficient to determine the students' grasp of the entire area.

STUDENTS with the sinking feeling that they could have done better were reassured by Registrar Harold Jory that they are allowed to repeat the entire exam or any part of it which department members feel should be repeated.

This is allowed in an attempt to demonstrate that the student does hold a command of the material learned over the last four years.

FOLLOWING yesterday's session during which "nothing but silence was heard from the east end of the library," according to librarian Brooks Jenkins, everyone except music majors can look forward to an opportunity to sit with at least three faculty members as an examining board for an oral examination.

To complete graduation requirements, seniors must satisfactorily complete their visit with at least three faculty members: the head of their major department, one other member of the department, and one member chosen by the student from outside the department.

SOME DEPARTMENTS will retire from the hustle and bustle to seashore or forest retreats, and some will run their majors through the orals in groups, but most students will face their professors alone, aided only by the knowledge that they have passed their comps.

Those who are able to view the situation objectively — some stray graduate students and a few science majors who have already passed their orals — insist that orals can be fun.

However, the uninitiated will continue to worry and only after orals day is passed will they join the group which says "Come on in, the water's fine!"

Firesides System to Continue; Date Change to Fridays Urged

Decision to retain the present system of firesides was made by Activities board at its Tuesday meeting, after a discussion of various suggested alternatives.

IT WAS decided to hold the events on Fridays if at all possible, otherwise to schedule them for Wednesday evenings.

Six firesides will be held throughout the school year. Men's living organizations will have part in all six while each of the women's groups will participate in only five because of the new sorority.

ACCORDING TO regulations in the present student handbook only one fireside can be held a month. If this regulation is maintained, firesides will be carried into the spring semester.

This rule is partly against the original purpose of firesides, which was to facilitate new students meeting the rest of the campus as soon as possible after the beginning of the school year.

These reviews are part of a plan for reviewing all major campus activities. Recommendations by activities board are taken into consideration in the final decision by student council.

ACTIVITIES board has also been reviewing all campus activity organizations. According to Anita Booth, student body first vice president, each organization is reviewed once a year.

Constitutions and charters, purposes and accomplishments are then voted upon. Purpose of the review, Miss Booth said, is to determine if the groups have been active enough to warrant their remaining a part of the associated student body.

Foreign Movie Due

"Albert Schweitzer," fourth in the current series of foreign films being presented here by the AAUW, will be shown at the Grand Theatre Monday at 7:45 p.m. Price of single performance tickets is 90 cents. The film will also be shown Tuesday at the same time.

Hatfield Saves Ginkgo's Life

WILLAMETTE students, for scores of years, have had on their campus a tree.

IT'S FULL NAME, according to Dr. Martha Springer, is "Ginkgo Biloba," and is the tree that remained standing when contractors were clearing the campus for a vista because Mark Hatfield said that he'd stand in front of that tree before he'd let it be cut down.

According to Dr. Robert Catke, Willamette's tree was planted around 1925, and for curious students, is located on the sidewalk on State street between the areas of Waller and Eaton halls.

IT'S AN extraordinary tree, because most of its kind have been extinct for centuries.

Some are preserved in monasteries in Tibet and China, but the Ginkgo, or Maidenhair tree, was "going strong" in the dinosaur age.

FOSSILS HAVE been found with traces of the leaves in every part of the U.S. and seeds of the tree grow almost anywhere they are planted.

Willamette's specimen is definitely a girl tree," commented Dr. Springer. Her botany and biology classes are certain to learn the difference between the sexes of the Ginkgo, because there is a distinction, having to do with the female tree's odoriferous cone-like seeds.

Another interesting fact about the tree is that, although it loses all its fan-shaped, yellow leaves in the winter, it is classed as Evergreen.

The campus tree has two known companions in Salem, one in Wilson park across from the campus, and the other on the corner by the city library.

Study Abroad Set for Fall

Young Americans will have a chance to study in Ireland next year under a new bi-national educational exchange program with that country, it was announced by the Institute of International Education.

THE PROGRAM is being inaugurated as a result of an executive agreement between the governments of Ireland and the United States signed in Dublin last March.

These awards for pre-doctoral study and research in Eire cover international travel, tuition, books and maintenance for the academic year.

BASIC ELIGIBILITY requirements are U. S. citizenship, a college degree or its equivalent by the time the award will be used, and good health. Preference is given to applicants not more than 35 years of age.

Applications must be submitted to the Institute by April 15. For further information about these awards and application blanks, write to the Institute of International Education in New York City or its regional offices.

Lola Lane's Senior Recital To Include Modern Music

Lola Lane will be presented in senior recital Wednesday at 8:15 in the music recital hall, in a program that will include "modern" twelve tone music for the first time in a senior recital.

MISS LANE, a piano major, has been a student of Prof. Stanley Butler for four years. She has played in student recitals here and has accompanied brass instrument performances several times.

Although her home is presently in Cleveland, Ohio, where she plans to work this coming summer, she and her family lived for four years in Honolulu, T. H.

SHE IS a member of Chi Omega, where she has served as vice-president and as chapter correspondent. She is also a member of Phi Sigma Tau philosophy honorary.

The earlier groups of her program will consist of traditional piano works, by Bach, Beethoven, and Liszt, "must" works for a piano recital. She will also play Chopin etudes.

Ohio Presents Grad Awards To Baker Duo

Lucian "Mac" Baker and his wife, Marilyn Hanthorne Baker, have both received graduate awards from Ohio University in Athens, Ohio.

THEY REPRESENT the first Willamette husband-wife team to receive awards in recent years.

Baker's fellowship in Speech and Dramatic Arts will be effective next September. The fellowship carries a sizable stipend and will afford Baker an opportunity to work for a master's degree while teaching two sections in the speech fundamentals course and acting as technical assistant at the University Theater.

DURING his four years at Willamette, Baker has played a variety of roles, both tragic and comic, in campus dramatic productions and has been very active in forensics, participating in tournaments in all the western states in debate, impromptu and extemporaneous speaking, and dramatic reading. He has won a number of acting and forensic awards.

Baker was Glee Manager his freshman year and is a member of Phi Delta Theta. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Chi, sophomore activity honorary; Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics honorary; and Tau Kappa Alpha, newly formed speech honorary.

TO STUDY MUSIC

Mrs. Baker's assistantship is in the College of Music at Ohio. It will give her tuition plus a stipend and she will teach classes in music theory and in violin, her undergraduate major at Willamette. She will work for her master's degree in music history.

Mrs. Baker, a 1957 graduate of Willamette, was a senior scholar in music, a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, and a charter member of the Pi Kappa Lambda scholastic music honorary installed here last spring.

SHE WAS A member of the a cappella choir, the Madrigal singers, and the Willamette orchestra, of which she was concertmistress for three years.

Her non-musical activities included membership in Cap and Gown, Beta Alpha Gamma, and the presidency of Lausanne Hall. She was the holder of several scholarships.

She was elected to Alpha Kappa Nu, scholastic honorary for graduating seniors, and was graduated cum laude.

THE LAST group on the program reveals her special preference, however, as she will present works by contemporary composers, one of whom composes works on a scale built around 12 tones.

Much contemporary music has been criticized because it sounds harsh and dissonant, but Miss Lane commented that she believes this music has solid musical worth.

THE COMPLETE program is as follows:

- I
- French Suite III in B Minor — Bach
- Allemande
- Courante
- Sarabande

- Menuet and Trio
- Anglaise
- Gigue
- II
- Sonata in D, Opus 28 — Beethoven
- Allegro
- Andante
- Allegro vivace
- Allegro ma non troppo
- III
- Etude Op. 25, No. 1 in A Flat — Chopin
- Two Mazurkas — Chopin
- Op. 30, No. 1, in C Minor
- Op. 50, No. 1, in G
- Spozializio, from Annes de Pelerinage Liszt
- IV
- Aragonesa, from Pieces Espagnoles Falla
- Three Pieces Written in the Twelve-Tone Technique — Krenck
- The Moon Rises
- Streamliner
- Bells in the God
- Gavea, from Saudade do Brazil, Milhaud

3 Receive Graduate Aid From American, Foreign Schools

Dan Newberry, Bob Stevens, and Lou Ann Mergler have received graduate fellowships for next year to American and foreign schools.

Dan Newberry, senior French major, has been awarded a graduate assistantship in French at the University of Oregon.

NEWBERRY, who has served as senior scholar in the French department this year, won the only national American Red Cross scholarship awarded in Oregon last fall.

The assistantship will consist of tuition plus a stipend. He will teach a first-year French class. Newberry plans to study for his master's degree and eventually his Ph.D. and then enter college teaching.

AT WILLAMETTE, Newberry has been president of Phi Sigma Iota, national romance language honorary, and the Willamette Independent Town Students. He is presently serving as headline editor of the Collegian.

STEVENS TO U. OF W.

Robert Stevens, senior scholar in economics, received word Tuesday that he had received a $1900 teaching assistantship from the University of Washington in Seattle.

THE AWARD includes tuition, fees, and a stipend of $175 a month during the school year.

Stevens plans to major in accounting and corporate finance in the school of business administration, working for a master of business administration degree. He is considering the field of college teaching as a career.

HE WILL WORK 20 hours a week for the University, mainly teaching courses in principles of accounting.

Stevens has been treasurer of both Baxter hall and the Wesley fellowship. He is married to the former Marilyn Ludlow, a 1956 graduate of Willamette, and the pair currently acts as counselors for a Methodist youth group in Salem.

GRADUATE WINS GRANT

Lou Ann Mergler, a 1957 graduate of Willamette, has notified friends here that she has been awarded a Collier Alumni scholarship from the American University.

She will use the scholarship there next year, doing graduate work in the school of government and public administration.

MISS MERGLER is now in Switzerland, studying international relations at the University of Geneva on a Rotary International Scholarship. She was one of two people in the United States to receive such a scholarship last year.

She was a member of Delta Gamma, Cap and Gown, Pi Gamma Mu social science honorary, Phi Sigma Iota language honorary and was senior scholar in French. She majored in both French and history and graduated with honors.

Four to Try Mock Law Case In Run-Off Contest Thursday

Robert Chidister, John Ester, Robert Simpson, and Norman Webb, candidates to represent Willamette at the regional moot court competition next fall will present their briefs at 2 p.m. Thursday at the law school.

THE TWO representatives will be selected by Oregon Supreme Court justices William McAllister, William I. Perry, and Harold Warner.

The winners will receive law books from several law book publishers.

THE BRIEF that the candidates will present deals with a jewelry store robbery.

A diamond ring was discovered missing by a clerk, and he immediately had the doors of the shop locked. The policemen find three suspects, two of which willingly submit to a lie detector test. A third, Karlos Rostov, does not submit to the test or an X-ray to see if he had swallowed the ring.

HOWEVER, the police force him to submit by giving him a shot of morphine, and an X-ray is taken which reveals the ring.

The question before the court is whether or not the defendant was convicted without due process of law and contrary to the fourteenth amendment because the chief evidence against him was an X-ray which was obtained by force and without the defendant's consent.

This year's final contest is part of the pre-law day for all interested pre-law students at Willamette and other colleges.

Dirty Car Owner? Try This Angels, Commies, Lawyers Plan Dances Tomorrow Night

TOMORROW FROM 10 a. m. until 4 p. m., Willamette Independent Women will sponsor a car wash on the roof of Meier and Frank. Just for one dollar ($1.25 for white sidewalls) these girls will save you all the work of making your car shine.

Women's spring house dances begin tomorrow night, April 19, at the Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Gamma Houses. Both will start at 8:30 and continue until 11:30.

BECAUSE of petitions to the Dean of Women, the girls will be allowed to stay out after the dances until 1 o'clock, with a charge of a penny a minute after 12:30. (Proceeds will go to the AWS for a scholarship.)

The Golden Lyre Ball, Alpha Chi's annual formal, will be held at the chapter house - transformed for the evening into the Golden Angel Night Club.

GIRLS AND their dates will dance in a heavenly atmosphere to the music of Les Dennison and his band from Portland State College. In the basement refreshments will be served and decorations will suggest the scenery of "where angels dare not tread."

Chaperones for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gillis, Col. and Mrs. Edward Fritsch, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruud.

NETTIE HANSEN, social chairman for Alpha Chi Omega, announced that committee chairmen for the dance are Susie Moulton and Marcia O'Neill, decorations; Karen Enberg, music; Barbara Dennis, refreshments; Martha Eagle-son and Bev Krough, programs; and Margaret Shaffer, invitations.

The Delta Gammas will turn Communist for the evening at their costume dance, "Bolshevik's Blast." Couples may use their imagination on their attire for the evening and some very unusual combinations including everything from Siberian salt miners to American top brass are expected.

THE HOUSE will be decorated appropriately for a communist party cell meeting with dancing in the propaganda room and Russian-type refreshments downstairs in the club room where pictures of communist heroes will adorn the walls.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brennan,

Dr. and Mrs. Orcutt Frost, and Dr. and Mrs. Noel Kaestner will chaperone to make sure no un-Russian activities occur.

JOAN SHERRILL is general chairman of the dance and committee chairmen are Eugenia King, music; Janet Robison and Mary Ann Dreyer, decorations; Marg Stout, entertainment; Ann Lasswell, boys' invitations; Melinda Hillman, formal invitations; Karen Heninger, favors; Carolyn Miller, clean-up; Judy Embree, guest book; and Annette Carson and Kay Ruberg, miscellaneous.

THE ANNUAL dinner dance presented by law students will be held tomorrow night at 8 p. m. at the American Legion Hall.

Entertainment will be presented by the first-year students under the direction of Joe Kershner. It was hinted that there will be a skit depicting a typical wife's club meeting.

Dinner will be served buffet style and they will dance to the music of Ken Knott and his band from Portland.

Y Slates Speaker

Mrs. William Crothers will be the featured speaker at a YWCA meeting at 12 noon, Tuesday, April 22. Her topic, "Being a Woman," will be based on a recent trip to St. Louis to attend a national YWCA conference.

The first forty girls to sign up for the meeting will be provided with sack lunches, according to Carole Stone, president of the campus Y.

Mrs. Crothers was Salem's Woman of the Year last year and is a national Y Board member.

Spring Brings Thoughts of . . .

ship. Tschang is a senior in electrical engineering at Oregon State and is a member of senior honorary there. His home is Penang, Malaya.

A JUNE wedding is planned after which the couple will live in Salem while Tschang works on his master's degree and Miss Lim does graduate work in education.

A special poem told Alpha Chi Omegas of Carole Warren's engagement to Gerald Ackerson April 3.

MISS WARREN is president of Angel Flight, past treasurer of the YWCA and a member of Beta Alpha Gamma and Alpha Lambda Delta. She is a junior psychology major and a member of Psi Chi.

Ackerson, a senior group commander in AFROTC and president of Arnold Air Society, is also president of Psi Chi and has held the offices of reporter and social chairman in Phi Delta Theta. No date has been set for the wedding.

CAROLE WARREN

Newly engaged couples returned bright eyed from vacation to announce the important decision. More engagements will be announced next week.

SCROLLS inscribed with the names "Daisy Lim" and "Tin Seng Tschang" announced to Chi Omegas the engagement of their guest from Indonesia.

Miss Lim, a senior music major and senior scholar, is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon and has held a Panhellenic scholarship, the AWS scholarship, and a Collins scholar-

Short Scoop!

Swimming, ping pong and movies will be the theme of the meeting on Saturday evening for Conquest Club. The group will meet at the First Baptist church at 7:15 and the evening of relaxation and fun will last until 11 p. m.

Alums of Beta Alpha Gamma and of Sigma Alpha Chi are urged to attend a picnic to be held in their honor on Sunday from 4 until 6 p. m. at Silver Creek Falls.

Chi Omega pledges have elected Connie Snow for their spring president. Assisting her will be Mara Paulson, vice president; Linda Leenhouts, secretary; and Charland Ross, treasurer.

'Cats Stop OSC, Upend OCE

The Willamette horsehiders again fell prey to the wiles of Old Man Weather, calling off the scheduled Lewis and Clark contest Tuesday. After waiting hopefully for half an hour, the two teams finally decided to postpone the games in hopes of drier weather at a later date.

Even so, after finally fielding some baseball weather over spring vacation, the Bearcats managed to come up with three wins out of four tries during the seasonal interlude.

The Lewismen were down five runs at the end of four innings when April showers called a halt to the proceedings at Eugene. Just short of the required five innings, the Oregon contest will be chalked up as experience.

However, the Bearcats bounced back in a tight battle the following day, nicking powerful Oregon State College for a 2-1 loss, Willamette's first victory of the young season. The extra inning contest was handled for WU by moundsmen Jac Fowler and John Frederick, with Frederick notching the victory.

An OCE nine fell victim to the 'Cats' attack the following Saturday with three WU hurlers limiting the Wolves to five safeties for both contests. Willamette smothered OCE 22-1 in the opener and eked out a 2-1 victory in the nightcap.

Eleven innings of pressure ball saw the 'Cats trip up Oregon State in a real thriller. Jac Fowler, senior WU hurler, opened the contest for the Bearcats and gave up one run on four hits in the first five innings. Frederick then relieved Fowler and put the stopper on OSC for the remaining six frames, yielding but two safeties during his stint on the mound.

Coming through in the clutch, pinch hitter Dick Hamada lined a double to left-center, driving home Ted Farley with the winning run. Farley had previously singled and advanced to second on shortstop Hisao Sato's sacrifice.

Reliever Dave McFadden was given the loss.

In the pair at Monmouth Willamette collected one win via their booming bats and the other via the base paths.

A walloping 18-hit attack paced the Bearcats to their 22-1 victory in the opener along with OCE's helpful miscues afield. Leading at the plate for WU were Keith Driver with three singles in four AB's and Hisao Sato who collected four singles and a double in six trips.

Pitcher Bob Klindworth held the Wolves to their lone counter on three hits, all singles.

The Bearcats gave up the Wolves' lone tally on a walk, a steal, a wild throw and an error. OCE handed the 'Cats the winning run on a fielder's choice, a stolen base and a passed ball. The legal counter came in the fourth when Frank Caruso singled and was chased around the base paths by Howard Speer's triple.

Dick Hartley started the game for Willamette and Brad Lucas came in to relieve him in the seventh. Ted Owens served 'em up for the Wolves in the finale and gained a loss for his efforts.

The Bearcats travel to Forest Grove this Saturday in hopes of finding both sunny weather and the Pacific Badgers at home for a twin bill.

The closing week of Willamette intramural bowling found the Sigma Chi No. 2 squad champions of the second half competition and contenders for the WU kegling crown.

The Sigs will meet the Beta No. 1 team, first half champions, in a trophy deciding match either this Sunday or the next.

Individual high series and top average honors for the second half went to Jim Wells who rolled a very respectable 596 in three games along with his 174 per game average, tops in the league. Dick Chanda's 246 pin effort gives him the top game laurels for the second half.

Teamwise, the Beta ones claimed the high team series with 2135 sticks while Sigma Chi's high team game of 774 was the tops rolled in that department.

WU Golf Team Dumped Twice

The Willamette Golf team knuckled under to a strong Portland State squad Monday, suffering an 11½-6½ defeat at the hands of their northern foes.

The Bearcat's only bright spot was junior Gene Patterson's 3-0 victory over Elwood Dunsmier, Portland State golfer.

Jan Aaseth copped medalist honors for Willamette, carding a 74, while Tom Liljeholm, Portland State medalist, notched a fine two under par 70.

TUESDAY afternoon, Portland University, fielding another strong golf team, defeated the Bearcat golfers, 15½-2½.

The match was played at Riverside Country Club in Portland, with blustery weather causing most scores to soar. However, Pat Cline of Portland U. shot a very respectable one under par 71 to take medalist honors for both squads.

Willamette faces Portland U. in a return match at Salem on May 14th.

Results of Tuesday's play:
Vince Altenhofen (PU) def. Jan Aaseth (WU), 3-0; Roger Seilecky (PU) def. Rusty Beaton (WU), 3-0; Jerry Mowlds (PU) tied Joe Karmos, 1½-1½; Ron Peterson (PU) def. Dick Renn, 3-0; Pat Cline (PU) def. John Holmes, 3-0; Jim Whitty (PU) def. Gene Patterson, 2-1.

Results of Monday's play:
Tom Liljeholm (PS) def. Jan Aaseth (WU), 2-1; Roger Williams (PS) def. Rusty Beaton (WU) 2-1; Mike Seyer (PS) def. Joe Karmos (WU), 2-1; Harry Price (PS) def. Dick Renn (WU), 3-0; Gary Roy (PS) def. John Holms (WU), 2½-½; Gene Patterson (WU) def. Elwood Dunsmier (PS), 3-0.

Ping Pong Title Goes to SAE's

Taking three out of four matches last Friday night, the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon outlasted Baxter hall to gain the 1958 Willamette Intramural ping-pong championship in the final round of play.

Baxter hall's lone victory came at the expense of SAE ace Fred Chambers who was upended by Charles Carter, Oswego freshman.

Phi Delta Theta garnered the third place spot with Beta Theta Pi landing in the cellar.

Netmen Trounced

The Willamette netmen were blanked for the first time in several years by a strong Oregon State squad Wednesday, reported coach Les Sparks. The powerful Beavers walked off with every match, dropping only one set to the Bearcat's number five man, Bill Ritcher.

The match was WU's first of the season. The team travels to Oregon this afternoon and will play host to the Portland University squad Saturday.

Candidates Promise Policy Changes

Policy changes suggested by the 16 Willamette students who are running for Student Body office positions for the next school year vary widely. Some of the different policies which will possibly be inaugurated if candidates are elected are listed below.

PRIMARY candidates for the office of student body president are Gordon Macpherson, Dean Bishoprick and Larry Willingham.

Suggestions made by Bishoprick include a program for dancing lessons and standardization of all committee and manager reports. Macpherson suggests a progressive inter-school visitation in order to learn what other schools are doing, a bi-monthly president's report in the Collegian and the mailing of activity calendars to town students each month.

WILLINGHAM suggested that convocation be set aside once a month for class meetings to help check organizational monopoly and give independent town students a "closer" feeling.

All three suggest that the student government be strengthened or revised to put it on a more equal footing with the administration.

THE TWO candidates for first vice president are Jo Heald and John Bergstrom. Miss Heald's platform calls for more major weekend and event publicity to encourage more student participation on com-

Library Adds Room

Work on a basement typing room was started this week in the library, with hopes that it will be finished before the end of the semester.

Maintenance crews are constructing partitions, moving lighting apparatus and painting in a vacant area in the east basement of the library, adjacent to the newspaper storage room.

Eventually the room will contain typewriters and the adding machine set aside for student use and thus the upstairs newspaper reading room will be freed from noisy clackety-clacks when students are trying to read.

mittees, informal social activities and more publicity of athletic events.

Bergstrom suggests holding a weekly movie on campus featuring many all-time greats. He would start a car pool for off-campus

Phi Delta Thetas To Serve Town

Seventy Willamette Phi Delt chapters will join 119 other Phi Delt chapters across the nation in participating in their fraternity's annual Community Service day, Saturday.

Members of the Willamette chapter will donate approximately 500 man hours of labor to the city of Salem by doing a general spring cleanup of the lower Bush's pasture picnicking area. Chairman of the project is Tim Campbell.

Work will begin bright and early Saturday morning at 8:30 and the Phis will work until 5 p. m. with a half-hour off for lunch.

Girls from campus will aid the workers by carrying sack lunches to the work crews.

Last year, the community project included painting and landscaping at the YMCA youth camp, and doing repair work at the Salem blind school.

games and organize a white shirt section for each game. Both candidates would set up a definite policy of attendance for representatives of Activities Board.

SECOND vice president candidates are Stan Culy, Dave Landis, Pete Leveton and Bill Seawell.

Culy suggested that present officers discuss their positions in living organizations twice a year to encourage the eligible to apply for the positions in the future.

HE ALSO recommended the placing of a one page summary of candidates and their qualifications at the polls. Leveton thought the place to attack the voting percentage problem was in the law school and with town students through bulletin boards and form letters.

Both Seawell and Landis thought that student body cards should be distributed during pre-registration for the second semester and that communication to students be improved.

LANDIS suggested increasing the responsibilities for class officers to encourage interest and voting.

The Rally Commission should appoint the Rally Squad, according to Seawell.

Secretary candidates are Toni Folsom, Sandi Harris, Sylvia Quiring and Marge Stout. Willard Bunney, Dick Audley and Barbara Clark are running for treasurer.

Writing Contest Deadline Monday

Dr. Paul Trueblood has announced that the deadline for the second annual creative writing contest will be extended to Monday.

The postponement will give another chance to students who didn't have time to submit an entry before vacation.

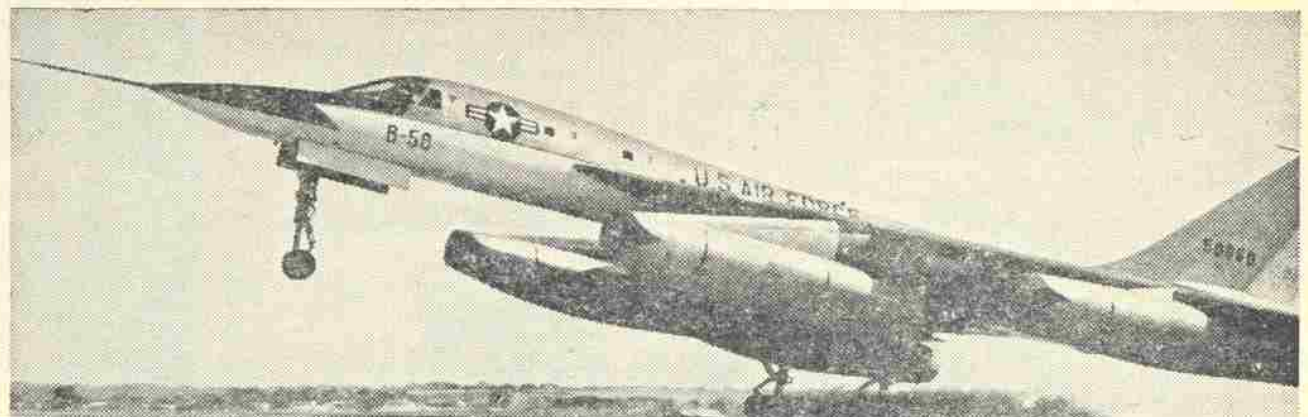

As there are not a great many manuscripts to be judged, competition will be somewhat limited, and students are urged to try their creative skill in any or all of the three categories, poetry, short story, or essay.
