WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

SALEM, OREGON 97301

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

TO THE ENTERING STUDENTS OF WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

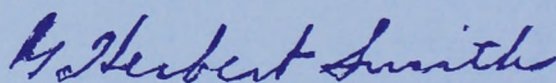

It is a pleasure to welcome you to Willamette University during the final months of the observance of the 125th year of history. Founded in 1842, Willamette was the earliest institution of higher learning in the Far West and for 125 years has given distinguished service to her constituency.

Never has there been a time when the University has been more alive or alert to the challenges of the educational world. This fall we enter into a completely new curriculum as the result of three years of intensive work on the part of faculty and friends of the University. Last spring the University dedicated a new addition to the Library and William S. Walton Language Building, as well as an addition to Doney Hall for the housing of new women students. This fall we will complete and dedicate two additional houses for organized upperclass women and the magnificent Truman Wesley Collins Legal Center providing a permanent home for the College of Law and interests associated to the Law School.

As you enter Willamette, you will find an expanded faculty which will enable us to offer our courses in greater depth than ever before. These faculty members have been selected on the basis of their academic qualifications and their interest in undergraduates which should prove stimulating in the work of the classroom. Willamette will continue to be a student-centered institution in which our primary responsibility is that of teaching.

We welcome you to this campus and ask you to help us create an atmosphere conducive to the learning process. You are invited to share in the heritage and the good name of Willamette University and by your devotion to intellectual achievement, further enhance the reputation of Willamette in the days ahead.

Sincerely,

G. Herbert Smith
President

history

In 1834 Jason Lee and several missionary associates started a school for Indian children beside the Willamette River about ten miles north of Salem. Within a few years the growing group of settlers felt the need for a more advanced school to serve their own children. To meet this need a group of citizens met in the home of Jason Lee and on February 1, 1842, a body of by-laws was adopted and a Board of Trustees appointed. This date marked the founding of the oldest college in the West.

The school was first known as the Oregon Institute, but was changed to Wallamet University in 1853 when a charter was granted to the Institution. Dr. Francis S. Hoyt was named first president of the University, and the Oregon Institute was retained as a preparatory school. The University began with five students and one instructor, and in 1859, graduated its first student, Emily J. York.

Through the effort of Alvin Waller, a building was begun in 1864, now known as Waller Hall, which was completed in 1867 with the help of the townspeople.

Being remote from the education centers of the east, Willamette attempted to serve the needs of the time. In addition to the College of Liberal Arts, professional schools were established. The Willamette Medical School, started in 1866, was the third founded west of St. Louis and was operated until 1921 when it became part of the University of Oregon. The College of Law was established in 1882, first in the Pacific Northwest, and has given continuous service to the present. The College of Music dates back to 1869 when it was called the Musical Institute. A College of Pharmacy was connected to Willamette from 1887 to 1907 and a College of Theology existed from 1889 to 1930. A graduate center in administration is proposed to be launched during the next few years.

There are also several independent study, fellowship and prayer groups established by students and faculty members.

Athletics

Willamette is justifiably proud of its coaching staff and athletic record over the years. Headed by Athletic Director John Lewis who has been at the University since 1947, the staff includes the following coaches: Ted Ogdahl, football; Chuck Bowles, cross country; Al Berglund, Soccer; David Nowicki, swimming; Joe Schaffeld, wrestling; Jim Boutin, basketball; Steve Prothero, golf; John Lewis, baseball; Lestle Sparks, tennis; and Chuck Bowles, track.

In football, the University has won more championships (13 titles and 3 ties) than any other team in the league since its founding in 1926. Under Ogdahl, the Bearcats have won four titles with a record of 71-46-10 since 1952. Willamette's basketball teams have won or shared seven titles since 1947 and Willamette has won more crowns than any other team since 1927. Jim Boutin joins the athletic staff this year as head basketball coach. The Bearcats can also boast of success in the Spring sports down through the years. The 1966 track team, under the guidance of Dr. Bowles for the first year, snapped a four-year Lewis and Clark domination. Cross country, swimming, and wrestling are relatively new to the Conference and Bearcat teams have finished among the leaders in all three.

Competition in the NWC is considered to be among the toughest in the country for small colleges. Spirited rivalries are maintained in all sports, and students are admitted to all home athletic contests free with a student body card.

INTERCOLLEGIATE SPORTS

Willamette is a member of the Pacific-Northwest Intercollegiate Conference (commonly called the Northwest Conference) which is comprised of seven private institutions of relatively the same size: College of Idaho, Lewis and Clark, Linfield, Pacific University, Whitman, Pacific Lutheran University and Willamette.

Each member college is under the regulation of the NWC athletic rules and Willamette is also a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Willamette recognizes football, wrestling, swimming, basketball, cross country, track, tennis, baseball, and golf as varsity sports. Freshmen are eligible to compete on varsity teams.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Under the direction of the Department of Physical Education, Willamette offers a wide selection of sports for those students not competing on the varsity level. Teams are organized within the living organizations and competition encompasses the following sports: flagball, basketball, tennis, volleyball, badminton, softball, and track. Other sports for both men and women are included in the regular PE program, some in conjunction with offerings at the local YWCA and YMCA.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Willamette has one of the finer football stadiums in the NWC in McCulloch Stadium at Bush Park, a few blocks south of the campus. A quarter-mile cinder track encircles the football field, while adjacent space includes the baseball diamond, practice fields, and field-event pits. Bush Park also has softball diamonds available for intramural play.

The gymnasium on campus provides the basketball court, wrestling room, weight room and equipment for trampoline, badminton, and volleyball. Four tennis courts are located south of the Fine Arts Auditorium and an intramural field for flagball and archery is located east of York and Lee Houses. Facilities at both the YWCA and YMCA are also available to Willamette students, including swimming pools, handball courts and indoor track.

HOUSING - RESIDENCE HALLS

Unmarried out-of-town students are required to live and take their meals in University dormitories, fraternity or sorority houses unless permission to reside in other approved housing is given in writing by the Dean of Women or Dean of Men. Students may also reside with parents or immediate relatives in Salem, providing they have approval to live off campus.

All freshmen students must live in a University dormitory for a full year before residing elsewhere. The only exceptions to this rule must be authorized by the personnel deans.

Any student reserving a room in a University dormitory at the beginning of the fall semester must retain a room to the end of the year, provided the student remains in school.

When reserving space in the University, it is necessary for a new student to make an advanced payment of $75, fifty dollars of which is applied on the tuition of the first semester. The remaining $25 is retained as a general deposit against loss of university equipment or breakage; the unused portion of this is refunded when the student leaves the university or graduates. Such refunds are mailed to graduates during the summer after graduation.

To reserve housing and classroom space for the following year, returning students must submit a housing and enrollment card, and a $50 advance payment by May 1.

Students leaving the University prior to graduation may, upon written application to the Personnel Dean, receive a refund of the $25 deposit, less any breakage charges, infirmity fees or other charges, provided the application is made before June 1.

All residence halls and dining halls will be closed during Christmas and Spring vacations.

Fire drills are obligatory once a semester in each living organization.

No animals or other pets will be allowed to be kept in any living organization.

Possession of firearms by students is not permitted in dormitories, fraternities, and sorority units, or on campus at any time.

HOUSEMOTHERS

A qualified, competent housemother is assigned to every living organization. It is the duty of the housemother to report without delay to either the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women any dormitory problems.

The Dean of Men and the Dean of Women are responsible for supervising the housemothers and holding meetings with them for the purpose of discussion and advisement in matters of house problems and methods of maintaining the best relationship among the living organization members and with the University.

HOUSING FOR MARRIED STUDENTS

A list of apartments and rooms for married couples is available in the personnel deans' office.

MOTOR VEHICLES

The bringing of automobiles to the campus and retaining them here is prohibited to all underclass students. This prohibition extends through the sophomore year. The only exception will be made by either the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women for students who absolutely can show that a car is required for their employment and that employment is necessary for them to stay in school.

CAMPUS PARKING

Willamette University students who are eligible to have automobiles must register for a motor vehicle sticker in the Office of the Dean of Men not later than September 18, 1967 in order to use any of the University parking facilities. Students who fail to register properly, whose parking stickers are not displayed on the rear bumper of their vehicles and who violate parking regulations will be subject to two dollar ($2) assessments for each offense.

COUNSELING AND ADVISING

Although each student is responsible for his own academic progress, faculty members are available for counseling and advising throughout a student's undergraduate career. Certain faculty members are assigned as advisors to Freshmen and other students who are undecided as to their major. After the student has elected his major he will be assigned an advisor who is a member of his major department.

A Willamette University graduate should have depth in one Concentration area, breadth in the arts and the sciences, facility in expression in English and in at least one modern foreign language, and the possession of a strong sense of historical and philosophical self-awareness. The academic program at Willamette promotes these objectives.

GRADING SYSTEM

A Grade of C represents a satisfactory level of performance which can be expected of any student of normal ability who gives a reasonable amount of time, effort, and attention to the work of the course. Such satisfactory performance should include:

- Familiarity with the content of the course as shown by an acceptable mastery of the information, concepts, or skills involved;
- Evidence of a basic understanding of the significance of the course and its relevance to broader areas of knowledge;
- Full participation in the work of the class, including:
  - Regularity of attendance,
  - Completion of work on time,
  - Making up work due to unavoidable absences,
  - Contribution to class discussions,
  - Evidence of an open and active mind stimulated by the desire to learn,
  - Ability to express himself both orally and in writing in acceptable English.

A Grade of B indicates a higher level of performance than the satisfactory standard defined for a grade of C. It involves excellence in some aspect of the work, such as the following:

- Completeness, accuracy, and detail of knowledge,
- Effective capacity and initiative to do independent work and therefore contribute to the course objectives, (i.e. outside reading, papers, research projects over and above course requirements),

A Grade of A involves a level of performance that is conspicuously excellent in several if not all the factors indicated in the definition of B.

A Grade of D indicates below standard performance. It signifies work which in one or more important aspects falls below the minimum acceptable standard but which is of sufficient quality to be counted in the points required for graduation if balanced by superior work in other courses.

A Grade of F indicates an unacceptable level of performance. It signifies work which in one or more important aspects falls below the minimum acceptable standard and is not of sufficient quality or quantity to be counted in the points required for graduation.

TO CHANGE OR DROP COURSES

A student may change his course of study within two weeks of the last registration day by securing permission from the appropriate Dean, his Faculty Advisor, and the instructors of his courses. After two weeks no subject may be added except by petition.

A semester grade of F is given if a student withdraws from a course later than five weeks after the opening of the semester for any reason other than serious illness, unless the student has been granted advance permission to withdraw by the Committee on Academic Achievement.

A student is required to attend class until he is officially dropped. Special forms for withdrawal must be secured from the Registrar and returned to him. If a student fails to withdraw officially, his grade in any course which he discontinues becomes an F.

The University reserves the right to discontinue any class for which the enrollment is insufficient.

ATTENDANCE

Class attendance is subject to the following guidelines:

1. Students are expected to attend classes.
2. Each individual instructor sets the specific attendance standards for his own classes.
3. Irregular attendance may impair the student's progress and therefore be reflected in his grades.

PROBATION

1. Disciplinary Probation - When a student is guilty of a serious breach of conduct or of college regulations he may be dropped from the university or placed on disciplinary probation by action of the University Discipline Committee or the personnel deans. When on Disciplinary Probation, the student becomes ineligible to represent the university in any public appearance or hold any major office; he forfeits all scholarships or grants; entry is made on the student's record; and further misconduct may lead to the student's dismissal from the university.

2. Academic Probation - A full-time student is on scholastic probation at the end of any semester unless he passes in at least three courses. A student may be placed on scholastic probation at the end of any semester if a third of his work has a grade of D or lower or if his grade average for that semester falls below a C. Any student on probation is ineligible to represent the university in any public appearance or hold a major office. The student who has been placed on scholastic probation may be dropped from the university at the end of his probationary semester if he fails to pass in less than two courses in any semester will be dropped from the university.

3. Social Probation - A campus organization is placed on Social Probation by action of the University Discipline Committee or the Personnel Deans when the organization has been found to be in violation of university regulations to the extent that corrective measures must be taken. The penalty for more than six absences places the person on probation resulting in the loss of the opportunity to represent Willamette in any office or representative capacity for the remainder of the academic year.

Activities

All student activities must be scheduled through Activities Board which holds weekly meetings to schedule these activities.

There will be no more than one major function (this includes dancing and large parties which involve much preparation) for each living organization each semester. Other organizations are restricted to one major function each year.

What is AWS?

You, young woman, are a member of the Associated Women Students of Willamette University - better known as AWS. The University has delegated to us the responsibility to serve as a self-governing organization. AWS in turn has defined its role to promote and develop leadership and equality of women, to provide a means for the expression of the opinions of women students on matters of general interest to them, and to cite outstanding achievement of women at Willamette University.

The role of AWS is vital because you are a modern woman in a changing world. The ability to adapt to an expanding world is the ability to live meaningfully. AWS reflects the sentiments of the Willamette women and coordinates a busy world to best suit your needs and your interests.

AWS conducts its business through its elected cabinet officials and council. The AWS Council includes cabinet members plus representatives from each women's living organization. Freshman dorms have two representatives each. At its Council meetings held every Monday at noon, all AWS activities are planned, Coeds of the Month chosen, scholarship recipients selected, and women's standards are formulated and enforced.

Our campus group is a member of the Intercollegiate AWS and works with IAWS in all its activities, aims and purposes. Delegates are sent to the state, regional, and national IAWS conventions each year.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

AWS PRESIDENT: represents AWS in Student Senate; calls and presides over cabinet and council meetings; ex-officio member of all standing committees. She works in close cooperation with Dean Haberer in matters concerning AWS.
